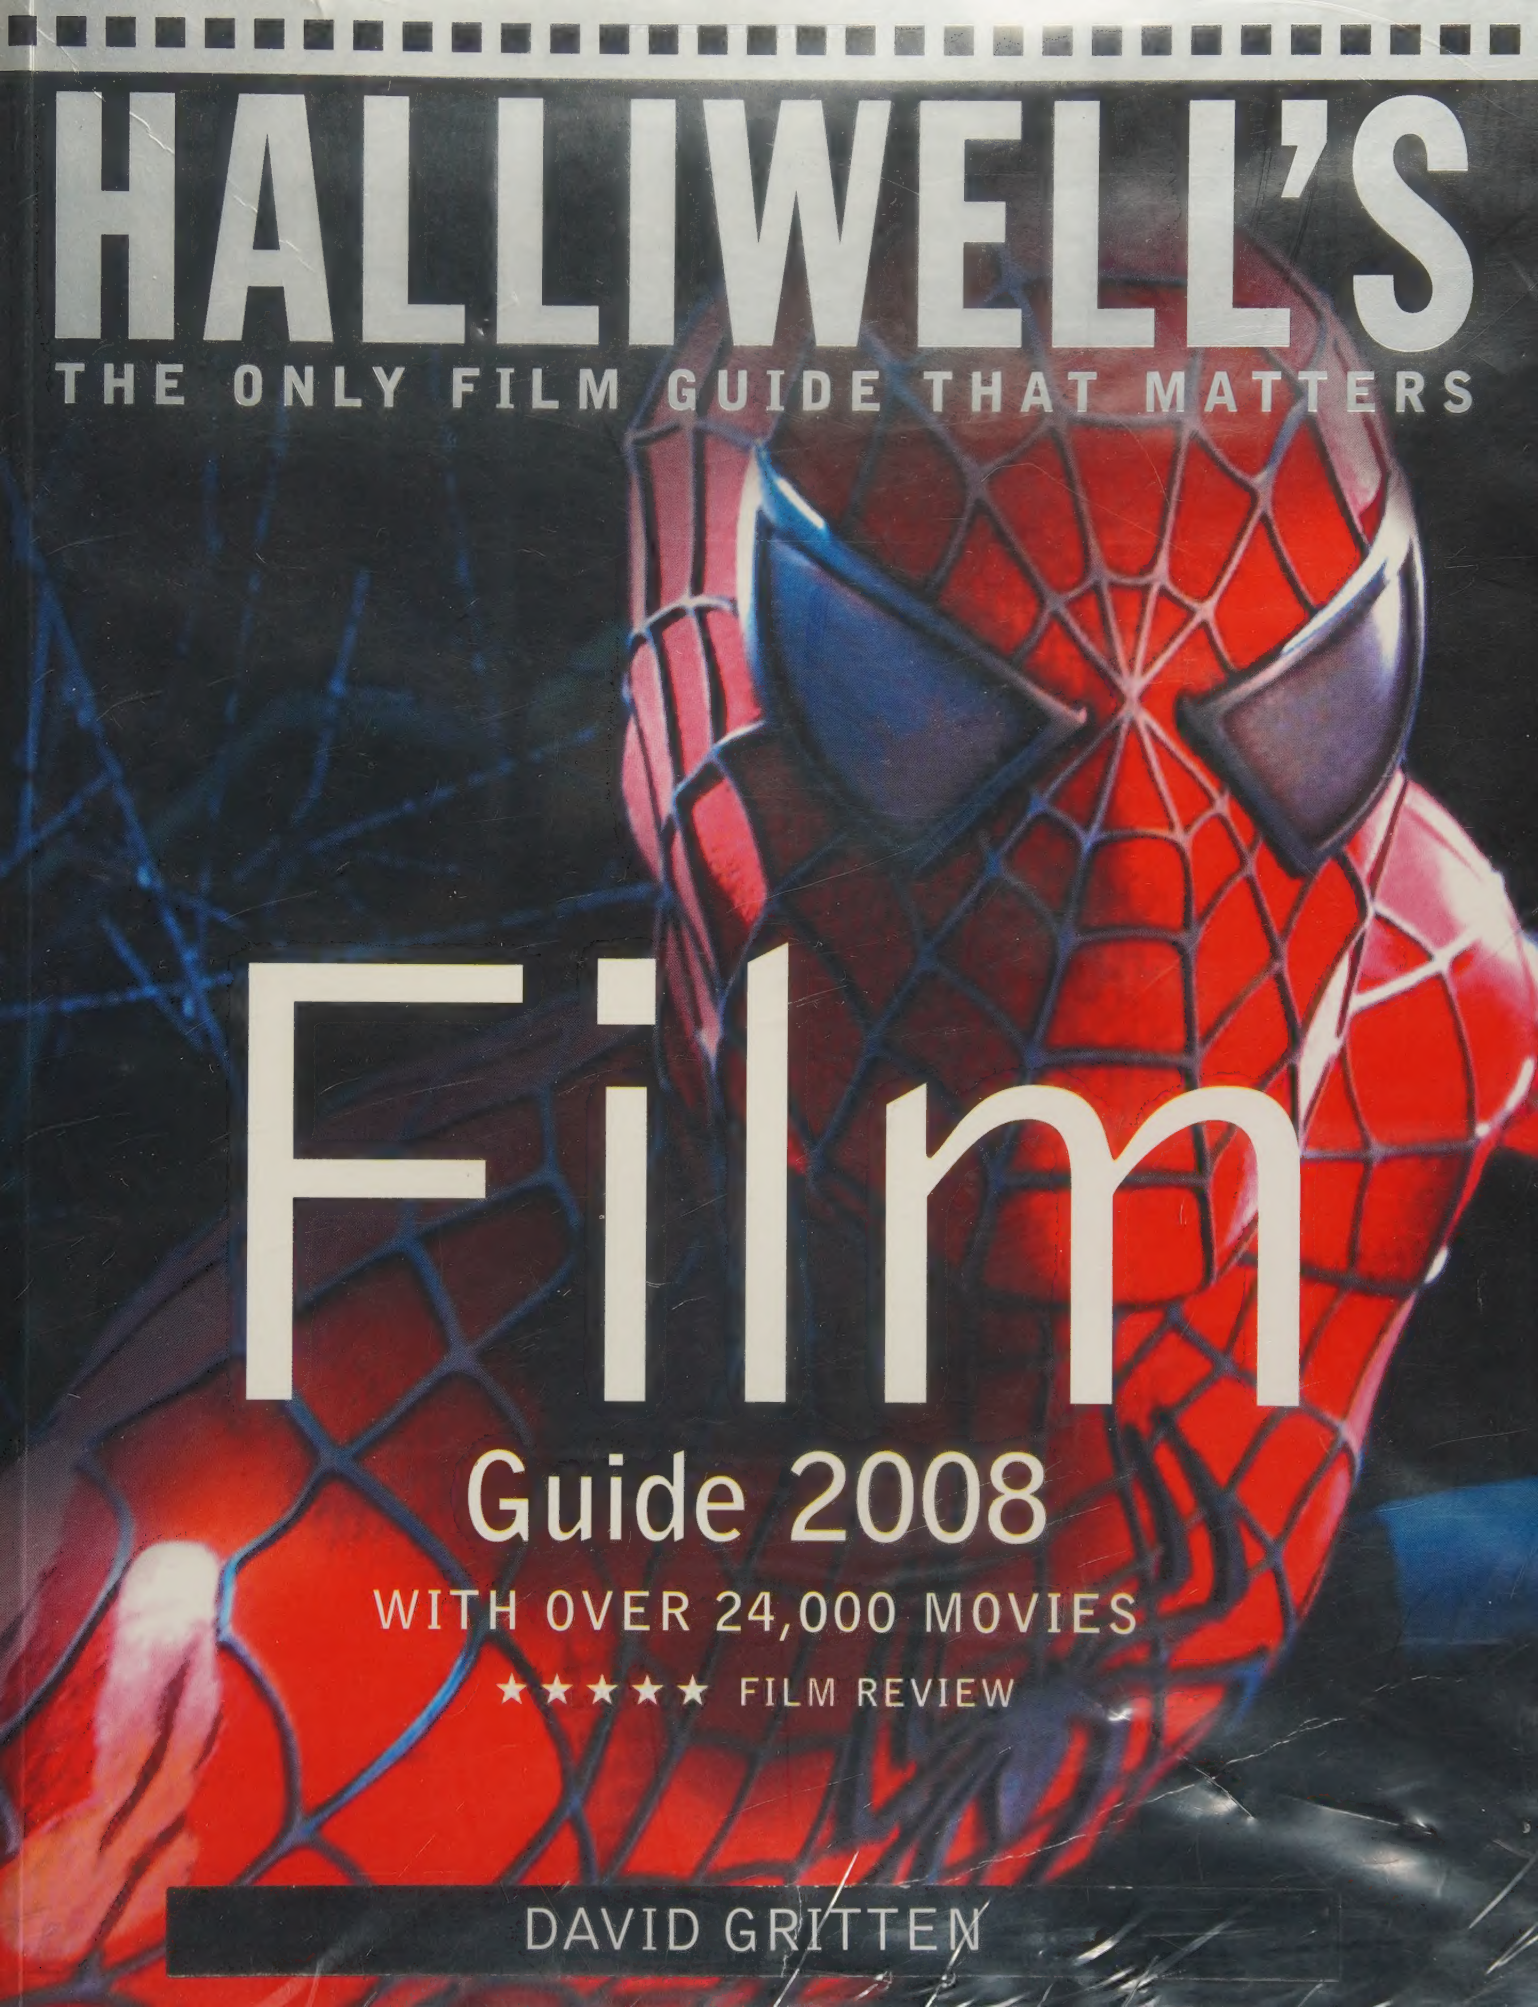
HALLIWELL'S

THE ONLY FILM GUIDE THAT MATTERS

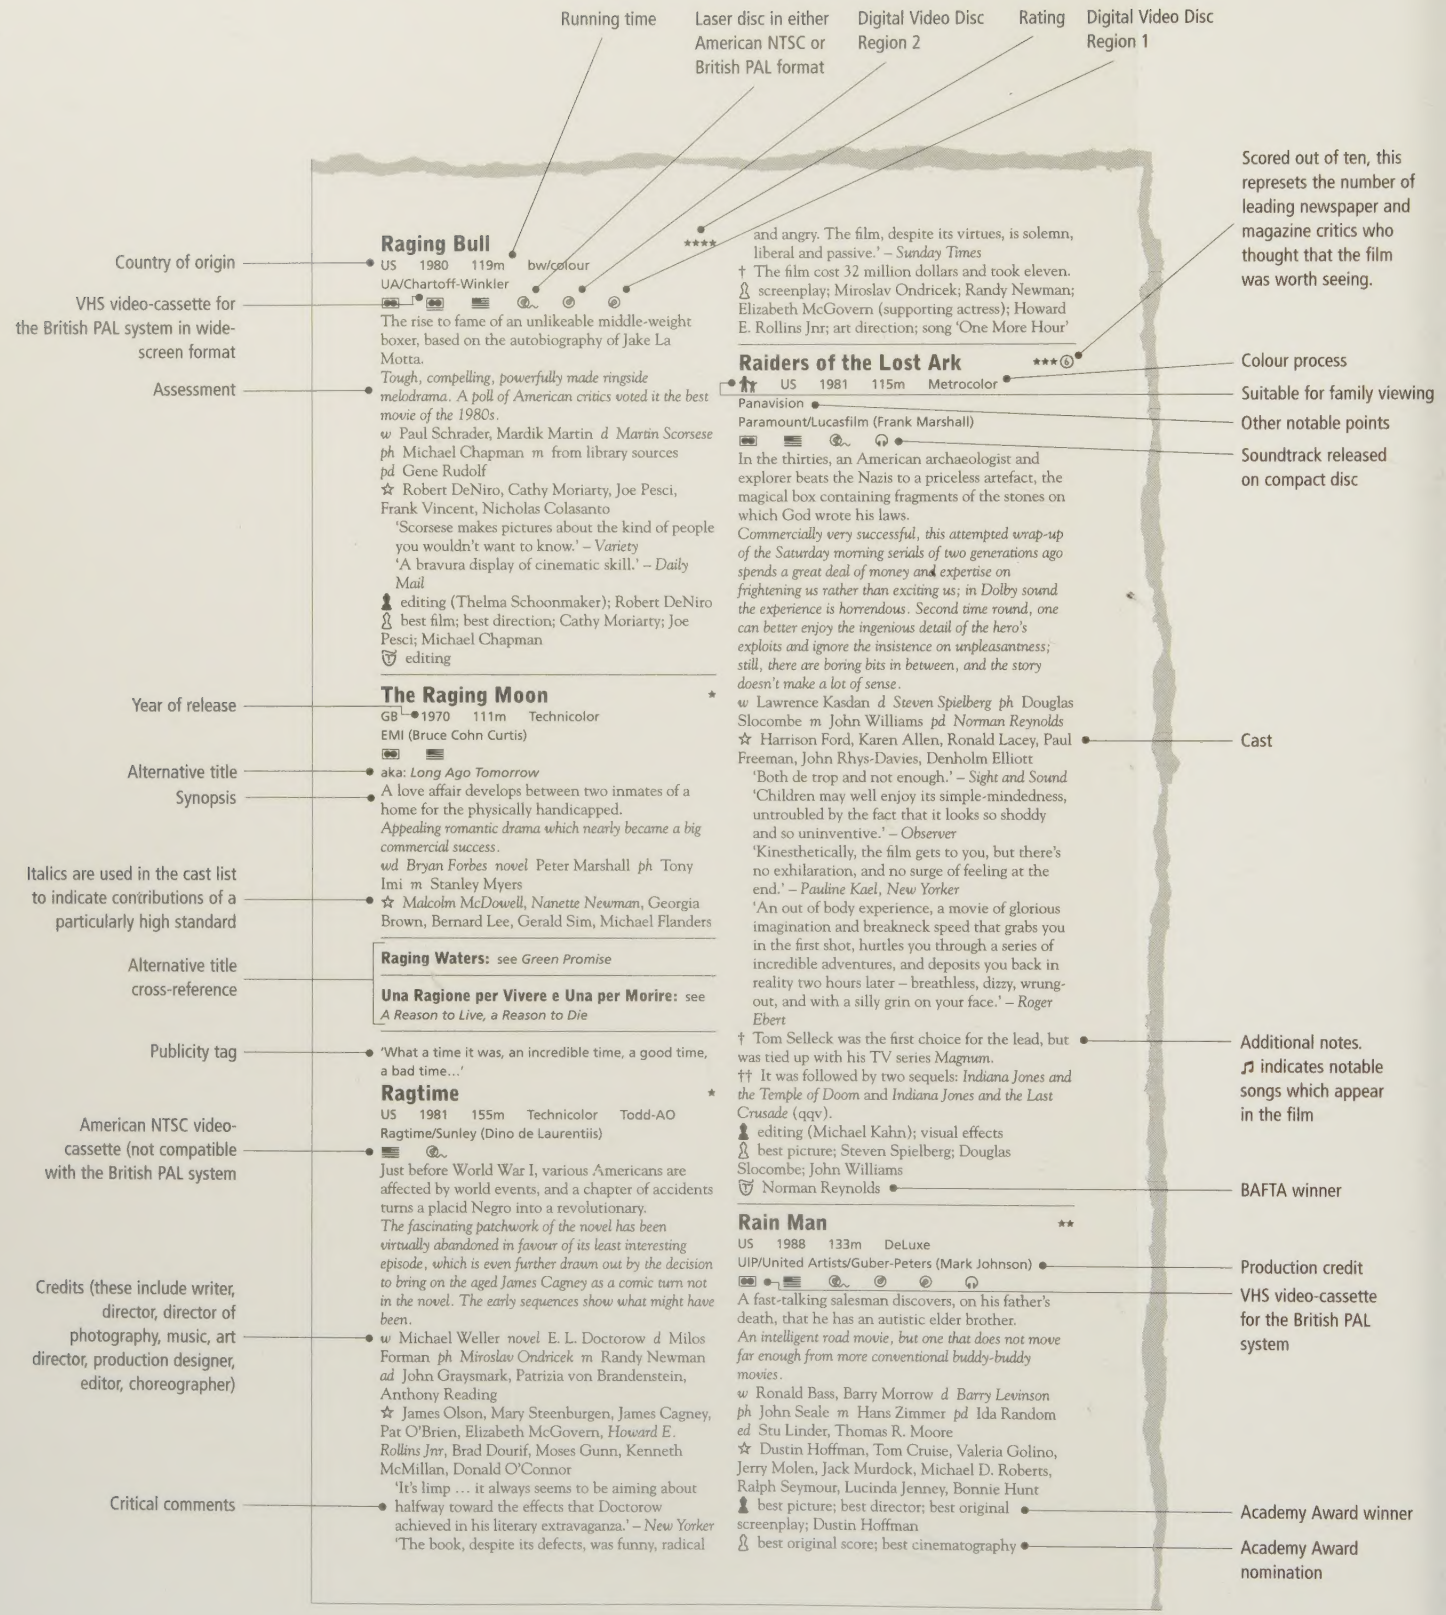


Film Guide 2008

WITH OVER 24,000 MOVIES

★★★★★ FILM REVIEW

DAVID GRITTEN



Running time
Laser disc in either American NTSC or British PAL format
Digital Video Disc Region 2
Rating
Digital Video Disc Region 1
Scored out of ten, this represets the number of leading newspaper and magazine critics who thought that the film was worth seeing.
Country of origin
VHS video-cassette for the British PAL system in wide-screen format Assessment
Year of release
Alternative title
Synopsis
Italics are used in the cast list to indicate contributions of a particularly high standard
Alternative title cross-reference
Publicity tag
American NTSC video-cassette (not compatible with the British PAL system Credits (these include writer, director, director of photography, music, art director, production designer, editor, choreographer)
Critical comments
Colour process
Suitable for family viewing
Other notable points
Soundtrack released on compact disc
Cast
Additional notes. ♫ indicates notable songs which appear in the film
BAFTA winner
Production credit
VHS video-cassette for the British PAL system
Academy Award winner Academy Award nomination Raging Bull
US 1980 119m bw/colour
UA/Chartoff-Winkler
The rise to fame of an unlikeable middle-weight boxer, based on the autobiography of Jake La Motta.
Tough, compelling, powerfully made ringside melodrama. A poll of American critics voted it the best movie of the 1980s.
w Paul Schrader, Mardik Martin d Martin Scorsese ph Michael Chapman m from library sources pd Gene Rudolf
☆ Robert DeNiro, Cathy Moriarty, Joe Pesci, Frank Vincent, Nicholas Colasanto
'Scorsese makes pictures about the kind of people you wouldn't want to know.' – Variety
'A bravura display of cinematic skill.' – Daily Mail editing (Thelma Schoonmaker); Robert DeNiro best film; best direction; Cathy Moriarty; Joe Pesci; Michael Chapman editing
The Raging Moon
GB 1970 111m Technicolor
EMI (Bruce Cohn Curtis)
aka: Long Ago Tomorrow
A love affair develops between two inmates of a home for the physically handicapped.
Appealing romantic drama which nearly became a big commercial success.
wd Bryan Forbes novel Peter Marshall ph Tony Imi m Stanley Myers ☆ Malcolm McDowell, Nanette Newman, Georgia Brown, Bernard Lee, Gerald Sim, Michael Flanders
Raging Waters: see Green Promise
Una Ragione per Vivere e Una per Morire: see A Reason to Live, a Reason to Die
'What a time it was, an incredible time, a good time, a bad time...'
Ragtime
US 1981 155m Technicolor Todd-AO
Ragtime/Sunley (Dino de Laurentiis)
Just before World War I, various Americans are affected by world events, and a chapter of accidents turns a placid Negro into a revolutionary.
The fascinating patchwork of the novel has been virtually abandoned in favour of its least interesting episode, which is even further drawn out by the decision to bring on the aged James Cagney as a comic turn not in the novel. The early sequences show what might have been.
w Michael Weller novel E. L. Doctorow d Milos Forman ph Miroslav Ondricek m Randy Newman ad John Graysmark, Patrizia von Brandenstein, Anthony Reading
☆ James Olson, Mary Steenburgen, James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Elizabeth McGovern, Howard E. Rollins Jnr, Brad Dourif, Moses Gunn, Kenneth McMillan, Donald O'Connor
'It's limp ... it always seems to be aiming about halfway toward the effects that Doctorow achieved in his literary extravaganza.' – New Yorker
'The book, despite its defects, was funny, radical and angry. The film, despite its virtues, is solemn, liberal and passive.' – Sunday Times
† The film cost 32 million dollars and took eleven.
screenplay; Miroslav Ondricek; Randy Newman; Elizabeth McGovern (supporting actress); Howard E. Rollins Jnr; art direction; song 'One More Hour'
Raiders of the Lost Ark
US 1981 115m Metrocolor
Panavision
Paramount/Lucasfilm (Frank Marshall)
In the thirties, an American archaeologist and explorer beats the Nazis to a priceless artefact, the magical box containing fragments of the stones on which God wrote his laws.
Commercially very successful, this attempted wrap-up of the Saturday morning serials of two generations ago spends a great deal of money and expertise on frightening us rather than exciting us; in Dolby sound the experience is horrendous. Second time round, one can better enjoy the ingenious detail of the hero's exploits and ignore the insistence on unpleasantness; still, there are boring bits in between, and the story doesn't make a lot of sense.
w Lawrence Kasdan d Steven Spielberg ph Douglas Slocombe m John Williams pd Norman Reynolds ☆ Harrison Ford, Karen Allen, Ronald Lacey, Paul Freeman, John Rhys-Davies, Denholm Elliott
'Both de trop and not enough.' – Sight and Sound
'Children may well enjoy its simple-mindedness, untroubled by the fact that it looks so shoddy and so uninventive.' – Observer
'Kinesthetically, the film gets to you, but there's no exhilaration, and no surge of feeling at the end.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
'An out of body experience, a movie of glorious imagination and breakneck speed that grabs you in the first shot, hurtles you through a series of incredible adventures, and deposits you back in reality two hours later – breathless, dizzy, wrung-out, and with a silly grin on your face.' – Roger Ebert
† Tom Selleck was the first choice for the lead, but was tied up with his TV series Magnum.
†† It was followed by two sequels: Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom and Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade (qqv).
editing (Michael Kahn); visual effects best picture; Steven Spielberg; Douglas Slocombe; John Williams Norman Reynolds
Rain Man
US 1988 133m DeLuxe
UIP/United Artists/Guber-Peters (Mark Johnson)
A fast-talking salesman discovers, on his father's death, that he has an autistic elder brother.
An intelligent road movie, but one that does not move far enough from more conventional buddy-buddy movies.
w Ronald Bass, Barry Morrow d Barry Levinson ph John Seale m Hans Zimmer pd Ida Random ed Stu Linder, Thomas R. Moore
☆ Dustin Hoffman, Tom Cruise, Valeria Golino, Jerry Molen, Jack Murdock, Michael D. Roberts, Ralph Seymour, Lucinda Jenney, Bonnie Hunt best picture; best director; best original screenplay; Dustin Hoffman best original score; best cinematography

ITP2
791.437

HALLIWELL'S

Film

Video & DVD Guide 2008

AD 04369423

David Gritten writes about and reviews films for the Daily Telegraph, and was a regular film correspondent for the Los Angeles Times for fifteen years. The author of a book about celebrity culture, Fame: Stripping Celebrity Bare in 2002, he is currently chairman of the London Film Critics' Circle.

HALLIWELL'S

THE ONLY FILM GUIDE THAT MATTERS

Film

Video & DVD Guide 2008

★WITH OVER 24,000 MOVIES★

DAVID GRITTEN

HarperCollins*Publishers*

HarperCollinsEntertainment
An Imprint of HarperCollins*Publishers*
77–85 Fulham Palace Road,
Hammersmith, London W6 8JB

www.harpercollins.co.uk

This 2008 edition published by HarperCollins*Publishers* 2007

1 3 5 7 9 8 6 4 2

Copyright © Leslie Halliwell 1977, 1979, 1981, 1983, 1985, 1987, 1989
Copyright © Ruth Halliwell and John Walker 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000
Copyright © HarperCollins*Publishers*, John Walker and David Gritten 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007

The Authors assert the moral right to be identified as the authors of this work

A CIP catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library

ISBN-13 978 0 00 726080 5
ISBN-10 0 00 726080 6

Set in Minion and Frutiger

Typeset by RefineCatch Limited, Bungay, Suffolk
Printed and bound in Germany

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the publishers.

Contents

Introduction to the 2008 Edition vii

Explanatory Notes ix

THE FILM GUIDE A–Z 1

Academy Award Winners 1360

Four-Star Films – By Title 1363

Four-Star Films – Year by Year 1364

Three-Star Films – By Title 1366

Three-Star Films – Year by Year 1369

Index of Leading Directors 1372

Introduction

Taking over as editor of Halliwell's Film Guide, it is hard not to feel a sense of history. The first edition of this volume was published 30 years ago, and since then its pre-eminence has been unquestioned: it is, as its own tagline accurately proclaims, 'the only film guide that matters.' To become only its third editor in all that time truly feels a privilege.

Judging by the gloomy headlines about films, one might conclude there could have been better years to inherit the position. Famously, this was the summer of the 'three-quel,' when Hollywood's blockbuster season was dominated by the third movies in three franchises: Spider-Man 3, Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End, and Shrek the Third. If Spider-Man 3 justified its existence, the other two suffered from the law of diminishing returns: those wells were dry, creatively if not financially. This same summer marked the arrival of the fourth Die Hard film and the fifth Harry Potter, while earlier in the year Sylvester Stallone's Rocky made his sixth big-screen appearance. An air of déjà vu hung heavily over Hollywood's output. It is certainly true that fewer and fewer films account for the vast majority of studio revenues. It is equally true that those studios can calculate a film's box-office return by its 'marketing spend.' Yet it has ever been thus: trumpet a film's virtues loudly (and expensively) enough, and people will come.

There were also gloom-and-doom headlines about 'torture-porn' films – Hostel 2 and Captivity being the year's prime examples – constituting a low-water mark in what passes for entertainment. Yet while such films are misogynistic and repellent, they are also marginal, appealing mostly to audiences of male adolescents; the genre will surely settle in its rightful place as a minor footnote in film history.

A far more interesting argument was the agonising over whether younger audiences still feel the lure of big-screen entertainment, especially at feature length. Would they continue to take the trouble to visit a cinema and sit still for ninety minutes or more, when they could sample bite-size morsels on sites like YouTube, or gaze at short movies on their mobile phones? And if they would not, did this make a whole slew of traditional film skills – cinematography, production design, coherent long-form screenwriting – potentially redundant?

Undeniably, screens in multiplexes have become smaller, just as plasma screens in homes have increased in size. Yet the best answer to all the hand-wringing about the future of cinema lies in the remarkable range of films released in this past year. Consider those that figured strongly during awards season: The Departed, The Last King of Scotland and The Queen are sophisticated, complex works, featuring fine acting and based on soundly constructed, witty, insightful screenplays. Never has there been such a multi-lingual Oscars ceremony, with such entries as Pan's Labyrinth, Volver and Babel deservedly among the leading contenders; these three films even went on to achieve commercial success, as did the German masterpiece The Lives Of Others.

And it was a stellar year for the cinematographer's art, a rebuke to the notion that films need no longer look lustrous in the YouTube era. In this regard, the most striking work came from Guillermo Navarro (Pan's Labyrinth), Emmanuel Lubezki (Children of Men), Rodrigo Prieto (Babel) and Stuart Dryburgh for a sadly underrated picture, The Painted Veil. All these films demanded to be seen on the biggest screens possible.

I am convinced that Leslie Halliwell, the founder of this guide, would have approved of this year's most significant films, mentioned above. He was a great believer in the virtues of 'story' – that is, a clear, logical script, stylishly written – and he often used the terse phrase 'good-looking' to show his approval of the efforts of lighting cameramen, art directors and production designers to ensure a film engaged the eye.

I'm with him on both counts. I have been writing primarily about films for some 20 years, as a reviewer, as an interviewer of people in the film business – and as a regular visitor to film sets. These visits have taken me to far-flung places: to Poland, to watch Steven Spielberg shooting Schindler's List, to Kenya for The Constant Gardener, and to Thailand for The Beach and Oliver Stone's ill-fated Alexander. Some critics shy away from sets, fearing their impartiality might be compromised; but for me they provide a glimpse of the quixotic nature of film-making and how elusive the magic of a moment captured on camera can be. If these visits have left me with a bias, I lean towards ambition: in theme, in innovation and in scale

My tastes, inevitably, differ from Leslie Halliwell's. Audiences today are more relaxed about violence and sexuality in films than even twenty years ago, and I am no exception. Yet I do admire Halliwell's stinginess in awarding stars to films; the more so now, when some semi-obscure publication can always be found to award five stars (five!) for the poster of any routine, mediocre movie. Yet I also feel that more notable films deserve longer, more detailed assessments; in an age when people talk more about films, that seems appropriate.

My grateful thanks go to my HarperCollins editor Tom Whiting; and to my colleagues Neil Smith, Alan Jones and Richard Mowe for their unfailing help under difficult deadline pressure.

David Gritten
July 2007

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2022 with funding from Kahle/Austin Foundation

https://archive.org/details/halliwellsfilmdv0000unse

Explanatory Notes

Alphabetical order Unlike some books which take the complete title into account, as though there were no gaps between words, we have always persevered with the old-fashioned word-at-a-time arrangement. Thus, all titles starting with In, including In Which We Serve, are used up before one goes on to titles beginning Incredible, Inspector, Intolerance. Hyphenated or apostrophized words are counted as one word. Compressions such as Dr and St are treated as though they had been spelled out, as Doctor and Saint, Mac and Mc are regarded as interchangeable under Mac. Titles consisting of initials, such as C. C. and Company or D.O.A. are dealt with at the beginning of each alphabetical section, except where they have become acronyms (pronounceable as one word, e.g. AWOL). In all cases the complete title is given as billed, though the definite and indefinite articles are not counted in the alphabetical arrangement where they occur as the first word of a title. The spelling of the country of origin is used, e.g. My Favorite Blonde and not My Favourite Blonde.

Individual entries All entries follow the same format and the notes are set out below in the order in which they will be encountered.

Publicity tags These were used in the promotion of the film and, in the manner of trailers, precede the entry.

Ratings These range from none to four stars. Four stars indicate a film outstanding in many ways; a milestone in cinema history, remarkable for acting, direction, writing, photography or some other aspect of technique. Three stars indicate a very high standard of professional excellence or great historical interest. Or, if you like, three strong reasons for admiring it. Two stars indicate a good level of competence and a generally entertaining film. One star indicates a film not very satisfactory as a whole; it could be a failed giant or a second feature with a few interesting ideas among the dross. No stars at all indicates a totally routine production or worse; such films may be watchable but are at least equally missable.

Critics' rating This ranges from a score of one to ten. The score is based on a wide sample of the contemporary reviews of leading newspaper and magazine critics. It indicates the number of critics who gave the film a positive review. Thus, a score of six would indicate that six out of every ten critics thought that the film was worth seeing. Similarly, a score of one would show that only one out of every ten critics sampled liked the film.

Country of origin This is the first item on the second line.

Year of release This comes after the country of origin and is intended to indicate the year when the film was first shown, which is not necessarily the year that it was made. Dating is sometimes an onerous task, and the result debatable.

Running time This is given in minutes, signified by 'm'. So far as possible, this is the original release time. Very many films are cut as they appear in different countries, sometimes by twenty minutes or more. An engineering function of British television results in an imperceptible speeding-up of projection and a consequent loss of one minute in every twenty-five. A hundred-minute film, therefore, will run only ninety-six minutes on the box.

Colour This is indicated by 'bw' for black and white films and 'colour' for the others. The colour process used, such as Technicolor, is given when known.

Other notable points These are given at the end of the second line, indicating the use of a special process, such as Panavision.

Production credit This is the central credit on the third line. To the left comes the name of the distributor, which is followed by the production company if different. To the right comes the name or names of the actual producer – in brackets, unless he has a stake in the production, in which case he follows an oblique. These days, many films tend to have more producers of one kind or another than actors. The credit here refers to the person bearing the title of producer rather than to the executive producer, associate producer, production executive and so on.

Family viewing indicates that the film is suitable for family viewing, i.e. by parents together with young film-goers aged from 4 to 14.

Video indicates that the film has been released on VHS video-cassette for the British PAL system. indicates that the film has been released on VHS video-cassette for the British PAL system in wide-screen format. indicates that the film has been released on VHS video-cassette in a computer-colourized version. indicates that the film has been released in the American NTSC format (which is not compatible with the British PAL system). indicates that the film is available on laser disc in either American NTSC format or British PAL format. indicates that the film is available on Video CD. indicates that the film's soundtrack music has been released on compact disc. Video and record releases come and go with great rapidity these days; all that it is possible to indicate is whether a title has been available at some time. If a film or soundtrack has been available in the past, then it is very likely to become available again in the future. If you are desperate to acquire a particular film or soundtrack album, it would be worthwhile checking film magazines for advertisements from companies that specialize in tracking down deleted titles.

DVD ◎ indicates DVD (Digital Video Disc) releases in Region 1 and ◎ indicates DVD releases in Region 2.

Alternative title This is given on a separate line, usually with a note of the country in which it was used. If no such distinction exists, the formula aka (also known as) is used. Alternative titles are also listed individually, cross-referenced to the main entry for the film to which they belong.

Synopsis This is a brief description of the film's plot.

Assessment Again, this is brief and to the point.

Writer credit (w) This appears first since the script precedes direction and is therefore, at least sometimes, more important than the director credit. The author of the screenplay is given; if this derives from a novel, play, musical or story, this is given next, together with the original author.

Director credit (d) This follows next. If the director is also the writer, there will be a combined (wd) credit.

Photography credit (ph) This indicates the cinematographer or lighting cameraman, otherwise known as the director of photography, rather than the actual camera operator.

Music credit (m) This means the composer of the background music score. Sometimes there is only a music director (md) who orchestrates library or classical music. When noteworthy songs are performed in a film, or are specially written for it, those responsible are indicated by a credit for music and lyrics (m/ly) or simply songs.

Other credits These include art director (ad), choreographer (ch), costume designer (costume), film editor (ed), production designer (pd) and special effects (sp). They are given when they seem important and when they can be found. In some cases it has not been possible to track down all the credits one would wish.

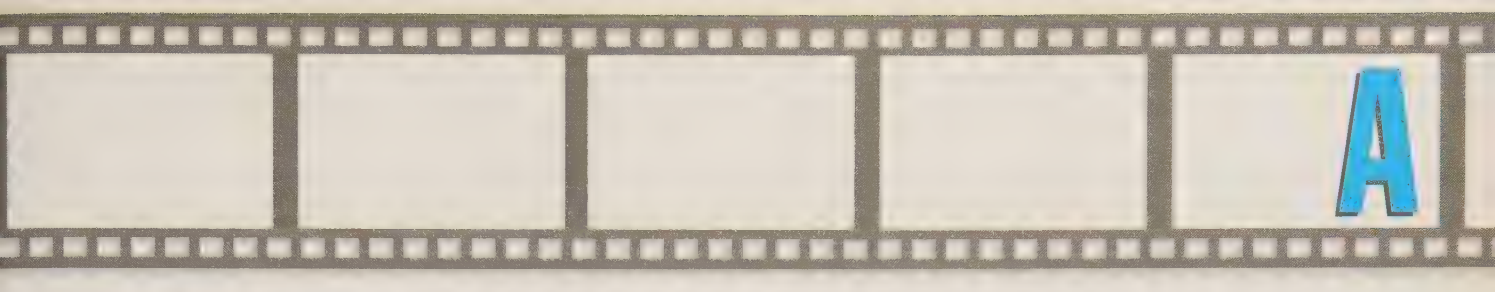
Cast ☆ A list of the principal actors is given, roughly in order of importance.

Italics These denote a contribution of a particularly high standard.

Critical comments Brief quotes from well-known professional critics are appended to many entries, sometimes because they wittily confirm the assessments and sometimes because they provide alternative opinions. The absence of a quote casts no reflection whatever on the film, only on the difficulty of finding an opinion worth quoting.

Additional notes Any points of interest about the film are given after the symbol †. The symbol ♫ indicates notable songs which appear in the film.

Academy awards Awards ♟ and nominations ♙ are listed for all principal categories, including best picture, acting, direction, photography, music score and songs, and some minor ones, such as sound and make-up, when they seem of interest. British Academy of Film and Television Arts awards follow the symbol ♉.



A Bout de Souffle ★★★★

France 1960 90m bw
SNC (Georges de Beauregard)
aka: Breathless

A young car thief kills a policeman and goes on the run with his American girlfriend.

Casual, influential, New Wave reminiscence of both Quai des Brumes and innumerable American gangster thrillers. (The film is dedicated to Monogram.) One of the first and most influential films of the French New Wave.

w Jean-Luc Godard story François Truffaut d Jean-Luc Godard ph Raoul Coutard m Martial Solal ad Claude Chabrol ed Cécile Decugis

☆ Jean-Paul Belmondo (Michel Poiccard/Laszlo Kovacs), Jean Seberg (Patricia Franchini), Daniel Boulanger (Police Inspector), Jean-Pierre Melville (Parvulesco), Jean-Luc Godard (Informer), Liliane Robin (Minouche)

'A film all dressed up for rebellion but with no real tangible territory on which to stand and fight.' – Peter John Dyer

'A chunk of raw drama, gtraphically and artfully torn with appropriately ragged edges out of the tough underbelly of modern metropolitan life.' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

† See also Breathless (1983), American remake.

†† The Region 1 DVD release has a commentary by David Sterritt. The Region 2 release includes Godard's short Charlotte et Son Jules,

A Double Tour

France/Italy 1959 110m Eastmancolor
Paris/Panitalia (Robert and Raymond Hakim)
aka: Web of Passion

A wealthy wine grower has trouble with his wife, his children, his best friend, and his mistress across the way, who is murdered.

Talented but irritating mixture of Hitchcock and Les Parents Terribles*; rather an undergraduatish romp.*

w Paul Gégauff novel La Clé de la Rue Saint-Nicolas d Claude Chabrol ph Henri Decaë m Paul Misraki

☆ Jacques Dacqmine, Madeleine Robinson, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Bernadette Lafont, Antonella Lualdi, André Jocelyn

'Journey To A World Where Robots Dream And Desire.'

A.I. Artificial Intelligence ★

US 2001 145m
Warner/DreamWork/Amblin/Stanley Kubrick (Kathleen Kennedy, Steven Spielberg, Bonnie Curtis)

The first robot child to have emotions searches for the mother who abandons him so that she may love him.

Overlong, often spectacular, but fuzzy updating of the story of Pinocchio. Beneath its surface gloss, and sentimental whimsy, there is a darker theme of the end of humankind: the narrative equates love with biological imprinting and prefers mechanical fantasy to messier humanity.

wd Steven Spielberg screen story Ian Watson story Supertoys Last All Summer Long by Brian Aldiss ph Janusz Kaminski m John Williams pd Rick Carter ed Michael Kahn cos Bob Ringwood

☆ Haley Joel Osment (David), Jude Law (Gigolo Joe), Frances O'Connor (Monica Swinton), Brendan Gleeson (Lord Johnson-Johnson), Sam Robards (Henry Swinton), William Hurt (Professor Hobby), Jake Thomas (Martin Swinton), Ken Leung (Syatyoo-Sama), Michael Mantell (Dr Frazier), Michael Berresse (Stage Manager), Kathryn Morris (Teenage Honey), Adrian Grenier (Teen in Van)

'A dark, demanding piece of entertainment that's well worth seeing.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times

'Any movie buff worth his salt will want to sift through this fascinating wreck of a movie.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone

'Those gagging on the glut of cinematic junk food should welcome this brilliantly made visionary work that's bursting with provocative ideas.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† The film cost $90m and took $78m at the US box-office.

♫ John Williams; visual effects (Dennis Muren, Scott Farrar, Stan Winston, Michael Lantieri)

AKA ★

GB 2002 123m colour
City Screen/Julian Thunderock (Richard West)

In the 1970s, a working-class youth goes to Paris and, claiming to be the son of an aristocrat, mixes in the camper circles of high society.

Clever semi-autobiographical drama of class and identity, given a certain novelty by having the action shown on a screen split three ways.

wd Duncan Roy ph Scott Taylor, Steve Smith, Claire Vinson, Ingrid Domeij m Matt Rowe pd Philip Robinson ed Lawrence Catford, Jackie Ophire, John Cross

☆ Matthew Leitch (Dean Page), George Asprey (David), Lindsey Coulson (Georgie), Diana Quick (Lady Tryffoyn), Peter Youngblood Hills (Benjamin)

'Deeply felt and consistently entertaining.' – Anthony Quinn, Independent

A la Folie: see Six Days, Six Nights

À La Folie... Pas Du Tout: see He Love Me... He Loves Me Not

A la Place du Coeur ★

France 1998 112m colour
Artificial Eye/Agat/Diaphana/La Seot/France2/Canal+ (Gilles Sandoz, Michel Saint-Jean, Robert Guédiguian)

In Marseille, a pregnant 16-year-old white girl struggles to defend the black father of her expected child, who is accused of raping a Bosnian refugee.

An often clumsy French version of Baldwin's angry novel, which was set in Harlem; the change in locale has not affected the racial tension at the heart of the drama.

w Jean-Louis Milesi, Robert Guédiguian novel If Beale Street Could Talk by James Baldwin d Robert Guédiguian ph Bernard Cavalié ad Michel Vandestien ed Bernard Sasia

☆ Ariane Ascaride (Marianne Patché), Christine Brücher (Francine Lopez), Jean-Pierre Darroussin (Joel Patché), Gérard Meylan (Franck Lopez), Alexandre Ogou (François Lopez), Laure Raoust (Clémentine Patché), Véronique Ballme (Sophie Patché), Pierre Banderet (Mr d'Assas)

'A highly individual and personal piece of work. It's one that deserves a place in everyone's heart.' – James Mottram, Film Review

À L'attaque! ★

France 2000 90m colour
Gala/Agat/Diaphana/TF1 (Gilles Sandoz, Michel Saint-Jean, Robert Guediguian) US title: Charge!

Two screenwriters work on a movie set in Marseille, where the family who run a small garage kidnap the capitalist who forced them into bankruptcy.

Entertaining film within a film, as two writers quarrel over scenes, and the variations are immediately acted out, though they don't seem as real as the family they create.

w Robert Guédiguian, Jean Louis Milesi d Robert Guédiguian ph Bernard Cavalie m Jacques Menichetti ad Michel Vandestien ed Bernard Sasia

☆ Ariane Ascaride, Pierre Banderet, Frederique Bonnal, Patrick Bonnel, Jacques Boudet, Christine Brucher, Jean-Pierre Darroussin

'A funny, lively, lightweight film, but there's a serious centre to it.' – Philip French, Observer

À Ma Soeur! ★

France/Italy 2001 86m colour
Metro Tartan/Flach/CB/Arte/Immagine/Urania (Jean-François Lepetit)

US title: Fat Girl
aka: For My Sister

An overweight 12-year-old girl observes her pretty, 15-year-old sister's sexual initiation on a summer holiday.

An often observant study of adolescent sexuality and sibling relationships vitiated by its violent ending.

wd Catherine Breillat ph Yorgos Arvanitis pd François Renaud Labarthe ed Pascale Chavance cos Anne Dunsford Varenne

☆ Anais Reboux (Anais), Roxane Mesquida (Elena), Libero de Rienzo (Fernando), Arsinee Khanjian (Mother), Romain Goupil (Father), Laura Betti (Fernando's Mother), Albert Goldberg (Killer)

'Turns out to be more painful and shocking than we anticipate. It is like life, which has a way of interrupting our plans with its tragic priorities.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

A Nos Amours: see To Our Loves

A Nous Deux ★★

France/Canada 1979 109m Eastmancolor
Films 13/Cinévidéo (Claude Lelouch, Denis Heroux, Joseph Beaubien) aka: An Adventure for Two aka: The Two of Us

A thief escapes from prison and goes on the run, becoming involved along the way with a man-hating prostitute who is also wanted by the police.

Clever, witty thriller, full of little visual surprises, and one that plays games with an audience's expectations.

wd Claude Lelouch ph Bernard Zitzermann m Francis Lai ad Jean-Louis Poveda ed Sophie Bhaud, Hugues Darmois

☆ Catherine Deneuve, Jacques Dutronc, Jacques Villeret, Paul Préboist, Bernard Lecoq, Gilberte Geniat, Monique Melinand, Jacques Godin, Daniel Auteuil

A Nous la Liberté ★★★★

France 1931 95m bw
Tobis

US title: Freedom for Us

A factory owner is blackmailed about his past, and helped by an old prison friend, with whom he finally takes to the road.

Operetta-style satirical comedy with leftish attitudes and several famous sequences later borrowed by Chaplin for Modern Times. In terms of sheer film flair, a revelation, though the plot has its tedious turns.

wd René Clair ph Georges Périnal m Georges Auric pd Lazare Meerson ad Lazare Meerson ed René Clair, Rene Le Henaff

☆ Raymond Cordy (Louis), Henri Marchand (Emile), Rolla France (Jeanne), Paul Olivier (Paul Imaque), Jacques Shelly (Paul), Andre Michaud (Foreman)

'Different from the usual run ... easily understandable even to those who do not know French.' – Variety

'He demonstrates that sound pictures can be as fluid as silents were, and the picture is rightly considered a classic.' – Pauline Kael, 1970s

'I was close to the extreme left ... I wanted to attack the Machine, which led men into starvation instead of adding to their happiness.' – René Clair † Regio 1 and 2 DVD releases include a v ideo interview with Madame Bronja Clair and a short film Entr'acte.

♫ Lazare Meerson

A Propos de Nice ★

France 1930 30m bw

A satirical documentary on the millionaire's paradise of the French Riviera.

Cheaply made and rather naïve-looking after sixty years, this amusingly belligerent lampoon still has its striking moments.
wd Jean Vigo ph Boris Kaufman

À Toute Vitesse

France 1996 85m colour
Dangerous to Know/Magouric/Téléma/France2/Rhône-Alpes (Laurent Bénégui)

GB and US title: Full Speed
A young French writer befriends a homosexual Algerian in order to obtain material for his next novel.
An effective drama of racial, sexual and class prejudice, though it has nothing new to say about them; it is much influenced in its style by André Techiné's Wild Reeds/Les Roseaux Sauvages (qv), in which Gaël Morel starred.
w Gaël Morel, Catherine Corsini d Gaël Morel ph Jeanne Lapoirie ad Frédérique Hurpeau ed Catherine Schwartz ☆ Élodie Bouchez, Pascal Cerve, Stéphane Rideau, Meziane Bardadi, Romain Auger, Salim Kechiouche, Mohammed Dib
'Gives the impression of being less than the sum of its parts.' – Sight and Sound

AWOL

US 1990 108m colour
Guild/Wrong Bet Productions/Imperial Entertainment (Ash R. Shah, Eric Karson)

US title: Lionheart
aka: The Wrong Bet
A deserter from the Foreign Legion becomes a bare-knuckle fighter in America.
Musclebound action movie, sentimental when it is not violent.
w Sheldon Lettich, Jean-Claude Van Damme d Sheldon Lettich ph Robert C. New m John Scott pd Gregory Pickrell ed Mark Conte
☆ Jean-Claude Van Damme, Harrison Page, Deborah Rennard, Lisa Pelikan, Ashley Johnson, Brian Thompson

A-Haunting We Will Go ★

US 1942 68m bw
TCF (Sol M. Wurtzel)

Gangsters dupe Laurel and Hardy into escorting a coffin, which is accidentally switched with one used in a magic act.
Nothing whatever to do with haunting: a poor comedy with no typical material for the stars, but interesting as a record of the touring show of Dante the Magician.
w Lou Breslow d Alfred Werker ph Glen MacWilliams m Emil Newman ☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Dante, Sheila Ryan, John Shelton, Elisha Cook Jnr
'The comedians' lack of enthusiasm for their material is rather evident.' – William K. Everson, 1967

Aaltra ★★

Belgium 2004 92m bw CinemaScope
A La Parti/OF2B (Vincent Tavier, Guillaume Malandrin, Adriana Piasek-Wanski)
Two farmworkers, crippled by an accident with a tractor, journey to the Finnish factory that made the machine.
Diverting, oddball, odd couple road trip that rambles around the outskirts of humour.
wd Benoit Delepine, Gustave Kervern ph Hugues Poulain, Jackson Elizondo pd Isabelle Girard ed Anne-Laure Guegan
☆ Benoit Delepine (Ben), Gustave Kervern (Gus), Aki Kaurismaki, Jason Flemyng, Benoit Poelvoorde, Noel Godin, Jan Bucquoy
'Stylish diversion with genuine laughs and a refreshingly unholy take on the handicapped.' – Jay Weissberg, Variety

Aan ★

India 1952 190m approx Technicolor
All India Film Corporation/Mehboob Productions
aka: Savage Princess
A usurping young prince and his sister are tamed by an athletic peasant and his girlfriend.
One of the few examples to reach the West of Indian costume melodrama with music, spectacle and swashbuckling. Distinctly intriguing, if overpowering.
w Chaudary, Ali Raza d Mehboob ph Faredoon A. Irani m Naushad Dilip ☆ Kumar, Nimmi, Premnath, Nadira
'Disarmingly enthusiastic ... exotic and yet charmingly naïve.' – MFB † English version runs to 130 minutes.

De Aanslag: see The Assault

Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick ★

US 1952 95m Technicolor
Paramount (William Perlberg, George Seaton)
GB title: Marshmallow Moon
A small-town girl is tricked into selling her farm and moving to the city, but eventually marries the simple farmer who rescues her.
Homespun entertainment based on a staple success of the American provincial theatre, with pleasant songs added.
wd Claude Binyon play Walter Benjamin Hare ph Charles B. Lang Jnr m/ly Jay Livingston, Ray Evans ch Charles O'Curran
☆ Alan Young, Dinah Shore, Robert Merrill, Adele Jergens, Minerva Urecal

Aau Chin: see Running Out of Time

Abandon Ship: see Seven Waves Away

Abbot and Costello in Society: see In Society

'They're too wild for one world!'

Abbott and Costello Go to Mars

US 1953 76m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

Two incompetents accidentally launch a space ship and land first in Louisiana, then on Venus.
Dismal knockabout, badly made.
w John Grant, D. D. Beauchamp d Charles Lamont ph Clifford Stine m Joseph Gershenson ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Mari Blanchard, Robert Paige, Martha Hyer

Abbott and Costello in Hollywood ★

US 1945 85m bw
MGM (Martin Gosch)

Two agents have hectic adventures in a film studio.
Tolerable star romp on one of their biggest budgets, climaxing in a roller coaster ride.
w Nat Perrin, Lou Breslow d S. Sylvan Simon ph Charles Schoenbaum m George Bassman ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Frances Rafferty, Warner Anderson, Robert Z. Leonard

Abbott and Costello in the Foreign Legion

US 1950 80m bw
U-I (Robert Arthur)

Incompetent legionnaires become heroes to the fury of their sergeant.
Dull star vehicle on ramshackle sets, with no memorable routines.
w John Grant, Leonard Stern, Martin Ragaway d Charles Lamont ph George Robinson m Joseph Gershenson ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Patricia Medina, Walter Slezak, Douglass Dumbrille

Abbott and Costello in the Navy: see In the Navy

Abbott and Costello Lost in Alaska

US 1952 76m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

Two San Francisco firemen take a melancholy prospector back to Alaska to find a gold mine.
Sub-standard comedy vehicle with poor production.
w Martin Ragaway, Leonard Stern d Jean Yarbrough ph George Robinson m Joseph Gershenson ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Tom Ewell, Mitzi Green, Bruce Cabot

'They're Raising Cain on the Bounding Main!'

Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd ★

US 1952 70m Supercinecolor
Warner/Woodley (Alex Gottlieb)

Two servants have a treasure map, and a fearsome pirate wants it.
Crude knockabout: the stars are way below their best, and a famous actor is embarrassed.
w Howard Dimsdale, John Grant d Charles Lamont ph Stanley Cortez m Raoul Kraushaar
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Charles Laughton, Hillary Brooke, Leif Erickson

Abbott and Costello Meet Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde ★

US 1953 77m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

In Victorian London, two rookie policemen catch a monster.
Quite a lively spoof with some well-paced comedy sequences.
w John Grant, Lee Loeb d Charles Lamont ph George Robinson m Hans Salter ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Boris Karloff, Reginald Denny, Craig Stevens, Helen Westcott, John Dierkes
'Gracious Boris Karloff is superior to his surroundings.' – MFB (Though it is doubtful whether he ever got behind the Hyde make-up.)
† In Britain, the film was given an 'X' certificate, though it later played on children's television.

'Jeepers! the creepers are after somebody – and guess who! More howls than you can shake a shiver at!!!'

Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein ★★

US 1948 83m bw
U-I (Robert Arthur)

GB title: Abbott and Costello Meet the Ghosts
Two railway porters deliver crates containing the Frankenstein monster, Dracula, and the Wolf Man.
Fairly lively spoof which put an end to Universal's monsters for a while. Good typical sequences for the stars, a few thrills, and some good lines. Dracula to Costello, lovingly: 'What we need is young blood ... and brains...'
w Robert Lees, Frederic I. Rinaldo, John Grant d Charles Barton ph Charles van Enger m Frank Skinner
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Bela Lugosi, Lon Chaney Jnr, Glenn Strange, Lenore Aubert, Jane Randolph
WOLF MAN: 'You don't understand. Every night when the moon is full, I turn into a wolf.'
COSTELLO: 'You and twenty million other guys!'
† Probably the Abbott and Costello film which survives best.

Abbott and Costello Meet the Ghosts: see Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein

Abbott and Costello Meet the Invisible Man ★

US 1951 82m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

A boxer accused of murder makes himself invisible while two detectives clear him.
Quite a bright comedy with good trick effects.
w Robert Lees, Frederic I. Rinaldo, John Grant d Charles Lamont ph George Robinson m Hans Salter ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Arthur Franz, Nancy Guild, Adele Jergens, Sheldon Leonard

'When every face wore a custard pie, and vamps broke hearts with a winking eye!'

Abbott and Costello Meet the Keystone Kops ★

US 1954 79m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

In pioneer film days, two incompetents are sold a dud studio by a con man, but succeed as stunt men.
Flabby comedy which never seems to get going until the chase finale; notable chiefly for a guest appearance by Mack Sennett.
w John Grant d Charles Lamont ph Reggie Lanning m Joseph Gershenson ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Lynn Bari, Fred Clark, Frank Wilcox, Maxie Rosenbloom

'More ghoulish glee than when they met Frankenstein!'

Abbott and Costello Meet the Killer, Boris Karloff ★

US 1948 84m bw
U-I (Robert Arthur)

Two bellboys help to solve mysterious murders in a remote hotel.
This clumsily titled comedy really does not work until the last sequence in a cavern. Boris Karloff is not the killer and appears very little.
w Hugh Wedlock Jnr, Howard Snyder, John Grant d Charles Barton ph Charles van Enger md Milton Schwarzwald
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Boris Karloff, Gar Moore, Lenore Aubert, Alan Mowbray

'It has been said that a man's best friend is his mummy...'

Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy ★

US 1955 77m bw
U-I (Howard Christie)

A missing medallion leads to a lost tomb and a living mummy.
The comedians show their age in this one, but there is some typical if predictable humour and a thrill or two.
w John Grant d Charles Lamont
ph George Robinson m Hans Salter ☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Kurt Katch, Marie Windsor, Michael Ansara, Dan Seymour
COSTELLO: 'How stupid can you get?'
ABBOTT: 'How stupid do you want me to be?'

The Abdication

GB 1974 102m Technicolor
Warner (Robert Fryer, James Cresson)

17th-century Queen Christina of Sweden journeys to Rome to embrace the Catholic church and falls in love with a cardinal.
Sombre historical fantasia, more irritating than interesting.
w Ruth Wolff play Ruth Wolff d Anthony Harvey ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Nino Rota ☆ Liv Ullmann, Peter Finch, Cyril Cusack, Paul Rogers, Graham Crowden, Michael Dunn, Lewis Fiander, Harold Goldblatt

'Dainty debauchery and titillating tease straight from twenties women's pulp magazines.' – Variety

'Embalmed in such reverence for its own cultural elevation that it loses all contact with the audience.' – Pauline Kael

'It'll steal your heart.'

The Abduction Club

GB/France/Ireland 2002 95m colour 'Scope
Pathé/Film Council/Canal+/Gruber/UGC/Samson (Neil Peplow, Yves Marmion, Richard Holmes, David Collins)

In the late 18th century, aristocratic younger sons kindap heiresses in the hope of persuading them into marriage.
Tiresome period romp, in the style of a raucous fancydress party.
w Bill Britten, Richard Crawford d Stefan Schwartz ph Howard Atherton m Shaun Davey pd Sarah Greenwood ed Pamela Power cos Consolata Boyle
☆ Alice Evans (Catherine Kennedy), Daniel Lapaine (Byrne), Sophia Myles (Anne Kennedy), Matthew Rhys (Strang), Liam Cunningham (John Power), Edward Woodward (Lord Fermoy), Patrick Malahide (Sir Myles), John Arthur (Robert Kennedy), Tom Murphy (Knox)

'Hardly likely to hold the attention of the young audience for whom a 12 certificate has been thoughtfully secured' – Ryan Gilbey, Observer

† Bill Britten was replaced as director by Stefan Schwartz.

The Abductors ★

US 1957 80m bw Regalscope
TCF/Regal (Ray Wander)

Around 1870, criminals steal Lincoln's body as ransom to effect a convict's release.
Interesting minor melodrama, but not sufficiently well made.
w Ray Wander d Andrew V. McLaglen
ph Joseph LaShelle m Paul Glass
☆ Victor McLaglen, Gavin Muir, George Macready

Abdul the Damned ★

GB 1935 111m bw
BIP/Capitol (Max Schach)

In 1900 Turkey, an opera star gives herself to a villainous sultan to protect her fiancé.
Thoroughgoing hokum, well produced, which pleased some people in its day.
w Ashley Dukes, Warren Chetham Strode, Robert Burford d Karl Grune ph Otto Kanturek
☆ Fritz Kortner, Adrienne Ames, Nils Asther, John Stuart, Esme Percy, Walter Rilla, Patric Knowles, Eric Portman

Abe Lincoln in Illinois ★★

US 1940 110m bw
RKO (Max Gordon)

GB title: Spirit of the People

Episodes in the political and domestic life of Abraham Lincoln.
Pleasant, muted, careful film based on a Broadway success: generally informative and interesting.
w Grover Jones play Robert E. Sherwood d John Cromwell ph James Wong Howe m Roy Webb
☆ Raymond Massey, Ruth Gordon, Gene Lockhart, Mary Howard, Dorothy Tree, Minor Watson, Howard da Silva

'If you want attitudes, a five gallon hat, famous incidents, and One Nation Indivisible, they're all here. As a picture and as a whole, it just doesn't stick.' – Otis Ferguson

Raymond Massey, James Wong Howe

Abel ★★

Netherlands 1985 96m colour
First Floor Features (Laurens Geels, Dick Maas, Rob Swaab)

A 31-year-old mother's boy, thrown out of home, moves in with his father's mistress.
Witty, neatly plotted black farce of family life.
wd Alex Van Warmerdam ph Marc Felperlaan ad Harry Ammerlaan ed Hans Van Dongen ☆ Alex Van Warmerdam, Henri Garcin, Olga Zuiderhoek, Annet Malherbe, Loes Luca

Abendland

Germany/Portugal 1999 140m colour
Artificial Eye/Mediopolis/Filmes do Tejo/WDR (Alexander Ris)
aka: Nightfall

An unemployed couple in a hostile city spend a day and a night facing desolation and death.
Miserablist film suffused with urban despair, cruelty and pessimism about the human condition; its use of grainy video for close-ups of hopeless faces makes it hard to watch.
wd Fred Kelemen ph Fred Kelemen
m Rainer Kirchmann pd Ralf Küfner, Anette Kuhn ed Fred Kelemen, Anja Nerall, Nicola Undritz Cope ☆ Verena Jasch (Leni), Wolfgang Michae (Anton), Adolfo Assor (Bell founder), Isa Hochgerner (Nina), Urs Remond (Paul), Thomas Baumann (Man in leather coat), Daniela Roque-Magalhaes (Little girl)

'There is evident artistry in the desolate tableaux and bizarre visual metaphors that Kelemen conjures up, but these are pretty measly rewards for enduring such a long, bludgeoning film.' – Ed Porter, Sunday Times

Abgeschminkt!: see Making Up

Abie's Irish Rose

US 1946 96m bw
UA/Bing Crosby Productions (Edward A. Sutherland)

An Irish girl marries a Jewish boy, leading to a clash of families.
Flat filming of the twenties Broadway play.
w Anne Nichols play Anne Nichols d A. Edward Sutherland ph William Mellor
m John Scott Trotter
☆ Joanne Dru, Richard Norris, Michael Chekhov, Eric Blore, Art Baker
† There had been a silent version in 1928, and the plot was borrowed, to say the least, for the 1972 TV series Bridget Loves Bernie.

Abilene Town ★

US 1946 89m bw
UA (Jules Levey)

An upright marshal routs crooked cattlemen.
Vigorous, enjoyable Western programmer.
w Harold Shumate d Edwin L. Marin
☆ Randolph Scott, Ann Dvorak, Rhonda Fleming, Edgar Buchanan, Lloyd Bridges

'Love means never having to say you're ugly!'

The Abominable Dr Phibes ★

GB 1971 94m Movielab
AIP (Louis M. Heyward, Ron Dunas)

A disfigured musical genius devises a series of horrible murders, based on the ten curses of Pharaoh, for the surgeons who failed to save his wife.
Brisk but uninspired treatment of a promising theme, with more unintended nastiness than intended laughs. Some good moments and interesting low-budget thirties sets.
w James Whiton, William Goldstein
d Robert Fuest ph Norman Warwick
m Basil Kirchen, Jack Nathan pd Brian Eatwell
☆ Vincent Price, Joseph Cotten, Hugh Griffith, Terry-Thomas, Peter Jeffrey, Virginia North, Aubrey Woods

'The sets are awful, the plot ludicrous and the dialogue inane – what more could a horror freak desire?' – Motion Picture Guide † Sequel: Dr Phibes Rises Again (1973).

'See it with someone brave!'

The Abominable Snowman ★

GB 1957 91m bw RegalScope
Warner/Hammer/Clarion (Aubrey Baring)

US title: The Abominable Snowman of the Himalayas

Himalayan explorers are attacked one by one by the Yeti and their own fear.
A thin horror film with intelligent scripting: more philosophizing and characterization than suspense. The briefly glimpsed Yeti are disappointing creations.
w Nigel Kneale TV play Nigel Kneale
d Val Guest ph Arthur Grant
m Humphrey Searle md John Hollingsworth pd Bernard Robinson
ed Bill Lenny
☆ Peter Cushing, Forrest Tucker, Maureen Connell, Richard Wattis, Robert Brown, Arnold Marle

Abouna ★

Chad/France 2002 84m colour
Duo/Goi-Goi (Guillaume De Seille)

aka: Our Father

In the African village of N'Djamena, two young brothers go in search of the father who has abandoned them.
An account of love and loss in which melancholy is kept at bay by the charm of the performances.
wd Mahamat-Saleh Haroun ph Abraham Haile Biru m Diego Moustapha Ngarade pd Laurent Cavero ed Sarah Taouss Matton
☆ Ahidjo Mahamat Moussa (Tahir), Hamza Moctar Aguid (Amine), Zara Haroun (Achta), Mounira Khalil (Mute Girl), Koulsy Lamko (Father), Garba Issa (Headmaster)

'A simple, beautifully told tale with affecting music.' – Philip French, Observer

'Growing up has nothing to do with age.'

About a Boy ★★ (7)

GB/US/Germany/France 2002 101m colour 'Scope
UIP/Universal/Tribeca/Working Title/Kalima (Jane Rosenthal, Robert De Niro, Brad Epstein, Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner)

An idle playboy, who exploits single mothers, learns about commitment when he is forced to befriend an unhappy 12-year-old boy.
Amusing comedy about the beginnings of masculine maturity, at its best when not taking itself too seriously.
w Peter Hedges, Chris Weitz, Paul Weitz novel Nick Hornby d Paul and Chris Weitz ph Remi Adefarasin m Badly Drawn Boy
pd Jim Clay ed Nick Moore
☆ Hugh Grant (Will), Toni Collette (Fiona), Rachel Weisz (Rachel), Nicholas Hoult (Marcus), Isabel Brook (Angie), Sharon Small (Christine), Victoria Smurfit (Susie), Augustus Prew (Ali)

'The timing and cutting of the film are terrific, the build-up to an absurdly hilarious climax is just right, and the performances are near perfect.' – Shawn Levy, Oregonian

Peter Hedges, Chris Weitz, Paul Weitz

'They Were The Apple Of His Eye. All Three Of Them.'

About Adam ★

Ireland/GB/US 2000 105m colour
Metrodome/BBC/Miramax/HAL/IFB/Venus (Anna Devlin, Marina Hughes)

A waitress in a Dublin restaurant brings home a young man she fancies, only to discover that he is a voracious sexual predator prepared to seduce her two sisters.
Often lively romantic comedy that skates over the central matter of betrayal in favour of the pleasures to be gained from seeing events from various perspectives.
wd Gerard Stembridge ph Bruno De Keyser m Adrian Johnston pd Fiona Daly ed Mary Finlay cos Eimear Ni Mhaoldomhnaigh
☆ Stuart Townsend (Adam), Kate Hudson (Lucy), Frances O'Connor (Laura), Charlotte Bradley (Alice), Rosaleen Linehan (Peggy), Tommy Tiernan (Simon), Alan Maher (David), Brendan Dempsey (Martin), Cathleen Bradley (Karen), Roger Gregg (Prof McCormick)

'Has the structure of a sex comedy, but the comedy seems to have gone missing.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Times

About Face

US 1952 96m Technicolor
Warner (William Jacobs)

Moronic remake of Brother Rat (qv), shorn of all wit, pace and style.
w Peter Milne d Roy del Ruth ph Bert Glennon m/ly Charles Tobias, Peter de Rose ☆ Eddie Bracken, Gordon MacRae, Dick Wesson, Virginia Gibson, Phyllis Kirk, Joel Grey

About Last Night

US 1986 113m MGM Color
Tri-Star (Jason Brett, Stuart Oken)

The ups and downs of an unmarried relationship.
Smart, slick, up-to-the-minute account of human coupling and uncoupling in the eighties … but no plot.
w Tim Kazurinsky, Denise DeClue play Sexual Perversity in Chicago by David Mamet d Edward Zwick ph Andrew Dintenfass m Miles Goodman pd Ida Random
☆ Rob Lowe, Demi Moore, Jim Belushi, Elizabeth Perkins, George DiCenzo

'Savvy enough to recognize points of conflict but not daring enough to look beneath the surface.' – Variety

About Mrs Leslie ★

US 1954 104m bw
Paramount (Hal B. Wallis)

An ageing nightclub singer has a platonic affair with a mysterious wealthy man, who leaves her enough money to buy a boarding house.
Odd, likeable romantic drama tailored for an unusual star; but its plot is too thin and its direction too drab for real success.
w Ketti Frings, Hal Kanter novel Vina Delmar d Daniel Mann ph Ernest Laszlo m Victor Young ☆ Shirley Booth, Robert Ryan, Alex Nicol, Marjie Millar, Eilene Janssen

'This quiet and curious film has an unexpectedly gentle, civilized flavour.' – Gavin Lambert
'It's all sunny disposition and sweet sadness for Miss Booth.' – Judith Crist
'One is reminded alternately of Chekhov and of Back Street.' – Sight and Sound

About Schmidt ★★★ (7)

US 2002 125m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New Line (Michael Gittes, Harry Besman)

A retired and suddenly-widowed actuary experiences a late-life crisis.
At once affecting and funny, slyly observant and celebratory, this dark, comic look at old age gains immeasurably from Nicholson's contained performance; he restrains his usual mannerisms to suggest the confusions and decencies of a man who has lost his place in the world.
w Alexander Payne, Jim Taylor novel Louis Begley d Alexander Payne ph James Glennon m Rolfe Kent pd Jane Ann Stewart ad Tim Kirkpatrick, Pat Tagliaferro ed Kevin Tent
☆ Jack Nicholson (Warren Schmidt), Hope Davis (Jeannie), Dermot Mulroney (Randall Hertzel), Kathy Bates (Roberta Hertzel), Len Cariou (Ray), Howard Hesseman (Larry), June Squibb (Helen Schmidt)

'The power of this great movie – part comedy, part tragedy, part satire, mostly masterpiece – is in the details.' – Lisa Schwarzbaum, Entertainment Weekly
'Sublimely funny and exquisitely sad, this might just turn out to be an American classic.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'Doesn't bring us deeply into the lives of its people because it's too busy trying to feel superior to them.' – Peter Rainer, New York

Jack Nicholson; Kathy Bates

'The love story behind the billion dollar secret!'

Above and Beyond ★

US 1952 122m bw
MGM (Melvin Frank, Norman Panama)

The training of Colonel Paul Tibbets, who dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan.
Overstretched flagwaver with laborious domestic interludes. Of little real interest then or now.
w Melvin Frank, Norman Panama story Beirne Lay Jnr d Melvin Frank, Norman Panama ph Ray June m Hugo Friedhofer
☆ Robert Taylor, Eleanor Parker, James Whitmore, Larry Keating, Larry Gates

Beirne Lay Jnr, Hugo Friedhofer

Above Suspicion ★

US 1943 91m bw
MGM (Victor Saville)

Just before World War II, an Oxford professor on a continental honeymoon is asked to track down a missing agent.
Patchy, studio-bound spy comedy-drama with a couple of good sequences. Notable also for Mr MacMurray's impersonation of a professor who hails a Nazi as 'Hiya, dope!'
w Keith Winter, Melville Baker, Patricia Coleman novel Helen MacInnes d Richard Thorpe ph Robert Planck m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Fred MacMurray, Joan Crawford, Conrad Veidt, Basil Rathbone, Reginald Owen, Felix Bressart, Richard Ainley

'Will need more than strong support for passable biz.' – Variety

'To escape, he lived a lie… But only the truth can save him.'

Above Suspicion

US 2000 92m FotoKem
Upright (William R. Greenblatt, Sam Froelich)

A married, respectable small town businessman turns out to be a fugitive from justice, wanted for the murder of a woman 14 years earlier.
Convoluted movie that fails to make a drama out of a crisis.
wd Stephen La Rocque ph Alton Chewning m Mark Adler pd C. Daniel Hall, Rashel 'Ro' Rey ed Leonard Feinstein
☆ Scott Bakula (James Stockton), Annabella Sciorra (Lisa Stockton), George Dzundza (Stamos), Edward Asner (Thomas O'Claire), Jack Blessing (Nick), Erin Cressida Wilson (Ellie)

Above the Law

US 1988 99m Technicolor
Warner (Steven Seagal, Andrew Davis)

aka: Nico

A cop, who is also a martial arts expert, uncovers dirty work in the CIA.
Woodenly acted, violent action movie with an unusual anti-establishment slant.
w Steven Pressfield, Ronald Shusett, Andrew Davis story Andrew Davis, Steven Seagal d Andrew Davis ph Robert Steadman m David M. Frank pd Maher Ahmad ed Michael Brown sp Art Brewer, Lee Solis
☆ Steven Seagal, Pam Grier, Henry Silva, Daniel Faraldo, Sharon Stone, Nicholas Kusenko

'The hardest part of winning is choosing sides.'

Above the Rim

US 1994 93m DeLuxe
First Independent/New Line (Jeff Pollack, Ben Medina)

A troubled, talented basketball player, who refuses to play for his high school team, becomes involved with a drug dealer and his brother, a former star player now working as a school security guard.
An attempt to combine the usual sports movie plot, with victory being snatched at the last minute, with the street credibility of the usual drug movie, with death for the bad guys and redemption for the good in the last reel; two sets of clichés do not make a classic.
w Barry Michael Cooper, Jeff Pollack, Ben Medina d Jeff Pollack ph Tom Priestley Jnr m Marcus Miller pd Ina Mayhew ed Michael Ripps, James Mitchell
☆ Duane Martin, Tupac Shakur, Leon, David Bailey, Tonya Pinkins, Marlon Wayans, Bernie Mac

'A fine cast and the movie's general energy can't overcome that mix of clichés and technical flaws, which should conspire to prevent any high flying at the box-office.' – Brian Lowry, Variety

'A story of impudent gallantry!'

Above Us the Waves

GB 1955 99m bw
Rank/London Independent Producers (William Macquitty)

In World War II, midget submarines attack a German battleship in a Norwegian fjord.
Archetypal stiff-upper-lip war drama with disappointing action sequences and jumbled continuity.
w Robin Estridge d Ralph Thomas ph Ernest Steward m Arthur Benjamin ☆ John Mills, John Gregson, Donald Sinden, James Robertson Justice, Michael Medwin, Lee Patterson, Lyndon Brook

'It tells a heroic story without any flowery effects at all.' – Manchester Guardian

'The wonder film of the century, about the most romantic figure who ever lived!'

Abraham Lincoln ★★

US 1930 97m bw
UA/Art Cinema Corporation/D. W. Griffith

An account of Lincoln's entry into politics and his years of power.
Rather boring even at the time, this straightforward biopic has the virtues of sincerity and comparative fidelity to the facts.
w Stephen Vincent Benet, Gerrit Lloyd d D. W. Griffith ph Karl Struss m Hugo Riesenfeld pd William Cameron Menzies
☆ Walter Huston, Una Merkel, Edgar Dearing, Russell Simpson, Henry B. Walthall

'A startlingly superlative accomplishment, one rejuvenating a greatest Griffith … one smooth roll of literally pulsating passion, pathos, laughter … it should be his greatest contribution to the exhibitor.' – Variety
'It brings to us – with a curious finality of disappointment, a sentimental sense of the closing of a chapter – the impression of a director who has nowhere made a valid contact with the condition of the screen today.' – C. A. Lejeune
'A treasure trove of magnificent moments.' – MFB, 1973
'Dull, episodic, overlong … it is difficult to understand why contemporary critics were so impressed.' – Anthony Slide, 70s

† There was a silent biopic in 1924 starring George A. Billings, but it lacked cinematic interest. Written by Frances Marion and directed by Phil Rosen, for Rocket/Lincoln/AFN.

Abraham Valley

Portugal/France/Switzerland 1993 189m colour
Artificial Eye/Mandragoa/Gemini/Light Night (Paulo Branco)

original title: Vale Abraao

A lame and glamorous woman with romantic inclinations is frustrated both by her marriage and her affairs.
A deft variation of Flaubert's Madame Bovary (qv), in which the husband encourages his wife's infidelity without making her any more contented, but one that lacks heart.
wd Manoel de Oliviera novel Augustina Bessa-Luis ph Mário Barroso ad Maria José Branco ed Manoel de Oliviera, Valérie Loiseleux
☆ Leonor Silveira, Cecile Sanz de Alba, Luis Miguel Cintra, Rui de Carvalho, Luis Lima Barreto, Mário Barroso (narrator)

El Abrazo Partido: see Lost Embrace

'Sometimes you can't wake from a nightmare, even if you do…'

Abre Los Ojos ★★

Spain/France/Italy 1997 119m colour
Redbus/Sogetel/El Escorpion/Alain Sarde/Lucky Red

aka: Open Your Eyes

Explaining to a prison psychiatrist how he came to be accused of murder, a wealthy young man, hideously disfigured in a road crash that killed his companion, realises that he is trapped in a unreal life.
Clever, tricksy, games-playing thriller that deals with the confusions of reality and illusion, and the limits of personality.
w Alejandro Amenábar, Matteo Gil d Alejandro Amenábar ph Hans Burmann m Alejandro Amenábar, Mariano Marin ad Wolfgang Burmann ed Maria Elena Sainz de Rojas ☆ Eduardo Noriega (Cesar), Penelope Cruz (Sofia), Chete Lera (Antonio), Fele Martinez (Pelayo), Najwa Nimri (Nuria), Gérard Barray (Duvernois), Jorge de Juan (Department head)

'Ambitiously complex, disturbing and terrific-looking thriller.' – Jonathan Holland, Variety

Abril Despedaçado ★

Brazil/France/Switzerland 2001 105m colour 'Scope
Buena Vista/VideoFilmes/Haut et Court/Bac/Dan Valley (Arthur Cohn)

aka: Behind the Sun

A young boy recalls the blood feud over land between his and the neighbouring family, and its effect on his surviving brother.
An enjoyable fable that teeters on whimsy, with its artfully assembled ingredients in a dusty, golden-brown landscape: appealing boy, a soulful youth who falls for a fire-eating circus performer, and a feud in which killing is confused with honour.
w Walter Salles, Sergio Machado, Karim Ainouz novel Broken April by Ismail Kadare d Walter Salles ph Walter Carvalho m Antonio Pinto, Ed Cortes, Beto Villares pd Cassio Amarante ed Isabelle Rathery
☆ José Dumont (Father), Rodrigo Santoro (Tonho), Rita Assemany (Mother), Luiz Carlos Vasconcelos (Salustiano), Ravi Ramos Lacerda (Pacu), Flavia Marco Antonio (Clara), Othon Bastos (Mr Lourenco)

'You're always aware that you're watching a quaintly middle-class, museum-poster notion of an "elemental" peasant fable.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

† The British release ran for 92 minutes.

'Two roaring Romeos who thought even the dames were on lend lease!'

Abroad with Two Yanks ★

US 1944 80m bw
Edward Small

Adventures around the Pacific with two woman-chasing sailors.
This simple-minded farce with its punny title was a great success in its day, and still generates a laugh or two.
w Charles Rogers, Wilkie Mahoney, Ted Sills d Allan Dwan ph Charles Lawton m Lud Gluskin
☆ Dennis O'Keefe, William Bendix, Helen Walker, John Abbott, John Loder

Abschied aus Buckow ★

Germany 2000 93m colour
Artificial Eye/Novoskop/WDR/ORB/SWR/Arte/Studio Babelsberg/Arthur Hofer (Gesche Carstens, Henryk Romanowski, Jan Schütte)

GB title: The Farewell: Brecht's Last Summer
In August 1956, on the last day of a summer holiday, a dying Bertolt Brecht attempts to come to terms with his wife and mistresses, while secret police wait nearby to arrest a friend.
An engaging, melancholy drama of love and betrayal, anguish, and guilt; it provides a portrait of a writer who put artistic survival above all other commitments.
w Klaus Pohl d Jan Schütte ph Edward Klosinski m John Cale ad Katharina Woppermann ed Renate Merck
☆ Josef Bierbichler (Bertolt Brecht), Helene Weigel (Monica Bleibtreu), Margit Rogall (Ruth Berlau), Jeanette Hain (Kathe Reichel), Samuel Fintzi (Wolfgang Harich), Elfriede Irrall (Elisabeth Hauptmann)
'A brilliantly contrived study of Brechtian alienation.' – Alexander Walker
'An engrossing visit to the bizarre household of a sly yet candid master.' – Stanley Kaufmann

Abschied von Gestern ★

West Germany 1966 90m bw
Kairos Film/Independent/Alexander Kluge
aka: Yesterday Girl

A Jewish girl escapes from East to West Germany but is disillusioned and gives herself up.
Witty and remarkably light-hearted satirical comedy which can be fully understood only by those living in Germany in the sixties.
wd Alexander Kluge ph Edgar Reitz, Thomas Mauch ed Beata Mainka ☆ Alexandra Kluge, Günther Mack, Hans Korte, Eva Marie Meinecke

Absence of Malice ★

US 1981 116m DeLuxe
Columbia/Mirage (Sydney Pollack)

When a longshoremen's union leader disappears, a lady journalist throws an unfair spotlight on an innocent suspect.
Well-meaning but overwritten attack on journalistic abuses, hampered by unsuitable leading performances.
w Kurt Luedtke d Sydney Pollack ph Owen Roizman m Dave Grusin pd Terence Marsh ☆ Paul Newman, Sally Field, Bob Balaban, Melinda Dillon, Luther Adler, Barry Primus
'Pollack seems to be carving out a new niche for himself as an updater of Hollywood's most tried and true methods of sugaring a message.' – Richard Combs, MFB
'A thoroughly craftsmanlike movie that never quite delivers on the commercial or the artistic front.' – Guardian
'The story is perfunctory and disappointing in a movie that promises but does not deliver.' – Motion Picture Guide
screenplay; Paul Newman; Melinda Dillon

Absent without Leave

New Zealand 1993 96m Eastmancolor
Meridian/NZFC/Avalon/NFU (Robin Laing)

In New Zealand in 1942, a soldier, who is about to be sent overseas, goes absent so that he can take home to her parents his young wife, who has had a miscarriage.
Amiable, meandering domestic drama of no particular interest.
w James Edwards, Graeme Tetley d John Laing ph Allen Guilford m Don McGlashan, David Long, Mark Austin pd Rick Kofoed ed Paul Sutorius
☆ Craig McLachlan, Katrina Hobbs, Judie Douglass, Tony Barry, Ken Blackburn, Tony Burton

'It's all about a wacky prof who invents an anti-gravity goo that flew!'

The Absent-Minded Professor ★

US 1961 97m bw
Walt Disney (Bill Walsh)

A lighter-than-air substance called flubber enables its inventor to drive his Model-T through the sky and catch some spies.
Foolishly engaging fantasy comedy with goodish trick effects.
w Bill Walsh d Robert Stevenson ph Edward Colman m George Bruns sp Robert A. Mattey, Peter Ellenshaw, Eustace Lycett
☆ Fred MacMurray, Tommy Kirk, Keenan Wynn, Nancy Olson, Leon Ames, Ed Wynn, Edward Andrews
† Sequel: Son of Flubber (1963) (qv).
†† Remake: Flubber (1997) (qv).
Edward Colman

Absinthe: see Madame X (1929)

'Welcome to the world of your dreams!'

Absolute Beginners

GB 1986 107m Super Techniscope
Virgin/Goldcrest/Palace (Stephen Woolley, Chris Brown)

Teen life and pop fashion in 1958 London.
Deafening, mindless, musical, multi-screen pot-pourri of teen culture which sadly needs narrative links, not to mention better music and firmer control.
w Richard Burridge, Christopher Wicking, Don MacPherson novel Colin MacInnes d Julien Temple ph Oliver Stapleton m David Bowie, Ray Davies, et al. pd John Beard
☆ Eddie O'Connell, Patsy Kensit, David Bowie, Ray Davies, James Fox, Lionel Blair, Steven Berkoff, Mandy Rice Davies
'All that noise, all that energy, so little governing thought.' – Time Out

Absolute Power ★ ④

US 1997 120m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Castle Rock/Malpaso (Clint Eastwood, Karen Spiegel)

A thief attempts to prove that the US President was an accomplice in the murder of a woman.
Old-fashioned, lacklustre thriller with an implausible plot, though it does occasionally crank up the suspense.
w William Goldman novel David Baldacci d Clint Eastwood ph Jack N. Green m Lennie Niehaus pd Henry Bumstead ed Joel Cox
☆ Clint Eastwood (Luther Whitney), Gene Hackman (President Richmond), Ed Harris (Seth Frank), Laura Linney (Kate Whitney), Judy Davis (Gloria Russell), Scott Glenn (Bill Burton), Dennis Haysbert (Tim Collin), E.G. Marshall (Walter Sullivan), Melora Hardin (Christy Sullivan)
'Glum and depersonalized, as if Eastwood couldn't muster the energy to guide us through this maze of improbable twists.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

Absolute Quiet ★

US 1936 71m bw
MGM (John Considine Jnr)

A planeload of strangers is forced down on a financier's ranch.
Interestingly-cast programmer, efficiently directed.
w Harry Clork d George B. Seitz
☆ Lionel Atwill, Louis Hayward, Raymond Walburn, Stuart Erwin, Wallace Ford, J. Carrol Naish

Absolution ★

GB 1978 95m Technicolor
Bulldog (Danny O'Donovan, Elliott Kastner)

TV title: Murder by Confession
A schoolmaster priest at a Roman Catholic boarding school is taunted by a malicious pupil into committing murder.
Interesting and suspenseful, though finally too complicated compromise between a thriller of the Sleuth type and a downbeat character study.
w Anthony Shaffer d Anthony Page ph John Coquillon m Stanley Myers ☆ Richard Burton, Dominic Guard, Dai Bradley, Billy Connolly, Andrew Keir
'A dire slice of clever-clever narrative trickery.' – Paul Taylor, MFB
'You can't make real bricks from this kind of straw, since a potentially interesting study of character and environment is gradually weakened by the constraints of a second-rate murder mystery.' – Guardian

Abwärts: see Out of Order

'A place on earth more awesome than anywhere in space.'

The Abyss

US 1989 140m DeLuxe Super 35
Fox (Gale Anne Hurd)

Attempting to rescue a nuclear submarine, divers working on underwater drilling encounter aliens.
Despite some clever special effects, a tedious, overlong fantasy that is more excited by machinery than people.
wd James Cameron ph Mikael Salomon m Alan Silvestri pd Leslie Dilley ed Joel Goodman sp Laura Buff, John Bruno, ILM, Dennis Muren
☆ Ed Harris, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Michael Biehn, Leo Burmester, Todd Graff, John Bedford Lloyd, J. C. Quinn, Kimberly Scott
'For the most part, as exciting an undersea drama as one could imagine.' – MFB
† The Abyss Special Edition released on video and Laserdisc contained an extra 27m cut from the original cinema release.
visual effects
cinematography; art direction

Accattone ★

Italy 1961 120m bw
Cino del Duca/Arco (Alfredo Bini)

A Roman pimp and thief is beset by troubles, and is finally killed escaping from the police.
Sordid and rough-edged but vividly realistic melodrama.
wd Pier Paolo Pasolini ph Tonino delli Colli md Carlo Rustichelli ad Bernardo Bertolucci ☆ Franco Citti, Franca Pasut, Silvana Corsini, Paola Giudi, Roberto Scaringella, Adele Cambria
'Discontinuous, lackadaisical, sometimes improbable, almost always superficial.' – John Simon

Accent on Love

US 1941 61m bw
TCF

A real estate executive walks out to become spokesman for his former underprivileged tenants.
Thin Capraesque romantic comedy.
w John Larkin story Dalton Trumbo d Ray McCarey
☆ George Montgomery, Osa Massen, J. Carrol Naish, Cobina Wright Jnr, Stanley Clements, Thurston Hall, Minerva Urecal

Accent on Youth ★

US 1935 77m bw
Paramount (Douglas Maclean)

A secretary falls in love with her middle-aged playwright employer.
Reasonably sparkling comedy from a popular play, later remade as Mr Music and But Not for Me.
w Herbert Fields, Claude Binyon play Samson Raphaelson d Wesley Ruggles ph Leon Shamroy ☆ Herbert Marshall, Sylvia Sidney, Philip Reed, Astrid Allwyn, Holmes Herbert
'Well adapted, presented and produced for box office satisfaction.' – Variety

'Reject rejection.'

Accepted ④

US 2006 93m
UIP/Universal Pictures/Shady Acres (Michael Bostick, Tom Shadyac)

A would-be college student invents his own university online, only to find himself swamped by deadbeats keen to enrol.
Disposable teen comedy with a fresh-faced cast that offers little beyond its ingenious premise.
w Adam Cooper, Bill Collage, Mark Perez d Steve Pink ph Matthew F Leonetti m David Schommer pd Rusty Smith ad Denise Hudson ed Scott Hill
☆ Justin Long (Bartleby Gaines), Jonah Hill (Sherman Schrader), Blake Lively (Monica Morlan), Lewis Black (Uncle Ben), Maria Thayer (Rory), Anthony Heald (Dean Van Horne)
'A criminal waste of a great concept.' – Simon Braund, Empire

Accident ★★

GB 1967 105m Eastmancolor
London Independent Producers (Joseph Losey, Norman Priggen)

An Oxford undergraduate is killed in a car crash; his tutor looks back over the tangle of personal relationships that contributed to his death.
Ascetic drama in which the audience is too often left to observe at length and draw its own conclusions; good characterizations nevertheless.
w Harold Pinter novel Nicholas Mosley d Joseph Losey ph Gerry Fisher m John Dankworth
☆ Dirk Bogarde, Stanley Baker, Jacqueline Sassard, Vivien Merchant, Michael York

'The whole thing is such a teapot tempest, and it is so assiduously underplayed that it is neither strong drama nor stinging satire. It is just a sad little story of a wistful don.' – Bosley Crowther

'Everything is calm, unruffled, lacquered in a veneer of civilization, yet underneath it all, one gradually begins to realize, the characters are tearing each other emotionally to shreds.' – MFB

'Uneven, unsatisfying, but with virtuoso passages of calculated meanness.' – New Yorker, 1977

Accidental Hero: see Hero

The Accidental Tourist ★★★

US 1988 121m Technicolor Panavision
Warner (Lawrence Kasdan, Charles Okun, Michael Grillo)

Left by his wife, an uptight travel writer falls in love with an exuberant dog-trainer.
A liberating domestic drama, notable for some excellent acting.
w Frank Galati, Lawrence Kasdan novel Anne Tyler d Lawrence Kasdan
ph John Bailey m John Williams pd Bo Welch ed Carol Littleton ☆ William Hurt, Kathleen Turner, Geena Davis, Amy Wright, Bill Pullman, Robert Gorman, David Ogden Stiers, Ed Begley Jnr
🏆 Geena Davis
🎖 picture; adapted screenplay; John Williams

Accidents Will Happen

US 1938 62m bw
Warner (Bryan Foy)
An insurance claims adjuster takes to crime.
Slack little programmer.
w George Bricker, Anthony Coldeway
d William Clemens
☆ Ronald Reagan, Dick Purcell, Gloria Blondell, Addison Richards, Hugh O'Connell

Acción Mutante

Spain 1993 94m Fujicolour Cinemascope
Feature Film/El Deseo/CIBY 2000 (Agustin Almodóvar, Pedro Almodóvar)

In 2012, a disfigured man leads a group of disabled in a terrorist war against the healthy and perfectly formed for his own advantage.
Bizarre horror that can be taken as a black or sick joke, depending on your attitude to a movie with such characters as a half-dead, half-alive Siamese twin. Whatever, after a brisk beginning, it soon palls and even appals, with its emphasis on the gruesome.
w Jorge Guerricaechevarria, Alex de la Iglesia d Alex de la Iglesia ph Carles Gusi m Juan Carlos Cuello ad José Luis Arrizabalaga ed Pablo Blanco sp Oliver Gleyze, Yves Domenjoud, Jean-Bapiste Bonetto, Bernard-André le Boetti ☆ Antonio Resines, Frédérique Feder, Alex Angulo, Juan Viades, Karra Elejalde, Saturnino Garcia, Fernando Guillén, Jaime Blanch

'Officially a promising first film, this feels more like a disappointing second one.' – Empire

L'Accompagnatrice: see The Accompanist

The Accompanist

France 1992 111m colour
Gala/Film Par Film/De la Boissière Orly/Sedif France/3 Cinema (Jean-Louis Livi) original title: L'Accompagnatrice

In occupied Paris of the early 1940s, a young star-struck woman becomes the accompanist to a fashionable French singer and her rich husband, a reluctant collaborator with the Germans.
The wartime setting is presumably intended to give resonance to this otherwise trite, but charming, tale of self-sacrifice; instead it makes the soul-searching of the central characters seem a luxury and an irrelevance.
w Claude Miller, Luc Béraud novel Nina Berberova d Claude Miller ph Yves Angelo m Alain Jomy pd Jean-Pierre Kohut Svelko ed Albert Jurgenson
☆ Richard Bohringer, Elena Safonova, Romane Bohringer, Bernard Verley, Samuel Labarthe, Nelly Borgeaud, Julien Rassam, Jean-Pierre Kohut Svelko

'Dramatically, the movie doesn't cover much ground ... all he ends up with is the thin old story of a supporting artist who lives by proxy.' – Michael Sragow, New Yorker

'The film's uniform visual and narrative dullness does act as a pretty effective anaesthetic. And it also fits a certain, rather unpleasant way of looking at French history in which these stories and images that we've seen a thousand times take on a mythical quality.' – Martin Bright, Sight and Sound

According to Mrs Hoyle

US 1951 60m bw
Monogram

A retired schoolteacher lives in a hotel run by criminals, and becomes involved.
Uninspired sentimental comedy providing a rare star part for a well-liked character actress.
w W. Scott Darling, Barney Gerard d Jean Yarbrough ☆ Spring Byington, Anthony Caruso, Brett King, Tanis Chandler

Account Rendered

GB 1957 60m bw
Rank/Major Productions (John Temple-Smith)

A detective inspector tracks down the killer of a banker's flirtatious wife.
Indifferent thriller lacking any distinguishing features.
w Barbara S. Harper novel Pamela Barrington d Peter Graham Scott ph Walter J. Harvey ad Norman Arnold ed Tom Simpson ☆ Honor Blackman, Griffith Jones, Ursula Howells, Ewen Solon, Robert Raikes, John Van Eyssen

'The standout suspense triumph of the year!'

The Accused ★

US 1948 101m bw
Paramount (Hal B. Wallis)
aka: Strange Deception

In self-defence a lady professor kills a student who has sexually attacked her.
Dullish suspenser with the outcome never in doubt, though the production values are beyond reproach.
w Ketti Frings d William Dieterle ph Milton Krasner m Victor Young ☆ Loretta Young, Robert Cummings, Wendell Corey, Sam Jaffe, Douglas Dick

The Accused ★

US 1988 110m Technicolor
UIP/Paramount (Stanley R. Jaffe, Sherry Lansing)

A provocatively-dressed woman is raped after performing a sexy dance at a seedy bar.
Unconvincing problem picture that fails to explore the issues it raises.
w Tom Topor d Jonathan Kaplan ph Ralf Bode m Brad Fiedel pd Richard Kent Wilcox ed Jerry Greenberg, O. Nicholas Brown
☆ Kelly McGillis, Jodie Foster, Bernie Coulson, Ann Hearn, Steve Antin, Tom O'Brien

'Another box-office winner which once again negotiates a fine line between social concern, feminism and exploitation.' – MFB

🏆 Jodie Foster

Ace in the Hole ★★★

US 1951 111m bw
Paramount (Billy Wilder)
aka: The Big Carnival

In order to prolong the sensation and boost newspaper sales, a self-seeking journalist delays the rescue of a man trapped in a cave.
An incisive, compelling melodrama taking a sour look at the American scene; one of its director's masterworks, in which he was in a serious mood, exposing the sensationalism of the tabloid press.
w Billy Wilder, Lesser Samuels, Walter Newman d Billy Wilder ph Charles B. Lang Jnr m Hugo Friedhofer
☆ Kirk Douglas (Chuck Tatum), Jan Sterling (Lorraine), Porter Hall (Boot), Bob Arthur (Herbie), Richard Benedict (Leo), Ray Teal (Sheriff), Frank Cady (Federber)
LORRAINE TO TATUM: 'I've met some hard-boiled eggs, but you – you're twenty minutes!'
LORRAINE: 'I don't go to church. Kneeling bags my nylons.'
TATUM TO EDITOR: 'I've done a lot of lying in my time. I've lied to men who wear belts. I've lied to men who wear suspenders. But I'd never be so stupid as to lie to a man who wears both belt and suspenders.'
TATUM, DYING, TO EDITOR: 'How'd you like to make a thousand dollars a day, Mr Boot? I'm a thousand-dollar-a-day newspaperman. You can have me for nothing.'

'Few of the opportunities for irony, cruelty and horror are missed.' – Gavin Lambert

'Style and purpose achieve for the most part a fusion even more remarkable than in Sunset Boulevard.' – Penelope Houston

'As stimulating as black coffee.' – Richard Mallett, Punch

'Americans expected a cocktail and felt I was giving them a shot of vinegar instead.' – Billy Wilder

'Some people have tried to claim some sort of satirical brilliance for it, but it's really rather nasty, in a sociologically pushy way.' – New Yorker, 1980

'A brilliant arrangement of cause and effect ... unique as a mirror of the morbid psychology of crowds ... revolting but incontrovertibly true.' – New York Times

† Locations were at Gallup, New Mexico.
🎖 script

Ace of Aces ★

US 1933 76m bw
RKO

On the outbreak of World War I an American sculptor is branded a coward when he does not immediately enlist; but he disappears and turns up in France a hero, though with a sour taste in his mouth.
Melodrama of disillusion, dated in many respects but interesting to compare with The Dawn Patrol and The Last Flight.
w John Monk Saunders, H. W. Hanemann story Bird of Prey by John Monk Saunders d J. Walter Ruben ph Henry Cronjager m Max Steiner
☆ Richard Dix, Elizabeth Allan, Theodore Newton, Ralph Bellamy, Joseph Sawyer, Frank Conroy, William Cagney

'It's the fine photography and crashes that provide the thrills.' – Variety

'He's the best there is! (Actually, he's the only one there is.)'

Ace Ventura, Pet Detective

US 1994 93m colour
Warner/Morgan Creek (James G. Robinson)

A private eye who recovers missing pets is hired to recover the Miami Dolphins' dolphin mascot.
Featuring a relentlessly mugging comedian who makes Jerry Lewis seem as restrained as Buster Keaton, this is an extraordinarily inept comedy, with feeble jokes parodying other movies, feebler slapstick and much homophobia and misogyny; it also provides Sean Young with the most demeaning role of her career.
w Jack Bernstein, Tom Shadyac, Jim Carrey d Tom Shadyac ph Julio Macat m Ira Newborn pd William Elliott ed Don Zimmerman
☆ Jim Carrey, Courteney Cox, Sean Young, Dan Marino, Noble Willingham, Troy Evans, Udo Kier, Tone Loc

'Doesn't display the comic pedigree needed for the rubber-faced-and-limbed comedian to collar breakthrough dollars. That said, dumb good times still wield a strong lure for the Saturday night date crowd.' – Variety

† The film was an unexpected hit in America, earning more than $65m at the box-office and raising Jim Carrey's price per picture from $350,000 to a reported $7m.

Ace Ventura: When Nature Calls

US 1995 92m Technicolor Super 35
Warner/Morgan Creek (James G. Robinson)

A pet detective goes to Africa to find a sacred white bat, a creature he dislikes.
Carrey extends his range of lavatorial humour to include spit and vomit, and an exit from the anus of a mechanical rhinoceros. The bad-taste episodic narrative, resembling a very old version of King Solomon's Mines, has no other function than to give him plenty of scope for his unrestrained mugging.
wd Steve Oedekerk ph Donald E. Thorin m Robert Folk pd Stephen J. Lineweaver ed Malcolm Campbell
☆ Jim Carrey, Ian McNeice, Simon Callow, Maynard Eziashi, Bob Gunton, Sophie Okonedo, Tommy Davidson, Adewalé, Andrew Steel, Bruce Spence

'As fresh, brash and outrageous as the original' – Variety

† Director Tom DeCerchio left after shooting began, to be replaced by writer Steve Oedekerk. The film took $37.8m on its opening weekend in the United States, the highest figure so far for a comedy, and went on to gross more than $104m at the US box-office and another $37m elsewhere during 1995.

Aces High ★

GB 1976 114m Technicolor
EMI/S. Benjamin Fisz/Jacques Roitfeld

In the air force during World War I, young pilots are needlessly sacrificed.
Spirited if rather unnecessary remake of Journey's End transposed to the air war, which makes it almost identical to The Dawn Patrol.
w Howard Barker d Jack Gold ph Gerry Fisher, Peter Allwork m Richard Hartley ☆ Malcolm McDowell, Christopher Plummer, Simon Ward, Peter Firth, John

Gielgud, Trevor Howard, Richard Johnson, Ray Milland

'Their best and final mission.'

Aces: Iron Eagle III

US 1992 98m CFI color
New Line/7 Arts (Ron Samuels)

Veteran fighter pilots battle against South American drug barons.
Energetic but mindless action, with a little slapstick thrown in, and featuring muscle-woman Rachel McLish.
w Kevin Elders d John Glen ph Alec Mills m Harry Manfredini pd Robb Wilson King ed Bernard Gribble sp John Richardson
☆ Louis Gossett Jnr, Rachel McLish, Paul Freeman, Horst Buchholz, Christopher Cazenove, Sonny Chiba, Fred Dalton Thompson, Mitchell Ryan

Acid House

GB 1998 118m colour
Film Four/Picture Palace North/Umbrella/Channel 4 (David Muir, Alex Usborne)

Three stories about life in Scotland: 'The Granton Star Cause', in which God turns a failure into a fly; 'The Soft Touch', in which a man takes back his unfaithful wife; 'The Acid House', in which a drug-taking youth switches personalities with a baby.
Unsubtle portmanteau movie, in which anarchic wit struggles against a browbeating style and loses; the overall effect is dispiriting.
w Irvine Welsh stories Irvine Welsh
d Paul McGuigan ph Alasdair Walker
m Primal Scream, Nick Cave et al.
pd Richard Bridgland, Mike Gunn ed Andrew Hulme
☆ 'The Granton Star Cause': Stephen McCole, Maurice Roeves, Garry Sweeney, Jenny McCrindle, Irvine Welsh, 'A Soft Touch': Kevin McKidd, Michelle Gomez, Tam Dean Burn, Gary McCormack, 'The Acid House': Ewen Bremner, Martin Clunes, Jemma Redgrave, Arlene Cockburn, Jane Stabler

'The acting throughout is broad, the direction has a sledgehammer coarseness, and the lack of compassion, though this cannot be intentional, seems absolute.' – Philip French, Observer

Across 110th Street ★★★ (2)

US 1972 102m DeLuxe
UA/Film Guarantors (Fouad Said, Ralph Serpe)

Police and the Mafia go after three blacks disguised as cops who rob a Harlem numbers bank and kill its operators.
Tough, clever thriller, set within a well-observed society of violence and deprivation.
w Luther Davis novel Wally Ferris d Barry Shear ph Jack Priestley m J. J. Johnson ad Perry Watkins ed Bryan Brandt
☆ Anthony Quinn, Yaphet Kotto, Anthony Franciosa, Paul Benjamin, Ed Barnard, Richard Ward, Antonio Fargas
† The film was cut to 99m on its British release.

'Once A Master Of Millions ... Now A Fugitive In Flight!'

Across the Bridge ★

GB 1957 103m bw
Rank/IPF (John Stafford)

A fugitive financier kills his pursuer, finds he was a murderer, and tries to hide out across the Mexican border.
This star tour de force is unconvincing in detail and rather unattractive to watch (British films never could cope with American settings), but the early sequences have suspense.
w Guy Elmes, Denis Freeman novel Graham Greene d Ken Annakin ph Reg Wyer m James Bernard ☆ Rod Steiger, David Knight, Marla Landi, Noel Willman, Bernard Lee

Across the Pacific ★★

US 1942 99m bw
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)

Just before Pearl Harbor, an army officer is cashiered by arrangement in order to contact pro-Japanese sympathizers.
Hasty, easy-going and very enjoyable hokum, partly ship-set and successfully reteaming three stars of The Maltese Falcon.
w Richard Macaulay serial Aloha Means Goodbye by Robert Carson d John Huston
ph Arthur Edeson m Adolph Deutsch
☆ Humphrey Bogart (Rick Leland), Mary Astor (Alberta Marlow), Sydney Greenstreet (Dr Lorenz), Sen Yung (Joe Totsuiko), Monte Blue, Richard Loo, Chester Gan, Kam Tong

'A spy picture which tingles with fearful uncertainties and glints with the sheen of blue steel.' – Bosley Crowther

† Huston was called up before the film was completed, and allegedly reshaped the script before leaving in order to put the hero in an impossible situation. Direction was eventually completed by Vincent Sherman †† Monte Blue, who has a tiny last-reel part as the heroine's drunken father, starred in a 1926 silent film with the same title but a totally different plot. He played an army officer fighting Philippine guerrillas. Darryl F. Zanuck wrote the script, and Roy del Ruth directed, for Warner.

Across the Road: see En Face

Across the Tracks

US 1991 100m CFI color
Desert Productions (Dale Rosenbloom)

Two athletic brothers of differing temperaments become rivals.
A well-intentioned movie about teenage problems that may appeal to adolescents but not to adults.
wd Sandy Tung ph Michael Delahoussaye
m Joel Goldsmith pd Thomas Meleck
ed Farrel Levy
☆ Rick Schroder, Brad Pitt, Carrie Snodgress, David Anthony Marshall, Thomas Mikal Ford, John Linton

Across the Wide Missouri ★

US 1951 77m Technicolor
MGM (Robert Sisk)

In the 1820s, a trapper marries an Indian girl and lives with her people.
Promising credits produce an unsatisfactory Western: despite honest efforts, the elements do not jell into a convincing whole.
w Talbot Jennings d William Wellman
ph William C. Mellor m David Raksin
☆ Clark Gable, Ricardo Montalban, John Hodiak, Adolphe Menjou, Maria Elena Marques, J. Carrol Naish, Jack Holt, Alan Napier, Howard Keel (narrator)

Act of Love ★

US 1954 104m bw
UA/Benagoss (Anatole Litvak)

In Paris in 1944, an American with the liberation army falls in love with a French girl, who commits suicide when he is posted and cannot make their rendezvous.
Cheerless romantic drama, rather thin and unmemorable despite the efforts of all concerned.
w Irwin Shaw novel The Girl on the Via Flaminia by Alfred Hayes d Anatole Litvak ph Armand Thirard m Michael Emer, Joe Hajos pd Alexander Trauner ☆ Kirk Douglas, Dany Robin, Barbara Laage, Robert Stauss, Gabrielle Dorziat, Gregoire Aslan, Fernand Ledoux, Serge Reggiani, Brigitte Bardot
† Made in France, an early Hollywood foreign location film.

An Act of Murder ★

US 1948 90m bw
U-I (Jerry Bresler)
aka: Live Today for Tomorrow

A judge insists on being tried for the mercy killing of his incurably ill wife.
Earnest social drama which despite excellent acting can only reach an inconclusive ending.
w Michael Blankfort, Robert Thoeren novel The Mills of God by Ernst Lothar
d Michael Gordon ph Hal Mohr
m Daniele Amfitheatrof ad Robert Boyle, Bernard Herzbrun ed Ralph Dawson ☆ Fredric March (Judge Calvin Cooke), Florence Eldridge (Catherine Cooke), Edmond O'Brien (David Douglas), Geraldine Brooks (Ellie Cooke), Stanley Ridges (Dr Walter Morrison), John McIntire (Judge Ogden)

Act of Murder ★★

GB 1964 62m bw
Merton Park (Jack Greenwood)

A couple arrange a holiday by swapping houses with strangers, and a complex plot ensues.
Slick, superior example of the Edgar Wallace second feature series.
w Lewis Davidson d Alan Bridges
ph James Wilson m Bernard Ebbinghouse
ed Derek Holding
☆ John Carson (Tim Ford), Anthony Bate (Ralph Longman), Justine Lord (Ann Longman), Duncan Lewis (Will Peterson), Dandy Nichols (Maud Peterson), Richard Burrell (John Quick), Sheena Marshe (Pauline)

'This uncommonly intelligent little thriller is just the sort of film which is likely to arouse critical sneers for reaching too high on a low budget.' – Tom Milne

Act of Violence ★★

US 1948 82m bw
MGM (William Wright)

After the war, an ex-GI tracks down a prison camp informer.
Moody, glossy melodrama with tension well sustained, though the sentimental ending is a cop-out.
w Robert I. Richards story Collier Young d Fred Zinnemann ph Robert Surtees
m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Van Heflin, Robert Ryan, Janet Leigh, Mary Astor

'Strong characterization, fine direction and good photography combine to put this film high among its kind.' – MFB
'An effortless narrative control and a real power to maintain tension.' – Richard Winnington

Act One ★

US 1963 110m bw
Warner (Dore Schary)

Poor Brooklyn boy Moss Hart rises to Broadway eminence via his writing partnership with George S. Kaufman.
Incredibly stilted film version of an excellent autobiography, notable only for fragments of acting and the fact that a film so totally uncommercial was made at all.
wd Dore Schary ph Arthur J. Ornitz
m Skitch Henderson
☆ George Hamilton (Hart), Jason Robards Jnr (Kaufman), Jack Klugman, Sam Levene, George Segal, Ruth Ford, Eli Wallach

'From the moment young Hart takes pencil in hand, we have nowhere to go except to that happy ending; and despite all the painstaking detail, we don't believe a word of it.' – Judith Crist

Action for Slander ★

GB 1937 83m bw
London Films/Saville (Victor Saville)

A bankrupt officer, accused of cheating at cards, defends his honour with a writ.
Lively melodrama of the old school.
w Ian Dalrymple, Miles Malleson novel Mary Borden d Tim Whelan
ph Harry Stradling md Muir Mathieson
☆ Clive Brook, Ann Todd, Margaretta Scott, Arthur Margetson, Ronald Squire, Athole Stewart, Percy Marmont, Frank Cellier, Morton Selten

'Hollywood in its most lavish spurt of extravagance never went to such pains to assemble a cast ... general run of patrons however will chafe under the lack of physical movement.' – Variety

Action in the North Atlantic ★

US 1943 127m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)

An American convoy bound for Russia comes under U-boat attack.
Efficient propaganda potboiler; studio bound, but still works as a war actioner.
w John Howard Lawson story Guy Gilpatric d Lloyd Bacon ph Ted McCord
m Adolph Deutsch
☆ Humphrey Bogart, Raymond Massey, Alan Hale, Julie Bishop, Ruth Gordon, Sam Levene, Dane Clark

'The production has interludes of tremendous power. What is lacking is dramatic cohesion.' – Howard Barnes
'Directly in line of descent from The Perils of Pauline.' – Time
'The American equivalent of our war documentaries ... tough, exciting, with no concession to flim flam.' – New Statesman
'I cannot think I have ever seen such realistic battles, or lived so intimately with the characters who comprise the crew.' – Evening Standard
Guy Gilpatric

Action Jackson

US 1988 96m Metrocolor
Guild/Lorimar (Joel Silver)

A maverick cop is framed for a murder while investigating the killings of union officials.
Violent action movie, with spectacular deaths and car chases, a ludicrous plot and a hissable villain.
w Robert Reneau d Craig R. Baxley ph Matthew F. Leonetti m Herbie Hancock, Michael Kamen ad Virginia Randolph ed Mark Helfrich
☆ Carl Weathers, Craig T. Nelson, Vanity, Sharon Stone, Thomas F. Wilson, Bill Duke, Robert Davi Actors and Sin ★

US 1952 91m bw
UA/Sid Kuller (Ben Hecht)

Two short stories. When an unsuccessful actress commits suicide, her father makes it look like murder so that for once she shall get attention. The authoress of a romantic script bought by Hollywood is discovered to be a horrid little 9-year-old.

Interesting but incompetent compendium which descends almost to the home movie level and leaves the actors struggling.
wd Ben Hecht ph Lee Garmes m George Antheil
☆ Edward G. Robinson, Marsha Hunt, Dan O'Herlihy, Rudolph Anders, Eddie Albert, Alan Reed, Jenny Hecht
'A depressing double bill.' – Lindsay Anderson

An Actor's Revenge ★★

Japan 1963 113m Daieicolor Daieiscope
Daiei (Masaichi Nagata) original title: Yukinojo Henge
In the early 19th century, a touring actor comes upon the rich merchant who had ruined his parents, and his revenge involves several deaths.
Complex, fascinating period melodrama, both rich and strange, with strong echoes of Jacobean melodrama.
w Daisuke Ito, Teinosuke Kinugasa, Natto Wada novel Otokichi Mikami d Kon Ichikawa ph Setsuo Kobayashi m Yasushi Akutagawa ☆ Kazuo Hasegawa, Fujiko Yamamoto, Ayako Wakao, Ganjiro Nakamura

The Actress ★

US 1928 90m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM
GB title: Trelawny of the 'Wells'
A young Victorian actress marries a rich admirer.
Pleasing, well-cast version of a celebrated play.
w Albert Lewin, Richard Schayer play Sir Arthur Wing Pinero d Sidney Franklin ph William Daniels ☆ Norma Shearer, Ralph Forbes, O. P. Heggie, Owen Moore, Roy D'Arcy
'A thoughtful, rounded and provocative entertainment.' – New York Times † Opening attraction at London's Empire Theatre, Leicester Square.

The Actress

US 1953 91m bw
MGM (Lawrence Weingarten)
Ruth Jones becomes an actress against the wishes of her stubborn seafaring father.
Episodes from Ruth Gordon's early life, based on her Broadway play Years Ago, make a pleasant though scarcely engrossing film: it is all a shade too discreet and wanly winning, and the few key events take place offscreen.
w Ruth Gordon d George Cukor ph Harold Rosson m Bronislau Kaper ad Cedric Gibbons, Arthur Lonergan
☆ Jean Simmons, Spencer Tracy, Teresa Wright, Anthony Perkins, Ian Wolfe, Mary Wickes

Actresses

Spain 1996 88m colour
Downtown/Els Films de la Rambla (Ventura Pons) original title: Actrius
Before auditioning for the role of a legendary actress, a drama student interviews three of her former pupils.
This leisurely examination of the influence of past events on present lives reveals its theatrical origins by its static style; it also provides little opportunity for its cast to revel in the pleasures of acting.
w Ventura Pons, J. M. Benet I Jornet play E.R. by J. M. Benet I Jornet d Ventura Pons ph Tomás Pladevall m Carles Cases pd Rosa Ros ed Pere Abadal
☆ Nuria Espert, Rosa Maria Sardà, Anna Lizaran, Mercè Pons
'I can't think of anyone this film could possibly interest. It has the dramatic momentum of a slug.' – James Christopher, The Times

Acts of Love: see Carried Away

Ad Ogni Costo: see Grand Slam

Ada ★

US 1961 109m Metrocolor Cinemascope
MGM/Avon/Chalmar (Lawrence Weingarten)
A political candidate marries a call girl who becomes his strong right arm and weathers a threat to reveal her past.
Indecisive romantic drama which pulls too many punches but has interesting background detail.
w Arthur Sheekman, William Driskill novel Ada Dallas by Wirt Williams d Daniel Mann ph Joseph Ruttenberg m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Susan Hayward, Dean Martin, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Ralph Meeker, Martin Balsam
'A bonanza for connoisseurs of perfectly awful movies.' – Judith Crist
'Its characterizations are sketchy, its political setting routine and symbolic.' – New York Herald Tribune

Adalen 31 ★★

Sweden 1969 115m Technicolor Techniscope
Svensk Filmindustri
A prolonged strike at a small-town paper mill ends in tragedy when the troops move in.
Effective period piece which emphasizes the idyllic qualities of the backgrounds rather than the foreground terrors.
wd Bo Widerberg ph Jorgen Persson
☆ Peter Schildt, Kerstin Tidelius, Roland Hedlund, Stefan Feierbach, Anita Bjork ♗ foreign film

Adam ★

GB 1991 7m colour
Aardman Animations (Christopher Moll)
A solitary figure living on a small world becomes excited when his creator decides to make him a companion.
Amusing cartoon of the beginning of the sex wars.
wd Peter Lord ph David Sproxton m Stuart Gordon ed Nigel Bell ♗ animated film

Adam and Eva ★

US 1923 83m approx bw silent
Paramount/Cosmopolitan
An extravagant girl reforms when her father goes bust.
Moral comedy with a happy ending: a hit of its day.
w Luther Reed play Guy Bolton and George Middleton d Robert G. Vignola ☆ Marion Davies, T. Roy Barnes, Tom Lewis, William Norris, Percy Ames

Adam and Evelyne

GB 1949 92m bw
Rank/Two Cities (Harold French)
A society playboy adopts his dead friend's daughter, and falls in love with her.
Undernourished romantic drama, a mild variation on Daddy Longlegs.
w Noel Langley, Lesley Storm, George Barraud, Nicholas Phipps d Harold French ph Guy Green m Mischa Spoliansky
☆ Stewart Granger, Jean Simmons, Helen Cherry, Edwin Styles, Beatrice Varley, Wilfrid Hyde-White

Adam & Paul ★

Ireland 2004 86m Technicolor
Guerilla (Jonny Speers)
A day in the life of two Dublin rootless junkies.
Bleak, black comedy of an ill-assorted pair, who might be waiting for Godot to give them a fix, shuffling around an unfriendly city.
w Mark O'Halloran d Lenny Abrahamson ph James Mather m Stephen Rennicks pd Padraig O'Neill ed Isobel Stephenson
☆ Mark O'Halloran (Adam), Tom Murphy (Paul), Ion Caramitru (Eastern European), Ger Carey (Heavy 1), Alan Carroll (Heavy 2)
'Funny, sad and touching.' – Philip French, Observer

Adam at 6 A.M. ★

US 1970 100m colour
National General (Robert Christiansen, Rick Rosenberg)
A disillusioned Californian university professor returns to Missouri and takes a labouring job.
Interesting and unconventional drama of a liberal kind.
w Stephen Karpf, Elinor Karpf d Robert Scheerer ph Charles Rosher ad Dale Hennessey ed Jack McSweeney
☆ Michael Douglas, Lee Purcell, Joe Don Baker, Grayson Hall, Charles Aidman, Louise Latham, Meg Foster Adam Had Four Sons ★

US 1941 81m bw
Columbia (Robert Sherwood)
A widower's family is cared for by a governess.
Modest magazine fiction which established Ingrid Bergman as an American star.
w Michael Blankfort, William Hurlbut novel Legacy by Charles Bonner d Gregory Ratoff ph Peverell Marley m W. Franke Harling
☆ Warner Baxter, Ingrid Bergman, Susan Hayward, Richard Denning, Fay Wray

'It's naughty. It's nice. It's animated.'

Adam Sandler's Eight Crazy Nights

US 2002 76m DeLuxe
Columbia/Happy Madison (Adam Sandler, Jack Giarraputo, Allen Covert)
Sentenced to community service as an assistant to a baseball referee, a small town drunk learns the error of his ways.
A gruesome experience, with Sandler's gross, slapstick humour and sentimentality married to some unexceptional animation.
w Brooks Arthur, Allen Covert, Brad Isaacs, Adam Sandler d Seth Kearsley m Ray Ellis, Marc Ellis, Teddy Castellucci pd Perry Andelin Blake ed Amy Budden ☆ voices of: Adam Sandler (Davey/Whitey/Eleanore/Deer), Jackie Titone (Jennifer), Austin Stout (Benjamin), Kevin Nealon (Mayor), Rob Schneider (Chinese Waiter/Narrator), Norm Crosby (Judge), Jon Lovitz (Tom Baltezor)
'The usual Sandler mush of bad taste gags and schmaltz.' – Nicholas Barber, Independent
'A dark, vulgar, brooding turnoff of a movie, minus the steady laugh quotient needed to appease Sandler's core constituency.' – Scott Foundas, Variety

Adam's Rib ★

US 1922 86m bw silent
Paramount (Cecil B. de Mille)
By offering herself in her stead, an American girl tries to prevent her mother's adultery with a European ex-monarch.
One of its director's 'sin in high life' melodramas, which packed 'em in at the time, this has nothing but decoration to offer to a modern audience.
w Jeanie MacPherson d Cecil B. de Mille
☆ Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter, Theodore Kosloff, Anna Q. Nilsson, Pauline Garon, Julia Faye

Adam's Rib ★★

US 1949 101m bw
MGM (Lawrence Weingarten)
Husband and wife lawyers are on opposite sides of an attempted murder case.
A superior star vehicle which also managed to introduce four promising personalities; slangily written and smartly directed, but perhaps a shade less funny than it once seemed.
w Ruth Gordon, Garson Kanin d George Cukor ph George J. Folsey m Miklos Rozsa ☆ Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, David Wayne, Tom Ewell, Judy Holliday, Jean Hagen, Hope Emerson, Clarence Kolb
'Hepburn and Tracy are again presented as the ideal US Mr and Mrs of upper-middle income. This time, as well as being wittily urbane, both are lawyers.' – Time
'It isn't solid food but it certainly is meaty and juicy and comically nourishing.' – Bosley Crowther
† A 1972 TV series of the same title provided a boring imitation, with Ken Howard and Blythe Danner.
♗ Ruth Gordon and Garson Kanin

Adamson of Africa: see The Killers of Kilimanjaro

Adaptation ★★★

US 2002 115m DeLuxe
Columbia/Intermedia/Magnet/Clinica Estetico (Edward Saxon, Vincent Landay, Jonathan Demme)
A neurotic screenwriter has problems adapting a non-fiction book about a Florida orchid breeder, while his twin brother happily churns out a script about a serial killer.
Witty, inventive, playful movie about a blocked writer trying out various approaches to intractable material before relying on Hollywood clichés to get him through to the end; it's much funnier than it sounds, aided by some stylish direction and expertly comic performances.
w Charlie Kaufman, Donald Kaufman book The Orchid Thief by Susan Orlean d Spike Jonze ph Lance Acord m Carter Burwell pd KK Barrett ad Peter Andrus ed Eric Zumbrunnen cos Ann Roth
☆ Nicolas Cage (Charlie Kaufman/Donald Kaufman), Meryl Streep (Susan Orlean), Chris Cooper (John Laroche), Tilda Swinton (Valerie), Cara Seymour (Amelia), Brian Cox (Robert McKee), Judy Greer (Alice the Waitress), Maggie Gyllenhaal (Caroline)
'Screenwriting this smart, inventive, passionate and rip-roaringly funny is a rare species. It's magic.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone
'The trouble with experimental comedies is that it's often impossible to figure out how to end them. But at least this one is intricate fun before it blows itself up.' – David Denby, New Yorker
♟ Chris Cooper
♗ Nicolas Cage; Meryl Streep; Charlie Kaufman, Donald Kaufman BAFTA Charlie Kaufman, Donald Kaufman

'Creepy. Kooky. Spooky. Ooky.'

The Addams Family ★

US 1991 99m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Paramount/Orion (Scott Rudin)

An impostor turns up at the Addams family mansion, claiming to be a long-lost elder brother.

Owing more to the TV series of the 1960s than to the macabre wit of the original New Yorker cartoons, an ill-conceived, coarse-grained comedy that nevertheless was a success at the box-office.

w Caroline Thompson, Larry Wilson characters created by Charles Addams
d Barry Sonnenfeld ph Owen Roizman
m Marc Shaiman pd Richard MacDonald
ed Dede Allen, Jim Miller sp visual effects supervisor Alan Munro, Chuck Comisky ☆ Anjelica Huston, Raul Julia, Christopher Lloyd, Dan Hedaya, Elizabeth Wilson, Judith Malina, Carel Struycken, Dana Ivey, Christina Ricci, Paul Benedict, Christopher Hart (whose hand appears as The Thing)

'Plays like a collection of sitcom one-liners augmented by feature-film special effects – a combination that is stretched well beyond its limits.' – Variety

'Misguided graveyard slapstick.' – New Yorker

'Motherhood just got a little stranger.'

Addams Family Values ★

US 1993 94m colour
UIP/Paramount (Scott Rudin)

The Addams children try to kill the new baby, but he is damage-proof; while their parents hire a nanny who is also a serial killer.

This is less a movie and more a sequence of gags set in an elongated sit-com, of which few are inspired and most too ordinary to amuse, but it has its moments.

w Paul Rudnick d Barry Sonnenfeld
ph Donald Peterman m Marc Shaiman
pd Ken Adam ed Arthur Schmidt, Jim Miller
☆ Anjelica Huston (Morticia Addams), Raul Julia (Gomez Addams), Christopher Lloyd (Uncle Fester), Joan Cusack (Debbie Jellinsky), Christina Ricci (Wednesday Addams), Carol Kane (Granny), Jimmy Workman (Pugsley Addams), Carel Struycken (Lurch), David Krumholtz (Joe Glicker), Christopher Hart (Thing), Kristin Hooper (Pubert Addams), Dana Ivey (Margaret), Peter MacNicol (Gary Granger), Christine Baranski (Becky Granger)

'It's the kind of wicked delicious comedy one can savor without adding the proviso of guilty pleasure.' –Variety

'The film does not know when to stop, has little idea of how to begin, and moves forward by a process of "Quick, who's got the next gimmick" jolts and nudges.' – Nigel Andrews, Financial Times

'The storyline is almost too slim to recall and the cast simply earn their bread and butter doing revue turns.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Ken Adam

'A Comedy About Lost Loves And Last Laughs.'

Addicted to Love ★ (5)

US 1997 100m Technicolor
Warner/Outlaw/Miramax (Jeffrey Silver, Bobby Newmyer)

When his girlfriend leaves him for a French restaurateur, an astronomer joins with the man's jilted fiancée to break up their romance.

A romantic comedy with a cutting edge, as people behave badly to one another in the name of fidelity.

w Robert Gordon d Griffin Dunne
ph Andrew Dunn m Rachel Portman
pd Robin Standefer ed Elizabeth Kling
☆ Meg Ryan (Maggie), Matthew Broderick (Sam), Kelly Preston (Linda), Tcheky Karyo (Anton), Maureen Stapleton (Nana), Nesbitt Blaisdell (Ed), Remak Ramsay (Professor Wells), Dominick Dunne (Matheson)

'This odd juxtaposition of light drama and outrageous antics is apt to confuse more than charm audience.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

'The dark is their sunlight. What makes them different is what keeps them alive.'

The Addiction (5)

US 1995 82m bw
Guild/Fast Films (Denis Hann, Fernando Sulichin)

A philosophy student turns vampire and is turned on by the writings of Nietzsche.

Ferrara bites off more than he can chew in this horror movie, using images of massacres and concentration camp victims to emphasize his depiction of power-crazed bloodlust let loose on society; but his fiction shrivels in the light of these actual horrors.

w Nicholas St John d Abel Ferrara ph Ken Kelsch m Joe Delia pd Charlie Lagola ed Mayin Lo
☆ Lili Taylor, Christoper Walken, Annabella Sciorra, Edie Falco, Paul Calderon, Fredro Star, Kathryn Erbe, Michael Imperioli

'Dramatically surprising, stylishly made in black-and-white and very well acted.' – Variety

'Offensively pretentious.' – Sunday Times

The Adding Machine ★

GB 1968 99m Technicolor
Universal/Associated London (Jerome Epstein)

Downtrodden clerk Mr Zero rebels against society by murdering his boss. Tried and executed, he spends thirty years in heaven before being 'laundered' and sent back to start again as another nonentity.

Elmer Rice's satirical fantasy of the twenties is here robbed of its expressionist staging and presented naturalistically, a fatal error from which the film never for one moment recovers.

wd Jerome Epstein ph Walter Lassally
m Mike Leander, Lambert Williamson
☆ Phyllis Diller, Milo O'Shea, Billie Whitelaw, Sydney Chaplin, Julian Glover, Raymond Huntley, Phil Brown, Libby Morris

Addio, Fratello Crudele: see 'Tis Pity She's a Whore

Address Unknown ★★

US 1944 72m bw
Columbia (William Cameron Menzies)

A German-American becomes a Nazi and is incriminated by false letters from his one-time friend.

Reasonably engrossing, cheaply-made adaptation of a slim little thriller which was widely read during World War II.

w Kressman Taylor, Herbert Dalmas novel Kressman Taylor d William Cameron Menzies ph Rudolph Maté
m Ernst Toch ad Lionel Banks, Walter Holscher ☆ Paul Lukas, Carl Esmond, Peter Van Eyck, Mady Christians, Emory Parnell
Ernst Toch; art direction

Adieu Philippine ★

France/Italy 1962 106m bw
Unitec/Alpha/Rome-Paris (Georges de Beauregard)

A young TV cameraman is torn between two girls.

Flimsy but attractive romantic comedy, slightly marred by New Wave improvisation with consequent rough edges.

w Michèle O'Glor, Jacques Rozier
d Jacques Rozier ph René Mathelin
m various
☆ Jean-Claude Aimini, Yveline Céry, Stefania Sabatini, Vittorio Caprioli

Adios, Sabata: see The Bounty Hunters

Adj Kiraly Katonat: see The Princess

'Sex ... Power ... Obsession.'

The Adjuster ★

Canada 1991 102m colour Panavision
Metro/Ego Film Arts/Téléfilm Canada/Ontario Film Development Corp. (Atom Egoyan)

An insurance loss adjuster becomes involved in the sexual activities of his clients.

Offbeat movie that takes an oblique approach to the relationship between cinema and voyeurism.

wd Atom Egoyan ph Paul Sarossy
m Mychael Danna pd Linda Del Rosario, Richard Paris ed Susan Shipton ☆ Elias Koteas, Arsinée Khanjian, Maury Chaykin, Gabrielle Rose, Jennifer Dale, David Hemblen, Rose Sarkisyan, Armen Kokorian

'Utterly compelling, a visual treat and, above all, a fiercely intelligent piece of work.' – Empire

The Admirable Crichton ★

GB 1957 93m Technicolor Vistavision
Columbia/Modern Screenplays (Ian Dalrymple) US title: Paradise Lagoon

Lord Loam and his family are shipwrecked on a desert island, where his manservant proves the undisputed leader.

Few laughs are to be had from this blunt, sentimental version of a famous play, but the photography and decor are excellent.

w Vernon Harris play J. M. Barrie
d Lewis Gilbert ph Wilkie Cooper
m Douglas Gamley, Richard Addinsell ad William Kellner cos Bernard Nevill devices Emmett
☆ Kenneth More, Cecil Parker, Sally Ann Howes, Diane Cilento, Martita Hunt, Jack Watling, Peter Graves, Gerald Harper

'Barrie's play now seems more remote than Gammer Gurton.' – David Robinson

The Admiral Was a Lady

US 1950 87m bw
Roxbury (Albert S. Rogell, Jack M. Warner)

Four ex-airmen and an ex-Wac try to live on their wits.

Unappealing comedy which gives the impression that it has tried to find a new style, and failed.

w Sidney Salkow, John O'Dea d Albert S. Rogell ph Stanley Cortez ☆ Edmond O'Brien, Wanda Hendrix, Rudy Vallee, Johnny Sands, Steve Brodie, Richard Erdman, Hillary Brooke, Richard Lane

The Adolescent

France/West Germany 1979 93m colour
Janus (Phillipe Dussart) original title: L'Adolescente

In France in 1939, a 12-year-old girl is infatuated with a young Jewish doctor.

A solidly acted but otherwise uninspired account of the stirrings of adolescent angst.

w Henriette Jelinek, Jeanne Moreau
d Jeanne Moreau ph Pierre Gautard
m Philippe Sarde ed Albert Jurgenson
☆ Simone Signoret, Laetitia Chauveau, Edith Clever, Jacques Weber, Francis Huster

Adolf Hitler – My Part in His Downfall ★

GB 1972 102m Technicolor
UA/Norcon (Gregory Smith, Norman Cohen)

Episodes in the life of a conscript at the beginning of World War II.

Lumbering anarchic comedy based on Spike Milligan's own sidesplitting memoirs; an enfeebled British M*A*S*H.

w Johnny Byrne d Norman Cohen
ph Terry Maher m Wilfred Burns
☆ Jim Dale, Spike Milligan (as his own father), Arthur Lowe, Bill Maynard, Windsor Davies, Pat Coombs, Tony Selby, Geoffrey Hughes

'A convincing period shabbiness and sleaziness which are endearing when they're not being overstated.' – MFB

Adorable ★

US 1933 85m bw
Fox

A Ruritanian princess falls in love with a naval officer.

Charming, lightweight romance of the old school.

w George Marion Jnr, Jane Storm story Paul Frank, Billy Wilder d William Dieterle ph John Seitz m/ly Werner Richard Heymann, George Marion, Richard Whiting
☆ Janet Gaynor, Henri Garat, C. Aubrey Smith, Herbert Mundin, Blanche Friderici, Hans von Twardowski
† The film was remade from German-French originals under a title which translated as Her Majesty Commands. The German version starred Kaethe von Nagy and Willy Fritsch, the French Lillian Harvey and Henri Garat.

Adorable Creatures

France 1952 105m bw
Sirius/Jacques Roitfeld

A Paris fashion executive recalls his love affairs.

A collection of four short sex comedies which did well on the heels of La Ronde.

w Charles Spaak, Jacques Companeez
d Christian-Jaque ph Christian Matras
m Georges Van Parys
☆ Daniel Gélin, Danielle Darrieux, Edwige Feuillère, Antonella Lualdi, Martine Carol, Marilyn Buferd

Adorable Julia

Austria/France 1962 97m bw
Wiener Mundus/Etoile

GB title: The Seduction of Julia

A middle-aged actress takes on a lover.

Moderately pleasing sex comedy, rather more heavily directed than Maugham would have liked.

w Johanna Sibelius, Eberhard Keindorff novel Theatre by Somerset Maugham
d Alfred Weidenmann
☆ Lilli Palmer, Charles Boyer, Jean Sorel, Jeanne Valerie

Adorable Lies ★★

Cuba 1991 100m colour
ICAIC (Evelio Delgado)
original title: Adorables Mentiras

A married, unsuccessful scriptwriter pretends to be a film director in his efforts to seduce a woman he fancies, who turns out to be a frustrated actress married to a corrupt government official.

A deft and witty farce of false identities that makes fun of marriage, desire and ideologically correct cinema. Not surprisingly, it ran into censorship problems in Cuba and was hardly seen there.
w Senel Paz d Gerardo Chijona ph Julio Valdes m Edesio Alejandro, Gerardo Garcia pd Onelio Larralde ed Jorge Abello
☆ Isabel Santos, Luis Alberto Garcia, Mirtha Ibarra, Thais Valdes, Carlos Cruz, Silvia Planas, Santiago Alvarez
'Combines comedy and melodrama with uneven results. At times it seems to be a tongue-in-cheek soap opera, but in other scenes its tone becomes too dark. While there are some funny moments, this Cuban sudser goes on too long and eventually grows tiring.' – Variety

Adorables Mentiras: see Adorable Lies

Adrenalin: Fear the Rush

US 1996 77m colour Clairmont Scope
Columbia TriStar/Largo/Toga (Tom Karnowski, Gary Schmoeller)

In Boston in 2007, two cops try to track down a mad killer, who has escaped from a quarantine camp and is infected with a plague that depopulated Europe.
Daft and strikingly unoriginal action movie, which leaves its characters and its audience in the dark for much of the time.
wd Albert Pyun ph George Mooradian m Tony Riparetti pd Nenad Pecur ed Ken Morrisey sp John McLeod; Kevin Marks
☆ Christophe Lambert, Natasha Henstridge, Norbert Weisser, Elizabeth Barondes, Craig Davis, Xavier Declie, Nicholas Guest, Andrew Divoff
† Despite being set in Boston, the film was shot in Bratislava, which accounts for the police cars being marked Policia.

'Fatigue. Hypothermia. Death.'

Adrift ★★ (3)

Germany 2006 95m
Pathe/Orange Pictures/Shotgun (Dan Maag, Philip Schulz-Deyle)

German title: Open Water 2
A cruise aboard a luxury yacht turns into a survival nightmare when college friends jump into the ocean without lowering the boat ladder and exhaustedly try and stay afloat struggling to find a solution to their hopeless plight.
Stylish visuals and hand-held camera techniques ratchet up the high anxiety in a harrowing story based on sea rescue fact.
w Adam Kreutner, Colin McMahon, David Mitchell, Richard Speight Jr. d Hans Horn ph Bernhard Jasper m Gerd Baumann pd Frank Godt ad Moyra Sammut ed Christian Lonk sp Andreas Vrhovsek
☆ Susan May Pratt (Amy), Richard Speight Jr. (James), Niklaus Lange (Zach), Ali Hillis (Lauren), Cameron Richardson (Michelle), Eric Dane (Dan)
'It's the horrifying, human banality of the premise that builds excruciating tension.' – Dave Wolfe, Total Film

Adua e le Compagne

Italy 1960 150m bw
Zebra Film

GB title: Hungry for Love
When brothels in Italy are officially closed, four of the old girls open a restaurant.
Immensely overlong comedy drama whose rewards come entirely from the actors.
w Ruggero Maccari, Ettore Scola, Antonio Pietrangeli, Tullio Pinelli d Antonio Pietrangeli
☆ Simone Signoret, Marcello Mastroianni, Sandra Milo, Emmanuelle Riva, Gina Rovere
'The script becomes increasingly episodic, and clichés abound.' – MFB

Advance to the Rear ★

US 1964 97m bw Panavision
MGM/Ted Richmond
GB title: Company of Cowards?
After the Civil War, a troop of misfits is sent west out of harm's way, but manages to capture a rebel spy and save a gold shipment.
Semi-satirical Western action comedy with a farcical climax; quite sharply made.
w Samuel A. Peeples, William Bowers story Jack Schaefer d George Marshall ph Milton Krasner m Randy Sparks
☆ Glenn Ford, Melvyn Douglas, Stella Stevens, Jim Backus, Joan Blondell, Andrew Prine, Alan Hale, James Griffith, Preston Foster

'Gable's back and Garson's got him!'

Adventure ★

US 1945 126m bw
MGM (Sam Zimbalist)

A roughneck sailor marries a librarian, but only settles down to love her when their child is born.
Uniquely embarrassing (and fascinating) mishmash of pretentious dialogue and cardboard characters.
w Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, Vincent Lawrence novel Clyde Brion Davis d Victor Fleming ph Joseph Ruttenberg m Herbert Stothart
☆ Clark Gable, Greer Garson, Thomas Mitchell, Joan Blondell, John Qualen, Richard Haydn
'MGM proudly announce Adventure as the meeting of a red-blooded man with a blue-blooded woman. Its impact on the bloodstream of your critic was a chilling one. Fifty years of the cinema, he thought, and this is where we've landed.' – Richard Winnington

Adventure for Two: see The Demi-Paradise

An Adventure for Two: see A Nous Deux

Adventure in Baltimore

US 1949 89m bw
RKO (Richard H. Berger)
GB title: Bachelor Bait
In 1905, a young society girl becomes a suffragette.
Inconsequential period comedy which did nothing for its young star's fading career.
w Lionel Houser story Christopher Isherwood, Lesser Samuels d Richard Wallace ph Robert de Grasse m Frederick Hollander
☆ Shirley Temple, Robert Young, John Agar, Albert Sharpe, Josephine Hutchinson, Johnny Sands, John Miljan, Norma Varden

Adventure in Manhattan

US 1936 73m bw
Columbia
GB title: Manhattan Madness
An actress helps an ace reporter to foil a bank robbery by a master criminal.
Flat romantic mystery comedy which wastes a good cast.
w Sidney Buchman, Harry Sauber, Jack Kirkland d Edward Ludwig ph Henry Freulich ☆ Jean Arthur, Joel McCrea, Thomas Mitchell, Reginald Owen, Herman Bing

Adventure Island

US 1947 67m Cinecolor
Paramount

Seafarers chance on an uncharted island, ruled by a deadly fanatic.
Hokum rehash of Stevenson's Ebb Tide, with Paul Kelly as the madman.
w Maxwell Shane d Peter Stewart (Sam Newfield)
☆ Paul Kelly, Rory Calhoun, Rhonda Fleming

The Adventure of Sherlock Holmes' Smarter Brother

GB 1975 91m DeLuxe
TCF/Jouer (Richard A. Roth)

More by good luck than good management, Sherlock's younger brother solves one of his cases.
Infuriating parody with little sense of the original and a hit-or-miss style all of its own. Amusing moments fail to atone for the general waste of opportunity.
wd Gene Wilder ph Gerry Fisher m John Morris pd Terry Marsh
☆ Gene Wilder, Marty Feldman, Madeline Kahn, Leo McKern, Dom DeLuise, Roy Kinnear, John Le Mesurier, Douglas Wilmer, Thorley Walters
'Like a compilation of the kind of numbers actors like to do at parties.' – Howard Kissel
'He has bitten off more than he can chew or I can swallow.' – John Simon
'A few stray chuckles but nothing more.' – Sight and Sound
'There's no mystery, and since you can't have a parody of a mystery without a mystery, there's no comic suspense.' – New Yorker, 1980

The Adventurer ★★★★

US 1917 21m approx (24 fps) bw silent
Mutual

An escaped convict rescues two wealthy women from drowning and is invited to their home.
Hilarious early Chaplin knockabout, with his physical gags at their most streamlined.
wd Charles Chaplin ph William C. Foster, Rollie Totheroh
☆ Charles Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Eric Campbell, Henry Bergman

The Adventurers

GB 1950 86m bw
Rank/Mayflower (Maxwell Setton, Aubrey Baring)

US title: The Great Adventure
aka: Fortune in Diamonds
In 1902, two Boers and a cashiered English officer set out to recover stolen diamonds.
Lethargic South African Western in the wake of Treasure of the Sierra Madre; clumsy and unconvincing, with cardboard characters.
w Robert Westerby d David MacDonald ph Oswald Morris m Cedric Thorpe Davie
☆ Dennis Price, Jack Hawkins, Siobhan McKenna, Peter Hammond, Bernard Lee, Grégoire Aslan

The Adventurers ★

US 1970 170m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount/Avco Embassy/Adventurers Film (Lewis Gilbert)

A sensualist brought up amid Europe's luxuries returns to his Central American homeland to take vengeance on the brutal security chief who raped and murdered his mother.
Sprawling, sexy, bloodstained extravaganza from a Harold Robbins novel. Expensive to look at and riddled with sensation, but that's about all.
w Michael Hastings, Lewis Gilbert d Lewis Gilbert ph Claude Renoir m Antonio Carlos Jobim pd Tony Masters
☆ Bekim Fehmiu, Alan Badel, Candice Bergen, Ernest Borgnine, Olivia de Havilland, Rossano Brazzi, Charles Aznavour, Sydney Tafler, Fernando Rey, Leigh Taylor-Young, Thommy Berggren, John Ireland
'A three-hour slog through every imaginable cliché of writing and direction ... in addition to an abundance of flaccid sex and violence, it offers drugs, sadism, orchids, fireworks, orgies, lesbianism, a miscarriage, a private torture chamber, and the hell of several fashion shows with loud pop music accompaniment. This might well be described as the film with everything; trouble is, it is difficult to imagine anybody wanting any of it.' – MFB
'Lovers of rotten movies and close-up violence can revel in it.' – Judith Crist

Adventures in Babysitting: see Night On the Town

'Ladies...if you can't do-it-yourself call a plumber!'

Adventures of a Plumber's Mate

GB 1978 88m Eastmancolor
Salon (Stanley Long)
A plumber with debts is chased by crooks and by lustful women.
Tired sexploitation farce with little narrative, merely a succession of episodes in which women lose their clothes.
w Stephen D. Frances, Aubrey Cash d Stanley Long ph Peter Sinclair m Christopher Neil ad Carlotta Barrow ed Jo Gannon
☆ Christopher Neil (Sid South), Arthur Mullard (Blackie), Stephen Lewis (Crapper), Nina West (Sally), Anna Quayle (Loretta), Prudence Drage (Janice), Elaine Paige (Susie), William Rushton (Dodger)
'A glum essay in blue-nosed British farce.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB

Adventures of a Private Eye

GB 1977 90m Gevacolor
Alpha/Salon (Peter & Stanley Long)
An apprentice private detective investigates a woman being blackmailed over some compromising photographs.
Dreary slapstick comedy, crudely done and wasting the talents of many skilled character actors.
w Michael Armstrong d Stanley Long ph Peter Sinclair m De Wolfe ad Carlotta Barrow ed Jo Gannon
☆ Christopher Neil (Bob West), Suzy Kendal (Laura Sutton), Harry H. Corbett (Sydney), Fred Emney (Sir Basil Lemmington), Liz Fraser (Violet), Irene Handl (Miss Friggen), Ian Lavender (Derek), Julian Orchard (Police motorcyclist), Jon Pertwee (Judd Blake), Adrienne Posta (Lisa Moroni), Anna Quayle (Medea), William Rushton (Wilfred), Diana Dors (Mrs Horne)
'The script's incoherent lurchings and botched attempts at parody at least provide a kind of entertainment.' – Geoff Brown, MFB

† The film was a sort of sequel to the profitable Adventures of a Taxi Driver, although Barry Evans, the star of that film, refused to appear and was replaced by Christopher Neil.

Adventures of a Taxi Driver

GB 1975 89m Eastmancolor
Alpha/Salon (Peter Long, Stanley Long)

A taxi driver finds that his sex life is both busy and confusing.
Lamentable British comedy, in which a cast of reliable performers are allowed to embarrass themselves and their audience.
w Suzanne Mercer d Stanley Long ph Peter Sinclair ed Jo Gannon
☆ Barry Evans, Judy Geeson, Adrienne Posta, Diana Dors, Liz Fraser, Ian Lavender, Stephen Lewis, Robert Lindsay, Henry McGee, Brian Wilde

'A crass, lobotomised production, with no discernible style, humour or purpose.' – MFB

Adventures of a Young Man: see Hemingway's Adventures of a Young Man

The Adventures of Arsène Lupin ★

France/Italy 1956 103m Eastmancolor
Chavane-SNE-Gaumont/Lambor-Costellazione (Robert Sussfeld)

In 1912, the famous jewel thief conducts several successful robberies and outwits the Kaiser.
The most stylish Lupin film, though not based on the original stories.
w Jacques Becker, Albert Simonin, based on the character created by Maurice Leblanc
d Jacques Becker ph Edmond Séchan ad Rino Mondellini
☆ Robert Lamoureux, Liselotte Pulver, Otto Hasse, Henri Rollan

The Adventures of Baron Munchausen: see Münchausen (1943)

Adventures of Baron Munchausen ★★

GB/West Germany 1989 126m Eastmancolor
Prominent Features/Laura Film/Columbia-Tri Star (Thomas Schühly)

A German soldier tells tall stories of his escapades.
Ambitious, extravagant fantasy in which some of the parts are better than the whole.
w Charles McKeown, Terry Gilliam story Rudolph Erich Raspe d Terry Gilliam ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Michael Kamen pd Dante Ferretti ed Peter Hollywood sp Richard Conway
☆ John Neville, Eric Idle, Sarah Polley, Oliver Reed, Charles McKeown, Winston Dennis, Jack Purvis, Valentina Cortese, Jonathan Pryce, Bill Paterson, Peter Jeffrey, Uma Thurman

'Munchausen's inability to get into gear rather defeats what would seem the point of the picture: whereas the source is adroit at slipping between fantasy and reality, Gilliam's fiction can't even handle a flashback.' – MFB

art direction; costume design; makeup
Dante Ferretti

The Adventures of Barry Mackenzie ★

Australia 1972 114m Eastmancolor
Columbia/Longford (Philip Adams)

A sex-hungry Australian gets into all kinds of trouble on a visit to the Old Country.
Occasionally funny, defiantly crude and tasteless, but poorly produced comedy-misadventure from the Private Eye comic strip. Australian slang combines with bad sound recording to make much of the film unintelligible.
w Barry Humphries, Bruce Beresford
d Bruce Beresford ph Don McAlpine
m Peter Best
☆ Barry Crocker (Barry Mackenzie), Barry Humphries (Dame Edna Everage), Peter Cook, Spike Milligan, Dennis Price, Avice Landone, Dick Bentley, Joan Bakewell, William Rushton

'A wildly uneven concoction of antipodean bad taste, probably only fully appreciated by Earls Court exiles.' – Sight and Sound

† Sequel 1974: Barry Mackenzie Holds His Own

The Adventures of Buckaroo Banzai Across the Eighth Dimension ★

US 1984 102m colour Panavision
Sherwood (Neil Canton/W. D. Richter)

A Renaissance man – physicist, surgeon and rock star – crashes into the eighth dimension and releases evil aliens.
Genial spoof of science fiction and other movie genres.
w Earl MacRauch d W. D. Richter ph Fred J. Koenekamp m Michael Boddicker pd J. M. Riva ed Richard Marks, George Bowers
☆ Peter Weller, John Lithgow, Ellen Barkin, Jeff Goldblum, Christopher Lloyd

The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin ★

US 1965 110m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Anderson)

In the 1849 California Gold Rush, two aristocrats and their butler head west.
Rather splendid spoof Western with careful attention to detail and comedy pointing, well above the average Disney standard.
w Lowell S. Hawley novel By the Great Horn Spoon by Sid Fleischman d James Neilson ph Edward Colman m George Bruns titles Ward Kimball
☆ Roddy McDowall, Suzanne Pleshette, Bryan Russell, Karl Malden, Harry Guardino, Richard Haydn, Mike Mazurki, Hermione Baddeley, Cecil Kellaway

The Adventures of Captain Fabian

US 1951 100m bw
Republic/Silver (William Marshall)

A sea captain returns to New Orleans to revenge himself on the family which had defrauded his father.
Stilted, old-fashioned Monte Cristo*ish melodrama with some curiosity value but little verve in the playing or production. An awful warning to independent producers.*
w Errol Flynn novel Fabulous Ann Medlock by Robert Shannon d William Marshall
ph Marcel Grignon m René Cloerec
☆ Errol Flynn, Micheline Presle, Agnes Moorehead, Vincent Price, Victor Francen, Jim Gerald † Made in France.

Adventures of Captain Marvel ★

US 1941 bw serial: 12 eps
Republic

When a scientific expedition goes to Siam, the assistant radio operator is endowed by the mysterious Shazam with the power to transform himself into Captain Marvel, and to defeat the evil Scorpion.
Modest classic serial, good for more than a few laughs.
d William Witney, John English
☆ Tom Tyler, Frank Coghlan Jnr, William Benedict, Louise Currie

Adventures of Casanova

US 1948 83m bw
Eagle-Lion

Casanova returns to Sicily and helps overthrow the tyrannical rule of the King of Naples.
Robin Hood transplanted, with a few amorous asides; but this is a totally stilted production which fails to entertain.
w Crane Wilbur, Walter Bullock, Ken de Wolf d Roberto Gavaldon
☆ Arturo de Cordova, Lucille Bremer, Turhan Bey

The Adventures of Don Juan ★★

US 1949 110m Technicolor
Warner (Jerry Wald)

GB title: The New Adventures of Don Juan

A reformed 17th-century rake saves his queen from the machinations of her first minister.
Expensive, slightly uneasy, but generally very entertaining swashbuckler with elements of self-spoofery. Flynn's last big-budget extravaganza.
w George Oppenheimer, Harry Kurnitz
d Vincent Sherman ph Elwood Bredell
m Max Steiner ad Edward Carrere
☆ Errol Flynn, Viveca Lindfors, Romney Brent, Robert Douglas, Alan Hale, Ann Rutherford, Robert Warwick, Jerry Austin, Douglas Kennedy, Una O'Connor, Aubrey Mather, Raymond Burr

'A lavish film on a truly magnificent scale.' – The Times

art direction

Adventures of Ford Fairlane

US 1990 104m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF (Joel Silver, Steve Perry)

A conceited rock 'n' roll detective solves the murder of a Los Angeles disc jockey.
Drearily vulgar comedy, featuring one of the more obnoxious stand-up comedians of the 90s and about as entertaining as stepping in something nasty in the street. It was a flop at the box-office, resulting in Fox's decision not to release Clay's concert film Dice Rules (qv).
w Daniel Waters, James Cappe, David Arnott based on characters created by Rex Weiner d Renny Harlin ph Oliver Wood m Yello pd John Vallone ed Michael Tronick ☆ Andrew Dice Clay, Wayne Newton, Priscilla Presley, Morris Day, Lauren Holly, Maddie Corman, Robert Englund, Ed O'Neill

'Surprisingly funny and expectedly rude.' – Variety

'What can you say about a movie whose comic highlight is the hanging of a koala bear?' – Empire

The Adventures of Gallant Bess

US 1948 71m Cinecolor
Eagle Lion

The master of a trained rodeo horse becomes a range wanderer.
Easy-going animal interest saga with a pleasant ending.
w Matthew Rapf d Lew Landers
☆ Cameron Mitchell, Audrey Long, Fuzzy Knight, James Millican, Ed Gargan

The Adventures of Gerard ★

GB 1970 91m DeLuxe Panavision
UA/Sir Nigel Films (Henry Lester, Gene Gutowski)

A hussar of Napoleon becomes involved in a double spy game but comes out trumps and wins a fair lady.
A lighthearted historical spoof of military pomp, with plenty of attractive elements which unfortunately fail to jell into a satisfying film.
w H. A. L. Craig and others stories Arthur Conan Doyle d Jerzy Skolimowski ph Witold Sobocinski m Riz Ortolani
☆ Peter McEnery, Claudia Cardinale, Eli Wallach, Jack Hawkins, Mark Burns, Norman Rossington, John Neville

'Enormously graceful and witty ... picks its way with amazing delicacy through the reefs of facetiousness.' – Tom Milne

The Adventures of Hajji Baba ★

US 1954 93m DeLuxe Cinemascope
Allied Artists/Walter Wanger

In ancient Arabia, a barber helps and falls in love with an escaping princess.
A reasonably dashing sword and sandal romp which no one takes very seriously.
w Richard Collins d Don Weis ph Harold Lipstein m Dimitri Tiomkin pd Gene Allen
☆ John Derek, Elaine Stewart, Thomas Gomez, Amanda Blake, Paul Picerni, Rosemarie Bowe

The Adventures of Huck Finn

US 1993 108m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Mighty Miss/Steve White (Laurence Mark)

Huck Finn, escaping from his brutal father, goes on the run with Jim, an escaped slave, and takes to the river.
Bland and fussy remake of the familiar story, one that ignores the vigour of the original in favour of cuteness.
wd Stephen Sommers novel The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain ph Janusz Kaminski m Bill Conti pd Richard Sherman ed Bob Ducsay
☆ Elijah Wood, Courtney B. Vance, Robbie Coltrane, Jason Robards, Ron Perlman, Dana Ivey, James Gammon, Anne Heche, Paxton Whitehead

'Wholesome family entertainment with a worthy anti-slavery message.' – Empire

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn: see Huckleberry Finn (1960)

The Adventures of Ichabod and Mr Toad: see Ichabod and Mr Toad

The Adventures of Marco Polo ★

US 1938 100m bw
Samuel Goldwyn

The medieval Italian explorer discovers China, fireworks, and a beautiful maiden.

One gets the impression that this began as a standard adventure and that during production it switched to comedy; whatever the cause, lively and amusing scenes fail to add up to more than a thinly scripted pantomime.
w Robert E. Sherwood d Archie Mayo ph Rudolph Maté m Hugo Friedhofer md Alfred Newman ad Richard Day
☆ Gary Cooper, Sigrid Gurie, Basil Rathbone, Ernest Truex, Binnie Barnes, Alan Hale, George Barbier
'In spite of its elaborate settings and the presence of Gary Cooper, it never quite lives up to its promises.' – New York Sun
'Goldwyn's most ambitious endeavour … deserves and will get enthusiastic exhibitor plugging. Sherwood's more concerned with entertainment than with history.' – Variety † Release prints were in sepiatone.

The Adventures of Mark Twain ★★

US 1944 130m bw
Warner (Jesse L. Lasky)
The life of America's foremost humorous writer, from a Mississippi riverboat to his becoming an honorary fellow of Oxford University.
Conventional biopic, quite watchable and with unusual side turnings, but eventually lacking the zest of the subject.
w Harold M. Sherman, Alan le May, Harry Chandler d Irving Rapper ph Sol Polito m Max Steiner ad John J. Hughes
☆ Fredric March, Alexis Smith, Donald Crisp, Alan Hale, C. Aubrey Smith, John Carradine, William Henry, Robert Barrat, Walter Hampden
'It's not that it's much worse than most cinematized biographies, because it does have its good moments. It's just that once more biographical inaccuracy is rampant, and once more the best dramatic possibilities have been overlooked, so it's hard to think of anything new, in the line of protest, to say.' – David Lardner, New Yorker
Max Steiner; John J. Hughes

The Adventures of Martin Eden

US 1942 87m bw
Columbia (B. P. Schulberg)
An American seaman fights a brutal captain and wins better conditions for his comrades.
Routine actioner based on what are virtually the author's memoirs.
w W. L. River story Jack London d Sidney Salkow
☆ Glenn Ford, Evelyn Keyes, Claire Trevor, Stuart Erwin, Dickie Moore Adventures of Milo and Otis ★

(dubbed)
Japan 1986 75m Eastmancolor Panavision
Virgin/Fuji (Hisashi Hieda) original title: Koneko Monogatari
A puppy leaves a farm to search for his friend, a kitten, who has floated downriver in a box.
Innocuous adventure, using real animals, that may appeal to the very young.
w Mark Saltzman story Masanori Hata d Masanori Hata ph Hideo Fuji, Shinji Tomita m Michael Boddicker ad Takeharu Sakahuchi ed Chizuko Osada ☆ Dudley Moore (narrator)
'Youngsters and pet lovers will adore this film. Grown-ups with a less positive attitude to the animal kingdom are well advised to stay away.' – Empire
† The film was the second most popular ever made in Japan.

The Adventures of Pinocchio ★

GB/US/France/Germany 1996 96m DeLuxe Panavision
New Line/Savoy/Pangaea/Twin Continental (Raju Patel, Jeffrey M. Sneller)
The adventures of a wooden puppet who comes to life after he has been made by a lonely wood-carver.
A live-action account, with an animatronic puppet, of a story most familiar from Disney's version; it does not match up to the animated feature, but manages a certain charm.
w Sherry Mills, Steve Barron, Tom Benedek, Barry Berman novel Carlo Collodi d Steve Barron ph Juan Ruiz-Anchia m Rachel Portman pd Allan Cameron ed Sean Barton sp Jim Henson's Creature Shop
☆ Martin Landau, Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Geneviève Bujold, Udo Kier, Bebe Neuwirth, Rob Schneider, Griff Rhys Jones, Dawn French, John Sessions
'Well-crafted and gently charming.' – Variety

'In Space, Everyone Can Hear You Laugh!'

The Adventures of Pluto Nash

US/Australia 2002 94m Technicolor
Warner/Castle Rock/Village Roadshow/NPV (Martin Bregman, Michael Bregman, Louis A. Stroller)
GB title: Pluto Nash
In the 2080s, the owner of the Moon colony's most popular club clashes with a gambler who wants to buy him out.
Woefully weak comedy with Eddie Murphy coasting on his past successes.
w Neil Cuthbert d Ron Underwood ph Oliver Wood m John Powell pd Bill Brzeski ed Paul Hirsch, Alan Heim
☆ Eddie Murphy (Pluto Nash), Randy Quaid (Bruno), Rosario Dawson (Dina Lake), Joe Pantoliano (Mogan), Jay Mohr (Tony Francis), Luis Guzman (Felix Laranga), James Rebhorn (Belcher), Peter Boyle (Rowland), Burt Young (Gino), Pam Grier (Flura Nash), John Cleese (James), Illeana Douglas (Dr Mona Zinimer)
'The comedy is thin stuff that doesn't remotely make up for the low-budget shoddiness of the action.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times

'Finally, a comedy that will change the way you think, the way you feel and, most importantly, the way you dress.'

The Adventures of Priscilla Queen of the Desert ★★

Australia 1994 103m colour Arriscope
Rank/Polygram/AFFC/Latent Image/Specific Films (Al Clark, Michael Hamlyn)
Two transvestites and a transsexual drive a bus from Sydney to Alice Springs for a cabaret engagement at a hotel run by a former wife of one of them.
A bright and brittle road movie, gaudy and fun and refusing to take seriously even the occasional glimpse of genuine emotion.
wd Stephan Elliott ph Brian J. Breheny m Guy Gross pd Owen Paterson ed Sue Blainey
☆ Terence Stamp, Hugo Weaving, Guy Pearce, Bill Hunter, Sarah Chadwick, Mark Holmes, Julia Cortez
'A cheerfully vulgar and bitchy, but essentially warmhearted, road movie with a difference.' – David Stratton, Variety
'A slick, shrewdly ingratiating entertainment that jumps from highlight to highlight and lives on sparkle.' – David Denby, New York † Al Clark's book The Lavender Bus (1999) tells the story of the production of the film.
costume design (Lizzy Gardiner, Tim Chappell)

The Adventures of Quentin Durward: see Quentin Durward

'Only the rainbow can duplicate its brilliance!'

The Adventures of Robin Hood ★★★★

US 1938 102m Technicolor
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)
Rebel outlaw Robin Hood outwits Guy of Gisbourne and the Sheriff of Nottingham, and saves the throne for the absent King Richard.
A splendid adventure story, rousingly operatic in treatment, with dashing action highlights, fine comedy balance, and incisive acting all round. Historically notable for its use of early three-colour Technicolor; also for convincingly recreating Britain in California.
w Seton I. Miller, Norman Reilly Raine d William Keighley, Michael Curtiz ph Tony Gaudio, Sol Polito, W. Howard Greene m Erich Wolfgang Korngold ad Carl Jules Weyl ed Ralph Dawson
☆ Errol Flynn (Sir Robin of Locksley), Basil Rathbone (Sir Guy of Gisbourne), Claude Rains (Prince John), Olivia de Havilland (Maid Marian), Alan Hale (Little John), Patric Knowles (Will Scarlet), Eugene Pallette (Friar Tuck), Ian Hunter (King Richard), Melville Cooper (Sheriff of Nottingham), Una O'Connor (Bess), Herbert Mundin (Much the Miller's Son), Montagu Love (Bishop of Black Canons), Howard Hill (Captain of Archers)
PRINCE JOHN: 'Any objections to the new tax, from our Saxon friends?'
ROBIN TO GISBOURNE DURING DUEL: 'Did I upset your plans?'
GISBOURNE: 'You've come to Nottingham once too often!'
ROBIN: 'When this is over, my friend, there'll be no need for me to come again!'
PRINCE JOHN: 'Ho, varlets, bring Sir Robin food! Such insolence must support a healthy appetite!'
ROBIN: 'It's injustice I hate, not the Normans!'
'Magnificent, unsurpassable … the film is lavish, brilliantly photographed, and has a great Korngold score.' – NFT, 1974
'Mostly the picture is full of movement, some of it dashing in fine romantic costume style, some of it just sprightly. The excitement comes from fast action – galloping steeds, men swinging Tarzan-like from the trees, hurling tables and chairs, rapid running swordplay, the sudden whiz of Robin's arrows coming from nowhere to startle his enemies – more than from any fear that Robin might be worsted. Somehow the whole thing has the air of being a costume party, a jolly and rather athletic one, with a lot of well-bred Englishmen playing at being in the greenwood.' – James Shelley Hamilton, National Board of Review
† At the time of its release this was Warner's most expensive film, costing more than $2m. Chico, California, stood in for Sherwood Forest; the archery contest was shot at Busch Gardens, Pasadena. Curtiz took over direction when it was felt that the action lacked impact.
†† James Cagney nearly played the title role, being dropped following a dispute over money.
††† A two-disc Region 1 and 2 DVD release includes documentaries, a cartoon Katnip Kollege, and commentary by film historian Rudy Behlmer.
Erich Wolfgang Korngold; Carl Jules Weyl; Ralph Dawson
picture

The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe ★★★

Mexico 1953 89m Pathécolor
Tepeyac (Oscar Dancigers, Henry F. Ehrlich)
A 17th-century mariner is shipwrecked on an uninhabited tropical island.
Fascinating version of a famous story, with only one character on screen until the belated arrival of Friday and the escape to civilization. Subtle and compelling, with only the colour unsatisfactory.
w Luis Buñuel, Phillip Ansell Roll (Hugo Butler) novel Daniel Defoe d Luis Buñuel ph Alex Phillips m Anthony Collins
☆ Dan O'Herlihy (Robinson Crusoe), Jaime Fernandez (Friday)
'A film of which the purity, the tense poetic style, evokes a kind of wonder.' – Gavin Lambert
'Free of that deadly solicitude which usually kills off classics.' – New Yorker, 1977
† Hugo Butler used the pseudonym of Roll because he was blacklisted at the time.
†† The Region 1 DVD release includes an audio interview with O'Herlihy.
Dan O'Herlihy

The Adventures of Rocky and Bullwinkle

US 2000 DeLuxe
Universal/Capella/KC Medien/Tribeca (Jane Rosenthal, Robert De Niro)
Rocky and Bullwinkle are brought out of retirement to prevent their old adversary Fearless Leader from taking over the world.
A feeble comedy, mixing live action and animation, that never catches the anarchic spirit of the original TV series.
w Kenneth Lonergan characters developed by Jay Ward d Des McAnuff ph Thomas Ackerman m Mark Mothersbaugh pd Gavin Bocquet ed Dennis Virkler cos Marlene Stewart
☆ Rene Russo (Natasha), Jason Alexander (Boris), Piper Perabo (Karen Sympathy), Randy Quaid (Cappy Von Trapment), Robert De Niro (Fearless Leader), June Foray (Voice of Rocky), Keith Scott (Voice of Bullwinkle/ Narrator), Janeane Garofalo (Minnie Mogul), Carl Reiner (P. G. Biggershot), Jonathan Winters (Whoppa Chopper Pilot/Ohio Cop/Jeb), John Goodman (Oklahoma Cop), Kenan Thompson (Lewis), Kel Mitchell (Martin), James Rebhorn (President Signoff), David Alan Grier (Measures)
'Scarcely seems worth the expenditure of time, money and talent.' – Joe Leydon. Variety

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

The Adventures of Sadie: see Our Girl Friday

The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes ★★

US 1939 83m bw
TCF (Gene Markey)

GB title: Sherlock Holmes

Moriarty sends Holmes on a false trail while he plots to steal the Crown jewels.
An engaging piece of pseudo-Victoriana: all elements smooth save an unconvincing plot.
w Edwin Blum, William Drake d Alfred Werker ph Leon Shamroy m Cyril Mockridge
☆ Basil Rathbone (Holmes), Nigel Bruce (Dr Watson), George Zucco (Moriarty), Ida Lupino (Ann Brandon), Alan Marshal (Jerrold Hunter), Terry Kilburn (Billy), E. E. Clive (Inspector Bristol), Henry Stephenson (Sir Ronald Ramsgate), Mary Gordon (Mrs Hudson)

'The "elementary my dear Watson" type of dialogue is soft-pedalled for more modern phrases or understandable patter.' – Variety
'Told with more movie art per foot than seven reels of anything the intellectual men have been finding good this whole year or more.' – Otis Ferguson

† This was the second and last of Rathbone's costume outings as Holmes, and the one in which he sang a comic song in disguise.

The Adventures of Tartu ★

GB 1943 103m bw
MGM (Irving Asher)

US title: Tartu

During World War II, a British spy goes to Czechoslovakia to dismantle a poison gas factory.
Halting and artificial comedy-thriller, saved only by a graceful star performance.
w Howard Emmett Rogers, John Lee Mahin, Miles Malleson d Harold S. Bucquet ph John J. Cox m Hubert Bath md Louis Levy
☆ Robert Donat, Valerie Hobson, Walter Rilla, Glynis Johns, Martin Miller

'You are seeing all it has, and bald spots as well, first time around, whereas with a good Hitchcock or even a good Carol Reed, the pleasures visible at a first seeing stand up, or intensify, at a third or a fifth.' – James Agee

Adventures of the Wilderness Family

US 1975 101m colour
Pacific International

An urban family runs into trouble when it takes to the wilds.
Naïve little four-wall family movie in which the pretty scenery (Utah and the Canadian Rockies) and the animals compensate for the dramatic inadequacies.
wd Stewart Raffill
☆ Robert Logan, Susan Damante Shaw
† Further Adventures of the Wilderness Family appeared in 1977.

The Adventures of Tom Sawyer ★★

US 1938 91m Technicolor
David O. Selznick (William H. Wright)

Small-town Mississippi boy tracks down a murderer, Injun Joe.
Set-bound but excellent version of the children's classic by Mark Twain.
w John Weaver d Norman Taurog ph James Wong Howe, Wilfrid Cline m Max Steiner ad Lyle Wheeler
☆ Tommy Kelly (Tom), May Robson (Aunt Polly), Walter Brennan (Muff Potter), Victor Jory (Injun Joe), Victor Kilian (Sheriff), Jackie Moran (Huckleberry Finn), Ann Gillis (Becky Thatcher), Donald Meek (Sunday School Superintendent), Margaret Hamilton (Mrs Sawyer), Marcia Mae Jones (Mary Sawyer)

'The familiar characters emerge in all their old amiability, the atmosphere is there and so is the excitement.' – MFB
'Should make Mark Twain circulate in his grave like a trout in a creel.' – Otis Ferguson
'Another Selznick International box office clean-up ... that there exists a broad audience for films whose essential appeal is to the family trade has always been true. Snow White touched a source of almost unlimited audience draw: Tom Sawyer follows to the same customers.' – Variety

Lyle Wheeler

Adventures of Zatoichi: see Zatoichi's Adventures

The Adventuress: see I See a Dark Stranger

Advice to the Lovelorn ★

US 1933 62m bw
TCF/Darryl F. Zanuck

A reporter is demoted to the lonelyhearts column and becomes absorbed in it.
Springy vehicle for Lee Tracy.
w Leonard Praskins novel Miss Lonelyhearts by Nathanael West d Alfred Werker
☆ Lee Tracy, Sally Blane, Sterling Holloway, Isabel Jewell, Jean Adair
† Compare the Paul Muni vehicle Hi Nellie. It was remade in 1958 as Lonelyhearts (qv).

'Are the men and women of Washington really like this?'

Advise and Consent ★★

US 1962 139m bw Panavision
Columbia/Alpha-Alpina/Otto Preminger

The President's choice of an unpopular secretary of state leads to divisions in the Senate and the blackmail and suicide of a senator.
Absorbing political melodrama from a novel which aimed to lift the lid off Washington. Many character actors make their mark, but the harsh-contrast photography seems misjudged.
w Wendell Mayes novel Allen Drury d Otto Preminger ph Sam Leavitt m Jerry Fielding titles Saul Bass
☆ Don Murray, Charles Laughton, Henry Fonda, Walter Pidgeon, Lew Ayres, Edward Andrews, Burgess Meredith, Gene Tierney, Franchot Tone, George Grizzard, Paul Ford, Peter Lawford, Inga Swenson, Will Geer

'The result is supremely ambivalent, a battle between fascinatingly real props and procedures and melodramatically unreal characters and situations.' – Peter John Dyer
'The parade of people helps to take one's mind off the overwrought melodrama.' – New Yorker, 1980

Ae Fond Kiss ★★

GB/taly/Germany/Spain 2004 104m colour
Sixteen/Bianca/EMC/Tornasol (Rebecca O'Brien)

In Glasgow, an Irish Catholic teacher begins an affair with a DJ, the son of a Pakistani shopkeeper.
Set in a city of tensions between Catholics and Protestants, this examines through a tender love-story other racial prejudices and bigotry with sympathy and understanding.
w Paul Laverty d Ken Loach ph Barry Ackroyd m George Fenton pd Martin Johnson ed Jonathan Morris ☆ Atta Yaqub (Casim Khan), Eva Birthistle (Roisin Hanlon), Ahmad Riaz (Tariq Khan), Shabana Bakhsh (Tahara Khan), Shamshad Akhtar (Sadia Khan), Ghizala Avan (Rukhsana Khan), Pasha Bocarie (Amar), Gerard Kelly (Parish Priest)

'Attractive and big-hearted tribute to the heroism and loneliness of love.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Aelita ★

USSR 1924 70m approx bw silent
Mezhrabpom

Two Russian rocket pioneers land on Mars and start a revolution against the planet's queen.
Notable early space fiction, with footage of twenties Moscow as well as interesting set designs.
w Fedor Ozep, Alexei Faiko novel Alexei Tolstoy d Yakov Protazanov ph Yuri Zhelabuzhsky pd Sergei Kozlovsky ☆ Yulia Solntseva, Nikolai Batalov, Igor Ilinsky

'The future is flux.'

Aeon Flux ②

US 2005 95m DeLuxe
Paramount (Gale Anne Hurd, David Gale, Gary Lucchesi, Greg Goodman, Martha Griffin)

In 2415, in the only remaining city on Earth, a rebel agent is given orders to kill the dictator, whose family has ruled for 400 years.
Dismal, incoherent science-fiction of a familiar apocalyptic kind.
w Phil Hay, Matt Manfredi d Karyn Kusama ph Stuart Dryburgh m Graeme Revell pd Andrew McAlpine ed Peter Honess, Plummy Tucker, Jeff Gullo ☆ Charlize Theron (Aeon Flux), Marton Csokas (Trevor Goodchild), Jonny Lee Miller (Oren Goodchild), Sophie Okonedo (Sithandra), Pete Postlethwaite (The Keeper), Amelia Warner (Una Flux), Frances McDormand (The Handler), Caroline Chikezie (Freya)

'Trashy and derivative glum zone of fashion-runway fascism.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly
'Simultaneously silly, ostentatious and terribly boring.' – Michael Rechtshaffen, Hollywood Reporter

Aerial Gunner

US 1943 78m bw
Paramount (William H. Pine, William G. Thomas)

A US air force pilot in hospital thinks back to his training and his young brother's problems.
A watered-down Wings (with process footage to match) which also starred Arlen.
w Maxwell Shane d William H. Pine ☆ Richard Arlen, Chester Morris, Jimmy Lydon, Lita Ward, Dick Purcell

Aerograd

USSR 1935 81m bw
Mosfilm/Ukrainfilm

aka: Frontier

Guards keep Japanese spies out of Siberia, where an airport is being built.
An action film with style and pretensions.
wd Alexander Dovzhenko ph Edouard Tissé, Mikhail Gindin m Dmitri Kabalevsky ☆ Semyon Shagaida, Stepan Shkurat, Sergei Stolyarov

Affair at the Villa Fiorita: see The Battle of the Villa Fiorita

Affair in Monte Carlo: see Twenty-Four Hours of a Woman's Life

Affair in Trinidad ★

US 1952 98m bw
Columbia/Beckworth (Vincent Sherman)

A nightclub singer whose husband is killed by gangsters works undercover for the police and routs the gang with the help of her husband's brother.
A tired tropical melodrama intended to follow up the success of Gilda, but without the verve. Some routine pleasures, though.
w Oscar Saul, James Gunn d Vincent Sherman ph Joseph Walker m Morris Stoloff, George Duning
☆ Rita Hayworth, Glenn Ford, Alexander Scourby, Torin Thatcher, Valerie Bettis, Steve Geray, Karel Stepanek, George Voskovec

'Improbable, foolish, but glossy.' – Penelope Houston

'Deception Was The Only Option.'

The Affair of the Necklace

US 2001 120m Technicolor Super 35
Warner/Alcon (Andrew A. Kosove, Broderick Johnson, Charles Shyer, Redmond Morris)

In the early 1780s, an aristocratic woman intrigues at the French court to steal a valuable necklace in order to regain the confiscated family estates.
Vapid and confusing period drama, based on actual events that contributed to the French Revolution, though it's impossible from this account to understand why.
w John Sweet d Charles Shyer ph Ashley Rowe m David Newman pd Alex McDowell ed David Moritz cos Milena Canonero
☆ Hilary Swank (Jeanne St Remy de Valois), Jonathan Pryce (Cardinal Louis de Rohan), Simon Baker (Retaux de Vilette), Adrien Brody (Nicolas De La Motte), Brian Cox (Minister Breteuil), Joely Richardson (Marie Antoinette), Christopher Walken (Cagliostro), Paul Brooke (Monsieur Bohmer), Peter Eyre (Monsieur Bassenge)

'A pageant of historical silliness.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'An endless illustrated Harlequin paperback of mawkish backstory and corset-popping purple prose.' – Jessica Winter, Village Voice

Milena Canonero

An Affair to Remember ★★

US 1957 114m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Jerry Wald)

An ex-nightclub singer falls in love with a wealthy bachelor on a transatlantic liner, but an accident prevents her from attending their subsequent rendezvous.

Remake of Love Affair, a surprisingly successful mixture of smart lines, sentiment and tears, all applied with style and assurance.
w Delmer Daves, Leo McCarey d Leo McCarey ph Milton Krasner m Hugo Friedhofer ☆ Cary Grant, Deborah Kerr, Cathleen Nesbitt, Richard Denning, Neva Patterson
'A lush slice of Hollywood romanticism.' – MFB
'90 masterly minutes of entrancing light comedy and 25 beastly minutes of beastly, melodramatic, pseudo-tragic guff.' – Paul Dehn
† Donald Ogden Stewart, one of the writers of the original Love Affair, was excluded from the credits of this remake because he was blacklisted.
Milton Krasner; Hugo Friedhofer; title song (m Harry Warren, ly Harold Adamson, Leo McCarey)

Affair with a Stranger ★

US 1953 87m bw
RKO (Robert Sparks)
Five friends reminisce about a marriage which seems about to break up.
This would-be-smart comedy has a good idea unsatisfactorily worked out, and could have used a more sparkling cast.
w Richard Flournoy d Roy Rowland ph Harry J. Wild m Roy Webb
☆ Jean Simmons, Victor Mature, Mary Jo Tarola, Monica Lewis, Jane Darwell, Nicholas Joy, Wally Vernon, Dabbs Greer

L'Affaire est dans le Sac ★

France 1932 47m bw
Pathé/Nathan aka: It's in the Bag
Two would-be kidnappers end up (a) married to and (b) employed by their intended victims.
Semi-professional nonsense comedy with political jokes.
w Jacques Prévert d Pierre Prévert ph A. Giboury, Eli Lotar m Maurice Jaubert
☆ J.-P. Le Chanois, Jacques Brunius, Etienne Decroux, Lucien Raimbourg, Julien Carette, Lora Hays

Affairs of a Rogue: see The First Gentleman

The Affairs of Anatol ★

US 1921 95m approx (24 fps) bw silent
Famous Players-Lasky/de Mille-Paramount
A socialite interrupts his honeymoon to go looking for romance.
Dated but historically very interesting sophisticated farce from a time when Hollywood was aping Viennese naughtiness.
w Jeanie MacPherson, Beulah Marie Dix, Lorna Moon, Elmer Harris from Granville Barker's paraphrase of the play Anatol by Arthur Schnitzler d Cecil B. de Mille ph Alvin Wyckoff, Karl Struss ed Anne Bauchens
☆ Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels, Elliott Dexter, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts
'Should be enormously popular, especially with those who think Schnitzler is a cheese.' – Robert E. Sherwood
'The man who doesn't sell out for every performance of a double run should turn his show shop into a Quaker meeting house.' – Motion Picture Herald

The Affairs of Annabel ★

US 1938 69m bw
RKO (Lee Marcus, Lou Lusty)
A crackpot Hollywood press agent sends his star to jail as a publicity stunt.
An amusing frenetic comedy of its time, successful enough to warrant a sequel, Annabel Takes a Tour, in the same year.
w Bert Granet, Paul Yawitz d Ben Stoloff ph Russell Metty m Roy Webb ☆ Lucille Ball, Jack Oakie, Ruth Donnelly, Bradley Page, Fritz Feld, Thurston Hall, Elisabeth Risdon, Granville Bates, James Burke

The Affairs of Cellini ★

US 1934 90m bw
Twentieth Century (Darryl F. Zanuck)
The complex amours of a 16th-century Florentine rake.
Lively period bedroom farce somewhat hampered by censorship.
w Bess Meredyth play The Firebrand by Edwin Justus Mayer d Gregory La Cava ph Charles Rosher m Alfred Newman ad Richard Day ☆ Fredric March, Constance Bennett, Frank Morgan, Fay Wray, Vince Barnett, Louis Calhern, Jessie Ralph
'Gay and entertaining though whipped up synthetically like circus ice cream.' – Variety
Charles Rosher; Frank Morgan; Richard Day

The Affairs of Dobie Gillis

US 1953 74m bw
MGM (Arthur M. Loew Jnr)
Adventures of an indolent and accident-prone university student.
Scatty comedy with good talent and musical numbers encased in a tatty production.
w Max Shulman d Don Weis ph William Mellor md Jeff Alexander ☆ Bobby Van, Debbie Reynolds, Hans Conried, Barbara Ruick, Bob Fosse

Affairs of Sally: see The Fuller Brush Girl

'She's so romantic she drives four men frantic!'

The Affairs of Susan ★★

US 1945 110m bw
Paramount (Hal B. Wallis)
Four men in Susan's life see her differently.
Occasionally witty comedy designed as a champagne vehicle for its star. It seemed quite good at the time.
w Richard Flournoy story Laszlo Gorog, T. Monroe d William A. Seiter ph David Abel m Frederick Hollander
☆ Joan Fontaine, George Brent, Walter Abel, Don Defore, Dennis O'Keefe
'The cast enters into the irresponsibilities with gusto.' – MFB
'A bright thing, a bit too long.' – Richard Mallett, Punch
Laszlo Gorog, T. Monroe

Affliction ★★

US 1997 113m DeLuxe
Largo (Linda Reisman)
In a small snowbound town, the local sheriff finally breaks under life's many humiliations.
A stolid drama of a cycle of childhood abuse spanning the generations; the excellent performances seem somehow stranded by the austere directorial approach.
wd Paul Schrader novel Russell Banks ph Paul Sarossy m Michael Brook pd Anne Pritchard ed Jay Rabinowitz
☆ Nick Nolte, Sissy Spacek, James Coburn, Willem Dafoe, Mary Beth Hurt, Jim True, Marian Seldes, Homes Osborne, Brigid Tierney, Sean McCann, Wayne Robson
'This is a powerhouse picture which comes to grips with some horrific home truths.' – Kim Newman, Empire
James Coburn
Nick Nolte

Afraid of the Dark ★

GB/France 1992 91m colour
Rank/Sovereign/Telescope/Les Films Ariane/Cine Cinq (Simon Bosanquet)
A near-sighted 11-year-old boy with a blind mother worries about the identity of the slasher who is attacking blind women.
A thriller that turns out to be not what it seems, but the twist is ultimately an uninteresting one, though the film does work up a degree of terror.
wd Mark Peploe ph Bruno de Keyzer m Richard Hartley pd Caroline Ames ed Scott Thomas ☆ James Fox, Fanny Ardant, Paul McGann, Clare Holman, Ben Keyworth
'A rather stiff and self-conscious film, not without its pretensions, but also informed by considerable intelligence.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Africa Screams

US 1949 79m bw
UA (Edward Nassour)
Two dumbbells go on safari with a treasure map.
Lower-case comedy.
w Earl Baldwin d Charles Barton ph Charles Van Enger
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Hillary Brooke, Max Baer, Shemp Howard Africa Texas Style ★

GB 1967 109m Eastmancolor
Paramount/Vantors (Andrew Marton)
A Kenyan settler hires two Texas cowboys to help in his scheme of wild game ranching.
Excellent location sequences are dragged down by a very boring script, but it's a good family film nevertheless.
w Andy White d Andrew Marton ph Paul Beeson m Malcolm Arnold
☆ John Mills, Hugh O'Brian, Nigel Green, Tom Nardini, Adrienne Corri, Ronald Howard † Forerunner of TV series, Cowboy in Africa.

African Fury: see Cry the Beloved Country

'They never dreamed of being in each other's arms, yet the mystic spell of the jungle swept them to primitive, hungry embrace! The greatest adventure a man ever had ... with a woman!'

The African Queen ★★★

GB 1951 103m Technicolor
IFD/Romulus-Horizon (Sam Spiegel)
In 1915, a gin-drinking river trader and a prim missionary make odd companions for a boat trip down a dangerous river, culminating in an attack on a German gunboat.
Despite some unfortunate studio sets mixed in with real African footage achieved through great hardship by all concerned, this is one of those surprising films that really work, a splendidly successful mixture of comedy, character and adventure.
w James Agee novel C. S. Forester d John Huston ph Jack Cardiff m Allan Gray ed Ralph Kemplen
☆ Humphrey Bogart (Charlie Allnutt), Katharine Hepburn (Rose Sayer), Robert Morley (The Rev. Samuel Sayer), Peter Bull (Captain), Theodore Bikel (2nd Officer)
ROSE: 'I never dreamed that any experience could be so stimulating!'
'Entertaining but not entirely plausible or original.' – Robert Hatch
'The movie is not great art but it is great fun, essentially one long, exciting, old-fashioned movie chase.' – Time
'A Technicolor Cook's Tour of jungle wonders, enriched by performances unmatched by anything Hepburn or Bogart have yet contributed to the screen.' – Cue † Peter Viertel's book, White Hunter Black Heart, filmed by Clint Eastwood, is basically about Huston during the making of this film. In 1987 Katharine Hepburn wrote a book about her experiences, entitled The Making Of The African Queen, or How I went to Africa with Bogart, Bacall and Huston and almost lost my mind.
Humphrey Bogart
James Agee; John Huston; Katharine Hepburn

Afrodite Dea Dell'Amore: see Aphrodite, Goddess of Love

'Seduced Beyond The Limits Of Deception. Betrayed Beyond The Limits Of Desire.'

After Dark, My Sweet

US 1990 111m colour Super 35
Virgin/Avenue (Ric Kidney, Bob Redlin)
A disturbed young drifter becomes involved with an alcoholic widow and a former policeman in a plan to kidnap a child.
Wildly melodramatic thriller with dull performances.
w Bob Redlin novel Jim Thompson d James Foley ph Mark Plummer m Maurice Jarre ad Kenneth A. Hardy ed Howard Smith
☆ Jason Patric, Rachel Ward, Bruce Dern, George Dickerson, James Cotton

After Eight Hours: see Society Doctor

'When it's after midnight in New York City, you don't have to look for love, laughter and trouble. They'll all find you!'

After Hours ★★

US 1985 97m DuArt
Warner/Geffen/Double Play (Amy Robinson, Griffin Dunne, Robert F. Colesberry)
Through a chapter of accidents, a mild-mannered computer programmer has a bad time in the night streets of New York.
An unsettling kind of black comedy with moments of malaise: nobody denies its touches of brilliance, but few people want to see it again.
w Joseph Minion d Martin Scorsese ph Michael Ballhaus m Howard Shore pd Jeffrey Townsend ed Thelma Schoonmaker
☆ Griffin Dunne, Rosanna Arquette, Verna Bloom, Thomas Chong, Teri Garr, Cheech Marin, Linda Fiorentino, John Heard
'The cinema of paranoia and persecution reaches an apogee ... would have been pretty funny if it didn't play like a confirmation of everyone's worst fears about contemporary urban life.' – Variety
'A film so original, so particular, that one is uncertain from moment to moment exactly how to respond to it. Interesting.' – Roger Ebert

After Life: see Trilogy

'What Is The One Memory You Would Take With You?'

After Life ★★★★

Japan 1998 118m colour
ICA/TV Man Union/Engine (Shiho Sato, Masayuki Akieda)

aka: Wonderful Life
original title: Wandafuru Raifu

After they die, people are processed by bureaucrats who allow them to take one memory of their life, in the form of a film re-creation, into eternity.

Simple, straightforward drama, mixing actual memories with imagined ones, that manages to touch deep emotions; it is both witty and moving in its depiction of the newly dead and the stranded officials who attempt to deal both with their lives and those fleeting moments that gave them meaning.

wd Hirokazu Kore-Eda ph Yamazaki Hiroshi m Yasuhiro Kasamatsu ad Toshihiro Isomi, Hideo Gunji ed Hirokazu Kore-Eda

☆ Arata (Takashi Mochizuki), Erika Oda (Shiori Satonaka), Susumu Terajima (Satoru Kawashima), Tsuyoshi Naito (Ichiro Watanabe), Kyoko Kagawa (Kyōko Watanabe), Kei Tani (Ken-nosuke Nakamura), Takashi Naito (Takuro Sugie), Sadao Abe (Ichiro Watanabe, as student)

'A profound meditation on life's meaning and value and the relationship of movies, memories and dreams.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

After Midnight: see Captain Carey USA (1950)

After Midnight

US 1989 90m colour
MGM/High Bar (Richard Arlook, Peter Greene, Ken and Jim Wheat)

A lecturer on the psychology of fear invites his students to scare each other by telling frightening stories.

Portmanteau horror that relies on violent shocks for its effect.

wd Ken and Jim Wheat ph Phedon Papamichael m Marc Donahue pd Paul Chadwick ed Phillip Linson, Quinnie Martin Jnr

☆ Judie Aronson, Marg Helgenberger, Marc McClure, Ed Monaghan, Alan Rosenberg, Monique Salcido, Tracy Wells, Jillian McWhirter

After Midnight

Ireland 1990 100m colour
Lazer/Channel 4/Dublin Cinema Group (Maxine Julius)

An alcoholic nightwatchman in a Dublin hotel redeems himself with the help of a new assistant.

Despite the valiant efforts of Jaffrey, a broad farce that fails to amuse and sticks instead to clichéd characters and situations.

wd Shanis Grewal ph Jack Conroy m Mickey Gallagher pd Brien Vahey ed Carl Thomson

☆ Saeed Jaffrey, Hayley Mills, Ian Dury, Dhirendra, Vladek Sheybal

After Midnight

Italy 2003 92m Cinecittà
Yume/Rossofuoco/FCTP/Lumiq (Davide Ferrario)

original title: Dopo Mezzanotte

A waitress, who is in love with a car thief, hides from the police in Turin's cinema museum, where she is wooed by its film buff custodian.

Flimsy romance in which the most interesting moments are clips from Buster Keaton's movies.

wd Davide Ferrario ph Dante Cecchin m Banda Ionica, Daniele Sepe, Fabio Barovero pd Francesca Bocca ed Claudio Cormio

☆ Giorgio Pasotti (Martino), Francesca Inaudi (Amanda), Fabio Troiano (Angel), Francesca Picozza (Barbara)

'Schmaltz, sentimentality and supercilious movie-buffery are laid on thick in this disappointing film.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

After Office Hours ★

US 1935 75m bw
MGM (Bernard H. Hyman)

A newspaperman and his socialite reporter solve a murder mystery.

Crisply-written, fast-moving comedy melodrama; good stuff of its time and type.

w Herman J. Mankiewicz d Robert Z. Leonard ph Charles Rosher

☆ Clark Gable, Constance Bennett, Stuart Erwin, Billie Burke, Harvey Stephens, Katherine Alexander, Henry Travers, Henry Armetta

'One of the best balanced pix of the season; it has practically everything.' – Film Daily

'Mildly satisfactory entertainment ... story deficiencies are surprising ... Gable and Bennett will have to carry this one.' – Variety

After the Ball ★

GB 1957 89m Eastmancolor
IFD/Beaconsfield (Peter Rogers)

The life and loves of music-hall singer Vesta Tilley, who married into the nobility.

Adequate if uninspired biopic with entertaining detail and songs.

w Hubert Gregg d Compton Bennett ph Jack Asher md Muir Mathieson ad Norman Arnold

☆ Pat Kirkwood, Laurence Harvey, Clive Morton, Jerry Verno, June Clyde

After the Fox ★

US/Italy 1966 103m Technicolor Panavision
UA/Nancy/CCM (John Bryan)

The Fox escapes from jail to execute a gold bullion caper and save his young sister from the streets.

Unlikeable and unfunny farce which sets its star among excitable Italians and hopes for the best, adding a few wild stabs at satire on movie-making styles. Mature agreeably sends up his old image.

w Neil Simon, Cesare Zavattini d Vittorio de Sica ph Leonida Barboni m Burt Bacharach

☆ Peter Sellers, Victor Mature, Britt Ekland, Lidia Brazzi, Paolo Stoppa, Akim Tamiroff, Martin Balsam

'Never even begins to get off the ground.' – MFB

After the Rehearsal ★★

Sweden 1984 72m colour
Svenskfilmindustri/SV2

After a rehearsal for Strindberg's Dream Play, the director sits and remembers the circumstances surrounding an earlier production.

Typical but satisfyingly unpretentious Bergman piece of the second rank.

wd Ingmar Bergman

☆ Erland Josephson, Ingrid Thulin, Lena Olin

'What we are left with is the very strong sense of an artist who has sacrificed many lives for the sake of his art, and now wonders if perhaps one of those lives was his own.' – Roger Ebert

'Who will walk away?'

After the Sunset

US 2004 97m DeLuxe 'Scope
Entertainment/Firm Films/Contrafilm/Rat (Tripp Vinson, Jay Stern, Beau Flynn)

A gentleman jewel thief who has retired to the Bahamas is harassed by an FBI agent.

The type of crime caper that Brosnan did rather better in his remake of The Thomas Crown Affair*; the pace here is geriatric.*

w Paul Zbyszewski, Craig Rosenberg d Brett Ratner ph Dante Spinotti m Lalo Schifrin pd Geoffrey Kirkland ed Mark Helfrich

☆ Pierce Brosnan (Max Burdett), Salma Hayek (Lola Cirillo), Woody Harrelson (Stan Lloyd), Don Cheadle (Henri Moore), Naomie Harris (Sophie), Chris Penn (Rowdy Fan), Mykelti Williamson (Agent Stafford)

'Snore-inducingly stodgy crime caper.' – Mark Kermode

After the Thin Man ★★

US 1936 113m bw
MGM (Hunt Stromberg)

Nick and Nora Charles, not forgetting Asta, solve another murder.

Overlong but well-carpentered sequel to The Thin Man*, developing the thesis that a married couple, even if they are detectives and drink too much, can be interesting and lovable.*

w Frances Goodrich, Albert Hackett d W. S. Van Dyke II ph Oliver T. Marsh m Herbert Stothart, Edward Ward

☆ William Powell, Myrna Loy, James Stewart, Elissa Landi, Joseph Calleia, Jessie Ralph, Alan Marshal, Sam Levene

'It is evident that it was almost impossible to make a better mystery comedy than The Thin Man. Early speed would have helped, but ... few films this season have contained more risibles.' – Variety

Frances Goodrich; Albert Hackett

'Champagne is poured....secrets are spilled.'

After The Wedding ★★

Denmark/UK/Sweden 2006 120m
Soda/Zentropa/Sigma (Sisse Graum Jørgensen)

Danish theatrical title: Efter brylluppet
Swedish theatrical title: Efter bröllopet

A Danish aid worker in India is invited to Copenhagen by a tycoon, who promises him a fortune for his cash-strapped orphanage. Invited to the tycoon's daughter's wedding, he realises that her mother is his ex-lover.

Intriguing film that unfolds faster than it should – too many life-changing incidents occur over the space of a weekend. This brings it awfully close to soap opera, but the quality of the acting and the story's themes redeem it.

w Susanne Bier, Anders Thomas Jensen d Susanne Bier ph Morten Søborg m Johan Soderqvist pd Søren Skjr ed Pernille Bech Christensen, Morten Hølbjerg

☆ Mads Mikkelsen (Jacob), Rolf Lassgård (Jorgen), Sidse Babett Knudsen (Hélène)

'A thrilling – and harrowing, and beautiful – celebration of the unpredictability of life.' – Joe Morgenstern, Wall Street Journal

foreign-language film

After Tomorrow

US 1932 70m bw
Fox

Family troubles and small salaries prevent a young couple from getting married.

Rather curious drama which was sold on the fact that it retained the sex discussion from its stage original.

w Sonya Levien play John Golden, Hugh Stange d Frank Borzage

☆ Charles Farrell, Marian Nixon, Minna Gombell, Josephine Hull, William Collier Snr, William Pawley

'In several sequences it pioneers for the picture business. That financial success is doubtful is rather unfortunate.' – Variety

After Tonight

US 1933 71m bw
RKO

GB title: Sealed Lips

During World War I a Russian lady spy falls for an Austrian officer.

Tediously talky romantic vehicle which barely gets started before it bogs down.

w Jane Murfin d George Archainbaud

☆ Constance Bennett, Gilbert Roland, Edward Ellis, Mischa Auer

After We're Gone

France 2004 83m colour
D.O. Films/Yo Yo (Damien Odoul)

original title: En Attendant Le Deluge
aka: Le Deluge

A dying man invites to his crumbling chateau a group of squabbling, self-obsessed actors to stage a play about Dionysus.

Pretentious, unilluminating absurdist drama on the meaning of life which is like watching the death-throes of arthouse cinema.

wd Damien Odoul ph Patrick Ghiringhelli m Jean Holtzmann pd Damien Odoul ed Gwénola Héaulme

☆ Pierre Richard (Jean-Rene), Anna Mouglalis (Milena), Damien Odoul (Yves), Eugene Durif (The director), Ingrid Astier (Ingrid), Antoine Lacomblez (Antoine), Valerie Bert (Lola), Stephane Terperaud (Pipo)

'Plays like stoned avant garde student theater. Ugly visuals also will help ensure this mystifying project's swift burial.' – David Rooney, Variety

Afterglow ★

US 1997 113m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Moonstone/Sandcastle 5/Elysian Dreams (Robert Altman)

A middle-aged handyman, who is married to a washed-up 'B'-movie actress, begins an affair with a wealthy young woman; in retaliation, his wife spends a weekend with the woman's husband.

Glossy romantic drama that takes a great deal of time to say very little about relationships; the performances don't help.

wd Alan Rudolph ph Toyomichi Kurita m Mark Isham pd François Séguin ed Suzy Elmiger

☆ Julie Christie, Nick Nolte, Lara Flynn Boyle, Jonny Lee Miller

'Serious and comic, frivolous and substantial, giddy and lyrical all at once.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

Julie Christie

AfterLife ★

GB 2003 104m colour
Gabriel Films/STV/Grampian/Scottish Screen (Catherine Aitken)

An investigative journalist returns home to take care of his sister, who has Down's

Syndrome, when he discovers his mother is dying of cancer.
Manipulative and implausible drama, marked by a performance of great charm from the non-professional Paula Sage as the sister.
w Andrea Gibb d Alison Peebles ph Grant Scott Cameron m Paddy Cunneen pd Jacqueline Smith ed Colin Monie ☆ Lindsay Duncan, Kevin McKidd, Shirley Henderson, Paula Sage, James Laurenson, Fiona Bell, Julie Austin, Isla Blair
'Sturdy and unsentimental feature that manages to be life-affirming while dealing with handicaps both emotional and physical and grappling with issues of quality of life and mortality..' – Ray Bennett, Hollywood Reporter

Agaguk: see Shadow of the Wolf

Against a Crooked Sky
US 1975 89m colour Todd-AO 35 Doty/Dayton
Two Westerners set out to find the sister of one of them, who has been kidnapped by Indians.
Very ordinary variation on The Searchers, which in itself was a bit tedious at times.
w Douglas G. Stewart, Eleanor Lamb d Earl Bellamy
☆ Richard Boone, Stewart Petersen, Geoffrey Land, Jewel Blanch, Henry Wilcoxon Against All Flags ★

US 1952 83m Technicolor U-I (Howard Christie)
A daring British seaman routs Spanish ships at the request of the king.
Standard pirate yarn, almost Flynn's last swashbuckler; production below par.
w Aeneas Mackenzie, Joseph Hoffman d George Sherman ph Russell Metty m Hans Salter ☆ Errol Flynn, Maureen O'Hara, Anthony Quinn, Mildred Natwick
† Remade as The King's Pirate (qv)
†† Though Flynn did most of his own stunts for this picture, he balked at the one involving sliding down through a sail on a rapier blade, which was originated by Douglas Fairbanks in The Black Pirate; it was performed by a stunt double.

Against All Odds
US 1984 121m Metrocolor Columbia/Delphi (Jerry Bick)
An unemployed football player is hired by a bookmaker to find his missing wife.
Complex and lugubrious remake of Out of the Past (qv), which long outstays its welcome.
w Eric Hughes d Taylor Hackford ph Donald Thorin, E. Pershing Flynn m Michel Colombier, Larry Carlton ad Richard James Lawrence
☆ Jeff Bridges, Rachel Ward, James Woods, Richard Widmark, Jane Greer (from the original cast), Alex Karras, Dorian Harewood, Swoosie Kurtz
'It has so many convoluted double crosses that each time you are told what was really going on behind the scene you just witnessed, you care less.' – Time Out
'A tedious concatenation of narrative twists.' – MFB
'The best thing to do is accept the plot, then disregard it, and pay attention to the scenes of passion.' – Roger Ebert
♫ title song (Phil Collins)

'She gave the boxing world the one-two punch they never saw coming.'

Against the Ropes
Germany/US 2003 111m DeLuxe Paramount/W2/Vertriebs/MMP (Robert W. Cort, David Madden)
In America, a woman becomes, for a time, a successful boxing manager.
'Inspired' by a true story, this nevertheless seems closer to Rocky than any reality.
w Cheryl Edwards d Charles S. Dutton ph Jack Green m Michael Kamen pd Sandra Kybartas ed Eric L. Beason
☆ Meg Ryan (Jackie Kallen), Omar Epps (Luther Shaw), Tony Shalhoub (Sam LaRocca), Tim Daly (Gavin Reese), Charles S. Dutton (Felix Reynolds), Kerry Washington (Renee), Joe Cortese (Irving Abel)
'What could have been a gripping tale becomes hammy and overdone.' – Empire

Against the Wind ★
GB 1947 96m bw Ealing (Sidney Cole)
In London during World War II, men and women are trained as saboteurs, and one of them is a traitor.
Thoughtful, well-made spy thriller with good performances; but a bit dour.
w T. E. B. Clarke, Michael Pertwee d Charles Crichton ph Lionel Banes m Leslie Bridgewater ad J. Elder-Wills ed Alan Osbiston
☆ Simone Signoret, Robert Beatty, Jack Warner, Gordon Jackson, Paul Dupuis, Gisele Preville, John Slater, Peter Illing, James Robertson Justice

Agantuk ★★
India/France 1991 120m colour Artificial Eye/National Film Development Corporation of India/Erato/DD/Soprofilms/Canal (Satyajit Ray)
aka: The Stranger
A Calcutta family suspect that a long-lost uncle who comes to stay may be an impostor.
A charming and humorous examination of cultural differences and ingrained prejudices.
wd Satyajit Ray ph Barun Raha m Satyajit Ray ed Dulal Dutt ☆ Dipankar De, Mamata Shankar, Bikram Bhattacharya, Utpal Dutt, Dhritiman Chatterjee, Rabi Ghosh, Subrata Chatterjee
'A wise, witty and benevolent work, a worthy sign-off from a great film-maker.' – Philip Kemp, Sight and Sound
'Mitra, in Utpal Dutt's performance, combines, as Ray himself did, a powerful intellect and an unsentimental insight into human behaviour with a generosity of spirit and genuine humility.' – Philip French, Observer
† It was Ray's last film.

Agatha ★
GB 1979 105m Technicolor Warner/First Artists/Sweetwall/Casablanca (Jarvis Astaire, Gavrik Losey)
In 1926, Agatha Christie disappears after marital difficulties and tries to commit suicide in a Harrogate hotel under a pseudonym.
Lushly recreated but still imaginary and unconvincing solution to a real-life disappearance, complete with romantic encounter with an American newspaperman.
w Kathleen Tynan, Arthur Hopcraft d Michael Apted ph Vittorio Storaro m Johnny Mandel pd Shirley Russell
☆ Vanessa Redgrave, Dustin Hoffman, Timothy Dalton, Helen Morse, Timothy West, Tony Britton, Alan Badel
'With its shadowy characters, paucity of plot, and an abundance of stylistic red herrings, one doubts whether Agatha would have met Mrs Christie's own requirements for a thriller, though she may well have enjoyed its sumptuous recreation of hotel interiors in the 1920s.' – Geoff Brown, MFB
'It has a general air of knowingness, but seems to be missing the scenes which would explain why it was made.' – New Yorker

L'Age d'Or ★★
France 1930 63m bw Vicomte de Noailles
A collection of strange events satirizing religion and the social order.
Deliberately shocking and possibly quite meaningless, this truly surrealist film is chiefly interesting now for its flashforwards to Buñuel's later work.
w Luis Buñuel, Salvador Dali d Luis Buñuel ph Albert Dubergen m Georges van Parys ed Luis Buñuel
☆ Gaston Modot, Lya Lys, Max Ernst, Pierre Prévert, Jacques Brunius
'In some way the juxtaposition of images causes in almost every spectator a train of reactions of unprecedented violence.' – Basil Wright, 1972
'The story is also a sequence of moral and surrealist aesthetic. The sexual instinct and the sense of death form its substance.' – Luis Buñuel
'It retains its outrageous anarchic vitality, as though unwilling to admit its age.' – Observer 1980

The Age for Love
US 1931 81m bw UA/Howard Hughes
A wife does not want children; her husband leaves her and marries a woman who does.
Shapeless and would-be shocking, this forgotten film was written off as soon as it was made.
w Robert E. Sherwood, Frank Lloyd, Ernest Pascal novel Ernest Pascal d Frank Lloyd m Alfred Newman
☆ Billie Dove, Adrian Morris, Charles Starrett, Lois Wilson, Edward Everett Horton, Mary Duncan
'Everybody makes mistakes, and this is one by Howard Hughes.' – Variety

Age of Consent ★
Australia 1969 103m Technicolor Columbia/Nautilus (James Mason, Michael Powell)
An artist seduces the granddaughter of a drunken harridan with whom he shares a Barrier Reef island.
Mildly likeable but self-conscious and overlong South Pacific idyll.
w Peter Yeldham novel Norman Lindsay d Michael Powell ph Hannes Staudinger m Stanley Myers ☆ James Mason, Helen Mirren, Jack MacGowran, Neva Carr-Glyn, Frank Thring

Age of Innocence
US 1934 71m bw RKO
In the 1870s, a young attorney's career is threatened when he falls in love with a divorcee.
Dated romantic drama, rather thinly performed and presented.
w Sarah Y. Mason, Victor Heerman novel Edith Wharton d Philip Moeller ☆ Irene Dunne, John Boles, Lionel Atwill, Laura Hope Crews, Helen Westley, Julie Haydon
'It will take smart selling to protect it at the box office, especially away from the social registers of the land.' – Variety

Age of Innocence
Canada/GB 1977 101m Eastmancolor Judson/Willoughby (Henning Jacobsen)
After World War I, an English teacher in Canada develops pacifist views which stir up local resentment and lead to violence.
Rather uninteresting melodrama which never really comes to the boil despite care all round.
w Ratch Wallace d Alan Bridges ph Brian West m Lucio Agostini ☆ David Warner, Honor Blackman, Trudy Young, Cec Linder, Tim Henry, Lois Maxwell, Robert Hawkins

The Age of Innocence ★★
US 1993 138m Technicolor Super 35mm Columbia (Barbara de Fina)
In New York in the 1870s, a wealthy and conventional lawyer falls in love with his wife's cousin, a woman of dubious reputation.
A deft study of a repressed society with some effective set-pieces, let down by an insufficiently dramatized narrative; the emotional weight of the film is carried not by the actors, but by the voice-over, which severely limits its impact.
w Jay Cocks, Martin Scorsese novel Edith Wharton d Martin Scorsese ph Michael Ballhaus m Elmer Bernstein pd Dante Ferretti ed Thelma Schoonmaker
☆ Daniel Day-Lewis, Michelle Pfeiffer, Winona Ryder, Richard E. Grant, Alec McCowen, Geraldine Chaplin, Mary Beth Hurt, Stuart Wilson, Miriam Margolyes, Sian Phillips, Michael Gough, Alexis Smith, Jonathan Pryce, Robert Sean Leonard
'Scorsese has met most of the challenges inherent in tackling such a formidable period piece, but the material remains cloaked by the very propriety, stiff manners and emotional starchiness the picture delineates in such copious detail.' – Variety
'The great virtue of the film is that it takes the past seriously and sets about the task of bringing it to life detail by detail, without false immediacy.' – Adam Mars-Jones
'For those whose idea of bliss is watching handsome people in a well-told story of love and denial, this is ecstasy from scene one.' – Angie Errigo, Empire
♗ Winona Ryder; Jay Cocks, Martin Scorsese; Elmer Bernstein; Dante Ferretti; costume design (Gabriella Pescucci)
♉ Miriam Margolyes

Agency
Canada 1981 94m colour Farley
An advertising agency gets into political hands which send out messages through special TV packs.
Faded melodrama which did nothing for anyone involved in it.
w Noel Hynd novel Paul Gottlieb d George Kaczender
☆ Robert Mitchum, Lee Majors, Valerie Perrine, Saul Rubinek, Alexandra Stewart

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · ♗ Academy Award · ♗ Academy Award nomination · ♉ BAFTA

Agent 8¾: see Hot Enough for June

'Save the world. Get the girl. Pass math.'

Agent Cody Banks ④

US 2003 102m DeLuxe Panavision
MGM/Splendid/Maverick (Dylan Sellers, David C. Glasser, Andreas Klein, Guy Oseary, David Nicksay)

A 15-year-old schoolboy, trained as a spy by the CIA, saves the world from killer nanotechnology.
Given that the Bond films are aimed at a teen audience, is there room for a teenage version? It may appeal to ten-year-olds, if they've tired of the better Spy Kids movies.
w Ashley Edward Miller, Zack Stentz, Scott Alexander, Larry Karaszewski story Jeffrey Jurgensen d Harald Zwart ph Denis Crossan m John Powell pd Rusty Smith ed Jim Miller sp Pixel Magic ☆ Frankie Muniz (Cody Banks), Hilary Duff (Natalie Connors), Angie Harmon (Ronica Miles), Keith David (CIA Director), Cynthia Stevenson (Mrs Banks), Arnold Vosloo (Molay), Ian McShane (Brinkman), Martin Donovan (Dr Connors)
'A high-speed, high-tech kiddie thriller that's kinda cute but sorta relentless.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times † 7 seconds were cut from the movie for its UK release.

'Adventure is an attitude.'

Agent Cody Banks 2: Destination London ②

US 2004 99m DeLuxe Panavision
MGM/Maverick (Guy Oseary, David C. Glasser, Bob Yari, David Nicksay, Dylan Sellers)

A teenage CIA agent goes to London to thwart a mad aristocrat's attempt to rule the world.
More sub-James Bondage in a stereotyped Britain for young and undiscriminating audiences.
w Don Rhymer d Kevin Allen ph Denis Crossan m Mark Thomas, John Powell pd Richard Holland ed Andrew MacRitchie
☆ Frankie Muniz (Cody Banks), Anthony Anderson (Derek), Hannah Spearritt (Emily), Cynthia Stevenson (Mrs Banks), Daniel Roebuck (Mr Banks), Anna Chancellor (Jo Kenworth), Keith Allen (Diaz), Keith David (CIA Director), James Faulkner (Kenworth)
'In terms of inspiration or even the slightest shred of ingenuity, Banks ranks more like an 000 than an 007.' – Michael Rechtshaffen, Hollywood Reporter

Agent for Harm

US 1966 84m colour
Universal (Joseph F. Robertson)

A Washington agency prevents the Russians from abducting a scientist.
Spy spoof somewhat below the level of the TV UNCLE films.
w Blair Robertson d Gerd Oswald
☆ Wendell Corey, Mark Richman, Martin Kosleck, Carl Esmond, Barbara Bouchet

The Ages of Lulu ★

Spain 1990 95m Eastmancolor Iberoamericana/Apricot (Andrés Vicente Gomez) original title: Las Edades de Lulu

After a young woman marries and leaves the man whom she allowed to seduce her, she explores the darker side of sexuality in order to satisfy her desires.
An intriguing melodrama of the sexual education of a woman, in which males are the exploiters, though its overall point seems to be that female sexuality needs restraints.
w Almudena Grandes, Bigas Luna novel Almudena Grandes d Bigas Luna ph Fernando Arribas m Carlos Segarra pd Miguel Chicharro ed Pablo Gonzalez Del Amo ☆ Francesca Neri (Lulu), Oscar Ladoire (Pablo), María Barranco (Ely), Fernando Guillén Cuervo (Marcelo), Rosana Pastor, Javier Bardem, Juan Graell, Rodrigo Valverde, Pilar Bardem

The Agitator ★

GB 1944 98m bw
British National (Louis H. Jackson)

An embittered mechanic becomes a loud-mouthed union spokesman, but fate eventually takes him into management.
Fairly absorbing, modest narrative of the flaws of socialism.
w Edward Dryhurst novel Peter Pettinger by William Riley d John Harlow ph James Wilson
☆ William Hartnell, Mary Morris, John Laurie, Moore Marriott, George Carney, Edward Rigby, Elliot Mason, Frederick Leister, Cathleen Nesbitt, Moira Lister

Agitator ★★

Japan 2001 150m colour
Daiei (Tsutomu Tsuchikawa)

original title: Araburu Tamashii-tachi

Warfare breaks out between two yakuza gangs, while a third watches for the moment to take over the territory.
'In this business, you win by staying alive,' remarks a gangster. In a Miike movie, that can be difficult to achieve, though the violence here is muted by his standards, giving room for an elaborate, slow-burning game of double cross.
w Shigenori Takechi d Takashi Miike ph Kiyoshi Ito m Koji Endo pd Tatsuo Ozeki ed Yasushi Shimamura ☆ Masaya Kato, Naoto Takenaka, Ryosuke Miki, Masatoh Eve, Taisaku Akino, Hiroki Matsukata, Mickey Curtis, Takashi Miike

'When Agnes Brown's husband died she discovered something amazing... Herself.'

Agnes Browne

Ireland 1999 92m Technicolor
UIP/October/Hell's Kitchen

In Dublin in the mid 60s, a widow with seven children struggles to stay solvent.
Maudlin domestic drama of a plucky, warm-hearted woman battling against the odds that leaves no cliché of Irish life at all unfilmed or unspoken.
w John Goldsmith, Brendan O'Carroll novel The Mammy by Brendan O'Carroll d Anjelica Huston ph Anthony B. Richmond m Paddy Moloney pd David Brockhurst ed Eva Gardos ☆ Anjelica Huston (Agnes Browne), Marion O'Dwyer (Marion Monks), Ray Winstone (Mr Billy), Arno Chevrier (Pierre), Gerard McSorley (Mr Aherne), Niall O'Shea (Mark Browne), Ciaran Owens (Frankie Browne), Roxana Williams (Cathy Browne), Carl Power (Simon Browne), Mark Power (Dermot Browne), Tom Jones (Himself)
'Huston is no stranger to the comic tics of Dublin life, so frankly she should be lynched for directing a theme park ride as appalling as this.' – James Christopher, Times
'Hopelessly silly and sentimental.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times

Agnes of God ★

US 1985 98m Metrocolor
Columbia/Delphi IV (Patrick Palmer, Norman Jewison)

A young nun is accused of giving birth and then killing her baby.
Heavy hysterical weather with no clear solution, but a field day for three actresses.
w John Pielmeier play John Pielmeier d Norman Jewison ph Sven Nykvist m Georges Delerue pd Ken Adam ed Antony Gibbs
☆ Jane Fonda, Anne Bancroft, Meg Tilly
'Predictably, religion and reason play to something like a draw.' – Variety
♗ Anne Bancroft; Meg Tilly (supporting actress); music

Agonia: see Agony

Agony ★★

USSR 1975 148m colour/bw Sovscope
Mosfilm/Second Film Group

original title: Agonia
aka: Rasputin

As discontent at the rule of the Tsar increases, and revolution looms in Russia, the monk Rasputin becomes the power behind the throne.
A gripping account of the downfall of the Romanovs and the extraordinary life and death of Rasputin, mixing drama and contemporary newsreels; at times it comes near to being a history lesson, but it fascinates for all that. Nine years in the making, it was banned for ten years by the Soviet authorities.
w Semyon Lungin, Ilya Nusinov d Elem Klimov ph Leonid Kalashnikov m Alfred Schittke md Eri Klas
☆ Alexei Petrenko, Anatoly Romashin, Velta Linne, Alisa Freindlikh
† The film also exists in a version that runs for 107m.

The Agony and the Ecstasy ★

US 1965 140m DeLuxe Todd-AO
TCF/International Classics Inc (Carol Reed)

Pope Julius II persuades Michelangelo to leave his sculptures and paint the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel.
Dully reverent comic strip approach to art and history; generally heavy going, but good looking.
w Philip Dunne novel Irving Stone d Carol Reed ph Leon Shamroy m Alex North pd John DeCuir
☆ Charlton Heston, Rex Harrison, Diane Cilento, Harry Andrews, Alberto Lupo, Adolfo Celi
JULIUS: 'You dare to dicker with your pontiff?'
'The vulgarity of the whole concept has none of the joyfully enthusiastic philistinism of a de Mille; rather its tone is a dry, almost cynical, condescension.' – Brenda Davies
'All agony, no ecstasy.' – Judith Crist
'Not a strong and soaring drama but an illustrated lecture of a slow artist at work.' – Bosley Crowther
'Heston hits the ceiling.' – New York Times
† The film is said to have cost 12 million dollars and earned 4.
†† Michelangelo was apparently both a dwarf and a homosexual. He is played by Charlton Heston.
♗ Leon Shamroy; Alex North

Aguirre, Wrath of God ★★★★

West Germany 1972 95m colour
Hessicher Rundfunk/Werner Herzog

original title: Aguirre, der Zorn Gottes

In 1560, one of Pizarro's lieutenants takes a party of forty down river by raft, and succumbs to megalomania.
Absorbing conquistador melodrama, vividly assembled and impossible to forget.
wd Werner Herzog ph Thomas Mauch m Popol Vuh ed Beate Mainka-Jellinghaus
☆ Klaus Kinski (Don Lope de Aguirre), Ruy Guerra (Don Pedro de Ursua), Helena Rojo (Inez), Cecilia Rivera (Flores), Del Negro (Brother Gaspar de Carvajal), Peter Berling (Don Fernando de Guzman), Alejandro Repulles (Gonzalez Pizarro)
'It ingeniously combines Herzog's gift for deep irony, his strong social awareness, and his worthy ambition to fashion a whole new visual perspective on the world around us via mystical, evocative, yet oddly direct imagery. It is a brilliant cinematic achievement.' – David Skerritt, Christian Science Monitor
† The Region 1 DV D release includes a commentary by Werner Herzog. A Region 1 and 2 box set of five Herzog/Kinski films includes commentary by Herzog and Norman Hill and Herzog's documentary My Best Friend on his relationship with Kinski.

Ah! Les Belles Bacchantes: see Femmes de Paris

'The play that startled the nation!'

Ah, Wilderness ★★

US 1935 101m bw
MGM (Hunt Stromberg)

Problems of a small-town family at the turn of the century.
Well-acted, affectionately remembered version of a play later musicalized as Summer Holiday. The commercial success of this film led to the Hardy family series.
w Albert Hackett, Frances Goodrich play Eugene O'Neill d Clarence Brown ph Clyde de Vinna m Herbert Stothart
☆ Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Eric Linden, Spring Byington, Mickey Rooney, Aline MacMahon, Charley Grapewin, Cecilia Parker, Frank Albertson, Bonita Granville
'A job of picture making, in craftsmanship and feeling, that is wonderful to see.' – Otis Ferguson
'That it is a fine artistic effort will not be denied anywhere, but for the public at large it will need all the boosting it can get.' – Variety

Ahfei Zhenjuang: see Days of Being Wild

Ai No Borei ★

Japan/France 1978 105m Eastmancolor
Argos/Oshima (Anatole Dauman)

aka: Empire of Passion
aka: Phantom Love; In the Realm of Passion

In the 1890s, an adulterous wife and her young lover kill her husband and are haunted by his ghost.
A drama of lust, love and guilt set in a small, close-knit community; its formal quality distances the audience from the action so that it remains for the most part uninvolving.
wd Nagisa Oshima story Itoko Nakamura ph Yoshio Miyajima m Toru Takemitsu ad Josho Toda ed Keiichi Uraoka
☆ Tatsuya Fuji, Kazuko Yoshiyuki, Takahiro

Tamura, Takuzo Kawatani, Akiko Koyama, Taiji Tonoyama

† Oshima won the award for best director at the Cannes Film Festival in 1978 with this film, a companion piece to Ai No Corrida (qv).

Ai No Corrida ★★★

France/Japan 1976 105m Eastmancolor
Argos/Oshima/Shibata (Anatole Dauman)

French title: L'Empire des Sens
aka: Empire of the Passions; In the Realm of the Senses

A sexually complicated servant girl has an intense affair with the master of the house, and finally murders and mutilates him.
Strong but stylish stuff, a kind of Japanese Last Tango in Paris. Oshima isn't interested in the mechanics of sex even when he shows them. He is more concerned with its context: the affair's tragic outcome, and the fact that its two lovers ignore servants and onlookers in their insatiable desire.
wd Nagisa Oshima ph Hideo Ito
m Minoru Miki
☆ Tatsuya Fuji, Eiko Matsuda, Aoi Nakajima, Meika Seri

'By the final sequence, we are all implicated in the continuing social system which makes such love impossible. It is not Sade, but the censor in all of us who ultimately wields the knife.' – Jan Dawson, MFB

† The film was not given a certificate by the BBFC or a cinema release in Britain until 1991, although it had been shown in cinema clubs.

Aida

Italy 1953 95m Ferrania colour
Oscar Film (Ferrucio de Martino, Federico Teti)

A young Egyptian army officer loves the captive princess of the Ethiopians.
Stuffy, over-dressed, pantomimish version of the opera, with some pretension to cinematic vitality.
w various opera Verdi d Clemente Fracassi ph Piero Portalupi ad Flavio Mogherini ☆ Sophia Loren (sung by Renata Tebaldi), Lois Maxwell, Luciano della Marra

Aimée & Jaguar ★

Germany 1998 126m colour
Optimum/Senator (Günter Rohrbach, Hanno Huth)

In Berlin in 1943, a mother of four, whose husband is away in the German army, begins an affair with another woman, a Jewish resistance worker.
Based on a true story, this is a flatly-told account of a passionate, short-lived love affair that is never as affecting as it ought to be, despite some accomplished acting.
w Max Färberböck, Rona Munro novel Erica Fischer d Max Färberböck ph Tony Imi m Jan A. P. Kaczmarek
pd Albrecht Konrad ed Barbara Hennings
☆ Maria Schrader (Felice Schragenheim (Jaguar)), Juliane Köhler (Lilly Wust (Aimée)), Johanna Wokalek (Ilse), Heike Makatsch (Klärchen), Elisabeth Degen (Lotte), Detlev Buck (Günther Wust), Inge Keller (Lilly Wust, 1997), Kyra Mladeck (Ilse, 1997)

'With key scenes so vivid they barely feel scripted, this is more than a same-sex success, it's a most affecting, most sensual on-screen love affair, period.' – Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times

Aimez-Vous les Femmes?: see Do You Like Women?

Ain't Misbehavin' ★

US 1955 81m Technicolor
U-I (Samuel Marx)

A young millionaire marries a cabaret girl, who determines to improve her mind and manners.
Lively American version of Pygmalion, with musical numbers and some bright lines.
w Edward Buzzell, Philip Rapp, Devery Freeman d Edward Buzzell ph Wilfrid Cline m Joseph Gershenson ch Kenny Williams, Lee Scott
☆ Rory Calhoun, Piper Laurie, Reginald Gardiner, Jack Carson, Barbara Britton, Mamie Van Doren

'The Few. The Proud. The Totally Insane.'

Air America

US 1990 118m DeLuxe Super 35
Guild/Indieprod/Carolco (Daniel Melnick)

CIA pilots indulge in illicit activities in Laos.
Frenetic mix of action and comedy – and unsuccessful at both.
w John Eskow, Richard Rush book Christopher Robbins d Roger Spottiswoode ph Roger Deakins
m Charles Gross pd Allan Cameron
ed John Bloom, Lois Freeman-Fox
☆ Mel Gibson, Robert Downey Jnr, Nancy Travis, Ken Jenkins, David Marshall Grant, Lane Smith, Art La Fleur, Ned Eisenberg, Marshall Bell

Air Bud ⑤

US 1997 97m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Keystone (Robert Vince, William Vince)

A lonely young boy befriends a basketball-playing dog.
An enjoyable piece of whimsy that should appeal to the young.
w Paul Tamasy, Aaron Mendelsohn character created by Kevin DiCicco
d Charles Martin Smith ph Mike Southon
m Brahm Wenger pd Elizabeth Wilcox
ed Alison Grace
☆ Michael Jeter, Kevin Zegers, Wendy Makkena, Bill Cobbs, Eric Christmas, Brendan Fletcher, Norman Browning, Buddy

'An old-fashioned heart-tugger in the tradition of Old Yeller.' – Variety † Buddy, the golden retriever, was found to be suffering from cancer and had a leg amputated soon after filming finished; he died at the age of 10 in 1998.

'For one typical family, this Friday is to be like no other.'

Un Air de Famille ★★

France 1996 119m colour Panavision
Metro/Tartan/Téléma/Canal/France2 (Charles Gassot)

aka: Family Resemblances

A special family gathering in a café is marked by rifts and reconciliations.
A familiar setting – a celebratory occasion at which family members settle old scores and open fresh wounds – is made fresh by excellent acting and sparkling dialogue.
w Agnès Jaoui, Jean-Pierre Bacri, Cédric Klapisch play Agnès Jaoui, Jean-Pierre Bacri d Cédric Klapisch ph Benoît Delhomme pd François Emmanuelli ed Francine Sandberg
☆ Jean-Pierre Bacri, Jean-Pierre Darroussin, Catherine Frot, Agnès Jaoui, Claire Maurier, Wladimir Yordanoff

'A barbed but finally affectionate group portrait, all the more entertaining if your French is good enough to keep up with the argy-bargy.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

Air Force ★

US 1943 124m bw
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)

A Flying Fortress and its crew see action in Manila, Pearl Harbor and the Coral Sea.
Propaganda piece concentrating on the characters of the crew members, with action set-pieces largely provided by newsreel; but skilled direction still conveys plenty of punch.
w Dudley Nichols d Howard Hawks ph James Wong Howe, Elmer Dyer, Charles Marshall m Franz Waxman ed George Amy ☆ John Garfield, Gig Young, Arthur Kennedy, Charles Drake, John Ridgely, Harry Carey, George Tobias, Stanley Ridgely, Moroni Olsen, Edward Brophy

'Maybe the story is high-flown, maybe it overdraws a recorded fact a bit. We'd hate to think it couldn't happen – or didn't – because it leaves you feeling awfully good.' – Bosley Crowther

'The film is one crisis after another, and the director stages the air battles handsomely, but for the rest it helps if you're interested in the factors involved in getting a bomber somewhere and back.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

♟ George Amy
♙ Dudley Nichols; James Wong Howe, Elmer Dyer, Charles Marshall

'Five miles up, The President of the United States is waging war on terrorism. Face to face.'
'Harrison Ford is the President.'

Air Force One ④

US 1997 124m Technicolor Super 35
Columbia/Beacon/Radiant (Armyan Bernstein, Wolfgang Petersen, Gail Katz, Jon Shestack)

The US President shows he is a man of action when, with the aid of a US agent, Russians hijack the presidential jet and hold his wife and daughter hostage.
Silly, implausible jingoistic thriller of surprising banality.
w Andrew W. Marlowe d Wolfgang Petersen ph Michael Ballhaus m Jerry Goldsmith pd William Sandell ed Richard Francis-Bruce
☆ Harrison Ford (President James Marshall), Gary Oldman (Ivan Korshunov), Glenn Close (Vice-President Kathryn Bennett), Wendy Crewson (Grace Marshall), Paul Guilfoyle (Chief of Staff Lloyd Shepherd), William H. Macy (Major Caldwell), Liesel Matthews (Alice Marshall), Dean Stockwell (Defense Secretary Walter Dean), Jürgen Prochnow (General Alexander Radek)

'Think of it as Fly Hard and you'll be in the right ballpark.' – Jay Carr, Boston Globe

'So preposterous that it begins to seem like a science-fiction artefact in its own right, the product of a parallel-universe 1990s which somehow bypassed the decades since the 1950s, in every area except technology ... utterly unreal in terms of story and character.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Independent

† The director rejected Randy Newman's original score for the film
†† The film grossed $172m at the US box-office and another $126m around the world.
♙ Richard Francis-Bruce; sound

Air Mail ★

US 1932 84m bw
Universal

Brash young pilot effects a daring rescue and gets the mail through.
Moderate actioner of its time.
w Dale Van Every, Frank Wead d John Ford
☆ Pat O'Brien, Ralph Bellamy, Russell Hopton, Gloria Stuart, Lillian Bond, Slim Summerville

'Far short of a smash ... it has no sock name, it is weak on the romantic side and the story material is directed at men.' – Variety

† There was also a good silent version in 1925, with Warner Baxter and Douglas Fairbanks Jnr, written by James Shelley Hamilton and directed by Irvin Willat; both had remarkable similarities to Only Angels Have Wings (1938).

Air Raid Wardens

US 1943 67m bw
MGM (B. F. Zeidman)

Rejected by the armed services, two incompetent air raid wardens accidentally round up Nazi spies.
Well below par star comedy: their incomparable dignity has disappeared.
w Jack Jevne, Martin Rackin, Charles Rogers, Harry Crane d Edward Sedgwick ph Walter Lundin m Nathaniel Shilkret
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Edgar Kennedy, Jacqueline White, Stephen McNally, Nella Walker, Donald Meek

The Air Up There ★

US 1994 108m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Hollywood/Interscope/Polygram (Ted Field, Rosalie Swedling, Robert W. Cort)

An American basketball coach has to train an African team to win a game in order to settle a tribal dispute, recruit a new star and save his job.
Amiable drama of a man discovering that sport is not all that matters in life.
w Max Apple d Paul M. Glaser ph Dick Pope m David Newman pd Roger Hall ed Michael E. Polakow
☆ Kevin Bacon, Charles Gitonga Maina, Yolanda Vasquez, Winston Ntshona, Mabutho 'Kid' Sithole, Sean McCann, Dennis Patrick, Nigel Miguel, Ilo Mitumbo

'Mildly entertaining ... isn't quite as stale as the numerous clichés it launches.' – Brian Lowry, Variety

Airborne

US 1993 90m Technicolor
Warner/Icon (Bruce Davey, Stephen McEveety)

An unhappy surfer, forced to move to Cincinnati, becomes a rollerblade champion.
A movie aimed at young 'teens, who may not mind the way it sticks to tried and test formulae, but who will appreciate its spectacular rollerblade sequences.
w Bill Apablasa, Stephen McEveety d Rob Bowman ph Daryn Okada m Stewart Copeland pd John Myhre ed Harry B. Miller III
☆ Shane McDermott, Seth Green, Brittney Powell, Chris Conrad, Edie McClurg, Patrick O'Brien, Jack Black

Airborne

Canada 1997 90m DeLuxe
Le Monde/C3 (John Gillespie)

An elite team of agents attempt to recover a deadly virus stolen from a germ warfare laboratory.

Risible thriller with moments of meaningless slow-motion; despite the permanent scowl, designer stubble and scars, Guttenberg makes an unconvincing action hero.
w Tony Johnston, Julian Grant d Julian Grant ph Russell Goozee m Christophe Beck pd Oleg Savytskyiy ed Paul Day
☆ Steve Guttenberg, Kim Coates, Torri Higginson, Colm Feore, Sean Bean, Philip Akin, David Fraser

Airheads

US 1994 92m DeLuxe
TCF/Island World (Robert Simonds, Mark Burg)

An unsuccessful rock band hold up a radio station and demand that their demo tape is played on the air.
A dim comedy of dimmer characters which simply keeps repeating its single joke.
w Rich Wilkes d Michael Lehmann ph John Schwartzman m Carter Burwell pd David Nichols ed Stephen Semel ☆ Brendan Fraser, Steve Buscemi, Chris Farley, Adam Sandler, Michael McKean, Judd Nelson, Ernie Hudson, Amy Locane, David Arquette, Joe Mantegna
'An anarchic screwball comedy for the Beavis and Butthead generation.' – Nigel Robinson, Film Review
'Unspeakable.' – Observer

Airplane ★★★

US 1980 88m Metrocolor
Paramount/Howard W. Koch (Jon Davison)

A former pilot gets his nerve back when called upon to land a passenger plane because the crew all have food poisoning.
Arthur Hailey's play Flight into Danger and the film Zero Hour which was made from it get the zany parody treatment in this popular movie. Often very funny and occasionally very crude, the movie gains from Lloyd Bridges, Peter Graves and Leslie Nielsen, stalwarts of disaster movies, who all keep the straightest of faces through a myriad of gags.
wd Jim Abrahams, David and Jerry Zucker ph Joseph Biroc m Elmer Bernstein pd Ward Preston ed Patrick Kennedy
☆ Robert Stack (Kramer), Lloyd Bridges (McCroskey), Robert Hays (Ted Striker), Julie Hagerty (Elaine), Peter Graves (Capt. Oveur), Leslie Nielsen (Dr. Rumack), Lorna Patterson (Randy), Ethel Merman (Lt. Hurwitz), Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (Murdock)
'Parody may be the lowest form of humour, but few comedies in ages have rocked the laugh meter this hard.' – Variety
'It keeps going, like a dervish with skids on.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'Proof that the cinema is alive and well and bursting with ingenuity.' – David Hughes, Sunday Times
'It's compiled like a jokebook and has the kind of pacing that goes with a laugh track.' – Pauline Kael
'All pretty juvenile really, though the relentless pace and sheer poor taste make up for a lack of originality.' – Time Out, 1984
'Practically a satirical anthology of movie clichés ... it compensates for its lack of original comic invention by its utter willingness to steal, beg, borrow and rewrite from anywhere.' – Roger Ebert

'Just when you thought it safe to go back into the departure lounge'

Airplane II: The Sequel

US 1982 85m Metrocolor
Paramount (Howard W. Koch)

A space shuttle gets into trouble but is rescued in the nick of time.
Palsied sequel to a funny film, with some of the same cast and some of the same jokes.
wd Ken Finkleman ph Joe Biroc m Elmer Bernstein pd William Sandell ed Dennis Virkler
☆ Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty, Lloyd Bridges, Peter Graves, William Shatner, Chad Everett, Steven Stucker, Sonny Bono, Raymond Burr, Chuck Connors, Rip Torn, John Dehner, Kent McCord, John Vernon
'All the pleasure lies in the humour's weakness.' – Observer

Airport ★★

US 1970 136m Technicolor Todd-AO
Universal/Ross Hunter (Jacque Mapes)

Events of one snowy night at a midwestern international airport, culminating in airborne melodrama when a mad bomber is killed and the damaged plane has to be talked down.
Glossy, undeniably entertaining, all-star version of a popular novel, with cardboard characters skilfully deployed in Hollywood's very best style.
wd George Seaton novel Arthur Hailey ph Ernest Laszlo m Alfred Newman ed Stuart Gilmore
☆ Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, Jean Seberg, Helen Hayes, Van Heflin, Jacqueline Bisset, George Kennedy, Maureen Stapleton, Barry Nelson, Dana Wynter, Lloyd Nolan, Barbara Hale, Gary Collins, Jessie Royce Landis
'The best film of 1944.' – Judith Crist
'For sheer contentment there is nothing to beat the sight of constant catastrophe happening to others.' – Alexander Walker
'A Grand Hotel in the sky ... every few years or so some more show-biz types would crowd onto a plane that would threaten to crash, collide with another, meet with terrorists, or otherwise be subjected to the perils of Pauline.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies
† The film cost 10 million dollars and earned 45.
Helen Hayes
best picture; George Seaton (as writer); Ernest Laszlo; Alfred Newman; Maureen Stapleton; editing; costumes (Edith Head)

'Something hit us ... the crew is dead ... help us, please, please help us!'

Airport 1975

US 1974 105m Technicolor Panavision
Universal (Jennings Lang, William Frye)

A private aircraft collides with a jet plane and kills or immobilizes its crew, so a stewardess has to manoeuvre the jumbo to safety.
Inept airborne suspenser loaded with stars who do nothing and marred by continuity lapses and boring dialogue.
w Don Ingalls d Jack Smight ph Philip Lathrop m John Cacavas ☆ Charlton Heston, Karen Black, George Kennedy, Helen Reddy, Efrem Zimbalist Jnr, Susan Clark, Myrna Loy, Gloria Swanson, Linda Blair, Dana Andrews, Roy Thinnes, Sid Caesar, Ed Nelson, Nancy Olson, Martha Scott
'Aimed squarely for the yahoo trade.' – Variety
'Processed schlock. One can have a fairly good time laughing at it, but it doesn't sit too well as a joke, because the people on the screen are being humiliated.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
'Good exciting corny escapism, and the kind of movie you would not want to watch as an inflight film.' – Roger Ebert

Airport '77

US 1977 114m Technicolor Panavision
Universal (William Frye)

A private airliner loaded with guests and art treasures hits an oil rig and settles underwater on a sandbank.
Hysteria, rescue, and guest stars with nothing to do; the mixture as before.
w Michael Scheff, David Spector story H. A. L. Craig, Charles Kuenstle d Jerry Jameson ph Philip Lathrop m John Cacavas pd George C. Webb
☆ Jack Lemmon, James Stewart, Brenda Vaccaro, Joseph Cotten, Olivia de Havilland, Lee Grant, Darren McGavin, Christopher Lee, Robert Foxworth, Robert Hooks, Monte Markham, Kathleen Quinlan, James Booth, George Kennedy
'Neither as riveting as it should be, nor as much fun as its absurd plotline would suggest.' – Verina Glaessner, MFB † See also: The Concorde – Airport '79.

Airport '80: The Concorde: see The Concorde: Airport '79

Akahige: see Redbeard

Akai Hashi Noshitano Nurui Mizu ★

Japan/France 2001 120m colour
Metro Tartan/Nikkatsu/Imamura/Bap/Eisei Gekijo/Maru/Comme Des Cinemas/Dussart (Hisa Iino)

aka: Warm Water Under The Red Bridge
An unemployed man visits a seaside town in search of treasure and begins a relationship with a woman whose orgasms are accompanied by floods of water.
Odd little fable that has some endearing moments, if you can go with the flow.
w Motofumi Tomikawa, Daisuke Tengan, Shohei Imamura novel Henmi Yo d Shohei Imamura ph Shigeru Komatsubara m Shinichiro Ikebe pd Hisao Inagaki ed Hajime Okayasu
☆ Koji Yakusho (Yosuke Sasano), Misa Shimizu (Saeko Aizawa), Mitsuko Baisho (Mitsu Aizawa), Mansaku Fuwa (Gen), Kazuo Kitramura (Taro), Isao Natsuyagi (Masayuki Uomi), Yukiya Kitamara (Shintaro Uomi), Hijiri Kojima (Miki Tagami)
'Too long and too whimsical.' – Observer

Akasen Chitai: see Street of Shame

Ake and His World ★

Sweden 1984 103m colour
Sandrew/Svenska Film Institute/Scentext original title: Ake Och Hans Värld

In the 1930s the six-year-old son of a Swedish country doctor observes the lives and deaths of his father's patients.
Charming, episodic, gently nostalgic account of childhood.
wd Allan Edwall ph Jörgen Persson m Thomas Lindahl ad Anna Asp ed Lars Hagström
☆ Martin Lindstrom, Loa Falkman, Gunnel Fred, Katja Blomquist, Ulla Sjöblom, Suzanne Ernrup, Björn Gustafson, Allan Edwall

'Changing the world... one word at a time.'

Akeelah and the Bee ★ 7

US 2006 107m colour
Out of the Blue/Reactor/Cinema Gypsy (Nancy Hult Ganis, Sid Ganis, Laurence Fishburne, Michael Romersa, Danny Llewelyn)

A South Los Angeles black schoolgirl with a gift for spelling is coached to enter a national competition and brings joy to her failing school and neighbourhood.
A winning central performance lifts this predictable, underdog-makes-good, feel-better movie that does not deviate from the usual trajectory of sports movies.
wd Doug Atchison ph M. David Mullen m Aaron Zigman pd Warren Alan Young ed Glenn Farr
☆ Laurence Fishburne (Dr Larabee), Angela Bassett (Tanya), Keke Palmer (Akeelah), Curtis Armstrong (Mr Welch), Tzi Ma (Mr Chiu), Lee Thompson Young (Devon)
'This earnest weepie plays like "The Karate Kid" with a pro-literacy agenda.' – Justin Chang, Variety
† A better film on a similar subject was the documentary Spellbound (qv).

Akenfield ★

GB 1974 98m Techniscope
Angle Films/LWT (Peter Hall, Rex Pyke)

Semi-dramatized film version of a book which documented a Suffolk village by interviewing its older inhabitants.
An interesting venture ruined by imprecision, misty photography, lack of narrative drive or any compensating detail, and the appalling error of using a cheap wide screen process.
w Ronald Blythe book Ronald Blythe d Peter Hall ph Ivan Strasberg m Michael Tippett ad Ian Whittaker, Roger Christian ☆ Garrow Shand, Peggy Cole, Barbara Tilney, Lyn Brooks, Ida Page, Ted Dedman, Peter Tuddenham
'One of the best films – certainly the most unusual – made in England and about England.' – Alexander Walker
'A parochial drama-documentary, commercially dubious but otherwise an impressive achievement.' – Variety
'About the impact of the leading players, the beauty of the Edwardian scenes and the triumphantly enhancing use of music, there need be no reservations at all.' – Michael Ratcliffe

Akira (dubbed) ★★

Japan 1987 124m colour
ICA/Akira Committee (Ryohei Suzuki, Shunzo Kato)

In a future neo-Tokyo, filled with revolutionaries, terrorists and warring government factions, a young biker becomes the subject of experiments to create a super-being.
Brilliantly animated film, based on a comic-book, that eschews cartoon violence for the more realistic style of action movies. The narrative, which begins as fantasy and shifts into mysticism, is less enthralling.
w Katsuhiro Otomo, Izo Hashimoto comic Katsuhiro Otomo d Katsuhiro Otomo ph Katsuji Misawa m Shoji Yamashiro ad Toshiharu Mizutani ed Takeshi Seyama
'Probably the first animated feature with a genuinely novelistic density of incident and character.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Akira Kurosawa's Dreams ★

US 1990 119m colour
Warner/Akira Kurosawa USA (Hisao Kurosawa, Mike Y. Inoue)

original title: Yume

Eight dream sequences, concerning animals, ghosts, spirits and nuclear destruction, the most successful of which involves entering the paintings of Van Gogh.

A lesser work of a master: visually fascinating, though too often trite in content.

wd Akira Kurosawa ph Takao Saito, Masaharu Ueda m Shinichiro Ikebe ad Yoshiro Muraki, Akira Sakuragi ed Tome Minami

☆ Mitsuko Baisho, Toshihiko Nakano, Mitsunori Isaki, Mie Suzuki, Akira Terao, Mieko Harada, Yoshitaka Zushi, Martin Scorsese, Chosuke Ikariya, Chishu Ryu

'His is not to shock us into surrendering to his visions but to seduce our consent to them. And this he does in one of the most lucid dreamworks ever placed on film.' – Richard Schickel, Time

'Fearlessly Told! Authentic! True!'
'He built a vicious crime syndicate of illegal liquor, vice and gambling that we are still fighting today!'

Al Capone ★★

US 1959 105m bw
Allied Artists (John H. Burrows, Leonard J. Ackerman)

An account of Chicago's most famous gangster, up to his arrest for income tax evasion.

Only slightly overplayed, semi-documentary retelling of a larger-than-life true story. Steiger gives a clever impersonation on the border of caricature.

w Malvin Wald, Henry Greenberg d Richard Wilson ph Lucien Ballard m David Raksin

☆ Rod Steiger, Fay Spain, Murvyn Vye, Nehemiah Persoff, Martin Balsam, James Gregory, Joe de Santis

'The most remarkable thing about it is its truth.' – Daily Telegraph

'This powerful production may turn out to be the definitive gangster film of all time.' – Film Daily

Al-Jenna-An: see Paradise Now

'Imagine if you had three wishes, three hopes, three dreams and they all could come true.'

Aladdin ★★★★

US 1992 90m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney (John Musker, Ron Clements)

An urchin with a magic lamp falls in love with a runaway princess.

Another brilliant return to classic form from Disney, notable for its quick-change genie to match the exuberance of Robin Williams' characterization, and some innovative computer animation.

w John Musker, Ron Clements, Ted Elliott, Terry Rossio d John Musker, Ron Clements m Alan Menken m/ly Alan Menken, Howard Ashman, Tim Rice pd R. S. Vander Wende ed H. Lee Peterson

☆ voices of: Scott Weinger (Aladdin), Brad Kane (Aladdin's singing), Robin Williams (Genie), Linda Larkin (Jasmine), Lea Salonga (Jasmine's singing), Jonathan Freeman (Jafar), Frank Welker (Abu/Narrator), Gilbert Gottfried (Iago), Douglas Seale (Sultan)

'Floridly beautiful, shamelessly derivative and infused with an irreverent, sophisticated comic flair.' – Variety

'A rollicking, bodaciously choreographed fantasy right out of Busby Berkeley.' – Washington Post

† It was followed by two sequels released direct to video: Return of Jafar, edited from an animated TV series, and Aladdin and the King of Thieves.

♝ Alan Menken (score); song: 'Whole New World' (m Alan Menken, ly Tim Rice)

♗ song: 'Friends like Me' (m Alan Menken, ly Howard Ashman); sound; sound effects editing

Alakazam the Great ★

Japan 1960 88m Eastmancolor Toeiscope
Toei (Hiroshi Okawa)

original title: Saiyu-ki

The arrogant monkey king of the animals is sent by his human master on a pilgrimage; he defeats evil King Gruesome and returns a hero.

Smartly animated, Disney-inspired cartoon based on the same legend as Monkey, translated by Arthur Waley.

w Osamu Tezuka, Keinosuke Uekusa d Taiji Yabushita

'The Mission That Became A Fortress ... The Fortress That Became A Shrine...'

The Alamo ★

US 1960 193m Technicolor Todd-AO
UA/Batjac/John Wayne

In 1836 a small southern fort becomes the centre of Texas' fight for independence, but it is suddenly annihilated by a Mexican raid, and all its defenders killed.

Sprawling historical epic with many irrelevant episodes and distracting changes of mood.

w James Edward Grant d John Wayne ph William H. Clothier m Dimitri Tiomkin ed Stuart Gilmore

☆ John Wayne (Davy Crockett), Richard Widmark (Jim Bowie), Laurence Harvey (Travis), Richard Boone (Sam Houston), Frankie Avalon, Patrick Wayne, Linda Cristal, Chill Wills, Joseph Calleia

CROCKETT: 'Republic. I like the sound of the word. It means people can live free, talk free, go or come, buy or sell, be drunk or sober, however they choose. Some words give you a feeling. Republic is one of those words that makes me tight in the throat – the same tightness a man gets when his baby takes his first step or his first baby shaves and makes his first sound like a man. Some words can give you a feeling that makes your heart warm. Republic is one of those words.'

'Its sole redeeming feature lies in one of those crushing climaxes of total massacre which Hollywood can still pull off thunderingly well.' – Peter John Dyer

♗ picture; William H. Clothier; Dimitri Tiomkin; Chill Wills; song 'The Green Leaves of Summer' (m Dimitri Tiomkin, ly Paul Francis Webster); editing

'Stand your ground.'

The Alamo

US 2004 137m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Imagine (Mark Johnson, Ron Howard)

In 1836, a small band of Texans, determined to create a republic, defend a fort for 13 days when besieged by the Mexican army.

Dull epic of a key moment in Texas' struggle for independence that strives for historical accuracy but somehow loses the drama.

w Leslie Bohem, Stephen Gaghan, John Lee Hancock d John Lee Hancock ph Dean Semler m Carter Burwell pd Michael Corenblith ed Eric L. Beason, Alan Heim, David Rosenbloom

☆ Dennis Quaid (Sam Houston), Billy Bob Thornton (Davy Crockett), Jason Patric (Jim Bowie), Patrick Wilson (William Travis), Jordi Molla (Juan Seguin), Emilio Echevarria (Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna), Marc Blucas (James Bonham), Leon Rippy (Sgt William Ward)

'The picture has some ponderous and snooze-worthy stretches, but it attains a certain melancholic grandeur.' – Richard Corliss, Time

'These storied 13 days feel like the Hundred Years War.' – Desson Thomson, Washington Post

Alamo Bay

US 1985 98m Metrocolor
Tri-Star/Delphi III (Louis and Vincent Malle)

Fisherfolk in Galveston Bay resent the intrusion of refugee Vietnamese.

Unsympathetic, slow-paced melodrama which ends up seeming pointless despite a Ku Klux Klan confrontation.

w Alice Arlen d Louis Malle ph Curtis Clark m Ry Cooder pd Trevor Williams ed James Bruce

☆ Amy Madigan, Ed Harris, Donald Moffat, Rudy Young, Ho Nguyen

'A failed piece of social consciousness.' – Variety

An Alan Smithee Film: Burn, Hollywood, Burn!

US 1997 86m colour
Buena Vista/Hollywood/Cinergi (Ben Myron)

After he loses control of his blockbuster film, a director steals the negative; those involved in its making explain what went wrong.

A lamentable, heavy-handed, ham-fisted attempt at a satire on Hollywood, in which all the jokes misfire.

w Joe Eszterhas d Alan Smithee (Arthur Hiller) ph Reynaldo Villalobos m Gary G-Wiz, Chuck D pd David L. Snyder ed Jim Langlois

☆ Ryan O'Neal, Coolio Leon, Chuck D, Richard Jeni, Eric Idle, Leslie Stefanson, Sandra Bernhard, Cheri Lunghi, Harvey Weinstein, Gavin Polone, MC Lite, Marcello Thedford, Nicole Nagel, Stephen Tobolowsky

'It becomes obvious well before the end that there wasn't really a movie here after all, at least not one that will be terribly edifying for general audiences.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† Those appearing as themselves include: Sylvester Stallone, Whoopi Goldberg, Jackie Chan, Billy Bob Thornton, Joe Eszterhas, Robert Evans and Shane Black

†† Alan Smithee is the pseudonym used by a director when he wants his name removed from the film's credits. In this instance Arthur Hiller, who asked for his name to be removed after a dispute with Joe Eszterhas

††† It was voted the worst film of 1998 in the Golden Raspberry Awards.

'Don't Be Alarmed...They're Professionals.'

The Alarmist

US 1997 91m FotoKem
Columbia TriStar/Life During Wartme (Dan Stone, Lisa Zimble)

A security system salesman suspects his boss of murdering one of his clients in order to increase sales.

Dim social comedy with misjudged performances and a sense of increasing desperation about its narrative twists.

wd Evan Dunsky play Life During Wartime by Keith Reddin ph Alex Nepomniaschy m Christopher Beck pd Amy B. Ancona ed Norman Buckley

☆ David Arquette (Tommy Hudler), Stanley Tucci (Heinrich Grigoris), Mary McCormack (Sally Brown), Kate Capshaw (Gale Ancona), Tricia Vessey (April), Ryan Reynolds (Howard Ancona), Hoke Howell (Henry Fielding), Ruth Miller (Mrs Fielding), Michael Learned (Beth Hudler), Lewis Arquette (Bruce Hudler), Richmond Arquette (Andrew Hudler)

'A cinematic experience not unlike being savaged by a sheep.' – Kieron Corless, Sight and Sound

Alaska

US 1995 109m Technicolor Super 35
Columbia/Castle Rock (Carol Fuchs, Andy Burg)

Two children go in search of their father after he crashes his plane in Alaska.

Uninspired adventure movie, demonstrating that children and animals (a bear cub this time around) are not infallible scene-stealers.

w Andy Burg, Scott Myers d Fraser Heston ph Tony Westman m Reg Powell pd Douglas Higgins ed Rob Kobrin

☆ Thora Birch, Vincent Kartheiser, Dirk Benedict, Charlton Heston, Duncan Fraser, Gordon Tootoosis

The Alaskan ★

US 1924 80m approx bw
Famous Players/Paramount

An Alaskan defies robber barons intent on corrupting the new state.

Tough, effective and straightforward action drama, one of its star's best roles.

w Willis Goldbeck novel James Oliver Curwood d Herbert Brenon

☆ Thomas Meighan, Estelle Taylor, John Sainpolis, Anna May Wong

L'Albatross (dubbed)

France 1971 90m Eastmancolor
Antony Balch/Balzac/Profilm/Belstar (Jean-Pierre Mocky, Jacques Dorfmann, Frédérick Dorfmann)

GB title: Love Hat

After escaping from prison, a man accused of murder goes on the run, taking as hostage the daughter of a left-wing politician.

Complex romantic and political thriller, with an atmosphere ruined by its insensitive dubbing.

w Jean-Pierre Mocky, Claude Veillot, Raphael Delpard d Jean-Pierre Mocky ph Marcel Weiss m Léo Ferré ad Jacques Flamand, Jacques Dor ed Marguerite Renoir

☆ Jean-Pierre Mocky, Marion Game, André Le Gall, Paul Muller, Francis Terzian

Albert RN ★★

GB 1953 88m bw
Dial (Daniel M. Angel)

US title: Break to Freedom

Prisoners of war construct a lifelike dummy to cover the absence of escaping prisoners.

Competent, entertaining version of a successful play: an archetypal POW comedy drama.

w Guy Morgan, Vernon Harris play Guy Morgan, Edward Sammis d Lewis Gilbert ph Jack Asher m Malcolm Arnold

☆ Jack Warner, Anthony Steel, Robert Beatty, William Sylvester, Anton Diffring, Eddie Byrne, Guy Middleton, Paul Carpenter, Frederick Valk

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · ♝ Academy Award · ♗ Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

† The film was based on fact. The prisoner-of-war who created the original dummy, artist John Worsley (1919-2000), also made the dummy used in the film, which is preserved at the Royal Naval Museum, Portsmouth.

Albino Alligator ★ ③

US 1996 97m colour 'Scope
Miramax/UGC DA/Motion Picture Corp (Brad Krevoy, Steve Stabler)

Three incompetent robbers take refuge in a basement bar, which is surrounded by armed police.

An efficient, claustrophobic suspense movie of a familiar kind.

w Christian Forte d Kevin Spacey ph Mark Plummer m Michael Brook pd Nelson Coates ed Jay Cassidy

☆ Matt Dillon (Dova), Faye Dunaway (Janet), Gary Sinise (Milo), William Fichtner (Law), Viggo Mortensen (Guy), John Spencer (Jack), Skeet Ulrich (Danny), M. Emmet Walsh (Dino), Joe Mantegna (G.D. Browning)

'Pro cast and muscular lensing aren't quite enough to overcome a script that isn't nearly as ingenious as it would like to seem.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

Albuquerque

US 1947 89m Cinecolor
Pine-Thomas/Paramount
GB title: Silver City

The nephew of a town tyrant steps in to save an independent wagon line.

Formula Western with adequate action.

w Gene Lewis and Clarence Upson Young novel Luke Short d Ray Enright

☆ Randolph Scott, Barbara Britton, George 'Gabby' Hayes, George Cleveland, Lon Chaney Jnr, Russell Hayden

Alcatraz Island

US 1937 64m bw
Warner/Cosmopolitan

The federal government decides to build a top-security prison on a rock in San Francisco Bay.

Cheap routine treatment of what might have been an interesting subject.

w Crane Wilbur d William McGann

☆ Ann Sheridan, Mary Maguire, Dick Purcell, Addison Richards, George E. Stone, Doris Lloyd, John Litel

'Should about complete the Warner file on prisons.' – Variety

The Alchemist

US 1981 84m DeLuxe
Video Form/Ideal Films (Lawrence Applebaum)

A beautiful woman cures a man of his century-old curse.

Low-budget amalgam of horror movie clichés, inexpertly combined.

w Alan J. Adler d Charles Band ph Andrew W. Friend m Richard H. Band pd Dale A. Pelton ad Pam Warner ed Ted Nicolaou

☆ Robert Ginty, Lucinda Dooling, John Sanderford, Viola Kate Stimpson, Robert Glaudini

Alex ★

New Zealand/Australia 1992 92m colour
Isambard/Total/NZFC/NZOA/AFFC (Tom Parkinson, Phil Gerlach)

A 15-year-old New Zealand swimmer overcomes personal and professional difficulties to win a place in the 1960 Olympic Games.

Pleasant, sentimental account of a strong-willed girl succeeding against the odds.

w Ken Katran book Tessa Duder d Megan Simpson ph Donald Duncan m Todd Hunter, Johanna Pigott pd Kim Sinclair ed Tony Kavanagh

☆ Chris Haywood, Lauren Jackson, Josh Picker, Catherine Godbold, Elizabeth Hawthorn

Alex and the Gypsy

US 1976 99m DeLuxe
TCF (Richard Shepherd)

A cynical California bailbondsman involved in illicit activities chooses romantic freedom with a gypsy girl.

Incoherent hardbitten romance with an unconvincing set of characters.

w Lawrence B. Marcus novel The Bailbondsman by Stanley Elkin d John Korty ph Bill Butler m Henry Mancini

☆ Jack Lemmon, Geneviève Bujold, James Woods, Gino Ardito, Robert Emhardt

'Even if it were well done (which it is not) it would be banal, predictable and cloying.' – Frank Rich

'Off the beaten track, but that's just about the only thing you can give it points for.' – Pauline Kael

Alex in Wonderland

US 1970 109m colour
MGM (Larry Tucker)

A Hollywood director finds life tedious.

So did the small paying audiences who saw this pale imitation of Fellini. (Some wags called it One and a Half.)

w Paul Mazursky, Larry Tucker d Paul Mazursky ph Laszlo Kovacs m Tom O'Horgan pd Pato Guzman ed Stuart H. Pappe

☆ Donald Sutherland, Jeanne Moreau, Ellen Burstyn, Federico Fellini

'The Fellini elements are laid onto the film and don't quite sink in ... but the human story does work, remarkably well.' – Roger Ebert

'Fortune favors the bold.'

Alexander ★ ③

France/GB/Netherlands 2004 175m colour Super 35
Warner/Intermedia/IMF (Thomas Schuhly, Jon Kilik, Iain Smith, Moritz Borman)

In 283 BC, the elderly Ptolemy remembers the life of the all-conquering Alexander the Great and his death by poison.

Ambitious epic that suffers from miscasting in crucial roles; too much information is provided in a voice-over that turns the drama into an illustrated lecture.

w Oliver Stone, Christopher Kyle, Laeta Kalogridis. d Oliver Stone ph Rodrigo Prieto m Vangelis pd Ján Roelfs ed Tom Nordberg, Yann Herve, Alex Marquez

☆ Colin Farrell (Alexander), Angelina Jolie (Olympias), Val Kilmer (Philip), Christopher Plummer (Aristotle), Jared Leto (Hephaistion), Rosario Dawson (Roxane), Anthony Hopkins (Old Ptolemy), Jonathan Rhys Meyers (Cassander), Brian Blessed (Wrestling trainer), Tim Pigott-Smith (Omen Reader)

'There's something overbearing, almost bullying, about this abbreviated tour through a decade-long campaign, pinpointing loud, emotional moments rather than dramatically satisfying ones.' – Ian Nathan, Empire

'Sometimes stunning, ultimately stupefying epic.' – David Ansen, Newsweek

Alexander Hamilton ★

US 1931 73m bw
Warner

The life of America's 18th-century financier.

Star biopic, highly satisfying in its day.

w Julien Josephson, Maude Howell, George Arliss d John G. Adolfi ph James Van Trees

☆ George Arliss, Doris Kenyon, Montagu Love, Dudley Digges, Lionel Belmore, Ralf Harolde, Alan Mowbray

Alexander Nevsky ★★★★

USSR 1938 112m bw
Mosfilm

In 1242, Prince Alexander Nevsky defeats the invading Teutonic Knights in a battle on the ice of Lake Peipus.

A splendid historical pageant which shows the director at his most inventively pictorial and climaxes in a superb battle sequence using music instead of natural sound.

w Pyotr Pavlenko, Sergei Eisenstein d Sergei Eisenstein ph Edouard Tissé m Sergei Prokofiev ad I. Shpinel, N. Soloviov, K. Yeliseyev

☆ Nikolai Cherkassov (Prince Alexander Yaroslavich Nevsky), Nikolai Okhlopkov (Vassily Buslai), Andrei Abrikosov (Gavrilo Olexich), Dmitri Orlov (Ignat, Master Armourer), Vasili Novikov (Pavsha, Governor of Pskov)

'The picture will meet with good results wherever its political sentiments find established adherents. Otherwise it's almost nil for general appeal.' – Variety

'Superb sequences of cinematic opera that pass from pastoral to lamentation and end in a triumphal cantata.' – Georges Sadoul

'The colossus who conquered the world! The most colossal motion picture of all time!'

Alexander the Great ★

US 1956 135m Technicolor
Cinemascope
UA/Robert Rossen

The life and early death at 33 of the Macedonian warrior who conquered the entire known world.

Dour impassive epic which despite good intelligent stretches makes one long for Hollywood's usual more ruthless view of history.

wd Robert Rossen ph Robert Krasker m Mario Nascimbene ad Andrei Andreiev

☆ Richard Burton, Fredric March, Danielle Darrieux, Claire Bloom, Barry Jones, Harry Andrews, Peter Cushing, Stanley Baker, Michael Hordern, Niall MacGinnis

'Not a scene is held for a second longer than it is worth; greatness is pictured in constant dissolve.' – Alexander Walker

'Rossen has aimed for greatness and lost honourably.' – Andrew Sarris

Alexander's Ragtime Band ★★★

US 1938 106m bw
TCF (Darryl F. Zanuck, Harry Joe Brown)

Between 1911 and 1939, two songwriters vie for the affections of a rising musical comedy star.

Archetypal chronicle musical with 26 songs: well-paced, smartly made, and bursting with talent.

w Kathryn Scola, Lamar Trotti, Richard Sherman d Henry King ph Peverell Marley m/ly Irving Berlin md Alfred Newman ad Bernard Herzbrun, Boris Leven ed Barbara McLean

☆ Tyrone Power (Roger Grant), Alice Faye (Stella Kirby), Don Ameche (Charlie Dwyer), Ethel Merman (Jerry Allen), Jack Haley (Davey Lane), Jean Hersholt (Prof. Heinrich), Helen Westley (Aunt Sophie), John Carradine (Taxi Driver), Paul Hurst (Bill), Wally Vernon (Himself), Ruth Terry (Ruby), Eddie Collins (Cpl. Collins), Douglas Fowley (Snapper), Chick Chandler (Louie)

'A grand filmusical which stirs and thrills, finding response in the American heart to memories of the exciting, sentimental and patriotic moments of the past quarter of a century.' – Variety

♫ 'Alexander's Ragtime Band'; 'Everybody's Doin' It'; 'When the Midnight Choo-Choo Leaves for Alabam'; 'Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning'; 'Say It with Music'; 'A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody'; 'Blue Skies'; 'What'll I Do'; 'Easter Parade'; 'Heat Wave'.

Alfred Newman

picture; Irving Berlin (for original story); Irving Berlin (for song, 'Now It Can Be Told'); art direction; editing

Alf, Bill and Fred ★

GB 1964 8m Eastmancolor
Biographic 4 (Bob Godfrey)

A man, a duck and a dog enjoy bouncing together.

Bittersweet cartoon fable which pleases much more than its synopsis might suggest.

w Stan Hayward d Bob Godfrey

† Animation by Bob Godfrey.

The Alf Garnett Saga

GB 1972 90m colour
Columbia/Associated London Films (Ned Sherrin, Terry Glinwood)

Bigoted Alf is exasperated by his council flat, his son-in-law, and the possibility that his daughter is pregnant by a black man.

Second inflation of the TV series, Till Death Us Do Part, even cruder and less funny than the first; listlessly written and developed.

w Johnny Speight d Bob Kellett ph Nic Knowland m Georgie Fame

☆ Warren Mitchell, Dandy Nichols, Adrienne Posta, Paul Angelis, John Le Mesurier, Joan Sims, John Bird, Roy Kinnear

'One long, repetitive and unfunny diatribe.' – MFB

Alferd Packer: The Musical: see Cannibal! The Musical

Alfie ★★

GB 1966 114m Techniscope
Paramount/Sheldrake (Lewis Gilbert)

A Cockney Lothario is proud of his amorous conquests, but near-tragedy finally makes him more mature.

Garish sex comedy, an immense box-office success because of its frankness and an immaculate performance from its star.

w Bill Naughton play Bill Naughton d Lewis Gilbert ph Otto Heller m Sonny Rollins

☆ Michael Caine, Vivien Merchant, Shirley Anne Field, Millicent Martin, Jane Asher, Julia Foster, Shelley Winters, Eleanor Bron, Denholm Elliott

'A film exceptionally well made; never boring; composed of remarkable performances, scenes sharply observed and music neatly attuned.' – Dilys Powell

'Paramount thought it was a good bet because it was going to be made for 500,000 dollars, normally the sort of money spent on executives' cigar bills.' – Lewis Gilbert

picture; Bill Naughton; Michael Caine;

Vivien Merchant; title song (m Burt Bacharach, ly Hal David) ♉ Vivien Merchant

'What's it all about?'

Alfie ★

US 2004 106m DeLuxe
Paramount/Charles Shyer/Patalex

A philandering Cockney chauffeur in Manhattan learns that sex is not as free as it first appears.
Bill Naughton's original play reflected a specific time and place. This new version is rootless, free from any social realities, although it provides some amusement along the way.
w Elaine Pope, Charles Shyer play and screenplay Bill Naughton d Charles Shyer ph Ashley Rowe m Mick Jagger, David A. Stewart, John Powell pd Sophie Becher ed Padraic McKinley
☆ Jude Law (Alfie), Marisa Tomei (Julie), Omar Epps (Marlon), Nia Long (Lonette), Jane Krakowski (Dorie), Sienna Miller (Nikki), Susan Sarandon (Liz)
'Breezy, sexy romp with a conscience that reflects in obvious but interesting ways on societal changes over the intervening 38 years.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Alfie Darling

GB 1975 102m Technicolor
EMI/Signal (Dugald Rankin)

Further repetitive amorous exploits of the Cockney Lothario, now a continental truck driver.
Soft porn adventures quite unworthy of the writer-director, and tedious to sit through; the touch of tragedy at the end only makes matters worse.
wd Ken Hughes ph Ousama Rawi m Alan Price ☆ Alan Price, Jill Townsend, Paul Copley, Joan Collins, Sheila White, Annie Ross, Hannah Gordon, Rula Lenska

Alfred the Great ★

GB 1969 122m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM/Bernard Smith

In AD 871 Alfred takes over kingship from his weak elder brother.
A 'realistic' youth-oriented view of history: blood and four-letter words alternate with cliché to make a dispiriting, disunified whole, though the background detail is interesting and the battle scenes vivid.
w Ken Taylor, James R. Webb d Clive Donner ph Alex Thomson m Ray Leppard pd Michael Stringer
☆ David Hemmings (Alfred), Michael York (Guthrum), Prunella Ransome (Aelhswith), Colin Blakely (Asher), Julian Glover (Athelstan), Ian McKellen (Roger), Alan Dobie (Ethelred), Christopher Timothy (Cedric)

Alfredo Alfredo

Italy/France 1971 110m Technicolor
CIC/RPA/Rizzoli/Francoriz (Pietro Germi)

A bank clerk, determined to divorce his sexually insatiable wife, recalls his courtship and their difficult marriage.
A laboured and inane comedy of marital misunderstanding; it's possible that you need to be Italian to find it at all interesting.
w Leo Benvenuti, Piero de Bernardi, Tullio Pinelli, Pietro Germi d Pietro Germi ph Aiace Parolin m Carlo Rustichelli ad Carlo Egidi ed Sergio Montanari ☆ Dustin Hoffman, Stefania Sandrelli, Carla Gravina, Clara Colosimo, Daniele Patella
'It simply limps on and on and on to no point or purpose.' – Tom Milne, MFB
† The version released in Britain ran for 98m.

Alf's Button

GB 1930 96m bw/colour
Gaumont

A soldier has a button, which, when rubbed, summons an all-powerful genie.
Not the first version (there was one in 1920 with Leslie Henson) but the first in sound of a lively knockabout comedy. It even had a colour sequence.
w L'Estrange Fawcett play W. A. Darlington d W. P. Kellino ph Percy Strong, William Shenton ad A. L. Mazzei
☆ Jimmy Nervo, Teddy Knox, Tubby Edlin, Alf Goddard, Nora Swinburne, Polly Ward, Anton Dolin

Alf's Button Afloat ★★

GB 1938 89m bw
Gainsborough (Edward Black)

Six itinerants encounter a genie, whose granting of their wishes brings riches and embarrassment.
Archetypal music hall farce descending at moments into surrealism (the lovers are eaten by a bear). It starred the six original members of the Crazy Gang, and all concerned are on top form.
w Marriott Edgar, Val Guest, Ralph Smart novel Alf's Button by W. A. Darlington
d Marcel Varnel ph Arthur Crabtree md Louis Levy ad Vetchinsky ed R. E. Dearing, Alfred Roome ☆ Bud Flanagan, Chesney Allen, Jimmy Nervo, Teddy Knox, Charles Naughton, Jimmy Gold, Alastair Sim, Wally Patch, Peter Gawthorne

Algiers ★★

US 1938 95m bw
Walter Wanger

A romantic Casbah thief makes the mistake of falling in love.
Seminal Hollywood romantic drama based closely on a French original, Pepe le Moko; laughed at for years because of the alleged line 'Come with me to the Casbah' (which is never actually said), it holds up remarkably well in its fashion.
w John Howard Lawson, James M. Cain d John Cromwell ph James Wong Howe m Vincent Scotto, Mohammed Igorbouchen
☆ Charles Boyer, Hedy Lamarr, Sigrid Gurie, Gene Lockhart, Joseph Calleia, Alan Hale, Johnny Downs
'A quality of sustained suspense and excitement ... there is nothing makeshift about the production.' – Variety
'Few films this season, or any other, have sustained their mood more brilliantly.' – New York Times
'The general tone is that of the decent artistry we must demand and enjoy in pictures, which should someday be as respectable as books, only more near and vivid.' – Otis Ferguson
'This version is pure Hollywood, sacrificing everything to glamour, and the heavy make-up and studio lighting make it seem so artificial one can get giggly.' – New Yorker, 1977
† Remake: Casbah (qv).
♗ James Wong Howe; Charles Boyer; Gene Lockhart

'He Shook Up The World'

Ali ★

US 2001 158m DeLuxe Panavision
Columbia/Initial/Peters Entertainment/Forward Pass/Lee Caplin/Picture Entertainment/Overbrook (Jon Peters, James Lassiter, Paul Ardaji, Michael Mann, A. Kitman Ho)

Biopic of Muhammad Ali who, as Cassius Clay, became the world heavyweight boxing champion in 1964, before being stripped of his title for refusing to be drafted into the army; ten years later, he regains the title in a fight against George Foreman.
A dynamic performance from Will Smith holds together a somewhat diffuse account of the ten most significant years in Ali's boxing career, but there's too much pussy-footing around his life outside the ring.
w Stephen J. Rivele, Christopher Wilkinson, Eric Roth, Michael Mann story Gregory Allen Howard d Michael Mann
ph Emmanuel Lubezki m Lisa Gerrard, Pieter Bourke pd John Myhre ed William Goldenberg, Stephen Rivkin, Lynzee Klingman sp makeup fx: Greg Cannom
☆ Will Smith (Cassius Clay/Muhammad Ali), Jamie Foxx (Drew 'Bundini' Brown), Jon Voight (Howard Cosell), Mario Van Peebles (Malcolm X), Angelo Dundee (Ron Silver), Jeffrey Wright (Howard Bingham), Mykelti Williamson (Don King), Jada Pinkett Smith (Sonji), Nona Gaye (Belinda), Michael Michele (Veronica), Joe Morton (Chancy Eskridge), Giancarlo Esposito (Cassius Clay Sr), LeVar Burton (Martin Luther King Jr), Albert Hall (Elijah Muhammad)
'Possesses an informed, intelligent perspective and is never uninteresting to watch.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
♗ Will Smith; Jon Voight

'Wild nights of sheer delights! Burning days of bold adventure! When beauty was the booty and the prize of all was love!'

Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves ★

US 1944 87m Technicolor
Universal (Paul Malvern)

A deposed prince pretending to be a bandit regains his rightful throne.
Absurd but likeable wartime pantomime without much humour: a typical big-budget production of its studio and period.
w Edmund L. Hartmann d Arthur Lubin ph George Robinson m Edward Ward ☆ Jon Hall, Maria Montez, Scotty Beckett, Turhan Bey, Frank Puglia, Andy Devine, Kurt Katch
† Remake: Sword of Ali Baba, which over twenty years later used much of the same footage.

Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves ★

France 1954 90m Eastmancolor Films du Cyclope

Ali Baba is sent to buy a new wife for his master, and accidentally finds a thieves' treasure cave...
Sporadically amusing but finally disappointing version of the Arabian Nights (qv) story; it looks hasty.
w Jacques Becker, Marc Maurette, Maurice Griffe d Jacques Becker ph Robert Le Fèbvre m Paul Misraki
☆ Fernandel, Samia Gamal, Dieter Borsche, Henri Vilbert

'Hold on to your Turbans, folks!'

Ali Baba Goes to Town ★

US 1937 81m bw
TCF (Lawrence Schwab)

A hobo falls off a train into a film set and thinks he is back in the Arabian Nights (qv).
Rather flat star vehicle with a few compensations.
w Harry Tugend, Jack Yellen story Gene Town, Graham Baker, Gene Fowler
d David Butler ph Ernest Palmer m Louis Silvers m/ly Mack Gordon, Harry Revel ch Sammy Lee ☆ Eddie Cantor, Tony Martin, Roland Young, John Carradine, June Lang, Louise Hovick, Raymond Scott Quintet
'An elaborately produced filmusical which satirizes the New Deal policies, politicians and politics.' – Variety ♫ 'Laugh Your Way Thru Life'; 'Vote For Honest Abe'; 'Swing Is Here To Sway'; 'I've Got My Heart Set On You'
♗ Sammy Lee

'Cleaning Da Filth From Da PM's Hood.'

Ali G Indahouse

GB/US/Germany/France 2002 88m Technicolor
UIP/Working Title/Universal/StudioCanal/WT2 (Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner, Dan Mazer)

A racially confused rapper becomes a national hero after he is persuaded to become a Member of Parliament.
Occasionally amusing comedy, though closer in manner to the last Carry On movies or Benny Hill than the satirical TV outings that made Ali G a cult figure in Britain.
w Sacha Baron Cohen, Dan Mazer d Mark Mylod ph Ashley Rowe md Nick Angel pd Grenville Horner ed Paul Knight
☆ Sacha Baron Cohen (Ali G), Michael Gambon (Prime Minister), Charles Dance (David Carlton), Kellie Bright (Me Julie), Martin Freeman (Ricky C), Rhona Mitra (Kate Hedges), Barbara New (Nan), Ray Panthaki (Hassan B)
'A crude, shoddy affair.' – Observer
'An extremely silly, grossly scatological but often amusing picture.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Ali Zaoua ★

France/Morocco/Belgium 2000 colour
Millennium/Playtime/TF1/Ali'N/Alexis (Jean Cottin, Etienne Comar, Antoine Voituriez)

Three boys who live on the streets of Casablanca try to give a burial at sea to a friend, who was killed in a fight.
Tough, unsparing drama about life on the margins of existence that uses, for the most part, a cast of actual street children.
w Nathalie Saugeon, Nabil Ayouch d Nabil Ayouch ph Vincent Mathias m Krishna Levy ad Said Rais ed Jean-Robert Thomann
☆ Mounim Kbab (Kwita), Mustapha Hansali (Omar), Hicham Moussoune (Boubker), Abdelhak Zhayra (Ali Zaoua), Saïd Taghmaoui (Dib), Amal Ayouch (Ali Zaoua's mother), Mohamed Majd (Fisherman)
'Nabil Ayouch's film, though indulging an occasional weakness for whimsy, is an engaging and powerful piece of work.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Alias Betty: see Betty Fisher et Autres Histoires

Alias Bulldog Drummond: see Bulldog Jack

Alias Jesse James ★

US 1959 92m DeLuxe
Hope Enterprises (Jack Hope)

An incompetent insurance salesman sells a policy to Jesse James and has to protect his client until he can get it back.
Ho-hum star comedy saved by a climax in which Hope is protected by every cowboy star in Hollywood.
w William Bowers, D. D. Beauchamp d Norman Z. McLeod ph Lionel Lindon m Joseph J. Lilley
☆ Bob Hope, Rhonda Fleming, Wendell Corey, Jim Davis, Will Wright

Alias Jimmy Valentine

US 1928 75m bw
MGM
Crook comedy drama previously made in 1920.
This version is notable only as the first MGM sound film.
w Sarah Y. Mason, A. P. Younger d Jack Conway
☆ William Haines, Karl Dane, Lionel Barrymore

Alias 'La Gringa' ★

Peru/Spain 1991 100m colour
Perfo/TV Española/Channel 4 (Andres Malatesta, Emilio Salomon)
A criminal returns to jail to rescue the university professor who, in the middle of a riot by terrorists, saved his life.
Harsh exposé of prison life, inspired by a true story, and providing a little insight into Peruvian life and politics.
w Alberto Durant, José Watanabé, José María Salcedo d Alberto Durant ph Mario García Joya m Pochi Marambio pd Matanabé ed Gianfranco Annichini ☆ Germano Gonzales, Elsa Oliveros, Orlando Sacha, Juan Manuel Ochoa, Enrique Victoria, Gonzalo de Miguel
'Basically action for undemanding Latino auds, but on its own terms it's efficiently and briskly handled.' – Variety

Alias Mary Dow

US 1935 65m bw
Universal
A millionaire persuades a chorus girl to pose as his long-lost kidnapped daughter, to satisfy his wife.
Obvious audience-pleaser of its time.
w Gladys Unger, Rose Franken, Arthur Caesar d Kurt Neumann
☆ Ray Milland, Sally Eilers, Henry O'Neill, Katherine Alexander
'Not a bad picture ... small towns should like it best.' – Variety

'No man ever held more terrible power over women than this tall dark handsome stranger from nowhere! The shock-filled story of a man whose love was more dangerous than a loaded gun!'

Alias Nick Beal ★★★

US 1949 93m bw
Paramount (Endre Bohem)
GB title: The Contact Man
A politician is nearly corrupted by a mysterious stranger offering wealth and power.
Highly satisfactory modern version of Faust, done in gangster terms but not eschewing a supernatural explanation. Acting, photography and direction all in the right key.
w Jonathan Latimer story Mindret Lord d John Farrow ph Lionel Lindon m Franz Waxman ad Hans Dreier, Franz Bachelin ed Eda Warren
☆ Ray Milland (Nick Beal), Thomas Mitchell (Joseph Foster), Audrey Totter (Donna Allen), George Macready (Rev. Thomas Gaylord), Fred Clark (Frankie Faulkner)
'The acting is good, but the theme has been kicking around for so long that it's hard to work up much interest in it.' – John McCarten, New Yorker

Alibi ★

US 1929 90m bw
Roland West
An ex-convict marries a policeman's daughter and uses her in his plan for the perfect murder.
Early talkie drama, mostly risible now but with interesting fragments of technique and imagination.
w Roland West, C. Gardner Sullivan play Nightstick by Elaine Sterne Carrington, John Wray, J. C. Nugent d Roland West ph Ray June m Hugo Riesenfeld ad William Cameron Menzies
☆ Chester Morris, Eleanor Griffith, Regis Toomey, Mae Busch, Harry Stubbs picture; Chester Morris; William Cameron Menzies

Alibi

GB 1931 75m bw
Twickenham
Hercule Poirot proves that an apparent suicide was murder.
Tame adaptation, without the narrative gimmick of Agatha Christie's The Murder of Roger Ackroyd.
w H. Fowler Mear d Leslie Hiscott
☆ Austin Trevor, Franklin Dyall, Elizabeth Allan, J. H. Roberts, Mary Jerrold

Alibi ★

GB 1942 82m bw
Corona (Josef Somlo)
A nightclub mindreader forces the lady owner to give him a murder alibi.
Interesting but disappointing minor suspenser copied from a sharper French original.
w uncredited novel Marcel Achard d Brian Desmond Hurst ph Otto Heller m Jack Beaver ☆ Margaret Lockwood, Hugh Sinclair, James Mason, Raymond Lovell, Enid Stamp-Taylor, Hartley Power, Jane Carr, Rodney Ackland, Edana Romney, Elizabeth Welch, Olga Lindo, Muriel George
† The French film, L'Alibi, was made in 1939 by B-N Films. The girl was Jany Holt, with Erich von Stroheim as the villain and Louis Jouvet as the inspector. Pierre Chenal directed.

The Alibi ★

US 2006 90m colour
Summit/Endgame (Erik Feig, James D. Stern, Patrick Wachsberger, Paul Hellerman)
A con-man, who provides erring husbands and wives with alibis for their philandering, is hoist with his own petard.
Black farce that provides some amusement from the working out of its elaborate plot.
w Noah Hawley d Matt Checkowski, Kurt Mattila ph Enrique Chediak m Alexandre Desplat pd Jerry Fleming ed James Haygood, Amy Duddleston
☆ Steve Coogan (Ray Elliott), Rebecca Romijn (Lola Davis), Selma Blair (Adele), James Brolin (Bob Hatch), Sam Elliott (The Mormon), John Leguizamo (Hannibal), James Marsden (Wendell Hatch)

Alibi Ike ★

US 1935 73m bw
Warner (Edward Chodorov)
A baseball pitcher gets involved in all kinds of trouble.
Above average star comedy vehicle.
w William Wister Haines story Ring Lardner d Ray Enright ph Arthur Todd md Leo F. Forbstein
☆ Joe E. Brown, Olivia de Havilland, Ruth Donnelly, Roscoe Karns, William Frawley

Alice ★★★

GB/Switzerland/West Germany 1988 85m Eastmancolor
Condor-Hessisches/SRG/Film Four (Peter-Christian Fueter) original title: Neco z Alenky
A young girl follows a rabbit through a broken glass case into Wonderland.
A free, sometimes disturbing interpretation with surrealist overtones, of Lewis Carroll's masterpiece by a great animator that, with its mix of live actors and animation, comes closer than any other to conjuring the curious atmosphere of the original.
wd Jan Svankmajer novel Alice in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll ph Svatoluk Maly ad Eva Svankmerova, Jiri Blaha ed Marie Drvotova ☆ Kristyna Kohoutova (Alice)
'A film for children of a certain kind, for the quiet solitary ones who spend hours in conversation with their dolls; who invest the smallest cast-off objects with secret significance.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker

Alice ★

US 1990 106m DuArt
Orion/Jack Rollins, Charles H. Joffe
A bored housewife indulges in a fantasy life.
Moderately amusing comedy of a search for individuality.
wd Woody Allen ph Carlo di Palma pd Santo Loquasto ad Speed Hopkins ☆ Mia Farrow, Joe Mantegna, Alec Baldwin, Blythe Danner, Judy Davis, William Hurt, Keye Luke, Bernadette Peters, Cybill Shepherd, Gwen Verdon
'A likable little pic that will please his fans.' – Variety
original screenplay

Alice Adams ★★

US 1935 99m bw
RKO (Pandro S. Berman)
A social-climbing small-town girl falls in love.
Dated but interesting star vehicle with good production values.
w Dorothy Yost, Mortimer Offner, Jane Murfin novel Booth Tarkington d George Stevens ph Robert de Grasse m Max Steiner, Roy Webb ☆ Katharine Hepburn, Fred MacMurray, Evelyn Venable, Frank Albertson, Fred Stone, Ann Shoemaker, Charles Grapewin, Grady Sutton, Hedda Hopper
'Sturdy cinematic substance, virtually audience proof.' – Variety
'A nice middle-class film, as trivial as a schoolgirl's diary, and just about as pathetically true.' – C. A. Lejeune
'What was in 1922 a biting and observant novel emerges in 1935 as a bitingly satiric portrait of an era.' – Time
picture; Katharine Hepburn

Alice au Pays de Merveilles: see Alice in Wonderland (1951)

'A picture for anyone who has ever dreamed of a second chance'

Alice Doesn't Live Here Any More ★★★

US 1974 112m Technicolor
Warner (David Susskind, Audrey Maas)
A widow sets off with her young son for Monterey and a singing career.
Realistically squalid and foul-mouthed but endearing look at a slice of America today, with firm handling and excellent performances in a surprisingly old-fashioned theme.
w Robert Getchell d Martin Scorsese ph Kent L. Wakeford m various md Richard La Salle pd Toby Carr Rafelson ed Marcia Lucas
☆ Ellen Burstyn (Alice Hyatt), Alfred Lutter (Tommy Hyatt), Kris Kristofferson (David), Billy Green Bush (Donald Hyatt), Diane Ladd (Flo), Lelia Goldoni (Neighbour Bea), Jodie Foster (Audrey)
'What Scorsese has done is to rescue an American cliché from the bland, flat but much more portentous naturalism of such as Harry and Tonto and restore it to an emotional and intellectual complexity through his particular brand of baroque realism.' – Richard Combs
'Full of funny malice and breakneck vitality.' – New Yorker
'A tough weepie, redeemed by its picturesque locations and its eye for social detail.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News
† The film inspired the TV sitcom Alice (1976–85).
Ellen Burstyn
Robert Getchell; Diane Ladd picture; Robert Getchell; Ellen Burstyn; Diane Ladd

Alice et Martin ★

France 1998 124m colour
Artificial Eye/France2/France3/Vertigo/Alain Sarde
A disturbed youth moves to Paris after his father's sudden death and begins an affair with a violinist who shares a flat with his gay brother, an actor.
An Oedipal drama of frustration and redemption, insightful on the dynamic of family relationships, but not helped by the difficulty in understanding why Binoche's down-to-earth musician should be attracted to the beautiful, wimpish blank portrayed by Alexis Loret. The revelation of the reason for his psychological problems comes as no surprise.
w André Téchiné,Gilles Taurand,Olivier Assayas d André Téchiné ph Caroline Champetier, Germain Desmoulins m Philippe Sarde pd Ze Branco ed Martine Giordano cos Elisabeth Tavernier
☆ Juliette Binoche (Alice), Alexis Loret (Martin Sauvagnac), Mathieu Amalric (Benjamin Sauvagnac), Carmen Maura (Jeanine Sauvagnac), Jean-Pierre Lorit (Frederic), Marthe Villalonga (Lucie), Roschdy Zem (Robert), Pierre Maguelon (Victor Sauvagnac), Eric Kreikenmayer (François Sauvagnac)
'A richly populated, observant film that suffers, forgivably, from an excess of curiosity about the world it depicts -- a surfeit of generosity, intelligence and art.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times

Alice in the Cities

West Germany 1974 110m bw Filmverlag der Autoren original title: Alice in den Städten
A German journalist in America reluctantly escorts a small girl back to Germany.
Interesting but overlong collection of modern metaphors, occasionally reminiscent of Paper Moon.

wd Wim Wenders ph Robby Müller, Martin Schäfer m Irmin Schmid, Can ed Peter Przygodda ☆ Rüdiger Vogler, Yella Röttlander, Lisa Kreuzer, Edda Köchel

Alice in Wonderland ★★

US 1933 75m bw
Paramount (Louis D. Lighton)
Intriguing but disappointing version of the nonsense classic, keeping to the Tenniel drawings by dressing an all-star cast in masks, thereby rendering them ineffective.
w Joseph L. Mankiewicz, William Cameron Menzies novel Lewis Carroll d Norman Z. McLeod ph Henry Sharp, Bert Glennon m Dimitri Tiomkin
☆ Charlotte Henry (Alice), W. C. Fields (Humpty Dumpty), Cary Grant (Mock Turtle), Gary Cooper (White Knight), Edward Everett Horton (Mad Hatter), Edna May Oliver (Red Queen), Jack Oakie (Tweedledum), Leon Errol (Uncle), Charles Ruggles (March Hare), May Robson (Queen of Hearts), Louise Fazenda (White Queen), Ned Sparks (Caterpillar), Alison Skipworth (Duchess)
'Nothing grows out of anything else in this phantasmagoria. It's like reading a whole volume of separate four-line gags.' – Variety
'Lavishly produced, with great care given to costumes and settings and make-up, but the spirit is missing.' – New Yorker, 1977
† Ida Lupino was brought from the UK for the title role, but not used.

Alice in Wonderland ★

US 1951 75m Technicolor
Walt Disney
Fully animated cartoon version which has good moments but modernizes and Americanizes the familiar characters.
w various d Clyde Geronimi, Hamilton Luske, Wilfred Jackson m Oliver Wallace supervisor Ben Sharpsteen
☆ Featuring the voices of Kathryn Beaumont, Ed Wynn, Richard Haydn, Sterling Holloway, Jerry Colonna, Verna Felton, Bill Thompson
Oliver Wallace

Alice in Wonderland ★

USA/France/Great Britain 1951 83m Anscocolor
UGC/Rank/Lou Bunin
aka: Alice au Pays de Merveilles
Often interesting if sometimes crude version with Bunin's puppets, filmed in Nice; the simultaneous Disney cartoon version effectively kept it off the world's screens.
☆ Carol Marsh, Stephen Murray (Lewis Carroll), Pamela Brown (Queen Victoria), Felix Aylmer (Dr Liddell)

Alice, Sweet Alice: see Communion (1978)

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland ★

GB 1972 101m Eastmancolor
Todd-AO
TCF/Josef Shaftel (Derek Horne)
Live-action version which starts amiably enough but soon becomes flat and uninventive, with a star cast all at sea and tedium replacing the wit of the original.
wd William Sterling ph Geoffrey Unsworth m John Barry pd Michael Stringer ☆ Fiona Fullerton (Alice), Michael Crawford (White Rabbit), Robert Helpmann (Mad Hatter), Dudley Moore (Dormouse), Spike Milligan (Gryphon), Peter Sellers (March Hare), Dennis Price (King of Hearts), Flora Robson (Queen of Hearts), Rodney Bewes (Knave of Hearts), Peter Bull (Duchess), Michael Hordern (Mock Turtle), Ralph Richardson (Caterpillar)
Geoffrey Unsworth

Alice's Restaurant ★

US 1969 110m DeLuxe
UA/Florin (Harold Levanthal)
Folk singer Arlo Guthrie, on the verge of being drafted, gets some varied experience of life among the drop-outs of Montana, Massachusetts and New York.
Typical of the freakish, anti-Vietnam, do-as-you-please movies which splurged from Hollywood in the wake of Easy Rider, this has the minor benefits of good production values and a few jokes.
w Venable Herndon, Arthur Penn d Arthur Penn ph Michael Nebbia m/songs Arlo Guthrie ☆ Arlo Guthrie, Pat Quinn, James Broderick, Michael McClanathan, Geoff Outlaw
'A subtle, funny, tender and original movie that may not perhaps increase Arthur Penn's present high standing but will certainly do nothing to diminish it.' – Philip French, Sight and Sound
Arthur Penn

'In space, no one can hear you scream!'

Alien ★★★★

GB 1979 117m Eastmancolor
Panavision
TCF/Brandywine (Walter Hill, Gordon Carroll, David Giler)
Astronauts returning to Earth visit an apparently dead planet and are infected by a violent being which has unexpected behaviour patterns and eliminates them one by one.
Ridley Scott took the standard ingredients of a horror movie set in an old dark house, shifted them to a new gleaming spaceship and created a deliberately scarifying and highly commercial shocker: On its own terms, a classic of suspense – and art direction.
w Dan O'Bannon d Ridley Scott ph Derek Vanlint m Jerry Goldsmith pd Michael Seymour ed Terry Rawlings, Peter Weatherley sp visual fx: H. R. Giger, Carlo Rambaldi, Brian Johnson, Nick Allder, Denys Ayling chief designer H. R. Giger
☆ Tom Skerritt (Dallas), Sigourney Weaver (Ripley), John Hurt (Kane), Veronica Cartwright (Lambert), Harry Dean Stanton (Brett), Ian Holm (Ash), Yaphet Kotto (Parker)
'A sort of inverse relationship to The Thing invites unfavourable comparisons.' – Sight and Sound
'Empty bag of tricks whose production values and expensive trickery cannot disguise imaginative poverty.' – Time Out
'It was not, as its co-author admitted, a think piece. The message he intended was simple: Don't close your eyes or it will get ya.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies
† It was followed by three sequels, Aliens, Alien3 and Alien Resurrection.
†† A Region 1 and 2 DVD release includes commentary by Ridley Scott, cast and technical crew, two versions of the film with an extended one running 137m, as well as deleted scenes and storyboards etc.
visual effects (H. R. Giger, Carlo Rambaldi and others)
art direction
production design (Michael Seymour)

Alien Autopsy

Germany/US/GB 2006 95m DeLuxe
Warner/Qwerty/Ealing Studios/N1 EFP (Will Davies, Barnaby Thompson)
Two market traders reveal how they hoaxed the world with a fake autopsy of an alien.
What might have been a chirpy Ealing-style caper goes disastrously wrong due to its two indistinguishable leads (are they, perhaps, clones?) and a flashback structure that stifles any comic momentum.
w Will Davies d Jonny Campbell ph Simon Chaudoir m Murray Gold pd Grenville Horner ed Oral Norrie Ottey
☆ Ant McPartlin (Gary Shoefield), Declan Donnelly (Ray Santilli), Bill Pullman (Morgan Banner), Goetz Otto (Laszlo Voros), Morwenna Banks (Jasmine), Omid Djalili (Melik), Harry Dean Stanton (Harvey)
'An utterly dismal attempt to craft a post-modern spoof out of a 60-year-old hoax.' – James Christopher, Times

Alien Nation

US 1988 94m DeLuxe Super 35
Fox (Gale Anne Hurd, Richard Kobritz)
A detective, one of a despised minority of aliens stranded on Earth, is partnered with a bigoted human cop to solve a murder.
What begins as an interestingly oblique look at the problems of racism soon turns into a lacklustre action movie.
w Rockne S. O'Bannon d Graham Baker ph Adam Greenberg m Curt Sobel pd Jack T. Collis
☆ James Caan, Mandy Patinkin, Terence Stamp

Alien Resurrection ★ (4)

US 1997 108m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Brandywine (Bill Badalato, Gordon Carroll, David Giler, Walter Hill)
Two hundred years after being impregnated with an alien queen and killing herself to save the world, Ripley is cloned as part of an experiment to bring the creatures back to life.
Stylish, occasionally impressive movie that all too soon settles into familiar routine.
w Joss Whedon d Jean-Pierre Jeunet ph Darius Khondji m John Frizzell pd Nigel Phelps ed Herve Schneid
☆ Sigourney Weaver, Winona Ryder, Ron Perlman, Dominique Pinon, Michael Wincott, Dan Hedaya, Gary Dourdan, Kim Flowers, J. E. Freeman, Brad Dourif
'It's a shame that this effort – though far more coherent, entertaining and exciting than Alien³ – should be the first film in the series to be almost anonymous.' – Kim Newman, Sight and Sound † Sigourney Weaver was reportedly paid $11m for her role. The film cost $80m and took around $48m at the US box-office and more than $75m elsewhere.

Alien vs Predator: see AVP: Alien vs Predator

'The Bitch Is Back.'

Alien³

US 1992 115m Rank Colour
Panavision
TCF/Brandywine (Gordon Carroll, David Giler, Walter Hill)
Ripley crash-lands on a mining planet inhabited by convicts and discovers that she has brought an alien with her.
Grim, grey sequel that struggles, and fails, to add something new to the now familiar story.
w David Giler, Walter Hill, Larry Ferguson story Vincent Ward d David Fincher ph Alex Thomson m Elliot Goldenthal pd Norman Reynolds ed Terry Rawlings sp George Gibbs, Richard Edlund
☆ Sigourney Weaver, Charles S. Dutton, Charles Dance, Paul McGann, Brian Glover, Ralph Brown, Danny Webb, Christopher John Fields, Lance Henriksen
'A muddled effort offering little more than visual splendor to recommend it.' – Variety
'In space, no one can hear you snore.' – Andy Klein, Los Angeles Reader
'A lot of people hated Alien³. But no one hated it more than I did.' – David Fincher
visual effects

The Alienator

US 1989 92m colour
Amazing/American Independent/Majestic (Jeffrey C. Hogue)
An alien outlaw escapes to Earth, pursued by an indestructible android.
Any resemblance to Predator and The Terminator is presumably deliberate, and merely points up the general ineptitude on display.
w Paul Garson d Fred Olen Ray ph Gary Graver m Chuck Cirino ad Lindah Lauderbaugh ed Chris Roth
☆ Jan-Michael Vincent, John Phillip Law, Ross Hagen, Dyana Ortelli, Dawn Wildsmith, P. J. Soles, Jesse Dabson

Aliens ★

US 1986 137m DeLuxe
TCF/Brandywine (Gale Anne Hurd)
The sole survivor of the space team in Alien goes back with another team to the mystery planet, and finds more monsters.
Frightening but mechanical sequel with none of the half-assed poetry of the original.
w James Cameron, Walter Hill, David Giler d James Cameron ph Adrian Biddle m James Horner pd Peter Lamont ed Ray Lovejoy
☆ Sigourney Weaver, Carrie Henn, Michael Biehn, Paul Reiser
'Audiences will be riveted to their seats with drooling dread in anticipation of the next horrifying attack.' – Variety
'I'm giving the movie a high rating for its skill and professionalism, and because it does the job it says it will do. I am also advising you not to eat before you see it.' – Roger Ebert
† A special edition was released on video running for 154m.
special visual effects (Robert Skotak, Stan Winston, John Richardson, Suzanne Benson) music; production design; Ray Lovejoy; Sigourney Weaver

Alive

US 1992 127m Technicolor
UIP/Paramount (Robert Watts, Kathleen Kennedy)
Members of a South American rugby team whose plane crash-lands on an inaccessible mountain-top are forced to eat their dead in order to survive.

Efficient re-telling of a true story, but one that adds little to the sum of human knowledge or happiness.
w John Patrick Shanley book Piers Paul Read d Frank Marshall ph Peter James m James Newton Howard pd Norman Reynolds ed Michael Kahn, William Goldenberg
☆ Ethan Hawke, Vincent Spano, Josh Hamilton, Bruce Ramsay, John Haymes Newton, David Kriegel, Kevin Breznahan, Sam Behrens
'Neither the exploitative gross-out teens might be looking for nor quite the rousing adventure it needs to be.' – Variety
† In 1976 the story was filmed in Mexico by director Rene Cardona as Survive! (qv).

Alive and Kicking ★
GB 1958 94m bw
ABP (Victor Skutezky)
Three old ladies escape from a home to an Irish island.
Agreeable minor comedy, a showcase for its elderly but vigorous stars.
w Denis Cannan d Cyril Frankel ph Gilbert Taylor m Philip Green ☆ Sybil Thorndike, Kathleen Harrison, Estelle Winwood, Stanley Holloway, Joyce Carey, Eric Pohlmann, Colin Gordon

Alive and Kicking: see Indian Summer (1993)

Alive and Kicking ★ ④
GB 1996 99m Rank Colour
Film Four/Channel 4 (Martin Pope)
An HIV-positive ballet dancer, in a dance troupe whose numbers are dwindling because of AIDS, has problems at work and at home, in his relationship with an older man.
A sometimes witty and engaging movie about loss and love, though its feel-good ending is unconvincing.
w Martin Sherman d Nancy Meckler ph Chris Seager m Peter Salem pd Cecelia Brereton ed Rodney Holland
☆ Jason Flemyng, Anthony Sher, Dorothy Tutin, Anthony Higgins, Bill Nighy, Philip Voss, Diane Parish, Aiden Waters, Natalie Roles
'Both watchable and moving, even if it falls into the by now well-worn category of gay suffering.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'The most provocative picture of the year!'

All About Eve ★★★★
US 1950 138m bw
TCF (Darryl F. Zanuck)
An ageing Broadway star suffers from the hidden menace of a self-effacing but secretly ruthless and ambitious young actress.
A basically unconvincing story with thin characters is transformed by a screenplay scintillating with savage wit and a couple of waspish performances into a movie experience to treasure.
wd Joseph L. Mankiewicz ph Milton Krasner m Alfred Newman ad Lyle Wheeler, George Davis ed Barbara McLean
☆ Bette Davis (Margo Channing), George Sanders (Addison de Witt), Anne Baxter (Eve), Celeste Holm (Karen Richards), Thelma Ritter (Birdie), Gary Merrill (Bill Sampson), Hugh Marlowe (Lloyd Richards), Gregory Ratoff (Max Fabian), Marilyn Monroe (Miss Caswell), Barbara Bates (Phoebe), Walter Hampden (Speaker at dinner)
MARGO: 'Fasten your seat belts, it's going to be a bumpy night!'
ADDISON: 'That I should want you at all suddenly strikes me as the height of improbability ... you're an improbable person, Eve, but so am I. We have that in common. Also a contempt for humanity, an inability to love or be loved, insatiable ambition – and talent. We deserve each other.'
BIRDIE: 'The bed looks like a dead animal act.'
ADDISON: 'That's all television is, dear – just auditions.'
BIRDIE: 'What a story! Everything but the bloodhounds snappin' at her rear end!'
ADDISON: 'I have lived in the theatre as a Trappist monk lives in his faith. In it I toil not, neither do I spin. I am a critic and a commentator. I am essential to the theatre – as ants to a picnic, as the boll weevil to a cotton field.'
'The wittiest, the most devastating, the most adult and literate motion picture ever made that had anything to do with the New York Stage.' – Leo Mishkin
'The dialogue and atmosphere are so peculiarly remote from life that they have sometimes been mistaken for art.' – Pauline Kael, 1968
'Plenty of surface cynicism, but no detachment, no edge and no satire. Boiled down it is a plush backstage drama.' – Richard Winnington
'Long, but continuously, wonderfully entertaining in a way I had almost forgotten was possible for films.' – Richard Mallett, Punch
'Someone remarked of this witty, exaggerated, cruel and yet wildly funny film that the secret of its success was the extreme bad taste shown throughout by all concerned (though I hope they didn't mean to include Milton Krasner's tactful camerawork in this).' – Basil Wright, 1972
'The picture seemed long – though it was not by today's standards of length – and the crispness of the dialogue was not matched by equally crisp editing.' – Hollis Alpert, 1962
† The idea for the film came from a short story, 'The Wisdom of Eve', by Mary Orr.
†† A Region 1 special edition DVD includes commentary by Celeste Holm, Christopher Mankiewicz and Kenneth Geist, and interviews with Bette Davis and Ann Baxter.
picture; Joseph L. Mankiewicz (as writer); Joseph L. Mankiewicz (as director); George Sanders Milton Krasner; Alfred Newman; Bette Davis; Anne Baxter; Celeste Holm; Thelma Ritter; art direction; editing
BAFTA picture

All About Lily Chou-Chou ⑥
Japan 2001 146m colour
ICA/Rockwell Eyes (Naoki Hashimoto)
original title: Riri Shushu No Subete
A teenager escapes from his school life of being bullied by becoming an obsessive fan of a pop singer.
Over-extended, fuzzily-shot movie with no narrative impetus, but taking in teenage rape and prostitution along its wandering way.
wd Shunji Iwai ph Noboru Shinoda m Takeshi Kobayashi ad Noboru Ishida ed Shunji Iwai ☆ Hayato Ichihara (Yuichi Hasumi), Shugo Oshinari (Shusuke Hoshino), Ayumi Ito (Yoko Kuno), Yu Aoi (Shiori Tsuda)
'It's so enigmatic, oblique and meandering that it's like coded religious texts that requires monks to decipher.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times
'Mesmerizing: some of its plaintiveness could make you weep.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

All About My Mother: see Todo Sobre Mi Madre

All Ashore
US 1952 80m Technicolor
Columbia (Jonie Taps)
Three sailors on shore leave work their passage to Catalina.
Very lightweight musical, no rival for On the Town.
w Blake Edwards, Richard Quine d Richard Quine ph Charles Lawton Jnr m Morris Stoloff, George Duning ly Robert Wells
☆ Mickey Rooney, Dick Haymes, Ray McDonald, Peggy Ryan, Barbara Bates, Jody Lawrance

All at Sea: see Barnacle Bill

All Coppers Are...
GB 1972 87m colour
Rank/Peter Rogers (George H. Brown)
A crook and a cop both fancy the same girl.
Pointlessly titled lowlife melodrama with no style whatever; any episode of Z Cars would be vastly preferable.
w Allan Prior d Sidney Hayers
☆ Nicky Henson, Martin Potter, Julia Foster, Ian Hendry

All Creatures Great and Small ★
GB 1974 92m Eastmancolor
EMI/Venedon (David Susskind, Duane Bogie)
The pre-war Yorkshire life of a country vet.
Simple-minded popular entertainment of a long-forgotten kind, oddly sponsored by American TV in the shape of Readers' Digest and the Hallmark Hall of Fame.
w Hugh Whitemore novel James Herriot d Claude Whatham ph Peter Suschitzky m Wilfred Josephs
☆ Anthony Hopkins, Simon Ward, Lisa Harrow, Freddie Jones, Brian Stirner, T. P. McKenna, Brenda Bruce, John Collin † 1976 sequel: It Shouldn't Happen to a Vet.

All Dogs Go to Heaven
Eire 1989 85m Technicolor
Rank/Sullivan Bluth/Goldcrest/Don Bluth, Gary Goldman, John Pomeroy
A dead dog returns to Earth to seek revenge on the vicious gangster dog who had him killed.
Skilful animation goes to waste in a confused and confusing narrative.
w David N. Weiss d Dan Kuenster, Gary Goldman m Ralph Burns m/ly Charles Strouse, T. J. Kuenster, Al Kasha/Joel Hirschhorn/Michael Lloyd pd Don Bluth, Larry Leker
☆ Featuring the voices of Burt Reynolds, Vic Tayback, Judith Barsi, Dom DeLuise, Loni Anderson, Melba Moore, Charles Nelson Reilly

All Dogs Go to Heaven 2
US 1996 82m colour
MGM (Paul Sabella, Jonathan Dern, Kelly Ward, Mark Young)
Two dogs are despatched from heaven to rescue Gabriel's trumpet.
Tame sequel, slow-moving, unexciting and unlikely to set any tails wagging.
w Arne Olsen, Kelly Ward, Mark Young d Paul Sabella, Larry Leker m Mark Watters m/ly Barry Mann, Cynthia Weil ad Deane Taylor ed Tony Garber ☆ Featuring the voices of: Ernest Borgnine, Sheena Easton, Bebe Neuwirth, Charlie Sheen, George Hearn, Dom DeLuise, Wallace Shawn, Adam Wylie 'Won't be bow-wowing them at the box-office.' – Variety

All Fall Down ★
US 1962 111m bw Panavision
MGM (John Houseman)
A young man reveres his ne'er-do-well elder brother but determines to shoot him when he causes a girl's death.
Another gallery of middle American failures, competently portrayed by a writer and actors very practised at this sort of thing.
w William Inge novel James Leo Herlihy d John Frankenheimer ph Lionel Lindon m Alex North ☆ Warren Beatty, Brandon de Wilde, Angela Lansbury, Karl Malden, Eva Marie Saint
'That strange area of nostalgic Americana where the familiar is the Freudian grotesque.' – New Yorker, 1982

All for Mary ★
GB 1955 82m Eastmancolor
Rank/Paul Soskin
Two rivals for the hand of the pretty daughter of a Swiss hotelier are struck down by chicken pox and cared for by the old nanny of one of them.
Simple-minded farce in which two grown men quail like children before a forceful old lady; on the strength of the latter characterization and a few funny lines the original play was a considerable West End success.
w Peter Blackmore, Paul Soskin play Harold Brooke, Kay Bannerman d Wendy Toye ph Reg Wyer m Robert Farnon
☆ Kathleen Harrison, Nigel Patrick, David Tomlinson, Jill Day, David Hurst, Leo McKern

All Good Citizens: see All My Good Countrymen

All Hands on Deck
US 1961 98m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Oscar Brodney)
Romantic and farcical adventures of sailors on leave.
Tired musical comedy romp with a second team cast.
w Jay Sommars novel Donald R. Morris d Norman Taurog ph Leo Tover m Cyril Mockridge m/ly Jay Livingston, Ray Evans ☆ Pat Boone, Buddy Hackett, Dennis O'Keefe, Barbara Eden, Warren Berlinger, Gale Gordon, Joe E. Ross

All I Desire
US 1953 79m bw
U-I (Ross Hunter)
A woman who had deserted her husband and family for a life on the stage returns for her daughter's graduation and is reconciled.
Resilient star melodrama with all stops out.
w James Gunn, Robert Blees d Douglas Sirk ph Carl Guthrie md Joseph Gershenson ad Alexander Golitzen, Bernard Herzbrun ed Milton Carruth
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Richard Carlson, Lyle

Bettger, Maureen O'Sullivan, Richard Long, Lori Nelson

'How Far Would You Go To Make A Wish Come True?'

All I Want For Christmas

US 1991 92m Technicolor
Paramount (Marykay Powell)

The Christmas wish of two children is that their divorced parents should get together again.

Dim comedy that even the season of good-will cannot make palatable.

w Thom Eberhardt, Richard Kramer d Robert Lieberman ph Robbie Greenberg m Bruce Broughton pd Herman Zimmerman ed Richard Berger, Dean Goodhill

☆ Ethan Randall, Thora Birch, Harley Jane Kozak, Jamey Sheridan, Lillian Brooks, Lauren Bacall

All in a Night's Work

US 1961 94m Technicolor
Paramount/Hal B. Wallis-Joseph Hazen

A publishing heir falls for a girl he suspects of having been his uncle's mistress.

Unpolished and not very amusing comedy which falters after an intriguing start.

w Edmund Beloin, Maurice Richlin, Sidney Sheldon d Joseph Anthony ph Joseph LaShelle m André Previn

☆ Shirley MacLaine, Dean Martin, Charles Ruggles, Cliff Robertson, Norma Crane, Gale Gordon, Jerome Cowan, Jack Weston

'Tame and aimless sex-and-big-business comedy.' – MFB

'She Longed To Be Remembered ... By A Man Who Wanted To Forget'

All Men Are Mortal

GB/Netherlands/France 1995 90m colour
Warner/Nova/Sigma/Rio (Rudolph Wichmann, Matthias Van Heijningen)

A successful actress ambitious for immortality begins an affair with a 700-year-old prince who cannot die.

A depressingly dull fantasy, with a cast that appears understandably unhappy and lost amid the trappings of existentialist Paris.

w Olwen Wymark, Ate de Jong, Stephen Gaydos novel Simone de Beauvoir d Ate de Jong ph Bruno de Keyzer m Michael Gibbs, Simon Fisher Turner pd Ben van Os ed Nicolas Gaster

☆ Stephen Rea, Irène Jacob, Marianne Sägebrecht, Colin Salmon, Derek de Lint, John Nettles, Maggie O'Neill, Chiara Mastroianni

'It has, and unerringly combines, all the ingredients for disaster.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent

All Mine To Give ★

US 1956 102m Technicolor RKOscope
RKO (Sam Wiesenthal)
GB title: The Day They Gave Babies Away

In 1856, a pioneer couple in Wisconsin train their children to carry on the family after their own deaths.

Weird sentimental sob story, even odder under its English title. Surprisingly, some of it works quite well.

w Dale and Katherine Eunson (apparently about their own ancestors) d Allen Reisner ph William Skall m Max Steiner

☆ Glynis Johns, Cameron Mitchell, Patty McCormack, Rex Thompson, Ernest Truex, Hope Emerson, Alan Hale

'A strong mood of folksy western reminiscence.' – MFB

All My Good Countrymen ★★

Czechoslovakia 1968 126m colour
Filmové Studio Barrandov (Jaroslav Jilovec) original title: Všichni Dobří Rodáci
aka: All Good Citizens

Life and death among seven friends caught in the turmoil following the Second World War and the rise of the Communist party.

Lyrical and moving account of political expediency and corruption and the human sacrifice it entails. Awarded the best director prize at the Cannes Film Festival in 1969, it was then banned by the Czech government and its director went into exile.

wd Vojtěch Jasný ph Jaroslav Kučera m Svatoplick Havelka ed Oldřich Mach

☆ Vlastimil Brodský, Radoslav Brzobohatý, Vladimir Mensik, Waldemar Matuška, Drahomira Hofmanová, Pavel Pavlovský

All My Sons ★

US 1948 94m bw
U-I (Chester Erskine)

A young man establishes that his father sold defective airplanes during the war.

Heady family melodrama from a taut and topical stage play. The film is well-meaning but artificial and unconvincing.

w Chester Erskine play Arthur Miller d Irving Reis ph Russell Metty m Leith Stevens

☆ Edward G. Robinson, Burt Lancaster, Mady Christians, Howard Duff

All Neat in Black Stockings

GB 1969 99m Eastmancolor
Anglo Amalgamated/Miton (Leon Clore)

Sex adventures of an amorous window cleaner.

Modish comedy drama with surface entertainment of a sort, but no depth.

w Jane Gaskell, Hugh Whitemore d Christopher Morahan ph Larry Pizer m Robert Cornford

☆ Victor Henry, Susan George, Jack Shepherd, Anna Cropper, Clare Kelly, Terence de Marney

All Night ★

US 1918 57m approx bw silent
Bluebird Films

A bright young entrepreneur throws a dinner for would-be investors.

Theatrical farce, with most characters pretending to be what they're not, this must have worked better on the stage but by all accounts did pretty well on film.

w Fred Myton d Paul Powell

☆ Rudolph Valentino, Carmel Myers, Charles Dorian, Mary Warren

All Night Long ★

GB 1961 95m bw
Rank/Bob Roberts (Michael Relph, Basil Dearden)

Because of rumour set about by a jealous rival, a jazz trumpeter at an all-night party tries to strangle his wife.

Cheeky updating of Othello with jazz accompaniment, played a shade too grimly by an excellent cast. An interesting misfire. The soundtrack features jazz musicians Dave Brubeck, Charles Mingus, Tubby Hayes and John Dankworth.

w Nel King, Paul Jarrico d Basil Dearden ph Ted Scaife m Philip Green

☆ Patrick McGoohan, Richard Attenborough, Keith Michell, Betsy Blair, Marti Stevens, Paul Harris, Bernard Braden

† Because Paul Jarrico was a blacklisted writer, the film's credited writers Nel King and Peter Achilles.

'She's got a way with men. And she's getting away with it...'

All Night Long

US 1981 87m Technicolor
Universal (Leonard Goldberg, Jerry Weintraub)

The wife of the night manager of a supermarket has a hyperactive sex life.

Curiously misjudged and outdated farce which offers very few laughs.

w W. D. Richter d Jean-Claude Tramont ph Philip Lathrop m Ira Newborn, Richard Hazard pd Peter Jamison

☆ Barbra Streisand, Gene Hackman, Diane Ladd, Dennis Quaid, Kevin Dobson, William Daniels, Ann Doran

'Neither screenplay nor direction seem very clear what they're trying to say, and large chunks of it make no sense at all.' – Daily Mail

'There are two kinds of women, but only one kind of love!'

All of Me

US 1934 70m bw
Paramount (Louis Lighton)

An engineering professor on his way to Boulder Dam finds his life affected by the problems of a criminal.

Confused and uninteresting romantic melodrama with a good cast all at sea.

w Sidney Buchman, Thomas Mitchell play Chrysalis by Rose Porter d James Flood ph Victor Milner m/ly Ralph Rainger, Leo Robin

☆ Fredric March, Miriam Hopkins, George Raft, Helen Mack, Nella Walker, William Collier Jnr, Gilbert Emery, Blanche Friderici, Edgar Kennedy

'The most startling glorification of criminals that even the movies have ever dared.' – New York Sun

'The gags aren't thought out visually in terms of the L.A. locations, and the film has the bland ugliness of sitcoms.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

All of Me

US 1984 91m Technicolor
Thorn-EMI/Kings Road/Universal (Stephen Friedman)

A guru accidentally transfers a woman's soul after death into her lawyer's body.

Curiously vulgar sitcom with a familiar team trying and failing to go one better on The Man With Two Brains.

w Phil Alden Robinson novel Me Two by Ed Davis d Carl Reiner ph Richard H. Kline m Patrick Williams pd Edward Carfagno ed Bud Molin

☆ Steve Martin, Lily Tomlin, Victoria Tennant, Madolyn Smith, Dana Elcar

All or Nothing ★★

GB/France 2002 128m colour
UGC/Thin Man (Simon Channing Williams, Alain Sarde)

Couples living on a poor, South London housing estate have problems with their children and each other.

Glum portrait of people with an absence of love in their lives. The performaces capture the downtrodden humanity of the characters.

wd Mike Leigh ph Dick Pope m Andrew Dickson pd Eve Stewart ed Lesley Walker

☆ Timothy Spall (Phil Bassett), Lesley Manville (Penny Bassett), Alison Garland (Rachel Bassett), James Corden (Rory Bassett), Ruth Sheen (Maureen), Marion Bailey (Carol), Paul Jesson (Ron), Sally Hawkins (Samantha)

'Just as the movie begins to break free of its sorrow-swamped moorings, the scenes grow longer, more maudlin, and more stage-bound.' – David Edlestein, Slate

'An exhilarating movie about sadness and renewal.' – Michael Sragow, Baltimore Sun

All Over Me (5)

US 1997 90m colour
Medusa/Slam/Baldini (Dolly Hall)

Two teenage girls begin to explore their sexuality and their emergence into an adult world of confusion and violence.

A drab little adolescent drama, one of those movies that keeps nudging its audience in the ribs to emphasize its own sensitivity.

w Sylvia Sichel d Alex Sichel ph Joe DeSalvo m Miki Navazio pd Amy Beth Silver ed Sabine Hoffman

☆ Alison Folland (Claude), Tara Subkoff (Ellen), Cole Hauser (Mark), Wilson Cruz (Jesse), Ann Dowd (Anne), Shawn Hatosy (Gus)

'This gritty drama is so rich in ideas that it goes beyond being a coming-out or even a lesbian-themed story ... a gem. It is rare for an American film to portray with such delicacy, subtlety and candor the complex processes of coming of age.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

All Over the Town ★

GB 1949 88m bw
Rank/Wessex (Ian Dalrymple)

Two reporters revivify a West of England local newspaper, and expose local corruption.

Fresh, agreeable romantic comedy on sub-Ealing lines.

w Derek Twist and others d Derek Twist ph C. M. Pennington-Richards m Temple Abady

☆ Norman Wooland, Sarah Churchill, Fabia Drake, Cyril Cusack, James Hayter

All Over Town

US 1937 62m bw
Republic

A pair of vaudevillians with a trained seal save a theatre on the skids.

Routine knockabout comedy.

w Jack Townley, Jerome Chodorov d James Horne

☆ Ole Olsen, Chic Johnson, Mary Howard, Harry Stockwell, James Finlayson, Franklin Pangborn

All Quiet on the Western Front ★★★★

US 1930 130m approx bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

In 1914, a group of German teenagers volunteer for action on the Western Front, but they become disillusioned, and none of them survives.

A landmark of American cinema and Universal's biggest and most serious undertaking until the sixties, this highly emotive war film with its occasional outbursts of bravura direction fixed in millions of minds the popular image of what it was like in the trenches, even more so than Journey's End which had shown the Allied viewpoint. Despite dated moments, it retains its overall power and remains a great pacifist work. Milestone's direction is reminiscent of Eisenstein and Lang.

w Lewis Milestone, Maxwell Anderson, Del Andrews, George Abbott novel Erich Maria Remarque d Lewis Milestone ph Arthur Edeson m David Broekman ad Charles D.

Hall, William R. Schmidt ed Milton Carruth, Edgar Adams
☆ Lew Ayres (Paul Baumer), Louis Wolheim (Katczinsky), Slim Summerville (Tjaden), John Wray (Himmelstoss), Raymond Griffith (Gerard Duval), Russell Gleason (Muller), Ben Alexander (Kemmerick), Beryl Mercer (Mrs Baumer)
TJADEN: 'Me and the Kaiser, we are both fighting. The only difference is, the Kaiser isn't here.'
KATCZINSKY: 'At the next war let all the Kaisers, Presidents and Generals and diplomats go into a big field and fight it out first among themselves. That will satisfy us and keep us at home.'
PAUL: 'We live in the trenches out there. We fight. We try not to be killed, but sometimes we are. That's all.'
'A magnificent cinematic equivalent of the book ... to Mr Milestone goes the credit of effecting the similitude in united and dynamic picture terms. The sound and image mediums blend as one, as a form of artistic expression that only the motion screen can give.' – National Board of Review
'Nothing passed up for the niceties; nothing glossed over for the women. Here exhibited is war as it is, butchery. The League of Nations could make no better investment than to buy up the master-print, reproduce it in every language to be shown to every nation every year until the word war is taken out of the dictionaries.' – Variety
'A trenchant and imaginative audible picture ... most of the time the audience was held to silence by its realistic scenes.' – New York Times † ZaSu Pitts originally played the role of Mrs Baumer in the film. When preview audiences, used to seeing her in comedies, were confused by her performance, her scenes were reshot with Beryl Mercer in the part.
picture; Lewis Milestone (as director)
Lewis Milestone, Maxwell Anderson, Del Andrews, George Abbott; Arthur Edeson

'Together again ... surpassing their performances in "Magnificent Obsession"'

All that Heaven Allows

US 1955 89m Technicolor
U-I (Ross Hunter)

A sad widow falls in love with the gardener at her winter home, and marries him despite local prejudice.

Standard tearjerker in the tradition of Magnificent Obsession, reuniting the same stars, producer and director in the same rich musical and photographic sauce.

w Peg Fenwick d Douglas Sirk ph Russell Metty m Frank Skinner ☆ Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson, Agnes Moorehead, Conrad Nagel, Virginia Grey, Charles Drake
'As laboriously predictable as it is fatuously unreal.' – MFB

All That Jazz ★★★

US 1979 123m Technicolor
COL/TCF (Robert Alan Aurthur, Daniel Melnick)

A stage musical director pushes himself too hard, and dies of a surfeit of wine, women and work.

Self-indulgent, semi-autobiographical tragi-comic extravaganza complete with heart operations and a recurring angel of death. Flashes of brilliant talent make it a must for Fosse fans.

w Robert Alan Aurthur, Bob Fosse d Bob Fosse ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Ralph Burns pd Philip Rosenberg, Tony Walton ed Alan Heim
☆ Roy Scheider (Joe Gideon), Jessica Lange (Angelique), Ann Reinking (Kate Jagger), Leland Palmer (Audrey Paris), Ben Vereen (O'Connor Flood), Cliff Gorman (David Newman)
'Egomaniacal, wonderfully choreographed, often compelling ... more an art item than a broad commercial prospect.' – Variety
'An improbable mixture of crass gags, song 'n' dance routines and open heart surgery. Not for the squeamish.' – Time Out
'By the end I felt I'd learned more about Fosse than I actually cared to know.' – Daily Mail
'High cholesterol hokum. Enjoyable, but probably not good for you.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker art direction; editing; musical adaptation; costume design (Albert Wolsky) picture; Bob Fosse; Roy Scheider; Giuseppe Rotunno; script cinematography; editing; sound

All that Money Can Buy ★★★★

US 1941 106m bw
RKO/William Dieterle (Charles L. Glett)

aka: The Devil and Daniel Webster
aka: Daniel and the Devil; Here Is a Man

A hard-pressed farmer gives in to the Devil's tempting, but is saved from the pit by a famous lawyer's pleading at his 'trial'.

A brilliant Germanic Faust set in 19th-century New Hampshire and using historical figures, alienation effects, comedy asides and the whole cinematic box of tricks which Hollywood had just learned again through Citizen Kane. A magic act in more ways than one.

w Dan Totheroh story The Devil and Daniel Webster by Stephen Vincent Benet d William Dieterle ph Joseph August m Bernard Herrmann ad Van Nest Polglase ed Robert Wise sp Vernon L. Walker
☆ Walter Huston (Mr Scratch), James Craig (Jabez Stone), Anne Shirley (Mary Stone), Simone Simon (Belle), Edward Arnold (Daniel Webster), Jane Darwell (Ma Stone), Gene Lockhart (Squire Slossum), John Qualen (Miser Stevens), H. B. Warner (Justice Hawthorne)
MR SCRATCH: 'A soul. A soul is nothing. Can you see it, smell it, touch it? No. Think of it – this soul – your soul – a nothing, against seven whole years of good luck! You will have money and all that money can buy.'
'Some of those in the movie industry who saw it restively called it a dog; but some of them cried it was another catapult hurling the cinema up to its glorious destiny.' – Cecilia Ager
Bernard Herrmann
Walter Huston

All the Brothers Were Valiant ★

US 1953 94m Technicolor
MGM (Pandro S. Berman)

Rivalry between brothers on a whaling schooner.

Remake of a silent melodrama with predictable vengefulness and formula heroism, capably but unmemorably portrayed.

w Harry Brown novel Ben Ames Williams d Richard Thorpe ph George Folsey m Miklos Rozsa
☆ Stewart Granger, Robert Taylor, Ann Blyth, Betta St John, Keenan Wynn, James Whitmore, Kurt Kasznar, Lewis Stone
George Folsey

All the Fine Young Cannibals

US 1960 122m Metrocolor Cinemascope
MGM/Avon (Pandro S. Berman)

The son of a country clergyman loves the daughter of another clergyman; they both find the realities of life in New York a horrid shock.

The glum joys of sex and dope in the big city are revealed in this boring rather than daring farrago which is not even unintentionally funny.

w Robert Thom novel The Bixby Girls by Rosamond Marshall d Michael Anderson ph William H. Daniels m Jeff Alexander
☆ Robert Wagner, Natalie Wood, Pearl Bailey, Susan Kohner, George Hamilton, Jack Mullaney, Onslow Stevens, Anne Seymour

All the King's Horses

US 1935 87m bw
Paramount

A Hollywood star revisiting his native Langenstein turns out to be a double of the king, and finds himself romancing the queen.

Operetta-style entertainment grafted onto the plot of The Prisoner of Zenda; by no means unacceptable even now.

w Frank Tuttle, Frederick Stephani play Lawrence Clark, Max Giersberg d Frank Tuttle ch LeRoy Prinz
☆ Carl Brisson, Mary Ellis, Edward Everett Horton, Eugene Pallette, Katherine de Mille
LeRoy Prinz

'He thought he had the world by the tail – till it exploded in his face, with a bullet attached!'

All the King's Men ★★★

US 1949 109m bw
Columbia (Robert Rossen)

An honest man from a small town is elected mayor and then governor, but power corrupts him absolutely and he ruins his own life and those of his friends before being assassinated.

Archetypal American political melodrama based on the life of southern senator Huey Long. The background is well sketched in and there are excellent performances, but the overall narrative is occasionally flabby.

w Robert Rossen novel Robert Penn Warren d Robert Rossen ph Burnett Guffey m Louis Gruenberg ad Sturges Carne ed Robert Parrish, Al Clark ☆ Broderick Crawford (Willie Stark), John Ireland (Jack Burden), Mercedes McCambridge (Sadie Burke), Joanne Dru (Anne Stanton), John Derek (Tom Stark), Anne Seymour (Lucy Stark), Shepperd Strudwick (Adam Stanton)
'More conspicuous for scope and worthiness of intention than for inspiration.' – Gavin Lambert
'The film is like one of those lifeless digests, designed for people who cannot spare the time to read whole books. Perhaps that accounts for its popularity.' – Lindsay Anderson
'A superb pictorialism which perpetually crackles and explodes.' – Bosley Crowther
'Realism comes from within as well as without and the core of meaning that might have made this film a step forward from Boomerang does not exist amid all the courageous camera-work.' – Richard Winnington
'Broderick Crawford's Willie Stark might just make you feel better about the President you've got ... By no means a great film, but it moves along.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
picture; Broderick Crawford; Mercedes McCambridge
Robert Rossen (as writer); Robert Rossen (as director); John Ireland; editing

'Time brings all things to light.'

All the King's Men ★ ②

US 2006 127m
Sony/Phoenix/VIP Medienfonds/Risng Star (Mike Medavoy, Arnold W. Messer, Ken Lemberger, Steven Zaillian)

A Louisiana state governor who gained office by appealing to impoverished rural voters faces impeachment for corruption. A journalist helps him plot his survival.

A disappointment for anyone familiar with Robert Penn Warren's great political novel or Robert Rossen's 1949 film version (qv) – and a baffling enigma for those who are not. Writer-director Zaillian, updating the story to 1954, jettisons much of his characters' background as well as the distinctive flavour of Louisiana – especially its nod-and-a-wink political deal-making. The film was shot in the state, and many characters' accents are authentic, often to the point of incomprehensibility. But the real Louisiana remains elusive. Sean Penn tries mightily as Willie Stark, righteous populist turned demagogue, but Jude Law's low-wattage delivery as his newspaperman sidekick from a privileged family makes the deep bond between them hard to fathom. A swelling score and mock-Gothic interiors constantly suggest something significant is occurring, but quite what is not always clear. The film's release was delayed for months amid rumours that it might be embarrassing to the Bush administration. Yet its failure to chime with contemporary political themes is almost eerie.

wd Steven Zaillian novel Robert Penn Warren ph Pawel Edelman m James Horner pd Patrizia Von Brandenstein ad Gary N. Baugh ed Wayne Wahrman
☆ Sean Penn (Willie Stark), Jude Law (Jack Burden), Kate Winslet (Anne Stanton), James Gandolfini (Tiny Duffy), Mark Ruffalo (Dr. Adam Stanton), Jackie Earl Haley (Sugar Boy), Anthony Hopkins (Judge Irwin), Kathy Baker (Mrs. Burden), Patricia Clarkson (Sadie Burke)
'The film isn't dreadful; it is just generally disappointing.' – Stanley Kauffman, New Republic
'Everyone from the ensemble appears to be acting in a different picture. Zaillian strands them all.' – Michael Sragow, Baltimore Sun † Warren's story is based on the stormy life and career of Louisiana governor and senator Huey P. Long.

'Of all God's creatures... man is the cruellest.'

All The Little Animals

GB 1998 111m Technicolor 'Scope
Entertainment/Recorded Pictures/British Screen, J&M/IofMFC/BBC (Jeremy Thomas)

A brain-damaged adolescent, running away from his unhappy home, is befriended by an eccentric old man who protects wild animals from harm.

An unsatisfactory fable of the superiority of the natural world, yoked to a melodramatic tale of a usurping, wicked stepfather.

w Eski Thomas novel Walker Hamilton d Jeremy Thomas ph Mike Molloy m Richard Hartley pd Andrew Sanders ed John Victor Smith

☆ John Hurt (Mr Summers), Christian Bale (Bobby), Daniel Benzali (De Winter), James Faulkner (Mr Whiteside), John O'Toole (Lorry driver)

'Modest in ambition and accomplishment.' – Variety

All the Marbles...

US 1981 113m Metrocolor
MGM/Aldrich Company (William Aldrich)

GB title: The California Dolls

Problems of a women's wrestling team in the midwest.

Tasteless and tedious exploitation comedy with just a few flashes of the director's old flair.

w Mel Frohman d Robert Aldrich ph Joseph Biroc m Frank de Vol pd Carl Anderson ed Irving C. Rosenblum, Richard Lane

☆ Peter Falk, Vicki Frederick, Laurene Landon, Burt Young, Tracy Reed

'The most devastating detective story of the century!'

All the President's Men ★★★★

US 1976 138m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Wildwood (Robert Redford, Walter Coblenz)

A reconstruction of the discovery of the White House link with the Watergate affair by two young reporters from the Washington Post.

An absorbing drama from the headlines which despite its many excellences would have been better with a more audible dialogue track, less murky photography and a clearer introduction of the characters concerned. The acting however is a treat.

w William Goldman book Carl Bernstein, Bob Woodward d Alan J. Pakula ph Gordon Willis m David Shire pd George Jenkins ed Robert L. Wolfe

☆ Robert Redford (Bob Woodward), Dustin Hoffman (Carl Bernstein), Jason Robards Jnr (Ben Bradlee), Martin Balsam (Howard Simons), Hal Holbrook (Deep Throat), Jack Warden (Harry Rosenfeld), Jane Alexander (Bookkeeper), Meredith Baxter (Debbie Sloan)

'It works as a detective thriller (even though everyone knows the ending), as a credible (if occasionally romanticized) primer on the prosaic fundamentals of big league investigative journalism, and best of all, as a chilling tone poem that conveys the texture of the terror in our nation's capital during that long night when an aspiring fascist regime held our democracy under siege.' – Frank Rich, New York Post

William Goldman; Jason Robards Jnr; art direction; sound (Arthur Piantadosi, Les Fresholtz, Dick Alexander, Jim Webb)

picture; Alan J. Pakula; Jane Alexander; Robert L. Wolfe

'Some passions can never be tamed.'

All The Pretty Horses ★

US 2000 117m colour Panavision
Columbia (Robert Salerno, Billy Bob Thornton)

In 1949, a dispossessed young Texan and his best friend ride to Mexico to become cowboys, where they are confronted by matters of love and death.

A uneven attempt at an elegiac Western, combining nostalgia for a vanishing way of life with a coming-of-age narrative; but the central romance has no life to it, and it ends up as just another love story between two men and their horses.

w Ted Tally novel Cormac McCarthy d Billy Bob Thornton ph Barry Markowitz m Marty Stuart pd Clark Hunter ed Sally Menke

☆ Matt Damon (John Grady Cole), Henry Thomas (Lacey Rawlins), Lucas Black (Jimmy Blevins), Penélope Cruz (Alejandra), Ruben Blades (Rocha), Robert Patrick (Cole), Julio Oscar Mechoso (Captain), Miriam Colon (Alfonsa), Bruce Dern (Judge), Sam Shepard (J. C. Franklin)

'Manages to be shallow and portentous at the same time...slick and superficial as a Marlboro advertisement on the back of a glossy magazine.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times

All the Queen's Men

US/Austria/Germany/Hungary 2001 105m colour 'scope
Atlantic Streamline/Dor/Phoenix/BA (Marco Weber, Gabrielle Kelly, Zachary Feuer)

An American secret agent joins a British group who dress as women to steal an Enigma machine from the Germans.

An unconvincing mix of cross-dressing comedy and spy drama, it is neither funny nor thrilling; the actors seem embarrassed by their roles.

w David Schneider, Jeff Stockwell story Digby Wolfe, Joseph Manduke, June Roberts d Stefan Ruzowitzky ph Wedigo Von Schultzendorff m Joern-uwe Fahrenkrog-Petersen pd Frank Bollinger ed Nick Moore, Andrea Schumacher, Britta Nahler

☆ Matt LeBlanc (Steven O'Rourke), Eddie Izzard (Tony Parker), James Cosmo (Archie), Nicolette Krebitz (Romy), Udo Kier (General Landsdorf), David Birkin (Johnno), Edward Fox (Colonel Aiken)

'Not bad enough to qualify as a memorable dud, multinational production nonetheless misses mark on every level.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety

'Love is a puzzle. These are the pieces.'

All the Real Girls ★★ ⑦

US 2003 108m DeLuxe
Columbia Tristar/Jean Doumanian

In a small North Carolina town, a young man with a reputation for womanising upsets his best friend when he begins a relationship with his friend's teenage sister.

Truthful drama of young love and its vulnerability, its hopes, fears and disappointments.

wd David Gordon Green ph Tim Orr m David Wingo, Michael Linnen pd Richard Wright ed Zene Bakel, Steven Gonzales

☆ Paul Schneider (Paul), Zooey Deschanel (Noel), Patricia Clarkson (Elvira Fine), Maurice Compte (Bo), Danny McBride (Bust-Ass), Benjamin Mouton (Leland), Shea Wingham (Tip)

'Thrillingly original, lyrical, and wise, and the filmmaker conveys the mutable intensity of young love with the authoritative originality of an important filmmaker.' – Lisa Schwarzbaum, Entertainment Weekly

'Green treats his people with affectionate knowledge, untinged with patronizing. And he sees them in ways that are free of cinematic cliché.' – Stanley Kauffmann, New Republic

All the Right Moves

US 1983 91m colour
Fox (Stephen Deutsch)

An ambitious high school football star is helped to get an athletics scholarship.

Rather dislikeable melodrama with specifically American atmosphere.

w Michael Kane d Michael Chapman ph Jan de Bont m David Campbell ad Mary Ann Biddle ed David Garfield

☆ Tom Cruise, Craig T. Nelson, Lea Thompson, Charles Cioffi, Christopher Penn

All the Right Noises ★

GB 1969 91m Eastmancolor
(TCF) Trigon (Anthony Hope)

The electrician of a touring company has an affair with a 15-year-old actress, but finally returns to his wife.

Sharp, sensible treatment of a cliché situation, as watchable as a superior television play.

wd Gerry O'Hara ph Gerry Fisher m John Cameron

☆ Tom Bell, Judy Carne, Olivia Hussey, John Standing

'Built on a solid framework of disciplined direction and animated performances.' – MFB

All the Vermeers in New York

US 1990 87m TVC Color
Complex Corporation (Henry S. Rosenthal)

A Wall Street trader begins a relationship with a French woman he meets at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

A desultory, minimalist film that proceeds in a haphazard fashion, picking up and then dropping the threads of the story.

wd Jon Jost ph Jon Jost m Jon A. English ed Jon Jost

☆ Emmanuelle Chaulet, Stephen Lack, Grace Phillips, Laurel Kiefer, Gordon Joseph Weiss, Katherine Bean, Gracie Mansion, Roger Ruffin

'Love is not a thing that grows only in the dark!'

All the Way Home ★★

US 1963 107m bw
Paramount/Talent Associates (David Susskind)

In 1916 Tennessee, the beloved father of a family is killed in a car crash, and after the trauma wears off, mother helps the children to rebuild their lives.

Tactful, charming though finally depressing slice of small town period Americana, with generally eloquent performances.

w Philip Reisman Jnr play Tad Mosel novel A Death in the Family by James Agee d Alex Segal ph Boris Kaufman m Bernard Green

☆ Robert Preston, Jean Simmons, Aline MacMahon, Pat Hingle, Michael Kearney

'A heart-wrenching blend of nostalgia and sorrow.' – Judith Crist

'Terribly earnest, pictorial, and well intentioned. And a terrible mistake.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

All the Way Up ★

GB 1970 97m Technicolor
Granada/EMI (Philip Mackie)

Social-climbing Dad makes his way by treachery and blackmail, but gets his come-uppance when his son takes after him.

Crudely farcical adaptation of a thoughtful comedy of its time; the treatment works in fits and starts but leaves one in no mood for the talkative finale.

w Philip Mackie play Semi Detached by David Turner d James MacTaggart ph Dick Bush m Howard Blake

☆ Warren Mitchell, Pat Heywood, Elaine Taylor, Kenneth Cranham, Vanessa Howard, Richard Briers, Adrienne Posta, Bill Fraser

All the Young Men

US 1960 87m bw
Columbia (Hall Bartlett/Jaguar)

A marine patrol in Korea is commanded by a black man, and racial tensions take precedence over fighting the enemy.

Simple-minded, parsimoniously-budgeted war melodrama.

wd Hall Bartlett ph Daniel Fapp m George Duning

☆ Alan Ladd, Sidney Poitier, Ingemar Johansson, Glenn Corbett, James Darren, Mort Sahl

'Strenuously engaged in exploiting the entertainment values of nostalgia, fear, suspense, hatred and sex.' – MFB

All the Youthful Days: see The Boys from Fengkuei

All These Women: see Now About These Women ...

All This and Glamour Too: see Vogues of 1938

All This and Heaven Too ★★

US 1940 143m bw
Warner (Jack L. Warner, Hal B. Wallis)

A 19th-century French nobleman falls in love with his governess and murders his wife.

Romantic, melodramatic soap opera from a mammoth best seller; well made for those who can stomach it, with excellent acting and production values.

w Casey Robinson novel Rachel Field d Anatole Litvak ph Ernest Haller m Max Steiner

☆ Charles Boyer, Bette Davis, Barbara O'Neil, Virginia Weidler, Jeffrey Lynn, Helen Westley, Henry Daniell, Harry Davenport, Walter Hampden, George Coulouris, Janet Beecher, Montagu Love

'Deserves extended runs and upped admissions ... completely shorn of spectacle, but replete with finely drawn characters in absorbingly dramatic situations.' – Variety

'Litvak had it all on paper: he planned every move. There is not the spontaneity or flexibility.' – Bette Davis

picture; Ernest Haller; Barbara O'Neil

All This and Money Too: see Love is a Ball

All This and World War Two ★

US 1977 88m bw/DeLuxe
Fox/Lou Reizner Productions

Wartime newsreels are interwoven with pop songs and clips from feature films.

A messy mélange with obvious items of interest, but totally confusing and uninformative for the young historian.

d Susan Winslow

'Desperately straining to make any kind of sense, it is reduced to making parallels that are either glib or facetious.' – MFB

'Killer Bogart takes the Gestapo for a ride!'

All Through the Night ★

US 1942 107m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)

Gangsters help to track down fifth columnists in World War II New York.

Highly entertaining muddle of several styles which somehow works well and allows several favourites to do their thing.

w Leonard Spigelgass, Edwin Gilbert d Vincent Sherman ph Sid Hickox m Adolph Deutsch

☆ Humphrey Bogart, Conrad Veidt, Peter Lorre, Karen Verne, Judith Anderson, Jane

Darwell, Frank McHugh, Jackie Gleason, William Demarest, Phil Silvers

'Exciting slaphappy stuff.' – Kine Weekly

'The thrills and the jokes have both been sharpened to a pin point.' – New Statesman

The All Together

UK 2007 82m
Lionsgate/Establishment Films/Priority Pictures (Annabel Raftery, Marion Pilowsky)

TV producer's house is seized by gangsters, who hold visitors hostage as they enter.
Cheap British farce peopled by badly-drawn stereotypes.
wd Gavin Claxton ph Orlando Stuart m Richard Blair Oliphant, David Blair Oliphant pd Toby Davies ed Kevin Lane
☆ Martin Freeman (Chris Ashworth), Corey Johnson (Mr. Gaspardi), Danny Dyer (Dennis Earle), Velibor Topic (Bob Music)

All Tomorrow's Parties

China/France 2003 96m colour
Lumen/Hu Tong/Won & Won/Teleimage (Hengameh Panahi, Li Kit-ming) original title: Mingri Tianya

In the near future in a totalitarian Asian state, two dissidents find life problematic.
Curiously uninvolving drama of a depressing future, directed by someone who gives the impression he'd rather be doing something, anything, else.
wd Yu Lik-wai ph Lai Yiu-fai m Yoshishiro Hanno ad Zhao Xiaoyu, Qiu Sheng ed Chow Keung
☆ Jo Yeong-weon (Xuelan), Diao Yi'nan (Xie Xiaozhuai), Zhao Weiwei (Xie Xiaomian), Na Ren (Lanlan)

'Watching this torpid, listless movie is like Scuba-diving in treacle. I actually went into a Zen state beyond boredom, in that for patches it was so boring I experienced a flicker of interest – in how boring it was.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

The All-American

US 1932 73m bw
Universal
GB title: Sport of a Nation

A college football star finds his fame of little use to him in the outside world.
Lively drama of its day, but with little permanent interest.
w Frank Wead, Ferdinand Reyher, Richard Schayer, Dale Van Every d Russell Mack ☆ Richard Arlen, Andy Devine, Gloria Stuart, James Gleason, Preston Foster

'A pleaser for all audiences, having more than the football stuff to recommend it.' – Variety

The All-American

US 1952 83m bw
U-I (Aaron Rosenberg)
GB title: The Winning Way

When his parents are killed on the way to a match, a college football hero rejects sport for the groves of academe.
Very modest formula drama.
w D. D. Beauchamp d Jesse Hibbs ph Maury Gertsman m Joseph Gershenson ☆ Tony Curtis, Mamie Van Doren, Lori Nelson, Gregg Palmer, Richard Long, Paul Cavanagh

The All-American Boy

US 1973 118m colour Panavision
Warner

A young boxer has got to the top too fast, and is depressed by the future.
Uninteresting character study.
wd Charles Eastman
☆ Jon Voight, Carol Androsky, Anne Archer

Allan Quatermain and the Lost City of Gold

US 1987 99m colour JDC
Cannon (Menahem Golan, Yoram Globus)

A mysterious old gold piece sends Quatermain looking for his brother, missing in Africa after seeking a lost white race.
Abysmal follow-up to 1985's ghastly King Solomon's Mines.
w Gene Quintano d Gary Nelson ph Alex Phillips, Frederick Elmes m Michael Linn pd Trevor Williams, Leslie Dilley ed Alain Jakubowicz
☆ Richard Chamberlain, Sharon Stone, James Earl Jones, Henry Silva, Robert Donner

'The embarrassing screenplay jettisons Haggard's enduring fantasy and myth-making in favour of a back-of-the-envelope plotline and anachronistic jokes about Cleveland.' – Daily Variety

Allegheny Uprising

US 1939 98m bw
RKO (P. J. Wolfson)

GB title: The First Rebel

A young frontiersman smashes liquor traffic with the Indians.
Modestly efficient Western with an impressive cast.
w P. J. Wolfson story Neil Swanson d William A. Seiter ph Nicholas Musuraca
☆ John Wayne, Claire Trevor, Brian Donlevy, George Sanders, Wilfrid Lawson, Robert Barrat, Moroni Olsen, Eddie Quillan, Chill Wills

'Long on horsemanship and action, short on romance and suspense.' – Variety

Allegro ⑥

Denmark 2005 88m
Soda/Alphaville Copenhagen/SF Film/Danish Film Institute/Nordisk (Tine Grew Pfeiffer)

An emotionally withdrawn pianist returns for a concert in his native Copenhagen and undergoes a psychological crisis.
Pretentious, ambiguous and as cold as its pianist hero. It feels like warmed-over David Lynch. Helena Christensen's screen debut does little to disprove the cliches about models who turn to acting.
w Christoffer Boe, Mikael Wulff d Christoffer Boe ph Manuel Alberto Claro m Thomas Knak pd Nikolaj Danielsen ed Peter Brandt ☆ Ulrich Thomsen (Zetterstrom), Helena Christensen (Andrea), Henning Moritzen (Tom)

Allegro Ma Troppo ★

France 1963 16m Eastmancolor
Films Je Vois Tout

One night in Paris viewed through accelerated motion.
An amusing if not original conceit, smartly executed.
m François de Roubaix ed Robert Enrico w/d/ph Paul de Roubaix

Allegro Non Troppo ★

Italy 1977 74m colour/bw
Essential/Bruno Bozzetto

A mix of live action and animation to create a modernistic version of Fantasia, e.g. Ravel's 'Bolero' is danced by a Coca-Cola bottle.
Fast-paced feature with often dazzling use of colour, though the imagination sometimes flags, especially in the crude live-action slapstick routines.
w Bruno Bozzetto, Guido Manuli, Maurizio Nichetti d Bruno Bozzetto ph Mario Masini m Debussy, Dvorak, Ravel, Sibelius, Vivaldi, Stravinsky md Herbert von Karajan, Hans Stadlmair, Lorin Maazel ☆ Maurizio Nichetti, Nestor Garay, Maurizio Micheli, Maria Luisa Giovanni

Alley of Nightmares: see She Freak

Alligator ★

US 1980 91m DeLuxe
Group 1/Alligator Associates (Brandon Chase)

A pet baby alligator is flushed down the toilet and later, grown to enormous size, goes on the rampage.
Jaws-type monster movie made tolerable by occasional flashes of humour but not otherwise remarkable.
w John Sayles d Lewis Teague ph Joseph Mangine m Craig Hundley sp Richard O. Helmer
☆ Robert Forster, Robin Ryker, Michael Gazzo, Dean Jagger, Jack Carter, Henry Silva

'Hair raising, funny, shrewdly scripted and politically telling.' – Margaret Hinxman, Daily Mail

Alligator Eyes ★

US 1990 101m DuArt
Castle Hill/Laughing Man (John Feldman, Ken Schwenker)

Three friends from New York, driving off on holiday, pick up a beautiful hitchhiker, not realizing that she is blind and has her own sinister agenda.
Intriguing and suspenseful road movie for the most part, though its resolution disappoints.
wd John Feldman ph Todd Crockett m Sheila Silver ed Cynthia Rogers ☆ Annabelle Larsen, Roger Kabler, Mary McLain, Allen McCullough, John Mackay

'As a road movie, this one's unusually well-written, directed and acted.' – Variety

Alligator II: The Mutation

US 1991 90m DeLuxe Panavision
Golden Hawk (Brandon Chase)

After an unscrupulous property developer dumps toxic waste in the city sewers, a monstrous man-eating alligator emerges to terrorize the town.
Uninvolving sequel that follows a familiar and predictable pattern and lacks the wit and pace of the original.
w Curt Allen d Jon Hess ph Joseph Mangine m Jack Tillar pd George Costello ed Marshall Harvey, Chris Ellis
☆ Joseph Bologna, Dee Wallace Stone, Richard Lynch, Woody Brown, Holly Gagnier, Bill Dailey, Steve Railsback, Brock Peters

An Alligator Named Daisy

GB 1955 88m Technicolor
Vistavision
Rank (Raymond Stross)

A young songwriter finds himself saddled with a pet alligator.
The ultimate in silly animal comedies, this does score a few laughs.
w Jack Davies novel Charles Terrot d J. Lee-Thompson ph Reg Wyer m Stanley Black ☆ Donald Sinden, Diana Dors, Jean Carson, James Robertson Justice, Stanley Holloway, Roland Culver, Margaret Rutherford, Avice Landone, Richard Wattis, Frankie Howerd, Jimmy Edwards, Gilbert Harding

'Apart from a fairly Kafkaesque scene in which Daisy is discovered in an upright piano, the situation is treated with little wit or comic invention.' – MFB

'Nerve-Shattering Terror'
'Her Honeymoon Turned Into A Nightmare Of Horror!'

The Alligator People

US 1959 73m bw Cinemascope
TCF (Jerry Wald)

A doctor uses a revolutionary serum which unfortunately turns patients into the alligators from which it was derived.
Moderately inventive 'B' chiller.
w Orville H. Hampton d Roy del Ruth ph Karl Struss m Irving Gertz
☆ George Macready, Frieda Inescort, Beverly Garland, Bruce Bennett, Lon Chaney Jnr

The Allnighter

US 1987 94m CFI color
Universal/Aurora (Tamar Simon Hoffs)

Three girls party during their final days at college.
Unbelievably crass teen pic that is enough to put an entire generation off higher education – or sex, for that matter.
w M. I. Kessler, Tamar Simon Hoffs d Tamar Simon Hoffs ph Joseph Urbanczyk m Charles Bernstein pd Cynthia Sowder ed Dan M. Rich ☆ Susanna Hoffs, Dedee Pfeiffer, Joan Cusack, Michael Ontkean, Pam Grier, James Anthony Shanta, John Terlesky

All's Fair...

US 1989 90m colour
Midwood (John Gordon)

Working for a firm run on macho-military lines, the female executives challenge their bosses to a weekend war game.
Coarse, loud, dispiriting one-joke comedy, in which shouting and over-acting substitute for humour.
w Randee Russell, John Finnegan, Tom Rondinella, William Pace d Rocky Lang ph Peter Lyons Collister m Bill Meyers pd Cynthia Charette ed Maryann Brandon ☆ Sally Kellerman, George Segal, Jane Kaczmarek, Jennifer Edwards, John Kapelos, Lou Ferrigno, Robert Carradine

Almonds and Raisins ★

GB 1983 90m bw
Willowgold/Brook Productions and the National Center for Jewish Film

The story of the Yiddish cinema in thirties New York.
Interesting documentary compilation majoring in the work of Edgar G. Ulmer.
w Wolf Mankowitz d Russ Karel

Almost: see Wendy Cracked a Walnut

Almost a Bride: see A Kiss for Corliss

Almost an Angel

US 1990 95m DeLuxe
UIP/Paramount (John Cornell)

A petty crook returns to Earth as a good angel.
Trite comedy with little substance and fewer laughs.
w Paul Hogan d John Cornell ph Russell Boyd m Maurice Jarre pd Henry Bumstead ad Bernie Cutler ed David Stiven
☆ Paul Hogan, Elias Koteas, Linda

Kozlowski, Doreen Lang, Robert Sutton, Travis Venable, Douglas Seale, Ruth Warshawsky

Almost Angels

US 1962 93m colour
Buena Vista

A boy joins the Vienna Boys' Choir.
The singing outweighs the story in this overlong but often pleasing filler.
w Vernon Harris story R. A. Stemmle
d Steve Previn
☆ Vincent Winter, Peter Weck, Sean Scully, Hans Holt

'Experience it. Enjoy it. Just don't fall for it.'

Almost Famous ★★

US 2000 122m Technicolor
DreamWorks/Vinyl (Cameron Crowe, Ian Bryce)

A rock-obsessed teenager becomes a journalist so that he can get close to the musicians he admires.
Semi-autobiographical account of the director's start as a writer for Rolling Stone: he recreates the past with affection and wry amusement, but overdoses on blandness.
wd Cameron Crowe ph John Toll
m Nancy Wilson ad Clay A. Griffith, Clayton R. Hartley, Virginia Randolph-Weaver ed Joe Hutshing, Saar Klein ☆ Billy Crudup (Russell Hammond), Frances McDormand (Elaine Miller), Kate Hudson (Penny Lane), Jason Lee (Jeff Bebe), Patrick Fugit (William Miller), Anna Paquin (Polexia Aphrodisia), Fairuza Balk (Sapphire), Noah Taylor (Dick Roswell), Zooey Deschanel (Anita Miller), John Fedevich (Ed Vallencourt), Bijou Phillips (Estrella Starr), Philip Seymour Hoffman (Lester Bangs), Eion Bailey (Jann Wenner), Terry Chen (Ben Fong-Torres)
'If this solemn and disconcertingly reactionary film gets Academy awards it will be very depressing.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'More gentle and modestly insightful than it is exhilarating or revelatory.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
Cameron Crowe (script)
Kate Hudson; Frances McDormand; Joe Hutshing, Saar Klein
Cameron Crowe (script); sound (Jeff Wexler, D. M. Hemphill, Rick Kline, Paul Massey, Mike Wilhoit)

Almost Married

US 1932 50m bw
TCF

An insane Bolshevik breaks out of hospital when he hears of his wife's bigamous marriage.
Oddly-titled melodrama with flashes of interest, previously filmed by MGM in 1919.
w Wallace Smith novel Devil's Triangle by Andrew Soutar d William Cameron Menzies ☆ Violet Heming, Ralph Bellamy, Alexander Kirkland, Alan Dinehart

Almost Peaceful ★

France 2002 94m colour
Elefilm-France3 (Rosalinde Deville)

original title: Un Monde Presque Paisible
In 1946, a Jewish tailor and his wife, who both survived the Holocaust, attempt to re-establish their business in Paris.
A gentle account of survival, concentrating on character rather than narrative.
w Rosalinde Deville d Michel Deville ph Andre Diot m Giovanni Bottesini
pd Arnaud de Moleron ed Andrea Sedlackova
☆ Simon Abkarian (Albert), Zabou Breitman (Lea), Denis Podalydes (Charles), Vincent Elbaz (Leon), Lubna Azabal (Jacqueline), Stanislas Merhar (Maurice), Clotilde Courau (Simone), Julie Gaynet (Mme Andree)
'Gentle, sad and at times funny film in the best French tradition of high-quality cinema.' – David Stratton, Variety

An Almost Perfect Affair ★

US 1979 93m DeLuxe
Paramount/Terry Carr

A young film producer at the Cannes Festival falls for the wife of an Italian impresario.
Lively detail lifts many scenes of this eccentric romance, but the routine plot is a downer.
w Walter Bernstein, Don Petersen
d Michael Ritchie ph Henri Decae
m Georges Delerue
☆ Keith Carradine, Monica Vitti, Raf Vallone, Christian de Sica

Almost Summer

US 1978 88m colour
Universal (Rob Cohen)

High-school students hold an election for their new president.
Mercifully short farcical comedy, aimed at a teenage audience.
w Judith Berg, Sandra Berg, Martin Davidson, Marc Reid Rubel d Martin Davidson ph Stevan Larner m Ron Altbach, Charles Lloyd ad William F. Hiney ed Lynzee Klingman
☆ John Friedrich, Bruno Kirby, Lee Purcell, Didi Conn, Thomas Carter, Tim Matheson, Patronia Paley

Almost You

US 1984 96m DuArt
TCF/Wescom (Mark Lipson)

After his wife dislocates her hip, her wealthy and bored husband is attracted to the live-in nurse he hires to look after her.
A tedious romantic comedy that overstates the obvious.
w Mark Horowitz story Adam Brooks
d Adam Brooks ph Alexander Gruszynski
m Jonathan Elias ad Nora Chavoosian
ed Mark Burns
☆ Brooke Adams, Griffin Dunne, Karen Young, Marty Watt, Laura Dean, Josh Mostel, Christine Estabrook, Spalding Gray

Aloha Bobby and Rose

US 1975 89m Metrocolor
Warner/Cine Artists International (Fouad Said)

A Los Angeles motor mechanic becomes unwittingly involved in crime and finds himself fleeing for the Mexican border with a girlfriend.
Warmed-over retread of They Live By Night, not badly done but of no abiding interest.
wd Floyd Mutrux ph William A. Fraker
☆ Paul Le Mat, Dianne Hull, Tim McIntire, Leigh French, Noble Willingham, Robert Carradine
'As accurate a picture of Southern California as I've yet seen.' – Guardian

Aloha Summer

US 1988 97m CFI color
Hanauma Bay (Mike Greco)

An American teenager holidaying in Hawaii learns about racial prejudice, sex and violence.
Typical teen picture, directed with a heavy hand.
w Mike Greco d Tommy Lee Wallace ph Steven Poster m Jesse Frederick, Bennet Salvay ad Donald Harris ed James Coblentz, Jack Hofstra, Jay Cassidy ☆ Chris Makepeace, Yuji Okumoto, Don Michael Paul, Tia Carrere, Sho Kosugi, Lorie Griffin

'Pagan love – in an exotic, exciting tropic paradise!'

Aloma of the South Seas

US 1941 77m Technicolor
Paramount (Monta Bell)

A young Polynesian chieftain returns to quell trouble on his island after being educated in the US.
Hoary goings-on in gory colour, a remake of a silent epic devised to display the star's sarong and the backlot's expensive volcano.
w Frank Butler, Seena Owen, Lillie Hayward
d Alfred Santell ph Karl Struss, Wilfrid M. Cline, William Snyder m Victor Young sp Gordon Jennings
☆ Dorothy Lamour, Jon Hall, Lynne Overman, Philip Reed, Katherine de Mille, Fritz Leiber, Dona Drake, Esther Dale
'The mountain has the privilege of belching when it is dissatisfied, which is something no well-bred critic should do.' – C. A. Lejeune
† A silent version in 1926 had starred Gilda Gray. Directed by Maurice Tourneur, it adhered more closely to the original play (by John B. Hymer and Leroy Clemens).
Karl Struss, Wilfrid M. Cline, William Snyder

Alone: see Solas

Alone in the Dark

US 1982 93m Cineffects
New Line/Masada

Maximum-security prisoners in a mental hospital are liberated by a power failure.
Pretentious but incompetent horror flick of the Halloween school with a plot partly borrowed from Spellbound.
wd Jack Sholder
☆ Jack Palance, Donald Pleasence, Martin Landau, Dwight Schultz, Deborah Hedwall

'Evil awakens.'

Alone in the Dark

US 2005 98m colour Panavision
Lions Gate/Boll KG/Brightlight (Shawn Williamson)

An occult investigator discovers that a mad scientist has opened a gateway between this world and a place of evil.
Based on a video game, this derivative drivel offers the scary notion of government agents of the paranormal equipped with enough fire-power to fight the next world war; otherwise, it's just an interminable night-time shoot-out with giant lizards.
w Elan Mastai, Michael Roesch, Peter Scheerer d Uwe Boll ph Mathias Neumann m Bernd Wendlandt pd Tink ed Richard Schwadel sp Doug Oddy, Geoff D.E. Scott
☆ Christian Slater (Edward Carnby), Tara Reid (Aline Cedrac), Stephen Dorff (Cmdr Burke), Frank C. Turner (Fischer), Matthew Walker (Professor Hudgens)
'The film on your teeth after a three-day drunk possesses more cinematic value.' – Scott Brown, Entertainment Weekly

Alone on the Pacific ★★

Japan 1963 104m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
Ishihara-Nikkatsu (Akira Nakai)
original title: Taiheiyo Hitoribochi

A young man crosses from Osaka to San Francisco in a small yacht.
Fascinating Robinson-Crusoe-like exercise, with flashbacks to life on dry land.
w Natto Wada, based on the experiences of Kenichi Horie d Kon Ichikawa
ph Yoshihiro Yamazaki m Yasushi Akatagawa, Tohru Takemitsu ☆ Yujiro Ishihara, Masayuki Mori, Kinuyo Tanaka, Ruriko Asaoko
'Wonderfully comic moments emerge, but they never overshadow the film's sheer pictorial value.' – Brenda Davies, MFB

Alone With a Stranger

US 1999 90m FotoKem
WIN (Pierre David, Noël A. Zanitsch, Ken Sanders)

When a man discovers that he has a wealthy and successful twin brother, he decides to take over his life and family.
Trivial and unconvincing thriller with a script that makes little sense.
w Peter Liapis, Richard Dana Smith
d Peter Liapis ph M. David Mullen
m Alan Howarth pd Helen Harwell
ed Bernard Gribble
☆ William R. Moses (James/Max Kennington), Barbara Niven (Sandy Kennington), Priscilla Barnes (Claire), Scotty Cox (David Kennington), Aleksandra Vujcic (Lena), Mindy Cohn (Toni), Nia Peeples (Beth)

'The game is far from over.'

Along Came A Spider

US 2001 104m DeLuxe Panavision
Paramount/David Brown/Phase I/Revelations

A detective investigates the kidnapping of a senator's daughter from school by a media-obsessed teacher.
Involved, but uninvolving, thriller with a predictable paranoid twist to it.
w Marc Moss novel James Patterson
d Lee Tamahori ph Matthew F. Leonetti
m Jerry Goldsmith pd Ida Random
ed Neil Travis cos Sanja Milkovic Hays
☆ Morgan Freeman (Alex Cross), Monica Potter (Jezzie Flannigan), Michael Wincott (Gary Soneji), Dylan Baker (Ollie McArthur), Mika Boorem (Megan Rose), Dimitri Starodubov (Anton Yelchin), Kim Hawthorne (Agent Hickley), Jay O. Sanders (Kyle Craig), Billy Burke (Ben Devine), Michael Moriarty (Senator Hank Rose), Penelope Ann Miller (Elizabeth Rose)
'Weaves a humdrum plot that's never ahead of the audience until three-quarters through.' – Robert Koehler, Variety † Morgan Freeman also played the role of detective Alex Cross in the 1997 movie Kiss the Girls (qv).

Along Came Jones ★

US 1945 90m bw
UA/Cinema Artists Corporation (Gary Cooper)

Two cowboys are mistaken for killers.
Very mild Western comedy melodrama, with the star at his most self-effacing and production only mediocre.
w Nunnally Johnson novel Alan le May d Stuart Heisler ph Milton Krasner
m Charles Maxwell, Arthur Lange, Hugo Friedhofer
☆ Gary Cooper, Loretta Young, William Demarest, Dan Duryea, Russell Simpson

Along Came Polly

US 2003 90m Technicolor
UIP/Jersey (Danny DeVito, Michael Shamberg, Stacey Sher)

After a disastrous marriage, an insurance assessor calculates the risks involved in forming a new relationship with a carefree woman.

Contrived romantic comedy of the unlikely attraction of opposites that is an embarrassment for all.
wd John Hamburg ph Seamus McGarvey m Theodore Shapiro pd Andrew Laws ed William Kerr, Nick Moore
☆ Ben Stiller (Reuben Feffer), Jennifer Aniston (Polly Prince), Philip Seymour Hoffman (Sandy Lyle), Debra Messing (Lisa Kramer), Hank Azaria (Claude), Bryan Brown (Leland Van Lew), Alec Baldwin (Stan Indursky), Jsu Garcia (Javier)
'The film bounces along on a series of comic inspirations, only to flatten out for the dull storytelling.' – Shawn Levy, Oregonian
'The plot is rudimentary and short on jokes, the performances are exercises in desperation.' – Philip French, Observer

Along For The Ride: see Forever Lulu

Along the Great Divide
US 1950 88m bw
Warner (Anthony Veiller)
A marshal prevents an old man from being hanged for murder, and eventually discovers the real culprit.
Adequate, modest Western with an unusual detective element.
w Walter Doniger, Lewis Meltzer d Raoul Walsh ph Sid Hickox m David Buttolph ☆ Kirk Douglas, Virginia Mayo, Walter Brennan, John Agar, Ray Teal
'It was awful. I hated the whole picture.' – Kirk Douglas

Along the Rio Grande
US 1941 64m bw
RKO (Bert Gilroy)
A cowboy and his two friends claim to be bank robbers to bring to justice a cattle rustler and outlaw.
Cheerful but unexceptional Western.
w Arthur V. Jones, Morton Grant story Stuart Anthony d Edward Killy ph Frank Redman m Paul Sawtell ad Van Nest Polglase ed Frederic Knudtson
☆ Tim Holt, Ray Whitley, Betty Jane Rhodes, Emmett Lynn, Robert Fiske, Hal Taliaferro

'One crime. 38 witnesses. No way back.'

Alpha Dog ⑤
US/Germany 2007 117m
Icon/VIP Medienfonds 2/A-Mark Entertainment/Sidney Kimmel Entertainment (Sidney Kimmel, Chuck Pacheco)
A young drug dealer resorts to kidnap to retrieve money he is owed, only to realise his liberty depends on having his captor killed by an underling.
Seedy melodrama based on a real-life murder case, notable for casting pop star Justin Timberlake in a supporting role. Ambitions to offer a telling portrait of amoral youth remain unrealised.
wd Nick Cassavetes ph Robert Fraisse m Aaron Zigman pd Dominic Watkins ad Alan Petherick ed Alan Heim
☆ Ben Foster (Jake Mazursky), Shawn Hatosy (Elvis Schmidt), Emile Hirsch (Johnny Truelove), Sharon Stone (Olivia Mazursky), Justin Timberlake (Frankie Ballenbacher), Bruce Willis (Sonny Truelove)
'Standard-issue tabloid fare pimped out as a serious true-crime saga.' – Justin Chang, Variety
† The ending was reshot after fugitive Jesse James Hollywood, the inspiration for the Johnny Truelove character, was arrested in Brazil.

Alpha Male ②
US/UK 2006 100m
Verve/Xingu Films/Mobius International (Trudie Styler, Damian Jones, David Bergstein)
A wealthy family is torn apart by the death of an apparently perfect father.
Predictable and rather silly story that resorts to recovered memory syndrome and even the appearance of a ghost.
wd Dan Wilde ph Shane Daly m/ly Stephen Warbeck pd Cristina Casali ed Tariq Anwar ☆ Danny Huston (Jim Ferris), Jennifer Ehle (Alice Ferris), Patrick Baladi (Clive), Trudie Styler (Brede Norton), Amelia Warner (Elyssa)

Alphabet City
US 1984 85m colour
Atlantic (Andrew Braunsberg)
A New York drug dealer decides it is time to go straight, providing he can pay his debts and stay alive.
Introspective, atmospheric low-life drama that is short on action.
w Amos Poe, Gregory Heller d Amos Poe ph Oliver Wood m Nile Rogers ad Stephen Lineweaver ed Grahame Weinbren
☆ Vincent Spano, Michael Winslow, Kate Vernon, Jami Gertz, Zohra Lampert, Raymond Serra, Kenny Marino

The Alphabet Murders
GB 1965 90m bw
MGM (Ben Arbeid)
Hercule Poirot solves a series of murders by an apparent lunatic choosing his victims in alphabetical order.
Ruination of a classic whodunnit novel, misguided both in its attempt to mix slapstick with detection and in its terrible central performance.
w David Pursall, Jack Seddon novel The ABC Murders by Agatha Christie d Frank Tashlin ph Desmond Dickinson m Ron Goodwin ed John Victor Smith
☆ Tony Randall (Hercule Poirot), Robert Morley (Hastings), Anita Ekberg (Amanda Beatrice Cross), Maurice Denham (Japp), Guy Rolfe (Duncan Doncaster), James Villiers (Franklin), Clive Morton (X), Sheila Allen (Lady Diane), Margaret Rutherford (Miss Marple)

Alphaville ★
France/Italy 1965 98m bw
Chaumiane/Filmstudio (André Michelin)
A special agent travels across space to find out what happened to his predecessor, and finds himself in a loveless society.
A rather chill futuristic fantasy on the lines of 1984 but with an outer space background and a hero borrowed from Peter Cheyney. Interesting but not endearing.
wd Jean-Luc Godard ph Raoul Coutard m Paul Misraki
☆ Eddie Constantine, Anna Karina, Akim Tamiroff, Howard Vernon, Laszlo Szabo
'One surrenders to an experience which is the more disturbing for being so near the recognisable normal.' – Dilys Powell

Alpine Fire ★★
Switzerland 1985 117m colour
Electric/SRG/WDR/Rex/Bernard Lang original title: Höhenfeuer
A sister and her deaf-mute brother, isolated on an Alpine farm, embark on an incestuous relationship.
Unsensational and austere, it creates an atmosphere all its own.
wd Fredi M. Murer novel Fredi M. Murer ph Pio Corradi m Mario Beretta ed Helena Gerber
☆ Thomas Nock, Johanna Lier, Dorothea Moritz, Rolf Illig, Tilli Breidenbach, Joerg Odermatt

'Don't Mess With Liverpool'

Al's Lads
GB 2001 103m DeLuxe
Evolution/Alchemy (Peter Barnes, Nicholas Kingston)
US title: Capone's Boys
Three Liverpudlian waiters quit their jobs when their ship docks in America and find themselves working for Al Capone in Chicago.
Predictable drama of innocents abroad, who get mixed up in murder, kidnapping, prize-fighting and tarts with hearts of gold; the boxing sequences retain an interest and energy that is missing elsewhere.
w Marc Gee d Richard Standeven ph Nicholas D. Knowland m John Harle pd Christopher J. Bradshaw ed Justin Krish
☆ Marc Warren (Jimmy), Kirsty Mitchell (Edith), Peter Pedrero (Brendan), Al Sapienza (Georgio), Ralf Little (Dan), Julian Littman (Al Capone), Richard Roundtree (Boom Boom), Stephen Lord (Eddy)

Älskande Par: see Loving Couples

Altered States ★
US 1980 102m Technicolor
Warner/Howard Gottfried, Daniel Melnick
A psychophysiologist uses a sensory deprivation tank to hallucinate himself back into primitive states of human evolution, in which guise he emerges to kill...
Amusing elaboration of Jekyll and Hyde (qv), not to mention the Karloff mad doctor second features of the forties. All very po-faced now, and certainly impeccably done.
w Sidney Aaron (Paddy Chayefsky) novel Paddy Chayefsky d Ken Russell ph Jordan Cronenweth m John Corigliano pd Richard McDonald
☆ William Hurt, Blair Brown, Bob Balaban, Charles Haid
'Russell clomps from one scene to the next, the psychedelic visions come at you like choppy slide shows, and the picture has a dismal, tired, humanistic ending.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
'A feast for special effects lovers and drugged philosophy majors only.' – Roger Ebert
♗ John Corigliano

'A herd of cattle against a herd of cannon!'

Alvarez Kelly
US 1966 116m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Ray David (Sol C. Siegel)
The owner of a herd of 2500 cattle finds himself between two sides in the American Civil War.
Unusual if rather tepid Western which balances historical interest against social conscience and throws in a variety of other elements.
w Franklin Coen d Edward Dmytryk ph Joseph MacDonald m John Green ☆ William Holden, Richard Widmark, Janice Rule, Patrick O'Neal, Victoria Shaw, Roger C. Carmel, Richard Rust
'One of the soppiest and sloppiest of Civil War cow-operas to have come our way in years.' – Judith Crist

Alvin Purple
Australia 1973 97m colour
Hexagon (Tim Burstall)
A young man who finds himself irresistible to women finally lands a job ... as gardener in a convent.
Dismal sex farce which nevertheless helped to start the present world-wide popularity of Australian cinema. It took over a million dollars at the Australian box-office.
w Alan Hopgood d Tim Burstall
☆ Graeme Blundell, Abigail, Lynette Curran, Christine Amor, Dina Mann
† A sequel Alvin Rides Again (qv) followed.

Alvin Rides Again
Australia 1974 89m colour
Hexagon (Tim Burstall)
Alvin continues to be irresistible to women.
Dire sequel to dim comedy, but one that failed to find an appreciative audience.
w Alan Hopgood d David Bilcock, Robin Copping ☆ Graeme Blundell, Alan Finney, Frank Thring, Chantal Contouri, Abigail Always ★

US 1989 123m DeLuxe
UIP/Amblin/Steven Spielberg, Frank Marshall, Kathleen Kennedy
A dead pilot returns as a ghost to aid a romance between another flyer and his girlfriend.
Sentimental remake of the 1944 movie A Guy Named Joe (qv).
w Jerry Belson, Diane Thomas d Steven Spielberg ph Mikael Salomon m John Williams pd James Bissell ed Michael Kahn
☆ Richard Dreyfuss, Holly Hunter, Brad Johnson, John Goodman, Audrey Hepburn, Roberts Blossom, Keith David, Ed Van Nuys

Always Goodbye
US 1938 75m bw
TCF (Raymond Griffith)
An unwed mother gives up her baby and later wants it back.
Tired sentimental warhorse, a remake of Gallant Lady (qv).
w Kathryn Scola, Edith Skouras d Sidney Lanfield ph Robert Planck md Louis Silvers ☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Herbert Marshall, Ian Hunter, Cesar Romero, Lynn Bari, Binnie Barnes
'A fair summer attraction ... should do satisfactorily on the strength of its cast.' – Variety

Always in My Heart ★
US 1942 92m bw
Warner (Walter McEwen, William Jacobs)
A convict returns home to find his daughter a stranger and his wife about to marry again.
Well acted sentimental drama.
w Adele Commandini play Fly Away Home by Dorothy Bennett, Irving White d Jo Graham ph Sid Hickox m Heinz Roemheld
☆ Walter Huston, Kay Francis, Gloria Warren, Frankie Thomas, Sidney Blackmer, Una O'Connor
♗ title song (m Ernest Lecuona, ly Kim Gannon)

Always Leave Them Laughing *

US 1949 116m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)

A vaudeville comedian craves the spotlight at the expense of his private life.

Raucous backstage vehicle, crammed with sentimental and melodramatic cliché but affording tantalizing glimpses of the stage acts of its two stars.

w Jack Rose, Mel Shavelson d Roy del Ruth ph Ernest Haller md Ray Heindorf ed Clarence Kolster ly Sammy Cahn

☆ Milton Berle, Bert Lahr, Virginia Mayo, Ruth Roman, Alan Hale, Jerome Cowan

Always Together *

US 1947 78m bw
Warner

Dying millionaire bequeaths his all to a working girl, then recovers and tries to retrieve it.

Oddball comedy about a girl who has film fantasies, killed by dull title.

w Henry and Phoebe Ephron, I. A. L. Diamond d Frederick de Cordova

☆ Joyce Reynolds, Robert Hutton, Cecil Kellaway, Ernest Truex, Errol Flynn (cameo), Humphrey Bogart (cameo)

Ama

GB 1991 100m colour
Artificial Eye/Efiri Tete (Kwesi Owusu, Kwate Nee-Owoo)

A young girl, who learns by means of a computer disk that she is an ancestral messenger of the Asante, is warned that disaster will overtake her brother and father unless they change their plans.

Confused story, overloaded with fantasy, of Africans living unhappily in London.

w Kwesi Owusu d Kwesi Owusu, Kwate Nee-Owoo ph Jonathan Collinson, Roy Cornwall m Kwesi Owusu, Vico Mensah ad Ruhi Chaudry, Nigel Ashby, Keith Khan ed Justin Hrish

☆ Thomas Baptiste, Anima Misa, Roger Griffiths, Nii Oma Hunter, Joy Elias Rilwan, Georgina Ackerman

'The film's nostalgia for the past, like all forms of sentimentality, implies an unwillingness to engage in reality.' – Sight and Sound

'The Man ... The Music ... The Madness ... The Murder ... The Motion Picture ... Everything you've heard is true.'

Amadeus ***

US 1984 160m Technicolor Panavision
Saul Zaentz

Dying in 1823, the jealous composer Salieri claims to have murdered Mozart.

A musical legend performed with success and economy on stage now becomes an exciting baroque film, like an opera in high-pitched dialogue. Great to look at, and only the American accents jar the ear.

w Peter Shaffer play Peter Shaffer d Milos Forman ph Miroslav Ondricek md Neville Marriner pd Patrizia Van Brandenstein ad Josef Svoboda, Karel Cerny, Francesco Chianese ed Nena Danevic, Michael Chandler

☆ F. Murray Abraham (Antonio Salieri), Tom Hulce (Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart), Elizabeth Berridge (Constanze Mozart), Simon Callow (Emanuel Schikaneder), Roy Dotrice (Leopold Mozart), Christine Ebersole (Katerina Cavalieri)

'A major achievement, especially in films where genius is usually represented and dramatized as some kind of ill-humored, social eccentricity.' – Vincent Canby

'A visual and aural treat... an enjoyable, well-made movie of a seriousness currently lacking in our cinema.' – Philip French, Observer

† A director's cut, released in 2002, added 20m to the running time.

picture; direction; F. Murray Abraham; adapted screenplay; make-up

Tom Hulce; photography; editing; art direction

Miroslav Ondricek

'She gave her innocence, her passion, her body. The one thing she couldn't give was her love.'

L'Amant *

GB/France 1992 115m colour
Guild/A2/Burrill/Giai Phong Film (Claude Berri, Timothy Burrill)

aka: The Lover

A 15-year-old French girl in Vietnam begins an obsessive affair with a wealthy Chinese man.

Lushly romantic drama that exerts a certain charm.

w Gérard Brach, Jean-Jacques Annaud novel Marguerite Duras d Jean-Jacques Annaud ph Robert Fraisse m Gabriel Yared ad Thanh At Hoang ed Noëlle Boisson

☆ Jane March, Tony Leung, Frédérique Meininger, Arnaud Giovaninetti, Melvil Poupaud, Lisa Faulkner, Jeanne Moreau (narrator)

'Lacks the distinctive voice and ambiance of the book, but the abundant sex – soft-core and tasteful – and the splendid sets make up for the film's banal style.' – Variety

'Duras's subtle portrait of festering colonialism is brought to the screen with some resource by Annaud ... But neither Leung nor March, given a difficult role in her first film and certainly looking more fetching than she sounds, can provide a truly holding centre.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'Touching, clear-eyed, utterly unsentimental, produced lavishly but with such discipline that the exotic locale never gets in the way of the minutely detailed drama at the center.' – Vincent Canby, New York Times

Robert Fraisse

Amantes: see Lovers

Amanti d'Oltretomba: see Night of the Doomed

Les Amants (dubbed) ***

France 1958 88m bw Dyaliscope
Nouvelles Editions (Louis Malle)

aka: The Lovers

A rich provincial wife has a secret life in Paris, but finds real satisfaction in an affair with a young man.

A passionate romance which had some censorship difficulties at the time. For much of its running time, the film observes with an ironic eye French upper-class life of the time, before dissolving into a wildly romantic interlude of the wife's and ending in the uncertainty of an untried relationship.

w Louis Malle, Louise de Vilmorin novel Point de Lendemain by Dominique Vivant d Louis Malle ph Henri Decaë m Brahms ad Jacques Saulnier, Bernard Evein ed Léonide Azar

☆ Jeanne Moreau (Jeanne Tournier), Alain Cuny (Henri Tournier), Jean-Marc Bory (Bernard Dubois-Lambert), Judith Magre (Maggy Thiebaut-Leroy)

Les Amants Criminels *

France/Japan 1999 96m colour
Millivres/Fidélité/Eurospace/Arte/Canal Plus (Olivier Delbosc, Marc Missonnier)

aka: Criminal Lovers

After a manipulative girl persuades her boyfriend to kill a fellow student, the couple escape into the woods, where danger awaits them.

Cool and elegant variation on the story of Hansel and Gretel that occasionally mocks its own seriousness.

wd François Ozon ph Pierre Stoeber m Philippe Rombi ad Arnaud de Moleron ed Dominique Petrot

☆ Natacha Regnier (Alice), Jérémie Rénier (Luc), Miki Manojlovic (Man in the Woods), Salim Kechiouche (Said), Yasmine Belmadi (Karim)

'Such an amalgam of fairy tales, old movies and tabloid stories that it never develops a life of its own.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

Les Amants de Montparnasse: see The Lovers of Montparnasse

Les Amants de Vérone *

France 1948 110m bw
CICC (Raymond Borderie)

aka: The Lovers of Verona

In modern Venice a film is being made of Romeo and Juliet, and the stand-ins for the stars feel they are re-enacting the old story.

A superbly stylish if rather empty piece, the dazzling detail being much more interesting than the main story.

w André Cayatte, Jacques Prévert d André Cayatte ph Henri Alekan m Joseph Kosma ad Moulaert

☆ Pierre Brasseur, Serge Reggiani, Anouk Aimée, Louis Salou, Marcel Dalio

'Visually exciting, immaculately made.' – Penelope Houston

Les Amants du Pont-Neuf

France 1991 125m colour
Artificial Eye/Christian Fechner

aka: Lovers on the Pont-Neuf

An artist, who fears she is going blind, takes to the streets and ends up on the Pont-Neuf, inhabited by an old tramp and a young fire-eating drop-out, with whom she has an affair.

An anti-romantic love story: grim, grey and ultimately boring with its uninteresting characters upstaged by the locations.

wd Leos Carax ph Jean-Yves Escoffier m Benjamin Britten, Johann Strauss and others ad Michael Vandestien ed Nelly Quettier

☆ Juliette Binoche, Denis Lavant, Klaus-Michael Gruber

'Neo-Godardian new wave: lazy in script, crazy in characterisation, wilfully disjunctive but undeniably powerful in performance and visual panache.' – Ian Johnstone, Sunday Times

'One of the most visually exhilarating and surprising films of recent years, a true "cinema of attractions" with music, colour, dazzling camerawork, melodramatic coincidences and tour de force performances.' – Ginette Vincendeau, Sight and Sound

'One has to admire the audacity, even if the result could be considered mere flim-flam.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† The film, originally budgeted at 32 million francs (£3.2 million), became one of the most expensive of French films; its cost soared to between 100–160 million francs (£10–16 million) owing to building an elaborate set recreating the Pont-Neuf and its environs.

Les Amants du Tage: see The Lovers of Lisbon

Amarcord ***

Italy/France 1973 123m Technicolor
FC Produzione/PECF (Franco Cristaldi)

Memories of a small Italian town during the fascist period.

A bizarre, intriguing mixture of fact, fantasy and obscurity, pleasing to watch. The title means 'I remember'.

w Federico Fellini, Tonino Guerra d Federico Fellini ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Nino Rota ad Danilo Donati ed Ruggero Mastroianni

☆ Pupella Maggio (Miranda Biondi, Titta's Mother), Magali Noel (Gradisca), Armando Brancia (Aurelio Biondi, Titta's Father), Ciccio Ingrassia (Uncle Teo)

'A rich surface texture and a sense of exuberant melancholia.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

'Peaks of invention separated by raucous valleys of low comedy.' – Sight and Sound

'Some idea of attitudes within the film business may be conveyed by the fact that this witty, tender, humane, marvellously photographed picture has been booked into a cinema with 132 seats.' – Benny Green, Punch

'Hitchcock once said that he wanted to play his audiences like a piano. Fellini requires the entire orchestra.' – Roger Ebert

foreign film

script; direction

The Amateur

US 1981 111m Technicolor
TCF/Joel B. Michaels, Garth B. Drabinsky

A computer expert goes into action on his own account when his girlfriend is killed in the Munich consulate and the CIA takes no reprisals.

Ho-hum espionage adventure which has its moments but barely got released.

w Robert Littell, Diana Maddox novel Robert Littell d Charles Jarrott ph John Coquillon m Ken Wannberg

☆ John Savage, Christopher Plummer, Marthe Keller, Arthur Hill, Ed Lauter

'Ill constructed and largely implausible, with occasional atmospheric touches.' – Guardian

Amateur **

US/France 1994 105m colour
UGC/Zenith/True Fiction (Ted Hope, Hal Hartley)

A former nun turned pornographer helps an amnesiac crook discover who he really is, a search that involves sex, violence and death.

Enjoyably downbeat thriller that prefers philosophical asides to shoot-outs, though it manages to encompass both.

wd Hal Hartley ph Michael Spiller m Ned Rifle, Jeffrey Taylor pd Steve Rosenzweig ed Steven Hamilton

☆ Isabelle Huppert, Martin Donovan, Elina Lowensohn, Damian Young, Pamela Stewart, David Simmonds, Chuck Montgomery

'He's an acquired taste, but the new film has a warmth, humour and humanity that might please even hostile palates.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent

Amateur Daddy

US 1932 71m bw
Fox

A promise to a dying friend leaves a construction engineer with four orphans to look after.

Sentimental drama of the Daddy Longlegs school, with backwoods atmosphere which makes it seem even more dated than it is.

w William Conselman, Doris Malloy and Frank Dolan novel Scotch Valley by Mildred Cram d John Blystone

☆ Warner Baxter, Marian Nixon, Rita LaRoy, William Pawley, David Landau

'Strikes a strong human interest note … more than often very agreeable entertainment.' – Variety

The Amateur Gentleman ★

GB 1936 102m bw
Criterion (Marcel Hellman, Douglas Fairbanks Jnr)

A Regency innkeeper's son poses as a travelling pugilist in order to clear his father's name of theft.

Dated but rather fascinating period adventure, quite a lively production of its time.

w Clemence Dane, Edward Knoblock, Sergei Nolbandov novel Jeffrey Farnol d Thornton Freeland ph Gunther Krampf m Richard Addinsell

☆ Douglas Fairbanks Jnr, Elissa Landi, Gordon Harker, Basil Sydney, Hugh Williams, Irene Browne, Margaret Lockwood, Coral Browne, Frank Pettingell, Athole Stewart, Esmé Percy

Amator: see Camera Buff

Amazing Adventure: see The Amazing Quest of Ernest Bliss

The Amazing Captain Nemo

US 1978 103m colour
Warner

Underwater explosions in 1978 release Captain Nemo and his submarine from a hundred years of suspended animation; he continues his search for the lost continent of Atlantis while helping US naval intelligence agents deal with a mad scientist.

Moderate adventure story that may keep the young quiet for a time, though it lacks any big thrills.

w Norman Katkov, Preston Wood, Robert C. Dennis, William Keys, Mann Rubin, Robert Bloch, Larry Alexander d Alex March ph Lamar Boren m Richard LaSalle ad Eugene Lourie, Duane Alt ed Bill Brame

☆ José Ferrer, Burgess Meredith, Tom Hallick, Burr Debenning, Lynda Day George, Mel Ferrer, Richard Angarola, Horst Buchholz

'Growing! growing! growing! When will it stop?'

The Amazing Colossal Man ★

US 1957 80m bw
AIP/Malibu (Bert I. Gordon)

GB title: The Terror Strikes

A plutonium explosion causes an army colonel to grow at the rate of ten feet a day.

Modest, quite well written sci-fi let down by shaky trick work.

w Bert I. Gordon, Mark Hanna d Bert I. Gordon ph Joe Biroc m Albert Glasser

☆ Glenn Langan, Cathy Downs, William Hudson, James Seay

† Sequel: War of the Colossal Beast (qv).

An Amazing Couple: see Trilogy

The Amazing Dobermans

US 1977 96m colour
Golden (David Chudnow)

A con man with five trained dogs helps a treasury agent get the better of a gangster.

So-so doggedly doggy comedy.

w Michael Kraike, William Goldstein, Richard Chapman d Byron Chudnow ph Gregory Sandor m Alan Silvestri ed James Potter

☆ Fred Astaire, James Franciscus, Barbara Eden, Jack Carter, Billy Barty, Parley Baer

The Amazing Dr Clitterhouse ★★

US 1938 87m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)

A criminologist researcher joins a gangster's mob and becomes addicted to crime.

Amusing, suspenseful, well acted comedy-melodrama.

w John Huston, John Wexley play Barre Lyndon d Anatole Litvak ph Tony Gaudio m Max Steiner

☆ Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart, Claire Trevor, Allen Jenkins, Gale Page, Donald Crisp, Maxie Rosenbloom

'An unquestionable winner … the picture inculcates a bit of the sherlocking theme and modified romance.' – Variety

'The story is ingenious, but Anatole Litvak and his producing-acting crew have so thoroughly kept the larky mood of it while setting up the necessary mood of interest and suspense that it is hard to see where conception leaves off and the shaping of it into motion begins.' – Otis Ferguson

The Amazing Dr X

US 1948 78m bw
Eagle-Lion (Ben Stoloff)

GB title: The Spiritualist

A widow seeks comfort from a fraudulent medium.

An interesting subject for a thriller is muffed by naïve handling.

w Muriel Roy Bolton, Ian McLellan Hunter story Crane Wilbur d Bernard Vorhaus ph John Alton m Alexander Laszlo

☆ Lynn Bari, Richard Carlson, Turhan Bey, Cathy O'Donnell

'Behind the song you love is a story you will never forget.'

Amazing Grace ★ (7)

UK/US 2007 118m
Momentum/Samuel Goldwyn Films/Roadside Attractions/Bristol Bay Productions/Sunflower (Edward Pressman, Terrence Malick, Patricia Heaton, David Hunt, Ken Wales)

In 18th Century England, campaigner William Wilberforce battles to push anti-slavery legislation through Parliament.

Sturdy, well-made biopic compromised by the worthiness of its protagonist and absence of actual slaves; the director is to be commended, though, for making a fusty historical subject dramatic.

w Steven Knight d Michael Apted ph Remi Adefarasin m David Arnold pd Charles Wood ad David Allday ed Rick Shaine

☆ Ioan Gruffudd (William Wilberforce), Romola Garai (Barbara Spooner), Benedict Cumberbatch (William Pitt), Albert Finney (John Newton), Michael Gambon (Lord Charles Fox), Youssou N'Dour (Olaudah Equiano), Rufus Sewell (Thomas Clarkson)

'A detailed, affecting biography of one of the great souls who moved humanity forward.' – Mick LaSalle, San Francisco Chronicle

'Marinaded in good intentions and served up with a garnish of complacency and condescension.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

† Not to be confused with The Amazing Grace, a 2007 DVD title starring Nick Moran that concentrated on the early life of John Newton, Albert Finney's character.

Amazing Grace and Chuck

US 1987 115m colour
Tri-Star/Rastar (David Field)

GB title: Silent Voice

On both sides of the Iron Curtain, a weird selection of public personalities stand up in favour of the elimination of nuclear weapons.

Expensive but inept propaganda apparently motivated by Ted Turner.

w David Field d Mike Newell ph Robert Elswit m Elmer Bernstein pd Dena Roth ed Peter Hollywood

☆ Jamie Lee Curtis, Alex English, Gregory Peck, William L. Petersen, Joshua Zuehike

'As amazingly bad as it is audacious.' – Daily Variety

The Amazing Mr Beecham: see The Chiltern Hundreds

The Amazing Mr Blunden ★★

GB 1972 99m Eastmancolor
Hemdale/Hemisphere (Barry Levinson)

In 1918, a widow and her two children meet a kindly gentleman who offers them work in his old mansion. Here they meet two ghost children, discover that he is a ghost too, and travel a hundred years back in time to right a wicked wrong.

Involved ghost story for intellectual children, made generally palatable by oodles of period charm and good acting.

wd Lionel Jeffries story The Ghosts by Antonia Baker ph Gerry Fisher m Elmer Bernstein pd Wilfrid Shingleton

☆ Laurence Naismith, Diana Dors, James Villiers, David Lodge, Lynne Frederick, Dorothy Alison, Rosalyn Lander, Marc Granger

'Easy period charm … fills every crevice.' – Clyde Jeavons

The Amazing Mr Forrest: see The Gang's All Here (1939)

The Amazing Mr Williams ★

US 1939 86m bw
Columbia (Everett Riskin)

About-to-be-marrieds investigate a murder.

Brisk comedy-thriller on Thin Man lines.

w Dwight Taylor, Sy Bartlett, Richard Maibaum d Alexander Hall ph Arthur Todd md Morris Stoloff

☆ Melvyn Douglas, Joan Blondell, Ruth Donnelly, Clarence Kolb, Ed Brophy, Donald MacBride, Don Beddoe

The Amazing Mrs Holliday

US 1943 98m bw
Universal (Bruce Manning, Frank Shaw)

Torpedoed in mid-Pacific, a missionary's daughter arrives in San Francisco with eight Chinese orphans.

Unusual sentimental vehicle for its star; of no particular interest or merit in itself, but with the usual interludes for song.

w Frank Ryan, John Jacoby d Bruce Manning ph Elwood Bredell m Hans Salter, Frank Skinner md Charles Previn ed Ted J. Kent

☆ Deanna Durbin, Edmond O'Brien, Frieda Inescort, Barry Fitzgerald, Arthur Treacher, Harry Davenport, Grant Mitchell

'Timely drama with human interest angles.' – Variety

♪ Hans Salter, Frank Skinner

The Amazing Panda Adventure

US 1995 84m Technicolor
Panavision
Warner (Lee Rich, John Wilcox, Gary Foster, Dylan Sellers)

An American boy and a Chinese girl help save a baby panda and its nature reserve in China.

Inoffensively bland entertainment that may appeal to those who still take a teddy bear to bed with them.

w Jeff Rothberg, Laurice Elehwany story John Wilcox, Steven Allredge d Christopher Cain ph Jack N. Green m William Ross pd John Willett ed Jack Hofstra sp panda effects: Rick Baker

☆ Stephen Lang, Ryan Slater, Yi Ding, Huang Fei

'Harmless family fare might be deemed politically correct for its concern for endangered species, but whitewashing of Chinese regime will strike adults aware of current events as somewhat bizarre.' – Variety

The Amazing Quest of Ernest Bliss

GB 1936 63m bw
UA/Garrett-Klement (Alfred Zeisler)

aka: The Amazing Adventure
aka: Romance and Riches

A millionaire bets that he can rise to the top from his job as a chauffeur without using his wealth.

Mild comedy that depends on Cary Grant's charm to carry it through.

w John L. Balderston novel E. Phillips Oppenheim d Alfred Zeisler ph Otto Heller ad David Rawnsley ed Merrill White

☆ Cary Grant, Mary Brian, Henry Kendall, Leon M. Lion, Ralph Richardson

Amazon Women on the Moon

US 1987 85m colour
Universal (Robert K. Weiss)

A parody of a 1950s low-budget science fiction movie is interrupted by a series of supposedly comic sketches.

While the parody is precise and amusing, the surrounding material, which occupies the majority of the film, is weak and silly.

w Michael Barrie, Jim Mulholland d Joe Dante, Carl Gottlieb, Peter Horton, John Landis, Robert K. Weiss ph Daniel Pearl ed Bert Lovitt, Marshall Harvey, Malcolm Campbell

☆ Rosanna Arquette, Ralph Bellamy, Carrie Fisher, Griffin Dunne, Steve Guttenberg, Michelle Pfeiffer

The Ambassador

US 1984 95m TVC Color
Cannon/Northbrook (Isaac Kol)

An American ambassador to Israel gets in the line of fire with the Arabs; meanwhile his wife is having an affair with a man who is secretly a leader of the PLO.

Aged stars go gloomily through some tasteless paces in this politically unwise pseudo-thriller.

w Max Jack novel 52 Pick Up by Elmore Leonard d J. Lee Thompson ph Avi Karpik, Ofer Yanov, Rami Siman Tov m Dov Seltzer
☆ Robert Mitchum, Ellen Burstyn, Rock Hudson, Fabio Testi, Donald Pleasence 'Not wild enough to be funny.' – Sight and Sound
† Not much more than a year later, the original novel was filmed under its own title in its original setting (qv).

Ambassador Bill
US 1931 68m bw
Fox
An Oklahoma cattle man is appointed US ambassador to a foreign country ruled by a regency.
Poorly tailored star vehicle.
w Guy Bolton story Vincent Sheean d Sam Taylor
☆ Will Rogers, Marguerite Churchill, Greta Nissen, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Ray Milland
'Wilting yarn, illogical hoke.' – Variety

The Ambassador's Daughter ★
US 1956 102m Technicolor Cinemascope
UA/Norman Krasna
An American senator in Paris decides that the presence of US forces in Paris constitutes a moral danger. The ambassador's daughter decides to investigate.
Thin comedy of the old-fashioned type: smart lines and intimate playing not helped by the vast screen.
wd Norman Krasna ph Miche Kelber m Jacques Metehen ☆ Olivia de Havilland, John Forsythe, Edward Arnold, Adolphe Menjou, Myrna Loy, Francis Lederer, Tommy Noonan, Minor Watson
'An experienced cast approach the story's frivolities with poise and style.' – MFB

The Ambulance
US 1990 95m DeLuxe Panavision
Epic/Sarlui/Diamant (Moctesuma Esparza, Robert Katz)
Aided by an old reporter, a photographer investigates the disappearance of people from the streets of New York.
Absurd thriller, with rather better acting than it deserves.
wd Larry Cohen ph Jacques Haitkin m Jay Chattaway pd Lester Cohen ed Arnold Lebowitz, Claudia Finkle
☆ Eric Roberts, James Earl Jones, Megan Gallagher, Richard Bright, Janine Turner, Eric Braeden, Red Buttons
'A seamless thriller with top-notch thrills.' – Empire

Ambush ★
US 1938 62m bw
Paramount
A girl proves her brother innocent and brings gangsters to book.
Brisk second feature with an unexpected writing credit.
w S. J. and Laura Perelman d Kurt Neumann
☆ Gladys Swarthout, Lloyd Nolan, Ernest Truex 'Hard hitting, fast moving and at all times plausible.' – Variety

Ambush ★
US 1949 89m bw
MGM (Armand Deutsch)
An army scout leads a posse to capture an Indian chief who is holding a white woman hostage.
Good, clean, robust Western, well produced and acted.
w Marguerite Roberts d Sam Wood ph Harold Lipstein m Rudolph Kopp
☆ Robert Taylor, John Hodiak, Arlene Dahl, Don Taylor, Jean Hagen, Leon Ames

Ambush at Blood Pass: see Machibuse

'One man against the west!'

Ambush at Tomahawk Gap
US 1953 73m Technicolor
Columbia (Wallace MacDonald)
Four ex-convicts seek hidden loot in a ghost town.
Standard co-feature Western with rather more violence than usual for its date.
w David Lang d Fred F. Sears ph Henry Freulich m Ross Di Maggio ☆ John Hodiak, John Derek, David Brian, Maria Elena Marques, Ray Teal, John Qualen

Ambush Bay
US 1966 109m DeLuxe
UA/Aubrey Schenck
In 1944, nine Marines try to escape from a Japanese-held island.
Routine, lengthy, sub-standard heroics for action addicts.
w Marve Feinberg, Ib Melchior d Ron Winston ph Emanuel Rojas m Richard La Salle ☆ Hugh O'Brian, Mickey Rooney, James Mitchum, Tisa Chang, Harry Lauter

The Ambushers
US 1967 102m Technicolor
Columbia/Meadway/Claude (Irving Allen)
An experimental flying disc disappears on a test run, and the trail leads Matt Helm to the Mexican jungle.
The third Matt Helm adventure had such a stupid script that all concerned decided to send it up, unfortunately with too obvious a tendency to smirk at their own bravado.
w Herbert Baker d Henry Levin ph Burnett Guffey, Edward Colman m Hugo Montenegro ☆ Dean Martin, Senta Berger, Janice Rule, Kurt Kasznar, James Gregory, Albert Salmi
'Plot, jokes and gadgets all well below par.' – MFB

Amélie: see Le Fabuleux Destin d'Amélie Poulain

Amen ★
France/Germany 2002 132m colour
Pathé/Katharina/Renn/TF1/Canal+/KC Medien (Claude Berri)
A Catholic priest attemps to help a Nazi officer inform the Pope about the extermination of Jews in concentration camps.
Mixing fact – the efforts of the real-life SS officer Kurt Gerstein to stop the Nazi death-camps – and fiction, in the person of the eager priest with access to the Pope, this is a slick, flawed thriller that might have been better had it stuck to the facts; but at least it raises some important questions.
w Costa-Gavras, Jean-Claude Grumberg play The Representative by Rolf Hochhuth d Costa-Gavras ph Patrick Blossier m Armand Amar pd Ari Hantke ed Yannick Kergoat ☆ Ulrich Tukur (Kurt Gerstein), Mathieu Kassovitz (Riccardo Fontana), Ulrich Muhe (The Doctor), Michel Duchaussoy (The Cardinal), Ion Caramitru (Count Fontana), Marcel Iures (The Pope), Friedrich von Thun (Gerstein's Father), Antje Schmidt (Mrs Gerstein)
'Repetitious, crudely dramatized, and awkwardly acted—in English, which seems to be the second or third language of everyone involved.' – David Edelstein, Slate † Kurt Gerstein was arrested by the Allies and died, either by his own hand or at the hands of others, while in custody. His name was cleared in 1965, when it was acknowledged that he had done much to document Nazi atrocities and to try to prevent them.

'Love of tender girlhood! Passionate deeds of heroes! A rushing, leaping drama of charm and excitement!'

America ★
US 1924 122m (24 fps) bw silent (UA)
Various characters experience the Revolutionary War.
The Birth of a Nation, one war back. Much of interest, but nothing new; Griffith was basically repeating himself.
w John Pell d D. W. Griffith ph Billy Bitzer, Hendrick Sartow, Marcel le Picard, Hal Sintzenich
☆ Neil Hamilton, Carol Dempster, Lionel Barrymore, Erville Alderson
'Here is the romance of one hundred million people, told in heartthrobs!' – D. W. Griffith
† As the English were the villains, the film was banned in Britain, but later released under the title Love and Sacrifice.

America, America ★
US 1963 177m bw
Warner/Athena Enterprises (Elia Kazan)
GB title: The Anatolian Smile
In 1896 Turkey, a young Greek dreams of emigrating to America, and finally does so.
A massive piece of self-indulgence by a one-man band, fascinating for his family circle but so poorly constructed as to be of very limited interest elsewhere.
wd Elia Kazan ph Haskell Wexler m Manos Hadjidakis ☆ Stathis Giallelis, Frank Wolff, Harry Davis, Elena Karam, Estelle Hemsley, Lou Antonio
'Kazan has failed to film the adventure implicit in his material, and a potentially exciting story has gone to waste.' – MFB
'If he sinks his teeth in a scene or a sequence that he enjoys, the audience can just sit around and be damned.' – Stanley Kauffmann
'Every episode, almost every shot, has its own beginning, middle and end, and the numberless playlets are cemented together into a strip which after the first two hours threatens to stretch grimly into eternity.' – Robert Hatch, The Nation
🎗 picture; Elia Kazan (as writer); Elia Kazan (as director)

The American Beauty: see La Belle Américaine

'...look closer'

American Beauty ★★★★
US 1999 122m Technicolor Panavision
DreamWorks (Bruce Cohen, Dan Jinks)
A dying suburban husband and father reviews his life and the events that led to his murder.
A terrific, biting comedy of a man dealing, in an adolescent way, with a midlife crisis and the aridities of the life he and those around him are living; it manages not only to expose the inanities of a conformist society, but also to suggest an alternative, in the small pleasures that existence affords. There is not a false note in either the acting or the direction.
w Alan Ball d Sam Mendes ph Conrad L. Hall m Thomas Newman pd Naomi Shohan ed Tariq Anwar, Christopher Greenbury
☆ Kevin Spacey (Lester Burnham), Annette Bening (Carolyn Burnham), Thora Birch (Jane Burnham), Wes Bentley (Ricky Fitts), Mena Suvari (Angela Hayes), Peter Gallagher (Buddy Kane), Allison Janney (Barbara Fitts), Scott Bakula (Jim Olmeyer), Sam Robards (Jim Berkley), Chris Cooper (Colonel Fitts)
'A film of incredible flair and formal, compositional brilliance.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'An acerbic, darkly comic critique of how social conventions can lead people into false, sterile and emotionally stunted lives.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'The picture is a con. Can't educated liberals see that it sucks up to them at every plot turn?' – Pauline Kael
† The film cost $15m to make and took $277m at the box office world wide.
†† The Region 1 and 2 DVD releases include commentary by Sam Mendes and Alan Ball.
🎗 picture; Kevin Spacey; Sam Mendes; Alan Ball; Conrad L. Hall
🎗 Annette Bening; Thomas Newman; Tariq Anwar, Christopher Greenbury
🎗 picture; Annette Bening; Kevin Spacey; Conrad L. Hall; Tariq Anwar, Christopher Greenbury; Thomas Newman

American Blue Note ★
US 1989 97m Technicolor
Vested Interests/Fakebook (Ralph Toporoff)
aka: Fakebook
In the 1960s the leader of a jazz quintet struggles to find an audience for his music.
Gentle, well-observed off-beat film with a sense of humour.
w Gilbert Girion d Ralph Toporoff ph Joey Forsyte m Larry Schanker pd Charles Lagola ed Jack Haigis
☆ Peter MacNicol, Carl Capotorto, Tim Guinee, Bill Christopher-Myers, Jonathan Walker, Charlotte D'Amboise, Trini Alvarado

American Boyfriends
Canada 1989 90m Alpha Cine
Alliance/First Choice/Backseat (Steve Denure)
Three Canadian girls go across the border to attend a wedding and see California.
Dull sequel to My American Cousin, in which aimless talk and movement substitute for character and action.
wd Sandy Wilson ph Brenton Spencer m Terry Frewer pd Philip Schmidt ed Lara Mazur ☆ Margaret Langrick, John Wildman, Jason Blicker, Lisa Repo-Martell, Michele Bardeaux, Delia Brett

American Buffalo ★★
US, GB 1996 88m colour
Film Four/Capitol/Samuel Goldwyn/Channel 4/Punch (Gregory Mosher)
A junkshop owner discusses robbing the home of a coin collector with his teenage helper and a petty thief.

A conversation piece that shows its theatrical origins, but survives the transition to the screen thanks to Mamet's demotic dialogue and the expert performances it receives.
w David Mamet play David Mamet
d Michael Corrente ph Richard Crudo
m Thomas Newman pd Daniel Talpers
ed Kate Sanford
☆ Dustin Hoffman, Dennis Franz, Sean Nelson

An American Dream

US 1966 103m Technicolor
Warner (William Conrad)
GB title: See You in Hell, Darling
A TV commentator is goaded into murdering his wife, becomes involved with gangsters and, tortured by guilt, allows them to kill him for shielding the girlfriend of one of them.
Ludicrously heavy-handed version of a semi-surrealist book which presumably had something to say about modern America, at least in its author's mind. Nothing comes through but relentless boredom at watching sordid and unlikely events, and sympathy for those involved. Eleanor Parker's one-scene role of screaming bitchery has to be seen to be believed.
w Mann Rubin novel Norman Mailer
d Robert Gist ph Sam Leavitt m Johnny Mandel ☆ Stuart Whitman, Janet Leigh, Eleanor Parker, J. D. Cannon, Lloyd Nolan, Barry Sullivan, Murray Hamilton
'An idiotic melodrama laced with the salacious syndromes and little-boy nastiness that are the hall-mark of today's "mature film".' – Judith Crist
♫ song, 'A Time for Love' (m Johnny Mandel, ly Paul Francis Webster)

American Dreamer

US 1984 105m Technicolor
Warner/Rank/CBS (Doug Chapin)
An Ohio housewife writes a novel, wins a trip to Paris, and finds her romantic dreams coming true.
A kind of lower-case reprise of Romancing the Stone, this modest comedy works only in fits and starts.
w Jim Kouf, David Greenwalt story Ann Biderman d Rick Rosenthal ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Lewis Furey pd Brian Eatwell ed Anne Goursaud ☆ JoBeth Williams, Tom Conti, Giancarlo Giannini, Coral Browne, James Staley
'A pleasant throwback to earlier forms of Hollywood farce.' – Variety

'Imagine a country where the President never reads the newspaper, where the government goes to war for all the wrong reasons, and more people vote for a pop idol than their next President.'

American Dreamz ★ (4)

US 2006 107m Technicolor
Universal/Depth of Field (Pau Weitz, Rodney Liber, Andrew Miano)
TV's most popular show, a singing contest for amateurs, attracts a diverse group of performers and the interest of the country's dim-witted President, whose popularity is flagging.
A ineffectual satire on the current state of the US nation, which occasionally hits the target; Grant's sleazy TV presenter is its main asset.
wd Paul Weitz ph Robert Elswit
m Stephen Trask pd William Arnold
ed Myron Kerstein
☆ Hugh Grant (Martin Tweed), Dennis Quaid (President Staton), Mandy Moore (Sally Kendoo), Willem Dafoe (Chief of Staff), Chris Klein (William Williams), Jennifer Coolidge (Martha Kendoo), Sam Golzari (Omer), Marcia Gay Harden (First Lady)
'More slapdash than smooth, more impulsive than calculating, and it takes cheap shots. I responded to its savage, sloppy zeal.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times
'Flabby, uninventive satire on politics and showbusiness that fails either to offend or amuse.' – Philip French, Observer

'The nation-blazing epic of America's westward march!'

American Empire

US 1942 82m bw
Harry Sherman/UA
GB title: My Son Alone
Brothers fall out over management of their Texas ranch.
Reasonable but forgettable semi-Western.
w Ben Grauman Kohn, Gladys Atwater, Robert Bren d William McGann ☆ Richard Dix, Preston Foster, Frances Gifford, Leo Carrillo

American Flyers

US 1985 114m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Gareth Wigan, Paula Weinstein
Two brothers compete in a gruelling bicycle race.
Ambitious but ineffective drama with too much effort to explore personal dramas instead of getting on with the action.
w Steve Tesich d John Badham ph Don Peterman m Lee Ritenour, Greg Mathieson pd Lawrence G. Paull ed Frank Morriss
☆ Kevin Costner, David Grant, Rae Dawn Chong, Alexandra Paull, Janice Rule
'Overblown production just pumps hot air in too many directions and comes up limp.' – Variety

The American Friend ★

West Germany 1977 127m colour
Road Movies/WDR/Wim Wenders original title: Der amerikanische Freund
A Hamburg picture-framer thinks he is dying and is persuaded to become a Mafia hitman.
Strange melodrama which got the ear of the cognoscenti.
w Wim Wenders, Fritz Müller-Scherz novel Ripley's Game by Patricia Highsmith
d Wim Wenders ph Robby Müller
m Jürgen Knieper
☆ Dennis Hopper, Bruno Ganz, Lisa Kreuzer, Gerard Blain, Nicholas Ray, Samuel Fuller

American Friends ★

GB 1991 95m Eastmancolor
Virgin/British Screen/Millennium/Mayday/Prominent Features (Patrick Cassavetti, Steve Abbott)
In Victorian England, a middle-aged Oxford academic, who is about to be elected president of his college, a post for a bachelor, falls in love with an American woman.
Gentle, quirky tale of romantic and academic intrigue that yields small pleasures.
w Michael Palin, Tristram Powell
d Tristram Powell ph Philip Bonham-Carter m Georges Delerue pd Andrew McAlpine ed Dennis McTaggart
☆ Michael Palin, Trini Alvarado, Connie Booth, Bryan Pringle, Fred Pearson, Alfred Molina, Susan Denaker, Robert Eddison
'Not really the stuff of the big screen, but rather a perfectly acceptable, reasonably touching TV drama.' – Empire

'He's the highest paid lover in Beverly Hills!'

American Gigolo

US 1980 117m Metrocolor
Paramount/Pierre Associates (Freddie Fields)
A male prostitute finds that a client won't clear him when he is falsely charged with murder.
Thoroughly unattractive wallow on the seamy side of Los Angeles, with none of Midnight Cowboy*'s compassion.*
wd Paul Schrader ph John Bailey
m Giorgio Moroder
☆ Richard Gere, Lauren Hutton, Hector Elizondo, Nina Van Pallandt
'A hot subject, cool style and overly contrived plotting don't all mesh.' – Variety
'A perverse film devoted to perversity, typical of Schrader's apparently sadistic intent to pillory his audience with every kind of degenerate act he can manufacture.' – Motion Picture Guide † Christopher Reeve allegedly refused one million dollars to play the lead. John Travolta also turned down the role.

American Gothic

GB/Canada 1988 90m colour
Manor Ground/Vidmark (John Quested/Christopher Harrop)
A murderous family, living in an old house on an otherwise deserted island, invites some stranded travellers to stay.
Ludicrous, hammily acted horror.
w Burt Wetanson, Michael Vines d John Hough ph Harvey Harrison m Alan Parker pd David Hiscox ed John Victor Smith sp Allen Benjamin ☆ Rod Steiger, Yvonne de Carlo, Sarah Torgov, Michael J. Pollard, Fiona Hutchinson, William Hootkins

'Where were you in '62?'

American Graffiti ★★★

US 1973 110m Techniscope
Universal/Lucasfilm/Coppola Company (Francis Ford Coppola, Gary Kurtz)
In 1962 California, four young men about to leave for college gather for a night's girl-chasing and police-baiting.
Nostalgic comedy recalling many sights and sounds of the previous generation and carefully crystallizing a particular time and place. Successful in itself, it led to many imitations.
wd George Lucas ph Ron Eveslage, Jan D'Alquen m popular songs ad Dennis Clark ed Verna Fields, Marcia Lucas
☆ Richard Dreyfuss (Curt), Ronny Howard (Steve), Paul le Mat (John), Charlie Martin Smith (Terry), Cindy Williams (Laurie), Candy Clark (Debbie), Mackenzie Phillips (Carol)
'A very good movie, funny, tough, unsentimental... full of marvellous performances.' – Roger Greenspun, New York Times
† The film cost 750,000 dollars, and grossed 55 million.
♫ picture; George Lucas (as writer); George Lucas (as director); Candy Clark

An American Guerilla in the Philippines

US 1950 104m colour
TCF (Lamar Trotti)
aka: I Shall Return
A stranded American naval officer forms a guerrilla band to fight the Japanese after the fall of the Philippines.
Muddled war story with a weak script; both its director and star disliked making the movie, and it shows.
w Lamar Trotti novel Ira Wolfert d Fritz Lang ph Harry Jackson m Cyril J. Mockridge md Lionel Newman ad Lyle Wheeler ed Robert Simpson ☆ Tyrone Power, Micheline Presle, Tom Ewell, Bob Patten, Tommy Cook, Juan Torena, Jack Elam, Carleton Young

An American Haunting

GB/Canada/US/Romania 2005 90m Technicolor Panavision
Redbus/Allan Zeman/Midsummer/Remstar/SC MediaPro/After Dark (Courtney Solomon, Christopher Milburn, Andre Rouleau)
Concerned about her daughter's nightmares, a mother discovers a manuscript detailing a similar case of poltergeist activity in the house in 1817.
Cliché-stuffed 19th-century take on The Exorcist, made by a director who imagined that zooming, shaky camerawork and loud screaming was the best way to scare an audience.
wd Courtney Solomon novel The Bell Witch: An American Haunting by Brent Monahan ph Adrian Biddle m Caine Davidson pd Humphrey Jaeger ed Richard Comeau
☆ Donald Sutherland (John Bell), Sissy Spacek (Lucy Bell), Rachel Hurd-Wood (Betsy Bell), James D'Arcy (Richard Powell), Matthew Marsh (James Johnston), Thom Fell (John Jnr)
'Oh, boy, is this bad, a pitiable and hopelessly confused period horror film .' – David Edwards, Daily Mirror
† The film is based on a true US case, the only one in which the official verdict was death by supernatural causes.

'Jack Kelson is going straight. And his son's breaking the law to help him.'

American Heart ★

US 1992 114m colour
Entertainment/Avenue/World Films (Rosilyn Heller, Jeff Bridges)
Out on parole, a former prisoner tries to go straight and also look after his teenage son.
An interesting attempt to deal with the lower reaches of American life in a realistic manner, but one that is only partly successful.
w Peter Silverman story Martin Bell, Mary Ellen Mark, Peter Silverman d Martin Bell ph James R. Bagdonas m James Newton Howard pd Joel Schiller ed Nancy Baker
☆ Jeff Bridges, Edward Furlong, Lucinda Jenney, Don Harvey, Tracey Tyla Kapisky, John Boylan
'Has plenty of passion and commitment but is rather too straightforward and disappointingly resolved to qualify as a total success.' – Variety
'The film tries now and then to be upbeat in the familiar American manner but doesn't press it and is rarely sentimental. Bell goes for the jugular when he can.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

American History X ★

US 1998 118m DeLuxe
Entertainmnet/New Line (John Morrissey)
The leader of a neo-Nazi gang undergoes a reform in prison.
Tense melodrama of racism that looks a great deal better than it sounds; along the way, though, it invests its skinhead thugs with a kind of glamour.

w David McKenna d Tony Kaye ph Tony Kaye m Anne Dudley pd Jon Gary Steele ed Jerry Greenberg, Alan Heim
☆ Edward Norton, Edward Furlong, Fairuza Balk, Stacy Keach, Elliott Gould, Avery Brooks, Beverly D'Angelo, Paul Le Mat

'Norton's performance lets the film retain its primal power. But it doesn't redeem the overall concern such a film must cause us. You don't construct an anti-Nazi polemic that gratifies an audience's taste for brutality, nor end it so nihilistically that resistance to fascism seems futile.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

† Tony Kaye disowned the released version of his film. At the Berlin Film Festival in 1999, he issued a statement which said, in part: 'My vision of the film never made it to the screen. Edward Norton was permitted by the producers to edit and alter the film, which he did by increasing his role while decreasing the integrity of the film. The producers denied me the opportunity to present a black voice to provide depth and balance to the film. They denied me the opportunity to let a thousand voices be heard, if need be, so that a person watching the film might make an intelligent and informed decision about the compelling questions of our time.' Norton later commented, 'Let's not make any mistake: Tony Kaye is a victim of his own spiritual and creative immaturity.'
Edward Norton

American Hot Wax
US 1978 91m Metrocolor
Paramount (Art Linson)

The early days of rock and roll as seen by a prominent disc jockey of the time.
Mildly entertaining ragbag of semi-historical facts and authentic music, strictly for the youth market.
w John Kaye, Art Linson d Floyd Mutrux ph William A. Fraker md Kenny Vance ☆ Tim McIntire (Alan Freed), Fran Drescher, Jay Leno, Laraine Newman, Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis, Screamin' Jay Hawkins

An American in Paris ★★★★
US 1951 113m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A carefree young artist scorns a rich woman's patronage and wins the love of a gamine.
Altogether delightful musical holiday, one of the highspots of the Hollywood genre, with infectious enthusiasm and an unexpected sense of the Paris that was.
w Alan Jay Lerner d Vincente Minnelli ph Al Gilks, John Alton m/ly George Gershwin, Ira Gershwin md Saul Chaplin, Johnny Green ch Gene Kelly ad Cedric Gibbons, Preston Ames ed Adrienne Fazan cos Walter Plunkett, Irene Sharaff
☆ Gene Kelly (Jerry Mulligan), Oscar Levant (Adam Cook), Nina Foch (Milo Roberts), Leslie Caron (Lise Bouvier), Georges Guetary (Henri Baurel)

'Too fancy and overblown, but the principal performers are in fine form and the Gershwin music keeps everything good-spirited.' – New Yorker, 1977
'Spangled with pleasant little patches of amusement and George Gershwin tunes.' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

† Chevalier was originally paged for the Georges Guetary role, but turned it down because he lost the girl. The production cost $2,723,903, of which $542,000 went on the final ballet
♫ 'I Got Rhythm'; 'Embraceable You'; 'By Strauss'; 'Swonderful'; 'Tra La La'; 'Our Love Is Here to Stay'; 'Stairway to Paradise'; 'Concerto in F' (instrumental); 'An American in Paris' (ballet) picture; Alan Jay Lerner; Al Gilks, John Alton; musical arrangement (Saul Chaplin, Johnny Green); art direction; costumes (Walter Plunkett, Irene Sharaff)
Vincente Minnelli; Adrienne Fazan

American Madness ★★
US 1932 80m bw
Columbia

When a bank failure threatens, hundreds of small savers increase their deposits to save the situation.
Vivid, overstressed topical melodrama with crowd scenes typical of its director's later output.
w Robert Riskin d Frank Capra ph Joseph Walker
☆ Walter Huston, Pat O'Brien, Kay Johnson, Constance Cummings, Gavin Gordon, Berton Churchill

'It's a money picture. That goes both ways. It's about money and banks and spells dough for the box office. It's timely, topical, human, dramatic, punchy and good entertainment at one and the same time.' – Variety
'The sequence of the mounting panic and the storming of the bank are effectively staged, but the resolution is the usual Capra/Riskin populist hokum.' – New Yorker, 1977

American Me ★★
US 1992 125m DeLuxe
Y.O.Y. (Sean Daniel, Robert M. Young, Edward James Olmos)

A young Hispanic hoodlum serves an 18-year jail sentence and tries to make sense of his life on his release.
Grim, forceful and engrossing depiction of a savage world, inside and outside prison, where violence, crime and drugs are the shaping influences.
w Floyd Mutrux, Desmond Nakano d Edward James Olmos ph Reynaldo Villalobos m Dennis Lambert, Claude Gaudette pd Joe Aubel ed Arthur R. Coburn, Richard Candib
☆ Edward James Olmos, William Forsythe, Pepe Serna, Danny de La Paz, Evelina Fernandez, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Daniel Villareal, Sal Lopez

'Represents a massive downer by any conventional audience standards, and also runs the risk of attracting the type of crowd that will groove on the violence and ignore the message.' – Variety
'True tragedy; there are moments of Shakespearean power as well as graphic violence.' – John Anderson, Newsday

American Ninja
US 1986 95m TVC Color
Cannon/Menahem Golan/Yoram Globus

GB title: American Warrior
Two GIs use extreme violence to thwart gun-runners and other enemies in the Philippines.
Flaccid martial arts movie.
w Paul de Mielche story Avi Kleinberger, Gideon Amir d Sam Firstenberg ph Hanania Baer m Michael Linn pd Adrian H. Gorton ed Andrew Horvitch
☆ Michael Dudikoff, Steve James, Judie Aronson, Guich Koock

American Ninja 2: The Confrontation
US 1987 100m TVC Color
Cannon/Menahem Golan/Yoram Globus

Two US Army Rangers are sent to a small Caribbean island to investigate a mystery of disappearing marines.
Non-stop action, leavened with a touch of humour.
w Gary Conway, James Booth d Sam Firstenberg ph Gideon Porath m George S. Clinton pd Holger Gross ed Michael J. Duthie
☆ Michael Dudikoff, Steve James, Larry Poindexter, Gary Conway, Jeff Weston

American Ninja 3: Blood Hunt
US 1989 93m Rank Colour
Cannon/Breton (Harry Alan Towers)

The toughest man in the world takes his revenge after he is infected with a deadly disease by the men who murdered his father.
Dreary action movie, full of ineptly-staged fights.
wd Cedric Sundstrom story Gary Conway ph George Bartels m George S. Clinton pd Ruth Strimling ed Michael J. Duthie
☆ David Bradley, Steve James, Marjoe Gortner, Michele Chan, Yehuda Efroni, Calvin Jung

American Ninja 4: The Annihilation
US 1991 95m colour
Cannon (Christopher Pearce)

A teacher reverts to his martial arts training to rescue friends taken prisoner by an evil sheikh.
Dim and unexciting sequel, with little sign of life or interest from the participants.
w David Geeves d Cedric Sundstrom ph Joseph Wein m Nicolas Tenbroek pd Ruth Strimling ed Claudio Yrtuc
☆ Michael Dudikoff, David Bradley, James Booth, Dwayne Alexandre, Robin Stille, Ken Gampu

'Low-budget, no-talent programmer … Even the genre's most devoted fans will be disappointed by the lack of imagination and energy in the fight scenes.' – Variety

'Bad is good again.'

American Outlaws
US 2001 93m FotoKem
Warner/Morgan Creek (James G. Robinson)

Angered by the underhand behaviour of the railroad, Frank and Jesse James form a gang of bank-robbers.
This is no more than another failed attempt, in the manner of the dire Young Guns movies, to find a young audience for Westerns by portraying its characters as rock star protoypes.
w Roderick Taylor, John Rogers d Les Mayfield ph Russell Boyd m Trevor Rabin pd Cary White, John Frick ed Michael Tronick
☆ Colin Farrell (Jesse James), Scott Caan (Cole Younger), Ali Larter (Zee Mimms), Gabriel Macht (Frank James), Gregory Smit (Jim Younger), Harris Yulin (Thaddeus Rains), Kathy Bates (Ma James), Timothy Dalton (Allan Pinkerton), Will McCormack (Bob Younger), Ronny Cox (Doc Mimms), Terry O'Quinn (Rollin Parker), Nathaniel Arcand (Comanche Tom)

'This is the 36th retelling of the James Younger gang's exploits, and by some way the most feeble.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'There is no escape from destiny.'

American Perfekt
US 1997 99m Foto-Kem
Blue Dolphin/Nu Image (Irvin Kershner)

A serial killer, who leads his life according to the throw of a coin, gets his come-uppance.
The unexpected never happens in this predictable movie of women in peril from a madman; it's best to take a chance and avoid it.
wd Paul Chart ph William Wages m Simon Boswell pd Katherine Vallin ed Michael Russo
☆ Fairuza Balk (Alice), Robert Forster (Jake), Amanda Plummer (Sandra), Paul Sorvino (Frank), David Thewlis (Santini), Geoffrey Lewis (Willy), Chris Sarandon (Sammy), Joanna Gleason (Shirley)

'Within the arthousey road movie formula, it seems, sometimes there is no escape from predictability.' – Tom Doyle, Empire

'Have you had that loving filling?'
'There's something about your first piece.'

American Pie ★
US 1999 96m DeLuxe
Universal (Warren Zide, Craig Perry, Chris Moore, Chris Weitz)

Four high school youths are determined to lose their virginity before they graduate.
The 90s equivalent of Porky's, a gross comedy of crude jokes about adolescent sexuality; its success was due to it going further than its predecessors.
w Adam Herz d Paul Weitz ph Richard Crudo m David Lawrence pd Paul Peters ed Priscilla Nedd-Friendly
☆ Jason Biggs (Jim), Shannon Elizabeth (Nadia), Alyson Hannigan (Michelle), Chris Klein (Oz), Natasha Lyonne (Jessica), Thomas Ian Nicholas (Kevin), Tara Reid (Vicky), Seann W. Scott (Stifler), Mena Suvari (Heather), Eddie Kaye Thomas (Finch), Eugene Levy

'Crude in more ways than one, this cheesy homage to a level of horniness Austin Powers could only imagine will be a dream movie for many a teenage boy.' – Todd McCarthy
'Marks a major shift in contemporary teen culture by making the girls as hip to sex as the boys.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly
'The movie industry is dominated by 12-year-olds. I mean, I'm not trying to sound snobbish, but American Pie? Sticking your dick in a pie? That's a movie? Come on.' – Spike Lee

† It grossed around $102m at the US box office.

'This Summer It's All About Sticking Together.'

American Pie 2
US 2001 105m DeLuxe Panavision
Universal (Warren Zide, Craig Perry, Chris Moore)

Holidaying college students rent a beach house so that they can continue their sexual education.
The recipe is unchanging from the first Pie,

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released · ☆ Cast in approximate · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA with its below the belt humour among charmless young.

w Adam Herz; d J. B. Rogers ph Mark Irwin m David Lawrence pd Richard Toyon ed Larry Madaras, Stuart Pappe
☆ Jason Biggs (Jim), Shannon Elizabeth (Nadia), Alyson Hannigan (Michelle), Chris Klein (Oz), Natasha Lyonne (Jessica), Thomas Ian Nicholas (Kevin), Tara Reid (Vicky), Seann William Scott (Stifler), Mena Suvari (Heather), Eddie Kaye Thomas (Finch), Eugene Levy (Jim's Dad), Casey Affleck (Kevin's Brother)
'A genuinely depressing experience.' – Steve Grant, Sunday Times

'This time they're going all the way.'

American Pie: The Wedding ③

US 2003 96m DeLuxe Panavision
Universal (Warren Zide, Craig Perry, Chris Moore, Adam Herz, Chris Bender)

As two former high school sweethearts plan to marry, the course of true love encounters sexual shenanigans.
The cast may be growing up, but the jokes remain infantile.
w Adam Herz d Jesse Dylan ph Lloyd Ahern m Christophe Beck pd Clayton Hartley ed Stuart Pappe
☆ Jason Biggs (Jim Levenstein), Alyson Hannigan (Michelle Flaherty), January Jones (Cadence Flaherty), Thomas Ian Nicholas (Kevin Myers), Seann William Scott (Steve Stifler), Eddie Kaye Thomas (Paul Finch), Fred Willard (Harold Flaherty), Eugene Levy (Jim's Dad)
'None of it is really funny, and the crudity is now very dull.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'You'll see better film on ponds.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times
† The DVD release includes commentaries by the director and leading actors.
†† It was budgeted at $55m and took more than $104m at the US box-office.

The American President ★

US 1995 113m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Castle Rock/Wildwood (Rob Reiner)

A US president who lacks a wife decides to date an attractive lobbyist, with the result that his popularity with his party and the public begins to slide.
This is a clever idea for a romantic comedy, as the most important man in America tries to behave like the boy next door, but it is one that is soon reduced to blandness by a refusal to take risks; playing safe may be good political practice but it does not make for more general hilarity.
w Aaron Sorkin d Rob Reiner ph John Seale m Marc Shaiman pd Lilly Kilvert ed Robert Leighton
☆ Michael Douglas, Annette Bening, Martin Sheen, Michael J. Fox, David Paymer, Samantha Mathis, Richard Dreyfuss
'Genial middlebrow fare that coasts a long way on the charm of its two stars.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'Its success will be a sign that movie-goers have scaled down their expectations for romantic comedy.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker
† Robert Redford was to have starred, but was replaced after a disagreement with Reiner.
♗ Marc Shaiman

'Killer looks.'
'No introductions necessary.'

American Psycho ★★

US/Canada 2000 101m DeLuxe Panavision
Entertainment/Lions gate/MUSE (Edward R. Pressman, Chris Hanley, Christian Halsey Solomon)

A successful, promiscuous Wall Street broker fantasizes about becoming a serial killer.
A deft, elegant portrait of a self-obsessed, fashionable, design-conscious man descending into psychosis as a result of his obsessions.
w Mary Harron, Guinevere Turner novel Bret Easton Ellis d Mary Harron ph Andrzej Sekula m John Cale pd Gideon Ponte ed Andrew Marcus
☆ Christian Bale (Patrick Bateman), Willem Dafoe (Donald Kimball), Jared Leto (Paul Allen), Reese Witherspoon (Evelyn Williams), Samantha Mathis (Courtney Rawlinson), Chloe Sevigny (Jean), Justin Theroux (Timothy Bryce), Josh Lucas (Craig McDermott), Guinevere Turner (Elizabeth), Matt Ross (Luis Carruthers), Bill Sage (David Van Patten), Cara Seymour (Christie)
'A stylish, disquieting, unexpectedly witty piece of cinema.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'The idea that a culture of rapacious consumerism breeds killers like Bateman is just too facile to take seriously. This is a satire with no roots in reality.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times
† Christian Bale bowed out of the film when Leonardo DiCaprio announced his interest in playing Bateman, and a new director was also sought. Bale and Harron returned when DiCaprio changed his mind.
††† An uninteresting sequel American Psycho II: All American Girl was released direct to video in 2002, directed by Morgan J. Freeman and starring Mila Kunis and Geraint Wyn Davies.

An American Romance ★

US 1944 151m Technicolor
MGM (King Vidor)

The life of a European immigrant who becomes a master of industry.
Mind-boggling pageant of the American dream, coldly presented and totally humourless. Its saving grace is its smooth physical presentation.
w Herbert Dalmas, William Ludwig d King Vidor ph Harold Rosson m Louis Gruenberg ☆ Brian Donlevy, Ann Richards, John Qualen, Walter Abel, Stephen McNally
'A thousand chances to inform, excite or even interest have been flung away.' – Richard Winnington
'The whole aim of it is to boost The American Way.' – Richard Mallett, Punch

American Samurai

US 1992 87m colour
Cannon/Global (Allan Greenblatt)

An American journalist investigating a murder using a samurai sword is forced to enter a fight to the death.
Mundane action film, offering little that cannot be found in a dozen similar movies of equal banality.
w John Corcoran d Sam Firstenberg ph David Gurfinkel m Robbie Patton pd Kuly Sander ed Sebastian Serrell-Watts, Shlomo Chazan
☆ David Bradley, Mark Dacascos, Valarie Trapp, Rex Ryon, Melissa Hellman, John Fujioka
'Cheap and trite, this is yet another hymn to the ability of a handsome white guy to beat up ethnic opponents.' – Empire

'At last, a comic book hero that we can all relate to . '

American Splendor ★★

US 2003 100m DeLuxe
Optimum/HBO/Fine Line/Good Machine (Ted Hope)

A filing clerk makes a cult success of a comic strip based on his humdrum life.
Occasionally engaging mix of drama and documentary, in which Harvey Pekar comments on his experiences and this movie; the collision between himself as he appears and as he is played by Giametti adds piquancy, but it often seems just ordinary.
wd Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini comic books American Splendor by Harvey Pekar comic book Our Cancer Year by Harvey Pekar, Joyce Brabner ph Terry Stacey m Mark Suozzo pd Therese DePrez ed Robert Pulcini
☆ Paul Giamatti (Harvey Pekar), Harvey Pekar (Real Harvey), Shari Springer Berman (Interviewer), Earl Billings (Mr Boats), James Urbaniak (Robert Crumb), Judah Friedlander (Toby Radloff), Toby Radloff (Real Toby), Hope Davis (Joyce Brabner), Joyce Brabner (Real Joyce)
'An elegant movie, with compassion and wit and excellent performances.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'A wonderful slice of forlorn and unfashionable American life.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times
♗ Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini (as screenwriters)

The American Success Company ★

US 1980 94m colour
Columbia (Edgar J. Scherick and Daniel H. Blatt)

The inexperienced son of a credit card tycoon becomes a tough guy.
Tilts at the American myth: not a notable success.
w William Richert, Larry Cohen d William Richert
☆ Jeff Bridges, Belinda Bauer, Ned Beatty, Steven Keats, Bianca Jagger

An American Tail ★

US 1986 80m DeLuxe
Universal/Steven Spielberg (Don Bluth, John Pomeroy, Gary Goldman)

Russian mice encounter all kinds of trouble when in the 1880s they emigrate to the United States.
Expensive cartoon feature with old-fashioned full animation but not much in the way of narrative interest or indeed humour.
w Judy Freudberg, Tony Geiss d Don Bluth (also designer)
☆ voices: Cathianne Blore, Christopher Plummer, Dom DeLuise, Madeline Kahn
'Every character and every situation have been presented a thousand times before … anyone over the age of 12 will likely experience more boredom than pleasure.' – Variety
♗ song, 'Somewhere Out There' (James Horner, Barry Mann, Cynthia Weil)

'Look Out Pardners, There's A New Mouse In Town!'

An American Tail: Fievel Goes West ★★

US 1991 75m colour
UIP/Universal/Amblin (Steven Spielberg, Robert Watts)

A confidence trickster of a cat persuades a family of mice to move to the West.
Enjoyable and high-spirited animated film that borrows plot and attitudes from classic Westerns.
w Flint Dille story Charles Swenson d Phil Nibbelink, Simon Wells m James Horner
☆ Featuring the voices of Phillip Glasser, James Stewart, Erica Yohn, Cathy Cavadini, Nehemiah Persoff, Dom DeLuise, Amy Irving, John Cleese, Jon Lovitz

'Drama that happens around you every day – when the wild life of impetuous youth burns away age-old barriers!'

An American Tragedy ★★

US 1931 95m bw
Paramount

An ambitious young man murders his pregnant fiancée when he has a chance to marry a rich girl.
Dated but solidly satisfying adaptation of a weighty novel, more compelling than the 1951 remake A Place in the Sun.
wd Josef von Sternberg novel Theodore Dreiser ph Lee Garmes ad Hans Dreier ☆ Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sidney, Frances Dee, Irving Pichel, Frederick Burton, Claire McDowell
'It unreels as an ordinary programme effort with an unhappy ending … as Sternberg has seen fit to present it the celluloid structure is slow, heavy and not always interesting drama. Its box office success is very doubtful.' – Variety
'It is the first time, I believe, that the subjects of sex, birth control and murder have been put into a picture with sense, taste and reality.' – Pare Lorentz
'An aimless, lugubrious mess. The fireworks may dazzle to schoolboys of criticism, but they will add no permanent color to the motion picture.' – Harry Alan Potamkin

American Warrior: see American Ninja

American Wedding: see American Pie: The Wedding

An American Werewolf in London ★★★

GB 1981 97m Technicolor
Polygram/Lycanthrope (Peter Guber, Jon Peters)

Two American tourists are bitten by a werewolf.
Curious but oddly endearing mixture of horror film and spoof, of comedy and shock, with everything grist to its mill including tourist Britain and the wedding of Prince Charles. The special effects are notable, and signalled new developments in this field.
wd John Landis ph Robert Paynter m Elmer Bernstein ad Leslie Dilley ed Malcolm Campbell sp Effects Associates, Rick Baker
☆ David Naughton (David Kessler), Jenny Agutter (Alex Price), Griffin Dunne (Jack Goodman), John Woodvine (Dr. Hirsch), Lila Kaye (Barmaid), Brian Glover (Chess Player)
'The gear changes of tone and pace make for a very jerkily driven vehicle.' – Sunday Times
'Seems curiously unfinished, as though Landis spent all his energy on spectacular set-pieces and then didn't want to bother with things like transitions, character development, or an ending.' – Roger Ebert

'Things Are Going to Get A Little Hairy.'

An American Werewolf in Paris

US/GB/France/Luxembourg 1997 98m colour
Entertainment/Stonewood/Hollywood/Cometstone/J&M (Richard Claus)

An American tourist in Paris is seduced and bitten by a female werewolf.

A sequel to An American Werewolf in London which often resembles a remake of the original, though it lacks that film's engaging mix of horror and black humour.

w Tim Burns, Tom Stern, Anthony Waller based on characters created by John Landis d Anthony Waller ph Egon Werdin m Wilbert Hirsch pd Matthias Kammermeier ed Peter R. Adam sp Santa Barbara Studios; Peter Lloyd; Magicon & Crawley Creatures

☆ Tom Everett Scott, Julie Delpy, Vince Vieluf, Phil Buckman, Julie Bowen, Pierre Cosso, Tom Novembre, Thierry Lhermitte

'Not funny enough, not scary enough, and deeply in need of a silver bullet.' – Darren Bignell, Empire

American Women: see The Closer You Get

American Yakuza

US/Japan 1993 91m Foto-Kem
Overseas Filmgroup/First Look/Ozla/Neo (Michael Leahy, Aki Komine)

An FBI agent infiltrates Japanese gangsters trying to muscle in on the Mafia.

Slick, moderately engaging action film that makes all the expected and customary moves of the genre.

w Max Strom, John Allen Nelson story Taka Ichise d Frank Cappello ph Richard Clabaugh m David C. Williams pd Shay Austin ed Sonny Baskin

☆ Viggo Mortensen, Ryo Ishibashi, Michael Nouri, Franklyn Ajaye, Cristina Lawson, Yuji Okumoto, Robert Forster

'A stylish action-thriller directed with flair.' – Sight and Sound

American Yakuza 2: Back to Back

US/Japan 1996 87m Foto-Kem
Overseas Filmgroup/Ozla/Neo (W. K. Border, Aki Komine)

In Los Angeles, a bad-tempered ex-detective with family problems is forced to help a Japanese gangster wage war on the Mafia and a corrupt cop.

Slick, violent, tongue-in-cheek, over-the-top action movie that takes delight in the excesses of the genre.

w Roger Nygard, Lloyd Keith d Roger Nygard ph Mark W. Gray m Walter Werzowa pd Anthony Stabley ed Roger Nygard

☆ Michael Rooker, Ryo Ishibashi, Danielle Harris, John Laughlin, Koh Takasugi, Tim Thomerson, Stephen Furst, Vincent Schiavella, Frank D'Amico, Bobcat Goldthwait

'A stylishly packaged combo of black humour, violence and well-staged action.' – Film Review

The Americanization of Emily*

US 1964 115m bw
MGM/Filmways (John Calley)

World War II: just before the Normandy landings, a war widow driver falls for an American commander who is a self-confessed coward.

Bizarre comedy full of eccentric characters, an uneasy choice for its female star but otherwise successful in patches in its random distillation of black comedy, sex and the tumbling of old-fashioned virtues.

w Paddy Chayefsky novel William Bradford Huie d Arthur Hiller ph Philip Lathrop, Chris Challis m Johnny Mandel

☆ Julie Andrews, James Garner, Melvyn Douglas, James Coburn, Liz Fraser, Joyce Grenfell, Edward Binns, Keenan Wynn, William Windom

'Out of it all there comes the definite feeling that Hitler's war is incidental to Paddy Chayevsky's war of ideas ... no plot synopsis could begin to suggest how much the characters talk.' – MFB

♗ Philip Lathrop

The Americano

US 1916 60m approx (24 fps) bw silent
Triangle (D. W. Griffith)

A young American engineer becomes involved in a revolution in Patagonia.

Early star adventure vehicle, an immense popular success; the last film Fairbanks made for Griffith.

w Anita Loos, John Emerson novel Blaze Derringer by Eugene P. Lyle Jnr d John Emerson ph Victor Fleming

☆ Douglas Fairbanks, Alma Rubens, Spottiswoode Aitken, Lillian Langdon

The Americano

US 1955 85m Technicolor
RKO (Robert Stillman)

A Westerner takes three prize bulls to Brazil, but finds the buyer has been murdered.

A Western with a twist, but otherwise extremely dull, with poor pace, colour and use of settings.

w Guy Trosper d William Castle ph William Snyder m Roy Webb

☆ Glenn Ford, Frank Lovejoy, Abbe Lane, Cesar Romero, Ursula Thiess

'A comedy about celebrity, family and other forms of insanity.'

America's Sweethearts

US 2001 102m DeLuxe Panavision
Columbia/Revolution (Billy Crystal, Susan Arnold, Donna Arkoff Roth)

An insecure PR attempts to persuade two feuding film stars to get together to promote their latest movie.

Narcissistic comedy of Hollywood that is too inbred to interest anyone in the real world; it tends to take celebrity at face value.

w Billy Crystal, Peter Tolan d Joe Roth ph Phedon Papamichael m James Newton Howard pd Garreth Stover ed Stephen A. Rotter cos Ellen Mirojnick, Jeffrey Kurland

☆ Julia Roberts (Kiki Harrison), Billy Crystal (Lee Phillips), Catherine Zeta-Jones (Gwen Harrison), John Cusack (Eddie Thomas), Hank Azaria (Hector), Stanley Tucci (Dave Kingman), Christopher Walken (Hal Weidmann), Alan Arkin (Wellness Guide), Seth Green (Danny Wax), Scot Zeller (Davis)

'Begins as a smartly promising, gently farcical comedy of manners and ends as sourly and haphazardly as the lives it is poking fun at.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

L'Amérique des autres: see Someone Else's America

L'Ami de Mon Amie: see My Girlfriend's Boyfriend

L'Ami Retrouvé: see Reunion

Un Ami Viendra ce Soir

France 1946 111m bw
CGC (R. Artus)

During World War II a French patriot uses a lunatic asylum as a resistance headquarters.

Rather glum wartime melodrama, lacking in tension.

w Jacques Companeez, Raymond Bernard d Raymond Bernard ph Robert Le Fèbvre m Arthur Honegger

☆ Michel Simon, Louis Salou, Saturnin Fabre, Paul Bernard, Madeleine Sologne, Marcel André

Le Amiche ★

Italy 1955 90m bw
Trionfalcine (Giovanni Addessi)
aka: The Girl Friends

The interaction of five girls living together in Turin.

Highbrow lending library stuff, quite watchable but equally forgettable.

w Suso Cecchi d'Amico, Alba de Cespedes story Tra Donne Sole by Cesare Pavese d Michelangelo Antonioni ph Gianni di Venanzo m Giovanni Fusco

☆ Eleonora Rossi Drago, Valentina Cortese, Yvonne Furneaux, Gabriele Ferzetti, Franco Fabrizi, Madeleine Fischer

La Amiga

Argentina/West Germany 1988 108m colour
Journal/Alma/Jorge Estrada Mora (Jorge Estrada, Klaus Volkenberg)
aka: The Girlfriend

Stages in the life of two women in Buenos Aires: one a Jewish actress, the other a mother who becomes politically involved after her son is taken away by security officers and never seen alive again.

Involved and somewhat sentimental drama of survival in a hostile world.

w Jeanine Meerapfel, Alcides Chiesa d Jeanine Meerapfel ph Axel Block pd Jorge Marchegiano, Rainer Schaper ed Juliane Lorenz

☆ Liv Ullmann, Cipe Lincovsky, Federico Luppi, Victor Laplace, Harry Baer, Lito Cruz, Greger Hansen, Nicolas Frei

Amistad ★★ (7)

US 1997 152m Technicolor 'Scope
DreamWorks/HBO (Steven Spielberg, Debbie Allen, Colin Wilson)

African slaves who escape their chains and kill the crew of a slave ship are tried in America for murder, while the ship's owners, the salvagers and the Spanish Queen claim them as their property.

Earnest and dogged, well meaning but too often dramatically inert, this tells a true story from a white viewpoint, in which the slaves remain exotic accessories to the real conflict, which takes place in courtrooms.

w David Franzoni d Steven Spielberg ph Janusz Kaminski m John Williams pd Rick Carter ed Michael Kahn

☆ Matthew McConaughey, Anthony Hopkins, Morgan Freeman, Nigel Hawthorne, Djimoun Hounsou, David Paymer, Pete Postlethwaite, Stellan Skarsgård, Anna Paquin, Tomas Milian, Austin Pendleton

'Artistically solid, if not always dramatically exciting.' – Variety

♗ Anthony Hopkins; Janusz Kaminski; John Williams; Ruth E. Carter (costumes)

Amityville 3: The Demon: see Amityville 3-D

Amityville 3-D

US 1984 93m colour ArriVision 3-D
EMI/Universal/Dino de Laurentiis/Orion (Stephen F. Kesten)

aka: Amityville 3: The Demon

A sceptical journalist moves into the haunted house but is jolted out of his complacency.

Ragbag of supernatural incident with neither cohesion nor plausibility, but good 3-D.

w William Wales d Richard Fleischer ph Fred Schuler m Howard Blake ad Giorgio Postiglione, Justin Scoppa ed Frank J. Urioste

☆ Tony Roberts, Tess Harper, Robert Joy, Candy Clark, John Beal, Leora Dana

'An assortment of unrelated happenings precedes the final appearance of a crude bug-eyed monster.' – MFB

'Evil never dies.'

Amityville Dollhouse

US 1996 93m colour
Promark/Spectacor/Zeta (Zane W. Levitt, Mark Yellen, Steve White)

A family move into a new home, which includes a dollhouse that carries the curse of the Amityville horror.

A dull horror movie that begins by locating horrors at the heart of normal family life, but soon abandons this promising approach for the usual predictable shocks.

w Joshua Michael Stern d Steve White ph Tom Callaway m Ray Colcord pd Jerry Fleming ed Kert VanderMeulen

☆ Robin Thomas, Starr Andreeff, Clayton Murray, Lenore Kasdorf, Allen Cutler, Rachel Duncan, Franc Ross, Lisa Robin Kelly, Jarrett Lennon

The Amityville Horror

US 1979 118m Movielab
AIP/Cinema 77 (Ronald Saland, Elliot Geisinger)

Newlyweds move into a house where a murder was committed, and experience strange manifestations which drive them away.

*Sub-*Exorcist goings on, a shameless exaggeration of some of the alleged facts retailed in the best-selling book. A shocker for the uncritical.

w Sandor Stern book Jay Anson d Stuart Rosenberg ph Fred J. Koenekamp m Lalo Schifrin

☆ James Brolin, Margot Kidder, Rod Steiger, Don Stroud, Murray Hamilton

♗ Lalo Schifrin

'Katch 'em, kill 'em.'

The Amityville Horror (2)

US 2005 90m DeLuxe Panavision
Dimension/MGM/Platinum Dunes (Michael Bay, Andrew Form, Brad Fuller)

A family moves into a house haunted by the ghosts of children who were murdered there.

Overblown horror that relies on special effects to shock its audience.

w Scott Kosar screenplay Sandor Stern book Jay Anson d Andrew Douglas ph Peter Lyons Collister m Steve Jablonsky pd Jennifer Williams ed Christian Wagner, Roger Barton

☆ Ryan Reynolds (George Lutz), Melissa George (Kathy Lutz), Jesse James (Billy Lutz), Jimmy Bennett (Michael Lutz), Chloe Grace Moretz (Chelsea Lutz), Philip Baker Hall (Father Callaway)

'Sledgehammers auds with a numbing

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · ♗ Academy Award · ♗ Academy Award nomination · BAFTA succession of shock edits and over-the-top horror effects.' – Scott Foundas, Variety

Amityville II: The Possession

US 1982 104m DeLuxe
Dino de Laurentiis/Orion (Ira N. Smith, Stephen R. Greenwald)

The sequel turns out to be a prequel, dealing with the events that led to the house at Amityville becoming haunted.
Everything but the kitchen sink is thrown into this ghoulish brew, and most of it is red; but the script is hopeless from the start.
w Tommy Lee Wallace book Murder in Amityville by Hans Holzer d Damiano Damiani ph Franco Di Giacomo m Lalo Schifrin pd Pierluigi Basile ed Sam O'Steen
☆ Burt Young, Rutanya Alda, James Olson, Jack Magner, Andrew Prine

'There probably isn't a more unsympathetic bunch on screen this year. They're sure to make audiences root for the house.' – Variety

Amnesia ★

Chile 1994 90m Eastmancolor
Arca/Cine Chile/Fondart

After a civil war, a soldier and a survivor of a prison camp take revenge on a brutal sergeant.
A tense and gripping drama concerned with individual responsibility which also touches on the theme of national amnesia about atrocities committed on behalf of the state.
w Gustavo Frias, Gonzalo Justiniano d Gonzalo Justiniano ph Hans Burmann m José Miguel Tobar, Miguel Miranda ad Carlos Garrido ed Danielle Fillios
☆ Julio Jung, Pedro Vicuña, Nelson Villagra, José Secall, Marcela Osorio, Carla Cristi

'An offbeat, sometimes nightmarish black comedy.' – Variety

Amok: see Schizo

'Some heights can only be reached by the heart.'

Among Giants ★

GB 1998 96m colour
Kudos/British Screen/Capitol/Arts Council/YMPA/BBC

An Australian backpacker becomes the only female member of a group of climbers who earn their living painting electricity pylons.
A working-class romantic tragi-comedy that does not scale the heights.
w Simon Beaufoy d Sam Miller ph Witold Stok m Tim Atack pd Luana Hanson ed Paul Green, Elen Pierce Lewis ☆ Pete Postlethwaite, Rachel Griffiths, James Thornton, Rob Jarvis, Andy Serkis, Lennie James, Alan Williams, Emma Cunniffe

'This small-scale, bittersweet film has many fine qualities, but it lacks the crucial dramatic spark that would have made it truly memorable.' – Stephen Farber, Movieline

Among the Living ★

US 1941 68m bw
Paramount (Sol C. Siegel)

In a small town live twin brothers, one of whom is a murderer.
Offbeat suspenser with effective performances.
w Lester Cole, Garrett Fort d Stuart Heisler ph Theodor Sparkuhl ☆ Albert Dekker, Susan Hayward, Frances Farmer, Harry Carey, Gordon Jones

'Head and shoulders above all the filler shows ground out by Hollywood to perpetuate the double feature system.' – Howard Barnes, New York Herald Tribune

'Born With Everything They Had To Have More.'

Amongst Friends

US 1993 87m Technicolor
Rank/Last Outlaw/Island World (Matthew Blumberg)

Three boyhood friends from the wealthy middle class fall out when they try to become gangsters.
Heavily influenced by Martin Scorsese's Mean Streets, this lacks any sense of observable reality, relying instead on fast talking and undistinguished songs to carry the action, which disintegrates into violence to compensate for its lack of anything better to show.
wd Rob Weiss ph Michael Bonvillain m Mick Jones pd Terrence Foster ed Leo Trombetta ☆ Steve Parlavecchio, Joseph Lindsey, Patrick McGaw, Mira Sorvino, Chris Santos, Brett Lambson, Michael Artura, Frank Medrano, Louis Lombardi

'A truly numbskulled use of violence.' – Nigel Andrews, Financial Times
'The whole structure is a mess and there's a strong sense of been-here-before about the project.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

El Amor Brujo: see A Love Bewitched

L'Amore ★

Italy 1948 79m bw
Tevere Film (Roberto Rossellini)

Two short films. The Human Voice: a woman talks on the phone to the man who has forsaken her. The Miracle: a peasant woman is seduced and is convinced she will give birth to a new Messiah.
A tour de force by an actress to be reckoned with; but hardly compulsive as cinema.
w Tullio Pinelli, Roberto Rossellini, Federico Fellini play Jean Cocteau d Roberto Rossellini ph Robert Juillard, Aldo Tonti m Renzo Rossellini
☆ Anna Magnani, Federico Fellini
† The Miracle was separately released in some countries.

'She searched for the truth but found only lies...'

L'Amore Molesto ★

Italy 1995 103m Technicolor
Arrow/Kucky Red/Teatri Uniti (Angelo Curti, Andrea Occhipinti, Kermit Smith)

aka: Wounded Love

A middle-aged comic-book artist investigates her mother's mysterious death.
Complex thriller, structured around flashbacks that may, or may not, be accurate memories of the past; it does not entirely reward the effort required to understand its somewhat sleazy subject matter.
wd Mario Martone novel Elena Ferrante ph Luca Bigazzi ad Giancarlo Muselli ed Jacopo Quadri
☆ Anna Bonaiuto, Angela Luce, Gianni Cajafa, Peppe Lanzetta, Licia Maglietta, Anna Calato, Italo Celero

'A moody rather than an event-filled thriller which holds the viewer with its eccentric charm and quite nasty after-taste.' – Marianne Gray, Film Review

Amores Perros ★★★

Mexico 2000 154m colour
Optimum/Zeta Film/AltaVista (Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu)

aka: Love's a Bitch

In Mexico city, a car crash alters the lives of a teenager in love with his brother's wife, a model, who is disfigured in the accident, and a bored hitman.
Dazzling, brutal movie of love and death, in which three stories intertwine, all involving dogs, from a pampered pet to a Rottweiler, a vicious champion dogfighter.
w Guillermo Arriaga Jordan d Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu ph Rodrigo Prieto m Gustavo Santaolatta pd Brigitte Broch ed Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu, Luis Carballar, Fernando Perez Unda ☆ Emilio Echevarria (El Chivo), Gael Garcia Bernal (Octavio), Goya Toledo (Valeria), Alvaro Guerrero (Daniel), Vanessa Bauche (Susana), Jorge Salinas (Luis), Marco Pérez (Ramiro)

'Feels like the first classic of the new decade, with sequences that will probably make their way into history.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times
'The individual stories, which weave in and out of each other with true-life untidiness, are so gripping you'll go along with them until everything becomes clear.' – Kim Newman, Empire
foreign language film
foreign film

'The rollicking story of a ribald century that should have been ashamed of itself!'

The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders

GB 1965 125m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount/Winchester (Marcel Hellman)

An ambitious servant girl loses her virtue to a succession of rich gentlemen but finally settles for a highwayman.
The aim was to make a female Tom Jones, but this bawdy romp never achieves the freewheeling fluency of that surprise success, and a vacuous central performance makes the constant couplings more boring than exciting.
w Denis Cannan, Roland Kibbee novel Daniel Defoe d Terence Young ph Ted Moore m John Addison pd Syd Cain
☆ Kim Novak, Richard Johnson, George Sanders, Lilli Palmer, Angela Lansbury, Leo McKern, Vittorio de Sica, Cecil Parker, Daniel Massey

'Further from Defoe than Tom Jones was from Fielding, but with much the same combination of crude table manners and clean sets to stand in for period flavour.' – MFB

The Amorous Milkman

GB 1975 94m colour
Variety/Lanka (Derren Nesbitt)

A young milkman becomes engaged to two women at the same time.
Trivial and heavy-handed comedy, in which the hero is the victim of rapacious women; intended to titillate, it fails miserably.
wd Derren Nesbitt novel Derren Nesbitt ph Jim Allen m Roger Webb ad Tony Curtis ed Russell Lloyd ☆ Julie Ege, Diana Dors, Brendan Price, Donna Reading, Nancie Wait, Alan Lake, Bill Fraser, Fred Emney, Patrick Holt, Roy Kinnear, Ray Barrett, Anthony Sharp, Megs Jenkins, Arnold Ridley, Sam Kydd

'All in all, this is British graffiti at its worst.' – MFB

The Amorous Prawn ★

GB 1962 89m bw
BL/Covent Garden (Leslie Gilliat)
US title: The Playgirl and the War Minister (an attempt to cash in on the Profumo case)

A hard-up general's wife invites American paying guests to their official highland home.
This film version of a stage success seems very mild, but the cast is eager to please: the result is a frantic high-class farce.
w Anthony Kimmins, Nicholas Phipps play Anthony Kimmins d Anthony Kimmins ph Wilkie Cooper m John Barry
☆ Joan Greenwood, Ian Carmichael, Cecil Parker, Dennis Price, Robert Beatty, Finlay Currie, Liz Fraser, Derek Nimmo

Amos & Andrew

US 1993 94m Technicolor
Columbia/Castle Rock/New Line (Gary Goetzman)

A black writer moves into an exclusive neighbourhood and finds himself taken for a burglar, befriended by a petty crook and involved in a shoot-out with police.
A crass farce of mistaken identity, a would-be satire of racial attitudes that neither illumines nor entertains.
wd E. Max Frye ph Walt Lloyd m Richard Gibbs pd Patricia Norris ed Jane Kurson
☆ Nicolas Cage, Samuel L. Jackson, Dabney Coleman, Michael Lerner, Margaret Colin, Brad Dourif, Giancarlo Esposito, Bob Balaban

'Raises the question: "How did this film ever get made?" Few audience members will sit through its entirety to ponder the issue.' – Lawrence Cohn, Variety

L'Amour à Mort ★

France 1984 90m colour
Dussart/Ariane/A2 (Philippe Dussart)

An archaeologist and his mistress come to the conclusion that their love will reach its fullest expression in death.
Chilly symbolic drama, a continuation of the same team's preoccupations with the meaning of life which were previously explored (via the same four actors) in Mon Oncle d'Amérique and La Vie est un Roman. Interesting but not especially rewarding.
w Jean Gruault d Alain Resnais ph Sacha Vierny m Hans Werner Henze
☆ Sabine Azema, Fanny Ardant, Pierre Arditi, André Dussolier

Un Amour de Pluie: see Loving in the Rain

Un Amour de Swann: see Swann in Love

L'Amour, L'Après-midi ★

France 1972 97m colour
Les Films du Losange/Barbet Schroeder (Pierre Cottrell)

US title: Chloë in the Afternoon
aka: Love in the Afternoon

A married man's flirtation with an old flame leads him to a greater appreciation of his wife.
The last of Rohmer's six moral tales and the least interesting.
wd Eric Rohmer ph Nestor Almendros m Arié Dzierlatka ad Nicole Rachline ed Cécile Decugis, Martine Kalfon
☆ Bernard Verley, Zouzou, Françoise Verley, Daniel Ceccaldi, Malvina Penne, Babette Ferrier

'The director shows life going on realistically enough. But the elegance with which he presents it, the wit – and the film doesn't merely sound witty, it looks witty – remove it from the tedium of the realistic.' – Dilys Powell

Les Amours de la Reine Elisabeth: see Queen Elizabeth

Amsterdam Affair

GB 1968 91m Eastmancolor
LIP/Trio/Group W (Gerry Willoughby)

Inspector Van der Valk investigates when a writer is accused of murdering his mistress.
Tolerable roman policier.
w Edmund Ward novel Love in Amsterdam by Nicolas Freeling d Gerry O'Hara ph Gerry Fisher m Patrick John Scott
☆ Wolfgang Kieling, William Marlowe, Catherina von Schell

The Amsterdam Kill

Hong Kong 1977 93m Technicolor Panasonic
Golden Harvest/Fantastic Films/Raymond Chow

An American ex-Drug Enforcement Agency officer tries to protect an old friend caught in the Hong Kong drug wars.
Roughly made and uninventive thriller in which the Hong Kong film makers fail to consolidate the international ground they gained with kung fu films.
w Robert Clouse, Gregory Teifer d Robert Clouse ph Alan Hume m Hal Schaffer ☆ Robert Mitchum, Bradford Dillman, Richard Egan, Leslie Nielsen, Keye Luke

'Be glad you're afraid. It means you're still alive'

Amsterdamned ★

Netherlands 1988 113m colour Vestron/First Floor Features (Laurens Geels, Dick Maas)

A cop is assigned to discover the murderer of a prostitute found floating in a canal.
Deft action picture that makes the most of its waterfront setting.
wd Dick Maas ph Marc Felperlaan
m Dick Maas pd Dick Schillemans
ed Hans Van Dongen
☆ Huub Stapel, Monique Van de Ven, Serge-Henri Valcke, Tanneke Hartsuiker, Wim Zomer, Hidde Maas

Amy

US 1981 100m Technicolor
Walt Disney

A spinster is taught a little about life and love.
Unmemorable family comedy drama.
w Noreen Stone d Vincent McEveety
☆ Jenny Agutter, Barry Newman, Kathleen Nolan, Chris Robinson, Margaret O'Brien, Nanette Fabray

'In the heart of an outcast He found his destiny. In the passion of an outsider She found her home.'

Amy Foster

GB/US/France 1997 113m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia TriStar (Polly Tapson, Charles Steel, Beeban Kidron)

US title: Swept from the Sea

In Cornwall, a shipwrecked Russian marries a local servant girl, but the course of true love is far from smooth.
A period story of love blossoming in an inward-looking and isolated community, this good-looking movie is curiously short of felt emotion; it may look more at home on video or TV.
w Tim Willocks story Joseph Conrad
d Beeban Kidron ph Dick Pope m John Barry pd Simon Holland ed Alex Mackie, Andrew Mondshein
☆ Vincent Perez, Rachel Weisz, Ian McKellen, Joss Ackland, Kathy Bates, Tom Bell, Zoë Wanamaker, Tony Haygarth

'Almost exemplary of present Hollywood practice in that prodigious amounts of touch, care and technical skill have succeeded in turning Conrad's hard nugget of a yarn into a piece of sumptuous mush.' – Peter Matthews, Sight and Sound

'When you can't breathe, you can't scream.'
'It will take your breath away.'

Anaconda ③

US 1997 89m colour Panavision
Columbia/CL Cinema Line (Verna Harrah, Leonard Rabinowitz, Carole Little)

An anthropologist goes looking for a tribe of Indians in the rainforest and finds a gigantic killer snake instead.
A bungled rip-off of Jaws, with Voight, who seems to relish his role as an expert snake-hunter, providing what sounds like a parody of Brando at his most excessive; otherwise the action is decidedly tame.
w Hans Bauer, Jim Cash, Jack Epps Jnr
d Luis Llosa ph Bill Butler m Randy Edelman pd Kirk M. Petruccelli
ed Michael R. Miller sp Walt Conti, John Nelson
☆ Jennifer Lopez, Ice Cube, Jon Voight, Eric Stoltz, Jonathan Hyde, Owen Wilson, Kari Wuhrer, Vincent Castellanos, Danny Trejo

'The big, bad anaconda never really develops any personality – menacing or otherwise – and remains nothing more than a jack-in-the-box gimmick.' – Joe Leydon, Variety

† Like Congo the year before, it was a bad adventure film that found an audience, grossing $66m in the US, and another $70m elsewhere.

'The hunters will become the hunted.'

Anacondas: The Hunt for the Blood Orchid

US 2004 96m DeLuxe Arriflex widescreen
Columbia TriStar/Screen Gems/Middle Fork (Verna Harrah)

Searching the Borneo jungle for a flower that only blooms every seven years and may hold the key to preventing ageing, a group of scientists encounter giant snakes in a mating frenzy.
A moribund sequel to Anaconda that could do with that movie's over-the-top performance by Jon Voight, though the crocodiles and snakes do chew the scenery every now and then.
w John Claflin, Daniel Zelman, Michael Miner, Ed Neumeier story and screenplay Hans Bauer, Jim Cash, Jack Epps Jnr d Dwight Little ph Stephen F. Windon
m Nerida Tyson-Chew pd Bryce Perrin
ed Marcus D'Arcy, Marc Warner
☆ Johnny Messner (Bill Johnson), KaDee Strickland (Sam Rogers), Matthew Marsden (Dr Jack Byron), Eugene Byrd (Cole Burris), Salli Richardson-Whitfield (Gail Stern)

'It's hard to believe that creature-feature connoisseurs will feel they've got their money's worth from the limply executed, relatively ungory horror scenes.' – Matthew Leyland, Sight and Sound

'Back in therapy.'

Analyze That

US/Australia 2002 96m Technicolor Warner/Village Roadshow/NPV/Baltimore Spring Creek/Face/Tribeca (Paula Weinstein, Jane Rosenthal)

An imprisoned gangster fakes a breakdown so he can be released into the custody of his neurotic psychiatrist.
Unnecessary sequel; the second time around the jokes fall flat.
w Peter Steinfeld, Harold Ramis, Peter Tolan d Harold Ramis ph Ellen Kuras
m David Holmes pd Wynn Thomas
ed Andrew Mondshein
☆ Robert De Niro (Paul Vitti), Billy Crystal (Ben Sobel), Lisa Kudrow (Laura Sobel), Joe Viterelli (Jelly), Reg Rogers (Raoul Berman), Cathy Moriarty-Gentile (Patti LoPresti), John Finn (Richard Chapin), Kyle Sabihy (Michael Sobel)

'Somewhat lacking any genuine spark. However, this doesn't stop it being surprisingly funny at points.' – Empire
'Some of the jokes work, some don't; the best you can say is that the time passes pleasantly.' – Andrew Pulver, Guardian

'You try telling him his 50 minutes are up.'

Analyze This ★★

US 1999 103m Technicolor Warner/Village Roadshow/NPV/Baltimore/Spring Creek/Face/Tribeca (Paula Weinstein, Jane Rosenthal)

An ageing Mafia gangster consults a psychiatrist about his anxiety attacks.
A witty comedy that lets De Niro play to good effect against his more familiar Mafia roles and which also has fun at the excesses of psychobabble.
w Peter Tolan, Kenneth Lonergan
d Harold Ramis ph Stuart Dryburgh
m Howard Shore pd Wynn Thomas
ed Christopher Tellefsen
☆ Robert De Niro, Billy Crystal, Lisa Kudrow, Joe Viterelli, Chazz Palminteri, Bill Macy, Leo Rossi, Kyle Sabihy, Rebecca Schull, Molly Shannon, Max Casella, Pat Cooper

'Has a funny title, an even funnier premise and inspired odd-couple casting that's enough to prompt laughter just on the basis of its two-shots in the ad campaign. Think of it as an offer you can't refuse.' – Janet Maslin, New Yorker

† It was followed by a sequel Analyze That (qv).

'The most amazing conspiracy the world has ever known, and love as it never happened to a man and woman before!'

Anastasia ★★

GB 1956 105m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
TCF (Buddy Adler)

In 1928 Paris, a group of exiled White Russians claim to have found the living daughter of the Tsar, presumed executed in 1918; but the claimant is a fake schooled by a general, with whom she falls in love.
Slick, highly theatrical entertainment for the upper classes; it dazzles and satisfies without throwing any light on history. The film marked Bergman's Hollywood comeback after some years in Europe under a cloud for her 'immoral' behaviour.
w Arthur Laurents play Marcelle Maurette, Guy Bolton d Anatole Litvak ph Jack Hildyard m Alfred Newman
ad Andrei Andreiev, Bill Andrews
☆ Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner, Helen Hayes, Martita Hunt, Akim Tamiroff, Felix Aylmer, Ivan Desny

'Little weight but considerable and urbane charm.' – John Cutts

Ingrid Bergman
Alfred Newman

'Discover the Adventure Behind the Greatest Mystery of Our Time.'

Anastasia ④

US 1997 94m Technicolor Cinemascope
TCF (Don Bluth, Gary Goldman)

A young girl travels from Russia to Paris, claiming to be the long-lost Anastasia, the daughter of Tsar Nicholas.
An extraordinarily misguided attempt to make a Disney-styled animated feature from events that do not fit the formula: the villains here are a dead Rasputin and his pet bat.
w Susan Gautheir, Bruce Graham, Bob Tzudiker, Noni White play Marcelle Maurette, adapted by Guy Bolton screenplay Arthur Laurents, adapted by Eric Tuchman d Don Bluth, Gary Goldman
m David Newman m/ly Lynn Ahrens, Stephen Flaherty ed Fiona Trayler
☆ Featuring the voices of: Meg Ryan, John Cusack, Kelsey Grammer, Christopher Lloyd, Hank Azaria, Bernadette Peters, Kirsten Dunst; singers: Liz Callaway, Lacey Chabert, Jim Cummings, Jonathan Dokuchitz

'An ambitious, serious but not particularly stimulating musical feature that unconvincingly attempts to graft warm and cuddly family fare onto turbulent aspects of modern history and mythology.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Stephen Flaherty, Lynn Ahrens, David Newman; song 'Journey to the Past' (m Stephen Flaherty, ly Lynn Ahrens)

Anatahan

Japan 1953 92m bw
Daiwa (K. Takimura)
aka: The Saga of Anatahan

During World War II, Japanese seamen are shipwrecked on the same deserted island as a man and a woman; the latter causes jealousy and murder.
Downright peculiar studio-set melodrama, based on true events and its creator through interpreters, with results far from happy.
m A. Ifukube wd/ph Josef von Sternberg
☆ Akemi Negishi, T. Sugunuma, K. Onoe, T. Bandoh

'The main impression is of tedium relieved by moments of far from intentional humour.' – Penelope Houston

The Anatolian Smile: see America, America

Anatomie De L'Enfer: see Anatomy of Hell

'Last year's number one best seller. This year's (we hope) number one motion picture!'

Anatomy of a Murder ★★

US 1959 161m bw
Columbia/Carlyle/Otto Preminger

A small-town lawyer successfully defends an army officer accused of murdering a bartender who had assaulted his wife.
Overlong and over-faithful version of a highly detailed courtroom bestseller. The plot is necessarily equivocal, the characterizations overblown, but the trial commands some interest, and the use of 'daring' words in evidence caused controversy at the time. It was Scott's first notable role, as the prosecutor.
w Wendell Mayes novel Robert Traver
d Otto Preminger ph Sam Leavitt

m Duke Ellington pd Boris Leven ed Louis R. Loeffler

☆ James Stewart (Paul Biegler), Ben Gazzara (Lt Frederick Manion), Lee Remick (Laura Manion), Eve Arden (Maida), Arthur O'Connell (Parnell McCarthy), George C. Scott (Claude Dancer), Kathryn Grant (Mary Pilant), Orson Bean (Dr Smith), Murray Hamilton (Alphonse Paquette)

† The trial judge was played by Joseph N. Welch, a real-life judge who had gained fame in 1954 by representing the army against Senator McCarthy.

picture; Wendell Mayes; Sam Leavitt; James Stewart; Arthur O'Connell; George C. Scott; editing

Anatomy of Hell

France 2003 77m colour
Tartan/Flach/CB (Jean-Francois Lepetit)

original title: Anatomie De L'Enfer

A woman hires a gay man to observe her so that he can have a better understanding of society's misogyny.

Deeply daft movie with windy philosophizing interspersed by explicit sexual encounters.

wd Catherine Breillat novel Pornocratie by Catherine Breillat ph Yorgos Arvantis, Guillaume Schiffman, Miguel Malherios, Susana Gomes m D'juiz pd Pedro da Santos, Jean-Marie Milon; Paula Szabo, Pedro Garcia ed Pascale Chavance, Frederic Barbe

☆ Amira Casar (The woman), Rocco Sifffredi (The man)

'Homophobic, sex-phobic, maybe even human-phobic.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

'The dialogue that is wrapped around the sexual activities only helps to make the film disgustingly ridiculous.' – Stanley Kauffmann, New Republic

† A body double, Pauline Hunt, was used for Casar's sexual scenes.

'I will destroy everything – The servant who obeys you, the Physician who heals you, the Priest who gives you absolution.'

Anazapta

GB 2001 113m Fujicolor
Guerilla/Spice Factory/Great British/CFI/Enterprise (Jason Piette, Michael Lionello Cowan, David Ball)

In the 1340s, as a war comes to an end, a noblewoman, awaiting the return of her husband, copes with the arrival of the plague in her village.

The title is said to refer to a charm against illness; what is needed is some means of keeping at bay muddled medieval concoctions such as this.

w Alberto Sciamma, Harriet Sand d Alberto Sciamma ph Alastair Meux m Dan Jones pd Keith Maxwell ed George Akers

☆ Lena Headey (Lady Matilda Mellerby), David La Haye (Jacques de St Amant), Jason Flemyng (Nicholas), Ian McNeice (Bishop), Jon Finch (Sir Walter de Mellerby), Christopher Fairbank (Steward), Anthony O'Donnell (Randall), Jeff Nuttall (Priest)

'The spirit of St Turgid, the patron saint of low-budget historical movies, hovers over the proceedings, and it's to be avoided like – well, like the plague.' – Philip French, Observer

† The film was released in 2004.

Anchor Zone

Canada 1994 82m colour
Norstar/Red Ochre (Ken Pittman)

In 2010, at a seaport controlled by a ruthless corporation, a trainee and a young boy, the subject of an experiment to increase his intelligence, join young runaways in a hostile society.

Dreary low-budget science-fiction, with the usual mad scientists in an apocalyptic setting.

w T. H. Hatte d Andrée Pelletier ph Michael Jones m Sandy Morris pd Pam Hall ed Hélène Girard, Mike Munn

☆ Michael Luke (Ved), Henry Czerny (Lawson Hughes), Nicole Stoffman (Robin), Phelim Martin (Dogface), Andrew Younghusband (Brogan), Mark Critch (Radd), Ron Hynes (Colonel Bob), Janis Spence (Coral), Sebastian Spence (Duke), John Ryan (Sam)

Anchoress

GB/Belgium 1993 108m bw
BFI/Corsan (Paul Breuls, Ben Gibson)

In 14th-century England, a young woman obsessed by the Virgin Mary is walled up in a small cell in the village church and then decides she wants to leave.

Grimly downbeat account of medieval life, hovering on the edge of parody and lacking narrative drive.

w Judith Stanley-Smith, Catherine Vandeleene d Chris Newby ph Michel Baudour pd Niek Kortekaas ed Brand Thumin

☆ Natalie Morse, Eugene Bervoets, Toyah Wilcox, Peter Postlethwaite, Christopher Eccleston, Michael Pas, Brenda Bertin

'Evocatively designed period pic creates a long ago world yet remains relevant on such issues as what recourse women have in a man's world and how faith grounded in nature fares against faith dictated by the clergy.' – Variety

'His news is bigger than your news.'

Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy

US 2004 94m Technicolor
DreamWorks (Judd Apatow)

In the 1970s, the top anchorman on the TV news in San Diego is upstaged by a new female journalist.

Loud, crass comedy that rarely rises above the infantile in its parody of 70s television; it is no more than five self-satisfied stereotypes in search of a laugh.

w Will Ferrell, Adam McKay d Adam McKay ph Thomas Ackerman m Alex Wurman pd Clayton R. Hartley ed Brent White

☆ Will Ferrell (Ron Burgundy), Christina Applegate (Veronica Corningstone), Paul Rudd (Brian Fantana), Steve Carell (Brick Tamland), David Koechner (Champ Kind), Fred Willard (Ed Harken), Chris Parnell (Garth Holliday)

'This endearingly daft film has the flavour of a TV sketch show, a series of barely related set pieces that hit the mark more often than not.' – Edward Lawrenson, Sight & Sound

'Ugly, unfunny farce.' – David Sterritt, Christian Science Monitor

Anchors Aweigh ★★

US 1945 139m Technicolor
MGM (Joe Pasternak)

Two sailors on leave in Los Angeles get involved with a small boy who wants to join the navy.

Rather droopy musical most notable as a forerunner of On the Town, though on much more conventional lines. Amiable performances, and a brilliant dance with a cartoon mouse, save the day.

w Isobel Lennart d George Sidney ph Robert Planck, Charles Boyle m George Stoll m/ly Jule Styne, Sammy Cahn pd Cedric Gibbons

☆ Frank Sinatra, Gene Kelly, Kathryn Grayson, Jose Iturbi, Sharon McManus, Carlos Ramirez, Dean Stockwell, Pamela Britton

♫ 'We Hate to Leave'; 'What Makes the Sun Set?'; 'The Charm of You'; 'I Begged Her'; 'I Fall in Love Too Easily'; 'The Worry Song'

George Stoll

picture; Robert Planck; Gene Kelly; song 'I Fall in Love Too Easily' (m Jule Styne, ly Sammy Cahn)

And Baby Makes Three

US 1950 83m bw
Columbia (Robert Lord)

A wife divorces her compromised husband before discovering that she is pregnant.

Thin marital comedy with minor compensations.

w Lou Breslow, Joseph Hoffman d Henry Levin ph Burnett Guffey m George Duning

☆ Robert Young, Barbara Hale, Billie Burke, Robert Hutton, Janis Carter, Nicholas Joy, Lloyd Corrigan

'It has everything but a story that hangs together.' – New York Herald Tribune

'And God created woman. But the Devil created Brigitte Bardot'

And God Created Woman

France 1957 90m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
Iëna-Hodu/UCIL/Cocinor (Raoul Lévy)

original title: Et Dieu Créa la Femme
aka: And Woman ... Was Created

An 18-year-old finds herself fatally attracted towards men.

Rather a feeble excuse for its star to strip on the St Tropez beach, but one that made her an international star.

w Roger Vadim, Raoul Lévy d Roger Vadim ph Armand Thirard m Paul Misraki ad Jean André

☆ Brigitte Bardot, Curt Jurgens, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Christian Marquand, Georges Poujouly, Jane Marken, Paul Faivre

'An open violation of conventional morality.' – Catholic Legion of Decency

'I'm prepared to bet an overcoat to a bikini that this film will make its star Miss Sex of the Universe.' – Sketch

'One of the most genuine, youthful and original works produced in France since 1945.' – Louis Marcorelles, Sight and Sound † Vadim made a second film with this title (US 1987), see below.

And God Created Woman

US 1987 100m DeLuxe
Crow/Vestron (George P. Braunstein/Ron Hamady)

A woman marries so that she can get parole from prison and pursue her ambition to become a rock star.

Silly raucous remake that has nothing in common with Vadim's original but the title. This time the stripping is done by Rebecca de Mornay.

w R. J. Stewart d Roger Vadim ph Stephen M. Katz m Tom Chase, Steve Rucker pd Victor Kempster ed Suzanne Pettit

☆ Rebecca de Mornay, Vincent Spano, Frank Langella, Donovan Leitch

And Hope to Die

US/France/Canada 1972 104m bw
Serge Silberman/TCF

original title: La Course du lièvre à travers les champs

A fugitive Frenchman in Canada runs foul of criminals and gypsies and causes several deaths.

Muddled melodrama of the worst 'international' kind.

w Sebastien Japrisot d René Clément

☆ Jean-Louis Trintignant, Robert Ryan, Aldo Ray, Tisa Farrow, Lea Massari

And Justice for All

US 1979 119m Metrocolor
Columbia/Malton (Joe Wizan)

An American lawyer gets into all kinds of trouble, including the defence of a judge on a rape charge.

Not so much a satire as a series of random pot-shots at the legal system, sometimes funny but cumulatively stultifying.

w Valerie Curtin, Barry Levinson d Norman Jewison ph Frank Holgate m Dave Grusin

☆ Al Pacino, Jack Warden, John Forsythe, Lee Strasberg, Christine Lahti, Sam Levene, Jeffrey Taybor

'Most incriminating is its own hysterical imprecision and sentimental pleading.' – Sight and Sound

Al Pacino; screenplay

And Life Goes On... ★★

Iran 1992 108m colour
ICA/I.I.D.C.Y.A. (Ali Reza Zarrin)

original title: Zendegi Va Digar Hich...

A film director and his son visit part of Iran hit by an earthquake to discover if a boy who starred in his recent film is still alive.

An austere road movie composed of small episodes, in which, despite their tragedies, the survivors continue with the mundane matter of getting through the day.

wd Abbas Kiarostami ph Homayun Payvar m Vivaldi ed Abbas Kiarostami

☆ Ferhed Kherdamend, Buba Bayour

...and millions will die!

Australia 1973 96m Eastmancolor
Allied Artists/Apa (Mende Brown)

A scientist tracks down a hidden store of nerve gas, secreted by a Nazi war criminal, that threatens the population of Hong Kong.

Muddled thriller with irrelevant and undeveloped subplots; it lacks suspense, probably because the bad guys are killed off early in the film.

w Michael Fisher d Leslie H. Martinson ph Paul Onorato m Laurie Lewis ed Richard Hindley

☆ Richard Basehart, Susan Strasberg, Leslie

Nielsen, Peter Sumner, Joseph Furst, Alwyn Kurts, Tony Wager

And Now for Something Completely Different **

GB 1971 88m colour
Columbia/Kettledrum/Python (Patricia Casey)

Monty Python's Flying Circus perform again a selection of sketches from the BBC television series.

The first Monty Python film, intended to introduce the team's humour to an American audience. It lacks any overall coherence, but many of the individual sketches are a joy.

w Graham Chapman, John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Eric Idle, Terry Jones, Michael Palin d Ian MacNaughton ph David Muir ad Colin Grimes ed Thom Noble

☆ Graham Chapman, John Cleese, Terry Gilliam, Eric Idle, Terry Jones, Michael Palin, Carol Cleveland

'Very funny.' – MFB

And Now Miguel *

US 1965 95m Technicolor
Universal/Robert B. Radnitz

A 10-year-old Mexican boy proves himself worthy to work on the mountain with the sheep.

A children's film typical of its producer: good to look at, documentarily convincing, but too slight and too slow.

w Ted Sherdeman, Jane Klove novel Joseph Krumgold d James B. Clark ph Clifford Stine m Phillip Lambro

☆ Pat Cardi, Guy Stockwell, Clu Gulager, Michael Ansara, Joe de Santis

And Now My Love **

France/Italy 1974 121m Technicolor
Avco Embassy/Films 13/Rizzoli (Pierre Pardon) original title: Toute une Vie

The love stories of three generations, from 1900 to 1974: a son is born to the wife of a soldier who dies in the First World War; he marries a woman who dies in childbirth; their daughter finds happiness with a film director.

An enjoyably romantic, if somewhat bland, panorama of the 20th century, taking in on the way most of the major events, seen as a background to individual relationships; the passage of time is paralleled by the development of cinema, the story beginning with grainy black and white photography and moving through the silent period to colour.

w Claude Lelouch, Pierre Uytterhoeven d Claude Lelouch ph Jean Collomb m Francis Lai ad François de Lamothe ed George Klotz

☆ Marthe Keller, André Dussolier, Charles Denner, Carla Gravina, Charles Gerard, Gilbert Bécaud, Alain Basnir, Daniel Boulanger

'No amount of technical wizardry can fully disguise the naivety of Lelouch's basic concept.' – Geoff Brown, MFB

† The version released in France ran for 150m and included a sequence set in the future.

screenplay

And Now The Screaming Starts

GB 1973 91m colour
Amicus (Max J. Rosenberg, Milton Subotsky)

A new bride in a country house is haunted by hallucinations of the past.

Grisly ghost story which overplays its hand and outstays its welcome.

w Roger Marshall novel Fengriffen by David Case d Roy Ward Baker ph Denys Coop m Douglas Gamley

☆ Peter Cushing, Stephanie Beacham, Herbert Lom, Patrick Magee, Ian Ogilvy, Geoffrey Whitehead, Guy Rolfe, Rosalie Crutchley

'Who are you that a man can't make love to you?'

And Now Tomorrow *

US 1944 86m bw
Paramount (Fred Kohlmar)

A rich girl goes deaf, loses her fiancé, but wins the poor doctor who cares for her.

Bestselling slush turned into a routine star romance. It was Ladd's first film in confirmed top-star status after a meteoric rise interrupted by war service.

w Frank Partos, Raymond Chandler (!) novel Rachel Field d Irving Pichel ph Daniel L. Fapp m Victor Young

☆ Loretta Young, Alan Ladd, Susan Hayward, Beulah Bondi, Cecil Kellaway, Barry Sullivan

'A vernal sign of the boys getting back to one of their favourite legends after the wintry days of war.' – Richard Winnington

And One Was Beautiful

US 1940 68m bw
MGM (Frederick Stephani)

A girl sets a trap for a playboy, who falls for her sister.

Cinderella-style second feature, quite unremarkable.

w Harry Clork story Alice Duer Miller d Robert Sinclair

☆ Robert Cummings, Laraine Day, Jean Muir, Billie Burke, Esther Dale

And So They Were Married

US 1935 74m bw
Columbia (B. P. Schulberg)

A widow and a widower try to get married despite the ill-feeling of their children.

Predictable romantic farce.

w Doris Anderson, Joseph Anthony d Elliott Nugent ph Henry Freulich m Howard Jackson

☆ Melvyn Douglas, Mary Astor, Edith Fellows, Jackie Moran, Donald Meek, Dorothy Stickney

And Soon the Darkness *

GB 1970 99m Technicolor
Associated British (Albert Fennell, Brian Clemens)

Of two young nurses on a cycling holiday in France, one is murdered by a local sex maniac and the other almost shares her fate.

Slow, overstretched, often risible suspenser on vanishing lady lines; long on red herrings and short on humour, but with some pretension to style. The action all takes place along a mile or two of sunlit country road.

w Brian Clemens, Terry Nation d Robert Fuest ph Ian Wilson m Laurie Johnson

☆ Pamela Franklin, Michele Dotrice, Sandor Eles, John Nettleton

'There's nothing but trouble in Paradise when the bandleader tries to make love to a whole sister act – simultaneously!'

And the Angels Sing *

US 1943 95m bw
Paramount (E. D. Leshin)

Four singing sisters have hectic adventures with a bandleader.

Mildly disarming romantic comedy with music, more firmly set in a recognizable social milieu than the usual fan product from this studio.

w Melvin Frank, Norman Panama, Claude Binyon d George Marshall ph Karl Struss m Victor Young m/ly Johnny Burke, Jimmy Van Heusen

☆ Dorothy Lamour, Diana Lynn, Betty Hutton, Mimi Chandler, Fred MacMurray, Raymond Walburn, Eddie Foy Jnr, Frank Albertson, Mikhail Rasumny

'Slapstick sophistication in a sub-Sturges manner.' – MFB

'Cruel, soggily professional, over-elaborate, and inclined towards snobbish whimsy.' – James Agee

And the Band Played On *

US 1993 141m colour
ITC/Odyssey/HBO (Midge Sanford, Sarah Pillsbury)

Doctors investigating a disease affecting homosexual men in America discover that it is sexually transmitted and first name it GRID (Gay Related Immune Deficiency) and then, when it is discovered that the virus is no respecter of sexuality, call it AIDS.

A confusing dramatization of Shilts's angry book on the first years of AIDS and the inactivity of the government and other organizations in dealing with it; it leaves one little wiser, though sadder, than before.

w Arnold Schulman book Randy Shilts d Roger Spottiswoode ph Paul Elliott, Paul Ryan m Carter Burwell pd Victoria Paul ed Lois Freeman-Fox

☆ Matthew Modine, Alan Alda, Richard Gere, Patrick Bauchau, Nathalie Baye, Christian Clemenson, Phil Collins, Bud Cort, Alex Courtney, David Dukes, David Clennon, Anjelica Huston, Steve Martin, Ian McKellen, Lily Tomlin

'Spottiswoode's engrossing, powerful work still accomplishes its mission: Shilts' book, with all its shock, sorrow and anger, has been transferred decisively to the screen.' – Variety

'The result is sometimes both informative and moving but also in places a little dull and unfocused, as if those who made the film were too conscientious to leave anything out and too scared to make a proper fiction out of history.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† The film, made for American television, was given a cinema release in Britain. The book was originally optioned in 1989 but twice plans to film it fell through. This version had a troubled production, with two directors quitting and Spottiswoode leaving during the post-production process, and it was criticized by Shilts himself shortly before his death in February 1994.

And the Same To You

GB 1960 70m bw
Monarch

A clergyman's nephew decides to become a boxer.

Uninventive and unfunny comedy.

w John Paddy Carstairs, John Junkin play A. P. Dearsley d George Pollock m Philip Green

☆ Brian Rix, Leo Franklyn, William Hartnell, Vera Day, Tommy Cooper, Dick Bentley, Sid James

And the Ship Sails On *

Italy/France 1983 132m Technicolor Panavision
RAI/Vides/Gaumont (Franco Cristaldi)

original title: E la Nave Va

From Naples in 1914 a luxurious liner sets forth to scatter the ashes of an opera singer.

Less a Ship of Fools than a theatre of the absurd, with familiar Fellini caricatures going through their paces against studio sets. Fascination alternates with boredom.

w Federico Fellini, Tonino Guerra d Federico Fellini ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Gianfranco Plenizio ad Dante Ferretti ed Ruggero Mastroianni

☆ Freddie Jones, Barbara Jefford, Victor Poletti, Peter Cellier, Elisa Mainardi, Norma West

'A genial movie, although a bit discontinuous.' – Alberto Moravia

'A vessel that is chock-full of his best gags, visual fun and love of cinema as artful technique.' – Variety

'Too much a work of the pure imagination with the result that the audience is cast adrift on a styrofoam sea without a lifeline to any kind of recognizable reality.' – Andrew Sarris, Village Voice

And Then There Were None

US 1945 97m bw
Popular Pictures/Harry M. Popkin (René Clair)

GB title: Ten Little Niggers

Ten people are invited to a house party on a lonely island, and murdered one by one.

A classic mystery novel is here adapted and directed with the utmost care to provide playful black comedy, stylish puzzlement, and some splendid acting cameos.

w Dudley Nichols novel Agatha Christie (aka: Ten Little Niggers) d René Clair ph Lucien Andriot m Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco ad Ernst Fegte ed Harvey Manger

☆ Walter Huston (Dr Armstrong), Barry Fitzgerald (Judge Quincannon), Louis Hayward (Philip Lombard), June Duprez (Vera Claythorne), Roland Young (Blore), Richard Haydn (Rogers), C. Aubrey Smith (General Mandrake), Judith Anderson (Emily Brent), Queenie Leonard (Mrs Rogers), Mischa Auer (Prince Starloff)

MISS BRENT: 'Very stupid to kill the only servant in the house. Now we don't even know where to find the marmalade.'

JUDGE QUINCANNON: 'Mr Owen could only come to the island in one way. It's perfectly clear. Mr Owen is one of us.'

ROGERS: 'Never in my life have I been accused of any crime, sir – and if that's what you think of me, I shan't serve any dinner.'

'Rich in the elements which have made mystery melodramas popular, yet not in the precise form of any previously made.' – Hollywood Reporter

'The efforts at sprightly, stylish comedy don't gain much momentum.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker, 70s

And Then There Were None

GB 1974 98m Technicolor
EMI/Filibuster (Harry Alan Towers)

US title: Ten Little Indians

Ten people are lured to an isolated Persian hotel and murdered one by one.

Listless remake, often so inept you could scream.

w Peter Welbeck (Harry Alan Towers) d Peter Collinson ph Fernando Arribas m Bruno Nicolai

☆ Oliver Reed, Richard Attenborough, Elke Sommer, Herbert Lom, Gert Frobe, Stéphane Audran, Charles Aznavour, Adolfo Celi, Alberto de Mendoza, Maria Rohm

And There Was Jazz ★

Poland 1981 90m bw
Zespoly Filmowe (Andrzej Soltysik)
aka: Byl Jazz

In Poland of the 1950s, a group of students playing classic jazz become a symbol of opposition in a conformist society.

Like its subject matter, a small but engaging gesture of revolt. It was banned by the Polish authorities.

wd Feliks Falk ph Witold Sobocinski m Jerzy Matula ad Teresa Smus-Barska ed Miroslawa Garlicka

☆ Bozena Adamkowna, Michal Bajor, Andrzej Grabarczyk, Kazimierz Wysota, Jerzy Gudejko, Adrzej Chichlowski, Jacek Strzemzalski, Jacek Sass-Uhrynowski

And Woman ... Was Created: see And God Created Woman

And You Thought Your Parents Were Weird

US 1991 92m CFI color
Trimark/Panorama/Just Betzer

Two young inventors create a robot which is then possessed by the spirit and voice of their dead father.

Dull, sickly family comedy, which also exhibits some dubious attitudes to deception and death.

wd Tony Cookson ph Paul Elliot m Randy Miller pd Alexandra Kicenik ed Michael Ornstein

☆ Marcia Strassman, Joshua Miller, Edan Gross, John Quade, Sam Behrens, Alan Thicke (voice), Susan Gibney, A. J. Langer

'Cookson lays on the sentiment with a spatula towards the end. Still, story has plenty of heart, cast is enjoyable and Cookson has an instinct for the material that makes this humble outing uncalculated and even a bit soulful.' – Variety

† The film was released direct to video in Britain.

And Your Mother Too: see Y Tu Mamá También

The Anderson Tapes ★

US 1971 98m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Robert M. Weitman

An ex-con forms a gang to rob a building, not knowing that police and others, for various purposes, are making tape recordings of his conversations.

Superficially slick and fashionable crime thriller, marred by unnecessarily flashy direction, a failure to explain enough about the tapes, and a climax which oddly mixes bloodshed and farce.

w Frank R. Pierson novel Lawrence Sanders d Sidney Lumet ph Arthur J. Ornitz m Quincy Jones

☆ Sean Connery, Martin Balsam, Dyan Cannon, Alan King, Ralph Meeker

'Out of the sea and into your heart.'

Andre ★

US 1994 94m Eastmancolor
Clairmont Scope
Rank/Kushner-Locke (Annette Handley, Adam Shapiro)

A seven-year-old girl befriends a baby seal and protects it from the locals who regard it as a pest.

A film, based on a true story, to delight most children and which for the most part successfully skirts sentimentality; it gains immeasurably from the exuberant personality of its animal star.

w Dana Baratta novel A Seal Called Andre by Harry Goodridge, Lew Dietz d George Miller ph Thomas Burstyn m Bruce Rowland pd William Elliot ed Harry Hitner, Patrick Kennedy

☆ Keith Carradine, Tina Majorino, Chelsea Field, Aidan Pendleton, Shane Meier, Keith Szarabajka, Joshua Jackson, Tory

'For people who like to see animals put through their paces in the world's Marinelands without getting their own feet wet.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

'Call me heartless, but somehow I can't warm to a hero who resembles a giant garden slug in a false moustache.' – Jonathan Romney, Guardian

† Andre is played not by a seal but by a sea lion.

Andrei Rublev ★★★★

USSR 1966 181m bw/colour
Cinemascope
Mosfilm

Imaginary episodes from the life of a 15th-century icon painter.

A superb recreation of medieval life dramatizes the eternal problem of the artist, whether to take part in the life around him or merely comment on it.

w Andrei Mikhalkov-Konchalovsky, Andrei Tarkovsky d Andrei Tarkovsky ph Vadim Yusov m Vyacheslav Tcherniaiev ad Evgeny Chernyaev ed Ludmila Feyganova

☆ Anatoly Solonitsin (Andrei Rublev), Ivan Lapikov (Kirill), Nikolai Grinko (Daniel Chorny), Nikolai Sergeyev (Theophanes the Greek)

'The one indisputable Russian masterpiece of the last decade.' – Nigel Andrews, MFB, 1973

'With the exception of the great Eisenstein, I can't think of any film which has conveyed a feeling of the remote past with such utter conviction ... a durable and unmistakable masterpiece.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

† The film was later released in a "director's cut" running for 205m.

†† The Region 1 DVD includes the director's cut, interviews with Tarkovsky and audio essays by Professor Petric over selected scenes.

The Region 2 release has interviews with Yuri Nazarov and Tarkovsky's sister.

Androcles and the Lion ★★

US 1952 96m bw
RKO (Gabriel Pascal)

A slave takes a thorn from the paw of a lion which later, in the arena, refuses to eat him.

Shavian drollery, with interpolated discussions on faith, is scarcely ideal cinema material, but gusto in the performances keeps it going despite stolid direction.

w Chester Erskine play Bernard Shaw d Chester Erskine ph Harry Stradling m Frederick Hollander ad Harry Horner

☆ Alan Young, Jean Simmons, Robert Newton, Victor Mature, Maurice Evans (Caesar), Reginald Gardiner, Elsa Lanchester, Alan Mowbray, Gene Lockhart

† Production had previously begun with Harpo Marx as Androcles and Rex Harrison as Caesar.

Android ★

US 1982 80m DeLuxe
New World/Android (Mary Ann Fisher)

In 2036, a police transport vehicle is hijacked in space, and the scientists on board, some of them androids, react in unexpected ways.

Cheaply made, but a bobby dazzler for science fiction addicts.

w James Reigle, Don Opper d Aaron Lipstadt ph Tim Suhrstedt m Don Preston

☆ Klaus Kinski, Brie Howard, Norbert Weisser, Crofton Hardester, Kendra Kirchner, Don Opper

'The best first feature since Dark Star.' – Tom Milne, MFB

The Andromeda Strain ★★

US 1970 131m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/Robert Wise

Scientists work frantically to neutralize an infected village, knowing that the least infection will cause their laboratory to self-destruct.

Solemn and over-detailed but generally suspenseful thriller, with a sense of allegory about man's inhumanity to man.

w Nelson Gidding novel Michael Crichton d Robert Wise ph Richard H. Kline m Gil Melle ad Boris Leven

☆ Arthur Hill, David Wayne, James Olson, Kate Reid, Paula Kelly

Andromedia

Japan 1998 109m colour
TBS (Kazuya Hamana, Takashi Hirano, Makoto Nakanishi, Toshiaki Nakazawa)

After his daughter dies, her scientist-father downloads her memory to a computer to create a virtual version of her; but others try to steal his technology.

Featuring members of a Japanese girl group and boyband, a soft-centred pop-filled romance-cum-chase thriller aimed at a teen audience.

w Kurio Kisaragi novel Kozy Watanabe d Takashi Miike ph Hideo Yamamoto m Speed, Da Pump pd Akira Ishige ed Yasushi Shimamura

☆ Hiroko Shimabukuro (Mai Hitomi/Ai), Eriko Imai (Yoko), Takako Uehara (Rika), Hitoe Arakaki (Nao), Kenji Harada (Yuu), Ryo Karato (Satoshi Takanaka), Christopher Doyle (Sakkaa)

'Effervescent riff on memory and virtualness.' – Village Voice

Andy Hardy Comes Home ★

US 1958 81m bw
MGM (Red Doff)

Fortyish Andy returns to Carvel, his home town, to negotiate a land deal.

Rather dismal sequel to the celebrated series of Hardy family comedies which were enormously popular in the early forties: a thirteen-year gap is too long, and although most of the family is reunited the old Judge is sadly missed.

w Edward Everett Hutshing, Robert Morris Donley d Howard W. Koch ph William W. Spencer, Harold E. Wellman m Van Alexander

☆ Mickey Rooney, Fay Holden, Cecilia Parker, Patricia Breslin, Sara Haden, Jerry Colonna

† See also under Hardy Family.

Andy Warhol's Bad

US 1976 109m Technicolor
EMI/Andy Warhol (Jeff Tornberg)

A housewife, who runs an assassination bureau using young female killers, employs a man – with fatal results.

A tedious, sloppily made horror movie.

w Pat Hackett, George Abagnalo d Jed Johnson ph Alan Metzger m Mike Bloomfield ad Eugene Rudolf ed David McKenna

☆ Carroll Baker, Perry King, Gordon Oas-Heim, Cyrinda Fox, Matthew Anton, Cathy Roskam, Susan Tyrrell, Brigid Polk, Lawrence Tierney

† The film was cut to 104m on its British release.

Andy Warhol's Dracula: see Dracula

Andy Warhol's Flesh: see Flesh

Andy Warhol's Heat: see Heat

Andy Warhol's Lonesome Cowboys: see Lonesome Cowboys

Andy Warhol's Trash: see Trash

'I want love – and I'm going to get it!'

Angel ★

US 1937 98m bw
Paramount (Ernst Lubitsch)

The wife of an English diplomat finds herself neglected and almost has an affair with his old friend.

A curious romantic comedy in many ways typical of its time, yet with very few laughs, showing none of its director's usual cinematic sense, and compromised by the censor's refusal to let a spade be called a spade. Underplaying, and a sense that we watch a way of life about to be swept away, just about save it.

w Samson Raphaelson play Melchior Lengyel d Ernst Lubitsch ph Charles Lang m Frederick Hollander

☆ Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Melvyn Douglas, Edward Everett Horton, Laura Hope Crews, Ernest Cossart

MARIA: 'What's the matter, darling? Is it France?'

SIR FREDERICK: 'No, no. Jugoslavia.'

MARIA: 'Oh, I see.'

'A rich Hollywood dish that copies foreign recipes. It's a good picture and in the keys, especially for the carriage trade, it can't miss.' – Variety

'Very sophisticated, very subtle, very chic, vastly polished and entertaining.' – Literary Digest

'The production is performed with studied deliberation.' – New York Times

'This movie isn't essentially different from the best of Lubitsch, but it's attenuated. It's the sort of cultivated triangular love affair in which each of the three has a turn at the piano.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

Angel ★

Eire 1982 92m Technicolor
Motion Picture Company of Ireland/Irish Film Board/Channel 4 (John Boorman)

US title: Danny Boy

Against a background of the Irish troubles, a saxophonist is drawn into a maze of violence when he attempts to avenge the murder of a mute girl.

Glumly Irish thriller with metaphysical overtones as well as references to the state of Ireland. Keen narrative style is dissipated by overkill.
wd Neil Jordan ph Chris Menges m Verdi
☆ Stephen Rea, Veronica Quilligan, Alan Devlin, Peter Caffrey
'The film's style might be called flamboyant or baroque – or damned as pretentious – but it's a genuine style, a way of speaking. No one else speaks quite this way.' – Michael Wilmington, Los Angeles Times

'Honor student by day – hooker by night!'
'You're young, attractive and healthy – and swimming in a toilet bowl!'

Angel

US 1983 93m CFI color
New World/Adam's Apple/Angel (Sandy Howard)

A 15-year-old student doubles as a Hollywood hooker and takes on a psychopathic killer.
Yucky melodrama with no holds barred, not even moments of humour.
w Robert Vincent O'Neil, Joseph M. Cala d Robert Vincent O'Neil ph Andrew Davis m Craig Safan ☆ Cliff Gorman, Donna Wilkes, Rory Calhoun, Susan Tyrrell, Dick Shawn, John Diehl, Elaine Giftos
'A tasteless blend of realism and farce.' – Sunday Times
† A sequel appeared in 1985 under the title Avenging Angel. Betsy Russell was the girl, now hunting down her mentor.

Angel and the Badman ★

US 1946 100m bw
Republic (John Wayne)

The love of a Quaker girl converts a wounded gunslinger to an honourable life.
Thoughtful Western with good background detail and a fair measure of action.
wd James Edward Grant ph Archie Stout m Richard Hageman pd Ernst Fegte ☆ John Wayne, Gail Russell, Harry Carey, Bruce Cabot, Irene Rich, Tom Powers
'Unpretentious, sweet-tempered and quite likeable.' – James Agee

Angel, Angel, Down We Go

US 1969 93m colour
AIP (Jerome F. Katzman)

Decadence in Hollywood: rock and rollers invade the lives of a rich family.
Unpleasant blather with a star well past her prime.
wd Robert Thom
☆ Jennifer Jones, Jordan Christopher, Roddy McDowall, Lou Rawls, Holly Near, Charles Aidman

An Angel at My Table ★★

New Zealand/Australia 1990 160m colour
Hibiscus Films/N.Z. Film Commission/TV New Zealand/ABC (Bridget Ikin)

A shy and introverted writer is wrongly diagnosed as a schizophrenic.
The biography of a notable poet, edited from a three-hour television miniseries.
w Laura Jones book Janet Frame's autobiographies d Jane Campion
ph Stuart Dryburgh m Don McGlashan
pd Grant Major ed Veronica Haussler
☆ Kerry Fox, Alexia Keogh, Karen Fergusson, Iris Churn, K. J. Wilson, Melina Bernecker, Glynis Angell, Sarah Smuts-Kennedy, Colin McColl
'A potentially painful and harrowing film is imbued with gentle humor and great compassion, which makes every character (even the unappealing ones) come vividly to life.' – Variety

Angel Baby ★

US 1960 97m bw
Madera (Thomas F. Woods)

A mute girl is cured by an evangelist, and renounces her sins.
Strident, vigorous low-budget melodrama.
w Oris Borstem, Samuel Roeca, Paul Mason novel Jenny Angel by Elsie Oaks Barbour d Paul Wendkos ph Haskell Wexler, Jack Marta m Wayne Shanklin ☆ Salome Jens, George Hamilton, Joan Blondell, Mercedes McCambridge, Henry Jones, Burt Reynolds

'In Love. In Deep. In Danger.'

Angel Baby ★

Australia 1995 103m colour
AFFC/Stamen/Meridian (Timothy White, Jonathan Shteinman)

After they meet at a clinic, two psychiatric patients fall in love and decide to set up home together.
A grim and harrowing tale of a doomed love, a relationship between damaged people in a world that fails to understand them; its tragic protagonists lack depth, and are characterized mainly by their sickness. wd Michael Rymer ph Ellery Ryan m John Clifford White, Gavin Friday, Maurice Seezer pd Chris Kennedy ed Danny Cooper
☆ John Lynch, Jacqueline McKenzie, Colin Friels, Deborra-Lee Furness, Robyn Nevin, David Argue, Jane Menelaus
'Should click with young auds who'll connect with the radiant but deeply troubled lovers.' – Variety

Angel Dust ★

France 1987 95m colour
UGC/President Films/Top No 1/FR3/Films de La Saga/La Sofica (Jacques-Eric Strauss)

aka: Poussière d'Ange
A detective, whose life begins to fall to pieces after his wife leaves him, becomes involved with a young girl and a series of strange murders.
Acerbic thriller about the corrupting influence of sexual desire.
w Edouard Niermans, Jacques Audiard, Alain le Henry d Edouard Niermans ph Bernard Lutic m Leon Senza, Vincent-Marie Bouvot pd Dominique Maleret
ed Yves Deschamps, Jacques Witta
☆ Bernard Giraudeau, Fanny Bastien, Fanny Cottencon, Michel Aumont, Jean-Pierre Sentier, Gérard Blain, Luc Lavandier

El Angel Exterminador: see The Exterminating Angel

'The Deeper You Look, The More You Will Find.'

Angel Eyes

US 2001 104m DeLuxe
Warner/Morgan Creek/Franchise (Mark Canton, Elie Samaha)

A tough, streetwise female cop begins an affair with a mysterious, sensitive man after he saves her life.
Slick, glutinous, melodramatic soap opera of a mismatched couple.
w Gerald DiPego d Luis Mandoki
ph Piotr Sobocinski m Marco Beltrami
pd Dean Tavoularis ed Jerry Greenberg
☆ Jennifer Lopez (Sharon Pogue), Jim Caviezel (Catch), Sonia Braga (Josephine Pogue), Terrence Howard (Robby), Jeremy Sisto (Larry), Victor Argo (Carl Pogue), Monet Mazur (Kathy Pogue), Shirley Knight (Elanora), Daniel Magder (Larry Jnr)
'Takes an offensively simple, sentimental view of the way a little love and forgiveness can solve problems of abusive relationships.' – Philip French, Observer
'A riveting drama about wounded hearts and second chances.' – Joe Leydon, San Francisco Examiner

Angel Face ★

US 1952 91m bw
RKO (Otto Preminger)

A demented girl murders her father and stepmother, involving her chauffeur, whom she finally kills, and commits suicide.
Outrageous melodrama, so absurd as to be almost endearing.
w Frank Nugent, Oscar Millard d Otto Preminger ph Harry Stradling m Dimitri Tiomkin ☆ Jean Simmons, Robert Mitchum, Herbert Marshall, Barbara O'Neil, Leon Ames, Mona Freeman, Kenneth Tobey, Raymond Greenleaf
'The one lyrical nightmare in the cinema.' – Ian Cameron

An Angel from Texas ★

US 1940 69m bw
Warner (Robert Fellows)

Misadventures of a country boy in New York.
Modest revamping of a much filmed farce, also made as The Tenderfoot (1928) and Dance Charlie Dance (1937).
w Fred Niblo Jnr, Bertram Millhauser play The Butter and Egg Man by George F. Kaufman d Ray Enright ph Arthur L. Todd m Howard Jackson ed Clarence Kolster ☆ Eddie Albert, Rosemary Lane, Wayne Morris, Ronald Reagan, Milburn Stone

Angel Heart ★

US 1987 113m Technicolor
Tri-Star/Kassar-Vajna/Carolco/Winkast-Union (Alan Marshall, Elliott Kastner)

In 1955, a New York private eye descends into Hell.
He does, literally, in pursuit of a missing person who's opted out of a pact with the devil. Thoroughly unpleasant in detail, this wallow in the private eye cult constantly takes the eye with its pictorial qualities, even at its most nauseating.
wd Alan Parker novel Falling Angel by William Hjortsberg ph Michael Seresin m Trevor Jones pd Brian Morris ☆ Mickey Rourke, Robert De Niro, Lisa Bonet, Charlotte Rampling, Stocker Fontelieu, Brownie McGhee
'Faustian theme, heavy bloodletting and pervasive grimness may represent barriers too great for general audiences to surmount.' – Daily Variety

Angel in Exile

US 1948 90m bw
Republic

An ex-con heads for an abandoned Arizona mine to recover stolen gold.
Modest, effective Western about a baddie who reforms.
w Charles Larson d Allan Dwan, Philip Ford ph Reggie Lanning m Nathan Scott ☆ John Carroll, Adele Mara, Thomas Gomez

Angel in My Pocket

US 1969 105m Technicolor Techniscope
Universal (Ed Montagne)

A minister and his family arrive in a small town.
Simplistic comedy-drama with nothing to distinguish it from a dozen others in similar vein.
w Jim Fritzell, Everett Greenbaum d Alan Rafkin
☆ Andy Griffith, Jerry Van Dyke, Kay Medford, Edgar Buchanan, Margaret Hamilton, Gary Collins, Lee Meriwether, Henry Jones

The Angel Levine ★

US 1970 105m DeLuxe
UA/Belafonte Enterprises (Chiz Schultz)

An elderly Jewish tailor complains to God of his bad luck; a black angel appears and seems to help him for a while.
Muddled and seemingly pointless parable with occasional felicities.
w Bill Gunn, Ronald Ribman story Bernard Malamud d Jan Kadar ph Richard Kratina m Zdenek Linka
pd George Jenkins
☆ Zero Mostel, Harry Belafonte, Ida Kaminska, Milo O'Shea, Eli Wallach, Anne Jackson, Gloria Foster
'A prolonged variation on the theme that faith can produce miracles, but only if there is enough of it.' – John Gillett

The Angel of Broadway ★

US 1927 82m approx bw silent
DeMille/Pathé

A night-club entertainer haunts Salvation Army missions in search of material, but ultimately joins the cause.
Fairly impressive propaganda piece of its time.
w Lenore J. Coffee d Lois Weber
☆ Leatrice Joy, Victor Varconi, May Robson, Alice Lake

Angel on My Shoulder ★★

US 1946 101m bw
UA/Charles R. Rogers

The devil promises leniency to a dead gangster if he will return to Earth and take over the body of a judge who is stamping out evil.
Crude but lively fantasy on the tail-end of the Here Comes Mr Jordan cycle, and by the same author.
w Harry Segall, Roland Kibbee d Archie Mayo ph James Van Trees m Dimitri Tiomkin
☆ Paul Muni, Claude Rains, Anne Baxter, Erskine Sanford, Hardie Albright
'The story is so imitative that it's hard to feel any more towards it than a mildly nostalgic regard.' – Bosley Crowther
'Witty, caustic and exciting.' – Motion Picture Guide

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Angel on the Amazon

US 1948 86m bw
Republic (John H. Auer)
GB title: Drums Along the Amazon
An elderly white lady resident of the Amazon jungle looks only 25 after being scared by a panther...
Ludicrous melodrama which the actors take seriously.
w Lawrence Kimble d John H. Auer ph Reggie Lanning m Nathan Scott ☆ George Brent, Constance Bennett, Vera Hruba Ralston, Brian Aherne, Fortunio Bonanova, Alfonso Bedoya, Gus Schilling

Angel Sharks ★

France 1997 93m colour 'Scope
Blue Light/Les Films de la Suane/Studio Image 2/La Sept/Lelia (Philippe Rousselet) original title: Marie Baie des Anges
In a coastal area where teenage gangs roam, two outsiders come together for a brief moment of happiness.
Episodic low-life drama of petty crimes and promiscuity among doomed youth, directed with a sometimes haphazard energy.
wd Manuel Pradal ph Christopher Pollock m Carlo Crivelli pd Javier Po, Véronique Mellery ed Valerie Deseine
☆ Nicolas Welbers, Amira Casar, Swan Carpio, Jamie Harris, Frédéric Malgras, Vahina Giocante, Andrew Clover

'The plot simply isn't coherent or interesting enough to stop boredom setting in about halfway through and winds up really testing the outer regions of patience.' – Jessica Mellor, Empire

Angel Square ★

Canada 1990 106m colour
Rendez-Vous/Wheeler-Hendren/Western International/Arvi Liimatainen
During Christmas in the late 1940s, a dreamy youth solves the mystery of who attacked the father of his Jewish friend.
Genial account of boyhood fantasies, complete with excursions into cartoon-like parodies of comic-strip adventures.
w James Defelice, Anne Wheeler novel Brian Doyle d Anne Wheeler ph Tobias Schliesler m George Blondheim pd John Blackie ed Peter Svab, Lenka Svab
☆ Ned Beatty, Jeremy Radick, Guillaume Lemay Thivierge, Marie Stefane Gaudry, Sarah Meyette, Nicola Cavendish, Brian Dooley, Michel Barrette

Angel Street: see Gaslight (1939)

The Angel Who Pawned Her Harp ★

GB 1954 76m bw
Group Three (Sidney Cole)
A real angel arrives on a goodwill visit to seamy Islington, and manages to right a few wrongs.
Simple-minded whimsy, spottily effective, with good performances.
w Charles Terrot, Sidney Cole d Alan Bromly ph Arthur Grant m Antony Hopkins ☆ Diane Cilento, Felix Aylmer, Robert Eddison, Jerry Desmonde, Sheila Sweet, Alfie Bass

The Angel with the Trumpet

GB 1949 98m bw
British Lion/London Films (Karl Hartl)
An Austrian lady has an affair with a crown prince but marries for security and dies in defiance of the Nazis.
Curious European cavalcade, dully directed to keep the budget down and accommodate long stretches of an Austrian original. An eccentricity.
w Karl Hartl, Franz Tassie novel Ernst Lothar d Anthony Bushell ph Robert Krasker m Willy Schmidt-Gentner
☆ Eileen Herlie, Basil Sydney, Norman Wooland, Anthony Bushell, Maria Schell, John Justin, Oskar Werner, Andrew Cruickshank

The Angel Wore Red

US 1960 105m bw
MGM/Titanus/Spectator (Gottfredo Lombardo)
The love story of a priest and a prostitute in the Spanish Civil War.
Turgid farrago, unsatisfactory both romantically and politically.
wd Nunnally Johnson ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Ava Gardner, Dirk Bogarde, Joseph Cotten, Vittorio de Sica, Aldo Fabrizi, Finlay Currie

'The stars show no apparent surprise that a film so empty of reward should take itself so seriously.' – Peter John Dyer

Angel-A ★★ (5)

France 2005 91m Black and White
Optimum/Eurocorp/TFI/Apipoulai (Luc Besson)
A would-be suicide is taught life lessons by his guardian angel.
Overly repetitive and rather obvious, but the bittersweet charms of the light fantastic conceit build towards a touching and delightful poignancy.
wd Luc Besson ph Thierry Arbogast m Anja Garbarek pd Jaques Bufnoir ed Christine Lucas Navarro, Frederic Thoraval sp Georges Demetrau, Jerome Miel
☆ Jamel Debbouze (Andre), Rie Rasmussen (Angel-A), Gilbert Melki (Franck), Serge Riaboukine (Pedro), Akim Chir (Chief Malfrat)

'An achingly sincere but protracted effort.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

Angela

US 1955 81m bw
TCF/Patricia/Telecinema (Steven Pallos)
A former American racing driver working as a salesman in Italy finds himself involved in murder when he falls in love with a secretary.
Moody, unoriginal thriller in the film noir tradition, given a slight twist by being set in Rome.
w Jonathan Rix, Eduardo Anton story Steve Carruthers d Dennis O'Keefe ph Leonida Barboni m Mario Nascimbene ad Alfredo Montori ed Giancarlo Cappelli
☆ Dennis O'Keefe, Mara Lane, Rossano Brazzi, Arnoldo Foa, Galeazzo Benti, Nino Crisman, Enzo Fiermonte, John Fostini, Aldo Pini, Maria Teresa Paliani

Angela

Italy 2002 95m colour
Movieweb/Rita Rusic
In Palermo, the wife and accomplice of a Mafia drug dealer falls for his handsome young assistant.
Dull, overlong drama of crime and adultery, apparently based on fact, that makes both pursuits seem uninteresting.
wd Roberta Torre ph Daniele Cipri m Andrea Guerra pd Enrico Serafini ed RobertoMissiroli
☆ Angela (Donatella Finocchiaro), Andrea Di Stefano (Masino), Mario Pupella (Saro), Erasmo Lobello (Mimmo), Tony Gambino (Santino), Matteo Gulino (Paolino)

Angela's Ashes ★★

US 1999 145m Technicolor
Universal/Paramount/Dirty Hands (Scott Rudin/David Brown/Alan Parker)
An Irish writer remembers his miserable Catholic childhood in Limerick, before he left to live in the United States.
Based on a best-selling memoir, this puts a Hollywood gloss on the rain-soaked poverty it depicts which, coupled with miscasting of the leading role, mutes its impact; it sputters only sporadically to life.
w Laura Jones, Alan Parker book Frank McCourt d Alan Parker ph Michael Seresin m John Williams pd Geoffrey Kirkland ed Gerry Hambling
☆ Emily Watson (Angela), Robert Carlyle (Dad), Joe Breen (Young Frank), Ciaran Owens (Middle Frank), Michael Legge (Older Frank), Ronnie Masterson (Grandma Sheehan), Pauline McLynn (Aunt Aggie), Liam Carney (Uncle Pa Keating), Eanna Macliam (Uncle Pat), Andrew Bennett (Narrator)

'This is the kind of film about hardship in which nobody has indoor plumbing, but everyone has clean hair.' – Janet Maslin, New York Times

'The resilience of McCourt is admirable, but the film doesn't manage to enlist one's sympathies for his hard lot so much as eventually sow the suspicion that he's working it off on us.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

Ⱥ John Williams

The Angelic Conversation

GB 1985 80m colour
BFI/Derek Jarman (James Mackay)
Readings from Shakespeare's sonnets by Judi Dench are accompanied by a film of young men striking Christ-like poses or caressing each other.
Moody, grainy photography, much of it in jerky slow-motion, fails to illuminate the text.
d Derek Jarman ph Derek Jarman m Coil ed Cerith Wyn Evans, Peter Cartwright ☆ Paul Reynolds, Philip Williamson

Angelina ★

Italy 1947 98m bw
Lux-Ora (Paulo Frasca)
An impoverished housewife becomes the spokeswoman for her community on flooding, housing and other slum problems.
Reasonably rewarding star vehicle in the neo-realist tradition, this time angled for comedy.
w Suso Cecchi d'Amico, Piero Tellini, Luigi Zampa d Luigi Zampa ph Mario Craveri m Enzio Masetti
☆ Anna Magnani, Nando Bruno, Gianni Glori, Franco Zeffirelli

'At once kindly and fierce, witty and humorous, sad and richly gay. It warms your heart and breaks it, and has you laughing almost continuously.' – Fred Majdalany

'Behind the bubble and the chatter, the shouting and the running, the crowd and corteges that the Italians have always adored in their cinema, there is a genuine spring of fun that can only rise from a hopeful attitude towards God, and the right sort of optimism about one's neighbour.' – C. A. Lejeune

Angélique

France/West Germany/Italy 1964 116m
Eastmancolor Dyaliscope
Francos/CICC/Gloria/Fona Roma (Francis Cosne) original title: Angélique Marquise des Anges
Adventures of a nobleman's daughter at the court of Louis XIV.
Watchable swashbuckling nonsense, a kind of French Forever Amber. Several sequels were made.
w Claude Brûlé, Bernard Borderie, Francis Cosne novel Serge and Anne Golon d Bernard Borderie ph Henri Pérsin m Michel Magne ☆ Michèle Mercier, Robert Hossein, Giuliano Gemma, Jean Rochefort, François Maistre, Jacques Toja

Angelo My Love

US 1982 116m colour
Lorton
Adventures of an eight-year-old gypsy boy in Manhattan.
Angelo is a precocious little rogue, but two hours is a long haul for this kind of ethnic medley.
wd Robert Duvall
☆ Angelo Evans, Michael Evans, Ruthie Evans, Steve Tsigonoff

'Duvall has done wonders with his actors and then robbed them of their glory by mishandling the tempo of the piece.' – Sunday Times

Angels: see Angels in the Outfield (1994)

'An elegant seduction. An erotic deception. A stunning revelation.'

Angels & Insects ★

GB/US 1995 117m Technicolor
Film Four/Samuel Goldwyn/Playhouse (Joyce Herlihy, Belinda Haas)
A naturalist from a working-class background, who goes to work for an aristocrat, is attracted by his patron's eldest daughter and marries her, with unexpected results.
A dry, austere and sometimes stilted period drama, emphasizing the resemblance between the human and the insect world that obsesses the hero, though the final revelation seems more anagrammatic than anything else.
w Belinda Haas, Philip Haas novel Morpho Eugenia by A. S. Byatt d Philip Haas ph Bernard Zitzerman m Alexander Balanescu pd Jennifer Kernke ed Belinda Haas
☆ Mark Rylance, Kristin Scott-Thomas, Patsy Kensit, Jeremy Kemp, Douglas Henshall, Annette Badland, Chris Larkin, Anna Massey, Saskia Wickham

'It's not the usual period piece, but its literary origins are too evident and the passion for insect metaphors soon begins to pall.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times

Ⱥ Paul Brown (costumes)

Angels and the Pirates: see Angels in the Outfield (1952)

Angel's Dance

US 1999 102m FotoKem
Promark/Videal (David Bixler)
A hitman and his apprentice are stalked by the woman they tried to use for target practice.
Tacky thriller, given to cheap sentimentality and risible situations.
wd David L. Corley ph Michael G. Wojciechowski m Tim Truman pd Patti Podesta ed Sean Albertson

☆ James Belushi (Steve Rossellini), Sheryl Lee (Angelica Chaste), Kyle Chandler (Tony), Frank John Hughes (Nick), Ned Bellamy (Police Detective), Mark Carlton (Bob), Mac Davis (Norman), Jon Polito (Uncle Vinnie)

Angels Hard as They Come

US 1971 90m Metrocolor
New Realm/New World (Jonathan Demme)

Three bikers run into trouble in a ghost town inhabited by hippies but controlled by another gang of bikers.
Ponderous action movie, with a plot that seems to have been wrenched from some spaghetti Western, in which violence is seen as a force for good.
w Jonathan Demme, Joe Viola d Joe Viola ph Steve Katz m Richard Hieronymous, Carp ad Jack Fisk ed Joe Ravetz
☆ Scott Glenn, Charles Dierkop, Gilda Texter, James Iglehart, Garry Littlejohn, Gary Busey, Janet Wood, Don Carerra, Brendan Kelly, Larry Tucker

'The film's strivings for social and political significance are effectively smothered by the obligatory overlay of sex and violence.' – John Raisbeck, MFB

† The film was cut to 82m on its British release.

Angel's Holiday

US 1937 74m bw
John Stone/TCF

The niece of a newspaper editor rounds up a gang of racketeers.
Smart comedy vehicle for Shirley Temple's only rival.
w Frank Fenton, Lynn Root d James Tinling
☆ Jane Withers, Robert Kent, Joan Davis, Sally Blane, Harold Huber, Frank Jenks, John Qualen, Lon Chaney Jnr

Angels in the Outfield

US 1952 99m bw
MGM (Clarence Brown)

GB title: Angels and the Pirates

The profane and bad-tempered manager of an unsuccessful baseball team gets help from an angel.
Unamusing, saccharine whimsy which does not deserve its excellent production values.
w Dorothy Kingsley, George Wells d Clarence Brown ph Paul C. Vogel m Daniele Amfitheatrof
☆ Paul Douglas, Janet Leigh, Keenan Wynn, Lewis Stone, Donna Corcoran, Spring Byington, Bruce Bennett

'Ya Gotta Believe! It Could Happen.'

Angels in the Outfield

US 1994 102m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Caravan (Irby Smith, Joe Roth, Roger Birnbaum)

GB title: Angels

A boy enlists the aid of angels so that a baseball team can be transformed from losers to winners, enabling him to be reunited with his father.
A remake that has made many alterations to the original story and added fancy special effects so that the angels are now visible; it is also far sweeter and no more successful as entertainment.
w Dorothy Kingsley, George Wells, Holly Goldberg Sloan d William Dear ph Matthew F. Leonetti m Randy Edelman pd Dennis Washington ed Bruce Green sp Giedra Rackauskas
☆ Danny Glover, Tony Danza, Brenda Fricker, Christopher Lloyd, Ben Johnson, Taylor Negron, Jay O. Sanders, Milton Davis Jnr

'Serves up its corn so unabashedly it's hard to take offence at its sappiness.' – Variety

Angels One Five ★

GB 1952 98m bw
Templar (John W. Gossage)

A slice of life in an RAF fighter station during the Battle of Britain.
Underplayed semi-documentary drama with stiff upper lips all round and the emphasis on characterization rather than action. A huge commercial success in Britain.
w Derek Twist d George More O'Ferrall ph Christopher Challis, Stanley Grant (air scenes) m John Wooldridge ☆ Jack Hawkins, John Gregson, Michael Denison, Andrew Osborn, Cyril Raymond, Humphrey Lestocq, Dulcie Gray, Veronica Hurst

Angels Over Broadway

US 1940 80m bw
Columbia/Ben Hecht

During one rainy New York night, three of life's failures have one last stab at success.
Would-be poetic, moralizing melodrama very typical of its author; interesting but not a success.
w Ben Hecht d Ben Hecht, Lee Garmes ph Lee Garmes m George Antheil ☆ Douglas Fairbanks Jnr, Rita Hayworth, Thomas Mitchell, John Qualen, George Watts, Ralph Theodore

'There's a genial, original spirit to it.' – New Yorker, 1978

'It has excitement, fast talk, some knowable people, cynicism and sentiment.' – Otis Ferguson

† Sample dialogue: 'This town's a giant dice game ... come on, seven!'
Ben Hecht (as writer)

The Angels Wash Their Faces ★

US 1939 86m bw
Warner (Max Siegel)

original title: The Battle of City Hall

A bad boy joins the Dead End Kids, but they all reform in the end.
Routine programmer, hastily concocted after the success of Angels with Dirty Faces.
w Michael Fessier, Niven Busch, Robert Buckner d Ray Enright ph Arthur Todd m Adolph Deutsch
☆ Ann Sheridan, Ronald Reagan, the Dead End Kids, Bonita Granville, Frankie Thomas, Henry O'Neill, Berton Churchill, Eduardo Ciannelli

'Ray Enright's terrific meller pace makes it the sort of fare the average audience will eat up ... he has an eye for the spectacular, including a thrilling fire sequence and a dramatic courtroom scene.' – Variety

Angels with Dirty Faces ★★★

US 1938 97m bw
Warner (Sam Bischoff)

A Brooklyn gangster is admired by slum boys, but for their sake pretends to be a coward when he goes to the electric chair.
A shrewd, slick entertainment package and a seminal movie for all kinds of reasons. It combined gangster action with fashionable social conscience; it confirmed the Dead End Kids as stars; it provided archetypal roles for its three leading players and catapulted the female lead into stardom. It also showed the Warner style of film-making, all cheap sets and shadows, at its most effective.
w John Wexley, Warren Duff story Rowland Brown d Michael Curtiz ph Sol Polito m Max Steiner ad Robert Haas ed Owen Marks
☆ James Cagney (Rocky Sullivan), Pat O'Brien (Jerry Connelly), Humphrey Bogart (James Frazier), The Dead End Kids, Ann Sheridan (Laury Ferguson), George Bancroft (Mac Keefer), Edward Pawley (Guard Edwards)

'Should do fair business, but the picture itself is no bonfire.' – Variety

'A rousing, bloody, brutal melodrama.' – New York Mirror

Rowland Brown; Michael Curtiz; James Cagney

'Let the Healing Begin.'

Anger Management ★

US 2003 106m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia-TriStar/Revolution/Happy Madison (Jack Giarraputo, Barry Bernardi)

After an incident on an aeroplane, a mild-mannered man is sentenced to undergo treatment with a confrontational therapist.
Sporadically amusing comedy for as long as Sandler's propensity for playing an aggressive man-child is held in check.
w David Dorfman d Peter Segal ph Donald M. McAlpine m Teddy Castellucci pd Alan Au ed Jeff Gourson
☆ Adam Sandler (Dave Buznik), Jack Nicholson (Dr Buddy Rydell), Marisa Tomei (Linda), Luis Guzman (Lou), Allen Covert (Andrew), Lynne Thigpen (Judge Daniels), Kurt Fuller (Frank Head), Woody Harrelson (Guard), John Turturro (Chuck), John C. Reilly (uncredited) (Arnie Shankman)

'A couple of brakes-off set pieces to the side, the antics here are strained, graceless and tiresomely crude.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'Unless you're 15 at heart, you may need anger management yourself after sitting through this aggressively crass comedy, which alternates between mean-spirited slapstick and arbitrary uplift.' – David Ansen, Newsweek

Les Anges du Péché ★

France 1943 73m bw
Synops/Robert Paul

A novice nun has trouble with the mother superior because of her obsessive interest in a rebellious delinquent girl, and dies before taking her vows.
Interesting study of an enclosed society, notable as its director's first film.
w R. P. Bruckberger, Jean Giraudoux, Robert Bresson d Robert Bresson ph Philippe Agostini m Jean-Jacques Grunenwald
☆ Renée Faure, Jany Holt, Sylvie, Mila Parély, Marie-Hélène Dasté

Angi Vera ★★★

Hungary 1978 93m Eastmancolor
Mafilm/Objektiv

English title: The Education of Vera

In the late 40s, an idealistic 18-year-old girl becomes a dedicated Communist Party worker and learns that betrayal is part of the system.
A deft and moving examination of the totalitarian mind-set, expressed in human terms; at the time, it was a courageous film to make.
wd Pál Gábor story Endre Vészi ph Lajos Koltai m György Selmeczi ad Andras Gyorky ed Éva Karmentö
☆ Veronika Papp (Vera Angi), Erzsi Pásztor (Anna Trajan), Eva Szabó (Maria Muskat), Tamás Dunai (Istvan Andre), László Horváth (Josef Neubauer)

'Angie wants to stay single, have a baby, and fall in love. But she's willing to negotiate.'

Angie ★

US 1994 108m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Hollywood Pictures/Caravan/Morra-Brezner-Steinberg-Tenenbaum (Larry Brezner, Patrick McCormick)

A Brooklyn girl grows up and decides that life should have more to offer than her pregnancy by a plumber she's known since her schooldays.
Drama of a woman searching for some meaning to her life, enjoyable mainly for the performances of Geena Davis and Stephen Rea as her casual lover; it falls away towards the end to a neat and sentimental resolution that falsifies what has gone before.
w Todd Graff novel Angie, I Says by Avra Wing d Martha Coolidge ph Johnny E. Jensen m Jerry Goldsmith pd Mel Bourne ed Steven Cohen
☆ Geena Davis, James Gandolfini, Aida Turturro, Stephen Rea, Philip Bosco, Jenny O'Hara, Michael Rispoli

'One of the year's dampest celluloid squibs.' – James Keen, Film Review

† The role of Angie was originally written for Madonna.

Anglagård: see House of Angels

L'Anglaise et Le Duc ★★

France/Germany 2001 129m colour
Pathé/Compagnie Eric Rohmer, Pathe Image (Françoise Etchegaray)

aka: The Lady and the Duke

A Scots woman, a former royal mistress, is in danger of losing her life during the French Revolution for saving an aristocrat from the guillotine.
Delberately artificial historical drama, using painted backgrounds, that conjures up the period as well as telling a timeless tale of courage and loss.
wd Eric Rohmer memoir Journal of My Life During the French Revolution by Grace Elliott ph Diane Baratier pd Antoine Fontaine ed Mary Stephen background paintings Jean-Baptiste Marot
☆ Lucy Russell (Grace Elliott), Jean-Claude Dreyfus (Philippe, Duke d'Orleans), Francois Marthouret (Dumourier), Leonard Cobiant (Champcenetz), Caroline Morin (Nanon), Alain Libolt (Duke de Biron), Helena Dubeil (Madame Meyler), Daniel Tarrare (Justin, the porter), Francois Marie Banier (Robespierre)

'History comes alive with verve and cold-sweat suspense.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

Angora Love ★★

US 1929 20m bw silent
Hal Roach

Laurel and Hardy keep a goat in their lodgings.
Lively comedy, even funnier when remade two years later as Laughing Gravy.
w Leo McCarey and H. M. Walker d Lewis R. Foster
☆ Laurel and Hardy, Edgar Kennedy, Charlie Hall

The Angry Dragon

Hong Kong 1974 80m Eastmancolor Scope
Mark Associates/Oriental Film (Mah Jam Sheng)

A police inspector defeats a local gangster with the aid of martial arts students.

The usual high-kicking kung-fu mayhem, with an uninteresting narrative and unattractive leads.
wd Chiang Hung
☆ Cheng Lei, Christine Hui, Lee Wan Chung
'Possibly the least prepossessing of all independent Hong Kong features.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Angry Harvest: see Bittere Ernte

The Angry Hills
GB 1959 105m bw
MGM/Raymond Stross
In 1940, an American war correspondent is helped by Greek freedom fighters.
Laboured war melodrama with pretentious dialogue but little characterization.
w A. I. Bezzerides novel Leon Uris d Robert Aldrich ph Stephen Dade m Richard Rodney Bennett ad Ken Adam ☆ Robert Mitchum, Gia Scala, Elisabeth Mueller, Stanley Baker, Donald Wolfit, Kieron Moore, Theodore Bikel, Sebastian Cabot, Peter Illing, Marius Goring, Leslie Phillips

The Angry Red Planet ★
US 1959 83m colour Cinemagic
Sino (Sid Pink, Norman Maurer)
Four astronauts who land on Mars fight for their lives against a variety of monsters and giant Martians.
Enjoyably quaint science fiction, filmed in a process that gives a pink tinge to the action.
w Ib Melchior, Sid Pink d Ib Melchior ph Stanley Cortez ad Herman Townsley, Michael Sternlight, Art Wasson
☆ Gerald Mohr, Nora Hayden, Les Tremayne, Jack Kruschen

The Angry Silence ★★
GB 1960 94m bw
British Lion/Beaver (Richard Attenborough, Bryan Forbes)
A worker who refuses to join an unofficial strike is 'sent to Coventry' by his mates; the matter hits national headlines, and the communists use it to their own advantage.
Irresistibly reminding one of a po-faced I'm All Right Jack, this remains a fresh and urgent film which unfortunately lost excitement in its domestic scenes.
w Bryan Forbes story Michael Craig, Richard Gregson d Guy Green ph Arthur Ibbetson m Malcolm Arnold
☆ Richard Attenborough, Michael Craig, Pier Angeli, Bernard Lee, Alfred Burke, Laurence Naismith, Geoffrey Keen
'Vastly entertaining as well as thought-provoking. Matter and manner are for once wholly in harmony.' – Daily Mail
'A film made by people who care about the screen and care what they are saying on it.' – Dilys Powell
Bryan Forbes, Richard Gregson, Michael Craig
Bryan Forbes

Die Angst des Tormanns beim Elfmeter: see The Goalkeeper's Fear of the Penalty Kick

Angus ★
US 1995 90m colour
Entertainment/Atlas/BBC/Syalis/Tele München/Quality/Turner (Dawn Steel, Charles Roven)
An overweight teenager, who is mocked at school, finds the courage to fight back.
Pleasant, old-fashioned, though unexceptional comedy of an outsider who insists on being part of a community.
w Jill Gordon story Chris Crutcher d Patrick Read Johnson ph Alexander Grusynski m David Russo pd Larry Miller ed Janice Hampton
☆ Kathy Bates, George C. Scott, Charlie Talbert, Ariana Richards, James Van Der Beek, Chris Owen, Lawrence Pressman, Rita Moreno
'Fat kids deserve a better deal from this movie that merely manages to re-establish American college students as the most obnoxiously cruel species since the Hitler Youth went out of fashion. Angus gets his moment of triumph, but it's the sour taste of juvenile hostility that lasts a lot longer.' – Tom Hutchinson, Film Review

'He wasn't much of a man... Now he's not much of an animal.'

The Animal
US 2001 83m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Revolution/Happy Madison (Barry Bernardi, Carr D'Angelo, Todd Garner)
A feeble clerk develops unusual powers after he has transplants of animal organs.
Crude slapstick comedy that deserves to be put down.
w Tom Brady, Rob Schneider d Luke Greenfield ph Peter Lyons Collister m Teddy Castellucci pd Alan Au ed Jeff Gourson, Peck Prior ☆ Rob Schneider (Marvin), Colleen Haskell (Rianna), John C. McGinley (Sgt Sisk), Edward Asner (Chief Wilson), Michael Caton (Dr Wilder), Louis Lombardi (Fatty), Guy Torry (Miles)
'This abysmal film: a dull sub-gross-out non-comedy.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'Just a sweethearted trifle.' – Variety

Animal Attraction: see Someone Like You

Animal Behavior
US 1989 89m DeLuxe
Millimeter (Kjehl Rasmussen)
A university music teacher is attracted to an animal behavourist, who is teaching a chimpanzee sign language, but finds it difficult to communicate her own feelings.
A would-be romantic comedy that is ambitious in its scope, trying to cram in several plot strands while examining the odd behaviour of humans, but fatally flawed in its execution, and with an unhappily mannered performance from Karen Allen.
w Susan Rice d H. Anne Riley ph David Spellvin m Cliff Eidelman pd Jeannine Oppewall ed Joseph Weintraub
☆ Karen Allen, Armand Assante, Holly Hunter, Josh Mostel, Richard Libertini, Alexa Kenin, Jon Matthews, Nan Martin
† H. Anne Riley is a name that hides the real identity of director Jenny Bowen, who began making the film in 1984, and its producer, who completed it much later; after that, it sat on the shelf before being released in the US, and was not seen in Britain until 1997, when the new TV station Channel 5 inflicted it upon its viewers.

Animal Crackers ★★★
US 1930 98m bw
Paramount
Thieves covet a valuable oil painting unveiled at a swank party.
An excuse for the Marx Brothers, and a lively one in patches, though sedate and stagebound in treatment. The boys are all in top form, and many of the dialogue exchanges are classics.
w Morrie Ryskind musical play Morrie Ryskind, George S. Kaufman d Victor Heerman ph George Folsey m/ly Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby ad Ernst Fegte ☆ Groucho (Captain Jeffrey Spaulding), Chico (Signor Emanuel Ravelli), Harpo (The Professor), Zeppo (Horatio Jamison), Margaret Dumont (Mrs. Rittenhouse), Lillian Roth (Arabella Rittenhouse), Louis Sorin (Roscoe W. Chandler), Robert Greig (Hives, the Butler), Hal Thompson (John Parker)
GROUCHO: 'You're the most beautiful woman I've ever seen, which doesn't say much for you.'
GROUCHO: 'One morning I shot an elephant in my pajamas. How he got into my pajamas I'll never know.'
GUESTS: 'Hooray for Captain Spaulding, the African explorer!'
GROUCHO: 'Did someone call me schnorrer?'
GUESTS: 'Hooray, hooray, hooray!'
ZEPPO: 'He went into the jungle, where all the monkeys throw nuts.'
GROUCHO: 'If I stay here, I'll go nuts.'
GUESTS: 'Hooray, hooray, hooray!
He put all his reliance
In courage and defiance
And risked his life for science.'
GROUCHO: 'Hey, hey!'
MRS RITTENHOUSE: 'He is the only white man who covered every acre...'
GROUCHO: 'I think I'll try and make her...'
GUESTS: 'Hooray, hooray, hooray!'
'A hit on the screen before it opened, and in the money plenty.' – Variety

Animal Factory ★ 6
US 2000 94m colour
Optimum/Franchise/Phoenician/Industry/Arts Production (Julie Yorn, Elie Samaha, Steve Buscemi, Andrew Stevens)
When a youth from a wealthy family is jailed for drug offences, he is befriended by one of the prison's hard men.
Low-life drama of power struggles among prisoners; it downplays violence, being low key and probably accurate in its depiction of an often vacuous existence.
w Edward Bunker novel Edward Bunker d Steve Buscemi ph Phil Parmet m John Lurie pd Steve Rosenzweig ed Kate Williams
☆ Willem Dafoe (Earl Copen), Edward Furlong (Ron Decker), Seymour Cassel (Lt Seeman), Mickey Rourke (Jan the Actress), Steve Buscemi (A.R. Hosspack), Tom Arnold (Buck Rowan), John Heard (James Decker), Danny Trejo (Vito), Edward Bunker (Buzzard)
'Startling and watchable because the apparent lassitude doesn't really mask the constant struggle for power.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

Animal Farm ★★
GB 1955 75m Technicolor
Louis de Rochemont/Halas and Batchelor
Oppressed by the cruelty and inefficiency of their master, the animals take over a farm but find fresh tyrants among themselves.
George Orwell's political fable – 'all animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others' – is faithfully followed in this ambitious but rather disappointingly flat cartoon version.
m Matyas Seiber w/p/d John Halas, Joy Batchelor ☆ Featuring voices: Maurice Denham
'A melodramatic fantasy that is mordant, tender and quixotic, shot with ironic humour.' – New York Times

The Animal Kingdom ★
US 1932 95m bw
RKO (David O. Selznick)
GB title: The Woman in His House
An intellectual publisher tries to justify keeping both a wife and a mistress.
Smart comedy-drama from a Broadway success, later bowdlerized as One More Tomorrow (qv).
w Horace Jackson play Philip Barry d Edward H. Griffith ph Lucien Andriot m Max Steiner
☆ Leslie Howard, Ann Harding, Myrna Loy, Neil Hamilton, William Gargan, Henry Stephenson, Ilka Chase
'A wise and engaging picture addressed to the upper levels of fandom.' – Variety

'Two billion years in the making!'

The Animal World ★
US 1956 80m Technicolor
Warner/Windsor (Irwin Allen)
The evolution of animals from their primitive beginnings.
Ambitious documentary with a popular science approach; very variable, with poorish model work.
wd Irwin Allen ph Harold Wellman m Paul Sawtell sp Willis O'Brien, Ray Harryhausen

The Animals
US 1970 86m Technicolor Techniscope
MGM-EMI/XYZ (Richard Bakalyan)
aka: Five Savage Men
A schoolteacher, raped by a sadistic killer and his gang, takes her revenge with the aid of an Indian who saves her life.
Notably grim and violent Western, made with no sense of style or period and overweighted by the heavy irony of its climax.
w Richard Bakalyan d Ron Joy ph Keith Smith m Rupert Holmes ed Pier Laskey
☆ Henry Silva, Keenan Wynn, Michele Carey, John Anderson, Joseph Turkel, Pepper Martin, Bobby Hall, Peter Hellmann
'As with other forms of pornography, the possibilities of originality within the pornography of violence are distinctly finite.' – James D. White, MFB

The Animals Film ★
GB/US 1981 136m colour/bw
Slick Pix
A hard-hitting documentary recording human ill-treatment of animals, with obvious hints that humans themselves will be next. Narrated by Julie Christie.
Not for the squeamish.
wd Victor Schonfeld

Animalympics
US 1979 80m Technicolor
Lisburger (Steven Lisburger, Donald Kushner)
Wild animals from around the world compete in athletic events.
A lively, though inconsequential, animated spoof of the Olympics, with a US bias; its hyperactive style, though, seems tame alongside the hysteria of TV coverage of the actual event.
w Michael Fremer, Steven Lisburger story Steven Lisburger, Roger Allers, John Norton d Steven Lisburger, Bill Kroyer m Graham Gouldman ad Roger Allers, John Norton, Peter Mueller ed Matt Cope
☆ Featuring the voices of: Gilda Radner, Billy Crystal, Harry Shearer, Michael Fremer

Animated Genesis

GB 1952 22m Technicolor (blown up from 16mm)
Korda/British Lion

Greed and the machine enslave mankind.
Ambitious and decorative cartoon conceived and drawn by Joan and Peter Foldes from whom little was subsequently heard.
m Thomas Henderson

Anita and Me

GB 2002 92m colour
Icon/Portman//Film Council/BBC/EMMI/Starfield (Paul Raphael)

In a small Midlands town in the early 70s, a 12 year-old Punjabi girl becomes friends with her new neighbour, a delinquent English teenager.
Haphazardly plotted movie that tries to take in a great deal of good and bad cross-cultural experience, but somehow loses its way.
w Meera Syal novel Meera Syal d Metin Huseyin ph Cinders Forshaw m Nitin Sawhney pd Caroline Hanania ed Annie Kocur ☆ Chandeep Uppal (Meena Kumar), Anna Brewster (Anita Rutter), Sanjeev Bhaskar (Meena's father), Ayesha Dharker (Meena's mother), Kathy Burke (Anita's mother), Lynn Redgrave (Shopkeeper), Max Beesley (Rocker), Meera Syal (Meena's aunt)
'Just an extended sit-com staged in a sentimentalised community of caricatures who are held together less by a common humanity than by a shared propensity for over-acting.' – Philip French, Observer

Ann Vickers ★

US 1933 72m bw
RKO (Pandro S. Berman)

A feminist social worker is taught a thing or two by life and settles down with a corrupt judge.
Reasonably effective version of a popular though heavy-going novel of the time.
w Jane Murfin novel Sinclair Lewis d John Cromwell ph David Abel, Edward Cronjager m Max Steiner
☆ Irene Dunne, Walter Huston, Conrad Nagel, Bruce Cabot, Edna May Oliver, Mitchell Lewis, Murray Kinnell
'Her sufferings are bearable and her ultimate happiness is assured, so this is vicarious enjoyment for any woman. Lovely romance, moderate penance, final respectability. All of which suggests that Ann Vickers should do moderately good biz.' – Variety

Anna

Italy 1951 100m bw
Lux (Ponti/de Laurentiis)

A novice nun recalls her former life and almost gives up her vocation.
Soupy woman's picture of no particular merit.
w Giuseppe Berto, Dino Risi, Ivo Perilli, Franco Brusati, Rodolfo Sonego d Alberto Lattuada ph Otello Martelli m Nino Rota ☆ Silvana Mangano, Raf Vallone, Vittorio Gassman, Gaby Morlay, Jacques Dumesnil

Anna

US 1987 100m TVC Color
Magnus (Zanne Devine, Yurek Bogayevicz)

A Czech-born actress in the New York fringe theatre is betrayed by a young female admirer.
Echoes of All About Eve seem less important than the political asides, and the whole thing is a bit of a muddle.
w Agnieszka Holland d Yurek Bogayevicz ph Bobby Bukowski m Greg Hawkes ☆ Sally Kirkland, Robert Fields, Paulina Porizkova
Sally Kirkland

Anna and the King ★

US 1999 148m DeLuxe
Panavision
TCF (Lawrence Bender, Ed Albert)

In the 1860s an Englishwoman becomes tutor to the children of the embattled King of Siam.
A lavish production, often gorgeous to look at, is laced with sentimentality and a simple approach to history; Foster adds a little frosty femininity to the role of Anna, which chills the romantic interludes.
w Steve Meerson, Peter Krikes diaries Anna Leonowens d Andy Tennant ph Caleb Deschanel m George Fenton pd Luciana Arrighi cos Jenny Beavan
☆ Jodie Foster (Anna), Chow Yun-Fat (King Mongkut), Bai Ling (Tuptim), Tom Felton (Louis), Syed Alwi (The Kralahome), Randall Duk Kim (General Alak), Lim Kay Siu (Prince Chowfa), Melissa Campbell (Princess Fa-Ying), Deanna Yusoff (Lady Thiang)
'A schmaltzy, ultra-elaborate, overly long production, all too consciously conceived as an old-fashioned family entertainment.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety
'Picturesque but stodgy... unfolds like an exotic historical diorama with dramatic vignettes thrown in for spice.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times
Luciana Arrighi; Jenny Beavan

Anna and the King of Siam ★★

US 1946 128m bw
TCF (Louis D. Lighton)

In 1862 an English governess arrives in Bangkok to teach the 67 children of the king.
Unusual and lavish drama, tastefully handled and generally absorbing despite miscasting and several slow passages.
w Talbot Jennings, Sally Benson book Margaret Landon d John Cromwell ph Arthur Miller m Bernard Herrmann ad Lyle Wheeler, William Darling
☆ Irene Dunne, Rex Harrison, Linda Darnell, Gale Sondergaard, Lee J. Cobb, Mikhail Rasumny
'A film that never touches the imagination, a film that leaves the mind uninformed and the memory unburdened.' – Richard Winnington
'It's pitifully unauthentic, and not a very good movie either, but the story itself holds considerable interest.' – Pauline Kael, 70s
Arthur Miller
Talbot Jennings, Sally Benson; Bernard Herrmann; Gale Sondergaard

'Garbo talks!'

Anna Christie ★★

US 1930 86m bw
MGM

A waterfront prostitute falls in love with a young seaman.
Primitive sound version of an earthy theatrical warhorse: it has a niche in history as the film in which Garbo first talked.
w Frances Marion play Eugene O'Neill d Clarence Brown ph William Daniels ☆ Greta Garbo, Charles Bickford, Marie Dressler, James T. Mack, Lee Phelps
'Great artistically and tremendous commercially ... in all respects a wow picture.' – Variety
'A very talkie, uncinematic affair, more old-fashioned than the silent movies. If it were not so well acted it would be pretty tiresome.' – National Board of Review
† A 1923 silent version starred Blanche Sweet and was directed by John Wray.
Clarence Brown; William Daniels; Greta Garbo

Anna Karenina ★★

US 1935 95m bw
MGM (David O. Selznick)

The wife of a Russian aristocrat falls for a dashing cavalry officer.
Well-staged but finally exasperating romantic tragedy, sparked by good performances and production.
w Clemence Dane, Salka Viertel novel Leo Tolstoy d Clarence Brown ph William Daniels m Herbert Stothart ☆ Greta Garbo (Anna), Fredric March (Vronsky), Basil Rathbone (Karenin), Freddie Bartholomew (Sergei), Maureen O'Sullivan (Kitty), May Robson (Countess), Reginald Owen (Silva), Reginald Denny (Yashvin)
'Cinch b.o. anywhere. In the foreign markets it should come close to establishing modern-day highs.' – Variety
'A dignified and effective drama which becomes significant because of that tragic, lonely and glamorous blend which is the Garbo personality.' – André Sennwald
'It reaches no great heights of tragedy or drama but rather moves forward relentlessly and a little coldly.' – The Times
† Previously filmed as a 1928 silent called Love, with Garbo and John Gilbert.

Anna Karenina ★

GB 1948 139m bw
London Films (Alexander Korda)

Tiresomely overlong but very handsomely staged remake marred by central miscasting.
w Jean Anouilh, Guy Morgan, Julien Duvivier d Julien Duvivier ph Henri Alekan m Constant Lambert ad André Andrejew ed Russell Lloyd ☆ Vivien Leigh, Kieron Moore, Ralph Richardson, Marie Lohr, Sally Ann Howes, Niall MacGinnis, Michael Gough, Helen Haye, Mary Kerridge
'Vivien Leigh is lashed about by the tremendous role of Anna like a pussy cat with a tigress by the tail. She is not helped by a script which insists on sentimentally ennobling one of fiction's most vehemently average women.' – James Agee

Anna Karenina: see Leo Tolstoy's Anna Karenina (1997)

Anna Lucasta ★

US 1949 86m bw
Columbia/Security (Philip Yordan)

The bad girl of a farming family comes home to marry, but her past catches up with her.
Polish immigrant melodrama, a touring company staple, adequately transferred to the screen.
w Philip Yordan, Arthur Laurents play Philip Yordan d Irving Rapper ph Sol Polito m David Diamond ☆ Paulette Goddard, Oscar Homolka, Broderick Crawford, William Bishop, Gale Page, Mary Wickes

Anna Lucasta ★

US 1958 97m bw
(UA) Longridge Enterprises (Sidney Harmon)

Black version of the long-running play; performances standard.
w Philip Yordan d Arnold Laven ph Lucien Ballard m Elmer Bernstein ☆ Eartha Kitt, Frederick O'Neal, Sammy Davis Jnr, Henry Scott, Rex Ingram, James Edwards

Anna of Brooklyn

Italy/France/US 1958 106m colour Technirama
Circeo Cinematografica/France Cinema/RKO (Milko Skofic)

An attractive widow returns from New York to her native Italian village in search of a husband.
Footling romantic drama which wastes its cast and budget.
w Ettore Margadonna, Dino Risi d Reginald Denham, Carlo Lasticati ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Alessandro Cicognini, Vittorio de Sica
☆ Gina Lollobrigida, Dale Robertson, Vittorio de Sica, Amedeo Nazzari, Peppino de Felippo, Gabriella Palotta

Annabel Takes a Tour

US 1939 69m bw
RKO

A star on a publicity tour balks at the stunts she is expected to perform.
Thinnish sequel to The Affairs of Annabel (qv).
w Bert Granet and Olive Cooper d Lew Landers
☆ Lucille Ball, Jack Oakie, Ruth Donnelly, Bradley Page, Ralph Forbes

Annabelle Partagée

France 1990 80m colour
Gala/ça Films (Sophie Delochée, Anne Fieschl)

A student dancer ditches her middle-aged boyfriend for someone younger.
Dull film, in which little happens and nothing of any consequence.
wd Francesca Comencini ph Michel Abramowicz m Les Valentins, Etienne Daho ad Valérie Grall ed Yves Deschamps ☆ Delphine Zingg, François Marthouret, Jean-Claude Adelin
'A French film about l'amour in which l'ennui takes over early on.' – Nigel Andrews, Financial Times
'The one notable moment of Francesca Comencini's mildly feminist debut is an erect penis, slightly out of focus and looking rather like a toadstool, seen in the foreground of the opening shot. This might be a small milestone, so to speak, in popular French cinema.' – Philip French, Observer

Annabelle's Affairs

US 1931 74m bw
Fox

When her husband disappears, a young bride becomes head cook at his rival's home. Then the husband turns up.
Standard farce which worked pretty well in its day.
w Leon Gordon play Good Gracious Annabelle by Clare Kummer d Alfred Werker ☆ Jeanette MacDonald, Victor McLaglen, Roland Young, Sam Hardy, William Collier Snr

An Annapolis Story

US 1953 81m colour
Allied Artists/Walter Mirisch

GB title: The Blue and the Gold

Two cadets at the naval academy love the same girl.

Artless recruiting poster heroics.

w Dan Ullman d Don Siegel ph Sam Leavitt m Marlin Skiles

☆ Diana Lynn, John Derek, Kevin McCarthy, Pat Dooley, L. Q. Jones

'Seldom have so many scrubbed, wholesome-looking young people thronged any picture.' – New York Times

Anne and Muriel ★★★

France 1971 108m Eastmancolor
Gala/Les Films du Carrosse/Cinetel (Marcel Berbert)

original title: Les Deux Anglaises et le Continent

A French writer falls in love with two English sisters.

Elegant variation on the eternal triangle. It is the most beautiful of Truffaut's films, with Almendros' photography conjuring the colours of the French Impressionists and bringing to it a wonderful sense of the period of the belle epoque.

w François Truffaut, Jean Gruault novel Henri-Pierre Roche d François Truffaut ph Nestor Almendros m Georges Delerue ad Michel de Broin ed Yann Dedet

☆ Jean-Pierre Léaud (Claude Roc), Kika Markham (Anne Brown), Stacey Tendeter (Muriel Brown), Sylvia Marriott (Mrs. Brown), Marie Mansart (Madame Roc), Philippe Léotard (Diurka), Irene Tunc (Ruta)

Anne of Green Gables ★

US 1934 79m bw
RKO (Kenneth MacGowan)

An orphan girl goes to the country to live with her aunt.

Standard version of the classic for young girls. Anne Shirley had been known as Dawn O'Day and legally adopted the name of her character in this, her first starring role.

w Sam Mintz novel L. M. Montgomery d George Nicholls Jnr ph Lucien Andriot m Max Steiner

☆ Anne Shirley, Tom Brown, O. P. Heggie, Helen Westley, Sara Haden, Charley Grapewin

'Made up and monotonous – tragedy having its breakfast in bed.' – Otis Ferguson

† Anne of Windy Poplars (qv), with the same stars and production team, followed in 1940.

Anne of the Indies ★

US 1951 87m Technicolor
TCF (George Jessel)

Lady pirate Anne Bonney, the terror of the Caribbean, is at odds with her former master Blackbeard.

Routine swashbuckler, generally well handled.

w Philip Dunne, Arthur Caesar d Jacques Tourneur ph Harry Jackson m Franz Waxman

☆ Jean Peters, Louis Jourdan, Debra Paget, Herbert Marshall, Thomas Gomez, James Robertson Justice, Sean McClory, Francis Pierlot

Anne of the Thousand Days ★

GB 1969 146m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/Hal B. Wallis

Henry VIII divorces his wife to marry Anne Boleyn, but soon finds evidence of adultery.

A somewhat unlikely view of history, rather boringly presented on a woman's magazine level, but with occasional good moments from a cast of British notables.

w John Hale, Bridget Boland play Maxwell Anderson d Charles Jarrott ph Arthur Ibbetson m Georges Delerue pd Maurice Carter cos Margaret Furse

☆ Richard Burton, Geneviève Bujold, John Colicos (Cromwell), Irene Papas, Anthony Quayle, Michael Hordern, Katharine Blake, Peter Jeffrey, William Squire, Esmond Knight, Nora Swinburne

'The costumes, beautiful in themselves, have that unconvincing air of having come straight off the rack at Nathan's.' – Brenda Davies

'A decent dullness is, alas, the keynote.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

'The quintessential work of art for people who haven't the foggiest notion of what art is.' – John Simon

'Intelligent from line to line, but the emotions supplied seem hypocritical, and the conception lacks authority ... Burton's performance is colourless. It's as though he remembered how to act but couldn't work up much enthusiasm or involvement.' – Pauline Kael

Margaret Furse

picture; John Hale, Bridget Boland; Arthur Ibbetson; Georges Delerue; Richard Burton; Geneviève Bujold; Anthony Quayle

Anne of Windy Poplars

US 1940 88m bw
RKO (Cliff Reid)

The newly appointed vice-principal of a small-town school charms her way out of a neighbourhood feud.

Pleasant family drama in a minor key, but all very forgettable.

w Michael Kanin, Jerry Cady novel L. M. Montgomery d Jack Hively ph Frank Redman md Roy Webb ad Van Nest Polglase ed George Hively

☆ Anne Shirley, James Ellison, Henry Travers, Patric Knowles, Slim Summerville, Elizabeth Patterson, Louise Campbell, Joan Carroll

† It was a sequel to Anne of Green Gables (qv).

Anne Trister

Canada 1986 100m colour
Vision 4 (Roger Frappier, Claude Bonin)

After the death of her father, a young Jewish artist leaves her boyfriend and moves from her Swiss home to Quebec to make sense of her life; there she falls in love with a woman friend.

Sombre, slow-paced study of a woman seeking her true identity; there is a great deal of heart-searching but not much action.

w Marcel Beaulieu, Léa Pool d Léa Pool ph Pierre Mignot m René Dupéré ad Vianney Gauthier ed Michel Arcand

☆ Albane Guilhe, Louise Marleau, Hugues Quester, Lucie Laurier, Nuvit Ozdogru, Guy Thauvette, Kim Yaroshevskaya

L'Année Dernière à Marienbad: see Last Year at Marienbad

Annie

US 1982 128m Metrocolor
Panavision
Columbia/Ray Stark (Joe Layton)

In 1933 an orphan waif charms a munitions millionaire and is adopted by him.

Misguided opening-out of a charming stage musical based on the comic strip which is basically a reversal of Oliver Twist. Some of the best numbers have been discarded, the dancing is ponderous, the acting distinctly uneasy, and the choice of director stupefying. None of it works at all.

w Carol Sobieski, from the stage play book Thomas Meehan comic strip Harold Gray d John Huston ph Richard Moore m Ralph Burns pd Dale Hennesy ly Martin Charnin

☆ Albert Finney, Carol Burnett, Aileen Quinn, Ann Reinking, Bernadette Peters, Tim Curry, Geoffrey Holder, Edward Herrmann (Franklin D. Roosevelt)

'Whatever indefinable charm the stage show had is completely lost in this lumbering and largely uninteresting and uninvolving exercise, where the obvious waste reaches almost Pentagonian proportions.' – Variety

'The whole thing has the air of a vast, hollow Christmas tree bauble intended not so much for children as for the infantile-minded middle-aged.' – Sunday Times

'This is the film I want on my tombstone.' – Ray Stark

'Funeral services may be held starting this week at a theatre near you.' – Time

† The cost of Annie, starting with $9,000,000 for the rights, rose to $42,000,000. It was not recovered.

art direction; original song score

Annie Get Your Gun ★

US 1950 107m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A young female hillbilly joins Frank Butler's sharpshooting act, and is sophisticated by her love for him.

Gaudy, stagey, generally uninspired screen version of the famous musical show based remotely on a historical character of post-wild-west days. There is a lack of dancing, the direction is stodgy, and in general flair the production falls disappointingly below MGM's usual standard.

w Sidney Sheldon musical play Herbert and Dorothy Fields d George Sidney ph Charles Rosher m/ly Irving Berlin md Adolph Deutsch, Roger Edens ch Robert Alton ad Cedric Gibbons, Paul Groesse

☆ Betty Hutton, Howard Keel, Edward Arnold, J. Carrol Naish, Louis Calhern

† The real Annie Oakley was born Phoebe Ann Oakley Mozie in 1860, and died in 1926. The role was to have been played by Judy Garland, who was fired after displays of temperament; also considered were Doris Day, Judy Canova and Betty Garrett.

†† Louis Calhern replaced Frank Morgan, who died during production.

♫ 'Colonel Buffalo Bill'; 'Doing What Comes Naturally'; 'The Girl That I Marry'; 'You Can't Get a Man with a Gun'; 'There's No Business Like Show Business'; 'My Defenses Are Down'; 'I'm an Indian Too'; 'I Got the Sun in the Morning'; 'Anything You Can Do'; 'They Say It's Wonderful' music direction

Charles Rosher

Annie Hall ★★★★

US 1977 93m DeLuxe
UA/Jack Rollins-Charles H. Joffe (Fred T. Gallo)

Sub-title: A Nervous Romance

Against the neuroses of New York and Los Angeles, a Jewish comedian has an affair with a midwestern girl.

Semi-serious collage of jokes and bits of technique, some of the former very funny and some of the latter very successful. For no very good reason it hit the box-office spot and turned its creator, of whom it is very typical, from a minority performer to a superstar.

w Woody Allen, Marshall Brickman d Woody Allen ph Gordon Willis m various ad Mel Bourne ed Wendy Greene Bricmont, Ralph Rosenblum

☆ Woody Allen (Alvy Singer), Diane Keaton (Annie Hall), Tony Roberts (Rob), Carol Kane (Allison), Paul Simon (Tony Lacey), Shelley Duvall (Pam), Colleen Dewhurst (Mom Hall), Christopher Walken (Duane Hall)

ALLEN: 'Hey, don't knock masturbation. It's sex with someone I love.'

'The film's priceless vignettes about the difficulties in chitchatting with strangers, the awkward moments in family visits, and the frequent breakdowns in communication and failures in intimacy, its reminiscences about the palpable horrors of growing up in Brooklyn, and its comic encounters with lobsters in the kitchen or spiders in the bathroom, all seem like snapshots from Allen and Keaton's own romance.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies

† The narrative supposedly mirrors the real-life affair of the stars, who separated before the film came out. (Diane Keaton's family name is Hall.)

picture; script; direction; Diane Keaton

Woody Allen (as actor)

picture; script; Woody Allen (as director); Diane Keaton

Annie Oakley ★

US 1935 90m bw
RKO (Cliff Reid)

The historical story, more or less, of the lady later immortalized in Annie Get Your Gun.

Lively semi-Western with good dialogue but gluey plot development.

w Joel Sayre, John Twist d George Stevens ph J. Roy Hunt md Alberto Colombo ad Van Nest Polglase

☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Preston Foster, Melvyn Douglas, Moroni Olsen, Pert Kelton, Andy Clyde, Chief Thunderbird

'A swell idea that doesn't quite come through.' – Variety

Annie's Coming Out ★

Australia 1984 93m Eastmancolor
Film Australia (Don Murray)

A physically handicapped child, wrongly characterized as mentally retarded also, is brought out by a devoted teacher.

Fictionalized version of a true story: predictably well intentioned, shocking, and consistently watchable.

w John Patterson, Chris Borthwick book Rosemary Crossley d Gil Brealey ph Mick Van Borneman m Simon Walker

☆ Angela Punch-McGregor, Drew Forsythe, Tina Arhondis, Liddy Clark, Monica Maughan

The Annihilators

US 1985 84m colour
New World (Allan C. Pedersen, Tom Chapman)

Vietnam veterans are hired as small-town vigilantes.

Violent action film of no visible merit.

w Brian Russell d Charles E. Sellier Jnr ph Henning Schellerup m Bob Summers ad Simon Gittins ed Dan Gross

☆ Christopher Stone, Andy Wood,

Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Gerrit Graham, Dennis Redfield, Paul Koslo

The Anniversary ★

GB 1968 95m Technicolor
Warner/Hammer (Jimmy Sangster)

A malevolent one-eyed widow will stop at nothing to prevent her grown sons from leaving the family orbit, and they meet each year to mourn the death of the husband she really hated.

Agreeable but over-talkative black comedy with a splendid role for its star and some good scattered moments, marred by a general lack of style.

w Jimmy Sangster play Bill MacIlwraith d Roy Ward Baker ph Harry Waxman m Philip Martell ad Reece Pemberton ed James Needs, Peter Weatherley

☆ Bette Davis, Jack Hedley, James Cossins, Sheila Hancock, Elaine Taylor, Christian Roberts, Timothy Bateson

'It all reminds one of a love scene in a funeral parlour.' – Variety

'Magisterially grotesque in elegantly tailored eye-patch and exotic gown, she snaps out her bitchy insults with all 57 varieties of relish.' – MFB

† Alvin Rakoff was replaced as director during filming.

Ano Natsu, Ichiban Shizukana Umi: see A Scene at the Sea

El Anonimo

Spain 1990 87m Eastmancolor
Sagutxo (Alfonso Arandia)

Four students try to recover an incriminating letter addressed to one of their professors.

Amiable, lackadaisical comedy.

w Alfonso Arandia, Jose Antonio Gomez d Alfonso Arandia ph Gonzalo F. Berridi m Mikel Erentxum ed Juan I. Sanmateo

☆ Miguel Molina, Jorge de Juan, Martxelo Rudio, Carlos Zabala, Nacho Martinez, Rosa Maria Sarda, Alejandra Greppi

The Anonymous Letter: see El Anonimo

'The Boys Are Back In Town.'

Another 48 Hrs

US 1990 95m Technicolor
Paramount/Eddie Murphy Productions (Lawrence Gordon, Robert D. Wachs)

A cop enters into a partnership with a criminal to catch a drug dealer.

A virtual remake of 48 Hours (qv), but lacking in energy or interest.

w John Fasano, Jeb Stuart, Larry Gross story Fred Braughton d Walter Hill ph Matthew F. Leonetti m James Horner pd Joseph C. Nemec III ad Gary Wissner ed Freeman Davies, Carmel Davies, Donn Aron

☆ Eddie Murphy, Nick Nolte, Brion James, Kevin Tighe, Ed O'Ross, David Anthony Marshall, Andrew Divoff, Bernie Casey, Brent Jennings, Ted Markland, Tisha Campbell

'Disappoints in its failure, after eight years, to introduce even the faintest wrinkle of something new.' – Variety

'Convention outraged ... a class abandoned ... a country betrayed!'

Another Country ★

GB 1984 90m colour
TCF/Virgin/Goldcrest (Alan Marshall)

A homosexual defector to Russia reflects on the public school pressures which influenced him.

Upper-crust militarism, arrogance, sadism and homosexuality rolled up in a package which pleased the West End theatre crowds but seems faintly absurd on film. Not much of a recruiting poster for Eton.

w Julian Mitchell play Julian Mitchell d Marek Kanievska ph Peter Biziou m Michael Storey pd Brian Morris

☆ Rupert Everett, Colin Firth, Michael Jenn, Robert Addie, Anna Massey, Rupert Wainwright, Betsy Brantley

'Inevitably it went down well at the Cannes Film Festival, where movies critical of their own country's shortcomings are always favoured.' – Margaret Hinxman, Daily Mail

Another Dawn

US 1937 73m bw
Warner (Harry Joe Brown)

In a British army post in Africa, a wife is torn between duty and romance.

Absurdly sudsy melodrama, a potboiler for stars between more important assignments.

w Laird Doyle d William Dieterle ph Tony Gaudio m Erich Wolfgang Korngold

☆ Errol Flynn, Kay Francis, Ian Hunter, Frieda Inescort, Herbert Mundin

† In every Warner film where a cinema canopy was shown, the title advertised was Another Dawn, so its use here as an actual title is presumably a piece of cynicism.

Another Day in Paradise ★★

US 1998 100m CFI
Metrodome/Chinese Bookie (Stephen Chin, Larry Clark, James Woods)

In the 1970s, a middle-aged drug dealer and his girlfriend career across Oklahoma with a young junkie and his girlfriend.

Hectic road movie, set in sleazy motels and featuring various varieties of low-life, given an extra jolt by the nervy authenticity of the performances of Woods and Griffith.

w Christopher Landon, Stephen Chin book Eddie Little d Larry Clark ph Eric Edwards pd Aaron Osborne ed Luis Colina

☆ James Woods (Mel), Melanie Griffith (Sid), Vincent Kartheiser (Bobbie), Natasha Gregson Wagner (Rosie), James Otis (Reverend), Peter Sarsgaard (Ty), Paul Hipp (Richard Johnson), Brent Briscoe (Clem), Branden Williams (Danny), Kim Flowers (Bonnie Johnson)

'This imperfect but compelling outlaw drama may be too raw and unflinching to make a wide splash, but should find an audience ready to respond to its gritty aesthetic.' – David Rooney, Variety

† Lou Diamond Phillips appears uncredited as Jewels.

Another Face

US 1935 72m bw
RKO
GB title: It Happened in Hollywood

A gangster has his face lifted and becomes a film star.

Rather heavy comedy with some good laughs.

w Garrett Graham, John Twist, Ray Mayer, Thomas Dugan d Christy Cabanne

☆ Brian Donlevy, Wallace Ford, Phyllis Brooks, Erik Rhodes, Molly Lamont, Alan Hale

Another Fine Mess ★★

US 1930 30m bw
Hal Roach

On the run from a cop, Stan and Ollie masquerade as master and maid.

Elaborate star comedy with spoken introduction instead of titles; very satisfying but not quite vintage.

w H. M. Walker, from a sketch by Stan Laurel's father d James Parrott

☆ Laurel and Hardy, James Finlayson, Thelma Todd, Charles Gerrard

Another Girl, Another Planet

US 1992 56m bw Pixelvision
ICA/Michael Almereyda, Robin O'Hara, Bob Gosse

A man attempts to seduce women passing through his apartment by showing them old cartoon films, while his married neighbour looks on or discusses the meaning of life.

Depression as an art form: a minimalist film shot with a toy camera that renders everything slightly out of focus and provides at best a murky image of shadows and fog, turning human life into a grey smear on the wall.

wd Michael Almereyda ph Jim Denault ed David Leonard

☆ Nic Ratner, Barry Sherman, Mary Ward, Lisa Perisot, Maggie Rush

'An elegantly-crafted chamber piece that effortlessly belies its no-budget origins.' – Steve Bode, London Film Festival

'We're so often up to the director's pretensions in angst that despair starts to creep almost palpably off the screen and into the auditorium. Joyful it ain't.' – Tom Hutchinson, Film Review

† The film was shot using a Fisher-Price PXL 2000 child's camcorder, made of moulded plastic, with a fixed lens, and recording on standard audio cassettes. The images it produces fade rapidly and are composed of easily visible pixels, like an over-enlarged computer image. The camera, which was made as a toy for Christmas 1987 and discontinued soon after, has become a favourite of a group of experimental film-makers because of its technical limitations.

Another Language

US 1933 75m bw
MGM (Walter Wanger)

A young wife does not fit in with her husband's snobby family and falls in love with his nephew.

Flat treatment of a dated play.

w Herman J. Mankiewicz, Gertrude Purcell, Donald Ogden Stewart play Rose Franken d Edward H. Griffith ph Ray June

☆ Helen Hayes, Robert Montgomery, John Beal, Louise Closser Hale, Henry Travers, Margaret Hamilton

'A very good picture that will get more than average box office attention ... everything is handled with intellect and due restraint.' – Variety

Another Life

GB 2001 101m DeLuxe
Winchester/Lucida/Boxer/Alibi/Arts Council (Angela Hart)

In the 1920s, a middle-class wife begins an affair with a sailor; when her husband is stabbed to death, both are accused of killing him.

A confused re-telling of a once notorious English murder, with little period feel and much almost unspeakable dialogue.

wd Philip Goodhew ph Simon Archer m James McConnel pd James Merifield ed Jamie Trevill

☆ Natasha Little (Edith Thompson), Nick Moran (Percy Thompson), Ioan Gruffudd (Freddy Bywaters), Imelda Staunton (Ethel Graydon), Rachael Stirling (Avis Graydon), Tom Wilkinson (Mr Carlton), Diana Coupland (Mrs Lester)

'Suffers from a wavering tone in script and direction but when all its gears are clicking has a distinctive appeal.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Another Lonely Hitman ★★

Japan 1995 105m colour
Excellent Films (Yoshiki Chiba, Toshiki Kimura, Tetsuya Yuki)

original title: Shin Kanashaki Hitman

After serving a ten-year sentence for killing the boss of a rival gang, a hitman discovers that the old yakuza code has been replaced by a more pragmatic approach to business.

Moody character study, shot in cool blues to a jazzy score, that concentrates on a man out of touch with modern times; the predictability of its narrative tells against it.

w Toshiyuki Morioka graphic novel Yukio Yamanouchi d Rokuro Mochizuki ph Nao'aki Imaizumi m Kazutoki Umezu ed Tekeshi Shimamura

☆ Ryo Ishibashi (Tachibana), Asami Sawaki (Yuki), Tatsuo Yamada, Kazuhiko Kanayama, Zenkichi Yoneyama, Tetsuya Yuki

'One of the most successful attempts yet to revive the yakuza genre for hip, postmodern auds.' – Ken Eisner, Variety

Another Man, Another Chance

France/US 1977 132m Eastmancolor
UA/Films 13/Ariane (Alexandre Mnouchkine, George Dancigers)

French title: Un Autre Homme, une Autre Chance
aka: Another Man, Another Woman

A Yank vet and a French widow meet and fall in love in the old west.

Pretty, overlong, rather enervating romance with an unusual and not entirely convincing setting.

wd Claude Lelouch ph Jacques Lefrançois m Francis Lai

☆ James Caan, Geneviève Bujold, Francis Huster, Susan Tyrrell

Another Man's Poison ★

GB 1951 89m bw
Douglas Fairbanks Jnr/Daniel M. Angel

A lady novelist poisons her husband and lover, then unwittingly takes a fatal dose herself.

Hysterical vehicle for a fading Hollywood star reduced to repeating her tantrums in an English studio on a low budget; she should have stayed home, as should her director.

w Val Guest play Deadlock by Leslie Sands d Irving Rapper ph Robert Krasker m John Greenwood

☆ Bette Davis, Anthony Steel, Gary Merrill, Emlyn Williams, Barbara Murray, Reginald Beckwith, Edna Morris

'Barnstormers as rich and improbable as this are rare ... the general atmosphere takes one back to 1935.' – Gavin Lambert

'Like reading Ethel M. Dell by flashes of lightning.' – Frank Hauser

'The melodramatic gamut has seldom experienced such a workout.' – Hollywood Reporter

Another Part of the Forest ★

US 1948 108m bw
U-I (Jerry Bresler)

In the post-Civil War years, Marcus Hubbard leads his family to worldly success by cheating and the misuse of power: he lives to regret it, as the children learn their lessons all too well.

This backwards sequel to The Little Foxes (qv), showing how the characters of that play got to be their nasty selves, is quite absorbingly acted but stagily presented, with plenty of care but no style.

w Vladimir Pozner play Lillian Hellman
d Michael Gordon ph Hal Mohr
m Daniele Amfitheatrof ad Robert Boyle, Bernard Herzbrun ed Milton Carruth ☆ Fredric March, Florence Eldridge, Ann Blyth, Dan Duryea, Edmond O'Brien, John Dall

'The Hubbards are the greatest collection of ghouls since The Old Dark House.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

Another Shore ★

GB 1948 77m bw
Ealing (Ivor Montagu)

A young Irishman dreams of life in the South Seas but gives up his fancies for love.
Curiously whimsical, artificial and unconvincing comedy drama from a famous studio, but not without its moments of interest.
w Walter Meade novel Kenneth Reddin
d Charles Crichton ph Douglas Slocombe
m Georges Auric
☆ Robert Beatty, Stanley Holloway, Moira Lister, Michael Medwin, Dermot Kelly, Wilfrid Brambell, Irene Worth

'The Perfect Family Has Just Moved Into The Neighbourhood.'

Another Stakeout

US 1993 108m Technicolor Scope
Buena Vista/Touchstone (Jim Kouf, Cathleen Summers, Lynn Bigelow)

Two cops and a lawyer pretend to be a family when they stake out a house for the witness to a murder.
Slight and ineffectual flop that substitutes poor gags for thrills.
w Jim Kouf d John Badham ph Roy H. Wagner m Arthur B. Rubinstein
pd Lawrence G. Paull ed Frank Morris, Kevin Stitt
☆ Richard Dreyfuss, Emilio Estevez, Rosie O'Donnell, Dennis Farina, Marcia Strassman, Cathy Moriarty, Madeleine Stowe, John Rubinstein, Miguel Ferrer

'The "another" ... is a declaration by the makers of Stakeout, a successful 1987 comedy-thriller, that this follow-up is a reprise rather than a sequel, and an indication that they suspect the targeted audience might have trouble reading roman numerals.' – Philip French, Observer
'It's one of those sequels that, though reasonably entertaining, go in one eye and out the other.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'It's a blessed event!'

Another Thin Man

US 1939 102m bw
MGM (Hunt Stromberg)

Nick Charles solves a murder on a Long Island weekend.
Overwritten and distinctly tedious star sequel to The Thin Man and After the Thin Man (qqv). The title refers (erroneously) to Nick and Nora's baby.
w Frances Goodrich, Albert Hackett d W. S. Van Dyke II ph Oliver T. Marsh, William Daniels m Edward Ward
☆ William Powell, Myrna Loy, Otto Kruger, C. Aubrey Smith, Virginia Grey, Nat Pendleton, Tom Neal, Ruth Hussey, Sheldon Leonard

'The screenplay tosses shootings and skulduggery and repartee at us before we're ready, and then Nick Charles takes an unconscionable amount of time sorting things out.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

Another Time, Another Place

GB 1958 98m bw Vistavision
Paramount/Kaydor (Lewis Allen, Smedley Aston)

During World War II an American newspaperwoman has an affair with a British war correspondent; when he is killed in action, she consoles his widow.
Drippy romance, unsympathetically played and artificially set in a Cornish village.
w Stanley Mann novel Lenore Coffee
d Lewis Allen ph Jack Hildyard
m Douglas Gamley
☆ Lana Turner, Barry Sullivan, Glynis Johns, Sean Connery, Sidney James

Another Time, Another Place ★★

GB 1983 102m Eastmancolor
Cinegate/Umbrella/Rediffusion/Channel 4/Scottish Arts Council (Simon Perry)

In the late 40s, a Scottish farmer's wife falls in love with an Italian prisoner-of-war working on her husband's isolated farm.
The puritan north meets the sensual south in an emotional encounter, in which overheated passions contrast with a bleak landscape.
wd Michael Radford novel Jessie Kesson
ph Roger Deakins m John McLeod
ad Hayden Pearce ed Tom Priestley
☆ Phyllis Logan, Giovanni Mauriello, Denise Coffey, Gian Luca Favilla, Tom Watson, Gregor Fisher, Paul Young, Claudio Rosini

'More than adequately fills the big screen with bold imagery and emotions.' – Film Yearbook
† The film was made for television, but was given a cinema release.
Phyllis Logan

Another Way ★★

Hungary 1982 109m colour
Mafilm/Dialog Filmstudio

original title: Egymásra Nézve

In 1958, a married journalist recalls her love affair with an uncompromising lesbian colleague which led to attempted murder, death and misery.
A passionate, timely and excellently acted examination of the state of the nation through the individual experience of those seeking freedom from repression.
w Károly Makk, Erzsébet Galgóczi novel Erzsébet Galgóczi d Károly Makk
ph Tamás Andor m László Dés, János Másik ed György Sivó
☆ Jadwiga Jankowska, Grazyna Szapolowska, Jozef Kroner, Adám Szirtes, Judit Pogány, Gábor Reviczky
† Jadwiga Jankowska won the best actress award at the Cannes Film Festival in 1982 for her performance.

Another Woman ★

US 1988 84m colour
Rank/Orion/Jack Rollins, Charles H. Joffe (Robert Greenhut)

An unemotional academic discovers her inner self.
Woody Allen at his most gloomy and introspective.
wd Woody Allen ph Sven Nykvist
pd Santo Loquasto ed Susan E. Morse
☆ Gena Rowlands, Mia Farrow, Ian Holm, Blythe Danner, Gene Hackman, Betty Buckley, Martha Plimpton, John Houseman

'Not only Allen's most wholly personal movie since Stardust Memories but arguably the most substantial achievement of his career.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB

Ansiktet: see The Face

'Go pick on someone your own size!'

The Ant Bully ⑤

US 2006 89m
Warners/Playtone (John A. Davis, Gary Goetzman. Tom Hanks)

A bullied boy is reduced to ant-size and is taught selflessness and teamwork.
An utterly nondescript and woefully inconsequential cartoon parable.
wd John A. Davis novel John Nickle
ph Ken Mitchroney m John Debney
pd Barry E. Jackson ad Chris Consani
ed Jon Price sp Tiffany Brower
☆ Julia Roberts (Hova), Nicolas Cage (Zoc), Meryl Streep (Queen Ant), Paul Giamatti (Stan Beals), Zach Tyler (Lucas Nickle), Lily Tomlin (Mommo)

'An epic adventure with a rigorously moral point of view.' – Stephen Hunter, The Washington Post

Antefatto: see A Bay of Blood

Anthony Adverse ★

US 1936 141m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

Adventures of an ambitious young man in early 19th-century America.
A rousing spectacle of its day, from a bestselling novel, this award-winning movie quickly dated and now seems very thin and shadowy despite the interesting talents involved.
w Sheridan Gibney novel Hervey Allen
d Mervyn Le Roy ph Tony Gaudio
m Erich Wolfgang Korngold ad Anton Grot
ed Ralph Dawson
☆ Fredric March, Olivia de Havilland, Gale Sondergaard, Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Steffi Duna, Donald Woods, Akim Tamiroff, Ralph Morgan, Henry O'Neill

'A bulky, rambling and indecisive photoplay which has not merely taken liberties with the letter of the original but with its spirit.' – Frank S. Nugent, New York Times
'In the dramatizing there is shown no relish or conviction, only a retentive memory for all the old clothes of show business.' – Otis Ferguson
'A lavish gold-leaf from Hervey Allen's book, an earnest cinema endeavour, taxing alike its studio's purse and artistry.' – Douglas Gilbert, New York World Telegraph
'The show is fairly glutted with plot and counter-plot and is apt to make one feel that one is witnessing a serial run off continuously at a single performance.' – Howard Barnes, New York Herald Tribune
'It goes on too long, otherwise it might have been the funniest film since The Crusades.' – Graham Greene
Tony Gaudio; Erich Wolfgang Korngold; Gale Sondergaard; Ralph Dawson picture; Anton Grot

Anti-Extortion Woman: see Minbo No Onna

'The Good is the Evil in it.'

Antibodies ★★ ④

Germany 2005 127m
Tartan/Kinowelt Filmproduktion/Medienknotor Movie (Theo Baltz, Boris Schonfelder)

German title: Antikorper

A country cop is drawn into the sick world of an imprisoned serial killer as he investigates the murder of a local girl.
A gripping, stylish study in evil using moral dilemma and faith as provocative and compelling plot motors.
wd Christian Alvart ph Hagen Bogdanski
m Michl Britsch pd Christian Goldbeck ad Eva Maria Stiebler ed Philipp Stahl sp Christoph von Lengerke
☆ Wotan Wilke Mohring (Michael Martens), Andre Hennicke (Gabriel Engel), Norman Reedus (Schmitz), Christian von Aster (Wagner), Hauke Diekamp (Christian Martens)

'Fairly riveting, thanks to Alvart's command of craft and tone.' – Chuck Wilson, LA Weekly

'Trust is not an option.'

Antitrust

US 2001 110m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/MGM/Hyde Park/Industry Entertainment (Nick Wechsler, Keith Addis, David Nicksay)

A young computer expert discovers that his new boss, head of a leading software company, is behaving unethically in order to control the market.
Moderately clever and topical movie, despite its reliance on the over-familiar ploy of making the FBI the bad guys; it can be enjoyed for Tim Robbins' quirky physical impersonation of Bill Gates of Microsoft.
w Howard Franklin d Peter Howitt ph John Bailey m Don Davis
pd Catherine Hardwicke ed Zach Staenberg
☆ Ryan Phillippe (Milo Hoffman), Rachael Leigh Cook (Lisa Calighan), Claire Forlani (Alice Poulson), Tim Robbins (Gary Winston), Douglas McFerran (Bob Shrot), Richard Roundtree (Lyle Barton), Tygh Runyan (Larry Banks), Yee Jee Tso (Teddy Chin)

'Strikes an uneasy balance between topicality and tradition, trendy techno jargon and musty thriller clichés.' – Joe Leydon, Variety

Antoine Doinel Tetralogy: see The 400 Blows; Stolen Kisses; Bed and Board; Love on the Run

Antoine et Antoinette ★

France 1947 87m bw
SNEG/Gaumont

A young married couple find they have won a lottery but lost the ticket.
A bubbly soufflé, most expertly served but leaving one still a little hungry; not quite in the Clair class.
w Françoise Giroud, M. Griffe, Jacques Becker d Jacques Becker ph Pierre Montazel m Jean-Jacques Grunenwald
☆ Roger Pigaut, Clair Maffei

Antonia's Line ★★★

Netherlands/Belgium/GB 1995 102m Fujicolour
Guild/Antonia's Line/Bergen/Prime Time/Bard/NPS (Hans de Weers)

On her deathbed, an elderly woman recalls the events of her life and of those she gave a home to over a period of 40 years.
A celebration of domestic and feminine virtues, a vivid, sprawling account that mixes fantasy and reality to heighten the story of love and survival.
wd Marleen Gorris ph Willy Stassen
m Ilona Sekacz ad Harry Ammerlaan
ed Michiel Reichwein, Wim Louwrier
☆ Willeke van Ammelrooy (Antonia), Els Dottemans (Danielle), Jan Decleir (Bas), Mil Seghers (Crooked Finger), Marina de Graaf (DeeDee), Jan Steen (Loony Lips), Veerle van Overloop (Therese), Dora van der Groen (Allegonde)

'A delightful, enjoyable and generous film.' – Film Review
foreign language film

Antonio (dubbed)

Chile 1973 82m colour
Saga/Claudio Guzmán

A poor village potter, given an expensive car by an indulgent American millionaire, drives to Santiago so that he can return the gift.

A confused and innocuous little fable about the corruption of urban life, aimed at a family audience.

w Mervin Walkenstein, Claudio Guzmán d Claudio Guzmán ph Andres Martorell m Ralph Ferraro pd Pato Guzmán

☆ Trini Lopez, Larry Hagman, Naomi Guerrero, Mervin Walkenstein

Antonio das Mortes ★★

Brazil 1969 95m Eastmancolor
Connoisseur/Produções Cinematograficas Mapa/Glauber Rocha (Claude-Antoine Mapa, Glauber Rocha) original title: O Dragao da Maldade contra o Santo Guerreiro

A mercenary, hired by a rich landowner to kill an outlaw and his poor followers, realizes that he is supporting the wrong side.

Vivid, exotic South American Western with political overtones, a sequel of sorts to Black God, White Devil (qv).

wd Glauber Rocha ph Alfonso Beato m Marlos Nobre, Walter Queiroz, Sergio Ricardo ad Glauber Rocha ed Eduardo Escorel

☆ Mauricio Do Valle, Odete Lara, Hugo Carvana, Othon Bastos, Joffre Soares, Lorival Pariz

'Rocha's magnificent film is in fact firmly tied to the present-day political and social reality of his underdeveloped homeland.' – Konstantin Bazarov, MFB

Antony and Cleopatra ★

GB/Spain/Switzerland 1972 170m
Technicolor Todd-AO 35
Transac/Izaro/Folio Films (Peter Snell)

A Roman general loses everything for the love of Cleopatra.

Well-meaning, well-mounted, but quite uninspired rendering.

wd Charlton Heston play William Shakespeare ph Rafael Pacheco m John Scott pd Maurice Pelling

☆ Charlton Heston, Hildegarde Neil, Eric Porter, John Castle (Octavius), Fernando Rey, Freddie Jones, Peter Arne, Roger Delgado

† Olivier and Orson Welles were both sought for the lead.

'Fight fear. Face truth. Embrace life.'

Antwone Fisher

US 2002 120m DeLuxe Panavision
TFC (Todd Black, Randa Haines, Denzel Washington)

A belligerent sailor confronts the childhood traumas that cause him to lose his temper.

A self-help story, of a man who rescues himself from his abused past, that may warm some hearts.

w Antwone Fisher book Finding Fish by Antwone Fisher d Denzel Washington ph Philippe Rousselot m Mychael Danna pd Nelson Coates ed Conrad Buff

☆ Derek Luke (Antwone Fisher), Joy Bryant (Cheryl Smolley), Denzel Washington (Jerome Davenport), Salli Richardson (Berta), Earl Billings (James), Kevin Connolly (Slim), Viola Davis (Eva)

'Glib and as slow-moving as bank holiday traffic' – Philip French, Observer

'Scenes so true and heartbreaking that tears welled up in my eyes both times I saw the film.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

'See the world from a whole new perspective.'

Antz ★★

US 1998 83m Technicolor
DreamWorks/PDI (Brad Lewis, Aron Warner, Patty Wooton)

A worker ant, who falls in love with a princess ant, prevents a coup by her soldier-ant fiancé.

Enjoyable computer-animated feature with a verbal wit that may well appeal more to adults than children; the narrative follows a familiar outline, but the animation itself is brilliantly done.

w Todd Alcott, Chris Weitz, Paul Weitz d Eric Darnell, Tim Johnson m Harry Gregson-Williams, John Powell pd John Bell ed Stan Webb

☆ Featuring the voices of: Woody Allen, Dan Aykroyd, Anne Bancroft, Jane Curtin, Danny Glover, Gene Hackman, Jennifer Lopez, John Mahoney, Paul Mazursky, Sylvester Stallone, Sharon Stone, Christopher Walken

'Winds up overplotted in bizarrely grandiose ways. Must every child-friendly adventure film boil down to a struggle for world domination? And did this one really need to invoke genocide in its final reel?' – Janet Maslin, New York Times

'Life Is A Contact Sport. Play. Or Be Played.'

Any Given Sunday ★

US 1999 162m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Ixtlan/The Donners' Co (Lauren Shuler Donner, Clayton Townsend, Dan Halsted)

A veteran coach and a commercially-minded owner of a football team clash over attitudes and tactics, while the players undergo crises of their own.

Stone has said the film was intended as a homage to Robert Aldrich, and it has as its subject the same aggressive, amoral masculinity and bonding of the two movies, The Dirty Dozen and The Longest Yard, that inspired it: the problem for many non-US audiences will be trying to summon up some interest in American football.

w John Logan, Oliver Stone, Daniel Pyne d Oliver Stone ph Salvatore Totino m Robbie Robertson, Paul Kelly, Richard Horowitz pd Victor Kempster ed Tom Nordberg, Keith Salmon, Stuart Waks, Stuart Levy

☆ Al Pacino (Tony D'Amato), Cameron Diaz (Christina Pagniacci), Dennis Quaid (Jack 'Cap' Rooney), James Woods (Dr Harvey Mandrake), Jamie Foxx (Willie Beamen), LL Cool J (Julian Washington), Dr Ollie Powers (Matthew Modine), Jim Brown (Montezuma Monroe), Charlton Heston (AFFA Commissioner), Ann-Margret (Margaret Pagniacci), Aaron Eckhart (Nick Crozier), John C. McGinley (Jack Rose), Lauren Holly (Cindy Rooney)

'A rambunctious, hyperkinetic, testosterone-and-adrenaline-drenched look at that American obsession known as professional football.' – Todd Mccarthy, Variety

'Delivers a credible, action-charged vision of the frenzied world of professional sports as a metaphor for the volatility of American culture.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

† Oliver Stone cut 12 minutes from the film for its European version.

Any Number Can Play ★

US 1949 103m bw
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A gambling casino owner has health problems, is reconciled with his son and retires from the game.

Rather boring drama redeemed by slightly offbeat dialogue and excellent star acting, albeit in routine roles.

w Richard Brooks novel E. H. Heth d Mervyn Le Roy ph Harold Rosson m Lennie Hayton

☆ Clark Gable, Alexis Smith, Mary Astor, Wendell Corey, Audrey Totter, Lewis Stone, Frank Morgan, Marjorie Rambeau, Barry Sullivan

Any Old Port ★

US 1932 20m bw
Hal Roach

Stan and Ollie are sailors on leave, and Ollie enters Stan for a boxing match.

Minor star comedy with good moments but a weak finish.

w H. M. Walker d James W. Horne

☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Walter Long

Any Wednesday ★

US 1966 109m Technicolor
Warner (Julius J. Epstein)

GB title: Bachelor Girl Apartment

A millionaire businessman spends every Wednesday with his mistress, but complications arise when his young associate is accidentally sent to use the company flat.

Overlong screen version of a thinly scripted Broadway success in which yawns gradually overtake laughs. Rosemary Murphy is a breath of fresh air as the deceived wife who doesn't mind.

w Julius J. Epstein play Muriel Resnik d Robert Ellis Miller ph Harold Lipstein m George Duning

☆ Jane Fonda, Dean Jones, Jason Robards Jnr, Rosemary Murphy, Ann Prentiss, King Moody

Any Which Way You Can

US 1980 116m DeLuxe
Malpaso/Warner (Fritz Manes)

The hero of Every Which Way But Loose (qv) becomes involved in further brawls and car crashes, with the help of his friendly orang-utan.

A sequel designed entirely for the box-office, its tone set by the scene in which the villains on motorcycles are covered in tar.

w Stanford Sherman d Buddy Van Horn ph David Worth md Steve Dorf pd William J. Creber ed Ferris Webster, Ron Spang

☆ Clint Eastwood, Ruth Gordon, Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, William Smith, Harry Guardino

'This kind of thing is clearly beyond or beneath criticism.' – Variety

'Where the previous comedy set up a zany situation, this one ploughs it into the ground.' – Daily Mail

Anything Can Happen ★

US 1952 93m bw
Paramount/William Perlberg, George Seaton

Adventures of a Russian immigrant family in New York.

A standard Hollywood product based on a sentimental best-seller.

w George Seaton, George Oppenheimer book George and Helen Papashvily d George Seaton ph Daniel L. Fapp m Victor Young

☆ José Ferrer, Kim Hunter, Kurt Kasznar, Alex Danaroff, Oscar Beregi

'Exploits to the hilt the somewhat limited possibilities of quaintness and whimsicality with a broken accent.' – Penelope Houston

'In any relationship, one person always does the heavy lifting.'

Anything Else ★

US 2003 108m Technicolor 'Scope
DreamWorks/Gravier/Perdido (Letty Aronson)

In New York, a cantankerous middle-aged schoolteacher advises a young friend, a writer, on his love affair with an unfaithful actress.

Moderate comedy with a morbid edge; the one-liners are still there, but there's no one to deliver them with any feeling.

wd Woody Allen ph Darius Khondji pd Santo Loquasto ed Alisa Lepselter

☆ Woody Allen (David Dobel), Jason Biggs (Jerry Falk), Christina Ricci (Amanda), Danny DeVito (Harvey), Stockard Channing (Paula), KaDee Strickland (Brooke)

'The film isn't really a romantic comedy, more a stand-up tragedy with jokes thrown in for pacing.' – Wendy Ide, Times

Anything Goes ★★

US 1936 92m bw
Paramount (Benjamin Glazer)
TV title: Tops is the Limit

Romantic adventures on board a transatlantic liner.

Amiably batty musical comedy, zestfully directed and blithely performed.

w Guy Bolton, P. G. Wodehouse, Howard Lindsay, Russel Crouse, from their Broadway show d Lewis Milestone ph Karl Struss m/ly Cole Porter md Victor Young ad Hans Dreier

☆ Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman, Charles Ruggles, Grace Bradley, Ida Lupino, Chill Wills, the Avalon Boys, Arthur Treacher

† Only three of Cole Porter's songs were retained from the Broadway show: 'Anything Goes', 'You're the Top' and 'I Get a Kick out of You'. Others by various hands include 'Moonburn', 'Sailor Beware', 'My Heart and I', 'Am I Awake?', 'Hopelessly in Love'.

Anything Goes ★

US 1956 106m Technicolor Vistavision
Paramount (Robert Emmett Dolan)

The male stars of a musical comedy each sign a girl to play the female lead; resulting complications are ironed out during a transatlantic voyage.

Below-par reworking of the 1936 film in which technical gloss and dull sets virtually reduce the characters to puppets. A few good moments transcend the general lack of imagination.

w Sidney Sheldon, from show as credited in 1936 version d Robert Lewis ph John F. Warren m/ly Cole Porter md Joseph J. Lilley ch Nick Castle, Roland Petit ad Hal Pereira, Joseph M. Johnson

☆ Bing Crosby, Donald O'Connor, Zizi Jeanmaire, Mitzi Gaynor, Phil Harris, Kurt Kasznar

'The story of a mother who knows best... and a daughter who knows better.'

Anywhere But Here

US 1999 114m DeLuxe 'Scope
TCF/Fox 2000 (Laurence Mark)

A mother and her 14 year-old daughter find it hard to cope with one another when they move from Wisconsin to Los Angeles.
A domestic drama skewed in favour of the younger of two women, who is presented as more mature than her childlike mother, possibly in the hope of appealing to a highschool audience; adults may find it harder going.
w Alvin Sargent novel Mona Simpson
d Wayne Wang ph Roger Deakins
m Danny Elfman pd Donald Graham Burt
ed Nicholas C. Smith
☆ Susan Sarandon (Adele August), Natalie Portman (Ann August), Eileen Ryan (Lillian), Ray Baker (Ted), John Diehl (Jimmy), Shawn Hatosy (Benny), Bonnie Bedelia (Carol), Caroline Aaron (Gail), Hart Bochner (Josh Spritzer)

'A sumptuously crafted but extremely old-fashioned comedy-drama, made in the manner of Hollywood weepies of yesteryear.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety † Contemporary with the movie was Tumbleweeds (qv),on a very similar mother-daughter conflict.

Anzio

Italy 1968 117m Technicolor
Panavision
Columbia/Dino de Laurentiis (Marcel Bebert)

GB title: The Battle for Anzio
A war correspondent joins American and British troops preparing for the 1944 landing in Italy.
Threadbare war film which wastes an all-star American cast.
w H. A. L. Craig book Wynford Vaughan Thomas d Edward Dmytryk ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Riz Ortolani
☆ Robert Mitchum, Peter Falk, Arthur Kennedy, Robert Ryan, Earl Holliman, Mark Damon, Reni Santoni, Anthony Steel, Patrick Magee

'It must be a long time since a script managed to pack in so many crassly portentous statements about why men fight wars.' – MFB

Aoi Haru: see Blue Spring

Apache ★

US 1954 91m Technicolor
UA/Hecht-Lancaster (Harold Hecht)

After the surrender of Geronimo, one Apache leader is unconquered; after creating much havoc, he settles for domesticity, and the white men let him go unharmed.
Sober Western in the wake of Broken Arrow (qv), with a predictably sympathetic star performance and a surprising happy ending. More decency than excitement along the way.
w James R. Webb novel Bronco Apache by Paul I. Wellman d Robert Aldrich
ph Ernest Laszlo m David Raksin
☆ Burt Lancaster, Jean Peters, John McIntire, Charles Bronson, John Dehner, Paul Guilfoyle, Walter Sande, Monte Blue

'The picture was seriously compromised. You make a picture about one thing, the inevitability of Massai's death. His courage is measured against the inevitable. The whole previous two hours becomes reduced if at the end he can just walk away.' – Robert Aldrich

Apache Drums

US 1951 75m Technicolor
U-I (Val Lewton)

A gambler helps a town under Indian attack.
Standard co-feature Western, perfectly adequate but showing no sign of its producer's former tastes and skills.
w David Chandler d Hugo Fregonese ph Charles Boyle m Hans Salter ad Robert Clatworthy, Bernard Herzbrun
ed Milton Carruth
☆ Stephen McNally, Willard Parker, Coleen Gray, Arthur Shields, James Griffith

Apache Rifles

US 1964 92m DeLuxe
Admiral Pictures/TCF

In 1879 Arizona, an Indian-hating officer falls for a half-caste.
Tolerable mid-budget Western.
w Charles B. Smith d William H. Witney
☆ Audie Murphy, Michael Dante, Linda Lawson, L. Q. Jones

Apache Uprising

US 1965 90m Techniscope
Paramount/A. C. Lyles

Assorted passengers in a stagecoach survive an Indian attack at a way station.
It sounds like a remake, and almost is, but the handling is lively enough and the producer's usual cast of nostalgic stars is in evidence.
w Harry Sanford, Max Lamb d R. G. Springsteen ph W. Wallace Kelley
m Jimmie Haskell
☆ Rory Calhoun, Corinne Calvet, John Russell, Lon Chaney Jnr, Gene Evans, DeForest Kelley, Arthur Hunnicutt, Richard Arlen, Johnny Mack Brown, Jean Parker

Apache War Smoke

US 1952 67m bw
MGM

An Indian killer is among those sheltering in a desert outpost before an Apache raid.
Talkative but tense lower-berth Western.
w Jerry Davis story Ernest Haycox
d Harold Kress
☆ Gilbert Roland, Robert Horton, Glenda Farrell, Barbara Ruick, Henry Morgan

Apache Woman

US 1955 82m Pathecolor
AIP/Golden State (Roger Corman)

A government agent discovers that a series of killings blamed on Apaches are caused by a gang led by a half-breed.
Routine Western, to which Corman added a subplot about racial prejudice, which may have improved its liberal credentials but does little for it as a movie.
w Lou Rusoff d Roger Corman ph Floyd Crosby m Ronald Stein ed Ronald Sinclair
☆ Lloyd Bridges, Joan Taylor, Lance Fuller, Morgan Jones, Paul Birch, Lou Place, Paul Dubov, Dick Miller, Chester Conklin
† The film was shot in under two weeks at a cost of around $80,000. Dick Miller played both a cowboy and an Apache in the film.

Aparajito ★★★★

India 1956 113m bw
Epic Films Private Ltd (Satyajit Ray)

aka: The Unvanquished
After his father's death, a poor country boy is helped by his mother to study for the university.
A detailed and moving study of two characters who are universally familiar despite an unusual background.
wd Satyajit Ray novel Aparajita by Bibhutibhusan Bandapadhaya ph Subrata Mitra m Ravi Shankar ad Bansi Chandragupta ed Dulal Dutta
☆ Pinaki Sen Gupta (Apu as a boy), Karuna Banerjee (Mother), Kanu Banerjee (Father), Smaran Ghosal (Apu as an adolescent), Ramani Sen Gupta (Bhahataran)
† This was the sequel to Pather Panchali, and was itself followed by The World of Apu (qv).
†† It won the Golden Lion at the 1957 Venice Film Festival.

'Movie-wise, there has never been anything like it – laugh-wise, love-wise, or otherwise-wise!'

The Apartment ★★★

US 1960 125m bw Panavision
UA/Mirisch (Billy Wilder)

A lonely, ambitious clerk rents out his apartment to philandering executives and finds that one of them is after his own girl.
Agreeably mordant and cynical comedy with a sparkling view of city office life and some deftly handled individual sequences.
w Billy Wilder, I. A. L. Diamond d Billy Wilder ph Joseph LaShelle m Adolph Deutsch ad Alexander Trauner ed Daniel Mandell
☆ Jack Lemmon (C. C. Baxter), Shirley MacLaine (Miss Kubelik), Fred MacMurray (Jeff D. Sheldrake), Ray Walston (Joe Dobisch), Jack Kruschen (Dr Dreyfuss), Joan Shawlee (Sylvia), Edie Adams (Miss Olsen), David Lewis (Al Kirkeby)
BAXTER'S OPENING NARRATION: 'On November 1st, 1959, the population of New York City was 8,042,753. If you laid all these people end to end, figuring an average height of five feet six and a half inches, they would reach from Times Square to the outskirts of Karachi, Pakistan. I know facts like this because I work for an insurance company – Consolidated Life of New York. We are one of the top five companies in the country. Last year we wrote nine point three billion dollars worth of policies. Our home office has 31,259 employees, which is more than the entire population of Natchez, Mississippi, or Gallup, New Mexico. I work on the 19th floor – Ordinary Policy department – Premium Accounting division – Section W – desk number 861.'
BAXTER: 'Miss Kubelik, one doesn't get to be a second administrative assistant around here unless he's a pretty good judge of character, and as far as I'm concerned you're tops. I mean, decency-wise and otherwise-wise.'
BAXTER: 'You know, I used to live like Robinson Crusoe – shipwrecked among eight million people. Then one day I saw a footprint in the sand and there you were. It's a wonderful thing, dinner for two.'
MISS KUBELIK (LAST LINE OF FILM): 'Shut up and deal.'

'Without either style or taste, shifting gears between pathos and slapstick without any transition.' – Dwight MacDonald

'Billy Wilder directed this acrid story as if it were a comedy, which is a cheat, considering that it involves pimping and a suicide attempt and many shades of craven ethics.' – New Yorker, 1980

picture; Billy Wilder, I. A. L. Diamond (as writers); Billy Wilder (as director) Joseph LaShelle; Jack Lemmon; Shirley MacLaine; Jack Kruschen; art direction; editing picture; Jack Lemmon; Shirley MacLaine

Apartment for Peggy ★

US 1948 98m Technicolor
TCF (William Perlberg)

A retired professor finds a new lease of life through caring for the homeless family of an ex-GI.
Sentimental comedy with serious undertones (the professor twice attempts suicide). Signs of enterprise are smothered by regulation charm.
wd George Seaton story Faith Baldwin
ph Harry Jackson m David Raksin
☆ Edmund Gwenn, Jeanne Crain, William Holden, Gene Lockhart, Henri Letondal, Charles Lane, Houseley Stevenson

'A first rate experience for observers with comprehending minds.' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

The Apartment on the 13th Floor: see Cannibal Man

Apartment Zero

GB 1988 125m colour
Mainline/The Summit Company (Martin Donovan, David Koepp)

In Buenos Aires, a repressed crypto-Englishman takes as a lodger a mysterious American.
Unpleasant psychological thriller about unlovely people.
w Martin Donovan, David Koepp
d Martin Donovan ph Miguel Rodriguez
m Elia Cmiral pd Miguel Angel Lumaldo
ed Conrad M. Gonzalez
☆ Colin Firth, Hart Bochner, Dora Bryan, Liz Smith, Cipe Lincovsky

The Ape

US 1940 61m bw
Monogram (Scott R. Dunlap)

Dr Adrian seeks to cure polio by means of a serum which can only be obtained from the spinal fluid of a human being. He kills an escaped ape and dresses in its skin to seek victims.
Silly and rather boring addition to the mad doctor cycle.
w Curt Siodmak, Richard Carroll play Adam Shirk d William Nigh
ph Harry Neumann m Edward Kay
☆ Boris Karloff, Maris Wrixon, Gertrude Hoffman, Henry Hall

Ape and Super Ape

Netherlands/USA 1972 103m
Technicolor
Unicorn (Bert Haanstra Films)
original title: Bij de Beesten Af

An alleged documentary comparing human and animal behaviour seems regrettably to turn into a series of episodes depicting animal savagery in close-up.
wd Bert Haanstra ph Anton Van Munster
ed Bert Haanstra

'It lacks even associational interest for the wild-life enthusiast, and is best written off as an inconclusive, unoriginal and often repellent exercise unworthy of its maker.' – John Baxter, MFB

documentary

'No one is safe from the cruel desires of this inhuman fiend!'

The Ape Man

US 1943 64m bw
Monogram (Sam Katzman, Jack Dietz)

GB title: Lock Your Doors
A scientist injects himself with spinal fluid which turns him into an ape creature.

Cheap rubbish shot in a couple of corners and offering no thrill whatever.
w Barney A. Sarecky story They Creep in the Dark by Karl Brown d William Beaudine ph Mack Stengler m Edward Kay ad David Milton ed Carl Pierson ☆ Bela Lugosi (Dr James Brewster), Wallace Ford (Jeff Carter), Louise Currie (Billie Mason), Minerva Urecal (Agatha Brewster), Henry Hall (Dr George Randall)
'Bela Lugosi, rigged out in a shaggy beard and formal morning attire, ambling like an ape and sharing a cage with a gorilla, scares nobody. It's strictly a dual support.' – Variety
† A supposed sequel the following year, Return of the Ape Man, had in fact no plot connection. In this Lugosi thawed out a neanderthal man, inserted John Carradine's brain, and the composite turned into George Zucco!

APEX

US 1994 103m Foto-Kem
Republic/Green Communications (Talaat Captan)

A time-traveller, sent back a hundred years to 1973 to find a malfunctioning robot, catches a virus that alters the future, turning it into a disease-ridden epoch, alive with killer robots.
Enjoyable low-budget variation on a familiar science-fiction theme of man versus machines, which borrows from bigger-budget successes such as The Terminator, among others. The title is an acronym for Advanced Prototype Extermination Unit.
w Phillip J. Roth, Ronald Schmidt d Phillip J. Roth ph Mark W. Gray m Jim Goodwin ed Daniel Lawrence sp Ultra Matrix; make-up: Altered Anatomy FX
☆ Richard Keats, Mitchell Cox, Lisa Russell, Marcus Aurelius, Adam Lawson, Brian Richard Peck
'Made with more imagination than skill, and more resourcefulness than polish, pic makes the absolute most of an obviously limited budget.' – Variety

Der Apfel ist ab ★★

West Germany 1949 105m bw
Camera Film/Helmut Beck-Herzog Translated title: The Apple Fell

Adam and Eve have marital problems in Paradise, and consult a psychiatrist.
Lively sophisticated fantasy, perhaps a bit arch for general consumption, but almost as interesting in post-war Nazi Germany as Caligari was in 1919.
w Kurd E. Heyne, Helmut Kautner, Bobby Todd, from their musical comedy d Helmut Kautner ph Igor Oberberg m Bernhard Eichhorn
☆ Bobby Todd, Bettina Moissi, Joana Maria Gorvin
'Hollywood should look over this Kautner. He has a Lubitsch touch that runs all over this picture.' – Variety

Aphrodite, Goddess of Love

Italy 1958 90m Ferrania colour
Schermi (Adriano Merkel) original title: Afrodite Dea Dell'Amore
aka: Slave Women of Corinth

The governor of Corinth has to cope with the Emperor Nero, his infatuation with a prostitute, plague, Christians and revolting locals.
Better-than-average example of its genre, mixing power politics and romance to some effect.
w Ugo Moretti, Mario Bonnard, Sergio Leone, Mario Di Nardo d Mario Bonnard ph Tino Santoni m Giovanni Fusco pd Saverio D'Eugenio ed Nella Nannuzzi ☆ Isabelle Corey, Antonio de Teffe, Irene Tunc, Ivo Garrani, Giulio Donnini, Carlo Tamberlani

Apo Tin Akri Tis Polis ★

Greece 1998 93m colour
Millivres/Mythos/Rosebud/Hot Shot (Dionysis Samioris, Anastasios Vasilou)

aka: From the Edge of the City

In Athens, a young Russian-Greek immigrant, who scrapes a living as a thief and and rent boy, falls in love with a prostitute belonging to the local pimp.
A drama of urban low-life, semi-documentary in style, that uses a cast of street boys and professional actors for its narrative of rootless, displaced and deprived young searching for an identity in a hostile environment.
wd Constantine Giannaris ph Giorgos Argyroiliopoulos m Akis Daoutis pd Roula Nicolaou ed Ioanna Spillopoulou ☆ Stathis Papadopoulos (Sasha), Kostas Kotsianidis (Kotsian), Panagiotis Chartomtsidis (Panagiotis), Dimitris Papoulidis (Giorgos), Theodora Tzimou (Natasha), Anestis Polychronidis (Anestis), Nikos Kamontos (Philippos), Stelios Tsemboglidis (Stelios), Panagiota Vlachosotirou (Elenitsa)
'It captures a gritty urban reality without moralizing or sentimentalizing its hapless young protagonist.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

Apocalypse Now ★★★

US 1979 153m Technicolor
Technovision
Omni Zoetrope (Francis Coppola)

A Vietnam captain is instructed to eliminate a colonel who has retired to the hills and is fighting his own war.
The film vividly captures the insanity of the Vietnam war and transfers to it the feeling of unimaginable horror that marked Joseph Conrad's novel Heart of Darkness, which was its first inspiration. It uses hyperbole and overstatement to convey in great detail the true nature of the first drugs and rock'n' roll war, a hallucinatory, terrifying, jungle nightmare accompanied by an insistent beat.
w John Milius, Francis Coppola d Francis Coppola ph Vittorio Storaro m Carmine Coppola, Francis Coppola pd Dean Tavoularis ad Angelo Graham ed Richard Marks, Walter Murch, Gerald B. Greenberg, Lisa Fruchtman
☆ Martin Sheen (Capt. Willard), Robert Duvall (Lt. Col. Kilgore), Frederic Forrest (Chef), Marlon Brando (Col. Kurtz), Sam Bottoms (Lance), Dennis Hopper (Photojournalist)
LT-COL KILGORE (ROBERT DUVALL): 'I love the smell of napalm in the morning. It smells like... victory!'
'The characters are living through Vietnam as pulp adventure fantasy, as movie, as stoned humour.' – New Yorker
'Emotionally obtuse and intellectually empty.' – Time
† Coppola said at the Cannes Film Festival: 'It's more of an experience than a movie. At the beginning there's a story. Along the river the story becomes less important and the experience more important.'
†† Apocalypse Now Redux, a version running at 202m, was released in 2001.
††† Harvey Keitel was replaced by Martin Sheen.
Vittorio Storaro; sound (Walter Murch, Mark Berger, Richard Beggs, Nat Boxer) picture; John Milius, Francis Coppola (script); Francis Coppola (as director); Robert Duvall; art direction; editing
Francis Coppola; Robert Duvall

'No one can outrun their destiny.'

Apocalypto ★ (6)

US 2006 138m
Icon/Icon/Touchstone (Mel Gibson, Bruce Davey)

In the last days of the ancient Mayan civilisation, a young warrior is earmarked for human sacrifice.
Audacious historical epic told entirely in subtitled Yucatec and as brutally violent as we have come to expect from this director; for all its exotic trappings and gruesome detail, though, it eventually becomes a simple chase movie.
w Mel Gibson, Farhad Safinia d Mel Gibson ph Dean Semler m James Horner pd Tom Sanders ad Theresa Wachter ed John Wright
☆ Rudy Youngblood (Jaguar Paw), Dalia Hernandez (Seven), Jonathan Brewer (Blunted), Raoul Trujillo (Zero Wolf), Rodolfo Palacios (Snake Ink), Morris Birdyellowhead (Flint Sky)
'A trip to a place one's never been before, offering hitherto unseen sights of exceptional vividness and power.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'It is, above all, a muscular and kinetic action movie, a drama of rescue and revenge.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times
'The harder Apocalypto works to shock and excite you, the less shocked and excited you become.' – David Ansen, Newsweek
'Mel Gibson's career as a film director is becoming one long essay in human cruelty through the ages.' – Kirk Honeycutt, Hollywood Reporter
† The film's release was overshadowed by Gibson's anti-Semitic outburst during a drink-driving arrest in California in July 2006.
†† The film was accused by some indigenous groups of misrepresenting Mayan culture.
makeup; sound editing; sound mixing

'Houston, we have a problem.'

Apollo 13 ★★

US 1995 140m colour Super 35
Imagine (Brian Grazer)

In 1970 NASA Mission Control works feverishly to bring back three astronauts alive when there is an explosion aboard the Apollo 13 spacecraft to the moon.
A gripping documentary-style recreation of an averted tragedy, excellently done but one that is an uncritical celebration of the American way and which makes no attempt to put the mission into a wider historical context; it settles for simple patriotism.
w William Broyles Jnr, Al Reinert book Lost Moon by Jim Lovell, Jeffrey Kluger d Ron Howard ph Dean Cundey m James Horner pd Michael Corenblith ed Mike Hill, Dan Hanley
☆ Tom Hanks, Bill Paxton, Kevin Bacon, Ed Harris, Gary Sinise, Kathleen Quinlan, Mary Kate Schellhardt, Emily Ann Lloyd
'Makes all the right moves, but lacks inspiration.' – Sight and Sound
'Plays boringly safe ... The drama proceeds in a narrow line that leaves no room for poetry, surprise or true excitement.' – Geoff Brown, The Times
† The film took more than $331m at the box-office worldwide.
Mike Hill, Dan Hanley; sound effects picture; Ed Harris; Kathleen Quinlan; James Horner; Michael Corenblith; William Broyles Jnr, Al Reinert; visual effects

The Apostle ★★

US 1997 134m CFI color
Universal/October/Butchers Run (Rob Carliner)

After he loses his church and beats his wife's lover unconscious with a baseball bat, a middle-aged preacher leaves Texas and goes to a small Louisiana town, where he starts a new church.
Engrossing portrait of a man driven by the need to communicate his religion, though it is not always easy to empathize with a preacher whose approach is wholly emotional, and never rational.
wd Robert Duvall ph Barry Markowitz m David Mansfield pd Linda Burton ed Stephen Mack ☆ Robert Duvall (Euliss Dewey), Farrah Fawcett (Jessie Dewey), Todd Allen (Horace), John Beasley (Brother Blackwell), June Carter Cash (Mrs Dewey), Walton Goggins (Sam), Billy Joe Shaver (Joe), Billy Bob Thornton (Troublemaker), Miranda Richardson (Toosie)
'A triumph on every level but one: its excessive running time.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety † Robert Duvall put up $5m of his own money to make the film.
Robert Duvall

The Appaloosa ★

US 1966 99m Techniscope
Universal (Alan Miller)

GB title: Southwest to Sonora

A cowboy's plan to start a stud farm with his magnificent horse is interrupted by badmen who think he has molested their girl.
Mannered, slow Western set on the Mexican border, with star and director apparently striving to upstage each other.
w James Bridges, Roland Kibbee novel Robert MacLeod d Sidney J. Furie ph Russell Metty m Frank Skinner ad Alexander Golitzen, Alfred Sweeney ed Ted J. Kent ☆ Marlon Brando, Anjanette Comer, John Saxon, Rafael Campos, Frank Silvera, Emilio Fernandez, Alex Montoya, Miriam Colon
'Seems intent less on telling a story than in carving out the incidental details.' – MFB
'The camerawork concentrates on beady eyes, sweaty foreheads, spurred boots and anonymous midriffs being studied through a variety of frames, ranging from tequila bottles to cook fires to grillwork to fingers to feet.' – Judith Crist
'A dog of a movie about a horse.' – Pauline Kael

L'Appartement ★★

France/Spain/Italy 1996 102m colour
Artificial Eye/Ima/UGC/La Sept/M6/Mate/Cecchi Gori (Georges Benayoun)

In Paris, a young executive neglects his job because of his involvement with three women – his fiancée, a former lover he tracks down, and an actress he saves from suicide – who also lead complex lives.
Intriguing, complex tragi-comedy of tangled love affairs, in which the audience is led on a quest as baffling and rewarding as that of its protagonist; it acknowledges its debt to Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream.
wd Gilles Mimouni ph Thierry Arbogast

m Peter Chase ad Philippe Chiffre
ed Caroline Biggerstaff, Françoise Bonnot
☆ Romane Bohringer, Vincent Cassel, Jean-Philippe Ecoffey, Monica Bellucci, Sandrine Kiberlain, Olivier Granier

'The kind of movie that you'll want to actively consume rather than passively watch ... thoroughly engaging cinema.' – Helen Van Kruyssen, Film Review

foreign film

L'Appât: see The Bait

'Is Kitty a mother?'

Applause ★★

US 1929 78m bw
Paramount (Jesse L. Lasky, Walter Wanger)

A vaudeville star gradually loses the love of her daughter.
Absorbing treatment of a has-been tearjerking theme, full of cinematic touches and with unusual use of New York locations.
w Garrett Fort novel Beth Brown d Rouben Mamoulian ph George Folsey ☆ Helen Morgan, Joan Peers, Henry Wadsworth, Fuller Mellish Jnr

'An oasis of filmic sophistication in a desert of stage-bound early talkies.' – William Everson, 1966

'A cohesive, well integrated series of pictures. Its intensity, its sharp projection of tragedy, emerge from the eye of the camera; an omniscient, omnipresent eye that slides easily over the links of the story and emphasizes only the true and the relevant.' – Thornton Delehanty, The Arts

The Apple ★★

Iran/France 1997 85m colour
Artificial Eye/MK2

original title: Sib
Two 12-year-old twin girls, who have been kept locked away in their home by their unemployed father and blind mother, experience the outside world for the first time.
An extraordinary film, based on an actual event, with the cast playing themselves; it occupies an unusual space between documentary and drama, but is in no way exploitative.
w Mohsen Makhmalbaf d Samirah Makhmalbaf ph Ebrahim Ghafouri ed Mohsen Makhmalbaf ☆ Massoumeh Naderi, Za Naderi, Ghorban Ali-Naderi, Azizeh Mohamadi, Zahra Sagharisaz, Amir Hossein Khosrojerdi

'A remarkable achievement, proving poignant, funny and very human.' – James Mottram, Film Review

The Apple Dumpling Gang

US 1974 100m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Anderson)

Three orphan children strike gold in 1878 California.
Better-than-average Disney romp.
w Don Tait novel Jack M. Bickham d Norman Tokar ph Frank Phillips m Buddy Baker ☆ Bill Bixby, Susan Clark, David Wayne, Don Knotts, Tim Conway, Slim Pickens, Harry Morgan, John McGiver, Marie Windsor, Iris Adrian

The Apple Dumpling Gang Rides Again

US 1979 88m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Ron Miller)

Two incompetent bank robbers trying to go straight find themselves in trouble with a sheriff, the cavalry, Indians and a rival gang.
Limp, slow-paced comedy Western that is a dull sequel to an ordinary original.
w Don Tait d Vincent McEveety ph Frank Phillips m Buddy Baker ad John B. Mansbridge, Frank T. Smith
ed Gordon D. Brenner
☆ Tim Conway, Don Knotts, Tim Matheson, Kenneth Mars, Elyssa Davalos, Jack Elam, Robert Pine, Harry Morgan, Ruth Buzzi

The Apple Fell: see Der Apfel ist ab

Appleseed (dubbed)

Japan 1991 71m colour
Manga/Gainax/AIC/Centre Studio/Tohokushinsha/Bandai/Movie (Taro Maki, Atsushi Sugita, Masaki Sawanobori, Tohru Miura)

Power struggles in Olympus, a haven built after World War III, between humans, terrorist outlaws, cyborgs and biodroids, half-human, half-robot creatures developed to protect the city, who wish to control it as well.
Poorly animated science-fiction thriller with a predictable narrative, dubbed with too many expletives. The stories on which the film is based were highly regarded in Japan, so something must have been lost in their translation to the screen.
wd Kazuyoshi Katayama stories Appleseed by Masumune Shirow m Norimasa Yamanaka ad Hiroaki Ogura ☆ Featuring the voices of Larissa Murray, Bill Roberts, David Reynolds, Lorelei King, Vincent Marzello, Julia Brahms

The Appointment ★

US 1969 100m colour
MGM (Martin Poll)

A businessman suspects his wife of spare time prostitution.
Unusual sophisticated fable, dressed to kill but rather stretched out for its substance. Shades of El and The Chinese Room.
w James Salter d Sidney Lumet m John Barry, Don Walker
☆ Omar Sharif, Anouk Aimée, Lotte Lenya

Appointment for Love ★

US 1941 89m bw
Universal (Bruce Manning)

A doctor and a playwright agree to marry 'without love'.
A familiar theme quite amusingly explored by a practised cast.
w Bruce Manning, Felix Jackson d William A. Seiter ph Joseph Valentine m Frank Skinner md Charles Preyin ad Jack Otterson ed Ted J. Kent ☆ Charles Boyer, Margaret Sullavan, Eugene Pallette, Rita Johnson, Gus Schilling, Reginald Denny, Ruth Terry sound (Bob R. Brown)

Appointment in Honduras

US 1953 79m Technicolor
RKO/Benedict Bogeaus

Three assorted types and four criminals escape through the jungle from a revolution.
Predictable adventure drama sabotaged by poor colour.
w Karen de Wolf d Jacques Tourneur
ph Joseph Biroc m Louis Forbes
☆ Glenn Ford, Ann Sheridan, Zachary Scott, Rodolfo Acosta, Jack Elam Appointment in London ★

GB 1952 96m bw
Mayflower (Aubrey Baring, Maxwell Setton)

The exploits of a squadron of Bomber Command during one month in 1943.
Dullish war film with standard credits.
w John Wooldridge, Robert Westerby
d Philip Leacock ph Stephen Dade
m John Wooldridge
☆ Dirk Bogarde, Ian Hunter, Dinah Sheridan, Bill Kerr, Bryan Forbes, William Sylvester, Charles Victor

Appointment with a Shadow

US 1957 72m bw Cinemascope
Universal-International
GB title: The Big Story

An alcoholic reporter redeems himself by capturing a criminal single-handed.
Maudlin melodrama which takes itself too seriously.
w Alec Coppel, Norman Jolley d Richard Carlson
☆ George Nader, Joanna Moore, Brian Keith, Virginia Field

Appointment with Crime

GB 1945 97m bw
British National

Ex-convict revenges himself on the former friends who shopped him.
Stodgy melodrama which seemed about to make a big star of William Hartnell.
wd John Harlow
☆ William Hartnell, Robert Beatty, Joyce Howard, Raymond Lovell, Herbert Lom Appointment with Danger ★

US 1949 89m bw
Paramount (Robert Fellows)

A nun becomes the government's chief witness in identifying the murderers of a US postal inspector.
Routine but entertaining star thick ear.
w Richard Breen, Warren Duff d Lewis Allen ph John Seitz m Victor Young ☆ Alan Ladd, Phyllis Calvert, Paul Stewart, Jan Sterling, Jack Webb, Henry Morgan

Appointment with Death

GB 1988 108m colour
Cannon (Michael Winner)

A domineering step-mother, who cheats her husbands' children out of their rightful inheritance, is found murdered.
Another starry Hercule Poirot tale, this time in 30s Palestine.
w Anthony Shaffer, Peter Buckman, Michael Winner novel Agatha Christie
d Michael Winner ph David Gurfinkel
m Pino Donaggio pd John Blezard
ed Arnold Crust Jnr (Michael Winner)
☆ Peter Ustinov (Hercule Poirot), Lauren Bacall, Carrie Fisher, John Gielgud, Piper Laurie

'They came home with the milk!'

Appointment with Venus ★★

GB 1951 89m bw
GFD/British Film Makers (Betty E. Box)
US title: Island Rescue

During World War II, a pedigree cow is rescued from the German-occupied Channel Islands.
Curious but generally agreeable mixture of comedy and war adventure, pleasantly shot on Sark.
w Nicholas Phipps novel Jerrard Tickell
d Ralph Thomas ph Ernest Steward
m Benjamin Frankel
☆ David Niven, Glynis Johns, George Coulouris, Barry Jones, Kenneth More, Noel Purcell, Bernard Lee, Jeremy Spenser

Apprentice to Murder

Norway 1988 94m colour
New World (Howard K. Grossman)

In Pennsylvania in the 1920s, a teenaged boy comes under the influence of a faith healer who is cursed by the devil.
Odd little thriller that relies too heavily on special effects to hold an audience's attention.
w Allan Scott, Wesley Moore d R. L. Thomas ph Kelvin Pike m Charles Gross pd Gregory Bolton ed Patrick McMahon sp Derek Meddings, Mark Meddings, Roy Spencer
☆ Donald Sutherland, Chad Lowe, Mia Sara, Knut Husebo, Rutanya Alda, Eddie Jones, Mark Burton, Adrian Sparks

The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz ★

Canada 1974 121m Bellevue-Pathé Panavision
Duddy Kravitz Syndicate (Gerald Schneider)

An ambitious young Jew finds that it is best to be liked.
Amusing adventures of an anti-hero; good scenes but rather patchy technique.
w Mordecai Richler novel Mordecai Richler d Ted Kotcheff ph Miklos Lente m Stanley Myers ☆ Richard Dreyfuss, Micheline Lanctot, Jack Warden, Randy Quaid, Denholm Elliott, Joseph Wiseman
Mordecai Richler

Les Apprentis ★

France 1995 98m colour
Gala/Péléas/Glem (Philippe Martin)

A would-be photographer makes and loses a friend when he moves into a flat with an older writer.
Desultory but amusing comedy of an odd couple who share no more than a desire for love and an inability to find employment.
w Pierre Salvadori, Philippe Harel, Marc Syrigas, Nicolas Cuche, Franck Bauchard
d Pierre Salvadori ph Gilles Henry m Philippe Eidel ad François Emmanuelli
ed Hélène Viard
☆ François Cluzet, Guillaume Depardieu, Judith Henry, Claire Laroche, Philippe Girard, Barnard Yerles, Marie Trintignant

'Feels as if it was written from day to day and heavily dependent on how its stars were feeling when they got up. Might have been better to stay in bed.' – Alexander Walker

Après la Vie: see Trilogy

Après l'Amour ★

France 1992 105m colour
Mayfair/Alexandre/TF1/Prodeve (Jean-Bernard Fetoux)

aka: Love After Love
Love and desire among the thirty-somethings of Parisian glitterati.
A complex story of sexual relationships over a period of a year, enjoyable enough if you can keep track of all the shifting couplings, but not particularly insightful.
w Diane Kurys, Antoine Lacomblez
d Diane Kurys ph Fabio Conversi m Yves Simon, Serge Parathoner, Jannick Top ad Tony Egry ed Hervé Schneid
☆ Isabelle Huppert, Bernard Giraudeau, Hippolyte Girardot, Lio, Yvan Attal, Judith Reval, Ingrid Held, Laure Killing, Mehdi Ioossen, Florian Billon

'It copes with agony, bluster, lies and voyeurism in a cynically relaxed spirit that places it firmly in the French "relationship movie" genre; though with the difference, outdated as it may seem anywhere except France, that it is a woman through whose eyes we look.' – Amanda Lipman, Sight and Sound

'He has a wife. She has a husband. With so much in common they just have to fall in love.'

The April Fools ★

US 1969 95m Technicolor Panavision
Cinema Center/Jalem (Gordon Carroll)

An unhappy New York husband elopes to Paris with an unhappy wife.
Whimsical romantic comedy which rather strains its resources without giving full value for money in romance, humour or simple charm. Good moments, though.
w Hal Dresner d Stuart Rosenberg ph Michel Hugo m Marvin Hamlisch pd Richard Sylbert
☆ Jack Lemmon, Catherine Deneuve, Myrna Loy, Charles Boyer, Peter Lawford, Jack Weston, Harvey Korman, Sally Kellerman

'Painfully modish, from the opening party in an apartment filled with fashionable objets d'art to the final mad dash to the airport in an expensive sports car.' – MFB

April Fool's Day

US 1986 88m Metrocolor Panavision
Paramount/Hometown (Frank Mancuso Jnr)

College friends go to spend a weekend in an isolated house with a wealthy practical joker, who has a taste for murderous pranks.
A teenage slasher movie with an original twist, but one that does not alter the usual tedium of the genre.
w Danilo Bach d Fred Walton ph Charles Minsky m Charles Bernstein ad Stewart Campbell ed Bruce Green
☆ Jay Baker, Deborah Foreman, Deborah Goodrich, Ken Olandt, Griffin O'Neal, Leah King Pinsent, Clayton Rohner

April in Paris ★

US 1952 100m Technicolor
Warner (William Jacobs)

A chorus girl is mistakenly invited to a US Arts Festival in Paris, and bewitches the bureaucrat in charge.
Poorly produced star musical with a thin plot and a few redeeming wisps of wit.
w Jack Rose, Melville Shavelson d David Butler ph Wilfrid Cline m/ly Sammy Cahn, Vernon Duke, E. Y. Harburg md Ray Heindorf ch Le Roy Prinz
☆ Doris Day, Ray Bolger, Claude Dauphin, Eve Miller, George Givot

April Love

US 1957 99m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (David Weisbart)

For stealing a car, a teenager is sent on probation to his uncle's stud farm, where circumstances seem once again to put him in trouble with the law.
Easygoing star vehicle with little to recommend it to adults.
w Winston Miller novel George Agnew Chamberlain d Henry Levin ph Wilfrid Cline m/ly Sammy Fain, Paul Francis Webster
☆ Pat Boone, Shirley Jones, Dolores Michaels, Arthur O'Connell, Jeanette Nolan
† A remake of Home in Indiana (qv).
♫ title song (m Sammy Fain, ly Paul Francis Webster)

April One

Canada 1993 85m colour
Astral/April One (Julia Sereny)

In Ottawa, a diplomat becomes protective towards the confused ex-convict who takes her hostage.
Based on a true story, a suspenseless thriller that leaves its audience no wiser than before, or any more understanding of the motives of those involved.
wd Murray Battle ph Mark Irwin
m Jonathan Goldsmith ad Ian Brock
ed Roger Mattiussi
☆ Stephen Shellen, Djanet Sears, David Strathairn, Wayne Robson, Gordon Clapp, Pierre Curzi, Martin Julien

April Romance: see Blossom Time

April Showers ★

US 1948 94m bw
Warner (William Jacobs)

In a family vaudeville act, Dad takes to drink.
Hoary musical melodrama enlivened by occasional acts.
w Peter Milne musical adaptation Max Steiner d James V. Kern ph Carl Guthrie md Ray Heindorf songs various ☆ Jack Carson, Robert Alda, Ann Sothern, Robert Ellis, S. Z. Sakall

Aprile ★

Italy/France 1998 78m Technicolor
Metro Tartan/Sacher/BAC (Angelo Barbagallo, Nanni Moretti)

A film director begins and abandons a musical, starts a political documentary, wishes he were making a musical and is distracted by the birth of his son and the sense that time is running out.
Moretti managed to transform his life into art with his charming Dear Diary (qv). This time around his autobiographical concerns are so personal that the result is too inward-looking to fully engage the interest of others.
wd Nanni Moretti ph Giuseppe Lanci
ad Marta Maffucci ed Angelo Nicolin
☆ Nanni Moretti, Silvio Orlando, Silvia Nono, Pietro Moretti, Agata Apicella Moretti, Nuria Schoenberg, Angelo Barbagallo, Silvia Bonucci, Quentin de Fouchecour, Renato De Maria, Daniele Luchetti, Andrea Molaioli, Nicola Piepoli, Corrado Stajano

'The film is a delight to watch (even more so if you know anything about Italy). It is also a cinematic masterpiece.' – Chris Wagstaff, Sight and Sound

Apt Pupil ★★

US/France 1997 111m Technicolor
Panavision
Columbia TriStar/Phoenix/Bad Hat Harry/Canal+
(Jane Hamsher, Don Murphy, Bryan Singer)

In California, a schoolboy threatens a former Nazi with disclosure unless he tells him about the Holocaust.
An effective drama about the corruption caused by contact with evil, though it descends into horror-movie clichés towards the end.
w Brandon Boyce novella Stephen King
d Bryan Singer ph Newton Thomas Sigel
m John Ottman pd Richard Hoover
ed John Ottman
☆ Ian McKellen, Brad Renfro, Bruce Davison, Elias Koteas, Joe Morton, Jan Triska, Michael Byrne, Heather McComb, David Schwimmer

'Has more than enough chilling dramatic scenes to rivet the attention but suffers from some hokey contrivances and underlying insufficiencies of motivation.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'I didn't like my character. He didn't seem very deep. He just seemed a representative of evil.' – Ian McKellen

The Apu Trilogy: see Pather Panchali; Aparajito: The World of Apu

'A Fish-Out-Of-Water Comedy.'

Aquamarine (5)

Australia/US 2006 103m
TCF/Fox 2000 Pictures/Storefront Pictures (Susan Cartsonis)

Two teenagers spending summer at a Florida beach resort help a washed-up mermaid find love.
Inoffensive family fare so reminiscent of Disney's Splash! (qv) it's practically a remake.
w Jessica Bendinger, John Quaintance novel Alice Hoffman d Elizabeth Allen ph Brian Breheny m David Hirschfelder
pd Nelson Coates ad Bill Booth ed Jane Moran ☆ Emma Roberts (Claire), Joanna 'Jo-Jo' Levesque (Hailey), Sara Paxton (Aquamarine), Jake McDorman (Raymond), Claudia Karvan (Ginny), Bruce Spence (Leonard)

'This incessantly perky teen-targeted film… is almost terminally cute.' – Michael Wilmington, Chicago Tribune
† The film was wholly shot in Australia.
†† Emma Roberts is Eric's daughter and Julia's niece.

Aquila Nera: see Black Eagle

The Arab: see The Barbarian

Arabella

US/Italy 1969 91m Technicolor
Cram Film/Universal

A female confidence trickster needs the money to pay her grandmother's back taxes.
Floppy, tedious comedy adventure with an international cast all at sea.
w Adriano Barocco d Mauro Bolognini
☆ Virna Lisi, James Fox, Terry-Thomas, Margaret Rutherford

'The real excitement begins when they run out of bullets!'

Arabesque ★★

US 1966 118m Technicolor Panavision
Universal (Stanley Donen)

An Oxford professor is asked by Middle Eastern oil magnates to decipher a hieroglyphic, and finds afterwards that he is marked for assassination.
The ultimate in sixties spy kaleidoscopes, in which the working out of the plot matters much less than the stars, the jokes and the lavish backgrounds. Fast moving, amusing and utterly forgettable.
w Julian Mitchell, Stanley Price, Pierre Marton novel The Cipher by Gordon Cotler d Stanley Donen ph Christopher Challis m Henry Mancini ad Reece Pemberton ed Frederick Wilson
☆ Gregory Peck, Sophia Loren, Alan Badel, Kieron Moore, Carl Duering, John Merivale, Duncan Lamont, George Coulouris, Ernest Clark

'Nothing could look more "with it", or somehow matter less.' – MFB
'A strikingly visual chase and intrigue yarn.' – Robert Windeler
'All rather too flashy for comfort.' – Sight and Sound
† Pierre Marton was a pen name for Peter Stone.
Christopher Challis

Arabian Adventure

GB 1979 98m colour
Badger Films/John Dark

The dictator of Jadur promises his daughter's hand in marriage if a young prince will seek and find a magic rose.
Artless juggling of elements from The Thief of Baghdad, including magic carpets, monsters and a bottle djinn.
w Brian Hayles d Kevin Connor ph Alan Hume m Ken Thorne pd Elliot Scott ☆ Christopher Lee, Oliver Tobias, Mickey Rooney, Milo O'Shea, Elizabeth Welch, Peter Cushing, Capucine

'Resolutely well mounted, but somehow lacking that necessary fillip of Hollywood vulgarity or exuberance.' – John Pym, MFB

Arabian Nights ★

US 1942 86m Technicolor
Universal (Walter Wanger)

The Caliph of Baghdad is deposed by his half-brother but wins back his throne with the help of a dancer and an acrobat.
Well presented oriental adventure which has nothing to do with its source material but entertained multitudes in search of relief from total war and was followed by several vaguely similar slices of hokum with the same stars.
w Michael Hogan d John Rawlins
ph Milton Krasner, William V. Skall, W. Howard Greene m Frank Skinner ad Alexander Golitzen, Jack Otterson
☆ Jon Hall, Maria Montez, Sabu, Leif Erickson, Thomas Gomez, Turhan Bey, John Qualen, Billy Gilbert, Shemp Howard
♫ Milton Krasner, William V. Skall, W. Howard Greene; Frank Skinner; art direction

Arabian Nights: see Il Fiore delle Mille e una Notte (1974)

Araburu Tamashii-tachi: see Agitator

'They Have Come From Another World…To Stay!'

Arachnid

Spain 2001 93m colour
Fantastic Factory/Castelao/Via Digital/TVC/TVG
(Julio Fernandez, Brian Yuzna)

In the South Pacific, a expedition who are searching for the survivor of a plane crash encounter giant alien spiders.
Old-fashioned B movie horror played straight which, given the weak script, was a mistake.
w Mark Sevi d Jack Sholder ph Carlos Gonzalez m Frances Giner ad Enrique Echeverria ed Jaume Vilalta
☆ Alex Reid (Mercer), Chris Potter (Valentine), Pepe Sancho (Dr Samuel Leon), Neus Asensi (Susana), Ravil Isyanov (Henry Capri), Roqueford Allen (Bear)

'Eight legs. Two fangs. And an attitude.'

Arachnophobia ★★

US 1990 109m DeLuxe
Hollywood Pictures/Amblin/Tangled Web
(Kathleen Kennedy, Richard Vane)

A doctor moves with his family from the town to the country to find himself confronting local hostility and a plague of killer spiders.
Executive producer Steven Spielberg's influence is evident in this effectively scary

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

movie set in a small town threatened by a menace it doesn't understand.
w Don Jacoby, Wesley Strick story Don Jacoby, Al Williams d Frank Marshall ph Mikael Salomon m Trevor Jones pd James Bissell ad Christopher Burian-Mohr ed Michael Kahn sp Chris Walas (creatures effects)
☆ Jeff Daniels, Harley Jane Kozak, John Goodman, Julian Sands, Stuart Pankin, Brian McNamara, Mark L. Taylor, Henry Jones
'Not since Jaws has a film come along to make audiences jump in their seats so regularly and enjoyably.' – Variety

Aranyer Din Ratri ★★★

India 1969 115m bw
Contemporary/Priya (Nepal Dutta, Ashim Dutta)
GB and US title: Days and Nights in the Forest
A group of friends leave Calcutta to spend a few days in the country.
Episodic drama of four middle-class idlers forced to re-examine their lives in an unfamiliar environment, comic in tone, with an underlying seriousness.
wd Satyajit Ray novel Sunil Ganguli ph Soumendu Roy, Purnendu Bose m Satyajit Ray ad Bansi Chandragupta ed Dulal Dutta ☆ Soumitra Chatterjee (Ashim), Subhendu Chatterjee (Sanjoy), Samit Bhanja (Hari), Rabi Ghose (Shekhar), Pahari Sanyal (Sadashiv Tripathi), Sarmila Tagore (Aparna), Kaveri Bose (Jaya), Simi Garewal (Duli), Aparna Sen (Hari's former lover)
'One would rate this lucid, ironic and superlatively graceful film among the very best of his work.' – Penelope Huston, MFB
'A major film by one of the great film artists.' – Pauline Kael
'Pretentious, short on plot but striving to be long on character, stylistically awkward as a sign of sincere emotions, and all of it held together by a title that is more poetic than anything in the movie itself.' – William Paul, Village Voice

The Arc

US 1991 95m colour
Cinema Parallel/Film Four (J. K. Eareckson)
A welder, who loses his job, his house, his friends and his wife, decides to take the first bus out of Baltimore.
An episodic, eccentric, low-budget road movie of occasional sharp humour, but more often given over to windy philosophizing.
wd Rob Tregenza ph Rob Tregenza pd Dolores Deluxe ☆ Jason Adams, Kathryn Kelley, Catherine Fogarty, Jennifer Mendenhall

'The story of an outcast and a killer!'

Arch of Triumph ★

US 1948 120m bw
Enterprise (David Lewis)
In postwar Paris, an embittered refugee seeks his former Nazi tormentor and has a tragic romance with a would-be suicide.
Doleful, set-bound melodrama knee-deep in misery and artificial melodramatics. An expensive, ambitious failure, both commercially and artistically, but an interesting one.
w Lewis Milestone, Harry Brown novel Erich Maria Remarque d Lewis Milestone ph Russell Metty m Leonard Gruenberg md Morris Stoloff
☆ Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer, Charles Laughton, Louis Calhern
'Cutting Arch of Triumph improved it considerably. It was terrible for four hours, but now it is only terrible for two hours.' – Charles Boyer
† The film cost 5 million dollars and grossed 1.5 million. The story was remade for TV in 1984.

La Ardilla Roja: see The Red Squirrel

Are We All Murderers?: see Nous Sommes Tous les Assassins

'New house. New family. What could possibly go wrong?'

Are We Done Yet?

US 2007 91m
Sony Pictures/Revolution Studios/RKO Pictures/Cube Vision (Matt Alvarez, Ice Cube, Todd Garner, Ted Hartley)
The newly married hero of Are We There Yet? (qv) finds himself at the mercy of a dilapidated house, his pregnant wife and an overly attentive builder.
Vapid sequel that replays the original's road-trip vulgarity in a domestic setting; the film is, in fact, a remake of Mr Blandings Builds His Dream House (qv), though any resemblance between Ice Cube and Cary Grant is purely accidental.
w Hank Nelken film Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House by Norman Panama, Melvin Frank d Steve Carr ph Jack Green m Teddy Castellucci pd Nina Ruscio ad Kelvin Humenny ed Craig P. Herring
☆ Ice Cube (Nick Persons), Nia Long (Suzanne Persons), John C. McGinley (Chuck Mitchell Jr.), Aleisha Allen (Lindsey Persons), Philip Daniel Bolden (Kevin Persons), Jonathan Katz (Mr Rooney)
'I can only hope the answer to the title's question is "Yes".' – Johnny Vaughan, Sun

'24 hours. 350 miles. His girlfriend's kids. What could possibly go wrong?'

Are We There Yet? ②

US 2005 94m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Revolution/Cube Vision (Dan Kolsrud, Ice Cube, Matt Alvarez)
A toy-shop owner tries train, plane and car to get his girlfriend's two aggressive small children from Portland, Oregon, to Vancouver.
Crude, violent and unfunny slapstick featuring the most obnoxious children imaginable, the tiredest gags and a talking doll making unneccessary comments on the action.
w Steven Gary Banks, Claudia Grazioso, J. David Stem, David N. Weiss d Brian Levant ph Thomas Ackerman m David Newman pd Stephen Lineweaver ed Lawrence Jordan
☆ Ice Cube (Nick Persons), Nia Long (Suzanne Kingston), Jay Mohr (Marty), M.C. Gainey (Al), Aleisha Allen (Lindsey Kingston), Philip Daniel Bolden (Kevin Kingston), Tracy Morgan (Voice of Satchel Paige), Nichelle Nichols (Miss Mable)
'A joyless road-trip comedy that's about as pleasant as a bad case of car sickness (which happens to be one of pic's prominent gags).' – Scott Foundas, Variety
† The movie cost around $30m and took more than $81m at the US box-office.

Are You Being Served?

GB 1977 95m Technicolor
EMI (Andrew Mitchell)
The staff of the clothing section of a department store go on holiday to the Costa Plonka.
Feeble enlargement of an old-fashioned but very popular TV series relying heavily on sexual badinage and ancient jokes.
w Jeremy Lloyd, David Croft d Bob Kellett ph Jack Atcheler m various ☆ John Inman, Frank Thornton, Mollie Sugden, Trevor Bannister, Wendy Richard, Arthur Brough, Nicholas Smith, Arthur English, Harold Bennett, Glyn Houston
'A withering selection of patent British puns.' – John Pym, MFB

Are You With It? ★

US 1948 90m bw
Universal-International (Robert Arthur)
An insurance executive with doubts joins a fun fair and has a whale of a time.
Pleasantly lively low-budget musical.
w Oscar Brodney musical comedy Sam Perrin, George Balzer d Jack Hively ph Maury Gertsman m/ly Sidney Miller, Inez James md Walter Scharf
☆ Donald O'Connor, Olga San Juan, Martha Stewart, Lew Parker

'Men And Women Who Live Dangerously!'

Arena

US 1953 83m Anscocolor 3-D
MGM (Arthur M. Loew Jnr)
A rodeo rider regains his wife and his sense when his best friend is killed.
Routine actioner, distinguished by 3-D camerawork.
w Harold Jack Bloom story Arthur Loew Jnr d Richard Fleischer ph Paul C. Vogel m Rudolph G. Kopp ad Cedric Gibbons, Merrill Pye ed Irvine 'Cotton' Warburton ☆ Gig Young (Bob Dawson), Jean Hagen (Meg Hutchins), Polly Bergen (Ruth Danvers), Henry Morgan (Lew Hutchins), Barbara Lawrence (Sylvia Morgan), Robert Horton (Jackie Roach), Lee Van Cleef (Smitty), Lee Aaker (Teddy Hutchins)

The Arena

US 1973 83m Technicolor Techniscope
EMI/New World (Mark Damon)
aka: Naked Warriors
Female slaves, who have been forced to fight one another as gladiators, rebel against their small-town owner.
Standard exploitation picture, ringing a slight change on the genre's usual women's prison dramas but employing many of the same clichés.
w John William Corrington, Joyce Hooper Corrington d Steve Carver ph Aristide Massacessi m Francesco de Masi ad Mimmo Scavia ed Joe Dante, Piera Bruni ☆ Pam Grier, Margaret Markov, Lucretia Love, Paul Muller, Daniel Vargas, Marie Louise, Mary Count

L'Argent ★★★

Switzerland/France 1983 84m colour
EOS/Marion's Films/FR3 (Jean-Marc Henchoz)
A tragic chain of events is started when a forged note is passed in a photographer's shop.
A bleak Bressonian study of conscience, fate and atonement.
wd Robert Bresson story The False Note by Leo Tolstoy ph Emmanuel Machuel, Pasqualino de Santis m Bach ad Pierre Guffroy ed Jean Francois Naudon
☆ Christian Patey (Yvon Targe), Sylvie Van Den Elsen (Old Woman), Michel Briguet (The Woman's Father), Caroline Lang (Elise Targe)

L'Argent de Poche: see Small Change

Aria ★

GB/US 1988 98m colour
Virgin Vision/Warner (Don Boyd)
A man wanders through Italian streets and buildings, a journey interrupted as operatic arias are combined with glossy visuals.
Ten directors, given freedom to illustrate the music in any manner they wanted, display a paucity of imagination.
w Nicolas Roeg, Charles Sturridge, Jean-Luc Godard, Julien Temple, Bruce Beresford, Robert Altman, Franc Roddam, Ken Russell, Derek Jarman, Bill Bryden, Don Boyd d Nicolas Roeg, Charles Sturridge, Jean-Luc Godard, Julien Temple, Bruce Beresford, Robert Altman, Franc Roddam, Ken Russell, Derek Jarman, Bill Bryden ph Harvey Harrison, Gale Tattersall, Carolyn Champetier, Oliver Stapleton, Dante Spinotti, Pierre Mignot, Frederick Elmes, Gabriel Beristain, Mike Southon, Christopher Hughes m Verdi, Lully, Korngold, Rameau, Wagner, Puccini, Charpentier, Leoncavallo md Ralph Mace pd Diana Johnstone, Andrew McAlpine, Stephen Altman, Piers Plowden, Scott Bushnell, John Hay, Matthew Jacobs, Paul Dufficey, Christopher Hobbs ed Marie Therese Boiche, Mike Cragg, Tony Lawson, Matthew Longfellow, Neil Abrahamson, Jennifer Auge, Rich Elgood, Michael Bradsell, Peter Cartwright, Angus Cook
☆ Theresa Russell, Nicola Swain, Jack Kyle, Marion Peters, Valerie Allain, Buck Henry, Anita Morris, Beverly D'Angelo, Elizabeth Hurley, Peter Birch, Bertrand Bonvoison, Julie Hagerty, Bridget Fonda, James Mathers, Linzi Drew and also Andreas Wisniewski, Tilda Swinton, Spencer Leigh, John Hurt, Sophie Ward

Ariane

Germany 1931 78m bw
Nerofilm
An innocent young girl falls for a man of the world and makes him think she is a cocotte.
Sophisticated comedy later remade as Love in the Afternoon (qv); this version is interesting chiefly for its presentation of a new star.
w Paul Czinner, Carl Mayer novel Claude Anet d Paul Czinner ☆ Elisabeth Bergner, Rudolf Forster, Annemarie Steinsieck, Hertha Guthmar

Ariel ★

Finland 1988 72m colour
Electric/Villealfa (Aki Kaurismäki)
A redundant miner is forced by circumstances to take to a life of crime.
Episodic movie with not much sense of reality.
wd Aki Kaurismäki ph Timo Salminen pd Risto Karhula ed Raija Talvio ☆ Turo Pajala, Susanna Haavisto, Matti Pellonpää, Eetu Hilkamo, Erkki Pajala, Matti Jaaranen, Hannu Viholainen
'It's a documentation of the destruction of Finland.' – Aki Kaurismäki

'Here's the gay, glorious story of a war correspondent and a war ace ... a romance that could happen only in 1940!'

Arise My Love ★★★

US 1940 113m bw
Paramount (Arthur Hornblow Jnr)
American reporters in Europe and in love survive the Spanish Civil War, a wrathful editor in Paris and the sinking of the Athenia.
Unique sophisticated entertainment gleaned from the century's grimmest headlines, ending with a plea against American isolationism. A significant and stylish comedy melodrama.

w Charles Brackett, Billy Wilder d Mitchell Leisen ph Charles Lang m Victor Young ad Hans Dreier, Robert Usher ed Doane Harrison ☆ Claudette Colbert (Augusta Nash), Ray Milland (Tom Martin), Walter Abel (Mr Phillips), Dennis O'Keefe (Joe Shepard), George Zucco (Prison Governor), Dick Purcell (Pinky O'Connor), Frank Puglia (Fr. Jacinto), Esther Dale (Secretary)
Walter Abel (Mr Phillips): "I'm not happy. I'm not happy at all..."
'Against the background of European fisticuffs, Paramount brings forth a film of absorbing romantic interest, proving that love will find a way through the hazards of air raids, torpedo attacks and enemy invasions.' – Variety † Joel McCrea was originally cast for the Milland role.
original story (Benjamin Glazer, John S. Toldy)
Charles Lang; Victor Young; art direction

The Aristocats ★★

US 1970 78m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Wolfgang Reiterman, Winston Hibler)

Two cats are deliberately lost by a butler who fears they will inherit his mistress's wealth; but a variety of animal friends restore them to their rightful place.
Cartoon feature, a moderate example of the studio's work after Disney's death, with rather too few felicitous moments.
w Larry Clemmons and others d Wolfgang Reitherman
☆ Featuring the voices of Phil Harris, Eva Gabor, Sterling Holloway, Scatman Crothers, Paul Winchell, Hermione Baddeley, Roddy Maude-Roxby

'No Nudity. No Violence. Unspeakable Obscenity.'

The Aristocrats ★★ ⑦

US 2005 89m colour
Mighty Cheese (Peter Adam Golden)

A hundred or so comedians each tell, with their own variations, the dirtiest joke in the world.
Essentially a home movie, but a lot funnier than most.
d Paul Provenza ph Paul Provenza, Michael Lynn, Tristan Prescott, Penn Jillette et al m Gary Stockdale ed Emery Emery, Paul Provenza ☆ Shelley Berman, George Carlin, Billy Connolly, Phyllis Diller, Eddie Izzard, Don Rickles, The Smothers Brothers, Robin Williams, etc.
'What fascinates is, first, that these comics treat the joke the way jazz musicians might treat a theme that each of them plays differently; and, second, that the passage of this joke from one comic to another is like the bonding of a profession.' – Stanley Kauffmann, New Republic
† The DVD release included two hours of extra material.

Arizona

US 1940 125m bw
Columbia (Wesley Ruggles)

A Tucson wildcat meets her match in a travelling Missourian who helps her outwit villains who are sabotaging her wagon trains.
Loosely built, deliberately paced Western which for all its pretensions makes very little impact.
w Claude Binyon d Wesley Ruggles ph Joseph Walker, Harry Hollenberger, Fayte Brown m Victor Young ad Lionel Banks, Robert Peterson ☆ Jean Arthur, William Holden, Warren William, Porter Hall, Paul Harvey, George Chandler, Byron Foulger, Regis Toomey, Edgar Buchanan
'Lacks the sweep and dramatic impulse that would have made it a great picture.' – Variety
Victor Young; art direction

Arizona Dream ★★

US/France 1991 142m colour
Electric/Constellation/UGC/Hachette (Claudie Ossard, Yves Marmion)

A young New York fish counter visits his uncle in Arizona and falls in love with an older woman.
A quirky fantasy, sometimes engaging, sometimes maddening in its deliberate oddness, but always original and often surprising.
w David Atkins d Emir Kusturica ph Vilko Filac m Goran Bregovic pd Miljen Kljakovic ed Andrija Zafranovic ☆ Johnny Depp, Faye Dunaway, Jerry Lewis, Lili Taylor, Paulina Porizkova, Vincent Gallo, Candyce Mason
'A marathon, self-indulgent, often profoundly tedious sprawl which you go with, part of the time at least, for its sudden flashes of visionary splendour.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent
† The film was cut to 119m for its British and US releases. Kusturica walked off the film at one point following a dispute with his producers, and only returned when he was allowed to continue without interference.

Arizona Raiders

US 1965 88m Techniscope
Admiral/Columbia

Two of Quantrell's Raiders are offered a pardon if they will round up renegades.
Stereotyped Western, poorly processed.
w Alex Gottlieb, Mary and Willard Willingham d William Witney ☆ Audie Murphy, Michael Dante, Ben Cooper, Buster Crabbe, Gloria Talbott

Arizona to Broadway

US 1933 66m bw
Fox

A small-town girl in the big city is changed by a con man.
Fast-moving support which has its moments.
w William Conselman, Henry Johnson d James Tinling
☆ James Dunn, Joan Bennett, Herbert Mundin, Sammy Cohen, Theodore von Eltz, J. Carrol Naish, Walter Catlett

The Arizonian

US 1935 72m bw
RKO

Lawless Silver City gets a reform marshal.
Adequate first-feature Western, but not a spectacular.
w Dudley Nichols d Charles Vidor
☆ Richard Dix, Margot Grahame, Preston Foster, Louis Calhern
'Through the names it can slip into the keys where westerns rarely treat, and where, therefore, horse operas are regarded as refreshing novelties.' – Variety

'How Well Do You Know Your Neighbour?'

Arlington Road ★★

US 1999 DeLuxe Panavision
Sony/Screen Gems/Lakeshore Entertainment (Peter Samuelson, Tom Gorai, Marc Samuelson)

A history professor suspects that his suburban neighbour is a terrorist.
Clever psychological thriller, in which the paranoia is justified.
w Ehren Kruger d Mark Pellington ph Bobby Bukowski m Angelo Badalamenti pd Therese Deprez ed Conrad Buff
☆ Jeff Bridges, Tim Robbins, Joan Cusack, Hope Davis, Robert Gossett, Mason Gamble, Spencer Treat Clark, Stanley Anderson
'An intelligent, insidiously plotted Hitchcockian thriller directed in souped-up, modern expressionistic style.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Armageddon

Canada/Netherlands 1997 93m colour
Nu Image (Brian Irving)

In an authoritarian Russia of the future, a former CIA agent, murdered in Moscow by his partner-in-crime, is brought back to life to take revenge on his killer.
Turgid and violent action movie that offers no surprises, due to its reliance on the usual clichés of the genre; it is, however, sillier than most of its kind.
w Tibor Takacs, Brian Irving d Tibor Takacs ph Zoltan David m Guy Zerafa pd Istvan Ocztos ed Neil Grieve
☆ Rutger Hauer, Mark Dacascos, Yvonne Scio, Patrick Dreihauss, Randall William Cook
'Eye-catching production values, some nicely atmospheric lighting and a winning line in throwaway humour buoy up this classy action fodder.' – Sight and Sound

Armageddon

US 1998 150m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Valhalla (Jerry Bruckheimer, Gale Anne Hurd, Michael Bay)

A maverick gang of oil-drillers go into space to put a nuclear bomb on an asteroid that threatens to destroy the Earth.
Loud and brainless action movie that was among the top box-office successes of 1998.
w Jonathan Hensleigh, J. J. Abrams, Robert Roy Pool, Tony Gilroy, Shane Salerno d Michael Bay ph John Schwartzman m Trevor Rabin pd Michael White ed Mark Goldblatt, Chris Lebenzon, Glen Scantlebury sp Pat McClung, Richard Hoover; Dream Quest Images
☆ Bruce Willis (Harry S. Stamper), Billy Bob Thornton (Dan Truman), Liv Tyler (Grace Stamper), Ben Affleck (A.J. Frost), Will Patton (Charles Chapple), Peter Stormare (Lev Andropov), Keith David (General Kimsey), Steve Buscemi (Rockhound), Owen Wilson (Oscar Choi), William Fichtner (Col William Sharp), Jessica Steen (Jennifer Watts), Jason Isaacs (Ronald Quincy), Grace Zabriskie (Dottie), Udo Kier (Psychologist), Michael Clarke Duncan (Jayotis Kurleenbear) and also Charlton Heston (narrator)
'Effects-obsessed and dramatically benumbed.' – Variety
† The film cost $150m and took more than $464m at the box-office worldwide. It was preceded by Deep Impact (qv), a film with an identical theme.
song 'I Don't Want to Miss a Thing (m/ly Diane Warren); sound; sound effects editing; visual effects

Armed and Dangerous

US 1985 85m DeLuxe
Columbia (Brian Grazer, James Keach)

An ex-cop and a former lawyer uncover criminal activities at a private security company.
Comedy in which most of the humour depends on high-speed car crashes.
w Harold Ramis, Peter Torokvei story Brian Grazer, Harold Ramis, James Keach d Mark L. Lester ph Fred Schuler pd David L.Snyder ed Michael Hill, Daniel Hanley, Gregory Prange
☆ John Candy, Eugene Levy, Robert Loggia, Kenneth McMillan, Meg Ryan, Brion James, Jonathan Banks, Don Stroud, Larry Hankin
'In a way, this is a highly immoral film. It is made for the very young and will undoubtedly give them the idea that they can drive as recklessly and the like without doing anyone serious damage. Not a pint of blood is spilled. Victims climb unscathed out of cars that have been reduced to so much abstract sculpture. This is bad propaganda, but, like so much that is immoral, it is highly entertaining.' – Quentin Crisp

Armed Response

US 1986 85m United Color
Cinetel (Paul Hertzberg)

A private eye retrieves a jade antique for a Japanese gangster.
Violent low budgeter with allusions for film buffs.
w T. L. Lankford d Fred Olen Ray
☆ David Carradine, Lee Van Cleef, Mako, Lois Hamilton, Ross Hagen

L'Armée Des Ombres: see The Army in the Shadows

Armored Attack: see North Star

Armored Car Robbery ★

US 1950 67m bw
RKO (Herman Schlom)

A police lieutenant leads the recovery of half a million dollars stolen by gangsters.
Good competent second feature with Los Angeles locations and detailed observation of police methods.
w Earl Felton, Gerald Drayson Adams story Robert Angus, Robert Leeds d Richard Fleischer ph Guy Roe md Constantin Bakaleinikoff ad Albert D'Agostino, Ralph Berger ed Desmond Marquette
☆ Charles McGraw (Cordell), Adele Jergens (Yvonne), William Talman (Dave Purvus), Douglas Fowley (Benny), Steve Brodie (Mapes)

Armored Command

US 1961 105m bw
Allied Artists (Ron W. Alcorn)

During the Battle of the Bulge, a ravishing Nazi spy is infiltrated into an American army outpost.
Incredible Mata Hari melodrama posing as a war film, nicely shot in bleak snowscapes. Not exactly rewarding, but unusual.
w Ron W. Alcorn d Byron Haskin ph Ernest Haller m Bert Grund ☆ Howard Keel, Tina Louise, Burt Reynolds, Earl Holliman, Warner Anderson, Carleton Young, Marty Ingels

The Armour of God

Hong Kong 1987 90m colour
Golden Harvest (L. K. C. Ho, Chua Lam)

original title: Long Xiong Hu Di

A martial arts expert goes in search of a valuable suit of armour.

Standard kung-fu adventure.

w Edward Tang story Barry Wong d Jackie Chan ph Bob Thompson m Michael Rai ad William Cheung ed Cheung Yiu Chung

☆ Jackie Chan, Alan Tam, Rosamund Kwan, Lola Forner

Armour of God II: see Operation Condor

Arms and the Girl: see Red Salute

Arms and the Man

GB 1932 85m bw
BIP/Wardour

A soldier who finds discretion the better part of valour hides in a girl's bedroom.

Faithful but uninspired version of Bernard Shaw's play.

wd Cecil Lewis play George Bernard Shaw ad John Mead ed Walter Stokvis

☆ Barry Jones, Anne Grey, Angela Baddeley

The Army in the Shadows ★★★

France/Italy 1969 143m colour
Films Corona/Fono Roma (Jacques Dorfman)

original title: L'Armée Des Ombres

A group of Resistance fighters in Lyon try to discover the traitors in their midst.

Moving, harrowing and, in its depiction of a bungled execution, horrific account of the French Resistance at work, notable for the excellence of the direction and acting.

wd Jean-Pierre Melville novel Joseph Kessel ph Pierre L'homme m Eric de Marsan ad Théobald Meurisse ed Françoise Bonnot

☆ Lino Ventura (Philippe Gerbier), Simone Signoret (Mathilde), Jean-Pierre Cassel (Jean Francois), Paul Meurisse (Luc Jardie), Claude Mann (Le Masque), Paul Crauchet (Felix), Christian Barbier (Le Bison)

Army of Darkness

US 1992 109m DeLuxe
Guild/Renaissance/Introvision (Robert Tapert)

aka: Evil Dead III

aka: Army of Darkness: The Medieval Dead

Thrust back in time to medieval England, a supermarket assistant searches for a spell to return him to his own time and instead causes the dead to rise from their graves.

Comic horror of uncertain tone, which occasionally raises a smile, but is much influenced for the worse by the work of the Three Stooges.

w Sam Raimi, Ivan Raimi d Sam Raimi ph Bill Pope m Joseph LoDuca pd Tony Tremblay ed Bob Murawski, R. O. C. Sandstorm

☆ Bruce Campbell, Embeth Davidtz, Marcus Gilbert, Ian Abercrombie, Richard Grove, Michael Earl Reid, Bridget Fonda

'Preoccupied with repetitive and clumsy battle scenes and mild, bloodless effects, Army of Darkness falls off the knife-edge between humour and horror.' – Kim Newman

'Neither fantastic nor funny enough, despite its plethora of special effects and artful jokiness, to pass muster as anything much.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† It was the third film in Raimi's sequence, following The Evil Dead and The Evil Dead II (qqv).

Army of One: see Joshua Tree

Arnold

US 1973 95m DeLuxe
Avco/Fenady (Charles A. Pratt, Andrew Fenady)

Via cassette recordings, a dead man toys with his would-be heirs, and several are murdered.

Unpleasant and very laboured black comedy on the lines of And Then There Were None and a hundred others, all better than this.

w Jameson Brewer, John Fenton Murray d George Fenady ph William Jurgenson m George Duning

☆ Stella Stevens, Roddy McDowall, Elsa Lanchester, Shani Wallis, Farley Granger, Victor Buono, John McGiver, Bernard Fox, Patric Knowles

† Apparently made back to back with Terror in the Wax Museum (qv), which has very similar credits.

'The skeletons in the family closet just came out to play.'

Around the Bend ④

US 2004 84m Technicolor
Warner (Elliott Lewitt, Julie Kirkham)

Obeying the will of his grandfather, a man goes on a road trip with his son and the father he has not seen for 30 years to scatter the dead man's ashes.

Indigestible movie of determinedly quirky characters who succeed only in being as uninteresting as the fast food they relentlessly consume.

wd Jordan Roberts ph Michael Grady m David Baerwald pd Sarah Knowles ed Francoise Bonnot

☆ Christopher Walken (Turner Lair), Josh Lucas (Jason Lair), Michael Caine (Henry Lair), Glenne Headly (Katrina), Jonah Bobo (Zach)

'Feels as if it were written in the immediate aftermath of a particularly inspirational screenwriting seminar, in which all the secrets of the mythic plot, the emotional growth trajectory and the big reveal had been meticulously outlined in purple chalk on the blackboard.' – Stephen Hunter, Washington Post

† Although Caine plays Walken's father, the two actors are only ten years apart in age.

Around the World

US 1943 81m bw
RKO (Allan Dwan)

Kay Kyser's band goes on a world tour to entertain troops overseas.

Typical wartime patriotic musical, now of sociological interest.

w Ralph Spence d Allan Dwan ph Russell Metty m George Duning m/ly Jimmy McHugh, Harold Adamson md Constantin Bakaleinikoff

☆ Kay Kyser, Ish Kabibble, Ginny Simms, Joan Davis, Mischa Auer

'Let your imagination soar.'

Around the World in 80 Days

GB/Germany/Ireland 2004 119m
Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Walden/80 Days/Babelsberg/Fitzwilliam (Hal Lieberman, Bill Badalato)

A British inventor, aided by a Chinese adventurer, bets that he can circumnavigate the globe in 80 days.

Amiable adventure designed to display the comic side of Jackie Chan's all-action style.

w David Titcher, David Benullo, David Goldstein novel Jules Verne d Frank Coraci ph Phil Meheux m Trevor Jones pd Perry Andelin Blake ed Tom Lewis

☆ Jackie Chan (Passepartout/Lau Xing), Steve Coogan (Phileas Fogg), Cecile de France (Monique La Roche), Jim Broadbent (Lord Kelvin), Ewen Bremner (Inspector Fix), Ian McNeice (Colonel Kitchner), Roger Hammond (Lord Rhodes), Karen Joy Morris (General Fang), Mark Addy (Steamer Captain), David Ryall (Lord Salisbury), John Cleese (Grizzled Sergeant), Sammo Hung (Wong Fei Hung), Kathy Bates (Queen Victoria), Arnold Schwarzenegger (Prince Hapi), Rob Schneider (San Francisco Hobo)

'Ends up being more slapdash than slapstick. Jules Verne must be turning in his grave.' – Caroline Westbrook, Empire

'It's a wonderful world, if you'll only take the time to go around it!'

Around the World in Eighty Days ★★★

US 1956 178m Technicolor
Todd-AO
UA (Michael Todd)

A Victorian gentleman and his valet win a bet that they can go round the world in eighty days.

Amiable large-scale pageant resolving itself into a number of sketches, which could have been much sharper, separated by wide screen spectacle. What was breathtaking at the time seems generally slow and blunted in retrospect, but the fascination of recognizing 44 cameo stars remains. The film is less an exercise in traditional skills than a tribute to its producer's energy.

w James Poe, John Farrow, S. J. Perelman novel Jules Verne d Michael Anderson, Kevin McClory ph Lionel Lindon m Victor Young ad James W. Sullivan, Ken Adams ed Gene Ruggiero, Paul Weatherwax titles Saul Bass

☆ David Niven (Phileas Fogg), Cantinflas (Passepartout), Robert Newton (Inspector Fix), Shirley MacLaine (Princess Aouda), Charles Boyer (Monsieur Casse), Joe E. Brown (Station Master), Martine Carol (Tourist), John Carradine (Col. Proctor Stamp), Charles Coburn (Clerk), Ronald Colman (Railway Official), Melville Cooper (Steward), Noël Coward (Hesketh-Baggott), Finlay Currie (Whist Partner), Reginald Denny (Police Chief), Andy Devine (First Mate) and also Marlene Dietrich, Luis Dominguin, Fernandel, John Gielgud, Hermione Gingold, Jose Greco, Cedric Hardwicke, Trevor Howard, Glynis Johns, Buster Keaton, Evelyn Keyes, Beatrice Lillie, Peter Lorre, Edmund Lowe, A. E. Matthews, Mike Mazurki, Tim McCoy, Victor McLaglen, John Mills, Alan Mowbray, Robert Morley, Jack Oakie, George Raft, Gilbert Roland, Cesar Romero, Frank Sinatra, Red Skelton, Ronald Squire, Basil Sidney, Harcourt Williams, Ed Murrow

'Michael Todd's "show", shorn of the ballyhoo and to critics not mollified by parties and sweetmeats, is a film like any other, only twice as long as most ... the shots of trains and boats seem endless.' – David Robinson

picture; James Poe, John Farrow, S. J. Perelman; Lionel Lindon; Victor Young

Michael Anderson; art direction; editing

Around the World under the Sea

US 1966 110m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM/Ivan Tors (Andrew Marton)

An ultra-modern underwater craft travels around the seabed fixing sensors to give early warning of volcanoes.

Earnest, dullish, elementary sci-fi with cardboard characters providing routine five men-one woman skirmishes.

w Arthur Weiss, Art Arthur d Andrew Marton, Ricou Browning ph Clifford Poland, Lamar Boren m Harry Sukman

☆ Lloyd Bridges, Shirley Eaton, Brian Kelly, David McCallum, Keenan Wynn, Marshall Thompson, Gary Merrill

Arouse and Beware: see The Man from Dakota

The Arrangement ★★

US 1969 127m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Athena (Elia Kazan)

A wealthy advertising man fails in a suicide attempt and spends his convalescence reflecting on his unsatisfactory emotional life.

A lush, all-American melodrama, rich in technique but peopled by characters who have nothing to say; the film makes no discernible point except as a well-acted tirade against the compromises of modern urban living.

wd Elia Kazan novel Elia Kazan ph Robert Surtees m David Amram pd Malcolm C. Bert

☆ Kirk Douglas, Faye Dunaway, Deborah Kerr, Richard Boone, Hume Cronyn

'The sort of collage that won't fit together, no matter where you stand.' – PS

'As dead as a flower arrangement in an undertaker's parlour ... all possible cinematic clevernesses – usually yesterday's – are dragged out in an endless parade, to illustrate a senseless and banal story that reels from platitude to platitude.' – John Simon

Arrest Bulldog Drummond: see Bulldog Drummond

The Arrival ★

US 1996 115m Technicolor
Entertainment/Live/Steelwork (Thomas G. Smith, James Steel)

An astronomer realizes that aliens are among us.

Conspiratorial science fiction exhibiting some interesting ideas and managing to incorporate them into a sometimes suspenseful story.

wd David Twohy ph Hiro Narita m Arthur Kempel pd Michael Novotny ed Martin Hunter sp Pacific Data Images

☆ Charlie Sheen, Ron Silver, Lindsay Crouse, Teri Polo, Richard Schiff, Leon Rippy, Tony T. Johnson

'Confusing and incoherent, implausible even by SF standards.' – Sight and Sound

Arrivederci Baby: see Drop Dead Darling

Arrow in the Dust

US 1954 80m Technicolor
Allied Artists (Hayes Goetz)

An army deserter assumes the identity of a cavalry captain to help defend a wagon-train from marauding Indians.

Effective minor Western, gaining from its redemptive, reluctant hero, forced to act against his own best interests.

w Don Martin novel L.L. Foreman d Lesley Selander ph Ellis W. Carter

m Marlin Skiles ad David Milton ed William Austin ☆ Sterling Hayden, Coleen Gray, Keith Larsen, Tom Tully, Jimmy Wakely, Tudor Owen, Lee Van Cleef, John Pickard, Carleton Young

Arrowhead

US 1953 105m Technicolor 3D
Paramount (Nat Holt)

Enmity between an army scout and an Indian chief is resolved by single combat.
Standard Western, good-looking but rather lifeless.
wd Charles Marquis Warren novel W. R. Burnett ph Ray Rennahan m Paul Sawtell ☆ Charlton Heston, Jack Palance, Katy Jurado, Brian Keith, Milburn Stone Arrowsmith ★

US 1931 108m bw
Samuel Goldwyn

The self-sacrificing career of a doctor.
Emotionally satisfactory, dramatically slow and unsurprising variation on a theme which has since been treated far too often.
w Sidney Howard novel Sinclair Lewis d John Ford ph Ray June m Alfred Newman ad Richard Day
☆ Ronald Colman, Helen Hayes, Richard Bennett, Myrna Loy, Charlotte Henry, Beulah Bondi, A. E. Anson

'Pictures would do better to stay clear of these elaborately biographical novels with their wealth of actionless detail ... That portion of the citizenry which read the Sinclair Lewis novel will probably be in sympathy with the film, those who didn't will not be prone to deem this macabre tale entertainment.' – Variety

† The negative was later cut to about 89m for reissue, and this version, virtually eliminating Myrna Loy, is the only one now available.
best picture; Sidney Howard; Ray June; Richard Day

Arsenal ★★

USSR 1929 99m (16 fps) bw silent
VUFKU

The 1914 war is made worse by strikes at home.
Patchy propagandist drama with brilliant sequences.
wd Alexander Dovzhenko ph Danylo Demutsky
☆ S. Svashenko, A. Buchma, M. Nademsky

'A romantic and lyrical masterpiece.' – Georges Sadoul

The Arsenal Stadium Mystery

GB 1939 85m bw
G&S/GFD

A footballer is poisoned during a match.
Brisk little mystery, with an amiable star performance.
w Thorold Dickinson, Donald Bull novel Leonard Gribble d Thorold Dickinson ☆ Leslie Banks, Greta Gynt, Esmond Knight, Brian Worth

'This picture is as good to watch as either of the Thin Man films, and Dickinson gives us wit instead of facetiousness – wit of cutting and wit of angle.' – Graham Greene

Arsène Lupin ★★

US 1932 75m bw
MGM

The Parisian gentleman thief accomplishes some daring robberies and is almost caught stealing the Mona Lisa.
Amusing crook comedy with a few flat passages but much sparkle in between, and a lively finale.
w Carey Wilson, Lenore Coffee, Bayard Veiller play Maurice Le Blanc, Francis de Croisset d Jack Conway ph Oliver Marsh ad Cedric Gibbons ed Hugh Wynn
☆ John Barrymore, Lionel Barrymore, Karen Morley, Tully Marshall, John Miljan

'First screen appearance of John and Lionel together and their acting of this old standard detective story ensures its box office in spite of the absence of other qualities that make for notable screen successes ... At least it addresses itself to a higher class of fans than the lurid type of dime novel subject.' – Variety

Arsène Lupin Returns

US 1938 81m bw
MGM (John W. Considine Jnr)

The reformed jewel thief helps an American detective to track down a French criminal.
Smooth but disappointingly scripted sequel which never quite rises to a climax despite sympathetic casting.
w James Kevin McGuinness, Howard Emmett Rogers, George Harmon Coxe d George Fitzmaurice ph George Folsey m Franz Waxman
☆ Melvyn Douglas, Warren William, Virginia Bruce, John Halliday, Nat Pendleton, Monty Woolley, George Zucco, E. E. Clive

'A first-class mystery jewel theft combo ... for the top side of the marquee pairing, missing A classification quite a little, but still being okay.' – Variety

Arsenic and Old Lace ★★★

US 1944 118m bw
Warner (Frank Capra)

Two dear, well-meaning old ladies invite lonely old men to their Brooklyn home, poison them with elderberry wine, and have their mad brother, who believes the corpses are yellow fever victims, bury them in the cellar. A homicidal nephew then turns up with bodies of his own.
A model for stage play adaptations, this famous black farce provided a frenzy of hilarious activity, and its flippant attitude to death was better received in wartime than would have been the case earlier or later. The director coaxed some perfect if overstated performances from his star cast, and added his own flair for perpetuating a hubbub.
w Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, with help from Howard Lindsay, Russel Crouse play Joseph Kesselring d Frank Capra ph Sol Polito m Max Steiner
☆ Cary Grant (Mortimer Brewster), Josephine Hull (Abby Brewster), Jean Adair (Martha Brewster), Priscilla Lane (Elaine Harper), Raymond Massey (Jonathan Brewster), John Alexander (Teddy Brewster), Peter Lorre (Dr Einstein), James Gleason (Lt Rooney), Jack Carson (Officer O'Hara), Edward Everett Horton (Mr Witherspoon), Grant Mitchell (Reverend Harper)
MORTIMER: 'Insanity runs in my family. It practically gallops.'
MARTHA: 'One of our gentlemen found time to say "How delicious!" before he died...'
† Made in 1942 but not released immediately.

The Art of Dying

US 1991 93m Foto-Kem
PM (Richard Pepin, Joseph Merhi)

A maverick cop tracks down a pornographer who films and kills his victims while re-enacting famous murders from the movies.
Slow, unpleasant homophobic thriller about a cut-rate Dirty Harry; the emphasis is on atmosphere and the hero's uninteresting love-life rather than on action.
w Joseph Merhi d Wings Hauser ph Richard Pepin m John Gonzalez pd Greg Martin ed Geraint Bell, Paul Volk
☆ Wings Hauser, Kathleen Kinmont, Michael J. Pollard, Gary Werntz, Mitch Hara, Sarah Douglas, Sydney Lassick

The Art of Love

US 1965 99m Technicolor
Universal/Cherokee/Ross Hunter

To stimulate interest in his work, a penniless artist fakes suicide, subsequently becoming so famous that he finds it difficult to reappear.
A pleasant black comedy idea is buried under lush production, dull direction and a host of unattractive Parisian sets.
w Carl Reiner d Norman Jewison ph Russell Metty m Cy Coleman ed Milton Carruth
☆ James Garner, Dick Van Dyke, Angie Dickinson, Elke Sommer, Ethel Merman, Pierre Olaf

The Art of Love (dubbed)

France/Italy 1983 87m colour
ZT/Distributione/Nija/Oitra Impex/Man International (Ugo Tucci)

In Rome, Ovid lectures on the subject of love, while some of his pupils practise his teachings.
Soft-core eroticism with a little twist at the end, done with slightly more style than usual.
wd Walerian Borowczyk m Luis Bacalov ed Walerian Borowczyk
☆ Marina Pierro, Massimo Girotti, Laura Betti, Milena Vukotic, Philippe Lemaire, Michele Placido

'Do you know who your enemy is?'

The Art of War

US/Canada 2000 117m DeLuxe
Warner/Morgan Creek/Franchise/Amen Ra/Filmline (Nicolas Clermont)

An agent for the United Nations finds himself on the run from the FBI and Triad gangs after being framed for the murder of the Chinese UN ambassador.
Luridly ridiculous thriller that juggles all the usual stereotypes and situations to little effect.
w Wayne Beach, Simon Davis Barry d Christian Duguay ph Pierre Gill m Normand Corbeil pd Anne Pritchard ed Michel Arcand cos Odette Gadoury
☆ Wesley Snipes (Neil Shaw), Anne Archer (Eleanor Hooks), Maury Chaykin (Capella), Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa (David Chan), Donald Sutherland (Douglas Thomas), Michael Biehn (Bly), Marie Matiko (Julia), Liliana Kmorowska (Novak), James Hong (Ambassador Wu)

'Ludicrous, impenetrable and headache-inducing.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

'It is an understatement to say that this ugly, strident, boring film leaves a nasty taste in the mouth.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'Sexy. Defiant. Provocative. Her passion for art changed the face of history.'

Artemisia ★

France/Germany/Italy 1997 102m Technicolor
Premiere Heure/France3/Schlemmer/3 Emme (Patrice Haddad)

In 17th-century Italy, a female artist comes to grief when she ignores the social and sexual barriers of her time and class.
Engrossing period drama, richly photographed, though it is romance, rather than art, that is at the centre oif the action.
w Agnes Merlet, Christine Miller, Patrick Amos d Agnes Merlet ph Benoit Delhomme m Krishna Levy pd Antonello Geleng ed Guy Lecorne cos Dominique Borg ☆ Michel Serrault (Orazio Gentileschi), Valentina Cervi (Artemisia Gentileschi), Miki Manojlovic (Agostino Tassi), Luca Zingaretti (Cosimo Quorli), Brigitte Catillon (Tuzia), Frederic Pierrot (Roberto), Maurice Garrel (The Judge), Emmanuelle Devos (Costanza)

'When all is said and done, Artemisia is still essentially a bodice-ripper. But it is one that also happens to have a brain.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

'I race cars, I play tennis, I fondle women, but I have weekends off and I am my own boss!'

Arthur ★

US 1981 97m Technicolor
Warner/Orion (Robert Greenhut)

A rich New York layabout is forced to moderate his life style in order to qualify for his inheritance.
An unattractive excuse for the star to do his drunk act. In effect his thunder was stolen by Gielgud as the valet who is not above a few choice four-letter words; but over the whole enterprise hung a pall of desperation. It is a sign of its times that it made a lot of money.
wd Steve Gordon ph Fred Schuler m Burt Bacharach pd Stephen Hendrikson
☆ Dudley Moore, John Gielgud, Liza Minnelli, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Jill Eikenberry, Stephen Elliott

'It comes as no surprise to find the funniest sequences packed into the first half-hour.' – Martyn Auty, MFB
'Gielgud may be the most poised and confident funnyman you'll ever see.' – New Yorker
'Arthur may be the surprise hit of 1981, but to me he's a pain in the neck.' – Margaret Hinxman, Daily Mail
John Gielgud (supporting actor); song 'Best That You Can Do' (Burt Bacharach, Carole Bayer Sager, Christopher Cross, Peter Allen)
screenplay; Dudley Moore

Arthur 2: On the Rocks

US 1988 113m colour
Warner (Robert Shapiro)

Arthur's fortune is threatened by his former fiancée's father, bent on revenge, while his wife wants to adopt a baby.
Moore and friends are much less funny the second time around, and much more sentimental; it's just a sloppy would-be comedy.
w Andy Breckman d Bud Yorkin ph Stephen H. Burum m Burt Bacharach pd Gene Callahan ed Michael Kahn cos Anna Hill Johnston
☆ Dudley Moore, Liza Minnelli, John Gielgud, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Stephen Elliott, Paul Benedict, Cynthia Sikes, Kathy

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆Cast in approximate order of importance · †Points of interest · ♫Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Bates, Jack Gilford, Barney Martin
'Still manages to be an amusing romp.' – Variety

'Small heroes. Big adventure.'

Arthur and the Invisibles ②

France/US 2006 93m
Momentum/EuropaCorp/Avalanche Productions/Apipoulai/Sofica EuropaCorp (Luc Besson, Emmanuel Prevost)

French theatrical title: Arthur et les Minimoys
A young boy finds a magical kingdom of miniature elves concealed in his garden.
Wearying mix of live-action and computer animation from a director renowned for overblown spectacle. The all-star voice cast is more distraction than bonus; perhaps it made more sense in the original French.
w Luc Besson, Celine Garcia book Arthur et les Minimoys by Luc Besson d Luc Besson ph Thierry Arbogast m Eric Serra pd Hugues Tissandier ad Patrice Garcia, Philippe Rouchier ed Charles Labriet
☆ Freddie Highmore (Arthur), Mia Farrow (Granny), Madonna (Princess Selenia (voice)), David Bowie (Maltazard (voice)), Robert De Niro (King (voice)), Harvey Keitel (Miro (voice))
'Little children will like it, and possibly understand it better than I did.' – Philip French, Observer
'Alienating and dislikeable.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

Arthur's Dyke

GB 2001 106m colour
Evolution/Quirky (Steve Sheen, Ron Bareham)
Three former students, who meet after 20 years to repeat their 177-mile walk along Offa's Dyke, are unexpectedly joined by an unhappily married middle-aged woman.
Weak though amiable comedy that loses itself in unnecessary complications and fails to reach a satisfactory resolution.
w Jackie Robb, Berny Stringle d Gerry Poulson ph Doug Hallows m Stephen W. Parsons, Francis Haines ad Humphrey Bangham, Helen Scott ed Paddy Payne ☆ Pauline Quirke (Janet), Robert Daws (Arthur), Richard Graham (Andy), Nicholas Farrell (Geoffrey), Warren Clarke (Doug Manley), Dennis Waterman (Derek Doubleday), Brian Conley (Dave), Rebecca Lacey (Phillipa)

'When the heroes are forgotten. When the stakes are life and death. There's one stand you've got to take. There's one rule you've got to break.'

Article 99

US 1992 100m DeLuxe
Orion/Gruskoff/Levy (Michael Gruskoff, Michael I. Levy)

Doctors and surgeons at a Veterans' Administration hospital ignore red tape in order to treat their patients.
A frenetic movie with more than a touch of hysteria in its treatment of an emotive subject.
w Ron Cutler d Howard Deutch ph Richard Bowen m Danny Elfman pd Virginia L. Randolph ed Richard Halsey
☆ Ray Liotta, Kiefer Sutherland, Forest Whitaker, Lea Thompson, John Mahoney, John C. McGinley, Keith David, Kathy Baker, Eli Wallach
'Is ultimately more successful in awakening the viewer to a desperate situation than in providing a good time.' – Variety

An Artist with Ladies: see Coiffeur pour Dames

Artistes at the Top of the Big Top: Disorientated ★★

West Germany 1968 103m bw/colour
Kairos Film
The daughter of a dead trapezist dreams of creating the ideal circus with a moral for mankind but step by step gives up her ambition.
A melancholy satire, told in fragmented fashion with some brilliant tricks and memorable sequences.
wd Alexander Kluge ph Gunther Hörmann, Thomas Mauch ☆ Hannelore Hoger, Siegfried Graue, Alfred Edel, Bernd Höltz
'Those who interpret it simply as an allegory of German politics or of the present crisis in film-making narrow it unnecessarily.' – Jan Dawson, MFB

Artists and Models ★

US 1937 97m bw
Paramount (Lewis E. Gensler)
An advertising man has to find the right girl as symbol for a silverware company.
Fairly stylish comedy musical with many elements typical of its studio.
w Walter de Leon, Francis Martin d Raoul Walsh ph Victor Milner m Victor Young songs various ☆ Jack Benny, Ida Lupino, Richard Arlen, Gail Patrick, Ben Blue, Judy Canova, Martha Raye, Donald Meek, Hedda Hopper, André Kostelanetz and his Orchestra, Louis Armstrong and his Orchestra
'Should be a box-office bonanza for exhibitors. It holds enough variety, comedy, colour, spectacle, flash, dash and novelty for a couple of pictures.' – Variety
♫ song 'Whispers in the Dark' (m Frederick Hollander, ly Leo Robin)

Artists and Models ★

US 1955 109m Technicolor Vistavision
Paramount/Hal B. Wallis

A goonish young man receives telepathic top secret information in his nightmares, which are used by his artist friend in comic strips; foreign agents and the CIA get interested.
A good zany idea is worked into an overlong dyspeptic comedy which neither the stars nor frantic treatment can hope to save.
w Frank Tashlin, Don McGuire d Frank Tashlin ph Daniel Fapp m Walter Scharf
☆ Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Shirley MacLaine, Dorothy Malone, Eddie Mayehoff, Eva Gabor, Anita Ekberg, George 'Foghorn' Winslow, Jack Elam

'It's an ooh-la-lalapalooza!'

Artists and Models Abroad ★

US 1938 90m bw Paramount (Arthur Hornblow Jnr)

GB title: Stranded in Paris
Stranded in Paris, a troupe of girls and their manager are helped by a Texas oil millionaire.
Generally agreeable comedy musical with emphasis on fashion.
w Howard Lindsay, Russel Crouse, Ken Englund d Mitchell Leisen ph Ted Tetzlaff md Boris Morros ad Hans Dreier, Ernst Fegte songs various ☆ Jack Benny, Joan Bennett, Mary Boland, Charley Grapewin, Joyce Compton, the Yacht Club Boys, Fritz Feld, G. P. Huntley, Monty Woolley
'Straight farce comedy. The models are in a fashion show and the artists are missing entirely.' – Variety

The Aryan ★

US 1916 75m (16 fps) bw silent
Triangle (Thomas Ince)
A gold prospector is cheated by a woman and becomes an outlaw.
Striking early star Western.
w C. Gardner Sullivan d William S. Hart, Cliff Smith ph Joseph August, Clyde de Vinna
☆ William S. Hart, Bessie Love, Louise Glaum, Herschel Mayall

'A comedy from the heart that goes for the throat.'

As Good as It Gets ★★★

US 1997 138m Technicolor
Columbia TriStar/Gracie (James L. Brooks, Bridget Johnson, Kristi Zea)

A misanthropic writer suffering from a compulsive-obsessive disorder learns to love again when he reluctantly involves himself in the lives of a neighbour and a waitress.
A sour-toned comedy about damaged people that, for all its occasional glibness and the ease with which its problems are solved, somehow works; it convinces as long as the movie lasts.
w Mark Andrus, James L. Brooks d James L. Brooks ph John Bailey m Hans Zimmer pd Bill Brzeski ad Philip Toolin ed Richard Marks
☆ Jack Nicholson (Melvin Udall), Helen Hunt (Carol Connelly), Greg Kinnear (Simon Bishop), Cuba Gooding Jnr (Frank Sachs), Skeet Ulrich (Vincent), Shirley Knight (Beverly), Yeardley Smith (Jackie), Lupe Ontiveros (Nora)
'A sporadically funny romantic comedy with all the dramatic plausibility and tonal consistency of a TV variety show.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
♟ Jack Nicholson; Helen Hunt
♙ Best picture; Greg Kinnear; Mark Andrus, James L. Brooks; Richard Marks; Hans Zimmer

As Long as They're Happy ★

GB 1955 91m Eastmancolor
Rank/Regroup (Raymond Stross)
The suburban home of a London stockbroker is invaded by an American sob singer.
Frantic farce expanded from a stage satire of the Johnnie Ray cult; a patchy but sometimes funny star vehicle.
w Alan Melville play Vernon Sylvaine d J. Lee-Thompson ph Gilbert Taylor m Stanley Black ☆ Jack Buchanan, Brenda de Banzie, Diana Dors, Jean Carson, Janette Scott, Susan Stephen, Jerry Wayne, Hugh McDermott

As Long as You're Near Me

West Germany 1954 94m colour
Warner/NDF
original title: Solange Du da bist
A film director almost ruins a small-part actress's life by insisting on making her a star.
Reasonably absorbing drama chiefly remarkable for being a great hit in the US when dubbed.
w Jochen Huth d Harold Braun
☆ O. W. Fischer, Hardy Kruger, Maria Schell

As Tears Go By ★★

Hong Kong 1988 94m colour
In-Gear (Rover Tang)

original title: Mongkok Kamun
An aggressive debt collector, living on the edge, finds himself drawn back by his loyalties into a world of urban gangsters when he tries to escape to a quieter life with his country cousin.
Tough thriller, in which the violent fight scenes have a disturbing reality; the direction occasionally strains after effect in an otherwise tense movie of thugs who come to believe in their own publicity.
wd Wong Kar-Wai ad William Cheung
☆ Andy Lau, Maggie Cheung, Jacky Cheung
'A superbly gritty debut, let down by Wong's tendency to go for the big scene – complete with MTV-style music – every five minutes.' – Sight and Sound

As Time Goes By

Australia 1987 94m colour
Valhalla/Monroe Stahr (Chris Kiely)
A man travels into the outback to keep a rendezvous made by his mother 25 years earlier, and finds an interplanetary traveller waiting for him.
Oddball comedy that runs out of steam at the halfway mark, though it tries hard; the alien, who talks in dialogue culled from old movies, may interest film buffs (and the credits include, along with Best Boy, Worst Boy).
wd Barry Peak ph John Ogden m Peter Sullivan pd Paddy Reardon ed Ralph Strasser ☆ Bruno Lawrence, Nique Needles, Ray Barrett, Marcelle Schmitz, Mitchell Faircloth, Max Gillies

'You don't need us to tell you not to miss this film. You couldn't be kept away!'

As You Desire Me ★

US 1931 71m bw
MGM (George Fitzmaurice)

The amnesiac mistress of a novelist rediscovers her real husband and falls in love with him again.
Interesting star vehicle with good cast and production.
w Gene Markey play Luigi Pirandello d George Fitzmaurice ph William Daniels ☆ Greta Garbo, Melvyn Douglas, Erich von Stroheim, Owen Moore, Hedda Hopper, Rafaela Ottiano
'Pretty subtle for the generality of fans. It was more of a courageous gesture towards production ideals than good business judgement that dictated its choice for filming in the first place.' – Variety

As You Like It ★

GB 1936 96m bw
TCF/Inter-Allied (Joseph M. Schenck, Paul Czinner)

The fortunes of an exiled king take a turn in the Forest of Arden.
Stylized, rather effete but often amusing version of Shakespeare's pastoral comedy.
w J. M. Barrie, Robert Cullen play William Shakespeare d Paul Czinner ph Harold Rosson m William Walton
☆ Elisabeth Bergner, Laurence Olivier, Sophie Stewart, Leon Quartermaine, Henry Ainley, Richard Ainley, Felix Aylmer, Mackenzie Ward, Aubrey Mather, John Laurie, Peter Bull
'Rather too respectably lighthearted, but by no means a contemptible production.' – New Yorker, 1978
'There are far too many dull middle-length shots from a fixed camera, so that we might just as well be seated in the circle above the deep wide stage at Drury Lane.' – Graham Greene

As You Like It
GB 1992 117m colour
Squirrel/Sands Films (Richard Goodwin)

Banished from City of London splendour to a grimy slum where locals live in cardboard boxes, Orlando falls in love with the banished and disguised Rosalind.
Modern-dress version of the play, with the Forest of Arden becoming an urban wasteland inhabited by the homeless. It sounds as ugly as it looks, with some wretched speaking of the verse.
play William Shakespeare d Christine Edzard ph Robin Vidgeon m Michel Sanvoisin ed Christine Edzard ☆ James Fox, Emma Croft, Cyril Cusack, Griff Rhys Jones, Andrew Tiernan, Miriam Margolyes, Don Henderson, Celia Bannerman, Murray Melvin
'We feel like victims of a mobile theatre experiment, moving our camp stools from one daft venue to the next as we follow a bunch of under-rehearsed actors belting it out into the void.' – Nigel Andrews, Financial Times
'In this misguided and also perversely endearing version, Christine Edzard ultimately proves the Bard's resilience, but she proves it the hard way.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Independent
'Edzard restores to filmed Shakespeare the means and immediacy of cinema, daring to present, as the theatre has been doing since the nineteenth century, Shakespearean text in a modern context.' – Ilona Halberstadt, Sight and Sound

As Young as You Feel ★
US 1951 77m bw
TCF (Lamar Trotti)

An elderly employee, forced to retire, impersonates the company president, saves the firm from bankruptcy, and proves his continued worth.
Good-natured comedy, ably presented.
w Lamar Trotti story Paddy Chayefsky d Harmon Jones ph Joe MacDonald m Cyril Mockridge ☆ Monty Woolley, Constance Bennett, Thelma Ritter, David Wayne, Jean Peters, Marilyn Monroe, Allyn Joslyn, Albert Dekker

Ascendancy ★
GB 1982 85m colour
British Film Institute Production Board (Penny Clark, Ian Elsey)

In 1920 Belfast a shipyard owner's daughter, shocked by the death of her brother in the war, cannot come to terms with the sectarian slaughter around her.
Unilluminatingly argumentative character study which fails to make its purpose very clear despite a stunning central performance.
w Edward Bennett, Nigel Gearing d Edward Bennett ph Clive Tickner m Ronnie Leahy ☆ Julie Covington, Ian Charleson, John Phillips, Susan Engel, Philip Locke

Ascenseur pour l'Echafaud: see Lift to the Scaffold

Ash Wednesday
US 1973 99m Technicolor
Sagittarius (Dominick Dunne)

An ageing American beauty rejuvenates herself via plastic surgery, leads a vivid sex life, and leaves her stolid husband.
The bloodthirsty operation scenes are revolting, yet this joyless saga seems meant as a celebration of the wonders of cosmetic surgery and Sex for the Aged. Hypnotic but hardly rewarding.
w Jean Claude Tramont d Larry Peerce ph Ennio Guarnieri m Maurice Jarre
☆ Elizabeth Taylor, Henry Fonda, Helmut Berger, Keith Baxter, Maurice Teynac
'Endless shots of Elizabeth Taylor expensively attired against the plush background of Cortina.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News
'A long-drawn-out ghoulish commercial for cosmetic surgery – made apparently for people who can't think of anything to do with their lives but go backwards.' – Pauline Kael

Ash Wednesday ★
US 2002 98m Technicolor
IFC/Marlboro Road Gang (Margot Bridger, Edward Burns)

In Hell's Kitchen in the 1980s, a former thug is forced to protect from gangsters his younger brother, presumed dead, who unexpectedly returns to his old neighbourhood.
Guilt-ridden Irish-American drama, set in the mean streets of New York; some miscasting in leading roles dilutes its effect.
wd Edward Burns ph Russell Lee Fine m David Shire pd Susan Block ed David Greenwald
☆ Edward Burns (Francis Sullivan), Elijah Wood (Sean Sullivan), Rosario Dawson (Grace Quinonez), Oliver Platt (Moran), Pat McNamara (Murph), James Handy (Father Mahoney), Michael Mullheren (Detective Pulaski), Malachy McCourt (Whitey)
'Manages little of real distinction in the way of plot, acting or direction.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Ashanti
Switzerland 1979 117m Technicolor
Panavision
Columbia/Beverly (Luciano Sacripanti)

In West Africa, the wife of a member of the World Health Organization is seized by slave traders.
Absurd and rather unattractively brutal adventure story, decked out with appearances by guest stars.
w Stephen Geller novel Ebano by Alberto Vasquez-Figueroa d Richard Fleischer ph Aldo Tonti m Michael Melvoin
☆ Michael Caine, Omar Sharif, Peter Ustinov, Rex Harrison, Kabir Bedi, William Holden, Zia Mohyeddin, Beverly Johnson

Ashes and Diamonds ★★★★
Poland 1958 104m bw
Film Polski

original title: Popiol y Diament
A Polish partisan is confused by the apparent need to continue killing after the war is over.
A chilling account of the intellectual contradictions to which war leads, and a moving and sensitive film in its own right.
wd Andrzej Wajda novel Jerzy Andrzejewski ph Jerzy Wojcik m Aroclaw Radio Quintet ad Roman Mann ed Halina Nawrocka ☆ Zbigniew Cybulski (Maciek), Ewa Krzyzanowska (Krystyna), Adam Pawlikowski (Andrzej), Waclaw Zastrzezynski (Szczuka), Bogumil Kobiela (Drewnowski)
'Wajda has created some vivid iideas through imagery–ideas that carry cynicism, melancholia, wistfulness, and shock,' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

Ashik Kerib ★★
USSR 1988 78m colour
Georgia Film Studio

aka: The Lovelorn Minstrel
A poor minstrel goes to seek his fortune so that he can marry the daughter of a rich Turkish merchant.
Richly coloured, episodic fable, told in the artful and artless manner of silent cinema.
w Giya Badridze story Mikhail Lermontov d Sergei Paradjanov, David Abashidze ph Albert Yavuryan m Zhavanshir Kuliev pd G. Meskhishvili, Shota Gogolashvili, Nikolai Zandukeli, K. Davidov ☆ Yuri Mgoyan, Veronique Matonidze, Levan Natroshvili, Solico Chaureli
'The film chronicles a spiritual journey in profane, worldly terms, and it is the earthy vulgarity of the detail that gives the spirituality its edge.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Ask a Policeman ★★
GB 1938 82m bw
Gainsborough (Edward Black)

In a small coastal village, incompetent policemen accidentally expose smugglers who are scaring the locals with a headless horseman legend.
One of the best comedies of an incomparable team, with smart dialogue, good situations and a measure of suspense.
w Marriott Edgar, Val Guest, J. O. C. Orton d Marcel Varnel ph Derek Williams md Louis Levy ☆ Will Hay, Moore Marriott, Graham Moffatt, Glennis Lorimer, Peter Gawthorne, Herbert Lomas, Charles Oliver
'A good laugh getter and safe second feature on any programme.' – Variety

Ask Any Girl ★
US 1959 98m Metrocolor
Cinemascope
MGM/Euterpe (Joe Pasternak)

A husband-hunting receptionist in New York catches the eye of a wealthy playboy but finally settles for his elder brother.
Predictable Cinderella story with a lively but forgettable script and actors going through familiar paces.
w George Wells novel Winifred Wolfe d Charles Walters ph Robert Bronner m Jeff Alexander ☆ David Niven, Shirley MacLaine, Gig Young, Rod Taylor, Jim Backus, Claire Kelly
'Like a comic strip transposed to the glossy pages of Vogue.' – MFB
Shirley MacLaine

Ask the Dust ★ (5)
Germany/US/South Africa 2005 117m
Pathe/Cruise-Wagner/VIP Medienfonds 3/ Ascendant (Don Granger, Jonas McCord, Tom Cruise, Paula Wagner)

In Depression-era 1930s Los Angeles, an impoverished writer holed up in a shabby boarding-house dreams of greatness. He embarks on a stormy affair with an upwardly mobile Mexican waitress.
Brave stab at adapting a legendary novel, but John Fante's haunting prose and subtlety of narrative lose their power when adapted for the screen. Undercurrents of hostility between Anglos and Hispanics in L.A. are well observed, and period details, as well as the city's orange sunsets, are captured perfectly. Farrell and Hayek have real chemistry, and acquit themselves well. An interesting failure, which underlines that Towne's talent is for screenwriting rather than directing.
wd Robert Towne novel John Fante ph Caleb Deschanel m Ramin Djawadi, Heitor Pereira pd Dennis Gassner ad Tom Hannam, Richard L.Johnson ed Robert K. Lambert
☆ Colin Farrell (Arturo Bandini), Salma Hayek (Camilla Lopez), Donald Sutherland (Hellfrick), Eileen Atkins (Mrs. Hargraves), Idina Menzel (Vera Rivkin)
'Ask The Dust requires an audience with a special love for film noir, with a feeling for the loneliness and misery of the writer.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times
† The look and atmosphere of 1930s Los Angeles was captured entirely on South African sets.

Asking for Trouble ★
GB 1941 81m bw
British National

A bookie poses as a big game hunter.
The last opportunity to see a great music hall comic on film, his style admittedly bowdlerized.
w Oswald Mitchell, Con West d Oswald Mitchell
☆ Max Miller, Carole Lynne, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Mark Lester

Asoka ★
India 2001 158m colour
Enzo/Miracle/Arclightz/Filmz India

Adventures in love and war of an emperor of Magadha, who, after beginning his reign in slaughter, became a Buddhist in the third century BC.
Epic account of a famous Indian historical figure that sticks close to the standard Bollywood treatment, mixing action, melodrama and slapstick comedy with song and dance.
w Saket Chaudhary, Santosh Sivan, Abbas Tyrewala d Santosh Sivan ph Santosh Sivan m Sandeep Chowta md Anu Malik ch Farha Khan, Brinda, Geeta Kapoor ad Sabu Cyril ed Shreekar Prasad ☆ Shah Rukh Khan (Asoka), Kareena Kapoor (Kaurwaki), Danny Denzongpa (Virat), Ajit (Susima), Rahul Dev (Bheema), Hrishitaa Bhatt (Devi)
'This movie's narrative gusto, its intricate, indirect eroticism – no sex, or even kissing – its lavish musical numbers and its sheer self-belief are a treat.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Aspern ★
Portugal 1981 96m colour
VO/Oxala (Paulo Branco)

The French biographer of a deceased poet goes to Venice to get unpublished papers from his aged mistress.
This very well-known story (see also The Lost Moment and various theatrical versions) is styled with exceeding solemnity in this well-acted but boring version.
w Michael Graham story Henry James d Eduardo de Grigorio ph Acacio de Almeida m mainly from Mozart
☆ Alida Valli, Jean Sorel, Bulle Ogier, Ana Marta

Asphalt ★
Germany 1929 101m bw
UFA

A young policeman accidentally kills his rival for a worthless girl.
Heavily expressionist melodrama, overlong but good to watch.
w Rolf Vanloo, Fred Majo, Hans Szekely d Joe May ph Günther Rittau

☆ Gustav Fröhlich, Betty Amann, Else Heller, Albert Steinruck, Hans Albers

'So well produced that it is good entertainment in spite of itself.' – Variety

The Asphalt Jungle ★★★

US 1950 112m bw
MGM (Arthur Hornblow Jnr)

An elderly crook comes out of prison and assembles a gang for one last robbery.

Probably the very first film to show a 'caper' from the criminals' viewpoint (a genre which has since been done to death several times over), this is a clever character study rather than a thriller, extremely well executed and indeed generally irreproachable yet somehow not a film likely to appear on many top ten lists; perhaps the writer-director stands too far back from everybody, or perhaps he just needed Humphrey Bogart.

w Ben Maddow, John Huston novel W. R. Burnett d John Huston ph Harold Rosson m Miklos Rozsa ad Randall Duell, Cedric Gibbons ed George Boemler

☆ Sterling Hayden (Dix Handley), Louis Calhern (Alonzo D Emmerich), Sam Jaffe (Doc Erwin Riedenschneider), Jean Hagen (Doll Conovan), James Whitmore (Gus Minissi), John McIntire (Police Commissioner Hardy), Marc Lawrence (Cobby), Marilyn Monroe (Angela Phinlay), Barry Kelley (Lt Ditrich)

RIEDENSCHNEIDER: 'Crime is a left-handed form of human endeavour.'

'Where this film excels is in the fluency of its narration, the sharpness of its observation of character and the excitement of its human groupings.' – Dilys Powell

'That Asphalt Pavement thing is full of nasty, ugly people doing nasty things. I wouldn't walk across the room to see a thing like that.' – Louis B. Mayer (who was head of the studio which made it)

† Apart from imitations, the film has been directly remade as The Badlanders, Cairo and A Cool Breeze (qqv).

Ben Maddow, John Huston (writers); John Huston (as director); Harold Rosson; Sam Jaffe

The Asphyx

GB 1972 99m Eastmancolor Todd-AO 35
Glendale (John Brittany)

A Victorian aims to become immortal by separating the spirit of death from his body.

Interminable hocus pocus with a plethora of talk, seldom exciting but watchable because of its remarkable cast and other credits.

w Brian Comport d Peter Newbrook ph Freddie Young m Bill McGuffie sp Ted Samuels

☆ Robert Stephens, Robert Powell, Jane Lapotaire

The Assam Garden

GB 1985 90m colour
Contemporary/Moving Picture Company (Nigel Stafford-Clark)

A widow returns from Assam to the English house where many years previously her husband had created a garden full of eastern plants, and where events now help her to free herself of the past.

Muted and somewhat ineffective treatment of a familiar television theme. Not unpleasant to watch despite obvious economies, but instantly forgettable.

w Elisabeth Bond d Mary McMurray ph Bryan Loftus m Richard Harvey

☆ Deborah Kerr, Madhur Jaffrey, Alec McCowen, Zia Mohyeddin, Iain Cuthbertson

The Assassin: see Gunfighters (1947)

The Assassin: see Venetian Bird (1952)

The Assassin ★★

Italy/France 1961 105m bw
Titanus-Vides-SGC (Franco Cristaldi)

A prosperous antique dealer is accused of murder and his unsavoury past is revealed; but when he is freed, he prides himself on his new personality.

A careful, detailed and wholly enjoyable character study, somewhere between comedy and drama.

w Elio Petri and others d Elio Petri ph Carlo di Palma m Piero Piccioni

☆ Marcello Mastroianni, Salvo Randone, Micheline Presle, Andrea Checci

Assassin

GB 1973 83m Technicolor
Pemini (David M. Jackson)

MI5 arranges the liquidation of an Air Ministry spy.

Old hat espionage melodrama, top heavy with artiness which makes it look like an endless TV commercial.

w Michael Sloan d Peter Crane ph Brian Jonson m Zack Lawrence

☆ Ian Hendry, Edward Judd, Frank Windsor, Ray Brooks, John Hart Dyke

Assassin: see Point of No Return (1993)

Assassin for Hire ★

GB 1951 67m bw
Merton Park (Julian Wintle/Anglo Amalgamated)

A professional killer is trapped into admitting a murder he didn't do.

Taut little suspenser, quite watchable.

w Rex Rienits d Michael McCarthy

☆ Sydney Tafler, Ronald Howard, John Hewer, Martin Benson

L'Assassin habite au 21 ★★

France 1947 83m bw
Mage/Liote
aka: The Murderer Lives at 21

A police detective assumes the guise of a clergyman to investigate mass killings which seem to centre on a boarding house.

Agreeable, straight-faced but tongue-in-cheek comedy thriller which was probably even funnier in French.

wd Henri-Georges Clouzot novel S. A. Steerman ph Armand Thirard

☆ Pierre Fresnay, Suzy Delair, Pierre Larquey, Noel Roquevert

Assassin of the Tsar (dubbed)

Russia/GB 1991 104m Eastmancolor
Blue Dolphin/Mosfilm/Spectator/Courier (Christopher Gawor, Erik Vaisberg, Anthony Sloman)

Russian title: Tsareubiitsa

A doctor decides on a dangerous plan to cure a patient in a Russian psychiatric ward who believes he is both the killer of Tsar Alexander II in 1881 and one of the murderers of Tsar Nicholas and his family in 1918.

An odd movie that is unsuccessful in its attempt to frame the demise of the Russian royal family within a modern-day story; the result is confusing and unconvincing.

w Aleksandr Borodianski, Karen Shakhnazarov d Karen Shakhnazarov ph Nikolai Nemoliaev m John Altman, Vladislav Shut ad Liudmila Kusakova ed Lidiia Miliotti

☆ Malcolm McDowell, Oleg Yankovsky, Armen Dzhigarkhanyan, Iurii Sherstnev, Angela Ptashuk, Viktor Seferov

'Both a compelling modern pyschodrama and a powerful recreation of one of the pivotal events of modern history, addressing Russian history and the current turbulent state of the country in an effective and compelling manner.' – Kim Newman, Empire

'Unsatisfactory psychology and unsatisfactory historiography.' – Sight and Sound

Assassination

US 1986 88m TVC Color
Cannon (Pancho Kohner)

A White House secret service man finds himself on the run with the first lady.

Mildly diverting but over-mysterious chase movie, less violent than the Bronson norm.

w Richard Sale d Peter Hunt ph Hanania Baer pd William Cruse

☆ Charles Bronson, Jill Ireland, Stephen Elliott, Jan Gan Boyd, Randy Brooks, Michael Ansara

The Assassination Bureau ★

GB 1968 110m Technicolor
Paramount/Heathfield (Michael Relph)

In 1906 a lady journalist breaks up an international gang of professional killers by falling in love with their leader.

Black comedy period pastiche which resolves itself into a series of sketches leading up to a spectacular zeppelin climax. Plenty going on, but the level of wit is not high.

w Michael Relph, Wolf Mankowitz d Basil Dearden ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Ron Grainer

☆ Oliver Reed, Diana Rigg, Telly Savalas, Curt Jurgens, Philippe Noiret, Warren Mitchell, Clive Revill, Beryl Reid, Kenneth Griffith

'The mad story of a true man.'

The Assassination of Richard Nixon ★

US 2004 105m DeLuxe
Metrodome/Anhelo/Appian Way (Alfonso Cuaron, Jorge Vergara)

In 1974, an unhappy and unsuccessful salesman attempts to make his mark on the world by hijacking a plane and crashing it into the White House.

Downbeat study, based on a true story, of the death of a salesman, who wanted to fly high but failed in that as is everything else.

w Niels Mueller, Kevin Kennedy d Niels Mueller ph Emmanuel Lubezki m Steven Stern pd Lester Cohen ed Jay Cassidy

☆ Sean Penn (Samuel Bicke), Don Cheadle (Bonny Simmons), Jack Thompson (Jack Jones), Michael Wincott (Julius Bicke), Mykelti Williamson (Harold Mann), Naomi Watts (Marie Bicke), Nick Searcy (Tom Ford)

'Leaves the viewer with nothing to take away except for the overriding feeling that making the film was a bad idea all around.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'The brilliant subtleties of this absorbing, must-see drama are best seen through Penn, who transforms a strongly nuanced script into the greatest performance of the year.' – Aaron Hillis, Premiere

The Assassination of the Duc de Guise ★

France 1908 15m (16 fps) bw silent
Film d'Art

Henry III arranges the killing of the Duc de Guise when he comes to court.

Influential early story film.

w Henri Lavedan d Charles le Bargy m Saint-Saëns

☆ Charles le Bargy, Albert Lambert, Gabrielle Lavinne

'For one moment, they hold history in their hands. With one terrible blow, they make it'

The Assassination of Trotsky

Italy/GB/France 1972 103m Technicolor
Dino de Laurentiis/Josef Shaftel/Cinetel (Norman Priggen, Joseph Losey)

In 1940, Trotsky is hiding out in Mexico; a Stalinist infiltrates his presence and kills him with an ice pick.

Glum historical reconstruction with much fictitious padding; basically undramatic.

w Nicholas Mosley, Masolino d'Amico d Joseph Losey ph Pasquale de Santis m Egisto Macchi

☆ Richard Burton, Alain Delon, Romy Schneider, Valentina Cortese, Jean Desailly

'Not for anyone who knows, or cares, anything about Leon Trotsky.' – New Yorker, 1977

Assassino ... è al telefono: see The Killer Is on the Phone

Assassins

US 1995 132m Technicolor
Warner/Silver Pictures (Richard Donner, Joel Silver, Bruce Evans, Raynold Gideon, Andrew Lazar, Jim Van Wyck)

A top hitman, who has decided that it is time to quit, is menaced by a younger rival.

Even by the standards of some other of Stallone's movies, this is relentlessly silly stuff about extremely nasty characters; you may keep watching just to discover what illogicality happens next, in which case the ending will not disappoint you.

w Andy Wachowski, Larry Wachowski, Brian Helgeland d Richard Donner ph Vilmos Zsigmond m Mark Mancina pd Tom Sanders ed Richard Marks

☆ Sylvester Stallone, Antonio Banderas, Julianne Moore, Anatoly Davydow, Muse Watson, Stephen Kahan

'Has a few suspenseful confrontations, but to get to them you have to wade through countless scenes of monosyllabic brooding, all shot in the kind of elegantly sterile beige and slate tones that suggest someone's half-baked idea of a "minimalist" thriller.' – Entertainment Weekly

Les Assassins du Dimanche

France 1956 94m bw Cinepanoramic
EDIC
aka: Every Second Counts

Dozens of people help to track down a holiday car which has been driven away from a garage in a dangerous condition.

Watchable but artificial suspenser.

w Alex Joffé, Gabriel Arout d Alex Joffé ph Jean Bourgoin

☆ Barbara Laage, Jean-Marc Thibault, Dominique Wilms, Paul Frankeur

Assault

GB 1970 91m Eastmancolor
Rank/Peter Rogers (George H. Brown)

An art mistress helps police to solve a case of multiple rape in an English village.

Old-fashioned police mystery with new-fangled shock treatment. Routine excitements.

w John Kruse novel Kendal Young d Sidney Hayers ph Ken Hodges m Eric Rogers

☆ Frank Finlay, Suzy Kendall, James Laurenson, Lesley-Anne Down, Freddie Jones, Tony Beckley, Anthony Ainley, Dilys Hamlett

'All right for that wet afternoon.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

The Assault ★★★

Netherlands 1986 148m colour
Cannon (Fons Rademakers)

original title: De Aanslag

An adult is forced to recall the traumatic events of his childhood, when he saw his family murdered by the Nazis.

Part gripping thriller, part indictment of those who would forget the past, and wholly watchable.

w Gerard Soeteman novel Harry Mulisch d Fons Rademakers ph Their Van Der Sande m Jurriaan Andriessen ad Dorus van der Linden ed Kees Linthorst

☆ Derek de Lint (Anton Steenwijk), Marc Van Uchelen (Anton as a Boy), Monique Van de Ven (Truus Coster/Saskia de Graaff), John Kraaykamp (Cor Takes), Huub Van Der Lubbe (Fake Ploeg/His Father), Elly Weller (Mrs. Beumer), Ina Van Der Molen (Karin Korteweg)

best foreign film

Assault on a Queen

US 1966 106m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount/Seven Arts/Sinatra Enterprises (William Goetz)

Crooks dredge up a submarine and use it to hi-jack the Queen Mary.

Strained caper film which remains uncertain whether to play for drama or thrills, and achieves neither. Special effects unconvincing.

w Rod Serling novel Jack Finney d Jack Donohue ph William Daniels m Duke Ellington

☆ Frank Sinatra, Virna Lisi, Tony Franciosa, Alf Kjellin, Errol John, Richard Conte, Murray Matheson, Reginald Denny

'Just about as enthralling as plastic boats in the bath.' – MFB

'A White Hot Night of Hate!'

Assault on Precinct 13 ★★★

US 1976 91m Metrocolor Panavision
CKK (Joseph Kaufman)

Gang members on a vendetta attack a police station.

Violent but basically efficient and old-fashioned programmer which shows that not all the expertise of the forties in this then-familiar field has been lost.

wd John Carpenter ph Douglas Knapp m John Carpenter ad Tommy Wallace ed John T. Chance (John Carpenter)

☆ Austin Stoker (Bishop), Darwin Joston (Wilson), Laurie Zimmer (Leigh), Martin West (Lawson), Tony Burton (Wells), Nancy Loomis (Julie)

'One of the most effective exploitation movies of the last ten years ... Carpenter scrupulously avoids any overt socio-political pretensions, playing instead for laughs and suspense in perfectly balanced proportions.' – Time Out

'Unite and fight.'

Assault on Precinct 13 ★ (5)

US 2005 109m DeLuxe
Why Not/Liaison/Biscayne (Pascal Caucheteux, Stephane Sperry, Jeffrey Silver)

Crooked cops besiege a police station to stop a criminal testifying against them.

Needless remake that doesn't match the original for intensity or interest, though it provides suspense and violence aplenty.

w James DeMonaco screenplay John Carpenter d Jean-Francois Richet ph Robert Gantz m Graeme Revell pd Paul Denham Austerberry ed Bill Pankow

☆ Ethan Hawke (Jake Roenick), Laurence Fishburne (Marion Bishop), John Leguizamo (Beck), Maria Bello (Alex Sabian), Jeffrey 'Ja Rule' Atkins (Smiley), Brian Dennehy (O'Shea), Gabriel Byrne (Marcus Duvall)

'It's no classic, but you don't need to be a cultist to get in on the tawdry fun.' – Joe Morgenstern, Wall Street Journal

The Assignment (4)

Canada/US 1997 115m colour
Columbia TriStar/Triumph/Allegro (Tom Berry, Franco Battista)

An American naval officer, who is the double of Carlos 'The Jackal' Sanchez, is persuaded by the CIA to impersonate the terrorist.

Tepid spy thriller, which seems more like propaganda than entertainment; despite its use of fact, it never suggests a convincing reality.

w Dan Gordon, Sabi H. Shabtai d Christian Duguay ph David Franco m Normand Corbeil pd Michael Joy ed Yves Langlois

☆ Aidan Quinn, Donald Sutherland, Ben Kingsley, Claudia Ferri, Celine Bonnier, Vlasta Vrana, Liliana Komorowska

'Visually proceedings veer between made-for-television stodge and inexpert gimmickry.' – Danny Leigh, Sight and Sound

Assignment in Brittany

US 1943 96m bw
MGM (J. Walter Ruben)

A Free French soldier stays in occupied France to fight the Nazis.

Routine propagandist actioner, totally unbelievable.

w Anthony Veiller, William Wright, Howard Emmett Rogers novel Helen MacInnes d Jack Conway ph Charles Rosher m Lennie Hayton

☆ Jean Pierre Aumont, Signe Hasso, Susan Peters, Reginald Owen, Richard Whorf, Margaret Wycherly, John Emery, Miles Mander, George Coulouris

Assignment Paris

US 1952 85m bw
Columbia (Sam Marx, Jerry Bresler)

A reporter on the Paris staff of the New York Herald-Tribune goes to Yugoslavia, is arrested as a spy, and has to be exchanged.

Dim cold war melodrama with occasional entertaining moments.

w William Bowers novel Trial by Terror by Paul Gallico d Robert Parrish ph Burnett Guffey, Ray Cory m George Duning

☆ George Sanders, Dana Andrews, Sandro Giglio, Marta Toren, Audrey Totter, Herbert Berghof

Assignment to Kill

US 1967 99m Technicolor Panavision
Warner Seven Arts (William Conrad)

A New York insurance company hires a private eye to investigate a dubious European financier.

Routine international intrigue with muddled plot and unusual cast. A nice production wasted.

wd Sheldon Reynolds ph Harold Lipstein m William Lava

☆ Patrick O'Neal, John Gielgud, Peter Van Eyck, Joan Hackett, Herbert Lom, Eric Portman, Oscar Homolka, Leon Greene

The Assisi Underground

Italy/US 1985 178m colour
Cannon (Menahem Golan, Yoram Globus)

During World War II, Assisi monasteries hide Jewish refugees.

Expansive but generally abysmal war adventure which was released in various forms, including a television miniseries. No amount of re-editing can disguise an empty script and incompetent direction.

wd Alexander Ramati novel Alexander Ramati ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Dov Seltzer pd Luciano Spadoni

☆ Ben Cross, James Mason, Irene Papas, Maximilian Schell, Simon Ward, Giancarlo Giannini

'There is simply not enough story to fill three hours, so the scenery upstages the actors.' – Variety

The Associate

US 1996 113m Technicolor
Polygram/Interscope (Frédérick Golchan, Patrick Markey, Adam Leipzig)

Faced with the problems of succeeding in a man's world, a female financial analyst invents a male partner, and then discovers she needs to impersonate him.

Perhaps it was time for a male impersonation, after an overdose of other drag acts in mainstream films, but this vehicle is too ramshackle and lacking in humour to make the effort seem worthwhile.

w Nick Thiel novel El socio by Jenaro Prieto d Donald Petrie ph Alex Nepomniaschy m Christopher Tyng pd Andrew Jackness ed Bonnie Koehler film L'Associé

☆ Whoopi Goldberg, Dianne Wiest, Tim Daly, Bebe Neuwirth, Eli Wallach, Austin Pendleton, Lainie Kazan, George Martin, Kenny Kerr

'Shallow cut-and-paste Hollywood formula.' – Sight and Sound

Asterix & Obelix: Mission Cleopatra ★

France/Germany 2002 108m colour
Pathé/Katharina/RennTF1Chez Wam/CP Medien/KC Medien/KG Munich (Claude Berri)

In 52 BC, Gauls travel to Egypt to help Cleopatra win a bet with Julius Caesar that she can build a palace in three months.

Jolly slapstick romp through Roman history with some good gags along the way.

wd Alain Chabat comic book Rene Goscinny, Albert Uderzo ph Laurent Dailland m Philippe Chany pd At Hoang ed Stephane Pereira

☆ Gérard Depardieu (Obelix), Christian Clavier (Asterix), Jamel Debbouze (Numerobis), Monica Bellucci (Cleopatra), Claude Rich (Panoramix), Gerard Darmon (Amonbofis), Alain Chabat (Cesar), Dieudonne (Casius Ceplus)

'It's silly, it's funny, the whole family can go.' – Variety

† It was the most expensive French film yet made, costing $47m.

Asterix & Obelix Take on Caesar (dubbed) ★

France/Germany/Italy 1999 110m colour Super 35
Pathé/Katharina/Renn/TF1/Bavaria/Melampo (Claude Berri)

original title: Astérix & Obélix contre Caesar

In Gaul, a small village, where the men are made strong by their druid's magic potion, holds out against Julius Caesar's invading army.

Lavish live-action version of the much-loved comic books, well-cast but suffering in the English-language version from the dubbing, which loses much of the humour.

w Claude Zidi, Gérard Lauzier (English version: Terry Jones) characters created by Albert Uderzo, René Goscinny d Claude Zidi ph Tony Pierce-Roberts pd Jean Rabasse ed Nicole Saunier, Hervé de Luze

☆ Christian Clavier (Asterix), Gérard Depardieu (Obelix), Roberto Benigni (Detritus), Michel Galabru (Vitalstatistix), Claude Piéplu (Panoramix), Daniel Prévost (Prolix), Pierre Palmade (Cacofonix), Laetitia Casta (Panacea), Arielle Dombasle (Mrs Jerry Atrix), Sim (Agecanonix), Marianne Sagebrecht (Benamenture), Gottfried John (Caesar), Jean-Pierre Castaldi (Caius Bonus), Jean-Jacques Devaux (Unhygenix), Jean-Roger Milo (Fulliautomatix)

'Trades in suitably lively slapstick but perhaps without ever doing the cool Gaul total justice.' – William Thomas, Empire

† One of the most expensive films ever made in France, it was also a smash hit at the French box-office.

Asterix and the Big Fight

France/West Germany 1989 81m Eastmancolor
Palace/Gaumont/Extrafilm (Nicolas Pesques)

original title: Le Coup de Menhir

Asterix attempts to restore the village soothsayer's memory in order to make a potion to defeat the invading Romans.

Dull adaptation of a far wittier comic-book original.

w George Roubicek novel Asterix and the Big Fight by Rene Goscinny and Alberto Uderzo d Philippe Grimond ph Craig Simpson m Michel Colombier pd Nicolas Pesques ed Jean Goudier

☆ Featuring the voices of Bill Oddie, Bernard Bresslaw, Ron Moody, Sheila Hancock, Peter Hawkins, Brian Blessed, Michael Elphick, Andrew Sachs, Tim Brooke-Taylor, Douglas Blackwell

Asterix and the Vikings (dubbed) (6)

France/Denmark 2006 78m
Optimum/M6 Films/Mandarin SAS/2d3D Animations (Natalie Altmann, Thomas Valentin)

French theatrical title: Asterix et les Vikings
Danish theatrical title: Asterix og vikingerne

Asterix and Obelix head north to rescue the village chief's nephew after he is kidnapped by Norse warriors.

Good-looking adaptation of a lesser entry in the Goscinny and Uderzo canon, diminished somewhat by unnecessary, politically correct embellishments.

w Jean-Luc Goossens comic Asterix and the Normans by Rene Goscinny and Albert Uderzo d Stefan Fjeldmark, Jesper Moller m Alexandre Azaria

☆ Paul Giamatti (Asterix), Brad Garrett (Obelix), Sean Astin (Justforkix), Evan Rachel Wood (Abba), Greg Proops (Cryptograf), John Di Maggio (Timandahaf)

'Enjoyably peppy if not particularly memorable.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

† The original version was voiced by French actors.

Asterix Conquers America

Germany 1994 85m colour
TCF/Extrafilm (Jürgen Wohlrabe)

Asterix and friends end up accidentally in America, where they spend some time with an Indian tribe before returning home to fight the Romans once more.
Uninventive animated cartoon, making mild and inoffensive fun of national characteristics.
w Thomas Platt, Rhett Rooster, Robin Lyons, Andrew Offiler d Gerhard Hahn m Harold Faltermayer ed Ulrich Steinvorth
☆ Featuring the voices of John Rye, Craig Charles, Howard Lewis, Henry McGee, Geoffrey Bayldon, Christopher Biggins 'Pretty weary stuff, suitable only for avid fans.' – Guardian

Asterix in Britain

Denmark/France 1986 74m
Eastmancolor
Gaumont Dargaud (Yannik Piel)

Asterix and friends go to Britain to help the locals repel the Roman invasion.
Amiable animated version of the comic-book characters, poking good-natured fun at national stereotypes.
w Pierre Tchernia comic Goscinny and Uderzo d Pino Van Lamsweerde m Vladimir Cosma ☆ Featuring the voices of Jack Beaver, Bill Kearns, Graham Bushnell, Herbert Baskind, Ed Marcus

The Asthenic Syndrome ★★★

Russia 1989 153m bw/Fujicolor
Odessa Film Studio
original title: Asteniceskij Sindrom

A bleak tale of a woman who cannot come to terms with her bereavement turns out to be a film within the film; the real story is of modern-day Moscow and events centring around a narcoleptic teacher.
The film opens with a chorus of three old ladies chanting, 'In my childhood and youth I thought that if everybody read Leo Tolstoy carefully they would understand absolutely everything and would become very kind and wise.' What follows in this witty, episodic, structurally bold, harshly ironic account is the obverse: a society of uncaring and hostile people who will not wake up to their condition.
w Kira Muratova, Sergei Popov, Alexander Tschernych d Kira Muratova ph Vladimir Pankov ed Vladimir Olinik
☆ Olga Antonova (Natasha), Sergei Popov (Nikolai), Galina Zakhrudayeva (Masha)
† The film was banned on its release, and was only seen in Russia after it won the Special Jury Prize at the Berlin Film Festival in 1990.

The Astonished Heart ★

GB 1949 89m bw
Gainsborough/Sydney Box (Anthony Darnborough)

A psychiatrist is permitted by his wife to fall in love with another woman but finds the situation intolerable and kills himself.
The star, looking like a Chinese mandarin, reached his nadir in this unwise screen adaptation, inelegantly directed, of one of his slightest short plays about boring and effete people. It sank without trace.
w Noël Coward play Noël Coward d Terence Fisher, Anthony Darnborough ph Jack Asher m Noël Coward ☆ Noël Coward, Margaret Leighton, Celia Johnson, Graham Payn, Joyce Carey, Ralph Michael, Michael Hordern

The Astounding She-Monster

US 1957 59m bw
Hollywood International (Ronnie Ashcroft)

GB title: Mysterious Invader
In a remote spot, some crooks and a scientist combat a female space visitor with remarkable powers.
An early sub-Corman pot-boiler with only its camp qualities to recommend it.
w Frank Hall d Ronnie Ashcroft
☆ Robert Clarke, Kenne Duncan, Marilyn Harvey

'Imagine the face of terror is the one you love.'

The Astronaut's Wife

US 1999 109m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New Line/Mad Chance (Andrew Lazar)

An astronaut's wife comes to believe that, while in space, her husband was taken over by an alien entity; then she becomes pregnant.
A sort of science-fiction variation on Rosemary's Baby, but much less effective and interesting.
wd Rand Ravich ph Allen Daviau pd Jan Roelfs ed Steve Mirkovich, Tim Alverson
☆ Johnny Depp (Spencer Armacost), Charlize Theron (Jillian Armacost), Joe Morton (Sherman Reese), Clea DuVall (Nan), Donna Murphy (Natalie Streck), Samantha Eggar (Doctor), Gary Grubbs (NASA Director), Blair Brown (Shelly McLaren), Tom Noonan (Jackson McLaren)
'The abiding atmosphere is one of tedium and unreality.' – James Christopher, Times

Asya's Happiness ★★

USSR 1967 94m bw
Artificial Eye/Mosfilm (M. Zarzhitskaya) original title: Istoria Asi Klyachinoi, kotoraya lyubila, da nie vshla zamuzh

The film's epigraph is 'The story of a woman who loved but did not marry', but it is more a loving account of a rural community at work and play.
A candid portrait of Soviet life, using amateur actors, that was banned for more than 20 years for reasons only the Russians will understand.
w Yuri Klepikov d Andrei Konchalovsky ph Georgy Rerberg pd Mikhail Romadin ed L. Pokrovskoi ☆ Iya Savvina, Lyubov Sokolova, Alexander Surin, Gennady Yegorychev, Ivan Petrov
'A major film in its own right, a worthy addition to that great agrarian cinema of Vidor and Ford.' – Ian Christie, MFB

'You have nothing to lose but your mind!'

Asylum ★

GB 1972 88m Eastmancolor
Amicus (Max J. Rosenberg, Milton Subotsky)

aka: House of Crazies
A doctor applies for a job at an asylum, hears weird stories from four patients, and finds himself in the middle of a weirder one.
Lively horror compilation with echoes of Caligari and Dead of Night. Gruesomeness sometimes overdone.
w Robert Bloch d Roy Ward Baker ph Denys Coop m Douglas Gamley
☆ Patrick Magee, Robert Powell, Geoffrey Bayldon, Barbara Parkins, Sylvia Syms, Richard Todd, Peter Cushing, Barry Morse, Britt Ekland, Charlotte Rampling, James Villiers, Megs Jenkins, Herbert Lom 'Passion knows no boundaries.'

Asylum

US/Ireland 2005 96m DeLuxe
Momentum/Seven Arts/Samson (Laurence Borg, David E. Allen, Mace Neufeld)

In the late 1950s, the bored wife of a psychiatrist at an asylum begins an affair with an inmate, a sculptor who killed his unfaithful wife, and moves in with him after his escape.
Thin and unengaging drama with a rushed feel about it.
w Patrick Marber, Chrys Balis novel Patrick McGrath d David Mackenzie ph Giles Nuttgens m Mark Mancina pd Laurence Dorman ed Colin Monie, Steven Weisberg
☆ Natasha Richardson (Stella Raphael), Ian McKellen (Dr Peter Cleave), Marton Csokas (Edgar Stark), Hugh Bonneville (Max Raphael), Judy Parfitt (Brenda Raphael), Sean Harris (Nick), Gus Lewis (Charlie), Joss Ackland (Dr Jack Straffen)
'Insufficiently complex to work as a psychological drama, lacking the narrative suspense to function as a thriller... consistently totters on the brink of risibility.' – Philip French, Observer † Stephen King wrote an earlier version of the screenplay which was not used. Liam Neeson was originally signed to star.

At Close Range

US 1986 111m CFI color Panavision
Orion/Hemdale (Elliott Lewitt, Don Guest)

In Pennsylvania, a gang of young robbers is picked off one by one by the father of one of them, who feels they know too much about his own criminal activities.
Relentlessly brutal, dispiriting and quite pointless melodrama, even with the saving grace of a factual basis.
w Nicholas Kazan d James Foley ph Juan Ruiz-Anchia m Patrick Leonard ☆ Sean Penn, Christopher Walken, Mary Stuart Masterson, Christopher Penn, Millie Perkins, Eileen Ryan, Candy Clark
'A very tough picture ... runs the risk of being an audience turnoff.' – Variety

At Dawn We Die: see Tomorrow We Live

'Seeing is believing.'

At First Sight

US 1999 128m DeLuxe Panavision
MGM (Irwin Winkler, Rob Cowan)

A blind masseur is encouraged by his girlfriend to have an operation that may restore his sight.
A sentimental romantic drama that should be neither seen nor heard.
w Steve Levitt story To See and Not See by Oliver Sacks d Irwin Winkler ph John Seale m Mark Isham pd Jane Musky ed Julie Monroe ☆ Val Kilmer, Mira Sorvino, Kelly McGillis, Steven Weber, Bruce Davison, Nathan Lane, Ken Howard
'Fluffy, oversweet and not particularly nourishing.' – Lael Loewenstein, Variety
'The film itself could have done with an eye-test, since it apparently can't see its story except in soft-focus.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

At Gunpoint

US 1955 80m Technicolor
Cinemascope
Allied Artists

GB title: Gunpoint
A Western storekeeper accidentally kills a bank robber, whose brothers seek revenge; will the townsfolk come to his aid?
Fair Western on the lines of High Noon.
w Dan Ullman d Alfred Werker
☆ Fred MacMurray, Dorothy Malone, Walter Brennan, John Qualen, Skip Homeier

'A new kind of musical!'

At Long Last Love

US 1975 114m Technicolor
TCF/Copa de Oro (Peter Bogdanovich)

The 1935 romance of a New York millionaire and a musical star.
An attempt to recapture the simple pleasures of an Astaire-Rogers musical; unfortunately true professionalism is lacking and the wrong kind of talent is used. The result is awful to contemplate.
wd Peter Bogdanovich ph Laszlo Kovacs m Cole Porter pd Gene Allen ☆ Burt Reynolds, Cybill Shepherd, Eileen Brennan, Madeline Kahn, Duilio del Prete, John Hillerman, Mildred Natwick
'He works hard at reducing all his sets and costumes to variations of black against silver or white on white, and uncovers in his most oft-repeated visual motif – the elegant mirrors before which his cast seem at all times to be posed – the perfect metaphor for this endlessly narcissistic, thoroughly calcified enterprise.' – Richard Combs
'It just lies there, and it dies there.' – Variety
'Studios bury more films than the public or the critics. Fox gave up on At Long Last Love instantly. A six million dollar film was written off while it was doing well because their lawyers told them they could make more money that way.' – Peter Bogdanovich
'It is justly included on most lists of the ten worst films ever made.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies
'Stillborn ... a relentlessly vapid pastiche.' – Pauline Kael

At Play in the Fields of the Lord ★

US 1991 186m Technicolor
Entertainment/Saul Zaentz

American mercenaries become embroiled in a battle for the land and souls of an Indian tribe in the Amazon.
Over-long and over-earnest treatment of a fashionable theme, though it does have its moments.
w Jean-Claude Carrière, Hector Babenco novel Peter Mathiessen d Hector Babenco ph Lauro Escorel m Zbigniew Preisner pd Clovis Bueno ed William Anderson, Aremn Minasian, Louise Innes ☆ Tom Berenger, John Lithgow, Daryl Hannah, Aidan Quinn, Tom Waits, Kathy Bates, Stenio Garcia, Nelson Xavier
'The Amazonian tragedy is surely not best served by three hours of tedium.' – Empire

At Sword's Point ★

US 1952 81m Technicolor
RKO (Jerrold T. Brandt)

GB title: Sons of the Musketeers
The sons of the three musketeers rally around their ageing queen to prevent her daughter's marriage to a villain.
Adequate swashbuckler with plenty of pace and a sound cast.
w Walter Ferris, Joseph Hoffman d Lewis Allen ph Ray Rennahan m Roy Webb ☆ Cornel Wilde, Maureen O'Hara, Gladys

Cooper, Robert Douglas, Dan O'Herlihy, Alan Hale Jnr, Blanche Yurka, Nancy Gates

At the Circus ★★

US 1939 87m bw
MGM (Mervyn Le Roy)

aka: The Marx Brothers at the Circus

A shyster lawyer and two incompetents save a circus from bankruptcy.

This film began the decline of the Marx Brothers; in it nothing is ill done but nothing is very fresh either apart from the rousing finale which shows just what professionalism meant in the old Hollywood. Highlights include Groucho singing about Lydia the Tattooed Lady, his seduction of Mrs Dukesbury, and the big society party.

w Irving Brecher d Edward Buzzell ph Leonard M. Smith m Franz Waxman m/ly Harold Arlen, E. Y. Harburg

☆ Groucho, Chico, Harpo, Margaret Dumont, Florence Rice, Kenny Baker, Eve Arden, Nat Pendleton, Fritz Feld

GROUCHO: 'I don't know what I'm doing here when I could be at home in bed with a hot toddy. That's a drink.'

'Rousing physical comedy and staccato gag dialogue ... geared for fine b.o. and general audience appeal.' – Variety

'We must regretfully accept the fact that, thanks to the Metro millions, the Marx Brothers are finally imprisoned in the Hollywood world.' – Graham Greene

♫ 'Lydia the Tattooed Lady', 'Two Blind Loves', 'Step up and Take a Bow'

At the Earth's Core

GB 1976 90m Technicolor
Amicus (John Dark)

Scientists testing a geological excavator are carried by it to the centre of the Earth, and find a prehistoric land inhabited by feuding tribes.

Mainly feeble science fiction for kids, with occasional amusing moments.

w Milton Subotsky novel Edgar Rice Burroughs d Kevin Connor ph Alan Hume m Mike Vickers pd Maurice Carter sp Ian Wingrove

☆ Doug McClure, Peter Cushing, Caroline Munro, Cy Grant, Godfrey James, Keith Barron

'Papier mâché people-eaters, idiotic situations, and a frequent sense of confusion as to what is going on.' – David Stewart, Christian Science Monitor

At The Height of Summer: see Mua He Chieu Thang Dung

At the Stroke of Nine

GB 1957 72m bw
Tower/Grand National

A mad concert pianist plots to murder a young girl reporter.

Absurd and rather endearing melodrama of the very old school.

w Tony O'Grady, Harry Booth, Jon Pennington, Michael Deeley d Lance Comfort

☆ Stephen Murray, Patricia Dainton, Patrick Barr, Dermot Walsh

At the Villa Rose

This murder mystery by A. E. W. Mason has had three British filmings: in 1920 with Teddy Arundell as Inspector Hanaud; in 1930 with Austin Trevor; in 1939 with Keneth Kent. All were adequate to their time. The story concerns a medium framed for the murder of a rich widow.

At War with the Army

US 1951 93m bw
Paramount/Fred K. Finklehoffe

A couple of song and dance men have trouble as army recruits.

American service farce, based on a play and confined largely to one set; rather untypical of Martin and Lewis, yet oddly enough the film which sealed their success.

w Fred Finklehoffe play James Allardice d Hal Walker ph Stuart Thompson m Joseph Lilley

☆ Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Mike Kellin, Polly Bergen, Jimmie Dundee

L'Atalante ★★★

France 1934 89m bw
J. L. Nounez-Gaumont

A barge captain takes his new wife down river.

Jean Vigo's final masterpiece is a simple, slow-moving account of a troubled relationship. The film works on a poetic level, with Kaufman's camera capturing mysterious dreamlike images of river life, while Michel Simon's deckhand is one of the great screen performances.

w Jean Guinée, Jean Vigo, Albert Riera d Jean Vigo ph Boris Kaufman, Louis Berger m Maurice Jaubert ed Louis Chavance

☆ Jean Dasté (Jean), Dita Parlo (Juliette), Michel Simon (Pere Jules), Giles Margarites (Peddler)

'The singular talent – for once I think I may say genius – of the film lies in its translation into visual images of the mysterious and terrible and piteous undertones of even the simplest human life.' – Dilys Powell

¡Atame!: see Tie Me Up! Tie Me Down!

Atanarjuat The Fast Runner ★★★

Canada 2001 168m colour
ICA/Igoolik Isuma/NFBC (Paul Apak Angilirq, Norman Cohn, Zacharias Kunuk)

In the Arctic two thousand years ago, a struggle for leadership develops between two Inuit families.

A film like no other: based on an Inuit legend, it depicts a way of life, full of strange rituals and magic, that seems other-worldly; the desire for power, family betrayals, and the survival of the wiliest, though, connect with modern life.

w Paul Apak Angilirq d Zacharias Kunuk ph Norman Cohn ad James Ungalaaq ed Zacharias Kunuk, Norman Cohn, Marie-Christine Sarda

☆ Natar Ungalaaq (Atanarjuat), Sylvia Ivalu (Atuat), Peter Henry Arnatsiaq (Oki), Lucy Tulugarjuk (Puja), Pakkak Innushuk (Amaqjuaq), Madeline Ivalu (Panikpak), Paul Qulitalik (Qulitalik)

'Mysterious, bawdy, emotionally intense, and replete with virtuoso throat singing, this three-hour movie is engrossing from first image to last, so devoid of stereotype and cosmic in its vision it could suggest the rebirth of cinema.' – J. Hoberman, Village Voice

El Ataque de los Muertos sin Ojo: see The Return of the Evil Dead

Atash: see Thirst

Athena

US 1954 96m Eastmancolor
MGM (Joe Pasternak)

A young lawyer falls in love with the eldest of seven sisters brought up to high standards of moral conduct and physical fitness.

Promising but unfulfilling light musical which smothers a good idea in routine treatment.

w William Ludwig, Leonard Spigelgass d Richard Thorpe ph Robert Planck m/ly Hugh Martin, Ralph Blane md George Stoll

☆ Edmund Purdom, Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds, Louis Calhern, Evelyn Varden, Vic Damone, Linda Christian, Ray Collins

'The Leviathan of Talkies'
'A thunderbolt of drama impossible to describe'

Atlantic

GB 1929 90m bw
BIP

A passenger liner sinks in mid-Atlantic.

Veiled retelling of the Titanic story, here in a clumsy Anglo-German version with extremely primitive sound and a plethora of pregnant silences.

w Victor Kendall play The Berg by Ernest Raymond d E. A. Dupont

☆ Franklin Dyall, Madeleine Carroll, Monty Banks, John Stuart, John Longden, Ellaline Terriss

'If you want to be mentally shipwrecked or lost at sea, see Atlantic ... It's something unnecessary to see; something no one wants to see; something horrible to even think of.

'...It will draw to and drive away from the box office. Draw to because it holds horror, thrills and suspense; drive away through children not being permitted to see it and the suggested gruesomeness too strong for many, not only women.

'...A faint try at comedy with a valet was like a ghoul in a cemetery ... but Franklin Dyall excelled as an aged invalid with John Longden as a ship's officer, making a splendid appearance.' – Variety

Atlantic City ★

US 1944 87m bw
Republic (Albert J. Cohen)

aka: Atlantic City, U.S.A.

Before World War I, a young showman aims to make Atlantic City the entertainment centre of the world.

Simple-minded romantic musical, quite pacy and effectively staged for a Republic product.

w Doris Gilbert, Frank Gill Jnr, George Carleton Brown d Ray McCarey ph John Alton m/ly various

☆ Constance Moore, Brad Taylor, Jerry Colonna, Charley Grapewin

Atlantic City ★★★

Canada/France 1981 105m colour
Cine-Neighbour/Selta Films (Denis Heroux)

Small-time crooks congregate round Atlantic City's new casinos.

Elegiac character drama which often achieves the mood it seeks but on the whole remains too understated for its own good. There are some rich characterizations from Lancaster, as the loser revitalized by murder, Kate Reid as his elderly harridan of a lover, and Sarandon as the woman who got away.

w John Guare d Louis Malle ph Richard Ciupka m Michel Legrand pd Anne Pritchard ed Suzanne Baron

☆ Burt Lancaster (Lou), Susan Sarandon (Sally), Kate Reid (Grace), Michel Piccoli (Joseph), Hollis McLaren (Chrissie)

best picture; John Guare; Burt Lancaster; Susan Sarandon; Louis Malle best direction; Burt Lancaster

L'Atlantide ★

France 1921 125m approx (16 fps) bw silent
Thalman

Two explorers find the lost continent of Atlantis and fall in love with its queen.

Highly commercial adventure fantasy of its day; it cost two million francs and ran in Paris for a year. Some scenes still sustain, and the desert scenes are impressive.

Other versions include:
1932 Queen of Atlantis, Germany, d G. W. Pabst, with Brigitte Helm
1948 Siren of Atlantis, US, d Gregg Tallas, with Maria Montez
1961 L'Atlantide, France/Italy, d Edgar G. Ulmer

wd Jacques Feyder novel Pierre Benoît ph Georges Specht, Victor Morin

☆ Jean Angelo, Stacia Napierkowska, Georges Melchior

Atlantis ★★

France 1991 75m colour
Warner/Gaumont/Cecchi Gori

An episodic documentary, with musical accompaniment, on life under the sea.

A fascinating attempt at what its director defined as an 'underwater opera', full of quirky detail and showing various species that may soon die out.

d Luc Besson ph Christian Petron m Eric Serra ed Luc Besson

Atlantis, the Lost Continent

US 1961 91m Metrocolor
MGM/Galaxy/George Pal

A Greek fisherman is imprisoned when he returns a maiden he has rescued to her island home of Atlantis, but escapes just before volcanic eruption overtakes the decadent nation.

Penny-pinching fantasy spectacle with very little entertainment value.

w Daniel Mainwaring play Sir Gerald Hargreaves d George Pal ph Harold E. Wellman m Russell Garcia

☆ Anthony Hall, Joyce Taylor, John Dall, Edward Platt, Frank de Kova, Jay Novello

Atlantis: The Lost Empire ★

US 2001 95m Technicolor
CinemaScope
Buena Vista/Walt Disney (Don Hahn)

In 1914, a linguist leads an expedition to discover the underwater city of Atlantis.

Interesting attempt to revitalise Disney's approach to traditional animation, abandoning songs and cute animals and using the style of comic-book artist Mike Mignola; a less hackneyed story, without mushy mysticism at its centre, would have been an even greater improvement.

w Tab Murphy, Gary Trousdale, Kirk Wise, Joss Whedon, Bryce Zabel, Jackie Zabel d Gary Trousdale, Kirk Wise m James Newton Howard ed Ellen Keneshea

☆ voices of: Michael J. Fox (Milo Thatch), James Garner (Commander Rourke), Cree Summer (Princess Kida), Leonard Nimoy (King of Atlantis), Vinny Santorini (Don Novello), Claudia Christian (Helga Sinclair), Jacqueline Obradors (Audrey Ramirez), John Mahoney (Preston B. Whitmore), Corey Burton (Mole), David Ogden Stiers (Fenton Q. Harcourt), Jim Varney (Cookie)

'An outstanding creative and artistic achievemenr...a masterpiece of the storyteller's craft.' – Ben Woodhams, Film Review

'Recycles familiar adventure and cartoon devices with minimal wit and flair.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Atoll K: see Robinson Crusoeland

Atoladero

Spain 1995 99m colour Panavision
FDG/Canal+ (Arturo Duque)

In 2048 in Texas, where despots rule over desert regions, an epileptic cop tries to escape from the small community in which he lives.
Curious pulp science fiction which mixes comic-book characters with the style of a slightly surreal spaghetti Western; most of the action takes place off-screen.
wd Oscar Aibar ph Carles Gusi m Javier Navarrete ad Llorenç Miquel ed Anastasi Rinos, Xavier Cabrera
☆ Pere Ponce, Joaquin Hinojosa, Iggy Pop, Félix Rotaeta, Carlos Lucas, Pep Molina, Oriol Tramvia, Ion Gabella, Xevi Collelmir
'Strong on atmosphere and character, but let down by flimsy plotting.' – Sight and Sound

The Atomic City ★

US 1952 85m bw
Paramount (Joseph Sistrom)

The young son of a leading atomic scientist is kidnapped but his father and the FBI rescue him.
Routine but well-paced thriller with a documentary background of research at Los Alamos.
w Sydney Boehm d Jerry Hopper
ph Charles B. Lang Jnr m Leith Stevens ☆ Gene Barry, Lydia Clarke, Lee Aaker, Nancy Gates, Milburn Stone
Sydney Boehm

The Atomic Kid

US 1954 86m bw
Republic/Mickey Rooney (Maurice Duke)

After an atomic blast, a prospector accidentally left in the area proves immune to uranium, and after various adventures rounds up some communist spies.
Inane romp which raises a few laughs.
w Benedict Freeman, John Fenton Murray story Blake Edwards d Leslie H. Martinson ph John L. Russell Jnr m Van Alexander ☆ Mickey Rooney, Robert Strauss, Elaine Davis, Bill Goodwin, Whit Bissell

Atomic Submarine

US 1959 72m bw
Allied Artists (Alex Gordon)

The crew of an atomic submarine save the world from an alien invasion under the North Pole.
Engaging nonsense of the period.
w Orville H. Hampton d Spencer Gordon Bennet ph Gilbert Warrenton
m Alexander Laszlo ad Dan Haller, Dan Ament ed William Austin ☆ Arthur Franz, Dick Foran, Brett Halsey, Tom Conway, Paul Dubov, Bob Steele, Victor Varconi, Selmer Jackson

Atomised ③

Germany 2006 109m
Momentum Pictures/Constantin Film Production/ /MOOVIE/GFP Medienfonds (Bernd Eichinger, Oliver Berben)

German theatrical title: Elementarteilchen
Two contrasting half-brothers, separated until adulthood, reunite to learn about life and love.
Freewheeling adaptation of sardonic Michel Houellebecq novel that fails to do it justice. Inoffensive and oddly unmemorable.
wd Oskar Roehler novel Les Particules Elementaires by Michel Houellebecq ph Carl-Friedrich Koschnick m Martin Todsharow ad Ingrid Henn ed Peter R. Adam ☆ Moritz Bleibtreu (Bruno), Christian Ulmen (Michael), Martina Gedeck (Christiane), Franka Potente (Annabelle)

The Atonement of Gösta Berling ★★

Sweden 1924 200m approx (16 fps) bw silent
Svensk Filmindustri

original title: Gösta Berlings Saga
A pastor is defrocked for drinking, becomes a tutor, and has various love affairs.
Lumpy but often engrossing picturization of a famous novel, veering mostly into melodrama but finding its way to a happy ending.
w Mauritz Stiller, Ragnar Hylten-Cavallius novel Selma Lagerlof d Mauritz Stiller
ph Julius Jaenzon
☆ Lars Hanson, Gerda Lundeqvist, Ellen Cederstrom, Mona Martensson, Jenny Hasselqvist, Otto Elg-Lundberg, Greta Garbo
'Stiller was a master at unifying visual beauty and emotional effect; the complicated narrative is blurry, but there are sequences as lovely and expressive as any on film.' – New Yorker, 1980
† It was her small role in this film which led directly to Greta Garbo's American stardom.

Attack! ★★

US 1956 104m bw
UA/Associates and Aldrich

In 1944 Belgium, an American infantry command is led by a coward.
High-pitched, slick, violent and very effective war melodrama, even though by the end we seem to be in the company of raving lunatics rather than soldiers.
w James Poe play Fragile Fox by Norman Brooks d Robert Aldrich ph Joseph Biroc
m Frank de Vol
☆ Jack Palance, Eddie Albert, Lee Marvin, Buddy Ebsen, Robert Strauss, Richard Jaeckel, William Smithers, Peter Van Eyck
'The film does not so much tackle a subject as hammer it down.' – Penelope Houston

Attack Force Z

Australia 1981 110m colour
John McCallum/Central Motion Picture Corp (Lee Robinson)

A secret commando group attempts to rescue survivors of a plane crash in Japanese-held territory during the Second World War.
Downbeat adventure, which was intended as a tribute to Australasian special operations, but conveys instead the waste of humanity that war entails.
w Roger Marshall d Tim Burstall ph Lin Hun-Chung m Eric Jupp ed David Stiven
☆ John Phillip Law, Mel Gibson, Sam Neill, Chris Haywood, John Waters, Koo Chuan-Hsiung, Sylvia Chang, O Ti

Attack of the 50 Ft. Woman

US 1993 90m colour
Entertainment/HBO/Bartleby (Debra Hill)

After an encounter with a UFO a woman grows to enormous size and deals with her philandering husband.
A feminist remake that adds nothing of interest to the original, merely seeming a story yanked out of its time.
w Joseph Dougherty d Christopher Guest ph Russell Carpenter m Nicholas Pike pd Joseph T. Garrity ed Harry Keramidas
sp Fantasy II Film Effects
☆ Daryl Hannah, Daniel Baldwin, William Windom, Frances Fisher, Paul Benedict, O'Neal Compton, Cristi Conaway
† Made for cable TV, the film had a brief cinema showing in Britain.

The Attack of the 50-Foot Woman

US 1958 72m bw
Allied Artists (Bernard Woolner)

A neurotic woman is lured inside a space ship, becomes radio-active, and grows to alarming proportions.
Hilarious tailpiece to the fifties monster cycle, a dismal movie worth remembering only for its title.
w Mark Hanna d Nathan Hertz (Nathan Juran) ph Jacques Marquette m Ronald Stein ed Edward Mann
☆ Allison Hayes, William Hudson, Roy Gordon

'From the depths of the sea ... A Tidal Wave of Terror!'

Attack of the Crab Monsters

US 1956 62m bw
Allied Artists (Roger Corman)

25-foot mutant crabs cause landslides on a Pacific island.
Bottom-of-the-barrel monster mayhem from this tongue-in-cheek producer; now a cult.
w Charles B. Griffith d Roger Corman ph Floyd Crosby m Ronald Stein
ed Charles Gross Jnr
☆ Richard Garland, Pamela Duncan, Russell Johnson

Attack of the Giant Leeches

US 1959 62m bw
Corman/AIP

aka: Demons of the Swamp
A bar owner forces his wife and her lover into a swamp to be eaten by monsters.
The bottom of the Corman/AIP barrel, good only for a few unintentional laughs.
w Leo Gordon d Bernard Kowalski
ph John M. Nickolaus Jnr
☆ Ken Clark, Michael Emmet, Yvette Vickers, Bruno Ve Sota

Attack of the Killer Tomatoes

US 1978 87m colour
Four Square/NAI

Vegetables go berserk in the big city.
Apparently a cult film made deliberately as such, which is a contradiction in terms. Nothing for the ordinary audience, anyway.
w Costa Dillon, Steve Peace, John de Bello
d John de Bello
☆ David Miller, George Wilson, Sharon Taylor, Jack Riley
'Though the idea sounds funny, actually sitting through nearly 90 minutes of it is enough to make anyone long for Attack of the Fifty Foot Woman.' – Motion Picture Guide

Attack of the Puppet People

US 1957 79m bw
Alta Vista (Bert I. Gordon)
GB title: Six Inches Tall
A doll-maker has also learned to shrink people.
Inferior entry in the Dr Cyclops mould; mildly amusing moments are sandwiched between chunks of tedium.
w George Worthing Yates d Bert I. Gordon
☆ John Hoyt, John Agar, June Kenny

Attack on the Iron Coast

GB 1967 90m DeLuxe
UA/Mirisch (John Champion)
In World War II, a Canadian commando unit destroys a German installation on the French coast.
Stagey low-budgeter with modest action sequences.
w Herman Hoffman d Paul Wendkos
ph Paul Beeson m Gerard Schurmann
☆ Lloyd Bridges, Andrew Keir, Mark Eden, Sue Lloyd

'Just when you wanted to laugh, here they come.'

Attack the Gas Station ★

South Korea 1999 109m colour
Cinema Service/Fun & Happiness (Lee Kwan Soo)

original title: Juyuso Seubgyuksageun
Four young delinquents trash a petrol station, rob the owner, intimidate the staff and start a gang war.
Exuberant, anarchic drama with some comic moments, intended for an adolescent audience that enjoys vicarious violence and making rude gestures towards civilised society.
w Park Jeong-Woo d Kim Sang-Jin ph Choi Jeong-Wu m Son Mu-Hyeon
ad Oh Sang-Man ed Ko Im-Pyo
☆ Lee Seong-Jae, Yu Oh-Seong, Kang Seong-Jin, Yu Ji-Tae, Park Young-Kyu

Attila the Hun

Italy/France 1954 79m Technicolor
Lux Ponti de Laurentiis/LCCF (Georgio Andriani)

original title: Attilo Flagello di Dio
The barbarian chief attacks the forces of the Emperor Valentinian and marches on Rome.
Predictably violent adventures after de Mille; a bit slow to start.
w Ennio de Concini, Primo Zeglio
d Pietro Francisci ph Aldo Tonti m Enzo Masetti
☆ Anthony Quinn, Sophia Loren, Henri Vidal, Irene Papas, Ettore Manni, Claude Laydu

Attilo Flagello di Dio: see Attila the Hun

Attorney for the Defense

US 1932 70m bw
Columbia

A prosecutor's wiles result in an innocent man being executed, so he turns crusader and takes on defence cases.
Punchy if unconvincing courtroom melodrama which would certainly satisfy at the time.
w Jo Swerling, J. K. McGuinness d Irving Cummings
☆ Edmund Lowe, Evelyn Brent, Constance Cummings, Donald Dillaway, Dorothy Peterson, Dwight Frye, Nat Pendleton, Clarence Muse

Au Coeur Du Mensonge ★★

France 1999 113m colour
Cinéfrance/MK2/France 3/Canal+ (Marin Karmitz)

GB title: The Colour of Lies

When one of his pupils is raped and murdered, an art teacher is thought by many to be the killer, but he suspects a local celebrity, a novelist who is attempting to seduce his wife.

Complex, intriguing drama of jealousy, guilt and suspicion that is not to be taken too seriously; it has fun at the expense of celebrity.

w Odile Barski, Claude Chabrol d Claude Chabrol ph Eduardo Serra m Matthieu Chabrol ad Françoise Benoit-Fresco ed Monique Fardoulis cos Corinne Jorry

☆ Sandrine Bonnaire (Viviane Sterne), Jacques Gamblin (Rene Sterne), Valeria Bruni-Tedeschi (Frederique Lesage), Antoine de Caunes (Germain-Roland Desmot), Bernard Verley (Detective Loudun), Bulle Ogier (Yvelyne Bordier), Pierre Martot (Regis Marchal), Noel Simsolo (M Bordier), Adrienne Pauly (Anna)

'A delicious sense of suspense haunts Claude Chabrol's latest character-study-cum-whodunit' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

Au delà des Grilles

Italy/France 1949 90m bw
Italia Produzione/Francinex (Alfredo Guarini)
Italian title: La mura de Malapaga
aka: Beyond the Gates; The Walls of Malapaga

A murderer on the run in Genoa falls in love with a waitress and loses his chance of escape.

Quai des Brumes reworked against an Italian neo-realist setting; dramatic values less interesting now than historical ones.

w Jean Aurenche, Pierre Bost, Cesare Zavattini, Suso Cecchi d'Amico d René Clément ph Louis Page m Roman Vlad

☆ Jean Gabin, Isa Miranda, Vera Talchi, Andrea Checci

best foreign film

Au Hasard, Balthazar: see Balthazar

Au Pair Girls

GB 1972 86m Eastmancolor
LMG/Kenneth Shipman (Guido Coen)

The adventures of four au pair girls in London.

Dire comedy in the depressing cycle of British sexploitation films of the 70s, one that wasted some excellent talents.

w Val Guest, David Adnopoz story David Grant d Val Guest ph John Wilcox m Roger Webb ad Roy Smith ed John Colville

☆ Gabrielle Drake, Astrid Frank, Nancie Wait, Me Me Lay, Richard O'Sullivan, John Le Mesurier, Geoffrey Bayldon, Rosalie Crutchley, Ferdy Mayne, John Standing, Johnny Briggs

'Val Guest hits rock bottom with this humourless attempt at a sex comedy.' – Derek Elley, MFB

Au Revoir Les Enfants ★★★★

France 1988 107m Eastmancolor
Nouvelles éditions de Films/MK2/Stella Films (Louis Malle)

During the German occupation of France, a boy at a Catholic school inadvertently betrays his Jewish schoolfriend to the Nazis.

A coolly-understated, intensely personal, semi-autobiographical movie much admired by the French and winner of the Golden Lion at the Venice Film Festival.

wd Louis Malle ph Renato Berta ad Willy Holt ed Emmanuelle Castro

☆ Gaspard Manesse (Julien Quentin), Raphaël Fejtö (Jean Bonnet), Francine Racette (Mme Quentin), Stanlislas Carre de Malberg (François Quentin), Philippe Morier-Genoud (Father Jean), François Berleand (Father Michel), François Negret (Joseph)

'Malle has said of Au Revoir, "I reinvented the past in the pursuit of a haunting and timeless truth." Maybe that's why I felt as if I were watching a faded French classic, something I dimly recalled.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker best foreign film; Louis Malle (as writer)

Louis Malle (as director)

Au Royaume des Cieux

France 1949 108m bw
Regina (Julien Duvivier)
aka: Woman Hunt

An 18-year-old girl suffers at a reform school.

Shoddy melodrama, more sensational than Hollywood ever dared to be.

wd Julien Duvivier ph Victor Armenise

☆ Suzanne Cloutier, Serge Reggiani, Monique Mélinand, Suzy Prim, Jean Davy, Juliette Greco

'A depressing exhibit from a director who once had a serious reputation.' – Gavin Lambert

L'Auberge Rouge: see The Red Inn

Auch Zwerge Haben Klein Angefangen: see Even Dwarfs Started Small

Audition: see Odishon

Audrey Rose ★

US 1977 113m DeLuxe Panavision
United Artists (Joe Wizan, Frank de Felitta)

A man believes that a 12-year-old girl is the reincarnation of his dead daughter.

Rather painful and not very persuasive spiritualist thriller in the wake of The Exorcist; only moments of dramaturgy survive.

w Frank de Felitta novel Frank de Felitta d Robert Wise ph Victor J. Kemper m Michael Small pd Harry Horner

☆ Anthony Hopkins, Marsha Mason, John Beck, Susan Swift, Norman Lloyd, John Hillerman, Robert Walden

'You can live a whole lifetime in a single weekend...'

August ★★

GB 1995 94m colour
Film Four/Majestic/Newcomm/Granada (June Wyndham Davies, Pippa Cross)

A visit by the head of the family and his much younger wife to the estate managed by his brother-in-law precipitates a crisis which leads its members to examine the disappointments of their lives.

An elegant, civilized version, though lacking in urgency, of Chekhov's play, which translates well to the Wales of the 1890s, with a narrative that gives some sense of life outside the stifled family at its centre.

w Julian Mitchell play Uncle Vanya by Anton Chekhov d Anthony Hopkins ph Robin Vidgeon m Anthony Hopkins pd Eileen Diss ed Edward Mansell

☆ Anthony Hopkins, Leslie Phillips, Kate Burton, Gawn Grainger, Hugh Lloyd, Rhoda Lewis, Menna Trussler, Rhian Morgan

'It is very much an actor's piece. Lines are delivered rather than spoken, and the cast frequently freezes into a tableau, everyone staring rigidly into the distance.' – George Perry

Aunt Julia and The Scriptwriter: see Tune In Tomorrow

Auntie Mame ★

US 1958 144m Technirama
Warner (Morton da Costa)

An orphan boy is adopted by his volatile extravagant aunt, whose giddy escapades fill his memory of the twenties and thirties.

A rather unsatisfactory star revue from a book and play later turned into a musical, Mame (qv). A few splendid moments, otherwise rather dull and irritating.

w Betty Comden, Adolph Green play Jerome Lawrence, Robert E. Lee novel Patrick Dennis d Morton da Costa ph Harry Stradling m Bronislau Kaper ad Malcolm Bert ed William Ziegler

☆ Rosalind Russell, Forrest Tucker, Coral Browne, Fred Clark, Roger Smith, Patric Knowles, Peggy Cass, Lee Patrick, Joanna Barnes

best picture; Harry Stradling; Rosalind Russell; Peggy Cass; art direction; editing

The Aurora Encounter

US 1985 90m colour
New World (Jim McCullough)

In the 1890s, an alien visits a small Texas town in a flying saucer.

Unexciting, soft-centred family fare, featuring Elam in his later incarnation as an avuncular buffoon.

w Jim McCullough Jnr` d Jim McCullough ph Joseph Wilcots m Ron F. Dilulio pd Drew E. Hunter ed Sheri Galloway

☆ Jack Elam, Peter Brown, Carol Bagdasarian, Dottie West, Mickey Hays, Spanky McFarland

Aus Dem Leben Der Marionetten ★

West Germany 1980 104m colour/bw ITC/Personafilm (Horts Wendlandt, Ingrid Bergman, Richard Brick)

aka: From the Life of Marionettes

An inquiry into the killing of a prostitute by a rich businessman.

A film somehow very typical of its director, but far from his most interesting work.

wd Ingmar Bergman ph Sven Nykvist m Rols Wilhelm pd Rolf Zehetbauer ed Petra von Oelffen, Geri Ashur

☆ Robert Atzorn, Christine Buchegger, Martin Benrath

'In its unalloyed pessimism, its complete negation of hope, the film, stripped of the incidents, the excitements which have illumined the director's earlier work, is the purest of Bergman. He can go no farther.' – Dilys Powell, Punch

Aus Einem Deutschen Leben: see Death Is My Trade

Une Aussi Longue Absence ★

France/Italy 1961 96m bw Dyaliscope
Procinex/Lyre/Galatea (Jacques Nahum)
aka: The Long Absence

A widow who owns a Paris café meets an amnesiac tramp who may be her long-lost husband.

Romantic character study which just about comes off thanks to good acting.

w Marguerite Duras, Gérald Jarlot d Henri Colpi ph Marcel Weiss m Georges Delerue

☆ Alida Valli, Georges Wilson, Jacques Harden

Austerlitz

France/Italy/Liechtenstein/Yugoslavia 1959 166m Eastmancolor Dyaliscope
CFPI/SCLF/Galatea/Michael Arthur/Dubrava (Alexander and Michael Salkind) aka: The Battle of Austerlitz

Napoleon defeats the Austro-Russian army.

Elaborate pageant with a hopelessly cluttered narrative line arranged to take in a roster of guest stars who merely distract from the central theme.

wd Abel Gance ph Henri Alekan, Robert Juillard m Jean Ledrut

☆ Pierre Mondy, Jean Mercure, Jack Palance, Orson Welles, Michel Simon, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Martine Carol, Leslie Caron, Claudia Cardinale, Rossano Brazzi, Ettore Manni, Jean Marais, Vittorio de Sica

'Strictly for connoisseurs of Gance's brand of hyperbolic history.' – Peter John Dyer, MFB

'What do you call a swinger old enough to be your father? Daddy!'

Austin Powers in Goldmember

US 2002 94m Foto-Kem Panavision
Entertainment/New Line/Gratitude/Team Todd/Moving Pictures (Suzanne Todd, Jennifer Todd, Demi Moore, Eric McLeod, John Lyons, Mike Myers)

A swinging secret agent travels in time to prevent Dr Evil from swamping the world.

Amiable spy spoof, though most of the jokes are of a rude and rudimentary kind; in the end, though, its childish glee wears you down.

w Mike Myers, Michael McCullers d Jay Roach ph Peter Deming m George S. Clinton pd Rusty Smith ed Jon Poll, Greg Hayden cos Deena Appel

☆ Mike Myers (Austin Powers/Dr Evil/Goldmember/Fat Bastard), Beyonce Knowles (Foxxy Cleopatra), Seth Green (Scott Evil), Michael York (Basil Exposition), Robert Wagner (Number Two), Mindy Sterling (Frau Farbissina), Verne Troyer (Mini Me), Michael Caine (Nigel Powers)

'An absolute treasure trove of laughs.' – Neil Roberts, Sun

'An aimless, scatological pastiche.' – Philip French, Observer

'"Shall we shag now, or shall we shag later?" – Austin Powers'

Austin Powers: International Man of Mystery ★★ (5)

US 1997 89m CFI color Panavision
Guild/New Line/Capella/KC Medien/Eric's Boy (Suzanne Todd, Demi Moore, Jennifer Todd, Mike Myers)

A cryogenically frozen spy from the 60s is thawed out to deal with a master criminal who threatens the peace of the world.

Very late in the day comes a spoof of James Bond and films of swinging London that manages to be engaging, mainly by contrasting the fashions of yesterday with those of today.

w Mike Myers d Jay Roach ph Peter Deming m George S. Clinton pd Cynthia Charette ed Debra Neil-Fisher

☆ Mike Myers (Austin Powers/ Dr Evil), Elizabeth Hurley (Vanessa Kensington), Michael York (Basil Exposition), Mimi Rogers (Mrs Kensington), Robert Wagner (Number Two), Seth Green (Scott Evil), Fabiana Udenio (Alotta Fagina), Charles Napier

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'For noise, enthusiasm and silliness, Austin Powers is a bit of a gas.' – Richard Williams, Guardian

† The film cost $17m and took $54m at the US box-office.

♗ make-up (Michele Burke, Mike Smithson)

'First he fought for the Crown. Now he's fighting for the Family Jewels.'

Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me ★

US 1999 95m DeLuxe Super 35
New Line/Eric's Boy/Moving Pictures/Team Todd (Suzanne Todd, Jennifer Todd, Demi Moore, Eric McLeod, John Lyons, Mike Myers)

A secret agent goes back in time to recover his lost mojo.

The mixture is much as before, though with a greater preponderance of fart jokes, and a few engagingly silly moments. This time around, audiences who had stayed away from the first Powers film flocked to see this one.

w Mike Myers, Michael McCullers d Jay Roach ph Ueli Steiger m George S. Clinton pd Rusty Smith ed Jon Poll, Debra Neil-Fisher

☆ Mike Myers (Austin Powers/ Dr Evil/ Fat Bastard), Heather Graham (Felicity Shagwell), Michael York (Basil Exposition), Robert Wagner (Number Two), Rob Lowe (Young Number Two), Seth Green (Scott Evil), Mindy Sterling (Frau Farbissina), Verne J. Troyer (Mini-Me), Elizabeth Hurley (Vanessa), Kristen Johnston (Ivana Humpalot), Gia Carides (Robin Swallows)

'Tickles the funny bone ably enough for 95 minutes, yet feels like a quickie where it ultimately counts most: in the writing.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety

† The film also includes cameos by Burt Bacharach, Elvis Costello, Woody Harrelson, Charles Napier, Willie Nelson, Tim Robbins, and Jerry Springer.

†† It was the fourth most successful movie of 1999, grossing more than $250m at the box-office.

Australia

France/Belgium/Switzerland 1989 124m colour
Christian Bourgois/AO/Les Films de La Dreve/ CAB/RTBF/Cine 5 (Marie Pascale Osterrieth)

A Belgium wool merchant, returning home from Australia to sort out a family problem, falls in love with a married woman.

Superior soap opera.

w Jean Gruault, Jacques Audiard, Jean-Jacques Andrien d Jean-Jacques Andrien ph Yorgos Arvanitis m Nicola Piovani pd Herbert Westbrook ed Ludo Troch

☆ Jeremy Irons, Fanny Ardant, Tcheky Karyo, Agnes Soral, Danielle Lyttleton, Helene Surgere

Austria 1700: see Mark of the Devil

Author, Author! ★

US 1982 109m TVC Color
TCF (Irwin Winkler)

A Broadway playwright has worries about his wife's fidelity.

Like a sixties update of All About Eve, this thin but sometimes witty sex-behind-the-footlights comedy had nothing to offer the general audience of the eighties, and one can only speculate as to why it was made. The acting does help, but it's a long haul.

w Israel Horovitz d Arthur Hiller ph Victor J. Kemper m Dave Grusin pd Gene Rudolf ed William Reynolds

☆ Al Pacino, Dyan Cannon, Tuesday Weld, Bob Dishy, Bob Elliott

'In trying to dig a little deeper than the average Neil Simon comedy, it only prepares its own grave.' – Observer

'A day without sex is a day wasted.'

Auto Focus ★

US 2002 105m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Good MachinePropaganda (Scott Alexander, Larry Karaszewski, Todd Rosken, Pat Dollard, Alicia Allain)

A happily married actor becomes a star in a TV sitcom and, under the influence of a video technician, turns to promiscuity and pornography.

Based on the life and murder of Bob Crane, star of Hogan's Heroes, this cautionary tale of sleazy, voyeuristic masculinity lacks resonance outside the US, where Crane was unknown, and never quite manages to convey a wider significance.

w Michael Gerbosi book The Murder of Bob Crane by Robert Graysmith d Paul Schrader ph Fred Murphy m Angelo Badalamenti pd James Chinlund ed Kristina Boden

☆ Greg Kinnear (Bob Crane), Willem Dafoe (John Carpenter), Rita Wilson (Anne Crane), Maria Bello (Patricia Crane), Ron Leibman (Lenny), Kurt Fuller (Werner Klemperer/Klink), Ed Begley Jnr (Mel Rosen)

'Ranks as a shrewd expose of recent Hollywood's slimy underside.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'Schrader's objectification of sad and stupid material is neither tragic nor transgressive. It is just undramatic and uninvolving.' – Richard Corliss, Time

† Crane played Colonel Robert Hogan in Hogan's Heroes, a TV sitcom set in a Nazi prisoner of war camp that ran on CBS from 1965-71.

Autobiography of a Princess ★★

GB 1975 59m colour
Contemporary/Merchant-Ivory (Ismail Merchant)

In London, the exiled daughter of a maharajah and her father's former English secretary watch ancient home movies and swap barbed reminiscences about India in the days of Empire.

A gently bitter look back in regret and disappointment, as two elderly people reinterpret the past to suit their own concerns.

w Ruth Prawer Jhabvala d James Ivory ph Walter Lassally m Vic Flick ad Jaquemine Charrot-Lodwidge ed Humphrey Dixon

☆ James Mason, Madhur Jaffrey, Keith Varnier, Diane Fletcher, Timothy Bateson, Johnny Stuart, Nazrul Rahman

'Undoubtedly Ivory's best film to date.' – MFB

Autobus ★★★

France 1991 98m colour
Artificial Eye/Les Productions Lazennec/FR3/ SGGC/La Générale d'Images/Canal (Alain Rocca)

French title: Aux yeux du monde

A frustrated and unemployed youth hijacks a bus full of schoolchildren so that he can go to visit his girlfriend.

An unexpected and uplifting exploration of a familiar theme which manages to avoid all the conventional routes.

wd Eric Rochant ph Pierre Novion m Gérard Torikian pd Pascale Fenouillet ad Pascale Fenouillet ed Catherine Quesemand

☆ Yvan Attal (Bruno Fournier), Kristin Scott-Thomas (L'Institutrice), Marc Berman (Le Chauffeur), Charlotte Gainsbourg (Juliette Mangin), Renan Mazeas (Sam)

'Slight and well-meaning, and less incisive than it could be. But it is also much more appealing than its rather whimsical premise would suggest.' – Verina Glaessner, Sight and Sound

Automania 2000 ★★

GB 1963 10m Eastmancolor
Halas and Batchelor

New cars have the ability to reproduce themselves: city dwellers of the future consequently live in stationary vehicles piled on top of each other.

Amusing cartoon fantasy, neatly executed.

w Joy Batchelor d John Halas

Un Autre Homme, une Autre Chance: see Another Man, Another Chance

An Autumn Afternoon ★★★★

Japan 1962 113m Agfa-Shochikucolor
Shochiku

original title: Samma no Aji

A widower, horrified by the thought of his daughter becoming an old maid by looking after him, is encouraged by his friends to find her a husband.

Ozu's last film, in which form matters as much as content, is an elegiac account of the disintegration of family life and the prospect of lonely old age.

w Kogo Noda, Yasujiro Ozu d Yasujiro Ozu ph Yuharu Atsuta m Kojun Saito ad Tatsuo Hamada ed Yoshiyasu Hamamura

☆ Shima Iwashita (Michiko Hirayama), Chishu Ryu (Shuhei Hirayama), Keiji Sada (Koichi), Mariko Okada (Akiko), Shinichiro Mikami (Kazuo), Teruo Yoshida (Yutaka Miura), Noriko Maki (Fusako Taguchi), Nobuo Nakamura (Shuzo Kawai), Eijiro Tono (Sakuma, The 'Gourd')

Autumn Crocus

GB 1934 86m bw
ATP

A British schoolmistress on holiday falls for her Tyrolean innkeeper.

Difficult now to conceive the popularity in its day of this novelettish romance, which seems frozen in amber.

wd Basil Dean play C. L. Anthony

☆ Ivor Novello, Fay Compton, Jack Hawkins, Diana Beaumont, Muriel Aked, George Zucco

'He fell in love for the first time... she fell in love forever.'

Autumn in New York

US 2000 103m DeLuxe
MGM/Lakeshore (Amy Robinson, Gary Lucchesi, Tom Rosenberg)

A middle-aged playboy-restaurateur falls for a 22-year-old woman with a fatal illness.

Glutinous romantic drama that trivialises everything it touches.

w Allison Burnett d Joan Chen ph Changwei Gu m Gabriel Yared pd Mark Friedberg ed Ruby Yang cos Carol Oditz

☆ Richard Gere (Will Keane), Winona Ryder (Charlotte Fielding), Anthony LaPaglia (John), Elaine Stritch (Dolly), Vera Farmiga (Lisa), Sherry Stringfield (Sarah), Jill Hennessy (Lynn)

'An all-stops-out love story with uncommon intelligence and honesty.' – Kevin Thomas, Los Angeles Times

'Not a bad picture, just utterly banal.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

† The film cost $40m and took $38m at the US box office.

'In the dark, when I feel his heart pounding against mine – is it love? or frenzy? or terror?'

Autumn Leaves ★

US 1956 108m bw
Columbia/William Goetz

A middle-aged spinster marries a young man who turns out to be a pathological liar and tries to murder her.

Skilfully tailored star vehicle for female audiences.

w Jack Jevne (Jean Rouveral), Lewis Meltzer, Robert Blees d Robert Aldrich ph Charles Lang m Hans Salter

☆ Joan Crawford, Cliff Robertson, Lorne Greene, Vera Miles, Ruth Donnelly, Shepperd Strudwick

† Screenwriter Hugo Butler was excluded from the credits because he was blacklisted at the time.

Autumn Moon ★★

Hong Kong/Japan 1992 108m colour
ICA/Trix (Clara Law/Fong Ling Ching)

original title: Qiuyue

A Japanese youth in Hong Kong forms a friendship with a young girl, soon to emigrate to Canada to be with her family, and her grandmother who has to remain behind.

Charming, understated exploration of uprooted lives and uncertain futures.

w Fong Ling Ching d Clara Law ph Tony Cheung m Lau Lee Tat ad Timmy Yip ed Fong Ling Ching

☆ Masatoshi Nagase, Li Pui Wei, Maki Kiuchi, Choi Siu Wan, Suen Ching Hung, Sung Lap Yeung

'A way of life is seen to be tragically on the wane. Clara Law's fascinating movie catches its dying glow with engrossing sensitivity.' – Tom Hutchinson, Film Review

Autumn Sonata ★

Sweden/West Germany/GB 1978 97m colour
ITC/Personafilm (Ingmar Bergman)

When her lover dies, a concert pianist visits the daughter she has not seen for many years.

Typically Bergmanesque, understated conversation piece with no obvious happy ending for anybody.

wd Ingmar Bergman ph Sven Nykvist m Chopin, Handel, Bach

☆ Ingrid Bergman, Liv Ullmann, Halvar Bjork

'Professional gloom.' – Time

'It fills these middle-class rooms with the deep music of conflict and reconciliation that must strike home to any audiences in any culture or society.' – Jack Kroll, Newsweek

♗ script; Ingrid Bergman

An Autumn Tale: see Conte D'Automne

Aux yeux du monde: see Autobus

'Six million tons of icy terror!'

Avalanche

US 1978 91m Metrocolor
New World (Roger Corman)

Snow threatens holidaymakers at a ski lodge.

A disaster movie which, while quite competent in most ways, is no better than TV movies of this kind, especially as it resorts for its climaxes to scratched old stock film.

w Claude Pola, Corey Allen d Corey Allen ph Pierre-William Glenn m William Kraft ☆ Rock Hudson, Mia Farrow, Robert Forster, Jeanette Nolan, Rick Moses, Steve Franken, Barry Primus

'The Fast Track For All-Star Adventure.'

Avalanche Express

Eire 1979 88m DeLuxe Panavision TCF/Lorimar (Mark Robson)

Spies of all nations converge on a train from Milan to Rotterdam.
Fitfully amusing hodgepodge which had to be finished off in a hurry following the death of its star and director in mid-production.
w Abraham Polonsky novel Colin Forbes d Mark Robson ph Jack Cardiff m Allyn Ferguson
☆ Robert Shaw, Lee Marvin, Linda Evans, Maximilian Schell, Mike Connors, Joe Namath, Horst Buchholz

'The most impressive work of montage to emerge from a big-budget adventure movie.' – Richard Combs, MFB
'Pell-mell direction and editing perform a precarious, oddly suspenseful balancing act.' – Sight and Sound

Les Avaleuses: see Female Vampire

Avalon ★★

US 1990 128m Technicolor Columbia TriStar/Baltimore Pictures (Mark Johnson, Barry Levinson)

The lives and good times over half-a-century of an immigrant family in Baltimore.
Sprawling, episodic and too stolid for its ambitions, but with enjoyable moments from the ensemble cast.
wd Barry Levinson ph Allen Daviau m Randy Newman pd Norman Reynolds ed Stu Linder
☆ Armin Mueller-Stahl, Elizabeth Perkins, Joan Plowright, Kevin Pollak, Aidan Quinn, Leo Fuchs, Eve Gordon, Lou Jacobi

'A lifeless experience devoid of a central conflict or purpose ... The film is mostly a celebration of the mundane, and, while watching grandma and grandpa bicker at the dinner table may spur a fond glimmer of recognition, it's a wispy premise on which to hang this sort of lavish undertaking.' – Variety
'This movie is an elegy to a mythical past. That's probably why people emerge from the theatre sniffling.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

Barry Levinson (as writer); Allen Daviau; Randy Newman; costume design (Gloria Gresham)

'Dare to enter a world of future videogames'

Avalon ★

Japan/Poland 2001 106m bw/colour Des/StudioCanal/Miramax/Bandai/Desitsu/Nippon Herald (Atsushi Kubo)

In a monochrome future, where the disaffected young indulge in an illegal, virtual war game that can make its players rich or brain-damaged, a young woman searches for the way into the highest, secret level of the game.
From a Japanese director best known for animated films, this is a slow-moving, philosophical science-fiction, in which its characters seek death and immortality. Shot for the most part in rich sepia tones, it suggests that an imagined reality may be more colourful and absorbing than the actual world.
w Kazunori Ito d Mamoru Oshii ph Grzegorz Kedzierski m Kenji Kawai ad Barbara Nowak sp Nobuaki Koga digital ad Hiroyuki Hayashi ☆ Malgorzata Foremniak (Ash), Wladyslaw Kowalski (Games Master), Jerzy Gudejko (Murphy), Dariusz Biskupski (Bishop), Bartek Swiderski (Stunner), Katarzyna Bargietowska (The Ghost)

'For all its many bizarre moments, it can be an extraordinarily grim and frankly tedious trudge.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'When someone knocks at your door and says "Permesso?", be careful before you say...'

Avanti! ★★

US 1972 144m DeLuxe UA/Mirisch/Phalanx/Jalem (Billy Wilder)

A young American goes to Ischia to collect the body of his father who has died on holiday. He finds that the fatal accident had also killed his father's mistress, and amid overwhelming bureaucratic problems proceeds to fall in love with her daughter.
Absurdly overlong black comedy, with compensations in the shape of a generally witty script and some fine breakneck sequences of culminating confusion.
w Billy Wilder, I. A. L. Diamond play Samuel Taylor d Billy Wilder ph Luigi Kuveiller m Carlo Rustichelli
☆ Jack Lemmon, Juliet Mills, Clive Revill, Edward Andrews, Gianfranco Barra

'A movie flatter than a pizza.' – Donald J. Mayerson, Cue

Avanti-Popolo

Israel 1986 88m colour TTG/Kastel Communications (Rafi Bukaee)

In the final hours of the Six Day War between Israel and Egypt in 1967, two Egyptian conscripts flee towards the safety of the Suez Canal.
Drama on the futility of war that lacks the performances to compensate for its snail-like pace, or the style to accommodate its mix of comedy and death.
wd Rafi Bukaee ph Yoav Kosh m Uri Ofir ad Ariel Glazer ed Zohar Sela ☆ Salim Daw, Suheil Haddad, Dani Roth, Dani Segev, Tuvya Gelber

The Avenger: see Texas Addio

The Avengers: see The Day Will Dawn (1942)

'She's Peel. He's Steed. Their world is a dangerous place. And they love it.'
'Saving The World In Style.'
'Two Amazing Secret Agents. One Diabolical Madman. Conditions Are Dark. The Forecast Is Deadly. Tea, Anyone?'

The Avengers

US 1998 89m Technicolor Warner (Jerry Weintraub)

A secret agent foils a mad meteorologist's plans to hold the world to ransom by controlling its weather.
A complete dud, a direly boring thriller: miscast, mishandled and miserable. Nothing about it works, from its over-insistent score and over-elaborate plot to its unsophisticated attempt at urbanity.
w Don Macpherson d Jeremy Chechik ph Roger Pratt m Joel McNeely pd Stuart Craig ed Mick Audsley
☆ Ralph Fiennes, Uma Thurman, Sean Connery, Patrick MacNee, Jim Broadbent, Fiona Shaw, Eddie Izzard, Eileen Atkins, John Wood, Carmen Ejogo, Keeley Hawes

'About as inviting as a cement soufflé.' – Philip French, Observer
'An abomination. As the awful movie version of the brilliant TV classic of the Swinging '60s, it is worse than anyone ever imagined it might be.' – Bruce Kirland, Toronto Sun
'I heard actual cries of "Ugh!" on the way out of the door.' – New York Times

† The film, which cost some $60m, opened simultaneously in the UK and the US without being given a press show or a première. Of the 32 leading British and American critics who reviewed the film, only one liked it.
†† The Avengers was one of the most successful British TV series, starring Patrick MacNee as the bowler-hatted secret agent John Steed; his various female sidekicks included Diana Rigg as Emma Peel. It ran from 1961 to 1969.

'May God Have Mercy On His Enemies!'

The Avenging Boxer (dubbed)

Hong Kong 1973 90m colour Alpha Motion Picture Co. (Jimmy Shaw)
US title: Fearless Young Boxer

A son learns kung fu so that he can avenge his father's death at the hands of a hired killer.
Standard martial-arts mayhem consisting of acrobatic fights interspersed with broad comedy, although it does manage a spectacular finale.
wd Jimmy Shaw m Chang Fang Gi ad David Wong ed W. C. Leung
☆ Peter Chang, Ca Sa Fa, Lee Lo Ling, Lee Kwun, Chan Wai Lau, Lung Fee

The Avenging Conscience ★

US 1914 58m (24 fps) bw silent Mutual

An elaboration of Poe's The Tell Tale Heart in which Griffith first shows his ability to control a feature-length movie, with many cinematic devices.
wd D. W. Griffith ph Billy Bitzer
☆ Henry B. Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Spottiswoode Aitken, Mae Marsh

L'Avenir d'Emilie: see The Future of Emily

Les Aventures de Rabbi Jacob

France/Italy 1973 94m Eastmancolor Fox-Rank/Films Pomereu/Horse Film (Bernard Javal)
GB title: The Mad Adventures of 'Rabbi' Jacob

A French businessman with anti-Semitic views is forced by an Arab agitator on the run to impersonate a rabbi presiding at a Bar Mitzvah in Paris.
Broad comedy that raises a few laughs at the expense of xenophobia.
w Gérard Oury, Daniele Thompson, Josy Eisenberg d Gérard Oury ph Henri Decae m Vladimir Cosma ad Théo Meurisse ed Albert Jurgenson
☆ Louis de Funès, Suzy Delair, Marcel Dalio, Claude Giraud, Claude Piéplu, Renzo Montagnani

'Much loved in France, this comedy of errors has not travelled well and turns up in Britain looking painfully unfunny.' – David McGillivray

L'Aveu: see The Confession

The Aviator

US 1985 96m Metrocolor MGM-UA/Mace Neufeld

In 1928, a spoiled rich girl is cared for by a sullen pilot when they crashland in the Sierras.
Drawn-out, actionless adventure concerning unattractive characters; it has been seen before in at least two TV movies.
w Marc Norman novel Ernest Gann d George Miller ph David Connell m Dominic Frontiere pd Brenton Swift ed Duane Hartzell ☆ Christopher Reeve, Rosanna Arquette, Jack Warden, Sam Wanamaker, Scott Wilson, Tyne Daly

'Doesn't fly.' – Variety

'Some men dream the future. He built it.'

The Aviator ★★★ (7)

US 2004 166m colour Panavision

Biopic of Howard Hughes, who took the world of Hollywood and aviation by storm.
Fascinating, witty and detailed account of a complex man that concentrates on his years of success and glamour, though it hints at the his future as a obsessive, unhinged recluse.
w John Logan d Martin Scorsese ph Robert Richardson m Howard Shore pd Dante Ferretti ed Thelma Schoonmaker cos Sandy Powell
☆ Leonardo DiCaprio (Howard Hughes), Cate Blanchett (Katharine Hepburn), Kate Beckinsale (Ava Gardner), John C. Reilly (Noah Dietrich), Alec Baldwin (Juan Trippe), Alan Alda (Sen Ralph Owen Brewster), Ian Holm (Professor Fitz), Danny Huston (Jack Frye), Gwen Stefani (Jean Harlow), Jude Law (Errol Flynn), Kelli Garner (Faith Domergue), Stanley DeSantis (Louis B. Mayer), Edward Herrmann (Joseph Breen), Willem Dafoe (Roland Sweet)

'Martin Scorsese's most pleasurable narrative feature in many a year is both extravagant and disciplined, grandly conceived and packed with minutiae.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'No one would deny that Howard Hughes was troubled, but Martin Scorsese seems no longer possessed of the ingenuity to wonder why – or to make us care.' – Anthony Quinn, Independent

Cate Blanchett; Dante Ferretti; Thelma Schoonmaker film; Martin Scorsese; John Logan; Leonardo DiCaprio; Alan Alda; Robert Richardson; Sandy Powell; sound mixing (Tom Fleischman, Petur Hliddal)

The Aviator's Wife ★

France 1980 106m Eastmancolor (blown up from 16mm)
Les Films du Losange (Margaret Menegoz)

original title: La Femme de L'Aviateur

Anne and François are having an affair, but each has other entanglements.
Meticulously arranged conversations in this director's best style, but this time not seeming to amount to very much.
wd Eric Rohmer ph Bernard Lutic m Jean-Louis Valero ☆ Philippe Marlaud, Marie Rivière, Anne-Laure Maeury, Mathieu Carrière

'Does the aviator Christian's wife exist? It really does not matter: she is a formal device in a play of formalist devices.' – Jill Forbes, MFB

De Avonden: see Evenings

'Whoever wins... We lose'

AVP: Alien vs Predator

US/GB/Czech Republic/Canada/Germany 2004 101m DeLuxe TCF/Davis Entertainment/Brandywine (John

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Davis, Gordon Carroll, David Giler, Walter Hill)
aka: AVP: Alien vs Predator
Scientists examining an underground pyramid in Antarctica find it occupied by carnivorous creatures, bred for hunting by another alien race who once ruled the planet.
The last gasp of two overdone franchises, perfunctorily made.
wd Paul W.S. Anderson story Paul W.S. Anderson, Dan O'Bannon, Ronald Shusett ph David Johnson m Harald Kloser pd Richard Bridgland ed Alexander Berner ☆ Sanaa Lathan (Alexa Woods), Raoul Bova (Sebastian De Rosa), Lance Henriksen (Charles Bishop Weyland), Ewen Bremner (Graeme Miller), Colin Salmon (Maxwell Stafford), Tommy Flanagan (Mark Verheiden)
'It's a murky, empty-headed dive into the depths of the Antarctic and the heart of monster movie cliches that leaves you praying for most of the cast to get killed off fast, to put them (and us) out of our misery.' – Michael Wilmington, Chicago Tribune

L'Avventura ★★★

Italy/France 1960 145m bw
Cino del Duca/PCE/Lyre (Amato Pennasilico)
Young people on a yachting holiday go ashore on a volcanic island. One of them disappears; this affects the lives of the others, but she is never found.
Antonioni developed a new approach to cinema with this film. Shot with great precision against a volcanic landscape, it is a devastating portrait of modern alienation and a particular, directionless society.
w Michelangelo Antonioni, Elio Bartolini, Tonino Guerra d Michelangelo Antonioni ph Aldo Scavarda m Giovanni Fusco ad Piero Poletto ed Eraldo da Roma
☆ Monica Vitti (Claudia), Lea Massari (Anna), Gabriele Ferzetti (Sandro), Dominique Blanchar (Giulia), James Addams (Corrado), Lelio Luttazi (Raimondo)
'A film of complete maturity, sincerity and creative intuition.' – Peter John Dyer, MFB

The Awakening

GB 1980 105m Technicolor
EMI/Orion (Robert Solo)
An obsessed archaeologist believes that the spirit of a long-dead Egyptian queen has entered into the soul of his daughter.
Unpersuasive and humourless mumbo jumbo from the same intractably complex novel that provided the basis for Blood from the Mummy's Tomb (qv).
w Allan Scott, Chris Bryant, Clive Exton novel Jewel of the Seven Stars by Bram Stoker d Mike Newell ph Jack Cardiff m Claude Bolling pd Michael Stringer
☆ Charlton Heston, Susannah York, Jill Townsend, Stephanie Zimbalist, Patrick Drury, Bruce Myers
'An almost total waste of the talents involved.' – Sunday Times
'It is difficult to imagine a film more likely to put you to sleep.' – Guardian

Awakening of the Beast: see Ritual dos Sadicos

Awakenings ★

US 1990 121m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia TriStar (Walter F. Parkes, Lawrence Lasker)
A young doctor discovers a treatment that temporarily revives sufferers from encephalitis who have been in a state of suspended animation for 30 years or more.
Over-sentimentalized treatment of a fascinating subject, too insistent on leaving its audience feeling good.
w Steven Zaillian book Oliver Sacks d Penny Marshall ph Miroslav Ondricek m Randy Newman pd Anton Furst ed Jerry Greenberg, Battle Davis
☆ Robert De Niro, Robin Williams, Julie Kavner, Ruth Nelson, John Heard, Penelope Ann Miller, Alice Drummond, Judith Malina, Barton Heyman, Max von Sydow
'The movie douses everything fiery. Everything is shaped for you to root for the resurrections, and then nothing much happens ... the humanism is so pallid that the awakened patients don't seem very different from the way they were in their comatose states.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
best picture; Robert De Niro; Steven Zaillian

Away All Boats

US 1956 114m Technicolor Vistavision
U-I (Howard Christie)
Adventures of a small transport boat during the Pacific War.
Competent drum-beating war heroics with expensive action sequences.
w Ted Sherdeman novel Kenneth M. Dodson d Joseph Pevney ph William Daniels, Clifford Stine m Frank Skinner ed Ted J. Kent
☆ Jeff Chandler, George Nader, Julie Adams, Lex Barker, Keith Andes, Richard Boone, Frank Faylen

'It's never too late to become what you might have been.'

Away From Her ★★ (9)

Canada/UK/USA 2007 109m
Metrodome/The Film Farm/Foundry Films/Pulling Focus (Daniel Iron, Simone Urdi, Jennifer Weiss)
Fiona and Grant are a retired Canadian couple. Her memory is failing, and after getting lost while skiing near her home, she is diagnosed with Alzheimer's. She enters a retirement home and becomes attached to another resident, Aubrey. When Grant turns to Aubrey's wife for solace, the truths about their marriages are revealed.
A subtle, nuanced film for adults that takes unusual narrative turns, with Julie Christie a standout among uniformly excellent performances. A triumph for first-time director Sarah Polley, who handles the story and its issues, that trouble generations older than herself, with real maturity.
wd Sarah Polley short story The Bear Came Over the Mountain by Alice Munro ph Luc Montpelier m Jonathan Goldsmith pd Kathleen Climie ad Benno Tutter ed David Wharnsby
☆ Julie Christie (Fiona), Gordon Pinsent (Grant), Olympia Dukakis (Marian), Michael Murphy (Aubrey), Kristen Thomson (Kristy), Wendy Crewson (Madeleine)
'A most adroit, confident film, calmly understated and never sentimental. It supports the argument that short stories and novellas are the best source material for feature movies.' – Philip French, Observer
'One of the most remarkable and moving love stories the movies have recently given us.' – Michael Wilmington, Chicago Tribune

The Awful Dr Orloff

Spain 1962 88m bw Hispamer (Serge Newman, Leo Lax) original title: Gritos en la Noche
A mad doctor tries to restore his disfigured daughter to beauty by kidnapping and skinning young women.
Sleazy ill-made horror, notable only for being the first of a sequence of films featuring the awful doctor.
wd Jesús Franco novel David Kuhne ph Godofredo Pacheco ☆ Howard Vernon, Conrado Sanmartin, Perla Cristal, Diana Lorys, Ricardo Valle
'An utterly dreadful movie.' – The Dark Side

The Awful Truth ★★★

US 1937 90m bw
Columbia (Leo McCarey)
A divorcing couple endure various adventures which lead to reconciliation.
Classic screwball comedy of the thirties, marked by a mixture of sophistication and farce and an irreverent approach to plot.
w Vina Delmar play Arthur Richman d Leo McCarey ph Joseph Walker md Morris Stoloff ad Lionel Banks, Stephen Goosson ed Al Clark
☆ Irene Dunne (Lucy Warriner), Cary Grant (Jerry Warriner), Ralph Bellamy (Daniel Leeson), Alexander D'Arcy (Armand Duvalle), Cecil Cunningham (Aunt Patsy), Molly Lamont (Barbara Vance), Esther Dale (Mrs. Leeson), Joyce Compton (Dixie Belle Lee/Toots Binswanger)
IRENE DUNNE: 'You've come back and caught me in the truth, and there's nothing less logical than the truth.'
CARY GRANT: 'In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to what he's been thinking about all winter.'
'Fast, smart comedy that will please everywhere and do strong general biz.' – Variety
'The funniest picture of the season.' – Otis Ferguson
'Among the ingredients the raising powder is the important thing and out of the oven comes a frothy bit of stuff that leaves no taste in the mouth and is easy on the stomach.' – Marion Fraser, World Film News
'Delightfully effective entertainment.' – Time Out, 1985
† Remade 1953 as Let's Do It Again (qv).
Leo McCarey
best picture; script; Irene Dunne; Ralph Bellamy; Al Clark

'In A World Of Make Believe Stella Is About To Discover The Difference Between True Love ... And Real Life.'

An Awfully Big Adventure ★

GB 1994 112m Metrocolor
TCF/Portman/British Screen/BBC/Wolfhound
(Hilary Heath, Philip Hinchcliffe)
In 1947, a gullible 15-year-old girl joins a rundown Liverpool repertory theatre, where she falls in love with its manipulative director and begins an affair with its flamboyant leading actor.
Good on atmospherics and the detail of backstage bitchery and theatrical ambition, but flawed in its wider ambitions of a girl growing to maturity in circumstances of betrayal, this is a broken-backed melodrama: the first half belongs to Grant's ambiguous director, the second to Rickman's reckless leading man, but the innocent girl at its centre is not a strong enough character to hold it together as a satisfying whole.
w Charles Wood novel Beryl Bainbridge d Mike Newell ph Dick Pope m Richard Hartley pd Mark Geraghty ed Jon Gregory
☆ Georgina Cates, Hugh Grant, Alan Rickman, Peter Firth, Alun Armstrong, Prunella Scales, Rita Tushingham, Edward Petherbridge, Nicola Pagett, Alan Cox, Carol Drinkwater, Clive Merrison, Gerard McSorley
'The unsympathetic characters and oblique storytelling make large demands on the audience, limiting the film's appeal essentially to art-house aficionados.' – Colin Brown, Screen International

Ay, Carmela! ★★

Spain/Italy 1990 103m colour
Iberoamericana/Ellepi/Television Espanola
(Andres Vicente Gomez)
During the Spanish Civil War a trio of vaudeville performers entertaining the Republican troops are taken prisoner by the Nationalist army.
Very watchable but flawed political film with a bungled ending.
w Rafael Azcona, Carlos Saura play José Sanchis Sinistierra d Carlos Saura ph José Luis Alcaine m Alejandro Masso ad Rafael Palmero ed Pablo G. Del Amo
☆ Carmen Maura, Andres Pajares, Gabino Diego, Maurizio de Razza, José Sancho, Mario de Candia

Azumi

Japan 2003 143m colour 'Scope
Toho (Mataichiro Yamamoto)
In order to bring peace to feudal Japan, a group of orphans, including a young girl, are trained from childhood to become assassins to kill warlords who threaten war.
Monotonous comic book stuff, with blood-gushing slaughter from beginning to end by its frail, bland heroine, who acts like the pop singer she otherwise is.
w Isao Kiriyama, Rikiya Muzushima manga Yu Koyama d Ryuhei Kitamura ph Takumi Furuya m Taroh Iwashiro ad Yuji Hayashida ed Shuichi Kakesu
☆ Aya Ueto (Azumi), Yoshio Harada (Gessai), Joe Odagiri (Bijomaru), Aya Okamoto (Yae), Minoru Matsumoto (Saru), Katsuki Kitamura (Inoue), Kenji Kohashi (Hyuga), Naoto Takenaka (Kiyomasa)
'Inevitable comparisons to Quentin Tarantino's femme-centered carnage extravaganza Kill Bill are not unwarranted insofar as both films feature an abstract, self-conscious, and decidedly post-modern approach to a moribund genre.' – Ronnie Scheib, Variety

B.F.'s Daughter ★

US 1948 106m bw
MGM (Edwin A. Knopf)
GB title: Polly Fulton

The wife of a penniless lecturer secures her husband's rise to fame without his knowing that she is the daughter of a millionaire.
Solid upper-class romantic drama with a touch of Peg's Paper.
w Luther Davis novel John P. Marquand d Robert Z. Leonard ph Joseph Ruttenberg m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Van Heflin, Charles Coburn, Richard Hart, Keenan Wynn, Margaret Lindsay, Spring Byington, Marshall Thompson

BMX Bandits

Australia 1984 90m colour Panavision
Rank/BMX/Nilsen (Tom Broadbridge, Paul Davies)

Bike enthusiasts become unpopular when they cause havoc in the streets, but become heroes when they capture bank robbers.
Lively action piece with unacceptable behaviour followed by reformation and an old-fashioned moral for early teenagers.
w Patrick Edgeworth story Russell Hagg d Brian Trenchard-Smith ph John Seale m Colin Stead, Frank Strangio pd Ross Major ed Alan Lake
☆ David Argue, John Ley, Nicole Kidman, Bryan Marshall, Angelo d'Angelo

'Trouble never looked so good.'

B. Monkey

GB/US 1998 90m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Miramax/Scala/Synchronistic (Colin Vaines, Stephen Woolley)

A staid London infant schoolteacher begins an affair with an impulsive Italian jewel thief, who wants a different life.
A bit of a mess: a romantic thriller of unremitting unreality, cut to the bone, with no spark between its two unlikely lovers; lacking any emotional centre, it tries for irony and misses.
w Michael Thomas, Michael Radford, Carole King novel Andrew Davies d Michael Radford ph Ashley Rowe m Jennie Muskett pd Sophie Becker ed Joelle Hache ☆ Asia Argento (Beatrice), Jared Harris (Alan), Rupert Everett (Paul), Jonathan Rhys Meyers (Bruno), Tim Woodward (Frank), Ian Hart (Steve), Julie T. Wallace (Mrs Sturge), Bryan Pringle (Goodchild), Clare Higgins (Cherry)

'As an offbeat time-filler, with one's critical faculties on hold, the picture is an entertaining enough ride.' – Derek Elley, Variety

† The film was made in 1996 and not shown until the London Film Festival in 1998 in a version that ran for 115m. The current version was released direct to video in the UK.

B.S. I Love You

US 1971 98m DeLuxe
Motion Pictures International/Fox (A. M. Broidy)

A director of TV commercials is beset by passionate women.
Tiresomely trendy sex comedy with a visual style that never lets up.
wd Steven Hilliard Stern ph David Dans m Jimmy Dale, Mark Shekter
☆ Peter Kastner, Joanna Cameron, Louise Sorel, Gary Burghoff, Joanna Barnes, Richard B. Shull

† The initials in the title are short for bullshit.

Ba Mua: see Three Seasons

Ba Wang Bie Ji: see Farewell My Concubine

'A father. A son. A revolution.'

Baadasssss! ★★ (7)

US 2003 109m colour
BFI/MVP/Bad Aaas Cinema (Bruce Wayne Gillies)

aka: How to Get the Man's Foot Outta Your Asss!

A black writer-director struggles to make a film that expresses his anger at the racial situation in America; the result sparks the blaxploitation movies of the 1970s.
Engaging fictionalized account of the making of the anarchic Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song (qv) and a nicely judged tribute from son to his exasperated and pioneering father.
w Mario Van Peebles, Dennis Haggerty book Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song by Melvin Van Peebles d Mario Van Peebles ph Robert Primes m Tyler Bates pd Alan E. Muraoka ed Anthony Miller, Nneka Goforth
☆ Mario Van Peebles (Melvin Van Peebles), Joy Bryant (Priscilla), Terry Crews (Big T), Ossie Davis (Grandad), David Alan Grier (Clyde Houston), Nia Long (Sandra)

'Shows nicely how all independent film-making is seat-of-the-pants stuff. You'd need a heart of stone not to enjoy this feelgood story.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Baara

Mali 1979 93m colour
Souleymanne Cissé Productions

A factory owner orders the killing of his manager for calling a meeting of workers to improve their conditions.
A slice of African industrial life, contrasting the lives of the rich and corrupt with the poor and exploited.
wd Souleymane Cissé ph Etienne Carton de Grammont m Lamine Konté ☆ Balla Moussa Keita, Baba Niaré, Bubakar Keita, Umu Diarra, Ismaila Sarr, Umir Kone

Bab El Hadid: see Cairo Station

Bab el-Oued City ★

Algeria/France 1994 93m colour
Les Matins/Flash Back/La Sept/ZDF/Thelma (Tahar Harhoura)

A carefree young baker finds himself driven from his home and the woman he loves by a gang of Moslem fundamentalists.
Well-made, low-key and topical drama of the current political unrest in Algiers, with a wider theme of bigotry and intolerance; its general appeal, though, is likely to be limited.
wd Merzak Allouache ph Jean-Jacques Mréjen m Rachid Bahri ed Marie Colonna ☆ Nadia Kaci, Mohamed Ourdache, Hassan Abdou, Mabrouk Ait Amara, Messaoud Hattou, Mourad Khen, Djamilia, Nadia Samir, Simone Vignote, Michel Such

'To date the most lucid depiction on film of the rise of Islamic fundamentalism in Algeria and its perils. It's essential viewing for anyone interested in getting insight into the people's reaction to this broad political change.' – Deborah Young, Variety

† The film won the International Critics' Prize at the 1994 Cannes Film Festival.

Babar: The Movie

Canada/France 1989 76m colour
Winstone/Nelvana/Ellipse (Patrick Loubert, Michael Hirsch, Clive A. Smith)

King Babar tells his children of his adventures as a young elephant.
Lacklustre story, with simple animation.
w Peter Sauder, J. D. Smith, John de Klein, Raymond Jaffelice, Alan Bunce story Peter Sauder, Patrick Loubert, Michael Hirsch based on characters created by Jean de Brunhoff, Laurent de Brunhoff d Alan Bunce m Milan Kymlicka m/ly Maribeth Solomon pd Ted Bastien ad Clive Powsey, Carol Bradbury ed Evan Landis ☆ Featuring the voices of Gordon Pinsent, Elizabeth Hanna, Lisa Yamanaka, Marsha Moreau, Bobby Beckon, Amos Crawley, Gavin Magrath, Sarah Polley

Babbitt ★

US 1934 74m bw
Warner (Sam Bischoff)

Problems of a middle-aged man in a small American town.
A minor attempt to film a major novel: quite tolerable but lacking density.
w Mary McCall Jnr novel Sinclair Lewis d William Keighley ph Arthur Todd ☆ Guy Kibbee, Aline MacMahon, Claire Dodd, Maxine Doyle, Minor Watson, Minna Gombell, Alan Hale, Berton Churchill, Russell Hicks, Nan Grey

'Smooth, pleasant but trite.' – Variety

† Previously filmed in 1924 with Willard Louis.

The Babe

US 1992 115m DeLuxe
Universal (John Fusco)

Biopic of the life of the baseball player Babe Ruth.
An undistinguished film with little appeal outside America, although Goodman brings some individuality to his portrayal of the flawed hero.
w John Fusco d Arthur Hiller ph Haskell Wexler m Elmer Bernstein pd James D. Vance ed Robert C. Jones
☆ John Goodman, Kelly McGillis, Trini Alvarado, Bruce Boxleitner, James Cromwell, Peter Donat, Bernard Kates, Michael McGrady

'The thinly dramatised, overly episodic Babe Ruth biopic resembles a telepic that has lost its way to the big screen.' – Variety

† The film was released direct to video in Britain.

'A Little Pig Goes a Long Way.'

Babe ★★★

Australia 1995 94m colour
Universal/Kennedy Miller (George Miller, Doug Mitchell, Bill Miller)

An orphaned piglet is adopted by a sheepdog and decides that he wants to grow up and follow in his mother's pawprints.
Delightful, witty, clever and almost irresistible children's film with a wide appeal; the mid-Atlantic voices given the animals take a little getting used to, but otherwise it's a pleasure all the way.
w George Miller, Chris Noonan novel The Sheep-Pig by Dick King-Smith d Chris Noonan ph Andrew Lesnie m Nigel Westlake pd Roger Ford ad Colin Gibson ed Marcus D'Arcy, Jay Friedkin
☆ James Cromwell (Arthur Hoggett), Magda Szubanski (Esme Hoggett), Roscoe Lee Browne (Narrator) and also the voices of Christine Cavanaugh, Miriam Margolyes, Danny Mann, Hugo Weaving

'A dazzling family entertainment with enormous charm and utilizing breathtaking technical innovation.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

visual effects
best picture; Chris Noonan; George Miller, Chris Noonan (screenplay adaptation); James Cromwell; Marcus D'Arcy, Jay Friedkin; Roger Ford

'In the heart of the city, a pig with heart.'

Babe: Pig in the City ★

Australia 1998 97m Atlab
Universal (George Miller, Doug Mitchell, Bill Miller)

A hero for winning the sheepdog trials, a pig visits the city and rescues a motley collection of animals impounded by the authorities.
A muddled sequel that lacks the charm of the original; its approach to humour is laborious and overelaborate.
w George Miller, Judy Morris, Mark Lamprell characters created by Dick King-Smith d George Miller ph Andrew Lesnie m Nigel Westlake pd Roger Ford ed Jay Friedkin, Margaret Sixel sp Rhythm & Hues, Mill Film, Animal Logic Film, Neal Scanlan Studio ☆ Magda Szubanski, James Cromwell, Mary Stein, Mickey Rooney, Julie Godfrey and also the voices of: E. G. Daily, Danny Mann, Glenne Headly, Steven Wright, James Cosmo, Roscoe Lee Browne

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'There is plenty of fun in this cinematic menagerie, consummate screen magic and a series of well-intentioned messages that sidestep the cloying and saccharine.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

† The film cost around $100m to make and market. Its failure at the box-office led to the departure of several top executives from Universal.

song 'That'll Do' (m/ly Randy Newman)

The Babe Ruth Story

US 1948 107m bw
Allied Artists (Roy del Ruth)

The biography of a baseball player who was thought of as something of a saint.
Dim, sentimental and faintly mystical biopic, throughout which the star presents his familiar image. w Bob Considine, George Callahan d Roy del Ruth ph Philip Tannura, James Van Trees m Edward Ward
☆ William Bendix, Claire Trevor, Charles Bickford

'If you want to be understood.....listen.'

Babel ★★★ (7)

US/Mexico/France 2006 143m
UIP/Anonymous Content/Zeta Film/Central Films (Jon Kilik, Steve Golin, Alejandro González Iñárritu)

Four different stories that happen in different countries. A Moroccan goatherd lends his teenage sons a rifle, which they use for target practice and seriously injure an American tourist (Blanchett). The incident arouses fears of a terrorist attack. Her children are being cared for by their Mexican housekeeper in California; she takes them to her son's wedding across the border, where they all become stranded. And in Tokyo, a deaf-mute teenage girl is going off the rails in the aftermath of her mother's suicide.
An epic of almost foolhardy ambition, conceived on a literally global scale. Mexican director Iñárritu, whose Amores Perros (qv) was justly praised, offers a story on a canvas that takes global interdependence as its theme, and sets it in four wildly contrasting countries. The links between the interconnected stories become clear gradually, and he creates extraordinary, memorable images in each country the film visits. Iñárritu and his screenwriter Guillermo Arriaga eloquently state the case that we inhabit a small world and need to understand each other better. Fine performances throughout, though the biggest names, Pitt and Blanchett, are eclipsed by the remarkable Adriana Barraza as a fretting Mexican housekeeper who loves her infant charges but is torn by family pressures. Somewhat exhausting, Babel nevertheless has the feel of a masterpiece.
w Guillermo Arriaga d Alejandro González Iñárritu ph Rodrigo Prieto m Gustavo Santaolalla pd Brigitte Broch ad Claudia Vasquez Lostau, Ryo Sugimoto, Bernardo Trujillo ed Stephen Mirrione, Douglas Crise
☆ Brad Pitt (Richard Jones), Cate Blanchett (Susan), Gael Garcia Bernal (Santiago), Koji Yakusho (Yasujiro Wataya), Adriana Barraza (Amelia), Rinko Kikuchi (Chieko Wataya)
'One of the most challenging and saddest movies of the year – and also one of the most memorable.' – Richard Roeper, Chicago Sun-Times
'In the year's richest, most complex and ultimately most heartbreaking film, Iñárritu invites us to get past the babble of modern civilisation and start listening to each other.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone music picture; directing; editing; supporting actress (Adriana Barraza, Rinko Kikuchi); original screenplay music

Babes in Arms ★★

US 1939 96m bw
MGM (Arthur Freed)

The teenage sons and daughters of retired vaudevillians put on a big show.
Simple-minded backstage musical which marked the first enormously successful teaming of its two young stars.
w Jack McGowan, Kay Van Riper Broadway show Rodgers and Hart ph Ray June m Roger Edens, George Stoll m/ly Rodgers and Hart and others d/ch Busby Berkeley
☆ Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Charles Winninger, Douglas Macphail, Leni Lynn, June Preisser
'A topflight filmusical entertainment. It will click mightily in the key deluxers, and roll up hefty profits for exhibits in the subsequent runs and smaller situations.' – Variety
♫ 'Where or When'; 'Babes in Arms'; 'I Cried for You'; 'God's Country'; 'Good Morning'; 'You Are My Lucky Star'
Roger Edens, George Stoll; Mickey Rooney

Babes in Baghdad

US 1952 77m Exotic Color
UA (Danzīger Brothers)

Harem ladies go on strike.
Embarrassing attempt at satire by stars who are over the hill and not helped by abysmal technique.
w Felix E. Feist, Joe Anson d Edgar G. Ulmer
☆ Paulette Goddard, Gypsy Rose Lee, Richard Ney, John Boles, Sebastian Cabot

Babes in Toyland ★★

US 1934 77m bw
Hal Roach

aka: Wooden Soldiers
aka: March of the Wooden Soldiers; Laurel and Hardy in Toyland

Santa Claus's incompetent assistants accidentally make some giant wooden soldiers, which come in useful when a villain tries to take over Toyland.
Comedy operetta in which the stars have pleasant but not outstanding material; the style and decor are however sufficient to preserve the film as an eccentric minor classic.
w Nick Grinde, Frank Butler original book Glen MacDonough d Gus Meins, Charles Rogers ph Art Lloyd, Francis Corby m Victor Herbert ☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Charlotte Henry, Henry Brandon, Felix Knight, Florence Roberts, Johnny Downs, Marie Wilson
'It is amusing enough to entertain older persons who remember when they were young.' – Variety

Babes in Toyland

US 1961 105m Technicolor
Walt Disney

The wicked Barnaby is foiled in his plans to get rid of Tom Piper so that he can marry Mary Contrary.
A misfiring remake, all charm and no talent apart from some excellent special effects at the climax. Bolger is miscast as the villain, and Sheldon and Calvin imitate Laurel and Hardy.
w Ward Kimball, Joe Rinaldi, Lowell S. Hawley operetta Victor Young, Glenn McDonough d Jack Donohue ph Edward Colman m/ly Victor Young; George Bruns, Mel Leven md George Bruns ch Tommy Mahoney ad Carroll Clark, Marvin Aubrey Davis ed Robert Stafford sp Eustace Lycett, Robert A. Mattey, Bill Justice, Xavier Atencio, Yale Gracey
☆ Ray Bolger (Barnaby), Tommy Sands (Tom Piper), Annette Funicello (Mary Contrary), Tommy Kirk (Grumio), Gene Sheldon (Roderigo), Henry Calvin (Gonzorgo), Ed Wynn (The Toymaker), Kevin Corcoran (Boy Blue), Mary McCarty (Mother Goose)
♫ 'I Can't Do the Sum', 'Just a Toy', 'Floretta', 'Castle in Spain', 'We Won't Be Happy Till We Get It', 'Lemonade', 'Just a Whisper Away', 'March of the Toys', 'Toyland', 'The Workshop Song', 'Slowly He Sank into the Sea'.
George Bruns

Babes on Broadway ★★

US 1941 118m bw
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A sequel to Babes in Arms, in which the kids get to Broadway and share some disillusion.
Inflated and less effective than the original, but with good numbers.
w Fred Finklehoffe, Elaine Ryan ph Lester White m/ly Burton Lane, Ralph Freed d/ch Busby Berkeley
☆ Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Virginia Weidler, Ray Macdonald, Richard Quine, Fay Bainter
'Enough energy and enthusiasm to make older people wish they were young, and young people glad that they are.' – MFB
† The Virginia Weidler role was originally intended for Shirley Temple, but TCF wouldn't loan her.
♫ 'Babes on Broadway'; 'Anything Can Happen in New York'; 'How About You?'; 'Bombshell from Brazil'; 'Minstrel Show'; 'Blackout over Broadway'; 'FDR Jones' song 'How About You' (m Burton Lane, ly Ralph Freed)

Babette Goes to War

France 1959 103m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
Iéna (Raoul Lévy)
original title: Babette S'en Va-t-en Guerre

In 1940 a French refugee girl is sent by British intelligence from London to Paris as bait in a plot to kidnap a German general and delay the Nazi invasion of England.
Witless war farce which goes on for ever.
w Raoul Lévy, Gérard Oury d Christian-Jaque ph Armand Thirard m Gilbert Bécaud ☆ Brigitte Bardot, Jacques Charrier, Hannes Messemer, Yves Vincent, Ronald Howard, Francis Blanche
'A kind of Private's Progress without comedians.' – MFB

Babette S'en Va-t-en Guerre: see Babette Goes to War

Babette's Feast ★★

Denmark 1987 103m Eastmancolor
Panorama/Nordisk/Danish Film Institute

A French refugee in 19th-century Norway wins 10,000 francs in a lottery and spends it all on preparing a sumptuous banquet for her Lutheran employers and their friends.
Ironic and elegant fable juxtaposing bacchanalian extravagance with narrow piety.
wd Gabriel Axel story Isak Dinesen ph Henning Kristiansen m Per Norgard ad Sven Wichman ☆ Stéphane Audran, Jean-Philippe Lafont, Jarl Kulle, Bibi Andersson, Bodil Kjer, Birgitte Federspiel
best foreign film
best foreign film

'Torture ... Terror ... It's A Nightmare You'll Never Forget!'

The Baby

US 1973 102m colour
Quintet (Milton Polsky, Abe Polsky)

A social worker becomes obsessed by one of her charges: a mentally retarded man who behaves like a one-year-old in a household dominated by his mad mother and two disturbed sisters.
Unpleasant low-budget shocker, with over-the-top performances and general grotesqueness.
w Abe Polsky d Ted Post ph Michael Margulies m Gerald Fried ad Michael Devine ed Dick Wormell, Bob Crawford Snr ☆ Anjanette Comer, Ruth Roman, Marianna Hill, Suzanne Zenor, Tod Andrews, Michael Pataki, Beatrice Manley Blau, David Manzy
'Ultimately, it seems a long walk round a very small sick joke.' – Tom Milne, MFB

The Baby and the Battleship

GB 1956 96m Eastmancolor
British Lion/Jay Lewis

Two sailors hide an Italian baby on their battleship.
Simple-minded lower decks farce, with lots of confusion and cooing over the baby, but not much to laugh at.
w Jay Lewis, Gilbert Hackforth-Jones, Bryan Forbes d Jay Lewis ph Harry Waxman m James Stevens
☆ John Mills, Richard Attenborough, André Morell, Bryan Forbes, Michael Howard, Lisa Gastoni, Ernest Clark, Lionel Jeffries, Thorley Walters
'In this British film the predicament is made splendidly funny.' – Dilys Powell

Baby Be Good: see Brother Rat and a Baby

Baby Blue Marine ★

US 1976 90m Metrocolor
Columbia/Spelling-Goldberg (Robert LaVigne)

In 1943, a failed marine returns home and pretends to be a war hero.
Careful small-town drama with good period feel but not much dramatic punch: Hail the Conquering Hero did it better.
w Stanford Whitmore d John Hancock ph Laszlo Kovacs m Fred Karlin
☆ Jan-Michael Vincent, Glynnis O'Connor, Katherine Helmond, Dana Elcar, Bert Remsen, Richard Gere
'A rickety structure of strange events.' – New York Post

Baby Boom

US 1987 110m colour
UIP/MGM

The life of a busy executive changes when she acquires a small baby.
Moderately enjoyable comedy, though it lacks any particular distinction.

w Nancy Meyers, Charles Shyer d Charles Shyer ph William A. Fraker m Bill Conti pd Jeffrey Howard ed Lynzee Klingman
☆ Diane Keaton, Harold Ramis, Sam Wanamaker, Sam Shepard, James Spader, Pat Hingle, Britt Leach

'If there were justice in the world of entertainment, Baby Boom would be unwatchable. But Diane Keaton gives a smashing, glamorous performance that rides over many of the inanities.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

Baby Boy

US 2001 129m DeLuxe
Columbia/New Deal (John Singleton)

Tales of unmarried requited love in South Central Los Angeles.
A drama that confronts the problems of masculine identity, single mothers and fatherless children in a black community; heavy-handed contrivance, though, robs it of much of its intended power.
wd John Singleton ph Charles E. Mills m David Arnold pd Keith Brian Burns ed Bruce Cannon ☆ Tyrese Gibson (Jody), Omar Gooding (Sweetpea), A.J. Johnson (Juanita), Taraji P. Henson (Yvette), Snoop Dogg (Rodney), Tamara LaSeon Bass (Peanut), Ving Rhames (Melvin)

'An amusing, engaging, well thought out and impressive picture.' – Jim Smith, Film Review

'19 years old and married ... but not really!'

Baby Doll ★★

US 1956 116m bw
Warner/Elia Kazan

In the deep South, the child wife of a broken-down cotton miller is seduced by her husband's revenge-seeking rival.
An incisive, cleverly-worked-out study of moral and physical decay; whether it was worth doing is another question, for it's a film difficult to remember with affection.
w Tennessee Williams play 27 Wagonloads of Cotton by Tennessee Williams d Elia Kazan ph Boris Kaufman m Kenyon Hopkins ad Richard Sylbert
☆ Karl Malden, Eli Wallach, Carroll Baker, Mildred Dunnock, Lonny Chapman

'Just possibly the dirtiest American-made motion picture that has ever been legally exhibited, with Priapean detail that might well have embarrassed Boccaccio.' – Time
'He views southern pretensions with sardonic humor, and builds an essentially minor story into a magnificently humorous study of the grotesque and the decadent.' – Hollis Alpert
'A droll and engrossing carnal comedy.' – Pauline Kael, 1968
'A film in which everything works: narration, casting, tempo, rhythm, dramatic tension.' – Basil Wright, 1972

† Another publicity tag read: 'Condemned by Cardinal Spellman!' script; Boris Kaufman; Carroll Baker; Mildred Dunnock
Eli Wallach (newcomer)

'She climbed the ladder of success – wrong by wrong!'

Baby Face ★★

US 1933 70m bw
Warner (Ray Griffith)

Amorous adventures of an ambitious working girl.
Sharp melodrama very typical of its time, with fast pace and good performances.
w Gene Markey, Kathryn Scola story Mark Canfield (Darryl F. Zanuck) d Alfred E. Green ph James Van Trees ad Anton Grot
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, George Brent, Donald Cook, Margaret Lindsay, Arthur Hohl, John Wayne, Henry Kolker, Douglass Dumbrille

'Blue and nothing else. It possesses no merit for general or popular appeal, is liable to offend the family trade and can't count on any juve attendance.
'...This is reputed to be a remake on the first print, which was considered too hot. Anything hotter than this for public showing would call for an asbestos audience blanket.' – Variety

Baby Face Harrington

US 1935 63m bw
MGM

A timid man is mistakenly identified as a public enemy, and chased by both cops and rival gangsters.
Thin but appealing comedy.
w Nunnally Johnson, Edwin Knopf
d Raoul Walsh
☆ Charles Butterworth, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton, Eugene Pallette, Donald Meek

'Weak satire, grievously overacted.' – Variety

Baby Face Morgan

US 1942 60m bw
Jack Schwartz/PRC

The son of a racketeer is made a figurehead by his father's old mob.
Curious comedy of non-violent crime; also non-entertaining.
w Edward Dein, Jack Rubin, Oscar Brodney
d Arthur Dreifuss
☆ Richard Cromwell, Mary Carlisle, Robert Armstrong, Chick Chandler, Warren Hymer, Vince Barnett

'Don't see it unless your nerves are bullet proof!'

Baby Face Nelson ★

US 1957 85m bw
UA/Fryman-ZS (Al Zimbalist)

Fragmentary account of the life of a thirties public enemy, with the star over the top and the technicians doing what they can on an obviously low budget.
w Irving Shulman, Daniel Mainwaring
d Don Siegel ph Hal Mohr m Van Alexander ☆ Mickey Rooney, Cedric Hardwicke, Carolyn Jones, Chris Dark, Ted de Corsia, Leo Gordon, John Hoyt, Anthony Caruso, Jack Elam

Baby It's You ★

US 1982 104m colour
Paramount/Double Play (Griffin Dunne, Amy Robinson)

In the sixties, a well-heeled high school girl is wooed and won by a greasy street sheikh with ambitions.
Curious sweet-and-sour romance with a determination to be modern; agreeable in parts but basically empty, and rather undermined by a torrent of rock music on the sound track.
wd John Sayles story Amy Robinson
ph Michael Ballhaus md Joel Dorn
pd Jeffrey Townsend
☆ Rosanna Arquette, Vincent Spano, Joanna Merlin, Jack Davidson, Nick Ferrari, Leora Dana

Baby Love

GB 1968 93m Eastmancolor
Avco/Avton/Michael Klinger (Guido Coen)

An orphaned nymphet causes trouble among the men in her foster home.
Ludicrous sexploiter which embarrasses a good cast and descends into bathos.
w Alastair Reid, Guido Coen, Michael Klinger novel Tina Chad Christian d Alastair Reid ph Desmond Dickinson
m Max Harris
☆ Linda Hayden, Ann Lynn, Keith Barron, Derek Lamden, Diana Dors, Patience Collier, Dick Emery

The Baby Maker

US 1970 109m Technicolor
Robert Wise/National General (Richard Goldstone)

A freewheeling girl agrees to have a baby for a childless couple.
Stretched-out fable for our time which refrains from pointing a moral and is generally tastefully done but nevertheless outstays its welcome.
wd James Bridges m Fred Karlin, Tylwyth Kymry ☆ Barbara Hershey, Collin Wilcox-Horne, Sam Groom, Scott Glenn, Jeannie Berlin
Fred Karlin, Tylwyth Kymry

The Baby of Macon ★★

GB/Netherlands/France/Germany 1993
122m colour Panavision
Allarts/UGC/La Sept/Cine Electra II/Channel 4/Filmstiftung/Canal (Kees Kasander)

In the 1650s, encouraged by a naïve and sadistic prince, a play about a miraculous child, exploited by his sister and the church, becomes all too real, and rape, death and dismemberment follow.
A puzzling and audacious work, visually sumptuous and frequently confusing in its mix of artifice and actuality, but original and intriguing as it explores the themes of art and its influence, the translation of experience into consumerism, alienation and voyeurism. Audiences are likely to love or hate the film, though at Cannes and elsewhere it mostly met with a hostile reception.
wd Peter Greenaway ph Sacha Vierny
m Henry Purcell, Matthew Locke and others pd Jan Roelfs, Ben van Os ed Chris Wyatt ☆ Julia Ormond, Ralph Fiennes, Philip Stone, Jonathan Lacey, Don Henderson, Celia Gregory, Jeff Nuttall, Kathryn Hunter, Gabrielle Reidy, Jessica Stevenson, Frank Egerton

'An uneven film which, for all its formal excellence, is a major let-down.' – Geoffrey Macnab, Sight and Sound
'All fluff and no filling.' – Variety

Baby on Board

Canada 1992 90m colour
Rose & Ruby/WEN/Sandy Howard/ABC/Prism (Damian Lee)

A taxi driver's life becomes complicated after he finds in his cab the small daughter of a Mafia widow, who is on the run for accidentally shooting the hitman who mistakenly killed her husband.
A comedy that tries too hard to be amusing to be amusing.
w Damian Lee story Doug Moore
d Francis A. Schaeffer ph Curtis Petersen
m Ronald J. Weiss ed Douglas Caron, Allan Mestel
☆ Judge Reinhold, Carol Kane, Geza Kovacs, Alex & Holly Stapley, Conrad Bergschneider, Lou Pitoscias, Errol Slue

Baby – Secret of the Lost Legend

US 1985 95m Technicolor
Supertechnirama
Touchstone (Jonathan T. Taplin)

Palaeontologists in the African jungle discover a family of living dinosaurs.
Technically and dramatically less than effective, this latter-day King Kong demonstrates yet again the Disney company's difficulties in hitting the right note for the modern family audience.
w Clifford and Ellen Green d Bill L. Norton ph John Alcott m Jerry Goldsmith sp Philip Meador, Peter Anderson
☆ William Katt, Sean Young, Patrick McGoohan, Julian Fellowes

Baby Take a Bow ★

US 1934 76m bw
Fox

An ex-convict is accused of theft, but his small daughter unmasks the real culprit.
Shirley Temple's first star vehicle was a solid enough commercial property to take her right to the top.
w Philip Klein, E. E. Paramore Jnr d Harry Lachman
☆ Shirley Temple, James Dunn, Claire Trevor, Alan Dinehart

'A pretty obvious and silly melodrama, but it has Shirley Temple, so it can go down in the books as a neat and sure b.o. hit.' – Variety

'The more he gets into trouble, the more he gets under her skin!'

Baby, the Rain Must Fall

US 1964 100m bw
Columbia/Pakula-Mulligan (Alan Pakula)

A parolee rejoins his wife and daughter in a Southern town, but his outbursts of violence separate them again.
Hard work by all concerned scarcely produces absorbing interest in this filmed play of the Tennessee Williams school.
w Horton Foote play The Travelling Lady by Horton Foote d Robert Mulligan
ph Ernest Laszlo m Elmer Bernstein
☆ Steve McQueen, Lee Remick, Don Murray, Paul Fix, Josephine Hutchinson, Ruth White, Charles Watts

The Baby Vanishes: see Broadway Limited

'Friends 4-Ever.'

The Baby-Sitters Club

US 1995 94m colour
Columbia/Beacon/Scholastic (Jane Startz, Peter O. Almond)

A group of 11 year-old girls organise a summer day-camp.
Bland, slow-moving drama of small-town life, seen through rose-coloured lenses, the sort of cute movie that gives respectability a bad name.
w Dalene Young books Ann M. Martin
d Melanie Mayron ph Willy Kurant
m David Michael Frank pd Larry Fulton
ed Christopher Greenbury
☆ Schuyler Fisk (Kristy), Bre Blair (Stacey), Rachael Leigh Cook (Mary Anne), Larisa Oleynik (Dawn), Tricia Joe (Claudia), Stacey Linn Ramsower (Mallory), Zelda Harris (Jessi), Vanessa Zima (Rosie Wilder), Brooke Adams (Elizabeth Thomas Brewer), Bruce Davison (Watson), Ellen Burstyn

(Mrs Haberman), Peter Horton (Patrick)
'A warm, cuddly and earnest tale of modern youth.' – Variety
'The film's nature and even its title peg it as an ensemble work, and Mayron's group footage looks like crude camcording of a ninth-grade picnic.' – Mike Clark, USA Today

'When The Big City Called He Had To Answer.'
'Born To Go Wild!'

Baby's Day Out

US 1994 98m DeLuxe
TCF (John Hughes, Richard Vane)

A baby escapes from his kidnappers and leads them a chase across the city, using methods taken from his favourite book.
The Home Alone formula, of cute kid, dim crooks and violent slapstick topped with sentimentality, fails to raise a laugh this time around.
w John Hughes d Patrick Read Johnson ph Thomas Ackerman m Bruce Broughton pd Doug Kraner ed David Rawlins
☆ Joe Mantegna, Lara Flynn Boyle, Joe Pantoliano, Brian Haley, Cynthia Nixon, Fred Dalton Thompson, John Neville, Matthew Glave, Eddie Bracken
'A tired retread of past comic formulas played a pitch higher, a rhythm faster. It tries too hard to please and fails miserably.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

The Bacchantes

Italy/France 1961 96m colour 'Scope
Cino Del Duca/Vic Film/Lyre Film (Gian Paolo Bigazzi) original title: Le Baccanti

Dionysius takes his revenge after King Pentheus bans his worship in his home city of Thebes.
Enjoyably silly mythological romp, with bacchantes looking as if they had stepped out of the pages of pin-up magazines.
w Giorgio Stegani, Giorgio Ferroni play The Bacchae by Euripides d Giorgio Ferroni ph Pier Ludovico Pavoni m Mario Nascimbene ch Herbert Ross ad Arrigo Equini ☆ Taina Elg, Pierre Brice, Alberto Lupo, Alessandro Panaro, Raf Mattioli, Akim Tamiroff

'One thousand brides. One hundred million dollars. Jimmie Shannon is about to discover the true value of love.'

The Bachelor

US 1999 101m DeLuxe Panavision
Entertainment/New Line/George Street

A bachelor, who must marry on his 30th birthday in order to inherit $100m, is pursued by hundreds of prospective brides.
A re-make of Buster Keaton's Seven Chances (qv), but one singularly lacking in humour, romance and charm.
w Steve Cohen play Seven Chances by Roi Copper Megrue screenplay Clyde Bruckman, Jean Havez, Joseph Mitchell d Gary Sinyor ph Simon Archer m David A. Hughes, John Murphy pd Craig Stearns ed Robert Reitano cos Terry Dresbach
☆ Chris O'Donnell (Jimmy Shannon), Renée Zellweger (Anne), Hal Holbrook (O'Dell), James Cromwell (Priest), Artie Lange (Marco), Edward Asner (Gluckman), Marley Shelton (Natalie), Sarah Silverman (Carolyn), Stacy Edwards (Zoe), Rebecca Cross (Stacey), Jennifer Esposito (Daphne), Katharine Towne (Monique), Peter Ustinov (Grandad), Mariah Carey (Ilana), Brooke Shields (Buckley)
'Crude, frantic yuppie farce.' – New York Times

The Bachelor and the Bobbysoxer ★★

US 1947 95m bw
RKO (Dore Schary)

GB title: Bachelor Knight

A lady judge allows her impressionable young sister to get over her crush on an errant playboy by forcing them together.
Simple but unexpectedly delightful vehicle for top comedy talents, entirely pleasant and with several memorable moments.
w Sidney Sheldon d Irving Reis ph Robert de Grasse, Nicholas Musuraca m Leigh Harline ☆ Cary Grant, Myrna Loy, Shirley Temple, Ray Collins, Rudy Vallee, Harry Davenport, Johnny Sands, Don Beddoe
'Sure-fire stuff guaranteed to do no conceivable harm ... the audience laughed so loud I missed some of the lines.' – Shirley O'Hara, New Republic
Sidney Sheldon

Bachelor Apartment

US 1931 77m bw
RKO (William Le Baron)

A virtuous working girl in New York falls for a rich woman-chasing bachelor.
Mildly agreeable early talking romantic comedy.
w J. Walter Ruben, John Howard Lawson d Lowell Sherman ph Leo Tover ☆ Irene Dunne, Lowell Sherman, Mae Murray, Norman Kerry, Claudia Dell, Ivan Lebedeff
'It oversteps the reasonable limits of sophisticated art ... thus the film is doubtful for small towns.' – Variety

Bachelor Bait: see Adventure in Baltimore

Bachelor Father

US 1931 90m bw
MGM (B. P. Fineman)

A much-married elderly man visits his grown children.
Unremarkable star comedy of its day.
w Laurence E. Johnson play Edward Childs Carpenter d Robert Z. Leonard ph Oliver T. Marsh
☆ Marion Davies, C. Aubrey Smith, Ray Milland, Ralph Forbes, Halliwell Hobbes, Guinn Williams, David Torrence
'Where they have used the old hoke they have masked it with commendable skill.' – Variety

Bachelor Flat

US 1961 91m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF/Jack Cummings

An English professor at an American university is unrelentingly pursued by girls.
Flat one-joke comedy which simply hasn't the style to sustain itself.
w Frank Tashlin, Budd Grossman play Budd Grossman d Frank Tashlin ph Daniel L. Fapp m Johnny Williams
☆ Terry-Thomas, Richard Beymer, Tuesday Weld, Celeste Holm, Francesca Bellini, Howard McNear

Bachelor Girl Apartment: see Any Wednesday

Bachelor Girls: see The Bachelor's Daughters

Bachelor in Paradise

US 1961 109m Metrocolor Cinemascope
MGM/Ted Richmond

A famous writer of advice to the lovelorn settles incognito in a well-heeled Californian community to observe its social habits.
Mildly amusing satire is too frequently interrupted by unsuitable romantic interludes in this rather ill-considered star comedy.
w Valentine Davies, Hal Kanter d Jack Arnold ph Joseph Ruttenberg m Henry Mancini ☆ Bob Hope, Lana Turner, Janis Paige, Don Porter, Paula Prentiss, Jim Hutton, Virginia Grey, Reta Shaw, John McGiver, Agnes Moorehead title song (m Henry Mancini, ly Mack David)

Bachelor Knight: see The Bachelor and the Bobbysoxer

'Just ten tiny fingers and ten tiny toes ...
Trouble? Scandal? Gosh, nobody knows!'

Bachelor Mother ★★★

US 1939 82m bw
RKO (B. G. de Sylva)

A shopgirl finds an abandoned baby and is thought to be its mother; the department store owner's son is then thought to be the father.
Blithely-scripted comedy which stands the test of time and provided several excellent roles.
w Norman Krasna story Felix Jackson d Garson Kanin ph Robert de Grasse m Roy Webb ad Carroll Clark, Van Nest Polglase ed Henry Berman, Robert Wise
☆ Ginger Rogers (Polly Parrish), David Niven (David Merlin), Charles Coburn (J. B. Merlin), Frank Albertson (Freddie Miller), E. E. Clive (Butler), Ernest Truex (Investigator)
'Carries some rather spicy lines aimed at the adult trade, but broad enough in implication to catch the fancy of general audiences ... a surprise laugh hit that will do biz generally and overcome hot weather box office lethargy.' – Variety
'An excellent comedy, beautifully done.' – Richard Mallett, Punch
'This is the way farce should be handled, with just enough conviction to season its extravagances.' – New York Times
† Remade as Bundle of Joy (qv).
Felix Jackson

Bachelor of Hearts

GB 1958 94m Technicolor
Rank/Independent Artists (Vivian A. Cox)

Adventures of a German student at Cambridge University.
Sometimes agreeable, sometimes annoying, especially when romance gets in the way of the possibilities for fun.
w Leslie Bricusse, Frederic Raphael d Wolf Rilla ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Hubert Clifford ☆ Hardy Kruger, Sylvia Syms, Ronald Lewis, Eric Barker, Newton Blick

The Bachelor Party ★★★

US 1957 93m bw
UA/Norma (Harold Hecht)

New York book-keepers throw a wedding eve party for one of their fellows, but drink only brings to the fore their own private despairs.
Though the last half-hour lets it down, most of this is a brilliantly observed social study of New York life at its less attractive, and the acting matches the incisiveness of the script.
w Paddy Chayefsky TV play Paddy Chayefsky d Delbert Mann ph Joseph LaShelle m Alex North ed William B. Murphy
☆ Don Murray (Charlie Samson), E. G. Marshall (Walter), Jack Warden (Eddie), Philip Abbott (Arnold), Larry Blyden (Kenneth), Patricia Smith (Helen Samson), Carolyn Jones (The Existentialist)
Carolyn Jones

Bachelor Party

US 1984 105m DeLuxe
Fox/Aspect Ratio/Twin Continental (Ron Moler, Bob Israel)

A bachelor party is beset by a series of disasters.
Crude, exploitative farce full of physical mess and tending to get most of its humour from the destruction of order and some teetering on the brink of pornography.
w Neal Israel, Pat Proft story Bob Israel d Neal Israel ph Hal Trussell m Robert Folk ad Kevin Conlin, Martin Price ed Tom Walls
☆ Tom Hanks, Tawny Kitaen, Adrian Zmed, George Grizzard, Barbara Stuart, Robert Prescott

The Bachelor's Daughters ★

US 1946 90m bw
UA/Andrew Stone

GB title: Bachelor Girls

Four shopgirls and a floorwalker rent a Long Island house and pass themselves off as a wealthy family in order to lure suitable husbands for the girls.
Mildly amusing comedy with good performances.
wd Andrew Stone ph Theodor Sparkuhl m Heinz Roemheld ☆ Adolphe Menjou, Gail Russell, Claire Trevor, Billie Burke

Back Door to Heaven

US 1939 81m bw
Odessco/Paramount (William K. Howard)

A boy born on the wrong side of the tracks is prevented from going straight, and, having escaped execution for murder, is bumped off by gangsters.
Heavy-going indictment of society; too glum to work, it seems to have finished off the career of its talented director.
w John Bright, Robert Tasker story William K. Howard d William K. Howard ☆ Wallace Ford, Aline MacMahon, Stuart Erwin, Jimmy Lydon, William Harrigan, Bert Frohman 'Artistic drama, too heavy and slow-tempoed for general b.o.' – Variety † William K. Howard also appears as the prosecuting attorney.

'Lost Together ... Locked Together In The Jungle.'
'As the Jivaro drums grew louder, love changed to fear, selfishness to tenderness, passion to pity.'

Back from Eternity

US 1956 97m bw
RKO (John Farrow)

An airliner is forced to crashland in headhunter country, and when repairs are made only five of the eight survivors can be carried.
Remake by the same producer-director of his own 1939 'B', Five Came Back, this time to considerably less effect despite superior production.
w Jonathan Latimer d John Farrow ph William Mellor m Franz Waxman

☆ Robert Ryan, Anita Ekberg, Rod Steiger, Phyllis Kirk, Gene Barry, Keith Andes, Beulah Bondi, Fred Clark, Cameron Prud'homme, Jesse White

Back from the Dead

US 1957 78m bw Regalscope
TCF/Regal (Robert Stabler)

A girl on honeymoon becomes possessed by the spirit of her husband's first wife.
Blithe Spirit played for real but getting just as many laughs, unintentional this time.
w Catherine Turney novel The Other One by Catherine Turney d Charles Marquis Warren ph Ernest Haller m Raoul Kraushaar ☆ Peggie Castle, Arthur Franz, Marsha Hunt, Don Haggerty

'Saving the day the British way.'

Back in Business

UK 2007 81m
Success Entertainment/New Light Theatre Group/21st Century (Neil J. Gardner)

Five British con artists try to outwit the Russians and the Chinese by copying an exploratory space buggy and passing it off as genuine.
Dismal, laugh-free effort, with unconvincing British stereotypes for characters.
w Chris Munro, Neil J. Gardner d Chris Munro ph Martin Kenzie m Mark Thomas pd Simon Waters ad Philippa Broadhurst ed Ian Differ, Andrew MacRitchie
☆ Martin Kemp (William, Lord Arlington Spencer), Chris Barrie (Thomas), Brian Blessed (Trevor Pilkington), Stefan Booth (Travis), Joanna Taylor (Fiona)

Back in Circulation

US 1937 80m bw
Warner

Girl news reporter wins her editor's attention by solving a murder.
Sub-Front Page melodrama, of no intrinsic interest.
w Warren Duff story Adela Rogers St. Johns d Ray Enright ph Arthur Todd md Leo F. Forbstein ad Hugh Reticker ed Clarence Kolster
☆ Pat O'Brien, Joan Blondell, Margaret Lindsay

'The newspaper boys, the goofy photographers and the hysterical city are on the murder trail, relentlessly pursuing the accused, telling coroners, district attorneys and defence counsel how to conduct their business.' – Variety

Back in the USSR

US 1991 87m DeLuxe
Warner/Largo/JVC/Mosfilm (Lindsay Smith, Ilmar Taska)

In Moscow, an American tourist becomes involved in murder and the theft of a priceless icon from a country church.
Involved and unconvincing thriller with enough twists and turns in the narrative to confuse anyone patient enough to watch it until the end.
w Lindsay Smith d Deran Sarafian ph Yuri Neyman m Les Hooper pd Vladimir Philippov ed Ian Crafford
☆ Frank Whaley, Roman Polanski, Natalya Negoda, Dey Young, Andrew Divoff, Brian Blessed, Ravil Issyanov

'The plot is contrived and lacklustre and the performances, with a few exceptions, profoundly lacking in presence. The only laughs are unintentional, and the thrills negligible.' – James Keen, Film Review

Back of Beyond

Australia 1995 85m colour
Imagine/AFFC/Back of Beyond/Peter Szabo/Tourist/John Sexton

A diamond thief and his girlfriend are stranded in the desert, near a derelict garage, where a mechanic mourns the death of his sister.
An odd little ghost story about loss and love, lacking in much substance.
w Paul Leadon, A. M. Brooksbank, Richard J. Sawyer original treatment Michael Robertson d Michael Robertson ph Stephen Dobson m Mark Moffatt, Wayne Goodwin pd Ross Major ed Timothy Wellburn
☆ Paul Mercurio, Colin Friels, John Polson, Dee Smart, Bob Mazza

Back Roads

US 1981 95m DeLuxe Panavision
CBS Theatrical/Meta Films (Ronald Shedlo)

A hooker and an ex-boxer hitch-hike to California.
Tiresomely with-it update of It Happened One Night (qv); the humour and romance of the original are preferable to this dollop of bad language, boring people and bed-hopping.
w Gary DeVore d Martin Ritt ph John A. Alonzo m Henry Mancini ☆ Sally Field, Tommy Lee Jones, David Keith, Miriam Colon, Michael Gazzo

'Decidedly sticky, and instantly forgettable.' – Guardian

Back Room Boy ★

GB 1942 82m bw
GFD/Gainsborough (Edward Black)

A timid meteorologist is sent to an Orkney lighthouse and unmasks a bunch of spies.
Fairly spirited star comedy of interest as a shameless rip-off of The Ghost Train and Oh Mr Porter, whose plotlines are milked but not improved: note also that Askey took over Will Hay's discarded stooges.
w Val Guest, Marriott Edgar d Herbert Mason ph Jack Cox
☆ Arthur Askey, Moore Marriott, Graham Moffatt, Googie Withers, Vera Frances, John Salew

Back Street ★

US 1932 93m bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

A married man has a sweet-tempered mistress who effaces herself for twenty years.
Popular version of a sudsy bestselling novel.
w Gladys Lehman, Lynn Starling novel Fannie Hurst d John M. Stahl ph Karl Freund ☆ Irene Dunne, John Boles, June Clyde, George Meeker, ZaSu Pitts, Doris Lloyd

'Swell romance, a little tear-jerking, and a woman's picture – which means a money production.' – Variety

Back Street ★

US 1941 89m bw
Universal (Bruce Manning)

Competent remake.
w Bruce Manning, Felix Jackson d Robert Stevenson ph William Daniels m Frank Skinner ad Seward Webb ed Ted J. Kent
☆ Margaret Sullavan, Charles Boyer, Richard Carlson, Frank McHugh, Tim Holt, Frank Jenks, Esther Dale, Samuel S. Hinds
♗ Frank Skinner

Back Street ★

US 1961 107m Technicolor
U-I/Ross Hunter/Carrollton

Glossy remake typical of its producer: unfortunately it fails to work because the heroine suffers too luxuriously.
w Eleanore Griffin, William Ludwig d David Miller ph Stanley Cortez m Frank Skinner ad Alexander Golitzen ed Milton Carruth
☆ Susan Hayward, John Gavin, Vera Miles, Virginia Grey, Charles Drake, Reginald Gardiner

'Though there is a lot to be said for this new version's thesis that one can be just as lonely in a series of apartments and lovers' nests apparently never less than a hundred yards wide, the illusion is quickly shattered the moment one gets the impression that the lovers prefer to keep much the same distance during their moments of passion.' – Peter John Dyer
'Ross Hunter has updated this old faithful and given it a contemporary lack of significance.' – Hollis Alpert, Saturday Review
'The bathrooms look like the lobby of the Beverly Hilton ... the fallen woman falls, not into the pit of shame, but into the lap of luxury.' – Time

Back to Bataan

US 1945 97m bw
RKO (Robert Fellows)

When Bataan is cut off, a Marine colonel organizes guerrilla resistance.
Modestly made and rather dislikeable flagwaver.
w Ben Barzman, Richard Landau d Edward Dmytryk ph Nicholas Musuraca m Roy Webb
☆ John Wayne, Anthony Quinn, Beulah Bondi, Fely Franquelli, Leonard Strong, Richard Loo, Philip Ahn, Lawrence Tierney, Paul Fix

Back to School

US 1986 94m DeLuxe
Orion/Paper Clip (Chuck Russell)

A millionaire enrols in university as a freshman so as to teach his son the ropes.
Crass and ineptly made comedy vehicle for a star with distinct limitations.
w Steven Kampmann, Harold Ramis, Will Porter, Peter Torokvei d Alan Metter ph Thomas E. Ackerman m Danny Elfman pd David Snyder ed David Rawlins
☆ Rodney Dangerfield, Sally Kellerman, Burt Young, Keith Gordon, Paxton Whitehead

Back to the Beach

US 1987 92m colour
Paramount (Frank Mancuso Jnr)

Former teenage surfers return to the beach in middle age and help kids with problems.
Not so bad as it sounds, but for cultists only.
w Peter Krikes, Steve Meerson, Christopher Thompson d Lyndall Hobbs ph Bruce Surtees m Steve Dorff pd Michael Helmy ed David Finfer
☆ Annette Funicello, Frankie Avalon, Connie Stevens, Lori Loughlin, Tommy Hinkley, Bob Denver, Jerry Mathers, Pee-wee Herman, Don Adams

'A wonderfully campy trip down pop culture's trash-filled memory lane.' – Daily Variety

Back to the Future ★★★

US 1985 116m Technicolor
Universal/Steven Spielberg (Bob Gale, Neil Canton)

With the help of a not-so-crazy scientist, a teenager goes back thirty years to make a man out of his dimwit father.
Lighthearted Twilight Zone (qv) fantasy which certainly pleased the international multitudes.
w Robert Zemeckis, Bob Gale d Robert Zemeckis ph Dean Cundey m Alan Silvestri pd Lawrence G. Paull ad Todd Hallowell ed Arthur Schmidt, Harry Keramidas
☆ Michael J. Fox (Marty McFly), Christopher Lloyd (Dr Emmett Brown), Crispin Glover (George McFly), Lea Thompson (Lorraine Baines), Claudia Wells (Jennifer Parker), Thomas F. Wilson (Biff Tannen)

'Accelerates with wit, ideas, and infectious, wide-eyed wonder.' – Variety
† Eric Stoltz was originally cast as Marty McFly, but was replaced by Fox after five weeks' shooting.
♗ original screenplay; song ('The Power of Love'); sound

Back to the Future II

US 1989 108m DeLuxe
UIP/Amblin Entertainment (Bob Gale, Neil Canton)

A scientist and his young friend discover, on their return from a trip to the future, that the present has been altered for the worse.
Extraordinarily raucous, confusingly plotted, poorly performed (rarely have actors aged so unconvincingly) sequel that amounts to little more than a trailer for the third part of the series.
w Bob Gale story Bob Gale, Robert Zemeckis d Robert Zemeckis ph Dean Cundey m Alan Silvestri pd Rick Carter ad Margie Stone McShirley ed Arthur Schimdt, Harry Keramidas
☆ Michael J. Fox (Marty McFly/Marty McFly, Jr./Marlene McFly), Christopher Lloyd (Dr Emmett Brown), Lea Thompson (Lorraine), Thomas F. Wilson (Biff Tannen/Grif), Harry Waters Jnr (Marvin Berry), Charles Fleischer (Terry), Joe Flaherty (Western Union Man)

'They've saved the best trip to the last. But this time they may have gone too far.'

Back to the Future III ★★

US 1990 118m DeLuxe
UIP/Amblin (Bob Gale, Neil Canton)

A teenager travels back in time to rescue his friend, a scientist stranded in the Wild West.
Good-natured fun at the expense of classic Western movies.
w Bob Gale story Robert Zemeckis d Robert Zemeckis ph Dean Cundey m Alan Silvestri pd Rick Carter ed Arthur Schmidt, Harry Keramidas
☆ Michael J. Fox (Marty McFly/Seamus McFly), Christopher Lloyd (Dr Emmett Brown), Mary Steenburgen (Clara Clayton), Thomas F. Wilson (Buford 'Mad Dog' Tannen/Biff Tannen), Lea Thompson (Maggie McFly/Lorraine McFly), Elisabeth Shue (Jennifer), Matt Clark (Bartender), Richard Dysart (Barbed Wire Salesman), James Tolkan (Marshal Strickland)

'Has a joyousness seldom seen on the screen these days, a sense of exuberance in the breaking of boundaries of time, space and genre.' – Variety

Backbeat ★

GB 1993 100m Eastmancolor Panavision
Rank/Polygram/Scala/Channel 4 Films/Royal (Finola Dwyer, Stephen Woolley)

Stuart Sutcliffe, a promising young painter, plays with the Beatles in Hamburg, where he falls for a German photographer and decides his future is with art not rock.
A deft and enjoyable movie about the birth of the 60s and the Beatles, concentrating on the tragically short life of Sutcliffe, who died of a brain tumour in 1962.
w Iain Softley, Michael Thomas, Stephen Ward d Iain Softley ph Ian Wilson m Don Was pd Joseph Bennett ed Martin Walsh
☆ Sheryl Lee, Stephen Dorff, Ian Hart, Gary Bakewell, Chris O'Neill, Scot Williams, Kai Wiesinger, Jennifer Ehle

'Shrewd rather than clever, lively rather than memorable and possessed of just enough wit and heart to convince that it is essentially more than a nostalgia-stirring package.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'Has quite a bit going for it in the way of cultural and musical history but lacks a crucial, heightened artistic quality and point of view that would have given it real distinction.' – Variety

music

Backdraft ★

US 1991 136m DeLuxe Super 35
UIP/Trilogy/Imagine (Richard B. Lewis, Pen Densham, John Watson)

Two brothers track down an arsonist and expose corruption in the fire department.
Overheated, muddled melodrama saved from tedium by its fiery special effects.
w Gregory Widen d Ron Howard ph Mikael Salomon m Hans Zimmer pd Albert Brenner ed Daniel Hanley, Michael Hill sp Visual effects: Industrial Light and Magic. Pyrotechnics: Allen Hall ☆ Kurt Russell, William Baldwin, Robert De Niro, Donald Sutherland, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Scott Glenn, Rebecca DeMornay, Jason Gedrick, J. T. Walsh

'Visually, pic is often exhilarating, but it's shapeless and dragged down by corny, melodramatic characters and situations.' – Variety

Backfire

US 1949 90m bw
Warner (Anthony Veiller)

A war veteran solves the murder of which his best friend is accused.
Confusing murder mystery of a very familiar kind, adequately made but with no particular style. Flashbacks don't help.
w Larry Marcus, Ivan Goff, Ben Roberts d Vincent Sherman ph Carl Guthrie m Ray Heindorf ad Anton Grot
☆ Gordon MacRae, Virginia Mayo, Edmond O'Brien, Dane Clark, Viveca Lindfors, Ed Begley

Backfire

US 1987 91m colour
Virgin/ITC (Danton Rissner)

A Vietnam veteran with nightmares seems to be in the middle of a murder plot.
Too-murky thriller which takes an awful long time to come clean.
w Larry Brand, Rebecca Reynolds d Gilbert Cates ph Tak Fujimoto m David Shire pd Daniel Lomino ed Melvin Shapiro
☆ Karen Allen, Keith Carradine, Jeff Fahey, Bernie Casey, Dean Paul Martin Background ★

GB 1953 82m bw
Group Three (Herbert Mason)
US title: Edge of Divorce

Two people decide on divorce, but thoughts of their children bring them together again.
Low-budget, stiff-upper-lip marriage guidance tract, well acted but more well-intentioned than memorable.
w Warren Chetham Strode, Don Sharp play Warren Chetham Strode d Daniel Birt ph Arthur Grant
☆ Valerie Hobson, Philip Friend, Norman Wooland, Janette Scott, Mandy Miller, Jeremy Spenser, Richard Wattis

Background to Danger

US 1943 80m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)

An adventurer thwarts Nazi intrigue in Turkey.
Flat, studio-bound wartime potboiler with a good cast all at sea.
w W. R. Burnett novel Uncommon Danger by Eric Ambler d Raoul Walsh ph Tony Gaudio m Frederick Hollander
☆ George Raft, Brenda Marshall, Sydney Greenstreet, Peter Lorre, Osa Massen, Turhan Bey, Kurt Katch

'You could use this film for one kind of measurement of the unconquerable difference between a good job by Hitchcock and a good job of the Hitchcock type.' – James Agee
'There's nothing for the cast to do other than concentrate on the display of melodramatics.' – Variety

Backlash ★

US 1956 84m Technicolor
U-I (Aaron Rosenberg)

A gunman seeks the father he has never met, who turns out to be a villain who sold his partners for gold to attacking Indians.
Rather unusual suspense Western, very watchable for its mystery elements.
w Borden Chase d John Sturges ph Irving Glassberg m Herman Stein ☆ Richard Widmark, Donna Reed, John McIntire, William Campbell, Barton MacLane

Backlash

Australia 1986 110m colour
Mermaid Beach/Multifilms (Bill Bennett)

An antagonistic pair of cops – one male, one female – are stranded in the outback with an Aborigine woman accused of the castration and murder of her employer.
Glum melodrama: its heart may be in the right place, but its mind is elsewhere.
wd Bill Bennett ph Tony Wilson m Michael Atkinson, Michael Spicer ed Denise Hunter ☆ David Argue, Gia Carides, Lydia Miller, Brian Syron

Backsliding

Australia/GB 1991 88m colour
Film4/Itel/AFFC/Charles and Simon Target (Sue Wild)

An incompetent engineer is stranded in the outback with a born-again Christian, who has a violent past and believes that he is being tempted by the devil.
Creepy little psychological drama, but one that lacks much in the way of suspense or character development.
w Simon Target, Ross Wilson d Simon Target ph Tom Cowan m Nigel Westlake pd Ross Major ed Nicolas Holmes
☆ Tim Roth, Jim Holt, Odile Le Clezio, Ross McGregor, Michelle Fillery, Patrick Duggan, Jim Morlock, Adrian Shirley

Backstreet Dreams

US 1990 104m DeLuxe
Trimark (Jason O'Malley, Lance H. Robbins)

A petty gangster decides to go straight to care for his autistic son.
Lurid melodrama, alternately mawkish and violent, but never bearing any resemblance to an observable reality.
w Jason O'Malley d Rupert Hitzig ph Stephen M. Katz m Bill Conti ed Robert Gordon
☆ Jason O'Malley, Brooke Shields, Sherilyn Fenn, Tony Fields, Nick Cassavetes, Ray Mancini, Burt Young, Anthony Franciosa, Joe Pantoliano (uncredited)

'A vanity production unsuccessfully mixing exploitation film clichés with fake uplift of a tv disease-of-the-week pic.' – Variety

The Bacon Grabbers ★

US 1929 20m bw silent
Hal Roach

Bailiffs fail to recover a radio on which the instalments are overdue.
Modestly pleasing star comedy on the lines of Big Business (qv).
w Leo McCarey, H. M. Walker d Lewis R. Foster
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Edgar Kennedy, Jean Harlow, Charlie Hall

'The story of a blonde who wanted to go places, and a brute who got her there – the hard way!'

The Bad and the Beautiful ★★

US 1952 118m bw
MGM (John Houseman)

A director, a star, a screenwriter and an executive recall their experiences at the hands of a go-getting Hollywood producer.
Very much a Hollywood 'in' picture, this rather obvious flashback melodrama offers good acting chances and a couple of intriguing situations; never quite finding the style it seeks, it offers good bitchy entertainment along the way, and there are references back to it in Two Weeks in Another Town (qv), made ten years later.
w Charles Schnee d Vincente Minnelli ph Robert Surtees m David Raksin ad Cedric Gibbons, Edward Carfagno
☆ Kirk Douglas (Jonathan Shields), Lana Turner (Georgia Lorrison), Walter Pidgeon (Harry Pebbel), Dick Powell (James Lee Bartlow), Barry Sullivan (Fred Amiel), Gloria Grahame (Rosemary Bartlow), Gilbert Roland (Victor Ribera), Leo G. Carroll (Henry Whitfield), Vanessa Brown (Kay Amiel), Paul Stewart (Syd Murphy)

'For all the cleverness of the apparatus, it lacks a central point of focus.' – Penelope Houston
'Clever, sharply observed little scenes reflect the Hollywood surface: the egotistic babble at a party, the affectations of European directors, the sneak preview, the trying on of suits for catmen in a B picture.' – MFB
'It is a crowded and colourful picture, but it is choppy, episodic and vague. There does not emerge a clear picture of exactly how movies are made.' – Bosley Crowther

† The relationship between Jonathan Shields and Georgia Lorrison is modelled on that between producer David Selznick and actress Jennifer Jones.

Charles Schnee; Robert Surtees; art direction; Gloria Grahame
Kirk Douglas

Bad Bascomb ★

US 1946 110m bw
MGM (Orville Dull)

A sentimental bank robber becomes the hero of a group of travelling Mormons.
Pleasing though overlong star Western, with good production values.
w William Lipman, Grant Garrett d S. Sylvan Simon ph Charles Schoenbaum m David Snell
☆ Wallace Beery, Margaret O'Brien, Marjorie Main, J. Carrol Naish, Russell Simpson, Sara Haden

'The Mother, The Planner And The Gobshite.'

Bad Behaviour

GB 1993 104m colour
First Independent/Channel 4/British Screen/Parallax (Sarah Curtis)

An Irish couple living in North London with their two young sons muddle through life, not helped by the attentions of a neighbour, an unscrupulous landlord and his slapdash friends in the building trade.
A small-scale improvised comedy that concerns itself with the details of everyday existence to the detriment of drama; it may be realistic, but it is often uninteresting, despite the best efforts of its cast.
d Les Blair ph Witold Stok m John Altman pd Jim Grant ed Martin Walsh ☆ Stephen Rea, Sinead Cusack, Philip Jackson, Clare Higgins, Phil Daniels, Saira Todd, Mary Jo Randle

'A delightful comedy of manners ... The pic is character, not knockabout, comedy, but this is a group of mild eccentrics you want to follow to the end.' – Variety

Bad Blood ★

New Zealand/GB 1981 105m colour
Southern (Andrew Brown)

A paranoid farmer kills seven people and goes on the run.
Based on a true story, a grim, tense thriller that maintains its excitement.
w Andrew Brown book Manhunt: The Story of Stanley Graham by Howard Willis d Mike Newell ph Gary Hansen m Richard Hartley ad Kai Hawkins ed Peter Hollywood
☆ Jack Thompson, Carol Burns, Dennis Lill, Donna Akersten, Martyn Sanderson, Marshall Napier

Bad Blood: see The Night Is Young (1986)

Bad Boy

US 2001 84m DeLuxe
Gold Circle/Final Draft/Stephen J. Cannell

GB title: Dawg

A selfish womaniser stands to inherit a million dollars from his grandmother providing he can get twelve of his one-night stands to forgive him for his behaviour.
Dreary and utterly predictable trifle; it never delivers on the promise of its premise.
w Ken Hastings d Victoria Hochberg ph Steven Finestone m Jason Frederick, Richard Gibbs pd Bruce Miller ed Claudia Finkle ☆ Denis Leary (Doug 'Dawg' Menford), Elizabeth Hurley (Anna Lockheart), Steffani Brass (Lindsay), Vanessa Bell Calloway (Christine Hodges), Mark Curry (Drew), Alex Borstein (Darcy Smits), Will Sasso (Willie Smits), Elaine Hendrix (Angel)

Bad Boy Bubby

**

Australia/Italy 1993 114m colour Super 35
Entertainment/Fandango/Bubby (Domenico Procacci, Giorgio Draskovic, Rolf de Heer)

A retarded 35-year-old, who has never been allowed out of his home, murders his parents and experiences the wider world.
An odd and disturbing black comedy of a man who replays everything said and done to him; many may find it repugnant, but it offers a skewed and satirical perspective on everyday life and communication.
wd Rolf de Heer ph Ian Jones m Graham Tardiff pd Mark Abbott ed Suresh Ayyar
☆ Nicholas Hope, Claire Benito, Ralph Cotterill, Sid Brisbane, Norman Kaye, Carmel Johnson, Bridget Walters

'Provocative, stylistically daring and inventive.' – Variety

† Apart from its director of photography, the film used 30 other cinematographers, one for each location. The film won awards for best director, best actor, best original screenplay and best editing at the 1994 Australian Film Institute awards.

Bad Boys

US 1983 123m Astrocolor
EMI/Robert Solo

Delinquents get out of control in a Juvenile Correctional Facility.
Ugly but yawnworthy saga of up-to-date Dead End Kids.
w Richard di Lello d Rick Rosenthal ph Bruce Surtees, Don Thorin m Bill Conti ☆ Sean Penn, Reni Santoni, Jim Moody, Eric Gurry, Esai Morales, Ally Sheedy

'It has been made in a brutal, realistic neo-Warners style ... Even when episodes are powerful, they're banal.' – New Yorker

'Watcha Gonna Do?'

Bad Boys

★

US 1995 118m Technicolor
Columbia (Don Simpson, Jerry Bruckheimer)

Two Miami cops go after the gang that stole a fortune in heroin from their station-house.
High-octane entertainment in which smart dialogue alternates with frenetic action and large-scale destruction.
w Michael Barrie, Jim Mulholland, Doug Richardson story George Gallo d Michael Bay ph Howard Atherton m Mark Mancina pd John Vallone ed Christian Wagner
☆ Martin Lawrence, Will Smith, Téa Leoni, Tcheky Karyo, Theresa Randle, Marg Helgenberger, Joe Pantoliano

'Ultra-slick combination of expensive action, rude attitude, sassy humor, trendy locations, fast cars, heavy soundtrack and decorous violence.' – Variety

'A wholly unambitious reworking of a stock formula.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent

Bad Boys II

US 2003 147m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Don Simpson/Jerry Bruckheimer

Two narcotics cops investigate a drug smuggling business in Miami.
Loud, fast and out of control – and that's just the two buddy-buddy cops in this hectic action movie that piles high-tech shoot outs, crashing car chases and explosions on top of one another until all senses succumb to the onslaught.
w Ron Shelton, Jerry Stahl d Michael Bay ph Amir Mokri m Trevor Rabin, Dr Dre pd Dominic Watkins ed Mark Goldblatt, Thomas A. Muldoon, Roger Barton
sp Sony Pictures Imageworks; KNB Effects
☆ Martin Lawrence (Det Marcus Burnett), Will Smith (Det Mike Lowrey), Jordi Molla ('Johnny' Tapia), Gabrielle Union (Sydney Burnett), Peter Stormare (Alexei), Theresa Randle (Theresa Burnett), Joe Pantoliano (Captain Howard), Michael Shannon (Floyd Poteet)

'By God, the director, Michael Bay, knows how to make quality trash.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times

'As overblown as it is overlong... an enervating case of more is less.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'What is most depressing is that Hollywood is happy for an action film to make no sense as long as it's loud and there are plenty of helicopter shots.' – Tim Nagle, Sunday Times

Bad Company

***

US 1972 92m Technicolor
Paramount (Stanley R. Jaffe)

During the Civil War, two youths on the run team up and become outlaws.
A successful attempt to recreate the feeling of past time, by the writers of another criminal myth, Bonnie and Clyde.
w David Newman, Robert Benton d Robert Benton ph Gordon Willis m Harvey Schmidt ad Robert Gundlach ed Ralph Rosenblum
☆ Jeff Bridges (Jake Rumsey), Barry Brown (Drew Dixon), Jim Davis (Marshal), David Huddleston (Big Joe), John Savage (Loney)

Bad Company

Canada 1994 108m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone (Amedeo Ursini, Jeffrey Chernov)

A former CIA agent becomes involved in industrial espionage and murder.
Lacklustre thriller about uninteresting characters being unpleasant to one another; it lives up to its title.
w Ross Thomas d Damian Harris ph Jack N. Green m Carter Burwell pd Andrew McAlpine ed Stuart Pappe
☆ Ellen Barkin, Laurence Fishburne, Frank Langella, Michael Beach, Gia Carides, David Ogden Stiers, Spalding Gray

'With its uninvolving story, listless delivery and the unsympathetic characters ... would-be suspenser fails even on the erotic level.' – Godfrey Cheshire, Variety

† It was released direct to video in Britain.

'Two Mismatched Partners. One Messed Up Case!'

Bad Company

US 2002 116m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone (Jerry Bruckheimer, Michael Browning)

A CIA agent recruits the twin brother of his dead partner in a mission to prevent terrorists detonating an atomioc bomb in America.
Lacklustre action thriller, given over to meaningless bombast.
w Jason Richman, Michael Browning story Gary Goodman, David Himmelstein d Joel Schumacher ph Dariusz A. Wolski m Trevor Rabin pd Jan Roelfs ed Mark Goldblatt
☆ Anthony Hopkins (Gaylord Oakes), Chris Rock (Jake Hayes/Kevin Pope), Matthew Marsh (Dragan Adjanic), Gabriel Macht (Seale), Kerry Washington (Julie), Adoni Maropis (Jarma), Garcelle Beauvais-Nilon (Nicole), Peter Stormare (Adrik Vas)

Bad Day at Black Rock

****

US 1955 81m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
MGM (Dore Schary)

A one-armed stranger gets off the train at a sleepy desert hamlet and is greeted with hostility by the townsfolk, who have something to hide.
Seminal suspense thriller – the guilty town motif became a cliché – with a terse script and professional presentation. The moments of violence, long awaited, are electrifying.
w Millard Kaufman story Bad Time at Hondo by Howard Briskin d John Sturges ph William C. Mellor m André Previn ad Malcolm Brown, Cedric Gibbons ed Newell P. Kimlin
☆ Spencer Tracy (John J. MacReedy), Robert Ryan (Reno Smith), Dean Jagger (Tim Horn), Walter Brennan (Doc Velie), Ernest Borgnine (Coley Trimble), Lee Marvin (Hector David), Anne Francis (Liz Wirth), John Ericson (Pete Wirth), Russell Collins (Mr Hastings)

'A very superior example of motion picture craftsmanship.' – Pauline Kael

'The movie takes place within twenty-four hours. It has a dramatic unity, an economy of word and action, that is admirable in an age of flabby Hollywood epics that maunder on forever.' – William K. Zinsser, New York Herald Tribune

'The skill of some sequences, the mood and symbiosis between man and nature makes this film sometimes superior to High Noon.' – G. N. Fenin

Millard Kaufman; John Sturges; Spencer Tracy

Bad Dreams

US 1988 84m DeLuxe
TCF (Gale Anne Hurd)

After 13 years in a coma, a woman who survived a mass suicide discovers that the murderous spirit of her cult leader is still active.
Unsuccessful horror movie, too imitative of others of the genre and too feeble in its own right to be effective.
w Andrew Fleming, Steven E. de Souza d Andrew Fleming ph Alexander Gruszynski m Jay Michael Ferguson pd Ivo Crisante ed Jeff Freeman
☆ Jennifer Rubin, Bruce Abbott, Richard Lynch, Harris Yulin, Dean Cameron, Susan Barnes

Bad Education

**

Spain 2004 105m Eastmancolor
Pathé/El Deseo/TVE/Canal Plus (Agustin Almodóvar)

original title: La Mala Educación
Inspired by meeting an actor who claims to be his childhood lover, a director makes a film based on his schooldays, about a transsexual who, as a boy, was abused by a priest and later tried to blackmail him.
A drama of slippery identities and holy and profane love, enjoyable but not entirely satisfactory.
wd Pedro Almodóvar ph José Luis Alcaine m Alberto Iglesias ad Antxon Gomez ed José Salcedo ☆ Fele Martinez (Enrique Goded), Gael Garcia Bernal (School Friend/Zahara), Daniel Gimenez Cacho (Father Manolo), Lluis Homar (Sr Berenguer), Javier Camara (Paca), Petra Martinez (Mother), Raul Garcia Forneiro (Young Enrique)

'Bizarre, florid, perplexing and far-fetched, but absorbing and weirdly moving, too.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'Try as I might, I couldn't work up any enthusiasm for the entire sordid saga.' – Kevin O'Sullivan, Daily Mirror

Bad for Each Other

US 1954 83m bw
Columbia (William Fadiman)

A doctor back from the army scorns his home town for high society, but a mine disaster reverses his decision.
Misleadingly titled cliché drama, patterned after The Citadel (qv). Actors ill at ease, handling competent but routine.
w Irving Wallace, Horace McCoy novel Horace McCoy d Irving Rapper ph Franz Planer md Mischa Bakaleinikoff
☆ Charlton Heston, Lizabeth Scott, Dianne Foster, Mildred Dunnock, Arthur Franz, Ray Collins, Marjorie Rambeau

Bad Girl

★

US 1931 90m bw
Fox

Two New York youngsters have to get married and find life bewildering.
Typical Borzage sentiment which was well received at the time.
w Edwin Burke novel Vina Delmar d Frank Borzage ph Chester Lyons ☆ Sally Eilers, James Dunn, Minna Gombell, William Pawley, Frank Darien

Frank Borzage; Edwin Burke
best picture

'It was a dangerous time to be a woman. And a good time to have friends.'

Bad Girls

US 1994 99m DeLuxe
TCF (Albert S. Ruddy, André E. Morgan, Charles Finch)

Four prostitutes flee town after a killing and head for the wide open spaces to become outlaws.
Comic and unconvincing Western romp, impossible to take seriously and too silly to be amusing.
w Ken Friedman, Yolande Finch story Albert S. Ruddy, Charles Finch, Gray Frederickson d Jonathan Kaplan ph Ralf Bode m Jerry Goldsmith pd Guy Barnes ed Jane Kurson
☆ Madeleine Stowe, Mary Stuart Masterson, Andie MacDowell, Drew Barrymore, James Russo, Robert Loggia, Dermot Mulroney

'Drinks from an empty trough of wit and style.' – Variety † Tamra Davis was the original director, but left soon after shooting began.

'Trapped in a world of pleasure and pain.'

Bad Guy

★

South Korea 2001 102m colour
Tube Entertainment/LJ Film Co (Lee Seung-jae)

original title: Nabbeun Namja
The life of a tough, inarticulate gangster becomes inextricably entangled with a young student he forces into prostitution.
Moody, downbeat and often violent melodrama of obsessive love and mutual dependency; its doom-ridden romance is set against the degradation of brothel life.
wd Kim Ki-duk ph Hwang Cheol-hyeon m Park Ho-jun ad Kim Seon-ju ed Ham Seong-weon

☆ Jo Jae-hyeon (Han-gi), Seo Weon (Seon-hwa), Kim Yun-tae, Choi Duek-mun Bad Influence ★

US 1990 99m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Epic/Sarlui/Diamant (Steve Tisch)

A mysterious stranger manipulates the life of a disgruntled office worker.
Thriller requiring a more-than-usual suspension of disbelief.
w David Koepp d Curtis Hanson ph Robert Elswit m Trevor Jones ed Bonnie Koehler
☆ Rob Lowe, James Spader, Lisa Zane, Christian Clemenson, Kathleen Wilhoite, Tony Maggio, Marcia Cross

'A reasonably taut, suspenseful thriller that provides its share of twists before straying into silliness during its final third.' – Variety

Bad Jim

US 1990 90m Rank Colour
21st Century (Joseph Wouk)

A cowboy buys Billy the Kid's horse and turns bank robber, riding across the country with his gang, doing a few good turns.
Amiable, unmemorable Western that goes through familiar routines without much enthusiasm.
wd Clyde Ware ph David Golia m Jaime Sheriff pd Michael E. Forrell ed Glenn Garland ☆ James Brolin, Richard Roundtree, John Clark Gable, Harry Carey Jnr, Rory Calhoun, Pepe Serna, Ty Hardin

Bad Lieutenant

US 1992 96m colour
Guild/Pressman (Edward R. Pressman, Mary Kane)

A corrupt cop goes from bad to worse.
A lurid and exploitative melange of drugs, sex, masturbation, rape and religiosity, hardly justified by the suggestion of redemption tacked on to its end. What does save it, even if it doesn't justify it, is the force of Harvey Keitel's performance.
w Zoe Lund, Abel Ferrara d Abel Ferrara ph Ken Kelsch m Joe Delia pd Charles Logola ed Anthony Redman ☆ Harvey Keitel, Frankie Thorn, Zoe Lund, Anthony Ruggiero, Eddie Daniels, Bianca Bakija

'Film's frank treatment of drug addiction, obsessive sexuality and loss of religious faith spells instant controversy.' – Variety
'Not exactly comfortable viewing, of course, but this is disturbing, raw filmmaking and award-winning acting.' – Kim Newman, Empire

Bad Little Angel

US 1939 72m bw
MGM

A sad little girl flees an orphanage and brightens up several lives in a small town.
Pollyanna-type period drama, definitely for small-town audiences but well enough done.
w Dorothy Yost novel Looking after Sandy by Margaret Turnbull d William Thiele ☆ Virginia Weidler, Gene Reynolds, Guy Kibbee, Ian Hunter, Elizabeth Patterson, Reginald Owen, Henry Hull, Lois Wilson

'Homespunner for the nabes.' – Variety

The Bad Lord Byron ★

GB 1949 85m bw
Triton (Aubrey Baring)

Byron lies dying, and imagines his life and loves under review in a heavenly court.
Thought risible at the time, this historical romance in flashback now seems no worse and even a little more stylish than most, though the script suffers from too many cooks.
w Terence Young, Anthony Thorne, Peter Quennell, Laurence Kitchin, Paul Holt d David MacDonald ph Stephen Dade m Cedric Thorpe Davie
☆ Dennis Price, Mai Zetterling, Linden Travers, Joan Greenwood, Sonia Holm, Raymond Lovell, Leslie Dwyer
† The end of the British costume cycle which began with The Man in Grey (qv).

The Bad Man

US 1940 70m sepia
MGM (J. Walter Ruben)
GB title: Two Gun Cupid

A Mexican outlaw helps a former friend and unites two lovers.
Forgettable Western comedy drama with a sterling cast.
w Wells Root play Porter Emerson Browne d Richard Thorpe ph Clyde de Vinna m Franz Waxman
☆ Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Laraine Day, Ronald Reagan, Henry Travers

Bad Man of Brimstone

US 1937 89m bw
MGM

An old bandit discovers his long-lost son and sees the light.
Hilariously predictable but enjoyable star vehicle, quite palatable when it isn't too lachrymose.
w Richard Maibaum, Cyril Hume d J. Walter Ruben
☆ Wallace Beery, Virginia Bruce, Noah Beery, Dennis O'Keefe, Lewis Stone, Guy Kibbee, Joseph Calleia

Bad Man of Wyoming: see Wyoming (1940)

Bad Man's River

Spain/Italy/France 1972 90m
Eastmancolor Franscope
Zurbano/Apollo/Roitfeld (Bernard Gordon)

Four outlaws accept the job of blowing up a government arsenal in Mexico.
Lurid Western with comedy leanings and a somewhat eccentric cast.
w Philip Yordan, Eugenio Martin d Eugenio Martin ph Alexander Ulloa m Waldo de Los Rios
☆ Lee Van Cleef, James Mason, Gina Lollobrigida, Simon Andreu, Diana Lorys

'When shooting a western in Spain one should not say to oneself, "Never mind, no one is going to see it," because that will be just the film which the Rank Organization will choose to release in England.' – James Mason

Bad Medicine

US 1985 96m DeLuxe
TCF/Lantana (Alex Winitsky, Arlene Sellers)

A student goes to medical school in Mexico.
Condescending farce which the Mexicans certainly won't like. Nothing much in it for general audiences either.
wd Harvey Miller novel Steven Horowitz ph Kelvin Pike m Lalo Schifrin pd Les Dilley
☆ Steve Guttenberg, Alan Arkin, Julie Hagerty, Bill Macy

'With the tone shifting constantly from realistic to slapstick, the film has no center and just sprawls on.' – Variety

Bad Men of Missouri

US 1941 72m bw
Warner

The Younger brothers become outlaws when they fight the influence of carpetbaggers.
Whitewashing of a family of Western criminals; good double-bill entertainment.
w Charles Grayson d Ray Enright ph Arthur Todd ed Clarence Kolster ☆ Dennis Morgan, Arthur Kennedy, Wayne Morris, Jane Wyman, Victor Jory, Walter Catlett

Bad Moon

US 1996 79m colour Clairmont Scope
Warner/Morgan Creek (James G. Robinson)

An American photojournalist turns werewolf after being attacked by a creature in Nepal.
Dull horror movie that sticks to familiar clichés, lacking any sense of conviction.
wd Eric Red novel Thor by Wayne Smith ph Jan Kiesser m Daniel Licht pd Richard Paris, Linda Del Rosario ed C. Timothy O'Meara sp make-up fx: Steve Johnson ☆ Mariel Hemingway, Michael Paré, Mason Gamble, Primo

'Too silly to be suspenseful, yet not quite awful enough – or unintentionally funny enough – to qualify as camp.' – Variety

The Bad News Bears

US 1976 103m Movielab
Paramount (Stanley Jaffe)

An ex-baseball professional coaches a team of tough kids.
Rough-tongued, sentimental star comedy.
w Bill Lancaster d Michael Ritchie ph John A. Alonzo m Jerry Fielding (after Bizet)
☆ Walter Matthau, Tatum O'Neal, Vic Morrow, Joyce Van Patten

The Bad News Bears Go to Japan

US 1978 91m Movielab
Paramount (Michael Ritchie)

Yet another unnecessary sequel with a self-explanatory title.
w Bill Lancaster d John Berry ph Gene Polito m Paul Chihara
☆ Tony Curtis, Jackie Earle Haley, Tomisaburo Wayakama, George Wyner

The Bad News Bears in Breaking Training

US 1977 100m Movielab
Paramount/Leonard Goldberg (Fred T. Gallo)

The Bears are invited to play in the Houston Astrodome but have trouble finding a coach.
Dimwitted and alarmingly sentimental sequel to a raucously vulgar oncer which should have been left alone.
w Paul Brickman d Michael Pressman ph Fred J. Koenekamp m Craig Safan from Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture ed John W. Wheeler
☆ William Devane, Clifton James, Jackie Earle Haley, Jimmy Baio, Chris Barnes

'He doesn't care if you're naughty or nice.'

Bad Santa ★

Germany/US 2003 91m DeLuxe
Buena Vista/Triptych (John Cameron, Sarah Aubrey, Bob Weinstein)

A hard drinking con man and his sidekick become a department store Santa Claus and elf so that they can rob the safe on Christmas Eve.
Scabrous comedy that makes a change from the usual glutinous Christmas fare, though it, too, goes soggy before the end.
w Glenn Ficarra, John Requa d Terry Zwigoff ph Jamie Anderson m David Kitay pd Sharon Seymour ed Robert Hoffman
☆ Billy Bob Thornton (Willie T. Stokes), Tony Cox (Marcus), Brett Kelly (The Kid), Lauren Graham (Sue), Lauren Tom (Lois), Bernie Mac (Gin), John Ritter (Bob Chipeska)

'Gloriously funky in the good old meaning of the term. Its vulgarity may be offensive, but it's also pungent and real, and it fuels some ferocious humor.' – Michael Sragow, Baltimore Sun

The Bad Seed ★

US 1956 129m bw
Warner (Mervyn Le Roy)

A sweet-looking 8-year-old girl is a liar and a murderess; her mother finds out and attempts to kill her and commit suicide.
A real curiosity from an unexpected stage hit: absurd melodrama treated with astonishing high literary style and some censor-induced levity; at the end, after the little villainess has been struck by lightning, a curtain call shows her being soundly spanked. Nancy Kelly rather uneasily recreates her stage role as the mother.
w John Lee Mahin play Maxwell Anderson novel William March d Mervyn Le Roy ph Harold Rosson m Alex North ☆ Nancy Kelly, Patty McCormack, Henry Jones, Eileen Heckart, Evelyn Varden, William Hopper, Paul Fix, Jesse White
Harold Rosson; Nancy Kelly; Patty McCormack; Eileen Heckart

Bad Sister

US 1931 71m bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

A small-town coquette falls for a city slicker, and her quiet sister gets her steady boyfriend.
A teenager potboiler of its day, remarkable only for its cast.
w Raymond L. Schrock, Tom Reed story The Flirt by Booth Tarkington d Hobart Henley ph Karl Freund ed Ted J. Kent ☆ Conrad Nagel, Sidney Fox, Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, ZaSu Pitts, Slim Summerville, Emma Dunn, Bert Roach

Bad Sister: see The White Unicorn (1947)

The Bad Sleep Well ★★

Japan 1960 151m bw Tohoscope
Toho (Tomoyuki Tanaka, Akira Kurosawa)

original title: Warui Yatsu Yoku Nemuru

As part of his plan for revenge, a man marries the daughter of the businessman responsible for his father's death.
Moody thriller, in the style of American gangster movies of the 40s, but with an ending that Hollywood would have rejected as too downbeat.
w Akira Kurosawa, Hideo Oguni, Eijiro Kusaka, Ryuzo Kikushima, Shinobu Hashimoto novel Ed McBain d Akira Kurosawa ph Yazuru Aizawa m Sasuru Sato ☆ Toshiro Mifune, Masayuki Mori, Kyoko Kagawa, Tatsuya Mihashi, Takashi Shimura, Akira Nishimura, Takeshi Kato

'It's a strangely mixed movie – an attempt at social significance but with several borrowings from Hamlet that take bizarre forms.' – Pauline Kael

Bad Taste

New Zealand 1987 92m colour
Blue Dolphin/Wing Nut Films/Peter Jackson

Alien fast-food restaurateurs add humans to their menu.

A deliberately gross low-budget movie, mixing gore and comedy, that gained a cult following among those with strong stomachs. Chacun à son goût.

w Peter Jackson, Tony Hiles, Ken Hammon m Michelle Scullion ed Peter Jackson, Jamie Selkirk sp Peter Jackson d/ph Peter Jackson

☆ Terry Potter, Pete O'Herne, Craig Smith, Mike Minett, Peter Jackson, Doug Wren

'Some kind of triumph in its horror-comic verve.' – MFB

Bad Timing

GB 1980 123m colour Technovision
Rank/Recorded Picture Company (Jeremy Thomas)

In Vienna, an American divorcee has a strange and unhappy affair with a psychoanalyst.

Weird and unsympathetic sex melodrama, presented with the disconnected style expected from this director as a series of flashbacks from the heroine's near-deathbed.

w Yale Udoff d Nicolas Roeg ph Anthony Richmond m Richard Hartley

☆ Art Garfunkel, Theresa Russell, Harvey Keitel, Denholm Elliott, Daniel Massey

'An enervating experience. Technically flashy, and teeming with degenerate chic, the downbeat tale is unrelieved by its tacked-on thriller ending, and deals purely in despair.' – Variety

Badge 373

US 1973 116m Technicolor
Paramount (Howard W. Koch)

A police detective is enraged by the murder of his partner and his own suspension after the death of a suspect.

'Realistic' (i.e. violent and foul-mouthed) cop thriller in the wake of The French Connection, tolerable only for action highlights.

w Pete Hamill, from the exploits of Eddie Egan d Howard W. Koch ph Arthur J. Ornitz m J. J. Johnson

☆ Robert Duvall, Verna Bloom, Henry Darrow, Eddie Egan, Felipe Luciano, Tina Christiana, Marina Durell

'A deeply divided and scarcely reassuring addition to the movies' composite portrait of the American police force.' – John Gillett

'Nasty, violent and humourless.' – Sight and Sound

'A movie well worth protesting about.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

The Badge of Marshal Brennan

US 1957 75m bw
Allied Artists

A man on the run takes on the identity of a dying marshal, and cleans up a corrupt town.

Satisfying lower-case Western.

w Thomas G. Hubbard d Albert C. Gannaway

☆ Jim Davis, Arleen Whelan, Louis Jean Heydt, Lee Van Cleef

Badkonake Sefid: see The White Balloon

The Badlanders ★

US 1958 83m Metrocolor
Cinemascope
MGM/Arcola (Aaron Rosenberg)

Crooked Westerners plan to rob a goldmine.

Rather sloppy Western remake of The Asphalt Jungle.

w Richard Collins d Delmer Daves ph John Seitz

☆ Alan Ladd, Ernest Borgnine, Katy Jurado, Claire Kelly, Kent Smith, Nehemiah Persoff, Robert Emhardt

'In 1959 a lot of people were killing time. Kit and Holly were killing people.'

Badlands ★★★★

US 1973 94m CFI color
Warner/Pressman/Williams/Badlands (Terrence Malick)

A teenage girl and a young garbage collector wander across America leaving a trail of murder behind them.

A violent folk tale for moderns; very well put together, it quickly became a cult film. It has proved to be a seminal film in its depiction of aimless anger as a means of attempting to connect with the world.

wd Terrence Malick ph Brian Probyn, Tak Fujimoto, Stevan Larner m George Tipton, James Taylor ad Jack Fisk ed Robert Estrin

☆ Martin Sheen (Kit), Sissy Spacek (Holly), Warren Oates (Father), Ramon Bieri (Cato), Alan Vint (Deputy), Gary Littlejohn (Sheriff)

'One of the finest literate examples of narrated cinema since the early days of Welles and Polonsky.' – Jonathan Rosenbaum

'So preconceived that there's nothing left to respond to.' – New Yorker

Badman's Country

US 1958 72m bw
Warner

Pat Garrett, Wyatt Earp, Buffalo Bill Cody and Bat Masterson have a showdown with Butch Cassidy.

Wildly unhistorical Western.

w Orville H. Hampton d Fred F. Sears

☆ George Montgomery, Buster Crabbe, Malcolm Atterbury, Gregory Walcott, Neville Brand

'The west's worst killers strike again!'

Badman's Territory

US 1946 97m bw
RKO

The brutality of the Texas state police forces a sheriff to seek help from outlaws.

Unconvincing Western with good moments.

w Jack Natteford, Luci Ward d Tim Whelan

☆ Randolph Scott, Steve Brodie, Gabby Hayes, Ann Richards

Bagdad Café ★★★

West Germany 1988 91m Eastmancolor
Mainline/Pelemele/Pro-Ject (Percy and Eleonore Adlon)

aka: Out of Rosenheim

A middle-aged Bavarian woman, left stranded in the Mojave desert by her husband, transforms a seedy motel she stumbles across.

High-spirited comedy, full of gentle wit and charm.

w Percy and Eleonore Adlon, Christopher Doherty d Percy Adlon ph Bernd Heinl m Bob Telson ad Bernt Amadeus Capra ed Norbert Herzner

☆ Marianne Sägebrecht (Jasmin Munchgstettner), Jack Palance (Rudi Cox), C. C. H. Pounder (Brenda), Christine Kaufmann (Debbie), Monica Calhoun (Phyllis), Darron Flagg (Sal Junior)

† The success of the film resulted in an American TV series starring Whoopi Goldberg.

♫ song 'Calling You' (m/ly Bob Telson)

Baghdad

US 1949 81m Technicolor
U-I (Robert Arthur)

A chieftain's daughter seeks revenge for her father's death.

Thinly-conceived Arabian Nights modernization, unsure whether to take itself seriously.

w Robert Hardy Andrews d Charles Lamont ph Russell Metty m Frank Skinner, Jack Brooks

☆ Maureen O'Hara, Vincent Price, Paul Christian, John Sutton, Jeff Corey, Frank Puglia

'Silly, but not in the least muddle-headed. The producers are fully aware that all the customers want to see of Baghdad is Maureen O'Hara, with a touch of leopard-skin at the throat to warm up a generous décolletage.' – C. A. Lejeune

Bai Ga Jai: see The Prodigal Son

La Baie des Anges ★★★

France 1962 85m bw CinemaScope
Sud-Pacifique (Paul-Edmond Decharme)

GB title: Bay of Angels

A bank clerk who has had unexpected winnings at the Nice Casino falls in love with a compulsive gambler.

Good-looking romantic drama utilizing many of the cinema's most dazzling resources.

wd Jacques Demy ph Jean Rabier m Michel Legrand ed Anne-Marie Cotret

☆ Jeanne Moreau (Jackie), Claude Mann (Jean), Paul Guers (Caron), Henri Nassiet (Jean's Father)

'Immense lightness, speed and gaiety ... stunning visual texture.' – Tom Milne, MFB

'It's like a French attempt to purify, to get to the essence of, a Warner's movie of the 30s.' – Pauline Kael

Baise-Moi

France 2000 76m colour
Toute Premiere Fois/Canal+ (Philippe Godeau)

US title: Rape Me

A prostitute and her friend, who is angry after being raped, go on a sex and killing spree.

Crudely filmed, and with cruder content, this provides little intellectual justification for its levels of violence and hatred; it caused great controversy in France, where it was hailed by some as a feminist masterpiece.

wd Virginie Despentes, Coralie Trinh Thi novel Virginie Despentes ph Benoit Chamaillard m Varou Jan ad Irene Galitzine ed Ailo Auguste, Francine Lemaitre

☆ Raffaela Anderson (Manu), Karen Bach (Nadine), Delphine McCarty (Severine), Lisa Marshall (Karla), Estelle Issac (Alice), Hervé P. Gustave (Martin), Marc Rioufol (Architect), Ouassini Embarek (Radouan)

'A half-baked, punk-inflected porn odyssey masquerading as a movie worth seeing and talking about.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

'A numbing alternation of pornographic scenarios and brutal killings. The result is like something you'd see momentarily unscrambled on a hotel television set, but with better music and a little more of a story line.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times

'Gives power to women; or, rather, it is about women taking power, though not, to be sure, in a politically correct manner.' – Ginette Vincendeau, Sight and Sound

Baisers Volés: see Stolen Kisses

Bait

US 1954 79m bw
Columbia (Hugo Haas)

Gold prospectors fall out over a mine and a woman.

Antediluvian melodrama typical of this director, made more risible than usual by Cedric Hardwicke's introduction in the shape of Satan.

w Samuel W. Taylor d Hugo Haas ph Edward P. Fitzgerald m Vaclav Divina

☆ Hugo Haas, Cleo Moore, John Agar, Emmett Lynn

'They are young. They want results. She is...'

The Bait ★

France 1995 117m colour
Artificial Eye/Mayfair/Hachette/Little Bear/France 2/M6 (René Cleitman, Frederic Bourboulon)

original title: L'Appât

Two layabouts use an 18-year-old shop assistant to flirt with wealthy men and gain access to their apartments so that they can be robbed.

Grim little parable of the acquisitive society, but one that offers little in the way of fresh insights.

w Colo Tavernier O'Hagan, Bertrand Tavernier book Morgan Sportès d Bertrand Tavernier ph Alain Choquart m Philippe Haim ad Emile Ghico ed Luce Grunenwaldt

☆ Marie Gillain, Olivier Sitruk, Bruno Putzulu, Richard Berry, Philippe Duclos, Marie Ravel

'It simply trundles out shock horror with very little interpretation.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† It was winner of the Golden Bear award for best film at the 1995 Berlin Film Festival.

The Baited Trap: see The Trap

Baker's Hawk ★

US 1976 96m colour
Doty-Dayton

A reclusive Westerner becomes the victim of hoodlum vigilantes and is helped by a boy and his father.

Refreshingly simple-minded Western for the family audience.

w Dan Greer, Hal Harrison Jnr novel Jack Bickham d Lyman D. Dayton

☆ Clint Walker, Burl Ives, Diane Baker, Lee H. Montgomery, Alan Young

The Baker's Wife: see La Femme du Boulanger

Bakushu: see Early Summer

Le Bal ★★

France/Italy/Algeria 1982 112m
Fujicolour
S.A./A2/Massfil/Oncic (Giorgio Silvagni)

Scenes from the history of a small Paris ballroom between 1936 and 1983.

Striking if overlong attempt at a totally speechless drama, with handling very nearly good enough to meet the challenge, though the result will not be to everyone's taste, and one's reaction in any case will depend very much on mood.

w Jean-Claude Penchenat, Ruggero Maccari, Furio Scarpelli, Ettore Scola, from

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

an idea by the first-named and the stage production by the Théâtre du Campagnol
d Ettore Scola ph Ricardo Aranovich
m Vladimir Cosma
☆ Jean-Claude Penchenat, Chantal Capron, Etienne Guichard

Balalaika ★

US 1939 102m bw
MGM (Lawrence Weingarten)
Russian exiles gather in Paris.
Mildly pleasing star musical.
w Jacques Deval, Leon Gordon play Eric Maschwitz d Reinhold Schünzel ph Joseph Ruttenberg, Karl Freund
m Herbert Stothart
☆ Nelson Eddy, Ilona Massey, Charles Ruggles, Frank Morgan, C. Aubrey Smith, Lionel Atwill, Walter Woolf King, Joyce Compton
'A sumptuously produced operetta in the opulent MGM tradition.' – Variety
† Only the title song was retained from the original score
♫ 'At the Balalaika'; 'Tanya'; 'Ride, Cossack, Ride'; 'Shadows on the Sand'; 'Tale of the Tailors'; 'Beneath the Winter's Snows'; 'In a Heart as Brave as Your Own'; 'Soldiers of the Czar'; 'How Many Miles to Go'; 'The Magic of Your Love'; 'My Heart Is a Gypsy'

La Balance ★★★

France 1982 102m colour
Les Films Ariane/Films A2 (Georges Dancigers, Alexandre Mnouchkine)
A pimp and his girlfriend are pressured by the police into becoming informers.
Tough thriller in which the only difference between the cops and the crooks is that the police are the more violent. A box-office success in France, where it was voted the best film of the year.
w M. Fabiani, Bob Swaim d Bob Swaim
ph Bernard Ziztermann m Roland Bocquet pd Eric Moulard ad Eric Moulard ed Françoise Javet ☆ Nathalie Baye (Nicole), Philipe Léotard (Dede), Richard Berry (Palouzi), Maurice Ronet (Massina)

Balboa

US 1983 91m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Production Associates (James Polakof)
Plans by a crooked Californian entrepreneur to set up a casino are opposed by the daughter of the man he ruined.
A glossy and confused soap opera of plot and counter-plot, cut from from a TV mini-series that, understandably, was never broadcast.
w James Polakof, Gail Willumsen, Nicki Lewis d James Polakof ph Christopher Lynch m Richard Hieronymus pd Charles D. Tomlinson ed Millie Paul ☆ Tony Curtis, Carol Lynley, Chuck Connors, Sonny Bono, Steve Kanaly, Jennifer Chase, Martine Beswick

The Balcony ★

US 1963 86m bw
Walter Reade/Sterling/Allen Hodgdon/City Film (Joseph Strick, Ben Maddow)
In a war-torn world, a brothel continues to attract customers of every variety.
Low-budget adaptation of a rather confused allegorical play: vivid moments hardly atone for reels of surrealist groping.
w Ben Maddow play Jean Genet d Joseph Strick ph George Folsey m Igor Stravinsky
☆ Shelley Winters, Peter Falk, Lee Grant, Peter Brocco, Kent Smith, Ruby Dee, Jeff Corey, Leonard Nimoy
'Relentlessly funny, shaggy, shocking.' – The Times
'Unfit for exhibition to man, woman or child.' – People
Ⓐ George Folsey

Ball of Fire ★

US 1941 111m bw
Samuel Goldwyn
working title: The Professor and the Burlesque Queen
Seven professors compiling a dictionary give shelter to a stripteaser on the run from gangsters.
Rather overstretched but fitfully amusing romp inspired by Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.
w Charles Brackett, Billy Wilder d Howard Hawks ph Gregg Toland m Alfred Newman
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Gary Cooper, Oscar Homolka, Henry Travers, S. Z. Sakall, Tully Marshall, Leonid Kinskey, Richard Haydn, Aubrey Mather, Allen Jenkins, Dana Andrews, Dan Duryea
'It's played as if it were terribly bright, but it's rather shrill and tiresome.' – New Yorker, 1982
† Ginger Rogers was first choice for the Stanwyck role.
Ⓐ original story (Thomas Monroe, Billy Wilder); Alfred Newman; Barbara Stanwyck

Ballad in Blue

GB 1964 88m bw
(Warner) Alexander and Miguel Salkind (Herman Blaser)
US title: Blues for Lovers
A famous pianist becomes friendly with a blind boy and helps reconcile his parents.
Curious sentimental drama with the star playing himself; competent but hardly rousing.
w Burton Wohl d Paul Henreid ph Ron Taylor m Ray Charles, Stanley Black ☆ Ray Charles, Mary Peach, Dawn Addams, Tom Bell, Piers Bishop, Betty McDowall Ballad of a Soldier ★★★

USSR 1959 89m bw
Mosfilm
original title: Ballada o Soldate
A soldier is granted four days' home leave before returning to be killed at the front.
Lyrical tear-jerker most notable for its impeccably photographed detail of Russian domestic and everyday life.
w Valentin Yoshov, Grigori Chukrai
d Grigori Chukrai ph Vladimir Nikolayev, Era Saveleva m Mikhail Ziv ☆ Vladimir Ivashev (Alyosha), Sharma Prokhorenko (Shura), Antonina Maximova (Alyosha's Mother)
'In an epoch when the entertainment in most entertainment films is little more than offensive, its persuasive charm is particularly welcome.' – MFB
Ⓐ Valentin Yoshov, Grigori Chukrai
Ⓑ best picture

The Ballad of Berlin: see Berliner Ballade

The Ballad of Cable Hogue ★

US 1970 121m Technicolor
Warner/Phil Feldman (Sam Peckinpah)
A gold prospector takes a lengthy and ineffectual revenge on men who robbed him, and dies trying to be a hero.
Curious peripatetic Western with the director in uncharacteristically experimental and comparatively non-violent mood. All concerned seem to be enjoying themselves, but the fun is not always communicated.
w John Crawford, Edmund Penney d Sam Peckinpah ph Lucien Ballard m Jerry Goldsmith ☆ Jason Robards, David Warner, Strother Martin, Slim Pickens, L. Q. Jones, Peter Whitney, R. G. Armstrong, Gene Evans, Stella Stevens
'A curiously compelling film. Like a child's playhouse, we come to love it not for its perfect symmetry but for the open way it expressed the feelings of its creator.' – Richard Schickel

The Ballad of Jack and Rose ★ ④

US 2004 112m colour
Entertainment/IFC/Initial/Elevation Filmworks (Lemore Syvan)
A reclusive, terminally ill man's daughter is upset when his old lover arrives with her teenage children to take care of him.
Haphazard melodrama of misplaced love and the damage one generation can do to another.
wd Rebecca Miller ph Ellen Kuras
m Michael Rohatyn pd Mark Ricker
ed Sabine Hoffman
☆ Daniel Day-Lewis (Jack Slavin), Camilla Belle (Rose Slavin), Catherine Keener (Kathleen), Paul Dano (Thaddius), Ryan McDonald (Rodney), Jena Malone (Red Berry), Jason Lee (Gray), Beau Bridges (Marty Rance)
'Too much abrupt, even melodramatic behavior and undigested psychological matter leave nagging dissatisfactions.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

The Ballad of Joe Hill ★★

Sweden 1971 115m Eastmancolor
Bo Widerberg Film (Waldemar Bergendahl)
aka: Joe Hill
In 1902, a Swedish immigrant in New York becomes a revolutionary and is executed for the murder of a grocer.
Romantic propaganda which incidentally gives a delightfully detailed outsider's view of period America.
wd Bo Widerberg ph Peter Davidson, Jorgen Persson m Stefan Grossman ad Ulf Axen
☆ Thommy Berggren, Anja Schmidt, Evert Anderson, Cathy Smith

The Ballad of Josie

US 1967 102m Techniscope
Universal (Marty Melcher)
Cleared of the manslaughter of her husband, a Western widow renovates a derelict ranch and sets up as a sheep farmer.
Tediously whimsical, unsuitably cast women's lib comedy with so few laughs that it may require to be taken seriously.
w Harold Swanton d Andrew V. McLaglen
ph Milton Krasner m Frank de Vol
☆ Doris Day, Peter Graves, George Kennedy, William Talman, Andy Devine, Audrey Christie

'In 1866, A Woman Had Two Choices ... She Could Be A Wife Or She Could Be A Whore. Josephine Monaghan Made The Boldest Choice Of All. She Chose To Be A Man.'

The Ballad of Little Jo

US 1993 121m Technicolor Panavision
Rank/Fine Line/Polygram/Joco (Fred Berner, Brenda Goodman)
A New York woman disguises herself as a man and becomes a cowboy and rancher.
Based on a true story, this becomes a feminist tract about the impossibility of being free and female in the West, which may also be true but here makes for a dull movie.
wd Maggie Greenwald ph Declan Quinn
m David Mansfield pd Mark Friedberg
ed Keith Reamer
☆ Suzy Amis, Bo Hopkins, Ian McKellen, David Chung, Carrie Snodgress, Rene Auberjonois, Heather Graham, Sam Robards, Tom Bower
'This well-intentioned, revisionist frontier saga is too solemn and dramatically unexciting to generate wild appeal beyond a core of female viewers and ardent followers of indie pics.' – Variety
'It has a nice feeling for the smallness of man and his or her tenuous presence on the Western landscape.' – Philip French, Observer

The Ballad of Narayama ★

Japan 1983 130m colour
Cannon/Toei original title: Narayama Bushi-Ko
An old woman prepares to die in a community where the elderly are exposed on a mountainside when they reach the age of 70.
Often ponderous, though gripping, remake of Keisuke Kinoshita's more restrained movie, made in 1958. It won the prize for the best film at the Cannes Film Festival in 1983.
wd Shohei Imamura novel Narayama Bushi-Ko by Shichiro Fukazawa ph Masao Tochizawa m Shinichiro Ikebe pd Toshio Inagaki ed Hajime Okayasu
☆ Ken Ogata, Sumiko Sakamoto, Tonpei Hidari, Takejo Aki, Shoichi Ozawa, Mitsuaki Fukamizu
'One of the most intense portraits of personal fulfilment in all cinema.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

The Ballad of Tam-Lin: see Tam-Lin

The Ballad of the Sad Café

US/GB 1990 101m Technicolor
Hobo/Merchant Ivory (Ismail Merchant)
On his release from prison, a rejected husband takes his revenge on his wife, a small-town store-owner.
A Southern Gothic fairy-tale transferred poorly to the screen.
w Michael Hirst play Edward Albee novel Carson McCullers d Simon Callow ph Walter Lassally m Richard Robbins
pd Bruno Santini ed Andrew Marcus
☆ Vanessa Redgrave, Keith Carradine, Cork Hubbert, Rod Steiger, Austin Pendleton, Beth Dixon, Lanny Flaherty, Mert Hatfield, Earl Hindman, Anne Pitoniak
'A film of quite exceptional gracelessness.' – Tom Milne, Sight and Sound
'Difficult to respond to and probably will not engage mainstream audiences.' – Variety

Ballada o Soldate: see Ballad of a Soldier

Ballet Mécanique ★

France 1924 10m bw silent
Fernand Léger, Dudley Murphy
Famous experimental short in which everyday images form abstract patterns.
A key to all subsequent surrealist experiments in the cinema.
wd Fernand Léger, Dudley Murphy
m Georges Antheil

Fame, glamour, ego, politics, money, war, love . . and dance.'

Ballets Russes

★★★ (5)

US 2005 118m
Revolver/Geller/Goldfine (Dayna Goldfine, Daniel Geller, Robert Hawk, Douglas Blair Turnbaugh)

The story of the legendary dance company, many of whose original performers fled from Russia after the 1917 Revolution. It split into rival companies after Diaghilev's death in 1929. Many ex-dancers attended a company reunion in New Orleans in 2000, where they were interviewed.

A captivating, lovingly assembled film, this is compulsory viewing for anyone who remotely cares about dance. The highlight is the reminiscences of the sprightly veteran dancers, who gossip amusingly and candidly about various divas (of both sexes) and rival factions in the company. Major landmarks in 20th century history form a backdrop to the story. With staggering archive footage alongside contemporary interviews, this is a sumptuous treat.

w Dayna Goldfine, Daniel Geller, Celeste Shaefer Snyder, Gary Weimberg wd Dayna Goldfine, Daniel Geller ph Daniel Geller m Todd Boekelheide, David Conte ed Daniel Geller, Dayna Goldfine, Gary Weimberg

☆ Marian Seldes (Narrator), Nathalie Krasskova, Alicia Markova, Mia Slavenska, Frederic Franklin, Tania Riabouchinska, George Zoritch, Raven Wilkinson, Maria Tallchief, Marc Platt, Yvonne Craig, Nini Theilade

'An electrifying documentary.' – Sarah Kaufman, Washington Post

† Included are dance scenes from A Midsummer Night's Dream (1935), Escape me Never (1935), The Gay Parisian (1941), Spanish Fiesta (1942) and Tonight and Every Night (1945).

Balthazar

★

France/Sweden 1966 95m bw Parc/Ardos/Athos/Svenska Filminstitutet (Philippe Dussart)

original title: Au Hasard, Balthazar

The life of a talented donkey, born in the Swiss alps and eventually killed during a smuggling escapade.

Something between Black Beauty and a Christian parable, this quiet, episodic film is counted by some as its director's best work.

wd Robert Bresson ph Ghislain Cloquet m Jean Wiener (and Schubert) ad Pierre Charbonnier ed Raymond Lamy

☆ Anne Wiazemsky, François Lafarge, Walter Green

Baltic Deputy

★

USSR 1937 100m bw Lenfilm

An old professor is finally reconciled to the 1917 revolution.

Propagandist biography (of scientist K. A. Timiriazev) with interesting scenes and a strong central performance.

w the directors and others d Alexander Zharki, Josef Heifits ph M. Kaplan m M. Timofeyev

☆ Nikolai Cherkassov, M. Damasheva, A. Melnikov

The Baltimore Bullet

US 1980 103m Eastmancolor
Avco Embassy/Filmfair (John F. Brescia)

Adventures of a pair of pool sharks.

Flabby comedy attempting a lighthearted version of The Hustler (qv). The rewards are meagre.

w John F. Brescia, Robert Vincent O'Neill d Robert Ellis Miller ph James A. Crabe m Johnny Mandel

☆ James Coburn, Omar Sharif, Bruce Boxleitner, Ronee Blakley, Calvin Lockhart

'It manages to be stupidly macho and hopelessly incompetent at one and the same time.' – Guardian

Balto

US/GB 1995 77m DeLuxe
Universal/Amblin (Steve Hickner)

A woman explains to her granddaughter how a statue in New York's Central Park commemorates Balto, a half-wolf, half-dog which led a sled team that brought antitoxins to the town of Nome, Alaska, during an epidemic of diphtheria in 1925.

Bland family entertainment that begins as live action and then becomes a rather dull animated film that attempts to make some point about miscegenation.

w Cliff Ruby, Elana Lesser, David Steven Cohen, Roger S. H. Schulman d Simon Wells ph Jan Richter-Friis m James Horner pd Hans Bacher ed Nick Fletcher, Sim Evan-Jones

☆ Miriam Margolyes, Lola Bates-Campbell and also the voices of: Kevin Bacon, Bob Hoskins, Bridget Fonda, Jim Cummings, Phil Collins, Donald Sinden

'Grossly sentimentalised as the triumph of an unwanted mongrel, but it won't do much harm to small children.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† Balto and the other dogs in his sled team starred in a silent movie, Balto's Race to Nome, before becoming sideshow attractions, from which they were rescued and moved to Cleveland Zoo, where Balto lived until his death at the age of 11 in 1933.

Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress

★★

France/China 2002 110m colour
Soda/PI "Le Film"/TFI (Lise Fayolle)

Two educated, middle-class youths fall in love and spread a little Western culture when, during China's Cultural Revolution, they are sent to a remote peasant community for re-education.

Based on a semi-autobiographical novel published in Paris, this is a lyrical, nostalgic, gently satirical drama on the power of literature to free the mind.

w Dai Sijie, Nadine Perront novel Dai Sijie d Dai Sijie ph Jean Marie Drejou m Wang Pujian pd Cao Jumping ed Julia Gregory, Luc Barnier

☆ Ziiou Xun (Little Chinese Seamstress), Chen Kun (Luo), Liu Ye (Ma), Wang Shuangbao (Village Head), Chung Zhijun (Old Tailor), Wang Hongwei (Four Eyes)

'The pace drags a little at times, and the romantic rivalry between the boys is insufficiently explored, but as a homily on the consolations of art it hits the spot.' – Anthony Quinn, Independent

Bamako

★★ (8)

France/Mali/US 2006 117m
Artificial Eye/Archipel 33/Chinguitty Films/Mali Images (Denis Freyd/Abderrahmane Sissako)

A young couple, Melé and Chaka, are in the process of breaking up, while in the backyard of their home in Bamako, Mali, a courtroom is established to hold a trial against such institutions as the International Monetary Fund and World Bank.

A warm, vibrant, and above all entertaining essay about global politics and economics set beside a personal story of a young couple. Aïssa Maïga and Tiécoura Traoré give excellent accounts of their characters, while Mauritanian director Sissako never preaches and leavens the story with much humour and wry observation.

wd Abderrahmane Sissako ph Jacques Besse pd Mahamadou Kouyaté ed Nadia Ben Rachid

☆ Aïssa Maïga (Melé), Tiécoura Traoré (Chaka), Hélène Diarra (Saramba), Habib Dembele (Falai)

† A spoof Western battle features 'cowboys' Danny Glover, an executive producer, and Palestinian director Elia Suleiman.

La Bamba: see La Bamba (under L)

Bambi

★★★★

US 1942 72m Technicolor
Walt Disney

The story of a forest deer, from the book by Felix Salten.

Anthropomorphic cartoon feature, one of Disney's most memorable and brilliant achievements, with a great comic character in Thumper the rabbit and a climactic forest fire sequence which is genuinely thrilling. A triumph of the animator's art.

w Larry Morey, Perce Pearce story Felix Salten d David D. Hand m Frank Churchill, Edward Plumb

☆ voices of: Bobby Stewart (Bambi), Peter Behn (Thumper), Paula Winslowe (Bambi's Mother), Stan Alexander (Flower), Cammie King (Faline)

'The ultimate stag movie.' – anon

'The film, charming and touching as it can be, belongs more to the Disney of whimsy and sentiment than it does to the creative artist; and those who remember the Schubert in Fantasia will know what I mean when I say that a good deal of this tale of a forest deer is in Disney's Ave Maria manner.' – Dilys Powell

'Sheer enchantment.' – C. A. Lejeune

♫ Frank Churchill, Edward Plumb; song 'Love Is a Song' (m Frank Churchill, ly Larry Morey); sound recording (Sam Slyfield)

Bamboozled

★

US 2000 135m colour
Entertainment/New Line/40 Acres and a Mule

A lone black executive at a TV network dreams up a blackface minstrel show to shame his boss, only to discover that it becomes a hit.

Provocative, fierce and angry polemic about race that might have been more effective as a documentary: its dramatic purpose is often blunted, and is not helped by the muddy quality of the transfer from digital video.

wd Spike Lee ph Ellen Kuras m Terence Blanchard pd Victor Kempster ed Sam Pollard cos Ruth Carter

☆ Damon Wayans (Pierre Delacroix), Savion Glover (Manray/Mantan), Jada Pinkett-Smith (Sloan Hopkins), Tommy Davidson (Womack/ Sleep 'N Eat), Dunwitty (Michael Rapaport), Thomas Jefferson Byrd (Honeycutt), Paul Mooney (Junebug), Sarah Jones (Dot), Gillian Iliana Waters (Verna), Susan Batson (Orchid Dothan), Mos Def (Big Black)

'Basically sloppy, all-over-the-map filmmaking with few hints of self-criticism and few genuine laughs.' – Jonathan Rosenbaum, Chicago Reader

'The historical reality of all the racially insulting movies and stage acts which Lee lampoons is far more shocking than anything his film extrapolates from them.' – Alexander Walker

Banana Ridge

GB 1941 87m bw
ABPC

A business man's old flame presents him with an alleged son.

Stagey farce salvaged by star performances.

w Walter C. Mycroft, Lesley Storm, Ben Travers play Ben Travers d Walter C. Mycroft

☆ Robertson Hare, Alfred Drayton, Isabel Jeans, Nova Pilbeam, Adele Dixon, Stewart Rome

Bananas

★

US 1971 81m DeLuxe
UA/Rollins and Joffe (Jack Grossberg)

A meek and mild product tester for a New York corporation accidentally becomes a South American rebel hero.

Disjointed anarchic comedy with a few good jokes typical of their author.

w Woody Allen, Mickey Rose d Woody Allen ph Andrew M. Costikyan m Marvin Hamlisch

☆ Woody Allen, Louise Lasser, Carlos Montalban, Jacobo Morales

'Full of hilarious comic ideas and lines, supplied by Allen and his collaborator; then Allen, the director and actor, murders them.' – Stanley Kauffmann

† Asked why his film was called Bananas, Allen replied: 'Because there are no bananas in it.'

The Bananas Boat: see What Changed Charley Farthing?

'You're no blue blood any more, honey. The master bought you ... and now he's waitin'!'

Band of Angels

US 1957 127m Warnercolor
Warner (no producer credited)

♫

In 1865, a Kentucky girl learns that her mother was black and is sold as a slave, but quickly becomes her owner's mistress.

Long-winded romantic adventure, rather lamely scripted and developed. The star's presence reinforces the impression of sitting through the ghost of Gone with the Wind.

w John Twist, Ivan Goff, Ben Roberts novel Robert Penn Warren d Raoul Walsh ph Lucien Ballard m Max Steiner

☆ Clark Gable, Yvonne de Carlo, Sidney Poitier, Efrem Zimbalist Jnr, Patric Knowles, Rex Reason, Torin Thatcher, Andrea King

'Too absurd to be dislikeable.' – MFB

The Band Plays On

US 1934 87m bw
MGM

Four street kids are saved by football and eventually become national stars.

Ho-hum sentimental melodrama with plot trouble.

w Bernard Schubert, Ralph Spence, Harvey Gates d Russell Mack

☆ Robert Young, Stuart Erwin, Leo Carrillo, Betty Furness, Ted Healy, Preston Foster, Russell Hardie, William Tannen

'Slow, long, and weak on cast names.' – Variety

Band Waggon

★

GB 1939 85m bw
GFD/Gainsborough (Edward Black)

Comedians running a pirate TV station in a ghostly castle round up a gang of spies.

Film version of a long-running radio comedy series; quite a serviceable record of a phenomenon.
w Marriott Edgar, Val Guest d Marcel Varnel ph Henry Harris
☆ Arthur Askey, Richard Murdoch, Jack Hylton and his band, Pat Kirkwood, Moore Marriott, Peter Gawthorne, Wally Patch, Donald Calthrop

The Band Wagon ★★★★

US 1953 112m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A has-been Hollywood dancer joins forces with a temperamental stage producer to put on a Broadway musical.
Simple but sophisticated musical with the bare minimum of plot, told mostly in jokes, and the maximum of music and song. Numbers include those listed below, as well as a spoof Mickey Spillane ballet finale. Level of technical accomplishment very high.
w Adolph Green, Betty Comden d Vincente Minnelli ph Harry Jackson m Adolph Deutsch m/ly Howard Dietz, Arthur Schwartz ch Michael Kidd ad Cedric Gibbons, Preston Ames ed Albert Akst cos Mary Ann Nyberg
☆ Fred Astaire (Tony Hunter), Jack Buchanan (Jeffrey Cordova), Oscar Levant (Lester Marton), Cyd Charisse (Gaby Gerard), Nanette Fabray (Lily Marton)
'The best musical of the month, the year, the decade, or for all I know of all time.' – Archer Winsten
† The Jack Buchanan character, Jeffrey Cordova, was first offered to Clifton Webb. It was loosely based on José Ferrer, who in the early fifties produced four Broadway shows all running at the same time, and acted in a fifth ♫ 'A Shine on Your Shoes', 'By Myself', 'That's Entertainment', 'Dancing in the Dark', 'Triplets', 'New Sun in the Sky', 'I Guess I'll Have to Change My Plan', 'Louisiana Hayride', 'I Love Louisa', 'Girl Hunt' ballet.
Adolph Green, Betty Comden; Adolph Deutsch; Mary Ann Nyberg

Bande à Part

France 1964 95m bw
Anouchka/Orsay (Philippe Dussart)

aka: The Outsiders
Aimless young people plan a robbery which ends in murder.
Despite the plot, the emphasis is on fragments of lyricism, and the film is not among its director's greatest successes.
wd Jean-Luc Godard novel Fool's Gold by Dolores Hitchens ph Raoul Coutard m Michel Legrand ed Agnes Guillemot
☆ Anna Karina (Odile), Claude Brasseur (Arthur), Sami Frey (Franz), Louisa Colpeyn (Mme Victoria), Daniele Girard (English teacher)
'In a sense, the whole film is a metaphor illustrating this glancing collision, when fantasy and reality merge but one may still remain unsure which is which.' – Tom Milne, MFB

'Definitely wanted.'

Bandidas

France/Mexico/US 2006 93m colour
TCF/Europa/TF1/Ultra (Luc Besson)

Two Mexican women turn outlaw after a rapacious New York bank sends killers to take over farmers' lands to make way for a railroad.
Lively if predictable comic Western, in which the favoured outlaw costume is low-cut blouses; it tries to be a feminine Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, but lacks the wit and star power.
w Luc Besson, Robert Mark Kamen d Joachim Roenning, Espen Sandberg ph Thierry Arbogast m Eric Serra pd Hugues Tissandier ed Frédéric Thoraval ☆ Penelope Cruz (Maria Alvarez), Salma Hayek (Sara Sandoval), Steve Zahn (Quentin Cooke), Dwight Yoakum (Tyler Jackson), Sam Shepard (Bill Buck)

Bandido

US 1956 92m DeLuxe Cinemascope
UA/Robert L. Jacks

Mexico 1916: an American adventurer helps a rebel leader to defeat a gun runner.
Standard action fare, rather slackly handled.
w Earl Felton d Richard Fleischer ph Ernest Laszlo m Max Steiner
☆ Robert Mitchum, Gilbert Roland, Zachary Scott, Ursula Thiess

The Bandit ★

Brazil 1953 119m bw
Companhia Cinematographica (Cid Leite da Silva)

original title: O'Cangaceiro
The leader of a gang of outlaws comes to grief after falling out with his second in command over a woman.
One of the few Brazilian films to achieve international popularity, mainly because of its memorable theme tune. The film itself looks attractive but becomes a bit of a bore.
wd Lima Barreto ph Chick Fowle m Gabriel Migliori
☆ Alberto Ruschel, Milton Ribeiro, Marisa Prado

The Bandit of Sherwood Forest ★

US 1946 87m Technicolor
Columbia (Leonard S. Picker, Clifford Sanforth)

Robin Hood frustrates the Regent who plans to usurp the throne from the boy king.
A lively romp through Sherwood Forest with a capable cast.
w Wilfrid H. Pettitt, Melvin Levy novel Son of Robin Hood by Paul A. Castleton d George Sherman, Henry Levin ph Tony Gaudio, William Snyder, George Meehan m Hugo Friedhofer ☆ Cornel Wilde, Anita Louise, Edgar Buchanan, Jill Esmond, Henry Daniell, George Macready, Russell Hicks, John Abbott, Lloyd Corrigan

The Bandit of Zhobe

GB 1959 81m Technicolor
Cinemascope
Warwick/Columbia

An Indian chieftain kidnaps a British major's daughter in retaliation for the death of his wife.
Tinpot action melodrama in the wake of the rather better Zarak (qv).
wd John Gilling
☆ Victor Mature, Anthony Newley, Anne Aubrey, Norman Wooland

The Bandit Queen

US 1950 69m bw
Lippert (William Berke)

The daughter of murdered Spaniards in California takes revenge against violent settlers from the east.
Predictable Western adventure on a low budget.
w Victor West and Budd Lesser d William Berke
☆ Barbara Britton, Willard Parker, Barton MacLane, Philip Reed, Victor Kilian, Thurston Hall

Bandit Queen ★

GB/India 1994 120m colour
Mainline/Kaleidoscope/Channel 4 (Sundeep Singh Bedi)

Phoolan Devi, an illiterate, low-caste, much-abused woman, becomes a feared leader of outlaws and takes her revenge on her tormentors before surrendering to the authorities.
An Indian movie made for the West, often stirring and always interesting but raising more questions than it answers in its treatment of its real-life heroine, who is alternately presented as a victim and a victimizer.
w Mala Sen, Ranjit Kapoor d Shekhar Kapur ph Ashok Mehta m Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan pd Eve Mavrakis ed Renu Saluja
☆ Seema Biswas, Nirmal Pandey, Manjoj Bajpai, Rajesh Vivek, Raghuvir Yadav, Saurabh Shukla, Govind Namdeo
'This makes a welcome breather from all the usual air-brushed Raj epics and dotty Bollywood excesses, presenting an India which is dirty, unglamorous but still so mysterious.' – Steve Beard, Empire
'Essentially Bandit Queen just transforms Phoolan Devi from being India's best-known bandit into history's most famous victim of rape.' – Arundhati Roy, Independent
† The film's Indian release was delayed after Phoolan Devi sued Channel 4 and the makers of the film for invasion of her privacy by depicting her rape and for prejudicing her forthcoming trial by implicating her in a mass murder that she denies.

Bandit Ranger

US 1942 60m bw
RKO (Bert Gilroy)

A rancher, attempting to expose a phoney Texas Ranger and a gang of cattle-rustlers, finds himself framed for murder.
Second-feature Western with a better than average narrative, though otherwise it's the usual mix of action, romance, a song or two, and a little comedy.
w Bennett R. Cohen, Morton Grant d Lesley Selander ph Nicholas Musuraca m Paul Sawtell m/ly Fred Rose, Ray Whitley ad Albert S. D'Agostino, Walter E. Keller ed Les Millbrook
☆ Tim Holt, Cliff Edwards, Joan Barclay, Kenneth Harlan, Glenn Strange, Leroy Mason

Banditi a Orgosolo: see Bandits of Orgosolo

'Two's Company, Three's A Crime.'

Bandits

US 2001 122m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Hyde Park/Empire/Lotus/Baltimore/Spring Creek/Cheyenne (Michael Birnbaum, Michele Berk, Barry Levinson, Paula Weinstein, Ashok Amritraj, David Hoberman, Arnold Rifkin)

Two bankrobbers both fall for a frustrated housewife who joins their gang.
Wisecracking buddy movie, too slapdash to be more than occasionally amusing.
w Harley Peyton d Barry Levinson ph Dante Spinotti m Christopher Young pd Victor Kempster ed Stu Linder cos Gloria Gresham
☆ Bruce Willis (Joe Blake), Billy Bob Thornton (Terry Collins), Cate Blanchett (Kate Wheeler), Troy Garity (Harvey Pollard), Brian F. O'Byrne (Darill Miller), Stacey Travis (Cloe Miller), Bobby Slayton (Darren Head), January Jones (Claire), William Converse-Roberts (Charles Wheeler)
'A comedy that might have made Butch and Sundance jump off a cliff.' – Liza Schwarzbaum, Entertainment Weekly

Bandits of Corsica ★

US 1951 83m bw
Global/UA

GB title: The Return of the Corsican Brothers
Mario and his gypsy twin get together to unseat a tyrant.
Rather muffled actioner with adequate highlights.
w Richard Schayer d Ray Nazarro
☆ Richard Greene, Paula Raymond, Raymond Burr, Dona Drake, Raymond Greenleaf, Lee Van Cleef † See also: The Corsican Brothers.

Bandits of Orgosolo

Italy 1961 98m bw
Vittorio de Seta/Titanus

A Sardinian shepherd shelters some bandits and becomes one of them.
Rather slow character adventure which achieved some international reputation on its first release.
w Vittorio de Seta, Vera Gherarducci m Valentino Bucci d/ph Vittorio de Seta ☆ Michele Cossu, Peppeddu Cuccu, and amateur cast

Bandolero! ★

US 1968 108m DeLuxe Panavision
Fox (Robert L. Jacks)

In Texas, fugitive outlaw brothers run into trouble with their Mexican counterparts.
Dour and downbeat but well-staged Western with emphasis on hanging and rape; an unusual mixture but smoothly assembled.
w James Lee Barrett d Andrew V. McLaglen ph William H. Clothier m Jerry Goldsmith ☆ James Stewart, Dean Martin, Raquel Welch, George Kennedy, Will Geer, Andrew Prine

Bang: see The Big Bang Theory (1995)

Bang the Drum Slowly

US 1973 96m Movielab
Paramount (Maurice and Lois Rosenfield)

A baseball star finds that he is dying of leukemia.
Cliché-ridden tearjerker in the modern style.
w Mark Harris novel Mark Harris d John Hancock ph Richard Shore m Stephen Lawrence ☆ Michael Moriarty, Robert De Niro, Vincent Gardenia, Phil Foster
Vincent Gardenia

Bang, You're Dead

GB 1954 88m bw
British Lion/Wellington (Lance Comfort)

US title: Game of Danger
A small boy accidentally shoots a local villain, and another man is arrested.
Singularly pointless and unattractive melodrama, a long way behind The Window and The Yellow Balloon (qqv).
w Guy Elmes, Ernest Borneman d Lance Comfort ph Brendan J. Stafford m Eric Spear ☆ Jack Warner, Derek Farr, Veronica Hurst,

Gordon Harker, Michael Medwin, Anthony Richmond, Philip Saville

'Some friendships last forever... like it or not.'

The Banger Sisters

US 2002 98m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Fox Searchlight/Gran Via (Mark Johnson, Elizabeth Cantillon)

A suburban housewife is reminded of her wild youth when an old friend visits to remind her of their antics as rock groupies in the 60s.

Contrived comedy of two women undergoing a midlife crisis; it has a few amusing moments before its predictable feel-good ending.

wd Bob Dolman ph Karl Walter Lindenlaub m Trevor Rabin pd Maia Javan ed Aram Nigoghossian

☆ Goldie Hawn (Suzette), Susan Sarandon (Lavinia), Geoffrey Rush (Harry Plumber), Erika Christensen (Hannah), Eva Amurri (Ginger), Robin Thomas (Raymond), Matthew Carey (Jules)

'Fingernails down the blackboard, or even your eyeballs, are more endurable than this incredibly irritating film.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'Terrific performers doing what they're often forced to do, overcoming sorely flawed material.' – Joe Morgenstern, Wall Street Journal

Bangkok: Dangerous

Thailand 2000 106m colour
Metro Tartan/Film Bangkok (Nonzee Nimibutr)

A deaf-mute hitman develops some remorse for his killings.

Flashy, brutal thriller that aims for fashionable gloss and a high body count; it achieves the latter.

wd Oxide Pang, Danny Pang ph Decha Srimantra m Orange Music pd Wut Chaosilp ed Oxide Pang, Danny Pang

☆ Pawalit Mongkolpisit (Kong), Premsinee Ratanasopha (Fon), Patharawarin Timkul (Aom), Pisek Intrakanchit (Joe), Korkiate Limpapat, Piya Boonnak

'A violent, hyperkinetic film noir overpainted in broad sentimental strokes.' – David Kehr, New York Times

'The narrative is repeatedly lost in a blizzard of subliminal editing and stylishly angled shots: I counted 35 separate "cuts" inside a minute. It's like watching an entire film in fast-forward mode.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

'Once They Lock You In There's Only One Way Out'

Bangkok Hell

Thailand 2002 100m bw/colour
Tai Entertainment (Visute Poolvoralaks)

original title: Nor Chor: The Prisoners

Jailed for causing death by dangerous driving, a middle-class youth agrees to inform on his fellow inmates in return for a shorter sentence.

Uneasy drama that veers between a violent semi-documentary and a verbose debate on law and order before becoming a feel-good movie about life in an overcrowded, insanitary prison.

wd Manop Janjarasskul story Orasom Suthisakorn ph Thanissapong Sasinmanop m Chatchai Pongprapaphun pd Thanin Jakavetch ed Manop Janjarasskul

☆ Chalath Ma-songkhla (Ray), Pornchai Hongratt Anaporn, Sahat Chai Chumrum (Officer Mun), Kasama Musikul (The Warden)

Banjo on my Knee ★★

US 1936 95m bw
TCF (Nunnally Johnson)

In a Mississippi riverboat shanty town, a wedding night is interrupted when the groom is arrested during a brawl.

Unusual, easy-going comedy in which the stars sing and dance as well as fool around.

w Nunnally Johnson novel Harry Hamilton d John Cromwell ph Ernest Palmer m Arthur Lange m/ly Jimmy McHugh, Harold Adamson

☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea, Buddy Ebsen, Walter Brennan, Helen Westley, Walter Catlett, Tony Martin, Katherine de Mille

'Too complicated for any better than moderate reception.' – Variety

The Bank Breaker: see Kaleidoscope

The Bank Detective: see The Bank Dick

The Bank Dick ★★★★

US 1940 73m bw
Universal

GB title: The Bank Detective

In Lompoc, California, a ne'er-do-well accidentally stops a hold-up, is made a bank detective, acquires deeds to a worthless mine and interferes in the production of a film.

Imperfect, but probably the best Fields vehicle there is: the jokes sometimes end in mid-air, but there are delicious moments and very little padding. The character names are sometimes funnier than the script: they include Egbert Sousé (accent grave over the 'e'), J. Pinkerton Snoopington, Ogg Oggilby and Filthy McNasty.

w Mahatma Kane Jeeves (W. C. Fields) d Edward F. Cline ph Milton Krasner md Charles Previn ad Jack Otterson ed Arthur Hilton

☆ W. C. Fields (Egbert Sousé), Franklin Pangborn (J. Pinkerton Snoopington), Una Merkel (Myrtle Souse), Shemp Howard (Joe Guelpe), Jack Norton (A. Pismo Clam), Grady Sutton (Og Oggilby), Cora Witherspoon (Agatha Souse)

'One of the great classics of American comedy.' – Robert Lewis Taylor

'When the man is funny he is terrific ... but the story is makeshift, the other characters are stock types, the only pace discernible is the distance between drinks or the rhythm of the fleeting seconds it takes Fields to size up trouble coming and duck the hell out.' – Otis Ferguson

'Individualistic display of broad comedy ... adequate program supporter.' – Variety

† Fields's writing nom-de-plume was allegedly borrowed from noble characters in old English plays he squirmed through as a youth. They kept saying: 'M'hat, m'cane, Jeeves.'

Bank Holiday ★

GB 1938 86m bw
GFD/Gainsborough (Edward Black)
US title: Three on a Weekend

The lives of various people intertwine during a day out in Brighton.

Simple but effective slice-of-life comedy-drama, establishing several actors and a director. Still quite refreshing.

w Hans Wilhelm, Rodney Ackland, Roger Burford d Carol Reed ph Arthur Crabtree md Louis Levy ad Vetchinsky ed R. E. Dearing, Alfred Roome

☆ Margaret Lockwood, Hugh Williams, John Lodge, Kathleen Harrison, Wally Patch, Rene Ray, Linden Travers, Garry Marsh, Wilfrid Lawson

'Ranges from pathos to farce with a nice avoidance of overstatement.' – Daily Telegraph

Bank Robber

US 1993 91m Foto-Kem
IRS/Initial (Lisa Cazés)

A bank robber hides in a seedy hotel where every guest recognizes him and demands a share of the loot in return for keeping quiet about it.

Vacuous comedy that lacks jokes and tries to compensate by putting the emphasis on sex.

wd Nick Mead ph Andrzej Sekula m Stewart Copeland

☆ Patrick Dempsey, Lisa Bonet, Judge Reinhold, Forest Whitaker, Olivia D'Abo, Mariska Hargitay, Michael Jeter

'File under misfire.' – Film Review

The Bank Shot ★

US 1974 83m DeLuxe
UA/Hal Landers, Bobby Roberts

Using house-moving equipment, an escaped convict steals a whole bank.

Extended chase comedy with scenes of gleeful destruction. Acceptable for those in the mood, but a shade overdone.

w Wendell Mayes novel Donald E. Westlake d Gower Champion ph Harry Stradling Jnr m John Morris

☆ George C. Scott, Joanna Cassidy, Sorrell Booke, G. Wood, Clifton James

'Welcome to District B13. Welcome to the future.'

Banlieue 13 ★

France 2004 81m colour
Europa/TF1/Canal+ (Luc Besson)

US title: District 13

In 2010, a cop infiltrates a walled ghetto for Paris' delinquents and outcasts to help defuse a neutron bomb.

Hectic, juvenile fantasy from the master of the form, Luc Besson, that mutates into a muscular French variation on John Carpenter's Escape from New York.

w Luc Besson, Bibi Naceri d Pierre Morel ph Manuel Teran m D.A. Octopuss pd Hugues Tissandier ed Frédéric Thorval

☆ David Belle (Leito), Cyril Raffaelli (Damien), Tony D'Amario (K2), Larbi Naceri (Taha), Dany Verissimo (Lola), François Chattot (Kruger)

'Makes everything Hollywood has lately done in the action genre look clumsy, dull and stale.' – Richard Schickel, Times

Bannerline ★

US 1951 87m bw
MGM (Henry Berman)

To comfort a dying old man, a young reporter prints a fake newspaper showing the indictment of the old man's gangster enemy. By an odd chain of events, the story becomes true.

Worthy but rather dull MGM 'B', typical of the regime of Dore Schary, boasting a pleasing small-town atmosphere and a remarkable cast of old actors.

w Charles Schnee story Samson Raphaelson d Don Weis ph Harold Lipstein m Rudolph Kopp

☆ Lionel Barrymore, Keefe Brasselle, Sally Forrest, Lewis Stone, Elisabeth Risdon, J. Carrol Naish, Spring Byington, Larry Keating

Banning

US 1967 102m Techniscope
Universal (Dick Berg)

A golf pro has sporting and amorous adventures at a country club.

Tedious, complexly plotted melodrama of life among the idle rich; handling generally laboured. A showcase for the studio's young contract talent.

w James Lee d Ron Winston ph Loyal Griggs m Quincy Jones

☆ Robert Wagner, Anjanette Comer, Jill St John, Guy Stockwell, James Farentino, Susan Clark, Howard St John, Mike Kellin, Sean Garrison, Gene Hackman

♫ song 'The Eyes of Love' (m Quincy Jones, ly Bob Russell)

Banshun: see Late Spring

BAPS

US 1997 92m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New Line/Island (Mark Burg, Loretha Jones)

A waitress is offered a small fortune to impersonate the lost granddaughter of a dying millionaire's old love.

Exceptionally dreary and raucous comedy, feebly plotted.

w Troy Beyer d Robert Townsend ph Bill Dill m Stanley Clarke pd Keith Brian Burns ed Patrick Kennedy

☆ Halle Berry, Martin Landau, Ian Richardson, Natalie Desselle, Troy Beyer, Luigi Amodeo, Jonathan Fried

'Words cannot convey the multi-hued frightfulness of this film.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† The title is an acronym for Black American Princesses.

'Finally ... a romantic comedy without men.'

Bar Girls

US 1994 94m Foto-Kem
Lavender Hill Mob (Lauren Hoffman, Marita Giovanni)

A lesbian begins a relationship with a married actress whom she picks up at her local bar.

A slick, somewhat theatrical low-budget movie that isn't likely to have much appeal outside its target audience; its emphasis on courtship rituals among its youngish lesbians has an earnestness that precludes both romance and wit.

w Lauren Hoffman play Lauren Hoffman d Marita Giovanni ph Michael Ferris m Lenny Meyers ad Darryl Fong, Keith Brunsmann ed Carter De Haven

☆ Nancy Allison Wolfe, Liza D'Agostino, Camila Griggs, Lisa Parker, Justine Slater, Paula Sorge, Michael Harris

The Bar Sinister

US 1955 87m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
MGM (Henry Berman)

GB title: It's a Dog's Life

The rise in lifestyle of a Bowery bull terrier, as told by himself.

Tolerable whimsy, in MGM's best family manner; ten years earlier it might have been a hit.

w John Michael Hayes story Richard Harding Davis d Herman Hoffman ph Paul Vogel m Elmer Bernstein

☆ Edmund Gwenn, Jeff Richards, Jarma Lewis, Dean Jagger

Barabbas ★

Italy/US 1962 144m Technirama
Columbia/Dino de Laurentiis

Pardoned instead of Christ, Barabbas is sentenced to the silver mines, turns Christian, and becomes a gladiator.
Overblown epic which starts with a genuine eclipse of the sun and has nowhere to go but down. The cast sparks a few moments, but it is generally a gaudy display of carnage.
w Christopher Fry, Nigel Balchin, Diego Fabbri, Ivo Perilli novel Pär Lagerkvist d Richard Fleischer ph Aldo Tonti m Mario Nascimbene ad Mario Chiari
☆ Anthony Quinn, Silvana Mangano, Vittorio Gassman, Ernest Borgnine, Jack Palance, Arthur Kennedy, Norman Wooland, Valentina Cortese, Harry Andrews, Katy Jurado, Michael Gwynn
'Unacceptable in its pain-preoccupation and its religiosity.' – Peter John Dyer
† The eclipse of the sun at the beginning is a real one, photographed at Nice.

'A world beyond words.'

Baraka ★

US 1992 97m colour Todd-AO
Mayfair/Magidson (Mark Magidson)

Scenes of nature are followed by those of religious celebrations around the world, of human life and work, of death in war and funeral rituals.
A film made by the cinematographer of Koyaanisqatsi (qv), and similar in style, though less coherent in its selection of images, stunning though they often are.
w Ron Fricke, Mark Magidson, Bob Green d Ron Fricke ph Ron Fricke m Michael Stearns ed Ron Fricke, Mark Magidson, David E. Aubrey, Alton Walpole
'Comes over as an animated National Geographic.' – Sight and Sound
'Perhaps one needs to see it on a psychedelic substance to discern a pattern or coherent structure.' – Empire

'In A World Gone To Hell Even Angels Carry Guns.'

Barb Wire

US 1996 99m Technicolor
Polygram/Propaganda/Dark Horse (Mike Richardson, Todd Moyer, Brad Wyman)

In 2017, while civil war rages in the States, a club-owner and bounty hunter, who favours tight black leather and high heels, goes in search of some contact lenses that can save the world.
A film that renders criticism superfluous: a comic-book adventure that seems even more cartoon-like than thé original.
w Chuck Pfarrer, Ilene Chaiken d David Hogan ph Rick Bota m Michel Colombier pd Jean-Philippe Carp ed Peter Schink
☆ Pamela Anderson Lee, Temuera Morrison, Victoria Rowell, Jack Noseworthy, Xander Berkeley, Udo Kier, Steve Railsback, Clint Howard
'Resembles Mad Max with brassieres and deserves to be mocked.' – Guardian
'A slow, dim-witted, second-rate rock video that is devoid of energy, excitement or imagination.' – Sunday Times

'See her do her thing!'

Barbarella ★

France/Italy 1967 98m Technicolor Panavision
Marianne/Dino de Laurentiis

A beautiful young 40th-century astronaut prevents the positronic ray from getting into the wrong hands.
Campy and slightly sick adventures with angels and other space people, from a highly censorable comic strip; some ingenious gadgetry and design, but not much of interest in the foreground.
w Terry Southern book Jean-Claude Forest d Roger Vadim ph Claude Renoir m Bob Crewe, Charles Fox pd Mario Garbuglia
☆ Jane Fonda, John Phillip Law, Anita Pallenberg, Milo O'Shea, David Hemmings, Marcel Marceau, Ugo Tognazzi, Claude Dauphin
'A leading science fiction authority has claimed that if Lewis Carroll were alive today he would inevitably have written not Alice's Adventures in Wonderland but Lolita. He might perhaps equally well have written Barbarella.' – Jack Ibberson
'A flaccid, jaded appeal to our baser appetites, always liberally doused with essence of cop-out, resulting in elucubrated, anaemic pornography.' – John Simon

The Barbarian

US 1933 82m approx bw
MGM
GB title: A Night in Cairo

An American lady travelling in the Middle East falls for a local potentate.
Shades of The Sheik (qv). Actually this version was first filmed in 1915 by Edgar Selwyn from his own play, then again in 1924. Any version would seem fairly hysterical now.
w Anita Loos, Elmer Harris play Edgar Selwyn d Sam Wood ph Harold Rosson ☆ Ramon Novarro, Myrna Loy, Reginald Denny, C. Aubrey Smith, Louise Closser Hale, Edward Arnold
'An abrupt switch to melodrama at the halfway mark makes this a maudlin, doubtful desert melodrama.' – Variety

The Barbarian and the Geisha ★

US 1958 105m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
TCF (Eugene Frenke)

In 1856 the first US diplomat to visit Japan meets local opposition but is helped by a geisha.
Episodic semi-historical romance which scarcely suits the talents of those involved.
w Charles Grayson d John Huston ph Charles G. Clarke m Hugo Friedhofer
☆ John Wayne, Eiko Ando, Sam Jaffe, So Yamamura
'It is saddening to think that the director of The Asphalt Jungle has gained professional freedom and international celebrity to become, at 51, yet another taskmaster who goes out in the midday sun.' – Arlene Croce

'A provocative new comedy about sex, friendship, and all other things that invade our lives.'

The Barbarian Invasions ★★★★ (7)

Canada 2003 99m Technicolor 'Scope
UIP/Cinemaginaire/Pyramide (Denise Robert, Daniel Louis)

aka: Les Invasions Barbare

In Montreal, a dying, womanizing left-wing academic is gradually reconciled with his son, a wealthy city trader.
Witty and moving account of death and rebirth as well as a nostalgic reminder of politically moribund ideologies; on one level you could take it as a hymn to the power of capitalism, though it is richer and deeper than that.
wd Denys Arcand ph Guy Dufaux m Pierre Aviat pd Francois Seguin ed Isabelle Dedieu ☆ Remy Girard (Remy), Stephane Rousseau (Sebastien), Marie-Josée Croze (Nathalie), Marina Hands (Gaelle), Dorothee Berryman (Louise), Johanne Marie Tremblay (Sister Constance), Dominique Michel (Dominique), Louise Portal (Diane)
'One of the most intelligent and articulate entertainments of the year from any country.' – Andrew Sarris, New York Observer
'Everything is shot through with middlebrow sophistication, boorish cynicism, unfunny satire, a dash of fatuous anti-Americanism and unthinkingly reactionary sexual politics.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'The dialogue often has the violet luster of teenage playwriting. Shear away the film's pretensions, and it's a soap opera of assholes.' – Michael Atkinson, Village Voice
† The film features many of the same characters as Arcand's The Decline of the American Empire, which he directed in 1986.
†† Marie-Josée Croze won the best actress award, and Denys Arcand the best screenwriter at the Cannes Film Festival in 2003.
foreign language film
Denys Arcand (as screenwriter)

Barbarian Queen

US 1985 82m colour
Concorde/Rodeo (Frank Isaac, Alex Sessa)

When their men are kidnapped, women warriors go on the warpath.
One of the reasons that the fad for films of the sword and sorcery genre was so short-lived – muscle-bound men and scantily clad women of minimal acting ability are not enough to attract an audience.
d Hector Olivera ph Rudy Donovan m Chris Young, Jamie Horner pd Julia Bertram ed Sylvia Roberts, Leslie Rosenthal sp Willy Smith, Arny Alfieri
☆ Lana Clarkson, Katt Shea, Frank Zagarino, Dawn Dunlap, Susana Traverso, Victor Bo, Arman Chapman, Andrea Barbizon
† A sequel of even less interest, Barbarian Queen 2, directed by Joe Finley, followed in 1988.

The Barbarians

US/Italy 1987 88m colour
Cannon (John Thompson)

In a primitive world, twin musclemen take on warring tribes and wizards to rescue their queen.
Dim-witted sword and sorcery movie that never rises above the risible.
w James R. Silke d Ruggero Deodato ph Lorenzo Battaglia m Pino Donaggio pd Giuseppe Mangano ed Eugene Alabiso
☆ David Paul, Peter Paul, Richard Lynch, Eva La Rue, Virginia Bryant, Sheeba Alahani, Michael Berryman, Nanni Bernini

The Barbaric Beast of Boggy Creek II: see Boggy Creek II: And the Legend Continues

Barbarosa ★

US 1981 90m Eastmancolor Panavision
ITC/Wittliff-Nelson-Busey (Paul N. Lazarus III)

An outlaw's legend grows along with his enemies.
Undercast but interestingly directed Western, with more than enough elegiac qualities mixed with some nods to the old enjoyable style.
w William D. Wittliff d Fred Schepisi ph Ian Baker m Bruce Smeaton ☆ Willie Nelson, Gary Busey, Isela Vega, Gilbert Roland, George Voskovec
'The most spirited and satisfying new western epic in several years.' – New Yorker
'More than its share of artistic merit.' – Variety

Barbary Coast ★★

US 1935 91m bw
Samuel Goldwyn

During San Francisco's gold rush days a ruthless club owner builds a lonely girl into a star attraction but cannot win her love.
Juicy melodrama tailored for its stars, but with excellent background detail, sets and lighting.
w Ben Hecht, Charles MacArthur d Howard Hawks ph Ray June m Alfred Newman
☆ Edward G. Robinson, Miriam Hopkins, Joel McCrea, Walter Brennan, Frank Craven, Brian Donlevy, Donald Meek
'More than a year ago Sam Goldwyn picked Barbary Coast as a title and called in Hecht and MacArthur to write a story to fit. Result is a picture that has all it takes to get along in thoroughbred company.' – Variety † David Niven made his first screen appearance as an extra.
Ray June

Barbary Coast Gent

US 1944 87m bw
MGM (Orville Dull)

A bandit from the Californian goldfields tries to go straight in San Francisco.
Star comedy drama, somewhat below par despite attractive settings and good production.
w William Lipman, Grant Garrett, Harry Ruskin d Roy del Ruth ph Charles Salerno Jnr m David Snell
☆ Wallace Beery, Binnie Barnes, Frances Rafferty, Chill Wills, Ray Collins, John Carradine, Noah Beery, Morris Ankrum, Henry O'Neill, Donald Meek, Paul Hurst, Louise Beavers

Barbed Wire ★

US 1927 85m approx bw silent
Paramount

A French girl falls for a German prisoner of war.
Almost forgotten war film which seems at least worthy of comparison with All Quiet on the Western Front (qv), which was made three years later.
w Jules Furthman and Rowland V. Lee novel The Woman of Knockaloe by Hall Caine d Rowland V. Lee ph Bert Glennon
☆ Pola Negri, Clive Brook, Einar Hanson, Claude Gillingwater, Gustav von Seyffertitz

The Barber of Siberia

Russia/France/Italy/Czech 1999 176m colour Panavision Intermedia/Three T/Camera One/France 2/MedusaBarrandov Biografia (Michel Seydoux)

original title: Sibirski Tsiriulnik

An American woman remembers her visit to Russia and romantic involvements with a jealous cadet and a general.
Heavy-handed comedy and an unconvincing romance wreck this good-looking but over-extended drama.

w Nikita Mikhalkov, Rustam Ibragimbekov, Rospo Pallenberg d Nikita Mikhalkov ph Pavel Lebeshev m Edward Nicolai Artemyev pd Vladimir Aronin ed Enzo Meniconi cos Natasha Ivanova, Sergei Struchev

☆ Julia Ormond (Jane Callahan), Oleg Menshikov (Andrei Tolstoy), Richard Harris (Douglas McCracken), Alexei Petrenko (Gen Radlov), Vladimir Ilyin (Capt Mokin), Alexander Yakovlev (Maximich), Marat Basharov (Polievsky), Daniel Olbrychski (Kopnovsky), Anna Mikhalkova (Dunvasha), Robert Hardy (Forsten), Nikita Mikhalkov (Czar Alexander III), Isabelle Renauld (Czarina), Evgeny Steblov (Grand Duke), Mac MacDonald (Sgt 'Mad Dog' O'Leary)

'Surely a contender for the Most Boring film of All Time award.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'Everyone's gettin' lined up!'

Barbershop ★

US 2002 103m colour
MGM/State Street/Cube Vision (Matt Alvarez, Larry Kennar)

The heir to a neighbourhood barbershop has to decide whether to sell to a loan shark or let it continue to be a hang-out for the community.

Affable comedy that ambles along in a pleasurable way and gives space to its cast to swap jokes and comments on black experience.

w Mark Brown, Don D. Scott, Marshall Todd d Tim Story ph Tom Priestly m Terence Blanchard pd Roger Fortune ed John Carter

☆ Ice Cube (Calvin Palmer), Anthony Anderson (JD), Cedric the Entertainer (Eddie), Sean Patrick Thomas (Jimmy), Eve (Terri), Troy Garity (Isaac Rosenberg), Michael Ealy (Ricky Nash)

'The script really should have been given a trim, as it tries to cram in so many characters that few are given the time and space to develop.' – Nick De Semlyen, Empire

'The movie's so good to listen to, it would even work as an audio book.' – Roger Ebert

Barbershop 2: Back in Business

US 2004 106m DeLuxe
MGM/State Street /Cube Vision (Robert Teitel, George Tillman Jnr, Alex Gartner)

A neighbourhood Chicago barbershop is threatened by an upmarket rival and a developer who wants to bring chain stores to the area.

Amiable, efficient sequel, the cinematic equivalent of a short back and sides.

w Don D. Scott d Kevin Rodney Sullivan ph Tom Priestley m Richard Gibbs, Wu-Tang Clan featuring the RZA pd Robb Wilson King ed Paul Seydor

☆ Ice Cube (Calvin), Cedric the Entertainer (Eddie), Sean Patrick Thomas (Jimmy), Eve (Terri), Troy Garity (Isaac), Michael Ealy (Ricky), Queen Latifah (Gina)

'This time around, the razors are a little duller, the clicks not as slick, the patter not as snappy.' – Michael Wilmington, Chicago Tribune

'Americans. Anti-Americans. In love.'

Barcelona ★

US 1994 101m Technicolor
Rank/Castle Rock/Westerly (Whit Stillman)

In the mid-1980s, two American cousins find that life and love in the Spanish city are fraught with problems.

A leisurely exploration of cultural and racial differences that is intermittently interesting but not always convincing; it consists of a great deal of talk about not very much.

wd Whit Stillman ph John Thomas m Mark Suozzo pd José Mareia Botines ed Christopher Tellefsen

☆ Taylor Nichols, Chris Eigeman, Tushka Bergen, Mira Sorvino, Hellena Schmied, Pep Munne, Nuria Badia, Francis Creighton

'Although the picture begins promisingly, its charm peters out fast. Every scene seems to make the same not very interesting point: that Americans get a bum rap from foreigners.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker

'The city of Barcelona looks beautiful, but everything in the movie is negligent, underdeveloped, unfelt.' – David Denby, New York

Bardelys the Magnificent

US 1926 88m (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

A 16th-century French adventurer finally wins his fair lady.

Laboured swashbuckler.

w Dorothy Farnum novel Rafael Sabatini d King Vidor

☆ John Gilbert, Eleanor Boardman, George K. Arthur

The Bare Breasted Countess: see Female Vampire

Barefaced Flatfoot ★★★

US 1952 7m Technicolor
UPA (Stephen Bosustow)

Mr Magoo battles shortsightedly to save his nephew from the underworld.

Archetypal Magoo cartoon. ('Didn't we meet in Heidelberg?' he murmurs to the dummy he is duelling with his umbrella.) The title is a spoof on a contemporary Columbia movie, The Barefoot Mailman (qv).

pd John Hubley

'The world's most beautiful animal!'

The Barefoot Contessa ★

US 1954 128m Technicolor
UA/Figaro (Forrest E. Johnston)

A glamorous barefoot dancer in a Spanish cabaret is turned into a Hollywood star, but her sexual frustrations lead to a tragic end.

A fascinating farrago of addled philosophy and lame wisecracks, very typical of a writer-director here not at his best, decorated by a splendid gallery of actors and some attractive settings.

wd Joseph L. Mankiewicz ph Jack Cardiff m Mario Nascimbene

☆ Humphrey Bogart (Harry Dawes), Ava Gardner (Maria Vargas), Edmond O'Brien (Oscar Muldoon), Marius Goring (Alberto Bravano), Valentina Cortesa (Eleonora Torlato-Favrini), Rossano Brazzi (Vincenzo Torlato-Favrini), Elizabeth Sellars (Jerry), Warren Stevens (Kirk Edwards), Franco Interlenghi (Pedro), Mari Aldon (Myrna)

HARRY: 'Life, every now and then, behaves as though it had seen too many bad movies, when everything fits too well – the beginning, the middle, the end – from fade-in to fade-out.'

'This example of the Higher Lunacy must vie with Johnny Guitar for the silliest film of the year.' – Gavin Lambert

'A trash masterpiece: a Cinderella story in which the prince turns out to be impotent.' – Pauline Kael, 1968

Edmond O'Brien
Joseph L. Mankiewicz (as writer)

The Barefoot Executive ★

US 1970 96m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Anderson)

A TV network discovers that its most infallible average viewer is a chimpanzee.

Quite a beguiling little farcical comedy with mild doses of satire.

w Joseph L. McEveety d Robert Butler ph Charles F. Wheeler m Robert F. Brunner

☆ Kurt Russell, Harry Morgan, Joe Flynn, Wally Cox, Heather North, Alan Hewitt, Hayden Rorke

'Break the rules! Make love! Fall over laughing!'

Barefoot in the Park ★★

US 1967 109m Technicolor
Paramount/Hal B. Wallis

A pair of New York newlyweds rent a cold water flat at the top of a liftless building, and manage to marry the bride's mother to an eccentric neighbour.

Breezy but overlong adaptation of a stage play which succeeded through audience response to its one-liners, which on the screen sometimes fall flat. The people are nice, though.

w Neil Simon play Neil Simon d Gene Saks ph Joseph LaShelle m Neal Hefti

☆ Robert Redford (Paul Bratter), Jane Fonda (Corie Bratter), Mildred Natwick (Ethel Banks), Charles Boyer (Victor Velasco), Herb Edelman (Harry Pepper), Mabel Albertson (Aunt Harriet), Fritz Feld (restaurant owner)

ETHEL: 'Make him feel important. If you do that, you'll have a happy and wonderful marriage – like two out of every ten couples.'

ETHEL: 'I feel like we've died and gone to heaven – only we had to climb up.'

Mildred Natwick

The Barefoot Mailman

US 1951 82m Supercinecolor
Columbia (Robert Cohn)

In 19th-century Florida, the mailman is joined by a confidence trickster who later has a change of heart.

Inept comedy adventure which never really gets started.

w James Gunn, Francis Swann novel Theodore Pratt d Earl McEvoy ph Ellis W. Carter m George Duning

☆ Robert Cummings, Jerome Courtland, Terry Moore, John Russell, Will Geer, Arthur Shields, Trevor Bardette

† This is the title parodied by the Mr Magoo cartoon Barefaced Flatfoot (qv).

Barfly ★

US 1987 99m TVC Color
Cannon/Barbet Schroeder, Fred Roos, Tom Luddy

A self-styled poet of the bottle lords it over a Los Angeles bar.

Unrelieved serio-comic wallow in the underside of American life. For connoisseurs and idiots as well as star fans.

w Charles Bukowski d Barbet Schroeder ph Robby Muller m none pd Bob Ziembicki

☆ Mickey Rourke, Faye Dunaway, Alice Krige, Jack Nance

The Bargee ★

GB 1964 106m Techniscope
AB/Galton-Simpson (W. A. Whitaker)

A canal barge Casanova is trapped into marriage.

The long-awaited comedy which was supposed to make a film star out of TV's Young Steptoe turned out to be rough and vulgar but not very funny.

w Ray Galton, Alan Simpson d Duncan Wood ph Harry Waxman m Frank Cordell

☆ Harry H. Corbett (Hemel), Ronnie Barker (Ronnie), Hugh Griffith (Joe), Eric Sykes (Mariner), Julia Foster (Christine), Miriam Karlin (Nellie), Eric Barker (Foreman), Derek Nimmo (Dr Scott), Norman Bird, Richard Briers (Tomkins)

Baritone ★★

Poland 1984 96m colour
PRF Zespoly Filmowe/Zespol Perspektywa (Barbara Pec-Slesicka)
original title: Baryton

In the early 1930s a famous Polish opera singer returns home after 25 years, only to lose his voice before a celebratory concert.

Zestful satiric portrayal of egomania and doublecross, set against the rise of Nazism.

w Feliks Falk d Janusz Zaorski ph Witold Adamek m Jerzy Satanowski ad Allan Starski ed Halina Pruga-Ketling

☆ Zbigniew Zapasiewicz, Piotr Fronczewski, Janusz Blyczyński, Marcin Troński, Malgorzata Pieczyńska, Zofia Saretok

The Barkleys of Broadway ★

US 1949 109m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A quarrelling couple of musical comedy stars split up, and she becomes a serious actress.

A rather flat and unattractive reunion for a famous pair, with a witless script, poorish numbers and very little style. The compensations are minor.

w Adolph Green, Betty Comden d Charles Walters ph Harry Stradling m/ly Harry Warren, Ira Gershwin md Lennie Hayton

☆ Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Oscar Levant, Jacques François, Billie Burke

† Ginger Rogers was in fact second choice; Judy Garland was cast but withdrew through illness.

Harry Stradling

Barnabo of the Mountains

France/Italy/Switzerland 1994 124m colour
Artificial Eye/Nautilus/Number One/Flach/RAI-1 (Tommaso Dazzi, Gabriella Lazzoni) original title: Barnabo della Montagne

In the early 20s, a mountain ranger with pacifist tendencies is sacked for failing to shoot at some murderous poachers and, after much wandering, returns to the mountains.

More a celebration of the Dolomites than an exploration of character, this is a film where little happens, very slowly; its mainly amateur cast are required only to register rock-like characteristics and to blend with the magnificence of the landscape.

w Angelo Pasquini, Mario Brenta, Francesco Alberti, Enrico Soci novel Dino Buzzati d Mario Brenta ph Vincenzo Marano m Stefano Caprioli ad Giorgio Bertolini ed Roberto Missiroli

☆ Marco Pauletti, Alessandra Milan, Marco Tonin, Duilo Fontana, Carlo Caserotti, Antonio Vecellio, Angelo Chiesura

'This sort of art movie is easy to mock. And hardly for the likes of those who enjoy the familiar narrative drive and special effects driven melodramas that cram the cinemas.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'Like watching three coats of paint dry.' – Independent

Barnaby and Me

Australia 1977 90m colour
ABC/Force Ten/Transatlantic (Matthew N. Herman)

A koala recalls how an American con man disrupted the lives of an Australian family.
Affable but silly family comedy that relies too heavily on the skills of Caesar to provide some amusement and features a koala with a heavy American accent.
w James Henderson d Norman Panama ph Peter Hendry m Brian May ad George Liddle ed Tim Wellburn
☆ Sid Caesar, Juliet Mills, Sally Boyden, Hugh Keays-Byrne, Rangi Nicholls, James Condon, Kenneth Laird, Bruce Spence, Daws Butler (voice)

Barnacle Bill

US 1941 90m bw
MGM (Milton Bren)

A fishing boat skipper gets romantic in the hope of financing his enterprises.
Adequate waterfront comedy on Min and Bill lines, consolidating a popular star teaming.
w Jack Jevne, Hugo Butler d Richard Thorpe ph Clyde de Vinna m Bronislau Kaper
☆ Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main, Leo Carrillo, Virginia Weidler, Donald Meek, Barton MacLane, Connie Gilchrist, Sara Haden
♫ 'They Can't Take That Away from Me', 'Shoes with Wings On', 'My One and Only Highland Fling', 'Swing Trot', 'Manhattan Downbeat', 'You'd Be So Hard to Replace', 'A Weekend in the Country', 'Sabre Dance'

Barnacle Bill ★

GB 1957 87m bw
Ealing (Michael Balcon)
US title: All at Sea

The last of a long line of sailors suffers from seasickness, and takes command of a decaying Victorian pier at an English seaside resort.
Quite an amusing comedy which had the misfortune to come at the tag-end of the Ealing classics and so seemed too mild and predictable. Perhaps it was a little staid.
w T. E. B. Clarke d Charles Frend ph Douglas Slocombe m John Addison ☆ Alec Guinness, Irene Browne, Percy Herbert, Harold Goodwin, Maurice Denham, George Rose, Lionel Jeffries, Victor Maddern

Barney's Great Adventure

US 1998 75m DeLuxe
Polygram/Lyrick (Sheryl Leach, Dennis DeShazer)

With the aid of a toy that turns into a lifesize dinosaur, two children hunt for a special egg.
A tacky film for children about an irrepressibly cheerful purple dinosaur, whose appeal is less than universal.
w Stephen White d Steve Gomer ph Sandi Sissel ch Debra Brown pd Vincent Jefferds ed Richard Halsey sp Cinemotion Pictures
☆ George Hearn, Shirley Douglas, Trevor Morgan, Kyla Pratt, Diana Rice, David Joyner (Barney's body), Bob West (Barney's voice)
'No film could have a higher must-see rating among the 2-to-5-year-old target audience.' – Variety

'The secret lives of animals revealed!'

Barnyard (2)

Germany/US 2006 89m
UIP/Paramount Pictures/Nickelodeon Movies/O Entertainment/KUMAR (Paul Marshal, Steve Oedekerk)
aka: Barnyard: The Original Party Animals
German theatrical title: Der tierisch verruckte Bauernhof

A fun-loving cow learns to grow up when his farm is attacked by coyotes.
Vulgar cartoon whose coarseness is only matched by its ignorance of bovine anatomy.
wd Steve Oedekerk m John Debney pd Philip A. Cruden ed Paul D Calder ☆ Featuring voices of: Kevin James (Otis the Cow), Courteney Cox (Daisy the Cow), Sam Elliott (Ben the Cow), Danny Glover (Miles the Mule), Wanda Sykes (Bessy the Cow), Andie MacDowell (Etta the Hen)
'Barnyard offers the spectacle of male cows equipped with prominent udders while spinning an uplifting coming-of-age yarn spiked with liberal doses of madcap lunacy.' – Joe Leydon, Variety

Barocco ★

France 1976 105m Eastmancolor
La Boétie/Sara (André Génovès, Alain Sarde)

A woman manipulates the killer of her boyfriend, murdered for his part in a political scandal, into becoming the double of the dead man.
A stylized, stylish thriller that hovers on the edge of parody, it is enjoyable to watch, even though its narrative is sometimes difficult to follow.
w André Téchiné, Marilyn Goldin d André Téchiné ph Bruno Nuytten m Philippe Sarde ad Ferdinando Scarfiotti ed Claudine Merlin
☆ Isabelle Adjani, Gérard Depardieu, Marie-France Pisier, Hélène Surgère, Jean-François Stevenin, Julien Guiomar, Claude Brasseur, Jean-Claude Brialy

Baron Blood (dubbed)

Italy/West Germany 1972 92m Technicolor
Leone International/Cinevision (Alfred Leone) original title: Gli Orrori del Castello di Norimberga
aka: Chamber of Tortures; The Thirst of Baron Blood; The Torture Chamber of Baron Blood

In Austria, an American student brings back to life his sadistic 300-year-old ancestor, who resumes his old pastime of torturing the locals.
Dull, unimaginative and lurid horror, in which the director's penchant for pointless zooms detracts from his attempts at atmosphere; an occasional chase sequence reveals what might have been, if those involved had been more committed or if its stars had bothered to act.
w Vincent Fotre, William A. Bairn d Mario Bava ph Antonio Rinaldi m Stelvio Cipriani ad Enzo Bulgarelli ed Carlo Reali sp Franco Tocci
☆ Joseph Cotten, Elke Sommer, Massimo Girotti, Rada Rassimov, Antonio Cantafora, Humi Raho, Alan Collins, Dieter Tressler

Le Baron Fantôme ★

France 1943 100m bw
Consortium de Productions de Films (Robert Florat)
GB title: The Phantom Baron

In the early 19th century, the disappearance of a nobleman causes problems for his heirs.
Macabre fairy tale with effective scenes which seem to relate to Cocteau's later fantasies; the film as a whole is less effective.
wd Serge de Poligny ph Roger Hubert m Louis Beydts narrator Jean Cocteau ☆ Jany Holt, Odette Joyeux, Alain Cuny, Gabrielle Dorziat

Baron Münchhausen ★

Czechoslovakia 1962 81m Agfacolor
Ceskoslovensky Film

original title: Baron Prasil

An astronaut finds on the moon the famous liar Baron Münchhausen, who takes him back to Earth and a variety of exaggerated adventures.
Amusing variation on the old stories, using live action against deliberately artificial backgrounds.
wd Karel Zeman novel Gottfried Burger (illustrations by Gustave Doré) ph Jiri Tarantik m Zdenek Liska ☆ Milos Kopecky, Rudolf Jelinek, Jana Becjchova

The Baron of Arizona

US 1950 85m bw
Lippert (Carl Hittleman)

In the 19th century a clerk tries to claim the whole of Arizona by false land grants.
Initially appealing but basically rather feeble tall tale, ineffectively worked out and decidedly undernourished as a production.
wd Samuel Fuller ph James Wong Howe m Paul Dunlap
☆ Vincent Price, Ellen Drew, Beulah Bondi, Vladimir Sokoloff, Reed Hadley, Robert Barrat

Baron Prasil: see Baron Münchhausen

The Baroness and the Butler

US 1938 75m bw
TCF (Raymond Griffith)

The Hungarian prime minister's butler is loved by a princess.
Thin mittel-European romantic star whimsy.
w Sam Hellman, Lamar Trotti, Kathryn Scola play The Lady Has a Heart by Ladislaus Bus-Fekete d Walter Lang ph Arthur Miller md Louis Silvers ☆ William Powell, Annabella, Henry Stephenson, Nigel Bruce, Helen Westley, Joseph Schildkraut, J. Edward Bromberg, Lynn Bari

Barquero!

US 1970 114m DeLuxe
Aubrey Schenck (Hal Klein)

A Western ferryman is taken prisoner by bandits but turns the tables.
Long, violent, rather uninteresting Western in the Spanish manner.
w George Schenck, William Marks d Gordon Douglas ph Jerry Finnerman m Dominic Frontiere
☆ Lee Van Cleef, Forrest Tucker, Warren Oates, Kerwin Mathews, Mariette Hartley, Brad Weston, John Davis Chandler

'When poets love, heaven and earth fall back to watch!'

The Barretts of Wimpole Street ★★

US 1934 109m bw
MGM (Irving Thalberg)

TV title: Forbidden Alliance

Invalid Elizabeth Barrett plans to marry poet Robert Browning, against her tyrannical father's wishes.
Claustrophobic but well-acted adaptation of a stage play which has become more forceful than history. Stilted now, but still better than the remake.
w Ernst Vajda, Claudine West, Donald Ogden Stewart play Rudolf Besier d Sidney Franklin ph William Daniels m Herbert Stothart
☆ Norma Shearer (Elizabeth Barrett), Fredric March (Robert Browning), Charles Laughton (Edward Moulton-Barrett), Maureen O'Sullivan (Henrietta), Katherine Alexander (Arabel), Una O'Connor (Wilson), Ralph Forbes (Captain Surtees-Cook), Ian Wolfe (Harry Bevan)
'Box office for all its celluloid lethargy ... truly an actor's picture, with long speeches and verbose philosophical observations.' – Variety
Ⓐ best picture; Norma Shearer

The Barretts of Wimpole Street

GB 1956 105m Metrocolor
Cinemascope
MGM (Sam Zimbalist)

Dreadful, miscast remake of the above, with emphasis on the Freudian father-daughter relationship.
An unattractive and boring film.
w John Dighton d Sidney Franklin ph Frederick A. Young m Bronislau Kaper ☆ Jennifer Jones, Bill Travers, John Gielgud, Virginia McKenna
'That rarity – a remake of an established Hollywood classic that is exceptionally fine in every respect.' – New York Times
'Very poor indeed, except for colour photography and décor and Virgina McKenna and Jean Anderson give the only two decent performances in it.' – John Gielgud

Barricade

US 1939 71m bw
TCF (Edward Kaufman)

A newsman and a girl with a past fight Mongolian bandits in North China.
A bagful of clichés which does not quite add up to entertainment.
w Granville Walker d Gregory Ratoff ph Karl Freund m David Buttolph ☆ Warner Baxter, Alice Faye, Charles Winninger, Arthur Treacher, Keye Luke, Willie Fung, Doris Lloyd 'Inadequate and confusing ... it was launched as an A, but winds up as a B that will have to groove generally in the supporting spots.' – Variety

Barricade

US 1949 75m Technicolor
Warner (Saul Elkins)

A tough mine-owner who runs a camp miles from civilization meets his come-uppance when three strangers are forced to accept his hospitality.
Rough Western only notable as an (almost) scene-for-scene steal from The Sea Wolf (qv): a text-book adaptation.
w William Sackheim d Peter Godfrey ph Carl Guthrie m William Lava ed Clarence Kolster
☆ Raymond Massey, Dane Clark, Ruth Roman, Robert Douglas, Morgan Farley

The Barrier

US 1926 79m (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

A brutal sea captain tries to prevent his protégé's marriage.
Brooding melodrama climaxing in an Alaskan storm. It was Barrymore's first film for the studio where he spent the rest of his career.

w Rex Beach d George Hill
☆ Lionel Barrymore, Henry B. Walthall, Marceline Day, Norman Kerry

The Barrier
US 1937 90m bw
Paramount/Harry Sherman
A gold rush prospector kidnaps a child and brings her up in the belief that she is a half-breed.
Lyceum-like melodrama against spectacular natural settings; somehow not of interest.
w Bernard Schubert, Mordaunt Shairp, Harrison Jacobs novel Rex Beach d Lesley Selander
☆ Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker, Robert Barrat, James Ellison, Otto Kruger, Andy Clyde, Addison Richards, Sara Haden

Barry Lyndon ★★
GB 1975 187m Eastmancolor
Warner/Hawk/Peregrine (Stanley Kubrick)
Adventures of an 18th-century Irish gentleman of fortune.
A curiously cold-hearted enterprise, like an art gallery in which the backgrounds are sketched in loving detail and the human figures totally neglected; there is much to enjoy, but script and acting are variable to say the least, and the point of it all is obscure, as it certainly does not tell a rattling good story.
wd Stanley Kubrick novel W. M. Thackeray ph John Alcott md Leonard Rosenman pd Ken Adam ☆ Ryan O'Neal, Marisa Berenson, Patrick Magee, Hardy Kruger, Steven Berkoff, Gay Hamilton, Marie Kean, Murray Melvin, André Morell, Leonard Rossiter, Philip Stone, Michael Hordern
'The motion picture equivalent of one of these very large, very expensive, very elegant and very dull books that exist solely to be seen on coffee tables.' – Charles Champlin
'Watching the movie is like looking at illustrations for a work that has not been supplied.' – John Simon
'All art and no matter: a series of still pictures which will please the retina while denying our hunger for drama. And far from re-creating another century, it more accurately embalms it.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News
Academy Award John Alcott; Leonard Rosenman; Ken Adam; costumes (Britt Soderlund, Milena Canonero)
Academy Award nomination best picture; Stanley Kubrick (as writer); Stanley Kubrick (as director)
BAFTA Award Stanley Kubrick (as director); John Alcott

Barry McKenzie Holds His Own
Australia 1974 98m Eastmancolor Panavision
EMI/Reg Grundy (Bruce Beresford)
The twin nephews of Edna Everage, an Australian housewife, go to her rescue when she is mistaken for the Queen and kidnapped by Transylvanians.
Coarse slapstick comedy of a deliberately tasteless kind.
w Barry Humphries, Bruce Beresford d Bruce Beresford ph Don McAlpine m Peter Best pd John Stoddart ed William Anderson
☆ Barry Crocker, Barry Humphries, Donald Pleasence, Dick Bentley, Ed Devereaux, Tommy Trinder, Frank Windsor, Deryck Guyler, Arthur English, Roy Kinnear, John Le Mesurier

Bartleby ★
GB 1970 79m Eastmancolor
Pantheon (Rodney Carr-Smith)
A young clerk gradually refuses to take part in life.
A non-action film from an independent source, praiseworthy but overlong and fairly lacking in any kind of appeal except to literary connoisseurs.
w Anthony Friedmann, Rodney Carr-Smith story Herman Melville d Anthony Friedmann ph Ian Wilson m Roger Webb
☆ Paul Scofield, John McEnery, Thorley Walters, Colin Jeavons

'I would prefer not to.'

Bartleby ★ (2)
US 2001 83m colour
Mandrake Media/Parker Film (Jonathan Parker)
A filing clerk politely refuses to participate in work or life.
Stylised account of a man who takes passive resistance as far as it will go, moderately enjoyable while it lasts.
w Catherine Di Napoli, Jonathan Parker story Bartleby the Scrivener by Herman Melville d Jonathan Parker ph Wah Ho Chan m Seth Asarnow, Jonathan Parker ed Rick Lecompte
☆ David Paymer (The Boss), Crispin Glover (Bartleby), Glenne Headly (Vivian), Joe Piscopo (Rocky), Maury Chaykin (Ernie), Seymour Cassel (Frank Waxman), Carrie Snodgress (Book Publisher), Dick Martin (Mayor)
'Vaguely entertaining, but easily forgotten.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times

'There's Only One Thing Stranger Than What's Going On Inside His Head. What's Going On Outside.'
'Between Heaven and Hell there's always Hollywood.'

Barton Fink ★★★
US 1991 116m colour
Rank/Circle (Ethan Coen)
In the 1940s an intellectual left-wing playwright goes to work in Hollywood, where he is told to write a wrestling picture for Wallace Beery.
What begins as a satire on the film industry, with a central character owing much to Clifford Odets, turns halfway through into something darker and more disturbing, a dizzying trip inside two disturbed minds.
w Ethan and Joel Coen d Joel Coen ph Roger Deakins m Carter Burwell pd Dennis Gassner ad Bob Goldstein, Leslie McDonald ed Roderick Jaynes
☆ John Turturro (Barton Fink), John Goodman (Charlie Meadows), Judy Davis (Audrey Taylor), Michael Lerner (Jack Lipnick), John Mahoney (W.P. Mayhew), Tony Shalhoub (Ben Geisler), Jon Polito (Lou Breeze), Steve Buscemi (Chet)
'Scene after scene is filled with a ferocious strength and humour.' – Variety
† The film took an unprecedented three prizes at the 1991 Cannes Film Festival: Palme d'Or for best film, best actor (John Turturro) and best director.
Academy Award nomination Michael Lerner; Dennis Gassner

Baryton: see Baritone

Bas Ya Bahar: see La Mer Cruelle

Les Bas-fonds ★
France 1936 92m bw
Albatros (Alexander Kamenka)
aka: The Lower Depths
A clash of temperaments flares up between derelicts in a dosshouse.
Uneven transposition of a famous work, with patches of good acting.
w Jean Renoir, Charles Spaak and others play Maxim Gorky d Jean Renoir ph Jean Bachelet m Jean Wiener
☆ Jean Gabin, Louis Jouvet, Vladimir Sokoloff, Robert Le Vigan, Suzy Prim

BASEketball
US 1998 103m DeLuxe
Universal (David Zucker, Robert LoCash, Gil Netter)
Two basketball players invent a new variation on the game, in which teams can insult one another and try to unsettle opposing players.
Broad comedy which sends up the clichés of sports movies without managing to be particularly amusing.
w David Zucker, Robert LoCash, Lewis Friedman, Jeff Wright d David Zucker ph Steve Mason m James Ira Newborn pd Steven Jordan ed Jeffrey Reiner
☆ Trey Parker, Matt Stone, Yasmine Bleeth, Jenny McCarthy, Robert Vaughn, Ernest Borgnine, Dian Bachar
'The broad, bawdy antics onscreen will be a slam-dunk at the box office.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

Basic (2)
US 2003 98m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia TriStar/Intermedia/Phoenix (Mike Medavoy, Arnie Messer, James Vanderbilt, Michael Tadross)
An outside investigator is called in to help the army discover why four soldiers died on a training mission in Panama.
Ludicrous military thriller, set in murky jungle and heavy rain so that it is often difficult to see what is happening; nor is it possible to understand, since sense and logic are the first casualties of its twisting narrative.
w James Vanderbilt d John McTiernan ph Steve Mason m Klaus Badelt pd Dennis Bradford ed George Folsey Jnr
☆ John Travolta (Tom Hardy), Connie Nielsen (Capt Julia Osborne), Samuel L. Jackson (Sgt Nathan West), Giovanni Ribisi (Kendall), Brian Van Holt (Dunbar), Tim Daly (Col Bill Styles), Cristian de la Fuente (Castro), Dash Mihok (Mueller), Taye Diggs (Pike), Roselyn Sanchez (Nunez), Harry Connick Jr (Vilmer)
'There are no words to say how deeply stupid and ridiculous this film is.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'A rumble in the jungle I can thoroughly recommend.' – Kevin O'Sullivan, Daily Mirror
† A DVD release includes an audio commentary by McTiernan.

'Flesh seduces. Passion kills.'

Basic Instinct ★
US 1991 128m Technicolor Panavision
Guild/Carolco/Canal (Alan Marshall)
A violent, suspended detective falls in love with the chief suspect in a murder investigation, a bisexual millionairess whose latest novel contains a detailed description of a similar killing.
Overheated, overlong melodramatic thriller with an implausible plot that requires its audience to accept that Michael Douglas is irresistibly attractive to bisexual women. But the skill and pace of the direction makes one regret that they were not exercised on better material.
w Joe Eszterhas d Paul Verhoeven ph Jan de Bont m Jerry Goldsmith pd Terence Marsh ed Frank J. Urioste sp Rob Bottin
☆ Michael Douglas, Sharon Stone, George Dzundza, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Denis Arndt, Leilani Sarelle, Dorothy Malone
'Saddled with extremely unattractive characters, vile dialogue and sex that appeals only to your baser instincts.' – Jami Bernard, New York Post
'The film falls down simply because its three-million-dollar script is just a gimmick, an unfeeling house of cards which falls apart when the loopholes and logical flaws that sustain the ambiguous resolution come to light.' – Kim Newman, Sight and Sound
'An outrageous film, a great big rubbishy sort of popcorn Saturday night movie with bags of sex and violence, blokes being blokes and ice-cool blondes being just that, and even a couple of quite stupendous car chases thrown in just for old times' sake.' – Empire
Academy Award nomination Jerry Goldsmith; editing

'Everything interesting begins in the mind.'

Basic Instinct 2
US/Germany/GB 2006 114m DeLuxe
Entertainment/MGM/C2/Intermedia/IMF3 (Mario F. Kassar, Andrew G. Vajna, Joel B. Michaels)
A psychoanalyst is outwitted by his seductive and murderous patient.
An unerotic 'erotic thriller' with uncertain acting, a risible narrative and a performance from Sharon Stone that comes close to parodying Mae West.
w Leora Barish, Henry Bean d Michael Caton-Jones ph Gyula Pados m John Murphy pd Norman Garwood ed John Scott, Istvan Kiraly
☆ Sharon Stone (Catherine Tramell), David Morrissey (Dr Michael Glass), David Thewlis (Det Supt Roy Washburn), Charlotte Rampling (Dr Milena Gardosh), Hugh Dancy (Adam Towers)
'A disaster of the highest or perhaps lowest order.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times
'Fun, clever and hilarious... a ludicrously entertaining addition to the 'shrinks and shagging' genre.' – Linda Ruth Williams, Sight and Sound

'Someone With Everything.....Has Everything To Lose'

Basil
GB 1998 97m colour
Kushner Locke/IMEC/Showcareer (Radha Bharadwaj, Christian Slater)
In Victorian England, a clerk plans to ruin the wealthy upper-class family that brought about the death of his sister.
Wilkie Collins' early novel is turned into a melodramatic soap opera of love and betrayal, with little period feeling and, for the most part, indifferent performances.
wd Radha Bharadwaj novel Wilkie Collins ph David Johnson m Richard G. Mitchell pd James Merifield ed Craig Nisker
☆ Jared Leto (Basil), Christian Slater (John Mannion), Derek Jacobi (Father), Claire Forlani (Julia Sherwin), Rachel Pickup (Clara Fairfax), David Ross (Mr Sherwin)

Basil, The Great Mouse Detective: see The Great Mouse Detective

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'The Tenant In Room Seven Is Very Small, Very Twisted And Very Mad.'

Basket Case

US 1982 93m TVC Color
Alpha (Edgar Ievins)

Siamese twins, one a tiny, deformed creature, take revenge on the doctors who separated them.

Grisly, jokey, low-budget horror that gained a cult following.

wd Frank Henenlotter ph Bruce Torbet m Gus Russo ad Frederick Loren ed Frank Henenlotter

☆ Kevin Van Hentenryck, Terri Susan Smith, Beverly Bonner, Robert Vogel, Diana Browne, Lloyd Pace

Basket Case 2

US 1990 90m TVC Color
Medusa/Shapiro, Glickenhaus Entertainment/ Ievins-Henenlotter (Edgar Ievins)

Twins, one of them a deformed creature in a basket, take refuge in a community of freaks.

Tediously grotesque comedy.

wd Frank Henenlotter ph Robert M. Baldwin m Joe Renzetti pd Mitchael P. Moran ad Daniel Ouellette ed Kevin Tent

☆ Kevin Van Hentenryck, Judy Grafe, Annie Ross, Heather Rattray, Chad Brown, Beverly Bonner, Leonard Jackson, Alexandra Auder

'Henenlotter seems unsure whether to play his outré offerings for laughs, shocks or sympathy, and this remains an uncertain (and somewhat unnecessary) sequel to a sure-footed original.' – MFB

'It's Time To Build A Bigger Basket!'

Basket Case 3: The Progeny

US 1992 90m TVC Color
Shapiro, Glickenhaus (Edgar Ievins)

A deformed twin becomes a father of monsters, but has to battle to protect them from the forces of law and order.

The mixture much as before, only of interest to fans of cheap horror.

w Frank Henenlotter, Robert Martin d Frank Henenlotter ph Bob Paone m Joe Renzetti pd William Barclay ed Greg Sheldon sp creature effects: Gabe Bartalos, David Kindlon

☆ Annie Ross, Kevin Van Hentenryck, Dan Biggers, Gil Roper, Tina Louise Hilbert, James O'Doherty

'The flick's fast pace, perverse tone, clever dialog and suitably grotesque cartoon-styled gore make it a legit treat for frightcom fans.' – New York Daily News

'Henenlotter's mix of wild over-acting, cartoon color scheme and heavy-handed message regarding tolerance is tough to take for the uninitiated.' – Variety

'The true story of the death of innocence and the birth of an artist...'

The Basketball Diaries ★

US 1995 102m Technicolor
New Line/Island (Liz Heller)

A rebellious teenager at a Catholic school becomes a heroin addict, prostitute and thief.

The precocious Carroll's diaries might have once caused a minor sensation, but their attitudinizing romanticism has palled, and there is little of value to be found in the lower depths as depicted here, in a bio-pic that gives little indication of a specific time or place for its action.

w Brian Goluboff book Jim Carroll d Scott Kalvert ph David Phillips m Graeme Revell pd Christopher Nowak ed Dana Congdon

☆ Leonardo DiCaprio, Bruno Kirby, Lorraine Bracco, Ernie Hudson, Patrick McGaw, James Madio, Mark Wahlberg, Michael Rapaport

'It has lost its uniquely disturbing quality by being relocated by director Scott Kalvert in present-day New York, where the incidents are now simply a string of junkie clichés.' – Alexander Walker

† DiCaprio took over the leading role after River Phoenix died of a drug overdose.

Basquiat ★

US 1996 106m DuArt
Guild/Eleventh Street/Miramax (Jon Kilik, Randy Ostrow, Sigurjon Sighvatsson)

A graffiti artist gains a mainstream reputation, but succumbs to drug addiction.

Biopic of Jean-Michel Basquiat, who died in 1988 at the age of 27; it has its moments, yet the story is told in a cautious manner, and displays little insight into his extraordinary career and the environment which nurtured and, possibly, destroyed him.

wd Julian Schnabel story Lech Majewski, John Bowe ph Ron Fortunato m John Cale pd Dan Leigh ed Michael Berenbaum

☆ Jeffrey Wright, David Bowie (Andy Warhol), Dennis Hopper, Gary Oldman, Claire Forlani, Michael Wincott, Parker Posey, Elina Löwensohn, Willem Dafoe, Tatum O'Neal, Benicio Del Toro, Christopher Walken, Courtney Love, Paul Bartel

'Decently modest, though decidedly unexciting.' – Variety

† Basquiat's estate refused permission for his paintings to be used in the film. Those shown were painted by Schnabel.

'When it flies, someone dies!'

The Bat

US 1959 78m bw
AA/Liberty (C. J. Tevlin)

A lady mystery writer rents a spooky old house and finds herself and her guests at the mercy of a maniac in search of hidden loot.

Poor remake of a standard twenties stage thriller; everyone chews the scenery.

wd Crane Wilbur play Mary Roberts Rinehart ph Joseph Biroc m Louis Forbes

☆ Vincent Price, Agnes Moorehead, Gavin Gordon, John Sutton, Lenita Lane, Darla Hood

Bat 21 ★★

US 1988 105m DeLuxe
Tri-Star/Vision/Eagle (David Fisher, Gary A. Neill, Michael Balson)

In Vietnam an American pilot attempts to rescue a 53-year-old Air Force missile intelligence expert when he is shot down behind enemy lines.

Effective and suspenseful drama of the muddle and moral expediencies of war, based on a true story.

w William C. Anderson, George Gordon book William C. Anderson d Peter Markle ph Mark Irwin m Christopher Young pd Vincent Cresciman ed Stephen E. Rivkin

☆ Gene Hackman, Danny Glover, Jerry Reed, David Marshall Grant, Clayton Rohner, Erich Anderson, Joe Dorsey

'Greatest all talking thriller!'

The Bat Whispers ★★

US 1930 82m bw Magnifilm
UA (Roland West)

Classic early sound version of The Bat (qv) by the director of the 1926 silent version.

Excellent use of camera, sets, and unusual models.

wd Roland West ph Ray June, Robert Planck

☆ Chester Morris, Una Merkel, Chance Ward, Grayce Hampton, Maude Eburne, Spencer Charters, Gustav von Seyffertitz

† Originally released in a 'wide screen' process.

'The story America will never forget!'

Bataan ★

US 1943 114m bw
MGM (Irving Starr)

Thirteen soldiers holding a bridge against the Japanese die one by one.

Uncredited remake of The Lost Patrol (qv) transposed to the Pacific war, with stereotyped characters and much flagwaving. Very dated, but a big box-office film of its time, despite its studio jungles.

w Robert D. Andrews d Tay Garnett ph Sidney Wagner m Bronislau Kaper

☆ Robert Taylor, George Murphy, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan, Lee Bowman, Robert Walker, Desi Arnaz, Barry Nelson, Philip Terry

'Naïve, coarse-grained, primitive, honest, accomplished and true.' – James Agee

'One of the most convincing attempts I have ever seen to show a bit of hell on the screen.' – Observer

La Bataille du Rail ★★

France 1945 87m bw
CGCF

Reconstructions of heroic resistance work by the French railwaymen during World War II.

Reasonably compulsive documentary fiction which was plainly more inspiring at the time than it seems now.

wd René Clément ph Henri Alekan m Yves Baudrier

☆ Salina, Daurand, Lozach, Tony Laurent

'There is no lingering, no declaiming, no attempt to hide a certain volatile small boy's enjoyment of sabotage (an aspect of resistance never before touched upon), there is a natural unescapable dramatic tension and speed and perfect unostentatious playing by everybody.' – Richard Winnington

Bathing Beauty

US 1944 101m Technicolor
MGM (Jack Cummings)

A songwriter plans to retire and settle down, but his publisher schemes to set his fiancée against him.

Witless, artificial aqua-musical, with plenty of unpersuasive high jinks but no real style despite a capable cast.

w Dorothy Kingsley, Allen Boretz, Frank Waldman d George Sidney ph Harry Stradling m Johnny Green ch John Murray Anderson

☆ Esther Williams, Red Skelton, Basil Rathbone, Keenan Wynn, Ethel Smith, Xavier Cugat, Bill Goodwin

'I could not resist the wish that MGM had topped its aquatic climax – a huge pool full of girls, fountains and spouts of flame – by suddenly draining the tank and ending the show with the entire company writhing like goldfish on a rug.' – James Agee

♫ 'Faculty Row'; 'Tico Tico'; 'Echo of a Serenade'; 'I Cried for You'; 'Bim Bam Boom'; 'By the Waters of Minnetonka'; 'I've Got a Problem'; 'I'll Take the High Note'

Batman

US 1943 bw serial: 15 eps
Columbia

With the help of the Boy Wonder, the Caped Crusader battles an enemy underground ring led by Dr Daka.

Reasonably spirited romp marred by the usual tinpot sets.

d Lambert Hillyer

☆ Lewis Wilson, Douglas Croft, J. Carrol Naish, William Austin

† Batman and Robin (15 eps) followed in 1948, directed by Spencer Bennet. The leads were played by Robert Lowery and John Duncan: they combated The Wizard with the help of Lyle Talbot as the police commissioner.

Batman ★

US 1966 105m DeLuxe
TCF/Greenlawn/National Periodical Publications (William Dozier)

The cloaked avenger saves an important executive from the clutches of four of the world's most notorious criminals.

Glossy feature version of the old and new serials about the comic strip hero who scurries around in his Batmobile making sure that justice is done. The scriptwriter's invention unfortunately flags halfway, so that despite a fairly sharp production the result is more childish than camp.

w Lorenzo Semple Jnr d Leslie Martinson ph Howard Schwartz m Nelson Riddle

☆ Adam West, Burt Ward, Cesar Romero, Frank Gorshin, Burgess Meredith, Lee Meriwether, Alan Napier, Neil Hamilton

Batman ★★

US 1989 126m Technicolor
Warner (Jon Peters, Peter Guber)

A young boy who witnesses his parents' murder grows up to become Batman, a masked and emotionally disturbed vigilante who battles against an arch-criminal known as The Joker.

The campness of earlier versions of the comic-book hero gives way to a gloomier psychological interpretation that loses much of the fun of the original, while the brilliant production design, of a grim, grey Metropolis, overshadows all. Narrative is reduced to a succession of set-pieces.

w Sam Hamm, Warren Skaaren d Tim Burton ph Roger Pratt m Danny Elfman m/ly Prince, John L. Nelson pd Anton Furst ed Ray Lovejoy sp John Evans

☆ Michael Keaton, Jack Nicholson, Kim Basinger, Robert Wuhl, Pat Hingle, Billy Dee Williams, Michael Gough, Jack Palance, Jerry Hall

'A moderately entertaining fantasy, with good design, some strong performances and a desperate need of a script doctor.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Independent

♟ best art direction

Batman & Robin

US 1997 130m Technicolor
Warner (Peter Macgregor-Scott)

Batman thwarts the ambitions of Mr Freeze, a deformed scientist who has to acquire diamonds to survive.

The dullest of the series so far, gaudy but empty of emotional or narrative interest, and the action soon palls.
w Akiva Goldsman d Joel Schumacher ph Stephen Goldblatt m Elliot Goldenthal pd Barbara Ling ed Dennis Virkler sp John Dykstra
☆ George Clooney (Bruce Wayne/Batman), Arnold Schwarzenegger (Dr Victor Fries/Mr Freeze), Chris O'Donnell (Dick Grayson/Robin), Uma Thurman (Dr Pamela Isley/Poison Ivy), Alicia Silverstone (Barbara Wilson/Batgirl), Michael Gough (Alfred Pennyworth), Pat Hingle (Commissioner Gordon), John Glover (Dr Jason Woods), Elle Macpherson (Julie Madison), Vivica A. Fox (Ms B. Haven)
'A film which tries hard but seldom manages to be anything more than moderately entertaining.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'It's a pretty horrendous film.' – George Clooney
† The film grossed some $107m in the US and another $126m elsewhere.

Batman Begins ★★★ (7)

US 2005 140m Technicolor Panavision
Warner (Charles Roven, Emma Thomas, Larry Franco)
After seeing his parents killed by a mugger, a billionaire's son grows up determined to conquer his fears and rid his community of crime and corruption.
An edgy, brooding drama that covers familiar ground but does so in an original way, concentrating on the interior life of a superhero who lacks super powers. It contains a rare, mythic power in its ideological confrontation of Old Testament retribution and New Testament compassion.
w Christopher Nolan, David S. Goyer Comic Book DC Comics based upon Batman characters created by Bob Kane d Christopher Nolan ph Wally Pfister m Hans Zimmer, James Newton Howard pd Nathan Crowley ed Lee Smith
☆ Christian Bale (Bruce Wayne/Batman), Michael Caine (Alfred), Liam Neeson (Ducard), Katie Holmes (Rachel Dawes), Gary Oldman (Jim Gordon), Cillian Murphy (Dr Jonathan Crane), Tom Wilkinson (Carmine Falcone), Rutger Hauer (Thomas Wayne), Morgan Freeman (Lucius Fox), Gus Lewis (Bruce Wayne, age 8)
'This is at last the Batman movie I've been waiting for.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times
'Significantly grittier than previous Bat-beginnings, this finds new things to do with, and say about, a character who's been around since 1938.' – Kim Newman, Empire
'Too dark and talky to appeal to kids and won't inspire much repeat viewing.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
Wally Pfister

Batman Forever ★

US 1995 121m Technicolor
Warner (Tim Burton, Peter MacGregor-Scott)
With the aid of Robin, Batman battles against criminals Two Face and The Riddler while resisting the temptations of a female psychologist.
A high-camp sequel, with the tone set by the redesigned, ever-more fetishistic Batman costume, the arrival of Robin, and the unrestrained antics of The Riddler; it's fun for much of the time.
w Lee Batchler, Janet Scott Batchler, Akiva Goldsman d Joel Schumacher ph Stephen Goldblatt m Elliot Goldenthal pd Barbara Ling ed Dennis Virkler
☆ Val Kilmer (Batman), Tommy Lee Jones (Harvey Two-Face), Jim Carrey (The Riddler), Chris O'Donnell (Robin), Nicole Kidman, Michael Gough, Pat Hingle, Drew Barrymore, Rene Auberjonois
'It doesn't have much on its mind except emptying yours for two hours.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times
† The film took more than $333m at the box-office worldwide.
Stephen Goldblatt; sound; sound effect editing

Batman Returns ★★

US 1992 126m Technicolor
Warner (Denise Di Novi, Tim Burton)
Batman does battle with Catwoman and The Penguin.
More comic-strip story-telling, done as a succession of set pieces, with the towering design of the city and its sewers overshadowing the performances.
w Daniel Waters story Daniel Waters, Sam Hamm d Tim Burton ph Stefan Czapsky m Danny Elfman pd Bo Welch ed Chris Lebenzon, Bob Badami
☆ Michael Keaton, Danny DeVito, Michelle Pfeiffer, Christopher Walken, Michael Gough, Michael Murphy, Cristi Conaway, Pat Hingle
'Resembles nothing so much as a blacker, spikier but less focused version of a Disney animation feature made flesh.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'A blend of playful novelty and reassuring familiarity – a difficult mixture to get right.' – New Yorker
Visual effects; make-up

'They Will Suck You Dry!'

Bats

US 1999 91m Technicolor
Columbia TriStar/Destination (Brad Jenkel, Louise Rosner)
In Texas, Asian flying foxes escape from an experimental laboratory and turn local bats into clever, vicious killers.
Predictable monster movie that incorporates many of the usual clichés of the genre; efficiently made, the movie takes itself very seriously, apart from one squelching joke at the end.
w John Logan d Louis Morneau ph George Mooradian m Graeme Revell pd Philip J.C. Duffin ed Glenn Garland sp animatronics: KNB EFX; visual effects: Netter Digital cos Alexis Scott
☆ Lou Diamond Phillips (Emmett Kimsey), Dina Meyer (Dr Sheila Casper), Bob Gunton (Dr Alexander McCabe), Leon (Jimmy Sands), Carlos Jacott (Dr Tobe Hodge), David Shawn McConnell (Deputy Munn), Marcia Dangerfield (Mayor Branson), Oscar Rowland (Dr Swanbeck), Tim Whitaker (Quint)
'An unabashedly retrograde horror opus.' – Variety

La Battaglia di Algeri: see The Battle of Algiers

La Battaglia di El Alamein: see The Battle of El Alamein

La Battaglia di Maratona: see The Giant of Marathon

I Battellieri del Volga: see Prisoner of the Volga

Battement de Coeur ★★

France 1940 100m bw
Ciné Alliance/Osso
A poor Parisienne joins a school for pickpockets but falls for the ambassador she robs.
Amusing romance later remade in the US as Heartbeat (qv).
w Jean Villeme, Max Colpet, Michel Duran d Henri Decoin ☆ Danielle Darrieux, André Luguet, Claude Dauphin, Julien Carette, Saturnin Fabre
'Dauphin fails to rate in hero roles ... he lacks personality, is short of stature, and dresses like a bank clerk.' – Variety

Batteries Not Included

US 1987 106m DeLuxe
UIP/Universal (Ronald L. Schwary)
A Manhattan neighbourhood where everyone has problems is helped out by miniature flying saucers with angelic intentions.
Frank Capra would have done it much better.
w Matthew Robbins, Brad Bird, Brent Maddock, S. S. Wilson story Mick Garris d Matthew Robbins ph John McPherson m James Horner pd Ted Haworth ed Cynthia Scheider ☆ Hume Cronyn, Jessica Tandy, Frank McRae, Elizabeth Pena, Michael Carmine

'Forced by her husband to love another man ... to exchange her kisses for naval secrets!'

The Battle ★

France 1934 85m bw
Lionofilm (Leon Garganoff)
English language version aka: Thunder in the East, Hara Kiri
A Japanese aristocrat urges his wife to befriend an English naval attaché and steal secrets from him; she does, and falls in love.
Stagey but discreet melodrama of the old school, quite well made and acted.
w Nicolas Farkas, Bernard Zimmer, Robert Stevenson novel Claude Farrère d Nicolas Farkas ph Roger Hubert ☆ Charles Boyer, Merle Oberon, John Loder, Betty Stockfeld, Miles Mander Battle Beneath the Earth ★

GB 1967 92m Technicolor
MGM/Reynolds/Vetter (Charles Reynolds)
US title: Battle Beneath the Sea
Enemy agents burrow under the US by means of a giant laser.
Agreeable schoolboy science fiction with fair special effects.
w L. Z. Hargreaves d Montgomery Tully ph Kenneth Talbot m Ken Jones sp Tom Howard ☆ Kerwin Mathews, Viviane Ventura, Robert Ayres, Peter Arne, Martin Benson

Battle Beneath the Sea: see Battle Beneath the Earth

Battle Beyond the Stars ★

US 1980 104m Metrocolor
New World/Roger Corman (Ed Carlin)
A small planet hires help to repel invaders.
Impertinent and sometimes amusing space fiction rip-off of Seven Samurai (qv), with plenty of in-jokes and quite pleasant special effects.
w John Sayles d Jimmy T. Murakami ph Daniel Lacambre m James Horner ad Jim Cameron, Charles Breen
☆ Richard Thomas, Robert Vaughn, John Saxon, George Peppard, Sam Jaffe, Morgan Woodward, Darlanne Fluegel, Sybil Danning

Battle Circus

US 1952 90m bw
MGM (Pandro S. Berman)
A patriotic nurse and a disillusioned major fall in love at a mobile army hospital in Korea.
A flat, studio-bound potboiler with miscast stars, bound to provoke hilarity now as a serious version of M*A*S*H.
wd Richard Brooks ph John Alton m Lennie Hayton ☆ Humphrey Bogart, June Allyson, Keenan Wynn, Robert Keith, William Campbell
'It is disappointing that Brooks, whose early work ... suggested considerable promise, should have descended to such a glib, uninteresting piece of film-making.' – MFB

'The men who fought ... The women who waited. And the stolen moments they shared.'

Battle Cry

US 1955 148m Warnercolor Cinemascope
Warner (producer not credited)
During World War II, marines endure tough training before combat in Saipan; their sex lives come a close second to the war.
Interminable cheapie epic with both eyes on the box-office: the cast salvages an odd moment or two, but violence of all kinds is the key to the entertainment.
w Leon Uris novel Leon Uris d Raoul Walsh ph Sid Hickox m Max Steiner ad John Beckman ed William Ziegler ☆ Van Heflin, Aldo Ray, Mona Freeman, Dorothy Malone, Raymond Massey, Nancy Olson, James Whitmore, Tab Hunter, Anne Francis, William Campbell
Max Steiner

The Battle Cry of Peace ★

US 1915 120m approx bw silent
Blackton/VIT
Lost film in which New York was invaded by forces of apparently German origin.
It caused great political unrest and was followed by Thomas Ince's Civilisation which took the pacifist point of view.
w J. Stuart Blackton book Defenceless America by Hudson Maxim d Wilfred North ☆ Charles Richman, L. Rogers Lytton, Charles Kent, James Morrison

The Battle for Anzio: see Anzio

Battle for Music ★

GB 1943 87m bw
Strand Films (Donald Taylor)
The story of the wartime ups and downs of the London Philharmonic Orchestra.
Not many films feature a classical orchestra, and this simple tribute, a mediocre production at best, has considerable historical interest.
w St John L. Clowes d Donald Taylor
☆ Hay Petrie, Joss Ambler, Charles Carson, Jack Hylton, J. B. Priestley, Eileen Joyce, Moiseiwitch, Sir Adrian Boult, Sir Malcolm Sargent

Battle for Russia ★★★

US 1943 80m bw
US Army Signal Corps (Anatole Litvak)
Fifth of Frank Capra's Why We Fight documentaries, and like the others a brilliant compilation of carefully selected footage.

m Dimitri Tiomkin commentary Anthony Veiller

Battle for the Planet of the Apes

US 1973 86m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/APJAC (Frank Capra Jnr)

Following a nuclear war, apes are the only surviving leaders of society, but begin to fight among themselves.
Fifth and last in an increasingly confusing chronology, this is at least more thoughtful than violent.
w John William Corrington, Joyce Hooper Corrington d J. Lee-Thompson ph Richard H. Kline m Leonard Rosenman make-up John Chambers
☆ Roddy McDowall, Claude Akins, John Huston, Natalie Trundy, Severn Darden, Lew Ayres, Paul Williams
† See Planet of the Apes.

'Putting The 'Kill' Into Kilowatts!'
'It's Fuelled By Blood'

Battle Heater

Japan 1989 93m colour
Shochiku Fuji/Bandai/Amuse/CBS Sony (Ichiro Nitta)

An repairman takes home an electric table heater possessed by a carnivorous spirit.
Inept low-budget cult movie, a parody of horror movies marred by grotesque characters, over-emphatic acting and clumsy slapstick.
w Goro Nakajima, George.(Joji) Iida story Mikao Mutsuzuki, A. Z. Shimaka d George (Joji) Iida ph Nobumasa Mizunoo m Bakufu-Slump, Yukihiro Matsubara sp Nobuaki Koga
☆ Pappara Kawai (Furuchi), Akira Enomoto (Hama), Kaoru Okunuki (Kurumi), Shigeri Muroi (Hideko), Takayasu Komiya (Osamu), Senichi Ishii (Kurayami), Hisanori Ogura (Mannen)

Battle Hell: see Yangtse Incident

Battle Hymn

US 1957 108m Technicolor Cinemascope
U-I (Ross Hunter)

An American preacher with a guilt complex volunteers to help the South Koreans and after many adventures founds an orphanage.
Earnest, somnolent biopic of one Dean Hess; its mixture of drama, comedy, religion and war heroics is indigestible despite professional handling.
w Charles Grayson, Vincent B. Evans d Douglas Sirk ph Russell Metty m Frank Skinner ☆ Rock Hudson, Anna Kashfi, Dan Duryea, Don Defore, Martha Hyer, Jock Mahoney, James Edwards, Carl Benton Reid

'The film seems to infer that heroic self-sacrifice, a little homely Eastern philosophy and a capacity for combining battle experience with an awareness of spiritual values are enough to overcome all emergencies.' – John Gillett

'The Revolt That Stirred The World!'

The Battle of Algiers ★★★★

Algeria/Italy 1965 135m bw Casbah/Igor (Antonio Musi, Yacef Saadi)

original title: La Battaglia di Algeri

In 1954 Algiers, an ex-convict joins the terrorists in rebellion against the French government.
Politically oriented reconstruction of a bitter period of French colonial history, made better propaganda by its wealth of effective detail.
w Franco Solinas d Gillo Pontecorvo ph Marcello Gatti m Ennio Morricone, Gillo Pontecorvo pd Sergio Canevari ed Mario Morra, Mario Serandrei ☆ Brahim Haggiag (Ali La Pointe), Jean Martin (Colonel), Yacef Saadi (Kader), Tommaso Neri (Captain), Samia Kerbash (One of the Girls), Ugo Paletti (Captain)

'An astonishing piece of work in directorial technique processing to achieve not merely a newsreel tempo but a grainy realism unmatched by the average news film and all too rarely approached by even the better ventures into cinema verité. What is equally noteworthy is Pontecorvo's objectivity in showing both the exhilaration and the heart-break of a fight for liberation, with neither the oppressed nor the oppressor able to survive at ease with his conscience.' – Judith Crist

'Has any movie ever made a more concise and reasonable argument for the "low-intensity," low-resource warfare referred to by powerful nations as terrorism?' – Michael Atkinson, Village Voice

† The Region 2 DVD release includes an interview with Gillo Pontecorvo.
♙ best foreign film; Franco Solinas; Gillo Pontecorvo (as director)

The Battle of Austerlitz: see Austerlitz

Battle of Britain ★★★

US 1943 52m bw

Fourth of the Why We Fight series. (See Battle for Russia.)

'It will emerge as one of the vital documents depicting a people's courage when the torch of freedom flickered at its lowest.' – Variety

Battle of Britain ★

GB 1969 131m Technicolor Panavision
UA/Spitfire (Harry Saltzman, Ben Fisz)

Summer 1940: England defends itself against aerial onslaught.
Plodding attempt to cover an historic event from too many angles and with too many guest stars, all indistinguishable from each other when masked in the cockpit during the repetitive and interminable dogfight sequences. On the ground, things are even duller.
w James Kennaway, Wilfred Greatorex d Guy Hamilton ph Frederick A. Young m William Walton, Ron Goodwin
☆ Laurence Olivier (Dowding), Robert Shaw, Michael Caine, Christopher Plummer, Kenneth More, Susannah York, Trevor Howard, Ralph Richardson, Patrick Wymark, Curt Jurgens, Michael Redgrave, Nigel Patrick, Robert Flemyng, Edward Fox
† The film lost ten million dollars worldwide.

Battle of Broadway

US 1938 84m bw
TCF

Two American legionnaires at a New York convention try to break up the infatuation of their boss's son with a showgirl.
Amiably rowdy Flagg-and-Quirt imitation.
w Lou Breslow, John Patrick d George Marshall
☆ Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy, Gypsy Rose Lee, Raymond Walburn, Lynn Bari, Jane Darwell, Hattie McDaniel

'Flagg and Quirt shenanigans ... rowdy, good-natured fun.' – Variety

The Battle of City Hall: see The Angels Wash Their Faces

The Battle of El Alamein

Italy/France 1968 105m Eastmancolor Cromoscope
Zenith Cinematografica/Les Films Corona (Mino Loy, Luciano Martino)

original title: La Battaglia di El Alamein
aka: Desert Tanks

In June 1942 Italian troops, who have been ordered to beat their German allies to Alexandria, run into British resistance.
The North African campaign as seen from an Italian viewpoint: the Italian troops are gallant and courageous, the British foolish and treacherous, and the Germans coldly inhumane and equally treacherous.
w Ernesto Gastaldi, Remigio Del Grosso d Calvin Jackson Padget (Giorgio Ferroni) ph Sergio D'Offizi m Carlo Rustichelli ed Eugenio Alabiso
☆ Frederick Stafford, George Hilton, Michael Rennie (Field Marshal Montgomery), Robert Hossein (Rommel), Marco Guglielmi, Ettore Manni, Gérard Herter, Ira Furstenberg, Enrico Maria Salerno

'An ingenious attempt to whitewash Italy's military record in the last war and to justify her alliance with Germany as part of that lovable Mediterranean characteristic of being "too trusting".' – Jan Dawson, MFB

The Battle of Gallipoli: see Tell England

The Battle of Midway: see Midway

The Battle of Neretva

Yugoslavia/US/Italy/W. Germany 1969 106m colour Cinemascope
Jadran-Bosna

In 1943, Yugoslav partisans resist German and Italian invaders.
War spectacular with international cast; despite brilliant handling of the climaxes it didn't travel.
w Ugo Pirro and others d Veljko Bulajic
☆ Yul Brynner, Curt Jurgens, Sylva Koscina, Orson Welles, Hardy Kruger, Franco Nero
♙ best foreign film

Battle of Powder River: see Tomahawk

The Battle of the Bulge ★★

US 1965 167m Technicolor Ultra Panavision
Warner/United States Pictures (Sidney Harmon, Milton Sperling, Philip Yordan)

In December 1944, the Allies take longer than expected to win a land battle in the Ardennes because of a crack Nazi Panzer commander.
Bloody and unbowed war spectacle, quite literate and handsome but deafeningly noisy and with emphasis on strategy rather than character.
w Philip Yordan, Milton Sperling, John Melson d Ken Annakin ph Jack Hildyard m Benjamin Frankel
☆ Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw, Robert Ryan, Telly Savalas, Dana Andrews, George Montgomery, Ty Hardin, Pier Angeli, Barbara Werle, Charles Bronson, James MacArthur, Werner Peters

The Battle of the Century ★★

US 1927 20m bw silent
Hal Roach

The manager of an unsuccessful boxer accidentally starts a marathon pie fight.
The first reel is lost, but the pie sequence is what matters, being one of the most celebrated pieces of slapstick in cinema history.
w Hal Roach, H. M. Walker d Clyde Bruckman
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Eugene Pallette

Battle of the Coral Sea

US 1959 85m bw
Columbia (Charles H. Schneer)

During World War II a submarine commander, sent to photograph the Japanese fleet, is captured but escapes.
Routine, unconvincing war heroics.
w Dan Ullman, Stephen Kandel d Paul Wendkos
☆ Cliff Robertson, Gia Scala, Patricia Cutts

The Battle of the River Plate ★

GB 1956 119m Technicolor Vistavision
Rank/Powell and Pressburger

US title: Pursuit of the Graf Spee

Semi-documentary account of the 1939 trapping of the German pocket battleship Graf Spee in Montevideo Harbour, and of her subsequent scuttling.
A sympathetic view of a German hero, Commander Langsdorff (not unexpected from these producers), is the most notable feature of this disappointingly patchy and studio-bound war epic, with too many actors in ill-defined bit parts, too undisciplined a storyline, and too confusing scenes of battle.
wd Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger ph Christopher Challis m Brian Easdale
☆ John Gregson, Anthony Quayle, Peter Finch, Bernard Lee, Ian Hunter, Jack Gwillim, Lionel Murton, Anthony Bushell, Peter Illing

'It is difficult to understand how English film-makers can have done thus badly with material so apt to their gifts.' – Stanley Kauffmann

The Battle of the Sexes

US 1914 60m approx bw silent
Mutual/Reliance-Majestic

A wealthy middle-aged man is taken in by a fortune-hunting couple.
A commercial potboiler, made on the cheap but enormously successful.
wd D. W. Griffith play The Single Standard by Daniel Carson Goodman ph G. W. Bitzer
☆ Lillian Gish, Owen Moore, Mary Alden, Fay Tincher, Robert Harron
† In 1928 Griffith remade the property with Phyllis Haver, Jean Hersholt, Belle Bennett, Sally O'Neil and Don Alvarado.

The Battle of the Sexes ★

GB 1960 83m bw
Prometheus (Monja Danischewsky)

A lady efficiency expert upsets the even tenor of life at an Edinburgh tweed manufactory, and the chief accountant plans to eliminate her.
Sub-Ealing black comedy which tends to misfire despite effort all round.
w Monja Danischewsky story The Catbird Seat by James Thurber d Charles Crichton ph Freddie Francis m Stanley Black ☆ Peter Sellers, Constance Cummings, Robert Morley, Jameson Clark, Moultrie Kelsall, Alex Mackenzie, Roddy McMillan, Donald Pleasence, Ernest Thesiger

The Battle of the V1

GB 1958 109m bw
Criterion (George Maynard)
US titles: Unseen Heroes
aka: Missiles from Hell
Polish patriots sabotage the German rocket installation at Peenemünde.
Effective though schoolboyish war adventure shot on a low budget: story development reasonably brisk though predictable.
w Jack Hanley, Eryk Wlodek book Bernard Newman d Vernon Sewell ph Basil Emmott m Robert Sharples
☆ Michael Rennie, Patricia Medina, Milly Vitale, David Knight, Esmond Knight, Christopher Lee

The Battle of the Villa Fiorita

GB 1964 111m Technicolor Panavision
Warner (Delmer Daves)
US title: Affair at the Villa Fiorita
Two children aim to break up their mother's romance with an Italian concert pianist.
Quite lively, old-fashioned romantic comedy-drama largely set in a splendid Mediterranean villa; happy ending never in doubt.
wd Delmer Daves novel Rumer Godden ph Oswald Morris m Mischa Spoliansky ☆ Maureen O'Hara, Rossano Brazzi, Richard Todd, Phyllis Calvert, Olivia Hussey, Martin Stephens, Elizabeth Dear

'The Kids Definitely Aren't Alright!'
'Could You Kill Your Best Friend?'

Battle Royale ★★

Japan 2001 114m colour
Metro Tartan/Toei/Battle Royale (Masao Sato, Masumi Okada, Teruo Kamaya, Tetsu Kayama)
In the near future, a class of teenagers is chosen by lottery to be stranded on a remote island and given three days in which to kill one another until only one survives.
Bracing, violent, blackly humorous satire on the bleaker aspects of modern society that manages to be more than merely an excuse for a killing spree.
w Kenta Fukasaku novel Koshun Takami d Kinji Fukasaku ph Katsumi Yanagijima m Masamichi Amano pd Kyoko Heya ed Hirohide Abe ☆ Tatsuya Fujiwara (Shuya), Aki Maeda (Noriko), Taro Yamamoto (Kawada), Masanobu Ando (Kiriyama), Kou Shibasaki (Mitsuko), Chiaki Kuriyama (Chigusa), Beat Takeshi (Kitano)
'At heart a cruel, gripping gore-fest that offers sadistic entertainment.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times
'A film put together with remarkable confidence and flair. Its steely candour, and weird, passionate urgency make it compelling.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Battle Royale 2: Requiem

Japan 2003 132m colour
Toei/Fukasaku-Gumi/TV Asahi/Wowow/Gaga/Nippan/Tokyo FM/Sega (Kimio Kataoka/Hikaru Kawase)
original title: Batoru Rowaiaru II: Chinkonka
After the two survivors of the original battle declare war on adults, a team of schoolkids are recruited to storm the couple's island hideout and kill them.
Dull sequel that revels in adolescent self-pity and anguish before becoming an anti-imperialist tract.
w Kenta Fukasaku, Norio Kida d Kinji Fukasaku, Kenta Fukasaku ph Junichi Fujisawa m Kunio Ando pd Toshihiro Isomi ed Hirohide Abe ☆ Tatsuya Fujiwara (Shuya Nanahara), Ai Maeda (Shiori Kitano), Shugo Oshinari (Takuma Aoi), Ayana Sakai (Nao Asakura), Haruka Suenaga (Kazumi Fukada), Yuuma Ishigaki (Mitsugu Sakai), Beat Takeshi (Shiori's Father)
† Kinji Fukasaku directed only one day of shooting before dying of cancer.

Battle Stations

US 1956 81m bw
Columbia
Life on an aircraft carrier as seen by the padre.
Cliché-strewn, mini-budgeted war thriller.
w Crane Wilbur d Lewis Seiler
☆ John Lund, William Bendix, Keefe Brasselle, Richard Boone

Battle Stripe: see The Men

Battle Taxi

US 1954 82m bw
UA (Ivan Tors)
A newcomer to the helicopter rescue service in Korea resents his non-combatant status, but becomes a hero.
The story takes second place to one damned rescue after another in this lively but overlong second feature.
w Malvin Wald d Herbert L. Strock
☆ Sterling Hayden, Arthur Franz, Marshall Thompson

'Prepare To Go Psychlo'

Battlefield Earth

US 2000 117m colour
Warner/Morgan Creek/Franchise/JPT (Elie Samaha, Jonathan D. Krane, John Travolta)
A thousand years in the future, a human rebels against a race of giant aliens who control the Earth.
Asinine pulp science-fiction is treated with the utmost respect: the result is never less than ridiculous, from the aliens' appearance to the juvenile narrative.
w Corey Mandell, J. D. Shapiro novel L. Ron Hubbard d Roger Christian ph Giles Nuttgens m Elia Cmiral pd Patrick Tatopoulos ed Robin Russell cos Patrick Tatopoulos
☆ John Travolta (Terl), Barry Pepper (Jonnie Goodboy Tyler), Forest Whitaker (Ker), Kim Coates (Carlo), Richard Tyson (Robert the Fox), Sabine Karsenti (Chrissie), Michael Byrne (Parson Staffer), Sean Hewitt (Heywood), Michel Perron (Rock), Shaun Austin-Olsen (Planetship), Christian Tessler (Mickey), Kelly Preston (Chirk), Jim Meskimen (Blythe)
'Haplessly cliched dialogue, cardboard characters and dunderheaded plot logic...This may be the loudest actioner yet, challenging viewer tolerance with incessant sonic-boom footfalls, detonations, gunplay and screamed dialogue.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety
'Utterly, utterly dreadful.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times
† The film cost $73m to make, and took $21.5m at the US box office.

'The guts! The girls! The glory! of a lot of wonderful guys!'

Battleground ★

US 1949 118m bw
MGM (Dore Schary)
How a group of American soldiers in 1944 endured the Battle of the Bulge.
Enormously successful at the box-office, this studio-bound production now seems stilted and unpersuasive, despite some good writing and direction.
w Robert Pirosh d William Wellman ph Paul C. Vogel m Lennie Hayton ed John Dunning
☆ Van Johnson (Holley), John Hodiak (Jarvess), Ricardo Montalban (Roderigues), George Murphy (Pop Stazak), Marshall Thompson (Jim Layton), Jerome Courtland (Abner Spudler), Don Taylor (Standiferd), Bruce Cowling (Wolowicz), James Whitmore (Kinnie), Douglas Fowley ('Kipp' Kippton), Guy Anderson (Hansan), Richard Jaeckel (Bettis)
'Engrossingly well done.' – Richard Mallett, Punch
Robert Pirosh; Paul C. Vogel best picture; William Wellman; James Whitmore; editing

Battles of Chief Pontiac

US 1953 75m bw
Jack Broder
In the mid-18th century, peace talks with the Detroit Indians are sabotaged.
Slightly unusual but undistinguished slice of Western history.
w Jack de Witt d Felix E. Feist
☆ Lon Chaney Jnr, Lex Barker, Helen Westcott, Berry Kroeger, Roy Roberts

Battles Without Honour & Humanity ★

Japan 1973 100m colour
Toei original title: Jingi Naki Tatakai
In postwar Hiroshima, a crook attempts to remain true to the code of honour that is ignored by the rest of the yakuza gangs as they fight to exterminate one another.
Based on the prison diary of a yakuza, a tough, ironic portrayal of a time of social unrest and corruption. It also exposes the criminal gangs as mean-minded thugs, while exploiting the violence and brutality for the sake of sensation.
w Kazuo Kasahara story Koichi Iiboshi d Kinji Fukasaku ph Sadaji Yoshida m Toshiaki Tsushima ad Takatoshi Suzuki ☆ Bunta Sugawara (Shozo Hirono), Hiroki Matsukata (Tetsuya Sakai), Kunie Tanaka (Makihara), Tsunehiko Watase (Toshio Arita), Goro Ibuki (Ueda), Nobuko Kaneko (Yamamori), Eiko Nakamura
† The detail is sometimes not quite accurate: an American jeep bears the legend "Militaly Police".

The Battleship Potemkin ★★★★

USSR 1925 75m approx (16 fps) bw silent; sound version 65m
Goskino original title: Bronenosets Potemkin
A partly fictitious account of the mutiny at Odessa, an episode in the 1905 revolution. (The film was made as part of the 20th anniversary celebrations.)
A textbook cinema classic, and masterpiece of creative editing, especially in the famous Odessa Steps sequence in which innocent civilians are mown down in the bloodshed; the happenings of a minute are drawn into five by frenzied cross-cutting. The film contains 1,300 separate shots, and was judged the best film ever made in 1948 and 1958 by a panel of international judges.
wd Sergei Eisenstein ph Edouard Tissé, V. Popov ad Vasili Rakhals ed Sergei Eisenstein
☆ A. Antonov (Vakulinchuk), Grigori Alexandrov (Senior Officer Gilyarovsky), Vladimir Barsky (Commander Golikov), Aleksandr Levshin (Petty Officer), Ivan Bobrov (Humiliated Soldier), Mikhail Gomorov (Sailor Matyushenko)
'One of the fundamental landmarks of cinema.' – Roger Ebert
'Great as it undoubtedly is, it's not really a likable film; it's amazing, though – it keeps its freshness and excitement, even if you resist its cartoon message.' – Pauline Kael

Battlestar Galactica

US 1979 125m colour
Universal (John Dykstra)
A spaceship crew battles its way back towards Earth.
Cobbled together from episodes of an unsuccessful TV series, the movie resembles a space version of another TV series, Bonanza, and borrows heavily from Star Wars to little effect.
w Glen A. Larson d Richard A. Colla ph Ben Coleman m Stu Phillips, John E. Chilberg II ed Robert L. Kimble, Leon Ortiz-Gil, Larry Strong sp Apogee
☆ Richard Hatch, Dirk Benedict, Lorne Greene, Ray Milland, Lew Ayres, Jane Seymour, Wilfrid Hyde-White, John Colicos, Patrick Macnee

Battletruck

New Zealand 1981 94m colour
Battletruck Films (Lloyd Phillips, Rob Whitehouse)
aka: Warlords of the 21st Century
In the future, when civilization has been reduced to a few isolated communities, a lone hero on a motorbike battles a ruthless gang leader and his armoured truck.
A latter-day Western, full of gratuitous sadism, and no more than a pale shadow of Mad Max (qv).
w Irving Austin, Harley Cokliss, John Beech d Harley Cokliss ph Chris Menges m Kevin Peek pd Gary Hansen ed Michael Horton ☆ Michael Beck, Annie McEnroe, James Wainwright, Bruno Lawrence, John Bach, John Ratzenberger, Randolph Powell

Battling Bellhop: see Kid Galahad (1937)

Battling Butler ★

US 1926 68m approx (24 fps) bw
silent
MGM (Joseph M. Schenck)
A young millionaire pretends to be a boxer in order to win a sweetheart.
Middling star comedy.
w Al Boasberg, Charles Smith, Paul Gerard Smith, Lex Neal d Buster Keaton ph J. Devereux Jennings, Bert Haines
☆ Buster Keaton, Sally O'Neil

The Bawdy Adventures of Tom Jones

GB 1976 94m Technicolor
Universal/Robert Sadoff
See Tom Jones, of which this is a musical version.
Not quite as bad as one would expect, but not up to the original.
w Jeremy Lloyd play Don McPherson d Cliff Owen ph Douglas Slocombe m Ron Grainer m/ly Paul Holden
☆ Nicky Henson, Trevor Howard, Terry-Thomas, Arthur Lowe, Georgia Brown, Joan Collins, William Mervyn, Murray Melvin, Geraldine McEwan, Michael Bates, James Hayter, Isabel Dean, Gladys Henson

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'A cheap, crude, sexed-up rehash with only three actual musical numbers ... more boring than bawdy.' – Kevin Thomas, Los Angeles Times

Baxter ★

GB 1972 100m Technicolor
EMI/Performing Arts (Arthur Lewis)

An American son of divorced parents comes to London with his mother, meets tragedy in the shape of a friend's death, and responds to treatment for a speech defect.

Slight, appealing case history of a maladjusted 12-year-old; a rather unnecessarily uncommercial slice of life with no easy solution offered.

w Reginald Rose d Lionel Jeffries ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Michael J. Lewis ad Anthony Pratt ed Teddy Darvas

☆ Patricia Neal (Dr Clemm), Scott Jacoby (Robert Baxter), Britt Ekland (Chris Bentley), Jean-Pierre Cassel (Roger Tunnell), Lynn Carlin (Mrs Baxter), Paul Eddington (Mr Rawling), Sally Thomsett (Nemo), Paul Maxwell (Mr Baxter)

'A romantic comedy for anyone who's ever been dumped.'

The Baxter ③

US 2005 91m colour
MGM/IFC Films/Plum Pictures (Daniela Taplin Lundberg, Galt Niederhoffer, Celine Rattray, Reagan Silber)

One of life's losers eventually finds love.

A comedy about the socially inept that parodies the screwball style of the 1940s, but simply isn't funny enough to cause more than the occasional smile.

wd Michael Showalter ph Tim Orr m Theodore Shapiro, Craig Wedren pd Mark White ed Jacob Craycroft, Sarah Flack

☆ Michael Showalter (Elliot Sherman), Elizabeth Banks (Caroline Swann), Michelle Williams (Cecil Mills), Justin Theroux (Bradley Lake), Zak Orth (Wendall Wimms)

'Aspires to low-key, and it achieves that goal in spades.' – John Anderson, Variety

The Bay Boy

Canada/France 1984 101m colour
Rank/Hachette Fox/Antenne 2/A2/CTV/HBO/Orion (John Kemeny, Denis Héroux)

In 1937 Nova Scotia, a 16-year-old boy is distracted by real-life problems from his supposed vocation as a priest.

Doleful, weatherbeaten slice of autobiography which remains of interest only to those who know the country and the people.

wd Daniel Petrie ph Claude Agostini m Claude Bolling pd Wolf Kroeger ed Susan Shanks

☆ Liv Ullmann, Kiefer Sutherland, Peter Donat, Alan Scarfe, Chris Wiggins

Bay of Angels: see La Baie des Anges

'The first motion picture to require a face-to-face warning. May be the last shock film you will ever want to see!'

A Bay of Blood (dubbed)

Italy 1971 90m colour
Nuovo Linea (Giuseppe Zaccariello)

original title: Ecologia del Delitto aka: Antefatto; Bloodbath Bay of Blood; Carnage; Last House on the Left Part II; Twitch of the Death Nerve

In a struggle to gain control of a beautiful bay ripe for development, thirteen people are murdered.

There's not much narrative in this movie, which is more an exercise in thinking up inventive ways for people to die, with each victim killed by a different means. It is original, in that there are multiple killers at work, as each murderer becomes a victim in turn, and it is done with some style and a heavy irony.

w Mario Bava, Joseph McLee (Giuseppe Zaccariello), Filippo Ottoni story Dardano Sacchetti, Franco Barberi d Mario Bava ph Mario Bava m Stelvio Cipriani ad Sergio Canevari ed Carlo Realy

☆ Claudine Auger, Luigi Pistilli, Claudio Volonte, Anna M. Rosati, Chris Avram, Leopoldo Trieste, Laura Betti, Brigitte Skay, Isa Miranda

† The British video release runs for 81m. When it was first shown in America, as a gimmick ticket-holders had to pass through a 'final warning station' before being allowed to see the film.

Be Big ★

US 1931 20m bw
Hal Roach

Ollie feigns illness to avoid a trip with his wife, but Stan's help proves disastrous.

Comedy warm-up for Sons of the Desert (qv); Ollie spends most of the second reel trying to rid himself of a tight boot.

w H. M. Walker d James Parrott

☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Anita Garvin, Isabelle Keith

'Everyone is looking for the next big hit.'

Be Cool

US 2005 119m colour Panavision
MGM/Jersey Films/Double Feature (Danny DeVito, Michael Shamberg, Stacey Sher, David Nicksay)

Tiring of the film business, a producer becomes involved with launching a new singer and finds himself involved with gangsters, mayhem and murder.

A palpable miss, a movie so lazy and laid back it falls over; there are none of those insights into nefarious practices that made Get Shorty so enjoyable.

w Peter Steinfeld novel Elmore Leonard d F. Gary Gray ph Jeffrey L. Kimball m John Powell pd Michael Corenblith ed Sheldon Kahn, Christopher Rouse

☆ John Travolta (Chili Palmer), Uma Thurman (Edie Athens), Vince Vaughn (Raji), Cedric the Entertainer (Sin LaSalle), Andre Benjamin (Dabu), Steven Tyler (Himself), Robert Pastorelli (Joe Loop), Harvey Keitel (Nick Carr), The Rock (Elliot Wilhelm), Danny DeVito (Martin Weir), James Woods (Tommy Athens), Christina Milian (Linda Moon)

'This may be the worst-timed farce I've ever seen: Slapstick shootings and clownish showdowns turn sour in nanoseconds.' – Michael Sragow, Baltimore Sun

'Unrelentingly, gut-wrenchingly, absurdly awful.' – David Edwards, Daily Mirror

'Somewhere on this planet it must exist.'

The Beach ★

US 2000 120m Technicolor 'Scope
TCF/Figment (Andrew Macdonald)

An American backpacker discovers that the rumour is true of a hippy community living by a perfect beach on a remote Thailand island.

Fitfully engaging tale of an expulsion from paradise, hampered by being too obviously fitted around the requirements of its star.

w John Hodge novel Alex Garland d Danny Boyle ph Darius Khondji m Angelo Badalamenti pd Andrew McAlpine ed Masahiro Hirakubo

☆ Leonardo DiCaprio (Richard), Tilda Swinton (Sal), Virginie Ledoyen (Francoise), Guillaume Canet (Etienne), Paterson Joseph (Keaty), Robert Carlyle (Daffy), Peter Youngblood Hills (Zeph), Jerry Swindall (Sammy), Lars Arentz Hansen (Bugs)

'Not a terrible movie. just an insubstantial one. All of Mr DiCaprio's charisma and the director's savvy are used to divert us from the fact that there's not much going on.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

Beach Blanket Bingo

US 1965 98m Pathécolor Panavision
Orion/AIP (James H. Nicholson, Samuel Z. Arkoff)

Teenage surfers become involved with a publicity man organizing a series of stunts to make a star of a new singer.

It has sea, surf, sand, slapstick, sky-diving, a mermaid and a little cynicism, making fun of youth-oriented pop while at the same time celebrating it; possibly the best of its imperturbably bland genre.

w William Asher, Leo Townsend d William Asher ph Floyd Crosby m Les Baxter ch Jack Baker ad Howard Campbell ed Fred Feitshans, Eve Newman

☆ Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Deborah Walley, Harvey Lembeck, John Ashley, Jody McCrea, Donna Loren, Marta Kristen, Linda Evans, Timothy Carey, Paul Lynde, Don Rickles, Buster Keaton, Earl Wilson

† The fifth in AIP's beach movies, it was followed by How to Stuff a Wild Bikini (qv).

The Beach Girls and the Monster

US 1966 70m bw
Edward Janis/Films

An oceanographer finds something very strange emerging from the waters of Waikiki Beach.

Elementary horror flick which fails to scare and is only notable for the re-emergence of its star.

w Joan Gardner d Jon Hall

☆ Jon Hall, Sue Casey, Walker Edmiston, Arnold Lessing

Beach House

US 1982 76m TVC Color
New Line/Galaxy Industries (Marino Amoruso)

Teenagers congregate in Ocean City to indulge in banal dialogue, stupid pranks, dull sex and duller rock.

Garish, jejune, indifferently acted and directed attempt at a comedy that even the youth of its participants cannot excuse.

d John Gallagher ph Peter Stein m C. P. Roth m/ly Adam Roth ed Victor Kanefsky, John Bloomgarden

☆ Ileana Seidel, Richard Duggan, Kathy McNeil, John Cosola, Marino Amoruso, Spence Waugh, Paul Anderson, Adam Roth

The Beach of Lost Children

Mali 1991 88m colour
Paris Plage/Herakles (Mohamed Abderrahman Tazi)

aka: La Plage des Enfants Perdus

A father hides away his simple-minded daughter when he discovers that she is pregnant by a local taxi driver.

Leaden and curiously inert treatment of a dramatic story.

wd Jillali Ferhati ph Gilberto Azevedo, Jacques Besse m Djamel Allam ad Abdelkrim Akkelach ed Natalie Perrey

☆ Souad Ferhati, Mohamed Timod, Fatima Loukili, Larbi El Yacoubi, Nezha Zakaria, Mohamed Larbi Khazzan, Safia Ziani

Beach Party ★

US 1963 104m Pathécolor Panavision
AIP/Alta Vista (James H. Nicholson, Lou Rusoff)

An anthropologist sets up house on a California beach to study the mating habits of young people but becomes personally involved when one of them falls for him.

Vaguely satirical pop musical with relaxed performances; quite tolerable in itself, it started an excruciating trend.

w Lou Rusoff d William Asher ph Kay Norton m Les Baxter ad Daniel Haller ed Homer Powell

☆ Bob Cummings, Dorothy Malone, Annette Funicello, Frankie Avalon, Vincent Price, Harvey Lembeck, Morey Amsterdam, Jody McCrea

Beach Red ★

US 1967 105m Technicolor
UA/Theodora (Cornel Wilde)

In 1943, American assault craft take a Japanese-held Pacific island.

Brutal, pacifist war film, simply and clearly portrayed but not exactly entertaining.

w Clint Johnston, Donald A. Peters, Jefferson Pascal d Cornel Wilde ph Cecil R. Cooney m Antonio Buenaventura

☆ Cornel Wilde, Rip Torn, Burr de Benning, Jean Wallace

The Beachcomber: see Vessel of Wrath (1938)

The Beachcomber ★

GB 1954 90m Technicolor
GFD/London Independent (William MacQuitty)

An alcoholic ne'er-do-well in the Dutch East Indies reforms after an unexpected adventure with a lady missionary.

Styleless remake of Vessel of Wrath (qv); the acting just about holds the interest, but all other contributions are flat.

w Sydney Box story Somerset Maugham d Muriel Box ph Reg Wyer m Francis Chagrin

☆ Robert Newton, Glynis Johns, Donald Sinden, Paul Rogers, Donald Pleasence, Walter Crisham, Michael Hordern, Ronald Lewis

Beaches ★

US 1988 123m Metrocolor
Warner/Touchstone/An All Girl Production (Bonnie Bruckheimer-Martell, Bette Midler, Margaret Jennings South)

A singer visits her dying friend, a lawyer, and recalls their long and volatile friendship.

In another age, this sentimental feminist weepie would have been classified as a woman's picture, though Midler's singing gives it a wider appeal.

w Mary Agnes Donoghue novel Iris Rainer Dart d Garry Marshall ph Dante Spinotti m Georges Delerue pd Albert Brenner ad Garrett Lewis ed Richard Halsey

☆ Bette Midler, Barbara Hershey, John Heard, Spalding Gray, Lainie Kazan, James Read, Grace Johnston, Mayim Bialik, Marcie Leeds

best art direction

The Beads of One Rosary ★

Poland 1979 116m colour
Cinegate/PRF-Zespol Filmowy original title: Paciorki Jednego Różańca

A retired miner and his wife defy attempts by property developers to demolish their cottage.

There is something of the charm of an Ealing comedy in this tale of a little man standing up to bureaucratic pressures.

wd Kazimierz Kutz ph Wieslaw Zdort m Wojciech Kilar ad Andrzej Plocki, Miroslaw Krelik ed Jozef Bartczak

☆ Augustyn Halotta, Marta Straszna, Ewa Wiśniewska, Franciszek Pieczka

'The Ultimate Disaster Movie'

Bean ★ (4)

GB 1997 90m colour
Polygram/Working Title/Tiger Aspect (Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner, Peter Bennett-Jones)

An accident-prone attendant at London's Royal National Gallery accompanies Whistler's Mother to America.

Slapstick farce of embarrassment, based on a highly successful television series; it features one of the least likeable and most mean-spirited of comic creations.

w Richard Curtis, Robin Driscoll, Rowan Atkinson d Mel Smith ph Francis Kenny m Howard Goodall pd Peter Larkin ed Chris Blunden

☆ Rowan Atkinson, Peter MacNicol, Pamela Reed, Harris Yulin, Burt Reynolds, John Mills, Richard Gant, Tricia Vessey, Andrew Lawrence, Peter Egan, Peter Capaldi

'Not only consistently entertaining, but frequently laugh-out-loud funny.' – Caroline Westbrook, Empire

'The ultimate movie disaster.' – Mike Higgins, Independent

† The film cost £17m and grossed around $45m in the US, and another $172m elsewhere.

The Bear ★★

France 1989 98m Eastmancolor Panavision
Tri-Star/Renn/Price Entertainment (Claude Berri)

An orphaned bear cub tries to cope with life in the wild.

Charming film, told from the bear's point of view, with natural sounds substituting for dialogue.

w Gérard Brach novel The Grizzly King by James Oliver Curwood d Jean-Jacques Annaud ph Philippe Rousselot m Philippe Sarde pd Toni Ludi ed Noelle Boisson

☆ Bart, Youk, Jack Wallace, Tcheky Karyo, André Lacombe

♗ best film editing

Bear Country: see The Living Desert

'Below freezing and beyond fear ... will anyone survive its terror?'

Bear Island

GB/Canada 1979 118m colour
Panavision
Columbia/Bear Island/Selkirk (Peter Snell)

Meteorological experts on an Arctic island are menaced by neo-Nazis.

Highly implausible adventure yarn, indifferently presented.

w David Butler, Don Sharp, Murray Smith novel Alistair MacLean d Don Sharp ph Alan Hume m Robert Farnon pd Harry Pottle ed Eric Boyd Perkins

☆ Vanessa Redgrave (Heddi Lindquest), Donald Sutherland (Frank Lansing), Richard Widmark (Otto Gerran), Christopher Lee (Lechinski), Barbara Parkins (Judith Rubin), Lloyd Bridges (Smithy), Lawrence Dane (Paul Hartman), Patricia Collins (Inge Van Zipper), Michael Reynolds (Heyter), Nicholas Courtland (Jungbeck)

The Bears and I

US 1974 89m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Winston Hibler)

An army veteran goes to live near an Indian settlement and adopts three bear cubs, later becoming a Park Ranger.

Simple, pleasing outdoor family film.

w John Whedon novel Robert Franklin Leslie d Bernard McEveety ph Ted D. Landon m Buddy Baker

☆ Patrick Wayne, Chief Dan George, Andrew Duggan, Michael Ansara

'War brings out the beast in every man.'

The Beast

US 1988 109m colour
Columbia/A&M (John Fiedler)

aka: The Beast of War

In 1981 in Afghanistan a Russian soldier turns rebel after he is left to die by his brutal comrades, who are trying to reach safety with their tank while being attacked by Afghan guerrillas.

Dull, violent, unilluminating war movie, conducted on a pitch of hysteria.

w William Mastrosimone play Nanawatai by William Mastrosimone d Kevin Reynolds ph Douglas Milsome m Mark Isham ad Richard James

☆ George Dzundza, Jason Patric, Steven Bauer, Stephen Baldwin, Don Harvey, Erick Avari, Kabir Bedi

'This superior war movie effortlessly fuses the moral complexity of scriptwriter William Mastrosimone's original stage play with the visual spectacle and narrative drive of a full-blown cinema feature.' – Time Out

'A Thrill-Story Beyond All Imagining!'
'King of Prehistoric Sea Giants ... Raging Up From The Bottom of Time!'

The Beast from 20,000 Fathoms

US 1953 80m bw
Warner (Hal Chester, Jack Dietz)

Heat generated by an atomic bomb test in the Arctic thaws out a prehistoric rhedosaurus which travels down the American coast to cause havoc in New York until cornered and destroyed on Coney Island.

Flat-footed, though influential, addition to the monster cycle, with an interminable wait for the beast's appearance and inferior trick work when he goes on the rampage.

w Lou Morheim, Fred Freiberger d Eugène Lourié ph Jack Russell m David Buttolph sp Ray Harryhausen

☆ Paul Christian, Paula Raymond, Cecil Kellaway, Kenneth Tobey, Donald Woods, Lee Van Cleef

The Beast in the Cellar

GB 1970 87m Eastmancolor
Tigon-Leander (Tony Tenser, Graham Harris)

A rampaging killer in the Lancashire woods turns out to be the deranged ex-soldier brother of two elderly spinsters who have kept him locked up for thirty years.

Idiotically boring farrago, totally lacking in suspense and wasting good talent.

wd James Kelly ph Harry Waxman, Desmond Dickinson m Tony Macaulay

☆ Flora Robson, Beryl Reid, Tessa Wyatt, John Hamill, T. P. McKenna

The Beast Must Die: see Que la Bête Meure (1969)

The Beast Must Die ★

GB 1974 93m Technicolor
BL/Amicus (Milton Subotsky)

aka: Black Werewolf

A millionaire big game hunter holds a weekend party to track down a werewolf, but his guest list rapidly gets smaller...

A savage variation on Ten Little Indians (qv), not badly done, with such gimmicks as a 'guess who' break near the end.

w Michael Winder story James Blish d Paul Annett ph Jack Hildyard m Douglas Gamley

☆ Calvin Lockhart, Peter Cushing, Charles Gray, Anton Diffring, Marlene Clark, Ciaran Madden, Michael Gambon

The Beast of Hollow Mountain

US/Mexico 1956 78m DeLuxe Cinemascope/Regiscope
UA/Peliculas Rodriguez (William and Edward Nassour)

An American rancher in Mexico has to deal with a jealous rival and a rampaging tyrannosaurus rex.

Uneasy mix of routine cowboy movie and substandard science fiction.

w Robert Hill, Jack DeWitt story Willis O'Brien d Edward Nassour, Ismael Rodriguez ph Jorge Stahl Jnr m Raul Lavista ed Holbrook Todd, Maury Wright

☆ Guy Madison, Patricia Medina, Carlos Rivas, Edward Noriega, Julio Villareal, Mario Novarro

'It should rack up handsome returns for its producers and provide moppet audiences particularly with edge-of-the-seat entertainment during its fantasy sequences.' – Variety

† The Regiscope system promised 'animation in depth', but its stop motion effects with fuzzy back projection are comic rather than horrific. The central notion of this first science-fiction Western turned up again in Valley of Gwangi (qv).

Beast of Morocco: see The Hand of Night

Beast of the City

US 1932 80m bw
MGM

A police captain is determined to get a ruthless racketeer by fair means or foul.

Curiously dour little crime melodrama with a high death rate; the cast does not quite save it.

w John Lee Mahin story W. R. Burnett d Charles Brabin ph Barney McGill

☆ Walter Huston, Jean Harlow, Wallace Ford, Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Peterson, Tully Marshall, John Miljan

'A gang story for rural and home circle consumption, preaching the gospel of civic righteousness and the glory of steadfast purpose. Aiming at domestic patronage, they even make Miss Harlow keep her skirts down.' – Variety

'Endowed with vitality and realism.' – New York Times

The Beast of War: see The Beast

The Beast with a Million Eyes

US 1955 84m bw
San Matteo/AIP

A malicious space creature lands in the desert but is defeated by human love.

Semi-professional would-be horror story, on a level with the Corman horrors of the period.

w Tom Filer d David Karmansky

☆ Paul Birch, Lorna Thayer, Dick Sargent

The Beast with Five Fingers ★

US 1946 88m bw
Warner (William Jacobs)

A famous pianist dies and his severed hand returns to commit murder.

Slow-moving, Italian-set horror thriller which wastes an excellent original; a superb central performance and clever trick effects can hardly redeem the stodgy script or the ending which reveals the hauntings as a hallucination.

w Curt Siodmak story W. F. Harvey d Robert Florey ph Wesley Anderson m Max Steiner

☆ Peter Lorre, Andrea King, Robert Alda, J. Carrol Naish, Victor Francen, Charles Dingle

Beastcops

Hong Kong 1998 108m colour
Media Asia/People's Production (F.K. Ma, John Chong)

original title: Yeshou Xingling

Two mismatched cops become involved with girls and gangsters when the Triad boss leaves town.

Violent thriller with some bloody fight scenes and a lot of desultory action as the two cops become buddies.

w Chan Hing-kai, Gordon Chan d Gordon Chan ph Tony Cheung m T2 ad Alfred Yau ed Chan Ki-hop

☆ Michael Fitzgerald Wong (Michael Cheung), Anthony Wong (Tung), Kathy Chau (Yoyo), Roy Cheung (Big Brother), Sam Lee (Sam)

'High on testosterone, but short on lyricism or humour.' – Sight and Sound

† It was voted Best Film at the Hong Kong Film Awards in 1999.

The Beastmaster

US 1982 118m colour
EMI/Ecta/Leisure Investments (Paul Pepperman, Sylvio Tabet)

A royal child, stolen at birth by a witch, is rescued by a peasant who brings him up skilled in the martial arts.

Comic strip sword and sorcery: fairly high budget but very low intelligence.

w Don Coscarelli, Paul Pepperman d Don Coscarelli ph John Alcott m Lee Holdridge pd Conrad E. Angone ed Roy Watts

☆ Marc Singer, Tanya Roberts, Rip Torn, John Amos, Rod Loomis

Beastmaster II: Through the Portals of Time

US 1991 107m CFI color
Republic/Films 21 (Sylvio Tabet)

A mythical warrior and his animal friends are transported through time to present-day Los Angeles to battle against his evil brother.

More comic-strip sword and sorcery: very low budget, even lower intelligence.

w R. J. Robertson, Jim Wynorski, Sylvio Tabet, Ken Hauser, Doug Miles novel The Beastmaster by André Norton d Sylvio Tabet ph Ronn Schmid m Robert Folk pd Allen Jones ed Adam Bernardi

☆ Marc Singer, Kari Wuhrer, Wings Hauser, Sarah Douglas, Charles Young

'A legendary hero. A battle beyond imagination.'

Beastmaster III: The Eye of Braxus

US 1995 92m colour
MCA (Stu Segall, Sylvio Tabet, David Wise)

The Beastmaster battles against an evil tyrant who plans to rule the world by summoning an ancient god.
Feeble low-budget fantasy with a risible demon and more bad acting, even from the animals, than any dozen other B movies.
w David Wise d Gabrielle Beaumont ph Michael J. Davis m Jan Hammer pd Nigel Clinker ed Ken Bornstein
☆ Marc Singer (Dar), David Warner (Lord Agon), Lesley-Anne Down (Morgana), Tony Todd (Seth), Casper Van Dien (King Tal), Keith Coulouris (Bey), Sandra Hess (Shada), Patrick Kilpatrick (Jaggart)

'Ineptly directed but that's part of its charm.' – Sight and Sound

The Beat Generation

US 1959 95m bw Cinemascope
Albert Zugsmith

aka: This Rebel Age

A vicious rapist joins the beatniks.
Bankrupt exploitation melodrama, not easy to sit through.
w Richard Matheson, Lewis Meltzer d Charles Haas ph Walter H. Castle m Albert Glasser
☆ Ray Danton, Steve Cochran, Fay Spain, Mamie Van Doren, Jackie Coogan, Louis Armstrong, Maggie Hayes, Jim Mitchum, Irish McCalla, Maxie Rosenbloom

'An enervating mixture of slapstick, religiosity, psychological hokum and grubby sensationalism.' – MFB

'Beat' Girl

GB 1960 85m bw
Renown

US title: Wild for Kicks

An architect's teenage daughter goes to the dogs.
Risible exposé-style melodrama.
w Dail Ambler d Edmond T. Gréville ph Walter Lassally m John Barry ☆ David Farrar, Noelle Adam, Christopher Lee, Gillian Hills, Adam Faith, Peter McEnery, Nigel Green

Beat Street

US 1984 106m DeLuxe Movielab
Orion (David V. Picker, Harry Belafonte)

An aspiring DJ from South Bronx has trouble getting into showbiz.
For teenagers only; a rehash of Saturday Night Fever (qv) applied to the new fad of break-dancing.
w Andy Davis, David Gilbert, Paul Golding d Stan Lathan ph Tom Priestley m Harry Belafonte pd Patrizia von Brandenstein ed Dov Hoenig
☆ Rae Dawn Chong, Guy Davis, Jon Chardiet, Leon W. Grant, Saundra Santiago

The Beat That My Heart Skipped

★★ ⑦

France 2005 107m colour
Why Not Prods/Sedif/France 3 (Pascal Caucheteux)

original title: De Battre Mon Coeur S'est Arrêté

A young man cannot decide between working as a thuggish property developer, like his father, or becoming a concert pianist, like his mother.
Much lauded Oedipal drama that never quite convinces, despite its edgy tone.
w Jacques Audiard, Tonino Benacquista film Fingers by James Toback d Jacques Audiard ph Stéphane Fontaine m Alexandre Desplat pd François Emmanuelli ed Juliette Welfling
☆ Romain Duris (Tom), Niels Arestrup (Robert), Linh-Dan Pham (Miao-Lin), Aure Atika (Aline), Emmanuelle Devos (Chris), Jonathan Zaccai (Fabrice)

'The film sweats to be up-to-date with ultra-hectic editing, pace, elision, and sangfroid, but they can't verify the pasteboard base.' – Stanley Kauffmann, New Republic

'There will be violence, some ugly enough to make your heart skip, and sex that might do the same. Mostly, though, there will be beautiful images, strong emotions and the joy found watching a movie aimed straight at the heart and head.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times

⑦ foreign film

'Adventure at its boldest! Bogart at his best!'

Beat the Devil ★

GB 1953 100m bw
Romulus/Santana (Jack Clayton)

In a small Mediterranean port, and subsequently on a boat bound for the African coast, oddly assorted travellers plan to acquire land known to contain uranium deposits. Unsatisfactory, over-talkative and inconsequential burlesque of the director's own The Maltese Falcon and Across the Pacific (qqv).
Good fun was obviously had by the cast, but audiences were mostly baffled by the in-jokes, the extra-strange characters, and the lack of attention to pace, suspense and plot development.
w Truman Capote, John Huston novel James Helvick d John Huston ph Oswald Morris m Franco Mannino
☆ Humphrey Bogart (Billy Dannreuther), Jennifer Jones (Gwendolen Chelm), Gina Lollobrigida (Maria Dannreuther), Edward Underdown (Harry Chelm), Peter Lorre (O'Hara), Robert Morley (Petersen), Ivor Barnard (Major Ross), Bernard Lee (Inspector), Marco Tulli (Ravello)
GWENDOLEN: 'Harry, we must beware of these men. They're desperate characters. Not one of them looked at my legs.'
DANNREUTHER: 'Trouble with England, it's all pomp and no circumstance. You're very wise to get out of it, escape while you can.'
O'HARA: 'Time! Time! What is time? The Swiss manufacture it. The French hoard it. Italians want it. Americans say it is money. Hindus say it does not exist. Do you know what I say? I say time is a crook.'

'A potential treat emerged as a wet firecracker ... the incidents remain on a naggingly arch and lagging verbal keel.' – New York Times

'Each of its cinematic clichés appears to be placed in the very faintest of mocking quotation marks.' – Time

'Only the phonies liked it. It's a mess!' – Humphrey Bogart

'The formula of Beat the Devil is that everyone is slightly absurd.' – John Huston

† James Helvick was the pseudonym of Claud Cockburn.

Beau Brummell ★

US 1924 104m approx (24 fps) bw silent
Warner

A Regency dandy becomes the right-hand man of the Prince of Wales, but falters through his own arrogance.
Elegant period romance which marked the beginning of its star's great movie decade.
w Dorothy Farnum d Harry Beaumont
☆ John Barrymore, Mary Astor, Carmel Myers, Willard Louis

Beau Brummell ★

GB 1954 111m Eastmancolor
MGM (Sam Zimbalist)

A Regency dandy enjoys a close relationship with the Prince of Wales, and when this is eventually withdrawn he dies in penury.
Stodgy historical romance with entertaining patches; the main story is too graceful and conventional to be believed.
w Karl Tunberg play Clyde Fitch d Curtis Bernhardt ph Oswald Morris m Richard Addinsell ad Alfred Junge
☆ Stewart Granger, Elizabeth Taylor, Peter Ustinov (Prince Regent), Robert Morley (George III), James Donald, James Hayter, Rosemary Harris, Paul Rogers, Noel Willman, Peter Bull, Peter Dyneley

Beau Chumps: see Beau Hunks

'Hard lives, quick deaths, undying love!'

Beau Geste ★★

US 1926 120m approx (24 fps) bw
(colour sequences) silent
Paramount (Herbert Brenon)

Three English brothers join the Foreign Legion, suffer under a brutal sergeant, and die fighting the Arabs.
Although outmoded even when first filmed, this tale of derring-do and self sacrifice usually works, and in this case it gave its star a fresh image. One of the best remembered silents of the twenties.
w Paul Schofield novel P. C. Wren d Herbert Brenon ph Roy Hunt ad Julian Boone Fleming
☆ Ronald Colman, Neil Hamilton, Ralph Forbes, Alice Joyce, Mary Brian, Noah Beery, William Powell, Victor McLaglen
† Remade 1939 and 1966; sequel, Beau Ideal, 1931.

'Three against the world! Brothers and soldiers all!'

Beau Geste ★★

US 1939 120m bw
Paramount (William Wellman)

Three aristocratic brothers join the Foreign Legion to hide a family scandal.
Spirited remake, with a famous flashback opening of the desert fort defended by corpses. Style and acting generally satisfactory.
w Robert Carson d William Wellman ph Theodor Sparkuhl, Archie Stout m Alfred Newman ad Hans Dreier, Robert Odell
☆ Gary Cooper, Ray Milland, Robert Preston, Brian Donlevy, J. Carrol Naish, Susan Hayward, Heather Thatcher, James Stephenson, Donald O'Connor, G. P. Huntley Jnr, Albert Dekker, Broderick Crawford
FOREWORD: 'The love of a man for a woman waxes and wanes like the moon, but the love of brother for brother is steadfast as the stars and endures like the word of the prophet...' Arabian proverb' MARKOFF: "Keep shooting, you scum! You'll get a chance yet to die with your boots on!'

'Its melodrama is sometimes grim but never harrowing, its pace is close to hectic and its suspense is constant.' – Herbert Cohn, Brooklyn Daily Eagle

'A morbid picture, but I doubt whether any morality council will take action, the whole story being so wrapped up in the school colours – in comradeship and loyalty and breeding, and the pure girl left behind; morbid because the brutality has no relation whatever to the real world; it is uncriticized daydreaming.' – Graham Greene

'A handsome treatment of a well-loved adventure tale.' – New York Daily Mirror

'Will do nominal biz, but lacks punch for smash proportions.' – Variety

† Shot in Buttercup Valley, west of Yuma
†† The nasty sergeant, originally Lejeune, became Markoff to avoid offending the French.

Brian Donlevy; Hans Dreier, Robert Odell

Beau Geste

US 1966 105m Techniscope
Universal (Walter Seltzer)

Three brothers join the Foreign Legion, where they face a sadistic sergeant and marauding Arabs.
A cheap leery melodrama is what results from the jettisoning of all the romantic portions of the original. Savalas is rampant as the sergeant. The central desert section of the story is here augmented, with violence stressed, and Beau allowed to survive at the end.
wd Douglas Heyes ph Bud Thackery m Hans Salter ☆ Telly Savalas, Guy Stockwell, Doug McClure, Leslie Nielsen, Leo Gordon, Michael Constantine

Beau Hunks ★★

US 1931 40m bw
Hal Roach

GB title: Beau Chumps

A fool and his friend join the Foreign Legion to forget.
Patchy but amiable star comedy with memorable high spots. In-joke: the woman the whole legion wants to forget is Jean Harlow.
w H. M. Walker d James W. Horne
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Charles Middleton

Beau Ideal

US 1931 75m bw
RKO (William Le Baron)

John Geste and a new legionnaire friend become involved in a religious war started by a rascally emir.
Lame sequel to Beau Geste (qv), fettered by primitive dialogue.
w Paul Schofield novel P. C. Wren d Herbert Brenon ph J. Roy Hunt m Max Steiner ☆ Lester Vail, Ralph Forbes, Don Alvarado, Loretta Young, Irene Rich

'Ordinary programme picture with slight romance. Doubtful draw for women.' – Variety

'He took New York for its wildest joy ride!'

Beau James ★

US 1957 107m Technicolor Vistavision
Paramount/Hope Enterprises (Jack Rose)

The vaguely crooked career of Jimmy Walker, mayor of New York in the twenties.
Romanticized biopic with few funny moments: Hope cannot cope with the drama, and the result is a creaking vehicle apart from a well-recreated twenties atmosphere and excellent production values.
w Jack Rose, Melville Shavelson book Gene Fowler d Melville Shavelson ph John F. Warren m Joseph J. Lilley

☆ Bob Hope, Paul Douglas, Vera Miles, Alexis Smith, Darren McGavin, Joe Mantell, Walter Catlett

Le Beau Mariage ★

France 1981 97m colour
Les Films du Losange/Les Films du Carrosse (Margaret Menegoz)

GB title: A Good Marriage

An art student abandons her many affairs and announces her intention of getting married, but her intended proves reluctant …

Quietly amusing conversation piece in the style expected of this director; an after-dinner entertainment for the Sunday Times set.

wd Eric Rohmer ph Bernard Lutic
m Ronan Girre, Simon des Innocents
☆ Beatrice Ronand, André Dussollier, Feodor Atkine, Arielle Dombasle

Le Beau Serge ★

France 1958 97m bw
AYJM (Jean Cotet)

A student returns to his home town and tries to redeem his old friend who has become a drunkard.

Enjoyable character drama with well observed village backgrounds. Credited with being the spearhead of the 'new wave'.

wd Claude Chabrol ph Henri Decaë
m Emile Delpierre
☆ Gérard Blain, Jean-Claude Brialy, Michèle Meritz, Bernadette Lafont

Beau Travail ★

France 1999 93m colour
Artificial Eye/La Sept Arte/Pathé/SM (Jerome Minet)

A former sergeant in the French Foreign Legion recalls the events in Africa that led to his downfall, when he feared that the arrival of a popular new recruit would threaten his relationship with his commandant.

This is Billy Budd with sand: a glumly repressed drama that is closer to ballet than narrative cinema, with much slow homoerotic posturing but little tension; it found an appreciative audience at film festivals.

w Jean-Pol Fargeau, Claire Denis novella Billy Budd, Sailor by Herman Melville d Claire Denis ph Agnes Godard
m Eran Tzur pd Arnaud de Moleron
ed Nelly Quettier
☆ Denis Lavant (Galoup), Michel Subor (Commandant Bruno Forestier), Grégoire Colin (Sentain), Richard Courcet (Legionnaire)

'Beautiful, brutal and utterly hypnotic.' – Scotsman

'A majestic work, in terms of both its cinematography and its grand musical score.' – Film Review

Beau-Père ★

France 1981 120m colour
Antenne 2/Sara

aka: Stepfather

After the death of her mother, an adolescent girl decides to seduce her stepfather.

A drama of innocence and experience that is played mainly for comedy, though there is also an underlying tenderness.

wd Bertrand Blier novel Bertrand Blier
ph Sacha Vierny m Philippe Sarde
ad Theobald Meurisse ed Claudine Merlin
☆ Patrick Dewaere, Ariel Besse, Maurice Ronet, Nicole Garcia, Nathalie Baye, Maurice Risch, Genevieve, Macha Meril

Beaumarchais ★ (5)

France 1996 100m colour Panavision
Artificial Eye/Téléma/Canal+/France 2/France 3 (Charles Gossot)

original title: Beaumarchais l'Insolent

The playwright Beaumarchais overcomes imprisonment and adversity to support revolution in America and France.

Enjoyable and episodic period romp, stronger on decor than narrative.

w Edouard Molinaro, Jean-Claude Brisville play Sacha Guitry d Edouard Molinaro ph Michaël Epp m Jean-Claude Petit ad Jean-Marc Kerdelhue, Jamie Leonard
ed Véronique Parnet
☆ Fabrice Luchini, Manuel Blanc, Sandrine Kiberlain, Michael Serrault, Jacques Weber, Michel Piccoli, Jean-Claude Brialy, Murray Head, Jean Yanne, Claire Nebout

'This gorgeous film is witty, intelligent and consistently thought-provoking.' – Marianne Gray, Film Review

La Beauté du Diable ★★★

Italy/France 1949 96m bw
AYJM

The Faust story with the protagonists agreeing to change places.

Dazzling plot twists and cinematic virtuosity make this a richly enjoyable fantasy, though perhaps not among Clair's greatest works.

w René Clair, Armand Salacrou d René Clair ph Michel Kelber m Roman Vlad
ad Léon Barsacq ed James Cuenet
☆ Michel Simon (Prof. Faust/Mephisto), Gérard Philipe (Young Faust), Raymond Cordy (Servant), Nicole Besnard (Marguerite), Gaston Modot (Gypsy), Paolo Stoppa (Official)

The Beautician and the Beast

US 1997 105m DeLuxe
Paramount/Koch/High School Sweethearts (Howard W. Koch Jnr, Todd Graff)

An ambitious beautician, mistakenly hired as a tutor to the children of an eastern European dictator, falls for her boss.

An attempt at a romantic frivolity, relying on a clash between New York Jewish humour and communist rigidity for its humour; its appeal is likely to be limited to New Yorkers.

w Todd Graff d Ken Kwapis ph Peter Lyons Collister m Cliff Eidelman
pd Rusty Smith ed Jon Poll
☆ Fran Drescher, Timothy Dalton, Ian McNeice, Patrick Malahide, Lisa Jakub, Michael Lerner, Phyllis Newman

'The cinematic equivalent of a cheesy, multi-accented and self-consciously naïve college production.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

'She's got the biggest six-shooters in the west!'

The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend ★

US 1949 77m Technicolor
TCF (Preston Sturges)

A temperamental saloon entertainer accidentally shoots the sheriff and takes refuge as a schoolmistress.

A dishevelled Western farce unworthy of its creator, but with the advantage of appearances by many of his usual repertory of players.

wd Preston Sturges ph Harry Jackson
m Cyril Mockridge
☆ Betty Grable, Cesar Romero, El Brendel, Hugh Herbert, Rudy Vallee, Olga San Juan, Sterling Holloway, Porter Hall, Esther Howard, Margaret Hamilton

'It erects a fabric of roaring slapstick on a conventional western foundation, and from time to time it succeeds in being very funny.' – Richard Mallett, Punch

'Somehow the ramshackle air of Bashful Bend itself seems to have permeated the whole film.' – MFB

Beautiful but Broke

US 1944 74m bw
Columbia (Irving Briskin)

An agent and a girls' band get romantically marooned on the way to a date in Cleveland.

Haphazard comedy with music; just an occasional smile amid the tedium.

w Monte Brice, Manny Seff story Arthur Housman d Charles Barton
☆ Joan Davis, Jane Frazee, John Hubbard, Judy Clark, Bob Haymes, Danny Mummert, Byron Foulger

'Commonplace B entry.' – Variety

Beautiful but Dangerous: see She Couldn't Say No (1952)

Beautiful but Dangerous (dubbed)

Italy/France 1955 115m Eastmancolor
GESI/SEDIF (Maleno Malenotti)

original title: La Piu Bella Donna del Mondo

An orphaned Italian singer falls in love with a Russian prince.

A lively piece of kitsch, which at one moment has Lollobrigida imitating Botticelli's Venus as part of a music-hall act.

w Cesare Cavagna, Liana Ferri, Luciano Martino, Mario Monicelli, Piero Pierotti, Franco Solinas, Giovanna Soria d Robert Z. Leonard ph Mario Bava m Renzo Rossellini ch Margherita Wallman
ad Alberto Boccianti ed Eraldo da Roma
☆ Gina Lollobrigida, Vittorio Gassman, Robert Alda, Anne Vernon, Tamara Lees, Gino Sinimberghi, Enzo Biliotti, Peter Trent, Mario del Monaco

The Beautiful Cheat: see What a Woman

'Dorothy & Petula Have A Body To Die For.'

Beautiful Creatures

GB 2000 86m Technicolor
Universal/DNA/Snakeman/Arts Council (Alan J. Wands, Simon Donald)

A woman with a violent, drug-addicted boyfriend helps another woman dispose of the body of her abusive lover.

An incoherent black comedy about death and friendship, one of the more significant failures of Lottery funding of British films.

w Simon Donald d Bill Eagles ph James Welland m Murray Gold pd Andy Harris
ed Jon Gregory cos Trisha Biggar
☆ Rachel Weisz (Petula), Susan Lynch (Dorothy), Alex Norton (Det. Insp. George Hepburn), Iain Glen (Tony), Maurice Roeves (Ronnie McMinn), Tom Mannion (Brian McMinn), Robin Laing (Kiosk Guy)

'Misfires on so many levels it's hard even to guess at the filmmakers' original intentions.' – Derek Elley, Variety

'The World Changes Some People. Some People Change The World.'

Beautiful Dreamers

Canada 1990 105m colour
Blue Dolphin/Starway/National Film Board of Canada (Michael MacLear, Martin Walters, Sally Bochner)

The poet Walt Whitman forms a friendship with the liberal superintendent of a Canadian mental asylum.

Hokum, disguised as a life-enhancing drama.

wd John Kent Harrison ph François Protat
m Lawrence Shragge pd Seamus Flannery
ed Ron Wisman
☆ Colm Feore, Rip Torn, Wendel Meldrum, Sheila McCarthy, Colin Fox, David Gardner, Barbara Gordon, Marsha Moreau, Albert Schultz

The Beautiful End of This World

West Germany 1983 95m colour
Pentagramma (Rainer Erler)

Sent to Australia to establish a pesticide factory, a German chemical engineer is persuaded that the project would be an ecological disaster.

Dull, if well-meaning, demonstrating that, in movies, good intentions are never enough.

wd Rainer Erler ph Wolfgang Grasshoff
m Eugen Thomass ad Chris Harrison, Michael Pilz ed Ulrike Pahl ☆ Robert Atzorn, Claire Oberman, Judy Winter, Gotz George

'Good times never seemed so good.'

Beautiful Girls ★

US 1996 107m DeLuxe
Buena Vista/Miramax (Cary Woods)

Returning home from New York for a high-school reunion, a bar-room pianist meets his old friends, now in dead-end jobs, to talk about their problems with women.

A single-minded ensemble piece, in which sex is relentlessly discussed; its cast is rather young for the prevalent repining for the recent past.

w Scott Rosenberg d Ted Demme ph Adam Kimmel m David A. Stewart
pd Dan Davis ed Jeffrey Wolf
☆ Matt Dillon, Noah Emmerich, Tim Hutton, Natalie Portman, Annabeth Gish, Lauren Holly, Rosie O'Donnell, Max Perlich, Mira Sorvino, Uma Thurman, Martha Plimpton

'A great title in search of a movie to live up to, this startlingly uneventful compendium of thick-headed boy-talk and female tolerance squanders a fine cast on incredibly ordinary characters and situations.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'He Saw The World In A Way No One Could Have Imagined.'

A Beautiful Mind ★★ (7)

US 2001 134m DeLuxe
Universal/DreamWorks, Imagine (Brian Grazer, Ron Howard)

Biopic of the brilliant mathematician John Nash, whose schizophrenia caused him to develop paranoid obsessions; after years of treatment, he returned to work at Princeton and was awarded a Nobel Prize.

A throwback in style to Warner's biopics of the 30s on Louis Pasteur and others, with Crowe standing in for Paul Muni: a messy life is rendered in simple, bright colours and given the standard narrative trajectory of triumph over adversity.

w Akiva Goldsman book Sylvia Nasar
d Ron Howard ph Roger Deakins
m James Horner pd Wynn Thomas
ed Mike Hill, Dan Hanley
☆ Russell Crowe (John Nash), Ed Harris (William Parcher), Jennifer Connelly (Alicia Larde Nash), Paul Bettany (Charles Herman), Adam Goldberg (Sol), Judd Hirsch (Helinger), Josh Lucas (Hansen), Anthony Rapp (Bender), Christopher Plummer (Dr Rosen), Austin Pendleton (Thomas King)

'Consistently engrossing as an unusual character study and as a trip to the mysterious border-crossing between rarified brilliance and madness.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'The governing dynamic of A Beautiful Mind is sentimentality of a familiar and not altogether unwelcome kind. The movie can – indeed, should – be intellectually rejected, but you can't quite banish it from your mind.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times
'A glossy example of how a troubled and troublesome life can be sanitized into a Movieland saga.' – Stanley Kauffmann, New Republic
picture; Akiva Goldsman; Ron Howard; Jennifer Connelly
Russell Crowe; Mike Hill, Dan Hanley; best make-up (Greg Cannom, Colleen Callaghan); James Horner
Russell Crowe; Jennifer Connelly

Beautiful People ★★

GB 1999 109m colour
Warner/Channel Four/Tall Stories (Ben Woolford)

In London, in 1993, Serbian and Croatian refugees from Bosnia attempt to carry on their dispute, which widens to involve locals.
An often contrived and ramshackle drama-cum-romantic comedy, but one that is also lively and convincing in its depiction of the confusions of life (not for nothing is a new baby, conceived as the result of a rape, called Chaos); its upbeat ending is tempered by its final image of a clenched fist.
wd Jasmin Dizdar ph Barry Ackroyd m Garry Bell pd Jon Henson ed Justin Krish
☆ Charlotte Coleman (Portia Thornton), Charles Kay (George Thornton), Rosalind Ayres (Nora Thornton), Roger Sloman (Roger Midge), Heather Tobias (Felicity Midge), Danny Nussbaum (Griffin Midge), Siobhan Redmond (Kate Higgins), Gilbert Martin (Jerry Higgins), Steve Sweeney (Jim), Linda Bassett (Sister), Nicholas Farrell (Dr Mouldy), Edin Dzandzanovic (Pero Guzina)
'Derives a dramatic charge from dark and intractable issues, only to suggest that warm-hearted comedy is their solvent.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'There's basically nothing going on here beyond pantomime of the lamest kind.' – Derek Elley, Variety

The Beautiful Rebel: see Janice Meredith

Beautiful Stranger

GB 1954 89m bw
Marksman (Maxwell Setton, John R. Sloan)
US title: Twist of Fate
On the Riviera, an actress discovers that her fiancé is a criminal.
Tawdry star melodrama of virtually no interest.
w Robert Westerby, Carl Nystrom d David Miller ph Robert Day, Ted Scaife m Malcolm Arnold ☆ Ginger Rogers, Jacques Bergerac, Herbert Lom, Stanley Baker, Margaret Rawlings, Eddie Byrne, Coral Browne

Beautiful Thing ★

GB 1995 91m colour
Film Four/World (Tony Garnett, Bill Shapter)

Two teenage schoolboys on a South London housing estate fall in love with each other.
A reticent, feelgood summer romance, to the music of the Mamas and the Papas; it deals more in nostalgic fantasy than reality, despite its gritty, urban setting.
w Jonathan Harvey play Jonathan Harvey d Hettie Macdonald ph Chris Seager m John Altman pd Mark Stevenson ed Don Fairservice
☆ Linda Henry, Glen Berry, Scott Neal, Ben Daniels, Tameka Empson
'If Beautiful Thing was any more desperate to be liked, it would be following the audience home, wagging its tail and wanting to be thrown choc drops.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Independent

Beauty and the Beast: see La Belle et la Bête (1946)

'The most beautiful love story ever told.'

Beauty and the Beast ★★★

US 1991 85m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Silver Screen Partners IV (Don Hahn)

A prince, turned into a beast by enchantment, is rescued by the love of a beautiful girl.
A return to top form by Disney, with excellent animation and a singable score. The picture has been credited with starting a new Hollywood fashion for animated musicals.
w Linda Woolverton d Gary Trousdale, Kirk Wise m/ly Alan Menken, Howard Ashman ad Brian McEntee ed John Carnochan
☆ Featuring the voices of Paige O'Hara, Robby Benson, Jerry Orbach, Angela Lansbury, Richard White, David Ogden Stiers, Jesse Corti, Rex Everhart, Bradley Michael Pierce, Jo Anne Worley, Kimmy Robertson
'A lovely film that ranks with the best of Disney's animated classics.' – Variety
'It's got storytelling vigour and clarity, bright eclectic animation, and a frisky musical wit.' – New Yorker
Alan Menken; song 'Beauty and the Beast' (m Alan Menken, ly Howard Ashman) film; song 'Belle'; song 'Be Our Guest'; sound

Beauty and the Boss

US 1932 75m bw
Warner
A girl down on her luck becomes secretary to an amorous banker and eventually becomes his wife.
Artless Cinderella story in an uneasy Viennese setting.
w Joseph Jackson play The Church Mouse by Ladislas Fodor, Paul Frank d Roy del Ruth ☆ Warren William, Marian Marsh, Charles Butterworth, Frederick Kerr, Lillian Bond 'Elementary stuff for the B houses, titularly phrased for flap appeal.' – Variety

Beauty for Sale

US 1933 85m bw
MGM
aka: Beauty!
An innocent girl snares a rich man while working in a beauty parlour.
Well-mounted romantic comedy-drama with most of the elements the 1933 public wanted.
w Zelda Sears and Eve Greene novel Beauty by Faith Baldwin d Richard Boleslawski ☆ Madge Evans, Alice Brady, Una Merkel, Otto Kruger, May Robson, Phillips Holmes, Eddie Nugent, Hedda Hopper
'Pulp magazine fiction made for subway-riding stenographers ... romantic hoke skilfully dressed up.' – Variety

Beauty for the Asking

US 1939 68m bw
RKO
Jealousies flourish among the women in a cosmetics showroom.
Average supporting drama for female audiences.
w Doris Anderson, Paul Jarrico d Glenn Tryon ☆ Lucille Ball, Frieda Inescort, Patric Knowles, Donald Woods, Inez Courtney

The Beauty Jungle ★

GB 1964 114m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
Rank/Val Guest
US title: Contest Girl
A typist enters a beauty contest and step by step becomes Miss Globe; but her descent is equally rapid.
Wicked show biz and the road to ruin in one glossy package, predictable, but not badly done; always something going on, and performed with gusto.
w Robert Muller, Val Guest d Val Guest ph Arthur Grant m Laurie Johnson ☆ Janette Scott, Ian Hendry, Ronald Fraser, Edmund Purdom, Kay Walsh, Norman Bird, Janina Faye, Tommy Trinder, Francis Matthews

Beauty Shop ④

US 2005 105m FotoKem
MGM/State Street/Mandeville/Flavor Unit (David Hoberman, Robert Teitel, George Tillman Jnr, Queen Latifah, Shakim Compere)

A woman buys a rundown beauty salon in a poor neighbourhood of Atlanta.
Episodic sitcom-style comedy, a distaff version of Barbershop, providing similar variations on stock situations and characters.
w Kate Lanier, Norman Vance Jnr story Elizabeth Hunter d Bille Woodruff ph Theo Van de Sande m Christopher Young ad Jon Gary Steele, Kevin Kavanaugh ed Michael Jablow ☆ Queen Latifah (Gina), Alicia Silverstone (Lynn), Andie MacDowell (Terri), Alfre Woodard (Ms Josephine), Mena Suvari (Joanne), Della Reese (Mrs Towner), Kevin Bacon (Jorge Christophe), Djimon Hounsou (Joe)
'It's a boisterous and amiable movie but not, in the end, a very funny one.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

Beavis and Butthead Do America ★

US 1996 80m DeLuxe
Paramount/Geffen/MTV (Abby Terkuhle)

Two simple- and dirty-minded teenagers travel from Las Vegas to Washington for the wrong reasons.
Crudely, if effectively, animated lowbrow comedy, most likely to be enjoyed by those familiar with the dim-witted duo's appearances on MTV.
w Mike Judge, Joe Stillman d Mike Judge m John Frizzell ed Terry Kelley, Gunter Glinka, Neil Lawrence
☆ Featuring the voices of: Mike Judge, Cloris Leachman, Robert Stack, David Spade, Eric Bogosian, Richard Linklater, Bruce Willis (uncredited), Demi Moore (uncredited)
'Has some genuinely amusing moments of dumb and dumber silliness. But it arrives too late in the day to fully exploit the popularity of the once-trendy MTV series.' – Joe Leydon, Variety

'She's just your normal, over-protective, overbearing, over-the-top mother.'

Because I Said So

US 2007 101m
Entertainment/Universal/Gold Circle (Paul Brooks, Jessie Nelson)

Controlling, hyper-anxious L.A. mother is desperate to marry off the third and last of her daughters.
A sorry, shrieking mess, with Keaton playing a creepily dominating mother whose neuroses enter the territory of mental derangement. Laughter is largely absent.
w Jessie Nelson, Karen Leigh Hopkins d Michael Lehmann ph Julio Macat m David Kitay pd Sharon Seymour ad Christopher Tandon ed Paul Seydor, Troy Takaki
☆ Diane Keaton (Daphne), Mandy Moore (Milly), Gabriel Macht (Johnny), Tom Everett Scott (Jason), Lauren Graham (Maggie), Piper Perabo (Mae)
'Formulaic romantic junk.' – Michael Phillips, Chicago Tribune
'A sloppily made bowl of reheated chick-flick clichés.' – Wesley Morris, Boston Globe

Because of Him ★

US 1945 88m bw
Universal (Felix Jackson)

A waitress pesters a Broadway author and actor for a leading role in their new show.
Moderately sprightly star vehicle with bonuses in the leading men; handling disappointingly routine.
w Edmund Beloin d Richard Wallace ph Hal Mohr m Miklos Rozsa ed Ted J. Kent ☆ Deanna Durbin, Charles Laughton, Franchot Tone, Helen Broderick, Stanley Ridges, Donald Meek

'Discover what happens when you go looking for a miracle and a miracle comes looking for you.'

Because of Winn-Dixie ⑤

US 2005 105m DeLuxe
TCF/Walden Media (Trevor Albert, Joan V. Singleton)

A homeless dog and a loveless girl bring happiness to the lives of those around them.
Sentimental shaggy dog story for kids, both predictable and unoriginal; its only point of interest is why Wayne Wang, noted for independent, quirky movies for adults, should have wanted to direct it.
w Joan Singleton novel Kate Di Camillo d Wayne Wang ph Karl Walter Lindenlaub m Rachel Portman pd Donald Graham Burt ed Deirdre Slevin ☆ AnnaSophia Robb (Opal), Jeff Daniels (Preacher), Cicely Tyson (Gloria Dump), Eva Marie Saint (Miss Franny), Dave Matthews (Otis), Courtney Jines (Amanda Wilkinson), Sweetie Pie Thomas (Elle Fanning)
'Doesn't have a mean bone in its body, but it's dead in the water.' – Roger Ebert

'Even in the first wild joy of his arms, she realized that she would be ... an unfit mother!'

Because of You

US 1952 95m bw
U-I (Albert J. Cohen)

A female ex-convict marries on parole but does not tell her husband of her past. Her old associates involve her innocently in another crime, and her husband divorces her; but years later she gets him and their child back.

Soap opera of the stickiest kind, made quite tolerable by good production.
w Ketti Frings d Joseph Pevney
ph Russell Metty m Frank Skinner
☆ Loretta Young, Jeff Chandler, Alex Nicol, Frances Dee, Lynne Roberts, Alexander Scourby, Mae Clarke
'Shows the most whole-hearted devotion to woman's magazine conventions.' – MFB

'Whoever you are, you're in this picture! Because this tells of youth's challenge to grown-ups who can't understand!'

Because They're Young
US 1960 98m bw
Columbia/Drexel (Jerry Bresler)
A high school teacher helps one of his tougher pupils not to slip into crime.
Routine sentimental melodrama, slightly redeemed by directorial expertise.
w James Gunn novel Harrison High by John Farris d Paul Wendkos ph Wilfrid Cline m Johnny Williams ☆ Dick Clark, Michael Callan, Tuesday Weld, Victoria Shaw, Warren Berlinger, Doug McClure

Because You're Mine
US 1952 103m Technicolor
MGM (Joe Pasternak)
An opera singer becomes a GI and wins the sergeant's sister.
Lumberingly inept star vehicle, giving the impression of nothing at all happening between the songs.
w Leonard Spigelgass, Karl Tunberg
d Alexander Hall ph Joseph Ruttenberg md Johnny Green ☆ Mario Lanza, Doretta Morrow, James Whitmore, Dean Miller, Paula Corday, Jeff Donnell, Spring Byington
'On a dull day in Manchester it will bring colour to the greyness of life.' – Sunday Express
♗ title song (m Nicholas Brodszky, ly Sammy Cahn)

'The screen explodes with rage and passion and greatness!'

Becket ★★
GB 1964 149m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount/Hal B. Wallis
Henry II leans on his boisterous Saxon friend Thomas à Becket, but when the latter is made first chancellor and then archbishop a rift between them widens and ends in Becket's assassination by Henry's over-eager knights.
Jean Anouilh's bitter stage comedy is filmed literally and soberly as a rather anaemic epic, so that the point is lost and the edge blunted. The paucity of physical action causes good scenes to alternate with long stretches of tedium.
w Edward Anhalt d Peter Glenville ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Laurence Rosenthal pd John Bryan
☆ Richard Burton, Peter O'Toole, Donald Wolfit, John Gielgud, Martita Hunt, Pamela Brown, Sian Phillips, Paolo Stoppa
'Handsome, respectable and boring.' – John Simon
'The power of the film is in the close-up, the concentration on the two protagonists. And what is so fascinating is that Burton and O'Toole provide no ultimate answers for each other or for us.' – Judith Crist
♗ Edward Anhalt
♗ best picture; Peter Glenville; Geoffrey Unsworth; Laurence Rosenthal; Richard Burton; Peter O'Toole; John Gielgud
BAFTA John Bryan; Geoffrey Unsworth

Becky Sharp ★★
US 1935 83m Technicolor
RKO (Kenneth MacGowan)
An ambitious girl makes her way into Regency society.
Chiefly notable as the first feature in three-colour Technicolor, this rather theatrical piece has its civilized enjoyments and the director made a few predictable cinematic experiments; the overall effect, however, is patchy.
w Francis Edward Faragoh play Landon Mitchell novel Vanity Fair by W. M. Thackeray d Rouben Mamoulian ph Ray Rennahan m Roy Webb pd Robert Edmond Jones
☆ Miriam Hopkins, Cedric Hardwicke, Frances Dee, Billie Burke, Alison Skipworth, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Colin Tapley, G. P. Huntley Jnr
'Beautiful cinematographically but weak on story. No cinch, and should be sold on colour angle.' – Variety
'As pleasing to the eye as a fresh fruit sundae, but not much more.' – Otis Ferguson
'If colour is to be of permanent importance a way must be found to use it realistically, not only as a beautiful decoration. It must be made to contribute to our sense of truth. The machine gun, the cheap striped tie, the battered Buick and the shabby bar will need a subtler colour sense than the Duchess of Richmond's ball, the girls of Miss Pinkerton's Academy, the Marquess of Steyne's dinner for two. Can Technicolor reproduce with the necessary accuracy the suit that has been worn too long, the oily hat?' – Graham Greene
♗ Miriam Hopkins

'Becoming a woman. Becoming a legend.'

Becoming Jane ★★ (B)
UK/Ireland/US 2007 120m
Buena Vista/Ecosse/Blueprint/BBC/Irish Film Board (Graham Broadbent, Robert Bernstein, Douglas Rae)
Spanish title: La Joven Jane Austen
The young Jane Austen harbours ambitions to be a novelist, Defying her parents' wishes to wed a 'suitable' husband, she falls in love with a poor but handsome lawyer.
An ingenious way to present another Jane Austen story for the screen, this literate script speculatively charts her path to becoming a writer, suggesting the sources in Austen's life that inspired Pride and Prejudice. It looks ravishing, and American Anne Hathaway acquits herself well, buttressed by a strong supporting cast of British veterans. A low-key delight.
w Sarah Williams, Kevin Hood d Julian Jarrold ph Eigil Bryld m Adrian Johnston pd Eve Stewart ad David McHenry ed Emma E. Hickox
☆ Anne Hathaway (Jane Austen), James McAvoy (James Lefroy), Julie Walters (Mrs. Austen), James Cromwell (Rev. Austin), Maggie Smith (Lady Gresham), Ian Richardson (Judge Langlois), Helen McCrory (Mrs. Radcliffe)
MRS. AUSTEN: "Affection is desirable. Money is absolutely indispensable!"
'Austen's fans will recognise something of the author's playful wit in the film, and forgive the dramatic liberties.' – Wendy Ide, Times
† Though the action takes place in England, all exterior scenes were shot in Ireland.

Bed and Board ★★★
France/Italy 1970 97m Eastmancolor
Columbia/Les Films du Carrosse/Valoria/Fida Cinematografica (Marcel Berbert) original title: Domicile Conjugal
Antoine Doinel, the hero of three previous feature ilms, becomes a husband, father, writer and adulterer.
The fourth, and least rewarding, of the series of five films, although it has some amusing moments.
w François Truffaut, Claude de Givray, Bernard Revon d François Truffaut ph Nestor Almendros m Antoine Duhamel ad Jean Mandaroux ed Agnes Guillemot ☆ Jean-Pierre Léaud, Claude Jade, Hiroko Berghauer, Daniel Ceccaldi, Claire Duhamel, Barbara Laage

'It's nice to have a man around the house.'

Bed and Breakfast
US 1992 98m DuArt
Hemdale (Jack Schwartzman)
A widow running a seaside boarding house falls for an affable con man.
Mundane romantic drama that trundles along on familiar lines.
w Cindy Myers d Robert Ellis Miller
ph Peter Sova m David Shire pd Suzanne Cavedon ed John F. Burnett ☆ Roger Moore, Talia Shire, Colleen Dewhurst, Nina Siemaszko, Ford Rainey, Stephen Root, Jamie Walters, Cameron Arnett
'Pic is so predictable and sentimental that it will be quickly forgotten at the box office.' – Variety
† The film was released direct to video in Britain.

Bed of Roses
US 1995 88m DeLuxe
Entertainment (Allan Mindel, Denise Shaw)
A florist, whose wife died in childbirth, falls for a lonely workaholic banker who had an abusive stepfather.
An attempt to update the type of romantic movie made in the 40s by adding a dash of dysfunction and a little New Age back-to-nature dressing; the result is as remote from reality as ever and poor escapism as well.
wd Michael Goldenberg ph Adam Kimmel
m Michael Convertino pd Stephen McCabe ed Jane Kurson ☆ Christian Slater, Mary Stuart Masterson, Pamela Segall, Josh Brolin, Ally Walker, Debra Monk
'One of those acutely sensitive American movies about love and loss that manage to be, despite their sincerity, incredibly dull.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

The Bed Sitting Room ★
GB 1969 91m DeLuxe
UA/Oscar Lewenstein (Richard Lester)
Surrealist romance; after a nuclear war, motley survivors in the waste lands turn into bed sitting rooms, cupboards and parakeets.
Arrogantly obscure fantasy, a commercial flop which kept its director in the wilderness for four years. Fans of Monty Python may salvage a joke or two.
w John Antrobus play John Antrobus, Spike Milligan d Richard Lester ph David Watkin m Ken Thorne pd Assheton Gorton
☆ Ralph Richardson, Rita Tushingham, Michael Hordern, Arthur Lowe, Mona Washbourne, Peter Cook, Dudley Moore, Spike Milligan, Harry Secombe, Marty Feldman, Jimmy Edwards
'The stage show had been hilarious and I was sad that the film wasn't.' – Spike Milligan

Bedazzled ★
GB 1967 96m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Stanley Donen
A short order cook is saved from suicide by Mr Spiggott, who offers him seven wishes in exchange for his soul.
A camped-up version of Faust which resolves itself into a series of threadbare sketches for the stars. All rather desperate apart from the leaping nuns.
w Peter Cook d Stanley Donen ph Austin Dempster m Dudley Moore ☆ Peter Cook, Dudley Moore, Michael Bates, Raquel Welch, Eleanor Bron

Bedazzled
US/Germany 2000 93m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Regency (Trevor Albert, Harold Ramis)
The devil in the form of a woman offers an office worker seven wishes in exchange for his soul; but the wishes go wrong.
An episodic series of jokey sketches which soon become lacklustre; temptation has rarely seemed so uninviting.
w Harold Ramis, Larry Gelbart, Peter Tolan screenplay Peter Cook, Dudley Moore d Harold Ramis ph Bill Pope m David Newman pd Rick Heinrichs ed Craig P. Herring sp Rhythm & Hues Studios cos Deena Appel ☆ Brendan Fraser (Elliot Richards), Elizabeth Hurley (The Devil), Frances O'Connor (Alison/Nicole), Miriam Shor (Carol/ Penthouse Hostess), Orlando Jones (Dan/Esteban/Beach Jock/Sportscaster/ Party Guest), Paul Adelstein (Bob/Roberto/ Beach Jock/Sportscaster/Lincoln Aide), Toby Huss (Jerry/Alejandro/Beach Jock/ Sportscaster/Lance), Gabriel Casseus (Elliot's Cellmate), Brian Doyle-Murray (Priest), Jeff Doucette (Desk Sergeant)
'As mainstream entertainment, this scores a bull's eye. It's cute and instantly forgettable.' – Ian Spelling, Film Review

Bedelia
GB 1946 90m bw
John Corfield (Isadore Goldsmith)
A psychotic woman is discovered to have poisoned three husbands.
Dreary upper-class British murder drama, totally devoid of style or suspense but a big star hit of the time.
w Vera Caspary, Moie Charles, Herbert Victor, Roy Ridley, Isadore Goldsmith novel Vera Caspary d Lance Comfort
ph F. A. Young
☆ Margaret Lockwood, Ian Hunter, Barry K. Barnes, Anne Crawford, Jill Esmond, Ellen Pollock
'It is all very, very silly.' – James Agate, Tatler

Bedevilled
US 1955 86m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
MGM (Henry Berman)
In Paris, a novice priest befriends a girl on the run from gangsters, who turns out to be a murderess.
Absurd high-flown bosh, unsuitably cinemascoped in ugly colour, and surprisingly badly handled by old professionals.

w Jo Eisinger d Mitchell Leisen
ph Frederick A. Young m William Alwyn
☆ Anne Baxter, Steve Forrest, Simone Renant, Victor Francen, Maurice Teynac, Joseph Tomelty
'This mixture of melodrama and religion provides a most unedifying entertainment.' – MFB

The Bedford Incident ★★★

GB 1965 102m bw
Columbia/Bedford Productions (James B. Harris)

A ruthlessly efficient US destroyer captain in the Arctic chases a Russian submarine and accidentally fires an atomic weapon.
Gripping mixture of themes from Dr Strangelove and The Caine Mutiny (qqv), very tense and forceful, with excellent acting. It was Poitier's first role with no reference to his colour.
w James Poe novel Mark Rascovich
d James B. Harris ph Gilbert Taylor
m Gerard Schurrmann ed John Jympson
☆ Richard Widmark (Capt. Eric Finlander, USN), Sidney Poitier (Ben Munceford), James MacArthur (Ens. Ralston), Eric Portman (Cmdr. Wolfgang Schrepke), Wally Cox (Sonarman, 2nd Class), Martin Balsam (Lt. Cmdr. Chester Potter), Phil Brown (Chief Pharmacist Mate McKinley), Michael Kane (Cmdr. Allison), Gary Cockrell (Lt. Bascombe), Donald Sutherland (Pharmacist's Mate Nerny)
'Strong on virtues of a rather negative kind.' – Penelope Houston

Bedknobs and Broomsticks

US 1971 117m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Walsh)

In 1940 three evacuee children and a kindly witch ride on a magic bedstead and defeat the invasion of England.
Extraordinarily dishevelled and incompetent Disney follow-up to Mary Poppins (qv), a very muddled narrative with few high points and evidence of much cutting. Redeemed occasionally by camera trickery.
w Bill Walsh, Don DaGradi d Robert Stevenson ph Frank Phillips m/ly Richard M. Sherman, Robert B. Sherman
sp Eustace Lycett, Alan Maley, Danny Lee ☆ Angela Lansbury, David Tomlinson, Roy Snart, Cindy O'Callaghan, Sam Jaffe, Roddy McDowall, Bruce Forsyth, Tessie O'Shea, Reginald Owen special visual effects (Alan Maley, Eustace Lycett, Danny Lee)
Richard M. Sherman, Robert B. Sherman; song 'The Age of Not Believing' by the Shermans

Bedlam ★★

US 1946 80m bw
RKO (Val Lewton)

In 18th-century London, a sane girl is confined by the malevolent asylum master.
Interesting but rather flatly handled addition to the Val Lewton gallery of horrors, perhaps too carefully and discreetly done for pace or suspense.
w Mark Robson, Carlos Keith d Mark Robson ph Nicholas Musuraca m Roy Webb ☆ Boris Karloff, Anna Lee, Billy House, Richard Fraser, Glenn Vernon
† Carlos Keith was Val Lewton's pseudonym
†† Bedlam was never granted a certificate in Britain.

The Bedroom

Japan 1992 63m colour
Kokuei (Daisuke Asakura)

A woman becomes unable to distinguish between fantasy and reality after her sister dies in a club where men act out their fantasies on drugged women.
Odd, unpleasant, voyeuristic, poorly subtitled Japanese erotica, given a modish treatment; its images of inert, passive women are most likely to appeal to necrophiliacs.
w Yumeno Shiro d Sato Hisayasu
ph Masashi Inayashi ed Shoji Sakai
☆ Ito Kiyomi, Asano Mamori, Nakamura Kyoko, Sagawa Issei
'Inventively shot in a sub-David Lynch sort of way, but pretty repugnant all the same.' – Sight and Sound

Bedroom Eyes

Canada 1984 90m Medallion
Alliance/RSL (Robert Lantos, Stephen J. Roth)

A stockbroker, who is a Peeping Tom by night, is accused of murder when the woman he spies on is killed.
Dull and risible psychological thriller, which uses sex as a substitute for narrative interest and excitement.
w Michael Alan Eddy d William Fruet
ph Miklos Lente m John Tucker
pd Lindsey Goddard ed Tony Lower ☆ Kenneth Gilman, Dayle Haddon, Christine Cattell, Lawrence K. Philips, Jayne Catling, Barbara Law

The Bedroom Window

US 1986 115m colour JDC Widescreen
De Laurentiis (Robert Towne, Martha Schumacher)

From her boyfriend's apartment window, an adulterous wife witnesses an assault, and sends her boyfriend to the police in her place.
Sub-Hitchcock thriller, almost as creaky as it sounds.
wd Curtis Hanson ph Gil Taylor
m Michael Shrieve, Patrick Gleeson
ed Scott Conrad
☆ Steve Guttenberg, Elizabeth McGovern, Isabelle Huppert, Paul Shenar, Frederick Coffin, Wallace Shawn
'Less than riveting entertainment.' – Daily Variety

'Re-Model Your Love Life.'

Bedrooms & Hallways

GB/France/Germany 1998 96m Rank Colour
Alliance/ARP/Pandora/BBC (Ceci Dempsey, Dorothy Berwin)

A group of friends enjoy varied sexual relationships with one another.
A slight comedy of bisexuality and serial partners.
w Robert Farrar d Rose Troche ph Ashley Rowe m Alfredo D. Troche, Ian MacPherson pd Richard Bridgland
ed Christopher Blunden
☆ Kevin McKidd, Hugo Weaving, James Purefoy, Tom Hollander, Christopher Fulford, Julie Graham, Con O'Neill, Paul Higgins, Jennifer Ehle, Simon Callow, Harriet Walter
'Watching B&H is a bit like sitting in a luke-warm bath, waiting for someone to turn the hot water back on. The longer you wait, the colder it gets.' – Charlotte O'Sullivan, Independent

Bedtime for Bonzo

US 1951 83m bw
U-I (Michel Kraike)

To prove that environment determines character, a chimpanzee is brought up as a human baby.
Very moderate fun and games which proved successful enough for a sequel, Bonzo Goes to College.
w Val Burton, Lou Breslow d Frederick de Cordova ph Carl Guthrie m Frank Skinner ed Ted J. Kent ☆ Ronald Reagan, Diana Lynn, Walter Slezak, Lucille Barkley, Herbert Heyes

Bedtime Story ★

US 1942 85m bw
Columbia (B. P. Schulberg)

A playwright's wife wants to retire instead of acting in his next play.
Pleasantly sparkling comedy with good performances.
w Horace Jackson, Grant Garrett, Richard Flournoy d Alexander Hall ph Joseph Walker m Werner Heymann ☆ Fredric March, Loretta Young, Robert Benchley, Allyn Joslyn, Eve Arden, Helen Westley, Joyce Compton, Tim Ryan

Bedtime Story ★

US 1964 99m Eastmancolor
U-I/Lankershim/Pennebaker (Stanley Shapiro)

Two Riviera confidence tricksters outwit each other.
A fairly lively script is defeated by dull handling, but performances and backgrounds are attractive.
w Stanley Shapiro, Paul Henning d Ralph Levy ph Clifford Stine m Hans Salter ☆ David Niven, Marlon Brando, Shirley Jones, Dody Goodman, Aram Stephan, Marie Windsor
'The most vulgar and embarrassing film of the year.' – Daily Express
† It was remade as Dirty Rotten Scoundrels (qv).

A Bee in the Rain

Portugal 1968 74m bw Media (Fernando Matos Silva)
original title: Uma Abelha na Chuva

A farmer's unhappy marriage to an aristocratic wife brings tragedy in its wake.
Slow-moving, doom-laden tale of marital discord, not helped by the self-consciously arty direction, with freeze frames and lingering, inconsequential close-ups.
wd Fernando Lopes novel Carlos de Oliveira ph Manuel Costa e Silva
m Manuel Jorge Veloso ed Fernando Lopes
☆ Laura Soveral, João Guedes, Zita Duarte, Ruy Furtado, Carlos Ferreiro, Adriano Reys

'Words may define us, but it's love that connects us.'

Bee Season ④

Germany/USA 2005 104m
Twentieth Century Fox/Fox Searchlight/Regency Enterprises/Bona Fide (Albert Berger, Ron Yerxa)

A young girl disrupts the balance of her cerebral family with her success in spelling competitions.
Well-intentioned but over-clever story suffers from vagueness. Gere is implausible, to put it mildly, as a Jewish religious scholar.
w Naomi Foner Gyllenhaal novel Myla Goldberg d Scott McGehee, David Siegel
ph Giles Nuttgens m Peter Nashel pd Kelly McGehee ad Michael E. Goldman
ed Lauren Zuckerman
☆ Richard Gere (Saul Naumann), Juliette Binoche (Miriam Naumann), Flora Cross (Eliza Naumann), Max Minghella (Aaron Naumann), Kate Bosworth (Chali)
'The film is ice cold, never finding a way to invite the viewer into the story.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

The Beekeeper ★★

Greece/France 1986 122m colour
Greek Film Centre/ERTI/MK2/Theodoros Angelopoulos

original title: O Melissokomos

A retired schoolmaster, visiting the sites of beehives around Greece, picks up a teenage hitchhiker, an act which is to drive him to desperation.
Melancholy but moving film, with a finely judged performance from Mastroianni.
w Theodoros Angelopoulos, Dimitris Nollas d Theodoros Angelopoulos
ph Giorgos Arvantis m Helen Karaindrou ad Mikes Karapiperis ed Takis Yannopoulos ☆ Marcello Mastroianni, Nadia Mourouzi, Serge Reggiani, Jenny Roussea, Dinos Iliopoulos, Vassia Panagopolou, Dimitris Poulikakos

Beer

US 1985 82m DeLuxe
Orion (Robert Chartoff)

original title: The Selling of America

A lady executive on Madison Avenue promotes a brand of beer by promoting three honest Joes from the street and turning them into macho media figures.
Another shred of proof that satire is what closes Saturday night. A few smiles, but no release.
w Allan Weisbecker d Patrick Kelly
ph Bill Butler m Bill Conti pd Bill Brodie
ed Alan Heim
☆ Loretta Swit, Rip Torn, Kenneth Mars, David Alan Grier, William Russ, Dick Shawn

'Brewed in 2006.'

Beerfest ④

US/Australia 2006 111m
Warner Bros./Gerber Pictures/Cataland/Broken Lizard (Bill Gerber, Richard Perello)

Two brothers travel to Munich for Oktoberfest and fight over the ownership of the family brewery with their German cousins.
It's hard to imagine being drunk enough to enjoy this, or sober enough to follow the plot.
w Broken Lizard d Jay Chandrasekhar ph Frank G. DeMarco m Nathan Barr
pd Clark Hunter ad David Baca ed Lee Haxall ☆ Erik Stolhanske (Todd Wolfhouse), Paul Soter (Jan Wolfhouse), Jurgen Prochnow (Baron von Wolfhausen)

Bees in Paradise

GB 1943 75m bw
Gainsborough

Four airmen find themselves on a South Sea island ruled by women who kill their spouses after the honeymoon.
Saucy farce, too talkative to be very interesting even in the dark days of war.
w Val Guest, Marriott Edgar d Val Guest ☆ Arthur Askey, Peter Graves, Max Bacon, Anne Shelton, Jean Kent

'The head of the family is the one with the tail.'

Beethoven

US 1992 87m DeLuxe
UIP/Universal (Joe Medjuck, Michael C. Gross)

A St Bernard dog causes havoc in a family household to the delight of the children and the annoyance of their father.
Predictable comedy of the dreariest kind.
w Edmond Dantes, Amy Holden Jones d Brian Levant ph Victor J. Kemper m Randy Edelman pd Alex Tavoularis ed Sheldon Kahn, William D. Gordean
☆ Charles Grodin, Bonnie Hunt, Dean Jones, Oliver Platt, Stanley Tucci, David Duchovny, Patricia Heaton, Laurel Cronin, O-Lan Jones

'Could be called harmless if it wasn't so badly made and blandly characterised.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'Laugh? We wait like locked-in dogs whose noses are pressed to the window for the first sign of life or human interest coming up the driveway. Wit we have already despaired of in reel one.' – Nigel Andrews, Financial Times

Beethoven's 2nd

US 1993 89m DeLuxe
Universal (Michael C. Gross, Joe Medjuck)

Beethoven becomes the father of pups, which are promptly kidnapped.
A sentimental sequel that will be enjoyed by fans of large, slobbering dogs and obvious jokes.
w Len Blum d Rod Daniel ph Bill Butler m Randy Edelman pd Lawrence Miller ed Sheldon Kahn, William D. Gordean
☆ Charles Grodin, Bonnie Hunt, Nicholle Tom, Christopher Castile, Sarah Rose Karr, Debi Mazar, Chris Penn, Ashley Hamilton, Maury Chaykin

'Universal unleashes what should be a big, slobbering hit with this reasonably entertaining sequel, certainly a more pleasing tale than the one that sired it.' – Variety
'It's so insubstantial that it flies from the mind's eye almost as soon as the lights go up.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'All the wit and spontaneity of a suet pudding.' – Sight and Sound

♙ song 'The Day I Fall In Love' (m/ly Carole Bayer Sager, James Ingram, Cliff Magness)

Beetlejuice ★

US 1988 92m Technicolor
Warner Bros/Geffen (Michael Bender)

The newly dead at a New England barn try to scare off objectionable new buyers.
Mainly unpleasant and seldom funny fantasy.
w Michael McDowell, Warren Skaaren d Tim Burton ph Thomas Ackerman m Danny Elfman pd Bo Welch
☆ Alec Baldwin, Geena Davis, Michael Keaton, Catherine O'Hara, Glenn Shadix

'A murder. A suspect. A shadow of a doubt.'

Before and After

US 1996 108m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Hollywood/Caravan (Barbet Schroeder, Susan Hoffman)

When their teenage son is accused of murdering his girlfriend, his parents take differing attitudes on how best to deal with the situation.
Indifferent and windy drama that avoids any proper conflict or confrontation of the issues; it doesn't even hold the interest of its participants.
w Ted Tally novel Rosellen Brown d Barbet Schroeder ph Luciano Tovoli m Howard Shore pd Stuart Wurtzel ed Lee Percy ☆ Meryl Streep, Liam Neeson, Edward Furlong, Alfred Molina, Julia Weldon, Daniel von Bargen, John Heard

'A wan, flat little anecdote, implausible to a preposterous degree.' – Alexander Walker

Before Dawn ★

US 1933 60m bw
RKO

Three murders take place in a mysterious mansion.
Lively comedy-thriller which won't bore anybody: good in its class.
w Garrett Fort, Marion Dix, Ralph Block story Edgar Wallace d Irving Pichel m Max Steiner
☆ Warner Oland, Stuart Erwin, Dorothy Wilson, Dudley Digges, Oscar Apfel

Before Hindsight ★★

GB 1977 78m Eastmancolor
Elizabeth Taylor-Mead

Interviews and clips show how inadequately cinema newsreels covered world events in the 1930s.
Hard tack for entertainment seekers, but a clear exposition of a proven case of importance to film-makers and politicians.
w Elizabeth Taylor-Mead d Jonathan Lewis

'Certainly not the kind of picture people will pay money to see.' – Variety

'Beware! When Karloff Stops The Clock ... Your Hour Has Come!'

Before I Hang ★

US 1940 71m bw
Columbia (Wallace MacDonald)

A research scientist experiments with a new serum which turns him into a murderer.
Archetypal Karloff mad doctor flick, Jekyll and Hyde model: still quite tolerable.
w Robert D. Andrews d Nick Grinde ph Benjamin Kline md Morris Stoloff ☆ Boris Karloff, Evelyn Keyes, Bruce Bennett, Pedro de Cordoba, Edward Van Sloan, Don Beddoe

'Karloff is so good he makes you believe this nonsense.' – The Dark Side

Before it Had a Name

US/Italy 2005 99m colour
Nu Image/Emmett/Furla/Bidou (Rita Capasa, Randall Emmett, Brian Bell)

An Italian woman moves into her dead American lover's house in upstate New York.
Tedious drama of an unlikely romance between an unhappy woman and a surly caretaker.
w Giada Colagrande, Willem Dafoe d Giada Colagrande ph Ken Kelsch m Gyorgy Ligeti pd Lino Fiorito ed Natalie Cristiani ☆ Giada Colagrande (Eleonara), Willem Dafoe (Leslie), Seymour Cassel (Jeff), Emily McDonnell (Gail), Isaach De Bankole (Waiter)

'Painfully strives to be cultish and ends up being an embarrassment for all concerned.' – Deborah Young, Variety

Before Night Falls ★

US 2000 132m Technicolor
TCF/Fine Line/Grandview/El Mar (Jon Kilik)

The life of Chilean poet Reinaldo Arenas, whose homosexuality brought him into conflict with the Cuban regime in the 1960s.
Episodic account of a hectic existence, often requiring an audience to work harder than it should to make sense of events.
w Cunningham O'Keefe, Lazaro Gomez Carriles, Julian Schnabel book Reinaldo Arenas d Julian Schnabel ph Xavier Perez Grobet, Guillermo Rosas m Carter Burwell, Lou Reed, Laurie Anderson pd Salvador Parra ed Michael Berenbaum ☆ Javier Bardem (Reinaldo Arenas), Olivier Martinez (Lazaro Gomez Carilles), Andrea Di Stefano (Pepe Malas), Johnny Depp (Bon Bon/Lieutenant Victor), Sean Penn (Cuco Sanchez), Michael Wincott (Herberto Zorilla Ochoa), Najwa Nimri (Fina Correa), Hector Babenco (Virgilio Pinera), Olatz Lopez Garmendia (Reinaldo's mother), Vito Maria Schnabel (Teenage Reinaldo), Jerzy Skolimowski (Professor)

'A masterpiece and Bardem's crowning glory.' – Alan Jones, Film Review

♙ Javier Bardem

Before Sunrise ★

US 1995 101m Technicolor
Rank/Castle Rock/Detour/Filmhaus (Anne Walker-McBay)

A young American meets a French woman on a train and persuades her to spend the night talking and walking around Vienna.
A conversation piece that has a certain inconsequential charm but cannot sustain itself for the length of the film; the talk is simply not interesting enough.
w Richard Linklater, Kim Krizan d Richard Linklater ph Lee Daniel pd Florian Reichmann ed Sandra Adair
☆ Ethan Hawke, Julie Delpy

'This two character talkfest wins points for daring to be a love story – how defiantly unhip is that? – and is presumably meant as sensitivity training for 20-year-olds. But in reaching for winsome charm, the film falls flat. This meeting of bright minds often plays like desperate showing off.' – Richard Corliss, Time
'While pic remains sympathetic and appealing, the endless dialogue and repetitive settings become wearing through the couple's one long night together, and the artifice of the premise may contribute to the difficulty the film has in coming to romantic life.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'What if you had a second chance with the one that got away?'

Before Sunset ★ (8)

2004 80m
Castle Rock/Detour (Anne Walker-McBay)

On a publicity visit to Paris, an American writer meets again the woman he spent an evening with nine years earlier.
Two people talk of the ways their lives have gone since their brief relationship and whether the love they have for one another was best sustained by absence in a charming, gentle and slight sequel to Before Sunrise (qv).
w Richard Linklater, Julie Delpy, Ethan Hawke d Richard Linklater ph Lee Daniel m Julie Delpy, Nina Simone, Glover Gill pd Baptiste Glaymann ed Sandra Adair
☆ Ethan Hawke (Jesse), Julie Delpy (Celine), Vernon Dobtcheff (Book Store Manager), Louise Lemoine Torres (Journalist #1), Rodolphe Pauly (Journalist #2), Marianne Plasteig (Waitress), Diabolo (Philippe)

'A film that in its joy, optimism and aesthetic achievement keeps faith with American cinema at its finest.' – Manohla Dargis, Los Angeles Times

♙ screenplay

Before the Nickelodeon ★★

US 1982 60m bw/colour
Film for Thought

The life, times and films of the pioneer Edwin S. Porter.
Valuable documentary on a little-known figure, with films ranging from 1896 to 1907.
w Warren D. Leight, Charles Musser d Charles Musser

Before the Night: see One Night Stand (1995)

Before the Rain ★★★

GB/France/Macedonia 1994 113m Eastmancolor
Electric/Aim/Noe/Vardar (Judy Counihan, Cedomir Kolar, Sam Taylor, Cat Villiers)

original title: Pred Dozdot

An expatriate Macedonian photographer leaves his pregnant English lover in London and returns to his homeland, caught in the conflict that has destroyed Yugoslavia, to witness the effects of the civil war on the village where he grew up.
Three separate stories intertwine in a gripping drama, although the connections between them, and the way each leads forward and back to the other, is not evident until the final moments; the construction mirrors the circle of violence the film depicts, with its characters mired in unthinking hate.
wd Milcho Manchevski ph Manuel Teran m Anastasia pd Sharon Lamofsky, David Munns ed Nicolas Gaster ☆ Katrin Cartlidge (Anne), Rade Serbedzija (Aleksandar), Gregoire Colin (Kiril), Labina Mitevska (Zamira), Jay Villiers (Nick), Silvija Stojanovska (Hana), Phyllida Law (Anne's Mother)

'Dense with threat and tense with the possibility of its release.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times

♙ best foreign film

Before the Revolution ★

Italy 1964 115m bw
Cineriz/Iride

original title: Prima della Rivoluzione

The suicide of a friend leads a middle-class youth living in Parma to consider his own life and attitudes before opting for safe conformity.
A talented but confused debate on politics, which upset Catholic authorities at the time, but leaves an audience only a little wiser.
wd Bernardo Bertolucci m Gino Paoli, Ennio Morricone md Aldo Scavarda ad Romano Pampaloni ed Roberto Perpignani
☆ Francesco Barilli, Adriana Asti, Alain Midgette, Morando Morandini

'He captures what has rarely been seen on the screen – the extravagance and poetry of youthful ardour.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

Before Winter Comes ★

GB 1968 107m Technicolor
Columbia/Windward (Robert Emmett Ginna)

Austria 1945: a British major in charge of displaced persons is helped and hindered by a cheerful Yugoslav refugee who turns out to be a Russian deserter.
Likeable, well-produced drama hampered by a plot which becomes unnecessarily schematic,

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · ♙ Academy Award · ♙ Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

coincidental and downbeat in its attempts to tug at the heartstrings.
w Andrew Sinclair novel The Interpreter by Frederick L. Keefe d J. Lee-Thompson ph Gilbert Taylor m Ron Grainer
☆ David Niven, Topol, Ori Levi, Anna Karina, John Hurt, Anthony Quayle
'One of those films with a message on every page of its script.' – MFB

'Does anything in life ever go to plan?'

Before You Go
GB 2002 95m Technicolor
Entertainment/EFD/Capitol/Arkangel/Pacificus/Big Fish/IoMFC (Eoin O'Callaghan)
Three sisters take stock of their lives at their mother's funeral.
Dull movie about dull characters: neither cast nor director can enliven a leaden script.
w Shelagh Stephenson play The Memory of Water by Shelagh Stephenson d Lewis Gilbert ph Nic Morris m Debbie Wiseman pd Jon Bunker ed John Wilson
☆ Julie Walters (Teresa), Tom Wilkinson (Frank), John Hannah (Mike), Joanne Whalley (Mary), Victoria Hamilton (Catherine), Patricia Hodge (Mother)
'A so-what comedy-drama in which a name Brit cast fail – spectacularly – to generate much onscreen chemistry.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Beg, Borrow or Steal
US 1937 70m bw
MGM
An American expatriate lives by his wits in Paris.
Flabby comedy which misses on all cylinders.
w Leonard Lee, Harry Ruskin, Marion Parsonnet d William Thiele
☆ Frank Morgan, Florence Rice, John Beal, Janet Beecher, Herman Bing, Erik Rhodes, E. E. Clive, Reginald Denny, George Givot
'Nothing quite so incredible as this story has been tossed to the double bills since the major studios started competing among themselves to turn out low-grade entertainment for the filler-in spots.' – Variety

Beggars of Life ★
US 1928 80m bw part-talkie
Paramount
Adventures of a hobo.
Curious melodramatic farrago notable chiefly for technical advances but far from boring to watch for its own sake.
w Benjamin Glazer, Jim Tully d William Wellman ☆ Richard Arlen, Wallace Beery, Louise Brooks, Edgar Blue Washington, H. A. Morgan, Roscoe Karns

The Beggar's Opera ★
GB 1952 94m Technicolor
British Lion/Imperadio (Herbert Wilcox, Laurence Olivier)
A highwayman in Newgate jail devises an opera based on his own exploits.
Exuberant potted version of the 1728 low opera, generally likeable but lacking a strong coherent approach and marred by violent colour and raggedly theatrical presentation. It nearly but not quite comes off.
w Denis Cannan, Christopher Fry opera John Gay d Peter Brook ph Guy Green ad George Wakhevitch, William C. Andrews musical arrangement and additions Arthur Bliss
☆ Laurence Olivier, Stanley Holloway, Dorothy Tutin, Daphne Anderson, Mary Clare, George Devine, Athene Seyler, Hugh Griffith, Margot Grahame, Sandra Dorne, Laurence Naismith
'The failure is equalled only by the ambition.' – Gavin Lambert

Beginner's Luck
GB 2002 89m Fujicolor
Guerilla/Late Night/Angel Eye (Harriet Evans-Lombe)
An ambitious but incompetent director persuades friends to join him in staging a production of Shakespeare's The Tempest.
It is odd, but unedifying, to watch incompetent directors making a comedy about an incompetent director.
wd James Callis, Nick Cohen ph Chris Preston m Shriek Music pd Tracy Ann Baines ed Alistair Waterson
☆ Julie Delpy (Anya), Steven Berkoff (Magic Bob), Christopher Cazenove (Andrew Fontaine), Fenella Fielding (Mark's Mum), Jean-Yves Berteloot (Javaad), James Callis (Mark Feinman)
'A 90-minute train wreck in slow motion.' – Derek Elley, Variety

'New Thrills! New Shocks! New Terror!'

The Beginning of the End
US 1957 73m bw
ABPT/Republic (Bert I. Gordon)
Radiation breeds giant grasshoppers which are only stopped when they can't withstand the waters of Lake Michigan.
Bottom-of-the-sci-fi-barrel rubbish, very boring to watch.
w Fred Freiberger, Lester Corn d Bert I. Gordon ☆ Peggie Castle, Peter Graves, Morris Ankrum, James Seay, Richard Benedict, Pierre Watkin

The Beginning or the End
US 1947 112m bw
MGM (Samuel Marx)
During World War II American scientists continue to perfect the atom bomb despite their own misgivings, and one dies in an explosion.
Semi-documentary marred by sentimental personal asides and of very little continuing interest.
w Robert Considine d Norman Taurog ph Ray June m Daniele Amfitheatrof ☆ Brian Donlevy, Robert Walker, Tom Drake, Beverly Tyler, Hume Cronyn, Audrey Totter, Godfrey Tearle (Roosevelt)
'The documentary value is so offset by sickly sentiment that it is practically just another love story.' – W. A. Wilcox, Sunday Dispatch

Begone Dull Care ★★★★
Canada 1953 9m colour
National Film Board (Norman McLaren)
Abstract images drawn directly onto the film are accompanied by three pieces of jazz performed by the Oscar Peterson Trio.
The central movement is a little too slow, but the first piece is witty and the climax is an irresistible frenzy of sound and image. Undeniably a classic short, and probably McLaren's best.
conceived and made by Norman McLaren

'One man ... seven women ... in a strange house!'

The Beguiled ★
US 1971 109m Technicolor
Universal/Malpaso (Don Siegel)
A wounded Unionist soldier hides out in a Confederate ladies' school; the teachers fend for him until he causes trouble among the sexually frustrated women, who eventually kill him.
Eccentric melodrama which does not really work despite its credentials and patient work all round.
w John B. Sherry, Grimes Grice novel Thomas Cullinan d Don Siegel ph Bruce Surtees m Lalo Schifrin pd Ted Haworth
☆ Clint Eastwood, Geraldine Page, Elizabeth Hartman, Jo Ann Harris, Darleen Carr, Mae Mercer
'A must for sadists and woman-haters.' – Judith Crist

Behave Yourself ★
US 1951 81m bw
RKO (Jerry Wald, Norman Krasna)
A young married couple and their dog get mixed up in a chain of murders.
Zany black comedy in the wake of A Slight Case of Murder and The Thin Man (qqv). The humour is spread too thin for success.
wd George Beck ph James Wong Howe m Leigh Harline
☆ Farley Granger, Shelley Winters, William Demarest, Francis L. Sullivan, Margalo Gillmore, Lon Chaney, Hans Conried, Elisha Cook Jnr

Behemoth the Sea Monster: see The Giant Behemoth

Behesht Ja-ye Digari Ast: see Paradise is Somewhere Else

Behind Convent Walls (dubbed)
Italy 1977 95m Telecolor
Trust International (Giuseppe Vezzani)
original title: Interno d'un Convento
US title: Sex Life in a Convent; aka: Within a Cloister
A mother superior finds that her sisters are more interested in carnal knowledge than religious faith.
A staple of soft-core porn – nuns behaving badly – is given a little visual distinction in an otherwise dull and predictable offering.
wd Walerian Borowczyk stories Promenades Romanes by Stendhal ph Luciano Tovolli m Sergio Montori
ad Luciano Spadoni
☆ Ligia Branice, Howard Ross, Marina Pierro, Gabriella Giaccobe, Rodolfo Dal Pra', Loredana Martinez, Mario Maranzana

'One Rule: Evade And Survive.'

Behind Enemy Lines
US 2001 106m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF (John Davis)
Sometime in the future, an American naval pilot is shot down in Bosnia and hunted by Serbian troops.
Old-fashioned war movie propaganda, of the type one might have hoped that Hollywood had outgrown, filmed in an obtrusively ostentatious style that owes more to video games than any reality.
w David Veloz, Zak Penn d John Moore ph Brendan Galvin m Don Davis pd Nathan Crawley ed Paul Martin Smith
☆ Owen Wilson (Burnett), Gene Hackman (Reigart), Gabriel Macht (Stackhouse), Charles Malik Whitfield (Rodway), Joaquim de Almeida (Piquet), David Keith (O'Malley), Olek Krupa (Lokar), Vladimir Mashkov (Tracker), Marko Ogonda (Bazda)
'A live-action recruiting poster for today's military, the film shows how some time under fire turns undisciplined wiseacres into men Uncle Sam can be proud to call his own.' – Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times
† Although apparently set 'the day after tomorrow', the film's inspiration seems to be the ordeal in 1995 of Scott O'Grady, an Air Force captain who was shot down by a Bosnian-Serb missile and survived for six days before he was rescued.

Behind Prison Gates
US 1939 63m bw
Columbia
A secret agent follows bank robbers into prison.
Standard undercover crime support.
w Arthur T. Horman, Leslie T. White d Charles Barton ☆ Brian Donlevy, Jacqueline Wells, Joseph Crehan, Paul Fix

Behind Prison Walls
US 1943 64m bw
PRC (Arthur Ripley)
GB title: Youth Takes a Hand
Too-honest son gets his tycoon father sent to prison, but ends up there himself.
Curious moral comedy drama which can't work on a low budget.
w Van Norcross, W. A. Ulman Jnr d Steve Sekely ☆ Alan Baxter, Tully Marshall, Gertrude Michael, Edwin Maxwell, Matt Willis

Behind That Curtain
US 1929 91m bw
Fox
Murder follows when a ne'er-do-well aspires to marry an heiress.
Nominally the third Charlie Chan film, but Chan, played by E. L. Park, is whittled down to a tiny role. As it stands, a clumsy effort, but could be worth remaking.
w Sonya Levien, Clarke Silvernail novel Earl Derr Biggers d Irving Cummings
☆ Warner Baxter, Lois Moran, Gilbert Emery, Claude King, Philip Strange, Boris Karloff

Behind the Door: see The Man with Nine Lives

Behind the High Wall
US 1956 85m bw
U-I (Stanley Rubin)
A prison warder, taken as hostage by escaping convicts, steals some of the money they have taken.
Glum melodrama, capably presented.
w Harold Jack Bloom d Abner Biberman ph Maury Gertsman m Joseph Gershenson ed Ted J. Kent
☆ Tom Tully, Sylvia Sidney, John Gavin, Betty Lynn, John Larch, Barney Phillips, Don Beddoe

Behind the Iron Mask: see The Fifth Musketeer

'Who is the murdering monster?'

Behind the Mask
US 1932 68m bw
Columbia
A crazy doctor operates fatally on those who know too much.
Semi-horror mystery using two members of the Frankenstein cast.
w Jo Swerling d John Francis Dillon
☆ Jack Holt, Constance Cummings, Edward Van Sloan, Boris Karloff
'Exploited as another horror picture, this doesn't horrify sufficiently to class with preceding baby-scarers. But its virtues are a not-so-bad Secret Service story, well-acted by a cast of veterans.' – Variety

Behind the Mask ★

GB 1958 99m Eastmancolor
BL/GW Films (Sergei Nolbandov, Josef Somlo)

Political infighting causes tension on the board of a local hospital.

Oddly titled social drama with interesting detail but not much tension or conclusion.

w John Hunter novel The Pack by John Rowan Wilson d Brian Desmond Hurst ph Robert Krasker m Geoffrey Wright

☆ Michael Redgrave, Tony Britton, Carl Mohner, Niall MacGinnis, Vanessa Redgrave, Ian Bannen, Brenda Bruce, Lionel Jeffries, Miles Malleson, John Welsh, Ann Firbank

Behind the Rising Sun ★

US 1943 88m bw
RKO

An American-educated Japanese goes home in the thirties, comes under the influence of war-mongers, and causes his father to commit hara-kiri.

Outrageous wartime flagwaver designed to vilify 'Uncle Tojo's dogs', from the writer and director of the similar Hitler's Children (qv).

w Emmet Lavery novel James R. Young d Edward Dmytryk ph Russell Metty m Roy Webb

☆ J. Carrol Naish, Tom Neal, Margo, Robert Ryan, Gloria Holden, Don Douglas, Adeline de Walt Reynolds

'A complete disaster.' – James Agate

Behind the Sun: see Abril Despedaçado

Behold a Pale Horse ★

US 1964 121m bw
Columbia/Highland/Brentwood (Fred Zinnemann, Alexander Trauner)

A Spanish guerrilla goes into exile at the end of the Civil War. Twenty years later he is persuaded to return and kill a brutal police chief.

An action film which unfortunately insists on saying something significant about morality, destiny and death. Impeccably made, but somehow not very interesting apart from the action sequences.

w J. P. Miller novel Killing a Mouse on Sunday by Emeric Pressburger d Fred Zinnemann ph Jean Badal m Maurice Jarre ad Alexander Trauner

☆ Gregory Peck, Omar Sharif, Anthony Quinn, Raymond Pellegrin, Paolo Stoppa, Mildred Dunnock, Daniela Rocca, Christian Marquand

'A fine example of a high class failure.' – Judith Crist

Beijing Bastards ★

China/Hong Kong 1993 95m colour
Beijing Bastards (Cui Jian, Zhang Yuan, Shu Qi, Du Kefeng) original title: Beijing Zazhong

Groups of friends with artistic aspirations drink, fight, talk, drink, play music and complain about their aimless lives.

A disjointed look at the disaffected young, in which the slight narrative is disrupted by rock performances; interesting mainly for its portrait of a shiftless generation not usually seen on film.

w Zhang Yuan, Tang Danian, Cui Jian d Zhang Yuan ph Zhang Jian m Cui Jian, Dou Wei, Ha Yong ad Liu Xiaodong ed Feng Shuangyuan

☆ Cui Jian, Li Wei, Wu Gang, Bian Tianshuo, Tang Danian, Bian Wing

'The first film to tackle the anger and frustration of today's youth in China ... communicates a strong sense of squalor and brutishness, a depressing lack of purpose and lack of contact between people. All told, pic is quite a downer.' – Deborah Young, Variety

† The film was banned by the Chinese authorities, who also tried to prevent it being shown at the Locarno Festival in 1993.

Beijing Bicycle ★

Taiwan/France 2001 113m colour
Metro Tartan/Arc Light/Pyramide (Peggy Chiao, Hsu Hsiao-ming, Han Sanping)

original title: Shiqisuide Danche

When his work as a courier is threatened by the theft of his bike, a country boy searches the city to recover it.

A late variation on Vittorio De Sica's Bicycle Thieves, in which the emphasis is less on the problems of making a living, and more on the difficulties and particular stresses of urban life.

w Wang Xiaoshuai, Tang Danian, Peggy Chiao, Hsu Hsiao-ming d Wang Xiaoshuai ph Liu Jie m Wang Feng ad Tsai Chao-yi, Cao Anjun ed Liao Ching-song, Yang Hong-yu, Hsiao Ju-kuan

☆ Cui Lin (Guo Liangui), Li Bin (Jian), Zhou Xun (Qin), Gao Yuanyuan (Xiao), Li Shuang (Da Huan), Zhao Yiwei (Father), Pang Yan (Mother)

'A meaningless morality film that seems most at home clattering away on an elementary school classroom projector than in art houses.' – Jeffrey M. Anderson, San Francisco Examiner

Beijing Zazhong: see Beijing Bastards

'Suddenly one Summer...'

Being at Home with Claude

Canada 1993 85m colour/bw
Out on a Limb/Les Productions du Cerf (Louise Gendron)

A young hustler explains to a policeman why he murdered his lover, a shy intellectual.

This small-scale play transferred to the screen retains its theatrical air, being all talk and no action; the talk, though, and the interaction between the two protagonists retain one's interest for the most part.

wd Jean Beaudin play René-Daniel Dubois ph Thomas Vamos m Richard Grégoire ed André Corriveau

☆ Roy Dupuis, Jacques Godin, Jean-François Pichette, Gaston Lepage

'It's hard not to respect something so extreme in its stylisation, emotional intensity and naked romanticism, but it's also hard to cosy up to a film which combines such posiness with hidebound theatre conventions. Beautifully crafted but entirely resistible.' – Kim Newman, Empire

'From the dawn of time man has struggled for just four things. Food. Safety. Someone to Love. And a pair of shoes that fit.'

Being Human ★

US/GB 1994 122m Technicolor
Warner/Enigma/Fujisankei/BSB/NatWest Ventures (Robert F. Colesberry, David Puttnam)

In five historical eras, from the Bronze Age to modern-day America, a father fails to provide for his family and ends alone and in near-despair.

Bleak variations on the theme of man's inability to make sense of the world, of people inventing stories to comfort themselves in impossible situations. There are moments of wry amusement, but despite its originality, it has too little variation in pace, and the episodes are too inconclusive to provide much satisfaction.

wd Bill Forsyth ph Michael Coulter m Michael Gibbs pd Norman Garwood ed Michael Ellis

☆ Robin Williams, John Turturro, Anna Galiena, Vincent D'Onofrio, Hector Elizondo, Lorraine Bracco, Lindsay Crouse, Jonathan Hyde, Bill Nighy, Theresa Russell (narrator)

'An affecting piece that follows its own path against the odds, and certainly does not need any excuses made for it.' – Jonathan Romney, Guardian

'This still-born series of little fables is so flat and ill-conceived that it could convince the uninitiated that neither Robin Williams nor the highly idiosyncratic Scottish writer/director Bill Forsyth had any talent.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† After being left on the shelf for a year, the film, which cost $20m to make, flopped at the US box-office, taking $2m, and was released direct to video in Britain.

Being John Malkovich ★★★

US/GB 1999 112m colour
Universal/Gramercy/Propaganda/Single Cell (Michael Stipe, Sandy Stern, Steve Golin, Vincent Landay)

Having discovered a portal that allows him to spend time inside the brain of John Malkovich, an unhappily married, unsuccessful puppeteer decides to exploit the situation.

A witty, highly original comedy that manages to be both surreal and ordinary in its depiction of the world and the everyday oddballs that inhabit it, though it does disappear up its own inventiveness towards the end.

w Charlie Kaufman d Spike Jonze ph Lance Acord m Carter Burwell pd K. K. Barrett ad Peter Andrus ed Eric Zumbrunnen

☆ John Cusack (Craig Schwartz), Cameron Diaz (Lotte Schwartz), Catherine Keener (Maxine), Orson Bean (Dr Lester), Mary Kay Place (Floris), John Malkovich (John Horatio Malkovich), Charlie Sheen (Charlie)

'Touches on questions of love, identity, sex, gender and penetration with a playful perverseness few other semi-mainstream productions would ever dare to dabble in. Devilishly inventive and so far out there it's almost off the scale.' – David Rooney, Variety

'Manages any number of resourceful riffs on the cult of success without losing its own sweetness.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Times

† Sean Penn, Brad Pitt and Christopher Bing appear uncredited as themselves.

Catherine Keener; Spike Jonze; Charlie Kaufman

Charlie Kaufman

'Passion. Obsession. Revenge. Prepare for the performance of a lifetime.'

Being Julia ★★

Canada/GB/Hungary 2004 104m DeLuxe
Serendipity Point/First Choice/Astral/Telefilm Canada/Corus/Myriad/ISL/Hogarth (Robert Lantos)

In the 1930s, London's most popular actress begins a passionate affair with a younger man, who is deceiving her, but remembers in time that what matters is to triumph on the stage.

Enjoyable bitchy period comedy set among people who regard real life as a rehearsal for the theatre.

w Ronald Harwood novel Theatre by W. Somerset Maugham d Istvan Szabo ph Lajos Koltai m Mychael Danna ad Luciana Arrighi ed Susan Shipton

☆ Annette Bening (Julia Lambert), Jeremy Irons (Michael Gosselyn), Bruce Greenwood (Lord Charles), Miriam Margolyes (Dolly de Vries), Juliet Stevenson (Evie), Michael Gambon (Jimmie Langton), Shaun Evans (Tom Fennel), Leigh Lawson (Archie Dexter), Rosemary Harris (Mrs Lambert), Rita Tushingham (Aunt Carrie)

'It's a shame the suggested theme of identity remains undeveloped, but there are enough laughs and splashes of nostalgic glamour to excuse that.' – Anna Smith, Empire

Annette Bening

'Getting there is half the fun; being there is all of it!'

Being There ★★★★

US 1979 130m Metrocolor
Lorimar/North Star/CIP (Andrew Braunsberg)

An illiterate gardener is taken for a homespun philosopher and becomes a national celebrity.

A serio-comic parable hinging on a Sellers' star performance as a blank character on whom others force an identity. Chance made it a popular urban success.

w Jerzy Kosinski novel Jerzy Kosinski d Hal Ashby ph Caleb Deschanel m John Mandel pd Michael Haller ad James Schoppe ed Don Zimmerman

☆ Peter Sellers (Chance), Shirley MacLaine (Eve Rand), Melvyn Douglas (Benjamin Rand), Jack Warden (President Bobby), Richard Dysart (Dr. Robert Allenby), Richard Basehart (Vladmir Skrapinov)

'It pulls off its long shot and is a confoundingly provocative movie.' – Roger Ebert

Melvyn Douglas
Peter Sellers
screenplay

Beiqing Chengshi ★

Taiwan 1989 160m colour
Artificial Eye/3-H/Era International (Qui Fusheng)

aka: A City of Sadness

During the 1940s, from the end of the Japanese occupation of Taiwan to the communist takeover of the Chinese mainland, a family, headed by a local gangster, undergoes domestic upheavals.

Winner of the Golden Lion at the Venice Film Festival in 1989, it nevertheless remains fairly impenetrable to Western audiences not familiar with the political intricacies of the period.

w Wu Nianzhen, Zhu Tianwen d Hou Hsiao-Hsien ph Chen Huai'en m Tachikawa Naoki, Zhang Hongyi pd Liu Zhihua, Lin Chongwen ed Liao Qingsong

☆ Li Tianlu, Chen Songyong, Gao Jie, Tony Leung, Wu Yifang, Xin Shufen, Chen Shufang, Ke Suyun, Lin Liqing, He Aiyun

'Its balance between the personal and the political is spectacular and exemplary, as if a brilliant miniaturist had miraculously filled a huge canvas.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Bela Lugosi Meets a Brooklyn Gorilla

US 1952 74m bw
Jack Broder

GB title: The Monster Meets the Gorilla

A tropical island scientist turns one half of a stranded comedy team into a gorilla.

Stupid farce which never rises to the occasion.

w Tim Ryan d William Beaudine

☆ Bela Lugosi, Duke Mitchell, Sammy Petrillo, Ray 'Crash' Corrigan, Muriel Landers

'Neighbourhood and small-town audiences will get some laughs.' – Box Office

Believe in Me

US 1971 90m colour
MGM (Irwin Winkler, Robert Chartoff)

Two young marrieds take to drugs.

Tedious and unenlightening modern drama which seems to think it's saying something new.

w Israel Horovitz d Stuart Hagmann ph Dick Kratina, Richard C. Brooks
m Fred Karlin
☆ Michael Sarrazin, Jacqueline Bisset, Jon Cypher, Allen Garfield

The Believer ★

US 2001 98m DuArt
Pathé/Fuller (Christopher Roberts, Susan Hoffman)

A brilliant Jewish student becomes the leader of an anti-Semitic gang.

Intriguing exploration of belief and identity, bouyed by an intensely convincing performance from Gosling.

wd Henry Bean ph Jim Denault m Joel Diamond pd Susan Block ed Mayin Lo, Lee Percy
☆ Ryan Gosling (Danny Balint), Summer Phoenix (Carla Moebius), Glenn Fitzgerald (Drake), Theresa Russell (Lina Moebius), Billy Zane (Curtis Zampf), Garret Dillahunt (Billings), Kris Eivers (Carleton), Joel Garland (O. L.)

'A fireball of contradictory ideas that will pin you to your seat.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone

The Believers ★

US 1987 114m DeLuxe
Orion/John Schlesinger, Michael Childers, Beverly Camhe

New York's occult underworld is permeated by a sinister Catholic ritual.

Most of the time it's hard to say what's going on in this intensely melodramatic thriller, but there are the odd rewards along the way. Not too many, actually.

w Mark Frost book The Religion by Nicholas Conde d John Schlesinger ph Robby Müller m J. Peter Robinson
pd Simon Holland ed Peter Honess
☆ Martin Sheen, Helen Shaver, Harley Cross, Robert Loggia, Elizabeth Wilson, Harris Yulin

'If nothing else, Schlesinger knows how to produce a film where pain and horror are beautiful to watch.' – Daily Variety

'A bewitching comedy about an enchanting subject!'

Bell, Book and Candle ★

US 1958 103m Technicolor
Columbia/Phoenix (Julian Blaustein)

A publisher slowly becomes aware that his new girlfriend is a witch.

A gossamer stage comedy has been fatally flattened in translation; most of the actors are miscast, and sentiment soaks the script. But it remains a civilized entertainment.

w Daniel Taradash play John Van Druten
d Richard Quine ph James Wong Howe
m George Duning ad Cary Odell
☆ James Stewart, Kim Novak, Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs, Hermione Gingold, Elsa Lanchester, Janice Rule

'Rarely has so much cinematic talent been expended so successfully on so little.' – Films in Review

Art direction

Bell Bottom George

GB 1943 97m bw
Columbia

A medically exempt waiter dons uniform and catches a ring of spies.

Formula star comedy, too long and too familiar.

w Peter Fraser, Edward Dryhurst d Marcel Varnel
☆ George Formby, Anne Firth, Reginald Purdell, Peter Murray Hill

A Bell for Adano ★

US 1945 104m bw
TCF (Louis D. Lighton, Lamar Trotti)

An American major takes over an Italian town and wins affection by replacing the local bell.

Slight end-of-war mood piece, still quite pleasant but without the undercurrents of feeling it had at the time.

w Lamar Trotti, Norman Reilly Raine novel John Hersey d Henry King
ph Joseph LaShelle m Alfred Newman
☆ John Hodiak, Gene Tierney, William Bendix, Glenn Langan, Richard Conte, Stanley Prager, Henry Morgan

The Bell Jar

US 1979 107m colour
Peerce-Goldston/Avco

A teenage girl becomes mentally ill when her father dies.

Numbingly tedious case history without much apparent point.

w Marjorie Kellogg novel Sylvia Plath
d Larry Peerce
☆ Marilyn Hassett, Julie Harris, Anne Jackson, Barbara Barrie

Belladonna

GB 1934 91m bw
Twickenham (Julius Hagen)

A selfish woman tries to poison her husband for love of an Egyptian.

Intriguingly-cast version of a story that was later filmed in Hollywood as Temptation (qv).

w H. Fowler Mear play J. B. Fagan novel Robert Hichens d Robert Milton ph Sydney Blythe, William Luff ad James Carter ☆ Mary Ellis, Conrad Veidt, Cedric Hardwicke, John Stuart, Michael Shepley

Il Bell'Antonio ★

Italy/France 1960 105m bw
Cina del Duca-Arco/Lyre Cinématographique (Alfredo Bini)
GB title: Handsome Antonio

A youngish man returns to his native town with the reputation of a lady-killer, but when married turns out to be impotent.

Amusing but finally exhausting Sicilian comedy with all the expected exaggeration of speech and gesture.

w Pier Paolo Pasolini, Gino Visentini novel Vitaliano Brancati d Piero Piccioni ☆ Marcello Mastroianni, Claudia Cardinale, Pierre Brasseur, Rina Morelli, Tomas Milian

The Bellboy ★

US 1960 72m bw
Paramount/Jerry Lewis Productions (Jerry Lewis)

An incompetent bellboy causes havoc in a Miami hotel.

Plotless essence of a comedian who divides opinion and will never be better than variable. This ragbag of old gags at least prevents his usual sentimental excesses, and is mercifully short.

wd Jerry Lewis ph Haskell Boggs
m Walter Scharf
☆ Jerry Lewis, Alex Gerry, Bob Clayton, Herkie Styles, Milton Berle

La Belle Américaine ★

France 1961 101m bw (colour finale)
CCFC/Film d'Art/Panorama/Corflor (Henri Diamant-Berger, Arthur Lesser) GB and US titles: What a Chassis
aka: The American Beauty

A Parisian factory worker gets into all kinds of trouble when he buys an American supercar for a ridiculously low price.

Some brilliant gags are separated by long dull spots of unnecessary storytelling.

w Robert Dhéry, Pierre Tchernia, Alfred Adam d Robert Dhéry ph Ghislain Cloquet m Gérard Calvi
☆ Robert Dhéry, Louis de Funes, Colette Brosset, Alfred Adam, Bernard Lavalette, Annie Ducaux

Belle de Jour ★★★★

France/Italy 1967 100m Eastmancolor
Paris Film/Five Film (Robert and Raymond Hakim)

A surgeon's wife finds herself drawn to afternoon work in a brothel.

Fascinating Buñuel mixture of fact and fantasy, impeccably woven into a rich fabric.

w Luis Buñuel, Jean-Claude Carrière novel Joseph Kessel d Luis Buñuel
ph Sacha Vierny m none ad Robert Clavel ed Louisette Hautecoeur, Walter Spohr ☆ Catherine Deneuve (Severine Serizy), Jean Sorel (Pierre Serizy), Michel Piccoli (Henri Husson), Genevieve Page (Madame Anais), Pierre Clémenti (Marcel)

'Oppressively powerful. Like being buried alive in Sarah Bernhardt's dressing room.' – Wilfred Sheed

'The rhythm of the writing, the color changes, acting tempos, camera angles, the whole editing – all this is perfect. There is not one extraneous shot, nor one that is missing. Disparate elements are embraced in a self-possessed, lucidly enchanting flow.' – John Simon

† It won the Golden Lion for best film at the Venice Film Festival in 1967.

†† The Region 1 DVD release includes an interview with Catherine Deneuve and commentary by Buñuel scholar Julie Jones.

Belle Epoque ★

Spain 1992 109m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
Mayfair/Lola/Animatografo/French Production/Fernando Trueba

In Spain in the early 30s, a deserter from the army hides in the house of a widower with four attractive daughters, who teach him the pleasures of life.

A leisurely, enjoyable film of the past, as seen through rose-coloured spectacles; it is inoffensive and amusing without being particularly memorable.

w Rafael Azcona story Rafael Azcona, José Luis Garcia Sanchez, Fernando Trueba d Fernando Trueba ph José Luis Alcaine
m Antoine Duhamel ad Juan Botella
ed Carmen Frias
☆ Fernando Fernán Gómez, Jorge Sanz, Maribel Verdú, Ariadna Gil, Miriam Diaz-Aroca, Penélope Cruz, Gabino Diego, Michel Galabru

'The tone is merry as well as erotic, but generally takes the easy way out, suggesting there is more than one country in Europe that sees the benefit of making warmly pleasurable period films that will attract nostalgic audiences.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

best foreign film

La Belle Equipe ★

France 1936 74m bw
Ciné Arts

Five unemployed Parisians win the lottery and open a restaurant, but things do not go smoothly.

Interesting but rather lumpy star drama which finally descends into melodrama; alternative tragic and happy endings were originally offered.

w Charles Spaak, Julien Duvivier d Julien Duvivier ph Jules Kruger, Marc Fessard
m Maurice Yvain
☆ Jean Gabin, Charles Vanel, Viviane Romance, Raymond Aimos, Robert Lynen, Raymond Cordy, Raphael Medina

La Belle et la Bête ★★★

France 1946 96m bw
Discina (André Paulvé)

aka: Beauty and the Beast

Beauty gives herself to the Beast who has kidnapped her father; through love the monster turns into a handsome prince.

Slightly heavy-handed though usually stunning-looking adaptation of the fairy tale.

wd Jean Cocteau story Madame LePrince de Beaumont ph Henri Alekan m Georges Auric ad Christian Bérard ed Claude Ibéria
☆ Jean Marais (Avenant/The Beast/The Prince), Josette Day (Beauty), Mila Parély (Adelaide), Marcel André (Merchant), Nane Germon (Felice), Michel Auclair (Ludovic)

'Perhaps the most sumptuously elegant of all filmed fairy tales.' – New Yorker, 1980

'Absolute magic: diamond cold and lunar bright.' – CBS

'A sensuously fascinating film, a fanciful poem in movement given full articulation on the screen.' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

Une Belle Fille Comme Moi

France 1972 98m colour
Columbia/Les Films du Carrosse (Marcel Berbert, Claude Ganz)
US title: Such a Gorgeous Kid Like Me

A gullible sociologist hears the confession of a promiscuous murderess.

Moderately interesting black comedy.

w Jean-Loup Dabadie, François Truffaut novel Henry Farrell d François Truffaut ph Pierre-William Glenn m Georges Delerue ad Jean-Pierre Kohut ed Yann Dedet, Martine Barraque ☆ Bernadette Lafont, Claude Brasseur, Charles Denner, Guy Marchand, André Dussollier, Anne Kreis, Philippe Léotard

La Belle Noiseuse ★★★★

France 1991 240m colour
Artificial Eye/Pierre Grise

The beautiful young mistress of a friend inspires a famous artist to finish a painting, for which his wife modelled, that he put aside ten years before.

A gripping and penetrating movie on the themes of obsession, art and love, although it offers little in the way of conventional narrative.

w Pascal Bonitzer, Christine Laurent, Jacques Rivette story Le Chef d'Oeuvre Inconnu

(The Unknown Masterpiece) by Honoré de Balzac d Jacques Rivette ph William Lubtchansky m Stravinsky ad Emmanuel de Chauvigny ed Nicole Lubtchansky
☆ Michel Piccoli (Edouard Frenhofer), Jane Birkin (Liz), Emmanuelle Béart (Marianne), Marianne Denicourt (Julienne), David Bursztein (Nicolas), Gilles Arbona (Porbus)
'Perhaps the most meticulous and seductive depiction in movies of the hard work of making art.' – Richard Corliss, Time
† Artist Bernard Dufour, whose hand is the only part of him to be seen, did the painting
†† La Belle Noiseuse: Divertimento, a two-hour version of the film using different takes, was produced for French TV and also given a cinema and video release.

The Belle of New York ★

US 1952 82m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)
An 1890s playboy falls for a Salvation Army girl.
A rather dreary version of the old musical, with undistinguished additions.
w Robert O'Brien, Irving Elinson play Hugh Morton d Charles Walters ph Robert Planck m/ly Johnny Mercer, Harry Warren md Adolph Deutsch ad Jack Martin Smith
☆ Fred Astaire, Vera-Ellen, Marjorie Main, Keenan Wynn, Alice Pearce, Clinton Sundberg, Gale Robbins
† Vera-Ellen's singing was dubbed by Anita Ellis
♫ 'When I'm Out with the Belle of New York'; 'Oops'; 'Baby Doll'; 'Naughty but Nice'; 'Seeing's Believing'; 'Thank You Mr Currier, Thank You Mr Ives'; 'I Love to Beat a Big Bass Drum'; 'I Wanna Be a Dancing Man'; 'Let a Little Love Come In'

Belle of the Nineties ★

US 1934 75m bw
Paramount (William Le Baron)
A saloon entertainer loves two men, one of whom is a crook.
Much-laundered star vehicle which despite superior production seems a pale shadow of the star's better pieces.
w Mae West d Leo McCarey ph Karl Struss m/ly Arthur Johnston, Sam Coslow ☆ Mae West, Roger Pryor, John Miljan, John Mack Brown, Katherine de Mille, Duke Ellington and his Orchestra
'It's been sufficiently denatured from within, yet not completely emasculated.' – Variety

Belle of the Yukon ★

US 1945 84m Technicolor
International
A troupe of saloon entertainers in the Yukon become involved with a bank robbery.
Threads of plot support comedy, dancing and songs in this thin but reasonably fresh musical imitation of The Spoilers (qv).
w James Edward Grant d William A. Seiter ph Ray Rennahan md Arthur Lange ☆ Gypsy Rose Lee, Randolph Scott, Dinah Shore, Charles Winninger, Bob Burns
Arthur Lange; song 'Sleigh Ride in July' (m Jimmy Van Heusen, ly Johnny Burke)

Belle Starr

US 1941 87m Technicolor
TCF (Kenneth MacGowan)
Angry at losing her lands to the Yankees in the Civil War, Belle Starr marries a Confederate guerilla leader and continues to battle on.
Absurdly laundered version of the life of the west's most notorious female outlaw, with the star laughably miscast.
w Lamar Trotti d Irving Cummings ph Ernest Palmer, Ray Rennahan m Alfred Newman ☆ Gene Tierney, Randolph Scott, Dana Andrews, Shepperd Strudwick, Elizabeth Patterson, Chill Wills, Louise Beavers

Belle Starr's Daughter

US 1947 86m bw
TCF/Alson (Edward L. Alperson)
After the truce between outlaw Belle Starr and the town of Antoich breaks down, her daughter seeks revenge for the death of her mother.
Lacklustre western, perfunctorily plotted and composed of most of the clichés of the genre, with an unlikely romance at its centre; its only novelty lies in its musical score, which is often elegiac in tone and more complex than those usually accompanying B features.
w W.R. Burnett d Lesley Selander ph William Sickner m Dr Edward Kilenyi ad Lucius Croxton ed Jason Bernie
☆ George Montgomery, Rod Cameron, Ruth Roman, Wallace Ford, Charles Kemper, William Phipps, Edith King, Jack Lambert, Fred Libby, Isabel Jewell

Les Belles de Nuit ★★

France/Italy 1952 89m bw
Franco London/Rizzoli
A discontented music teacher dreams of beautiful women through the ages.
Charming but very slight dream fantasy with many of the master's touches. (He claims to have intended a comic Intolerance.)
wd René Clair ph Armand Thirard, Robert Juilliard, Louise Née m Georges Van Parys ad Léon Barsacq
☆ Gérard Philipe, Gina Lollobrigida, Martine Carol, Magali Vendeuil, Paolo Stoppa, Raymond Bussières, Raymond Cordy

The Belles of St Trinian's ★

GB 1954 91m bw
BL/London Films/Launder and Gilliat
At an unruly and bankrupt school for girls, more time is spent backing horses than studying subjects, and the headmistress's bookmaker brother has a scheme or two of his own.
Fairly successful film version of Ronald Searle's awful schoolgirl cartoons, the emphasis shifted to a grotesque older generation with the star in drag. An enormous commercial success, but the three sequels Blue Murder at St Trinian's, The Pure Hell of St Trinian's, The Great St Trinian's Train Robbery (qqv), went from bad to awful.
w Frank Launder, Sidney Gilliat, Val Valentine d Frank Launder ph Stan Pavey m Malcolm Arnold ☆ Alastair Sim, George Cole, Joyce Grenfell, Hermione Baddeley, Betty Ann Davies, Renée Houston, Beryl Reid, Irene Handl, Mary Merrall, Joan Sims, Sidney James
'Not so much a film as an entertainment on celluloid, a huge charade, a rich pile of idiotic and splendidly senseless images.' – David Robinson

Belles on Their Toes

US 1952 89m Technicolor
TCF (Samuel G. Engel)
Further adventures in the growing up of the twelve Gilbreth children.
Flat sequel to Cheaper by the Dozen (qv) with sentimentality instead of Clifton Webb. Period atmosphere attractive.
w Phoebe and Henry Ephron book Frank B. Gilbreth Jnr and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey d Henry Levin ph Arthur E. Arling m Cyril Mockridge
☆ Myrna Loy, Jeanne Crain, Debra Paget, Jeffrey Hunter, Edward Arnold, Hoagy Carmichael, Barbara Bates, Robert Arthur

Belleville Rendez-vous: see Les Triplettes de Belleville

Bellissima ★

Italy 1951 100m bw
Bellissima Films (Salvo d'Angelo)
A mother struggles to get a part in a film for her 7-year-old daughter.
Highly detailed, very noisy star vehicle with neo-realist working-class backgrounds. Exhausting.
w Suso Cecchi d'Amico, Francesco Rosi, Luchino Visconti, Cesare Zavattini d Luchino Visconti ph Piero Portalupi m Franco Mannino
☆ Anna Magnani, Walter Chiari, Tina Apicella, Gastone Renzelli, Alessandro Blasetti

Bellman and True ★

GB 1987 122m Technicolor
Handmade/Euston (Michael Wearing, Christopher Neame)
A young burglar in a heist is protected by an older crook's computer skills.
Good crime drama with television derivation.
w Desmond Lowder, Richard Loncraine, Michael Wearing novel Desmond Lowder d Richard Loncraine ph Ken Westbury m Colin Towns pd Jon Bunker ed Paul Green ☆ Bernard Hill, Derek Newark, Kieran O'Brien, Richard Hope, Frances Tomelty

The Bells

GB 1931 75m bw
PDC/BSFP (Sergei Nolbandov)
An Alsatian burgomaster is forced by conscience to confess to the killing of a Jew.
Only sound version of a famous melodrama first played on stage by Henry Irving in 1871.
w C. H. Dand play Le Juif Polonais by Erckmann and Chatrian d Oscar M. Werndorff, Harcourt Templeman (in three language versions) ph Gunther Krampf, Eric Cross m Gustav Holst ad Oscar Werndorff ed Lars Moen, Michael Hankinson
☆ Donald Calthrop, Jane Welsh, Edward Sinclair
† In a 1926 silent version Lionel Barrymore played the murderer and Boris Karloff the mesmerist.

Bells Are Ringing ★

US 1960 126m Metrocolor
Cinemascope
MGM (Arthur Freed)
A telephone answering service operator becomes passionately involved in the lives of her clients.
Dull, rather ugly and boring transcription of a Broadway musical, with all talents below par, not enough dancing and too much plot.
w Betty Comden, Adolph Green play Betty Comden, Adolph Green d Vincente Minnelli ph Milton Krasner m Jule Styne md André Previn ch Charles O'Curran ad George W. Davis, Preston Ames ly Betty Comden, Adolph Green
☆ Judy Holliday, Dean Martin, Fred Clark, Eddie Foy Jnr, Jean Stapleton, Ruth Storey, Frank Gorshin
André Previn

The Bells Go Down ★

GB 1943 89m bw
Ealing (S. C. Balcon)
The exploits of a London firefighting unit during World War II.
Tragi-comedy with lively scenes, a good record of the historical background of the blitz.
w Roger Macdougall, Stephen Black d Basil Dearden ph Ernest Palmer m Roy Douglas ☆ Tommy Trinder (Tommy), James Mason, Mervyn Johns (Sam), Philippa Hiatt (Nan), Finlay Currie (D.O. MacFarlane), Philip Friend, Meriel Forbes (Susie), Beatrice Varley (Ma Turk), Billy Hartnell (Brookes), Norman Pierce (Pa Robbins), Muriel George (Ma Robbins), Julien Vedey (Lou Freeman), Johnnie Schofield (Milkman)

Bells of St Angelo

US 1947 78m Trucolor
Republic (Edward J. White)
In between songs, Roy Rogers foils smugglers who are taking silver across the Mexican border.
A tougher movie than usual for Rogers, but still a curious mixture of comedy, songs, fist-fights and death.
w Sloan Nibley story Paul Gangelin d William Witney ph Jack Marta md Morton Scott ad Gano Chittenden ed Les Orlebeck
☆ Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Andy Devine, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers

'Your heart will be wearing a smile!'

The Bells of St Mary's ★★

US 1945 126m bw
RKO/Rainbow (Leo McCarey)
At a big city Catholic school, Father O'Malley and Sister Benedict indulge in friendly rivalry, and succeed in extending the school through the gift of a building.
Sentimental and very commercial sequel to Going My Way (qv), with the stars at their peak and the handling as cosy and well-paced as might be expected.
w Dudley Nichols d Leo McCarey ph George Barnes m Robert Emmett Dolan ed Harry Marker
☆ Bing Crosby, Ingrid Bergman, Henry Travers, William Gargan, Ruth Donnelly, Rhys Williams, Una O'Connor, Eva Novak
'The picture is full of shrewd and pleasant flashes. It is also fascinating to watch as a talented, desperate effort to repeat the unrepeatable. But on the whole it is an unhappy film.' – James Agee best picture; Leo McCarey; Robert Emmett Dolan; Bing Crosby; Ingrid Bergman; song 'Aren't You Glad You're You' (m Jimmy Van Heusen, ly Johnny Burke); Harry Marker

Belly

US 1998 96m DeLuxe
Alliance/Artisan/Big Dog (Ron Rotholz, Hype Williams, Robert Salerno, Larry Meistrich)
Two successful young black gangsters face an uncertain future.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

A first feature from a director of music-videos, which has flash and style but little characterisation; you could say it suffers from substance abuse: there's not enough of it beneath the slick surface and raucous hiphop soundtrack.
w Hype Williams, Anthony Bodden, Nas d Hype Williams ph Malik Sayeed m Stephen Cullo pd Regan Jackson ed David Leonard
☆ Nas (Sincere), DMX (Tommy Brown), Taral Hicks (Kisha), Tionne 'T-Boz' Watkins (Tionne), Method Man (Shameek), Hassan Johnson (Mark), Power (Knowledge), Louie Rankin (Lennox), Tyrin Turner (Big), Minister Benjamin F. Muhammed (Rev Saviour)
'Shackled to a threadbare plot and guided by primary school philosophy, unfortunately Belly fails in every department.' – Ben Falk, Empire

The Belly of an Architect

GB/Italy 1987 118m Technicolor
Recorded Releasing/Mondial/Tangram/Film Four International/British Screen (Colin Callender, Walter Donohue)
An American architect in Rome discovers he is terminally ill, is deserted by his wife, and commits suicide.
Ravishing evocation of 18th-century Roman architecture is no compensation for the multi-layered psychological complexity.
wd Peter Greenaway ph Sacha Vierny m Wim Mertens ad Luciana Vedovelli ed John Wilson ☆ Brian Dennehy, Chloe Webb, Lambert Wilson

Beloved

US 1933 80m bw
Universal (Bennie F. Zeidman)
A composer ages from 10 to 90 while trying to place his symphony; he dies happy.
Curious fictional biopic with plenty of incident but no plot.
w Paul Gangelin, George O'Neil d Victor Schertzinger
☆ John Boles, Gloria Stuart, Albert Conti, Dorothy Peterson, Morgan Farley 'Too hopelessly muddled in conception to reach the important money class.' – Variety

The Beloved

US/Greece 1972 94m Technicolor
Filmex Curtwel/Pageant (Patrick Curtis, Yorgo (George) Pan Cosmatos) aka: Sin
aka: Restless
Returning from London to his Greek island home, a man begins an affair with the wife of a friend and connives in his death.
Glossy, folksy, and very dull domestic drama, as unconvincing as you would expect from a production that casts Raquel Welch in the role of a Greek peasant.
wd Yorgo (George) Pan Cosmatos ph Mercello Gatti m Yannis Markopoulos pd John Corbidge ed Terry Williams ☆ Raquel Welch, Richard Johnson, Jack Hawkins, Flora Robson, Renato Romano, Frank Wolff

Beloved ★

US 1998 172m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Harpo/Clinica Estetico (Edward Saxon, Jonathan Demme, Gary Goetzman, Oprah Winfrey, Kate Forte)
In Ohio in the 1870s, a former slave gives a home to a strange young woman, who seems to be the ghost of her dead daughter.
Meticulous version of a novel dealing with the effects and aftermath of slavery; it is, though, both too earnest and too long to be entirely satisfactory.
w Akosua Busia, Richard LaGravenese, Adam Brooks novel Toni Morrison d Jonathan Demme ph Tak Fujimoto m Rachel Portman pd Kristi Zea ed Carol Littleton, Andy Keir ☆ Oprah Winfrey, Danny Glover, Thandie Newton, Kimberly Elise, Beah Richards, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Albert Hall, Irma P. Hall, Carol Jean Lewis, Kessia Kordelle, Jason Robards
'They should have called it Belaboured.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times
♗ Colleen Atwood (costumes)

The Beloved Bachelor

US 1931 72m bw
Paramount
A man falls in love with his adopted daughter.
Innocuous tearjerker made with some style.
w Sidney Buchman, Raymond Griffith, Agnes Brand Leahy, Edward H. Peple d Lloyd Corrigan
☆ Paul Lukas, Dorothy Jordan, Betty Van Allen, Charles Ruggles, Vivienne Osborne
'A particularly femme appealing yarn with apt dialogue and natural continuity.' – Variety

'There she sat ... Tense ... Silent ... Watching!'

Beloved Enemy ★

US 1936 90m bw
Samuel Goldwyn (George Haight)
During the 1921 Irish rebellion, the fiancée of a British army officer falls in love with the leading revolutionary.
Dreamy-eyed romance with little relevance to the real situation; not badly done of its kind.
w John Balderston, Rose Franken, William Brown Meloney, David Hart d H. C. Potter ph Gregg Toland m Alfred Newman
☆ Brian Aherne, Merle Oberon, David Niven, Karen Morley, Jerome Cowan, Henry Stephenson, Donald Crisp
'One of the most incredible screen yarns which has been shown in many a day ... If when the film is shown in Dublin a tidal wave engulfs Hollywood, it will be caused by the Emerald Isle turning somersaults.' – Variety

Beloved Infidel ★

US 1959 123m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF/Company of Artists (Jerry Wald)
Sheilah Graham, a British chorus girl turned Hollywood columnist, lives with Scott Fitzgerald but fails to cure him of alcoholism.
A bitter and even sordid true story becomes a slice of Hollywood romance, with stars unsuitably cast. On all levels it falls between two stools, satisfying nobody.
w Sy Bartlett book Sheilah Graham, Gerold Frank d Henry King ph Leon Shamroy m Franz Waxman ☆ Gregory Peck, Deborah Kerr, Eddie Albert, Philip Ober, Herbert Rudley, Karin Booth, Ken Scott
'Catastrophically misguided.' – Penelope Houston

The Beloved Rogue ★

US 1927 99m (24 fps) bw silent
Art Cinema Corporation
15th-century poet and thief François Villon becomes a friend of the king, but is banished when he falls for a lady of the court.
Stylish star vehicle remade as If I Were King (qv).
w Paul Bern d Alan Crosland pd William Cameron Menzies
☆ John Barrymore, Conrad Veidt, Marceline Day, Mack Swain, Slim Summerville

'He kissed many but loved one!'

The Beloved Vagabond ★

GB 1936 78m bw
ABFD/Ludovico Toeplitz
At the turn of the century, a jilted French artist becomes a vagabond and falls in love with an orphan girl.
Mildly amusing bi-lingual production from a bestselling picaresque novel; production quite lively.
w Wells Root, Arthur Wimperis, Hugh Mills, Walter Creighton novel W. J. Locke d Curtis Bernhardt ph Franz Planer m Darius Milhaud md Leslie Bridgewater ad Andrei Andreiev ed Dug Myers ☆ Maurice Chevalier, Margaret Lockwood, Betty Stockfeld, Desmond Tester, Austin Trevor, Peter Haddon, Cathleen Nesbitt
'A weak sister, mostly for the duals.' – Variety

Below Zero ★★

US 1930 20m bw
Hal Roach
Street musicians treat a policeman to lunch on the contents of a found wallet which turns out to be his.
Slow-paced but likeable star comedy from their best period.
w H. M. Walker d James Parrott
☆ Laurel and Hardy, Frank Holliday, Tiny Sandford

The Belstone Fox ★

GB 1973 103m Eastmancolor
Todd-AO 35
Rank/Independent Artists (Sally Shuter)
A fox and a hound grow up together but the fox leads to tragedy for its masters.
Good animal and countryside photography barely compensate for a fragmentary story with unpleasant moments or for a muddled attitude towards humans and animals; one is not clear what audience the result is supposed to appeal to.
wd James Hill novel The Ballad of the Belstone Fox by David Rook ph John Wilcox, James Allen m Laurie Johnson ☆ Eric Porter, Rachel Roberts, Jeremy Kemp, Bill Travers, Dennis Waterman

Beltenebros

Spain 1991 114m Eastmancolor
Panavision
Metro/Iberoamerican/Floradora (Andrés Vicente Gómez)
aka: Prince of Shadows
In the early 1960s, a Spanish political exile is sent to kill a traitor to the anti-fascist cause.
Good-looking but dull and disastrously miscast drama of betrayal.
w Pilar Miró, Mario Camus, Juan Antonio Porto novel Beltenebros by Antonio Muñoz Molina d Pilar Miró ph Javier Aguirresarobe m José Nieto pd Fernando Saénz, Luis Vallés, Ewa Braun ed José Luis Matesanz
☆ Terence Stamp, Patsy Kensit, José Luis Gómez, John McEnery, Geraldine James, Simón Andreu, Aleksander Bardini, Bernice Stegers

Ben

US 1972 92m DeLuxe
Cinerama/Bing Crosby (Mort Briskin)
A sickly boy inherits an army of trained rats.
Boring reprise of Willard (qv) in which the audience knows only too well what to expect. Production and development quite routine.
w Gilbert A. Ralston d Phil Karlson ph Russell Metty m Walter Scharf
☆ Lee Harcourt Montgomery, Arthur O'Connell, Rosemary Murphy, Meredith Baxter, Kaz Garas, Paul Carr, Kenneth Tobey, Joseph Campanella
♗ title song (m Walter Scharf, ly Don Black)

'The great decade (1915–25) of the progress of motion picture art reaches its summit! A cast of 125,000!'
'The inspired love of the prince of Hur for the gentle lovely Esther!'

Ben-Hur ★★★

US 1925 170m approx (16 fps) bw (colour sequence) silent
MGM
In the time of Christ, a Jew suffers mightily under the Romans.
The American silent screen's biggest epic; the sea battle and the chariot race are its most famous sequences.
w Bess Meredyth, Carey Wilson novel Lew Wallace d Fred Niblo ph Karl Struss, Clyde de Vinna, and others ad Horace Jackson, Ferdinand Pinney Earle ed Lloyd Nosler ☆ Ramon Novarro (Judah Ben-Hur), Francis X. Bushman (Messala), Carmel Myers (Iras), May McAvoy (Esther), Betty Bronson (Mary)
'Masterpiece of study and patience, a photodrama filled with artistry.' – New York Times
† To begin with, the film was directed by Charles Brabin and starred George Walsh. Both were replaced after Louis Mayer saw the first rushes. Previously filmed in 1907.

Ben-Hur ★★

US 1959 217m Technicolor Camera 65
MGM (Sam Zimbalist)
At the time of Christ, a Palestinian Jew battles against the might of the Roman Empire.
Solid, expensive, surprisingly unimaginative remake; generally less sprightly than the silent version, with the chariot race being its high spot.
w Karl Tunberg d William Wyler, Andrew Marton ph Robert L. Surtees m Miklos Rozsa ad William A. Horning, Edward Carfagno ed Ralph E. Winters, John D. Dunning cos Elizabeth Haffenden
☆ Charlton Heston (Judah Ben Hur), Haya Harareet (Esther), Jack Hawkins (Quintus Arrius), Stephen Boyd (Messala), Hugh Griffith (Sheik Ilderim), Martha Scott (Miriam), Sam Jaffe (Simonides), Cathy O'Donnell (Tirzah), Finlay Currie (Balthasar), Frank Thring (Pontius Pilate), Terence Longdon (Drusus), André Morell (Sextus), George Relph (Tiberius)
'Watching it is like waiting at a railroad crossing while an interminable freight train lumbers by, sometimes stopping altogether.' – Dwight MacDonald
'A Griffith can make a hundred into a crowd while a Wyler can reduce a thousand to a confused cocktail party.' – Ibid.
'The most tasteful and visually exciting film spectacle yet produced by an American company.' – Albert Johnson, Film Quarterly

'Spectacular without being a spectacle ... not only is it not simple-minded, it is downright literate.' – Saturday Review
'A major motion picture phenomenon.' – Films in Review
† The production cost four million dollars, twice the maximum at the time. Rock Hudson, Marlon Brando and Burt Lancaster were all sought in vain for the lead before Heston was selected.
†† This version was subtitled 'A Tale of the Christ'.
picture; William Wyler; Robert L. Surtees; Miklos Rozsa; Charlton Heston; Hugh Griffith; art direction; costumes; editing; special effects (Arnold Gillespie, Robert MacDonald, Milo Lory); sound (Franklin Milton)
Karl Tunberg
film

Benchley

The one-reel shorts in which Robert Benchley, sitting behind a desk, delivered nonsensical lectures on aspects of modern life were very popular with better-class audiences, and launched Benchley onto his movie career as a light actor. Here is a list of them:
1928 The Treasurer's Report, The Sex Life of the Polyp, The Spellbinder
1929 Lesson Number One (2 reels), Furnace Trouble (2 reels), Stewed, Fried and Boiled (2 reels)
1933 Your Technocracy and Mine (2 reels)
1935 How to Break 90 at Croquet, How to Sleep
1936 How to Behave, How to Train a Dog, How to Vote, How to Be a Detective
1937 The Romance of Digestion, How to Start the Day, A Night at the Movies
1938 How to Figure Income Tax, Music Made Simple, An Evening Alone, How to Raise a Baby, The Courtship of the Newt, How to Read, How to Watch Football, Opening Day, Mental Poise, How to Sublet
1939 An Hour for Lunch, Dark Magic, Home Early, How to Eat, The Day of Rest, See Your Doctor
1940 That Inferior Feeling, Home Movies, The Trouble with Husbands
1941 Waiting for Baby, Crime Control, The Forgotten Man, How to Take a Vacation
1942 Nothing but Nerves, The Witness, Keeping in Shape, The Man's Angle
1943 My Tomato, No News Is Good News
1944 Important Business, Why, Daddy?
1945 Boogie Woogie (2 reels), I'm a Civilian Here Myself
† In the late seventies a feature compilation was made under the title Those Marvellous Benchley Shorts.

'It's Never Too Late Too Take A Stand.'

The Benchwarmers ②

US 2006 85m DeLuxe
Columbia/Revolution/Happy Madison (Adam Sandler, Jack Giarraputo)
Three socially inadequate men form a baseball team to compete against the sort of sports-loving children who bullied them during their schooldays.
Fart, vomit, midget and homophobic jokes dominate this relentlessly dim-witted production from Adam Sandler, who managed to cast as stars three actors even less funny than himself.
w Allen Covert, Nick Swardson d Dennis Dugan ph Thomas Ackerman m Waddy Wachtel pd Perry Andelin Blake ed Peck Prior, Sandy Solowitz
☆ Rob Schneider (Gus), David Spade (Richie), Jon Heder (Clark), Jon Lovitz (Mel), Craig Kilborn (Jerry), Molly Sims (Liz), James Earl Jones (Voice of Darth Vader), Reggie Jackson (Himself)
'Never completely dispels the discomforting impression that there's something rather creepy about adults trying to increase their self-esteem by defeating, humiliating and, occasionally, physically manhandling children.' – Joe Leydon, Variety
'The sort of trash that Hollywood does really well. It is also, to quote Mr. Schneider, "a master's thesis on the form of a quintessential Adam Sandler comedy."' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times

'Who wants to cook Aloo Gobi when you can bend a ball like Beckham?'

Bend It Like Beckham ★

US/GB/Germany 2002 112m DeLuxe
Helkon SK/Kintop/Film Council/Filmfoerderung (Deepak Nayar, Gurinder Chadha)
An 18-year-old London girl wants to become a professional footballer, in defiance of her Punjabi Sikh parents, who want her to study law and marry.
Broad comedy of cultural differences with no surprises but a few laughs along the way.
w Gurinder Chadha, Guljit Bindra, Paul Mayeda Berges d Gurinder Chadha ph Jong Lin m Craig Pruess pd Nick Ellis ed Justin Krish ☆ Parminder Nagra (Jess Bhamra), Keira Knightley (Jules Paxton), Jonathan Rhys Meyers (Joe), Anupam Kher (Mr Bhamra), Archie Panjabi (Pinky Bhamra), Shaznay Lewis (Mel), Frank Harper (Alan Paxton), Juliet Stevenson (Paula Paxton)
'A feel-good comedy that promotes, with total political correctness, the cultural equivalence between two tribal religions – English football and Indian weddings.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

Bend of the River ★

US 1952 91m Technicolor
U-I (Aaron Rosenberg)
GB title: Where the River Bends
1880 wagon trains arrive in Oregon, and the pioneers have trouble with the local bad man.
Good standard Western with pace and period feeling but not much plot sense.
w Borden Chase novel Bend of the Snake by William Gulick d Anthony Mann ph Irving Glassberg m Hans Salter ad Bernard Herzbrun, Nathan Juran
ed Russell Schoengarth
☆ James Stewart, Arthur Kennedy, Rock Hudson, Julia Adams, Lori Nelson, Jay C. Flippen, Henry Morgan, Royal Dano, Stepin Fetchit

Beneath the Planet of the Apes ★

US 1969 94m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/APJAC (Mort Abrahams)
Astronauts on the ape planet discover that it is really Earth and that subterranean human mutants are nursing a live atom bomb.
Violence replaces the thoughtfulness of the original, but this is not at all a bad sequel as sequels go.
w Paul Dehn, Mort Abrahams d Ted Post
ph Milton Krasner m Leonard Rosenman
☆ James Franciscus, Charlton Heston, Linda Harrison, Kim Hunter, Maurice Evans, Paul Richards, Victor Buono, Jeff Corey, James Gregory, Thomas Gomez
† See Planet of the Apes.

Beneath the Twelve Mile Reef

US 1953 102m Technicolor Cinemascope
TCF (Robert Bassler)
Jealousy, tragedy and romance among the Florida sponge fishers.
Fox's early Cinemascope production involved much underwater shooting, a trick octopus, and predictable plot devices.
w A. I. Bezzerides d Robert D. Webb
ph Edward Cronjager m Bernard Herrmann
☆ Robert Wagner, Terry Moore, Gilbert Roland, Peter Graves, J. Carrol Naish, Richard Boone, Angela Clarke, Jay Novello
'The dead weight of a melodramatic script overtaxes the gallant attempts at conviction.' – MFB
Edward Cronjager

Benefit of the Doubt

US/Germany 1993 91m DeLuxe
Warner/Benefit/Cine Vox/Monument (Michael Spielberg, Brad M. Gilbert)
Out on parole after more than 20 years in prison for the murder of his wife, a man goes to live near his daughter, persuading her that he is innocent of the crime.
A dull thriller that warms over familar plot devices to little purpose.
w Jeffrey Polman, Christopher Keyser story Michael Lieber d Jonathan Heap ph Johnny E. Jensen m Hummie Mann
pd Marina Kieser ed Sharyn L. Ross
☆ Donald Sutherland, Amy Irving, Rider Strong, Christopher McDonald, Graham Greene, Theodore Bikel, Gisela Kovach, Ferdinand Mayne
'The result is pretty silly and demeaning.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Bengal Brigade

US 1954 87m Technicolor
U-I (Ted Richmond)
GB title: Bengal Rifles
In 19th-century India, an officer is cashiered through false evidence, and becomes an undercover man with the wicked local rajah.
Routine Hollywood heroics with a few unintended laughs.
w Richard Alan Simmons novel Bengal Tiger by Hall Hunter d Laslo Benedek
ph Maury Gertsman m Hans Salter
☆ Rock Hudson, Arlene Dahl, Dan O'Herlihy, Ursula Thiess, Torin Thatcher, Michael Ansara, Arnold Moss

Bengal Rifles: see Bengal Brigade

Benjamin, or The Diary of an Innocent Young Man

France 1966 104m Eastmancolor
Paramount/Parc/Marianne (Mag Bodard)
In the 18th century, a 17-year-old orphan is taken in hand by his wealthy aunt and initiated into the mysteries of sex.
Imitation Tom Jones (qv), quite good to look at but rather boring.
w Nina Companeez d Michel Déville
ph Ghislain Cloquet
☆ Pierre Clémenti, Michèle Morgan, Catherine Deneuve, Michel Piccoli, Francine Bergé, Anna Gaël, Odile Versois
'Heavy with Gallic naughtiness rather than airy charm ... a plethora of colourful costumes, foliage and fireworks.' – MFB
'A marathon tease ... an unending series of interrupted coitions ... a gorgeously wrapped and beribboned Christmas package containing an empty box.' – John Simon

Benji ★

US 1974 86m CFI color
Mulberry Square (Joe Camp)
A stray mongrel dog saves two kidnapped children.
Family film par excellence which rang the box-office bell in a big way in the US. Its modest merits are rather beside the point.
wd Joe Camp ph Don Reddy m Euel Box
☆ Peter Breck, Edgar Buchanan, Terry Carter, Christopher Connelly
† A sequel, For the Love of Benji (qv), followed in 1977. In 1980 came the curious Oh Heavenly Dog (qv). Then in 1987 the same team presented a quirky movie of a different kind: Benji the Hunted (qv).
song 'I Feel Love' (m Euel Box, ly Betty Box)

Benji the Hunted

US 1987 88m CFI color
Mulberry Square/Embark/Buena Vista (Ben Vaughn)
A mongrel dog is shipwrecked and fosters a pack of cougar cubs.
Freaky fable about a dog with a high IQ; but the training is remarkable.
wd Joe Camp ph Don Reddy m Euel Box, Betty Box sp Bryan L. Renfro, Frank and Juanita Inn (Benji's trainers)
☆ Benji, Frank Inn (trainer), Red Steagall

'Benny's breaking up his sister Joon's romance. Isn't that what big brothers are for?'
'A romance on the brink of reality.'

Benny and Joon

US 1993 99m DeLuxe
MGM (Susan Arnold, Donna Roth)
A mentally disturbed painter falls for a fey mime, to the displeasure of her uptight brother.
A romantic comedy about mental illness, by turns whimsical and sentimental and never less than saccharine.
w Barry Berman, Leslie McNeil d Jeremiah Chechik ph John Schwartzman m Rachel Portman pd Neil Spisak ed Carol Littleton ☆ Johnny Depp, Mary Stuart Masterson, Aidan Quinn, Julianne Moore, Oliver Platt, C. C. H. Pounder, Dan Hedaya, Joe Grifasi
'Embarrassingly, relentlessly cute.' – Observer

The Benny Goodman Story ★

US 1955 117m Technicolor
U-I (Aaron Rosenberg)
A clarinettist from the Jewish section of Chicago becomes internationally famous.
Sentimental biopic of a familiar figure which comes to life when the sound track is given its head (and the real Goodman's clarinet).
wd Valentine Davies ph William Daniels md Joseph Gershenson
☆ Steve Allen, Donna Reed, Berta Gersten, Herbert Anderson, Robert F. Simon, Sammy Davis Snr, Harry James, Martha Tilton, Gene Krupa
'The customary fictional liberties appear to have been taken.' – MFB

Benny's Video ★

Austria/Switzerland 1992 105m colour
ICA/Wega/Bernard Lang
A bored, middle-class, video-obsessed teenager picks up a girl at a video-rental store, takes her home and kills her on camera.

A low-budget movie of alienation that creates unease and questions the role of video violence in society.
wd Michael Haneke ph Christian Berger pd Christoph Kanter ed Marie Homolkova ☆ Arno Frisch, Angela Winkler, Ulrich Mühe, Ingrid Stassner
'Neatly states its case against the anesthetizing properties of too much violent imagery too soon. Urban terror story plays like an icy thriller, but the message runs deeper, lending an intellectual edge.' – Variety
† The director has said that the film is a statement 'about the American sensational cinema and its power to rob viewers of their ability to form their own opinions'.

Bent
GB/US/Japan 1996 116m colour
Film Four/NDF/Ask Kodansha/Channel 4/Nippon (Michael Solinger, Dixie Linder)
A homosexual man, sent to a German concentration camp, forms an intense relationship with another prisoner.
A briefly controversial play of the 70s, in which love flourished under appalling conditions, transfers to the screen and just lies there.
w Martin Sherman play Martin Sherman d Sean Mathias ph Yorgos Arvanitis m Philip Glass pd Stephen Brimson Lewis ed Isabel Lorente ☆ Lothaire Bluteau, Clive Owen, Brian Webber, Ian McKellen, Mick Jagger, Nikolaj Waldau, Jude Law, Suzanne Bertish
'Makes all the right motions on screen. But it's hard to feel for its argument the way that people did in a theatre.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

Benvenuta ★
Belgium 1983 106m Eastmancolor
Artificial Eye/La Nouvelle Imageries/UGC/Europe 1/FR3/Opera Film (Jean-Claude Batz)
A screenwriter meets a reclusive novelist to write a treatment of her once-famous semi-autobiographical book.
Constantly shifting between fiction and reality, between appearance and fantasy, it soon wears out its welcome.
wd André Delvaux novel La Confession Anonyme by Suzanne Lilar ph Charlie Van Damme m Frédérick Devreese ad Claude Pignot ed Jean Goudier ☆ Fanny Ardant, Vittorio Gassman, Françoise Fabian, Mathieu Carrière, Claire Wauthion, Philippe Geluck

Benzina: see Gasoline

'Unleash your dark side.'

Beowulf
US 1998 89m DeLuxe
Threshold/European/Kushner-Locke/Capitol (Lawrence Kasanoff)
In some neo-Gothic future, a warrior fights a monster that is killing the inhabitants of a beseiged border castle.
Banal, boring and risible 'B' sword-and-sorcery movie, set in an unimaginable and unimagined period, which is heavily indebted to spaghetti westerns and comicbook simplicities; it has only the vaguest connection to the Anglo-Saxon poem from which it takes its title.
w Mark Leahy, David Chappe d Graham Baker ph Christopher Faloona m Ben Watkins pd Jonathan Carlson ed Roy Watts ☆ Christopher Lambert (Beowulf), Rhona Mitra (Kyra), Oliver Cotton (Hrothgar), Götz Otto (Roland), Charlie Robinson (Weapons Master), Layla Roberts (Grendel's Mother), Vincent Hammond (Grendel), Roger Sloman (Karl), Brent Jefferson Lowe (Will), Robert Willcox (Chief Officer)

'Heads Will Roll'

Beowulf & Grendel
GB/Canada/Iceland 2005 103m DeLuxe
Equinoxe/Movision/Darclight/Endgame/Film Works/Eurasia/Goodweird/Spice Factory/IFC (Paul Stephens, Eric Jordan, Sturla Gunnarsson, Jason Piette, Michael Lionello Cowan, Anna Maria Karlsdottir)
In 500 AD, after a troll murders many of his followers, the Danish King summons the warrior Beowulf to kill the creature.
Glum, angst-ridden version of the Anglo-Saxon epic poem that was written down in the 10th century, with monsters that never seem fearsome enough to require the services of a hero.
w Andrew Rai Berzins d Sturla Gunnarsson ph Jan Kiesser m Hilmar Orn Hilmarsson pd Arni Pall Johannsson ed Jeff Warren
☆ Gerard Butler (Beowulf), Stellan Skarsgard (Hrothgar), Ingvar Sigurdsson (Grendel), Sarah Polley (Selma), Eddie Marsan (Brendan the Priest), Tony Curran (Hondscioh)
'The legendary revenge saga is visually arresting and plausibly retrofitted for modern consumption, but lacks the savage bite that might have given the sixth-century-set tale real impact.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Bequest to the Nation ★
GB 1973 116m Technicolor
Universal/Hal B. Wallis
US title: The Nelson Affair
The story of Nelson's long affair with the tempestuous Lady Hamilton.
Undistinguished historical drama from a thin play which despite hard work all round makes very ordinary screen entertainment. Glenda Jackson's performance is way over the top.
w Terence Rattigan play Terence Rattigan d James Cellan Jones ph Gerry Fisher m Michel Legrand pd Carmen Dillon
☆ Peter Finch, Glenda Jackson, Michael Jayston, Anthony Quayle, Margaret Leighton, Dominic Guard, Nigel Stock, Roland Culver
'As empty as an out-of-town matinee.' – MFB

Berkeley Square ★★
US 1933 87m bw
Fox (Jesse L. Lasky)
A London house reincarnates its owner as his 18th-century ancestor.
Romantic fantasy on a time lapse theme, the first of many and perhaps the most stylish and self-assured.
w Sonya Levien, John Balderston play John Balderston d Frank Lloyd ph Ernest Palmer m Louis de Francesco ad William Darling
☆ Leslie Howard, Heather Angel, Valerie Taylor, Irene Browne, Beryl Mercer, Colin Keith-Johnston, Alan Mowbray
'Too far above the heads of ordinary theatergoers and too British in tempo and execution to break any box office records.' – Variety † Remade as The House in the Square (qv).
♗ Leslie Howard

Berlin Correspondent
US 1942 70m bw
TCF (Bryan Foy)
In pre-war Germany an American reporter is kidnapped by the Nazis and replaced by a double...
Preposterous melodrama, so silly as to be often quite funny.
w Steve Fisher, Jack Andrews d Eugene Forde ph Virgil Miller md Emil Newman ☆ Dana Andrews, Virginia Gilmore, Mona Maris, Martin Kosleck, Sig Rumann, Kurt Katch, Torben Meyer

Berlin, die Symphonie einer Grosstadt: see Berlin, Symphony of a Great City

Berlin Express ★
US 1948 87m bw
RKO (Bert Granet)
Police of four nations guard a German VIP on a crack train to Berlin.
Rather muddled suspenser with attempts at political moralizing; the cast provides some good moments.
w Harold Medford story Curt Siodmak d Jacques Tourneur ph Lucien Ballard m Frederick Hollander
☆ Merle Oberon, Robert Ryan, Charles Korvin, Paul Lukas, Robert Coote

Berlin, Symphony of a Great City ★★★
Germany 1927 78m bw silent
Fox-Europa
original title: Berlin, die Symphonie einer Grosstadt
An impression of the life of a city from dawn to midnight, expressed by cinematic montages, angles, sequences, etc, and set to music.
*A leader in the field of 'impressionistic' documentaries which are now so familiar (*Rien que les Heures did a similar job for Paris at around the same time), this still has moments of poetry which have seldom been equalled.
w Walter Ruttman, Karl Freund, Carl Mayer d Walter Ruttman ph Reimar Kuntze, Robert Baberske, Laszlo Schäffer m Edmund Meisel ad Erich Kettelhut ed Walter Ruttman

Berliner Ballade ★
Germany 1948 77m bw
Comedia Film (Alf Teichs)
aka: The Ballad of Berlin
Otto Nobody, an unwilling soldier, returns home to find himself at the mercy of bureaucrats and black marketeers.
Melancholy satire presented as a series of sketches, almost a forerunner of That Was the Week That Was.
w Gunter Neumann d Robert Stemmle ph Georg Krause m/ly Gunter Neumann, Werner Eisbrenner ☆ Gert Fröbe, Anton Zeithammer, Tatjana Sais, O. E. Hasse
'Very much the film of a defeated people.' – Penelope Houston

Bernadette
France 1988 105m colour
Cannon/Films de L'Etoile D'Or/Bernadette Association International (Jacques Quintard)
A peasant girl sees visions of the Virgin Mary at Lourdes and invokes the hostility of the authorities.
Ponderously reverent treatment of a saintly girl, providing no more than moments of piety.
w Jean Delannoy, Robert Arnaut d Jean Delannoy ph Jean-Bertrand Penzer m Francis Lai ad Alain Paroutaud ed Annick Charvein
☆ Sydney Penney, Jean-Marc Bory, Michèle Simonnet, Roland Lesaffre, Bernard Dhéran, François Dalout, Stephan Garcin

Bernardine ★
US 1957 95m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
TCF (Samuel G. Engel)
A college student forced to swot for exams asks a friend's elder brother to look after his girl.
Henry Aldrich-style high school comedy, showing the lighter side of Rebel without a Cause (qv). Notable for the clean-living hero played by a clean-living singing star, and the reappearance of Janet Gaynor for the only time since 1939, in a routine mother role.
w Theodore Reeves play Mary Chase d Henry Levin ph Paul Vogel m Lionel Newman
☆ Pat Boone, Richard Sargent, Terry Moore, Janet Gaynor, Walter Abel, Dean Jagger, Natalie Schafer, James Drury

Berry Gordy's The Last Dragon: see The Last Dragon

Berserk!
GB 1967 96m Technicolor
Columbia (Herman Cohen)
A lady circus owner revels in the publicity brought about by a series of murders.
Grisly and unattractive thriller with an ageing star in a series of unsuitably abbreviated costumes; the script is beyond redemption.
w Herman Cohen, Aben Kandel d Jim O'Connolly ph Desmond Dickinson m Patrick John Scott
☆ Joan Crawford, Diana Dors, Ty Hardin, Judy Geeson, Michael Gough, Robert Hardy, Geoffrey Keen, Sydney Tafler, Philip Madoc

Bert Rigby, You're a Fool
USA 1989 94m Metrocolor
Warner/Lorimar/A Clear Production (George Shapiro)
A former miner becomes a mostly unsuccessful song-and-dance man in Hollywood.
Dim comedy, intended as a showcase for the slight charm of Robert Lindsay.
wd Carl Reiner ph Jan de Bont m Ralph Burns pd Terence Marsh ad Dianne Wager, Michael Seirton ed Bud Molin, Stephen Myers
☆ Robert Lindsay, Anne Bancroft, Corbin Bernsen, Robbie Coltrane, Cathryn Bradshaw, Jackie Gayle, Bruno Kirby, Liz Smith, Lila Kaye
'Mixes sentimentality with vulgarity with reckless abandon.' – John Pym, MFB

Berth Marks
US 1929 20m bw silent
Hal Roach
Stan and Ollie, on a train, have to share an upper berth.
Overstretched single-situation comedy, one of the team's poorest.
w Leo McCarey, H. M. Walker d Lewis R. Foster
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy

Die Berührte: see No Mercy No Future

Besieged

Italy 1998 94m Technicolor
Fiction/Navert/Mediaset (Massimo Cortesi)

In Rome, a British pianist falls in love with his African maid and agrees to help her husband, who is being held as a political prisoner.

Turgid drama of obsessive love that fails to engage emotionally or intellectually.

w Clare Peploe, Bernardo Bertolucci story James Lasdun d Bernardo Bertolucci ph Fabio Cianchetti m Alessio Vlad pd Gianni Silvestri ed Jacopo Quadri

☆ Thandie Newton, David Thewlis, Claudio Santamaria

'A dull, simple-minded, almost deliberately clumsy affair.' – Philip French, Observer

The Bespoke Overcoat ★★

GB 1956 33m bw
Romulus (Jack Clayton)

A clerk in a clothing warehouse is refused a coat and asks a tailor friend to make him one. But he dies of cold and his ghost persuades the tailor to steal the coat he deserved.

The story seems stiff, but the production has a rich Dickensian feel and may be the best short drama filmed in Britain.

w Wolf Mankowitz story Gogol d Jack Clayton ph Wolfgang Suschitzky m Georges Auric

☆ Alfie Bass, David Kossoff

'A triumph of talent, small means and originality.' – New Statesman

♟ best short

Best

GB/Ireland 2000 106m Metrocolor bw/Technicolor
Optimum/IAC/Sky/IoMFC/Smoke & Mirrors/Pembridge (Mary McGuckian, Chris Roff, Elvira Bolz)

Biopic of the self-destructive Manchester United footballer of the 50s, the most gifted of his generation, who drank his talent away.

A narrative that sticks to the facts, following Best from his early days to his later incarnation as an after-dinner entertainer in the 90s, but offering very little insight into the man or his problems.

w John Lynch, Mary McGuckian d Mary McGuckian ph Witold Stok m Mark Stevens pd Max Gottlieb ed Kant Pan

☆ John Lynch (George Best), Ian Bannen (Matt Busby), Jerome Flynn (Bobby Charlton), Ian Hart (Nobby Stiles), Patsy Kensit (Anna), Cal MacAninch (Paddy Crerand), Linus Roache (Denis Law), Adrian Lester (Rocky), David Hayman (Tommy Docherty/barman), James Ellis (Dickie Best), Roger Daltrey (Rodney Marsh), Clive Anderson (Interviewer), Sophie Dahl (Eva Haraldsted), Stephen Fry (Frazer Crane)

'Simply the worst.' – Variety

Best Boy ★★★

US 1979 111m colour 16mm
Ira Wohl

A documentary, shot by his cousin, of the problems of a mentally retarded 53-year-old man whose elderly parents are ailing.

A film with very moving elements, though they would have been even sharper at half the length.

wd Ira Wohl ph Tom McDonough ed Ira Wohl

♟ best documentary

Best Chaplin Shorts: see The Adventurer; The Cure; Easy Street

Best Defense

US 1984 94m Movielab
Paramount (Gloria Katz)

A US tank goes hopelessly out of control in Kuwait; intercut with this are some of the problems which confronted its designer two years earlier.

Weird, unappetizing and disjointed farce, composed mainly of irrelevancies.

w Gloria Katz, Willard Huyck novel Easy and Hard Ways Out by Robert Grossbach d Willard Huyck ph Don Peterman m Patrick Williams pd Peter Jamison

☆ Dudley Moore, Eddie Murphy, Kate Capshaw, George Dzundza, Helen Shaver

'As bereft of charm and spontaneity as it is overburdened with tedious gesticulation.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB

'About as funny as getting hi-jacked by a group of kamikaze terrorists.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'How did I get involved? The door opened, and four men came in carrying a cheque.' – Eddie Murphy

Best Foot Forward

US 1943 94m Technicolor
MGM (Arthur Freed)

A glamorous publicity-seeking film star accepts an invitation to a military college ball.

Old-fashioned formula musical based on a lightweight Broadway success.

w Irving Brecher, Fred Finklehoffe play John Cecil Holmes d Edward Buzzell ph Leonard Smith m/ly Hugh Martin, Ralph Blane md Lennie Hayton ch Charles Walters

☆ Lucille Ball, William Gaxton, Virginia Weidler, Harry James and his Orchestra, June Allyson, Gloria de Haven

† Lucille Ball's singing was dubbed by Martha Mears.

Best Friends ★

US 1982 116m Technicolor
Warner/Joe Wizan/Norman Jewison

Two writers who have enjoyed a peaceful professional relationship find problems when they get married and visit their respective families.

Rather a heavy comedy which seems to have no real point, this gets by on enjoyable sequences and star performances.

w Valerie Curtin, Barry Levinson d Norman Jewison ph Jordan Cronenweth m Michel Legrand ad Joe Russo ed Don Zimmerman

☆ Burt Reynolds, Goldie Hawn, Jessica Tandy, Barnard Hughes, Audra Lindley, Keenan Wynn

'A print-out of a script conference at which everyone collapsed at everyone else's contributory sally.' – Sunday Times

♫ song 'How Do You Keep the Music Playing?' (Michel Legrand, Alan and Marilyn Bergman)

The Best House in London ★

GB 1968 96m Eastmancolor
MGM/Bridge/Carlo Ponti (Philip Breen, Kurt Unger)

A Victorian publicity agent tries to organize a government-sponsored brothel.

Cheerful slam-bang historical send-up with as many dull thuds of banality as pleasant witticisms.

w Denis Norden d Philip Saville ph Alex Thomson m Mischa Spoliansky pd Wilfrid Shingleton

☆ David Hemmings, George Sanders, Joanna Pettet, Warren Mitchell, Dany Robin, William Rushton

'Some pets deserve a little more respect than others.'

Best in Show ★★

US 2000 90m Technicolor
Warner/Castle Rock (Karen Murphy)

Contestants and their pets gather in Philadelphia to compete in a leading dog show.

Witty documentary-style comedy that derives its fun from its parade of ill-assorted, competitive couples and their obsessions.

w Christopher Guest, Eugene Levy d Christopher Guest ph Robert Schaefer m Jeffery CJ Vanston pd Joseph T. Garrity; ed Robert Leighton

☆ Bob Balaban (Dr Theodore W. Millbank III), Jennifer Coolidge (Sherri Ann Ward Cabot), Christopher Guest (Harlan Pepper), John Michael Higgins (Scott Donlan), Michael Hitchcock (Hamilton Swan), Eugene Levy (Gerry Fleck), Jane Lynch (Christy Cummings), Michael McKean (Stefan Vanderhoof), Catherine O'Hara (Cookie Fleck), Parker Posey (Meg Swan), Fred Willard (Buck Laughlin), Patrick Cranshaw (Leslie Cabot), Don Lake (Graham Chissolm), Jim Piddick (Trevor Beckwith), Ed Begley Jnr (Hotel Manager)

'Consistently just plain funny and sometimes ascends to a kind of crazed genius.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

'Essentially a well-organized, exquisitely nuanced skit comedy.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

The Best Intentions ★★★

Sweden 1992 181m colour
Artificial Eye/STV1/ZDF/Channel 4/RAIDU/La Sept/DR/YLE 2/NRK/RUV (Lars Bjälkeskog)

original title: Den Goda Viljan

In Sweden in the early 1900s, a priest overcomes parental objections to marry a nurse, but their union is a troubled one.

A sharply observed, fascinating semi-biographical account by a son of the early years of his parents' marriage, ending just before his birth.

w Ingmar Bergman d Bille August ph Jörgen Persson m Stefan Nilsson pd Anna Asp ed Janus Billeskov Jansen

☆ Samuel Fröler (Henrik Bergman), Pernilla August (Anna Akerblom-Bergman), Max von Sydow (Johan Akerblom, Anna's Father), Ghita Norby (Karin Akerblom, Anna's Mother), Lennart Hjulström (Nordenson, Landowner and Owner of the Works), Mona Malm (Alma Bergman, Henrik's Mother), Lena Endre (Frida Strandberg, Henrik's First Fiancee), Keve Hjelm (Fredrik Bergman, Henrik's Paternal Grandfather)

'The picture is uniformly well acted, has a wonderful feeling for the distinct Scandinavian seasons, and re-creates social occasions with an acute moral edge.' – Philip French, Observer

'Ingmar Bergman may have officially retired from film direction, but his genius marches on.' – Geoff Brown, The Times

† At the 1992 Cannes Film Festival, the film won the Palme D'Or for best film and Pernilla August the award for best actress.

Best Laid Plans ★

US 1999 93m Technicolor
TCF/Fox 2000/Dogstar (Alan Greenspan, Betsy Beers, Chris Moore, Sean Bailey)

Robberies go wrong for a man trying to raise money to escape his dreary life and pay off a local hoodlum.

Quirky thriller that begins well but ends with a whimper, never exploring the increasingly unlikely motivations needed to keep the narrative moving.

w Ted Griffin d Mike Barker ph Ben Seresin m Craig Armstrong pd Sophie Becher ed Sloane Klevin

☆ Alessandro Nivola, Reese Witherspoon, Josh Brolin, Rocky Carroll, Michael G. Hagerty, Terence Howard, Jimmy Marsh, Gene Wolande

'Fundamentally, it's a small pleasure rather than a fully-blown triumph.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas

US 1982 114m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/RKO (Thomas L. Miller, Edward K. Milkis, Robert L. Boyett)

A long-established Texas whorehouse becomes the object of a clean-up campaign.

Flat and feeble screen version of a limp and tuneless musical which astonishingly was a Broadway hit, perhaps because people thought it was naughty. Onscreen the acting is too easy-going and the script too coy for anybody to have a good time.

w Larry L. King, Peter Masterson play Larry L. King, Peter Masterson d Colin Higgins ph William A. Fraker m Patrick Williams m/ly Carol Hall pd Robert F. Boyle

☆ Burt Reynolds, Dolly Parton, Charles Durning, Dom DeLuise, Jim Nabors, Robert Mandan, Lois Nettleton, Noah Beery Jnr

'Rancid, self-deceiving, hypocritical stuff.' – Observer

'A sanitized, coyly predictable piece of brothel creeping, set to musak by a poorly programmed computer.' – Guardian

'Almost everything about it is misjudged.' – Daily Mail

'High on jollity, low on country and western, and very uncertainly directed.' – Sight and Sound

'Never gets beyond the concept stage.' – Roger Ebert

♙ Charles Durning

The Best Man ★★★

US 1964 104m bw
UA/Stuart Millar, Lawrence Turman

Two contenders for a presidential nomination seek the support of the dying ex-president.

Brilliant political melodrama, ingeniously adapted on a low budget from an incisive play, with splendid dramatic scenes, memorable performances and good convention detail.

w Gore Vidal play Gore Vidal d Franklin Schaffner ph Haskell Wexler m Mort Lindsey ed Robert Swink

☆ Henry Fonda (William Russell), Cliff Robertson (Joe Cantwell), Lee Tracy (Art Hockstader), Margaret Leighton (Alice Russell), Edie Adams (Mabel Cantwell), Kevin McCarthy (Dick Jensen), Shelley Berman (Sheldon Bascomb), Ann Sothern (Mrs. Gamadge), Gene Raymond (Dan Cantwell), Mahalia Jackson (Herself)

'A fine opportunity to watch pros at work in a hard-hitting and cogent drama that seems to become more topical and have more relevance with each showing.' – Judith Crist

'Some of the wittiest lines since Strangelove ... the acting fairly crackled with authenticity.' – Isabel Quigly
'You are left gasping at its sheer professionalism.' – Evening News
Lee Tracy

The Best Man

US 1999 120m DeLuxe
Universal/40 Acres and a Mule Filmworks (Spike Lee, Sam Kitt, Bill Carraro)

An author nearly wrecks his friend's forthcoming marriage by writing a semi-autobiographical novel that suggests he had an affair with the bride-to-be.
Bland romantic comedy among the upwardly mobile, in which women come off as second best to the men.
wd Malcolm D. Lee ph Frank Prinzi m Stanley Clarke pd Kalina Ivanov ed Kara Silverman ☆ Taye Diggs (Harper), Nia Long (Jordan), Morris Chestnut (Lance), Harold Perrineau (Murch), Terrence Howard (Quentin), Sanaa Lathan (Robin), Monica Calhoun (Mia), Melissa De Sousa (Shelby), Victoria Dillard (Anita)
'This smooth, glossy, enjoyable film showcases an impressive new authorial voice.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety
'A really horrible film, at once boorish and sentimental, and riddled with smug and repulsive misogyny.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Best Men ★

US/GB 1997 89m DeLuxe Panavision
Film Four/Orion/Rank (Brad Krevoy, Steve Stabler, Brad Jenkel, Deborah Ridpath)

When a bank robbery on the way to a wedding goes wrong, five friends are trapped with their hostage inside a bank, surrounded by the police and FBI.
Talky confessional thriller, in which everyone blames society for their particular failings; despite its sometimes desperate contrivances, it has a slight charm.
w Art Edler Brown, Tracy Fraim d Tamra Davis ph James Glennon m Mark Mothersbaugh pd Tony Corbett ed Paul Trejo
☆ Dean Cain, Andy Dick, Sean Patrick Flanery, Mitchell Whitfield, Luke Wilson, Fred Ward, Raymond J. Barry, Drew Barrymore, Brad Dourif
'It's the sheer joie de vivre and good timing that enables this tragi-comedy about a group of misfits to succeed.' – Nina Caplan, Sight and Sound

The Best of Enemies

US/Italy 1961 104m colour
Technirama
Columbia/Dino de Laurentiis

During the Abyssinian campaign of 1941, an Italian and a British officer learn mutual respect.
Mild satirical comedy drama with a few points to make about war; the elements blend rather obviously and dispiritingly.
w Jack Pulman d Guy Hamilton ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Nino Rota ☆ David Niven, Alberto Sordi, Michael Wilding, Amedeo Nazzari, Harry Andrews, David Opatoshu, Kenneth Fortescue, Duncan Macrae

The Best of Everything ★

US 1959 121m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Jerry Wald)

Personal problems of a New York publisher's female staff.
Slick novelette on the lines of a naughty Peg's Paper*; pure Hollywood gossamer.*
w Edith Sommer, Mann Rubin novel Rona Jaffe d Jean Negulesco ph William C. Mellor m Alfred Newman
☆ Hope Lange, Stephen Boyd, Joan Crawford, Louis Jourdan, Suzy Parker, Martha Hyer, Diane Baker, Brian Aherne, Robert Evans, Brett Halsey, Donald Harron
'A cautionary tale sensationally told.' – Alexander Walker
title song (m Alfred Newman, ly Sammy Cahn)

Best of the Badmen ★

US 1951 84m Technicolor
RKO (Herman Schlom)

At the end of the Civil War Jeff Clanton organizes the break-up of Quantrell's Raiders, but is himself arrested on a trumped-up charge and needs the Raiders' help.
Standard Western notable for a good cast and for bringing in a remarkable number of historical outlaws, doing rather unhistorical things.
w Robert Hardy Andrews, John Twist d William D. Russell ph Edward Cronjager m Paul Sawtell
☆ Robert Ryan, Claire Trevor, Jack Buetel, Robert Preston, Walter Brennan, Bruce Cabot, John Archer, Lawrence Tierney

'Apart, They're Tough. Together, They're Awesome.'

Best of the Best

US 1989 97m CFI color
Entertainment/Best of the Best/Kuys (Phillip Rhee, Peter E. Strauss)

An American Tae-kwon-do team prepares to compete against the Korean champions.
Plodding, sentimental and over-familiar variation on The Karate Kid and Rocky (qqv).
w Paul Levine story Phillip Rhee, Paul Levine d Bob Radler ph Doug Ryna pd Kim Rees ed William Hoy
☆ Eric Roberts, James Earl Jones, Sally Kirkland, John P. Ryan, John Dye, David Agresta, Tom Everett, Louise Fletcher, Simon Rhee

Best of the Best II

US 1992 100m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Picture Securities (Peter E. Strauss, Phillip Rhee)

Members of the US karate team avenge a friend's death at the hands of a ruthless champion who wants them killed.
The stock plot of virtually every martial arts movie is wheeled out yet again, together with the obligatory violence and the chest-thumping moral that might is right; it is no more convincing this time around.
w Max Strom, John Allen Nelson d Robert Radler ph Fred Tammes m David Michael Frank pd Gary Frutkoff ed Bert Lovitt
☆ Eric Roberts, Phillip Rhee, Edan Gross, Ralph Moeller, Christopher Penn, Sonny Landham, Wayne Newton, Meg Foster
'Film looks and plays like a drive-in picture of 20 years ago, only less fun.' – Variety

The Best of Times

US 1985 104m Technicolor
Universal/Kings Road (Gordon Carroll)

A small-town loser determines to have one more shot at the big time.
Curious, almost plotless comedy drama with nothing to draw the punters.
w Ron Shelton d Roger Spottiswoode ph Charles F. Wheeler m Arthur B. Rubinstein ad Anthony Brockliss ed Garth Craven
☆ Robin Williams, Kurt Russell, Pamela Reed, Holly Palance, Donald Moffat, M. Emmet Walsh 'Required magic is in too short supply and box office returns should be also.' – Variety

The Best of Youth ★★

Italy 2003 300m colour
Rai Fiction (Angelo Barbagallo)

original title: La Meglio Gioventu

The lives of two Italian brothers, their family and friends, from the 1960s to the present day.
Fascinating soap opera following the siblings' divergent careers – one becoming a psychiatrist, the other a short-tempered policeman – through many crises and scandals, from the disastrous floods in Florence to the rise of the Red Brigade and corporate corruption; but as it reaches the present day it undergoes a failure of nerve, ignoring current scandals and growing increasingly bland and sentimental.
w Sandro Petraglia, Stefano Rulli d Marco Tullio Giordana ph Roberto Forza pd Franco Ceraolo ed Roberto Missiroli cos Elisabetta Montaldo
☆ Luigi Lo Cascio (Nicola Carati), Alessio Boni (Matteo Carati), Adriana Asti (Adriana Carati), Sonia Bergamasco (Giulia Monfalco), Fabrizio Gifuni (Carlo Tommasi), Maya Sansa (Francesca Carati), Jasmine Trinca (Giorgia), Andrea Tidona (Angelo Carati)
'When it's over, parting with the characters is truly sweet and sorrowful.' – Scott Foundas, Variety

The Best Pair of Legs in the Business ★

GB 1972 97m Technicolor
Sunny (Andrew Mitchell, Johnny Goodman)

An ageing comedian, reduced to working at a caravan holiday camp, is forced to face up to his own inadequacies and his wife's adultery.
A sad story of a seedy, miserable comic that provides Varney with an opportunity to display some acting skill, but which overstays its welcome.
w Kevin Laffan d Christopher Hodson ph Jimmy Allen m Harry Robinson ad Robert Jones ed Richard Best ☆ Reg Varney, Diana Coupland, Lee Montague, Jean Harvey, Johnny Briggs, Geoffrey Chater, Michael Hadley, Clare Kelly, Jane Seymour

Best Revenge

Canada 1983 94m colour
John Watson, Pen Densham (Michael M. Lebowitz)

Two American friends become involved in a drug deal in Morocco that goes wrong.
A dull thriller that never commands attention, thanks to an ill-constructed script and uninspired direction.
w David Rothberg, Rick Rosenthal, Logan N. Danforth d John Trent ph John Coquillon m Keith Emerson pd William Beeton ed James Symons
☆ John Heard, Levon Helm, Alberta Watson, Stephen McHattie, Moses Znaimer, John Rhys-Davies, Benjamin Gordon

Best Seller ★

US 1987 110m CFI color
Orion/Hemdale (Carter de Haven)

A former hit-man helps an ex-cop write a book based on an old unsolved case.
Tortuous but generally lively and interesting melodrama which at least tries to be different.
w Larry Cohen d John Flynn ph Fred Murphy m Jay Ferguson pd Gene Rudolf ed David Rosenbloom
☆ James Woods, Brian Dennehy, Victoria Tennant, Allison Balson, Paul Shenar, George Coe

Best Shot: see Hoosiers

The Best Things in Life Are Free ★

US 1956 103m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Henry Ephron)

From Broadway to Hollywood in the twenties, the story of songwriting team de Sylva, Brown and Henderson.
Gangsters, movie studios and the writing of 'Sonny Boy' for Al Jolson all figure in this amiable musical which spends more time on jokes than romance; the numbers are disappointing despite good tunes.
w William Bowers, Phoebe Ephron d Michael Curtiz ph Leon Shamroy md Lionel Newman ☆ Ernest Borgnine, Gordon MacRae, Dan Dailey, Sheree North, Jacques d'Amboise, Norman Brooks, Murvyn Vye
Lionel Newman

'Three wonderful loves in the best picture of the year!'

The Best Years of Our Lives ★★★★

US 1946 182m bw
Samuel Goldwyn

Three men come home from war to a small middle-American community, and find it variously difficult to pick up where they left off.
The situations and even some of the characters now seem a little obvious, but this was a superb example of high-quality film-making in the forties, with smiles and tears cunningly spaced, and a film which said what was needed on a vital subject.
w Robert Sherwood novel Glory for Me by Mackinlay Kantor d William Wyler ph Gregg Toland m Hugo Friedhofer ad George Jenkins, Perry Ferguson ed Daniel Mandell ☆ Fredric March (Al Stephenson), Myrna Loy (Milly Stephenson), Teresa Wright (Peggy Stephenson), Dana Andrews (Fred Derry), Virginia Mayo (Marie Derry), Cathy O'Donnell (Wilma Cameron), Hoagy Carmichael (Butch Engle), Harold Russell (Homer Parrish), Gladys George (Hortense Derry), Roman Bohnen (Pat Derry), Ray Collins (Mr. Milton)
'One of the best pictures of our lives!' – Variety
'The result is a work of provocative and moving insistence and beauty.' – Howard Barnes
'One recognizes everything and in the end this recognition is all the excitement, for what is on the screen becomes finally as accustomed and undramatic as the shabby decor of the theatre itself.' – Robert Warshow, The Immediate Experience

'One of the very few American studio-made movies in years that seem to me profoundly pleasing, moving and encouraging.' – James Agee
'Easily the best film from Hollywood on the warrior's return.' – Sunday Graphic
† In 1977 came a TV remake Returning Home but it did not lead to the expected series.
†† Harold Russell was a handless veteran, with no training as an actor, whose only film this was until Inside Moves in 1980.
picture; Robert Sherwood; William Wyler; Hugo Friedhofer; Fredric March; Harold Russell; Daniel Mandell
picture

La Bête Humaine ★★

France 1938 99m bw
Paris Films (Robert Hakim)

aka: The Human Beast
aka: Judas Was a Woman
A psychopathic train driver falls for a married woman, plans with her to kill her husband, but finally strangles her instead.
Curious melodrama with strong visual sequences, flawed by its ambivalent attitude to its hero-villain.
wd Jean Renoir novel Emile Zola ph Curt Courant m Joseph Kosma
☆ Jean Gabin, Simone Simon, Julien Carette, Fernand Ledoux, Jean Renoir
'French production at its best.' – Variety
'Marvellous atmosphere and a fine cast, but the material turns oppressive.' – New Yorker, 1978
'What is most deft is the way Renoir works the depot and the man's job into every scene – conversations on platforms, in washrooms and canteens, views from the station master's window over the steaming metal waste: the short sharp lust worked out in a wooden platelayer's shed among shunted trucks under the steaming rain.' – Graham Greene † Remade in Hollywood as Human Desire (qv).

Betrayal ★

GB 1982 95m colour
Horizon/Sam Spiegel (Eric Rattray)

The story of a publisher, his wife and her lover is told in scenes that go backwards in time.
Sharply acted stuff very typical of its author, for audiences with wideawake minds; but more theatrical than cinematic.
w Harold Pinter play Harold Pinter
d David Jones ph Mike Fash m Dominic Muldowney ☆ Jeremy Irons, Ben Kingsley, Patricia Hodge, Avril Elgar
'Occasionally I pined for a little zest – perhaps a nude lesbian chariot race on ice.' – Quentin Crisp
screenplay adaptation

Betrayal from the East

US 1945 83m bw
RKO (Herman Schlom)

Japanese out to sabotage the Panama Canal are thwarted by a carnival showman.
Extravagant but penny-pinching flagwaver.
w Kenneth Gamet, Aubrey Wisberg novel Alan Hynd d William Berke ph Russell Metty m Roy Webb
☆ Lee Tracy, Nancy Kelly, Richard Loo, Abner Biberman, Regis Toomey, Philip Ahn, Addison Richards, Sen Yung, Drew Pearson

Betrayed: see When Strangers Marry (1944) (1944)

Betrayed

US 1954 108m Eastmancolor
MGM (Gottfried Reinhardt)

In 1943 a Dutch intelligence officer works with a resistance leader who turns out to be a traitor.
Slow-moving, studio-set romantic melodrama of the old school; not very lively.
w Ronald Millar, George Froeschel d Gottfried Reinhardt ph Frederick A. Young m Walter Goehr ☆ Clark Gable, Victor Mature, Lana Turner, Louis Calhern, O. E. Hasse, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Ian Carmichael, Niall MacGinnis, Nora Swinburne

Betrayed ★

US 1988 128m Alpha/Astro
MGM/UA/Irwin Winkler (Joe Eszterhas)

Following the murder of a radio talk show hostess, a couple on the run find themselves in a web of political intrigue.
Heavygoing piece with Something to Say, but not much to watch.
w Joe Eszterhas d Costa-Gavras ph Patrick Blossier m Bill Conti pd Patrizia von Brandenstein
☆ Debra Winger, Tom Berenger, John Heard, Betsy Blair, John Mahoney

Betrogen bis zum Jungsten Tag: see Duped Till Doomsday

'The Harold Robbins people: what you dream, they do!'

The Betsy

US 1977 125m Technicolor
Allied Artists/Harold Robbins International (Robert R. Weston)

Jockeying for power in the boardroom and the family life of an aged car manufacturer.
Rather tame and obvious melodrama enlivened by its star performance.
w William Bast, Walter Bernstein novel Harold Robbins d Daniel Petrie ph Mario Tosi m John Barry
☆ Laurence Olivier, Robert Duvall, Tommy Lee Jones, Katharine Ross, Jane Alexander, Lesley-Anne Down, Joseph Wiseman, Edward Herrmann
'Almost compulsively dreadful.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Betsy's Wedding ★

US 1990 94m Technicolor
Warner/Touchstone/Silver Screen Partners IV (Martin Bregman, Louis A. Stroller)

A father gives his daughter a no-expense-spared wedding.
Intermittently amusing comedy of domestic mishaps.
wd Alan Alda ph Kelvin Pike m Bruce Broughton pd John Jay Moore ed Michael Polakow ☆ Alan Alda, Joey Bishop, Madeline Kahn, Anthony LaPaglia, Catherine O'Hara, Joe Pesci, Molly Ringwald, Ally Sheedy, Burt Young
'Surges ahead with tart one-liners, absurd spectacle, and ebullient side turns.' – MFB

Better Late Than Never

US 1983 87m colour
Warner (Jack Haley Jnr, David Niven Jnr)

From two possibilities, an heiress selects her true grandfather. (Her grandmother wasn't sure.)
Would-be risqué comedy which fails to spark despite the talents involved.
wd Bryan Forbes m Henry Mancini
☆ David Niven, Art Carney, Maggie Smith, Kimberley Partridge, Catherine Hicks, Lionel Jeffries
'As predictable as a rumbling stomach after a bowl of chilli.' – Motion Picture Guide

Better Off Dead

US 1985 98m Technicolor
Warner/A&M (Michael Jaffe)

When his fickle girlfriend leaves him, a lonely teenager becomes despondent, but the sun shines when another girl shows interest.
Plotless, almost legless comedy drama with no direction whatever.
wd Savage Steve Holland ph Isidore Mankovsky m Rupert Hine pd Herman Zimmerman ☆ John Cusack, David Ogden Stiers, Kim Darby, Demian Slade, Scooter Stevens, Diane Franklin 'Kids deserve better than this.' – Variety

The Better 'Ole

US 1926 97m (24 fps) bw silent
Warner

A British sergeant in Flanders proves that his major is actually a German spy.
Comedy-drama based on the cartoons of Old Bill by Bruce Bairnsfather. (The title comes from one in which Old Bill, in the trenches, is saying to a disgruntled soldier: 'If yer knows of a better 'ole, go to it.'). Criticism is irrelevant now, but the piece has historical interest.
w Charles Reisner, Darryl F. Zanuck d Charles Reisner ph Ed Du Par, Walter Robinson ☆ Syd Chaplin, Doris Hill, Harold Goodwin, Edgar Kennedy

A Better Tomorrow ★

Hong Kong 1987 95m colour
Atlas/Cinema City/Film Workshop (Tsui Hark)

original title: Yingxiong Bense
Two gangsters fall on hard times when they attempt to go straight, and the younger brother of one, a naïve but ambitious cop, finds that he cannot get promotion because of their relationship.
Sentimental tale of male bonding and sibling relationships, intercut with action set-pieces and culminating in a violent dockside shoot-out.
w Chan Hing Kai, Leung Suk Wah d John Woo ph Wong Wing Hang ☆ Chow Yun-Fat, Ti Lung, Leslie Cheung, Emily Chu
† The film was released on video in a dubbed and a wide-screen subtitled version.

A Better Tomorrow II

Hong Kong 1987 100m colour
Golden Princess/Cinema City (Tsui Hark)

Two brothers, one a cop and the other a convicted criminal, go undercover as rivals to expose a counterfeiting racket, while an American-based restaurateur seeks revenge on local protection racketeers and the gangsters who drove his friend mad.
An unconvincing and, for those who have not seen the original film, confusing action melodrama, particularly in its New York scenes, partly redeemed by the final half-hour of balletic violence. The subtitling uses somewhat erratic English.
wd John Woo (action director: Ching Siu Tung) story Tsui Hark ph Wong Wing Hang m Joseph Koo ad Andy Lee ☆ Chow Yun-Fat, Leslie Cheung, Dean Shek, Ti Lung, Emily Chu, Kwan San, Kent Tsang, Regina Kent
'The mesmerising shoot-out at the conclusion makes up for any shortcomings in the plot.' – Sight and Sound
'The Making of a Killer.'

A Better Tomorrow III ★

Hong Kong 1989 107m colour
Golden Princess/Film Workshop (Tsui Hark)

In the confusion of the fall of Saigon, a Hong Kong mechanic takes revenge against the crime boss who was responsible for the death of his uncle and falls in love with the boss's gun-toting mistress.
A prequel to John Woo's original film, alternating violence and romance and with an over-the-top melodramatic finale combining both, done with a certain panache.
d Tsui Hark
☆ Chow Yun-Fat, Tony Leung, Anita Mui, Saburo Tokito

Betty Blue ★

France 1986 120m Fujicolour
Gaumont/Constellation/Cargofilms (Claudie Ossard)

original title: 37.2 au matin
A waitress indulges her animal attraction for an odd job man but discovers him to be a literary genius.
What virtues this film has are more in style than content, but most people will find it over the top anyway.
wd Jean-Jacques Beineix novel Philippe Dijan ph Jean-François Robin m Gabriel Yared ed Monique Prim
☆ Béatrice Dalle, Jean-Hugues Anglade, Consuelo de Haviland

Betty Fisher and Other Stories: see Betty Fisher et Autres Histoires

Betty Fisher et Autres Histoires ★★

France/Canada 2001 102m colour
Optimum/UGC YM/Films de la Boissiere/Go/fFance2 (Annie Miller, Yves Marmion)

GB title: Betty Fisher and Other Stories
US title: Alias Betty
After her son dies, his mother is forced to give a home to a young boy her mother has kidnapped, an action which involves her in the criminal lives of others.
An intricate narrative, of difficult and disastrous relationships, that compensates for its lack of plausibility by its insights into the social codes that determine the characters' actions and reactions.
wd Claude Miller novel The Tree of Hands by Ruth Rendell ph Christophe Pollock m Francois Dompierre ad Jean-Pierre Kohut Svelko ed Veronique Lange ☆ Sandrine Kiberlain (Betty Fisher), Nicole Garcia (Margot Fisher), Mathilde Seigner (Carole Novacki), Luck Mervil (François Diembele), Edouard Baer (Alex Basato), Stephane Freiss (Edouard)
'Too glossy, badly cast and lacks plausibility in every twist of its convoluted plot.' – Alexander Walker
'A delicious, utterly confident jeu from one of France's most discreetly maverick directors' – Derek Elley, Variety

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Between Heaven and Hell

US 1956 94m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
TCF (David Weisbart)

After Pearl Harbor a young Southern landowner is called up and finds himself on active service with mixed racial types.
Vaguely anti-war, pro-understanding action thriller which ends up going through predictable heroics in a professional but not too sympathetic manner.
w Harry Brown novel The Day the Century Ended by Francis Gwaltney d Richard Fleischer ph Leo Tover m Hugo Friedhofer
☆ Robert Wagner, Buddy Ebsen, Broderick Crawford, Brad Dexter, Mark Damon, Robert Keith, Ken Clark, Skip Homeier, Harvey Lembeck
Hugo Friedhofer

Between Midnight and Dawn

US 1950 89m bw
Columbia (Hunt Stromberg)

Radio policemen track down a racketeer.
Competent, undistinguished programmer.
w Eugene Ling d Gordon Douglas ph George E. Diskant m George Duning ☆ Mark Stevens, Edmond O'Brien, Gale Storm, Donald Buka, Gale Robbins, Roland Winters

Between the Lines ★

US 1977 101m TVC Color
Essential/Midwest Film Productions (Raphael Silver)

Workers on a Boston underground newspaper are worried by rumours of an impending sale.
Sharply observed but slackly structured slice of provincial life.
w Fred Barron d Joan Micklin Silver ph K. V. Sickle pd Stuart Wurtzel ed John Carter
☆ John Heard, Lindsay Crouse, Jeff Goldblum, Jill Eikenberry, Bruno Kirby, Stephen Collins, Michael J. Pollard

Between Two Women

US 1937 88m bw
MGM

Romance between doctor and nurse is interrupted by her alcoholic husband and his infatuation with a patient.
Incident-packed men-in-white melodrama.
w Carey Wilson story Erich von Stroheim d George B. Seitz ☆ Franchot Tone, Maureen O'Sullivan, Virginia Bruce, Edward Norris, Cliff Edwards, Janet Beecher
'Class B that almost grew up. Eternal triangle in a hospital; okay dualler for nabes.' – Variety † Title later changed to Surrounded by Women to avoid confusion with a Dr Kildare episode.

Between Two Worlds ★

US 1944 112m bw
Warner (Mark Hellinger)

A number of air-raid victims, and two lovers who have committed suicide, find themselves on a luxury ship en route to the next world.
Nice-looking but slow and turgid remake of Outward Bound (qv), largely sunk in its own misery but redeemed by two performances.
w Daniel Fuchs play Sutton Vane d Edward A. Blatt ph Carl Guthrie m Erich Wolfgang Korngold
☆ John Garfield, Edmund Gwenn, Eleanor Parker, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet, Sara Allgood, George Tobias, Faye Emerson, George Coulouris, Dennis King, Isobel Elsom
'For ferry service from a world so saturated with death, the ship seems strangely empty – a fact that was not obtrusive in a day when death was not intrusive.' – James Agee

Between Us Girls

US 1942 89m bw
Universal (Henry Koster, Phil Karlson)

A mother and daughter are both involved in romances which tend to cross.
Mild comedy, a disappointing bid for stardom for a disappointing young star.
w Myles Connolly, True Boardman play Le Fruit Vert by Regis Gignoux, Jacques Thery d Henry Koster ph Joseph Valentine m Frank Skinner ☆ Diana Barrymore, Kay Francis, Robert Cummings, John Boles, Scotty Beckett, Ethel Griffies

The Beverly Hillbillies

US 1993 93m DeLuxe
TCF (Ian Bryce, Penelope Spheeris)

A hillbilly family strikes oil and moves to live in a Beverly Hills mansion.
Based on the mouldering television sit-com, this is a wearisome concoction of old jokes about country folk trying to cope with city ways; its unsophisticated appeal is limited.
w Lawrence Konner, Mark Rosenthal, Jim Fisher, Jim Staahl d Penelope Spheeris ph Robert Brinkmann m Lalo Schifrin pd Peter Jamison ed Ross Albert ☆ Diedrich Bader, Dabney Coleman, Erika Eleniak, Cloris Leachman, Rob Schneider, Lea Thompson, Lily Tomlin, Jim Varney, Buddy Ebsen, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Dolly Parton
'Just as corny and stupid as the long-running series, pic version has been cleverly cast and shrewdly skewed to appeal jointly to original fans of the show and younger viewers only vaguely familiar with it.' – Variety
† The TV series ran from 1962 to 1971 and starred Buddy Ebsen in Jim Varney's role as Jed Clampett, Irene Ryan in Cloris Leachman's role as Granny, Donna Douglas in Erika Eleniak's role as the nubile Elly May, and Max Baer Jnr in Diedrich Bader's role of the dim Jethro. Created by Paul Henning, in its early years it was the most popular programme on American television, with a weekly audience of around 60 million.

Beverly Hills Brats

US 1989 91m Technicolor
Taurus (Terry Moore, Jerry Rivers)

The teenage son of wealthy, preoccupied parents decides to arrange his own kidnapping in order to remind them of his existence.
Tedious and unsubtle comedy, ploddingly directed and shrilly acted.
w Linda Silverthorn story Terry Moore, Jerry Rivers d Dimitri Sotirakis ph Harry Mathias m Barry Goldberg pd George Costello ed Jerry Frizell
☆ Burt Young, Martin Sheen, Terry Moore, Peter Billingsley, Natalie Schafer, Ramon Sheen, Cathy Podewell

Beverly Hills Cop ★★

US 1984 105m Technicolor
Paramount/Don Simpson/Jerry Bruckheimer

A Detroit cop races to Los Angeles to track down the killers of his best friend.
Filled with foul language and frenetic action, this rough-edged action comedy became one of the top box-office grossers of its year. So much for its year.
w Daniel Petrie Jnr d Martin Brest ph Bruce Surtees m Harold Faltermeyer pd Angelo Graham ed Billy Weber, Arthur O. Coburn
☆ Eddie Murphy, Judge Reinhold, Lisa Eilbacher, John Ashton, Ronny Cox, Steven Berkoff
'The film's only function is to provide Murphy with the opportunity to work a dozen or so variations on his familiar and oddly endearing routine.' – Time
† The role was originally tailored for Sylvester Stallone.
original screenplay

'Axel Foley Is Back. Back Where He Doesn't Belong.'

Beverly Hills Cop 2

US 1987 102m Technicolor Panavision
UIP/Paramount/Don Simpson-Jerry Bruckheimer/Eddie Murphy

A cop returns to Beverly Hills to solve a series of crimes.
Further helpings from the same bowl. In no respect is the second film an improvement on the first.
w Larry Ferguson, Warren Skaaren, David Giler, Dennis Klein story Eddie Murphy, Robert D. Wachs d Tony Scott ph Jeffrey L. Kimball m Harold Faltermeyer pd Ken Davis ed Billy Weber, Chris Lebenzon, Michael Tronick
☆ Eddie Murphy, Judge Reinhold, Jurgen Prochnow, Ronny Cox, Allen Garfield, Brigitte Nielsen, Dean Stockwell, Paul Guilfoyle
'A noisy, numbing, unimaginative, heartless remake ... all has gone sour and cold.' – Daily Variety

'In For The Ride Of His Life.'

Beverly Hills Cop 3

US 1994 104m DeLuxe
UIP/Paramount

A cop discovers that the head of security at a Los Angeles theme park is a murderer and counterfeiter.
The law of diminishing returns features yet again in this violent, noisy and predictable thriller that trades on past success but offers nothing for the future.
w Steven E. de Souza d John Landis ph Mac Ahlberg m Nile Rodgers pd Michael Seymour ed Dale Beldin ☆ Eddie Murphy, Judge Reinhold, Hector Elizondo, Timothy Carhart, Stephen McHattie, Theresa Randle, John Saxon, Alan Young, Bronson Pinchot
'A soulless, faceless, worthless dud.' – Kim Newman, Empire song 'Shakedown' (m Harold Faltermeyer; Keith Forsey; ly Harold Faltermeyer; Keith Forsey; Bob Seger)

'Kung Fool!'

Beverly Hills Ninja

US 1997 88m Foto-Kem
TriStar/Motion Picture Corp (Brad Krevoy, Steve Stabler, Brad Jenkel)

A woman wanting a martial arts expert to track down her missing boyfriend gets an overweight incompetent instead.
Dim-witted, ponderously performed slapstick featuring a comedian of very limited appeal.
w Mark Feldberg, Mitch Klebenoff d Dennis Dugan ph Arthur Albert m George S. Clinton pd Ninkey Dalton ed Jeff Gourson
☆ Chris Farley (Haru), Nicolette Sheridan (Alison Page), Robin Shou (Gobei), Nathaniel Parker (Martin Tanley), Chris Rock (Joey), Soon-Tek Oh (Sensei)
'By no means a black belt in comedy or action choreography. Still, you have to give it high marks for tenacity and the ability to get the job done.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

Beware My Lovely

US 1952 77m bw
RKO/Filmmakers (Collier Young)

A handyman employed by a widow turns out to be a mental defective who imprisons and threatens to rape and murder her.
Dismal suspenser with a lot of screaming and running around but very little flair.
w Mel Dinelli play The Man by Mel Dinelli d Harry Horner ph George E. Diskant m Leith Stevens
☆ Ida Lupino, Robert Ryan, Taylor Holmes, Barbara Whiting
'Inept characterization and ludicrously repetitive situations will surely rank this among the silliest films of the year.' – MFB

Beware of Pity ★

GB 1946 106m bw
Two Cities (W. P. Lipscomb)

An officer courts a crippled girl out of pity. She finds out and kills herself.
Ambitious but rather artificial and dreary drama, a shade too pleased with its own literariness; performances straitjacketed by production.
w W. P. Lipscomb, Elizabeth Baron, Marguerite Steen novel Stefan Zweig d Maurice Elvey ph Derick Williams ☆ Lilli Palmer, Albert Lieven, Cedric Hardwicke, Gladys Cooper, Linden Travers, Ernest Thesiger, Emrys Jones
'This isn't the first time that nonsense has made an extremely interesting film, and it won't be the last.' – James Agate, Tatler

Beware Spooks!

US 1939 65m bw
Columbia (Robert Sparks)

A nervous policeman routs crooks operating from a fairground.
Standard star comedy with some funny moments.
w Richard Flournoy, Albert Duffy, Brian Marlow d Edward Sedgwick ☆ Joe E. Brown, Mary Carlisle, Clarence Kolb, Marc Lawrence, Don Beddoe

Beware! The Blob

US 1971 88m DeLuxe
Jack H. Harris

GB title: Son of Blob
A mysterious jelly from outer space consumes most of the population of a small town.
Spoofy sequel to one of the original space monster movies of the fifties. It's all too laboured to raise a thrill or a smile.
w Jack Woods, Anthony Harris d Larry Hagman ph Al Hamm m Mort Garson sp Tim Baar
☆ Robert Walker, Gwynne Gilford, Godfrey Cambridge, Richard Webb, Shelley Berman, Carol Lynley, Burgess Meredith, Gerrit Graham, Larry Hagman

Der Bewegte Man: see The Most Desired Man

Bewitched

US 1945 65m bw
MGM (Jerry Bresler)

A girl with twin personalities has her murderous element exorcized by a spiritualist.

Hilarious nonsense, ancestor of the Eve and Lizzie schizos of the fifties.

wd Arch Oboler story Alter Ego by Arch Oboler ph Charles Salerno Jnr m Bronislau Kaper

☆ Phyllis Thaxter, Edmund Gwenn, Addison Richards, Kathleen Lockhart

'Oboler manages the first persuasive imitations of stream of consciousness I know of in a movie. Much more often, he bores to desperation with the vulgarity and mere violence of his effects.' – James Agee

'Be warned. Be ready.'

Bewitched ③

US 2005 102m Technicolor
Columbia (Lucy Fisher, Douglas Wick, Penny Marshall, Nora Ephron)

A witch appears in a remake of the TV series Bewitched, using her magic on her co-star, a star who is on the decline.

A postmodern approach to reviving a best-forgotten TV sitcom, but one that, like its stars, lacks magic.

w Norah Ephron, Delia Ephron TV series created by Sol Saks d Norah Ephron ph John Lindley m George Fenton pd Neil Spisak ed Tia Nolan

☆ Nicole Kidman (Isabel Bigelow), Will Ferrell (Jack Wyatt), Shirley MacLaine (Iris Smythson), Michael Caine (Nigel Bigelow), Jason Schwartzman (Richie), Kristin Chenoweth (Maria Kelly)

'Attempt to reconceive the standard TV-to-bigscreen adaptation goes bizarrely haywire here, spinning out of control like a runaway broomstick.' – Brian Lowry, Variety

† It cost around $80m and took some $62m at the US box-office.

†† The TV sitcom, starring Elizabeth Montgomery, ran from 1964-72.

Beyond a Reasonable Doubt ★

US 1956 80m bw
RKO (Bert Friedlob)

A novelist is persuaded by a crusading newspaper proprietor to fake circumstantial evidence incriminating himself in a murder, thus proving the uselessness of such evidence.

Ingenious but rather cheerless and mechanical thriller. The actors extract what they can from a script intent on sleight of hand, but the distinguished director is at his most flatulent.

w Douglas Morrow d Fritz Lang ph William Snyder m Herschel Burke Gilbert

☆ Dana Andrews, Joan Fontaine, Sidney Blackmer, Philip Bourneuf, Shepperd Strudwick, Arthur Franz, Edward Binns

Beyond Bedlam

GB 1994 89m Technicolor
Feature Film/Metrodome (Paul Brooks)

A detective's murder investigations lead him to a psychiatrist experimenting with mind-altering drugs on a serial killer.

Convoluted and unengrossing thriller, lacking any credibility and relying on most of the stereotypes of this kind of fiction: aggressive cop, insane killer, glamorous psychiatrist.

w Rob Walker, Vadim Jean novel Harry Adam Knight d Vadim Jean ph Gavin Finney m David A. Hughes, John Murphy pd James Helps ed Liz Webber

☆ Craig Fairbrass, Elizabeth Hurley, Keith Allen, Anita Dobson, Craig Kelly, Jesse Birdsall, Georgina Hale

'A profound failure.' – Sight and Sound

'More than a bit of a mess, combining fantasy and reality in such a way that it is difficult to decide which is which.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'An adventure which cowards quit early and weaklings never finish at all!'

Beyond Glory

US 1948 82m bw
Paramount (Robert Fellows)

The honour of a West Point cadet is vindicated.

Proficient but dramatically turgid vehicle for an absurdly over-age star.

w Jonathan Latimer, Charles Marquis Warren, William Wister Haines d John Farrow ph John F. Seitz m Victor Young

☆ Alan Ladd, Donna Reed, George Coulouris, George Macready, Audie Murphy

Beyond Mombasa

GB 1955 90m Technicolor
Columbia/Hemisphere (Adrian Worker)

In East Africa, an American avenges his brother's death at the hands of the Mau Mau (here called the Leopard Men and revealed to be run by a mad English missionary).

Tasteless and rather humdrum jungle adventure using real-life problems purely as a backdrop.

w Richard English, Gene Levitt novel Mark of the Leopard by James Eastwood d George Marshall ph Frederick A. Young m Humphrey Searle ed Ernest Walter

☆ Cornel Wilde, Donna Reed, Leo Genn, Ron Randell, Christopher Lee

'Truth has a witness...'

Beyond Rangoon ★★

US 1995 97m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Castle Rock (Barry Spikings, Eric Pleskow)

aka: Rangoon

In 1988, an American doctor visits Burma and becomes aware of the country's political situation, with a repressive dictatorship crushing any moves towards democracy.

An earnest and slightly uneasy attempt to combine a narrative of an innocent in peril with a polemic exposing an unlovely regime; it works better on the level of a suspense drama than as a political one.

w Alex Lasker, Bill Rubenstein d John Boorman ph John Seale m Hans Zimmer pd Anthony Pratt ed Ron Davis

☆ Patricia Arquette, Frances McDormand, Spalding Gray, U Aung Ko, Victor Slezak, Adelle Lutz

'A remarkably well-judged attempt to educate an audience's consciousness without altogether abandoning the function of entertainment.' – Adam Mars-Jones

'At the heart of Beyond Rangoon is an embarrassing contradiction. The heroine is presumably there to be the audience's representative. But since the focus is entirely on her naïveté, her struggle, her growth, the film effectively reduces the Burmese quagmire to a vacation from hell.' – Entertainment Weekly

Beyond Reasonable Doubt ★

New Zealand 1980 127m colour
Endeavour/Fay, Richwhite/Brierley/Bob Jones/BRD (John Barnett)

In 1970, a police inspector frames a farmer for the murder of a couple from a neighbouring farm.

Based on a true story, this intriguing and disturbing exposé of official corruption and suppression of evidence is given a somewhat stolid treatment.

w David Yallop book David Yallop d John Laing ph Alun Bollinger m Dave Fraser

☆ David Hemmings, John Hargreaves, Tony Barry, Martyn Sanderson, Grant Tilly, Diana Rowan, Ian Watkin, Terence Cooper, Bruno Lawrence

'The queen of the tropics finds a new jungle man!'

Beyond the Blue Horizon ★

US 1942 76m Technicolor
Paramount (Monta Bell)

An orphan white girl grows up on a tropical island with a chimpanzee and a swimming tiger; when rescued and her story doubted, she leads an expedition back to prove it.

The most tongue-in-cheek of the Lamour jungle extravaganzas, with plenty of simple fun.

w Frank Butler d Alfred Santell ph Charles Boyle m Victor Young

☆ Dorothy Lamour, Richard Denning, Jack Haley, Patricia Morison, Walter Abel, Helen Gilbert, Elizabeth Patterson

Beyond the Clouds ★★

France/Italy/Germany 1995 109m Eastmancolor
Artificial Eye/Sunshine/Cine B/France 3/Cecchi Gori/Road Movies (Stéphane Tchal Gadjieff, Arlette Danys, Philippe Carcassonne)

A film director imagines or remembers four stories involving partings between a man and a woman.

A slight but enjoyable postscript to Antonioni's career, with pared-down anecdotes of the disabling power of love.

w Wim Wenders, Michelangelo Antonioni, Tonino Guerra stories Quel Bowling sul Tevere by Michelangelo Antonioni d Michelangelo Antonioni, Wim Wenders ph Alfio Contini, Robby Müller m Lucio Dalla, Laurent Petitgang, Van Morrison, U2 ad Thierry Flamand ed Claudio di Mauro, Michelangelo Antonioni, Peter Przygodda, Luciano Segura

☆ Sophie Marceau, Vincent Perez, Irène Jacob, Marcello Mastroianni, Fanny Ardant, John Malkovich, Kim Rossi Stuart, Chiara Caselli, Jean Reno, Peter Weller, Jeanne Moreau, Ines Sastre

'Might be the most intimate, personal film Michelangelo Antonioni has ever made, but it may also be his least significant.' – Deborah Young, Variety

Beyond the Door: see Devil within Her

Beyond the Door II: see Shock

'A twelve o'clock girl in a nine o'clock town!'
'Nobody's as good as Bette when she's bad!'

Beyond the Forest

US 1949 96m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

The discontented wife of a small-town doctor has an affair with a wealthy Chicagoan, murders a witness, attempts suicide, and dies of fever.

The star caricatures herself in this overblown melodrama which marked the unhappy end of her association with the studio. The rest of the cast suffer more dumbly from the script's unintentional hilarities.

w Lenore Coffee novel Stuart Engstrand d King Vidor ph Robert Burks m Max Steiner

☆ Bette Davis (Rosa Moline), Joseph Cotten (Dr Lewis Moline), David Brian (Neil Latimer), Minor Watson, Dona Drake, Regis Toomey

ROSA: 'What a dump!'

ROSA: 'If I don't get out of here, I'll just die! Living here is like waiting for the funeral to begin.'

'This peerless piece of camp.' – New Yorker, 1978

'Miss Davis makes a regrettably melodramatic mess of what is undoubtedly one of the most unfortunate stories she has ever tackled.' – Newsweek

Max Steiner

Beyond the Gates: see Au delà des Grilles

Beyond the Limit: see The Honorary Consul

Beyond the Poseidon Adventure

US 1979 114m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Irwin Allen

When rescuers reach the topsy-turvy passenger liner, one of them is intent on plunder.

Dreary alternative ending to The Poseidon Adventure (qv), with cardboard character studies, cut-price action, and tenth-rate technicalities.

w Nelson Gidding d Irwin Allen ph Joseph Biroc m Jerry Fielding pd Preston Ames

☆ Michael Caine, Telly Savalas, Karl Malden, Sally Field, Peter Boyle, Jack Warden, Shirley Knight, Shirley Jones, Slim Pickens

Beyond the River: see The Bottom of the Bottle

'In the era of cool, he was the soundtrack.'

Beyond the Sea ★

US/GB/Germany 2004 114m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Lions Gate/Archer Street/QI Quality /Trigger Street (Andy Paterson, Kevin Spacey, Jan Fantl, Arthur E. Friedman)

Biopic on the life of crooner Bobby Darin, who made some hit records and a few films and married, for a time, teen favourite Sandra Dee and then died young.

Kevin Spacey spent much time and effort in trying to get this life of Bobby Darin made; for all his conviction, there's little evidence here that Darin's life was worth filming or that Spacey was the right person to play him.

w Kevin Spacey, Lewis Colick d Kevin Spacey ph Eduardo Serra md John Wilson pd Andrew Laws ed Trevor Waite

☆ Kevin Spacey (Bobby Darin), Kate Bosworth (Sandra Dee), John Goodman (Steve Blauner), Bob Hoskins (Charlie Maffia), Brenda Blethyn (Polly), Greta Scacchi (Mary), Caroline Aaron (Nina Cassotto Maffia)

'There's a real razzle-dazzle to the movie, and the musical numbers, which are brilliantly arranged by John Wilson and sung by Spacey himself, turn out to be greatly entertaining' – Bruce Diones, New Yorker

Beyond the Stars

US 1989 94m TVC Color
Five Star Entertainment (Joseph Perez)

aka: Personal Choice

A mixed-up adolescent, determined to walk

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

on the moon, strikes up a friendship with a former astronaut who has become a reclusive alcoholic after a strange incident on his last mission.
Meandering and sentimental account of a youth's coming of age, overweighted with messages about the environment.
wd David Saperstein ph John Bartley m Geoff Levin, Chris Many pd John J. Moore ed Frank Irvine, Stanley Warnow, Judith Blume
☆ Martin Sheen, Christian Slater, Robert Foxworth, Sharon Stone, Olivia d'Abo, F. Murray Abraham

'Trapped! ... in the incredible cosmic world that moves 100 years beyond time!'
'Adam and Eve of the year 2024! Only they could repopulate the world!'

Beyond the Time Barrier
US 1959 75m bw
AIP/Pacific International/Miller-Consolidated (Robert Clarke)

A test pilot crosses the fifth dimension and finds himself in 2024 when civilization has gone underground to avoid nuclear contamination.
Crude science fiction, roughly on the level of Flash Gordon but less entertaining.
w Arthur C. Pierce d Edgar G. Ulmer ph Meredith Nicholson m Darrell Calker
☆ Robert Clarke, Darlene Tompkins, Arianne Arden, Vladimir Sokoloff, Stephen Bekassy

Beyond the Universe
US 1981 90m colour/bw
Gold Key

A hundred years after a nuclear holocaust, a scientist trying to save a dying Earth uncovers a plot to exterminate all the sick and elderly.
Earnest, deadly dull ecological fable. Fortunately the entire cast is sucked into a black hole; unfortunately, they survive.
w uncredited d Robert Emenegger ph José Luis Mignone ad Michael Scheffe ed Brian Varaday
☆ David Ladd, Jacqueline Ray, Christopher Cary, John Dewey-Carter, Frank A. Miller, Stephanie Faulkner, Henry Darrow

Beyond the Valley of the Dolls
US 1970 109m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF (Russ Meyer)

Three girls in Hollywood enjoy the wilder reaches of show biz high life.
The skinflick director's first film for a majór studio, with positively no connection with Valley of the Dolls, is not explicitly pornographic but pussyfoots around with as many general excesses as can be crammed into two hours. If taken as high camp it provides a laugh or two, but is chiefly notable as marking a major studio's deepest dip into muddy waters.
w Roger Ebert d Russ Meyer ph Fred J. Koenekamp m Stu Phillips, William Loose ☆ Dolly Read, Cynthia Myers, Marcia McBroom, John La Zar, Michael Blodgett, Edy Williams
'If one can resist walking out, the last half hour is quite manic.' – MFB
'A film whose total, idiotic, monstrous badness raises it to the pitch of near-irresistible entertainment.' – Alexander Walker
'Awful, stupid and preposterous ... also weirdly funny and a real curio, rather like a Grandma Moses illustration for a work by the Marquis de Sade.' – John Simon

Beyond Therapy
US 1986 93m colour
Entertainment/Sandcastle 5/New World (Steven M. Haft)

Psychiatrists become personally involved in the hang-ups of young New Yorkers.
Unfunny film version of a play which may have had something.
w Robert Altman, Christopher Durang play Christopher Durang d Robert Altman ph Pierre Mignot m Gabriel Yared pd Stephen Altman ed Jennifer Agué ☆ Glenda Jackson, Tom Conti, Julie Hagerty, Jeff Goldblum, Christopher Guest, Genevieve Page

Beyond This Place ★
GB 1959 90m bw
Renown/Georgefield (Maxwell Setton, John R. Sloan)
US title: Web of Evidence

An American visiting London finds his supposedly dead father in prison serving a life sentence for murder; he delves into history and finds the real culprit.
Spiritless murder mystery with less serious intent than the original novel; tolerable entertainment.
w Kenneth Taylor novel A. J. Cronin d Jack Cardiff ph Wilkie Cooper m Douglas Gamley ad Ken Adam ☆ Van Johnson, Vera Miles, Bernard Lee, Emlyn Williams, Jean Kent, Moultrie Kelsall, Leo McKern, Ralph Truman

Beyond Tomorrow
US 1940 84m bw
RKO

Two elderly ghosts return at Christmas to help young lovers.
An amiably modest example of the kind they don't do any more.
w Adele Commandini story Mildred Cram d A. Edward Sutherland
☆ Richard Carlson, Jean Parker, C. Aubrey Smith, Charles Winninger

Bez Konca: see No End

Bez Svidetelei: see A Private Conversation

Bezhin Lug: see Bezhin Meadow

Bezhin Meadow ★★
USSR 1937 31m bw
Mosfilm

original title: Bezhin Lug
Fragments from an incomplete Eisenstein film are held together by freeze frames.
Even this collection of bits and pieces shows the power of the master.
w Alexander Rozhdestvenski story Ivan Turgenev d Sergei Eisenstein ph Edouard Tissé ☆ Vitya Kartashov, Boris Zakhava, Igor Pavlenko
† The film was reconstructed in 1966.

Bezness ★★
Tunisia/France 1992 100m colour
CTF/Flach/TMP/Canal (Ahmed Baha Eddine Attia, Jean-François Lepetit)

A young Tunisian offering sexual and other services to tourists is torn between Islamic and Western ways of life and confused by his own double standards.
Absorbing account of cultural conflict, of exploitation and corruption told through the interlocking lives of a gigolo, the girl he wishes to marry, and a French photographer.
wd Nouri Bouzid ph Alain Levent m Anouar Braham ad Khaled Joulak ed Kahena Attia ☆ Abdel Kechiche, Jacques Penot, Ghalia Lacroix, Ahmed Ragoubi

'A Day To Set Yourself Free!'

Bhaji on the Beach ★
GB 1993 101m colour
First Independent/Umbi/Channel 4 (Nadine Marsh-Edwards)

A group of Asian women living in Birmingham go on a day trip to the seaside at Blackpool.
An enjoyable slice of life, covering not only racism and culture clashes, but the generational differences between the young and the old women as well as problems of gender.
w Meera Syal d Gurinder Chadha ph John Kenway m Craig Pruess, John Altman, Kuljit Bhamra pd Derek Brown ed Oral Norrie Otley
☆ Kim Vithana, Jimmi Harkishin, Sarita Khajuria, Mo Sesay, Lalita Ahmed, Shaheen Khan, Zohra Segal, Amer Chadha-Patel, Nisha Nayar
'As a look at the Afro-Asian community in Britain, it's everything one could ask for: funny and serious at the same time, good-tempered but not afraid of giving offence.' – Alexander Walker

Bhowani Junction ★
GB 1956 110m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
MGM (Pandro S. Berman)

Adventures of an Anglo-Indian girl during the last years of British India.
Disappointingly anaemic semi-epic from a gutsy novel, variably handled by all concerned.
w Sonya Levien, Ivan Moffat novel John Masters d George Cukor ph Frederick A. Young m Miklos Rozsa
☆ Ava Gardner, Stewart Granger, Francis Matthews, Bill Travers, Abraham Sofaer, Marne Maitland, Peter Illing, Freda Jackson, Edward Chapman
'An unwieldy, flatly-conceived charade.' – MFB
'One may believe with Henry Ford that history is bunk; if so, be assured that the labour pains of India are not half as much bunk as the romance of Victoria Jones, daughter of a Hindu lady, and a Welsh engine driver.' – Alexander Walker

Bian Zhou Bian Chang: see Life on a String

The Bible ★
US/Italy 1966 174m DeLuxe Dimension 150 (70mm)
TCF/Dino de Laurentiis (Luigi Luraschi)

Through the Old Testament from Adam to Isaac.
A portentous creation with whispered commentary gives way to a dull misty Eden with decorous nudes, a sprightly Noah's Ark, a spectacular Babel, a brooding Sodom and a turgid Abraham. The pace is killingly slow and the script has little religious sense, but the pictures are often pretty.
w Christopher Fry and others d John Huston ph Giuseppe Rotunno m Toshiro Mayuzumi ad Mario Chiari
☆ Michael Parks (Adam), Ulla Bergryd (Eve), Richard Harris (Cain), John Huston (Noah), Stephen Boyd (Nimrod), George C. Scott (Abraham), Ava Gardner (Sarah), Peter O'Toole (the three angels)
'An Old Testament spectacular like any other.' – David Robinson
'At a time when religion needs all the help it can get, John Huston may have set its cause back a couple of thousand years.' – Rex Reed
♗ Toshiro Mayuzumi

'One robot's 200 year journey to become an ordinary man.'

Bicentennial Man
US 1999 140m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Columbia/Touchstone/1492/Radiant (Wolfgang Petersen, Gail Katz, Neal Miller, Laurence Mark, Chris Columbus, Mark Radcliffe, Michael Barnathan)

A domestic android gradually achieves his ambition to become fully human
This is a movie that covers a span of 200 years in which nothing very interesting happens, although the time does provide scope for one of Williams's more simpering performances.
w Nicholas Kazan story Isaac Asimov novel The Positronic Man by Isaac Asimov, Robert Silverberg d Chris Columbus ph Phil Meheux m James Horner pd Norman Reynolds ed Neil Travis ☆ Robin Williams (Andrew), Sam Neill (Sir), Wendy Crewson (Ma'am), Embeth Davidtz (Little Miss/Portia), Oliver Platt (Rupert Burns), Hallie Kate Eisenberg (Little Miss), Stephen Root (Dennis Mansky), Lynne Thigpen (Female President), Bradley Whitford (Lloyd), Kiersten Warren (Galatea Robotic/Human)
'Perhaps, one day, there will be robot film reviewers. And if they beg not to be sent to Robin Williams movies, we'll know they are developing human feelings.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times
'An ambitious tale handled in a dawdling, sentimental way.' – Todd McCarthy. Variety ♗ make-up (Greg Cannom)

Les Biches ★★
France/Italy 1968 99m Eastmancolor
La Boétie/Alexandra (André Génovès)

aka: The Does
Two lesbians form an uneasy ménage à trois with a young architect, who loves both of them.
Fascinating and well-detailed character study with more depth than at first appears.
w Paul Gégauff, Claude Chabrol d Claude Chabrol ph Jean Rabier m Pierre Jansen ☆ Stéphane Audran, Jacqueline Sassard, Jean-Louis Trintignant
'You can almost see tubes attached to the heels of all the characters, through which the meaning has been sucked out of them and Chabrol pumped in.' – John Simon

Bichunmoo (dubbed)
South Korea 2000 117m colour
Cinema Service/Tera Source/Taewon Entertainment/CFCC/Shanghai Film Studio (Jeong Tae-won)

In 14th-century China, a dispossessed Korean, the master of a secret sword-fighting technique, takes revenge on the Mongols who killed his parents and robbed him of the woman he loved.
A big budget imitation of Hong Kong action movies, filmed in China and using the talents of a HK martial arts director for the fight sequences, which are staged in a familiar flying, whirling and quick-cutting style that makes it difficult to appreciate what is happening; the rest is a mix of kitsch romanticism, gore, flat acting and one-dimensional characters.

w Jeong Yong-ki, Kim Young Jun manga Kim Hye-rin d Kim Young Jun ph Byeon Heui-seong m Kim Jun Sun ad Zheng Chengming ed Lee Hyeon-mi martial arts director Joe Ma

☆ Shin Hyeon-jun (Jin-ha), Kim Heui-seon (Sullie), Jeong Jin-yeong (King Namgung), Kim Hak-cheol (General Taruga), Bang Hyo-up (Sung)

'OK swordplay drama that suffers from earthbound direction and largely uncharismatic leads.' – Derek Elley, Variety

† The film was the most expensive made in South Korea up to that time, and was a box-office success in its homeland.

†† A two-disc DVD release includes interviews with the director and stars, as well as brief footage behind the scenes. A subtitled version is provided as well as one dubbed into English.

Bicycle Thieves ★★★★

Italy 1948 90m bw
PDS-ENIC (Umberto Scarparelli)

original title: Ladri di Biciclette
US title: Bicycle Thief

An Italian workman, long unemployed, is robbed of the bicycle he needs for his new job, and he and his small son search Rome for it.

The epitome of Italian neo-realism, the slight human drama is developed so that it has all the force of King Lear, and both the acting and the backgrounds are vividly compelling.

w Cesare Zavattini d Vittorio de Sica ph Carlo Montuori m Alessandro Cicognini ad Antonio Traverso ed Eraldo Da Roma

☆ Lamberto Maggiorani (Antonio Ricci), Enzo Staiola (Bruno Ricci)

'A film of rare humanity and sensibility.' – Gavin Lambert

'A memorable work of art with the true flavour of reality. To see it is an experience worth having.' – Richard Mallett, Punch

'My idea is to de-romanticize the cinema.' – Vittorio de Sica

foreign film
Cesare Zavattini
picture

Les Bicyclettes de Belsize ★

GB 1969 29m Eastmancolor
Delmore/Ullustria (Jacques de Lane Lea)

The way to true love for a Hampstead shop owner is found through his bicycle.

Mildly attractive whimsy, obviously patterned after Les Parapluies de Cherbourg but not quite hitting the spot.

w Michael Newling d Douglas Hickox ph Wolfgang Suschitzky m/ly Les Reed, Barry Mason

☆ Anthony May, Judy Huxtable

Il Bidone ★★

Italy/France 1955 109m bw
Titanus/SGC

aka: The Swindlers

A group of petty swindlers fails to move into the higher criminal bracket.

Sharply observed but rather sentimental melodrama with tragic pretensions.

w Federico Fellini, Ennio Flaiano, Tullio Pinelli d Federico Fellini ph Otello Martelli m Nino Rota ad Dario Cecchi cos Dario Cecchi

☆ Broderick Crawford (Augusto), Richard Basehart (Picasso), Franco Fabrizi (Roberto), Giulietta Masina (Iris), Sue Ellen Blake (Crippled girl)

Big ★★

US 1988 102m DuArt/DeLuxe
TCF (James L. Brooks, Robert Greenhut)

A 13-year-old boy has his wish to grow 'big' granted by a carnival wishing machine.

Magic fun, better done than it has been since Turnabout (qv) in 1940.

w Gary Ross, Anne Spielberg d Penny Marshall ph Barry Sonnenfeld m Howard Shore pd Santo Loquasto

☆ Tom Hanks, Elizabeth Perkins, John Heard, Jared Rushton, Robert Loggia, David Moscow

Tom Hanks; best original screenplay

The Big and the Bad (dubbed)

Italy/France/Spain 1971 84m Technicolor
MGM-EMI/Sancrosiap-Terzafilm/Jaques Roitfeld/Atlantida (Alfonso Sansone, Enrico Chroscicki)

original title: Si Può Fare ... Amigo

A gunfighter hunts for the man who seduced his sister so that he can force him to marry her before he kills him.

Comic, slapstick spaghetti Western, with heavy-handed jokes.

w Rafael Azcona story Ernesto Gastaldi d Maurizio Lucidi ph Aldo Tonti m Luis Enriquez Bacalov ad Eduardo Torre della Fuentes ed Renzo Lucidi

☆ Jack Palance, Bud Spencer (Carlo Pedersoli), Francisco Rabal, Renato Cestiè, Dany Saval

'Men, money and moonshine ... when it comes to vice, Mama knows best!'

Big Bad Mama

US 1974 85m Metrocolor
Santa Cruz (Roger Corman)

In 1932 Texas, a desirable widow becomes a bank robber.

Fast moving, violent nonsense, like a caricature of Bonnie and Clyde (qv), which was itself a caricature.

w William Norton, Frances Doel d Steve Carver ph Bruce Logan m David Grisman

☆ Angie Dickinson, William Shatner, Tom Skerritt, Susan Sennett, Robbie Lee

Big Bad Mama II

US 1987 83m colour
Concorde (Roger Corman)

A mother and her daughters rob banks as a revenge for her husband's death.

A sequel that is more like a re-run of the original movie, and it is less interesting and stylish the second time around.

w R. J. Robertson, Jim Wynorski d Jim Wynorski ad Billie Breenbaum

☆ Angie Dickinson, Robert Culp, Danielle Brisebois, Julie McCullough, Jeff Yagher, Bruce Glover, Ebbe Roe Smith, Charles Cyphers

The Big Bang ★

US 1989 81m colour
Kanter/Toback (Joseph H. Kanter)

A documentary in which people, from a nun to a gangster, a restaurant owner to a basketball player, are asked about the meaning of life.

Engaging conversational piece, cutting quickly from one person to another, that holds one's interest.

d James Toback ad Nicole C. Nicola ed Stephanie Kempf, Keith Robinson

☆ Emma Astner, Missy Boyd, Max Brockman, Darryl Dawkins, Eugene Fodor, Polly Frost, Veronica Geng, Julius Hemphill, Fred Hess, Elaine Kaufman, Sheila Kennedy, Anne Marie Keyes, Charles Lassiter, Marcia Oakley, Jack Richardson and also Don Simpson, Tony Sirico, José Torres, Barbara Traub

The Big Bang Theory ★

US 1995 100m colour
Polygram/Renegade/Eagle Eye/Asylum (Daniel M. Bergers, Ladd Vance)

GB title: Bang

In Los Angeles, a young woman discovers the power a uniform and a gun give her when she takes them from a cop who tried to sexually assault her.

Offbeat, episodic, independent movie that deals sympathetically with the dispossessed, and treats with disdain those that abuse their authority.

wd Ash ph Dave Gasperik pd Daniel M. Berger ed Ash, Daniel M. Berger

☆ Darling Narita, Peter Greene, Everlast, Michael Arturo, James Sharpe, Luis Guizar

'A powerful sleeper, convincing, provocative and exciting – an adventure in "guerrilla filmmaking" that uses an unexpected story device to hold up a mirror to a big US city.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

The Big Bankroll: see King of the Roaring Twenties

The Big Blockade ★

GB 1941 73m bw
Ealing (Alberto Cavalcanti)

A semi-documentary showing the importance of blockading Germany in winning the war.

A curious all-star propaganda revue with some sketches more effective than others. It was Will Hay's only serious role.

w Charles Frend, Angus Macphail d Charles Frend ph Wilkie Cooper m Richard Addinsell

☆ Leslie Banks, Michael Redgrave, John Mills, Will Hay, Frank Cellier, Robert Morley, Alfred Drayton, Michael Rennie, Marius Goring, Bernard Miles

'Topical subject matter, graphic descriptive work, pungent commentary, thrilling spectacle, clever characterisation.' – Kine Weekly

The Big Blue

US 1988 119m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Patrice Ledoux)

Two competitive deep-sea divers combine to rescue a dolphin.

Bizarre, over-long fantasy, much of it filmed murkily underwater.

w Luc Besson, Robert Garland, Marilyn Goldin, Jacques Mayol, Marc Perrier d Luc Besson ph Carlo Varini, Luc Besson, Christian Petron m Eric Serra, Bill Conti pd Dan Weil ed Olivier Mauffroy

☆ Rosanna Arquette, Jean-Marc Barr, Jean Reno

'The director's future as a significant cinematic navigator looks, on this evidence, rather less than watertight.' – Philip Strick, MFB

† The film was cut by nine minutes for its US release. It was released on video in two versions, one running for the same length of time as the cinema release, and the other, a special edition, running for 168m.

The Big Boodle

US 1957 83m bw
UA/Monteflor (Lewis F. Blumberg)

GB title: Night in Havana

A croupier in a Havana gambling casino is suspected of knowing where counterfeited plates are hidden...

An undistinguished chase film with the star very tired and a long way from home.

w Jo Eisinger novel Robert Sylvester d Richard Wilson ph Lee Garmes m Raul Lavista

☆ Errol Flynn, Pedro Armendariz, Gia Scala, Rossana Rory

The Big Boss (dubbed) ★★

Hong Kong 1971 98m Eastmancolor Dyaliscope
Cathay/Golden Harvest (Raymond Chow)

aka: Fists of Fury

A worker in an ice factory takes revenge on a gang of heroin smugglers led by his crooked and murderous boss.

Possibly Bruce Lee's best film; certainly it is the one that shows his skills to best advantage.

wd Lo Wei ph Chen Ching Cheh m Wang Fu Ling ed Fan Chia Kun

☆ Bruce Lee (Chen Chao-an), Maria Yi Yi (Lin Hau-mei), James Tien (Hsu Chien), Nora Miao (Prostitute)

The Big Bounce

US 1969 102m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Greenway (William Dozier)

An ex-GI with a criminal record gets into sexual and criminal trouble while working at a Californian motel.

Unattractive melodrama with no discernible point, certainly not to entertain.

w Robert Dozier novel Elmore Leonard d Alex March ph Howard R. Schwartz m Michael Curb

☆ Ryan O'Neal, Leigh Taylor Young, Van Heflin, James Daly, Robert Webber, Lee Grant

Big Boy

US 1930 68m approx bw
Warner

A jockey wins a big race.

Star musical from a Broadway original; routine except that Jolson plays in blackface, then comes on as himself for the finale.

w William K. Wells, Perry Vekroff d Alan Crosland

☆ Al Jolson, Louise Closser Hale, Noah Beery

'Comedy entertaining in hoke way, but production inferior to previous Jolson pictures.' – Variety

The Big Brawl

US 1980 95m Technicolor Panavision
Warner Brothers/Golden Harvest (Raymond Chow)

The son of a Chinese restaurateur in Chicago outwits gangsters.

Silly but quite entertaining chopsocky melodrama laced with comedy.

wd Robert Clouse ph Robert Jessup m Lalo Schifrin

☆ Jackie Chan, José Ferrer, Kristine de Bell, Mako, David Sheiner

The Big Broadcast ★★

US 1932 78m bw
Paramount

A failing radio station is saved by an all-star show.

Revue-style show with a minimum of plot, valuable as archive material covering many stars of the time.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

w George Marion Jnr novel Wild Waves by William Ford Manley d Frank Tuttle ph George Folsey ☆ Bing Crosby, Kate Smith, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Stuart Erwin, Leila Hyams, Cab Calloway, the Mills Brothers, the Boswell Sisters
'Flock of radio names ensures b.o. interest, especially in hinterland.' – Variety
♫ 'Please'; 'Here Lies Love'; 'Hot Toddy'; 'Where the Blue of the Night Meets the Gold of the Day'; 'Tiger Rag'; 'Crazy People'; 'It Was So Beautiful'; 'Kicking the Gong Around'

'A musical meteor of songs, comedy and romance!'

The Big Broadcast of 1936 ★

US 1935 97m bw
Paramount (Ben Glazer)
The 'radio lover' of a small radio station is kidnapped by a man-hungry countess.
Zany comedy with interpolated variety acts and a totally Marxian climax.
w Walter de Leon, Francis Martin, Ralph Spence d Norman Taurog ph Leo Tover ch LeRoy Prinz
☆ Jack Oakie, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Henry Wadsworth, Wendy Barrie, Lyda Roberti, C. Henry Gordon, Benny Baker, Bing Crosby, Ethel Merman, Richard Tauber, Amos 'n Andy, Mary Boland, Charles Ruggles, Virginia Weidler and also Guy Standing, Gail Patrick, Bill Robinson, the Nicholas Brothers, the Vienna Boys Choir, Akim Tamiroff
'Names are in and out as fast and as often as a firefly's tail light.' – Variety
'It hasn't much story, but the lack won't bother.' – Variety
♫ 'Miss Brown to You'; 'Through the Doorway of Dreams'; 'Double Trouble'; 'Why Dream?'; 'Amargura'; 'I Wished on the Moon'; 'Crooner's Lullaby'; 'Why Stars Come Out at Night'
LeRoy Prinz

The Big Broadcast of 1937 ★★

US 1936 100m bw
Paramount (Lewis Gensler)
A radio station manager has trouble with his sponsors.
More recorded acts separated by a measure of plot.
w Erwin Gelsey, Arthur Kober, Barry Travers, Walter de Leon, Francis Martin d Mitchell Leisen ph Theodor Sparkuhl songs various ☆ Jack Benny, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Shirley Ross, Ráy Milland, Benny Fields, Benny Goodman and his Orchestra, Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eleanore Whitney, Larry Adler, Louis da Pron
'It isn't a comedy and it isn't a musical, but it has a lot of laughs, the best in several types of music, and I don't know where in the world you will see anything like it.' – Otis Ferguson

The Big Broadcast of 1938 ★★

US 1937 90m bw
Paramount (Harlan Thompson)
A steamship owner engaged in a transatlantic race is hampered by his practical joking twin brother.
Glamorous, empty-headed all-star nonsense with the expected bevy of interpolated acts.
w Walter de Leon, Francis Martin, Ken Englund, Frederick Hazlitt Brennan d Mitchell Leisen ph Harry Fischbeck m/ly Ralph Rainger, Leo Robin
☆ W. C. Fields, Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross, Lynne Overman, Ben Blue, Leif Erickson, Kirsten Flagstad, Tito Guizar, Shep Fields and his Rippling Rhythm Orchestra
'Pictorially original and alluring, with the rejuvenated W. C. Fields at his inimitable best.' – Variety
♫ 'Thanks for the Memory'; 'Don't Tell a Secret to a Rose'; 'You Took the Words Right Out of My Heart'; 'Mama That Moon Is Here Again'; 'This Little Ripple Has Rhythm'; 'The Waltz Lives On'; 'Zuni Zuni'; 'Sawing a Woman in Half' song 'Thanks for the Memory' (m Ralph Rainger, ly Leo Robin)

Big Brown Eyes

US 1936 76m bw
Paramount (Walter Wanger)
A private detective and his wisecracking girlfriend catch a jewel thief.
Minor league Thin Man stuff, quite acceptably done.
w Raoul Walsh, Bert Hanlon d Raoul Walsh ph George Clemens m Gerard Carbonara md Morris Stoloff
☆ Cary Grant, Joan Bennett, Walter Pidgeon, Lloyd Nolan, Alan Baxter, Marjorie Gateson, Isabel Jewell, Douglas Fowley
'A fast, well-directed and quite unsentimental gangster film, pleasantly free from emotion – for emotion on the screen is nearly always false emotion.' – Graham Greene

'A comedy for the kid in all of us.'

Big Bully

US 1996 93m colour
Warner/Morgan Creek (Lee Rich, Gary Foster)
A former schoolboy bully reverts to his old ways when, 25 years later, his victim returns to their old school as a teacher.
Raucous slapstick comedy of minimal interest.
w Mark Steven Johnson d Steve Miner ph Daryn Okada m David Newman pd Ian Thomas ed Marshall Harvey
☆ Rick Moranis, Tom Arnold, Julianne Phillips, Carol Kane, Jeffrey Tambor, Curtis Armstrong, Faith Prince, Tony Pierce, Don Knotts
'This moronic, half-arsed and desperately obvious comedy has about the same level of entertainment as toothache.' – Empire

The Big Bus

US 1976 88m Movielab Panavision
Paramount (Fred Freeman, Lawrence J. Cohen)
Misadventures of a giant atomic-powered bus on its first cross-country trip.
Rather feeble spoof on disaster pictures, with some good moments.
w Fred Freeman, Lawrence J. Cohen d James Frawley ph Harry Stradling Jnr m David Shire pd Joel Schiller
☆ Joseph Bologna, Stockard Channing, John Beck, René Auberjonois, Ned Beatty, Bob Dishy, José Ferrer, Ruth Gordon, Harold Gould, Larry Hagman, Sally Kellerman, Richard Mulligan, Lynn Redgrave
'It's all fast, bright, surface stuff, almost obsessively intent on never letting a laugh get away, misfiring, backfiring, skidding and crashing gears gaily all the way, often quite as thrilling, if not always as ludicrous, as some of the films it mocks.' – Alan Brien, Sunday Times
'It has been produced with such consummate bad taste, schlock acting and feeble attempts at verbal and visual humour that whatever laughs are engendered are at it rather than with it.' – Dave Pomeroy, Film Information

Big Business ★★★★

US 1929 20m bw silent
Hal Roach
Stan and Ollie fail to sell a Christmas tree to a belligerent householder.
Classic silent comedy consisting largely of a brilliant tit-for-tat routine of reciprocal destruction, to which scripting, acting and editing equally combine.
w Leo McCarey, H. M. Walker d James W. Horne ed Richard Currier
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, James Finlayson
† The Region 2 DVD release is on a disc with Way Out West.

Big Business

US 1988 97m Metrocolor
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Silver Screen Partners III (Steve Tisch, Michael Peyser)
Big business complexities are made more so by the fact that the principals are discovered to have been exchanged at birth.
Loud-shouting farce which just about gets by on star value.
w Dori Pierson, Marc Rubel d Jim Abrahams ph Dean Cundey m Lee Holdridge ☆ Bette Midler, Lily Tomlin, Fred Ward, Edward Herrmann

The Big Carnival: see Ace in the Hole

The Big Cat

US 1949 75m Technicolor
Eagle-Lion
Feuding mountain families combine to track a marauding lion.
Standard outdoor melodrama, almost a straight version of Track of the Cat (qv).
w Morton Grant, Dorothy Yost d Phil Karlson
☆ Peggy Ann Garner, Lon McCallister, Preston Foster, Forrest Tucker, Skip Homeier, Sara Haden

'How much love, sex, fun and friendship can a person take?'
'In a cold world, you need your friends to keep you warm!'

The Big Chill ★★★

US 1983 105m Metrocolor
Columbia/Carson Productions (Michael Shamberg)
University contemporaries try to comfort each other after the death of a friend.
Wry satirical comedy which seems to be nostalgic for the sixties, but is funny anyway.
w Lawrence Kasdan, Barbara Benedek
d Lawrence Kasdan ph John Bailey
m various pd Ida Random ed Carol Littleton
☆ Tom Berenger (Sam), Glenn Close (Sarah), Jeff Goldblum (Michael), William Hurt (Nick), Kevin Kline (Harold), Mary Kay Place (Meg), Meg Tilly (Chloe), JoBeth Williams (Karen), Don Galloway (Richard)
'The final impression left is of a collage of small relishable moments.' – Kim Newman, MFB
'An entertainment in which humour and sentiment are finely balanced and profundities are artfully skirted.' – Sight and Sound
'A splendid technical exercise ... but there's no pay-off and it doesn't lead anywhere.' – Roger Ebert best picture; Glenn Close; screenplay

The Big Circus ★

US 1959 109m Technicolor Cinemascope
AA (Irwin Allen)
A bankrupt circus owner tries to get his show back on the road despite the murderous schemes of his ex-partners.
Fast-paced melodrama which makes little sense but generally provides the expected thrills.
w Irwin Allen, Charles Bennett, Irving Wallace d Joseph Newman ph Winton C. Hoch m Paul Sawtell, Bert Shefter
☆ Victor Mature, Red Buttons, Rhonda Fleming, Kathryn Grant, Vincent Price, Peter Lorre, Gilbert Roland, David Nelson, Adele Mara, Steve Allen

The Big City ★

US 1937 80m bw
MGM (Norman Krasna)
An honest cab driver and his wife hold out against corruption.
Sentimental realism of the type expected of its director. Smooth and syrupy.
w Dore Schary, Hugo Butler d Frank Borzage ph Joseph Ruttenberg m William Axt ☆ Spencer Tracy, Luise Rainer, Charley Grapewin, Janet Beecher, Irving Bacon, William Demarest, Eddie Quillan
'Domesticity and tenderness are heavily laid on: people in this film are too happy before disaster: no one is as happy as all that, no one so little prepared for what life is bound to do sooner or later.' – Graham Greene

Big City

US 1948 103m bw
MGM (Joe Pasternak)
In New York's East Side, a little girl is the adopted daughter of three bachelors, but trouble looms when they all get ideas of romance.
Latter-day star vehicle for which the young star is really too old and all else is excessively sentimental and sprawling.
w Whitfield Cook, Anne Chapin d Norman Taurog ph Robert Surtees
☆ Margaret O'Brien, Robert Preston, Danny Thomas, George Murphy, Karin Booth, Jackie Butch Jenkins, Betty Garrett, Lotte Lehmann, Edward Arnold
† Margaret O'Brien's singing was dubbed by Marni Nixon.

The Big City ★★

India 1963 131m bw
R. D. Bansal original title: Mahanagar
A poverty-stricken Calcutta bank accountant sends his wife out to work; then the bank crashes, and she becomes the sole breadwinner.
Immensely detailed, overlong, but mainly fascinating account of modern urban India and its attitudes.
wd Satyajit Ray novel Narendra Nath Mitra ph Subrata Mitra m Satyajit Ray ☆ Madhabi Mukherjee, Anil Chatterjee, Haren Chatterjee, Haradhan Banerjee

Big City Blues

US 1932 65m bw
Warner
A country boy gets into trouble on his first trip to New York.
Predictable comedy drama which seems to have no point other than the obvious one.
w Ward Morehouse, Lillie Hayward d Mervyn Le Roy

☆ Joan Blondell, Eric Linden, Inez Courtney, Evalyn Knapp, Guy Kibbee, Walter Catlett, Humphrey Bogart, Ned Sparks

'The strangest and most savage manhunt in history!'

The Big Clock ★

US 1947 95m bw
Paramount (John Farrow)

A publishing magnate murders his mistress and assigns one of his editors to solve the crime.
Slick but rather empty thriller with judicious use of adequate talent.
w Jonathan Latimer novel Kenneth Fearing d John Farrow ph John Seitz m Victor Young ☆ Charles Laughton, Ray Milland, Maureen O'Sullivan, Rita Johnson, Elsa Lanchester † Remade as No Way Out (1987) (qv).

The Big Combo ★

US 1955 80m bw
Allied Artists/Security-Theodora (Sidney Harmon)

The police crush a crime syndicate.
An otherwise uninspired thriller memorable for starting the new violence, with some ugly scenes of torture which suffered at the time from the censor.
w Philip Yordan d Joseph H. Lewis ph John Alton m David Raksin ☆ Cornel Wilde, Richard Conte, Jean Wallace, Brian Donlevy, Robert Middleton, Lee Van Cleef, Ted de Corsia, Helen Walker, John Hoyt

The Big Country ★★★

US 1958 165m Technicolor Technirama
UA/Anthony/Worldwide (William Wyler, Gregory Peck)

The Terrills and the Hannesseys feud over water rights, and peace is brought about only with the deaths of the family heads.
Big-scale Western with a few pretensions to say something about the Cold War. All very fluent, star-laden and easy to watch.
w James R. Webb, Sy Bartlett, Robert Wilder novel Donald Hamilton d William Wyler ph Franz Planer m Jerome Moross ed John Faure, Robert Belcher
☆ Gregory Peck (James McKay), Jean Simmons (Julie Maragon), Charlton Heston (Steve Leech), Carroll Baker (Patricia Terrill), Burl Ives (Rufus Hannassey), Charles Bickford (Maj. Henry Terrill), Alfonso Bedoya (Ramon), Chuck Connors (Buck Hannassey)
'Has, in fact, most of the elements one asks for in the Western. Especially it has a feeling of size and space ... Yet something, I think, is missing: the romantic heart.' – Dilys Powell
Burl Ives
Jerome Moross

'Once you adopt a kid, you've got to keep him.'

Big Daddy

US 1999 93m Technicolor
Columbia/Out of the Blue (Sid Ganis, Jack Giarraputo)

A thirties-something playboy adopts a five-year-old in the hope of impressing his girlfriend.
Sandler's familiar persona of a dim but charming manchild wears ever thinner here, in a heavy-handed, predictable and sentimental comedy.
w Steve Franks, Tim Herlihy, Adam Sandler d Dennis Dugan ph Theo Van de Sande m Teddy Castellucci pd Perry Andelin Blake ed Jeff Gourson
☆ Adam Sandler (Sonny Koufax), Joey Lauren Adams (Layla), Jon Stewart (Kevin), Cole Sprouse (Julian), Dylan Sprouse (Julian), Josh Mostel (Mr Brooks), Leslie Mann (Corinne), Allen Covert (Phil), Rob Schneider (Delivery Guy), Kristy Swanson (Vanessa), Joe Bologna (Mr Koufax), Steve Buscemi (Homeless guy)
'Easily the laziest, most slapdash and altogether crummiest picture Sandler's done to date.' – New York Post
'Sandler's goofy, infantile act, profoundly unattractive when juxtaposed with an actual infant, is about as amusing as a broken collar-bone.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
† The film was among the box-office successes of the year, grossing more than $163m in the USA.

Big Deal at Dodge City: see A Big Hand for the Little Lady

Big Deal on Madonna Street: see Persons Unknown

The Big Doll House

US 1971 93m colour
MGM/New World (Jane Schaffer)

Tough new revolutionary inmates plan an escape from a woman's prison run by a sadistic wardress.
Dull, cheap exploitation movie, concentrating on nudity and violence; it is indifferently acted, and perfunctorily written and directed.
w Don Spencer d Jack Hill ph Fred Conde m Hall Daniels pd Ben Otico ed Cliff Fenneman
☆ Judy Brown, Roberta Collins, Pam Grier, Brooke Mills, Pat Woodell, Sid Haig, Christiane Schmidtmer

The Big Easy ★

US 1986 108m DeLuxe
Kings Road (Stephen Friedman)

A New Orleans homicide detective is persuaded by a lady investigator from the DA's office to look into irregularities in the department.
Sassy, easy-going melodrama with comedy asides.
w Dan Petrie Jnr d Jim McBride ph Affonso Beato m Brad Fiedel pd Jeannine Claudia Oppewall
☆ Dennis Quaid, Ellen Barkin, Ned Beatty, John Goodman, Ebbe Roe Smith
'The cooks did the best they could with ingredients that tasted good but were a little tough to chew.' – Daily Variety

'Two friends are about to cut one Hollywood big shot down to size.'

Big Fat Liar

US 2002 87m DeLuxe
Universal/Mediastream (Mike Tollin, Brian Robbins)

A 14 year-old schoolboy takes his revenge after his short story is plagiarised by a Hollywood producer for his new film.
Its intended youthful audience is unlikely to find much enjoyment in a quick tour of Hollywood and some feeble satire that is on offer here.
w Dan Schneider d Shawn Levy ph Jonathan Brown m Christophe Beck pd Nina Ruscio ed Stuart Pappé, Kimberly Ray ☆ Frankie Muniz (Jason Shepherd), Paul Giamatti (Marty Wolf), Amanda Bynes (Kaylee), Amanda Detmer (Monty Kirkham), Donald Faison (Frank Jackson), Lee Majors (Vince), Sandra Oh (Mrs Caldwell), Russell Hornsby (Marcus Duncan)
'Disappointment guaranteed.' – Sunday Times
'Strenuously unfunny.' – Variety

Big Fella ★

GB 1937 73m bw
British Lion/Fortune (H. Fraser Passmore)

In Marseilles, a black man returns a lost child to his English parents.
Pleasant light vehicle with the star in typical easy form.
w Fenn Sherie, Ingram d'Abbes novel Banjo by Claude McKay d J. Elder Wills ph Cyril Bristow m Eric Ansell
☆ Paul Robeson, Elizabeth Welch, Roy Emerton, Marcelle Rogez
'A very unpretentious vehicle.' – Variety

'An adventure as big as life itself.'

Big Fish ★ (6)

US 2003 125m DeLuxe
Columbia (Richard D. Zanuck, Bruce Cohen, Dan Jinks)

A son reluctantly reconciles with his father, a salesman who has devoted his life to telling fantastic tales with himself as the hero.
Meandering and unenlightening whimsy, though its cast search valiantly for some meaning in Burton's light, bright fantasies.
w John August novel Big Fish, A Story of Mythic Proportions by Daniel Wallace d Tim Burton ph Philippe Rousselot m Danny Elfman pd Dennis Gassner ed Chris Lebenzon sp Sony Pictures Imageworks; Stan Winston Studio cos Colleen Atwood ☆ Ewan McGregor (Ed Bloom (young)), Albert Finney (Ed Bloom (senior)), Billy Crudup (Will Bloom), Jessica Lange (Sandra Bloom (senior)), Helena Bonham Carter (Jenny (young & senior) & The Witch), Alison Lohman (Sandra Bloom (young)), Robert Guillaume (Dr Bennett (senior)), Matthew McGrory (Karl the Giant), Loudon Wainwright (Beamen), Steve Buscemi (Norther Winslow), Danny DeVito (Amos Calloway)
'Not only is Mr Burton at the top of his form in endowing his tallest stories and wildest magical conceits with emotional conviction, but he is aided by a superb acting ensemble that never loses its footing.' – Andrew Sarris, New York Observer
'How thin and soft it is, how unpersuasive and ultimately forgettable even its most strenuous inventions turn out to be.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times
† The DVD release includes an audio commentary by Tim Burton.
Danny Elfman

The Big Fisherman

US 1959 166m Technicolor Panavision
Centurion (Rowland V. Lee)

An Arab princess meets disciple Simon Peter, who dissuades her from her plan to assassinate her stepfather Herod.
Well-meaning but leaden adaptation of a bestselling novel which followed on from The Robe (qv). Too reverent by half, and in many respects surprisingly incompetent.
w Howard Estabrook, Rowland V. Lee novel Lloyd C. Douglas d Frank Borzage ph Lee Garmes m Albert Hay Malotte pd John DeCuir
☆ Howard Keel, Alexander Scourby, Susan Kohner, John Saxon, Martha Hyer, Herbert Lom, Ray Stricklyn, Beulah Bondi
'Its overall flatness of conception and execution is a stiff price to pay for the lack of spectacular sensationalism characterizing its fellow-epics.' – MFB
'The picture is three hours long, and, except for those who can be dazzled by big gatherings of props, horses and camels, it is hard to find three minutes of entertainment in it.' – Hollywood Reporter
Lee Garmes; John DeCuir

The Big Fix

US 1978 108m Technicolor
Universal (Carl Borack, Richard Dreyfuss)

An industrial investigator fancies himself as a private eye and gets involved in a political corruption case.
Hard to follow and harder still to care about, this rather sloppy, with-it movie is a little too pleased with itself from the word go.
w Roger L. Simon novel Roger L. Simon d Jeremy Paul Kagan ph Frank Stanley m Bill Conti pd Robert F. Boyle
☆ Richard Dreyfuss, Susan Anspach, Bonnie Bedelia, John Lithgow
'The strength of this film lies in the cool, meandering discretion with which its central theme is fleshed out: regret for lost illusions as the protest generation of the sixties finds its arteries hardening.' – Tom Milne, MFB

The Big Gamble ★

US 1960 100m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF/Darryl F. Zanuck

Three people drive an ailing truck to a remote African township where they hope to start a haulage business.
Curious comedy-drama-adventure which starts off with family matters in Dublin and gradually develops into a lighter-hearted Wages of Fear (qv). It has its moments.
w Irwin Shaw d Richard Fleischer, Elmo Williams ph William Mellor, Henri Persin m Maurice Jarre
☆ Stephen Boyd, Juliette Greco, David Wayne, Gregory Ratoff, Sybil Thorndike, Fernand Ledoux

'A provocative new film about what we go through to find out who we are.'

Big Girls Don't Cry

Germany 2002 87m colour
Deustche Colombia (Andrea Willson, Judy Tossell)

Discovering her father is having an affair, a spoilt girl decides to take revenge on his lover's daughter.
Teenage traumas of sex, drugs and betrayal centred around an unsympathetic protagonist.
wd Maria von Heland ph Roman Osin m Niclas Frisk, Andreas Mattsson pd Ulrika Andersson ed Jessica Congdon
☆ Anna Maria Muhe (Kati), Karoline Herfurth (Steffi), Josefine Domes (Tessa), Tillbert Strahl-Schafer (Klaus), Stefan Kurt (Hans), Nina Petri (Ann)
'Moderately successful attempt to ape the standard Hollywood teen movie.' – Variety

Big Girls Don't Cry ... They Get Even

US 1992 104m CFI color
Rank/New Line/Perlman/MG Entertainment (Laurie Perlman, Gerald T. Olson)

GB title: Stepkids
A 13-year-old girl runs away from home,

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA unhappy at the lack of attention she is getting from her mother and her new family, and from her father who has started another family of his own.

Sentimental domestic drama that is no more than a soap opera screened large.
w Frank Mugavero story Mark Goddard, Melissa Goddard d Joan Micklin Silver ph Theo Van de Sande m Patrick Williams pd Victoria Paul ed Janice Hampton
☆ Griffin Dunne, Dan Futterman, Patricia Kalember, Jenny Lewis, Ben Savage, Adrienne Shelly, David Strathairn, Trenton Teigen, Margaret Whitton, Hillary Wolf
'Promises much, delivers little.' – Kim Newman, Empire

'Mr Ugly comes to town!...'
'Big action and big excitement!'

The Big Gundown

Italy/Spain 1966 105m Techniscope
PEA/PC (Alberto Grimaldi)
Italian title: La Resa dei Conti
A Texas lawman is hired to catch a Mexican outlaw, who repeatedly escapes and finally proves his innocence.
Violent but moderately enjoyable spaghetti Western.
w Sergio Donati, Sergio Sollima d Sergio Sollima ph Carlo Carlini m Ennio Morricone
☆ Lee Van Cleef, Tomas Milian, Walter Barnes, Luisa Rivelli

'All the action you can take ... all the adventure you can wish for!'

A Big Hand for the Little Lady ★★

US 1966 96m Technicolor
Warner/Eden (Fielder Cook)
GB title: Big Deal at Dodge City (though the action clearly takes place in Laredo)
Five rich poker players are outwitted by a family of confidence tricksters.
Diverting but thinly stretched acting-piece from a much shorter TV original; still, suspense builds nicely until the disappointingly handled revelation.
w Sidney Carroll TV play Sidney Carroll d Fielder Cook ph Lee Garmes m David Raksin
☆ Henry Fonda, Joanne Woodward, Jason Robards, Paul Ford, Kevin McCarthy, Charles Bickford, Robert Middleton, Burgess Meredith, John Qualen

The Big Hangover

US 1950 82m bw
MGM (Norman Krasna)
A lawyer struggling to mingle with the mighty finds he is allergic to strong drink.
Woefully unfunny comedy with virtually no plot.
wd Norman Krasna ph George Folsey m Adolph Deutsch
☆ Van Johnson, Elizabeth Taylor, Percy Waram, Fay Holden, Leon Ames, Edgar Buchanan, Rosemary de Camp, Gene Lockhart, Selena Royle

The Big Heart: see Miracle on 34th Street

'A hard cop and a soft dame!'

The Big Heat ★★★

US 1953 90m bw
Columbia (Robert Arthur)
A police detective's wife is killed by a bomb meant for himself; he quits his job to track down the gangsters responsible.
Considered at the time to reach a new low in violence (boiling coffee in the face), this dour little thriller also struck a new note of realism in crime films and produced one of Glenn Ford's most typical performances.
w Sydney Boehm novel William P. McGivern d Fritz Lang ph Charles Lang m Arthur Morton md Mischa Bakaleinikoff ad Robert Peterson ed Charles Nelson ☆ Glenn Ford (Dave Bannion), Gloria Grahame (Debby Marsh), Alexander Scourby (Mike Lagana), Jocelyn Brando (Katie Bannion), Lee Marvin (Vince Stone), Jeanette Nolan (Bertha Duncan), Peter Whitney (Tierney)
'The main impression is of violence employed arbitrarily, mechanically and in the long run pointlessly.' – Penelope Houston

'Executed with style.'

The Big Hit ★

US 1998 91m DeLuxe
TriStar/Amen Ra Films/Zide-Perry/Lion Rock (Warren Zide, Wesley Snipes)
A hitman who begins to fall for the girl he has kidnapped is betrayed by his confederate in the crime.
All the hallmarks of Hong Kong action films, with their gun-battles and intricately choreographed mayhem, are here translated to an American setting, with the addition of wisecracking gangsters and sick jokes.
w Ben Ramsey d Che-Kirk Wong ph Danny Nowak m Graeme Revell pd Taavo Soodor ed Robin Russell, Pietro Scalia
☆ Mark Wahlberg (Melvin Smiley), Lou Diamond Phillips (Cisco), Christina Applegate (Pam Shulman), Avery Brooks (Paris), Bokeem Woodbine (Crunch), China Chow (Keiko Nishi), Antonio Sabato Jnr (Vince), Lainie Kazan (Jeanne Shulman), Elliott Gould (Morton Shulman), Sab Shimono (Jiri Nishi)
'A fleet piece of sock-'em entertainment, its kinetic force plows through myriad plot holes and inconsistencies with game abandon.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

The Big House ★★

US 1930 88m bw
MGM (Irving Thalberg)
Tensions in prison lead to an attempted breakout and a massacre.
Archetypal prison melodrama and a significant advance in form for early talkies.
w Frances Marion d George Hill ph Harold Wenstrom ☆ Chester Morris, Wallace Beery, Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Leila Hyams, George F. Marion, J. C. Nugent, Karl Dane
'Not a two-dollar talker, but virile, realistic melodrama, a cinch for any week-stand and hold-overable generally.' – Variety
'We all gave our roles the best that was in us, and the virility and truthfulness of the picture were more satisfying than anything else I've done.' – Chester Morris, 1953
† The role played by Wallace Beery had been intended for Lon Chaney, who died during preparation.
Frances Marion best picture; Wallace Beery

Big House USA

US 1954 82m bw
UA/Bel Air (Aubrey Schenck)
Convicts stage a break-out to get at hidden loot.
Though less explicit in its violence than many later films, this is a singularly unpleasant melodrama with not one attractive character.
w John C. Higgins d Howard W. Koch ph Gordon Avil m Paul Dunlap ☆ Broderick Crawford, Ralph Meeker, Lon Chaney, Charles Bronson, William Talman, Reed Hadley

Big Jake ★

US 1971 110m Technicolor Panavision
Batjac/Cinema Center (Michael A. Wayne)
An elderly Texas cattleman swings into action when his grandson is kidnapped.
Satisfactory example of the star's later vehicles, with efficient production and familiar cast and brawling.
w Harry Julian Fink, R. M. Fink d George Sherman ph William Clothier m Elmer Bernstein
☆ John Wayne, Richard Boone, Maureen O'Hara, Patrick Wayne, Chris Mitchum, Bobby Vinton, Bruce Cabot, Glenn Corbett, Harry Carey Jnr, John Agar
'Another genial celebration of Big John's ability to carry a film practically single-handed.' – MFB

Big Jim McLain

US 1952 90m bw
Wayne/Fellows (Robert Fellows)
A special agent for the House of UnAmerican Activities Committee routs communists in Hawaii.
Curious and rather offensive star vehicle in which the right-wing political shading interferes seriously with the entertainment value.
w James Edward Grant d Edward Ludwig ph Archie Stout m Paul Dunlap md Emil Newman
☆ John Wayne, Nancy Olson, James Arness, Alan Napier, Veda Ann Borg, Hans Conried, Gayne Whitman
'Brings to the screen all the unattractively hysterical mentality of the witch hunt.' – Penelope Houston

The Big Job

GB 1965 88m bw
Allied Artists/Adder (Peter Rogers)
After 15 years in prison, a gang of inept bank robbers discover that the hollow tree in which they hid their loot now stands in the yard of a new police station.
Broad slapstick comedy, involving many of the Carry On team, that has some occasional amusing moments, though the best joke, when the gang make their getaway in a hearse, comes at the beginning.
w Talbot Rothwell story John Antrobus d Gerald Thomas ph Alan Hume m Eric Rogers ad Bert Davey ed Rod Keys
☆ Sidney James, Sylvia Syms, Dick Emery, Lance Percival, Joan Sims, Jim Dale, Edina Ronay, Deryck Guyler, Reginald Beckwith, Wanda Ventham

'Every sale begins with a smile.'

The Big Kahuna ★

US 1999 90m colour
Redbus/Trigger Street/Franchise (Kevin Spacey, Elie Samaha, Andrew Stevens)
Two experienced salesmen try to explain the ways of business to a young, inexperienced colleague, who is deeply religious.
Familiar material exposing the hollowness of the American dream that does not shake off its theatrical origins; it gets by on the quality of the performances.
w Roger Rueff play Hospitality Suite by Roger Rueff d John Swanbeck ph Anastas N. Michos m Christopher Young pd Kalina Ivanov ed Peggy Davis ☆ Kevin Spacey (Larry), Danny DeVito (Phil), Peter Facinelli (Bob)
'A sweet chamber piece, beautifully played.' – F. X. Feeney, L. A. Weekly

'The Hottest Hunk Of Film Hollywood Ever Shot!'

The Big Knife ★

US 1955 111m bw
UA/Aldrich and Associates
A depressed Hollywood star who wants better things for himself is blackmailed into signing a new contract.
Overheated argument between Art and Mammon, with rather disagreeable people shouting at each other, for too long a time. Limited interest is provided by the acting.
w James Poe play Clifford Odets d Robert Aldrich ph Ernest Laszlo m Frank de Vol
☆ Jack Palance, Ida Lupino, Rod Steiger, Everett Sloane, Jean Hagen, Shelley Winters, Wendell Corey, Ilka Chase, Wesley Addy
'Everything in it is garish and overdone: it's paced too fast and pitched too high, immorality is attacked with almost obscene relish, the knife turns into a buzz saw.' – Pauline Kael, 1968

The Big Land

US 1957 92m Warnercolor
Warner/Jaguar (George C. Bertholon)
GB title: Stampeded
Cattlemen encourage the building of a rail link for Texas.
Undistinguished star Western.
w David Dortort, Martin Rackin novel Buffalo Grass by Frank Gruber d Gordon Douglas ph John F. Seitz m David Buttolph
☆ Alan Ladd, Virginia Mayo, Edmond O'Brien, Anthony Caruso, Julie Bishop, John Qualen
'Hackneyed, humdrum western.' – Howard Thompson

'Her Life Was In Their Hands. Now Her Toe Is In The Mail.'

The Big Lebowski ★★

US 1998 127m Technicolor
Polygram/Working Title (Ethan Coen)
A middle-aged nobody is attacked having been mistaken for his namesake, a millionaire whose wife, an actress in pornographic films, has apparently been kidnapped.
A meandering thriller that provides a great deal of incidental pleasures on a journey to nowhere in particular.
w Joel and Ethan Coen d Joel Coen ph Roger Deakins m Carter Burwell pd Rick Heinrichs ed Roderick Jaynes, Tricia Cooke
☆ Jeff Bridges, John Goodman, Julianne Moore, Steve Buscemi, Peter Stormare, David Huddleston, Sam Elliott, John Turturro, David Thewlis, Ben Gazzara
'A pseudo-mystery thriller with a keen eye and ear for societal mores and modern figures of speech, nonetheless adds up to considerably less than the sum of its often scintillating parts, simply because the film does not seem to be about anything other than its own cleverness.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'A shaggy dog story out for a constitutional.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

The Big Lift ★

US 1950 119m bw
TCF (William Perlberg)

When the Russians blockade Berlin, British and American airmen get supplies there via a massive airlift; two men on one plane hold opposite views of the matter, and both have chastening experiences.
Rather heavy-going fiction based on fact, with earnest performances and good production.
wd George Seaton ph Charles G. Clarke m Alfred Newman ☆ Montgomery Clift, Paul Douglas, Cornell Borchers, O. E. Hasse, Bruni Lobel

'There are some acute touches ... just enough to make the slick evasions of the rest all the more regrettable.' – Gavin Lambert

The Big Man

GB 1990 116m colour
Palace/Miramax/BSB/British STV Film Enterprises (Stephen Woolley)

US title: Crossing the Line
An unemployed miner becomes a bare-knuckle fighter.
What begins as social realism, at its most powerful in a brutal fight sequence, ends as a mess of sentimental cinematic clichés.
w Don MacPherson novel William McIlvanney d David Leland ph Ian Wilson m Ennio Morricone pd Carol Amies ed George Akers
☆ Liam Neeson, Joanne Whalley-Kilmer, Billy Connolly, Ian Bannen, Maurice Roeves, Kenny Ireland, John Beattie, Amanda Walker

'Rarely plausible, frequently risible, occasionally embarrassing, this morally confused melodrama falls with a dull thud between social realism and mythic fable.' – Philip French, Observer

'This FBI Agent Is Going Undercover... And He's concealing More Than A Weapon.'

Big Momma's House

US 2000 98m DeLuxe
TCF/Regency/David T. Friendly/Runteldat/Taurus

An FBI agent disguises himself as an obese grandmother in order to track down an escaped bank robber.
Trite and flatulent lowbrow comedy that lacks character and charm, with Martin Lawrence once more content to be a unfunny clone of Eddie Murphy.
w Darryl Quarles, Don Rhymer d Raja Gosnell ph Michael D. O'Shea m Richard Gibbs pd Craig Stearns ed Bruce Green, Kent Beyda sp makeup fx: Greg Cannom cos Francine Jamison-Tanchuck
☆ Martin Lawrence (Malcolm Turner), Nia Long (Sherry), Paul Giamatti (John), Terrence Howard (Lester), Anthony Anderson (Nolan), Ella Mitchell (Big Momma), Jascha Washington (Trent), Carl Wright (Ben), Phyllis Applegate (Sadie), Starletta DuPois (Miss Patterson), Octavia L. Spencer (Twila)

'Filled with sketchlike comic set pieces, only a few of which come near fulfilling their humorous potential.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
'If you think comedy based on farting, lechery, drag and the huge bottom and bowel movements of a large black woman is funny, then this one is for you.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times
† The film was a hit in the US, taking more than $117.5m at the box office.

'The Momma of all Comedies is Back.'

Big Momma's House 2

US 2006 99m DeLuxe
TCF/Regency/Deep River/Firm Films/Runteldat (David T. Friendly, Michael Green)

An FBI agent disguises himself as a fat elderly woman to work as a nanny for a woman who is a suspect in a murder investigation.
Drearily flatulent comedy that only masochists will enjoy.
w Don Rhymer d John Whitesell ph Mark Irwin m George S. Clinton pd Craig Stearns ed Priscilla Nedd Friendly
☆ Martin Lawrence (Malcolm/Big Momma), Nia Long (Sherrie), Emily Procter (Leah Fuller), Zachary Levi (Kevin), Mark Moses (Tom Fuller)

'Raises fewer laughs than there are mountains in Holland.' – Phillip French, Observer

The Big Money

GB 1956 86m Technicolor Vistavision
Rank (Joseph Janni)

A family of petty crooks is ashamed of its eldest son, who is an incompetent thief.
A would-be high-spirited lark in which none of the jokes comes off, and a note of forced artificiality hangs over the whole production.
w John Baines d John Paddy Carstairs ph Jack Cox m Van Phillips ☆ Ian Carmichael, Belinda Lee, Kathleen Harrison, Robert Helpmann, James Hayter, George Coulouris, Jill Ireland, Renée Houston, Leslie Phillips

The Big Mouth

US 1967 107m Pathécolor
Columbia (Jerry Lewis)

A meek bank auditor finds he is the double of a dying gangster and is put on the trail of stolen diamonds.
The comedian at his worst, most repetitive and long drawn out.
w Jerry Lewis, Bill Richmond d Jerry Lewis ph W. Wallace Kelley, Ernest Laszlo m Harry Betts ☆ Jerry Lewis, Harold J. Stone, Susan Bay, Buddy Lester, Del Moore

The Big Night

US 1951 75m bw
UA/Philip A. Waxman

A 17-year-old youth goes on the rampage in the underworld to avenge the beating up of his father by gangsters.
Hysterical melodrama presenting a rather false and dismal view of the world. Amazingly typical of its director's later output.
w Stanley Ellin, Joseph Losey novel Dreadful Summit by Stanley Ellin d Joseph Losey ph Hal Mohr m Lyn Murray
☆ John Barrymore Jnr, Preston Foster, Howard St John, Philip Bourneuf, Howland Chamberlin, Emile Meyer, Dorothy Comingore, Joan Lorring

'We are in that familiar underworld of the American cinema: dark streets gleaming with rain, sleazy apartments, garish night clubs, with Negro singers, drunks who spout philosophy, discontented blondes and fierce pock-marked thugs.' – Gavin Lambert
† The script was written by Ring Lardner Jnr and Hugo Butler, who did not receive a screen credit as they were blacklisted at the time.

'Comedy with Taste.'

Big Night ★★

US 1996 108m DeLuxe
Rysher/Timpano (Jonathan Filley)

In New Jersey in the late 50s, two brothers, who run an authentic but failing Italian restaurant, prepare a feast in the belief that entertainer Louis Prima will be coming for a meal.
Charming small-scale comedy of brotherly rivalry and love, immaculately done.
w Stanley Tucci, Joseph Tropiano d Stanley Tucci, Campbell Scott ph Ken Kelsch m Gary DeMichele pd Andrew Jackness ed Suzy Elmiger
☆ Minnie Driver, Ian Holm, Isabella Rossellini, Tony Shalhoub, Stanley Tucci, Caroline Aaron, Marc Anthony, Allison Janney

'A smartly made, delightfully acted period piece whose sensibility neatly straddles art films and the mainstream.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

The Big Noise

US 1944 74m bw
TCF (Sol M. Wurtzel)

Two incompetent detectives accidentally round up a spy gang.
Very thin star vehicle consisting largely of poorly staged and warmed up versions of a few old routines.
w Scott Darling d Malcolm St Clair ph Joe MacDonald m Cyril Mockridge ☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Doris Merrick, Arthur Space, Jack Norton

'A comedy that gets away with murder.'

Big Nothing ③

Canada/UK 2006 85m
Pathe/Pathe Productions/Ingenious Film Partners/Isle of Man Film (Andras Hamori, Gabriella Stollenwerck)

Two call-centre workers' attempt to blackmail a priest ends in multiple murder.
Dark comedy thriller apparently modelled on Fargo (qv), but with only a fraction of that film's wit and humanity.
w Jean-Baptiste Andrea, Billy Asher d Jean-Baptiste Andrea ph Richard Greatrex m Alan Anton pd Sophie Becher, Keith Maxwell ad Amelia Shankland ed Antoine Vareille
☆ David Schwimmer (Charlie), Simon Pegg (Gus), Alice Eve (Josie), Jon Polito (Agent Hymes), Natasha McElhone (Penelope), Mimi Rogers (Mrs Smalls)

'Never was a title more horribly appropriate.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

The Big Operator

US 1959 91m bw Cinemascope
MGM/Albert Zugsmith-Fryman (Red Doff)

The racketeer head of a labour union goes berserk when the government has him investigated.
Unpleasant gangster exploitation melodrama from the bottom of the barrel.
w Robert Smith, Allen Rivkin d Charles Haas ph Walter H. Castle m Van Alexander ☆ Mickey Rooney, Steve Cochran, Mamie Van Doren, Mel Tormé, Ray Danton, Jim Backus, Jackie Coogan, Ray Anthony, Charles Chaplin Jnr

'The epic of the American doughboy!'

The Big Parade ★★★

US 1925 115m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

A young American enlists in 1917, learns the realities of war, is wounded but survives.
Enormously successful commercially, this 'anti-war' film survives best as a thrilling spectacle and a well-considered piece of film-making.
w Laurence Stallings, Harry Behn d King Vidor ph John Arnold m William Axt, David Mendoza ad Cedric Gibbons, James Basevi ed Hugh Wynn
☆ John Gilbert (James Apperson), Renee Adoree (Melisande), Hobart Bosworth (Mr. Apperson), Karl Dane (Slim), George K. Arthur

'The human comedy emerges from a terrifying tragedy.' – King Vidor
'A cinegraphically visualized result of a cinegraphically imagined thing ... something conceived in terms of a medium and expressed by that medium as only that medium could properly express it.' – National Board of Review
'The extraordinary impression of the rush of lorries, the queer terror of the woods ... it was amazing how much fear could be felt in the mere continuous pace of movement.' – Bryher, Close Up
† The biggest grossing silent film of all.

The Big Parade ★★

China 1986 103m colour Scope
ICA/Guangxi Film Studio (Chen Liguo) original title: Da Yuebing

Four hundred volunteers from the Airborne Division of the People's Liberation Army train for the National Day Parade in Beijing's Tiananmen Square.
Well-made film that concentrates on the relationship between individuals and the institution they serve. Changes to the movie were forced on the director by the People's Army, including the final scenes of the parade itself.
w Gao Lili d Chen Kaige ph Zhang Yimou m Qu Xiasong, Zhao Jiping ad He Qun ed Zhou Xinxia
☆ Wang Xueqi, Sun Chun, Lu Lei, Wu Ruofu, Guan Qiang, Kang Hua

The Big Parade of Comedy ★★

US 1964 90m approx bw
MGM (Robert Youngson)
aka: MGM's Big Parade of Comedy

A compilation by Robert Youngson, including material as diverse as Ninotchka, Laurel and Hardy and the Marx Brothers.
One is grateful for the excerpts but the assembly of them is somewhat graceless.

The Big Picture ★★

US 1988 101m DeLuxe
Hobo/Columbia (Michael Varhol)

A student film maker goes to Hollywood.
Amusing satire of the movie business.
w Michael Varhol, Christopher Guest, Michael McKean d Christopher Guest ph Jeff Jur m David Nichtern pd Joseph T. Garrity ad Patrick Tagliaferro ed Martin Nicholson
☆ Kevin Bacon, Emily Longstreth, J. T. Walsh, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Martin Short, Michael McKean, Kim Miyori, Teri Hatcher

The Big Pond ★

US 1930 79m bw
Paramount (Monta Bell)

The son of an important French family acts as a tourist guide in Venice.
Reasonably lively, semi-satirical early musical with Americans the butt of the jokes.
w Robert Presnell, Garrett Fort, Preston Sturges play George Middleton, A. E. Thomas d Hobart Henley ph George

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Folsey m arranged by John Green songs various ☆ Maurice Chevalier, Claudette Colbert, George Barbier, Nat Pendleton, Marion Ballou
'An amiable and ingratiating comedy that will give the Chevalier momentum another good shove.' – Variety
Maurice Chevalier

Big Red

US 1962 89m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Winston Hibler)

An orphan boy protects a dog which later saves him from a mountain lion.
Simple boy-and-dog yarn with impressive Canadian settings.
w Louis Pelletier d Norman Tokar
ph Edward Colman m Oliver Wallace
☆ Walter Pidgeon, Gilles Payant, Emile Genest

The Big Red One ★★★

US 1980 111m colour
UA/Lorimar (Gene Corman)

Five foot-soldiers survive action in several theatres of war between 1940 and 1945.
Symbolic action drama, very well made. A restored version, running at 158 minutes, was released in 2004, revealing it to be one of Hollywood's best war movies, concentrating on the isolation of battle and the craziness of combat.
wd Samuel Fuller ph Adam Greenberg
m Dana Kaproff ad Peter Jamison
ed David Bretherton, Morton Tubor
☆ Lee Marvin (Sergeant), Mark Hamill (Griff), Robert Carradine (Zab), Bobby DiCicco (Vinci), Kelly Ward (Johnson), Stéphane Audran (Walloon), Serge Marquand (Ransonnet)
'A picture of palpable raw power which manages both intense intimacy and great scope at the same time.' – Variety
'Like all Fuller movies, about an inch from cliché all the way.' – Guardian

The Big Shakedown

US 1934 64m bw
Warner (Sam Bischoff)

A racketeer finds a new gimmick: cut-price medicine.
Action programmer with emphasis on the young couple forced into helping the racket.
w Niven Busch, Rian James d John Francis Dillon ph Sid Hickox
☆ Bette Davis, Ricardo Cortez, Charles Farrell, Glenda Farrell, Allen Jenkins, Henry O'Neill, Samuel S. Hinds
'A routine assortment of gang-film impedimenta.' – New York Times

The Big Shave ★★

US 1967 6m colour 16mm
Contemporary/McGraw-Hill

To the soundtrack accompaniment of Bunny Berigan's 'I Can't Get Started', a man shaves in a white bathroom, imperturbably cutting himself almost with every stroke until his face runs with blood.
A short, gruesome, macabre joke, intended by Scorsese as an angry comment on the process of self-mutilation that was the war in Vietnam.
wd Martin Scorsese ph Ares Demertzis
☆ Peter Bernuth
† The film carries the credit 'Whiteness Herman Melville' as well as the line 'Viet '67'. It was released on video with three other shorts under the title Scorsese x 4.

The Big Shot ★

US 1942 82m bw
Warner (Walter MacEwen)

An ill-fated criminal has trouble with women and his former companions.
Dullish star vehicle.
w Bertram Millhauser, Abem Finkel, Daniel Fuchs d Lewis Seiler ph Sid Hickox
m Adolph Deutsch
☆ Humphrey Bogart, Irene Manning, Richard Travis, Donald Crisp, Stanley Ridges, Henry Hull, Susan Peters, Howard da Silva
'A wildly improbable picture... Never outside a lunatic asylum did any human beings, crook or otherwise, ever act in this sub-human and wholly illogical way.' – James Agate

The Big Show

US 1961 113m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF/API (Ted Sherdeman)

A circus proprietor dominates his sons; after his death they fight for supremacy.
Another remake of House of Strangers, which was also remodelled as Broken Lance (qqv). Not too bad as circus melodramas go.
w Ted Sherdeman d James B. Clark
ph Otto Heller m Paul Sawtell, Bert Shefter ☆ Esther Williams, Cliff Robertson, Nehemiah Persoff, Robert Vaughn, Carol Christensen, Margia Dean, David Nelson

The Big Silence

France/Italy 1969 115m Eastmancolor
Adelphia/Corona
original title: Il Grande Silencio

A mute gunfighter comes to a small lawless town to kill a ruthless bounty hunter.
Brutal Western in which the bad guys win, but one with a genuine feeling for the genre and the snowbound landscape.
wd Sergio Corbucci ph Silvano Ippoliti
m Ennio Morricone
☆ Jean-Louis Trintignant, Klaus Kinski, Vonetta McGee

The Big Sky ★

US 1952 122m bw
RKO/Winchester (Howard Hawks)

In 1830 two Kentucky mountain men join an exploration up the Missouri and become preoccupied with Indian trouble.
A large-scale adventure, loaded with talent, which becomes oddly tedious.
w Dudley Nichols novel A. B. Guthrie Jnr
d Howard Hawks ph Russell Harlan
m Dimitri Tiomkin ad Albert S. D'Agostino, Perry Ferguson ed Christian Nyby ☆ Kirk Douglas (Jim Deakins), Arthur Hunnicutt (Zeb Calloway), Elizabeth Threatt (Teal Eye), Dewey Martin (Boone Caudill), Buddy Baer (Romaine), Steven Geray (Jourdonnais), Jim Davis (Streak)
'It has the timeless, relentless quality of the long American historical novel.' – Penelope Houston
Russell Harlan; Arthur Hunnicutt

The Big Sleep ★★★

US 1946 114m bw
Warner (Howard Hawks)

Private eye Philip Marlowe is hired to protect General Sternwood's wild young daughter from her own indiscretions, and finds several murders later that he has fallen in love with her elder sister.
Inextricably complicated, moody thriller from a novel whose author claimed that even he did not know 'who done it'. The film is nevertheless vastly enjoyable along the way for its slangy script, star performances and outbursts of violence, suspense and sheer fun.
w William Faulkner, Leigh Brackett, Jules Furthman novel Raymond Chandler
d Howard Hawks ph Sid Hickox m Max Steiner ad Carl Jules Weyl ed Christian Nyby
☆ Humphrey Bogart (Philip Marlowe), Lauren Bacall (Vivian Sternwood Rutledge), John Ridgely (Eddie Mars), Martha Vickers (Carmen Sternwood), Dorothy Malone (Proprietress), Regis Toomey (Bernie Ohls), Charles Waldron (General Sternwood), Charles D. Brown (Norris), Elisha Cook Jnr (Harry Jones), Louis Jean Heydt (Joe Brody), Bob Steele (Canino), Peggy Knudsen (Mona Mars), Sonia Darrin (Agnes)
MARLOWE: 'My, my, my. Such a lot of guns around town and so few brains.'
GENERAL: 'You may smoke, too. I can still enjoy the smell of it. Nice thing when a man has to indulge his vices by proxy.'
VIVIAN: 'So you're a private detective. I didn't know they existed, except in books – or else they were greasy little men snooping around hotel corridors. My, you're a mess, aren't you?'
MARLOWE: 'I don't mind if you don't like my manners. I don't like 'em myself. They're pretty bad. I grieve over 'em on long winter evenings.'
GENERAL: 'If I seem a bit sinister as a parent, Mr Marlowe, it's because my hold on life is too slight to include any Victorian hypocrisy. I need hardly add that any man who has lived as I have and indulges for the first time in parenthood at the age of 55 deserves all he gets.'
MARLOWE: 'Speaking of horses ... you've got a touch of class, but I don't know how far you can go.'
VIVIAN: 'A lot depends on who's in the saddle. Go ahead Marlowe. I like the way you work. In case you don't know it, you're doing all right.'
'A sullen atmosphere of sex saturates the film, which is so fast and complicated you can hardly catch it.' – Richard Winnington
'A violent, smoky cocktail shaken together from most of the printable misdemeanours and some that aren't.' – James Agee
'Harder, faster, tougher, funnier and more laconic than any thriller since.' – NFT, 1974
'Wit, excitement and glamour in generous doses.' – Francis Wyndham

'Some days business is good – and some days it's murder!'

The Big Sleep

GB 1977 99m DeLuxe
Winkast (Elliott Kastner, Michael Winner)

An American private eye is hired by a crippled General to protect his uncontrolled younger daughter.
Straight remake of the 1946 film, curiously and ineffectively set in London.
wd Michael Winner ph Robert Paynter
m Jerry Fielding
☆ Robert Mitchum, Sarah Miles, Richard Boone, Candy Clark, Edward Fox, Joan Collins, John Mills, James Stewart, Oliver Reed, Harry Andrews, Richard Todd, James Donald, Colin Blakely
'The 1946 film takes on even more stature in light of this. For a Winner film, however, it's quite good.' – Variety

The Big Stampede

US 1932 54m bw
Warner

A deputy sheriff cleans up Arizona, gets the girl and defeats a cattle rustler.
Pleasant undemanding Western with Wayne working on his taciturn screen presence while remaking Ken Maynard's silent oaters, in this instance, Land beyond the Law.
w Kurt Kempler story Marion Jackson
d Tenny Wright ph Ted McCord ed Frank Ware
☆ John Wayne, Noah Beery, Mae Madison, Berton Churchill, Paul Hurst, Sherwood Bailey, Luis Alberni, Lafe McKee, Paul Hurst

The Big Steal ★★

US 1949 72m bw
RKO (Jack J. Gross)

An army officer is framed for the theft of a payroll, and sets off across Mexico in hectic pursuit of the real culprit.
Unexpectedly enjoyable comedy melodrama with a plethora of twists and a pace that never lets up. Routine Hollywood at a level seldom achieved, and short enough to leave one asking for more.
w Gerald Drayson Adams, Geoffrey Homes story The Road to Carmichael's by Richard Wormser d Don Siegel ph Harry J. Wild
m Leigh Harline
☆ Robert Mitchum, Jane Greer, William Bendix, Ramon Novarro, Patric Knowles, Don Alvarado, John Qualen
'Vigour and excellent craftsmanship.' – Gavin Lambert

'He Wants The Key To Her Heart. They Want The Key To His Car.'

The Big Steal ★

Australia 1990 100m colour
Hobo/Cascade/Film Victoria/Australia Film Finance Corp. (David Parker, Nadia Tass)

An 18-year-old boy plots revenge against the car salesman who sold him a faulty Jaguar with which he had hoped to impress his new girl-friend.
Mildly amusing comedy of the eccentricity underlying suburban life.
w David Parker, Max Dunn d Nadia Tass
ph David Parker m Philip Judd pd Paddy Reardon ed Peter Carrodus ☆ Ben Mendelsohn, Claudia Karvan, Steve Bisley, Marshall Napier, Damon Herriman, Angelo D'Angelo, Tim Robertson, Maggie King
'Has a low-key charm that's appealing, and a couple of riotously funny scenes.' – Variety

The Big Store ★

US 1941 83m bw
MGM (Louis K. Sidney)

An eccentric private eye saves a department store from the hands of crooks.
Reckoned to be the Marx Brothers' weakest MGM vehicle, but it has its moments, especially the first reel and the bedding department scene, also Groucho's rendering of 'Sing While You Sell'.
w Sid Kuller, Hal Fimberg, Ray Golden
d Charles Reisner ph Charles Lawton
m George Stoll
☆ Groucho, Chico, Harpo, Margaret Dumont, Douglass Dumbrille, Tony Martin, Virginia Grey, Virginia O'Brien, Henry Armetta

The Big Story: see Appointment with a Shadow (1957)

The Big Story ★
GB 1995 2m bw
Screwball Films

A reporter demands to be given a big story to cover.
Witty compendium of newspaper movie clichés, in which all the animated characters resemble Kirk Douglas.
wd Tim Watts, David Stoten ph Tristan Oliver ☆ Featuring voices: Frank Gorshin animated short

The Big Street ★
US 1942 88m bw
RKO (Damon Runyon)

A Broadway night-club waiter falls in love with a crippled singer who selfishly accepts his help without loving him in return.
Unusual but mawkish material from an author who never really suited the screen; a mixture of laughs, tears and sentimentality, with a comic gangster background.
w Leonard Spigelgass story Little Pinks by Damon Runyon d Irving Reis ph Russell Metty m Roy Webb
☆ Henry Fonda, Lucille Ball, Eugene Pallette, Virginia Weidler, Agnes Moorehead, Barton MacLane, Ozzie Nelson and his Orchestra, Sam Levene, Ray Collins, Marion Martin

'Five Couples. With One Big Idea.'

The Big Swap
GB 1997 122m colour
Film Four/Mayfair/Moonlit (Niall Johnson)

Five couples who are old friends decide to swap partners for a night, and find their lives are changed.
An earnest, low-budget movie about relationships; but the group of thirtysomethings involved are an unsympathetic bunch, and the concentration on their behaviour in bed becomes claustrophobic.
wd Niall Johnson ph Gordon Hickie m Jason Flinter, Craig Johnson pd Craig Johnson ed David Thrasher
☆ Mark Adams, Sorcha Brooks, Mark Caven, Alison Egan, Richard Cherry, Julie-Ann Gillitt, Antony Edridge, Clarke Hayes, Thierry Harcourt, Jackie Sawiris, Kevin Howarth

'In attempting to deliver a slight, soft-porn comedy for the upwardly mobile, Johnson gives all he's got in the first hour.' – Jessica Mellor, Empire

'He Saw. He Combed. He Conquered.'

The Big Tease ★
US 1999 86m DeLuxe
Warner/Crawford P/I Should Coco (Philip Rose)

A Glaswegian hairdresser goes to Los Angeles in the expectation of competing in the World Freestyle Hairdressing Championship.
A fitfully amusing comedy, done in documentary style but lacking bite, and relying on Ferguson's performance to maintain any comic momentum.
w Sacha Gervasi, Craig Ferguson d Kevin Allen ph Seamus McGarvey m Mark Thomas pd Joseph Hodges ed Chris Peppe
☆ Craig Ferguson (Crawford Mackenzie), Frances Fisher (Candy Harper), Chris Langham (Martin Samuels), Mary McCormack (Monique), Donal Logue (Eamonn), Larry Miller (Dunstan Cactus), David Rasche (Stig Ludwigssen), Kevin Allen (Gareth Pritchard), Charles Napier (Warren Crockett), Isabella Aitken (Beasie Mackenzie)

'A silly, often funny and finally engaging mocku-comedy that's the This Is Spinal Tap of the Hollywood crimping scene.' – Derek Elley, Variety
'It overstays its limited welcome by nearly an hour, freewheeling uphill to an embarrassing climax.' – Philip French, Observer

Big Time Operators: see The Smallest Show on Earth

Big Town
US 1947 59m bw
Paramount/Pine-Thomas

Adventures of the crusading editor of a city newspaper.
Anaemic support which surprisingly started a series.
w Geoffrey Homes from radio scripts
d William Thomas
☆ Philip Reed, Hillary Brooke, Robert Lowery, Byron Barr, Veda Ann Borg

The Big Town
US 1987 110m colour
Rank/Columbia (Martin Ransohoff, Don Carmody)

A crapshooter on a winning streak goes to the big city to make good.
Ineffectual drama of a youth learning about life from his elders, drably directed.
w Robert Roy Pool novel The Arm by Clark Howard d Ben Bolt ph Ralf D. Bode m Michael Melvoin pd Bill Kenney ed Stuart Pappe
☆ Matt Dillon, Diane Lane, Tommy Lee Jones, Bruce Dern, Tom Skerritt, Lee Grant, David Marshall Grant, Don Francks

Big Town Girl
US 1937 66m bw
TCF (Milton H. Feld)

A night-club singer adopts a disguise to elude her escaped convict husband.
Satisfactory supporting comedy-melodrama.
w Lou Breslow, John Patrick, Robert Ellis, Helen Logan d Alfred Werker
☆ Claire Trevor, Donald Woods, Alan Dinehart, Alan Baxter, Murray Alper, Spencer Charters

'First-class dualler which should please everywhere.' – Variety

The Big Trail ★
US 1930 125m bw Grandeur
Fox

A wagon train struggles along the Oregon trail.
Simple-minded early talkie Western spectacular with a new young star who took another nine years to make it big. Originally shown on a giant 70mm gauge and intended for big screens.
w Jack Peabody, Marie Boyle, Florence Postal d Raoul Walsh ph Lucien Andriot, Arthur Edeson
☆ John Wayne, Marguerite Churchill, El Brendel, Tully Marshall, Tyrone Power Snr, David Rollins, Ward Bond, Helen Parrish

'Failing to own a kick or a punch, other than scenically, and with no outstanding cast names, it remains only a western of the pioneering sort, so thoroughly made familiar by those pioneering epics preceding it.' – Variety

'Printed upon the new wide film and projected upon the vastly large Grandeur screen, the landscapes, wagon trains, vistas and camp scenes achieve an incredibly greater sweep [than The Covered Wagon]. The Big Trail is often stagey, melodramatic, ranty.' – Theatre Magazine

The Big Trees ★★
US 1952 89m Technicolor
Warner (Louis F. Edelman)

An unscrupulous lumberman tries to exploit California's giant redwood forests but is won over by the local Quakers who hold the trees in awe.
Pleasing, old-fashioned outdoor drama with a plot which allows the star much opportunity for derring-do.
w John Twist, James R. Webb d Felix Feist ph Bert Glennon m Heinz Roemheld ed Clarence Kolster
☆ Kirk Douglas, Eve Miller, Patrice Wymore, Edgar Buchanan, John Archer, Alan Hale Jnr

'It was a bad movie.' – Kirk Douglas
† A remake of Valley of the Giants (qv).
†† Douglas did the film for nothing in order to get out of his contract with Warners.

Big Trouble
US 1984 93m Metrocolor
Columbia/Delphi III (Michael Lobell)

Two incompetent con men try to swindle an insurance company.
Witless comic farrago apparently designed to cash in on the success of The In-Laws by utilizing the plot of Double Indemnity (qqv). Not a goer.
w Warren Bogle (Andrew Bergman)
d John Cassavetes ph Bill Butler m Bill Conti
☆ Peter Falk, Alan Arkin, Beverly D'Angelo, Charles Durning, Paul Dooley, Robert Stack, Valerie Curtin

Big Trouble in Little China
US 1986 99m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Paul Monash, Keith Barish (Larry J. Franco)

A philosophizing truck driver in San Francisco finds himself combating an ancient, evil Chinese magician.
Misfiring attempt to equal the nonsense of the Indiana Jones sagas; occasional effective action moments don't stop the whole from being tiresome.
w W. D. Richter, Gary Goldman, David Z. Weinstein d John Carpenter ph Dean Cundey m John Carpenter pd John J. Lloyd ☆ Kurt Russell (Jack Burton), Kim Cattrall (Gracie Law), Dennis Dun (Wang Chi), James Hong (David Lo Pan), Victor Wong (Egg Shen), Kate Burton (Margo)

'Glitzy sets, vacuous characters, limping fantasy.' – Sight and Sound

'Three friends. Twelve Turbulent Years. And One Day We All Must Face.'

Big Wednesday ★
US 1978 119m Metrocolor Panavision
Warner/A-Team (Alex Rose, Tamara Asseyev)

Three California surfing friends of the early sixties get back together after the Vietnam war.
It isn't clear whether the intent is to extol or deride the mystical camaraderie of surfing, but for those who can stand rumbustious beach behaviour this curious movie may have at least as much to say as The Deer Hunter (qv).
w John Milius, Dennis Aaberg d John Milius ph Bruce Surtees m Basil Poledouris surfing photography Greg MacGillivray
☆ Jan-Michael Vincent, William Katt, Gary Busey, Darrell Fetty

The Big Wheel
US 1949 92m bw
UA/Popkin/Stiefel/Dempsey (Samuel H. Stiefel)

The son of a racing driver is determined to follow in father's footsteps.
Grubby star actioner.
w Robert Smith d Edward Ludwig ph Ernest Laszlo m Nat W. Finston ☆ Mickey Rooney, Spring Byington, Thomas Mitchell, Mary Hatcher, Allen Jenkins

'When you need somebody, any body will do.'

The Big White
Germany/US/GB/Canada 2004 105m
DeLuxe Panavision
Momentum/Capitol/Ascendant/Rising Star (Christopher Eberts, David Faigenblum, Chris Roberts)

A hard-up travel agent borrows a dead body so that he can claim on an insurance policy on his long-lost brother.
The narrative here bears some resemblance to the Coen brothers' Fargo (qv); the main difference is that this would-be black comedy isn't funny.
w Collin Friesen d Mark Mylod ph James Glennon m Mark Mothersbaugh pd Jon Billington ed Julie Monroe
☆ Robin Williams (Paul Barnell), Holly Hunter (Margaret Barnell), Giovanni Ribisi (Ted), Alison Lohman (Tiffany), Tim Blake Nelson (Gary), Woody Harrelson (Raymond), W. Earl Brown (Jimbo)

'Snowed under by misjudgment on every level, The Big White is DOA.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

Big Zapper
GB 1973 90m Technicolor Techniscope
Miracle/Lindsay Shonteff

aka: The Sex Life of a Female Private Eye
A tough female detective with a masochistic boyfriend, Rock Hard, is hired to discover the fate of a brother and sister, who have been murdered by a pimp.
Dreary and sniggering would-be erotic thriller, concerned solely and ineptly with sex and violence.
w Hugh Brody d Lindsay Shonteff ph John C. Taylor m Colin Pearson ed Spencer Reeve
☆ Linda Marlowe, Richard Monette, Gary Hope, Sean Hewitt, Michael O'Malley

'A paltry and nasty sexual fantasy which looks as though it has been dreamed up for the entertainment of impotent sadists.' – Sylvia Miller, MFB

'Wanted by two women!'

The Bigamist ★
US 1953 80m bw
Filmmakers (Collier Young)

A travelling salesman has two wives.
Minor melodrama which took its subject seriously but failed to make absorbing drama of it. Very much a family affair, starring the producer's present and past wives, the latter also directing.
w Collier Young story Larry Marcus, Lou

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Schor d Ida Lupino ph George Diskant m Leith Stevens ad James Sullivan ed Stanford Tischler
☆ Edmond O'Brien (Harry Graham), Joan Fontaine (Eve Graham), Ida Lupino (Phyllis Martin), Edmund Gwenn (Mr Jordan), Jane Darwell (Mrs Connelley)
'The film seems to have summoned all its energy to shout defiantly that bigamous marriages exist and, finding no one to defy, retires deflated.' – MFB

The Bigamist ★

Italy/France 1956 97m bw
Royal/Filmel/Alba
An innocent young salesman is accused of bigamy and dragged into court.
Noisy comedy of mistaken identity; some laughs, but the talents are not at their best.
w Sergio Amidei, Age Scarpelli, Francesco Rosi, Elio Talarico d Luciano Emmer ph Mario Montuori m Alessandro Cicognini
☆ Marcello Mastroianni, Vittorio de Sica, Franca Valeri, Giovanna Ralli

Bigfoot and the Hendersons: see Harry and the Hendersons

Bigger than Life ★

US 1956 95m Eastmancolor Cinemascope
TCF/James Mason
A small-town schoolteacher is prescribed cortisone for arthritis; it gradually turns him into a bullying megalomaniac full of grandiose schemes.
Exaggerated and sensationalized but still not very dramatic expansion of a genuine case history. A curious choice for all concerned.
w Cyril Hume, Richard Maibaum d Nicholas Ray ph Joe MacDonald m David Raksin ☆ James Mason, Barbara Rush, Walter Matthau, Robert Simon, Roland Winters

'This is the world's sexiest robbery!'

The Biggest Bundle of Them All

US 1967 110m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM/Shaftel-Stewart
A retired gangster is kidnapped by other gangsters and shows them how to steal five million dollars worth of platinum.
Very moderately amusing international comedy caper.
w Josef Shaftel, Sy Salkowitz d Ken Annakin ph Piero Portalupi m Riz Ortolani ☆ Raquel Welch, Robert Wagner, Vittorio de Sica, Edward G. Robinson, Godfrey Cambridge, Davy Kaye
'It begins like one of these really bad movies that are unintentionally funny. Then it becomes clear that it intends to be funny, and it isn't.' – Renata Adler

Biggie and Tupac ★

GB 2001 107m colour
Film4/Lafayette (Michele D'Acosta)
Documentary investigating the murders of rival rappers Tupac Shakur and Biggie Smalls.
Interesting documentary that rejects the usual theory that the two deaths were the result of antagonism between the East and West Coast rappers and their associated gangs. Instead it accuses record company boss Suge Knight of planning both killings to cover up his financial difficulties, though the case remains unproven..
wd Nick Broomfield ph Joan Churchill m Christian Henson ed Mark Atkins, Jaime Estrada
'One has to question whether Broomfield was the right person for this story, or if there's any docu subject that would truly benefit from his inescapable self-consciousness.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety
'Compulsively watchable and endlessly inventive as it transforms Broomfield's limited materials into a compelling argument.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

Biggles

GB 1986 92m Technicolor
UIP/Compact Yellowbill/Tambarle (Kent Walwin, Pom Oliver)
US title: Biggles: Adventures in Time
A young New York businessman is transported back in time to 1917, and his help solicited by a daredevil airman.
The bookends set a spoofy tone, but most of the movie is the same old teenage gunge.
w John Groves, Kent Walwin, characters created by Captain W. E. Johns d John Hough ph Ernest Vincze m Stanislas pd Terry Pritchard
☆ Neil Dickson, Alex Hyde-White, Peter Cushing, Fiona Hutchison, Marcus Gilbert, William Hootkins
'If you're in the right undemanding mood it's just daft enough to be enjoyable.' – The Dark Side

Bij de Beesten Af: see Ape and Super Ape

Les Bijoutiers du Clair de Lune: see Heaven Fell That Night

Bike Boy ★

US 1967 96m Eastmancolor
Vaughan/Factory Films (Andy Warhol)
A motorcyclist from the West Coast visiting New York has encounters with various women, one of whom seduces him.
Leisurely and occasionally witty exploration of low life, enlivened by the casually commanding presence of Viva.
w Andy Warhol and cast d Andy Warhol ph Paul Morrissey ☆ Joe Spencer, Viva, Brigid Polk, Ingrid Superstar, Ed Hood
'A strikingly pure exposition of Warhol's belief that the actor is the most important element in a film, and that the film-maker's job is simply to situate the actor to his best advantage.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

'Survival of the fastest.'

Biker Boyz

US 2003 110m Technicolor
UIP/3 Arts (Stephanie Allain, Gina Prince-Bythewood, Erwin Stoff)
In Los Angeles, a young biker, who saw his father crash and die during a race, challenges the old champion of street racing.
Ludicrous action movie, with a great deal of posing in leather by its participants, linked to a sentimental Oedipal narrative of redemption and revenge.
w Craig Fernandez, Reggie Rock Bythewood article Michael Gougis d Reggie Rock Bythewood ph Gregory Gardiner m Camara Kambon pd Cecilia Montiel ed Terilyn A. Shropshire, Caroline Ross
☆ Laurence Fishburne (Smoke), Derek Luke (Kid), Orlando Jones (Soul Train), Djimon Hounsou (Motherland), Lisa Bonet (Queenie), Brendan Fehr (Stuntman), Larenz Tate (Wood), Kid Rock (Dogg)
'It will all look pretty ridiculous to grown-ups, but to 13-year-old boys (and adults with well-tended inner versions thereof), Biker Boyz will be the perfect testosterone-fueled, flash-edited, music-driven joy ride.' – Ann Hornaday, Washington Post

Bikini Beach

US 1964 100m Pathécolor Panavision
American International
A California beach is disputed by surfers, motor bikers, and a businessman who wants to build a retirement community.
Mindless youth nonsense with flashes of satire.
w William Asher, Leo Townsend, Robert Diller d William Asher ☆ Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Martha Hyer, Don Rickles, Harvey Lembeck, Keenan Wynn, John Ashley, Boris Karloff (cameo)

Bill and Coo

US 1947 61m colour
Republic
Trials and tribulations of the inhabitants of Chirpendale are enacted entirely by birds, mostly wearing hats and neckties.
An eccentricity which won its creator, Ken Murray, a special Academy Award.
'By conservative estimate, the goddamnedest thing ever seen.' – James Agee

'Once ... they made history. Now ... they are history.'

Bill & Ted's Bogus Journey

US 1991 93m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Orion/Nelson Entertainment (Scott Kroopf)
Killed by robots designed to resemble them, two inept college boys trick Death, enlist the help of God and become heavy-metal heroes.
A sequel that, like the original, has attracted a cult following, though the joke, depending on the slang spoken by its dim heroes, remains a thin one.
w Ed Solomon, Chris Matheson d Peter Hewitt ph Oliver Wood m David Newman ed David Finfer
☆ Alex Winter, Keanu Reeves, Jeff Miller, David Carrera, George Carlin, Joss Ackland, William Sadler
'A sequel that contrives another elaborate but non-excellent adventure.' – Variety

Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure

US 1988 89m Technicolor Panavision
Castle Premier/Interscope Communications/Soisson-Murphey Productions/De Laurentiis Film Partners (Scott Kroopf, Michael S. Murphey, Joel Soisson)
In order to improve their essays, two high-school students, with the aid of a time machine, abduct famous historical figures and take them to modern-day America.
Mild comedy depending for its effect on an understanding of teenage Californian mores.
w Chris Matheson, Ed Solomon d Stephen Herek ph Timothy Suhrstedt m David Newman pd Roy Forge Smith, Lynda Paradise ad Gordon White, Pierluigi Basile ed Larry Bock, Patrick Rand ☆ Keanu Reeves, Alex Winter, Robert V. Barron, Terry Camilleri, Clifford David, Al Leong, Rod Loomis, Dan Shor, Tony Steedman, Jane Wiedlin

The Bill Douglas Trilogy: see My Childhood; My Ain Folk; My Way Home

A Bill of Divorcement ★★

US 1932 76m bw
RKO/David O. Selznick
A middle-aged man, released from a mental institution, comes home and meets his strong-willed daughter.
Pattern play which became a celebrated star vehicle; now very dated but the performances survive. It was Hepburn's first film.
w Howard Estabrook, Harry Wagstaff Gribble play Clemence Dane d George Cukor ph Sid Hickox m Max Steiner, W. Franke Harling
☆ John Barrymore, Katharine Hepburn, Billie Burke, David Manners, Paul Cavanagh, Henry Stephenson, Elizabeth Patterson
'A money picture for all classes of houses ... the most potent tear jerker in many a moon.' – Variety
'A very good picture, tender, emotional and intensely gripping.' – Picturegoer

A Bill of Divorcement ★

US 1940 69m bw
RKO
GB title: Never To Love
Virtually a scene-for-scene remake of the above.
Again the acting holds the material together.
w Dalton Trumbo d John Farrow ph Nicholas Musuraca m Roy Webb ☆ Adolphe Menjou, Maureen O'Hara, Patric Knowles, Herbert Marshall, C. Aubrey Smith, Dame May Whitty

'Surfing doesn't get any bigger than this!'

Billabong Odyssey

US 2003 88m colour
Arenaplex LLC/Estudios Mega (Vincent Leone)
Documentary follows surfers as they travel the world to find and ride the biggest waves.
Amazing footage of surfers far out to sea riding 60-foot waves provides moments of enjoyment for couch potatoes, even if the movie is a long commercial funded by a sportswear manufacturer.
d Philip Boston ph Mike Prickett m Dorian Cheah ed Todd Busch, Andrew Marcus, Lars Woodruff

Billie

US 1965 87m Technicolor Techniscope
UA/Peter Lawford (Don Weis)
A teenage tomboy runs into trouble because she is better at sport than her boyfriends.
Routine American college/domestic comedy with a young star and good comedy support.
w Ronald Alexander play Time Out for Ginger by Ronald Alexander d Don Weis ph John Russell m Dominic Frontière
☆ Patty Duke, Jim Backus, Jane Greer, Warren Berlinger, Billy de Wolfe, Charles Lane, Dick Sargent, Richard Deacon

Billion Dollar Brain

GB 1967 111m Technicolor Panavision
UA/Lowndes (Harry Saltzman)
Ex-secret agent Harry Palmer agrees to take a mysterious canister to Finland and becomes involved in an American megalomaniac's bid to take over the world.
Incomprehensible spy story smothered in the kind of top dressing now expected from this director, but which almost killed his career at the time. Occasional pictorial pleasures, but the total kaleidoscopic effect is enough to drive most audiences to the exit.

w John McGrath novel Len Deighton
d Ken Russell ph Billy Williams
m Richard Rodney Bennett pd Syd Cain
☆ Michael Caine, Oscar Homolka, Françoise Dorléac, Karl Malden, Ed Begley

Billion Dollar Scandal

US 1932 81m bw
Paramount
Ex-convicts are involved by a millionaire in a shady oil deal.
Competent but complex and talky melodrama 'from the headlines'.
w Gene Towne, Graham Baker d Harry Joe Brown
☆ Robert Armstrong, Constance Cummings, Frank Morgan, Olga Baclanova, James Gleason, Irving Pichel

A Billion for Boris

US 1990 89m TVC Color
Comworld Pictures (Sandy Russell Gartin, Ned Kandel)
An adolescent boy, who has problems with his mother, tries to get rich quick after he discovers that his old TV set shows the next day's programmes.
Predictable, soft-centred, slow-moving, lacklustre comedy.
w Sandy Russell Gartin novel Mary Rodgers d Alex Grasshoff ph Peter Stein m Robert Christianson pd Dan Leigh ed Sheila Bakerman
☆ Scott Tiler, Mary Tanner, Seth Green, Tim Kazurinsky, Lee Grant

Billy Bathgate

US 1991 106m DuArt
Warner/Touchstone (Arlene Donovan, Robert F. Colesbury)
A teenager becomes an assistant to gangster Dutch Schultz.
Curiously uninvolving and tepid thriller, with a lacklustre central performance.
w Tom Stoppard novel E. L. Doctorow d Robert Benton ph Nestor Almendros m Mark Isham pd Patrizia von Brandenstein ed Alan Heim, Robert Reitano
☆ Dustin Hoffman, Nicole Kidman, Loren Dean, Bruce Willis, Steven Hill, Steve Buscemi, Billy Jaye
'This refined, intelligent drama about thugs appeals considerably to the head but has little impact in the gut, which is not exactly how it should be with gangster films.' – Variety
'A film of minor virtues and major faults.' – Sight and Sound
'It has a grace and gravity rare just now in American films.' – Richard Corliss, Time

Billy Budd ★

GB 1962 125m bw Cinemascope
Anglo-Allied (A. Ronald Lubin, Peter Ustinov)
In 1797 the sadistic master-at-arms of a British warship terrorizes the crew and is killed by young Billy Budd, who must hang for his unpremeditated crime.
Handsomely photographed but obtusely scripted and variously acted attempt at the impossible, an allegory of good and evil more suited to opera or the printed page than film: in any case, a hopelessly and defiantly uncommercial enterprise. Some actors bore, others chew the scenery.
w Peter Ustinov, Robert Rossen novel Herman Melville play Louis O. Coxe, Robert H. Chapman d Peter Ustinov ph Robert Krasker m Antony Hopkins pd Don Ashton ed Jack Harris cos Anthony Mendleson
☆ Peter Ustinov (Capt. Edward Fairfax Vere), Robert Ryan (Master-at-Arms Claggart), Terence Stamp (Billy Budd), Melvyn Douglas (The Dansker), Paul Rogers (Lt Seymour), John Neville (Lt John Ratcliffe), Ronald Lewis (Jenkins), David McCallum (Lt Wyatt), Lee Montague (Squeak), John Meillon (Kincaid), Thomas Heathcote (Payne), Niall MacGinnis (Capt. Graveling), Cyril Luckham (Hallam), Ray McAnally (O'Daniel)
'A beautiful, terrifying and heartbreaking film.' – Time
Terence Stamp

'Inside every one of us is a special talent waiting to come out. The trick is finding it.'

Billy Elliot ★★★

GB 2000 111m colour
UIP/Working Title/BBC/Arts Council/Tiger Aspect/WT2 (Greg Brenman, Jon Finn)
In a Durham village during a year-long strike in 1984, an eleven-year-old miner's son defies his father by learning ballet rather than boxing.
Ingratiating, uplifting drama, deftly directed and with strong performances that disguise until later how manipulative the narrative is; its feel-good ending, though, is a cheat.
w Lee Hall d Stephen Daldry ph Brian Tufano m Stephen Warbeck pd Maria Djurkovic ad Adam O'Neill ed John Wilson ch Peter Darling
☆ Julie Walters (Mrs Wilkinson), Gary Lewis (Dad), Jamie Bell (Billy), Jamie Draven (Tony), Jean Heywood (Grandmother), Stuart Wells (Michael), Nicola Blackwell (Debbie)
'Has a feel-good factor that registers off the scale.' – Allan Hunter, Screen International
'The first genuinely exhilarating Brit flick of the new millennium, a no-holds-barred triumph.' – Caroline Westbrook, Empire
Stephen Daldry; Lee Hall; Julie Walters
British film; Jamie Bell; Julie Walters

Billy Galvin ★

US 1986 94m colour
American Playhouse/Vestron (Sue Jett, Tony Mark)
Frictions develop between father and son in blue collar Boston.
Old-fashioned family drama, quite rewarding for old-fashioned audiences.
wd John Gray ph Eugene Shlugleit pd Shay Austin ed Lou Kleinman ☆ Karl Malden, Lenny von Dohlen, Joyce Van Patten, Toni Kalem, Paul Guilfoyle

Billy Jack ★

US 1971 113m Technicolor
Warner/National Student Film Corporation (Mary Rose Solti)
A half-breed Vietnam veteran roams the Arizona desert protecting wild mustangs and a runaway teenager.
A trendy radical drama, virtually a one-man show which had an enormous success in the US and led to a sequel, The Trial of Billy Jack.
w Tom Laughlin, Delores Taylor d Tom Laughlin (T. C. Frank) ph Fred Koenekamp, John Stephens m Mundell Lowe
☆ Tom Laughlin, Delores Taylor, Bert Freed, Clark Howat, Julie Webb, Ken Tobey, Victor Izay
'A plea for the alternative society with a format of the crudest melodrama.' – MFB

Billy Liar ★★★

GB 1963 98m bw Cinemascope
Vic Films (Joe Janni)
In a drab North Country town, an undertaker's clerk lives in a world of fantasy.
Flawed only by its unsuitable CinemaScope ratio, this is a brilliant urban comedy of its time, seminal in acting, theme, direction and permissiveness.
w Keith Waterhouse, Willis Hall play Keith Waterhouse, Willis Hall novel Keith Waterhouse inspired by Thurber's Walter Mitty d John Schlesinger ph Denys Coop m Richard Rodney Bennett ad Ray Simon ed Roger Cherrill ☆ Tom Courtenay (Billy Fisher), Julie Christie (Liz), Wilfred Pickles (Geoffrey Fisher), Mona Washbourne (Alice Fisher), Ethel Griffies (Florence), Finlay Currie (Duxbury), Rodney Bewes (Arthur Crabtree), Leonard Rossiter (Shadrack)
'John Schlesinger's direction, I am delighted to say, is rich in wit.' – Dilys Powell
† It was later turned into a TV series and a successful stage musical, making Billy a universal figure of the period.
†† A Region 1 DVD release includes commentary by John Schlesinger, Tom Courtenay and Julie Christie.

Billy Madison

US 1995 90m DeLuxe
Universal (Robert Simonds)
A rich slacker vows to work his way through a different grade of school every two weeks to prove himself to his father so that he can inherit the family business.
Dim and coarse-toned comedy that does not travel well, featuring a performer of slight appeal outside the US, and material that might have sufficed for a funny five minutes.
w Tim Herlihy, Adam Sandler d Tamra Davis ph Victor Hammer m Randy Edelman pd Perry Blake ed Jeffrey Wolf
☆ Adam Sandler, Darren McGavin, Bridgette Wilson, Bradley Whitford, Josh Mostel, Norm MacDonald
'As derivative a compound as the dross left over from a particularly noxious junior school chemistry experiment.' – Leslie Felperin, Sight and Sound † Steve Buscemi appears uncredited.

Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe: see Diamond Horseshoe

Billy Rose's Jumbo: see Jumbo

Billy the Kid ★

US 1930 90m bw
MGM
A young Western outlaw is relentlessly pursued by Sheriff Pat Garrett.
Mildly interesting early talkie Western with the usual romanticized view of Billy. Originally made and shown in 70mm.
w Wanda Tuchock, Laurence Stallings, Charles MacArthur d King Vidor ph Gordon Avil ☆ Johnny Mack Brown, Wallace Beery, Kay Johnson, Karl Dane, Roscoe Ates
'Should stand up for slightly better than average business where shown on Realife. Otherwise just an ordinary western.' – Variety

Billy the Kid ★

US 1941 95m Technicolor
MGM (Irving Asher)
Remake of the above, equally false and rather less well acted, but a striking outdoor colour film of its period.
w Gene Fowler d David Miller ph Leonard Smith, William V. Skall m David Snell
☆ Robert Taylor, Brian Donlevy, Ian Hunter, Mary Howard, Gene Lockhart, Henry O'Neill, Frank Puglia, Cy Kendall, Ethel Griffies
Leonard Smith, William V. Skall

Billy the Kid and the Green Baize Vampire

GB 1985 93m colour
ITC/Zenith (Simon Mallin)
A hustling young snooker player takes on a formidable opponent.
Predictable sporting melodrama with curious supernatural overtones; not a coherent whole.
w Trevor Preston d Alan Clarke ph Clive Tickner m George Fenton pd Jamie Leonard ☆ Phil Daniels, Alun Armstrong, Bruce Payne, Louise Gold, Eve Ferret
'Weird, not to say downright perverse.' – Sight and Sound

Billy the Kid vs Dracula

US 1965 89m Pathécolor
Avco Embassy/Circle/Embassy (Carroll Case)
Billy the Kid rescues his fiancée from the clutches of Dracula.
Comic treatment of horror and Westerns, with Billy as a clean-cut hero, that may appeal to fans of bad movies.
w Carl K. Hittleman d William Beaudine ph Lothrop Worth m Raoul Kraushaar ad Paul Sylos, Harry Reif ed Roy Livingston
☆ Chuck Courtney, John Carradine, Melinda Plowman, Virginia Christine, Walter Janovitz, Olive Carey, Harry Carey Jnr
'Great fun, pleasingly economical, and by no means an unworthy conclusion to Beaudine's career' – David McGillivray, MFB

Billy Two Hats

US 1973 99m Technicolor
UA/Algonquin (Norman Jewison, Patrick Palmer, Mitchell Lifton)
aka: The Lady and the Outlaw
The friendship of an old Scottish outlaw and a young half-breed is broken only by the old man's death.
Curiously miscast Western shot in Israel; it makes no discernible point and is not very entertaining.
w Alan Sharp d Ted Kotcheff ph Brian West m John Scott
☆ Gregory Peck, Desi Arnaz Jnr, Jack Warden, Sian Barbara Allen, David Huddleston

'Lights... Camera... Attraction!'

Billy's Hollywood Screen Kiss

US 1998 92m colour Panavision
Revolutionary Eye LLC (David Moseley)
A gay photographer desires his male model, who claims to be heterosexual.
Trivial romantic comedy, so insubstantial as to hardly register at all.
wd Tommy O'Haver ph Mark Mervis m Alan Ari Lazar ch Michele Spears, Joseph McKee pd Franco-Giacomo Carbone ed Jeff Betancourt
☆ Sean P. Hayes (Sean P. Hayes), Brad Rowe (Gabriel), Richard Ganoung (Perry), Meredith Scott Lynn (Georgiana), Matthew Ashford (Whitey), Armando Valdes-

Kennedy (Fernando), Paul Bartel (Rex Webster), Carmine D. Giovinazzo (Gundy), Holly Woodlawn (Holly), Christopher Bradley (Andrew)

'I felt like I'd seen it many, many times before.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Biloxi Blues ★

US 1988 106m colour Panavision
Universal/Rastar (Ray Stark)

Standard, quite pleasing version of a Broadway comedy about a conscript called up in 1945 when World War Two was ending.

w Neil Simon play Neil Simon d Mike Nichols ph Bill Butler m Georges Delerue pd Paul Sylbert ed Sam O'Steen

☆ Matthew Broderick, Christopher Walken, Matt Mulhern, Corey Parker

Bin-Jip: see 3-iron

Bingo

US 1991 90m Technicolor
Tri-Star (Thomas Baer)

A runaway circus dog follows across country the boy who befriended him, when his family moves home.

Dully dogged comedy in which the animals behave like humans; it may amuse small children given to anthropomorphism, but I doubt it.

w Jim Strain d Matthew Robbins ph John McPherson m Richard Gibbs pd Mark Freeborn ed Maryann Brandon

☆ Cindy Williams, David Rasche, Robert J. Steinmiller Jnr, David French, Kurt Fuller, Joe Guzaldo, Glenn Shadix

The Bingo Long Traveling All-Stars and Motor Kings

US 1976 111m Technicolor
Universal (Rob Cohen)

Adventures of a black baseball team in the 1940s.

High-spirited japes and exhibitions of athleticism which dramatically do not add up to very much.

w Hal Barwood, Matthew Robbins novel William Brashler d John Badham ph Bill Butler m William Goldstein

☆ Billy Dee Williams, James Earl Jones, Richard Pryor, Rico Dawson

'Modest pleasures and dull stretches co-exist in equal abundance.' – Frank Rich, New York Times

Bio-Dome

US 1996 95m colour
MGM/Motion Picture Corp/Weasel/3 Arts (Brad Krevoy, Steve Stabler, Brad Jenkel)

Two dim students are inadvertently trapped for a year in a sealed dome where scientists are carrying out environmental experiments.

Yet another in the 90s cycle of dumb comedies involving stupid heroes and their bodily functions; this, though, may be the dumbest so far.

w Kip Koenig, Scott Marcano story Adam Leff, Mitchell Peck, Jason Blumenthal d Jason Bloom ph Phedon Papamichael m Andrew Gross pd Michael Johnston ed Christopher Greenbury

☆ Pauly Shore, Stephen Baldwin, William Atherton, Joey Lauren Adams, Teresa Hill, Henry Gibson, Kevin West, Kylie Minogue

'Definitely a dome of doom, the "Bio" pic is likely to leapfrog the endangered list for deserved extinction.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

Biography (of a Bachelor Girl)*

US 1935 84m bw
MGM (Irving Thalberg)

The biography of a sophisticated lady portrait painter reveals surprising details of her love life.

Leaden, bowdlerized screen version of a sparkling Broadway play, fragments of which do however survive. It isn't helped by the miscasting of Ann Harding.

w Anita Loos play S. N. Behrman d Edward H. Griffith ph James Wong Howe m Herbert Stothart

☆ Ann Harding, Robert Montgomery, Edward Everett Horton, Edward Arnold, Una Merkel, Charles Richman, Donald Meek

'Smart entertainment for top houses. Possibly too smart for the other end.' – Variety

Birch Interval

US 1976 105m colour
Gamma III (Robert B. Radnitz)

A twelve-year-old girl goes to live with her Amish relations in the country.

Simple-minded moral tale which needed some old-fashioned style to bring it off.

w Joanna Crawford novel Joanna Crawford d Delbert Mann

☆ Eddie Albert, Rip Torn, Susan McClung, Ann Wedgeworth, Bill Lucking

Bird ★

US 1988 161m Technicolor
Warner/Malpaso (Clint Eastwood)

The life of Charlie Parker.

Long, downbeat, heavygoing treatment of America's greatest black alto saxophonist; but not a popular choice.

w Joel Oliansky d Clint Eastwood ph Jack N. Green m Lennie Niehaus

☆ Forest Whitaker, Diane Venora, Michael Zelniker

Bird of Paradise

US 1932 80m bw
RKO (David O. Selznick)

An adventurer on a South Sea island marries a native girl and causes trouble.

Never-never romance which remains stilted despite care obviously taken.

w Wells Root d King Vidor ph Clyde de Vinna m Max Steiner

☆ Joel McCrea, John Halliday, Dolores del Rio, Skeets Gallagher

'The old tropical romance nicely done. OK for the main stem stands.' – Variety

Bird of Paradise

US 1951 100m Technicolor
TCF (Harmon Jones)

Opulent remake of the above; the trappings make it even more absurd, and the ritual sacrifice of the heroine seems misplaced in what is otherwise a pantomime.

wd Delmer Daves ph Winton Hoch m Daniele Amfitheatrof

☆ Louis Jourdan, Jeff Chandler, Debra Paget, Maurice Schwartz, Everett Sloane, Jack Elam

'The Kahuna is a naively grotesque figure, with a Central European accent and carrying what appears to be an outsize radish: he personifies the film's dubious approach to Polynesian myth and culture.' – Gavin Lambert

Bird of Prey

US/Bulgaria 1995 101m Foto-Kem
BM5/Sneak Preview/First Private Bank (Boyan Milushev, Jonathan Debin)

A policeman's son takes revenge on an American drug and arms dealer who murdered his father, beginning with the seduction of the man's daughter.

The Bulgarian setting is the only novelty in an otherwise unremarkable movie, full of the usual confrontations, gun battles and explosions of the genre.

w Boyan Milushev, James J. Mellon, Tracy Hall Adams, Lynette Prucha d Temistocles Lopez ph David Knaus m Brian Clifton pd Robert Harbour ed Ila von Hasperg, Tracy Hall Adams

☆ Jennifer Tilly, Boyan Milushev, Richard Chamberlain, Lesley Ann Warren, Robert Carradine, Lenny von Dohlen

'A conventional thriller that hasn't quite got the extra punch needed to elevate it above video fare.' – Variety

Bird on a Wire

US 1990 111m DeLuxe Super 35
UIP/Universal/Badham-Cohen-Interscope Communications (Ron Cohen)

A lawyer and her former lover run from their would-be assassins.

Chase comedy, too frenetic to be funny.

w David Seltzer, Louis Venosta, Eric Lerner d John Badham ph Robert Primes m Hans Zimmer pd Philip Harrison ad Richard Hudolin ed Frank Morriss, Dallas Puett

☆ Mel Gibson, Goldie Hawn, David Carradine, Bill Duke, Stephen Tobolowsky, Joan Severance, Harry Caesar, Jeff Corey

'One of those star vehicles from deepest Hollywood for which there seems no adequate reason other than to pay someone's mortgage.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

The Bird with the Crystal Plumage

Italy 1969 98m colour Cromosscope
Salvatore Argento

GB title: The Gallery Murders

A supposed murderer is vindicated when his alleged next victim turns out to be a psychopath.

Tolerable shocker which was popular in dubbed version.

wd Dario Argento

☆ Suzy Kendall, Tony Musante

'What could possibly come between a match made in heaven? The parents. Dinner. And a nightclub called..'

The Birdcage ★

US 1996 119m Technicolor Panavision
United Artists (Mike Nichols)

The son of a homosexual club-owner persuades his father to act the heterosexual at a dinner with his future in-laws, a right-wing senator and his wife, but his father's lover, a drag artiste, insists on appearing as his mother.

An American version of a 20-year-old French farce; it has some funny moments, but, despite the best efforts of all concerned, seems resolutely old-fashioned and adds nothing to the original; the jokes at the expense of effeminacy begin to wear after a while.

w Elaine May script La Cage aux Folles by Francis Veber, Edouard Molinaro, Marcello Danon, Jean Poiret d Mike Nichols ph Emmanuel Lubezki m Jonathan Tunick, Steven Goldstein pd Bo Welch ed Arthur Schmidt

☆ Robin Williams, Nathan Lane, Gene Hackman, Dianne Wiest, Christine Baranski, Hank Azaria, Dan Futterman, Calista Flockhart

'This is a copy of an old success which doesn't bother much about reality, and ends more like a pantomime than a proper dramatic entity.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'Performed with matchless aplomb and made with a plush professionalism, pic serves up pure pleasure from beginning to end.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† The film is a remake of the French hit La Cage aux Folles (qv). It was a hit, taking more than $110m at the US box-office.

Bo Welch

Birdman of Alcatraz ★

US 1962 148m bw
UA/Hecht-Lancaster (Stuart Millar, Guy Trosper)

An imprisoned murderer makes a name for himself as an ornithologist.

Overlong and rather weary biopic of Robert Stroud, who spent nearly sixty years in prison and became a cause célèbre. One cannot deny many effective moments, notably of direction, but it's a long haul.

w Guy Trosper book Thomas E. Gaddis d John Frankenheimer ph Burnett Guffey m Elmer Bernstein

☆ Burt Lancaster, Karl Malden, Thelma Ritter, Edmond O'Brien, Betty Field, Neville Brand, Hugh Marlowe, Telly Savalas, James Westerfield

Burnett Guffey; Burt Lancaster; Thelma Ritter; Telly Savalas

BAFTA Burt Lancaster

'Suspense and shock beyond anything you have ever seen or imagined!'

The Birds ★★★

US 1963 119m Technicolor
Universal/Alfred Hitchcock

In a Californian coastal area, flocks of birds unaccountably make deadly attacks on human beings.

A curiously absorbing work which begins as light comedy and ends as apocalyptic allegory, this piece of Hitchcockery has no visible point except to tease the audience and provide plenty of opportunity for shock, offbeat humour and special effects (which despite the drumbeating are not quite as good as might be expected). The actors are pawns in the master's hand.

w Evan Hunter story Daphne du Maurier d Alfred Hitchcock ph Robert Burks m Bernard Herrmann pd Robert Boyle ed George Tomasini sp Lawrence A. Hampton, Ub Iwerks sound consultant Bernard Herrmann cos Edith Head

☆ Rod Taylor (Mitch Brenner), Tippi Hedren (Melanie Daniels), Jessica Tandy (Lydia Brenner), Suzanne Pleshette (Annie Hayworth), Ethel Griffies (Mrs Bundy), Charles McGraw (Sebastian Sholes), Ruth McDevitt (Mrs MacGruder), Doodles Weaver (Fisherman)

'Enough to make you kick the next pigeon you come across.' – Judith Crist

'The dialogue is stupid, the characters insufficiently developed to rank as clichés, the story incohesive.' – Stanley Kauffmann

'We must sit through half an hour of pachydermous flirtation between Rod and Tippi before the seagull attacks, and another fifteen minutes of tedium ...

before the birds attack again. If one adds later interrelations between mother, girlfriend and a particularly repulsive child actress, about two-thirds of the film is devoted to extraneous matters. Poe would have been appalled.' – Dwight MacDonald

The Birds and the Bees: see Three Daring Daughters (1948) (1948)

The Birds and the Bees

US 1956 94m Technicolor Vistavision
Paramount (Paul Jones)

On a transatlantic voyage a wealthy simpleton is fleeced by a card sharp and his daughter; but the latter falls in love with her victim.

Competent but uninspired reworking of The Lady Eve (qv) as a vehicle for a rather charmless comic. Lacking Preston Sturges at the helm, the mixture of slapstick and sentiment fails to jell.

w Sidney Sheldon after Preston Sturges d Norman Taurog ph Daniel Fapp m Walter Scharf

☆ George Gobel, David Niven, Mitzi Gaynor, Fred Clark, Reginald Gardiner, Harry Bellaver, Hans Conried

'Beneath her icy composure lay a deep desire to love!'

Birds Come to Die in Peru

France 1968 98m Technicolor Franscope
Universal France (Jacques Natteau)

On a Peruvian beach a tormented nymphomaniac makes love to several men and attempts suicide, but is rescued by her true love.

Elaborate high-flown bosh, quite fun to watch.

wd Romain Gary ph Christian Matras m Kenton Coe

☆ Jean Seberg, Maurice Ronet, Danielle Darrieux, Pierre Brasseur

Birds of a Feather: see La Cage aux Folles

The Birds, the Bees and the Italians

Italy/France 1965 98m colour
Dear Film/Films du Siècle (Robert Haggiag, Pietro Germi) original title: Signore e Signori

Stories of adultery in an Italian provincial town.

Mainly tedious sex comedy full of gesticulating actors.

w Furio Scarpelli, Luciano Vincenzoni, Pietro Germi d Pietro Germi ph Aiace Parolin m Carlo Rustichelli

☆ Gastone Moschin, Virna Lisi, Alberto Lionello, Gigi Ballista, Beba Loncar, Franco Fabrizi

The Birdwatcher ★

Estonia 1987 84m colour
Palinfilm

A young man studying seagulls on a remote island nature reserve has a stormy relationship with a grouchy middle-aged widow.

Enjoyable account of a clash of temperaments – town against country, idealism versus pragmatism, masculine and feminine – with an unexpectedly harsh ending.

w Marina Sheptunova d Arvo Ikho ph Tatyana Loginova m Lepo Sumera

☆ Svetlana Tormakhova, Eric Ruus

Birdy

US 1984 120m Metrocolor
Tri-Star (Alan Marshall)

A psychologically disturbed war veteran thinks he can fly like a bird.

A case history which somewhat lacks plot advancement. Too self-indulgent even to earn marks for trying.

w Sandy Kroopf, Jack Behr novel William Wharton d Alan Parker ph Michael Seresin m Peter Gabriel pd Geoffrey Kirkland

☆ Matthew Modine, Nicolas Cage, John Harkins, Sandy Baron

'Likely will fall short of taking full flight at the box office.' – Variety

'Careful What You Wish For...'

Birth ④

US 2004 100m Technicolor
Entertainment/Fine Line/Academy (Jean-Louis Piel, Nick Morris, Lizie Gower)

A young, newly engaged, widow is confronted by a 10 year-old boy who claims to be her dead husband.

Absurd psychological thriller, with much more talent and expertise expended upon it than the script deserves.

w Jean-Claude Carrière, Milo Addica, Jonathan Glazer. d Jonathan Glazer ph Harris Savides m Alexandre Desplat pd Kevin Thompson ed Sam Sneade, Claus Wehlisch

☆ Nicole Kidman (Anna), Cameron Bright (Sean), Danny Huston (Joseph), Lauren Bacall (Eleanor), Alison Elliot (Laura), Arliss Howard (Bob), Anne Heche (Clara), Peter Stormare (Clifford)

'While it veers heavily toward pretentiousness, this striking metaphysical mystery is intensely compelling, conjuring a mood between European high-arthouse and the unsettling psychological horror of Rosemary's Baby.' – David Rooney, Variety

'One of the most bizarre combinations of distinguished talent and inane ideas that I've ever seen.' – David Denby, New Yorker

Birth of a Legend ★

US 1966 26m bw
Mary Pickford Corporation

Sprightly compilation of clips from the films of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks; the treatment is cursory but sympathetic.

wd Matty Kemp

'The dawn of a new art!'

The Birth of a Nation ★★★★

US 1915 185m approx (16 fps) bw
silent
Epoch (D. W. Griffith, Harry E. Aitken)

Northern and Southern families are caught up in the Civil War.

The cinema's first and still most famous epic, many sequences of which retain their mastery despite negro villains, Ku Klux Klan heroes, and white actors in blackface. Originally shown as The Clansman*; a shorter version with orchestral track was released in 1931.*

w D. W. Griffith, Frank E. Woods novel The Klansman by Thomas Dixon Jnr d D. W. Griffith ph G. W. Bitzer

☆ Henry B. Walthall (Col. Ben Cameron), Mae Marsh (Flora Cameron), Miriam Cooper (Margaret Cameron), Lillian Gish (Elsie), Robert Harron (Tod), Wallace Reid (Jeff), Donald Crisp (Gen U.S. Grant), Joseph Henabery (Abraham Lincoln), Raoul Walsh (John Wilkes Booth), Eugene Pallette (Union Soldier), Walter Long (Gus)

'A film version of some of the melodramatic and inflammatory material contained in The Clansman ... a great deal might be said concerning the sorry service rendered by its plucking at old wounds. But of the film as a film, it may be reported simply that it is an impressive new illustration of the scope of the motion picture camera.' – New York Times

'Griffith was, in his prime, a nineteenth-century humanist working in a twentieth-century medium. And, speaking for myself, I should welcome today some infusion of that unashamed humane sentiment into the smart machine-made films I see every week.' – Dilys Powell, 1945

† The soundtrack album features a recording of the score written by Joseph Carl Breil to accompany the film in 1915.

The Birth of the Blues ★

US 1941 85m bw
Paramount (B. G. de Sylva, Monta Bell)

Trials and tribulations of a jazz band in New Orleans.

Thin fiction on which is strung a multitude of jazz-influenced musical entertainment. Not bad, even now.

w Harry Tugend, Walter de Leon d Victor Schertzinger ph William C. Mellor md Robert Emmett Dolan

☆ Bing Crosby, Mary Martin, Brian Donlevy, Jack Teagarden, Eddie 'Rochester' Anderson, Carolyn Lee

♫ 'The Birth of the Blues'; 'By the Light of the Silvery Moon'; 'Wait 'til the Sun Shines, Nellie'; 'My Melancholy Baby'; 'The Waiter and the Porter and the Upstairs Maid'; 'St Louis Blues'.

♗ Robert Emmett Dolan

'Somebody's In For A Big Surprise.'
'Be careful what you wish for...'

Birthday Girl

GB/US 2001 93m colour 'Scope
Film4/Portobello/Miramax/FilmFour/Mirage (Eric Abraham, Stephen Butterworth, Diana Phillips)

An English bank clerk seeks a Russian bride via the internet, and gets a con-woman and her ruthless associates.

Misfiring mix of romantic comedy and thriller with cardboard characterisation.

w Jez and Tom Butterworth d Jez Butterworth ph Oliver Stapleton m Stephen Warbeck pd Hugh Luczyc-Wyhowski ed Christopher Tellefsen

☆ Nicole Kidman (Nadia), Ben Chaplin (John), Vincent Cassel (Alexei), Mathieu Kassovitz (Yuri), Kate Evans (Clare)

'The movie is kind of sour. It wants to be funny and a little nasty, it wants to surprise us and then console us, but what it mostly does is make us restless.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

'It's all so pallid, a decaf comedy that's not funny enough, a tale of beauty and betrayal that is more film beige than film noir.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times

The Birthday Party ★

GB 1968 126m Technicolor
Palomar (Max Rosenberg, Milton Subotsky)

The down-at-heel lodger in a seaside boarding house is menaced by two mysterious strangers, who eventually take him away.

Overlong but otherwise satisfactory film record of an entertaining if infuriating play, first of the black absurdities which proliferated in the sixties to general disadvantage, presenting structure without plot and intelligence without meaning.

w Harold Pinter play Harold Pinter d William Friedkin ph Denys Coop m none pd Edward Marshall

☆ Sydney Tafler, Patrick Magee, Robert Shaw, Dandy Nichols, Moultrie Kelsall

The Birthday Present ★

GB 1957 100m bw
BL/Jack Whittingham

A toy salesman's life is changed when he is charged with smuggling a watch through the customs.

Downcast, prolonged and rather uninteresting domestic drama; attention is held by generally good acting.

w Jack Whittingham d Pat Jackson ph Ted Scaife m Clifton Parker

☆ Tony Britton, Sylvia Syms, Jack Watling, Walter Fitzgerald, Geoffrey Keen, Howard Marion Crawford, John Welsh

Biruma no Tategoto: see The Burmese Harp

Bis ans Ende der Welt: see Until the End of the World

The Biscuit Eater

GB title, 1940 version: God Gave Him a Dog

Two versions exist of this story by James Street about a white and a black boy who turn a stray into a crack hunting dog. The first was by Stuart Heisler for Paramount in 1940; it starred Billy Lee and made quite a box-office impact. The second was by Vincent McEveety for Disney in 1972, with Johnny Whittaker; despite the presence of Earl Holliman and Lew Ayres it made no impact at all.

The Bishop Misbehaves ★

US 1935 87m bw
MGM
GB title: The Bishop's Misadventures

A bishop gets on the wrong side of the law when he helps a young girl to see justice done.

Amusing trifle with strong cast.

w Leon Gordon, George Auerbach play Frederick Jackson d E. A. Dupont

☆ Edmund Gwenn, Maureen O'Sullivan, Lucile Watson, Reginald Owen, Robert Greig, Dudley Digges, Melville Cooper, Lillian Bond

'Reaches a grade above the average programmer, but points mainly to sophisticated patronage.' – Variety

The Bishop Murder Case

US 1930 91m bw
MGM

Philo Vance unmasks a killer who sends warning notes in rhyme.

Mildly interesting early talkie detection which moves at too stately a pace.

w Lenore Coffee novel S. S. Van Dine d Nick Grinde, David Burton ph Roy Overbaugh ad Cedric Gibbons ed William Le Vanway

☆ Basil Rathbone, Leila Hyams, Alec B. Francis, Roland Young, George Marion

The Bishop's Misadventures: see The Bishop Misbehaves

The Bishop's Wife ★★

US 1947 108m bw
Samuel Goldwyn

An angel is sent down to mend the ways of a bishop whose absorption with cathedral buildings has put him out of touch with his wife and parishioners.

Whimsical, stolid and protracted light comedy saved by its actors and its old-fashioned Hollywood style.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

w Robert E. Sherwood, Leonardo Bercovici novel Robert Nathan d Henry Koster ph Gregg Toland m Hugo Friedhofer ed Monica Collingwood
☆ Cary Grant, Loretta Young, David Niven, Monty Woolley, James Gleason, Gladys Cooper, Elsa Lanchester, Sara Haden, Regis Toomey
'It is the Protestant comeback to the deadly successful RC propaganda of Going My Way and The Bells of St Mary's. It surpasses in tastelessness, equals in whimsy and in technique falls well below those crooning parables. It is really quite a monstrous film.' – Richard Winnington, News Chronicle
'When a film undertakes to bring audiences a spiritual message, we wonder whether the director doesn't owe it to us to clothe such messages in less muddled characterizations and to dispense with caricature.' – Scholastic Magazine
'A sophisticated Christmas Carol.' – Philip Hartung
'As cheerful an invasion of the realm of conscience as we have seen.' – New York Times † Director William A. Seiter was replaced when the film was half complete; this caused nearly one million dollars to be wasted.
🎗 best picture; Henry Koster; Hugo Friedhofer; editing

A Bit of Scarlet

GB 1996 75m colour
BFI/Channel 4/Maya Vision (Rebecca Dobbs)
Documentary on the way homosexuality has been treated or ignored by the British cinema, with clips to illustrate various rules of representation.
Irritating approach to an interesting subject, cutting from one unidentified film clip to another in a specious but ultimately unconvincing manner.
d Andrea Weiss m John Eacott ed Andrea Weiss
☆ Ian McKellen (narrator)

The Bit Player: see Salut l'Artiste

The Bitch

GB 1979 94m colour
Brent Walker (John Quested)
A woman of much influence in London's underworld has a temporary liaison with a young gangster wanted by the Mafia.
Intolerable sexed-up sequel to The Stud (qv), hard on both eyes and ears.
wd Gerry O'Hara story Jackie Collins ph Denis Lewiston m Biddu ad Malcolm Middleton ed Ed Joseph ☆ Joan Collins, Kenneth Haigh, Michael Coby, Ian Hendry, Carolyn Seymour, Sue Lloyd, Mark Burns
'Appropriately enough for a film whose sole rationale seems to be its chic consumerist decoration (and of course its disco soundtrack), The Bitch ruthlessly pares away any other elements of interest.' – Richard Combs, MFB.

The Bitch

France 1984 100m colour
Sara Films/FR3 (Alain Sarde)
French title: La Garce
After serving a six-year sentence for rape, a former cop finds work as a private detective and finds himself investigating the girl he assaulted.
Routine thriller of double-crossed lovers.
w Pierre Fabre, Laurent Heynemann, Christine Pascal, A. M. Delocque Fourcaud d Christine Pascal ph Raoul Coutard m Philippe Sarde ed Jacques Comets
☆ Isabelle Huppert, Richard Berry, Vittorio Mezzogiorno, Jean Benguigui, Jean-Claude Legay, Jean-Pierre Moulin, Clement Harrari

Bite the Bullet ★

US 1975 131m Metrocolor Panavision
Columbia/Persky-Bright/Vista (Richard Brooks)
Several cowboys compete in a 700-mile endurance horse race.
Episodic adventure story with too much muddled chat and a very thin connecting story line; good to look at, though.
wd Richard Brooks ph Harry Stradling Jnr m Alex North ☆ Gene Hackman, Candice Bergen, James Coburn, Ben Johnson, Ian Bannen, Jan-Michael Vincent, Paul Stewart
🎗 Alex North

Bits and Pieces ★

Italy 1995 109m Technicolor
Electric/Fandango/Colorado (Domenico Procacci, Maurizio Totti) original title: Il cielo è sempre più blu
As a jogger takes his exercise, events involving theft, desire, deception and death happen in Rome.
An episodic account of a day in the life of an urban jungle, full of casual betrayals, curious happenings and cruelty; but there is a sense of randomness about the events, which fail to come together to form a bigger picture.
w Daniele Cesarano, Paolo Marchesini d Antonella Grimaldi ph Alessandro Pesci m Enzo Favata, Jana Project ad Giada Calabria ed Angelo Nicolini ☆ Asia Argento, Luca Barbareschi, Margherita Buy, Roberto Citran, Enrico Lo Verso, Ivano Marescotti, Dario Argento

'I want something good to happen to me before I die!'

Bitter Harvest

GB 1963 96m Eastmancolor
Rank/Independent Artists (Albert Fennell)
An innocent Welsh girl comes to London, is deflowered, and sets off in search of wealth and luxury at any price.
Naïve 60s version of the road to ruin, quite well done if you like that kind of thing.
w Ted Willis d Peter Graham Scott ph Ernest Steward m Laurie Johnson ☆ Janet Munro, John Stride, Anne Cunningham, Alan Badel, Thora Hird, Vanda Godsell, Terence Alexander

'Some lovers never know when to stop...'

Bitter Moon

GB/France 1992 139m colour
Columbia Tristar/Les Films Alain Sarde/Canal/R.P. Productions/Timothy Burrill Productions (Roman Polanski) original title: Lunes de Fiel
On board a liner an English couple are drawn into the sadistic sexual fantasies of a crippled American writer and his French wife.
Incoherent melodrama of the corruption of innocence; but we've all been here too many times before for this treatment to carry any appeal.
w Roman Polanski, Gérard Brach, John Brownjohn novel Pascal Bruckner d Roman Polanski ph Tonino Delli Colli m Vangelis pd Willy Holt, Gérard Viard ed Hervé de Luze
☆ Peter Coyote, Emmanuelle Seigner, Hugh Grant, Kristin Scott-Thomas, Victor Banerjee, Sophie Patel, Stockard Channing
'A slick psycho-drama ... the work of a perverse, exhausted talent narrated by a perverse, exhausted, talentless writer to trap a dim-witted listener.' – Philip French, Observer

Bitter Rice ★

Italy 1949 108m bw
Lux Films
original title: Riso Amaro
In the rice fields of the Po valley, a thief on the run meets a girl who tries to steal his loot.
Well-made exploitation melodrama which made a star of the well-endowed Mangano but is not otherwise more memorable than its innumerable American counterparts.
w Carlo Lizzani, Carlo Musso, Gianni Puccini, Corrado Alvaro, Ivo Perilli, Giuseppe de Santis d Giuseppe de Santis ph Otello Martelli m Goffredo Petrassi
☆ Silvana Mangano, Raf Vallone, Doris Dowling, Vittorio Gassman
† Its scene of peasant women in the mud of the paddy fields is said to have inspired one of William de Kooning's best-known paintings, Excavation (1950).
🎗 original story

Bitter Springs ★

GB 1950 89m bw
Ealing (Leslie Norman)
A pioneer family in Australia buys a patch of ground but has trouble with aborigines.
Thinnest of the Ealing attempts to make movies down under, suffering from a lack of pace and sharpness as well as obvious studio settings.
w Monja Danischewsky, W. P. Lipscomb d Ralph Smart ph George Heath m Vaughan Williams ☆ Chips Rafferty, Tommy Trinder, Gordon Jackson, Jean Blue, Charles Tingwell

Bitter Sweet

GB 1933 93m bw
UA/British and Dominion (Herbert Wilcox)
In 1875 Vienna, a violinist marries a girl dancer and is later killed by a gambler.
Rather feeble filming of Noël Coward's operetta: it pleased a lot of people at the time.
w Lydia Hayward, Herbert Wilcox, Monckton Hoffe d Herbert Wilcox ph Freddie Young m Noël Coward md Lew Stone ad L. P. Williams
☆ Anna Neagle, Fernand Gravet, Ivy St Helier, Miles Mander, Esmé Percy, Hugh Williams, Pat Paterson, Kay Hammond

Bitter Sweet

US 1940 94m Technicolor
MGM (Victor Saville)
Remake of the above, retailored for unsuitable leads and with the story and music unattractively rearranged.
w Lesser Samuels d W. S. Van Dyke II ph Oliver T. Marsh, Allen Davey m Noël Coward ad Cedric Gibbons, John S. Detlie
☆ Jeanette Macdonald, Nelson Eddy, George Sanders, Felix Bressart, Ian Hunter, Fay Holden, Sig Rumann, Herman Bing, Curt Bois
'It's now chiefly eye-and-ear entertainment, with the original sentimental charm and romance missing.' – Variety
🎗 Oliver T. Marsh, Allen Davey; art direction

The Bitter Tea of General Yen ★★

US 1932 89m bw
Columbia (Walter Wanger)
An American lady missionary in Shanghai is captured by a Chinese warlord and falls in love with him.
Arty miscegenation story which bids fair to become a cult film and certainly has a number of interesting sequences.
w Edward Paramore story Grace Zaring Stone d Frank Capra ph Joseph Walker m W. Franke Harling
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Nils Asther, Toshia Mori, Walter Connolly, Gavin Gordon, Lucien Littlefield
'It is doubtful whether this picture can make the grade without support ... photographic advantages cannot overcome the queer story.' – Variety
† The film chosen to open Radio City Music Hall.

The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant

West Germany 1972 124m colour
Tango/Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Michael Fengler original title: Die bitteren Tränen der Petra von Kant Lesbian jealousies in the fashion world.
Interesting but exhausting hothouse confection, no more likeable than the Hollywood kind for being more intelligent about its perversions.
wd Rainer Werner Fassbinder ph Michael Ballhaus m The Platters and others ed Thea Eymèsz ☆ Margit Carstensen, Irm Hermann, Hanna Schygulla, Eva Mattes
'Dazzling in the brittle brilliance of its execution, the precision of its structure and movement, the total hermetic self-containment of the little world it creates.' – David Robinson, The Times

Bittere Ernte ★★

West Germany 1985 102m colour
Filmkunst (Artur Brauner)
GB title: Angry Harvest
An inhibited farmer shelters a Jewish woman from the authorities, with tragic results.
Intermittently moving, though heavy going at times.
w Paul Hengge, Agnieszka Holland d Agnieszka Holland ph Josef Ort-Snep m Jorg Strass Burger ed Barbara Kunze
☆ Armin Muller-Stahl, Elisabeth Trissenaar, Kathe Jaenicke, Hans Beerhenke, Isla Haller, Margit Carstensen
🎗 best foreign film

A Bittersweet Life ★

Korea 2005 118m colour
Tartan/CJ/CITIC/Ilshin/b.o.m. (Oh Jeong-wan, Eugene Lee) original title: Dal-kom-han In-saeng
After being beaten to a pulp by a rival gang and attacked by his own side for failing to carry out his boss's orders, a hitman decides to get his revenge.
Hardbitten thriller, stylishly shot, but not for the squeamish.
wd Kim Jee-woon ph Kim Ji-yong m Dalpalan, Jang Yeong-gyu pd Ryu Seong-heui ed Choi Jae-geun action choreographer Jeong Du-hong ☆ Lee Byeong-heon (Kim Seon-woo), Kim Yeong-cheol (Boss Kang), Shin Min-ah (Heui-su), Hwang Jeong-min (Boss Baek), Kim Roi-ha (Mun-seok), Mun Chong-hyuk

(Tae-gu), Lee Gi-yeong (Oh Mu-sung), Jin Gu (Min-gil)

'Tour de force of noirish style and Korean ultra-violence that will have genre fans nailed to their seats.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Bittersweet Love

US 1976 92m colour
Zappala-Slott

Newlyweds discover that they both had the same father.

Old-fashioned family shocker which needed a lot more zip if it was going to shock anybody.

w Adrian Morrall, D. A. Kellogg d David Miller

☆ Lana Turner, Robert Alda, Celeste Holm, Robert Lansing, Scott Hylands, Denise DeMirjian

'Performances and settings are all very high class. I mean, when you have all that money and those great surroundings you can still suffer, but you do have multiple choices.' – Archer Winsten, New York Post

Bizarre, Bizarre: see Drôle de Drame

Bizita Q: see Visitor Q

Black and White ★★

US 1999 99m colour
Columbia TriStar/Palm (Michael Mailer, Daniel Bigel, Ron Rotholz)

A black gangster who decides to become a rap artist attracts a white following, but is unable to escape his violent past.

Hectic study of racial politics, partly improvised and homing in on white appropriation and corruption of other cultures.

wd James Toback ph David Ferrara m American Cream Team pd Anne Ross ed Myron Kerstein cos Jacki Roach

☆ Scott Caan (Scotty), Robert Downey Jnr (Terry), Stacy Edwards (Sheila King), Allan Houston (Dean), Gaby Hoffman (Raven), Kidada Jones (Jesse), Jared Leto (Casey), Marla Maples (Muffy), Joe Pantoliano (Bill King), Bijou Phillips (Charlie), Power (Rich Bower), Raekwon (Cigar), Claudia Schiffer (Greta), Brooke Shields (Sam), William Lee Scott (Will King) and also Ben Stiller, Mike Tyson

'As lively and amusing as the film is in some ways, it does set up expectations at the outset that are never really delivered upon.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Black and White ★

Australia/GB 2002 99m AtLab
Tartan/Duo Art/Scala/AFFC/SAFC (Helen Leake, Nik Powell)

After an aborigine is sentenced to hang for the rape and murder of a nine-year-old girl, an idealistic lawyer and a crusading newspaper editor attempt to have the verdict overturned.

Based on an actual trial and its sensational aftermath in 1958, this is a resolutely old-fashioned courtroom drama, done in a heavy-handed manner.

w Louis Nowra d Craig Lahiff ph Geoffrey Simpson m Cezary Skubiszewski pd Murray Picknett ed Lee Smith

☆ Robert Carlyle (David O'Sullivan), Charles Dance (Roderic Chamberlain), Kerry Fox (Helen Devaney), Colin Friels (Father Tom Dixon), Ben Mendelsohn (Rupert Murdoch), David Ngoombujarra (Max Stuart), Roy Billing (Det Sgt Paul Turner), John Gregg (Rohan Rivett), Chris Haywood (Det Sgt Karskens)

'It's got an engrossing story to tell, and it's interestingly ambiguous where another sort of film might have been content with PC certainty.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Black and White in Colour ★

France/Switzerland/Ivory Coast 1976 100m Eastmancolor
Reggance/SFP/Artco/Société Ivorienne de Production (Arthur Cohn, Jacques Perrin, Giorgio Silvagni)

original title: La Victoire en Chantant

In French West Africa in 1915, easy-going colonials learn of the outbreak of war and prepare to attack a neighbouring German garrison.

Curious mixture of Ealing-style comedy and mordant satire; interesting without being wholly engaging.

w Georges Conchon, Jean-Jacques Annaud d Jean-Jacques Annaud ph Claude Agostini, Eduardo Serra, Nanamoudou Magassouda m Pierre Bachelet, Mat Camison

☆ Jean Carmet, Jacques Dufilho, Catherine Rouvel, Jacques Spiesser, Dora Doll

best foreign film

Black Angel ★

US 1946 80m bw
U-I (Roy William Neill, Tom McKnight)

A drunk sets out to find the murderer of his wife, and finds it was himself.

Stylish but empty version of a tired theme, interesting for performances and atmosphere.

w Roy Chanslor novel William Irish d Roy William Neill ph Paul Ivano m Frank Skinner

☆ Dan Duryea, Peter Lorre, Broderick Crawford, June Vincent, Wallace Ford, Hobart Cavanaugh, Constance Dowling

'The Ultimate Assassin... She'll Blow You Away.'

Black Angel

Japan 1997 95m colour
Bandai/Shochiku (Takashi Ishii, Hideo Momoda, Yuji Sasaki)

original title: Kuro No Tenshi

Fourteen years after she saw her family murdered, a woman returns to Tokyo from the United States to seek revenge.

Violent and melodramatic thriller, energetically shot against a background of seedy streets and lurid colours, that revels in the extreme behaviour of its mainly psychotic characters, culminating in a protracted scene of torture and rape.

wd Takashi Ishii ph Kazuhito Sato m Goro Yasukawa pd Teru Yamazaki ed Akimasa Kawashima

☆ Riona Hazuki (Ikko Amaoka), Reiko Takashima (Mayo), Jinpachi Nezu (Goro Nogi), Kippei Shiina (Shinichi Onda), Miyuki Ono (Chiaki Amaoka), Yoshiyuki Yamaguchi (Zill)

The Black Arrow

US 1948 76m bw
Columbia

GB title: The Black Arrow Strikes

During the Wars of the Roses, an English knight seeks the murderer of his father.

Pennypinching swashbuckler which contrives to entertain despite total disregard of probability.

w Richard Schayer, David P. Sheppard, Thomas Seller novel R. L. Stevenson d Gordon Douglas ph Charles Lawton Jnr

☆ Louis Hayward, Janet Blair, George Macready, Edgar Buchanan, Paul Cavanagh

The Black Arrow Strikes: see The Black Arrow

Black Bart

US 1948 80m Technicolor
U-I (Leonard Goldstein)
GB title: Black Bart, Highwayman

Lola Montez, on an American tour, falls for an American bandit.

Acceptable Western programmer with historical trimmings and some evidence of tongue-in-cheek attitudes.

w Luci Ward, Jack Natteford, William Bowers d George Sherman ph Irving Glassberg m Frank Skinner

☆ Yvonne de Carlo, Dan Duryea, Jeffrey Lynn, Percy Kilbride, Lloyd Gough, Frank Lovejoy, John McIntire, Don Beddoe

Black Bart, Highwayman: see Black Bart

Black Beauty

US 1946 74m bw
TCF (Edward L. Alperson)

In Victorian England, a girl searches for her lost colt.

Stilted children's film with little relation to the book.

w Lillie Hayward, Agnes Christine Johnston novel Anna Sewell d Max Nosseck ph J. Roy Hunt m Dimitri Tiomkin

☆ Mona Freeman, Richard Denning, Evelyn Ankers, J. M. Kerrigan, Terry Kilburn

Black Beauty ★

GB 1971 106m colour
Tigon/Chilton (Tony Tenser)

A luckless horse passes from hand to hand but is finally restored to its original young master and has a happy retirement.

Pleasant, episodic animal story which stays pretty close to the book. A shade yawn-inducing for adults, but fine for children.

w Wolf Mankowitz novel Anna Sewell d James Hill ph Chris Menges m Lionel Bart, John Cameron

☆ Mark Lester, Walter Slezak, Peter Lee Lawrence, Patrick Mower, John Nettleton, Maria Rohm

Black Beauty

GB/US 1994 88m Technicolor
Warner (Robert Shapiro, Peter MacGregor-Scott)

An old horse put out to pasture tells the story of his life, from pampered pet and heroic coach-horse to broken-down cart-horse.

Sadly inert version of the classic tale, narrated by the horse itself, a device that robs the story of any dramatic quality, since the events tend to be described before they are shown, and which also plays down any human interest.

wd Caroline Thompson novel Anna Sewell ph Alex Thomson m Danny Elfman pd John Box ed Claire Simpson

☆ Alan Cumming (voice), Sean Bean, David Thewlis, Jim Carter, Peter Davison, Eleanor Bron, Alun Armstrong, John McEnery, Peter Cook

'Certainly beautiful in both the equine and cinematic senses, but its penchant for lengthy montages could leave its young viewers squirming in their seats.' – Denis Seguin, Screen International

The Black Bird

US 1975 98m colour
Columbia/Rastar (Michael Levee, Lou Lombardo)

Sam Spade's son finds himself beset by crooks still after the Maltese falcon.

Dismal, witless, boring parody of a classic crime film, with none of the humour of the original.

wd David Giler ph Philip Lathrop m Jerry Fielding

☆ George Segal, Stéphane Audran, Lee Patrick, Elisha Cook Jnr, Lionel Stander, John Abbott, Signe Hasso, Felix Silla

'A dumb comedy with an insecure tone and some good ideas mixed up with some terrible ones.' – Variety

'It doesn't work because it has nothing to say.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

The Black Book ★

US 1949 88m bw
Eagle-Lion
GB title: Reign of Terror

A member of a secret organization which plans to replace Robespierre with a moderate goes undercover with the French Revolutionaries.

Moderate period melodrama with an attractive though artificial look.

w Philip Yordan, Aeneas Mackenzie d Anthony Mann ph John Alton m Sol Kaplan

☆ Robert Cummings, Arlene Dahl, Richard Basehart, Richard Hart, Arnold Moss

Black Book ★★ (7)

Netherlands/Germany/UK/Belgium 2006 145m
Tartan/FU Works/Hector BV/Motel/Avro TV/Motion Investment Group/Studio Babelsberg/VIP Medienfonds (San Fu Maltha, Jens Meurer, Teun Hilte, Jos van der Linden, Frans von Gestel, Jeroen Beker)

German/Dutch/Belgian theatrical title: Zwartboek

Rachel Steinn, a Dutch Jewish cabaret singer, attempts to survive World War II by joining the Resistance and fraternising with Nazi officers to gain valuable information. When her plans misfire, she becomes persona non grata to both sides.

Paul Verhoeven's first film in his native Holland, after a two-decade exile in Hollywood, feels like a grenade tossed at Dutch legends about the heroism of the country's Resistance and denials about collaboration. No-one emerges from this story 100 per cent clean, not even its resourceful heroine. In her case, moral ambiguity seems a necessary tool to survive so many narrow escapes. Oddly, Verhoeven seems as critical of the Dutch Resistance as of the Nazi invaders. Still, it's a fast-paced, powerful story, directed with real flair and even a welcome dash of vulgarity. The lead role of Rachel would be hugely demanding for any actress, but Carice van Houten proves equal to the challenge.

w Gerard Soeterman, Paul Verhoeven d Paul Verhoeven ph Karl Walter Lindenlaub m Anne Dudley pd Wilbert van Dorp ad Cornelia Ott, Maarten Piersma ed Job ter Burg, James Herbert

☆ Carice van Houten (Rachel Steinn/Ellis de Vries), Sebastian Koch (Ludwig Muntze), Thom Hoffman (Hans Akkermans), Halina Reijn (Ronnie), Waldemar Kobus (Gunther Franken), Derek de Lint (Gerben Kuipers), Christian Berkel (General Kautner)

'As subversive as it is traditional, both enamoured of conventional notions of heroism and frankly contemptuous of them.' – Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times

'A strange mix indeed: Verhoeven's exaggerations as applied to the Nazi occupations of the Netherlands. It's implausible and outrageously comic, but

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

equally memorable and passionate. Worth seeing.' – Ian Nathan, Empire

† Verhoeven claimed that he and his co-screenwriter Gerard Soeterman spent 20 years working on the script. The two men say that the film's heroine Rachel is a composite of several real people.

†† The Black Book of the title was a collection of names, compiled by corrupt Resistance figures, of wealthy Dutch Jews whose possessions the Nazis might wish to plunder.

Black Caesar

US 1973 87m DeLuxe
Gala/Larco (Larry Cohen)

GB title: The Godfather of Harlem

A black hoodlum takes over Mafia territory to become a Harlem big-shot.

Slapdash movie that attempts to update the style of Warner's 30s gangster movies.

wd Larry Cohen ph Fenton Hamilton, James Signorelli m James Brown pd Larry Lurin ed George Folsey Jnr

☆ Fred Williamson, D'Urville Martin, Julius W. Harris, Gloria Hendry, Art Lund, Val Avery, Minnie Gentry

'A welcome attempt to move black films off the beaten track.' – David McGillivray, MFB

† The film was cut to 84m on its British release. It was followed by a sequel, Hell up in Harlem.

The Black Camel

US 1931 67m bw
Fox

Charlie Chan solves the murder of a film starlet in Honolulu.

Second in the Oland series (see under Charlie Chan), not easy to see these days.

w Barry Conners, Philip Klein d Hamilton McFadden

☆ Warner Oland, Dorothy Revier, Bela Lugosi, Sally Eilers, Victor Varconi, Robert Young

Black Candles (dubbed)

Spain 1981 82m colour
Films Around The World

original title: Los Ritos Sexuales del Diablo

A woman investigates the sudden death of her brother and discovers that he was a victim of black magic.

Cheaply made soft-core porn that combines devil worship, blasphemy, lesbianism, interminable scenes of love-making and tedium.

wd Joseph Braunstein (José Ramón Larraz) ph Alan Clarke m Cam ad John Hanford ed Harold Wallmann

☆ Martha Belton, Vanesa Ashley, Jeffrey Healey, Betty Webster, Christopher Bright, John McGrat

'No-one in that film could act. So what do you do with them? You put them in bed and have them jump on each other.' – José Ramón Larraz

The Black Cannon Incident ★

China 1985 99m colour
ICA/Xi'an Film Studio (Wu Tiangming, Manfred Durniok)

An engineer and interpreter involved in a project with the Germans is replaced by an incompetent after Party members suspect him of spying.

A satire on bureaucratic bungling, one of the few to have emerged from China.

w Li Wei story Langman de Heipao by Zhang Xianliang d Huang Jianxin ph Wang Xinsheng, Feng Wei m Zhu Shirui ad Liu Yichuan ed Chen Dali

☆ Liu Zifeng, Gerhard Olschewski, Gao Ming, Wang Yi, Yang Yazhou, Ge Hui

The Black Castle

US 1952 80m bw
Universal-International (William Alland)

An 18th-century knight avenges the deaths of two friends who have attended a hunting party at the castle of a sadistic Viennese count.

A variation on The Most Dangerous Game (qv), and not a good one: the pace is far too plodding and the atmosphere unpleasant.

w Jerry Sackheim d Nathan Juran ph Irving Glassberg m Hans Salter md Joseph Gershenson

☆ Richard Greene, Stephen McNally, Boris Karloff, Lon Chaney Jnr, Paula Corday, John Hoyt, Michael Pate

'It's tremonstrous! The absolute apex of the super-shivery!'

The Black Cat ★

US 1934 65m bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

GB title: House of Doom

A revengeful doctor seeks out the Austrian architect and devil-worshipper who betrayed his country in World War I.

Absurd and dense farrago set in a modernistic but crumbling castle which is eventually blown to bits just as its owner is skinned alive. Mostly rather dull despite the extraordinary plot, but the thing has moments of style, a delightful cod devil worship sequence (especially for audiences with a rudimentary knowledge of Latin) and nothing at all to do with the title or Edgar Allan Poe.

w Peter Ruric d Edgar G. Ulmer ph John Mescall md Heinz Roemheld ad Charles D. Hall

☆ Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, David Manners, Jacqueline Wells, Egon Brecher

'On the counts of story, novelty, thrills and distinction, the picture is sub-normal.' – Variety

'A truly bizarre concoction of mayhem, necrophilia, sadism and satanism.' – Clive Hirschhorn, 1980s

The Black Cat ★

US 1941 70m bw
Universal (Burt Kelly)

Murder follows the summoning of the family to the spooky house of a cat-loving recluse.

Disappointing mystery which squanders a splendid cast on a script full of non-sequiturs and makes heavy weather of its light relief.

w Robert Lees, Fred Rinaldo, Eric Taylor, Robert Neville d Albert S. Rogell ph Stanley Cortez ed Ted J. Kent

☆ Basil Rathbone, Gladys Cooper, Broderick Crawford, Hugh Herbert, Gale Sondergaard, Anne Gwynne, Alan Ladd, Cecilia Loftus, Bela Lugosi

HUGH HERBERT (READING INSCRIPTION): 'That house is doubly blest, Which to our feline friends gives rest.'

BRODERICK CRAWFORD (NOT IMPRESSED): 'Her hats are full of bats, For spending all her dough on cats.'

Black Cat: see Kuroneko (1968)

The Black Cat (dubbed)

Italy 1981 91m Technicolor
Technovision
Selenia (Giulio Sbarigia)

original title: Il Gatto Nero

A black cat and its owner, an eccentric medium, are locked in a battle of wills, one that results in many deaths in an English village.

A ghoulish and moderately stylish modern-day variation on Poe's story; hampered by its low budget, it is nevertheless an effective little shocker.

w Biagio Proietti, Lucio Fulci story Edgar Allan Poe d Lucio Fulci ph Sergio Salvati m Pino Donaggio pd Francesco Calabrese ed Vincenzo Tomassi

☆ Patrick Magee, Mimsy Farmer, David Warbeck, Al Cliver, Dagmar Lassander, Bruno Corazzari, Geoffrey Copleston, Daniela Dorio

'Aims for a more psychological approach, even if it is for the most part bogged down by Fulci's usual muddled style.' – Shivers

Black Cat, White Cat ★

France/Germany/Yugoslavia 1998 129m colour
October/Ciby 2000/Pandora/Komuna (Karl Baumgartner)

When a robbery goes wrong, a Yugoslavian crook can only extricate himself by agreeing to marry his son to the unattractive daughter of a scheming gypsy godfather.

Sprawling, exuberant, messy comedy that finally outstays its welcome.

w Gordan Mihic, Emir Kusturica d Emir Kusturica ph Thierry Arbogast, Michel Amathieu m D. Nele Karajilic, Vajislav Aralica, Dejo Sparavalo pd Milenko Jeremic ed Svetolik Mica Zajc

☆ Bajram Severdzan, Florijan Ajdini, Salija Ibraimova, Branka Katic, Srdan Todorovic, Zabit Memedov, Sabri Sulejman, Jasar Destani, Ljubica Adzovic

'A colorful, frenetic mixture of slapstick and folklore that stands a good chance of delighting arthouse audiences the world over.' – David Stratton, Variety

The Black Cauldron ★

US 1985 80m Technicolor Super Technirama 70
Walt Disney Productions (Joe Hale)

A medieval hero combats magic swords, wicked witches and skeletal tyrants.

Assured but somehow quite forgettable Disney cartoon feature.

w David Jonas, Vance Gerry, Ted Berman, Richard Rich, Al Wilson, Roy Morita, Peter Young, Art Stevens, Joe Hale, from The Chronicles of Prydain by Lloyd Alexander d Ted Berman, Richard Rich m Elmer Bernstein key animator Walt Stanchfield

☆ Featuring the voices of Freddie Jones, Nigel Hawthorne, John Hurt, John Huston, John Byner, Arthur Malet

† Production allegedly took ten years and cost 25 million dollars.

'If this doesn't make your skin crawl ... it's on too tight!'

Black Christmas

Canada 1974 97m Technicolor
EMI/Film Funding/Vision IV (Robert Clark)

aka: Silent Night, Evil Night

Girls in a college sorority house are attacked by a lurking psychopath.

Moderate suspense chiller.

w Roy Moore d Bob Clark ph Reg Morris m Carl Zittrer ad Karen Hazzard ed Stan Cole

☆ Olivia Hussey (Jessica Bradford), Keir Dullea (Peter Smythe), Margot Kidder (Barbie Coard), Andrea Martin (Phyllis Carlson), John Saxon (Lt Kenneth Fuller), Marian Waldman (Mrs MacHenry), Art Hindle (Chris Hayden)

'This holiday season the slay ride begins.'

Black Christmas ★ (2)

US/Canada 2006 86m
Pathe/2929 Productions/Hoban Segal Entertainment/ Hard Eight Pictures/ Victor Solnicki Productions (Marty Adelstein, Victor Solnicki, Steven Hoban, Glen Morgan, Dawn Parouse, James Wong)

Staying in their sorority house during the Christmas holidays, a group of girls come under attack by a criminally insane homicidal maniac.

A smart update of the original 1974 cult classic, gift-wrapped in keen horror-movie nostalgia and refreshed with fast-paced, gory thrills and skilful direction.

wd Glen Morgan screenplay Black Christmas (1974) by Roy Moore ph Robert MacLachlan m Shirley Walker pd Mark S. Freeborn ad Tony Wohlgemuth ed Chris G. Willingham sp Rory Cutler

☆ Katie Cassidy (Kelli Presley), Michelle Trachtenberg (Melissa Kitt), Mary Elizabeth Winstead (Heather Fitzgerald), Lacey Chabert (Dana Mathis), Kristen Cloke (Leigh Colvin), Andrea Martin (Ms MacHenry)

'It exchanges the police subplot that gave the earlier film its steady pace for a lot of pointless back-story about the mother-fixated stalker.' – J. S. Jones, Chicago Reader

'Inspired by the most notorious unsolved murder in California history.'

The Black Dahlia ★★ (5)

US/Germany 2006 120m
Entertainment/Signature/Equity Pictures/ Medienfonds GmbH/KGIII/Nu Image (Art Linson, Avi Lerner, Moshe Diamant, Rudy Cohen)

In the 1940s, two L.A. cops who are boxing rivals set out to find a murderer when a young woman's mutilated corpse is discovered.

Sepia-tinted attempt to re-create the classic period of film noir, with mixed results. Director de Palma stages some terrific set-pieces, notably a stunning crane shot over the roof of a house to a deserted field where The Black Dahlia's body lies. As usual with James Ellroy's stories, the dialogue is fast, slangy and obscure. Johansson and the two male leads constitute a scrappy, photogenic love triangle. Finally, though, the film falls short of its ambitions.

w Josh Friedman novel James Ellroy d Brian de Palma ph Vilmos Zsigmond m Mark Isham pd Dante Ferretti ad Christopher Tanson, Pier-Luigi Basile ed Bill Pankow

☆ Josh Hartnett (Dwight ('Bucky') Bleichert), Aaron Eckhart (Lee Blanchard), Scarlett Johansson (Kay Lake), Hilary Swank (Madeleine Linscott), Mia Kershner (Elizabeth Short), Fiona Shaw (Ramona Linscott)

'The second half feels heavy and unfulfilled, potential greatness reduced to a good movie plagued with problems.' – Kirk Honeycutt, Hollywood Reporter

† k.d. lang appears uncredited, singing Love For Sale in a night club.

†† Los Angeles in the 1940s was re-created entirely on sets in Bulgaria.

Cinematography (Vilmos Zsigmond)

Black Diamond Rush

US 1993 100m colour
Black Diamond (Kurt Miller, Peter Speek)

A documentary on the pleasures of skiing.
A celebration of skiers as exemplars of personal freedom, filmed to a rock soundtrack; it is likely to appeal only to the initiated.
w Warren Miller d Kurt Miller, Peter Speek ph Don Brolin m Middleman ed Paul Burack, Kim Schneider
☆ Warren Miller (narrator:)

'The only way to stay safe is to stay moving.'

Black Dog
US 1998 88m DeLuxe Super 35
Universal/Mutual/Prelude (Raffaella de Laurentiis, Peter Saphier, Mark W. Koch)

An ex-convict, tricked into driving a truck that contains guns from Georgia to New Jersey, is harassed by hijackers.
Predictable action fare, done with energy but no originality.
w William Mickelberry, Dan Vining d Kevin Hooks ph Buzz Feitshans IV m George S. Clinton pd Victoria Paul ed Debra Neil Fisher, Sabrina Plisco Morris ☆ Patrick Swayze, Meat Loaf, Randy Travis, Gabriel Casseus, Brian Vincent, Brenda Strong, Stephen Tobolowsky, Charles S. Dutton

'Overly familiar but fitfully exciting.' – Variety

Black Eagle
US 1988 93m colour
Rotecon/Magus (Shimon Arama)

Americans hire a top agent to foil a Russian attempt to recover a US plane fitted with top-secret equipment that crashed into the Mediterranean.
An action picture full of meaningless and irrelevant action; it seems to have been made in the belief that innumerable gun and fist fights will compensate for the lack of characterization and engrossing narrative, and also to disguise the fact that few of its leading characters speak comprehensible English.
w A. E. Peters, Michael Gonzales story Shimon Arama d Eric Karson ph George Koblasa m Terry Plumeri ed Michael Kelly
☆ Sho Kosugi, Jean-Claude Van Damme, Doran Clark, Bruce French, Vladimir Skomarovsky, Kane Kosugi, Shane Kosugi

Black Eyes
GB 1939 72m bw
Associated British (Walter Mycroft)

A Moscow head waiter has raised his daughter to believe he's a big wheel in the business world.
Well-made comedy drama from a French original, Les Yeux Noirs.
w Dudley Leslie d Herbert Brenon ph Gunther Krampf m Walford Hyden, Bela Bizoni ad Ian White ☆ Otto Kruger, Mary Maguire, Walter Rilla, John Wood

Black Eyes ★★★
Italy 1987 117m colour
Excelsior/RAI (Silvia D'Amico Bendico)

original title: Oci Ciornie
GB title: Dark Eyes
At the turn of the century, an aged Italian recounts his lapses.
Highly amusing star vehicle based on stories by Chekhov.
w Nikita Mikhalkov, Alexander Adabachian, Suso Cecchi d'Amico d Nikita Mikhalkov ph Franco di Giacomo m Francis Lai pd Mario Garbuglia, Alexander Adabachian ad Mario Garbuglia, Alexander Adabachian ed Enzo Meniconi ☆ Marcello Mastroianni (Romano), Silvana Mangano (Elisa, Romano's Wife), Marthe Keller (Tina, Romano's Mistress), Elena Sofonova (Anna Sergeyevna, Governor's Wife)

'The film effortlessly swings from farce to tenderness, love to betrayal, exuberance to poignancy without missing a beat.' – Daily Variety

Marcello Mastroianni

Black Flowers
Argentina/Mexico 1993 106m colour
Aleph/IMDC/Channel 4 original title: Un Muro de Silencio
aka: A Wall of Silence

A British film director, visiting Buenos Aires in 1990 to make a feature about the repressive regime of the mid-70s, discovers that many Argentinians prefer to forget their recent past.
Confusing drama, switching back and forth in time and between a film within a film and the actual lives of its protagonists; the result is sometimes interesting, but never gripping.
w Lita Stantic, Graciela Maglie, Gabriela Massuh d Lita Stantic ph Félix Monti m Néstor Marconi ad Margarita Jusid ed Juan Carlos Macias
☆ Vanessa Redgrave, Ofelia Medina, Lautaro Murúa, Lorenzo Quinteros, Soledad Villamil, André Melançon, Alberto Segado, Julio Chávez

'Pic's awkward structure, slow pacing and unexciting direction result in a moderately absorbing drama that will appeal mainly to viewers interested in political cinema.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

Black Flowers for the Bride: see Something for Everyone

Black Fox
US 1962 89m bw
Jack Le Vien

Slick documentary on the rise of Hitler, using the expected newsreels reinforced not too artfully by references to art and to the medieval folk tale of Reynard the Fox.
wd Louis Clyde Stoumen ☆ Marlene Dietrich (narrator) best documentary

Black Friday ★
US 1940 70m bw
Universal (Burt Kelly)

After an accident, a college professor is given a gangster's brain, and the surgeon encourages him to believe that he is the gangster so as to find hidden loot.
Plot-packed melodrama which fails to provide the chills suggested by the cast, but passes the time agreeably enough.
w Curt Siodmak, Eric Taylor d Arthur Lubin ph Woody Bredell m Hans Salter ☆ Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, Stanley Ridges, Anne Nagel, Anne Gwynne, Virginia Brissac, Paul Fix
† Lugosi was originally cast as the professor, but proved wrong for the part; Stanley Ridges replaced him and walked off with the movie.

Black Fury ★
US 1934 95m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)

A coal miner comes up against union problems, unsafe conditions and corruption.
Typical Warner social drama, good for its time but now very obvious.
w Abem Finkel, Carl Erickson play Bohunk by Harry R. Irving d Michael Curtiz ph Byron Haskin md Leo Forbstein
☆ Paul Muni, Karen Morley, William Gargan, Barton MacLane, John Qualen, J. Carrol Naish, Vince Barnett, Tully Marshall, Henry O'Neill

'Basic box office, packed with promotional potentialities.' – Variety
'The most powerful strike picture that has yet been made, and I am aware of the better-known Soviet jobs in the field.' – Otis Ferguson

The Black Glove: see Face the Music

Black God, White Devil ★★★
Brazil 1964 110m bw
New Cinema/Copacabana (Luiz Augosto Mendes) original title: Deus e o Diabo na Terra do Sol

A peasant follows the teachings of a fanatical prophet who preaches a gospel of suffering and death and becomes an outlaw.
Grim and violent tale of striving humanity at the mercy of a desolate landscape which established the reputation of its director as a new and disquieting voice in international cinema.
w Glauber Rocha, Walter Lima Jnr d Glauber Rocha ph Waldemar Lima m Villa-Lobos ad Glauber Rocha ed L. Ririra
☆ Yona Magalhaes (Rosa), Geraldo Del Rey (Manuel), Othon Bastos (Corsico), Mauricio Do Valle (Antonio Das Mortes), Lidio Silva (Sebastiao)

'One is left wondering what a film so locked in its own oppressive landscape can really communicate to a European audience – other than the seduction of alien violence and alien despair.' – Penelope Houston, Sight and Sound
'The endless scenes of savage slaughter, ululating cries and trudgings through arid landscape may seem wilfully indulgent, as much exploitations as explorations of a mentality Rocha believes must be overcome.' – Jan Dawson, MFB
† The hired killer Antonio das Mortes became the eponymous hero of a film Rocha made in 1969 (qv).

Black Gold
US 1947 90m Cinecolor
Allied Artists

An Indian couple on the reservation adopt a Chinese boy who becomes a famous jockey.
Tears all round in this enterprising if rather muddled B picture with a social conscience.
w Agnes Christine Johnston story Caryl Coleman d Phil Karlson
☆ Anthony Quinn, Katherine de Mille, Elyse Knox, Kane Richmond, Ducky Louie, Raymond Hatton, Thurston Hall, Alan Bridge

Black Gold
US 1963 98m bw
Warner

Novice wildcatter makes it rich in Oklahoma despite villains on every side.
Absolutely predictable actioner which unspools like a remake even if it isn't.
w Bob and Wanda Duncan d Leslie H. Martinson ☆ Philip Carey, Diane McBain, Claude Akins, Iron Eyes Cody, James Best

'Your coffee will never taste the same again.'

Black Gold ★★ (8)
UK 2006 78m
Dogwoof/Speak-It/Fulcrum (Marc Francis, Nick Francis)

An exploration of the inequities of the coffee trade, it travels to Ethiopia, the original birthplace of coffee, where farmers earn a pittance, while western middlemen get rich and consumers gladly pay high prices for their latte.
A heartfelt examination of an unequal trade. Ethiopian farmers may earn just 2p from a cappuccino that costs £3 on a British High Street. It's troubling to see these farmers huddled together discussing whether they can afford to build a school for their community, while coffee traders make a fortune for their labour. The film's imperfect research throws up more than a few unanswered questions, but it's a powerful, angry document that makes the case for fair trade indisputable. Its unquestioned star is the tenacious Tadesse Meskela, an Ethiopian trade union activist who travels the world trying to secure his farmers a fair price for their coffee.
w Lisa Ko, Eric Martin, Charlie Pearson, Lois Vossen d Marc Francis ph Nick Francis, Ben Cole m Andreas Kapsalis ed Hugh Williams

'Adds a welcome shot of conscience to your daily cup of java.' – Trevor Johnston, Time Out
'Full of stark statistics and painful juxtapositions between the back-breaking labour of Ethiopian coffee producers and comfy Western consumers...it would work well as a teaching aid.' – Sukhdev Sandhu, Daily Telegraph
† After Black Gold's warmly received world premiere at the 2006 Sundance Festival, a member of the audience was so moved that he wrote a cheque for $10, 000 on the spot, to enable the Ethiopian farmers in the film to build their community school.

Black Gunn
US 1972 95m Eastmancolor
Columbia-Warner/Champion (John Heyman, Norman Priggen)

With the aid of a group of black militants, an LA club owner takes revenge on gangsters who killed his brother.
Mundane action film, with nothing to distinguish it from a hundred others.
w Franklin Coen, Robert Shearer d Robert Hartford-Davis ph Richard H. Kline m Tony Osborne ad Jack DeShields ed Pat Somerset
☆ Jim Brown, Martin Landau, Brenda Sykes, Luciana Paluzzi, Vida Blue, Stephen McNally, Keefe Brasselle

Black Hand ★
US 1949 92m bw
MGM (William H. Wright)

In New York at the turn of the century, an Italian boy avenges his father's death at the hands of the Mafia.
Neatly produced, studio-set melodrama, unusual in subject but very stereotyped and artificial in treatment.
w Luther Davis d Richard Thorpe ph Paul C. Vogel m Alberto Colombo ☆ Gene Kelly, J. Carrol Naish, Teresa Celli, Marc Lawrence, Frank Puglia, Barry Kelley

'Leave No Man Behind.'

Black Hawk Down ★
US 2001 144m Technicolor
Columbia/Revolution/Scott Free/Jerry Bruckheimer

In 1993, elite American troops, who are

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

dropped into Mogadishu to seize the aides of a local warlord, find themselves outnumbered and engaged in a fierce fight for survival.
A success in re-creating the experience of battle in all its violence and immediacy, this fails in any wider aim: there is no attempt to explain what the US mission hoped to achieve, or why they met with such resistance from the Somalis.
w Ken Nolan, Steve Zaillian book Mark Bowden d Ridley Scott ph Slawomir Idziak m Hans Zimmer pd Arthur Max ed Pietro Scalia
☆ Josh Hartnett (Ranger Staff Sgt Matt Eversmann), Ewan McGregor (Ranger Spec Grimes), Tom Sizemore (Ranger Lt Col Danny McKnight), Eric Bana (Delta Sgt First Class 'Hoot' Gibson), William Fichtner (Delta Sgt First Class Jeff Sanderson), Ewen Bremner (Specs Sgt Shawn Nelson), Sam Shepard (Maj. Gen. William F. Garrison), Gabriel Casseus (Ranger Spec Mike Kurth), Ron Eldard (Chief Warrant Officer Mike Durant), Ioan Gruffudd (Ranger Beales), Jeremy Piven (Chief Warrant Officer Cliff Wolcott), Kim Coates (Delta Master Sgt Chris Wexler), Hugh Dancy (Ranger Sgt First Class Kurt Schmid)
'One of the most vacuous, banal and tedious war films ever made.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times
'Macho obtuse posturing, puffed up with ersatz valour.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
'A relentless immersion in combat strikingly realized but none too pleasurable to sit through.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety
Pietro Scalia; sound (Mike Minkler, Myron Nettinga, Chris Munro)
Ridley Scott; Slawomir Idziak

'A journey that begins where everything ends!'

The Black Hole ★

US 1979 98m Technicolor Technovision
Walt Disney (Ron Miller)

A research team in space is welcomed aboard a mysterious survey ship poised on the edge of a black hole.
The special effects are superb, though achieved through a general gloom which is barely acceptable. But the story is an ill-worked-out remake of Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Sea (qv), the characterization is ridiculously inept, and the final disclosure that black holes are doorways to hell sends one home rather bemused.
w Jeb Rosebrook, Gerry Day d Gary Nelson ph Frank Phillips m John Barry pd Peter Ellenshaw
☆ Maximilian Schell, Robert Forster, Anthony Perkins, Joseph Bottoms, Yvette Mimieux, Ernest Borgnine
'As pastiche, it sounds promising; as drama, encumbered with references to Cicero and Goethe, it is merely tedious.' – John Halford, MFB
'Rated PG, but the only danger to children is that it may make them think that outer space is not much fun any more.' – New Yorker
Frank Phillips

Black Horse Canyon

US 1954 81m Technicolor
Universal-International

Two cowpunchers help a lady rancher to capture and train a wild black stallion.
Slight but agreeable outdoor programmer.
w Geoffrey Homes d Jesse Hibbs
☆ Joel McCrea, Mari Blanchard, Race Gentry, Murvyn Vye, Irving Bacon

Black Ice: see A Passion for Murder

Black Jack

GB 1979 110m colour
Enterprise/Kestrel (Tony Garnett)

In 1750 Yorkshire, a rascally French sailor recovers from a hanging and has adventures on the road with a young apprentice.
The purpose of this costume adventure, from these creators, is obscure, but the execution of it is muddled and amateurish.
w none credited novel Leon Garfield d Ken Loach ph Chris Menges m Bob Pegg ad Martin Johnson ed Bill Shapter
☆ Jean Franval, Stephen Hirst, Louise Cooper
'Ploddingly unpersuasive. Not only narrative clarity but simple credibility is lacking.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB

Black Joy ★

GB 1977 109m Eastmancolor
Winkast/West One (Elliott Kastner, Martin Campbell)

A Guyanan immigrant in Brixton is tricked by a Jamaican good-for-nothing but later goes into partnership with him and learns to stand up for his rights.
Vivid but eventually wearying ethnic comedy-melodrama.
w Anthony Simmons, Jamal Ali play Dark Days and Light Nights by Jamal Ali d Anthony Simmons ph Philip Meheux md Lou Reizner from reggae songs ☆ Norman Beaton, Trevor Thomas, Floella Benjamin, Dawn Hope
'I wanted to show the reality of life in an immigrant area, angry and frustrated like so many parts of Britain – but full of hope and humour.' – Anthony Simmons

The Black Knight

GB 1954 85m Technicolor
Warwick (Irving Allen, Albert R. Broccoli)

A humble swordmaker reveals a traitor to King Arthur.
Hilarious travesty of English historical legend, meant seriously for Anglo-American consumption. Shades of Zorro, Babes in the Wood and 1066 and All That.
w Alec Coppel d Tay Garnett ph John Wilcox m John Addison ☆ Alan Ladd (John), Peter Cushing (Sir Palamides), Patricia Medina (Linet), Harry Andrews (Earl of Yeovil), André Morell (Sir Ontzlake), Anthony Bushell (King Arthur), Patrick Troughton (King Mark), Laurence Naismith (Majordomo), John Laurie (James), Ronald Adam (The Abbot), Elton Hayes
'Alan Ladd galahads with wild west gentillesse in this Technicolored rampage through British history.' – MFB

'He's About To Get Medieval On You.'

Black Knight

US 2001 95m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/New Regency/Runteldat//The Firm (Arnon Milchan, Darryl J. Quarles, Michael Green, Paul Schiff)

A worker in a medieval theme park is transported back to the Middle Ages.
A sort of hip hop version of Mark Twain's venerable story of a modern man taken back in time that brings an occasional smile, though Martin Lawrence's humour does not travel well.
w Darryl J. Quarles, Peter Gaulke, Gerry Swallow d Gil Junger ph Ueli Steiger m Randy Edelman pd Leslie Dilley ed Michael R. Miller
☆ Martin Lawrence (Jamal Walker), Marsha Thomason (Victoria), Tom Wilkinson (Sir Knolte), Vincent Regan (Sir Percival), Kevin Conway (King Leo), Jeannette Weegar (Princess Regina), Daryl Mitchell (Steve), Michael Burgess (Ernie)
'Mildly amusing in fits and starts, playing the fish-out-of-water setup for easy, predictable laughs.' – Joe Leydon, Variety

'Unmasking America's brotherhood of butchery!'

Black Legion ★★

US 1937 83m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)

A factory worker becomes involved with the Ku Klux Klan.
Social melodrama typical of its studio, and good of its kind.
w Robert Lord, Abem Finkel, William Wister Haines d Archie Mayo ph George Barnes ☆ Humphrey Bogart, Erin O'Brien Moore, Dick Foran, Ann Sheridan, Robert Barrat, John Litel, Charles Halton
'Powerful story of the horror spread by the hooded order; Surefire man's picture.' – Variety
'An honest job of film work, and one of the most direct social pieces released from Hollywood.' – Otis Ferguson
Robert Lord (original story)

Black Limelight ★

GB 1938 70m bw
ABPC (Walter C. Mycroft)

The wife of a man convicted of killing his mistress proves that a 'moon murderer' did it.
Naïve but effective little chiller.
w Dudley Leslie, Walter Summers play Gordon Sherry d Paul Stein ph Claude Friese-Greene ad Cedric Dawe
☆ Raymond Massey, Joan Marion, Walter Hudd, Henry Oscar, Coral Browne

Black Lucia: see The Premonition

'The biggest picture in ten years! The greatest cavalcade of intrigue, spectacle, adventure and excitement you'll ever see on the screen'

Black Magic ★

US 1949 105m bw
Edward Small (Gregory Ratoff)

Cagliostro the magician becomes involved in a plot to supply a double for Marie Antoinette.
Deliriously complicated historical romp which unfortunately suffers from a stolid script and production which kill all the flights of fancy.
w Charles Bennett d Gregory Ratoff ph Ubaldo Arata, Anchise Brizzi m Paul Sawtell ☆ Orson Welles, Nancy Guild, Akim Tamiroff, Valentina Cortese, Margot Grahame, Charles Goldner, Frank Latimore, Stephen Bekassy
'At times a grotesque, and at others a melancholy spectacle; including one scene of humiliating burlesque at the expense of physical disability that is as vile as anything I have witnessed in a cinema. But on the whole, absurdity predominates, and one must grin if one is to bear it. Whether Mr Welles deliberately enhanced the joke by adding bad acting to bad material is between him and his own soul.' – C. A. Lejeune

Black Mama, White Mama

US 1972 85m Movielab
New Realm/Four Associates (Eddie Romero, John Ashley)

aka: Hot, Hard and Mean

In Latin America, a black prostitute and a white guerrilla leader escape from a women's prison chained together.
Cheap and uninteresting exploitation movie, much in the manner of The Hot Box (qv), from the same writers.
w H. R. Christian story Jonathan Demme, Joseph Viola d Eddie Romero ph Justo Paulino m Harry Betts ad berto Formoso ed Asagni V. Pastor
☆ Pam Grier, Margaret Markov, Sid Haig, Lynn Borden, Zaldy Zshornack, Laurie Burton
'Despite Eddie Romero's years of experience in filming in the Philippines, the location possibilities are consistently thrown away; and no one has made any attempt to integrate the crude sexploitation sequences.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

The Black Marble

US 1980 113m DeLuxe Panavision
Avco/Frank Capra Jnr

A drunken cop redeems himself when teamed with a policewoman who is less cynical about the work.
Curious cop show with emphasis on child murders and dog torturing. An unhappy film with a garbled message.
w Joseph Wambaugh novel Joseph Wambaugh d Harold Becker ph Owen Roizman m Maurice Jarre
☆ Robert Foxworth, Paula Prentiss, Harry Dean Stanton, Barbara Babcock, John Hancock

Black Mask (dubbed) ★

Hong Kong 1996 96m colour
Film Workshop/Wins Entertainment (Tsui Hark)

original title: Hak Hap

A former member of an elite squad of killers, who have been surgically altered to feel no pain, discovers that his comrades are killing drug dealers in order to take over the trade.
Extravagently absurd and violent martial arts movie, which is often visually inventive, with fights that prefigure some of the action in The Matrix, on which Yuen Wo-Ping also worked.
w Tsui Hark, Koan Hui, Teddy Chen, Joe Ma d Daniel Lee ph Cheung Tung Leung m Teddy Robin, Ben Vaughn ad Eddie Ma, Bill Lui ed Cheung Ka Tai, Ettie Feldman martial art director Yeun Wo-Ping ☆ Jet Li, Lau Ching Wan, Karen Mol, Francoise C.J. Yip, Patrick Lung, Anthony Wong

Black Moon Rising

US 1985 100m CFI color
Thorn EMI/New World (Joel B. Michaels, Douglas Curtiss)

An adventurer in the pay of the US government hides much-wanted evidence in the back of a super-high-powered car.
Absurd, almost impenetrable action shenanigans with more than enough violent action.
w John Carpenter, Desmond Nakano, William Gray d Harley Cokliss ph Mischa Suslov m Lalo Schifrin pd Bryan Ryman ed Todd Ramsay
☆ Tommy Lee Jones, Linda Hamilton, Robert Vaughn, Richard Jaeckel, Keenan Wynn

Black Narcissus ★★★

GB 1947 100m Technicolor
GFD/The Archers (Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger)

Anglo-Catholic nuns in the Himalayas have trouble with climate, morale, and one of their number who goes mad with sexual frustration.

An unlikely theme produces one of the cinema's most beautiful films, a visual and emotional stunner despite some narrative uncertainty.
wd Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger novel Rumer Godden ph Jack Cardiff m Brian Easdale pd Alfred Junge ed Reginald Mills cos Hein Heckroth
☆ Deborah Kerr (Sister Clodagh), David Farrar (Mr Dean), Sabu (Young General), Jean Simmons (Kanchi), Kathleen Byron (Sister Ruth), Flora Robson (Sister Philipaa), Esmond Knight (Old General), Jenny Laird (Sister Honey), May Hallatt (Angu Ayah), Judith Furse (Sister Briony), Nancy Roberts (Mother Dorothea), Eddie Whaley Jnr (Joseph Anthony), Shaun Noble (Con)
'An artistic accomplishment of no small proportions.' – New York Times
Jack Cardiff

The Black Orchid ★

US 1958 95m bw Vistavision
Paramount (Carlo Ponti, Marcello Girosi)

A widower incurs hostility from his daughter when he plans to marry a gangster's widow.
Rather solemn New York/Italian romantic melodrama, with much gesticulation all round.
w Joseph Stefano d Martin Ritt
ph Robert Burks m Alessandro Cicognini ☆ Sophia Loren, Anthony Quinn, Ina Balin, Jimmy Baird, Mark Richman

Black Orpheus ★

France/Italy/Brazil 1958 106m
Eastmancolor Cinemascope
Dispatfilm/Gemma/Tupan (Sacha Gordine)

original title: Orfeu Negro
Against a background of the Rio carnival, a black tram driver accidentally kills his girlfriend, and kills himself to be with her.
Rather irritating and noisy attempt to update a legend, without showing very much reason for doing so.
w Vinitius de Moraes d Marcel Camus
ph Jean Bourgoin m Luis Bonfa, Antonio Carlos Jobim ☆ Breno Mello, Marpessa Dawn, Ademar da Silva, Lourdes de Oliviera
best foreign film

Black Patch

US 1957 84m bw
Warner/Montgomery

A marshal is wrongly suspected of murder.
Dour, dark Western, occasionally worth looking at.
w Leo Gordon wd Allen H. Miner ph Edward Colman m Jerry Goldsmith ad Nicolai Remisoff ed Jerry Young ☆ George Montgomery, Diane Brewster, Tom Pittman, Leo Gordon

The Black Pirate ★★★

US 1926 76m approx (24 fps) Technicolor silent
Douglas Fairbanks

A shipwrecked mariner swears revenge on the pirates who blew up his father's ship.
Cheerful swashbuckler with the star in top form.
w Douglas Fairbanks, Jack Cunningham
d Albert Parker ph Henry Sharp ad Oscar Borg, Dwight Franklin ed William Nolan
☆ Douglas Fairbanks (Michel, the Black Pirate), Billie Dove (The Princess), Donald Crisp (McTavish), Sam de Grasse (Lieutenant)
† The Region 1 DVD includes a commentary by film historian Rudy Behlmer.

Black Rain ★

Japan 1988 123m bw
Artificial Eye/Imamura Productions/Hayashibara/Tohokushinsha (Hisa Iino)

original title: Kuroi Ame
Caught in the destruction of Hiroshima, a Japanese family copes with the onset of radiation sickness in the ensuing years.
Intermittently moving, despite its uncertainties of tone.
w Toshiro Ishido, Shohei Imamura novel Masuji Ibuse d Shohei Imamura
ph Takashi Kawamata m Toru Takemitsu ad Hiasao Inagaki ed Hajime Okayasu
☆ Yoshiko Tanaka, Kazuo Kitamura, Etsuko Ichihara, Shoichi Ozawa, Norihei Miki
'When Imamura conjures a string of imagery out of next to nothing, he achieves results as disquieting and resonant as anything he has ever done.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Black Rain

US 1989 125m Technicolor Super 35
UIP/Paramount/Stanley R. Jaffe, Sherry Lansing

A rebellious and corrupt New York cop tracks down an escaped killer in Tokyo.
Effective thriller, though many may find unappetising its theme of redemption through revenge and violence.
w Craig Bolotin, Warren Lewis d Ridley Scott ph Jan de Bont m Hans Zimmer pd Norris Spencer ad John J. Moore, Herman F. Zimmerman, Kazuo Takenaka
ed Tom Rolf
☆ Michael Douglas, Andy Garcia, Ken Takakura, Kate Capshaw, Yusaku Matsuda, Shigeru Koyama, John Spencer

Black Rainbow

GB 1989 103m colour
Palace/Goldcrest (John Quested, Geoffrey Helman)

A medium foretells the violent death of members of her audience, including her father.
Unconvincing story of the supernatural.
wd Mike Hodges ph Gerry Fisher m John Scott pd Voytek ad Patty Klawonn
ed Malcolm Cooke
☆ Rosanna Arquette, Jason Robards, Tom Hulce, Mark Joy, Ron Rosenthal, John Bennes, Linda Pierce

The Black Rider

GB 1954 66m bw
Butcher's/Balblair (A. R. Rawlinson)

A journalist investigating the legend of a haunted castle exposes a gang of foreign saboteurs.
Plodding thriller that begins promisingly, but soon settles for genteel tedium.
w A. R. Rawlinson d Wolf Rilla
ph Geoffrey Faithfull m Wilfred Burns
ad John Stoll ed John Trumper
☆ Jimmy Hanley, Rona Anderson, Leslie Dwyer, Lionel Jeffries, Beatrice Varley, Michael Golden, Valerie Hanson, Vincent Ball, Edwin Richfield, Kenneth Connor, Robert Rietty

Black Robe ★★★

Canada/Australia 1991 100m
Eastmancolor
Samuel Goldwyn/Alliance/Samson/Telefilm Canada (Robert Lantos, Stephane Reichel, Sue Milliken)

In the 17th century, a Jesuit priest travels through Quebec to convert the Indians.
Tough-minded, compassionate, excellently acted account of inadvertent tragedy.
w Brian Moore novel Brian Moore d Bruce Beresford ph Peter James m Georges Delerue pd Herbert Pinter
ad Gavin Mitchell ed Tim Wellburn
☆ Lothaire Bluteau (Father Laforgue), Aden Young (Daniel), Sandrine Holt (Annuka), August Schellenberg (Chomina), Tantoo Cardinal (Chomina's Wife), Frank Wilson (Father Jerome)
'A magnificently staged combination of top talents delivering a gripping and tragic story.' – Variety
'An adventure story in the truest sense: the filmmakers lead us into unknown territory, and keep pushing us farther and farther on, until, by the end, we find ourselves deep in the wilderness of the seventeenth-century consciousness.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker

The Black Room ★

US 1935 70m bw
Columbia

A nobleman's power is claimed by his evil twin brother.
Rather splendid old barnstormer with touches of horror, a neatly produced star vehicle.
w Henry Myers, from the writings of Arthur Strawn d Roy William Neill ph Al Siegler ☆ Boris Karloff, Marian Marsh, Katherine de Mille, Thurston Hall
'Eerie affair, dull and destined for negative results. Its best qualities are scenic investiture and photography, which do not excite dollars to elope from people's pokes.' – Variety
'Mrs Radcliffe would not have been ashamed of this wild and exciting film, of the bones in the oubliette, the scene at the altar when the dog leaps and the paralysed arm comes to life in self-defence, of the Count's wild drive back to the castle, of the rearing horses, the rocketing coach, the strange valley of rocks with its leaning cross and neglected Christ, the graveyard with its owls and ivy.' – Graham Greene

The Black Rose ★

GB 1950 120m Technicolor
TCF (Louis D. Lighton)

A 13th-century English scholar journeys to the land of the Mongols, and after many adventures returns to a knighthood for his scientific discoveries.
Portentous and slow-moving adventure with good things along the way.
w Talbot Jennings novel Thomas B. Costain d Henry Hathaway ph Jack Cardiff m Richard Addinsell ad Paul Sheriff ☆ Tyrone Power, Orson Welles, Cecile Aubry, Jack Hawkins, Finlay Currie, Henry Oscar, Michael Rennie

'This is the night of the nightmare ... when a headless corpse rides the cold night wind, when a woman's soul inhabits the body of a buzzing fly.'

Black Sabbath

Italy 1963 99m Pathécolor
American International

Three supernatural stories introduced by Boris Karloff. The Drop of Water (Jacqueline Pierreux); The Telephone (Michele Mercier); The Wurdelak (Boris Karloff, Mark Damon).
Tolerable horror portmanteau.
stories Anton Chekhov, Howard Snyder, Leo Tolstoy d Mario Bava

'The management reserves the right to put up the lights any time the audience becomes too emotionally disturbed. We urge you not to panic or bolt from your seats.'
'From the earth's depths comes the deadliest sting of all!'

The Black Scorpion

US 1957 88m bw
Warner (Frank Melford, Jack Dietz)

Volcanic explosions uncover a nest of prehistoric giant scorpions near a Mexican village.
Apart from a genuinely terrifying sequence in the scorpion's lair, this is a poor monster movie in which excessively dark photography seems intended to cover up very variable trick work.
w David Duncan, Robert Blees d Edward Ludwig ph Lionel Lindon m Paul Sawtell sp Willis O'Brien
☆ Richard Denning, Mara Corday, Carlos Rivas, Mario Navarro

Black Shack Alley: see Rue Cases Nègres

'He's Bad...He's Mean...He's A Lovin' Machine!'

Black Shampoo

US 1975 83m Movielab
Transit/World Amusement (Alvin L. Fast)

A hairdresser fights back when a rival sends thugs to wreck his salon.
Presumably intended as an attempt to cash in on the success of Shampoo (qv), it develops instead into a dull gangster movie; or maybe it was always a dull gangster movie, and was given a catch-penny title.
w Alvin L. Fast, Greydon Clark d Greydon Clark ph Dean Cundey, Michael J. Mileham m Gerald Lee ed Earl Watson Jnr
☆ John Daniels, Tanya Boyd, Joe Ortiz, Skip Lowe, Gary Allen, Bruce Kerley, Jack Mehoff
'Script and performances are strictly make-and-mend; the direction, which contrives several flashily irrelevant optical effects, and finally sacrifices all for a blood bath involving a fashionable chain-saw, is audacious.' – David McGillivray, MFB

'There's one in every family.'

Black Sheep

US 1996 87m DeLuxe
Paramount (Lorne Michaels)

A politician's aide is detailed to see that the candidate's accident-prone brother stays out of trouble.
Crass and coarse comedy, relying for laughs on uninspired slapstick.
w Fred Wolf d Penelope Spheeris ph Daryn Okada m William Ross
pd Peter Jamison ed Ross Albert
☆ Chris Farley, David Spade, Tim Matheson, Christine Ebersole, Gary Busey, Grant Heslov, Timothy Carhart
'Not only is the film sickeningly unfunny, it is crassly sentimental and predictable as well.' – James Cameron-Wilson, Film Review

The Black Sheep of Whitehall*

GB 1941 80m bw
Ealing (S. C. Balcon)

An incompetent teacher is mistaken for an

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

economics expert and saves the real expert from spies who run a nursing home.
Pretty good wartime star comedy, with a succession of briskly timed gags.
w Angus Macphail, John Dighton d Basil Dearden, Will Hay ph Gunther Krampf ☆ Will Hay, John Mills, Basil Sydney, Frank Cellier, Felix Aylmer

The Black Shield of Falworth *

US 1954 99m Technicolor Cinemascope
U-I (Robert Arthur, Melville Tucker)

The son of a disgraced knight prevents an attempt against the throne of King Henry IV.
An amiable romp which alternates between comic strip dialogue and a surprisingly convincing sense of medieval custom. The training scenes are as sharp as the romantic asides are pallid.
w Oscar Brodney novel Men of Iron by Howard Pyle d Rudolph Maté ph Irving Glassberg m Herman Stein, Hans Salter md Joseph Gershenson ad Alexander Golitzen, Richard H. Riedel ed Ted J. Kent cos Rosemary Odell
☆ Tony Curtis (Myles Falworth), Janet Leigh (Lady Anne), David Farrar (Earl of Alban), Barbara Rush (Meg Falworth), Herbert Marshall (Earl of Mackworth), Rhys Williams (Diccon Bowman), Daniel O'Herlihy (Prince Hal), Torin Thatcher (Sir James), Ian Keith (Henry IV), Patrick O'Neal (Walter Blunt), Craig Hill (Francis Gascoyne)

'A straightforward piece of hokum with no pretensions, and spoken in a variety of accents that only Hollywood could muster.' – John Gillett

'A horror horde of monster mutants walk the earth!'

The Black Sleep

US 1956 81m bw
UA/Bel Air (Howard W. Koch)

A Victorian brain surgeon experiments on human beings and produces freaks who eventually turn on him.
Gruesome and humourless horror film notable only for its gallery of wasted talent.
w John C. Higgins d Reginald Le Borg ph Gordon Avil m Les Baxter ☆ Basil Rathbone, Bela Lugosi, Lon Chaney Jnr, John Carradine, Akim Tamiroff, Tor Johnson, Herbert Rudley, Patricia Blake

'Everything is hotter down south.'

Black Snake Moan (6)

US 2007 115m
Paramount/New Deal/Southern Cross the Dog (Stephanie Allain, John Singleton)

A blues singer chains the town tramp to his radiator to make her see the error of her ways.
Twisted Gothic fable with a weirdly moralistic core; the fearless performances save it, just.
wd Craig Brewer ph Amy Vincent
m Scott Bomar pd Keith Brian Burns ad Liba Daniels ed Billy Fox
☆ Samuel L Jackson (Lazarus), Christina Ricci (Rae), Justin Timberlake (Ronnie), S. Epatha Merkerson (Angela), John Cothran Jr. (Reverend R.L.), David Banner (Tehronne)

'A shotgun marriage of Baby Doll and Boxing Helena.' – Patrick Z. McGavin, Screen International
'When the music stops, this movie needs a respirator.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone † Christina Ricci wore an actual chain weighing 40 lbs during filming.

The Black Stallion *

US 1980 117m Technicolor
UA/Omni Zoetrope (Fred Ross, Tom Sternberg)

After a 1946 shipwreck, a boy and a stallion are cast up on the African shore; many years later, he rides the horse to victory at Santa Anita.
1980 seems a bit late for boy-and-horse pictures, but this one is so beautifully directed and photographed, if drastically overlong, that most adults thought their children should see it.
w Melissa Mathison, Jeanne Rosenberg, William D. Witliff novel Walter Farley
d Carroll Ballard ph Caleb Deschanel
m Carmine Coppola
☆ Kelly Reno, Mickey Rooney, Teri Garr, Clarence Muse, Hoyt Axton

'A perfect gem – the beautiful craftsmanship alone makes it a joy to behold.' – Variety
Mickey Rooney

The Black Stallion Returns

US 1983 93m Technicolor
MGM-UA/Coppola/Zoetrope (Tom Sternberg)

Rather desperate sequel in which a teenager loses his horse in Morocco and gets him back after various daredevil adventures.
Tame, predictable and boring.
w Richard Kletter, Jerome Kass novel Walter Farley d Robert Dalva ph Carlo DiPalma m Georges Delerue
ad Aurelio Crugnolo ed Paul Hirsch
☆ Kelly Reno, Ferdy Mayne, Woody Strode, Vincent Spano, Allen Goorwitz

'Well-intentioned, but overall it doesn't look like a winner.' – Variety

Black Sunday: see Mask of Satan

'The undead demons of hell terrorize the world!'

Black Sunday

Italy 1960 83m bw
Galatra/Jolly

aka: Mask of the Demon

A beautiful witch is put to death in an iron maiden but rises from the dead to wreak vengeance.
Stylish horror comic which started the Italian cult for such things.
wd Mario Bava story Gogol
☆ Barbara Steele, John Richardson, Ivo Garrani

Black Sunday *

US 1977 143m Movielab Panavision
Paramount (Robert Evans)

The Black September movement threatens a football game to be held in Miami's Superbowl.
Spectacular, heavily detailed, but somehow unexciting disaster melodrama.
w Ernest Lehman, Kenneth Ross, Ivan Moffat novel Thomas Harris d John Frankenheimer ph John A. Alonzo
m John Williams
☆ Robert Shaw, Marthe Keller, Bruce Dern, Fritz Weaver, Steven Keats, Bekim Fehmiu, Michael V. Gazzo, William Daniels, Walter Gotell

'There's only one real motivation for this movie, and that's the desire to make money. Why else would anyone make an ostensibly anti-terrorist film that in actuality could end up promoting terrorism?' – Frank Rich, New York Post

The Black Swan ***

US 1942 85m Technicolor
TCF (Robert Bassler)

Morgan the pirate is made governor of Jamaica and enlists the help of his old friends to rid the Caribbean of buccaneers.
Rousing adventure story with comic asides: just what action hokum always aimed to be, with a spirited gallery of heroes and villains and an entertaining narrative taken at a spanking pace.
w Ben Hecht, Seton I. Miller novel Rafael Sabatini d Henry King ph Leon Shamroy
m Alfred Newman ad James Basevi, Richard Day ed Barbara McLean
☆ Tyrone Power (James Waring), Maureen O'Hara (Margaret Denby), Laird Cregar (Capt. Henry Morgan), Thomas Mitchell (Tommy Blue), George Sanders (Capt. Billy Leech), Anthony Quinn (Wogan), George Zucco (Lord Denby), Edward Ashley (Roger Ingram)

'Performed by actors as though to the hokum born.' – Time
'Battles between sailing ships, realistic sword fights, assaults, abductions, tortures and love making.' – CEA Report
Leon Shamroy
Alfred Newman

The Black Tent

GB 1956 93m Technicolor Vistavision
Rank/William MacQuitty

During a Libyan battle a wounded army captain is cared for by Arabs and marries the sheikh's daughter. Ten years later, after his death, his son elects to live with the tribe.
Pleasantly shot but otherwise dull, formless and interminable romantic drama, all very stiff upper lip.
w Robin Maugham, Bryan Forbes d Brian Desmond Hurst ph Desmond Dickinson
m William Alwyn
☆ Anthony Steel, Donald Sinden, André Morell, Anna Maria Sandri, Ralph Truman, Donald Pleasence, Anthony Bushell, Michael Craig

'What was the deadly power that desired and devoured the women of Fordyke?'

The Black Torment *

GB 1964 85m Eastmancolor
Compton-Tekli (Robert Hartford-Davis)

The second wife of an 18th-century baronet investigates the hauntings which have followed the apparent suicide of his first.
Agreeably unpretentious period ghost story (with a rational explanation). Not exactly good, but better than one might expect.
w Donald and Derek Ford d Robert Hartford-Davis ph Peter Newbrook
m Robert Richards
☆ John Turner, Heather Sears, Ann Lynn, Joseph Tomelty, Peter Arne, Raymond Huntley

Black Tuesday *

US 1954 80m bw
UA/Leonard Goldstein (Robert Goldstein)

A killer escapes from Death Row and hides out with hostages in a disused warehouse.
Starkly melodramatic gangster vehicle with the star up to his oldest tricks. Good tension, but generally rather unpleasant.
w Sydney Boehm d Hugo Fregonese
ph Stanley Cortez m Paul Dunlap
☆ Edward G. Robinson, Jean Parker, Peter Graves, Milburn Stone, Warren Stevens, Jack Kelly, James Bell

'An electrifying drama about a predatory female! All the suspense your system can take!'

Black Widow *

US 1954 95m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Nunnally Johnson)

A Broadway producer is suspected of the murder of an ambitious young girl.
Reasonably classy whodunnit with glamorous settings and an able cast, but a little lacking in wit and pace.
wd Nunnally Johnson novel Fatal Woman by Patrick Quentin ph Charles G. Clarke
m Leigh Harline
☆ Ginger Rogers, Van Heflin, George Raft, Gene Tierney, Peggy Ann Garner, Reginald Gardiner, Virginia Leith, Otto Kruger, Hilda Simms, Cathleen Nesbitt

Black Widow *

US 1987 103m colour
TCF/Laurence Mark (Harold Schneider)

A lady cop tracks down a lady murderer in Hawaii.
Watchable but overlong cop show with nothing very surprising about it once the plot is clear: TV movies have done just as well.
w Ronald Bass d Bob Rafelson ph Conrad Hall m Michael Small
pd Gene Callahan
☆ Debra Winger, Theresa Russell, Sami Frey, Dennis Hopper, Nicol Williamson, Lois Smith

'A moderately interesting tale of one woman's obsession for another's glamorous and criminal lifestyle.' – Daily Variety

The Black Windmill *

GB 1974 106m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/Zanuck-Brown (Don Siegel)

A secret service agent has to fight a lone battle when his young son is kidnapped by spies.
Unconvincing variant on The Man Who Knew Too Much (qv), with an unwieldy and incoherent plot and more borrowings from Hitchcock than you can count. It ends up as fair predictable fun despite its jaded air.
w Leigh Vance novel Seven Days to a Killing by Clive Egleton d Don Siegel
ph Ousama Rawi m Roy Budd
☆ Michael Caine, Janet Suzman, Joseph O'Conor, Donald Pleasence, Delphine Seyrig, John Vernon, Joss Ackland

'A flaccid spy thriller, vaguely reminiscent of Hitchcock and Foreign Correspondent, with direction as blank as the expression on Michael Caine's face throughout.' – Sight and Sound

'At last, a sportsman the British can be proud of...'

Blackball (2)

GB 2003 94m DeLuxe
Icon/Inside Track/IoMFC/Midfield (James Gay-Rees)

A rebellious amateur bowler, who is banned from competing for insulting other players, becomes a celebrity sportsman.
Coarse and unlovely comedy with a worn-out narrative; its two comics, Kaye and Vegas, fail to transfer their humour to the big screen.
w Tim Firth d Mel Smith ph Vernon Layton m Stephen Warbeck pd Grenville Horner ed Christopher Blunden
☆ Paul Kaye (Cliff Starkey), James Cromwell (Ray Speight), Alice Evans (Kerry Speight), Bernard Cribbins (Mutley), Vince Vaughn (Rick Schwartz), Johnny Vegas

(Trevor), Imelda Staunton (Bridget), David Ryall (Giles Wilton)

'Another parochial pile of crap... about as low as it gets.' – Kevin O'Sullivan, Daily Mirror

Blackbeard the Pirate ★

US 1952 99m Technicolor
RKO (Edmund Grainger)

In the 17th century, reformed pirate Sir Henry Morgan is commissioned to rid the Caribbean of the rascally Blackbeard.

A farrago of action clichés with the star giving his eye-rolling all. The romantic element is dreary and the whole a shade bloodthirsty for family fare.

w Alan le May d Raoul Walsh ph William E. Snyder m Victor Young

☆ Robert Newton, Linda Darnell, Keith Andes, William Bendix, Torin Thatcher, Irene Ryan, Alan Mowbray, Richard Egan

Blackbeard's Ghost

US 1967 107m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Walsh)

The famous pirate returns as a ghost to help the old ladies who own a hotel he loved.

Ponderous and lengthy comedy, partially salvaged by performances.

w Bill Walsh, Don Da Gradi d Robert Stevenson ph Edward Colman m Robert F. Brunner

☆ Peter Ustinov, Dean Jones, Suzanne Pleshette, Elsa Lanchester, Richard Deacon

The Blackbird

US 1925 70m (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

A Limehouse thief pretends to be a cripple, and after committing a murder finds that he is.

Standard star vehicle with recollections of several others.

wd Tod Browning ph Percy Hilburn ad Cedric Gibbons, Arnold Gillespie ed Errol Taggart

☆ Lon Chaney, Renee Adoree, Owen Moore, Doris Lloyd

'I'm a teacher. My pupils are the kind you don't turn your back on, even in class!'

The Blackboard Jungle ★

US 1955 101m bw
MGM (Pandro S. Berman)

In a slum school, a teacher finally gains the respect of his class of young hooligans.

Seminal fifties melodrama more notable for its introduction of 'Rock Around the Clock' behind the credits than for any intrinsic interest.

wd Richard Brooks novel Evan Hunter ph Russell Harlan m Bill Haley and the Comets ad Cedric Gibbons, Randall Duell ed Ferris Webster

☆ Glenn Ford, Anne Francis, Louis Calhern, Margaret Hayes, John Hoyt, Richard Kiley, Emile Meyer, Warner Anderson, Basil Ruysdael, Sidney Poitier, Vic Morrow, Rafael Campos

'It could just as well have been the first good film of this kind. Actually, it will be remembered chiefly for its timely production and release.' – G. N. Fenin, Film Culture

Richard Brooks (as writer); Russell Harlan; art direction; editing

Blackboards ★

Iran/Italy/Japan 2000 84m colour
Artificial Eye/Makhmalbaf Film House/Fabrica (Mohsen Makmalbaf, Marco Muller)

original title: Takhte Siah

On the Iraq-Iranian border, two itinerant teachers, each carrying a blackboard, go their separate ways: one follows children being used to smuggle goods, while the other attempts to join a group of elderly refugees.

A film as elusive and allusive as a dream, where the meaning is carried by often ambiguous images: the society depicted is one where knowledge and understanding are rejected as irrelevant to existence.

w Mohsen Makhmalbaf, Samirah Makhmalbaf d Samirah Makhmalbaf ph Ebrahim Ghafori m Monamed Reza Darvishi ed Mohsen Makhmalbaf

☆ Bahman Ghobadi (Reeboir), Said Mohamadi (Said), Behnaz Jafari (Halaleh)

'A bold and provocative look at the plight of refugees and other outsiders struggling to survive on the dangerous Iran-Iraq border.' – David Stratton, Variety

Blackjack: see Captain Blackjack

Blackjack Ketchum, Desperado

US 1956 76m bw
Columbia (Sam Katzman)

A former gunslinger turns sheriff and defeats the local badman.

Standard lower-case Western with predictable excitements.

w Luci Ward, Jack Natteford novel Louis L'Amour d Earl Bellamy

☆ Howard Duff, Victor Jory, Maggie Mahoney, Angela Stevens

'See And Hear It, Our Mother Tongue As It Should Be Spoken.'

Blackmail ★★★

GB 1929 78m bw
BIP (John Maxwell)

A Scotland Yard inspector finds that his girl is involved in a murder; he conceals the fact and is blackmailed.

Hitchcock's first talkie is now a very hesitant entertainment but fully bears the director's stamp and will reward patient audiences in several excitingly staged sequences.

w Alfred Hitchcock, Benn W. Levy, Charles Bennett play Charles Bennett d Alfred Hitchcock ph Jack Cox m Campbell and Connelly, arranged Hubert Bath, Henry Stafford md John Reynders ad Wilfred and Norman Arnold ed Emile de Ruelle

☆ Anny Ondra (Alice White), Sara Allgood (Mrs. White), John Longden (Frank Webber), Charles Paton (Mr. White), Donald Calthrop (Tracy), Cyril Ritchard (The Artist)

'Hitchcock's ending was to have been ironic, the detective seeing the cell door shut on the arrested girl, going home and then being asked if he was going out with his girlfriend that evening. His answer: "Not tonight." This was unacceptable commercially and a happy ending was substituted.' – George Perry

Blackmail

US 1939 81m bw
MGM (John Considine Jnr)

A man is released from prison after serving a sentence for a crime he did not commit. Immediately a blackmailer pounces...

Co-feature drama for a star marking time; not bad in its way.

w David Hertz, William Ludwig d H. C. Potter ph Clyde de Vinna m David Snell, Edward Ward

☆ Edward G. Robinson, Ruth Hussey, Gene Lockhart, Guinn Williams, Esther Dale

'The family circuit will accept it as sufficient entertainment for a suspenseful evening.' – Variety

Blackmailed

GB 1950 85m bw
GFD/Harold Huth

Several victims of a blackmailer are involved in his murder.

Interestingly plotted and well cast melodrama which suffers from a flat script and production.

w Hugh Mills, Roger Vadim novel Mrs Christopher by Elizabeth Myers d Marc Allégret ph George Stretton m John Wooldridge

☆ Dirk Bogarde, Mai Zetterling, Fay Compton, Robert Flemyng, Michael Gough, James Robertson Justice, Joan Rice, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Harold Huth

Blackout: see Contraband (1940)

'Sex+Drugs+Alcohol+'

The Blackout

US 1997 94m Technicolor
Feature/Films Number One/CIPA/MDP (Edward R. Pressman, Clayton Townsend)

A self-destructive Hollywood star hastens along the primrose path before deciding to clean up his act.

Drearily self-indulgent stuff, in which the only pleasure is the cruel one of watching its actors slowly drown in its pretensions.

w Marla Hanson, Chris Zois, Abel Ferrara d Abel Ferrara ph Ken Kelsch m Joe Delia pd Richard Hoover ed Anthony Redman

☆ Matthew Modine, Claudia Schiffer, Dennis Hopper, Béatrice Dalle, Sarah Lassez

'It's doubtful that even Ferrara's hard-core fans will like this sleazy, borderline exploitation movie that is burdened by psychological and therapeutic concerns.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

'Imbecilic piffle.' – Empire

Blackwell's Island

US 1939 71m bw
Warner (Bryan Foy)

A reporter goes to jail to get the goods on a smart gangster.

Forgettable exposé of the lighter kind.

w Crane Wilbur d William McGann ph Sid Hickox

☆ John Garfield, Rosemary Lane, Dick Purcell, Victor Jory, Stanley Fields

'An exploitation natural ... a portrayal of incredible events taken from real life.' – Variety

Blacula

US 1972 93m Movielab
AIP (Joseph T. Naar)

In 1815 in Transylvania, an African prince falls victim to Dracula. A hundred and fifty years later, his body is shipped to Los Angeles and accidentally revivified.

Jaded semi-spoof notable chiefly as the first black horror film. The star's performance is as stately as could be wished in the circumstances.

w Joan Torres, Raymond Koenig d William Crain ph John Stevens m Gene Page

☆ William Marshall, Vonetta McGee, Denise Nicholas, Gordon Pinsent, Charles Macaulay

The Blade ★

Hong Kong 1995 104m colour
Golden Harvest/Film Workshop/Paragon (Tsui Hark)

original title: Dou

An orphaned sword-maker goes to revenge the death of his father at the hands of a tatooed savage, but first he must overcome the obstacle of losing his forearm in a mantrap.

A remake of The One-Armed Swordsman, notable for abandoning the usual graceful martial arts choreography for a much more expressionistic style, using quick cutting, red and blue filters, handheld cameras and expressive sound to achieve a more visceral and brutal approach.

w Tsui Hark, So Man-Sing, Koan Hui d Tsui Hark ph Keung Kwok-Man m Wu Wai-Lap, Raymond Wong Ying-Wa pd William Chang, Yau Wai-Ming, Bill Lui ed Tsui Hark, Kam Ma

☆ Wing Zhao (Ding On), Xiong Xin-Xin (Falcon), Su Tsui-Yu (Siu Ling), Moses Chan (Ti Tau), Wai Tin-Chi (Master), Valerie Chow Ka-Ling (Whore), Chung Bik-Ha (Orphan), Chan Wing-Chung (Eye Patch), Ngai Sing (Fast Saber)

'The power of an immortal. The soul of a human. The heart of a hero.'

Blade ★

US 1998 121m colour 'Scope
New Line/Amen Ra/Imaginary Forces (Peter Frankfurt, Wesley Snipes, Robert Engleman)

A half-human, half-vampire hero battles to prevent vampires from ruling the world.

Comic-book hokum done with some style and a great deal of noisy action; its nonsense is taken more seriously than it deserves.

w David S. Goyer characters created by Marv Wolfman, Gene Colan d Stephen Norrington ph Theo Van de Sande m Mark Isham pd Kirk M. Petruccelli ed Paul Rubell sp make-up fx: Greg Cannom

☆ Wesley Snipes, Stephen Dorff, Kris Kristofferson, N'Bushe Wright, Donal Logue, Udo Kier, Arly Jover, Traci Lords, Kevin Patrick Walls, Tim Guinee, Sanaa Lathan, Eric Edwards

'Though slick and diverting in some aspects, increasingly silly pic has trouble meshing disparate elements – horror, superhero fantasy, straight-up action – into a workable whole.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety

'One Man Still Has The Edge.'

Blade II ★

US/Germany 2002 117m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New LineAmen RaImaginary Forces (Peter Frankfurt, Wesley Snipes, Patrick Palmer)

Blade, a half-human, half vampire hero, joins with hia old enemies in a battle against a new breed of vampire.

Slickly directed mayhem, full of loud and fast-paced action that gives little time to contemplate the ridiculousness of it all.

w David S. Goyer based on the Marvel Comics character created by Marv Wolfman, Gene Colan d Guillermo del Toro ph Gabriel Beristain m Marco Beltrami, Danny Saber pd Carol Spier ed Peter Amundson

☆ Wesley Snipes (Blade), Kris Kristofferson (Whistler), Ron Perlman (Reinhardt),

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Leonor Varela (Nyssa), Norman Reedus (Scud), Thomas Kretschmann (Damaskinos), Luke Goss (Nomak), Donnie Yen (Snowman)

'Enjoyable tosh.' – Sunday Times

'The new film seems equally influenced by videogames and open-heart surgery.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

'A chilling, bold, mesmerizing, futuristic detective thriller.'

Blade Runner ★★★

US 1982 117m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Ladd/Blade Runner Partnership (Michael Deeley, Ridley Scott)

Los Angeles, AD 2019; a licensed-to-kill policeman tracks down and destroys a group of intelligent robots who have hijacked a space shuttle and returned to Earth.

A cult film par excellence, and notable for its exceptional production design of a future Los Angeles, which has become a mix of high tech buildings surrounded by seedy street life under lowering clouds and incessant acid rain.

w Hampton Fancher, David Peoples novel Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep? by Philip K. Dick d Ridley Scott ph Jordan Cronenweth m Vangelis pd Lawrence G. Paull ad David L. Snyder ed Terry Rawlings

☆ Harrison Ford (Rick Deckard), Rutger Hauer (Roy Batty), Sean Young (Rachael), Edward James Olmos (Gaff), M. Emmet Walsh (Bryant), Daryl Hannah (Pris)

'The sets are indeed impressive, but they are no compensation for a narrative so lame that it seems in need of a wheelchair.' – Tom Milne, MFB

'A richly detailed and visually overwhelming trip to 2019 which sticks with you like a recurrent nightmare.' – Sunday Times

'A massive assault on the senses which seems to have been launched from a madhouse equipped with all computerized mod cons.' – Daily Mail

'Glitteringly and atmospherically designed; but ultimately mechanics win out over philosophizing.' – Sight and Sound

† Ridley Scott's original cut of the film, which dispenses for the most part with the voice-over narration and has a different ending, was shown to general critical approval in 1991 and also released on video and DVD.

art direction; visual effects (Douglas Trumbull, Richard Yuricich, David Dryer)
Jordan Cronenweth; Lawrence G. Paull

'The final hunt begins.'

Blade Trinity

US 2004 113m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New Line/Amen Ra/Imaginary Forces (Peter Frankfurt, Wesley Snipes, David S. Goyer, Lynn Harris)

Vampire hunters join with a man who is half vampire to prevent the resurrection of Dracula.

Just another blood-sucking vigilante movie with a high body count and a low level of invention.

wd David S. Goyer Marvel Comics characters created by Marv Wolfman, Gene Colman ph Gabriel Beristain m Ramin Djawadi & The RZA pd Chris Gorak ed Howard E. Smith, Conrad Smart

☆ Wesley Snipes (Blade), Kris Kristofferson (Abraham), Jessica Biel (Abigail Whistler), Ryan Reynolds (Hannibal King), Parker Posey (Danica Talos), James Remar (Cumberland), Eric Bogosian (Bentley Tittle), Dominic Purcell (Drake)

'The violence is relentless, bone-crushing, gleeful, self-righteous. The film-makers' indifference to the staggering body count of irredeemably evil foes and innocent bystanders reflects the way so many Americans have failed to be troubled over the local dead in Iraq.' – Phiiip French, Observer

'Kick some ice.'

Blades of Glory ★★ (7)

US 2007 93m
Paramount/DreamWorks/Red Hour/Smart Entertainment (Ben Stiller, Stuart Cornfeld, John Jacobs)

Two male ice-skaters, banned after brawling at a championship, team up as a duo.

A goofy premise, which this odd couple (Ferrell a strutting tattooed sex addict, Heder a fey, squeaky-clean orphan) exploit to the full. The film betrays its affection for ice-skating, while not shying away from its absurdities. Laughs arrive regularly, some of them surprisingly dark. The leads are almost upstaged by Will Arnett and Amy Poehler as a creepy pair of skating siblings with jaw-droppingly tasteless routines – one involving John F. Kennedy, Marilyn Monroe and sleeping pills. Overall the casual air masks real comic expertise.

w Jeff Cox, Craig Cox, John Altschuler, Dave Krinsky d Will Speck, Josh Gordon ph Stefan Czapsky m Theodore Shapiro pd Stepohen Lineweaver ed Richard Pearson

☆ Will Ferrell (Chazz Michael Michaels), Jon Heder (Jimmy MacElroy), Will Arnett (Stranz Van Waldenberg), Amy Poehler (Fairchild Van Waldenberg), William Fichtner (Darren MacElroy), Jenna Fischer (Katie), Craig T. Nelson (Coach)

JIMMY: "Spandex, glitter and egos....it's the only place that life makes sense."

'I can't remember a time when I have laughed so long and hard at a decapitation gag.' – Wendy Ide, Times

'Almost as a good as a spoof devised by Christopher Guest's gang.' – Philip French, Observer

The Blair Witch Project ★★★

US 1998 81m bw/colour
Pathé/Haxan (Gregg Hale, Robin Cowie)

Three students set out to film a documentary about a local legend of a witch; they are never heard of again, but the footage they shot is found a year later.

A extraordinary box-office success, this looks and sounds like the amateur movie it's meant to be, yet somehow, with its horrors never quite seen, scared audiences the world over, so well-faked was its feeling of reality.

wd Daniel Myrick, Eduardo Sanchez ph Neal Fredericks ad Ricardo R. Moreno ed Daniel Myrick, Eduardo Sanchez

☆ Heather Donahue, Michael Williams, Joshua Leonard, Bob Griffith (Short Fisherman), Jim King (Interviewee), Sandra Sanchez (Waitress (as Sandra Sanchez)), Ed Swanson (Fisherman With Glasses), Patricia Decou (Mary Brown)

'An intensely imaginative piece of conceptual filmmaking that also delivers the goods as a dread-drenched horror movie.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'The sort of film that gets its best effects by creeping up on you unawares and whispering scary things in the dark.' – Kim Newman, Empire

† The film's three actors were shown how to use a video and a 16mm camera and then sent out into the woods for eight days, with the directors leaving messages for them at pre-established points. Within these limits, the film was improvised, with the cast not knowing what would happen next.

†† The original film was made at a cost of $25,000, though more was spent later on improving its quality. It took more than $140.5m at the US box-office, making it probably the most profitable film so far released.

††† It was followed by a sequel: Book of Shadows: Blair Witch 2.

'She's the hottest thing on the beach. She's also his best friend's daughter!'

Blame It on Rio

US 1983 100m Metrocolor
Sherwood (Stanley Donen)

A businessman is enlisted by his best friend to find his daughter's seducer, who is in fact himself.

Totally joyless and witless comedy with a South American background which is supposedly presumed to take away the bad taste.

w Charlie Peters, Larry Gelbart, from Claude Berri's 1977 film Un Moment d'Egarement d Stanley Donen ph Reynaldo Villalobos md Ken Wannberg

☆ Michael Caine, Joseph Bologna, Valerie Harper, Michelle Johnson, Demi Moore

'Murder, mistresses, madness and mayhem ... It's all part of the service.'

Blame It on the Bellboy

GB 1992 78m Technicolor
Warner/Bellboy/Hollywood Pictures (Jennifer Howarth)

At a hotel in Venice, a bellboy confuses the identities of a hitman, a timid estate agent and a mayor who has arranged a romantic assignation.

Tired and tepid farce, given the performances it deserves.

wd Mark Herman ph Andrew Dunn md Guy Dagel pd Gemma Jackson ed Mike Ellis

☆ Dudley Moore, Bryan Brown, Richard Griffiths, Andreas Katsulas, Patsy Kensit, Alison Steadman, Penelope Wilton, Bronson Pinchot, Lindsay Anderson

'A lightweight ensemble comedy that should check out fast from most hospices. Ingenious plotting is let down by weak dialog and stop-go direction that largely squanders the talent involved.' – Variety

Blame It on the Night

US 1984 85m Technicolor
Tri-Star (Gene Taft)

A rock star tries to make friends with the 13-year-old son he's only just met.

Resolutely uninteresting pattern play which slouches its way to a predictable ending.

w Len Jenkin d Gene Taft ph Alex Phillips m Ted Whitfield pd Ted Haworth ed Tony Lombardo

☆ Nick Mancuso, Byron Thames, Leslie Ackerman, Dick Bakalyan

Blanche ★

France 1971 92m Eastmancolor
Telepresse/Abel et Charton (Dominique Duvergé, Philippe d'Argila)

In 13th-century France, a baron's beautiful young wife excites dark passions in her stepson and in the king.

An adult fairy tale full of symbols for those who seek them; but its main virtue is its highly decorative pictorialism.

wd Walerian Borowczyk novel Mazepa by Juliusz Slowacki ph Guy Durban m 13th-century music

☆ Ligia Branice, Michel Simon, Lawrence Trimble, Jacques Perrin

'Live-action Jeux des Anges, a brilliant, terrifying ballad of imprisonment.' – Philip Strick, MFB

Blanche Fury

GB 1948 95m Technicolor
GFD/Cineguild (Anthony Havelock-Allan)

A governess marries a wealthy heir, then with a steward connives at his murder.

Chilly Victorian melodrama without much interest outside the decor: the actors have unplayable roles and the handling is very flat.

w Audrey Erskine Lindop, Hugh Mills, Cecil McGivern novel Joseph Shearing d Marc Allégret ph Guy Green, Geoffrey Unsworth m Clifton Parker

☆ Valerie Hobson, Stewart Granger, Walter Fitzgerald, Michael Gough, Maurice Denham, Sybilla Binder

'This is all about murder, mayhem and seduction among the Furys in 1860. Our interest in them is not enhanced by the necessity of watching Miss Hobson pose against fulsome backgrounds for long stretches, though she is very beautifully coloured and they are very beautifully decorated.' – Richard Winnington

'He knew what to do with a million dollars.'
'Every kid's dream ... every parent's nightmare!'

Blank Check

US 1994 93m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Walt Disney (Craig Baumgarten, Gary Adelson)

GB title: Blank Cheque

An 11-year-old boy is mistakenly given a blank cheque by a crook and cashes it for one million dollars.

A greed-is-good movie for young teens.

w Blake Snyder, Colby Carr d Rupert Wainwright ph Bill Pope m Nicholas Pike pd Nelson Coates ed Hubert C. de La Bouillerie, Jill Savitt

☆ Brian Bonsall, Karen Duffy, Miguel Ferrer, James Rebhorn, Tone Loc, Rick Ducommun, Jayne Atkinson, Debbie Allen, Michael Lerner

'Charmless tripe.' – Film Review

Blankman

US 1994 92m Technicolor
Columbia/Wife'N'Kids (Eric L. Gold, C. O. Erickson)

An inventor, worried by the amount of crime in his neighbourhood, makes himself a cloak out of his grandmother's housecoat and becomes a masked avenger of evil.

Rough slapstick parody of Superman and Batman (qqv) that manages high spirits but not much actual humour; its likely audience is the young.

w Damon Wayans, J. F. Lawton d Mike Binder ph Tom Sigel m Miles Goodman pd James Spencer ed Adam Weiss

☆ Damon Wayans, David Alan Grier, Robin Givens, Christopher Lawford, Lynne Thigpen, Jon Polito, Jason Alexander

'Young viewers will rejoice at a comic-book fable that celebrates a self-appointed neighborhood crime fighter in the "Superman" mold. Adults, however, may find the film too goofy, too loud and vastly uneven in humor and execution.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

Blast from the Past ★

US 1999 111m colour 'Scope
New Line/Midnight Sun (Renny Harlin, Hugh Wilson)

A family emerges from a nuclear fallout shelter after 35 years.
Amiable comedy of a culture clash, with Fraser perfecting his standard role as an innocent exposed to experience.
w Bill Kelly, Hugh Wilson d Hugh Wilson ph Jose Luis Alcaine m Steve Dorff
pd Robert Ziembicki ed Don Brochu
☆ Brendan Fraser, Alicia Silverstone, Christopher Walken, Sissy Spacek, Dave Foley, Joey Slotnick, Dale Raoul

'Expends scant imagination or style on a fun premise that seems an open invitation to both.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety

Blast Off: see Jules Verne's Rocket to the Moon

Blaze ★

US 1989 117m DuArt
Warner/Touchstone/Silver Screen Partners IV/A&M (Gil Friesen, Dale Pollock)

Earl Long, the governor of Louisiana, enjoys an affair with a stripper.
Warmed-over political scandal from the 1950s.
w Ron Shelton book Blaze Starr by Blaze Starr, Huey Perry d Ron Shelton ph Haskell Wexler m Bennie Wallace pd Armin Ganz ad Edward Richardson
ed Robert Leighton, Adam Weiss
☆ Paul Newman, Lolita Davidovich, Jerry Hardin, Gailard Sartain, Jeffrey DeMunn, Garland Bunting

'The combination of sex and political intrigue would probably be enough to make Blaze a winner, but Shelton's characteristically quirky perspective and surreal ear for dialogue propels the film into a higher league.' – MFB
best cinematography

'She kept her love for one – by sharing it with all!'

Blaze of Noon

US 1947 91m bw
Paramount (John Farrow)

Three stunt-flyer brothers in the 20s leave their circus to start a commercial airline.
Predictable romantic drama with little flying: tragic pretensions, routine performances.
w Frank Wead, Arthur Sheekman d John Farrow ph William C. Mellor m Adolph Deutsch
☆ William Holden, Anne Baxter, Sonny Tufts, Sterling Hayden, William Bendix, Howard da Silva

'So long as it sticks to stunt flying and mild comedy it is pleasant enough, but the last half, during which the obsessed brothers come one by one to grief and the little woman waits it out, gets pretty monotonous.' – James Agee

Blazing Magnum

Canada 1976 99m colour Panavision
Security Investment Trust Inc

A tough cop solves his sister's murder.
Tired rehash of the Dirty Harry formula, with plenty of violent action.
w Vincent Mann, Frank Clark d Martin Herbert ☆ Stuart Whitman, John Saxon, Martin Landau, Tisa Farrow, Gayle Hunnicutt, Carole Laure

'The stunts are well-managed and staged; the script, performances and direction make it unlikely that any viewer will care who survives them.' – Scott Meek, MFB

Blazing Saddles ★

US 1974 93m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Crossbow (Michael Herzberg)

A black railroad worker and an alcoholic ex-gunfighter foil a crooked attorney and his henchmen.
Wild Western parody in which the action eventually shifts to the Warner backlot, after which the actors repair to Grauman's Chinese Theater to find out what happened at the end of the story. At least as many misses as hits, and all aimed squarely at film buffs.
w Norman Steinberg, Mel Brooks, Andrew Bergman, Richard Pryor, Alan Unger d Mel Brooks ph Joseph Biroc m John Morris ☆ Cleavon Little, Gene Wilder, Slim Pickens, Harvey Korman, Madeline Kahn, Mel Brooks, Burton Gilliam, Alex Karras

'One suspects that the film's gradual disintegration derives not from the makers' inability to end it, so much as from their inability to stop laughing at their own jokes.' – Jan Dawson
'A surfeit of chaos and a scarcity of comedy.' – Judith Crist
'"I just about got everything out of me," said Brooks, "all my furor, my frenzy, my insanity, my love of life and hatred of death." Audiences flocked to this insane affirmation of dancing girls, Hollywood production numbers, stomach gas around the campfire, and gallows humor. Brooks had found the perfect vehicle for the age.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies
Madeline Kahn; title song (m John Morris, ly Mel Brooks)

Bleak Moments ★

GB 1971 110m Eastmancolor
Autumn/Memorial/BFI (Leslie Blair)

Scenes from drab lives in a south London suburb.
Clearly not likely to appeal to the entertainment-seeking masses, and undeniably overlong, this small movie nevertheless has plenty of telling and even amusing detail about life as most of us recognize it.
wd Mike Leigh ph Bahram Manoochehri songs: Mike Bradwell
☆ Anne Raitt, Sarah Stephenson, Eric Allan, Mike Bradwell

'A prolonged poem to inhibitions, speechlessness, and social unease.' – John Coleman, New Statesman

Die Blechtrommel: see The Tin Drum

Bleeder ★★

Denmark 1999 97m colour
Metrodome/Kamikaze/Scanbox/TV2/Zentropa/Tempo (Henrik Danstrup, Thomas Falck, Nicolas Winding Refn)

In Copenhagen, an evening watching B movies turns nasty for a video-shop worker, his abusive friend, his friend's pregnant girlfriend and her violent, criminal brother.
Disturbing drama of urban life at its lower levels among the inarticulate, dispossessed and plain nasty.
wd Nicolas Winding Refn ph Morten Syborg m Peter Peter pd Peter De Neergaard ed Anne Osterud
☆ Kim Bodnia (Leo), Mads Mikkelsen (Lenny), Rikke Louise Andersson (Louise), Liv Corfixen (Lea), Levino Jensen (Louis), Zlatko Buric (Kitjo), Claus Flygare (Joe), Ole Abildgaard (Video shop customer)

'A hard-boiled slice of Danish menace, and an extremely playful and unsettling account of cinema violence.' – James Christopher, Times

Die Bleierne Zeit: see The German Sisters

Bless the Beasts and Children ★

US 1971 110m colour
Columbia/Stanley Kramer

Six boys on an adventure holiday try to free a herd of buffalo earmarked for destruction.
Rather obviously pointed melodrama, well enough done but not very interesting.
w Mac Benoff novel Glendon Swarthout
d Stanley Kramer
☆ Bill Mumy, Barry Robins, Miles Chapin, Jesse White, Ken Swofford
title song (m/ly Barry de Vorzon, Perry Botkin Jnr)

'Mankind's Last Hope Just Turned Six.'

Bless the Child

2000 107m DeLuxe Panavision
Paramount/Icon (Mace Neufeld)

A Satanic cult kidnaps a child with miraculous powers.
Dim-witted horror movie with a feeble, derivative narrative and risible angelic interventions whenever inspiration reaches rock-bottom.
w Tom Rickman, Clifford Green, Ellen Green novel Cathy Cash Spellman
d Chuck Russell ph Peter Menzies
m Christopher Young pd Carol Spier ed Alan Heim sp makeup and creature fx: Keith Vanderlaan's Captive Audience Prods cos Denise Cronenberg
☆ Kim Basinger (Maggie O'Connor), Jimmy Smits (John Travis), Holliston Coleman (Cody), Rufus Sewell (Eric Stark), Angela Bettis (Jenna), Christina Ricci (Cheri), Michael Gaston (Bugatti), Lumi Cavazos (Sister Rosa), Dimitra Arlys (Dahnya), Eugene Lipinski (Stuart), Anne Betancourt (Maria), Ian Holm (Reverend Grissom)

'Combines the most rudimentary of Catholic-inspired good vs evil plots with visual effects that would barely pass muster in episodic TV.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

Bless This House

GB 1972 89m Eastmancolor
Rank/Peter Rogers

A suburbanite's multifarious frustrations culminate in preparations for his son's wedding.
This tedious spin-off from a TV sitcom virtually abandons plot in favour of an endless series of slapstick gags which could have been better presented.
w Dave Freeman d Gerald Thomas
☆ Sid James, Diana Coupland, Terry Scott, June Whitfield, Peter Butterworth, Sally Geeson, Robin Askwith, Bill Maynard

Blessed Event ★★

US 1932 84m bw
Warner (Ray Griffith)

A gossip columnist gets himself into hot water.
Amusing vehicle for a fast-talking star, and quite an interesting historical document.
w Howard Green play Manuel Seff, Forest Wilson d Roy del Ruth ph Sol Polito
☆ Lee Tracy, Ned Sparks, Mary Brian, Dick Powell, Ruth Donnelly, Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins

'A potential clean-up ... a sustained hour and a half or so of smart entertainment.' – Variety
'Quick and pacy and very likeable.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

† A historically interesting note was small-part actress Emma Dunn's use of the expression 'Well I'll be damned', which was technically forbidden at the time.

Blighty ★

GB 1926 93m (24 fps) bw silent
Gainsborough–Piccadilly (Michael Balcon, Carlyle Blackwell)

A chauffeur becomes an officer and after the war finds himself looking after the master's family.
Fairly unwatchable in a normal sense, but of historical interest as one of the key British films of the twenties to make a comment about the war.
w Elliot Stannard, Charles McEvoy, Ivor Montagu d Adrian Brunel ☆ Jameson Thomas, Ellaline Terriss, Lilian Hall Davis, Godfrey Winn, Wally Patch, Seymour Hicks

'It was, quietly, an anti-war picture rather than a pro-war picture.' – Adrian Brunel

Blind Alley ★★

US 1939 68m bw
Columbia

An escaped killer takes refuge in the home of a psychiatrist, who explores his subconscious and tames him.
Unusual lowercase thriller with effective dream sequences; it was much imitated.
w Michael Blankfort, Albert Duffy play James Warwick d Charles Vidor
ph Lucien Ballard m Morris Stoloff
☆ Chester Morris, Ralph Bellamy, Ann Dvorak, Melville Cooper, Rose Stradner, Marc Lawrence

'Psychoanalysis of a criminal provides a new twist to what would otherwise be another crime picture of general trend.' – Variety
'As un-Hollywood as anything that has come from France this year.' – New York Daily News
'Survive a sticky ten minutes and you have a thriller of quite unusual merit.' – Graham Greene † Remake: The Dark Past (qv).

Blind Alley

US 1984 91m colour
Hemdale (Paul Kurta)

aka: Perfect Strangers
A three-year-old witnesses a murder, and the hitman responsible begins a relationship with the boy's mother.
Lacklustre thriller, lacking in any tension or suspense.
wd Larry Cohen ph Paul Glickman
m Dwight Dixon ed Armond Lebowitz ☆ Anne Carlisle, Brad Rijn, John Woehrle, Matthew Stockley, Stephen Lack

'Abandon everything – even sex – to watch it ... its real power lies not in what we are shown but in what we fear may happen. Interest never flags from the grim beginning of this tale to its appalling climax.' – Quentin Crisp

A Blind Bargain ★

US 1922 60m approx bw silent
Goldwyn

A demented scientist creates an ape monster.
Interesting star vehicle, a precursor of many hokum thrillers.
w J. G. Hawks novel The Octave of Claudius by Barry Pain d Wallace Worsley ☆ Lon Chaney, Jacqueline Logan, Raymond McKee, Virginia True Boardman

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Blind Date ★

GB 1959 95m bw
Rank/Sydney Box/Independent Artists (David Deutsch)
US title: Chance Meeting
A young Dutch painter in London discovers his mistress's body and finds himself in a web of deceit.
Tolerable, comparatively sophisticated murder puzzle; rather glum looking, but the plot holds the interest.
w Ben Barzman, Millard Lampell novel Leigh Howard d Joseph Losey ph Christopher Challis m Richard Rodney Bennett ☆ Hardy Kruger, Stanley Baker, Micheline Presle, Robert Flemyng, Gordon Jackson, John Van Eyssen

Blind Date ★

US 1987 93m Metrocolor Panavision
Tri-Star/Blake Edwards (Tony Adams)
A company executive needs a date for a company function, and takes a remote relative who turns out to be an easy drunk.
One-note gag movie which spurs some laughs but wears out its welcome.
w Dale Launer d Blake Edwards
ph Harry Stradling Jnr m Henry Mancini
☆ Kim Basinger, Bruce Willis, John Larroquette, William Daniels, Phil Hartman, Alice Hirson
'In short, hokey and hip – which in this case is a foolproof formula.' – Daily Variety

The Blind Dead: see Tombs of the Blind Dead

Blind Flight ★

GB 2003 colour
Optimum/UKFC/Scottish Screen/Moviehouse/Parallax (Sally Hibbin)
An Irish teacher and a British journalist are captured by terrorists and shut in a small cell together for four years.
An uplifting account of friendship and survival, based on the experiences of Keenan and McCarthy in Lebanon in the late 80s.
w John Furse, Brian Keenan book Some Other Rainbow by John McCarthy, Brian Keenan d John Furse
☆ Ian Hart, Linus Roache, Bassem Breish, Ziad Lahoud
'A truly inspirational, moving, intimate and compassionate reading.' – Empire

Blind Fury

US 1989 86m Technicolor
Columbia TriStar (Daniel Grodnik, Tim Matheson)
A blind martial arts expert takes on a drug dealer and his gang.
Violent American variation on a Japanese samurai series of the 1960s featuring Zatoichi the blind swordsman, which gains nothing from being transferred from the 1800s to present-day Los Angeles.
w Charles Robert Carner screenplay Ryozo Kasahara d Phillip Noyce ph Don Burgess m J. Peter Robinson pd Peter Murton ad John Myhre ed David Simmons ☆ Rutger Hauer, Terrance O'Quinn, Brandon Call, Noble Willingham, Lisa Blount, Nick Cassavetes, Rick Overton, Randall 'Tex' Cobb

The Blind Goddess

GB 1947 88m bw
Gainsborough (Betty Box)
The private secretary to a public figure finds that his idol has feet of clay, and suffers in court for his discovery.
Courtroom drama from an old-fashioned stage play: surefire for addicts, but routine as a film.
w Muriel and Sydney Box play Patrick Hastings d Harold French ph Ray Elton ad Norman Arnold ed Gordon Hales
☆ Eric Portman, Anne Crawford, Hugh Williams, Michael Denison, Nora Swinburne, Claire Bloom, Raymond Lovell, Frank Cellier

Blind Husbands ★★

US 1919 90m approx (24 fps) bw
silent
Universal (Erich von Stroheim)
An Austrian officer, on holiday in the Alps, seduces the wife of a rich American.
Stroheim's first comedy of sexual manners, now of mainly archival interest.
wd Erich von Stroheim ph Ben Reynolds ad Erich von Stroheim
☆ Erich von Stroheim, Sam de Grasse, Gibson Gowland, Francella Billington

Blind Man's Bluff: see Cauldron of Blood (1968)

Blind Shaft ★★

Hong Kong/Germany 2003 92m colour
Optimum/Splendour (Li Yang) original title: Mang Jing
In Northern China, two workers develop a scam whereby they can blackmail the owners of poorly equipped private mines into paying them compensation for the deaths of fellow miners.
Bleak and gritty drama that exposes a current scandal of unregulated privatised mines, and reveals a society where corruption pays.
wd Li Yang novel Liu Qingbang ad Zhang Jianjun ed Karl Riedl, Li Yang
☆ Li Yixiang (Song Jinming), Wang Shuangbao (Tang Zhaoyang), Wang Baoqiang (Yuan Fengming), An Jing (Xiao Hong), Bao Zhenjiang (Huang), Zhao Junzhi (Miss Ma)
'Its brooding meticulousness, and lack of flourish, evokes an old-school B-picture before the genre was over-inflated – and sentimentalized – into big-budget doggerel here in the United States.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times
† The film was banned in China.

'No Witness, No Evidence, No Way Out.'

Blind Side

US 1993 CFI color
HBO (Jay Roewe)
Returning from Mexico, a couple run over a cop and leave his apparently dead body by the roadside; later, a stranger who claims to have witnessed the accident turns up to blackmail them.
A non-too-serious variation on the familiar theme of the psychopath who comes to call, with over-the-top performances and a parody of a spaghetti Western to add a little novelty.
w Stewart Lindh, Solomon Weingarten, John Carlen d Geoff Murphy ph Paul Elliott m Brian May pd Nina Ruscio ed Rick Shaine
☆ Rutger Hauer, Rebecca DeMornay, Ron Silver, Jonathan Banks, Mariska Hargitay, Tamara Clatterbuck
'A cracking thriller combining an ingenious script, effective direction and good acting.' – Sight and Sound

Blind Terror

GB 1971 89m colour
Columbia/Filmways/Genesis (Leslie Linder)
US title: See No Evil
A blind girl is the sole, hunted survivor of a maniac's rampage on a lonely estate.
Shocks, screams and starts fill a cliché-ridden but still effective script which is faithfully turned into a competent but routine heart-stopper.
w Brian Clemens d Richard Fleischer
ph Gerry Fisher m Elmer Bernstein
☆ Mia Farrow, Robin Bailey, Dorothy Alison, Diane Grayson, Norman Eshley, Brian Rawlinson
'For those who like to watch folks pull the wings off flies.' – Judith Crist

Blind Vision

US 1990 92m DeLuxe
Saban/Vertigo (Jonathon Braun)
A repressed, mother-dominated amateur photographer is suspected of murdering the boyfriend of a woman on whom he spies obsessively from his flat opposite.
Dreary, fourth-rate, risible thriller, not helped by being told mainly from the viewpoint of its unsympathetic protagonist, a voyeuristic nerd.
w Shuki Levy, Winston Richard d Shuki Levy ph Frank Byers m Shuki Levy, Hiram Titus ad Jayne Asman ed Jon Braun, Shuki Levy ☆ Lenny von Dohlen, Deborah Shelton, Stoney Jackson, Robert Vaughn, Ned Beatty, Louise Fletcher

Blinded

GB 2004 91m colour
Oscarfilms/New Found Film/Scottish Screen, Scottish TV/Grampian TV (Oscar van Heek)
In Scotland, a Danish backpacker goes to work for an old, abusive, blind farmer with a young wife.
Grim little tale that telegraphs its punches.
wd Eleanor Yule ph Jerry Kelly
m Malcolm Lindsay pd Mark Leese
ed James Hamilton
☆ Peter Mullan (Francis Black), Jodhi May (Rachel), Anders W. Berthelsen (Mike Hammershoi), Samantha Bond (Caroline Lamar), Phyllida Law (Bella)
'Gothic tale brewed with Zola-style realism and brought to life by a strong cast that sustains a heightened level of simmering emotions.' – Jay Weissberg, Variety

Blindfold ★★

US 1965 102m Technicolor Panavision
Universal (Marvin Schwartz)
A society psychiatrist is enlisted by the CIA to make regular blindfold journeys to a secret destination where he treats a neurotic physicist. Discovering that his contacts are really enemy agents, he tracks down the destination by sound and guesswork, and routs the villains.
Lively spy spoof with rather too much knockabout between the Hitchcockian suspense sequences; it has indeed the air of a script which Hitchcock rejected, but provides reliable entertainment.
w Philip Dunne, W. H. Menger novel Lucille Fletcher d Philip Dunne ph Joseph MacDonald m Lalo Schifrin
ed Ted J. Kent
☆ Rock Hudson, Claudia Cardinale, Jack Warden, Guy Stockwell, Brad Dexter, Anne Seymour, Alejandro Rey

Blindman (dubbed)

US/Italy 1971 96m Technicolor Techniscope
Fox-Rank/ABKCO/Primex (Tony Anthony, Saul Swimmer)
A blind man goes in search of 50 mail-order brides who have been stolen by a bandit and his gang.
Comic spaghetti Western in which the only point of interest, apart from its bizarre hero, lies in seeing a former Beatle in the role of a Mexican outlaw.
w Tony Anthony, Piero Anchisi, Vincenzo Cerami story Tony Anthony d Ferdinando Baldi ph Riccardo Pallottino m Stelvio Cipriani ad Gastone Garsetti ed Roberto Perpignani
☆ Tony Anthony, Ringo Starr, Agneta Eckemyr, Lloyd Batista, Magda Konopka, Raf Baldassare
'Indistinguishable from the ruck in its crude direction, garbled plot, obsessive violence, variable technical achievements, and pot-pourri cast and acting styles.' – Tom Milne, MFB
† The original version of the film ran for 105m.

'Illusion. Deception. Murder.'
'In the blink of an eye things are not what they seem.'

Blink

US 1994 106m DeLuxe Super 35
Guild/New Line (David Blocker)
A cop investigating a murder is attracted by the only witness, a formerly blind woman who has just regained her sight but is not sure of what she sees.
Dumb woman-in-peril thriller that relies on cliché to see it through to its unexciting end.
w Dana Stevens d Michael Apted
ph Dante Spinotti m Brad Fiedel pd Dan Bishop ed Rick Shaine ☆ Madeleine Stowe, Aidan Quinn, Laurie Metcalf, Peter Friedman, James Remar, Bruce A. Young, Paul Dillon, Matt Roth
'So numbingly banal and predictable it might as well have been called Wink, of which you need 40 to get through it.' – Leslie Felperin Sharman, Sight and Sound

Bliss ★

Australia 1985 111m colour
Entertainment (Anthony Buckley)
After a heart attack, an advertising executive realizes the rottenness of his wife and children and seeks happiness elsewhere.
Energetic black comedy, intermittently entertaining, that won awards in its home country.
w Ray Lawrence, Peter Carey novel Peter Carey d Ray Lawrence ph Paul Murphy
m Peter Best ad Owen Paterson
ed Wayne Leclos
☆ Barry Otto, Lynette Curran, Helen Jones, Miles Buchanan, Gia Carides, Tim Robertson, Jeff Truman, Bryan Marshall

'Love is only the beginning.'

Bliss

US 1997 103m colour
Triumph (Allyn Stewart)
A newly married wife seeks the advice of a therapist, who has sexual relationships with his patients.
Bizarre and risible would-be erotic drama that frequently resembles an instructional video for the unenlightened.
wd Lance Young ph Michael Molloy
m Jan A. P. Kaczmarek pd John Willett, David Lloyd Fischer ed Allan Lee ☆ Craig Sheffer, Sheryl Lee, Terence Stamp, Casey Siemaszko, Spalding Gray, Leigh Taylor Young, Lois Chiles
'Tone of the film is too smug, the earnestness of its lesson creating the off-putting impression of the recently converted trying to preach newly acquired wisdom to the masses.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

The Bliss of Mrs Blossom

GB 1968 93m Technicolor
Paramount (Josef Shaftel)

The wife of a bra manufacturer keeps her lover in the attic.
Silly, wild-eyed sex comedy decorated with the flashy tinsel of swinging London's dying fall.
w Alec Coppel, Denis Norden d Joe McGrath ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Riz Ortolani pd Assheton Gorton
☆ Richard Attenborough, Shirley MacLaine, James Booth, Freddie Jones, William Rushton, Bob Monkhouse, Patricia Routledge

Blithe Spirit ★★★

GB 1945 96m Technicolor
Two Cities/Cineguild (Anthony Havelock-Allan)

A cynical novelist's second marriage is disturbed when the playful ghost of his first wife materializes during a séance.
Direction and acting carefully preserve a comedy which on its first West End appearance in 1941 achieved instant classic status. The repartee scarcely dates, and altogether this is a most polished job of film-making.
w Noël Coward play Noël Coward scenario David Lean, Anthony Havelock-Allan, Ronald Neame d David Lean ph Ronald Neame m Richard Addinsell ad C.P. Norman ed Jack Harris
☆ Rex Harrison (Charles Condomine), Kay Hammond (Elvira), Constance Cummings (Ruth Condomine), Margaret Rutherford (Madame Arcati), Hugh Wakefield (Dr. Bradman), Joyce Carey (Mrs. Bradman), Jacqueline Clark (Edith)
'Ninety minutes of concentrated, cultivated fun.' – C. A. Lejeune
† After seeing this, Noël Coward reputedly told Rex Harrison: 'After me you're the best light comedian in the world.'

Blitz on Britain ★

GB 1960 71m bw
Anglo-Continental/British Lion

A very acceptable record of the Battle of Britain as it affected the home front, narrated by Alistair Cooke.
w Patrick Brawn d/ed Harry Booth

'Indescribable ... Indestructible! Nothing Can Stop It!'

The Blob

US 1958 83m DeLuxe
Tonylyn/Jack H. Harris

A small town combats a slimy space invader.
Padded hokum for drive-ins, with a few effective moments.
w Theodore Simonson, Kate Phillips d Irvin S. Yeaworth Jnr ph Thomas Spalding m Ralph Carmichael
☆ Steve McQueen, Aneta Corseaut, Olin Howlin, Earl Rowe
'Classic teen horror which really sums up the spirit of 50s drive-in movies.' – The Dark Side † Sequel 1971: Beware! The Blob (aka Son of Blob).

The Blob

US 1988 92m Technicolor
Tri-Star (Jack H. Harris/Elliott Kastner)

A small town is threatened by alien goo.
Fifties sci-fi horror dressed up for the 80s, no better than it was the first or second time around.
w Chuck Russell, Frank Darabont d Chuck Russell ph Mark Irwin m Michael Hoenig pd Craig Stearns ed Terry Stokes, Tod Feuerman ☆ Shawnee Smith, Kevin Dillon, Donovan Leitch, Jeffrey de Munn, Candy Clark, Joe Seneca
'A great B-movie with an A-pic budget.' – Variety

Block Busters

US 1944 60m bw
Monogram/Banner (Sam Katzman, Jack Dietz)

The East Side Kids are upset when a rich French boy moves into the neighbourhood.
Lacklustre programmer, although jazz fans may enjoy a rare, if brief, glimpse of the great clarinettist Jimmy Noone in action.
w Houston Branch d Wallace Fox ph Marcel LePicard md Edward Kay ad David Milton ed Carl Pierson
☆ Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, Gabriel Dell, Billy Benedict, Frederick Pressel, Noah Beery, Harry Langdon, Bernard Gorcey

Blockade ★

US 1938 84m bw
Walter Wanger

During the Spanish Civil War, a peace-loving young farmer has to take up arms to defend his land.
Much touted as Hollywood's first serious contribution to international affairs, this dogged drama was in fact so bland that audiences had difficulty ascertaining which side it was on, especially as neither Franco nor the Fascists were mentioned. As a romantic action drama, however, it passed muster.
w John Howard Lawson d William Dieterle ph Rudolf Maté m Werner Janssen ☆ Henry Fonda, Madeleine Carroll, Leo Carrillo, John Halliday, Vladimir Sokoloff, Robert Warwick, Reginald Denny
'It misses any claim to greatness because it pulls its punches ... and it's going to be tough to sell.' – Variety
'The film has a curious unreality considering the grim reality behind it.' – Frank S. Nugent
'There is achieved a deadly numb level of shameless hokum out of which anything true or decent rises only for a second to confound itself.' – Otis Ferguson
† Original publicity carried this disclaimer: NOTE: Care has been taken to prevent any costume of the production from being accurately that of either side in the Spanish Civil War. The story does not attempt to favour any cause in the present conflict.
♗ John Howard Lawson; Werner Janssen

Blockheads ★★★★

US 1938 60m bw
Hal Roach/Stan Laurel

Twenty years after World War I, Stan is still guarding a trench because nobody told him to stop. Ollie takes him home to meet the wife, with disastrous consequences.
The last first-class Laurel and Hardy comedy is shapeless but hilarious, a fragmented reworking of earlier ideas, all of which work beautifully. Gags include encounters with a tip-up truck and an automatic garage, and a brilliantly worked out sequence up and down several flights of stairs.
w James Parrott, Harry Langdon, Felix Adler, Charles Rogers, Arnold Belgard d John G. Blystone ph Art Lloyd m Marvin Hatley
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Billy Gilbert, Patricia Ellis, Minna Gombell, James Finlayson
'Hodge-podge of old-fashioned slapstick and hoke.' – Variety
♗ Marvin Hatley

The Blockhouse

GB 1973 96m Eastmancolor
Harris/Films/Galactacus (Antony Rufus Isaacs, Edgar M. Bronfman Jnr)

During World War 2 an Allied bombardment of German coastal defences traps seven slave workers in a complex of underground tunnels.
Based on a real-life tragedy, in which two men survived burial in a wartime underground bunker for six years, this begins well and then fails to develop satisfactorily, providing a succession of downbeat moments in a dim setting.
w John Gould, Clive Rees book Jean-Paul Clebert d Clive Rees ph Keith Goddard m Stanley Myers ad Leo Austin, George Lack ed Peter Gold ☆ Peter Sellers (Rouquet), Charles Azvanour (Visconti), Per Oscarsson (Lund), Peter Vaughan (Aufret), Jeremy Kemp (Grabinski), Leon Lissek (Khozak), Nicholas Jones (Kramer), Alfred Lynch (Larshen)
'An artistic miscalculation and an act of commercial hara-kiri.' – MFB
† The film did not get a British release until 1978.

Den Blodiga Tiden: see Mein Kampf

Blonde Bombshell: see Bombshell

Blonde Crazy ★

US 1931 74m bw
Warner

GB title: Larceny Lane

A bellhop and a chambermaid set out to fleece all-comers.
Smart con man comedy with the star in excellent form.
w Kubec Glasmon, John Bright d Roy del Ruth ph Sid Hickox
☆ James Cagney, Joan Blondell, Ray Milland, Louis Calhern, Guy Kibbee, Polly Walters, Charles Lane, Maude Eburne
'Naughty cracks galore, and one says "Nuts". But he doesn't push a grapefruit in the girlfriend's face, though they expect it any time.' – Variety
'A chipper, hard-boiled, amusing essay in petty thieving.' – Time

Blonde Fever

US 1944 69m bw
MGM

A middle-aged husband falls for a blonde waitress.
Very ho-hum comedy on familiar lines.
w Patricia Coleman play Ferenc Molnar d Richard Whorf ☆ Philip Dorn, Mary Astor, Gloria Grahame, Felix Bressart, Marshall Thompson, Curt Bois

Blonde Fist

GB 1991 102m colour
Blue Dolphin/Film Four (Christopher Figg, Joseph D'Morais)

The fighting daughter of a bare-knuckle boxer goes in search of her father and of a new life.
Brain-damaged knockabout comedy.
wd Frank Clarke ph Bruce McGowan m Alan Gill pd Colin Pocock ed Brian Peachey ☆ Margi Clarke, Carroll Baker, Ken Hutchinson, Sharon Power, Angela Clarke, Lewis Bester

A Blonde in Love: see Loves of a Blonde

Blonde Sinner: see Yield to the Night

'What could she do but flee from love? She loved two men at once!'

Blonde Venus ★

US 1932 97m bw
Paramount

A German café singer marries an English research chemist, but their marriage doesn't run smoothly.
Rather dreary, fragmented star vehicle with good moments, notably the star's opening appearance as a gorilla.
w Jules Furthman, S. K. Lauren d Josef von Sternberg ph Bert Glennon m Oscar Potoker
☆ Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Cary Grant, Dickie Moore
'Weak story, inept direction and generally sluggish total count heavily against it ... it'll require plenty of bally.' – Variety
'The story has all the dramatic integrity of a sashweight murderer's tabloid autobiography.' – Pare Lorentz
'There is more pleasure for the eye in Blonde Venus than in a hundred of its fellows. But what does beauty ornament? The story of a wife who becomes a kept woman for the sake of her husband, and a prostitute for the sake of her child.' – Forsyth Hardy, Cinema Quarterly

Blondes for Danger

GB 1938 68m bw
British Lion/Herbert Wilcox

A Cockney taxi driver takes an unwanted fare and becomes involved in a deep dark plot.
Modest but effective star vehicle.
w Gerald Elliott novel Red for Danger by Evadne Price d Jack Raymond ☆ Gordon Harker, Enid Stamp-Taylor, Ivan Brandt

Blondie ★

US 1938 68m bw
Columbia

Misadventures of a harassed suburban family man.
Dagwood Bumstead and his wife Blondie were Mr and Mrs Small Town America throughout the thirties and forties, and received their perfect screen incarnations in this unambitious but quite watchable series, which provided familiar and often quite observant fun.
Other episodes were as follows:
1939 Blondie Meets the Boss, Blondie Takes a Vacation, Blondie Brings Up Baby
1940 Blondie on a Budget, Blondie Has Servant Trouble, Blondie Plays Cupid
1941 Blondie Goes Latin, Blondie in Society
1942 Blondie Goes to College, Blondie's Blessed Event, Blondie for Victory 1943 It's a Great Life, Footlight Glamour
1945 Leave It to Blondie
1946 Blondie Knows Best, Life with Blondie, Blondie's Lucky Day
1947 Blondie's Big Moment, Blondie's Holiday, Blondie in the Dough, Blondie's Anniversary
1948 Blondie's Reward
1949 Blondie's Secret, Blondie's Big Deal, Blondie Hits the Jackpot
1950 Blondie's Hero, Beware of Blondie
w Richard Flournoy comic strip Chic Young d Frank R. Strayer ph Henry Freulich ☆ Arthur Lake, Penny Singleton, Larry Simms, Daisy the Dog, Jonathan Hale (Mr Dithers), Gene Lockhart, Ann Doran, Irving Bacon (the mailman)

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'Light fare, but universal in appeal ... could be clicko series.' – Variety

† TV series were started in the fifties and sixties, but both failed.

Blondie Johnson

US 1933 67m bw
Warner

The career of a female larcenist who eventually takes her medicine.

Competent programmer very typical of its studio and year.

w Earl Baldwin d Ray Enright

☆ Joan Blondell, Chester Morris, Allen Jenkins, Claire Dodd

'After she departs for the pen, she lets the public in on the fact that crime doesn't pay. Neither will the picture.' – Variety

Blondie of the Follies ★

US 1932 97m bw
MGM (Marion Davies)

Two New York showgirls graduate from tenements to luxury.

Adequate comedy-melodrama with an interesting cast and good dialogue.

w Frances Marion, Anita Loos d Edmund Goulding ph George Barnes m William Axt

☆ Marion Davies, Jimmy Durante, Robert Montgomery, Billie Dove, James Gleason, ZaSu Pitts, Sidney Toler, Douglass Dumbrille

'Not bad, but not very good, with chances that it will just get by. Length and slow pace the drawbacks ... It isn't padded out, it's just flatfooted.' – Variety

'An unjustly forgotten film.' – New Yorker, 1979

Blood Alley

US 1955 115m Warnercolor
Cinemascope
Warner/Batjac (no producer credited)

An American sailor is helped by local people to escape from a Chinese jail; he then escorts them to Hong Kong.

Rudimentary anti-Red heroics with expensive spectacle punctuating a tacky script.

w A. S. Fleischman novel A. S. Fleischman d William Wellman ph William H. Clothier m Roy Webb pd Alfred Ybarra

☆ John Wayne, Lauren Bacall, Paul Fix, Joy Kim, Berry Kroeger, Mike Mazurki, Anita Ekberg

'Becomes A Terror House Of Blood!!'
'Guaranteed! The 8 Greatest Shocks Ever Filmed!'

Blood and Black Lace

Italy 1964 90m Eastmancolor
Emmepi

original title: Sei Donne per l'Assassino

Six women are nastily murdered in a fashion house.

Vaguely necrophiliac but trendy suspense-horror flick in the wake of Psycho (qv).

w Marcello Fondato, Giuseppe Barilla, Mario Bava d Mario Bava

☆ Cameron Mitchell, Thomas Reiner, Mary Arden

'The wooden nature of the script and performances makes it hard to get into the complicated narrative. Don't bother. Just settle back and enjoy the sex and violence.' – The Dark Side

'Temptation comes in many forms.'

Blood And Chocolate ★②

Germany/UK/Romania/USA 2006 98m
Entertainment/MGM/Lakeshore Entertainment (Gary Lucchesi, Tom Rosenberg, Richard S Wright, Wolfgang Esenwein)

Romanian theatrical title: Paslune si destin

A werewolf girl goes against tradition by falling in love with a human researching her lycanthropic breed.

Clumsy in both silly romance and watered-down horror departments.

w Ehren Kruger, Christopher Landon novel Annette Curtis Klause d Katja von Garnier ph Brendan Galvin m Reinhold Heil, Johnny Klimek pd Kevin Phipps ad Vraciu Eduard Daniel, Adam O'Neill, Mihnea Vieru, Vlad Vieru ed Emma E Hickox, Martin Walsh sp Nick Alder

☆ Agnes Bruckner (Vivian), Hugh Dancy (Aiden), Olivier Martinez (Gabriel), Katja Reimann (Astrid), Bryan Dick (Rafe)

'A wittier director would have spotted the absurd elements and delivered a horror-comedy instead of a straight-faced bore.' – Kyle Smith, New York Post

Blood and Roses

France/Italy 1960 87m colour
Technirama
Eger/Documento (Raymond Eger)

original title: Et Mourir de Plaisir

Carmilla takes on the vampiric personality of her ancestress Millarca, whom she closely resembles.

A rather half-hearted attempt to make an elegant horror story; boring rather than charming or frightening.

w Claude Brûlé, Claude Martin, Roger Vadim d Roger Vadim ph Claude Renoir m Jean Prodromidès

☆ Mel Ferrer, Elsa Martinelli, Annette Vadim, Marc Allégret

Blood and Sand ★

US 1922 80m (24 fps) bw silent
Paramount

A matador falls under the spell of an aristocratic woman.

Elegant star vehicle which established his image.

w June Mathis novel Vicente Blasco Ibanez d Fred Niblo

☆ Rudolph Valentino, Nita Naldi, Lila Lee, Walter Long

'Love flamed in the shadow of death!'

Blood and Sand ★

US 1941 123m Technicolor
TCF (Darryl F. Zanuck, Robert T. Kane)

A matador's life goes wrong when he is torn between the love of his wife and the attractions of a vamp.

Rather boring version, fine to look at but dramatically deadly.

w Jo Swerling novel Vicente Blasco Ibanez d Rouben Mamoulian ph Ernest Palmer, Ray Rennahan m Alfred Newman ad Richard Day, Joseph C. Wright

☆ Tyrone Power, Rita Hayworth, Linda Darnell, Nazimova, Anthony Quinn, J. Carrol Naish, John Carradine, Lynn Bari, Laird Cregar, Monty Banks

† Carole Landis turned down the role that made a star of Rita Hayworth because she refused to change her hair colour from blonde to red.

Ernest Palmer, Ray Rennahan
Richard Day, Joseph C. Wright

'There is no honor amongst thieves.'

Blood & Wine ★

US 1996 98m DeLuxe
TCF/Blood & Wine/Marmont/Recorded Picture/Majestic (Jeremy Thomas)

A wine merchant steals a valuable necklace, but loses it to his wife and stepson.

A grim and violent thriller with some effective performances; but its portrait of a greedy and dysfunctional family leaves little lasting impression.

w Nick Villiers, Alison Cross d Bob Rafelson ph Newton Thomas Sigel m Michel Lorenc pd Richard Sylbert ed Steven Cohen

☆ Jack Nicholson, Michael Caine, Stephen Dorff, Jennifer Lopez, Judy Davis, Harold Perrineau Jnr

'The film doesn't seem very significant. Everyone's good, but it's less than the sum of its watchable parts.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Blood Beach

US 1980 90m colour
Miracle/Empress (Steven Nalevansky)

A monster, lurking beneath the sand of a beach, swallows passers-by.

Dull, lethargic, low-budget variation on Jaws (qv); not only could they not afford much of a monster, they also skimped on the script and actors.

w Jeffrey Bloom story Jeffrey Bloom, Steven Nalevansky d Jeffrey Bloom ph Steve Poster m Gil Mellé ad William Sandell ed Gary Griffen

☆ David Huffman, Marianna Hill, John Saxon, Otis Young, Stefan Gierasch, Burt Young

'It's so slow and boring, just like a bad television movie.' – The Dark Side

Blood Beast from Outer Space: see The Night Caller

The Blood Beast Terror

GB 1967 88m Eastmancolor
Tigon (Arnold L. Miller)

A Victorian entomologist creates human beings who can change themselves into monster death's-head moths.

Unpersuasive and totally idiotic cheapjack horror fare.

w Peter Bryan d Vernon Sewell ph Stanley A. Long m Paul Ferris

☆ Robert Flemyng, Peter Cushing, Wanda Ventham, Vanessa Howard, David Griffin, John Paul, Kevin Stoney, Roy Hudd

The Blood Demon

West Germany 1967 76m colour
Techniscope
New Realm/Constantin (Wolfgang Kuehnlenz)

original title: Die Schlangengrube und das Pendel
aka: The Torture Chamber of Dr Sadism

An aristocrat dismembered after killing 12 virgins returns from the dead to kill a 13th and achieve immortality.

An extremely free adaptation of Poe, given over to narrative incoherence and startling images.

w Manfred R. Koehler story The Pit and the Pendulum by Edgar Allan Poe d Harald Reinl ph Ernst W. Kalinke

☆ Christopher Lee, Lex Barker, Karin Dor, Carl Lange, Vladimir Medar, Christiane Rucker, Dieter Eppler

'A perfectly dreadful composite of The House of Legends, Eternal Life, The Hunchback of Notre Dame and The Pit and the Pendulum.' – Christopher Lee

'Fortune. Freedom. Truth. It will cost you everything.'

Blood Diamond ★⑥

US/South Africa 2006 143m
Warner Bros./Virtual Studios/Lonely Film/Spring Creek/Bedford Falls (Paula Weinstein, Edward Zwick, Marshall Herskovitz, Graham King, Gillian Gorfil)

In Sierra Leone, against a backdrop of civil war and boy soldiers, a mercenary-smuggler tries to get his hands on a hugely valuable diamond stone. A crusading American journalist opens his eyes to the exploitation of the diamond trade.

A skilfully-made adventure story that plays its part in explaining the business of 'blood' or 'conflict' diamonds, mined by slaves and sold to underwrite civil war. Yet the 'hero' here is a cynical mercenary (di Caprio, complete with Zimbabwean accent, in a gutsy performance). And it's action rather than moral debate that propels the film; indeed, it has an old-fashioned, almost swashbuckling feel, especially in its final reel. Still, its educational value and earnestness cannot be brushed aside.

w Charles Leavitt d Edward Zwick ph Eduardo Serra m James Newton Howard pd Dan Weil ad Daran Fulham ed Steven Rosenblum

☆ Leonardo di Caprio (Danny Archer), Jennifer Connelly (Maddy Bowen), Djimon Hounsou (Solomon Vandy), Jimi Mistry (Nabil), Michael Sheen (Simmons)

DANNY ARCHER: "T.I.A. This Is Africa."

'It doesn't entirely evade the conflict at its core – conflict diamonds – in favour of pure action by guns and planes, thrills and spills; but it hardly embraces the subject fully either.' – Dave Calhoun, Time Out

'Blood Diamond only skims the surface of many important issues – the script doesn't begin to explain what the civil war was about. But if it opens a few eyes, it will have done its job.' – David Ansen, Newsweek

Leonardo di Caprio; Djimon Hounsou; editing; sound editing (Lon Bender); sound mixing (Andy Nelson, Anna Behlmer, Ivan Sharrock).

'Nothing So Appalling In The Annals of Horror!'

Blood Feast

US 1963 67m colour
Box Office Spectaculars (David F. Friedman, Stanford S. Kohlberg, Herschell Gordon Lewis)

A caterer commits multiple murders in worship of a bloodthirsty Egyptian goddess.

A truly terrible movie, in which the bad acting, incompetent direction and brain-dead narrative are the true horrors, rather than its body parts and gallons of gore; yet its influence is with us still, as it inspired a seemingly endless succession of slasher movies.

w Louise Downe d Herschell Gordon Lewis ph Herschell Gordon Lewis m Herschell Gordon Lewis ed Frank Romolo, Robert Sinise sp Gordon Lewis

☆ Thomas Wood (Pete Thornton), Mal Arnold (Ramses), Connie Mason (Suzette), Scott H. Hall (Police Captain), Lyn Bolton (Mrs Fremon), Toni Calvert (Trudy), Gene Courtier (Tony)

'Offensive, nasty, shabby, and revolting, but also great fun, if you can stand the sight of guts (of course ya' can, you wimp).' – Jerry Renshaw, Austin Chronicle

Blood Feud

Italy 1979 112m Technospes
ITC/Liberty Films (Harry Columbo)

aka: Revenge

In Sicily, as the fascists come to power, a rich socialist lawyer and a small-time crook court the same vengeful woman.

Unsatisfactory, melodramatic mix of romance and politics.

wd Lina Wertmüller ph Tonino Delli Colli m Dangio-Nando de Luca ad Enrico Job ed Franco Fraticelli
☆ Sophia Loren, Marcello Mastroianni, Giancarlo Giannini, Mario Scarpetta

Blood for Dracula: see Dracula (1974)

'A severed hand beckons from an open grave!'

Blood from the Mummy's Tomb ★

GB 1971 94m Technicolor
MGM-EMI/Hammer (Howard Brandy)

Twenty years after a female mummy is brought back to England, members of the expedition are killed one by one, and their leader's daughter is possessed by the spirit of the dead princess.
Interesting but over-complicated and hard-to-enjoy attempt to maintain the mummy saga without an actual marauding mummy. Intelligently handled but sadly lacking in a sense of humour.
w Christopher Wicking novel Jewel of the Seven Stars by Bram Stoker d Seth Holt, Michael Carreras ph Arthur Grant m Tristram Cary ad Scott MacGregor ed Peter Weatherley
☆ Andrew Keir, Valerie Leon, James Villiers, Hugh Burden, George Coulouris, Mark Edwards, Rosalie Crutchley, Aubrey Morris, David Markham
'Makes the genre seem like new.' – Tony Rayns † Seth Holt died while the shooting was still incomplete, and Michael Carreras took over for the last few days.

'Two Cats... One Car... And A World Of Hurt'

Blood Guts Bullets & Octane ★

US 1997 86m colour
Downtown/Short Fuse/Next Wave (Dan Leis, Leon Corcos, Patrick Lynn)

Two car dealers, given money to look after a Pontiac Le Mans, decide to steal the car instead, not knowing that the FBI believe it contains drugs and was used by a serial killer.
A low-budget movie, made with enough verve and energy to overcome its familiar, low-life narrative.
wd Joe Carnahan ph John Alexander Jimenez m Mark Priolo, Martin Birke ad Eric Lutes ed Joe Carnahan
☆ Joe Carnahan (Sid French), Dan Leis (Bob Melba), Ken Rudulph (FBI Agent Jared), Dan Harlan (Danny Woo), Hugh McChord (Mr Reich), Kurt Johnson (Hillbilly Sniper), Mark S. Allen (FBI Agent Franks), Kellee Benedic (FBI Agent Littel)

Blood In, Blood Out ★★

US 1992 180m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Hollywood Pictures/Touchstone Pacific Partners I (Taylor Hackford, Jerry Gershwin)

aka: Bound by Honor
A decade in the life of three Chicanos, two half-brothers and their half-white cousin, caught up in gang warfare on the streets and in prison.
Tough, violent, gripping drama of oppression and redemption in the East Los Angeles barrio, depicting an aspect of America not often seen on-screen; its length is justified not only by its narrative drive but by the fleshing out of individual lives caught in a destructive system.
w Jimmy Santiago Baca, Jeremy Iacone, Floyd Mutrux story Ross Thomas d Taylor Hackford ph Gabriel Beristain m Bill Conti pd Bruno Rubeo ed Fredric Steinkamp, Karl F. Steinkamp
☆ Jesse Borrego, Benjamin Bratt, Enrique Castillo, Damian Chapa, Delroy Lindo, Tom Wilson, Karmin Murcelo, Ving Rhames, Jenny Gago
'Triumphs over cliché to sustain its vast length and space. The key to this success lies in its epic size, a mood and a scale more akin to a mini-series than grandiose cinema.' – Olly Blackburn, Sight and Sound
'Seems compelled to say something profound but too often stands on a soapbox to do it.' – Variety

Blood Is My Heritage: see Blood of Dracula

Blood Money ★

US 1933 66m bw
Fox/Darryl F. Zanuck

The decline of a bail-bond racketeer.
Smartly made melodrama with good work all round.
wd Rowland Brown
☆ George Bancroft, Judith Anderson, Chick Chandler, Frances Dee, Blossom Seeley

Blood Money: see Requiem for a Heavyweight (1962)

Blood Oath

Australia 1990 108m Eastmancolor
Rank/Sovereign/Village Roadshow/Siege (Graham Burke, Greg Coote, John Tarnoff)

In 1946, an Australian Army captain prosecutes the Japanese commandant of a camp where the bodies of more than 300 prisoners were discovered in a mass grave.
A routine courtroom drama of no particular interest, despite its factual basis.
w Denis Whitburn, Brian A. Williams d Stephen Wallace ph Russell Boyd m David McHugh ad Virginia Bieneman ed Nicholas Beauman, Bernard Hides
☆ Bryan Brown, George Takei, Terry O'Quinn, John Bach, Toshi Shioya, John Clarke, Deborah Unger, Jason Donovan
'Reduces the moral complexities of war to the simplest Boy's Own level.' – Sight and Sound

The Blood of a Poet ★★★

France 1931 58m bw
Vicomte de Noailles

original title: Le Sang d'un Poète
Aspects of a poet's vision, taking place while a chimney is falling down.
An indescribable film full of striking imagery which may, or may not, be meaningful. Its author claims that it is not surrealist, but that label for most people will do as well as any other.
wd Jean Cocteau ph Georges Périnal m Georges Auric ad Jean Gabriel d'Aubonne ed Jean Cocteau
☆ Lee Miller (Statue), Enrique Rivero (Poet), Pauline Carton, Feral Benga, Jean Desbordes (Louis XV Friend), Barbette, Odette Talazac
'It must be placed among the classic masterpieces of the seventh art.' – Revue du Cinéma

'In her eyes Desire! In her veins the blood of a ... Monster!'

Blood of Dracula

US 1957 68m bw
Anglo Amalgamated/Carmel/AIP (Herman Cohen)

GB title: Blood Is My Heritage
aka: Blood of the Demon
A feminist high-school chemistry teacher hypnotizes an unhappy student into becoming a vampire to prove that men control, and will destroy, the world.
Risible mix of horror and teenage rebellion movies that does not miss a cliché of either genre.
w Ralph Thornton d Herbert L. Strock ph Monroe Askins m Paul Dunlap ad Leslie Thomas ed Robert Moore sp Philip Scheer
☆ Sandra Harrison, Louise Lewis, Gail Ganley, Jerry Blaine, Heather Ames, Malcolm Atterbury, Mary Adams
† With a change in gender for the leading characters and a different monster, the script was recycled by Thornton as I Was a Teenage Werewolf (qv).

Blood of the Demon: see Blood of Dracula

Blood of the Dragon

Japan 1974 88m Eastmancolor
Toeiscope
Eural/Toei-Kyoto Eiga/Titan (Norimichi Matsudaira)

original title: Satsujinken 2
Double-crossed by his employers, who front for the Mafia, an assassin goes on the rampage.
Convoluted martial arts mayhem that makes little narrative sense; but then all that matters is its fights.
w Hajime Takaiwa, Shigehiro Ozawa story Koji Yakada d Shigehiro Ozawa ph Sadaji Yoshida m Tony Tsushima ad Tokumichi Igawa ed Kozo Horiike
☆ Sonny Chiba, Yoko Ichiji, Masafumi Suzuki, Kaoru Nakajima, Naoki Shima, Masashi Ishibashi

Blood of the Undead: see Schizo

Blood of the Vampire

GB 1958 85m Eastmancolor
Baker-Berman/Artistes Alliance

A doctor, raised from the dead, takes over an asylum and experiments on the inmates.
Heavy-handed, crudely made horror comic.
w Jimmy Sangster d Henry Cass ph Monty Berman m Stanley Black ad John Elphick ed Douglas Myers
☆ Donald Wolfit, Barbara Shelley, Vincent Ball, Victor Maddern, Andrew Faulds, John Le Mesurier, Bernard Bresslaw

Blood of the Virgins: see Sangre de Virgenes

Blood on His Lips: see The Hideous Sun Demon

Blood on My Hands: see Kiss the Blood Off My Hands

'A living nightmare of black magic... and unspeakable evil!'

Blood on Satan's Claw

GB 1970 93m Eastmancolor
Tigon-Chilton (Tony Tenser, Malcolm B. Heyworth, Peter L. Andrews)

aka: Satan's Skin
A devil's claw wreaks havoc among children in a 17th-century English village.
Moderately frightening, rather silly but at least original period horror comic.
w Robert Wynne-Simmons d Piers Haggard ph Dick Bush m Marc Wilkinson
☆ Patrick Wymark, Linda Hayden, Barry Andrews, Avice Landon, Simon Williams, Tamara Ustinov, Anthony Ainley

Blood on the Arrow

US 1964 91m DeLuxe
Leon Fromkess/Allied Artists

An outlaw is the only survivor of an Indian raid, and later becomes a hero when the Indians attack again.
Unremarkable Western, with every turn of plot to order.
w Robert E. Kent d Sidney Salkow
☆ Dale Robertson, Martha Hyer, Wendell Corey, Paul Mantee, Ted de Corsia

Blood on the Moon ★

US 1948 88m bw
RKO (Sid Rogell, Theron Warth)

A homesteader finds that his best friend is the villainous leader of a group of cattlemen.
Good-looking but rather pedestrian Western, generally well handled.
w Lillie Hayward novel Gunman's Choice by Luke Short d Robert Wise ph Nicholas Musuraca m Roy Webb
☆ Robert Mitchum, Barbara Bel Geddes, Robert Preston, Walter Brennan

Blood on the Streets: see Borsalino & Co

Blood on the Sun ★

US 1945 94m bw
Cagney Productions (William Cagney)

In the twenties, the American editor of a Tokyo newspaper reveals a Japanese militarist plan for world conquest.
Satisfactory star actioner with good production and exciting highlights.
w Lester Cole d Frank Lloyd ph Theodor Sparkuhl m Miklos Rozsa ad Wiard Ihnen ☆ James Cagney, Sylvia Sidney, Wallace Ford, Rosemary de Camp, Robert Armstrong, John Emery, Leonard Strong, Frank Puglia
'It ought to be fine for those who enjoy a good ninety-minute massacre.' – New Yorker
'Tough, hard-hitting and explosive, with just enough rudimentary suspense.' – Bosley Crowther
'Pure unadulterated melodrama has a safe niche in cinematic offerings, but this folderol is more pretentious than persuasive.' – Howard Barnes
Wiard Ihnen

Blood Relatives

Canada/France 1977 100m colour Panavision
Classic/Cinevideo/Filmel (Denis Heroux, Eugene Lepecier)

aka: Les Liens du Sang
A 15-year-old girl accuses her brother of murdering their 17-year-old cousin.
Dull psychological thriller, with stock characters and showing none of the flair that Chabrol has exhibited when examining the French middle classes under pressure.
w Claude Chabrol, Sydney Banks novel Ed McBain d Claude Chabrol ph Jean Rabier m Howard Blake pd Anne Pritchard ed Yves Langlois
☆ Donald Sutherland, Stéphane Audran, Micheline Lanctot, Aude Landry, Lisa Langlois, Laurent Malet, Donald Pleasence, David Hemmings

Blood Simple ★

US 1983 99m DuArt
Palace/River Road (Ethan Coen)

A saloon owner hires a hit man to kill his unfaithful wife and her lover, but the plot rebounds on him.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Yet another variation on The Postman Always Rings Twice (qv), and one with strong moments.
w Joel and Ethan Coen d Joel Coen
ph Barry Sonnenfeld m Carter Burwell
pd Jane Musky ed Roderick Jaynes, Don Wiegmann, Peggy Connolly
☆ John Getz, Frances McDormand, Dan Hedaya, M. Emmet Walsh

Blood Sisters: see Sisters

The Blood Spattered Bride: see La Novia Ensangrentada

Blood Suckers: see Incense of the Damned

The Blood Virgin: see Symptoms

Blood Wedding ★★

Spain 1981 72m Eastmancolor
Artificial Eye/Emiliano Piedra

Dancers of the Antonio Gades company first prepare for, and then rehearse in a bare room, their flamenco-ballet treatment of Lorca's play of passion, jealousy and death.
An exhilarating treatment of both Lorca and the dancers, moving from a documentary style to one more involved in the commitment, energy and techniques on display.
play Federico Garcí Lorca d Carlos Saura ph Teo Escamilla m Emilion de Diego ch Antonio Gades ad Rafael Lammero
ed Pablo del Amo
☆ Antonio Gades, Cristina Hoyos, Juan Antonio, Pilar Cardenas, Carmen Villena, Marisol, Pepe Blanco, El Guito, Lario Diaz
'A feast for dance lovers.' – Sight and Sound

'He's A Heartbeat Away From Catching The Killer.'

Blood Work ★

US 2002 110m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Malpaso (Clint Eastwood)

After he has a heart transplanted from a murdered woman, a retired FBI agent is asked by her sister to discover who killed her.
Eastwood acknowledges here that age has caught up with him; unfortunately it has also overtaken this somewhat senile thriller that is kept alive only by the expert direction.
w Brian Helgeland novel Michael Connelly d Clint Eastwood ph Tom Stern
m Lennie Niehaus pd Henry Bumstead
ed Joel Cox
☆ Clint Eastwood (Terry McCaleb), Jeff Daniels (Buddy Noone), Anjelica Huston (Dr Bonnie Fox), Wanda De Jesus (Graciela Rivers), Tina Lifford (Jaye Winston), Paul Rodriguez (Det. Ronaldo Arrango), Dylan Walsh (Det. John Waller)
'Helgeland's script creaks as painfully as Eastwood's poor old joints and seldom misses an opportunity to cushion itself with cliché.' – Anthony Quinn, Independent
'Superior, carefully crafted entertainment' – Philip French, Observer

Bloodbath at the House of Death

GB 1983 92m colour
EMI/Wildwood (Ray Cameron)

Scientists investigate a haunted house.
Spoof tailored to the requirements of a zany television comedian who never knows when enough is enough. Too much gore and far too much smut.
w Ray Cameron, Barry Cryer d Ray Cameron ph Brian West, Dusty Miller
m Mike Moran, Mark London
☆ Kenny Everett, Pamela Stephenson, Vincent Price, Gareth Hunt, Don Warrington, John Fortune, Sheila Steafel, Graham Stark
'Presumably intended as high camp; looks like low-grade Carry On.' – Martyn Auty, MFB

Bloodbath Bay of Death: see A Bay of Blood

Bloodbrothers

US 1978 116m Technicolor
Warner/Stephen Friedman/Kings Road

The disintegration through failure and inadequacy of a noisy Italian-American family.
The kind of self-indulgence that has one seeking the exit before it's half over.
w Walter Newman novel Richard Price d Robert Mulligan ph Robert Surtees
m Elmer Bernstein pd Gene Callahan
☆ Paul Sorvino, Tony Lo Bianco, Richard Gere, Lelia Goldoni
'The director is trying for something crude, powerful, volatile ... but it goes terribly wrong. People laugh with hysterical heartiness, or say things like: "Life can hurt. It's made me feel close to all those doing the hurting dance."' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
Walter Newman

Bloodfist

US 1989 85m colour
Concorde (Roger Corman)

A kick-boxer seeks to avenge his brother's death.
Unexciting and turgid action movie.
w Robert King d Terence H. Winkless ph Ricardo Jacques Gale m Sasha Matson
ed Karen Horn
☆ Don 'The Dragon' Wilson, Joe Marie Avellana, Michael Shaner, Riley Bowman, Rob Kamen, Billy Blanks, Kris Aguilar

Bloodfist II

US 1990 88m colour
Concorde (Roger Corman)

A kick-boxer attempts to infiltrate an island fortress.
A cheap re-run of Enter the Dragon (qv) with a far less charismatic hero.
w Catherine Cyran d Andy Blumenthal ph Bruce Dorfman m Nigel Holton
ed Karen Joseph
☆ Don 'The Dragon' Wilson, Rina Reyes, Joe Marie Avellana, Robert Marius, Maurice Smith, Tim Baker, James Warring

Bloodfist III

US 1992 88m Foto-Kem
Concorde (Roger Corman)

A wrongly imprisoned kick-boxer goes to the aid of a friend attacked by fellow convicts.
Fast action movie, with some fierce fights, which should satisfy fans of the genre.
w Allison Burnett, Charles Mattera d Oley Sassone ph Rick Bota m Nigel Holton
pd James Shumaker ed Eric L. Beason
☆ Don 'The Dragon' Wilson, Richard Roundtree, Gregory McKinney, Rick Dean, Richard Paul, Charles Boswell, John Cardone

Bloodhounds of Broadway ★

US 1952 90m Technicolor
TCF (George Jessel)

With the help of a gangster, an orphan girl and her pet bloodhounds make a big hit in cabaret.
Absurd but sporadically amusing gangster burlesque, typical of its author. Lively production values.
w Sy Gomberg story Damon Runyon
d Harmon Jones ph Edward Cronjager
m David Raksin md Lionel Newman
☆ Mitzi Gaynor, Scott Brady, Mitzi Green, Marguerite Chapman, Michael O'Shea, Wally Vernon, George E. Stone

Bloodhounds of Broadway

US 1989 90m DeLuxe
Columbia (Howard Brookner)

Interwoven stories of the escapades of gangsters, guys and dolls on New Year's Eve, 1928.
Bland and forgettable and lacking the particular flavour of the original tales.
wd Howard Brookner short stories Damon Runyon ph Elliot Davis
m Jonathan Sheffer pd Linda Conway-Parsole ed Camilla Toniolo ☆ Josef Sommer, Madonna, Tony Azito, Jennifer Grey, Tony Longo, Rutger Hauer, Matt Dillon, Julie Hagerty, Randy Quaid, William Burroughs

Bloodline

US 1979 117m Movielab
Paramount/Geria (David V. Picker, Sidney Beckerman)

A pharmaceutical tycoon is murdered and his daughter seems likely to be the next victim.
Involved all-star suspense shocker which seems constantly about to be better than it ever is.
w Laird Koenig novel Sidney Sheldon
d Terence Young ph Freddie Young
m Ennio Morricone pd Ted Haworth
☆ Audrey Hepburn, Ben Gazzara, James Mason, Claudia Mori, Omar Sharif, Irene Papas, Maurice Ronet, Romy Schneider, Beatrice Straight, Gert Frobe, Michelle Phillips
'Unutterably chic, inexpressibly absurd, and saved from being painfully tedious only by a personable cast doing their damnedest.' – Tom Milne, MFB

'Driven by revenge.'

BloodRayne

US/Germany 2005 96m colour
Romar/Bollwerk/HeroldPitchblack (Shawn Williamson, Daniel Clarke)

A dhampir – a creature who is half-human and half-vampire – seeks revenge against the powerful vampire lord who raped her mother.
Wretched gore-filled adaptation of a video game, medieval in setting, acting and directorial technique.
w Guinevere Turner videogame BloodRayne d Uwe Boll ph Mathias Neumann m Henning Lohner pd James Steuart ed David Richardson ☆ Kristanna Loken (Rayne), Michael Madsen (Vladimir), Matt Davis (Sebastian), Michelle Rodriguez (Katarin), Ben Kingsley (Kagan), Will Sanderson (Domastir), Billy Zane (Elriich), Meat Loaf Aday (Leonid)
'Has the unmistakably tatty look of a low-budget international co-production where pennies were pinched and corners were cut.' – Joe Leydon, Variety
† The film, which cost around $22m flopped at the US box-office, taking around $2.5m.

Bloodsport

US 1988 92m TVC Color
Cannon (Mark DiSalle)

An American commando goes to Hong Kong to take part in the Kumite, a clandestine martial arts competition.
Despite being based on the true story of Frank Dux (who supervised the fight sequences), the movie emerges as pulp fiction that will be of interest only to martial arts enthusiasts, who may not wonder why an American should speak with a heavy Belgian accent.
w Sheldon Lettich, Christopher Crosby, Mel Friedman d Newt Arnold ph David Worth m Paul Hertzog pd David Searl
ed Carl Kress
☆ Jean-Claude Van Damme, Donald Gibb, Leah Ayres, Norman Burton, Forest Whitaker, Roy Chiao, Philip Chan, Pierre Rafini, Bolo Yeung

The Bloodstained Shadow (dubbed)

Italy 1978 107m Technospes
PAC (Teodoro Agrimi)

original title: Solamente Nero
The visit of an overworked university lecturer to his brother, a priest, coincides with a series of murders.
Dull and slow-moving thriller, with an explanation of the crimes that makes very little sense, although a similar and equally unlikely plot turns up in Dario Argento's Creepers (qv).
w Antonio Bido, Marisa Andalo, Domenico Malan d Antonio Bido ph Mario Vulpiani
m Stelvio Cipriani ad Carlo Leva
ed Amedeo Giomini
☆ Lino Capolicchio, Stefania Casini, Craig Hill, Massimo Serato, Juliette Mayniel, Laura Nucci, Attilio Duse

Bloodstream

US 1993 90m CFI color
HBO Showcase (John Bard Manulis)

In the near, grim future, a woman falls in love with the leader of a resistance movement against government policy, in which people suffering from an AIDS-like disease are imprisoned while order is maintained by gangs of young vigilantes.
Moderately effective science-fiction drama of an era when individual liberty is subordinated to the interests of the state, though making only a perfunctory attempt to explore the concept in any depth.
wd Stephen Tolkin play Beirut by Alan Bowne ph Tom Sigel m Michel Colombier pd Leslie Pope ed Brunilda Torres ☆ Cuba Gooding Jnr, Moira Kelly, Omar Epps, Martha Plimpton, Alice Drummond, David Eigenberg, Jon Seda, Nick Chinlund
'Maintains a delicate balance between fantasy and reality, enveloping its political message in an easy-to-swallow dramatic capsule ... a real find.' – Sight and Sound
† The film was made for cable TV.

Bloodsucking Freaks

US 1977 93m colour Ghoulovision
Troma (Alan Margolin)

aka: The Incredible Torture Show
Nasty things happen during a Grand Guignol-style stage show given over to sadism and the white slave trade.
Extraordinarily unpleasant farrago, in which one of the pleasanter moments has someone's brain being sucked out with a straw.
According to Troma's Lloyd Kaufman, it is 'only for the demented'; but it won't do them any good.

wd Joel M. Reed ph Gerry Toll m Michael Sahl ed Victor Kanevsky
☆ Seamus O'Brien, Niles McMaster, Luis de Jesus, Viju Krim, Alan Dellay

Bloody Angels: see 1732 Høtten

The Bloody Bushido Blade: see The Bushido Blade

'Evil has a new enemy.'
Bloody Mallory
France 2002 92m colour
Mars/Bee Movies/Fidelite/Alquimia/Film Office (Olivier Delbosc, Eric Jehelmann, Marc Missonnier)
Elite special paranormal commandos, consisting of a former bride of a demon, a tranvestite explosions expert and a mute telepath, battle against a fallen angel who wants to rid the world of humans.
Comic-book styled monster mash, with an anti-Catholic bias (the Pope is on the side of the demons), slickly-made but showing the unfortunate influence of American movies on French popular cinema.
w Stéphane Kazandjian, Julien Magnat d Julien Magnat ph Sophie Cadet, Nicolas Duchêne m Kenji Kawai pd Gregoire Lemoine ed Jean-Denis Buré
☆ Olivia Bonamy (Mallory), Adrià Collado (Father Carras), Jeffrey Ribier (Vena Cava), Laurent Spielvogel (The Pope), Valentina Vargas (Lady Valentine), Tylda Barès (Talking Tina), Julien Boisselier (Mallory's husband)
'Goofy, gory, really bad movie.' – Variety

'The family that stays together slays together!'
Bloody Mama ★
US 1969 90m Movielab
AIP (Roger Corman)
In the thirties, outlaw Kate Barker and her four sons conduct a reign of terror until what's left of the gang is riddled with machine gun bullets.
Violent gangster story with a star on the rampage; the attempt to philosophize is more than the facts will bear, but the production moves smartly enough.
w Robert Thom d Roger Corman
ph John Alonzo m Don Randi ☆ Shelley Winters, Pat Hingle, Don Stroud, Diane Varsi, Bruce Dern, Clint Kimbrough, Robert De Niro, Robert Walden, Alex Nicol

Bloody Sunday ★★
GB/Ireland 2002 110m colour
Portman/Hell's Kitchen/FC/IFC (Mark Redhead)
In 1972, in the town of Derry in Northern Ireland, British paratroopers, claiming to be under fire, shoot dead 13 demonstators during a civil rights march that turned into a riot.
Engrossing documentary-style reconstruction of a still controversial event; the truth of what happened is still under investigation, but this probably gets as close as we are ever likely to know.
wd Paul Greengrass book Eyewitness Bloody Sunday by Don Mullan ph Ivan Strasburg m Dominic Muldoon pd John Paul Kelly ed Clare Douglas cos Dinah Collin ☆ James Nesbitt (Ivan Cooper), Tim Pigott-Smith (Major General Ford), Nicholas Farrell (Brigadier Maclellan), Gerard McSorley (Chief Supt Lagan), Kathy Kiera Clarke (Frances), Allan Gildea (Kevin McCorry), Gerard Crossan (Eamonn McCann), Mary Moulds (Bernadette Devlin), Carmel McCallion (Bridget Bond), Declan Duddy (Gerry Donaghy)
'A stunning work, revisiting controversial events with journalistic objectivity and a meticulous eye for detail.' – Scott Foundas, Variety

Blossom Time
GB 1934 90m bw
BIP (Walter Mycroft)
US title: April Romance
In old Vienna, a composer stands by while the girl he loves weds a dragoon.
Stilted musical romance redeemed by its star's singing presence.
w John Drinkwater, Walter Burford, Paul Perez, G. H. Clutsam story Franz Schulz
d Paul Stein ph Otto Kanturek, Bryan Langley m Schubert md Idris Lewis ad David Rawnsley, Clarence Elder ed Leslie Norman
☆ Richard Tauber, Jane Baxter, Carl Esmond, Athene Seyler

Blossoms in the Dust ★★
US 1941 99m Technicolor
MGM (Irving Asher)
A woman who loses her husband and child founds a state orphanage.
Archetypal tearjerker of the forties, a glossy 'woman's picture' which distorts the facts into a star vehicle. Excellent colour helped to make it an enormous success.
w Anita Loos, based on the life of Edna Gladney d Mervyn Le Roy ph Karl Freund, W. Howard Greene m Herbert Stothart ad Cedric Gibbons, Urie McCleary ☆ Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Felix Bressart, Marsha Hunt, Fay Holden, Samuel S. Hinds
art direction
best picture; Karl Freund, W. Howard Greene; Greer Garson

'Heading for the laff round-up!'
Blossoms on Broadway
US 1937 88m bw
Paramount (B. P. Schulberg)
A girl who owns a Death Valley gold mine comes to New York and is hounded by confidence men.
Tolerably fast-moving comedy.
w Theodore Reeves d Richard Wallace
☆ Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross, John Trent, Weber and Fields, Frank Craven, Rufe Davis, William Frawley 'Won't do much b.o. blossoming. Good songs, but story stumbles badly.' – Variety

Blotto ★
US 1930 20m bw
Hal Roach
Ollie helps Stan escape his wife for a night on the town, but the lady takes revenge.
Palatable star comedy with a strained second half following a splendidly typical opening.
w Leo McCarey, H. M. Walker d James Parrott
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Anita Garvin

Blow ★
US 2001 123m DeLuxe Panavision
Entertainment/New Line/Spanky/Apostle (Ted Demme, Joel Stillerman, Denis Leary)
A Boston boy grows up to become America's biggest smuggler of cocaine from Colombia in the 1970s.
Fitfully interesting drama, based on a true story, that sets a hectic pace its cast can hardly keep up with; it's a mad dash through pop culture, bland in texture before it stumbles to a halt.
w David McKenna, Nick Cassavetes book Bruce Porter d Ted Demme ph Ellen Kuras m Graeme Revell
pd Michael Hanan ed Kevin Tent
☆ Johnny Depp (George Jung), Penelope Cruz (Mirtha Jung), Jordi Molla (Diego Delgado), Franka Potente (Barbara Buckley), Rachel Griffiths (Ermine Jung), Ray Liotta (Fred Jung), Ethan Suplee (Tuna), Paul Reubens (Derek Foreal), Max Perlich (Kevin Dulli), Cliff Curtis (Pablo Escobar), Bobcat Goldthwait (Mr T)
'Like most movie drug experiences and illicit substance-themed films, this delivers an hour of 'up' entertainment, then inevitably plunges into a compensatory hour of misery and moralising.' – Kim Newman, Empire

'Love is in the hair.'
Blow Dry
GB/Germany/US 2001 90m colour
Buena Vista/Intermedia/Miramax/West Eleven/Mirage/IMF (Ruth Jackson, William Horberg, David Rubin)
In the Yorshire town of Keighley, a barber teams up with his former wife and her girlfriend to compete against the reigning champion in a British Hairdressing contest.
Mild sub-Ealing comedy with a cast seemingly not at ease with their roles.
w Simon Beaufoy based on screenplay Never Better by Simon Beaufoy
d Paddy Breathnach ph Cian De Buitlear
m Patrick Doyle pd Sophie Becher
ed Tony Lawson cos Rosie Hackett
☆ Alan Rickman (Phil), Natasha Richardson (Shelly), Rachel Griffiths (Sandra), Rachael Leigh Cook (Christina), Josh Hartnett (Brian), Bill Nighy (Ray), Warren Clarke (Tony), Rosemary Harris (Daisy), Hugh Bonneville (Louis), Heidi Klum (Jasmine), Peter McDonald (Vincent), Michael McElhatton (Robert)
'It's not a good hair day.' – Variety

'Murder has a sound all of its own!'
Blow Out
US 1981 108m Technicolor Panavision
Filmways/Cinema 77/Geria (George Litto)
A sound effects man accidentally captures on film what turns out to be a murder.
Showily unpleasant thriller concocted of equal parts of The Conversation, Blow Up, and Kennedy at Chappaquiddick; the work of a copycat talent operating below par.
wd Brian de Palma ph Vilmos Zsigmond
m Pino Donaggio pd Paul Sylbert ed Paul Hirsch ☆ John Travolta, Nancy Allen, John Lithgow, Dennis Franz, John McMartin, John Aquino, Curt May
'The camera is better deployed than the script.' – Guardian

Blow to the Heart
Italy 1982 105m colour
Other Cinema/RAI/Antea Cinematografica (Enzo Porcelli) original title: Colpire Al Cuore
A conformist son suspects his radical father of terrorist sympathies.
Moderately gripping, though it suffers from indecision over whether its subject matter is politics or family relationships.
w Gianni Amelio, Vincenzo Cerami
d Gianni Amelio ph Tonino Nardi
m Franco Piersanti ad Marco Dentici
ed Anna Napoli
☆ Jean-Louis Trintignant, Laura Morante, Fausto Rossi, Sonia Gessner, Vanni Corbellini

Blow-Out ★★
France/Italy 1973 133m Eastmancolor Panavision
Gala/Mara/Les Films 66/Capitolina (Jean-Pierre Rassam) original title: La Grande Bouffe
A master chef, a television personality, a pilot and a judge get together for a prolonged orgy of gourmandizing and sex that ends with their deaths.
Grotesque celebration of, or satire on, the consumer society in which amusement gradually turns to disgust.
w Marco Ferreri, Rafael Azcona, Francis Blanche d Marco Ferreri ph Mario Vulpiani m Philippe Sarde ad Michel de Broin ed Claudine Merlin, Gina Pignier
☆ Marcello Mastroianni, Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Piccoli, Philippe Noiret, Andréa Ferreol, Solange Florence, Blondeau Giorgetti, Michele Alexandre, Monique Chaumette
'The film is never negligible thanks to Ferreri's consistently inventive use of detail; and whatever else, it stands as an overdue riposte to the contemporary cinema's ubiquitous hymns to male camaraderie.' – Tony Rayns, MFB

Blow-Up ★★★★
GB 1966 110m Eastmancolor
MGM/Carlo Ponti
A London fashion photographer thinks he sees a murder, but the evidence disappears.
A fashionable think-in on the difference (if any) between fantasy and reality, it's also a camera's eye view of a city at a particular time in its life, of frantic lives leading nowhere, of conspicuous consumption and hidden desires.
wd Michelangelo Antonioni ph Carlo di Palma m Herbert Hancock ad Assheton Gorton ed Frank Clarke
☆ David Hemmings (Thomas), Sarah Miles (Patricia), Vanessa Redgrave (Jane)
'A beautiful and startling film, startling because if the credits didn't say it was coauthored and directed by Michelangelo Antonioni you'd never believe it on the basis of the movie itself, and beautiful because in his first made-in-England English-language film the Italian director proves himself a master of the use of color, both literally and figuratively.' – Judith Crist
Michelangelo Antonioni (as writer and director)

Blowback
US 2000 93m DeLuxe
Blowback (Dana Dubovsky, Mark L. Lester)
A cop is puzzled by a series of murders that resemble those of a psychotic serial killer who was executed for his crimes.
Brutal, low-budget thriller with a derivative narrative and inadequate performances, though Remar is chilling as a Bible-obsessed maniac.
w Jeffrey Goldenberg, Bob Held, Randall Frakes d Mark L. Lester ph Jacques Haitkin m Sean Callery pd Wendy Guidery ed Christopher Roth
☆ Mario Van Peebles (Don Morrell), James Remar (John Matthew Whitman/Schmidt), Sharisse Baker (Monica Ricci), Gladys Jimenez (Charlotte Hart-Morrel), David Groh (Captain Barnett), Stephen Caffrey (Fake Agent Norwood)

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆Cast in approximate order of importance · †Points of interest · ♫Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Blowing Wild ★

US 1953 88m bw
Warner/United States (Milton Sperling)

A Mexican oil driller becomes involved with the psychotic wife of an old friend; the triangle leads to murder and retribution.
Pot-boiling star vehicle with adequate melodramatic interest, full of reminiscences of other movies, with a wicked lady to end them all.
w Philip Yordan d Hugo Fregonese ph Sid Hickox m Dimitri Tiomkin
☆ Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Anthony Quinn, Ruth Roman, Ward Bond

'Trusting Someone Can Be Deadly.'

Blown Away

Canada 1992 92m colour
Norstar (Peter R. Simpson)

A young resort worker becomes involved with the spoilt, self-destructive 17-year-old daughter of his violent boss.
Tawdry tale of thwarted teenage sex that is both trivial and tedious, shot in the style of an unimaginative promotional video for a pop song.
w Robert Cooper d Brenton Spencer ph Perci Young m Paul J. Zaza ad Ian Brock ed Bill Towgood
☆ Corey Haim, Corey Feldman, Nicole Eggert, Gary Farmer, Kathleen Robertson, Jean LeClerc
'Daft "erotic" thriller.' – Sight and Sound

'5-4-3-2-1-Time's Up.'

Blown Away

US 1994 121m DeLuxe Panavision
MGM/Trilogy (John Watson, Richard Lewis, Pen Densham)

A Boston bomb disposal expert hunts down an escaped Irish bomber who knows his guilty secret and is killing his friends.
An action movie with more holes in its plot than there are in some of its mad bomber's victims; the cast give the impression that they were anxious to be somewhere else, but it is enjoyable enough in a mindless way, as long as you do not expect it to make any sense.
w Joe Batteer, John Rice d Stephen Hopkins ph Peter Levy m Alan Silvestri pd John Graysmark ed Timothy Wellburn
☆ Jeff Bridges, Tommy Lee Jones, Lloyd Bridges, Forest Whitaker, Suzy Amis
'Diehard action seekers may be drawn into its technical bag of tricks, but those in search of a gripping, emotional genre pic will be disappointed.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

Blue

US 1968 113m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount/Kettledrum (Judd Bernard, Irwin Winkler)

The white adopted son of a Mexican bandit prevents his cohorts from raping a white girl, and falls in love with her.
Pretentious, self-conscious, literary Western without much zest.
w Meade Roberts, Ronald M. Cohen d Silvio Narizzano ph Stanley Cortez m Manos Hadjidakis
☆ Terence Stamp, Joanna Pettet, Karl Malden, Ricardo Montalban
'I don't know which is worse – bad cowboy movies or bad arty cowboy movies. Blue is both.' – Rex Reed

Blue ★★

GB 1993 76m Technicolor
Basilisk/Uplink (James Mackay, Takashi Asai)

A meditation on AIDS and the colour blue; the screen is suffused with a blue light as the director muses on the death of friends and his own illness and deteriorating sight.
Jarman's valediction to the cinema is more a radio play than a film, but is nevertheless a superior piece of radio.
wd Derek Jarman m Simon Fisher Turner
☆ Featuring the voices of John Quentin, Derek Jarman, Nigel Terry, Tilda Swinton
'Given the choice between art and socially oriented moviemaking, he has opted for art.' – Robert Horton, Film Comment
† Blue was given a simultaneous first broadcast on British television and stereo radio. Jarman himself said of it, 'I think it's quite nice to have that visual silence in the cinema.'

The Blue and the Gold: see An Annapolis Story

The Blue Angel ★★★★

Germany 1930 98m bw
UFA (Erich Pommer)

A fuddy-duddy professor is infatuated with a tawdry night-club singer. She marries him but is soon bored and contemptuous; humiliated, he leaves her and dies in his old classroom.
A masterwork of late twenties German grotesquerie, and after a slowish beginning an emotional powerhouse, set in a dark nightmare world which could be created only in the studio. Shot also in English, it was highly popular and influential in Britain and America. It instantly catapulted Dietrich to international stardom.
w Robert Liebmann, Carl Zuckmayer, Karl Vollmoeller novel Professor Unrath by Heinrich Mann d Josef von Sternberg ph Günther Rittau, Hans Schneeberger m Frederick Hollander (inc 'Falling in Love Again', 'They Call Me Wicked Lola') ad Otto Hunte, Emil Hasler ed S.K. Winston ☆ Emil Jannings (Prof. Immanuel Rath), Marlene Dietrich (Lola Frohlich), Kurt Gerron (Kiepert), Hans Albers (Mazeppa), Rosa Valetti (Guste)
'It will undoubtedly do splendidly in the whole of Europe and should also appeal strongly in the States … only fault is a certain ponderousness of tempo which tends to tire.' – Variety
'At the time I thought the film was awful and vulgar and I was shocked by the whole thing. Remember, I was a well brought up German girl.' – Marlene Dietrich
† The two-disc Region 1 and 2 DVD includes the 104m German and the 94m English version of the film, commentary by Werner Sudendorf of the Berlin Film Museum and interview footage of Marlene Dietrich.

The Blue Angel

US 1959 107m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Jack Cummings)

An academic falls for a nightclub singer.
Ill-advised attempt at a 'realistic', updated remake of the Germnan original; the result is a total travesty, with the actors aware that stylized melodrama is turning before their eyes into unintentional farce.
w Nigel Balchin d Edward Dmytryk ph Leon Shamroy m Hugo Friedhofer ☆ Curt Jurgens, May Britt, Theodore Bikel, John Banner
'It totally lacks the stifling atmosphere of sordid and oppressive sexuality which is essential to give conviction to the German sadism of the story.' – Brenda Davies

The Blue Bird ★★★

US 1940 98m Technicolor (bw prologue)
TCF (Gene Markey)

In a Grimm's Fairy Tale setting, the two children of a poor woodcutter seek the bluebird of happiness in the past, the future and the Land of Luxury, but eventually discover it in their own back yard.
An imaginative and often chilling script clarifies Maurice Maeterlinck's fairy play, and the art direction is outstanding, but the children are necessarily unsympathetic and the expensive production paled beside the success of the more upbeat Wizard of Oz (qv), which was released almost simultaneously. Slashed for re-release, the only existing prints now open with confusing abruptness and no scene-setting before the adventures begin.
w Ernest Pascal d Walter Lang ph Arthur Miller, Ray Rennahan m Alfred Newman ad Richard Day, Wiard B. Ihnen ed Robert Bischoff
☆ Shirley Temple (Mytyl), Johnny Russell (Tyltyl), Gale Sondergaard (Tylette (The Cat)), Eddie Collins (Tylo (The Dog)), Nigel Bruce (Mr. Luxury), Jessie Ralph (Fairy Berylune), Spring Byington (Mummy Tyl), Sybil Jason (Angela Berlingot), Helen Ericson (Light), Russell Hicks (Daddy Tyl), Al Shean (Grandpa Tyl), Cecilia Loftus (Granny Tyl)
'One of the most deliciously lovely productions to be brought to the screen.' – MFB
Arthur Miller, Ray Rennahan

The Blue Bird

US/USSR 1976 83m Technicolor Panavision
TCF/Edward Lewis/Lenfilm

Two children seek the bluebird of happiness.
Abortive remake, widely touted as the first Russian–American co-production, but sabotaged by a flabby script, unsuitable casting and unresolved production problems.
w Hugh Whitemore, Alfred Hayes d George Cukor ph Freddie Young, Ionas Gritzus m Irwin Kostal, Andrei Petrov
☆ Elizabeth Taylor (Mother, Maternal Love, Light and the Witch), Ava Gardner, Cicely Tyson, Jane Fonda, Harry Andrews, Will Geer, Mona Washbourne, George Cole
'It works so hard at making history that it forgets to make sense.' – David Sterritt, Christian Science Monitor
'If you have any naughty children you want to punish, take them to The Blue Bird and make them sit all the way through it.' – William Wolf, Cue
'It turns a work for adults that children can enjoy into a charade for children that must sicken adults.' – John Simon, New Yorker
'Senile and interminable.' – Stephen Farber, New West
'Lavishly done; limited box office.' – Variety

Blue Black Permanent

GB 1992 86m colour
BFI/Channel 4/Viz Permanent (Barbara Grigor)

An Edinburgh photographer remembers her childhood in the Orkneys and returns there with her lover to sort out the problems that plague her.
A shifting and complex narrative explores feminine identity across two generations.
wd Margaret Tait ph Alex Scott m John Gray pd Andrew Semple ed John MacDonnell ☆ Celia Imrie, Jack Shepherd, Gerda Stevenson, James Fleet, Sean Scanlan, Hilary Maclean, Walter Leask, Sheena Mar
'Tait's achievement is to suggest the processes that lie behind our ways of seeing, our declarations, and to find a style that enacts, or at least simulates, those very processes.' – Robert Yates, Sight and Sound

Blue Blood

GB 1973 86m Technicolor
Mallard-Impact Quadrant (Kent Walwin, John Trent)

A German governess arrives at an English stately home and finds the malevolent butler plotting to show his supremacy over his effete master.
An extremely unattractive, would-be satirical melodrama which plays like a Grand Guignol version of The Servant (qv).
wd Andrew Sinclair novel The Carry-Cot by Alexander Thynne ph Harry Waxman m Brian Gascoigne ☆ Oliver Reed, Derek Jacobi, Fiona Lewis, Anna Gael, Meg Wynn Owen

Blue Blood ★ ④

UK 2007 89m
Miracle/Warner Music/BBC Storyville/Delirio/Sylabik (Rafael Marmor, Stevan Riley)

An account of young pugilists in Oxford University's boxing team.
An odd choice for a sports documentary – but against all odds, some of these over-privileged young boxers turn out to be engaging.
wd Stevan Riley ph Stevan Riley m Itamar Ziegler ed Stevan Riley

Blue Canadian Rockies

US 1952 60m bw
Columbia/Gene Autry (Armand Schaefer)

A ranch foreman goes to Canada to stop the boss's daughter from marrying the wrong man.
Uninteresting Western with a flimsy plot and minimal action, interrupted by some indifferent songs.
w Gerald Geraghty d George Archainbaud ph William Bradford md Mischa Bakaleinikoff ad George Brooks ed James Sweeney
☆ Gene Autry, Champion, Pat Buttram, Gail Davis, Carolina Cotton, Ross Ford, Tom London, Mauritz Hugo, Cass County Boys

Blue Chips ★

US 1994 108m Technicolor
Paramount (Michele Rappaport)

A college basketball coach, in trouble with a losing streak, condones bribery to get the talent he needs for his team.
A loud and frenetic melodrama of endemic corruption with an appeal likely to be limited to fans of the sport.
w Ron Shelton d William Friedkin ph Tom Priestley Jnr m Nile Rodgers, Jeff Beck, Jed Leiber pd James Bissell ed Robert K. Lambert, David Rosenbloom
☆ Nick Nolte, Mary McDonnell, J. T. Walsh, Ed O'Neill, Alfre Woodard, Bob Cousy, Shaquille O'Neal, Matt Nover, Louis Gossett Jnr, Robert Wuhl, Anfernee 'Penny' Hardaway
'A riveting, intelligent work.' – Independent
'A deafness-inducing but otherwise ho-hum would-be exposé of shady recruiting practices by college basketball programs.'

Todd McCarthy, Variety

Blue City

US 1986 83m Technicolor
Paramount (William Hayward, Walter Hill)

A drifter returns home to discover that his father has been murdered and his stepmother is living with the probable killer.
Dull, predictable and unpleasantly amoral thriller in which the hero's investigative methods into the killing consist of beating up most people he meets while waging a criminal war against his enemies.
w Lukas Heller, Walter Hill novel Ross MacDonald d Michelle Manning
ph Steven Poster m Ry Cooder
ad Richard Lawrence ed Ross Albert
☆ Judd Nelson, Ally Sheedy, David Caruso, Paul Winfield, Scott Wilson, Anita Morris, Julie Carmen, Luis Contreras

Blue Collar ★★★

US 1978 114m Technicolor
Universal/TAT (Don Guest)

Three car factory workers try to improve their lot by unionization and robbery.
Salty, rough, downbeat but impressively realistic modern drama, a belated American equivalent of Saturday Night and Sunday Morning (qv).
w Paul Schrader, Leonard Schrader d Paul Schrader ph Bobby Byrne m Jack Nitzsche ed Tom Roif
☆ Richard Pryor (Zeke Brown), Harvey Keitel (Jerry Bartowski), Yaphet Kotto (Smokey), Ed Begley Jnr (Bobby Joe), Harry Bellaver (Eddie Johnson), George Memmoli (Jenkins), Lucy Saroyan (Arlene Bartowski), Lane Smith (Clarence Hill)

'This is Schrader's first directing job and the best elements in the script fit his ability like a role tailored for an actor. His work is easy and quick, imaginative but not ostentatious.' – Stanley Kauffmann

'If you want to feel the rush you have to take the risk.'

Blue Crush ★

US 2002 104m colour
Universal/Imagine (Brian Grazer, Karen Kehela)

In Hawaii, a hotel maid and competitive surfer neglects preparation for a big event as she begins to fall for a holidaying football player.
Good-looking romantic fable with a gritty edge and much sand, sea and bikini-clad beauties, though no doubt it's meant to be about female empowerment.
w Lizzy Weiss, John Stockwell article Surf Girls of Maui by Susan Orlean d John Stockwell ph David Hennings m Paul Haslinger pd Tom Meyer ed Emma E. Hickox
☆ Kate Bosworth (Anne Marie), Matthew Davis (Matt), Michelle Rodriguez (Eden), Sanoe Lake (Lena), Mika Boorem (Penny), Chris Taloa (Drew), Kala Alexander (Kala)

'The kind of movie that's not five minutes old before you know what the last five minutes are going to be like.' – Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times

'Tamed by a brunette – framed by a blonde – blamed by the cops!'

The Blue Dahlia ★★

US 1946 99m bw
Paramount (John Houseman)

A returning war veteran finds his faithless wife murdered and himself suspected.
Hailed on its first release as sharper than average, this mystery suspenser is now only moderately compelling despite the screenplay credit; direction and editing lack urgency and the acting lacks bounce.
w Raymond Chandler d George Marshall
ph Lionel Lindon m Victor Young ☆ Alan Ladd, Veronica Lake, William Bendix, Howard da Silva, Doris Dowling, Tom Powers, Hugh Beaumont, Howard Freeman, Will Wright

'It threatens to turn into something, but it never does.' – New Yorker, 1978
'The picture is as neatly stylized and synchronized, and as uninterested in moral excitement, as a good ballet; it knows its own weight and size perfectly and carries them gracefully and without self-importance; it is, barring occasional victories and noble accidents, about as good a movie as can be expected from the big factories.' – James Agee
Raymond Chandler

Blue Denim ★

US 1959 89m bw Cinemascope
TCF (Charles Brackett)
GB title: Blue Jeans

Teenagers confronted with the prospect of illegitimate parenthood consult an abortionist, but all ends with wedding bells.
First of its rather dreary kind but better than most, this only slightly mawkish domestic drama has its heart in the right place and steers surprisingly towards a nick-of-time chase climax.
w Edith Sommer, Philip Dunne play James Leo Herlihy, William Noble
d Philip Dunne ph Leo Tover m Bernard Herrmann
☆ Carol Lynley, Brandon de Wilde, Macdonald Carey, Marsha Hunt, Nina Shipman, Warren Berlinger

Blue Fire Lady

Australia 1978 95m Eastmancolor
AIFC (Anthony Ginnane)

A young girl defies her father's opposition to work with horses.
A soft-centred romance between a girl and a horse which follows the usual pattern – girl meets horse, girl loses horse, girl gets horse – and which will appeal to other horse-lovers.
w Bob Maumill d Ross Dimsey
☆ Cathryn Harrison, Mark Holden, Peter Cummins, Marion Edward, Lloyd Cunnington, Syd Conabere, Philip Barnard-Brown, Gary Waddell

The Blue Gardenia

US 1953 90m bw
Warner/Gloria/Blue Gardenia (Alex Gottlieb)

A girl gets drunk and wakes up in a strange apartment with a dead man by her side.
Totally undistinguished mystery which leaves egg on the actors' faces.
w Charles Hoffman d Fritz Lang
ph Nicholas Musuraca m Raoul Kraushaar ☆ Anne Baxter, Richard Conte, Ann Sothern, Raymond Burr, Jeff Donnell, Richard Erdman, Nat King Cole

Blue Gate Crossing ★

Taiwan/France 2002 82m Fujicolor
Arc Light/Pyramide/Hsu Hsiao-ming Film Corp

original title: Lanse Da Men

A girl with a crush on her best friend is used by her to carry messages to a boy at their school.
Slight and charming movie of adolescent desires and confusions.
wd Yee Chih-yen ph Chien Hsiang m Chris Hou ad Hoa Shao-yu ed Liao Ching-song ☆ Chen Bo-lin (Zhang Shihao), Guey Lun-mei (Meng Kerou), Liang Shu-hui (Lin Yuezhan), Joanna Chou (Mrs Meng)

'Opening and closing mid-reverie, the film practically evaporates before your eyes and its weightlessness is surprisingly potent.' – Dennis Lim, Village Voice

Blue Hawaii

US 1961 101m Technicolor Panavision
Hal B. Wallis

A GI comes home to Honolulu and becomes a beachcomber.
Lifeless star vehicle shot on glamorous locations.
w Hal Kanter d Norman Taurog
ph Charles Lang Jnr m Joseph J. Lilley
☆ Elvis Presley, Joan Blackman, Nancy Walters, Roland Winters, Angela Lansbury, John Archer, Howard McNear

Blue Heat

US 1990 106m colour
Rank/Orion/Davis (John A. Davis)

US title: The Last of the Finest

An ex-cop goes after the drugs and arms dealer who caused his resignation from the force.
Standard cops 'n' robbers mayhem.
w Jere Cunningham, Thomas Lee Wright, George Armitage d John MacKenzie ph Juan Ruiz-Anchia m Jack Nitzsche, Michael Hoenig pd Lawrence G. Paull ed Graham Walker, Gregory Mark Gerlich, Albert Coleman, Karen Dale Greene
☆ Brian Dennehy, Joe Pantoliano, Jeff Fahey, Bill Paxton, Michael C. Gwynne

'If Harry's past ever catches up with him, he won't live long enough to regret it.'

Blue Ice

US 1992 105m colour
Guild/M&M (Martin Bregman, Michael Caine)

A jazz-club owner, a former secret agent, is asked by his mistress to find an old boyfriend and becomes embroiled in murder and arms smuggling.
Dreary thriller, lacking in surprise and suspense, with a cast that gives the impression that its attention is understandably elsewhere.
w Ron Hutchinson novel Ted Allbeury
d Russell Mulcahy ph Denis Crossan
m Michael Kamen pd Grant Hicks
ed Seth Flaum
☆ Michael Caine, Sean Young, Ian Holm, Bobby Short, Alun Armstrong, Sam Kelly, Jack Shepherd, Philip Davis, Patricia Hayes, Alan MacNaughton, Bob Hoskins

'Belongs to that familiar genre, the bad British thriller, with Michael Caine playing a version of Harry Palmer depoliticised for the Nineties and Sean Young giving the non-performance of her career.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent
'A resolutely old-fashioned thriller which, in its quaint view of London (all Tower Bridge and Soho dives), seems like an inflated 50s quota quickie.' – Kim Newman, Sight and Sound

The Blue Iguana

US 1988 88m CFI color
TCF/Polgram/Propaganda (Sigurjon Sighvatsson, Steven Colin)

An incompetent and down-at-heel bounty hunter is forced by inland revenue agents to undertake a suicidal mission in Mexico.
A comic take on the clichés of tough-guy thrillers that suffers from overstatement, with jokes being repeated three or four times in case you missed the point first time around.
wd John Lafia ph Rodolfo Sanchez
m Ethan James pd Cynthia Sowder
ed Scott Chestnut
☆ Dylan McDermott, Jessica Harper, James Russo, Tovah Feldshuh, Dean Stockwell, Pamela Gidley, Yano Anaya, Flea

'Just Over The Bridge, Around The Corner From Reality Is A Place That's Out Of This World. Welcome To Planet Brooklyn.'

Blue in the Face

US 1995 89m DuArt
Miramax (Greg Johnson, Peter Newman, Diana Phillips)

Customers drop in to a Brooklyn cigar store, presided over by an affable manager, while residents talk about life in the locality.
A semi-improvised piece that grew out of rehearsals for Smoke (qv), its more structured companion piece; it may well be rewarding for those who enjoyed that film, but is otherwise of limited interest.
wd Wayne Wang, Paul Auster ph Adam Holender m John Lurie pd Kalina Ivanov
ed Christopher Tellefsen
☆ Harvey Keitel, Lou Reed, Roseanne, Michael J. Fox, Jim Jarmusch, Lily Tomlin, Mel Gorham, Jared Harris, Giancarlo Esposito, Victor Argo, Madonna, Keith David, Mira Sorvino

'The pointlessness would be vastly more appealing if Wang and Auster didn't make such a point of it.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker

Blue Jean Cop

US 1988 105m colour
Universal/Shapiro-Glickenhaus Entertainment (J. Boyce Harman Jnr)

US title: Shakedown

A lawyer defending a drug dealer uncovers corruption in the police force.
Over-the-top car chases and gun battles mar what might have been a good action thriller.
wd James Glickenhaus ph John Lindley
m Jonathan Ellis pd Charles Bennett ed Paul Fried
☆ Peter Weller, Sam Elliott, Patricia Charbonneau, Antonio Fargas, William Prince, Blanche Baker

Blue Jeans: see Blue Denim

'On the waves, he's the king. On land, he's in trouble.'
'One Life. Use It.'

Blue Juice ★

GB 1995 98m colour
Film Four/Pandora/Skreba (Peter Salmi, Simon Relph)

Surfers gather in Cornwall for one last fling before they succumb to life's responsibilities.
Pleasing small-scale movie of people searching for something to commit to, and finding, for the most part, only stormy weather.
w Carl Prechezer, Peter Salmi d Carl Prechezer ph Richard Greatrex m Simon Davison pd Mark Tildesley ed Michael Ellis
☆ Sean Pertwee, Catherine Zeta Jones, Steven Mackintosh, Ewan McGregor, Peter Gunn, Heathcote Williams, Keith Allen, Jenny Agutter

'Absolutely charming, unabashedly offbeat.' – Variety

The Blue Kite ★★★

China/Japan 1993 138m colour
Longwick/Beijing Film Studio

original title: Lan Fengzheng

A boy recalls his mother's three marriages and the troubles that beset his family life during the 1950s and 60s, a time of political upheaval during China's Great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution inspired by the Red Guards.

A gripping, though often depressing, domestic drama seen against the ideological upheavals that made a hero of one period a villain of the next; there is warmth and humour in the telling, but the story is one of personal tragedy.

w Xiao Mao d Tian Zhuangzhuang ph Hou Yong m Yoshihide Otomo ad Zhang Xiande ed Qian Lengleng

☆ Zhang Wenyao (Tietou, as a child), Chen Xiaoman (Tietou, as a teenager), Lu Piping (Mum (Chen Shujuan)), Pu Quanxin (Dad (Lin Shaolong)), Li Xuejian (Uncle Li (Li Guodong)), Guo Baochang (Stepfather (Lao Wu)), Zhong Ping (Chen Shusheng), Chu Qhuangzhong (Chen Shuyan), Song Xiaoying (Sis), Zhang Hong (Zhu Ying)

'Major surprise of the movie is that, despite a story and multi-character cast that looks more fitted to a mini-series, it works on a simple emotional level as a feature film. Characters emerge as real people rather than political stereotypes.' – Variety

'Vividly and touchingly conveys the insecurity, fear and confusion of the family.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent

† The film had a troubled production with interference from Chinese officials, who forbade a print to leave the country for post-production work. The film was finished from the director's script and notes after a print was smuggled out of the country. In a statement made at the 1993 Cannes Film Festival the director said, 'The stories in the film are real, and they are related with total sincerity. What worries me is that it is precisely a fear of reality that has led to the ban on such stories being told.' It has not been shown in China, and in April 1994 Tian Zhuangzhuang was one of seven film directors banned from making films in mainland China.

The Blue Lagoon ★

GB 1949 103m Technicolor
GFD/Individual (Frank Launder, Sidney Gilliat)

A shipwrecked boy and girl grow up on a desert island, ward off smugglers, have a baby, and eventually sail away in search of civilization.

Rather lifeless, though pretty, treatment of a famous novel: the story never becomes vivid despite splendid Fijian locations.

w Frank Launder, John Baines, Michael Hogan novel H. de Vere Stacpoole d Frank Launder ph Geoffrey Unsworth m Clifton Parker

☆ Jean Simmons, Donald Houston, Noel Purcell, Cyril Cusack, James Hayter

The Blue Lagoon

US 1980 102m Colorfilm
Columbia/Randal Kleiser

A boy and a girl grow up after being shipwrecked on a desert island.

Remake with poor narrative balance and a great deal of nudity and adolescent frankness about sex. Adolescents are probably its only audience.

w Douglas Day Stewart d Randal Kleiser ph Nestor Almendros m Basil Poledouris

☆ Brooke Shields, Christopher Atkins, Leo McKern, William Daniels

'At best a damp dream, a Sunday school fairy tale which makes the story of Adam and Eve seem like hard porn, as hygienically sanitized as a Hilton Hotel lavatory seat.' – Sunday Times

'A total fraud from beginning to end.' – Guardian

'The film has an inevitable, built-in prurience. All we have to look forward to is: when are these two going to discover fornication?' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

'This movie made me itch.' – Roger Ebert

Nestor Almendros

The Blue Lamp ★★★

GB 1949 84m bw
Ealing (Michael Relph)

A young man joins London's police force. The elderly copper who trains him is killed in a shootout, but the killer is apprehended.

Seminal British police film which spawned not only a long line of semi-documentary imitations but also the twenty-year TV series Dixon of Dock Green for which the shot PC was happily revived. As an entertainment, pacy but dated; more important, it burnished the image of the British copper for generations.

w T. E. B. Clarke d Basil Dearden ph Gordon Dines md Ernest Irving ad Jim Morahan ed Peter Tanner

☆ Jack Warner (George Dixon), Jimmy Hanley (Andy Mitchell), Dirk Bogarde (Tom Riley), Meredith Edwards (PC Hughes), Robert Flemyng (Sgt. Roberts), Bernard Lee (Inspector Cherry), Patric Doonan (Spud), Peggy Evans (Diana Lewis), Gladys Henson (Mrs Dixon), Dora Bryan (Maisie)

'The mixture of coyness, patronage and naive theatricality which has vitiated British films for the last ten years.' – Gavin Lambert

'A soundly made crime thriller which would not be creating much of a stir if it were American.' – Richard Mallett, Punch

'It is not only foreigners who find the English policeman wonderful, and, in composing this tribute to him, the Ealing Studios are giving conscious expression to a general sentiment.' – The Times Film Correspondent

British picture

The Blue Light ★

Germany 1932 68m bw
H. R. Sokal/Leni Riefenstahl

In the early 19th century, a painter defies a local legend to climb a Dolomite mountain.

Romantic fairy tale with a story more suited to a ballet. It still takes the eye, and is recognizable as the work of its director.

wd Leni Riefenstahl ph Hans Schneeberger, Henry Jaworsky m Giuseppe Becce

☆ Leni Riefenstahl, Matthias Wieman, Max Holsboer

† This version was put together in 1950 after the original negative had been lost; among other things, a flashback frame was removed.

'There was no quiet on the western front for the heroes and cowards who flew to their rendezvous with hell!'

The Blue Max ★

US 1966 156m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Christian Ferry)

In Germany after World War I an ambitious and skilful pilot causes the death of his comrades and steals the wife of his High Command superior, who eventually finds a means of revenge.

For once, an action spectacular not too badly let down by its connecting threads of plot, apart from some hilarious and unnecessary bedroom scenes in which the female star's bath towel seems to become conveniently adhesive.

w David Pursall, Jack Seddon, Gerald Hanley novel Jack Hunter d John Guillermin ph Douglas Slocombe m Jerry Goldsmith pd Wilfred Shingleton

☆ George Peppard, James Mason, Ursula Andress, Jeremy Kemp, Karl Michael Vogler, Anton Diffring, Derren Nesbitt

'Addicts of flying movies swear by this one, but for others, the monoplanes and biplanes can't smash or burn fast enough.' – Pauline Kael

Wilfred Shingleton

Blue Murder at St Trinians ★

GB 1957 86m bw
British Lion/John Marvel (Launder and Gilliat)

The awful schoolgirls win a UNESCO prize trip which takes them to Rome where they become involved with a jewel thief.

Possibly the best of this series, which isn't saying much. See The Belles of St Trinians.

w Frank Launder, Val Valentine, Sidney Gilliat d Frank Launder ph Gerald Gibbs m Malcolm Arnold ed Geoffrey Foot

☆ Terry-Thomas, George Cole, Joyce Grenfell, Alastair Sim, Judith Furse, Sabrina, Lionel Jeffries, Lloyd Lamble, Thorley Walters, Kenneth Griffith, Eric Barker, Richard Wattis

Blue Parrot

GB 1953 69m bw
ACT (Stanley Haynes)

An American detective helps Scotland Yard solve a murder mystery.

Uninteresting thriller, no more than a programme-filler.

w Allan MacKinnon story Percy Hoskins d John Harlow ph Bob Navarro ad Don Russell ed Robert Hill

☆ Dermot Walsh, Jacqueline Hill, Ballard Berkeley, June Ashley, Victor Lucas, John Le Mesurier, Arthur Rigby, Ferdy Mayne, Richard Pearson, Edwin Richfield

The Blue Peter

GB 1955 93m Eastmancolor
British Lion/Beaconsfield (Herbert Mason)
US title: Navy Heroes

A confused war hero becomes a trainer at an Outward Bound school for boys.

Pleasant but uninspired open air adventure for young people.

w Don Sharp, John Pudney d Wolf Rilla ph Arthur Grant m Antony Hopkins

☆ Kieron Moore, Greta Gynt, Sarah Lawson, Mervyn Johns, Ram Gopal, Edwin Richfield, Harry Fowler, John Charlesworth

'It's the nearest thing to heaven!'

Blue Skies ★

US 1946 104m Technicolor
Paramount (Sol C. Siegel)

A dancing star and a night-club owner fight for years over the same girl.

Thin musical with splendid Irving Berlin tunes and lively individual numbers, including Astaire dancing 'Puttin' on the Ritz'.

w Arthur Sheekman d Stuart Heisler ph Charles Lang Jnr, William Snyder md Robert Emmett Dolan ad Hans Dreier, Hal Pereira ed LeRoy Stone

☆ Fred Astaire, Bing Crosby, Joan Caulfield, Billy de Wolfe, Olga San Juan, Robert Benchley, Frank Faylen, Victoria Horne, Jack Norton

♫ A Couple of Song and Dance Men; Getting Nowhere; I'll Dance Rings Around You; It's A Lovely Day for a Walk; Puttin' on the Ritz; Heat Wave; How Deep is the Ocean?; A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody; All By Myself; Blue Skies; I've Got My Captain Working For Me Now; Russian Lullaby; White Christmas

Robert Emmett Dolan; song 'You Keep Coming Back Like a Song' (m/ly Irving Berlin)

'In a world of secrets, love is the most powerful weapon.'

Blue Sky ★★

US 1994 101m DeLuxe
Orion (Robert H. Solo)

In the early 60s, an army scientist involved in dubious nuclear experiments has problems with his work and his marriage.

An old-fashioned melodrama that gains from some good performances, though its resolution is unconvincing.

w Rama Laurie Stagner, Arlene Sarner, Jerry Leichtling d Tony Richardson ph Steve Yaconelli m Jack Nitzsche pd Timian Alsaker ed Robert K. Lambert

☆ Jessica Lange, Tommy Lee Jones, Powers Boothe, Carrie Snodgress, Amy Locane, Chris O'Donnell, Mitchell Ryan, Annie Ross

† Made in 1991.

Jessica Lange

Blue Spring ★

Japan 2002 83m colour
FPA/Omega Micott/Shogakukan/There's Enterprise/KSS/Nikkatsu/Nippan (Dai Miyazaki, Tomohiro Kobayashi)

original title: Aoi Haru

Students at a rundown school compete in a dangerous contest to become the acknowledged leader of the pack.

Melancholy portrait of disaffected youth, facing an uncertain or criminal future.

wd Toshiaki Toyoda manga Taiyo Matsumoto ph Norimichi Kasamatsu m Kenji Ueda pd Mitsuo Harada ed Mototaka Kusakabe

☆ Ryuhei Matsuda, Hirofumi Arai, Sosuke Takaoka, Yusuke Ohshiba, Yuta Yamazaki, Shogo Oshinari, Mame Yamada

'Rather pretentious rite-of-passage drama whose stylish aspects both flatter and expose a lack of much real depth.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety

Blue Steel

US 1934 54m bw
Lone Star (Paul Malvern)

A sheriff goes undercover to expose a gang of crooks attempting to swindle a town out of its riches.

Lacklustre Western enlivened by a few stunts.

wd Robert N. Bradbury ph Archie Stout ed Carl Pierson

☆ John Wayne, Eleanor Hunt, George Hayes, Edward Peil, Yakima Canutt, George Cleveland

'For a rookie cop, there's one thing more dangerous than uncovering a killer's fantasy. Becoming it.'

Blue Steel

US 1990 102m Technicolor
Vestron/Lightning Pictures/Precision Films/Mack-Taylor Productions (Edward R. Pressman, Oliver Stone)

A new cop, hunting a serial killer, falls for the chief suspect.

Lurid and ludicrous melodrama.
w Kathryn Bigelow, Eric Red d Kathryn Bigelow ph Amir Mokri m Brad Fiedel pd Tony Corbett ed Hal Levinsohn ☆ Jamie Lee Curtis, Ron Silver, Clancy Brown, Elizabeth Pena, Louise Fletcher, Philip Bosco

'He's A Cop That's Not. Believe That!'

Blue Streak

US 1999 95m DeLuxe
Columbia/Global (Toby Jaffe, Neal H. Moritz)

After serving his prison sentence, a jewel thief discovers that his hiding place for his loot is now a police station.
A corny excuse for a comedy is given occasional life by the vigorous performance of its star, but even he cannot salvage such hand-me-down material.
w Michael Berry, John Blumenthal, Steve Carpenter d Les Mayfield ph David Eggby m Edward Shearmur pd Bill Brzeski ed Michael Tronick
☆ Martin Lawrence (Miles Logan), Luke Wilson (Carlson), Peter Greene (Deacon), Dave Chappelle (Tulley), William Forsythe (Hardcastle), Nicole Ari Parker (Melissa Green), Graham Beckel (Rizzo), Robert Miranda (Glenfiddish), Olek Krupa (LaFleur), Saverio Guerra (Benny)
'Though unevenly devised as an homage to the whole range of '70s crime pics from blaxploitation to buddie cop comedies, modest production plays closer to a made-for-TV project than anything worthy of the big screen.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

Blue Sunshine ★

US 1978 97m Movielab
Ellanby (George Manasse)

As results of experiments a decade earlier by an academic turned politician, former university students turn into bald, homicidal maniacs.
Enjoyable low budget horror that makes fun of middle-class values and mixes in a little political satire.
wd Jeff Lieberman ph Don Night m Charles Gross ad Ray Storey ed Brian Smedley-Ashton ☆ Zalman King (Jerry Zipkin), Deborah Winters (Alicia Sweeney), Mark Goddard (Edward Flemming), Robert Walden (David Blume), Charles Siebert (Detective Clay), Ann Cooper (Wendy Flemming)

Blue Thunder ★

US 1983 110m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Rastar/Gordon Carroll

A policeman in Los Angeles' Astro Division is haunted by memories of Vietnam and goes berserk when using his new ultra-sophisticated helicopter to wage war against crime.
Slick but hollow thriller most remarkable for its helicopter stunting between city skyscrapers. Otherwise, it is too often fashionably inaudible and almost invisible.
w Dan O'Bannon, Don Jakoby d John Badham ph John A. Alonzo m Arthur B. Rubinstein ed Frank Morriss, Edward Abroms aerial photography Frank Holgate
☆ Roy Scheider, Warren Oates, Candy Clark, Daniel Stern, Malcolm McDowell
† A watered-down TV version was quickly assembled, but its comic-strip dialogue grounded it after 13 episodes.
♗ film editing

Blue Tiger

US 1994 87m colour
NEO/Ozla (Michael Leahy, Aki Komine)

After her young son is accidentally shot by a Japanese gangster, his mother searches for his killer, a man with a distinctive tattoo of a blue tiger.
On its own undemanding level, an enjoyable and well-made thriller.
w Joel Soisson d Norberto Barba ph Christopher Walling md Larry Scharf ed Caroline Ross
☆ Virginia Madsen, Harry Dean Stanton, Toru Nakamura, Ryo Ishibashi, Dean Hallo, Sal Lopez, Lewis Arquette, Henry Mortensen
'Handsome photography, slick direction and a fun script make this a top quality B-movie.' – Sight and Sound

The Blue Veil ★

US 1951 114m bw
RKO/Wald-Krasna (Raymond Hakim)

The vocational career of a children's nurse who descends into poverty but is rescued by one of her own charges, now grown up.
*Sober American remake of a French tearjerker (Le Voile bleu) with the star suffering nobly but being upstaged by the cameo players.*
w Norman Corwin, from the original by François Campaux d Curtis Bernhardt ph Franz Planer m Franz Waxman
☆ Jane Wyman, Charles Laughton, Richard Carlson, Joan Blondell, Agnes Moorehead, Don Taylor, Audrey Totter, Everett Sloane, Cyril Cusack, Natalie Wood, Warner Anderson
♗ Jane Wyman; Joan Blondell

Blue Velvet ★★★★

US 1986 120m colour J-D-C Scope
De Laurentiis (Richard Roth)

A naive man finds on some wasteland a severed ear and becomes involved in murder, mutilation and sexual perversion in Middle America.
Lynch's subversive film is a bizarrely stylish exercise, which involves his audience in the voyeurism of his protagonist.
wd David Lynch ph Frederick Elmes m Angelo Badalamenti pd Patricia Norris ed Duwayne Dunham ☆ Kyle MacLachlan (Jeffrey Beaumont), Isabella Rossellini (Dorothy Vallens), Dennis Hopper (Frank Booth), Laura Dern (Sandy Williams), Hope Lange (Mrs. Williams), Dean Stockwell (Ben)
'Horrifying in ways that genre horror movies never are ... Lynch's nightmare has a sort of irregular, homemade quality, as if it had been cooked up with familiar but not entirely wholesome ingredients – a fresh apple pie with a couple of worms poking through the crust.' – Terrence Rafferty, Nation
♗ David Lynch

Blue Water, White Death ★

US 1971 99m Techniscope
Blue Water Films/Cinema Center

A skilful and quite frightening documentary about the habits of the Great White Shark, with a lead-up showing events on the expedition which set out in search of it.
wd Peter Gimbel ph James Lipscomb

Bluebeard ★

US 1944 73m bw
PRC

A strangler of young girls is at large in Paris.
Poverty Row chiller with effective moments; possibly the most interesting film ever to come from PRC (which isn't saying very much).
w Pierre Gendron d Edgar G. Ulmer ph Jockey Feindel
☆ John Carradine, Jean Parker, Ludwig Stossel, Nils Asther, Iris Adrian

Bluebeard: see Landru (1962)

Bluebeard

France/Italy/Germany 1972 124m Technicolor
Barnabé/Gloria/Geiselgasteig (Alexander Salkind)

The lady-killer in this case is an Austrian aristocrat who has been driven to desperation and murder by a long line of mistresses whose bodies he keeps frozen in his cellar.
Would-be macabre comedy which becomes totally off-putting by its emphasis on close-up death agonies.
w Ennio de Concini, Edward Dmytryk, Maria Pia Fusco d Edward Dmytryk ph Gabor Pogany m Ennio Morricone
☆ Richard Burton, Raquel Welch, Joey Heatherton, Virna Lisi, Nathalie Delon, Marilu Tolo
'Somewhere between (and a long way behind) Kind Hearts and Coronets and The Abominable Dr Phibes.' – Clyde Jeavons, MFB

Bluebeard's Eighth Wife ★

US 1938 85m bw
Paramount (Ernst Lubitsch)

The daughter of an impoverished French aristocrat marries for money a millionaire who has had seven previous wives, and determines to teach him a lesson.
Very thin sophisticated comedy with unsympathetic characters and little wit after the first scene; a disappointment from the talent involved.
w Charles Brackett, Billy Wilder play Alfred Savoir d Ernst Lubitsch ph Leo Tover m Werner Heymann, Frederick Hollander
☆ Claudette Colbert, Gary Cooper, David Niven, Edward Everett Horton, Elizabeth Patterson, Herman Bing, Warren Hymer, Franklin Pangborn
'Light and sometimes bright, but it gets a bit tiresome.' – Variety
'In these days it is bad enough to have to admire millionaires in any circumstances; but a millionaire with a harem complex simply can't help starting the bristles on the back of a sensitive neck.' – New York Times
† A previous version, released by Paramount in 1923 and directed by Sam Wood, starred Gloria Swanson and Huntley Gordon.

Bluebeard's Seven Wives ★

US 1926 94m approx bw silent
First National

A bank teller becomes a film star and is transformed, notably by seven imaginary marriages.
Amusing spoof on the film industry that was.
w Blanche Merrill, Paul Scofield d Alfred Santell ☆ Ben Lyon, Lois Wilson, Blanche Sweet, Dorothy Sebastian, Sam Hardy

Bluebeard's Ten Honeymoons

GB 1960 93m bw
Anglo-Allied (Roy Parkinson)

Another version of the story of Landru, alternating wildly between fantasy, farce and melodrama.
Not a success in any of its moods.
w Myles Wilder d W. Lee Wilder ph Stephen Dade m Albert Elms ☆ George Sanders, Corinne Calvet, Patricia Roc, Ingrid Hafner, Jean Kent, Greta Gynt, Maxine Audley, Selma Vaz Diaz, George Coulouris
'The unedifying narrative is developed along the most obvious lines imaginable.' – MFB

'When the angels kiss the demons,... you'd better be ready.'

Blueberry

France/GB/Mexico 2004 124m colour
La Petite Reine/Ajoz/UGC Images/ Crystalcreek,/ Ultra Films/TF1/120 Films (Thomas Langmann, Ariel Zeitoun)

A Cajun runaway with connections to an Indian shaman becomes sheriff of a frontier town where he has to confront a killer from his past, who is in search of a gold-mine on sacred Indian land.
Slow-paced, mystic comic-book Western, a solemn and somnabulistic mix of Sergio Leone and Carlos Castenada on Valium; it offers a morose hero, a moroser villain, Eddie Izzard as an unconvincing Prussian, and some interminable psychedelia to make up for its lack of gunfights and action.
w Gerard Brach, Matt Alexander, Jan Kounen comics Jean 'Moebius' Giraud d Jan Kounen ph Tetsuo Nagata m Jean-Jacques Hertz, Francis Roy pd Michel Barthélémy ed Benedicte Brunet, Joel Jacovella, Jennifer Auge
☆ Vincent Cassel (Mike Blueberry), Michael Madsen (Wally Blount), Juliette Lewis (Maria Sullivan), Eddie Izzard (Prosit), Temuera Morrison (Runi), Ernest Borgnine (Rolling Star), Geoffrey Lewis (Sullivan), Colm Meaney (McClure), Djimon Hounsou (Woodhead)
'Promises to be an interesting mess but delivers a plain old bog-standard mess instead.' – Empire
† The director spent a year studying with an Amazonian shaman before making the film, which cost $45m.

Blueberry Hill

US 1988 93m colour
MGM/Mediacom/Prism/MVA-1/Tricoast (Mark Michaels)

In an isolated logging community, a mother tries to conceal from her daughter the truth about her dead father.
Unoriginal domestic drama of young rebellion, set in the 50s, which provides the excuse for its soundtrack of rock 'n' roll hits.
w Lonon Smith d Strathford Hamilton ph David Lewis m Ira Ingber pd John Sperry Wade ed Marcy Hamilton
☆ Carrie Snodgress, Margaret Avery, Jennifer Rubin, Matt Lattanzi, Tommy Swerdlow

The Bluebird: see The Blue Bird

A Blueprint for Murder ★

US 1953 77m bw
TCF (Michael Abel)

After the death of his brother and niece, a man proves that his sister-in-law is a murderess.
Unpleasant but efficient murder story with enough twists to keep one watching.
wd Andrew Stone ph Leo Tover m David Raksin md Lionel Newman
☆ Jean Peters, Joseph Cotten, Gary Merrill, Catherine McLeod, Jack Kruschen, Barney Phillips, Joyce McCluskey, Mae Marsh

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · ♗ Academy Award · ♗ Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Blueprint for Robbery ★

US 1960 87m bw
Paramount (Bryan Foy)

Crooks plan and execute a robbery, agreeing not to touch the proceeds for two and a half years. But some get tired of waiting...

Minor but effective crime melodrama in semi-documentary vein.

w Irwin Winehouse, A. Sanford Wolf d Jerry Hopper ph Loyal Griggs m Van Cleave

☆ J. Pat O'Malley, Robert Gist, Romo Vincent, Marion Ross, Tom Duggan

'A not uninteresting entry in the screen log-book on crime.' – MFB

The Blues Brothers ★

US 1980 133m Technicolor
Universal (Robert K. Weiss)

A massive car chase develops when two brothers collect money for their old orphanage without too much regard for law and order.

Fashionable chase comedy with so many stunts that its cost ran up to 33,000,000 dollars. The public stayed away, though it has gained a cult following since.

w Dan Aykroyd, John Landis d John Landis ph Stephen M. Katz md Ira Newborn pd John Lloyd

☆ John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, Kathleen Freeman, James Brown, Henry Gibson, Cab Calloway, Carrie Fisher

'It meanders expensively like some pedigreed shaggy dog through 70s/80s American cinema and 50s/60s American rock, cocking its leg happily at every popular landmark on the way.' – Paul Taylor, MFB

'There's not a soupçon of wit or ingenuity in this brainless exercise in overspending.' – Daily Mail

'There's even room, in the midst of the carnage and mayhem, for a surprising amount of grace, humor and whimsy.' – Roger Ebert

Blues Brothers 2000

US 1998 123m DeLuxe
Universal (John Landis, Dan Aykroyd, Leslie Belzberg)

Chased by cops, gangsters and militia, an ex-jailbird and singer tries to reassemble his old band.

Virtually a remake of The Blues Brothers; even those who enjoyed its conspicuous destruction and ersatz rhythm and blues the first time around may find that more is worse.

w Dan Aykroyd, John Landis d John Landis ph David Herrington m Paul Shaffer pd Bill Brodie ed Dale Beldin

☆ Dan Aykroyd, John Goodman, Joe Morton, J. Evan Bonifant, Nia Peeples, Frank Oz, Steve Lawrence, Aretha Franklin, James Brown, B. B. King

'A warmed-up corpse of a movie, having neither the courage to do anything new or the wit to make a joke out of its own unoriginality.' – Adam Smith, Empire

Blues for Lovers: see Ballad in Blue

Blues Harp ★★

Japan 1998 105m colour
MAC (Narita Naoya)

Tragedy ensues when a harmonica-playing part-time barman and drug dealer becomes involved with an ambitious, small-time gangster.

Tough thriller with homoerotic undercurrents that also takes in American involvement, sexual and musical, in Japanese life.

w Matsuo Toshihiko, Morioka Toshiyuki d Takashi Miike ph Yamamoto Hideo m Okuno Atsushi pd Ishige Akira ed Shimamura Taiji

☆ Ikeuchi Hiroyuki, Tanabe Seichi, Sekino Saori, Mickey Curtis

'Swings easily between harsh explosions and delicate restraint.' – Ken Eisner, Variety

Blues in the Night ★

US 1941 88m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

Career and romantic problems for the members of a travelling jazz band.

Atmospheric little melodrama with good score and smart dialogue.

w Robert Rossen play Hot Nocturne by Edwin Gilbert d Anatole Litvak ph Ernest Haller m/ly Harold Arlen, Johnny Mercer

☆ Priscilla Lane, Richard Whorf, Lloyd Nolan, Betty Field, Jack Carson, Elia Kazan, Wallace Ford, Billy Halop, Peter Whitney

♫ title song (m Harold Arlen, ly Johnny Mercer)

Blume in Love ★

US 1973 116m Technicolor
Warner (Paul Mazursky)

A divorced American lawyer in Venice reminisces about his love life.

Shapeless but enjoyable 'serious comedy' with star and director in good form.

wd Paul Mazursky ph Bruce Surtees m various ☆ George Segal, Susan Anspach, Kris Kristofferson, Marsha Mason, Shelley Winters

Boardwalk

US 1979 100m Eastmancolor
ITC/Stratford (Gerald T. Herrod)

An old couple in Coney Island are affected by escalating violence.

Well-meaning but somewhat absurd moral tale for our times, in which the harassed septuagenarian finally chokes the young punk leader to death.

w Stephen Verona, Leigh Chapman d Stephen Verona ph Billy Williams m various

☆ Ruth Gordon, Lee Strasberg, Janet Leigh, Joe Silver, Eddie Barth

'One would probably have to reach as far back as The Birth of a Nation to find a more direct incitement to racial hatred.' – Richard Combs, MFB

The Boat ★★

West Germany 1981 149m Fujicolour
Columbia/Bavaria Atelier/Radiant Film (Gunter Röhrbach)

original and US title: Das Boot

Adventures of a German U-boat during World War II.

Well-crafted but totally unsurprising saga of heroism and self-sacrifice; a decent view of war from the German side, designed to impress world markets. It did so only moderately.

wd Wolfgang Petersen ph Jost Vacano m Klaus Doldinger pd Rolf Zehetbauer

☆ Jürgen Prochnow, Herbert Grönemeyer, Klaus Wennemann, Hubertus Bengsch, Martin Semmelrogge

† A director's cut, running for 209m, was released in 1997.

♙ direction; screenplay (adaptation); cinematography; editing; sound; sound editing

'Singles Cruise. Double Trouble.'

Boat Trip

Germany/US 2002 93m DeLuxe
Entertainment/MPC/IWP/ApolloMedia/Gemini (Brad Krevoy, Gerhard Schmidt, Frank Huebner, Andrew Sugerman)

Two loveless friends go on a singles cruise in a search for beautiful women – and discover too late that it's for gays.

Appallingly bad movie that sinks (and stinks) with all hands.

w Mort Nathan, William Bigelow d Mort Nathan ph Shawn Maurer m Robert Folk pd Charles Breen ed John Axness

☆ Cuba Gooding Jnr (Jerry), Horatio Sanz (Nick), Roselyn Sanchez (Gabriella), Vivica A. Fox (Felicia), Maurice Godin (Hector), Roger Moore (Lloyd), Lin Shaye (Sonya), Victoria Silvstedt (Inga), Richard Roundtree (Felicia's Dad)

'Excruciating cocktail of sitcom plotting and gross-out humor' – Variety

'Goes down faster than the Titanic and is far more deserving of its fate.' – New York Times

The Boatmen: see Prisoner of the Volga

The Boatniks ★

US 1970 100m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Ron Miller)

An accident-prone coastguard officer creates havoc at a yachting marina but is acclaimed a hero after catching three jewel thieves.

Simple fresh-air farce for the family, pleasantly set but flatly directed.

w Arthur Julian d Norman Tokar ph William Snyder m Robert F. Brunner

☆ Phil Silvers, Robert Morse, Stefanie Powers, Norman Fell, Mickey Shaughnessy, Wally Cox, Don Ameche, Joey Forman

Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice ★★

US 1969 105m Technicolor
Columbia/M. J. Frankovich (Larry Tucker)

Two California couples, influenced by a group therapy session advocating natural spontaneous behaviour, decide to admit their extra-marital affairs and narrowly avoid a wife-swapping party.

Fashionable comedy without the courage of its convictions: it starts and finishes very bashfully, but there are bright scenes in the middle. An attempt to extend it into a TV series was a failure.

w Paul Mazursky, Larry Tucker d Paul Mazursky ph Charles E. Lang m Quincy Jones

☆ Natalie Wood, Robert Culp, Elliott Gould, Dyan Cannon, Horst Ebersberg

'An old-fashioned romantic comedy disguised as a blue picture.' – Arthur Schlesinger Jnr

♙ Paul Mazursky, Larry Tucker; Charles E. Lang; Elliott Gould; Dyan Cannon

Bob Le Flambeur ★★★

France 1956 95m bw
Jenner/Cyme/Play Art/OG

An ageing, compulsive gambler and former gangster plans one last heist: to rob a casino.

Moody, melancholy thriller that is a character study, concentrating on a protagonist who is, in his own way, a man of honour.

w Auguste Le Breton, Jean-Pierre Melville d Jean-Pierre Melville ph Henri Decae m Eddie Barclay, Jean Boyer ad Jean-Pierre Melville, Bouxin ed Monique Bonnot

☆ Roger Duchesne (Bob), Isabelle Corey (Anne), Daniel Cauchy (Paolo), Howard Vernon (McKimmie), Guy Decomble (Inspector Ledru), Claude Cerval (Jean)

'Its dark-toned cinematography by Henri Decae still packs a wallop, and the screenplay has a refreshing sense of humor, reflecting Melville's concept of the picture as less a straightforward cops-and-robbers story than a scruffy comedy of manners.' – David Sterrit, Christian Science Monitor

† It was remade by Neil Jordan in 2002 as The Good Thief (qv).

Bob Roberts ★★

US 1992 104m Technicolor
Rank/Polygram/Working Title/Live Entertainment (Forrest Murray)

An American folk singer and right-wing politician makes a record that goes to the top of the hit parade and wins a seat in the Senate.

Clever satire on politics, done as a documentary film, that has the message that it is appearance and the manipulation of the media that counts, not reality.

wd Tim Robbins ph Jean Lépine m David Robbins pd Richard Hoover ed Lisa Churgin

☆ Tim Robbins, Giancarlo Esposito, Alan Rickman, Ray Wise, Brian Murray, Gore Vidal, Rebecca Jenkins, Harry J. Lennix, Susan Sarandon, John Cusack, Bob Balaban

'Both a stimulating social satire and a depressing commentary on the devolution of the US political system.' – Variety

Bob, Son of Battle

US 1947 110m Technicolor
TCF (Robert Bassler)
aka: Thunder in the Valley

A surly old shepherd discovers that his sheepdog, which he loves above his son, is a killer.

Soft-centred family drama that relies overmuch on Gwenn's roguish charm and sudden redemption.

w Jerome Cady novel Alfred Ollivant d Louis King ph Charles Clarke m Cyril Mockridge

☆ Edmund Gwenn, Lon McCallister, Peggy Ann Garner, Reginald Owen, Charles Irwin, Dave Thursby, John Rogers, Leyland Hodgson

Bobbikins

GB 1959 90m bw Cinemascope
TCF (Oscar Brodney, Bob McNaught)

A downtrodden variety artist finds that his baby can not only talk but also give him tips on the stock exchange.

Not at all a good idea, and feebly executed.

w Oscar Brodney d Robert Day ph Geoffrey Faithfull m Philip Green

☆ Max Bygraves, Shirley Jones, Billie Whitelaw, Barbara Shelley, Colin Gordon, Charles Tingwell, Lionel Jeffries, Rupert Davies

'He saw wrong and tried to right it. He saw suffering and tried to heal it. He saw war and tried to stop it.'

Bobby ★ (5)

US 2006 116m
Momentum/Weinstein Company/Bold Films (Michael Litvak, Edward Bass, Holly Wiersma)

Intertwining stories about fictional characters in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on the day of Senator Robert Kennedy's assassination in 1968.

High-minded but flawed cross between the Garbo classic Grand Hotel (qv) and Robert Altman's multiple-narrative Nashville (qv). All the stories here clearly strive to suggest Kennedy's quasi-saintly influence on ordinary folk at a tumultuous time in America's history, with an unpopular war, social upheavals, and gender and racial politics in a state of flux. Predictably, some stories work better than others. But the strongest part is the final depiction of Kennedy's death. That at least leaves one convinced that few politicians in 40 subsequent years could inspire such a tribute.

wd Emilio Estevez ph Michael Barrett m Mark Isham pd Patti Podesta ad Colin de Rouin ed Richard Chew
☆ Harry Belafonte (Nelson), Emilio Estevez (Tim), Laurence Fishburne (Edward Robinson), Heather Graham (Angela), Anthony Hopkins (John Casey), Helen Hunt (Samantha), Ashton Kutcher (Fisher), Lindsay Lohan (Diane), William H. Macy (Paul Ebbers), Demi Moore (Virginia Fallon), Martin Sheen (Jack), Christian Slater (Daryl Timmons), Sharon Stone (Miriam Ebbers), Elijah Wood (William), Shia La Beouf (Cooper)
'Few of the characterisations could fill the back of a matchbook, and in refusing to see RFK as anything but a liberal messiah, the film meanders through its political context with a white stick and a dopey smile.' – Tim Robey, Daily Telegraph
'So keenly felt and deeply imagined, I couldn't help but be moved, even grateful, for its bleeding-heart nostalgia.' – Jonathan Rosenbaum, Chicago Reader

'He had to meet her – to find himself!'

Bobby Deerfield
US 1977 123m Metrocolor Panavision
Warner/First Artists (Sydney Pollack)
A depressive motor racing driver falls for a girl with an incurable illness.
A kind of understated Love Story (qv) for intellectuals; nicely made, but nothing that anybody will be wildly concerned about.
w Alvin Sargent novel Heaven Has No Favourites by Erich Maria Remarque d Sydney Pollack ph Henri Decaë m Dave Grusin pd Stephen Grimes ☆ Al Pacino, Marthe Keller, Anny Duperey, Walter McGinn, Romolo Valli, Jaime Sanchez

The Bobo
US 1967 105m Technicolor
Warner/Gina (Elliott Kastner, Jerry Gershwin) (David R. Schwartz)
An unsuccessful and timid bullfighter is offered a contract if within three days he can seduce the local belle.
Stylized, silly and boring comedy from an obviously dated play; Chaplinesque pathos was not this star's strong suit.
w David R. Schwartz play David R. Schwartz novel Olimpia by Burt Cole d Robert Parrish ph Gerry Turpin m Francis Lai
☆ Peter Sellers, Britt Ekland, Rossano Brazzi, Adolfo Celi, Hattie Jacques, Ferdy Mayne, Kenneth Griffith, John Wells

Bob's Birthday ★★
GB 1993 11m colour
Snowden Fine Animation/Channel 4/NFBC (Alison Snowden, David Fine)
A dentist is unhappy about celebrating his 40th birthday, while his wife prepares a surprise party for him.
Witty animated cartoon about middle-aged angst and embarrassment.
wd Alison Snowden, David Fine m Patrick Godfrey ☆ Featuring the voices of: Andy Hamilton, Harry Enfield, Alison Snowden animated short

La Boca del Lobo ★★
Peru/Spain 1988 116m Agfacolor
New People's Cinema/Twinray/Inca Films/Tornasol Films (Gerardo Herrero, Francisco J. Lombardi)
English title: The Lion's Den
A tough and embittered lieutenant orders his troops to massacre villagers sympathetic to the Communists.
Gripping investigation of the morality of war, based on a true incident.
w Augusto Cabada, Giovanni Pollarolo, Gerardo Herrero d Francisco J. Lombardi ph Jose Luis Lopez Linares m Bernardo Bonezzi pd Marta Mendez ed Juan San Mateo ☆ Gustavo Bueno, Tono Vega, Joe Tejada, Gilberto Torres, Antero Sanchez, Aristoteles Picho, Fernando Vasquez, Luis Saavedra, Bertha Pagaza

Boccaccio '70 ★
Italy/France 1962 210m Eastmancolor
TCF/CCC/Cineriz/Francinex/Gray Films (Antonio Cervi, Carlo Ponti)
Four modern stories which Boccaccio might have written (on an off day).
Overlong portmanteau with inevitable bright moments but many more longueurs. The fourth episode was dropped when the film was released in the States and elsewhere.
The Temptation of Dr Antonio
w Federico Fellini, Tullio Pinelli, Ennio Flaiano d Federico Fellini ph Otello Martelli; with Anita Ekberg
The Job
w Suso Cecchi d'Amico, Luchino Visconti d Luchino Visconti ph Giuseppe Rotunno; with Romy Schneider, Tomas Milian
The Raffle
w Cesare Zavattini d Vittorio de Sica ph Otello Martelli; with Sophia Loren Renzo and Luciana
d Mario Monicelli

Boda Secreta: see Secret Wedding

Bodies, Rest and Motion
US 1993 94m DeLuxe
Electric/Fine Line/August (Allan Mindel, Denise Shaw, Eric Stoltz)
A couple split up: he goes in search of his parents with a stolen television set, she begins a casual affair with a decorator.
An aimless movie about feckless people, the sort of film you'd continue watching on television if the remote control was not to hand.
w Roger Hedden d Michael Steinberg ph Bernd Heinl m Michael Convertino pd Stephen McCabe ed Jay Cassidy
☆ Phoebe Cates, Bridget Fonda, Tim Roth, Eric Stoltz, Alicia Witt, Sandra Lafferty, Peter Fonda
'Uncompelling but moderately engaging throughout.' – Variety
'Billed as a comedy, it's mighty short on laughs.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent

The Body
US 2001 109m Technicolor Panavision
Metrodome/Avalanche/Helkon/Green Moon (Rudy Cohen)
An archeologist discovers in a tomb in Jerusalem a crucified body that may be that of Jesus.
Melodramatic hokum served up with portentous solemnity.
wd Jonas McCord novel Richard Ben Sapir ph Vilmos Zsigmond m Serge Colbert pd Allan Starski ed Alain Jakubowicz cos Caroline Harris
☆ Antonio Banderas (Father Matt Gutierrez), Olivia Williams (Sharon Golban), John Shrapnel (Moshe Cohen), Derek Jacobi (Father Lavelle), Jason Flemyng (Father Walter Winstead), John Wood (Cardinal Pesci), Makhram J. Khoury (Nasir Hamid), Vernon Dobtcheff (Monsignor), Ian McNeice (Dr Sproul), Muhamed Bakri (Aby Yusef)
'Less a serious religious-themed film than a moth-eaten tapestry of foreign intrigue and badly miscast international stars to rival the Cannon Films productions of the 1980s.' – Scott Foundas, Variety
'The sluggishness of "The Body" may remind viewers of a joke David Letterman used to make: if the film were a fight, they'd have stopped it.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

Body and Soul ★
US 1947 104m bw
Enterprise (Bob Roberts)
A young boxer fights his way unscrupulously to the top.
Melodramatic but absorbing study of prizefighting's seamy side. (Is there any other?) Inventively studio-bound and almost impressionist in treatment.
w Abraham Polonsky d Robert Rossen ph James Wong Howe m Hugo Friedhofer md Rudolph Polk ed Francis Lyon, Robert Parrish
☆ John Garfield, Lilli Palmer, Hazel Brooks, Anne Revere, William Conrad, Joseph Pevney, Canada Lee
'Here are the gin and tinsel, squalor and sables of the depression era, less daring than when first revealed in Dead End or Golden Boy but more valid and mature because shown without sentiment or blur.' – National Board of Review
Francis Lyon, Robert Parrish
Abraham Polonsky; John Garfield

Body and Soul
US 1981 122m colour
Cannon/Golan-Globus (Cliff Roquemore)
An amateur boxer turns professional to earn money for medical treatment for his kid sister.
Blood in the ring, sentimentality on the sidelines. Despite the credit, this repellent movie has virtually no connection with the previous 'version'.
w Leon Isaac Kennedy screenplay Abraham Polonsky d George Bowers ph James Forrest m Webster Lewis ☆ Leon Isaac Kennedy, Jayne Kennedy, Muhammad Ali, Michael Gazzo, Perry Lang, Kim Hamilton, Peter Lawford

Body Count
GB/US 1997 84m DeLuxe
Polygram/Island/Main Line (Mark Burg, Doug McHenry, George Jackson)
Four quarrelling art thieves, on the run from cops, pick up a double-crossing woman along the way.
Slick but uninvolving thriller, with an unhelpful style in flashbacks.
w Theodore Witcher d Robert Patton-Spruill ph Charles Mills m Curt Sobel pd Tim Eckel ed Richard Nord
☆ David Caruso, Linda Fiorentino, John Leguizamo, Ving Rhames, Donnie Wahlberg, Forest Whitaker

The Body Disappears
US 1941 72m bw
Warner (Ben Stoloff)
A professor invents an invisibility formula.
Uninspired comedy switch on a familiar theme.
w Scott Darling, Erna Lazarus d D. Ross Lederman ph Allen G. Seigler m Howard Jackson
☆ Edward Everett Horton, Jeffrey Lynn, Jane Wyman, Herbert Anderson, Marguerite Chapman, Craig Stevens, David Bruce, Willie Best

'You can't believe everything you see.'

Body Double
US 1984 114m Metrocolor
Columbia/Delphi II (Brian de Palma)
An out-of-work actor finds himself drawn into a nightmare when he spies on a lady stripteaser across the street.
Semi-porno melodrama with many echoes of Hitchcock overlaid with fashionable extremes of violence.
w Robert J. Avrech, Brian de Palma d Brian de Palma ph Stephen H. Burum m Pino Donaggio pd Ida Random ed Jerry Greenberg, Bill Pankow
☆ Craig Wasson (Jake Scully), Gregg Henry (Sam), Melanie Griffith (Holly), Deborah Shelton (Gloria), Guy Boyd (Jim McLean), Dennis Franz (Rubin)
'De Palma lets all his obsessions hang out.' – Variety

'She taught him everything he knew – about passion and murder!'

Body Heat ★★
US 1981 113m Technicolor
Warner/Ladd (Fred T. Gallo)
A Florida lawyer becomes involved with a married woman and they plot to kill her businessman husband.
Oversexed and superfluous, not to mention uncredited, revamp of Double Indemnity (qv). Some evidence of flair does not relieve that 'I have been here before' feeling.
wd Lawrence Kasdan ph Richard H. Kline m John Barry pd Bill Kenney ed Carol Littleton ☆ William Hurt, Kathleen Turner, Richard Crenna, Ted Danson
'Film noir, if it is to be successfully reworked, needs to be approached with a sense of analysis, rather than simple excess.' – Steve Jenkins, MFB

Body Melt
Australia 1993 84m colour
Dumb Films/Australian Film Commission/Film Victoria (Rod Bishop, Daniel Scharf)
A mad scientist invents a vitamin supplement that has an appalling side-effect: it causes people to explode or disintegrate.
A gruesomely visceral horror with stomach-turning effects; beneath all the gore there are signs of a certain wit and intelligence at work.
w Philip Brophy, Rod Bishop d Philip Brophy ph Ray Argall m Philip Brophy pd Maria Kozic ed Bill Murphy sp Bob McCarron
☆ Gerard Kennedy, Andrew Daddo, Ian Smith, Vince Gil, Regina Gaigalas, Maurie Annese, Nick Polites, William McInnes
'A schlocky, tongue-in-cheek gore pic ... cheerfully sick humor.' – Variety
† The film's credits include the unusual

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA lines: 'Testicles Philip Brophy, Buttocks Maria Kozic'.

Body of Evidence

US 1992 99m DeLuxe
UIP/Dino de Laurentiis

A woman, who is accused of killing by too much sexual activity the elderly man who left her a fortune in his will, begins an affair with her defence counsel.
Almost silly enough to be enjoyable, in its calculated mix of kinky sex and courtroom scenes, but finally it is just too silly for words.
w Brad Mirman d Uli Edel ph Doug Milsome m Graeme Revell pd Victoria Paul ed Thom Noble
☆ Madonna, Willem Dafoe, Joe Mantegna, Anne Archer, Julianne Moore, Jurgen Prochnow, Frank Langella, Stan Shaw

'This showcase for the singer-thesp as femme fatale is titillating enough to lure an initially curious public and follow up as a good video title, but its theatrical endurance would seem closer to that of her victim than to Madonna's.' – Variety

'The transplant was a success. Then the donor came to take it back.'

Body Parts

US 1991 88m Technicolor Panavision
Paramount (Frank Mancuso Jnr)

A psychiatrist, injured in a car crash, is one of several patients to have body parts transplanted from a homicidal maniac, with predictable results.
Dull horror movie that tries to revive an old, familiar plot by injecting plenty of gore.
w Eric Red, Norman Snider novel Choice Cuts by Boileau-Narcejac story Patricia Herskovic, Joyce Taylor d Eric Red ph Theo Van de Sande m Loek Dikker pd Bill Brodie ed Anthony Redman ☆ Jeff Fahey, Lindsay Duncan, Zakes Mokae, Kim Delaney, Peter Murnik, Paul Benvictor, Brad Dourif

'There are movies that define every decade... One night will change eight lives forever.'

Body Shots

US 1999 106m DeLuxe Panavision
Entertainment/New Line (Jennifer Keohane, Harry Colomby)

The sexual misadventures of four young men and women in Los Angeles.
A drama of casual coupling, centred around the accusation of rape from one participant; what begins as comedy ends as a more earnest investigation of varying sexual attitudes, but it never strikes the right note in either part.
w David McKenna d Michael Cristofer ph Rodrigo Garcia m Mark Isham pd David J. Bomba ed Eric Sears
☆ Sean Patrick Flanery (Rick Hamilton), Jerry O'Connell (Michael Penorisi), Amanda Peet (Jane Bannister), Tara Reid (Sara Olswang), Ron Livingston (Trent Barber), Emily Procter (Whitney Bryant), Brad Rowe (Shawn Denigan), Sybil Temchen (Emma Cooper)

'Essentially an exercise in adult TV framed for widescreen. The project exudes a lush look entombed in a self-important manner that's culturally tone-deaf.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

Body Slam

US 1987 89m CFI color
Musifilm/Hemdale (Shel Lytton, Mike Curb)

A promoter on the skids accidentally creates the rock 'n' wrestling craze.
Easy-going comedy which would have benefited from more confident production.
w Shel Lytton, Steve Burkow d Hal Needham ph Mike Shea m Michael Lloyd, John D'Andrea ad Pamela Warner ed Randy Thornton
☆ Dirk Benedict, Tanya Roberts, Roddy Piper, Lou Albano, Charles Nelson Reilly, Billy Barty, Barry Gordon, John Astin

'Shriek And Shudder.'
'Graves Raided! Coffins Robbed! Corpses Carved! Midnight Murder! Body Blackmail! Stalking Ghouls! Mad Thrills Of Terror And Macabre Mystery!'

The Body Snatcher ★★★

US 1945 77m bw
RKO (Val Lewton)

In 19th-century Edinburgh a doctor obtains 'specimens' from grave-robbers, and murder results when supplies run short.
A familiar theme very imaginatively handled, and well acted, though the beginning is slow. The best of the Lewton thrillers.
w Philip MacDonald, Carlos Keith (Val Lewton) story R. L. Stevenson d Robert Wise ph Robert de Grasse m Roy Webb ad Walter E. Keller, Albert S. D'Agostino ed J.R. Whittredge
☆ Henry Daniell (Dr. MacFarlane), Boris Karloff (John Gray), Bela Lugosi (Joseph), Edith Atwater (Meg Camden), Russell Wade (Donald Fettes)

'A humane sincerity and a devotion to good cinema ... However, most of the picture is more literary than lively.' – Time

'Imagine ... You're Gone And Someone Else Is Living Inside Your Body.'

Body Snatchers ★★

US 1993 90m Technicolor Arriscope
Warner (Robert H. Solo)

Aliens replicate and replace the inhabitants of military camps.
An effective and suspenseful retelling of the classic of conformity and paranoia, given a modern gloss with its teenage heroine and its concerns about toxic waste and environmental damage.
w Stuart Gordon, Dennis Paoli, Nicholas St John novel Jack Finney story Raymond Cistheri, Larry Cohen d Abel Ferrara ph Bojan Bazelli m Joe Delia pd Peter Jamison ed Anthony Redman ☆ Gabrielle Anwar, Terry Kinney, Billy Wirth, Meg Tilly, Christine Elise, R. Lee Ermey, G. Elvis Phillips, Reilly Murphy, Kathleen Doyle, Forest Whitaker

'A tremendously exciting thriller that compares favourably with Don Siegel's classic.' – Variety

'A gem which seduces the eye, captures the imagination and makes the adrenalin race.' – Sight and Sound

† The film was released direct to video in Britain. Jack Finney's novel was filmed in 1956 by Don Siegel and remade in 1978 by Philip Kaufman under the title Invasion of the Body Snatchers (qqv), the later version also being produced by Robert H. Solo.

Body Stealers

GB 1969 91m colour
Tigon (Tony Tenser)

US title: Thin Air

A NATO general calls for an investigation when parachutists training for space disappear in mid-air.
Conventional low-budget science fiction, predictable from the first moment to the last.
w Mike St Clair, Peter Marcus d Gerry Levy ph Johnny Coquillon m Reg Tilsey ad Wilfred Arnold ed Howard Lanning
☆ George Sanders, Maurice Evans, Patrick Allen, Hilary Dwyer, Lorna Wilde, Neil Connery, Robert Flemyng, Allan Cuthbertson

The Bodyguard: see Yojimbo (1961)

'Never let her out of your sight. Never let your guard down. Never fall in love.'

The Bodyguard

US 1992 129m Technicolor
Warner/Tig/Kasdan Pictures (Lawrence Kasdan, Jim Wilson, Kevin Costner)

A former CIA agent is hired as a bodyguard by a singer who has received threats on her life.
Predictable mix of song, romance and action that found surprising favour at the box-office.
w Lawrence Kasdan d Mick Jackson ph Andrew Dunn m Alan Silvestri pd Jeffrey Beecroft ed Richard A. Harris
☆ Kevin Costner, Whitney Houston, Gary Kemp, Bill Cobbs, Ralph Waite, Tomas Arana, Michele Lamar Richards, Mike Starr

'A jumbled mess with a few enjoyable moments but little continuity or flow.' – Variety

'The film is highly professional and perfectly watchable. But there's nothing memorable in it at all.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

♫ Song: 'I Have Nothing' (m Jud Friedmann, ly Allan Rich); song: 'Run to You'

'Drive carefully, live dangerously.'

Bodywork

GB 1998 93m colour
Guerilla/Wolfmoon (Richard McGill)

Second-hand car dealers frame a complaining customer for murdering a prostitute.
Tepid gangster movie about unlovely people, feebly scripted and totally predictable.
wd Gareth Rhys Jones ph Thomas Wüthrich m Srdjan Kurpjel, Black Tooth pd Jeremy Bear ed Susan Spivey
☆ Hans Matheson (Virgil Guppy), Charlotte Coleman (Tiffany Shades), Peter Ferdinando (Alex Gordon), Beth Winslet (Fiona Money), Lynda Bellingham (Poppy Fields), Clive Russell (Billy Hunch), Michael Attwell (David Leer), Peter Moreton (Buddy Lear)

'While one can only assume there are some Brit underworld scripts that are actually rejected by film companies, it seems very difficult to believe while watching this dog-eared tale of murder and mayhem.' – Clark Collis, Empire

'The big comedy of nineteen sexty-sex!'

Boeing-Boeing

US 1965 102m Technicolor
Paramount/Hal B. Wallis

By successfully juggling with plane schedules, a Paris journalist manages to live with three air hostesses at the same time.
Frenetic, paper-thin sex comedy from a one-joke play; film style generally undistinguished. It was Jerry Lewis's first 'straight' role.
w Edward Anhalt play Marc Camoletti d John Rich ph Lucien Ballard m Neal Hefti ☆ Tony Curtis, Jerry Lewis, Dany Saval, Christiane Schmidtmer, Suzanna Leigh, Thelma Ritter

'A sort of jet-age French farce.' – Judith Crist

'The hardest part of love...is surviving it.'

Boesman & Lena ★

France/South Africa 1999 88m colour
Pathé/Primedia (François Ivernel, Pierre Rissient)

In South Africa during apartheid, a homeless, childless, unhappy mixed-race couple set up a temporary camp and recall how they have reached their present desperate condition.
Effective screen version of Athol Fugard's existentialist play of the late 60s, though the work has lost a little of its resonance since.
wd John Berry play Athol Fugard ph Alain Choquart m Wally Badarou pd Max Berto ed Claudine Bouché, Jeanne Moutard
☆ Danny Glover (Boesman), Angela Bassett (Lena), Willie Jonah (Old Man)

'Sensitive, often affecting, and mesmerizing...the power of the performances, characters, and direction takes over, and one gets a profound, nuanced feeling for what it means to be poor and disenfranchised.' – Jonathan Rosenbaum, Chicago Reader

The Bofors Gun ★

GB 1968 105m Technicolor
Rank/Everglades (Robert A. Goldston, Otto Plaschkes)

In 1954 Germany a British army unit runs into trouble when a violent and unstable Irish private picks on a weakly National Service corporal.
Keen, fascinating, but often crude and eventually rather silly expansion of a TV play chiefly notable for the excellent acting opportunities provided by its unattractive but recognizable characters.
w John McGrath play Events While Guarding the Bofors Gun by John McGrath d Jack Gold ph Alan Hume m Carl Davis
☆ Nicol Williamson, John Thaw, David Warner, Ian Holm
🏆 Ian Holm

Boggy Creek II: And the Legend Continues

US 1985 91m Movielab
Howco (Charles B. Pierce)

aka: The Barbaric Beast of Boggy Creek II

Investigating the legend of a swamp monster, a professor and his friends capture a young specimen and are threatened by its parent.
Feeble horror with a great deal of exposition and characters, headed by a trigger-happy professor of anthropology, who over-react at the slightest happening, such as a dog with shaving foam on its muzzle.
wd Charles B. Pierce ph Shirah Kojayan m Frank McKelvey
☆ Charles B. Pierce (Professor Lockhart), Cindy Butler (Leslie Ann Walker), Serene Hedin (Tanya), Chuck Pierce (Tim), Jimmy Clem (Crenshaw), Rick Hildreth (Deputy Williams), Fabus Griffin (Adult Creature), Victor Williams (Young Creature)
† The movie was made in 1983 and not released for two years.

'A comedy about losing your heart, finding your inner child and meeting the one friend you've always tried to avoid.'

Bogus

US 1996 110m DeLuxe Panavision
Warner/Regency/Yorktown/New Regency (Arnon Milchan, Norman Jewison, Jeff Rothberg)

An orphan who goes to live with his child-hating aunt invents an imaginary friend.

Slight and sentimental fantasy that depends too much on the slender charms of its stars, who are at their most smug.
w Alvin Sargent story Jeff Rothberg, Francis X. McCarthy d Norman Jewison ph David Watkin m Marc Shaiman pd Ken Adam ed Stephen Rivkin ☆ Whoopi Goldberg, Gérard Depardieu, Haley Joel Osment, Nancy Travis, Denis Mercier, Ute Lemper, Sheryl Lee Ralph
'Sweetly sentimental and anachronistically whimsical.' – Variety

La Bohème

US 1926 75m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM
Mimi starves to death in a Paris garret.
Overacted straight version of the opera, with two passionate star performances.
w Harry Behn, Ray Doyle, after Murger d King Vidor ☆ Lillian Gish, John Gilbert, Renee Adoree, Edward Everett Horton

La Bohème ★

France/Italy 1988 107m Eastmancolor
Electric Pictures/Erato Films/La Sept/SFPC/Generale d'Images, Travelling Productions/Video-Schermo (Jean-Claude Borlat)
A penniless bohemian loves and loses a poor seamstress.
Uncinematic treatment of Puccini's opera, though well-enough sung.
w Giuseppe Giacosa, Luigi Illica novel Scènes de la vie de Bohème by Henri Murger d Luigi Comencini ph Armando Nannuzzi m Giacomo Puccini md James Conlon ad Paolo Comencini ed Sergio Buzi, Reine Wekstein
☆ Barbara Hendricks, Luca Canonici, Jose Carreras (voice only), Angela Maria Blasi, Gino Quilico

The Bohemian Girl ★

US 1936 74m bw
MGM/Hal Roach
Gypsies kidnap a nobleman's daughter and bring her up as their own.
One of several operettas reworked for Laurel and Hardy, this is an inoffensive entertainment which devotes too little care to their need for slowly built-up gag structure; their sequences tend to fizzle out and the singing is a bore.
operetta Michael W. Balfe d James Horne, Charles Rogers ph Art Lloyd, Francis Corby md Nathaniel Shilkret ed Bert Jordan, Louis McManus ☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Mae Busch, Antonio Moreno, Jacqueline Wells, Darla Hood, Zeffie Tilbury, James Finlayson, Thelma Todd (for one song, apparently dubbed: presumably before her sudden death she had been cast as the heroine)
† There was in 1922 a British silent version with a splendid cast including Ivor Novello, Gladys Cooper, C. Aubrey Smith, Ellen Terry and Constance Collier.

Il Boia di Venezia: see Executioner of Venice

'Welcome to the New American Dream'

Boiler Room ★

US 2000 120m DeLuxe
Entertainment/New Line (Suzanne Todd, Jennifer Todd)
A college drop-out joins a brokerage firm that makes its money by selling dubious stocks to gullible clients.
A study in high pressure salesmanship that updates Wall Street and Glengarry Glenn Ross without quite matching the verve or guilty fascination of either.
wd Ben Younger ph Enrique Chediak m The Angel pd Anne Stuhler ed Chris Peppe ☆ Giovanni Ribisi (Seth), Vin Diesel (Chris), Nia Long (Abby), Nicky Katt (Greg), Scott Caan (Richie), Ron Rifkin (Seth's Father), Jamie Kennedy (Adam), Taylor Nichols (Harry Reynard), Tom Everett Scott (Michael), Ben Affleck (Jim Young)
'Portrays the testosterone-flavoured soup of the trading floor superbly.' – James White, Total Film
'Seductive and disturbing...a dynamic piece of film-making.' – James Cameron-Wilson, Film Review

Boiling Point ★

Japan 1990 96m colour
ICA/Bandai/Shochiku/Fuji (Hisao Nabeshima, Takio Yoshida, Masayuki Mori) original title: 3-4x Jugatsu
An ineffectual garage worker discovers that passivity gets you nowhere when he becomes embroiled in a violent vendetta after punching a bullying local gangster.
An offbeat mix of deadpan comedy and deader-pan thriller with a disjointed narrative style, enlivened by quirky directorial touches and a visual wit.
wd Takeshi Kitano ph Katsumi Yanagishima ad Osumu Sasaki ed Toshio Taniguchi ☆ 'Beat' Takeshi (Takeshi Kitano), Masahiko Ono, Yuriko Ishida, Takahito Iguchi, Minoru Iizuka, Hisashi Igawa, Bengal, Katsuo Tokashiki
'Formally inventive, profligate with visual and dramatic ideas, and always giving the sense that it has more creative horsepower under its bonnet than it needs to use, this film is a delight.' – Tony Rayns, Sight and Sound
'As an absurdist gangster melodrama it has enough insight in its brutality to make Scorsese look to his Oriental laurels.' – Tom Hutchinson, Film Review

Boiling Point ★

US/France 1993 92m Technicolor
Guild/Warner/Hexagon (Marc Frydman, Leonardo de la Fuente)
Two men have a week to solve their problems: a Treasury agent, obsessed with avenging the murder of his partner, and the con man whose partner is responsible for the killing.
Although promoted as an action film, this is more an engaging character study that hovers on the edge of cliché but manages to maintain its balance.
wd James B. Harris novel Money Men by Gerald Petievich ph King Baggot m Cory Lerios, John D'Andrea pd Ron Foreman ed Jerry Brady
☆ Wesley Snipes, Dennis Weaver, Lolita Davidovich, Viggo Mortensen, Dan Hedaya, Seymour Cassel, Jonathan Banks, Christine Elise, Tony Lo Bianco, Valerie Perrine
'Low-key and bland in the extreme, it's strictly for film buffs.' – Variety
'Hardly substantial, but it's also consistently entertaining.' – Sight and Sound

Boksuneun Naeui Geos: see Sympathy for Mr Vengeance

El Bola ★

Spain 2000 87m colour
Axiom/Tesela/TVE/Via Digital US title: Pellet
In Madrid, an abusive father tries to prevent his 12-year-old son from meeting new friends.
Earnest, well-made account of child abuse that was a box-office success in Spain, but is of less interest elsewhere.
wd Achero Mañas ph Juan Carlos Gomez m Eduardo Arbide ad Satur Idarreta ed Nacho Ruiz Capillas
☆ Juan Jose Ballesta (Pablo, 'El Bola'), Pablo Galan (Alfredo), Alberto Gimenez (José), Manuel Maron (Mariano), Ana Wagener (Laura), Nieve de Medina (Marisa), Gloria Muñoz (Aurora)
'Painful, convincingly acted, and well observed, but offers few new insights.' – Philip French, Observer

The Bold and the Brave

US 1956 87m bw Superscope
RKO/Hal E. Chester
An assortment of American types come together in the Italian campaign of 1944.
Routine war heroics chiefly remembered (if at all) for a crap game sequence.
w Robert Lewin d Lewis Foster ph Sam Leavitt m Herschel Burke Gilbert ☆ Wendell Corey, Mickey Rooney, Nicole Maurey, Don Taylor
Robert Lewin; Mickey Rooney

Bolei Cheun: see Gorgeous

'He rose to fame on a ladder of dancing ladies!'

Bolero ★

US 1934 85m bw Paramount
A New York dancer neglects his personal life to become king of the European night-club circuit.
Lively romantic drama which performed remarkably at the box-office and led to a kind of sequel, Rumba (qv). Sally Rand performs the fan dance, for which she was famous.
w Carey Wilson, Kubec Glasmon, Ruth Ridenour, Horace Jackson d Wesley Ruggles ph Leo Tover
☆ George Raft, Carole Lombard, Sally Rand, Frances Drake, William Frawley, Ray Milland, Gertrude Michael
'A studio conference product: lots of surefire elements. On screen it's a little enervating ... depends on Raft's popularity with the women.' – Variety

Bolero

US 1984 104m colour
Cannon/City (Bo Derek)
In 1926, a wealthy romantic girl travels the world in search of a man worthy of the sacrifice of her virginity.
Ludicrous sexual charade with unpleasant overtones resulting from the fact that the star's husband wrote and photographed this embarrassing piece of near-pornography.
wd John Derek ph John Derek m Peter Bernstein pd Alan Roderick-Jones ☆ Bo Derek, George Kennedy, Andrea Occhipinti, Greg Bensen, Ana Obregon
'The only ecstatic moment a filmgoer might derive will be at the discovery that it's over.' – Philip Strick, MFB

'Nothing is what it appears to be.'

Bollywood/Hollywood ③

Canada 2002 105m DeLuxe
Momentum/Different Tree Same Wood (David Hamilton)
In Toronto, a wealthy young Indian, who is pressured by his family to get married, hires a woman from an escort agency and passes her off as his fiancée.
A romantic comedy of limited appeal; made in the Bollywood style, it lacks the lavish budget that might have made its songs and dances more interesting.
wd Deepa Mehta ph Doug Koch m Sandeep Chowta m/ly Ajay Virmani, Jaideep pd Tamara Deverell ed Barry Farrell ☆ Rahul Khanna (Rahul Seth), Lisa Ray (Sue Singh), Moushumi Chatterjee (Mummy ji), Dina Pathak (Grandma ji), Ranjit Chowdhry (Rocky), Kulbushan Kharbanda (Mr Singh)
'Disappointingly shallow and not terribly funny romantic comedy.' – David Kehr, New York Times

Bom Yeoreum Gaeul Gyeoul Geurigo Bom: see Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter... and Spring

Bomba the Jungle Boy

US 1949 71m bw or sepia
Monogram (Walter Mirisch)
Photographers in Africa meet a junior Tarzan who rescues their girlfriend.
Cut-rate hokum starring the lad who had played Johnny Weissmuller's 'son' in earlier Tarzan movies; it led to several tedious sequels.
Sequels were as follows:
1948 Bomba on Panther Island (76m, with Allene Roberts)
1949 Bomba and the Lost Volcano (76m, with Donald Woods), Bomba and the Hidden City (71m, with Paul Guilfoyle)
1950 Bomba and the Elephant Stampede (71m, with Myron Healey)
1951 Bomba and the African Treasure (70m, with Lyle Talbot), Bomba and the Jungle Girl (70m, with Karen Sharpe), Bomba and the Lion Hunters (75m, with Morris Ankrum)
1953 Safari Drums (71m, with Douglas Kennedy)
1954 The Golden Idol (71m, with Paul Guilfoyle), Killer Leopard (70m, with Beverly Garland) 1955 Lord of the Jungle (69m, with Wayne Morris) w Jack de Witt, from the comic strip by Roy Rockwell d Ford Beebe ph William Sickner m Edward Kay ☆ Johnny Sheffield, Peggy Ann Garner, Onslow Stevens, Charles Irwin

Bombardier

US 1943 99m bw
RKO (Robert Fellows)
Cadet bombardiers learn the realities of war on raids over Japan.
Totally routine recruiting poster heroics.
w John Twist d Richard Wallace ph Nicholas Musuraca m Roy Webb
☆ Pat O'Brien, Randolph Scott, Anne Shirley, Eddie Albert, Walter Reed, Robert Ryan, Barton MacLane

Bombay Talkie ★

India 1970 105m Eastmancolor
Merchant-Ivory (Ismail Merchant)
A sophisticated American woman comes to Bombay and falls for two men involved in film-making.
Interesting but unsatisfactory romantic drama, rather pointlessly set against film studio backgrounds.
w Ruth Prawer Jhabvala, James Ivory d James Ivory ph Subrata Mitra m Shankar Jaikishan
☆ Jennifer Kendal, Shashi Kapoor, Zia Mohyeddin

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Bombers B-52
US 1957 106m Warnercolor Cinemascope
Warner (Richard Whorf)
GB title: No Sleep till Dawn
A USAF sergeant considers applying for a discharge so that he can earn more money in civilian life.
Glossy domestic melodrama punctuated by aircraft shots.
w Irving Wallace d Gordon Douglas ph William Clothier m Leonard Rosenman ☆ Karl Malden, Marsha Hunt, Natalie Wood, Efrem Zimbalist Jnr, Don Kelly
'No one questions the basic assumption – that the good life consists of servicing bigger and better bombers.' – MFB

Bomber's Moon
US 1943 70m bw
TCF
An American pilot crashlands into Germany and makes for the coast.
Modestly budgeted war adventure with conventional thrills.
w Kenneth Gamet d 'Charles Fuhr' (Edward Ludwig and Harold Schuster)
☆ George Montgomery, Annabella, Kent Taylor, Walter Kingsford, Martin Kosleck

Bombon El Perro: see El Perro

Bombshell ★★★
US 1933 91m bw
MGM (Hunt Stromberg)
GB title and aka: Blonde Bombshell
A glamorous film star yearns for a new image.
Crackpot farce which even by today's standards moves at a fair clip and enabled the star to give her best comedy performance.
w Jules Furthman, John Lee Mahin play Caroline Francke, Mack Crane d Victor Fleming ph Chester Lyons, Hal Rosson ed Margaret Booth
☆ Jean Harlow (Lola), Lee Tracy (Space), Frank Morgan (Pops), Franchot Tone (Gifford Middleton), Pat O'Brien (Brogan), Ivan Lebedeff (Marquis), Una Merkel (Mac), Ted Healy (Junior), Isabel Jewell (Junior's Girl), C. Aubrey Smith (Mr. Middleton), Louise Beavers (Loretta), Leonard Carey (Winters), Mary Forbes (Mrs. Middleton)
'Bound to click and the best legitimate comedy in a long time.' – Variety

Bombsight Stolen: see Cottage to Let

Bon Voyage ★
US 1962 133m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Bill Walsh, Ron Miller)
An American family spends a holiday in Paris.
Simple-minded, overlong comedy of mishaps, with Daddy finally trapped in the sewer. Smoothly done of its kind.
w Bill Walsh novel Marrijane and Joseph Hayes d James Neilson ph William Snyder m Paul Smith
☆ Fred MacMurray, Jane Wyman, Michael Callan, Deborah Walley, Jessie Royce Landis, Tommy Kirk, Ivan Desny

Bon Voyage ★
France 2003 114m colour 'Scope
ARP/France 2/France 3 (Michele Petin, Laurent Petin)
In 1940, a film star, her lover, and a writer she framed for murder are among a disparate group of people fleeing Paris as the German army advances.
Slickly made, glossy farce that relies on star power to disguise its insubstantiality.
w Jean-Paul Rappeneau, Patrick Modiano, Jerome Tonnerre, Gilles Marchand, Julien Rappeneau d Jean-Paul Rappeneau ph Thierry Arbogast m Gabriel Yared pd Jacques Rouxel ed Maryline Monthieux
☆ Isabelle Adjani (Viviane), Gerard Depardieu (Beaufort), Virginie Ledoyen (Camille), Yvan Attal (Raoul), Gregori Derangere (Frederic Roger), Peter Coyote (Winckler), Jean-Marc Stehle (Kopolski), Nicolas Vaude (Andre Arpel)
'Blurs the line between comedy and epic drama so adroitly that the two styles fuse into something quite original: a lyrical farce that pays homage to its period in any number of ways.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

Bonaventure: see Thunder on the Hill

Bond Street
GB 1948 107m bw
ABP/World Screenplays (Anatole de Grunwald)
Four stories, each concerning an item of an expensive wedding trousseau.
Mild and laboured short story compendium.
w Anatole de Grunwald d Gordon Parry ph Otto Heller m Benjamin Frankel ☆ Roland Young, Jean Kent, Paula Valenska, Kathleen Harrison, Derek Farr, Kenneth Griffith, Hazel Court, Ronald Howard
'Even a glimpse of actual Bond Street makes little contact with reality.' – MFB

'Two cops on the trail of a serial killer. They must see as one...They must act as one... They must think as one... Before another victim falls.'

The Bone Collector
US 1999 118m DeLuxe Super 35
Universal/Columbia (Martin Bregman, Louis A. Stroller, Michael Bregman)
A paralysed former detective and forensic expert works with an inexperienced female cop to catch a serial killer.
A wearying, downbeat thriller of a familiar kind, dragged down by a script that makes little narrative sense and leaves too many questions unanswered.
w Jeremy Iacone novel Jeffery Deaver d Phillip Noyce ph Dean Semler m Craig Armstrong pd Nigel Phelps ed William Hoy
☆ Denzel Washington (Lincoln Rhyme), Angelina Jolie (Amelia Donaghy), Queen Latifah (Thelma), Michael Rooker (Capt Howard Cheney), Mike McGlone (Detective Kenny Solomon), Leland Orser (Richard Thompson), Luis Guzman (Eddie Ortiz), John Benjamin Hickey (Dr Barry Lehman)
'One of the year's most gruesome movies... ingenious but preposterous.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

Bone Daddy
Canada 1998 87m DeLuxe
Kushner-Locke (Lewis B. Chesler, Jean Desormeaux)
After a former medical examiner writes a bestselling novel based on unsolved serial murders that happened seven years earlier, the killings begin again.
Gruesome and predictable thriller of no particular interest.
w Tom Szollosi d Mario Azzopardi ph Danny Nowak m Christophe Beck pd Jeff Ginn ed Dean Balser ☆ Rutger Hauer, Barbara Williams, R. H. Thomson, Joseph Kell, Robin Gammell, Blu Mankuma, Mimi Kuzyk

'Take one Wall Street tycoon, his Fifth Avenue mistress, a reporter hungry for fame, and make the wrong turn in The Bronx ... then sit back and watch the sparks fly'

The Bonfire of the Vanities
US 1990 125m Technicolor
Warner (Brian de Palma)
The successful life of a New York bond dealer crumbles when he is arrested for injuring a black youth in a street accident.
Strained attempt at social satire, miscast and missing all its targets.
w Michael Cristofer novel Tom Wolfe d Brian de Palma ph Vilmos Zsigmond m Dave Grusin pd Richard Sylbert ad Peter Lansdown Smith ed David Ray, Bill Pankow
☆ Tom Hanks, Bruce Willis, Melanie Griffith, Kim Cattrall, Saul Rubinek, Morgan Freeman, F. Murray Abraham, John Hancock, Kevin Dunn, Clifton James
'A misfire of inanities.' – Variety
† Julie Salamon's book The Devil's Candy: The Bonfire of the Vanities Goes to Hollywood follows the production from its inception to its release.

Le Bonheur ★
France 1965 79m Eastmancolor
Parc/Mag Bodard
A young carpenter is happy with his wife and family, happier still when he finds a mistress, whom he marries when his wife is found drowned.
Slight, good looking, ambivalent little fable which finally expires in a surfeit of style.
wd Agnès Varda ph Jean Rabier, Claude Beausoleil m Mozart ☆ Jean-Claude Drouot, Claire Drouot, Marie-France Boyer

Le Bonheur Est dans le Pré ★
France 1995 106m colour
Guild/Téléma/Canal+/Champ Poirier/France 2/France 3 (Charles Gassot)
An unhappy factory owner leaves home to start a new life with a Spanish woman whose missing husband he resembles.
Undemanding comedy of sexual mishap, lacking the bite of its director's earlier movies.
w Florence Quentin d Etienne Chatiliez ph Philippe Welt m Pascal Andreacchio ad Stéphane Makedonshy ed Ann Lafarge ☆ Michel Serrault, Eddy Mitchell, Sabine Azéma, Carmen Maura, François Morel, Guillaine Londez, Virginie Darmon, Eric Cantona
'A feel-good movie first and foremost, in which only the occasional force-fed duck or woman clipped round the ear is likely to dissent from the bucolic chorus of bliss.' – Keith Reader, Sight and Sound

Bonjour Tristesse ★
GB 1957 93m Technicolor Cinemascope
Columbia/Wheel Films (Otto Preminger)
A teenage girl becomes involved with her sophisticated father's amours and causes the death of his would-be mistress.
The novel's rather repellent characters are here played like royal personages against a background of Riviera opulence. The result is very odd but often entertaining, especially when it slips into self-parody.
w Arthur Laurents novel Françoise Sagan d Otto Preminger ph Georges Périnal m Georges Auric pd Roger Furse
☆ David Niven, Deborah Kerr, Jean Seberg, Mylene Demongeot, Geoffrey Horne, Juliette Greco, Martita Hunt, Walter Chiari, Jean Kent, Roland Culver
'An elegant, ice-cold charade of emotions.' – Judith Crist
'Sagan not so much translated as traduced – opened out, smartened up, the sickness overlaid with Riviera suntan.' – Alexander Walker
'Long, untidy, muddled and mushy.' – Financial Times
† Shot in monochrome for Paris, colour for the Riviera.

La Bonne Année: see Happy New Year

Bonne Chance
France 1935 75m bw
Sacha Guitry
An artist who wins a lottery takes on holiday with him, on a purely platonic basis, the girl who gave him half her ticket.
Modest star comedy which pleased at the time.
wd Sacha Guitry
☆ Sacha Guitry, Jacqueline Delubac, Robert Darthez

La Bonne Soupe ★
France/Italy 1963 97m bw CinemaScope
Belstar/Du Siècle/Dear Film (André Hakim)
A high-class prostitute tells her life story.
A saucy frolic complete with three-in-a-bed and rapidly closing doors; quite enjoyable of its kind.
wd Robert Thomas play Félicien Marceau ph Roger Hubert m Raymond le Sénéchal ☆ Annie Girardot, Marie Bell, Gérard Blain, Bernard Blier, Jean-Claude Brialy, Claude Dauphin, Sacha Distel, Daniel Gélin, Blanchette Brunoy, Jane Marken, Raymond Pellégrin, Franchot Tone

Les Bonnes Femmes ★★
France 1960 102m bw
Paris/Panitalia (Robert and Raymond Hakim)
aka: The Girls
Four shop assistants dream of getting away from the boredom and mediocrity of their lives.
Tough and compassionate study of women trapped in a second-rate world, from which death offers the only real escape.
w Paul Gégauff, Claude Chabrol d Claude Chabrol ph Henri Decae m Paul Misraki, Pierre Jansen ed Jacques Gaillard ☆ Bernadette Lafont, Clotilde Joano, Stéphane Audran, Lucile Saint-Simon, Pierre Bertin, Jean-Louis Maury, Claude Berri, Mario David
'Uneven and, in parts, somewhat tedious and tawdry, yet it has more tenderness and is more emotionally compelling than much of Chabrol's more refined work.' – Pauline Kael

'They're young ... they're in love ... and they kill people!'

Bonnie and Clyde ★★★★
US 1967 111m Technicolor
Warner/Seven Arts/Tatira/Hiller (Warren Beatty)
In the early thirties, a car thief and the daughter of his intended victim team up to become America's most feared and ruthless bank robbers.
Technically brilliant evocation of sleepy mid-America at the time of the public enemies, using every kind of cinematic trick including fake snapshots, farcical interludes, dreamy soft-focus and a jazzy score. For all kinds of reasons a very influential film which even made extreme violence quite fashionable (and very bloody it is).

w David Newman, Robert Benton d Arthur Penn ph Burnett Guffey m Charles Strouse, using 'Foggy Mountain Breakdown' by Flatt and Scruggs ad Dean Tavoularis ed Dede Allen cos Theodora Van Runkle
☆ Warren Beatty (Clyde Barrow), Faye Dunaway (Bonnie Parker), Gene Hackman (Buck Barrow), Estelle Parsons (Blanche), Michael J. Pollard (C.W. Moss), Dub Taylor (Ivan Moss), Denver Pyle (Frank Hamer), Gene Wilder (Eugene Grizzard)
'It is a long time since we have seen an American film so perfectly judged.' – MFB
'...all to the rickety twang of a banjo and a saturation in time and place.' – Judith Crist
'The formula is hayseed comedy bursting sporadically into pyrotechnical bloodshed and laced with sentimental pop-Freudianism.' – John Simon
'A film from which we shall date reputations and innovations in the American cinema.' – Alexander Walker
'It works as comedy, as tragedy, as entertainment, as a meditation on the place of guns and violence in American society.' – Roger Ebert
Burnett Guffey; Estelle Parsons best picture; David Newman, Robert Benton; Arthur Penn; Warren Beatty; Faye Dunaway; Gene Hackman; Michael J. Pollard; Theodora Van Runkle
Faye Dunaway; Michael J. Pollard

The Bonnie Parker Story
US 1958 80m bw Superama
James H. Nicholson, Sam Arkoff
A waitress joins up with a cheap crook in a series of bank raids.
Tinpot 'B' gangster film chiefly notable for comparison with the later Bonnie and Clyde (qv). All it really has is a certain exuberance in the action sequences.
w Stan Shpetner d William Witney ph Jack Marta m Ronald Stein ☆ Dorothy Provine, Jack Hogan, Richard Bakalyan, Joseph Turkel

Bonnie Prince Charlie
GB 1948 140m approx Technicolor
British Lion/London Films (Edward Black)
The hope of the Stuarts returns from exile but is eventually forced to flee again.
Good highland photography combines with appalling studio sets, an initially confused narrative, a draggy script and uneasy performances to produce an ill-fated attempt at a British historical epic. Alexander Korda, who masterminded it, sulked in public at the critical roasting, but on this occasion the critics were right.
w Clemence Dane d Anthony Kimmins ph Robert Krasker m Ian Whyte ☆ David Niven, Margaret Leighton, Jack Hawkins, Judy Campbell, Morland Graham, Finlay Currie, John Laurie
'I have a sense of wonder about this film, beside which The Swordsman seems like a dazzling work of veracity and art. It is that London Films, having surveyed the finished thing, should not have quietly scrapped it.' – Richard Winnington
'The picture is not lacking in moments of unconscious levity, what with David Niven rallying his hardy Highlanders to his standard in a voice hardly large enough to summon a waiter.' – New Yorker
'Time has made it the film industry's biggest joke. But the joke turns a little sour when one reflects how extravagance, recklessness and sheer bungling administration during the fat and prosperous years left the British film industry so poor and vulnerable when the hard times came along.' – Gerald Garret, 1975 † Running time was later cut to 118 minutes.

Bonnie Scotland ★
US 1935 80m bw
MGM/Hal Roach
Two Americans journey to Scotland to collect a non-existent inheritance, then follow their friend in the army and wind up in India.
Generally disappointing star comedy which still contains excellent sequences when it is not vainly trying to preserve interest in a boring plot. An obvious parody on Lives of a Bengal Lancer (qv), released earlier that year; Scotland has almost nothing to do with it.
w Frank Butler, Jeff Moffitt d James Horne ph Art Lloyd, Walter Lundin ed Bert Jordan
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, James Finlayson, Daphne Pollard, William Janney, June Lang
'Packed with Laurel and Hardy hokum and good for plenty of laughs' – Boxoffice

Bonnie's Kids
US 1972 105m Eastmancolor
Variety/Tommy J. Productions (Charles Stroud)
After killing their lecherous stepfather, two young women take to a life of sex and crime.
Cut-rate exploitation picture, celebrating amorality, that attempts to cash in on the success of Bonnie and Clyde (qv).
wd Arthur Marks ph Robert Charles Wilson m Carson Whitsett ed Richard Greer
☆ Tiffany Bolling, Robin Mattson, Leo Gordon, Steve Sandor, Scott Brady, Leonore Stevens, Alex Rocco, Timothy Brown

'You thought it was a just a story... but it's real.'

Boogeyman ③
US 2004 89m DeLuxe
UPI/Screen Gems/Senator/Ghost House (Sam Raimi, Rob Tapert)
After his mother's funeral, a man returns to his deserted family home so that he may come to terms with his childhood fears of a monster who prowls by night.
Trite, though atmospheric, thriller that is much influenced by Asian horror movies and relies on cranking up sound effects for its sudden shocks .
w Eric Kripke, Juliet Snowden, Stiles White d Stephen Kay ph Bobby Bukowski m Joseph Loduca pd Robert Gillies ed John Axelrad
☆ Barry Watson (Tim), Emily Deschanel (Kate), Skye McCole Bartusiak (Franny), Tory Mussett (Jessica), Andrew Glover (Boogeyman), Lucy Lawless (Tim's Mother), Charles Mesure (Tim's Father), Aaron Murphy (Young Tim)
'It's like being poked with an electric cattle prod for 90 minutes, which it has to be said is what a lot of people go to the movies for.' – Philip French, Observer

'You'll be tickled to death over this gay chiller diller!'

The Boogie Man Will Get You
US 1944 66m bw
Columbia (Colbert Clark)
Bodies accumulate when mad doctors get to work creating supermen in a small village.
Desperately unfunny spoof notable only for the fact that it was attempted with these players and at that time.
w Edwin Blum d Lew Landers ph Henry Freulich md Morris Stoloff ☆ Boris Karloff, Peter Lorre, Maxie Rosenbloom, Jeff Donnell, Larry Parks, Maude Eburne, Don Beddoe

'The life of a dreamer, the days of a business and the nights in between.'

Boogie Nights ★★ ⑦
US 1997 156m DeLuxe Panavision
Entertainment/New Line/Ghoulardi/Lawrence Gordon (Lloyd Levin, Paul Thomas Anderson, John Lyons, Joanne Sellar)
The rise and fall of a well-endowed youth who becomes a star of pornographic movies in the 70s.
An entertaining and sometimes savage account of the last moments of hard-core films, just before the industry switched to video; witty and satiric for much of the time, it is spoilt by its use of gratuitous violence to overcome its narrative flaws.
wd Paul Thomas Anderson ph Robert Elswit m Toby Emmerich pd Bob Ziembicki ed Dylan Tichenor
☆ Mark Wahlberg, Burt Reynolds, Julianne Moore, John C. Reilly, Don Cheadle, Heather Graham, Luis Guzman, Philip Seymour Hoffman, William H. Macy, Alfred Molina
'Darkly comic, vastly entertaining and utterly original.' – Variety
Burt Reynolds; Julianne Moore; Paul Thomas Anderson (as writer)

'A controversial retelling of the Apocalypse.'

The Book of Life
US/France 1998 63m colour
La Sept Arte/Haut et Court/True Fiction (Thierry Cagianut, Matthew Myers)
On the last day of 1999, Jesus arrives in New York, reluctant to carry out his mission to bring the world to an end.
Disjointed, aimless movie in which the jerky, blurred handheld camera-work is a distraction, though the loquacious script is no aid to enjoyment, either.
wd Hal Hartley ph Jim Denault ad Andy Biscontini ed Steve Hamilton
☆ Martin Donovan (Jesus Christ), Anna Köhler (Hotel clerk), Martin Pfeffercorn (Martyr), Olga Alexandrova (Waitress), Michael Ornstein (Computer wizard), Paul Albe (Mormon Thug), Don Creech (Mormon Thug), Joseph McKenna (Man at Airport), Abby Royle (Woman at Airport), P.J. Harvey (Magdalena)

Book of Love ★
US 1990 87m CFI color
Entertainment/New Line
A successful writer remembers when he was 16 and was too shy to ask the girl he loved to go to the prom.
Pleasantly done, nostalgic rites-of-passage movie. It travels over familiar ground, but with a light tread.
w William Kotzwinkle novel Jack in the Box by William Kotzwinkle d Robert Shaye ph Peter Deming m Stanley Clarke pd C. J. Strawn ed Terry Stokes
☆ Chris Young, Keith Coogan, Aeryk Egan, Josie Bissett, Tricia Leigh Fisher, Danny Nucci, John Cameron Mitchell, Beau Dremann

Book of Numbers ★
US 1973 80m colour
Brut (Raymond St Jacques)
Black waiters set up a numbers racket in a small Arkansas town during the Depression, to the annoyance of white gangsters.
Enjoyable blaxploitation movie, energetic and driven by a genuine anger, perception and humour – the high spot is a courtroom scene – which overcomes many of its low-budget inadequacies.
w Larry Spiegel novel Robert Deane Pharr d Raymond St Jacques ph Gayne Rescher m Al Schackman, Sonny Terry, Brownie McGhee ad Robert D. Shepherd, Edward Burbridge ed Irving G. Rosenblum
☆ Raymond St Jacques, Philip M. Thomas, Freda Payne, Hope Clarke, D'Urville Martin, Gilbert Green

Book of Shadows: Blair Witch 2
US 2000 90m DeLuxe
Momentum/Artisan/Haxan (Bill Carraro)
After success of The Blair Witch Project brings tourists to Burkittsville, Maryland, a local youth takes four people on a tour of the sites connected with the deaths.
Just another haunted house horror; lightning has not struck twice.
w Dick Beebe, Joe Berlinger d Joe Berlinger ph Nancy Schreiber m Carter Burwell pd Vince Peranio ed Sarah Flack cos Melissa Toth ☆ Kim Director (Kim), Jeffrey Donovan (Jeff), Erica Leerhsen (Erica), Tristen Skyler (Tristen), Stephen Turner (Stephen)
'Disappointing in every aspect.' – Variety
'Spectacularly bad.' – Guardian

'She outlived six rich men!'

Boom!
GB 1968 113m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/World Film Services/Moon Lake Productions (John Heyman, Norman Priggen)
On the volcanic Mediterranean island which she owns, a dying millionairess plans to take as her last lover a wandering poet who is the angel of death.
Pretentious, boring nonsense, showing that when talent goes awry it certainly goes boom.
w Tennessee Williams play The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Any More by Tennessee Williams d Joseph Losey ph Douglas Slocombe m John Barry ☆ Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Noël Coward, Michael Dunn, Joanna Shimkus
'It's a beautiful picture, the best ever made of one of my plays.' – Tennessee Williams
'A pointless, pompous nightmare.' – Paul D. Zimmermann, Newsweek
'An ordeal in tedium.' – Hollywood Reporter
'Outright junk.' – Saturday Review
'The title could not be more apt: it is precisely the sound of a bomb exploding.' – Richard Schickel, Life
'Boom! isn't doing little business; it's doing no business at all.' – Universal executive

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Boom in the Moon (dubbed)

Mexico 1946 90m bw
Alsa (Alexander Salkind)

original title: El Moderno Barba Azul

A shipwrecked sailor is mistaken for a mass murderer and sent on the first expedition to the moon.

Embarrassingly bad, feebly scripted and cheaply made comedy in which Keaton displays none of his skill or invention, but sleepwalks through his role.

w Victor Trivas, Jaime Salvador d Jaime Salvador m George Tzipine

☆ Buster Keaton, Angel Garasa, Virginia Seret, Luis Bareiro, Fernando Sotto

† The film was never released in American cinemas and was hardly seen outside Mexico until its video release; it surfaces occasionally on television in a version that runs for 70m.

Boom Town ★★

US 1940 120m bw
MGM (Sam Zimbalist)

Two friendly oil drillers strike it rich.

Enjoyable four-star, big-studio product of its time: world-wide entertainment of assured success, with a proven mix of romance, action, drama and comedy.

w John Lee Mahin story James Edward Grant d Jack Conway ph Harold Rosson m Franz Waxman ad Cedric Gibbons

☆ Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert, Hedy Lamarr, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, Chill Wills

'Western high jinks, a wee child, and courtroom speeches about individual enterprise constitute the various come-ons in a scrambled and inept picture.' – New York Herald Tribune

'More colourful action in the oil fields and less agitation indoors might have made it a great picture.' – Bosley Crowther

Harold Rosson

Boomerang! ★★★

US 1947 88m bw
TCF (Louis de Rochemont)

In a New England town, a clergyman is shot dead on the street. The DA prevents an innocent man from being convicted, but cannot track down the guilty party.

Incisive real life thriller: based on a true case, it was shot in an innovative documentary style which was much copied, and justice is not seen to be done, though the murderer is known to the audience. A milestone movie of its kind.

w Richard Murphy d Elia Kazan ph Norbert Brodine m David Buttolph ad Richard Day, Chester Gore ed Harmon Jones

☆ Dana Andrews (Henry L. Harvey), Jane Wyatt (Mrs. Harvey), Lee J. Cobb (Chief Robinson), Cara Williams (Irene Nelson), Arthur Kennedy (John Waldron), Sam Levene (Woods), Taylor Holmes (Wade), Robert Keith (McCreery), Ed Begley (Harris)

'A study of integrity, beautifully developed by Dana Andrews against a background of political corruption and chicanery that is doubly shocking because of its documentary understatement.' – Richard Winnington

'For the first time in many a moon we are treated to a picture that gives a good example of a typical small American city – the people, their way of living, their mode of government, the petty politics practised, the power of the press.' – Frank Ward, National Board of Review

Richard Murphy

'A Player Who's About To Be Played.'

Boomerang

US 1992 117m Technicolor
UIP/Paramount (Brian Grazer, Warrington Hudlin)

An executive in a cosmetics firm has an unsuccessful affair with his boss before finding true love.

Dim comedy that substitutes gloss for wit and deprives its star of everything except uncritical adulation.

w Barry W. Blaustein, David Sheffield d Reginald Hudlin ph Woody Omens m Marcus Miller pd Jane Musky ed Earl Watson, John Carter, Michael Jablow

☆ Eddie Murphy, Robin Givens, Halle Berry, David Alan Grier, Martin Lawrence, Grace Jones, Geoffrey Holder, Eartha Kitt, Melvin Van Peebles

'This Eddie Murphy vehicle tries hard to be positive. It's a pity that the movie isn't any good.' – Michael Sragow, New Yorker

'An ill-fitting comedy vehicle that's desperately in need of a reality check.' – Variety

'Thy Kingdom Come. Thy Will Be Done.'

The Boondock Saints

US 2000 108m FotoKem
Franchise/Brood Syndicate (Elie Samaha, Lloyd Segan, Robert Fried, Chris Brinker)

In Boston, two brothers become vigilantes and kill bad guys.

Gruesome and risible mix of religiosity and extreme violence with dialogue that consists of the rearrangement of four-letter words; Dafoe gives one of his least appealing, over-the-top performances as a homophobic gay investigator.

wd Troy Duffy ph Adam Kane m Jeff Danna pd Robert Devico ed Bill Deronde

☆ Willem Dafoe (Paul Smecker), Sean Patrick Flanery (Conner MacManus), Norman Reedus (Murphy MacManus), David Della Rocco (Rocco), Billy Connolly (Il Duce), David Ferry (Detective Dolly), Brian Mahoney (Detective Duffy)

'Mixes blood and Catholic-tinged vigilante justice in excessive portions for sometimes wacky and always brutal effect.' – Robert Koehler, Variety † Troy Duffy was working as a Boston barman when he sold the script of the movie to Miramax's Harvey Weinstein. The story of what happened next was told in the documentary Overnight (qv).

The Boost ★

US 1988 95m colour
Hemdale/Becker-Blatt-Ponicsan (Daniel H. Blatt)

A fast-talking salesman and his wife are ruined by their addiction to cocaine.

Cautionary tale of an acquisitive society, coolly told.

w Darryl Ponicsan novel Ludes by Benjamin Stein d Harold Becker ph Howard Atherton m Stanley Myers ad Ken Hardy ed Maury Winetrobe

☆ James Woods, Sean Young, John Kapelos, Steven Hill, Kelle Kerr, John Rothman, Amanda Blake, Grace Zabriskie

Das Boot: see The Boat

'When you don't know your next step... improvise.'

Bootmen ★

Australia/US 2000 95m DeLuxe
Fox Searchlight/AFFC/Bootmen (Hilary Linstead, Dein Perry)

In the Australian steel town of Newcastle, a young, impulsive tap-dancing machinist recruits his mates to form a macho dance troupe that reflects their industrial background.

Formulaic drama enlivened by the vitality of its thunderous tap dancing.

w Steve Worland d Dein Perry ph Steve Mason m Cezary Skubiszewski ch Dein Perry pd Murray Picknett ed Jane Moran cos Tess Schofield

☆ Adam Garcia (Sean Okden), Sophie Lee (Linda), Sam Worthington (Mitch Okden), William Zappa (Walter), Richard Carter (Gary Okden), Susie Porter (Sara), Anthony Hayes (Huey)

'A vigorous re-working of the puttin'-on-a-show formula... great fun.' – David Stratton, Variety

† The film's director Dein Perry was founder of the Australian dance troupe Tap Dogs.

Boots! Boots!

GB 1934 80m bw
Blakeley/John E. Blakeley

A simple hotel employee turns entertainer with the scullery maid.

Formby's first film, based on a stage show, and filmed cheaply and with little imagination: the camera remains static as if the proceedings are being viewed from the stalls. It retains some slight interest as an example of popular entertainment of the period.

w Jack Cottrill, George Formby d Bert Tracey ph James S. Hodgson md Harry Hudson ad Thomas Fleetwood

☆ George Formby, Beryl Formby, Arthur Kingsley, Tonie Forde, Lillian Keyes, Donald Reid, Constance Fletcher, Wallace Boscoe, Betty Driver

Boots Hill (dubbed) ★

Italy 1969 106m Technicolor Techniscope
San Marco/Crono
original title: La Collina degli Stivali

A man wounded and hunted by a gang of killers takes refuge with a travelling circus.

Lively spaghetti Western that threatens to be more original than most, with its chase narrative concerned with greed and exploitation, but which finally settles, with the arrival of Bud Spencer at the halfway mark, for broad comedy, gunfights and pub brawls.

wd Giuseppe Colizzi ph Marcello Masciocchi m Carlo Rustichelli ad Gastone Carsetti ed Tatiana Morigi Casini

☆ Terence Hill (Mario Girotti), Woody Strode, Bud Spencer (Carlo Pedersoli), Victor Buono, Lionel Stander, Edward Ciannelli, Luca Montefiori, Glauca Onorato

Boots Malone

US 1952 103m bw
Columbia (Milton Holmes)

A would-be jockey tags along with a down-at-heel agent who gets him work and finally persuades him not to throw a crooked race.

Dullish racetrack melodrama bogged down by repetitive and unsympathetic plot twists.

w Milton Holmes d William Dieterle ph Charles Lawton m Elmer Bernstein

☆ William Holden, Johnny Stewart, Stanley Clements, Basil Ruysdael, Carl Benton Reid, Ed Begley, Henry Morgan

† Screenwriter Harold Buchman was excluded from the credits of the film because he was blacklisted at the time.

'Some guys will do anything for a little something.'

Booty Call (2)

US 1997 79m DeLuxe
Columbia (John Morrissey)

Two couples decide to indulge in intercourse providing the men equip themselves with condoms.

A prolonged, comic commercial for safe sex that detumesces quickly.

w Takashi Bufford d Jeff Pollack ph Ron Orieux m Robert Folk pd Sandra Kybartas ed Christopher Greenbury

☆ Jamie Foxx, Tommy Davidson, Vivica A. Fox, Tamala Jones, Scott LaRose, Gedde Watanabe

'An oddly effective comic mix of the politically correct and outré stereotyping.' – Variety

† Art Malik appears uncredited.

Bopha! ★

US 1993 121m DeLuxe
Paramount/Arsenio Hall/Taubman

In South Africa in 1980, a black policeman, living in a turbulent township, finds himself torn between supporting his repressive white boss or approving the actions of his outspoken son, who believes in revolution.

A sincere, well-acted movie about apartheid and its consequences, but over-simplistic and too conventional in its approach.

w Brian Bird, John Wierick play Percy Mtwa d Morgan Freeman ph David Watkin m James Horner pd Michael Philips ed Neil Travis

☆ Danny Glover (Micah Mangena), Malcolm McDowell (De Villiers), Rosie Mangena (Alfre Woodard), Marius Weyers (Van Tonder), Maynard Eziashi (Zweli Mangena), Malick Bowens (Pule Rampa), Michael Chinyamurindi (Solomon), Christopher John Hall (Naledi Machikano)

'A handsomely crafted, potently played drama that brings the issue of apartheid down to a visceral human dimension.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

'High five!'
'Very nice!'

Borat: Cultural Learnings of America for Make Benefit Glorious Nation of Kazakhstan ★ (9)

US/UK 2006 84m
TCF/Four by Two/Everyman (Sacha Baron Cohen, Jay Roach)

A spoof in which Borat, a TV presenter in Kazakhstan, is ordered by his government to travel to America and report on its way of life, to educate his people. He interviews Americans about feminism, sex, etiquette, humour, politics and religion. He also falls for Baywatch star Pamela Anderson, who he sets out to marry and tries to kidnap.

An unquestionably clever premise, with a straight-faced, apparently naïve foreigner eliciting outrageous, embarrassing responses from innocent, well-meaning and often reactionary Americans not in on the gag. Yet much of the film consists of gross-out humour best suited to adolescent boys. And is it really so ground-breaking to make evangelical Christians, rodeo rednecks and unsmiling feminists figures of fun? Essentially, this is Candid Camera – with the unwelcome addition of anti-Semitic jokes that leave an unpleasant taste. Baron Cohen is skilled at thinking on his feet in tricky situations, and unafraid to place himself in physical danger for the sake of a scene. But one wonders at his motives: Is this film a bracing tilt at political correctness, a smug, superior in-joke, or a calculated, cynical attempt to shock? Exasperatingly, it's a little bit of all three.

w Sacha Baron Cohen, Peter Baynham, Anthony Hines, Dan Mazer character Borat by Sacha Baron Cohen d Larry Charles ph Anthony Hardwick, Luke Geissbuhler m Erran Baron Cohen ad David Saenz de Maturana ed Peter Teschner, James Thomas ☆ Sacha Baron Cohen (Borat), Ken Davitian (Azamat), Luenell (Luenell)
BORAT: 'Jak sie masz? (How are you?) My name-a Borat. I like you. I like sex. Is nice!'
BORAT (ABOUT WOMEN SEATED BESIDE HIM AT DINNER): 'In my country, they would go crazy for these two [indicates minister's wife]. This one... not so much...'
'The brilliance of Borat is that its comedy is as pitiless as its social satire, and as brainy.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times
'The more I think about the film, the less amusing it becomes.' – Jason Solomons, Observer
† Pamela Anderson appears uncredited as herself.
Adapted screenplay

The Border
US 1982 108m Technicolor Panavision
Universal/RKO (Neil Hartley)
A Los Angeles cop joins the border patrol in El Paso and becomes involved in squalor, violence and double-dealing.
A rather solemn elaboration on a well-worn theme, with nothing very memorable except its excesses.
w Deric Washburn, Walon Green, David Freeman d Tony Richardson ph Ric Waite m Ry Cooder pd Toby Rafelson ed Robert K. Lambert ☆ Jack Nicholson, Harvey Keitel, Valerie Perrine, Warren Oates, Elpidia Carrillo

Border Incident
US 1949 93m bw
MGM (Nicholas Nayfack)
Police stop the illegal immigration of labourers from Mexico.
Routine semi-documentary cops and robbers, well enough made.
w John C. Higgins d Anthony Mann ph John Alton m André Previn ☆ Ricardo Montalban, George Murphy, Howard da Silva, James Mitchell, Alfonso Bedoya

Border Radio
US 1987 84m bw
Coyote/Marcus de Leon
A punk rock musician goes on the run to Mexico after stealing money from a promoter who failed to pay him.
Probably a learning experience for those involved: the jerky narrative (one title reads '2 or 6 months later'), abrupt editing, deliberately inconsequential, improvised dialogue and amateurish acting suggest that its participants were determined to make a film but were uncertain of precisely how to do it.
wd Allison Anders, Dean Lent, Kurt Voss ph Dean Lent m Dave Alvin ☆ Chris D., Luana Anders, Chris Shearer, John Doe, Dave Alvin, Iris Berry, Devon Anders, Texacala Jones
† The credits include: 'Many curses on: Those Who Tried To Thwart Us'.

Border River
US 1953 80m Technicolor
Universal-International (Albert J. Cohen)
In 1865, after stealing $2m in gold from the Union to buy supplies for the South, a Confederate Major takes refuge in Zona Libre, a Mexican town controlled by a powerful outlaw, where others are determined to relieve him of the treasure.
Western programmer that mixes action and romance in an unusual setting.
w William Sackheim, Louis Stevens d George Sherman ph Irving Glassberg m Joseph Gershenson ad Bernard Herzbrun, Richard H. Riedel ed Frank Fross
☆ Joel McCrea (Clete Mattson), Yvonne de Carlo (Carmelita Carrias), Pedro Armendariz (General Calleja), Ivan Triesault (Baron Von Hollden), Alfonso Bedoya (Capt Vargas), Howard Petrie (Newlund), Erika Nordin (Annina Strasser), George J. Lewis (Sanchez), Nacho Galindo (Lopez), George Wallace (Fletcher), Lane Chandler (Anderson), Martin Garralaga (Guzman), Joe Bassett (Stanton), Salvador Baguez (General Robles), Felipe Turice (Pablo)

Border Shootout
US 1990 110m colour
Turner/Phoenix
A naïve rancher becomes the sheriff of a town in thrall to the crooked son of its largest landowner.
Inept Western, in which the various strands of the narrative never quite come together; the acting is variable – from acceptable to bad – and the direction clumsy. Despite his star billing, Ford, whose mind seems to be on other things, plays a secondary role.
wd C. T. McIntyre novel The Law at Randado by Elmore Leonard ph Dennis Dalzell m Coley Music Group pd Craig B. Stein ed Grant Johnson
☆ Glenn Ford, Charlene Tilton, Jeff Kaake, Michael Horse, Russell Todd, Cody Glenn, Sergio Calderon, Michael Ansara

Borderline
US 1980 97m colour
ITC (Martin Starger)
A Mexican border patrolman chases illegal immigrants and the big time crooks making money out of them.
Routine, quite effective action programmer.
w Steve Kline, Jerrold Freedman d Jerrold Freedman ph Tak Fujimoto m Gil Melle
☆ Charles Bronson, Bruno Kirby, Karmin Murcelo, Michael Lerner, Ed Harris

Borderlines: see The Caretakers

Bordertown ★
US 1934 80m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)
In a North Mexican town, a shabby lawyer becomes infatuated with the neurotic wife of a businessman.
Satisfying melodrama whose plot climax was later borrowed for They Drive by Night (qv).
w Laird Doyle, Wallace Smith novel Carroll Graham d Archie Mayo ph Tony Gaudio md Leo Forbstein ☆ Paul Muni, Bette Davis, Margaret Lindsay, Eugene Pallette, Robert Barrat, Henry O'Neill, Hobart Cavanaugh
'A strictly box office film, well written and paced.' – Variety † Blowing Wild (qv) was also a partial uncredited remake.

Bordertown Cafe
Canada 1991 95m colour
Cinexus/Flat City/NFBC (Norma Bailey)
A woman running a small-town café has problems with her mother, son and truck-driving former husband.
Fraught and talkative soap opera of regrets and disappointments.
w Kelly Rebar d Norma Bailey ph Ian Elkin m Ben Mink pd John Blackie ed Lara Mazur
☆ Susan Hogan, Janet Wright, Gordon Michael Woolvett, Sean McCann, Nicholas Campbell

Born Again
US 1978 110m Technicolor
Robert L. Munger/Frank Capra Jnr
Charles Colson, sent to prison after Watergate, becomes a devout Christian.
Part evangelism, part reconstruction through rose-tinted spectacles; not particularly entertaining or instructive as either.
w Walter Block d Irving Rapper ph Harry Stradling Jnr m Les Baxter ☆ Dean Jones, Anne Francis, Jay Robinson, Dana Andrews, Raymond St Jacques, George Brent, Harry Spillman (Richard Nixon)

Born for Glory: see Brown on Resolution

Born for Trouble: see Murder in the Big House

Born Free ★★
GB 1966 95m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Open Road (Carl Foreman)/High Road/Atlas (Sam Jaffe, Paul Radin)
A Kenyan game warden and his wife rear three lion cubs, one of which eventually presents them with a family.
Irresistible animal shots salvage this rather flabbily put together version of a bestselling book. An enormous commercial success, it was followed by the even thinner Living Free and To Walk With Lions (qv), by a TV series, and by several semi-professional documentaries.
w Gerald L. C. Copley (Lester Cole) book Joy Adamson d James Hill ph Kenneth Talbot m John Barry
☆ Virginia McKenna, Bill Travers, Geoffrey Keen
† Screenwriter Cole wrote under a pseudonym because he was blacklisted at the time.
John Barry; title song (m John Barry, ly Don Black)

Born in East L.A.
US 1987 87m colour
Universal (Peter Macgregor-Scott)
An American Mexican is mistaken for an illegal immigrant and deported to Tijuana.
Mercifully short brain-dead comedy.
wd Cheech Marin ph Alex Phillips m Lee Holdridge ed Don Brochu ☆ Cheech Marin, Daniel Stern, Paul Rodriguez, Jan Michael Vincent, Kamala Lopez, Tony Plana

Born Losers
US 1967 112m colour
AIP (Delores Taylor)
California teeny-boppers claim to have been gang-raped by wandering motorcyclists.
Teenage shocker, only notable for its credits, and for being the first Billy Jack film.
wd Tom Laughlin ph Gregory Sandor m Mike Curb ☆ Tom Laughlin, Jane Russell, Elizabeth James, Jeremy Slate, William Wellman Jnr
'It's so pokey and crudely obvious that it seems almost guileless – helplessly inept.' – Pauline Kael

'A true story of innocence lost and courage found'

Born on the Fourth of July ★★★
US 1989 144m DeLuxe Panavision
UIP/Ixtlan (A Kitman Ho, Oliver Stone)
A crippled Vietnam veteran joins the anti-war movement.
Rousing drama, based on fact.
w Oliver Stone, Ron Kovic book Ron Kovic d Oliver Stone ph Robert Richardson m John Williams pd Bruno Rubeo ad Victor Kempster, Richard L. Johnson ed David Brenner, Joe Hutshing
☆ Tom Cruise (Ron Kovic), Bryan Larkin (Young Ron), Raymond J. Barry (Mr. Kovic), Caroline Kava (Mrs. Kovic), Josh Evans (Tommy Kovic), Seth Allan (Young Tommy), Jamie Talisman (Jimmy Kovic), Sean Stone (Young Jimmy), Anne Bobby (Susanne Kovic), Jenna von Oy (Young Susanne)
Oliver Stone; best film editing
Tom Cruise; John Williams; best picture; best adapted screenplay; best cinematography

Born Reckless
US 1937 60m bw
TCF
Big-town taxi drivers start a war among themselves.
Second-feature actioner, well enough done.
w John Patrick, Helen Logan, Robert Ellis d Malcolm St Clair ☆ Brian Donlevy, Rochelle Hudson, Barton MacLane, Robert Kent, Harry Carey, Pauline Moore, Chick Chandler
'Houses in the knuckle districts will give it its best play.' – Variety

'Romance isn't dead... it's just not very well.'

Born Romantic
GB 2000 97m DeLuxe
Optimum/BBC/Harvest/Kismet (Michele Camarda)
In London three young men pursue three women at a salsa club.
Episodic romantic comedy that is enjoyable in fits and starts, though its over-schematic structure dampens the fun.
wd David Kane ph Robert Alazraki m Simon Boswell pd Sarah Greenwood ed Michael Parker
☆ Craig Ferguson (Frankie), Ian Hart (Second Cab Driver), Jane Horrocks (Mo), Adrian Lester (Jimmy), Catherine McCormack (Jocelyn), Jimi Mistry (Eddie), David Morrissey (Fergus), Olivia Williams (Eleanor), Kenneth Cranham (Barney), John Thomson (First Cab Driver), Paddy Considine (Ray)
'Highly enjoyable when all its gears are clicking, but rarely as good as it should be.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Born to Be Bad

US 1934 70m bw
Twentieth Century (William Goetz, Raymond Griffith)

A girl schemes to seduce the man who has adopted her illegitimate son.
Batty mother-love melodrama.
w Ralph Graves d Lowell Sherman ph Barney McGill m Alfred Newman ☆ Loretta Young, Cary Grant, Jackie Kelk, Henry Travers, Russell Hopton, Andrew Tombes, Harry Green

Born to Be Bad

US 1950 70m bw
RKO (Robert Sparks)

An ambitious girl marries a millionaire but continues her affair with a novelist; finally both men discover her true character.
Tentative bad girl novelette, just about passable.
w Edith Sommer novel All Kneeling by Anne Parrish d Nicholas Ray ph Nicholas Musuraca m Frederick Hollander
☆ Joan Fontaine, Robert Ryan, Zachary Scott, Joan Leslie, Mel Ferrer 'Trash story too much for cast and director to live down.' – Variety

Born to Be Wild

US 1995 100m Technicolor
Warner/Fuji/Outlaw (Robert Newmyer, Jeffrey Silver)

A teenage delinquent makes a friend of a gorilla in a research laboratory who can communicate by sign language; when she is reclaimed by her unpleasant owner, he runs off with her.
Pleasant, undemanding entertainment; when attention flags, you can try to decide whether or not the ape is real or a large, electronically controlled puppet.
w John Bunzel, Paul Young d John Gray ph Donald M. Morgan m Mark Snow pd Roy Forge Smith ed Maryann Brandon
☆ Wil Horneff, Helen Shaver, Peter Boyle, Jean Marie Barnwell, John McGinley, Marvin J. McIntyre 'Contains all the requisite charms and values of a feel-good, politically correct child-animal story.' – Variety

Born to Dance ★

US 1936 108m bw
MGM (Jack Cummings)

A sailor meets a girl in New York.
Well remembered musical with good numbers but a rather lame look.
w Jack McGowan, Sid Silvers, B. G. de Sylva d Roy del Ruth ph Ray June m/ly Cole Porter md Alfred Newman ch Dave Gould ad Cedric Gibbons ed Blanche Sewell ☆ Eleanor Powell, James Stewart, Virginia Bruce, Una Merkel, Sid Silvers, Frances Langford, Raymond Walburn, Reginald Gardiner, Buddy Ebsen
'Corking entertainment ... Cast is youthful, sight stuff is lavish, the specialities are meritorious, and as for songs, the picture is positively filthy with them.' – Variety
'The plot is a half-hearted reprise of 42nd Street ... this time Eleanor Powell is the understudy who replaces the star ... and by the time she finishes the finale, you're overpowered and feel you should cheer.' – Pauline Kael, 70s
♫ 'I've Got You Under My Skin'; 'Easy to Love'; 'Rap Tap on Wood'; 'Swinging the Jinx Away'; 'Rolling Home'; 'Hey Babe Hey'; 'Love Me Love My Pekinese' song 'I've Got You Under My Skin'; Dave Gould

Born to Fight

Thailand 2004 91m colour
Momentum/Sahamongkofilm original title: Kerd Ma Lui

Thai villagers and visiting sports stars decide to fight back when they are taken hostage by the army of a drug lord who plans to blow up Bangkok with a nuclear missile.
Often risible, patriotic action movie, though it does include some spectacular, breathtakingly athletic stunts.
w Morakat Kaewthanek, Thanapat Taweesuk, Panna Rittikrai d Panna Rittikrai ph Surachet Thongmee m Atomix Clubbing ad Dusit Yapakawong ed Thanapat Taweesuk action ch Panna Rittikrai, Banlu Srisaeng
☆ Dan Chupong (Deaw), Amornthep Waewsang (Moo), Nappon Gomarachun (General Yang), Kessarin Ektawatkul (Nui), Nantawat Wongwanichslip (Nite)
'Script and acting are almost non-existent but the stunts, though bloody, are skilful.' – Derek Malcolm, London Evening Standard

Born to Kill ★

US 1947 92m bw
RKO (Herman Schlom)

GB title: Lady of Deceit

A psychotic involves his new wife in his criminal pursuits.
Unusual, heavy-going, well acted melodrama.
w Eve Greene, Richard Macaulay novel James Gunn d Robert Wise ph Robert de Grasse m Paul Sawtell md C. Bakaleinikoff ad Albert D'Agostino, Walter E. Keller ed Les Millbrook cos Edward Stevenson
☆ Lawrence Tierney (Sam), Claire Trevor (Helen), Walter Slezak (Arnett), Phillip Terry (Fred), Elisha Cook Jnr (Marty), Audrey Long (Georgia), Isabell Jewell (Laury Palmer), Esther Howard (Mrs Kraft), Kathryn Card (Grace), Tony Barrett (Danny), Grandon Rhodes (Inspector Wilson)

Born to Kill: see Cockfighter (1974)

Born to Love

US 1931 84m bw
RKO

During World War I a nurse bears the child of an army pilot who is reported missing; but he turns up after she has married an English milord.
A useful compendium of thirties romantic clichés, quite attractively packaged.
w Ernest Pascal d Paul Stein ph John Mescall
☆ Constance Bennett, Joel McCrea, Paul Cavanagh, Frederick Kerr, Anthony Bushell, Louise Closser Hale, Edmund Breon, Mary Forbes

Born to Ride

US 1991 88m Technicolor
Warner/Inconvent (Fred Weintraub, Sandra Weintraub)

In 1939, a biker is hired by the army to teach the cavalry to switch from horses to motorbikes and rescue an American scientist from fascist kidnappers.
A curious attempt to combine the style of a 60s biker movie with a period war film; it very quickly runs out of gas.
w Michael Pardridge, Janice Hickey d Graham Baker ph Frank Gell m Shirley Walker pd Francis J. Pezza ed Alan Balsam
☆ John Stamos, John Stockwell, Teri Polo, Sandy McPeak, Kriss Kamm, Keith Cooke

Born to Run

US 1977 90m Technicolor
Walt Disney (Jerome Courtland)

In Australia at the turn of the century, a boy and his colt win a race to save the family farm.
Pleasant if unmemorable film that will appeal to young horse-lovers.
w Ed Jurist novel Walter D. Edmonds d Don Chaffey ph Geoff Burton m Ron Goodwin ad David Copping ed Peter Boita
☆ Tom Farley, Robert Bettles, Andrew McFarlane, Mary Ward, Julieanne Newbould, John Meillon

Born to Sing

US 1941 82m bw
Frederick Stephani/MGM

Kids put together a patriotic show.
Curiously undernourished family musical in the wake of Babes in Arms: (qv) lots of talent but no star.
w Franz Spencer, Harry Clork d Edward Ludwig
☆ Virginia Weidler, Douglas McPhail, Leo Gorcey, Ray McDonald, Rags Ragland, Sheldon Leonard, Margaret Dumont, Larry Nunn, Henry O'Neill

Born To The West: see Hell Town

'A perfectly swell motion picture!'

Born Yesterday ★★★

US 1950 103m bw
Columbia (S. Sylvan Simon)

The ignorant ex-chorus girl mistress of a scrap iron tycoon takes English lessons, falls for her tutor, and politically outmanoeuvres her bewildered lover.
Pleasant film version of a cast-iron box-office play, subtle and intelligent in all departments yet with a regrettable tendency to wave the flag.
w Albert Mannheimer play Garson Kanin d George Cukor ph Joseph Walker m Frederick Hollander ed Charles Nelson
☆ Judy Holliday (Billie Dawn), Broderick Crawford (Harry Brock), William Holden (Paul Verrall), Howard St John (Jim Devery)
† The original choices for the Judy Holliday role were Rita Hayworth and Jean Parker (who had played it on tour).
Judy Holliday
best picture; Albert Mannheimer; George Cukor

Born Yesterday

US 1993 100m Technicolor
Warner/Hollywood/Touchwood Pacific Partners I (D. Constantine Conte)

A journalist turns a millionaire's seemingly dumb chorus-girl mistress into a bright and intelligent woman, falling in love with her in the process.
A remake that does nothing but point up the superiority of the original and, in particular, Judy Holliday's priceless gift for comedy; the jokes are mistimed here and the romance is hardly in evidence.
w Douglas McGrath play Garson Kanin d Luis Mandoki ph Lajos Koltai m George Fenton pd Lawrence G. Paull ed Lesley Walker
☆ Melanie Griffith, John Goodman, Don Johnson, Edward Herrmann, Max Perlich, Benjamin C. Bradlee, Sally Quinn, William Frankfather, Fred Dalton Thompson
'This version has great casting, canny scripting and only fair direction, but still jollies along nicely.' – Kim Newman, Empire

The Borrower

US 1989 88m colour
Cannon/Vision (R. P. Sekon, Steven A. Jones)

An alien murderer is 'genetically devolved' and marooned on Earth; but his head keeps exploding so he replaces it by ripping off fresh human ones.
Hysterical gore-filled horror – so ineptly made that the body of the alien also changes whenever he gains a new head (since he is played by a different actor each time).
w Mason Nage, Richard Fire d John McNaughton ph Julio Macat, Robert New m Robert McNaughton, Ken Hale, Steven A. Jones pd Robert Henderson ed Elena Maganini
☆ Rae Dawn Chong, Don Gordon, Antonio Fargas, Tom Towles

'Small Is Awesome.'

The Borrowers ★★ (7)

GB 1997 83m Technicolor
Polygram/Working Title (Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner, Rachel Talalay)

The future of a family of tiny people, who live under the floorboards of a house, is threatened by an unscrupulous lawyer.
Clever, if hectic and noisy, children's film; it doesn't have the quiet humour of the original books, but nevertheless creates an odd, fanciful world that mixes English and American influences.
w Gavin Scott, John Camps novels Mary Norton d Peter Hewitt ph John Fenner, Trevor Brooker m Harry Gregson-Williams pd Gemma Jackson ed David Freeman, Annie Kocur
☆ John Goodman, Jim Broadbent, Mark Williams, Hugh Laurie, Bradley Pierce, Flora Newbigin, Tom Felton, Raymond Pickard, Celia Imrie
'A top-notch family film that welds English quaintness and eccentricity with high-tech effects.' – Derek Elley, Variety
'It blends old with new, irony with sincerity, and plain with fancy in such a way as to give post-modernism a good name and to entertain an audience of all ages.' – Richard Williams, Guardian

Borsalino ★

France/Italy 1970 126m Eastmancolor
Adel-Marianne-Mars (Alain Delon)

In the thirties two Marseilles gangsters become firm friends and join forces.
Semi-spoof, but with 'real' blood, and period atmosphere laid on thick. The stars just about keep it ticking over.
w Jean-Claude Carrière, Claude Sautet, Jacques Deray, Jean Cau d Jacques Deray ph Jean-Jacques Tarbès m Claude Bolling ☆ Jean-Paul Belmondo, Alain Delon, Michel Bouquet, Catherine Rouvel, Corinne Marchand
'Rather like a Hollywood musical where someone has forgotten to insert the production numbers.' – MFB

Borsalino & Co (dubbed)

France/Italy/West Germany 1974 91m Eastmancolor
Adel/Comacico/Medusa/TiT (Maurice Jacquin, Alain Delon)

aka: Blood on the Streets

A fascist gangleader runs into trouble when he tries to take over Marseilles.

A violent thriller, a sequel to Borsalino but lacking wit and substance. It was among the top ten box-office successes of the year in France.

w Pascal Jardin d Jacques Deray ph Jean-Jacques Tarbès m Claude Bolling ad François de Lamothe ed Henri Lanoë

☆ Alain Delon, Catherine Rouvel, Riccardo Cucciolla, Daniel Ivernel

Bosambo: see Sanders of the River

The Boss ★

US 1956 89m bw
UA/Frank N. Seltzer

After World War I, a ne'er-do-well becomes a corrupt small town political boss.

Low budgeted, complexly plotted, occasionally quite powerful and efficient crime melodrama.

w Ben L. Parry d Byron Haskin ph Hal Mohr m Albert Glasser

☆ John Payne, William Bishop, Gloria McGhee, Doe Avedon, Joe Flynn

Le Bossu ★★

France/Italy 1997 128m colour Panavision
Alicelco/TFI/CGG Tiger/Gemini

aka: On Guard!

In the early 18th century, a swordsman rescues a baby girl from a murderous nobleman, and promises revenge.

Enjoyable period romp, a romantic swashbuckler performed with great panache.

w Jean Cosmos, Jerome Tonnerre, Philippe de Broca novel Paul Feval d Philippe de Broca ph Jean-François Robin m Philippe Sarde ad Bernard Vezat ed Henri Lanoë

☆ Daniel Auteuil, Fabrice Luchini, Vincent Perez, Marie Gillain, Yann Collette, Jean-François Stevenin, Didier Pain, Philippe Noiret

'Has an energy and a thrill that restore the swashbuckler to its rightful place in screen society.' – Gaby Wood, Guardian

† Paul Feval's novel has been filmed in France at least six times since 1914; notably starring Jean Marais in 1959.

Boston Blackie

An American second feature series made by Columbia between 1941 and 1949. There had been silent films about the character, a reformed crook and con man who has to solve crimes because he is suspected by the law.

Cheap but sometimes vigorous productions, they had a loyal following and starred Chester Morris with George E. Stone as his assistant The Runt.

The titles were:

1941 Meet Boston Blackie, Confessions of Boston Blackie
1942 Alias Boston Blackie, Boston Blackie Goes to Hollywood
1943 After Midnight with Boston Blackie
1944 One Mysterious Night
1945 Boston Blackie Booked on Suspicion, Boston Blackie's Rendezvous 1946 A Close Call for Boston Blackie, The Phantom Thief
1947 Boston Blackie and the Law
1948 Trapped By Boston Blackie
1949 Boston Blackie's Chinese Venture

† A television series starring Kent Taylor followed in 1951.

'Going mad ... going places ... going straight ... going nowhere...'

Boston Kickout ★

GB 1996 105m colour
First Independent/Boston/Aramanth/Trijbits
Worrell (Paul Hills, Danny Cannon)

A teenager manages to free himself from the delinquency and despair that motivate his unemployed friends.

Disaffection in the concrete wilderness of Stevenage makes for less than revelatory viewing, despite energetic performances from its talented cast.

w Paul Hills, Diane Whitley, Roberto Troni d Paul Hills ph Roger Bonnici m Robert Hartshorne pd Simon Elliott ed Melanie Adams

☆ John Simm, Emer McCourt, Marc Warren, Andrew Lincoln, Richard Hanson, Nathan Valente, Derek Martin, Vincent Phillips

'One of the best recent British films.' – Danny Boyle

The Boston Strangler ★★

US 1968 118m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF (Robert Fryer)

A semi-factual account of the sex maniac who terrified Boston in the mid-sixties.

Ambitious policier rendered less effective by pretentious writing and flashy treatment, including multi-image sequences; the investigation is more interesting than the psychoanalysis.

w Edward Anhalt book Gerold Frank d Richard Fleischer ph Richard Kline m Lionel Newman

☆ Henry Fonda, Tony Curtis, George Kennedy, Mike Kellin, Hurd Hatfield, Murray Hamilton, Sally Kellerman, Jeff Corey, George Voskovec

The Bostonians

GB 1984 122m colour
Merchant Ivory/WGBH/Rediffusion/Almi (Ismail Merchant)

In 1876 Boston, the cause of female emancipation wrecks Verena Tarrant's relationship with the determined Basil Ransome.

Another sluggish literary adaptation from the heavily meaningful Merchant Ivory team: the material, one feels, would have worked better as a TV bestseller.

w Ruth Prawer Jhabvala novel Henry James d James Ivory ph Walter Lassally m Richard Robbins pd Leo Austin

☆ Christopher Reeve, Vanessa Redgrave, Madeleine Potter, Jessica Tandy, Nancy Marchand, Linda Hunt, Wesley Addy

'Although it's not so limp as some of their other collaborations, they don't dramatize the material, and Ivory doesn't shape the performances.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

♙ Vanessa Redgrave

Botany Bay

US 1952 94m Technicolor
Paramount (Joseph Sistrom)

On a convict ship in 1787 an American student unjustly accused of robbery clashes with the brutal captain for the favours of the only woman aboard.

Cramped and brutal action melodrama, a let-down considering the talent involved.

w Jonathan Latimer novel Charles Nordhoff and James Hall d John Farrow ph John Seitz m Franz Waxman

☆ James Mason, Alan Ladd, Patricia Medina, Cedric Hardwicke, Murray Matheson, Jonathan Harris

Both Ends of the Candle: see The Helen Morgan Story

Both Sides of the Law: see Street Corner

'They're not really criminals, but everybody's got to have a dream.'

Bottle Rocket ★

US 1996 95m Technicolor
Columbia/Gracie/Boyle-Taylor (Polly Platt, Cynthia Hargrave)

Three young incompetents decide to embark on a life of crime.

Enjoyable and witty small-scale independent film that manages some original variations on a familiar theme.

w Owen C. Wilson, Wes Anderson d Wes Anderson ph Robert Yeoman m Mark Mothersbaugh pd David Wasco ed David Moritz

☆ Luke Wilson, Owen C. Wilson, Robert Musgrave, Andrew Wilson, Lumi Cavazos, James Caan, Teddy Wilson, Jim Ponds

'Full of surprising warmth and charm, unexpected plot turns and droll characters that bounce off each other in refreshing ways.' – David Rooney, Variety

The Bottom of the Bottle

US 1956 86m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Buddy Adler)

GB title: Beyond the River

A wealthy attorney is visited by his drunken brother, on the run from the police and needing help to escape into Mexico.

Dreary drama in muddy colour, a clearly misguided enterprise.

w Sydney Boehm novel Georges Simenon d Henry Hathaway ph Lee Garmes m Leigh Harline

☆ Joseph Cotten, Van Johnson, Ruth Roman, Jack Carson

Bottoms Up

GB 1959 89m bw
ABPC (Mario Zampi)

A seedy schoolmaster passes off his bookie's son as an eastern prince.

Rambling film version of a successful TV series Whacko!, written by Frank Muir and Denis Norden.

w Michael Pertwee d Mario Zampi ph Gilbert Taylor m Stanley Black ad Ivan King ed Richard Best

☆ Jimmy Edwards, Arthur Howard, Martita Hunt, Sydney Tafler, Raymond Huntley, Reginald Beckwith, Vanda Hudson, Richard Briers

Le Boucher ★★★★

France/Italy 1969 94m Eastmancolor
La Boétie/Euro International (André Génoves)

aka: The Butcher

Murders in a small French town are traced to the inoffensive-seeming young butcher who is courting the local schoolmistress.

Curious, mainly charming film which can't make up its mind whether to be an eccentric character study or a Hitchcock thriller, but works on both levels.

wd Claude Chabrol ph Jean Rabier m Pierre Jansen ed Jacques Gaillard

☆ Stéphane Audran (Helene), Jean Yanne (Popaul), Antonio Passalia (Angelo), Mario Beccaria (Leon Hamel)

'A thriller, but a superlative example of the genre.' – Times

Boudu Sauvé des Eaux ★★★★

France 1932 87m bw
Michel Simon/Jean Gehret

aka: Boudu Saved from Drowning

A scruffy tramp is not grateful for being rescued from suicide, and plagues the family who invite him to stay.

A minor classic of black comedy, interesting equally for its characterizations, its acting, and its film technique.

wd Jean Renoir play René Fauchois ph Märcel Lucien m from Raphael and Johann Strauss ad Jean Castanier, Hugues Laurent ed Marguerite Renoir

☆ Michel Simon (Boudu), Charles Granval (Monsieur Lestingois), Marcelle Hainia (Madame Lestingois), Séverine Lerczinska (Anne-Marie), Jean Dasté (Student), Jacques Becker (Poet on a Bench)

'A beautifully rhythmed film that makes one nostalgic for the period when it was made.' – New Yorker, 1977

† Remade 1985, more or less, as Down and Out in Beverly Hills (qv) and, in France in 2005, as Boudu starring Gérard Depardieu

Boudu Saved from Drowning: see Boudu Sauvé des Eaux

Bought

US 193[illegible] 70m bw
Warner

An ambitious working girl rebels against her slum existence and seeks a rich man.

Typical star vehicle of its time, with a predictable and unlikely change of heart for a finale.

w Charles Kenyon, Raymond Griffith novel Jackdaw's Strut by Harriet Henry d Archie Mayo ph Ray June

☆ Constance Bennett, Ben Lyon, Richard Bennett, Dorothy Peterson, Ray Milland, Doris Lloyd, Maude Eburne

'It's an entertainment in itself to be seated among women auditors during a Constance Bennett picture. They love that girl and she mustn't be worsted by men.' – Variety

Boulder Dam

US 1936 70m bw
Sam Bischoff/Warner

A mechanic accidentally kills a man and seeks anonymity among the crews building Boulder Dam.

Routine melo with an unusual setting.

w Sy Bartlett, Ralph Block d Frank McDonald

☆ Ross Alexander, Patricia Ellis, Lyle Talbot, Eddie Acuff, Henry O'Neill

Boulevard

US 1994 96m colour
Norstar (Peter Simpson, Ray Sager)

An abused wife becomes a prostitute and is victimized by a ruthless pimp.

Brutal thriller of little merit which makes the most of its frequent bouts of violence.

w Rae Dawn Chong d Penelope Buitenhuis ph David Frazee m Ian Thomas pd Jasna Stefanovic ed Bernadette Kelly

☆ Rae Dawn Chong, Lou Diamond Phillips, Lance Henriksen, Kari Wuhrer, Joel Bissonnette

'Suggests the importance of female camaraderie, but ultimately the violence against women is so excessive and exploitational that it's shocking to realise pic was written and directed by women.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Boulevard Nights

US 1979 102m colour
Warner (Bill Benenson)

Two Mexican-American brothers become involved with a street gang.
Well-meaning but uninvolving account of life lived at an inescapably violent level.
w Desmond Nakano d Michael Pressman ph John Bailey m Lalo Schifrin pd Jackson DeGovia ed Richard Halsey
☆ Richard Yniguez, Danny de La Paz, Marta Du Bois, James Victor, Betty Carvalho

'Earnest, uninspired.' – Pauline Kael

'Two strangers fall in love. One knew it wasn't by chance.'

Bounce ★

US 2000 106m DeLuxe
Buena Vista/Miramax (Steve Golin, Michael Besman)

An advertising executive falls for the widow of a writer, whose death he inadvertently caused.
Sentimental romantic comedy that touches on the themes of guilt and sadness.
wd Don Roos ph Robert Elswit m Mychael Danna pd David Wasco ed David Codron cos Peter Mitchell
☆ Ben Affleck (Buddy Amaral), Gwyneth Paltrow (Abby Janello), Joe Morton (Jim Weller), Natasha Henstridge (Mimi), Tony Goldwyn (Greg Janello), Johnny Galecki (Seth), Alex D. Linz (Scott Janello), David Dorfman (Joey Janello), Jennifer Grey (Janice Guerrero), Caroline Aaron (Donna Heisen)

'Bounce is enjoyable. It could not be more predictable, but it could be a lot less pleasant.' – Stanley Kauffmann

'A Trust So Deep It Cuts Both Ways.'
'Stealing's a lot like sex. You've got two people who want the same thing.'

Bound ★★

US 1996 108m DeLuxe
Guild/Dino de Laurentiis/Summit/Newmarket (Andrew Lazar, Stuart Boros)

In Chicago, a lesbian thief falls for a gangster's mistress, and the pair decide to make a new life with the Mob's millions.
A lesbian twist on a familiar film noir narrative, delivered with a campily violent knowingness and much twirling of the camera.
wd Andy Wachowski, Larry Wachowski ph Bill Pope m Don Davis pd Eve Cauley ed Zach Staenberg
☆ Jennifer Tilly, Gina Gershon, Joe Pantoliano, John P. Ryan, Christopher Meloni, Richard C. Sarafian, Barry Kivel

'Who needs good taste when you can have this much fun? It's a blast.' – Neil Norman, London Evening Standard

Bound and Gagged – A Love Story

US 1992 94m colour
Metro Tartan/Cinescope (Dennis J. Mahoney)

A woman, married to a violent husband, is abducted by her female lover and her friend, a suicidal, unhappily married man who has lost the ability to speak.
A doggedly well-meaning movie about abusive and dependent behaviour that is also virtually unwatchable.
wd Daniel B. Appleby ph Dean Lent m William Murphy pd Dane Pizzuti Krogman ed Kaye Davis
☆ Ginger Lynn Allen, Karen Black, Chris Denton, Elizabeth Saltarrelli, Mary Ella Ross, Chris Mulkey

'This is not a good film. In fact, it is a pretty bad one – unevenly acted, scripted without much real wit and directed with the kind of careless abandon that sometimes passes for imagination when one's had too much of Hollywood's professional vacuity.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'Resolutely unengaging, almost repugnant. It is muddily photographed and poorly scripted.' – Caren Myers, Sight and Sound

† The film has been described by its director, who is noted for his documentaries on similar subject-matter, as a labour of love, taking two and a half years to make.

Bound for Glory ★

US 1976 148m DeLuxe Panavision
UA/Robert F. Blumhofe, Harold Leventhal

In 1936 Woody Guthrie leaves the Texas dust bowl for California, and after various hardships his musical talent is recognized.
Care and occasional beauty in the photography do not obscure memories of The Grapes of Wrath (qv), which told much the same story more dramatically and succinctly, and with less earnestness and self-pity.
w Robert Getchell autobiography Woody Guthrie d Hal Ashby ph Haskell Wexler m Leonard Rosenman pd Michael Haller songs Woody Guthrie
☆ David Carradine, Ronny Cox, Melinda Dillon, Gail Strickland, John Lehne

'The movie spends two-and-a-half hours and seven million dollars gazing wistfully at a little man and a big country, and it ends up prettily embalming them both.' – Janet Maslin, Newsweek

Haskell Wexler; Leonard Rosenman best picture; Robert Getchell

Boundaries of the Heart ★

Australia 1988 100m colour
IFM/Tra La La/FGH (Patrick Juillet)

In a dying desert town, where only 49 people remain, two unexpected visitors disrupt the life of a hotel owner and his unhappy daughter.
Intense, claustrophobic, domestic drama, of disappointments in life and love.
w Peter Yeldham d Lex Marinos ph David Sanderson, Geoff Simpson m Sharon Calcraft pd Melody Cooper ed Philip Howe ☆ Wendy Hughes, John Hargreaves, Norman Kaye, Max Cullen, Julie Nihill, Michael Siberry, John Clayton

The Bounty ★

GB 1984 133m Technicolor Panavision
Dino de Laurentiis (Bernard Williams)

William Bligh is summoned before a court martial to explain the events leading up to the famous mutiny.
Rather independent version of the twice-told movie tale, and the least compelling of all. Despite the emphasis on character, only occasionally interesting.
w Robert Bolt book Captain Bligh and Mr Christian by Richard Hough d Roger Donaldson ph Arthur Ibbetson m Vangelis pd John Graysmark
☆ Anthony Hopkins (Bligh), Mel Gibson (Fletcher Christian), Laurence Olivier (Admiral Hood), Edward Fox (Captain Greetham), Daniel Day-Lewis (John Fryer), Bernard Hill (Cole), Liam Neeson (Churchill)

'A long voyage to nowhere.' – Nick Roddick, MFB
'This misshapen movie doesn't work as an epic – it doesn't have the scope or the emotional surge.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker
'A great adventure, a lush romance, and a good movie.' – Roger Ebert

The Bounty Hunter

US 1954 79m WarnerColor
Warner (Samuel Bischoff)

Three respectable citizens are unmasked as masterminds behind a series of train robberies.
Predictable but enjoyable star action fare.
w Winston Miller d André de Toth ph Edwin DuPar m David Buttolph ed Clarence Kolster ☆ Randolph Scott (Jim Kipp), Dolores Dorn (Julie Spencer), Marie Windsor (Alice), Ernest Borgnine (Rachin), Howard Petrie (Sheriff Brand), Harry Antrim (Dr Spencer), Robert Keys (George Williams), Dub Taylor (Danvers), Phil Chambers (Ed), Tyler MacDuff (Vance), Paul Picerni (Jud), Archie Twitchell (Harrison)

The Bounty Hunters (dubbed) ★

Italy 1970 106m Technicolor Techniscope
UA/PEA (Alberto Grimaldi)

original title: Indio Black, Sai che ti Dico: Sei un Gran Figlio di...
aka: Adios, Sabata

In Mexico in the 1860s, a time of revolution, a bounty hunter leads an expedition to steal a shipment of Austrian gold.
Dubbing turned the central character from Indio Black into Sabata, a role played by Lee Van Cleef in a successful movie made by the same director a year earlier; this time around, the result was more conventional and less enjoyable.
w Renato Izzo, Gianfranco Parolini d Frank Kramer (Gianfranco Parolini) ph Sandro Mancori m Bruno Nicolai ad Pierluigi Basile ed Gianfranco Parolini, Salvatore Avantario ☆ Yul Brynner, Dean Reed, Pedro Sanchez (Ignazio Spalla), Gerard Herter, Sal Borgese, Franco Fantasia, Gianni Rizzo

'Since the characterisations are quite lively and the message agreeably cynical ... it is a pity that so much of the action is clogged up by that old stand-by of the Italian Western – extras falling off roofs in graceful death-falls.' – Tom Milne, MFB

† Return of Sabata (qqv), a sequel to the original Sabata (qqv), appeared in 1972.

'He was the perfect weapon until he became the target.'

The Bourne Identity ★

US 2002 110m DeLuxe Panavision
Universal/Hypnotic, Kennedy/Marshall (Doug Liman, Patrick Crowley, Richard N. Gladstein)

An amnesiac agent tries to discover who he is before assassins can eliminate him.
Tense chase thriller that provides moderate entertainment, though, after an intriguing opening sequence, its narrative becomes ponderously predictable.
w Tony Gilroy, William Blake Herron novel Robert Ludlum d Doug Liman ph Oliver Wood m John Powell pd Dan Weil ed Saar Klein
☆ Matt Damon (Jason Bourne), Franka Potente (Marie Kreutz), Chris Cooper (Ted Conklin), Clive Owen (The Professor), Brian Cox (Ward Abbott), Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje (Nykwana Wombosi), Gabriel Mann (Zorn), Julia Stiles (Nicolette)

'Suffers from a fatal lack of purpose.' – New Yorker
'First-rate thriller with grit and intrigue to spare.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† The novel was also made into a TV mini-series starring Richard Chamberlain and Jaclyn Smith in 1988.

'They should have left him alone.'

The Bourne Supremacy ★★

US 2004 108m Technicolor 'scope
Universal/MP Theta/Ludlum Entertainment (Frank Marshall, Patrick Crowley, Paul L. Sandberg)

Framed by his former boss, an ex-CIA assassin proves his innocence by killing the agents sent to kill him.
Efficient thriller that does not stray far from the conventions of the genre, from disposable girlfriend to implausible car chase, but is always watchable, despite its confusing, strobe-like editing at moments of excitement.
w Tony Gilroy novel Robert Ludlum d Paul Greengrass ph Oliver Wood m John Powell pd Dominic Watkins ed Christopher Rouse, Richard Pearson
☆ Matt Damon (Jason Bourne), Franka Potente (Marie), Brian Cox (Ward Abbott), Julia Stiles (Nicky), Karl Urban (Kirill), Gabriel Mann (Danny Zorn), Joan Allen (Pamela Landy)

'Nonstop chase that serves its dish of post-Cold War spy games very cold but with a pungent trace of melancholy.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

The Bowery ★★★

US 1933 92m bw
Twentieth Century (Darryl F. Zanuck) (Raymond Griffith, William Goetz)

In 1890s New York, two boisterous rivals settle their differences after one has jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge for a bet.
Roistering saga of cross and double cross on the seamy side, splendidly vigorous in acting and treatment.
w Howard Estabrook, James Gleason novel Michael L. Simmons, Bessie Roth Solomon d Raoul Walsh ph Barney McGill m Alfred Newman ad Richard Day ed Allen McNeil
☆ Wallace Beery (Chuck Connors), George Raft (Steve Brodie), Pert Kelton (Trixie Odbray), Jackie Cooper (Swipes McGurk), Fay Wray (Lucy Calhoun), Herman Bing (Mr. Rummel)

'It delivers as entertainment. It should draw by itself, while the cast will be a considerable help.' – Variety
'A model of skilful reconstruction and ingenious research.' – Times
'Fairly reeking with authentic, rowdy, hurdy-gurdy atmosphere ... a grand evening of fun for everybody.' – Photoplay

† The Bowery was the first production of Twentieth Century

†† Gable was sought for the Raft role, but proved unavailable.

Bowery at Midnight

US 1942 61m bw
Monogram

A criminal by night doubles as a mission proprietor by day.
Star horror cheapie with echoes of Lugosi's previous Dark Eyes of London (qv).
w Gerald Schnitzer d Wallace Fox
☆ Bela Lugosi, John Archer, Wanda McKay, Tom Neal, Dave O'Brien, Vince Barnett

The Bowery Boys

A cheap and cheerful series of American second features, immensely popular between 1946 and 1958, these adventures of a group of ageing Brooklyn layabouts had their origin in the 1937 film Dead End, from which the Dead End Kids graduated to other features at Warner: Crime School, They Made Me a Criminal, Angels with Dirty Faces, Angels Wash their Faces (qqv), etc. A couple of the 'boys' then defected to Universal and made Little Tough Guy (qv) and a series of half a dozen subsequent pictures; while in 1940 Monogram took a couple more and built up another group called the East Side Kids. In 1946 a formal merger of talent at Monogram consolidated the remaining members into the Bowery Boys. The members were Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan, Gabriel Dell (all from the Dead End Kids), Bernard Gorcey, David Gorcey, Billy Benedict, and Bennie Bartlett. The films are:

1946 In Fast Company, Bowery Bombshell, Live Wires, Spook Busters, Mr Hex
1947 Bowery Buckaroos, Hard Boiled Mahoney, News Hounds, Angels' Alley
1948 Jinx Money, Smuggler's Cove, Trouble Makers
1949 Angels in Disguise, Fighting Fools, Hold That Baby, Master Minds
1950 Blonde Dynamite, Blues Busters, Lucky Losers, Triple Trouble
1951 Bowery Battalion, Crazy over Horses, Ghost Chasers, Let's Go Navy 1952 Feudin' Fools, Here Come the Marines, Hold That Line, No Holds Barred 1953 Clipped Wings, Jalopy, Loose in London, Private Eyes
1954 The Bowery Boys Meet the Monsters, Jungle Gents, Paris Playboys
1955 Bowery to Bagdad, High Society, Jail Busters, Spy Chasers
1956 Dig That Uranium, Crashing Las Vegas, Fighting Trouble, Hot Shots
1957 Spook Chasers, Hold That Hypnotist, Looking for Danger
1958 Up in Smoke, In the Money

Bowery to Broadway

US 1944 94m bw
Universal (John Grant)

In the 1890s, a Bowery songstress makes it to the big time.

Simple-minded musical in which the drama has no drive and the guest stars are given inferior material.

w Joseph Lytton, Arthur T. Horman d Charles Lamont ph Charles Van Enger md Edward Ward

☆ Maria Montez, Turhan Bey, Susanna Foster, Jack Oakie, Donald Cook, Louise Allbritton, Andy Devine, Rosemary de Camp, Ann Blyth, Donald O'Connor, Peggy Ryan, Frank McHugh, Leo Carrillo, Evelyn Ankers, Mantan Moreland

♫ 'The Love Waltz'; 'There'll Always Be a Moon'; 'My Song of Romance'; 'Montevideo'; 'Coney Island Waltz' (plus standards)

'They're going to lie, cheat and steal---but in a nice way.'

Bowfinger ★

US 1998 97m DeLuxe
Universal/Imagine (Brian Grazer)

An unsuccessful producer decides to use a superstar in his new film without the actor being aware of what's happening.

Mildly amusing comedy of Hollywood wheeling and dealing, with a few good jokes but rather more poor ones.

w Steve Martin d Frank Oz ph Ueli Steiger m David Newman pd Jackson DeGovia ed Richard Pearson

☆ Steve Martin (Bobby Bowfinger), Eddie Murphy (Kit Ramsey/Jiff Ramsey), Heather Graham (Daisy), Christine Baranski (Carol), Jamie Kennedy (Dave), Adam Alexi-Malle (Afrim), Kohl Sudduth (Slater), Barry Newman (Kit's Agent), Robert Downey Jnr (Jerry Renfro), Terence Stamp (Terry Stricter)

'A splendidly funny piece of work.' – Empire

'Are we a nation of gun nuts or are we just nuts?'

Bowling for Columbine ★★★

Canada/Germany/US 2002 123m DuArt
Momentum/Alliance Atlantis/Salter Street/Dog Eat Dog (Charles Bishop, Michael Donovan, Kathleen Glynn, Jim Czarnecki, Michael Moore)

Documentary that examines America's attitudes to guns, beginning with the shooting rampage by students at Columbine high school.

Haphazard documentary that goes off in different directions and doesn't always follow through on the matters it raises; but the matters it does raise are important and receive a airing that is at once funny and angry.

wd Michael Moore ph Brian Danitz, Michael McDonough m Jeff Gibbs ed Kurt Engfehr

'A rollicking, incendiary documentary that looks down the barrel of Americans' love affair with firearms.' – Lisa Nesselson, Variety

'Extremely serious without being solemn, passionate in a deliberately laid-back fashion and both hilarious and chilling.' – Philip French, Observer

'Sorting through the ideological debris, you realize that Mr Moore's case for disarming America has too much anger and not enough insight, and you begin to question his motives. A grand act of patriotic idealism begins to smell like a craving for controversial self-promotion thinly masked as crusading journalism.' – Rex Reed, New York Observer

documentary

'Some people have a hard time unwinding.'

Box of Moonlight ★ ③

US 1996 112m Technicolor
First Independent/Lakeshore/Largo/JVC/Lemon Sky (Marcus Viscidi, Thomas A. Bliss)

A boring construction foreman gives a lift to a young drop-out, who teaches him to relax and enjoy life moment by moment.

A somewhat unconvincing paean to spontaneity, as opposed to the mundane realities of life, but given a little boost by Turturro's performance as an uptight family man; it is less an example of carpe diem, though, and more caveat emptor.

wd Tom DiCillo ph Paul Ryan m Jim Farmer pd Thérèse DePrez ed Camilla Toniolo

☆ John Turturro (Al Fountain), Sam Rockwell (Kid), Catherine Keener (Floatie Dupre), Lisa Blount (Purlene Dupre), Annie Corley (Deb Fountain), Rica Martens (Doris), Ray Aranha (Soapy), Alexander Goodwin (Bobby Fountain), Dermot Mulroney (Wick)

Boxcar Bertha ★

US 1972 88m DeLuxe
AIP (Roger Corman)

In early thirties Arkansas, an unhappy girl falls in with gangsters and train robbers.

Competent imitation of Bonnie and Clyde (qv).

w Joyce H. and John W. Corrington d Martin Scorsese ph John Stephens m Gib Guilbeau, Thad Maxwell

☆ Barbara Hershey, David Carradine, Barry Primus, Bernie Casey, John Carradine

'Love is always worth fighting for.'

The Boxer ★★

GB/Ireland/US 1997 113m Technicolor
Universal/Hell's Kitchen (Jim Sheridan, Arthur Lappin)

A former IRA prisoner takes up his old profession of boxing and opens a gym for young hopefuls with the aid of an alcoholic trainer.

A tough and gritty drama about controlled violence as redemption. The fight sequences have an authentic, sweaty feel about them; the rest is too schematic in its condemnation of bigotry to convince.

w Jim Sheridan, Terry George d Jim Sheridan ph Chris Menges m Gavin Friday, Maurice Seezer pd Brian Morris ed Gerry Hambling

☆ Daniel Day-Lewis, Emily Watson, Brian Cox, Ken Stott, Gerard McSorley, Eleanor Methven, Ciaran Fitzgerald, Kenneth Cranham

'An involving but rather prosaic report from the Belfast front with a melancholy undertow of romantic yearning.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

† Daniel Day-Lewis spent several years in preparation for his role, and was trained by former world champion boxer, and Irish hero, Barry McGuigan.

'A Deep Dark Obsession That Bares A Woman's Body And A Man's Soul.'

Boxing Helena

US 1993 105m Technicolor Panavision
Entertainment/Main Line (Carl Mazzocone)

A surgeon seemingly takes advantage of an accident to amputate the legs and arms of the woman who rejected his love.

A tedious, neurotic tale that would have benefited from hefty cuts; it is unable to sustain interest in either its minimal plot or its unsympathetic characters.

wd Jennifer Chambers Lynch story Philippe Caland ph Frank Byers m Graeme Revell ad Paul Huggins ed David Finfer

☆ Julian Sands, Sherilyn Fenn, Bill Paxton, Art Garfunkel, Betsy Clark, Kurtwood Smith

'Not only is the script unbelievably bad – packed with clumsy, forced and often banal dialogue – but some of the acting has to be seen to be believed.' – Amanda Lipman, Sight and Sound

'Just might have passed muster as a 15-minute film school gag. With performances as inept as the script, the self-parody cannot be passed off as intentional.' – David Robinson, The Times

'Simply cannot be taken seriously, in a large part because it takes itself so seriously that we can only respond to it with gales of derisive crowing.' – Michael Atkinson, Movieline

† The film was most memorable for what happened off-screen, when Kim Basinger was sued for changing her mind over her agreement to star in it, and ordered to pay some $8 million in damages. In a settlement reached in 1995, she agreed to pay around $3 million.

A Boy a Girl and a Bike

GB 1949 92m bw
Gainsborough (Ralph Keene)

Romantic jealousies arise between members of a Yorkshire cycling club.

Mild comedy drama with the advantage of fresh air locations.

w Ted Willis d Ralph Smart ph Ray Elton m Kenneth Pakeman

☆ John McCallum, Honor Blackman, Patrick Holt, Diana Dors, Leslie Dwyer, Thora Hird, Anthony Newley, Megs Jenkins, Maurice Denham

'A rather kinky tale of survival.'

A Boy and His Dog ★

US 1975 89m colour Techniscope
LG Jaf.(Alvy Moore)

While searching for food in an apocalyptic future, a young man and his more intelligent telepathic dog find an apparently Utopian community that needs masculine input.

Quirky science fiction, not to be taken too seriously, and managing a surprise ending.

wd L. Q. Jones story Harlan Ellison ph John Arthur Morrill m Tim McIntire pd Ray Boyle ed Scott Conrad

☆ Don Johnson, Susanne Benton, Jason Robards, Ron Feinberg, Tim McIntire, Charles McGraw

The Boy and the Bridge

GB 1959 91m bw
Xanadu (Kevin McClory)

A boy who believes he has committed a murder hides in the ramparts of Tower Bridge.

This tiny fable adds up to very weak entertainment, despite inventive photography, because it has virtually no plot development.

w Geoffrey Orme, Kevin McClory, Desmond O'Donovan d Kevin McClory ph Ted Scaife m Malcolm Arnold

☆ Ian MacLaine, Liam Redmond, James Hayter, Norman MacOwan, Geoffrey Keen, Jack MacGowran, Royal Dano, Rita Webb

The Boy and the Pirates

US 1960 84m Eastmancolor
Perceptovision
United Artists

A small boy finds an old bottle on the seashore, wishes he could live in pirate days, and hey presto...

Modest juvenile fantasy on the lines of The Wizard of Oz (qv) but without the talent.

w Lillie Hayward, Jerry Sackheim d Bert I. Gordon

☆ Charles Herbert, Susan Gordon, Murvyn Vye, Paul Guilfoyle

A Boy Called Hate

US 1995 98m CFI color
Pacific/J&M

A young biker rescues a girl from rape by shooting her assailant, and is soon being sought by the police for murder.

Trashy story of two young killers on the run, featuring a great deal of moody teenage posturing, in a sub-James Dean manner, and lacking any moral or wider social dimension.

wd Mitch Marcus ph Paul Holahan m Pray for Rain

☆ Scott Caan, Missy Crider, Elliott Gould, Adam Beach, James Caan

'No more bubble bath, she screamed!'

Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number

US 1966 99m DeLuxe
UA/Edward Small (George Beck)

Trying to phone his wife, an estate agent gets involved with a runaway actress.

Lifeless and generally resistible star comedy, the first of several hard and unfunny vehicles for an ageing Bob Hope seeming to hark back to the least attractive aspects of burlesque rather than the sympathetic wisecracking which suits him best.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

w Burt Styler, Albert E. Lewin, George Kennett d George Marshall ph Lionel Lindon m Richard Lasalle ly By Dunham ☆ Bob Hope, Elke Sommer, Phyllis Diller, Marjorie Lord, Cesare Danova, Benny Baker

The Boy Friend ★

GB 1971 125m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM/Russflix (Ken Russell)

On a wet Wednesday afternoon in Portsmouth in the late twenties, a tatty company with backstage problems puts on an empty-headed musical.
Russell the mastermind effectively destroys Sandy Wilson's charming period pastiche, sending up all the numbers (via badly staged dream sequences on the wrong shape screen) in a Busby Berkeley manner which had not yet been invented. Moments do work, but a non-star doesn't help, and the whole thing is an artistic disaster of some significance both to Russell's career and to the cinema of the early seventies.
wd Ken Russell musical play Sandy Wilson ph David Watkin md Ian Whittaker, Peter Greenwell, Peter Maxwell Davies pd Tony Walton ☆ Twiggy, Christopher Gable, Max Adrian, Tommy Tune, Barbara Windsor, Moyra Fraser, Bryan Pringle, Vladek Sheybal, Antonia Ellis, Glenda Jackson
'The glittering, joyless numbers keep coming at you: you never get any relief from Russell's supposed virtuosity.' – New Yorker, 1977
'The acting was too broad, the gags too laboured and the pacing too slow.' – Ken Russell
Ian Whittaker, Peter Greenwell, Peter Maxwell Davies

The Boy from Barnardo's: see Lord Jeff

The Boy from Mercury ★

GB/France 1996 87m colour
Blue Dolphin/Mercurian/Blue Dahlia/Blue Rose/Jo Manuel (Marina Hughes)

In Ireland in the late 50s, a young boy fantasizes that he is from the planet Mercury and has been sent to investigate the Earth.
Nostalgic, gently humorous account of childhood, in which small events assume large proportions.
wd Martin Duffy ph Seamus Deasy m Stephen McKeon pd Tom Conroy ed John Victor Smith ☆ Rita Tushingham, Tom Courtenay, Hugh O'Conor, James Hickey, Ian McElhinney, Joanne Gerard

The Boy from Oklahoma ★

US 1953 88m Warnercolor
Warner (David Weisbart)

A genial plainsman studying law becomes sheriff of a small town and uncovers its mayor as a killer.
Modest, pleasing Western with the star imitating his father.
w Frank Davis, Winston Miller d Michael Curtiz ph Robert Burks m Max Steiner ☆ Will Rogers Jnr, Nancy Olson, Lon Chaney Jnr, Anthony Caruso, Wallace Ford, Clem Bevans, Merv Griffin

The Boy in Blue

Canada 1986 97m DeLuxe
TCF/ICC/Denis Heroux/John Kemeny

In the 1870s, a young ne'er-do-well Canadian oarsman becomes a world champion.
The true story of Ned Hanlan, straightforwardly and unremarkably told.
w Douglas Bowie idea John Trent d Charles Jarrott ph Pierre Mignot m Roger Webb pd William Beeton ed Rit Wallis
☆ Nicolas Cage, Christopher Plummer, Cynthia Dale, David Naughton, Sean Sullivan, Melody Anderson

Boy Meets Girl ★

US 1938 86m bw
Warner (George Abbott)

Two crazy Hollywood scenario writers make a star of an infant yet unborn.
Freewheeling film version of a hilarious play: fine crazy comedy and excellent Hollywood satire.
w Bella and Sam Spewack play Bella and Sam Spewack d Lloyd Bacon ph Sol Polito m Leo Forbstein
☆ James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Marie Wilson, Ralph Bellamy, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran, Bruce Lester, Ronald Reagan, James Stephenson
'Satisfactory, but not socko.' – Variety
'It bounces from one hilarious absurdity to another with all the resilience of a rubber ball.' – MFB

Boy Meets Girl: see A Lover and His Lass (1975)

Boy Meets Girl ★

France 1984 100m bw
Other Cinema/Abilene (Patricia Moraz)

An aimless youth ends his romance with one girl and starts a new one with another.
A low-budget movie, made by its writer-director at the age of 22, of interest mainly for its photography of Paris by night.
wd Leos Carax ph Jean-Yves Escoffier m Jacques Pinault ad Serge Marzolff, Jean Bauer ed Nelly Meunier, Francine Sandberg ☆ Denis Lavant, Mireille Périer, Carroll Brooks, Elie Poicard, Anna Baldaccini

Boy of the Streets

US 1937 75m bw
Monogram

A city youngster falls in with racketeers.
Ho-hum Dead End melodrama.
w Scott Darling, Gilson Brown d William Nigh
☆ Jackie Cooper, Maureen O'Connor, Kathleen Burke, Marjorie Main, Robert Emmett O'Connor
'Will do biz for independents ... easily Monogram's most ambitious production effort to date.' – Variety

Boy on a Dolphin ★

US 1957 111m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Samuel G. Engel)

A Greek girl diver discovers a sunken artifact of great value and the news spreads to an American archaeologist and an unscrupulous collector.
Likeable, sunswept Mediterranean adventure romance marred by the miscasting of the male lead.
w Ivan Møffat, Dwight Taylor novel David Divine d Jean Negulesco ph Milton Krasner m Hugo Friedhofer md Lionel Newman
☆ Alan Ladd, Sophia Loren, Clifton Webb, Laurence Naismith, Alexis Minotis, Jorge Mistral
Hugo Friedhofer

Boy Slaves

US 1938 70m bw
RKO

A boy leaves home and ends up in a forced labour camp.
Topical preachment drama which kicked up a bit of dust at the time.
w Albert Bein, Ben Orkow d P. J. Wolfson ☆ Anne Shirley, Roger Daniel, James McCallion, Alan Baxter.
'Devoid of essential entertainment factors for general theatre showings.' – Variety

A Boy Ten Feet Tall: see Sammy Going South

Boy Trouble

US 1939 75m bw
Paramount

A small-towner finds his life upset when his wife adopts two orphans.
Sentimental comedy which caused a few tears to trickle.
w Laura and S. J. Perelman story Lloyd Corrigan, Monte Brice d George Archainbaud
☆ Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland, Donald O'Connor, Joyce Matthews, Billy Lee, Andrew Tombes
'Good old hokum with an emotional wallop ... Exhibitors can use more pictures of this type.' – Variety

The Boy Who Could Fly

US 1986 114m DeLuxe
Panavision
TCF/Lorimar (Gary Adelson)

After the death of their father, two children move with their mother to a new home and make friends with the boy next door, who believes that he can fly.
A family drama, about the problems of coping with loss, that moves into fantasy without altogether losing its slight charm and effectiveness.
wd Nick Castle ph Steven Poster, Adam Holender m Bruce Broughton pd Jim Bissell ed Patrick Kennedy
☆ Lucy Deakins, Jay Underwood, Bonnie Bedelia, Fred Savage, Colleen Dewhurst, Fred Gwynne, Mindy Cohen, Janet MacLachlan, Jason Priestley

'Those who don't believe – are dead!'

The Boy Who Cried Werewolf

US 1973 93m Technicolor
Universal/RFK

On a camping trip, a boy and his father are attacked by a werewolf, and later on Dad starts acting mighty strange...
Disappointingly straight rewrite of the old hokum.
w Bob Homel d Nathan Juran ph Michael P. Joyce m Ted Stovall ed Barton Hayes
☆ Kerwin Mathews (Robert Bridgestone), Elaine Devry (Sandy Bridgestone), Scott Sealey (Richie Bridgestone), Robert J. Wilke (Sheriff), Susan Foster (Jenny), Jack Lucas (Harry), Bob Homel (Bother Christopher), George Gaynes (Dr Marderosian)
'Pretty much a matter of stilted dialogue and thumping shocks.' – Tom Milne, MFB

The Boy Who Had Everything

Australia 1985 94m colour
Multi Films/Alfred Roads (Richard Mason, Julia Overton)

In 1965, as Australian troops are about to be sent to Vietnam a university freshman submits to initiation rites but renounces his mother and his future.
Angry, rather muddled character study which seems to be drawn from life but doesn't know what moral to point.
wd Stephen Wallace ph Geoff Burton m Ralph Schneider ☆ Jason Connery, Diane Cilento, Laura Williams, Lewis Fitz-Gerald

The Boy Who Stole a Million

GB 1960 81m bw
British Lion/Fanfare/George H. Brown

A young page in a Spanish bank 'borrows' some money to help his father but finds Dad, police and crooks all after him.
Half-hearted attempt at a British Bicycle Thieves (qv), oddly set in Spain and never quite managing to convince or interest us.
w John Eldridge, Charles Crichton story Neils West Larsen, Antonio de Leon d Charles Crichton ph Douglas Slocombe m Tristram Cary ad Maurice Carter ed Peter Bezencenet ☆ Maurice Reyna (Paco), Virgilio Teixeira (Miguel), Harold Kasket (Luis), George Coulouris (Bank Manager), Edwin Richfield (Commissionaire), Curt Christian (Currito), Bill Nagy (Police Chief), Marianne Benet (Maria), Cyril Shaps (Bank Clerk), Warren Mitchell (Pedro)

The Boy with Green Hair

US 1948 82m Technicolor
RKO (Stephen Ames)

When he hears that his parents were killed in an air raid, a boy's hair turns green; other war orphans encourage him to parade himself publicly as an image of the horror and futility of war.
Muddled, pretentious and unpersuasive fantasy, typical of this producer's do-goodery. One of those oddities which make Hollywood endearing, but not very entertaining apart from Pat O'Brien's garrulous grandpa.
w Ben Barzman, Alfred Lewis Levitt story Betsy Beaton d Joseph Losey ph George Barnes m Leigh Harline
☆ Dean Stockwell, Pat O'Brien, Robert Ryan, Barbara Hale

The Boyars' Plot: see Ivan the Terrible

The Boys

GB 1962 123m bw Cinemascope
Gala/Columbia (Sidney J. Furie)

Four boys are on trial for killing a garage attendant.
Elaborate courtroom drama with flashbacks, stars for counsel, a tricksy director, and about forty minutes too much footage.
w Stuart Douglass d Sidney J. Furie ph Gerald Gibbs m The Shadows
☆ Richard Todd, Robert Morley, Felix Aylmer, Dudley Sutton, Ronald Lacey, Tony Garnett, Jess Conrad, Wilfrid Brambell, Allan Cuthbertson, Colin Gordon

Boys

US 1996 89m Technicolor
Polygram/Interscope (Peter Frankfurt, Paul Feldsher, Erica Huggins)

A frustrated high-school student discovers a mysterious young woman, who is unconscious after a fall from her horse, and takes her back to his room.
Thin and vapid tale of a mixed-up teenager, almost totally lacking in either content or interest; clumsily structured, it fails to reach a satisfactory or acceptable conclusion.

wd Stacy Cochran story Twenty Minutes by James Salter ph Robert Elswit m Stewart Copeland pd Dan Bishop ed Camilla Toniolo

☆ Winona Ryder, Lukas Haas, John C. Reilly, James LeGros, Skeet Ulrich, Spencer Vrooman, Charlie Hofheimer, Bill Sage, Jessica Harper

'Never advances beyond banality, and the cop-out ending is both glib and unreal.' – George Perry, Sunday Times

The Boys ★

Australia 1998 84m Movielab
Globe/Arenafilm/AFC (Robert Connolly, John Maynard)

Released from prison, a violent man returns home to disrupt family life.

Chilling portrait of a manipulative and aggressive psychopath; by the end we are no wiser, though more appalled, than we were at the beginning.

w Stephen Sewell play Gordon Graham d Rowan Woods ph Tristan Milani m The Necks pd Luigi Pittorino ed Nick Meyers

☆ David Wenham, Toni Collette, Lynette Curran, John Polson, Anthony Hayes, Jeanette Cronin, Anna Lise, Pete Smith

'A True Story About Finding The Courage To Be Yourself.'

Boys Don't Cry ★★★

US 1999 118m DeLuxe
TCF/Killer Films (Jeffrey Sharp, John Hart, Eva Kolodner, Christine Vachon)

In Nebraska in the early 90s, a girl decides to live as a boy.

Abrasive, jolting drama of shock and outrage, more disturbing than the grisliest horror movie because, based on fact, it exposes a desperation at the heart of America.

w Kimberly Peirce, Andy Bienen d Kimberly Peirce ph Jim Denault m Nathan Larson pd Michael Shaw ed Lee Percy, Tracy Granger

☆ Hilary Swank (Brandon Teena), Chloe Sevigny (Lana), Peter Sarsgaard (John), Brendan Sexton III (Tom), Alison Folland (Kate), Alicia Goranson (Candace), Matt McGrath (Lonny), Rob Campbell (Brian), Jeannetta Arnette (Lana's Mom)

'Audacious, accomplished pic should play well with open minded viewers seeking edgy, mature fare.' – Emanuel Levy, Variety

'A delicately conceived, fearless movie.' – David Denby, New Yorker

'Scorches the screen like a prairie fire.' – J. Hoberman, Village Voice

Hilary Swank

Chloe Sevigny

'94 men must die to keep alive a dream – or a nightmare!'

The Boys from Brazil ★

US/GB 1978 124m DeLuxe
ITC/Producer Circle (Martin Richards, Stanley O'Toole)

A renegade Nazi in hiding has a sinister plot to reconquer the world.

Suspense fantasy firmly based on a gripping book; excellent performances, but a shade too long.

w Heywood Gould novel Ira Levin d Franklin Schaffner ph Henri Decaë m Jerry Goldsmith pd Gil Parrando

☆ Gregory Peck, Laurence Olivier, James Mason, Lilli Palmer, Uta Hagen, Steve Guttenberg, Denholm Elliott, Rosemary Harris, John Dehner, John Rubinstein, Anne Meara, David Hurst, Michael Gough

Jerry Goldsmith; Laurence Olivier

The Boys from Fengkuei ★★

Taiwan 1983 104m colour Evergreen original title: Feng-Kuei-Lai-Te Jen aka: All the Youthful Days

In search of excitement, three youths move to the city from the fishing village where they were born.

Absorbingly detailed drama of the young coming to terms with the pleasures and problems of adult life.

w Chu T'ien-wen d Hou Hsiao-hsien ph Ch'en K'un'hou

☆ Niu Cheng-tse, Lin Xiuling, To Tsung-hua, Chang Shih

The Boys from Syracuse ★

US 1940 74m bw
Universal (Jules Levey)

The Comedy of Errors with modern wisecracks, and a few songs.

Predictable well-drilled confusion arises from master and slave having identical twins, but the general tone is a bit flat for an adaptation from a hilarious Broadway success. Still, the songs are lively and the chariot race finale shows spirit.

w Leonard Spigelgass, Charles Grayson, Paul Gerard Smith play George Abbott, William Shakespeare d A. Edward Sutherland ph Joseph Valentine m Frank Skinner m/ly Richard Rodgers, Lorenz Hart md Charles Previn ad Jack Otterson ed Milton Carruth

☆ Allan Jones, Joe Penner, Charles Butterworth, Rosemary Lane, Irene Hervey, Martha Raye, Alan Mowbray

† The writing credit on screen ends: 'After a play by William Shakespeare ... long, long after!'

♫ 'Who Are You?'; 'This Can't be Love'; 'Falling in Love with Love'; 'The Greeks Have No Word for It'; 'Sing for Your Supper'; 'He and She'

John Otterson; special effects (John P. Fulton), sound (Bernard B. Brown, Joseph Lapis)

The Boys in Blue

GB 1983 91m colour Elstree/Rank

Village policemen catch art thieves.

Horribly incompetent remake of Ask a Policeman (qv), with a totally untalented star team.

wd Val Guest

☆ Tommy Cannon, Bobby Ball, Suzanne Danielle, Roy Kinnear, Eric Sykes, Jack Douglas, Edward Judd, Jon Pertwee, Arthur English

'The perfect antidote to sweeping claims about the British renaissance.' – Geoff Brown, MFB

Boys in Brown

GB 1949 84m bw
Gainsborough (Anthony Darnborough)

Life in a Borstal institution.

The stars make elderly boys, but Jack Warner is a cuddly governor. Boring and unpersuasive non-documentary fiction in Britain's most tiresome style.

wd Montgomery Tully play Reginald Beckwith ph Gordon Lang, Cyril Bristow m Doreen Carwithen

☆ Jack Warner, Dirk Bogarde, Michael Medwin, Jimmy Hanley, Richard Attenborough, Alfie Bass, Barbara Murray, Thora Hird

† Made by the Independent Frame method, which blended real backgrounds with studio sets.

The Boys in Company C

Hong Kong 1977 125m Technicolor Panavision
Golden Harvest (Andre Morgan)

Five marines find their lives changed by the Vietnam war.

Crude action melodrama.

w Rick Natkin, Sidney J. Furie d Sidney J. Furie ph Godfrey Godar m Jaime Mendoza-Nava

☆ Stan Shaw, Andrew Stevens, James Canning, Michael Lembeck, Craig Wasson, James Whitmore Jnr

'Laden with barrack room dialogue and played at the enlisted man's level.' – Variety

'An exploitation war movie, like dirty TV.' – New Yorker

The Boys in the Band ★

US 1970 120m Technicolor
Cinema Center/Leo (Mart Crowley, Kenneth Utt)

Tempers fray and true selves are revealed when a heterosexual is accidentally invited to a homosexual party.

Careful but claustrophobic filming of a Broadway play, which at the screen's closer quarters becomes overpowering well before the end.

w Mart Crowley play Mart Crowley d William Friedkin ph Arthur J. Ornitz m none

☆ Leonard Frey, Kenneth Nelson, Cliff Gorman, Frederick Combs, Reuben Greene, Robert La Tourneaux, Laurence Luckinbill, Keith Prentice, Peter White

'They crack jokes while their hearts are breaking.' – New Yorker

Boys' Night Out

US 1962 115m Metrocolor Cinemascope
MGM/Filmways (Martin Ransohoff)

Three married men and their bachelor friend share a flat and a 'mistress'.

Would-be saucy comedy in which nothing sexy ever happens and the helpless players are as witless as the script.

w Ira Wallach d Michael Gordon ph Arthur E. Arling m Frank de Vol

☆ James Garner, Kim Novak, Tony Randall, Howard Duff, Howard Morris, Oscar Homolka, Janet Blair, Patti Page, Jessie Royce Landis

Boys on the Beach: see Le Ciel, Les Oiseaux... Et Ta Mere!

Boys on the Side

US 1995 117m Technicolor Super 35
Warner/Canal/Regency/Alcor (Arnon Milchan, Steven Reuther, Herbert Ross)

Three women – a lesbian musician, a heterosexual with AIDS and the pregnant, confused girlfriend of a drug dealer – go on the road together.

Manipulative twaddle, mired in sentimentality and remote from reality, a modern version of a woman's picture, all female-bonding and buddies together, and extremely old-fashioned under its slick, hip surface.

w Don Roos d Herbert Ross ph Donald E. Thorin m David Newman pd Ken Adam ed Michael R. Miller

☆ Whoopi Goldberg, Mary Louise Parker, Drew Barrymore, Matthew McConaughey, James Remar, Billy Wirth, Anita Gillette

'Lush, weepy, topically correct, emotional button pusher – a chick flick for women who sing "We Are Family" too much.' – Lisa Schwarzbaum, Entertainment Weekly

'More laughs than Laurel and Hardy! More thrills than Test Pilot! More tears than Captains Courageous!'

Boys Town ★

US 1938 93m bw
MGM (John W. Considine Jnr)

The story of Father Flanagan and his school for juvenile delinquents.

Well-made, highly successful, but sentimental crowd pleaser.

w John Meehan, Dore Schary story Eleanore Griffin, Dore Schary d Norman Taurog ph Sidney Wagner m Edward Ward

☆ Spencer Tracy, Mickey Rooney, Henry Hull, Gene Reynolds, Sidney Miller, Frankie Thomas, Bobs Watson, Tommy Noonan

'A production that should build goodwill for the whole industry.' – Variety

Eleanore Griffin, Dore Schary; Spencer Tracy

best picture; John Meehan, Dore Schary; Norman Taurog

Boys Will Be Boys ★★

GB 1935 75m bw
Gaumont/Gainsborough (Michael Balcon)

An incompetent headmaster thwarts a jewel robber.

The first recognizable Will Hay vehicle, based in part on J. B. Morton's Narkover sketches.

w Will Hay, Robert Edmunds d William Beaudine ph Charles Van Enger m Louis Levy

☆ Will Hay, Gordon Harker, Jimmy Hanley, Davy Burnaby, Norma Varden, Claude Dampier, Charles Farrell, Percy Walsh

'It is hard to see how his distinctive sketch writing could have found a satisfactory screen equivalent. Nevertheless, a good augury of the films to come.' – Ray Seaton and Roy Martin, 1978

'Increase The Peace.'

Boyz N The Hood ★★

US 1991 112m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar (Steve Nicolaides)

Young blacks try to survive in the hostile urban world of Los Angeles gangs.

Episodic in form and over-schematic in its depiction of social difficulties, particularly those caused by absentee fathers, but it holds one's interest throughout.

wd John Singleton ph Charles Mills m Stanley Clarke ad Bruce Bellamy ed Bruce Cannon

☆ Ice Cube, Cuba Gooding Jnr, Morris Chestnut, Larry Fishburne, Nia Long, Tyra Ferrell

'An absorbing, smartly made dramatic encyclopedia of problems and ethics in the black community, 1991.' – Variety

'Conveys a vivid sense of the dangers, both physical and emotional, of day-to-day existence in this ravaged urban environment.' – New Yorker

John Singleton (as director); John Singleton (screenplay)

The Brady Bunch Movie ★

US 1995 88m DeLuxe
Paramount (Sherwood Schwartz, Lloyd Schwartz, David Kirkpatrick)

In a troubled modern-day Los Angeles, the

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Brady family behave as if they were still living in the mid-70s, displaying sweetness and good behaviour on every possible occasion.
Pleasantly amusing comedy that exploits the gap between the fantasy of family relationships and the reality, though it will mean most to viewers of the original TV sitcom.
w Laurice Elehwany, Rick Copp, Bonnie Turner, Terry Turner d Betty Thomas ph Mac Ahlberg m Guy Moon pd Steven Jordan ed Peter Teschner
☆ Shelley Long, Gary Cole, Michael McKean, Jean Smart, Henriette Mantel, Christopher Daniel Barnes, Christine Taylor, Jennifer Elise Cox, Jesse Lee, Olivia Hack, RuPaul
'It's a very good-humoured, unspiteful movie, and mounted with great energy. Everyone acts in that manic, twitchy, over-emphatic manner of bad US sitcoms, while Betty Thomas directs with speed and wit.' – Sheila Johnston, Independent
'This is not a very good film, being less well-written than it might have been and directed as if we are all as moronic as the people in the movie.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
† The Brady Bunch, created by Sherwood Schwartz, was a clean-cut television sitcom that ran from 1969 to 1974 and was followed by an animated version, The Brady Kids (1972–74). The family returned for The Brady Bunch Hour in 1977 and The Bradys in 1990 and also made several TV movies. None of TV's Brady Bunch appeared in the film.

The Brain: see Vengeance (1962)

The Brain
France/US 1969 115m colour Franscope
Paramount (Alain Poire) original title: Le Cerveau
A British colonel leads an international crew in an attempt to rob NATO.
Exhausting and generally misfiring international crook comedy.
w Gérard Oury, Marcel Julian, Daniele Thompson d Gérard Oury ph Vladimir Ivanov, Armand Thirard m Georges Delerue
☆ David Niven, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Bourvil, Eli Wallach, Silvia Monti

Brain Damage
US 1988 90m colour
Palace/Frank Henenlotter (Edgar Levins)
A man is provided with hallucinatory pleasures in return for helping a brain-eating parasite.
Low-budget nastiness intended to amuse rather than shock.
wd Frank Henenlotter ph Bruce Torbet m Gus Russo, Clutch Reiser ad Ivy Rosovsky ed James Y. Kwei, Frank Henenlotter ☆ Rick Herbst, Jennifer Lowry, Gordon Macdonald, Theo Barnes, Lucille Saint-Peter, Vicki Darnell

Brain Donors
US 1992 79m colour
Paramount/Zucker (Gil Netter, James D. Brubaker)
A trio of idiots attempt to part a widow from her wealth by running a ballet company for her.
A misfiring farce and a leaden attempt to revive the Marx Brothers' style of comedy. Inspired by A Night at the Opera, it doesn't even approach the low level of Love Happy (qqv).
w Pat Proft d Dennis Dugan ph David M. Walsh m Ira Newborn pd William J. Cassidy ed Malcolm Campbell
☆ John Turturro, Bob Nelson, Mel Smith, Nancy Marchand, John Savident, George de La Pena
'Sounds like a horror film and for those expecting a comedy, it is.' – Variety

'Crawling, Slimy Things Terror-Bent On Destroying The World!'

The Brain Eaters
US 1958 60m bw
AIP/Corinthian (Edwin Nelson)
Parasites from the Earth's core isolate a small town and begin to take over its citizens.
Low-budget imitation of Invasion of The Body Snatchers (qv), but with little evidence of intelligence in its making.
w Gordon Urquhart d Bruno Ve Sota ph Larry Raimond m Tom Jonson ad Burt Shonberg ed Carlo Lodato
☆ Edwin Nelson, Alan Frost, Jack Hill, Joanna Lee, Jody Fair, David Hughes, Leonard Nimoy † Leonard Nimoy is credited as Nemoy and plays a bearded ancient.

'Science-fiction's most astounding story!'

The Brain from Planet Arous
US 1957 70m bw
Howco International (Jacques Marquette)
A criminal alien, consisting of a disembodied brain, takes possession of the body of a nuclear scientist.
Laughably inept science fiction that leaves few clichés unspoken.
w Ray Buffum d Nathan Hertz (Nathan Juran) ph Jacques Marquette m Walter Greene ed Irving Schoenberg
☆ John Agar, Joyce Meadows, Robert Fuller, Thomas B. Henry, Henry Travis
'It's not actually as hilariously awful as you might think, but bad movie buffs will still get a kick out of it.' – The Dark Side

The Brain Machine ★
GB 1954 83m bw
Alec Snowden/Merton Park
Through an electroencephalograph, a hospital psychiatrist recognizes a patient as a dangerous psychopath.
Very tolerable crime thriller with a fresh angle.
wd Ken Hughes
☆ Elizabeth Allan, Patrick Barr, Maxwell Reed, Russell Napier, Vanda Godsell, Gibb McLaughlin

Brain Waves
US 1982 80m colour
CinAmerica Pictures (Ulli Lommel)
A brain-dead accident victim is brought back to life through the electronic transfer of the brain patterns of a murder victim, with disastrous results.
Ponderous and sentimental fantasy, a high-tech variation on Frankenstein.
wd Ulli Lommel ph Jon Kranhouse m Robert O. Ragland ed Richard Brummer ☆ Tony Curtis, Keir Dullea, Suzanne Love, Vera Miles, Percy Rodrigues, Paul Willson
'A romantic comedy about a boy, a girl and their power tools.'

Braindead
New Zealand 1992 104m colour
Polygram/Wingnut Films (Jim Booth)
US title: Dead Alive
A bite from a rat monkey turns a woman into a zombie; soon her cellar is full of other zombies.
Grossly gory horror, played for sick laughs, with a climactic massacre of the zombies by lawnmower that must rank as one of the bloodiest twenty minutes on film. It is difficult to understand why the British censors are happy to let us watch such jejune and tiresome stuff uncut while refusing a video release for such films as Straw Dogs and Reservoir Dogs (qqv).
w Stephen Sinclair, Frances Walsh, Peter Jackson d Peter Jackson ph Murray Milne pd Kenneth Leonard-Jones ed Jamie Selkirk
☆ Timothy Balme, Diana Penalver, Elizabeth Moody, Ian Watkin, Brenda Kendal, Stuart Devenie, Jed Brophy
'Soon jettisons characterisations and story development in favour of an orgy of tasteless effects.' – Kim Newman
'It's impossible to imagine anyone out-grossing the New Zealander's effort, or wanting to.' – Sight and Sound

Brainscan
US 1994 95m colour
Guild/Coral (Michael Roy)
A youth finds that the deaths in a computer game he is playing are happening in the real world.
A tasteless dose of teenage fantasy, just another failed attempt to bridge the gap between cinema and computer games.
w Andrew Kevin Walker story Brian Owens d John Flynn ph François Protat pd Paola Ridolfi ed Jay Cassidy visual effects and character design René Daalder
☆ Edward Furlong, Frank Langella, T. Ryder Smith, Amy Hargreaves, Jamie Marsh, Victor Ertmanis, David Hemblen
'May be too tame for the creature-feature fans and slasher devotees who will be drawn by its ad campaign.' – Variety

Brainstorm
US 1965 110m bw Panavision
Warner/Kodima (William Conrad)
A passer-by saves a married woman from suicide, has an affair with her, and conspires to murder her husband. This accomplished, she leaves him and he goes insane.
Overlong thriller which starts off agreeably in the Double Indemnity vein; but goes slow and solemn around the half way mark.
w Mann Rubin d William Conrad ph Sam Leavitt m George Duning ☆ Jeffrey Hunter, Anne Francis, Dana Andrews, Viveca Lindfors, Stacy Harris
'A sub-B potboiler for those who find comic books too intellectual.' – Judith Crist

'Open the doors to your mind...'

Brainstorm
US 1983 106m Metrocolor Super Panavision
MGM/UA/JF (Douglas Trumbull)
A technological device records emotions so faithfully as to make other people feel them through each of the five senses. The enemy is discovered to be using it for brainwashing purposes; but it has recorded the experience of death...
Scientific mumbo jumbo which went far too far as an attack on the audience's senses, and was jinxed by the death of its star during production.
w Robert Stitzel, Philip Frank Messina, Bruce Joel Rubin d Douglas Trumbull ph Richard Yuricich m James Horner pd John Vallone
☆ Natalie Wood, Christopher Walken, Louise Fletcher, Cliff Robertson, Jordan Christopher, Alan Fudge
'A monstrous bore, with uninteresting characters buried beneath a mass of even less interesting technology.' – Tom Milne, MFB

Brainwashed
France/Italy 1972 Eastmancolor
Lira/Fox Europa/Pegaso (Roland Girard, Jean Bolvary) original title: Le Droit d'Aimer
aka: The Right to Love
After a two-year wait, a woman visits her lover, a political prisoner held on a grim island jail, and discovers that their relationship has changed.
A glum fable of requited love.
w Jean-Claude Carrière, Françoise Xenakis, Jean Bolvary, Eric Le Hung novel Elle Lui Dirait dans l'Ile by Françoise Xenakis d Eric Le Hung ph Henri Decaë m Philippe Sarde ed Jacqueline Thiédot
☆ Omar Sharif, Florinda Bolkan, Pierre Michael, Gilles Ségal

Bram Stoker's Count Dracula
Spain/Italy/West Germany/Liechtenstein 1970 98m Eastmancolor Panavision Hemdale/Fénix/Corona/Filmar/Towers of London (Harry Alan Towers) original title: El Conde Dracula
aka: Count Dracula, Dracula 71
An English solicitor, Jonathan Harker, tracks Dracula to his castle after the Count kills his wife's friend, and destroys him by burning his coffin.
A feeble effort, in which a good cast is wasted by directorial incompetence. It was claimed, wrongly, that it was the first film to stick closely to the original story.
w Peter Welbeck (Harry Alan Towers), Carlo Fadda, Milo C. Cuccia, Dietmar Behnke novel Dracula by Bram Stoker
d Jess (Jesús) Franco ph Manuel Merino m Bruno Nicolai sp Sergio Pagoni ☆ Christopher Lee, Herbert Lom, Klaus Kinski, Frederick Williams, Maria Rohm, Soledad Miranda, Jack Taylor
'Disappointingly unimaginative in treatment ... the evidently low budget reveals day-for-night shots for what they are, also permitting a cardboard rock clearly to be seen bouncing off a horse's head before "crushing" a peasant.' – John Raisbeck, MFB

'Love Never Dies.'

Bram Stoker's Dracula
US 1992 128m Technicolor
Columbia TriStar/American Zoetrope/Osiris (Francis Ford Coppola, Fred Fuchs, Charles Mulvehill)
In the 1480s Dracula curses God and becomes a vampire after his wife, thinking that he has died in battle, commits suicide; 400 or so years later in London he falls in love with a woman who seems to be her reincarnation.
A lush, over-dressed Gothic romance that plays down the menace and dread of the original, with performances that range from the inadequate to the over-ripe.
w James V. Hart d Francis Ford Coppola ph Michael Ballhaus m Wojciech Kilar

pd Thomas Sanders ed Nicholas C. Smith, Glen Scantlebury, Anne Goursaud sp Roman Coppola
☆ Gary Oldman, Winona Ryder, Anthony Hopkins, Keanu Reeves
'Remains in essentials a fairly comprehensive and often vulgar mess … The whole somehow seems to sum up what people want from cinema nowadays: style hinting at content but gradually drowning it out with pyrotechnics.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'You emerge from the vampire's feast hungry and disappointed.' – Geoff Brown, The Times
'Everybody knows that Dracula has a heart; Coppola knows that it is more than an organ to drive a stake into. To the director, the count is a restless spirit who has been condemned for too many years to interment in cruddy movies. This luscious film restores the creature's nobility and gives him peace.' – Richard Corliss, Time
Eiko Ishioka (costumes); make-up; sound effects editing
Thomas Sanders

Bram Stoker's Legend of the Mummy

US 1997 93m colour
Goldbar/Unapix (Harel Goldstein, Bill Barnett)
aka: Bram Stoker's The Mummy
An archaeologist summons to life the preserved body of an ancient queen of Egypt.
A horror movie shocking only in its cheapness and incompetence: it has several scenes of people fighting off an invisible assailant, no doubt to save the cost of providing a mobile mummy, who is otherwise impersonated by a set of false teeth and some bandages.
wd Jeffrey Obrow novel The Jewel of Seven Stars by Bram Stoker ph Antonio Soriano m Rick Cox pd Ken Larson ed Gary Meyers
☆ Louis Gossett Jnr, Amy Locane, Eric Lutes, Mark Lindsay-Chapman, Richard Karn, Lloyd Bochner, Victoria Tennant, Aubrey Morris

The Bramble Bush

US 1960 105m Technicolor
Warner/United States (Milton Sperling)
A doctor returns to his home town and finds himself involved in old tragedies including the mercy killing of his friend.
Sordid small-town melodrama in the Peyton Place vein, with adequate production values but dispiriting treatment.
w Milton Sperling, Philip Yordan novel Charles Mergendahl d Daniel Petrie ph Lucien Ballard m Leonard Rosenman
☆ Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Jack Carson, Angie Dickinson, James Dunn, Tom Drake, Henry Jones, Frank Conroy, Carl Benton Reid, William Hansen

The Branches of the Tree ★★

India 1990 120m colour
Erato/DD/Soproffilms
When their famous father is taken ill, his three successful sons and their wives and children return home to visit him.
A rigorous examination of family relationships and values.
wd Satyajit Ray ph Sandip Ray m Satyajit Ray ☆ Ajit Banerjee, Soumitra Chatterjee, Maradan Banerjee, Lily Charraborty, Deepankar De, Mamata Shankar, Ranjit Malik
'An honest, thoughtful, compassionate film.' – Philip French, Observer

Branded

US 1950 104m Technicolor
Paramount (Mel Epstein)
A gunman poses as a rancher's lost heir, but redeems himself by finding the real one.
Competent, brisk Western.
w Sydney Boehm, Cyril Hume d Rudolph Maté ph Charles Lang Jnr m Roy Webb ☆ Alan Ladd, Charles Bickford, Mona Freeman, Robert Keith, Joseph Calleia, Peter Hansen, Selena Royle, Tom Tully

Branded to Kill ★★

Japan 1967 91m bw Nikkatsu-scope
Nikkatsu (Iwai Kaneo)
original title: Koroshi No Rakuin
The number three hitman in Tokyo, whose fetish is smelling boiled rice, finds himself the target of the top killer.
A strange but enjoyable thriller, with its quirky originality, odd angles and odder hero as well as some effective suspense.
w Hachiro Guryu d Seijun Suzuki ph Kazue Nagatsuka m Naozumi Yamamoto ad Sukezo Kawahara ed Mutsuo Tanji ☆ Jo Shishido (Goro Hanada), Mariko Ogawa (Mami Hanada), Annu Mari (Misako Nakajo), Koji Nanbara (Number One Killer), Isao Tamagawa (Michihiko Yabuhara), Hiroshi Minami (Gihei Kasuga)
'His film-making remains a wonderful subversion of commercial genres, wildly over-the-top, stylistically imaginative and totally watchable for its sheer (possibly ironic) audacity.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'One of Suzuki's greatest, and it stands as his last word to date on the yakuza genre.' – Tony Rayne
† The film caused Suzuki's sacking from the Nikkatsu studios, when he became a scapegoat for a change in policy.

Brandy for the Parson ★

GB 1951 79m bw
Group Three (Alfred Shaughnessy)
A couple on a yachting holiday find themselves unwittingly smuggling brandy into Britain.
Pleasant little sub-Ealing comedy with agreeable locations but not much drive.
w John Dighton, Walter Meade story Geoffrey Household d John Eldridge ph Martin Curtis m John Addison ☆ James Donald, Kenneth More, Jean Lodge, Frederick Piper, Charles Hawtrey, Michael Trubshawe, Alfie Bass, Reginald Beckwith

'Detective-Lieutenant Brannigan is in London … God Save the Queen!'

Brannigan ★

GB 1975 111m DeLuxe Panavision
UA/Wellborn (Jules Levy, Arthur Gardner)
A Chicago policeman is sent to London to pick up a gangster.
Cheerful crime pastiche and tour of London, quite an agreeable entertainment despite its obviously over-age star.
w Christopher Trumbo, Michael Butler, William P. McGivern, William Norton
d Douglas Hickox ph Gerry Fisher m Dominic Frontière
☆ John Wayne, Richard Attenborough, Judy Geeson, Mel Ferrer, John Vernon, Daniel Pilon, John Stride, James Booth, Barry Dennen

The Brasher Doubloon ★

US 1946 72m bw
TCF
GB title: The High Window
Philip Marlowe investigates the theft of a rare coin and finds himself involved in a series of murders.
The poorest of the Chandler adaptations, previously filmed as Time to Kill, still contains good moments, though the star is lightweight and the production low-budget.
w Dorothy Bennett novel The High Window by Raymond Chandler d John Brahm ph Lloyd Ahern m David Buttolph
☆ George Montgomery, Nancy Guild, Florence Bates, Conrad Janis, Fritz Kortner

The Brass Bottle

US 1964 89m Eastmancolor
U-I/Scarus (Robert Arthur)
A young architect finds an old brass bottle which contains a troublesome genie.
Simple-minded farce with little invention and poor trickwork.
w Oscar Brodney novel F. Anstey d Harry Keller ph Clifford Stine m Bernard Green ed Ted J. Kent sp Roswell Hoffman
☆ Tony Randall, Burl Ives, Barbara Eden, Edward Andrews, Ann Doran, Kamala Devi, Richard Erdman

The Brass Legend

US 1956 79m bw
UA (Herman Cohen/Bob Goldstein)
A sheriff finds himself in trouble when he tries to protect his fiancée's young brother.
Stolid programmer of the High Noon school, but without the flair.
w Don Martin d Gerd Oswald
☆ Hugh O'Brian, Nancy Gates, Raymond Burr, Reba Tassell

The Brass Monkey

GB 1948 84m bw
Diadem/Alliance/UA (N. A. Bronsten)
aka: Lucky Mascot
A radio singer thwarts the theft of a Buddhist idol.
Flat thriller based round a radio 'discovery' programme.
w Alec Coppel, Thornton Freeland d Thornton Freeland ph Basil Emmott ☆ Carole Landis, Carroll Levis, Herbert Lom, Avril Angers, Ernest Thesiger

Brass Target

US 1978 111m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM (Berle Adams)
The alleged story behind the death of General Patton, who according to these sources was eliminated because he had discovered a bullion robbery attempt.
Good-looking but interminably complex and talkative, with nothing much for its star cast to do.
w Alvin Boretz novel The Algonquin Project by Frederick Nolan d John Hough ph Tony Imi m Laurence Rosenthal ☆ Sophia Loren, George Kennedy, Max von Sydow, John Cassavetes, Patrick McGoohan, Robert Vaughn, Bruce Davison, Edward Herrmann, Ed Bishop

Brassed Off ★ (5)

GB 1996 107m Rank Colour
Film Four/Miramax/Prominent Features (Steve Abbott)
A mining community, facing the closure of its pit, struggles to keep its brass band going so that it may play in a national competition.
Sentimental comedy mixed with political preaching, saved from bathos by some good character acting.
wd Mark Herman ph Andy Collins m Trevor Jones pd Don Taylor ed Michael Ellis ☆ Pete Postlethwaite (Danny), Tara Fitzgerald (Gloria), Ewan McGregor (Andy), Jim Carter (Harry), Stephen Tompkinson (Phil), Ken Colley (Greasely), Stephen Moore (Mackenzie), Peter Gunn (Simmo), Mary Healey (Ida), Melanie Hill (Sandra), Philip Jackson (Jim), Sue Johnston (Vera)
'Full to the brim with lazy effects, grabbing at a sentimentality it hasn't earned and a seriousness of tone for which it hasn't put in an inch of work.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times

Brat

Russia 1997 99m colour
Kino Kino/STW/Roskomkino (Sergei Selianov)
aka: Brother
A former soldier becomes involved in the criminal underworld in St Petersburg.
A hectic picture of modern Russia with the young (at whom this movie seems aimed) floundering in moral and social uncertainties.
wd Alexei Balabanov ph Sergei Astakhov m Viacheslav Butusov pd Vladimir Kartakov ed Marina Lipartiy
☆ Sergei Bodrov (Danila Bragov), Viktor Suhorukov (Viktor Bragov), Svetlana Pismichenko (Sveta), Maria Joukova (Kat), Yuri Kuznetsov (The German), Viacheslav Butusov (Butusov)
'Terrifically stylish gangster film.' – New York Times

Brat 2

Russia 2000 122m colour
CTB Film (Sergei Selovanov)
aka: Brother 2
After a friend is killed for interfering in a deal between Russian and American gangsters, an ex-soldier and his brother go to Chicago to avenge his death.
Confused and implausible sequel that lacks the detailed social setting of the first film.
wd Aleksei Balabanov ph Sergei Astakhov m Vyacheslav Butusov pd Alexei Gilyarevsky, Deba Jean Grey, Judy Kropsch ed Marina Lipartia ☆ Sergei Bodrov (Danila), Victor Sukhorukov (Viktot), Sergei Makovetsky (Belkin), Irina Saltykova (Irina), Kirill Pirogov (Ilya)

Brats ★

US 1930 20m bw
Hal Roach
Stan and Ollie have trouble baby-sitting their own mischievous kids.
Fairly ambitious star comedy with trick sets and photography enabling Laurel and Hardy to play their own sons. About half the gags come off.
w Leo McCarey, H. M. Walker, Hal Roach d James Parrott ph George Stevens ed Richard Currier
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy

The Bravados ★

US 1958 98m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Herbert B. Swope)
A widower chases four killers who, he believes, raped and murdered his wife.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Dour Western with a downbeat ending; production good, but entertainment uneasy.
w Philip Yordan novel Frank O'Rourke d Henry King ph Leon Shamroy m Hugo Friedhofer md Emil Newman
☆ Gregory Peck, Stephen Boyd, Joan Collins, Albert Salmi, Henry Silva, George Voskovec, Barry Coe, Lee Van Cleef

The Brave and the Beautiful: see The Magnificent Matador

The Brave Bulls

US 1951 108m bw
Columbia (Robert Rossen)
A Mexican matador regains his courage but loses his girl in a car crash.
Muddled narrative with dollops of bull-fighting mystique; a rather miserable movie despite effort all round.
w John Bright novel Tom Lea d Robert Rossen ph James Wong Howe, Floyd Crosby ☆ Mel Ferrer, Miroslava, Anthony Quinn, Eugene Iglesias

The Brave Don't Cry ★

GB 1952 90m bw
Group Three (John Baxter)
Over a hundred men are rescued in a Scottish mine disaster.
Semi-documentary based on a real incident well done on a small budget, but hardly memorable.
w Montagu Slater d Philip Leacock ph Arthur Grant m none
☆ John Gregson, Meg Buchanan, John Rae, Fulton Mackay, Andrew Keir, Russell Waters, Jameson Clark, Jean Anderson, Eric Woodburn

The Brave Little Toaster

US 1987 90m DeLuxe
Castle Premier/Hyperion/Kushner-Locke/Wang Film/Global Communications (Donald Kushner, Thomas L. Wilhite)
Domestic appliances go in search of their owner.
Odd fantasy of pots and pans with no more than adequate animation.
w Jerry Rees, Joe Ranft novel Thomas M. Disch d Jerry Rees m David Newman
☆ Featuring the voices of Jon Lovitz, Tim Stack, Timothy E. Day, Thurl Ravenscroft, Deanna Oliver, Phil Hartman, Joe Ranft

The Brave One ★

US 1956 100m Technicolor Cinemascope
King Brothers
A small boy saves the life of his pet bull when it is sent into the ring.
Mildly beguiling minor drama for those who adore small boys and bulls.
w Harry Franklin, Merrill G. White story Robert Rich (Dalton Trumbo) d Irving Rapper ph Jack Cardiff m Victor Young ed Merrill G. White ☆ Michel Ray, Rodolfo Hoyos, Elsa Cardenas, Joi Lansing, Carlos Navarro
† Dalton Trumbo was not credited at the time of the film's release because he had been blacklisted.
♟ Robert Rich. (There was much confusion when the mysterious Rich turned out to be Dalton Trumbo, who was blacklisted at the time.)
♙ editing

'His passion captivated a woman. His courage inspired a country. His heart defied a king.'

Braveheart ★★★

US 1995 177m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Icon/Ladd (Mel Gibson, Alan Ladd Jnr, Bruce Davey)
William Wallace leads a Scottish rebellion against the claims of the English king, Edward I.
A stirring nationalistic epic, acted and directed with great verve; some of the history may be suspect, but the film creates a sense of myth with its sweep and passion.
w Randall Wallace d Mel Gibson ph John Toll m James Horner pd Tom Sanders ad Dan Dorrance ed Steven Rosenblum
☆ Mel Gibson (William Wallace), Sophie Marceau (Princess Isabelle), Patrick McGoohan (Longshanks, King Edward I), Catherine McCormack (Murron), Brendan Gleeson (Hamish), James Cosmo (Campbell), Alun Armstrong (Mornay), Angus Macfadyen (Robert the Bruce), Ian Bannen (The Leper)
'At last: a costume drama that wears its costumes with pride, a period drama that has the courage of its convictions.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times
† The film took $168.5m at the box-office worldwide, according to Variety's figures.
†† Regions 1 and 2 DVDs include a commentary by Mel Gibson.
♟ best film; Mel Gibson (as director); John Toll; makeup; sound effects editing ♙ Randall Wallace; James Horner; Steven Rosenblum; costume design (Charles Knode); sound

Brazil

US 1944 91m bw
Republic (Robert North)
A lady novelist goes to Brazil for material; a local composer poses as her guide in order to pay her back for her previous remarks about his country.
Acceptable lower case musical with pleasant tunes and humour.
w Frank Gill Jnr, Laura Kerr d Joseph Santley ph Jack Marta m Walter Scharf songs Bob Russell and others
☆ Virginia Bruce, Tito Guizar, Edward Everett Horton, Roy Rogers ♙ song 'Rio de Janeiro' (m Ary Barrosa, ly Ned Washington); Walter Scharf

Brazil ★

GB 1985 142m colour
Embassy (Arnon Milchan)
A comically pessimistic view of the future, seen through the eyes of a dutiful civil servant who is eventually crushed by the system.
An expensive, wild, overlong, hit-or-miss Orwellian satire: enough good jabs to please the intelligentsia, but a turnoff for patrons at the local Odeon.
w Terry Gilliam, Tom Stoppard, Charles McKeown d Terry Gilliam ph Roger Pratt m Michael Kamen pd Norman Garwood ed Julian Doyle ☆ Jonathan Pryce, Robert De Niro, Michael Palin, Kim Greist, Katherine Helmond, Ian Holm, Ian Richardson, Peter Vaughan, Bob Hoskins
'It will not be everybody's cup of poisoned tea.' – Variety
'Exuberantly violent, cruelly funny and sometimes sickeningly scatological ... the whole is wrapped up in a melancholy wistfulness.' – Sight and Sound
♙ original screenplay, art direction ♈ production design

Breach of Promise

GB 1941 79m bw
British Mercury/MGM
US title: Adventure in Blackmail
A girl chases the man she wants by filing a breach of promise suit against him.
Dated but lively comedy with agreeable playing.
w Roland Pertwee d Harold Huth, Roland Pertwee ☆ Clive Brook, Judy Campbell, C. V. France, Marguerite Allan, Percy Walsh

Bread and Chocolate ★

Italy 1973 112m Eastmancolor
Verona Cinematografica (Maurizio Lodo-Fe)
An Italian waiter in Switzerland is accused of murder and indecent exposure.
Amusing and often pathetic account of an inveterate loser, its flavour impossible to define.
w Franco Brusati, Iaia Fiastri, Nino Manfredi d Franco Brusati ph Luciano Tovoli md Daniele Patrucchi
☆ Nino Manfredi, Anna Karina, Johnny Dorelli, Paolo Turco

'The Balance Of Power Is About To Change.'

Bread and Roses ★★

GB/Germany/Spain 2000 110m colour
Parallax/Road Movies/Tornasol/Alta (Rebecca O'Brien)
A Mexican woman is smuggled into Los Angeles to live with her sister, join other immigrants working as office cleaners, and protest about their exploitation.
Engrossing, heartfelt movie about the underside of LA, and those invisible workers busy executives step over on their way to the elevators; it suffers from an often clumsy script, but is worth seeing just for Elpidia Carrillo's electrifying outburst explaining her seemingly indefensible betrayal of fellow workers.
w Paul Laverty d Ken Loach ph Barry Ackroyd, Haskell Wexler m George Fenton pd Martin Johnson ed Jonathan Morris ☆ Pilar Padilla (Maya), Adrien Brody (Sam), Elpidia Carrillo (Rosa), Jack McGee (Bert), George Lopez (Perez), Alonso Chave (Ruben), Monica Rivas (Simona), Frank Davila (Luis)
'A genuine consciousness-raiser, but it's less a social-realist narrative than a high-volume rally. Which might be exactly what the director intended.' – Jessica Winter, Village Voice
'A minor piece of agitprop drama.' – Variety

Bread and Tulips ★★ (6)

Italy/Switzerland 2000 114m Cinecitta color
Monogatari/Istituto Luce/RAI/Amka (Daniele Maggioni)
original title: Pane E Tulipani
Accidentally left behind by her family at a motorway restaurant, a housewife takes off for Venice and decides to stay.
Sweetly comic escapism among eccentrics.
w Doriana Leondeff, Silvio Soldini d Silvio Soldini ph Luca Bigazzi m Giovanni Venosta ad Paola Bizzarri ed Carlotta Cristiani ☆ Licia Maglietta (Rosalba), Bruno Ganz (Fernando), Giuseppe Battiston (Costantino), Marina Massironi (Grazia), Antonio Catania (Mimmo)
'It's surprising to discover how unfulfilling and relentlessly saccharine the movie is. What a sad commentary on the state of adult comedies that this artificial concoction can win such plaudits.' – Kirk Honeycutt, Hollywood Reporter

Bread, Love and Dreams ★

Italy 1953 90m bw
Titanus (Marcello Girosi)
The new sergeant of police in a small rural village comes looking for a wife.
*Pleasant rather than exciting rural comedy which spun off a number of vaguely related sequels (*Bread, Love and Jealousy, etc).
w Luigi Comencini story Ettore Margadonna d Luigi Comencini ph Arturo Gallea m Alessandro Cicognini ☆ Vittorio de Sica, Gina Lollobrigida, Marisa Merlini, Roberto Risso ♙ Ettore Margadonna

Break in the Circle

GB 1955 91m Eastmancolor (bw in US)
Exclusive/Hammer (Michael Carreras)
The owner of a cabin cruiser is hired to smuggle a scientist out of Germany.
Routine action yarn of cross and double-cross, tolerably staged.
wd Val Guest novel Philip Lorraine ph Walter Harvey m Doreen Carwithen ad J. Elder Wills ed Bill Lenny ☆ Forrest Tucker, Eva Bartok, Marius Goring, Eric Pohlmann, Guy Middleton, Arnold Marlé

Break of Hearts

US 1935 80m bw
RKO (Pandro S. Berman)
A girl composer falls in love with a distinguished conductor who becomes a dipsomaniac.
Well acted soap opera, not really worthy of its stars.
w Sarah Y. Mason, Victor Heerman, Anthony Veiller d Philip Moeller ph Robert de Grasse m Max Steiner ☆ Katharine Hepburn, Charles Boyer, Jean Hersholt, John Beal, Sam Hardy
'A stale turnip story that relies entirely upon characterization to hide the basic dullness.' – Variety
'In spite of some capable acting, it lacks a certain compelling warmth. The audience's heart never breaks.' – Eileen Creelman, New York Sun

Break the News ★

GB 1938 78m bw
GFD/Jack Buchanan
A dancer arranges his partner's 'death' for publicity reasons but is sent to jail when the partner disappears.
Thin but lively comedy with a remarkable couple of song and dance men. Negative apparently lost.
w Geoffrey Kerr novel La Mort en Fuite by Loic de Gouriadec d René Clair ph Phil Tannura m Theo Mackeben m/ly Cole Porter md Van Phillips ad Lazare Meerson ed Francis Lyon, Fred Wilson
☆ Jack Buchanan, Maurice Chevalier, June Knight, Marta Labarr, Garry Marsh, Felix Aylmer, Robb Wilton † Various remakes include The Art of Love (qv).

Break to Freedom: see Albert RN

'Silent Betrayal. Deadly Passion. Sweet Revenge.'

Break Up

US 1999 101m colour
Millennium/Nu Image (Jonas Goodman, Harvey Kahn, Elie Samaha)

A woman, who is suspected of having murdered her abusive husband, fears that he is still alive and dangerous.
Routine thriller that follows in the footsteps of better films; the acting seems unengaged.
w Anne Amanda Opotowsky d Paul Marcus ph Hubert Taczanowski m Laura Karpman pd Clark Hunter ed Arthur Coburn
☆ Bridget Fonda (Jimmy Dade), Kiefer Sutherland (John Box), Hart Bochner (Frankie Dade), Steven Weber (Ramsey), Penelope Ann Miller (Grace), Tippi Hedren (Mom), Leslie Stefanson (Shelly)

'... pick a side.'

The Break-Up ③

US 2006 106m DeLuxe
Universal/Wild West Picture Show (Vince Vaughn, Scott Stuber)

When a couple breaks up, each tries to force the other to leave their home.
Rancorously unromantic comedy that is like Strindberg without the laughs.
w Jeremy Garelick, Jay Lavender, Vince Vaughn d Peyton Reed ph Eric Edwards m Jon Brion pd Andrew Laws ed David Rosenbloom, Dan Lebental
☆ Vince Vaughn (Gary Grobowski), Jennifer Aniston (Brooke Meyers), Joey Lauren Adams (Maddie), Cole Hauser (Lupus Grobowski), Jon Favreau (Johnny O), Jason Bateman (Riggleman), Judy Davis (Marilyn Dean), Ann-Margret (Wendy Meyers)

'May be the first "last-date movie" – the one you see with someone that you're about to dump.' – Brian Lowry, Variety
'Watching the movie is like being on a double-date from hell.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

Breakdance: see Breakin'

Breakdance 2: Electric Boogaloo: see Breakin' 2: Electric Boogaloo

Breakdown ★★

US 1997 93m DeLuxe Super 35
TCF/Dino de Laurentiis/Spelling

After his car breaks down, a man finds that his wife has disappeared and that a gang of roughnecks want to steal all his money.
Slick, unpretentious action thriller that effectively exploits urban fears of wide-open spaces.
w Jonathan Mostow, Sam Montgomery d Jonathan Mostow ph Doug Milsome m Basil Poledouris pd Victoria Paul ed Derek Brechin, Kevin Stitt ☆ Kurt Russell, J. T. Walsh, Kathleen Quinlan, M. C. Gainey, Jack Noseworthy, Rex Linn, Ritch Brinkley, Moira Harris

'A tremendously tense thriller that expertly keeps tightening the screws throughout its taut running time.' – Variety
'A rough-hewn thriller, enjoyable in its simplicity and occasional silliness.' – Edward Porter, Sunday Times

'When they speak of heroes – of villains – of men who look for action, who choose between honor and revenge – they tell the story of Breaker Morant.'

'Breaker' Morant ★★★

Australia 1980 107m Eastmancolor Panavision
South Australian Film Corporation (Matthew Carroll)

During the Boer War three Australian officers are courtmartialled for murdering prisoners.
Careful, moving military drama which gives a more sympathetic view of the facts than history does.
w Jonathan Hardy, Bruce Beresford, David Stevens play Kenneth Ross d Bruce Beresford ph Donald McAlpine md Phil Cuneen ed William Anderson
☆ Edward Woodward (Lt. Harry Morant), Jack Thompson (Maj. J.F. Thomas), John Waters (Capt. Alfred Taylor), Charles Tingwell (Lt. Col. Denny), Terence Donovan (Capt. Simon Hunt), Vincent Ball (Lt. Ian (Johnny) Hamilton)

'It is impossible to suppress a feeling that the spirit of Stanley Kramer is abroad on the veldt.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB
🎗 screenplay

Breakfast at Tiffany's ★

US 1961 115m Technicolor
Paramount (Martin Jurow, Richard Shepherd)

A young New York writer has as neighbour the volatile Holly Golightly, a slightly crazy call girl with an exotic social and emotional life.
Impossibly cleaned up and asexual version of a light novel which tried to be the American I Am a Camera (qv). Wild parties, amusing scenes and good cameos, but the pace is slow, the atmosphere is unconvincingly clean and luxurious, and the sentimentality kills it.
w George Axelrod novel Truman Capote d Blake Edwards ph Franz Planer
m Henry Mancini ad Hal Pereira, Roland Anderson ed Howard Smith cos Edith Head ☆ Audrey Hepburn (Holly Golightly), George Peppard (Paul Varjak), Patricia Neal (2-E), Buddy Ebsen (Doc Golightly), Martin Balsam (O. J. Berman), John McGiver (Tiffany salesman), Mickey Rooney (Mr Yunioshi)
🎗 Henry Mancini; song 'Moon River' (m Henry Mancini, ly Johnny Mercer)
🎗 George Axelrod; Audrey Hepburn; art direction

'They only met once, but it changed their lives forever.'

The Breakfast Club

US 1985 97m Technicolor
A&M/Universal (Ned Tanen, John Hughes)

Five rebellious students at Shermer High blame their parents for their misfortunes.
Abysmal apologia for loutish teenage behaviour.
wd John Hughes ph Thomas Del Ruth, George Bouillet m Keith Forsey ed Dede Allen ☆ Emilio Estevez, Judd Nelson, Molly Ringwald, Anthony Michael Hall, Ally Sheedy

Breakfast for Two ★

US 1937 65m bw
RKO (Edward Kaufman)

A Texas heiress turns a playboy into a businessman.
Star crazy comedy with some wildly funny scenes.
w Charles Kaufman, Paul Yawitz, Viola Brothers Shore d Alfred Santell ph J. Roy Hunt ☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Herbert Marshall, Donald Meek, Glenda Farrell, Eric Blore, Etienne Girardot

'Heaps of laughs in a breezily-paced farce.' – Variety

Breakfast in Hollywood

US 1945 90m bw
Golden Pictures/United Artists

GB title: The Mad Hatter
A day in the life of a radio breakfast show host.
Topical programme filler, more interesting historically than entertaining.
w Earl W. Baldwin d Harold Schuster
☆ Tom Breneman, Bonita Granville, Beulah Bondi, Eddie Ryan, Raymond Walburn, Billie Burke, ZaSu Pitts, Spike Jones and his City Slickers, Andy Russell, Hedda Hopper

'In a world gone mad you can trust Dwayne Hoover.'

Breakfast of Champions

US 1999 110m
Summit/Flying Heart/Sugar Creek (David Blocker, David Willis)

A successful car dealer finds that his life is disappointing, and wants to know why.
Muddled and meandering satire on the American dream that misses most of its targets.
wd Alan Rudolph novel Kurt Vonnegut Jnr ph Elliot Davis m Mark Isham pd Nina Ruscio ed Suzy Elmiger cos Rudy Dillon
☆ Bruce Willis (Dwayne Hoover), Albert Finney (Kilgore Trout), Nick Nolte (Harry Le Sabre), Barbara Hershey (Celia Hoover), Glenne Headly (Francine Pefko), Lukas Haas (Bunny Hoover), Omar Epps (Wayne Hoobler), Buck Henry (Fred T. Barry), Vicki Lewis (Grace Le Sabre), Ken Campbell (Eliot Rosewater), Jake Johannsen (Bill Bailey), Will Patton (Moe), Owen Wilson (Monte Rapid), Commercials Director (Kurt Vonnegut Jnr)

'A hearty meal that starts off tickling the taste buds but ends up smothering them.' – Derek Elley, Variety

Breakfast on Pluto ★ ⑤

GB/Ireland 2005 128m colour
Pathé/Bord Scannan na hEireann/Parallel/Number 9 (Alan Moloney, Neil Jordan, Stephen Wooley)

In the 1960s and '70s, a Dublin youth becomes a transvestite cabaret performer in London while searching for his mother.
Intermittently engaging, episodic drama, not helped by having a passive and superficial character at its centre.
w Neil Jordan, Patrick McCabe novel Patrick McCabe d Neil Jordan ph Declan Quinn pd Tom Conroy
ed Tony Lawson
☆ Cillian Murphy (Patrick 'Kitten' Braden), Liam Neeson (Father Bernard), Stephen Rea (Bertie), Brendan Gleeson (John-Joe), Eva Birthistle (Eily Bergin), Liam Cunningham (Mosher), Bryan Ferry (Mr Silky String), Ian Hart (PC Wallis)

'Playful, poetic, shocking, saddening, and ultimately gratifyingly and honestly big-hearted.' – Glenn Kenny,Premiere
'Deploys its whimsy in many ways, all of them cloying.' – Joseph Morgenstern, Wall Street Journal

Breakheart Pass ★

US 1975 94m DeLuxe
UA/Elliott Kastner (Jerry Gershwin)

Various mysterious passengers on an 1873 train across the frozen west to Fort Humboldt turn out to have smuggling and murder in mind.
Botched murder mystery on wheels: there are some exciting scenes, but the plot makes little sense and the 'action finale' is muddled.
w Alistair MacLean novel Alistair MacLean d Tom Gries ph Lucien Ballard m Jerry Goldsmith
☆ Charles Bronson, Ben Johnson, Richard Crenna, Jill Ireland, Charles Durning, Archie Moore, Ed Lauter

Breakin'

US 1984 87m Metrocolor
MGM-UA/Cannon (Allen DeBevoise, David Zito)

GB title: Breakdance
Youngsters promote a new form of dancing.
Minor exploitation item, the form little improved on Rock around the Clock (qv) thirty years earlier.
w Charles Parker, Allen DeBevoise, Gerald Scaife d Joel Silberg ph Hanania Baer m Gary Remal, Michael Boyd pd Ivo Cristante ed Mark Helfrich
☆ Lucinda Dickey, Adolfo 'Shabba-Doo' Quinones, Michael 'Boogaloo-Shrimp' Chambers, Ben Lokey, Phineas Newborn III, Tracey 'Ice T' Marrow

Breakin' 2: Electric Boogaloo

US 1984 94m TVC Color
Cannon

GB title: Breakdance 2: Electric Boogaloo
Youngsters raise 200,000 dollars to save their local community centre; a dance show does it.
Hurried sequel of no interest apart from the briefly popular musical gyrations.
w Jan Ventura, Julie Reichert d Sam Firstenberg ☆ Lucinda Dickey, Adolfo Quinones, Michael Chambers, Susie Bono

'Love is no ordinary crime.'

Breaking and Entering ★ ④

UK/US 2006 118m
Buena Vista/Miramax/Weinstein Company/Mirage (Sydney Pollack, Anthony Minghella, Timothy Bricknell)

An affluent London landscape architect's brush with a young burglar leads him into an affair with the boy's mother, a Bosnian refugee.
A state-of-the-nation story that delivers less than it promises. It certainly embraces big themes: immigration, class, parenthood, infidelity and the hidden social costs of urban renewal. But Minghella, looking for private and public parallels, over-reaches himself: Will and Liv's marriage, foundering on benign mutual neglect, is made to mirror Britain's indifference to the anonymous refugees in its midst. The script often teeters beneath the weight of too much significance, and too many characters are ciphers, less flesh and blood than representatives of an idea. On the plus side, Minghella captures perfectly the surface gleam of London's Kings Cross, once a slum but now resplendent in its new, aesthetically pleasing order.
wd Anthony Minghella ph Benoit Delhomme m Gabriel Yared, Underworld pd Alex McDowell ad Andy Nicholson ed Lisa Gunning

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

☆ Jude Law (Will Francis), Juliette Binoche (Amira), Robin Wright Penn (Liv), Martin Freeman (Sandy Hoffman), Ray Winstone (Bruno Fella), Vera Farmiga (Oana), Rafi Gavron (Miro), Poppy Rogers (Bea)

AMIRA: 'You steal someone's heart, that's a crime.'

AMIRA: 'No story from Sarajevo is simple.'

WILL: 'When did we stop looking at each other?'

'Flawed but complex and ambitious, a watchable, good-looking film.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'Diffuse, disappointing and strangely out of touch.' – Wally Hammond, Time Out

Breaking Away ★

US 1979 101m DeLuxe
TCF (Peter Yates)

An imaginative teenager has trouble adjusting to adult life after high school.

Andy Hardy would have felt at home in this fragmented comedy of the American hinterland; 1979 audiences found it a welcome relief from the stronger brews to which they had become accustomed.

w Steve Tesich d Peter Yates ph Matthew F. Leonetti m Patrick Williams md Lionel Newman

☆ Dennis Christopher, Dennis Quaid, Daniel Stern, Jackie Earle Haley, Barbara Barrie, Paul Dooley

'Affection for the middle classes, the landscapes of Indiana, and bicycle racing.' – New Yorker

'It is not devoid of pleasures ... but it fatally lacks a clear purpose and identity.' – Geoff Brown, MFB

'Here's a sunny, goofy, intelligent little film about coming of age in Bloomington, Indiana.' – Roger Ebert

† An unsuccessful TV series followed in 1980.

Steve Tesich
best picture; Peter Yates; Patrick Williams; Barbara Barrie Dennis Christopher

'The experience is shattering!'

Breaking Glass

GB 1980 104m Technicolor Panavision
GTO/Film and General (Dodi Fayed)

Vicissitudes of a pop band and of its singer who can't stand the pace.

Garish, freakish musical with unattractive characters strung along an oft-told tale. Some commendable vigour in the presentation, but it won't appeal to anybody over 21.

wd Brian Gibson ph Stephen Goldblatt md Tony Visconti

☆ Hazel O'Connor, Phil Daniels, Jon Finch, Jonathan Pryce

Breaking In ★

US 1989 94m colour
Castle Premier/Breaking In Productions/Sam Goldwyn Company (Harry Gittes)

A veteran safe-breaker teaches a teenager the tricks of the trade.

Mildly rewarding comedy of crooked manners.

w John Sayles d Bill Forsyth ph Michael Coulter pd Adrienne Atkinson, John Willett ed Michael Ellis

☆ Burt Reynolds, Casey Siemaszko, Sheila Kelley, Lorraine Toussaint, Albert Salmi, Harry Carey, Maury Chaykin

'Less a barrel of laughs than elliptically funny in its observation of the unconscious discrepancy between word and deed.' – Tom Milne, MFB

Breaking News ★★

Hong Kong/China 2004 89m colour
Media Asia/Milkyway Image (Johnnie To, Cao Biao)

original title: Dai Sigin

Cops and robbers compete with each other to manipulate TV and other news media during a stake-out.

Opening with a virtuoso single take of a gunfight, this edgy thriller with nervy camerawork moves into unexpected territory: the police stage the capture of a criminal gang as a media event, complete with a film director to edit coverage, and the gangsters retaliate by uploading contradictory web camera and mobile phone images to the internet.

w Chan Hing-kai, Yip Tin-shing, Milkyway Creative Team d Johnnie To ph Cheng Siu-keung m Chung Chi-wing, Ben Cheung pd Bruce Yu ed David Richardson

☆ Richie Ren (Yuen), Kelly Chen (Capt Rebecca Fong), Nick Cheung (Insp Cheung), Cheung Siu-fai (Eric Yeung), Hui Siu-hung (Hoi), Lam Suet (Yip)

'A film filled with terrifically choreographed action and very little on its mind.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times

The Breaking of Bumbo

GB 1970 90m colour
Associated British (Jeffrey Selznick)

A misfit of a Guards officer goes to pieces thanks to his own, and his fellow officers', shortcomings.

A misfiring comedy which, like its hero, falls flat on its face.

wd Andrew Sinclair novel Andrew Sinclair

☆ Richard Warwick, Joanna Lumley, Natasha Pyne, Jeremy Child, John Bird, Donald Pickering

† The film was never given a general release and was shown briefly in one London cinema, although it is occasionally seen on television.

'There's nothing more deadly than a gentle man pushed too far!'

The Breaking Point ★

US 1950 97m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)

A charterboat owner becomes involved with crooks but turns them in when they have killed his friend.

Adequate if slightly humdrum attempt by Warner to atone for what they had done to a Hemingway novel, the infidelity of To Have and Have Not and the unauthorized variation of Key Largo. (See also: The Gun Runners*) qqv.*

w Ranald MacDougall novel To Have and Have Not by Ernest Hemingway d Michael Curtiz ph Ted McCord m (uncredited) William Lava, Max Steiner

☆ John Garfield, Patricia Neal, Phyllis Thaxter, Juano Hernandez, Wallace Ford, Edmon Ryan, William Campbell

'All the character, color, and cynicism of Mr Hemingway's lean and hungry tale are wrapped up in this realistic picture.' – New York Times

'Innocence and fury don't mix – they explode!'

Breaking Point

Canada 1976 92m colour Panavision
TCF/Astral Belle Vue (Harold Greenberg, Harold Pariser)

An innocent witness against the Mafia takes off against them vigilante style when his partner is murdered and his own life threatened.

Comic strip thuggery with performances to match; plenty of excitement for toughies.

w Roger E. Swaybill, Stanley Mann d Bob Clark ph Marc Champion m David McLey

☆ Bo Svenson, Robert Culp, John Colicos, Belinda J. Montgomery, Stephen Young

Breaking the Ice

US 1938 80m bw
RKO/Sol Lesser

A Pennsylvania Dutch boy runs away to the city so that his mother can afford her own farm.

Slim star musical which had its pleasing moments.

w Mary McCall Jnr, Manuel Seff, Bernard Schubert d Edward F. Cline ph Jack MacKenzie m Victor Young

☆ Bobby Breen, Charles Ruggles, Dolores Costello, Robert Barrat, Dorothy Peterson, John King, Billy Gilbert, Margaret Hamilton

'Moderately engrossing, combination folk drama and musical.' – Variety

Victor Young

Breaking the Sound Barrier: see The Sound Barrier

'Love is a mighty power.'

Breaking the Waves ★★★★

Denmark/Sweden/France/Netherlands 1996 159m colour Super 35
Guild/Zentropa/Trust/Liberator/Argus/Northern Lights (Vibeke Windelöv, Peter Aalbaek Jensen)

In a remote part of Scotland, a young woman humiliates herself in the hope of saving the life of her husband, paralysed in an accident on an oil rig.

A remarkable and striking film, though in some ways a dislikeable one. It has a raw, emotional power rarely encountered on film, owing to its soulful and guileless central performance and the restlessly casual, close-up camerawork; but its theme, an apparent celebration of self-sacrifice through sexual degradation, is often unlovely and hard to take.

w Lars von Trier, Peter Asmussen d Lars von Trier ph Robby Müller m Joachim Holbek ad Karl Juliusson ed Anders Refn

☆ Emily Watson (Bess), Stellan Skarsgård (Jan), Katrin Cartlidge (Dodo), Jean-Marc Barr (Terry), Udo Kier (Man on the Trawler), Adrian Rawlins (Dr. Richardson), Jonathan Hackett (The Minister), Sandra Voe (Bess' Mother)

'An astonishing film, so well thought-out and passionately executed that it's only afterwards, if then, that audiences will wonder exactly what they have been persuaded to think and feel.' – Adam Mars-Jones, Independent

'Acted with a conviction you rarely find, it's one of those movies that affects you in such a profound way. Believe me, this one's a life-altering experience.' – Alan Jones, Film Review

† The film won the Grand Jury Prize at the Cannes Film Festival in 1996.

†† The Region 2 DVD release includes commentary by Lars von Trier and Anders Refn.

Emily Watson

Breaking Up

US 1996 90m colour
Warner/Regency (Robert Greenwald, George Moffly)

A married couple recount their on-and-off relationship.

A small-scale film in which two people bicker and make up without seeming of any interest to anyone else.

w Michael Cristofer d Robert Greenwald ph Mauro Fiore m Mark Mothersbaugh pd Terence Foster ed Suzanne Hines

☆ Russell Crowe, Salma Hayek, Abraham Alvarez

'An exercise in tedium that has you looking at your watch wondering why time is passing so slowly.' – George Perry, Sunday Times

'The sort of picture that can sap your will to live.' – Ryan Gilbey, Independent

Breakout: see Danger Within (1958)

'No Prison Is Strong Enough To Hold Bronson!'

Breakout

US 1975 96m colour Panavision
Columbia/Persky-Bright (Robert Chartoff, Irwin Winkler)

A professional rescuer gets an innocent man out of a Mexican jail.

Rough and ready adventure thriller which starts slowly and confusingly but later works up a fair head of steam.

w Howard B. Kreitsek, Frank Kowalski novel Ten Second Jailbreak by Howard B. Kreitsek, Frank Kowalski d Tom Gries ph Lucien Ballard m Jerry Goldsmith ad Alfred Sweeney ed Bud S. Isaacs

☆ Charles Bronson (Nick Colton), Robert Duvall (Jay Wagner), John Huston (Harris Wagner), Jill Ireland (Ann Wagner), Randy Quaid (Hawk Hawkins), Sheree North (Myrna)

Breakthrough

US 1950 91m bw
Warner (Bryan Foy)

Adventures of a US army unit in Normandy after D-Day.

Routine low-budgeter which improves after a slow start.

w Bernard Girard, Ted Sherdeman, Joseph I. Breen Jnr d Lewis Seiler ph Edwin DuPar m William Lava

☆ David Brian, John Agar, Frank Lovejoy, William Campbell, Paul Picerni, Greg McClure, Edward Norris, Matt Willis, Dick Wesson

Breakthrough: see Sergeant Steiner (1978)

'Pick a side.'

The Break-Up ③

US 2006 106m
UIP/Universal Pictures/ Mosaic Media Group/Wild West Picture Show Productions (Scott Stuber, Vince Vaughn)

A couple split but continue to live together, with disastrous consequences.

Sour reversal of the traditional romantic comedy that is more unpleasant than witty, despite its stars being a real-life couple at the time.

w Jeremy Garelick, Jay Lavender story Jeremy Garelick, Jay Lavender, Vince Vaughn d Peyton Reed ph Eric Edwards m Jon Brion pd Andrew Laws ad David Sandefur ed David Rosenbloom, Dan Lebental

☆ Vince Vaughn (Gary Grobowski), Jennifer Aniston (Brooke Meyers), Cole Hauser (Lupus Grobowski), Jon Favreau (Johnny O), Judy Davis (Marilyn Dean), Ann-Margret (Wendy Meyers)

'Like sitting through a dinner party where the host couple does nothing but bicker.' – Brian Lowry, Variety

The Breakup: see La Rupture

Breath of Scandal: see His Glorious Night (1929)

A Breath of Scandal

US 1960 98m Technicolor
Paramount/Titanus/Ponti-Girosi (Carlo Ponti, Marcello Girosi)

A spirited Ruritanian princess falls for an American industrialist.
Exceedingly flat-footed and boring international co-production of an old Molnar play; if anyone concerned had bright ideas, they don't show.
w Walter Bernstein play Olimpia by Ferenc Molnar d Michael Curtiz, Mario Russo ph Mario Montuori m Alessandro Cicognini
☆ Sophia Loren, Maurice Chevalier, John Gavin, Isabel Jeans, Angela Lansbury, Roberto Risso, Friedrich Ledebur, Tullio Carminati, Milly Vitale
† A remake of His Glorious Night (qv), filmed by MGM in 1929.

Breathless: see A Bout de Souffle (1959)

Breathless

US 1983 101m DeLuxe
Miko/Breathless Associates/Greenberg Brothers (Martin Erlichman)

A street-smart hustler steals a car in Las Vegas and heads for the coast.
Fashionable amalgam of sex and violence, borrowed from A Bout de Souffle (qv) but far too long after the event.
w L. M. Kit Carson, Jim McBride d Jim McBride ph Richard H. Kline m Jack Nitzsche pd Richard Sylbert
☆ Richard Gere, Valerie Kaprisky, William Tepper, John P. Ryan, Art Metrano
'Not much more than an ego trip for a bankable star.' – Daily Mail

'Vampires live amongst us.'

The Breed

US 2001 91m colour
Columbia TriStar/MPCA/Starz! (Jim Burke, Kelli Konop, Brad Krevoy, Adam Richman)

In a future world, a cop on the trail of a serial killer discovers that the government is attempting to integrate vampires into normal society.
Cheap horror that goes awry in attempting to use vampirism as a metaphor for racial persecution.
w Ruth C. Fletcher, Christos N. Gage d Michael Oblowitz ph Chris Squires m Steve Gurevitch, Roy Hay pd Trae King ed Emma E. Hickox sp make up fx: Sean Anderson, Ivan Poharnok; visual: Catalyst FX
☆ Adrian Paul (Aaron Gray), Bokeem Woodbine (Steve Grant), Bai Ling (Lucy Westenra), Peter Halasz (Cross), James Booth (Fleming), Ming Lo (Seward), Paul Collins (Calmet), Debbie Javor (Section Chief)

'Play Dead.'

The Breed ★ ②

USA/Germany/South Africa 2006 90m
Pathe/First Look International/Apollo Pro (Thomas Becker, David Lancaster, Marianne Maddalena, Karen Vundla, Jorg Westerkamp, David Wicht)

Friends partying on a desert island fight genetically altered rabid Alsatian dogs for survival.
Essentially a canine Night of the Living Dead, there's enough jumpy business in this cloned Cujo to separate it from the routine pack.
w Robert Conte, Peter Martin Wortmann d Nicholas Mastandrea ph Guilio Biccari m Tom Mesmer, Marcus Trumpp pd Johnny Breedt ed Nathan Easterling sp Anton Voster
☆ Michelle Rodriguez (Nicki), Oliver Hudson (John), Taryn Manning (Sara), Eric Lively (Matt), Hill Harper (Noah)
'In one scene, a blonde heroine squeals, "I don't want to be here anymore". Funny, neither did I.' – David Edwards – Daily Mirror

A Breed Apart

US 1984 101m colour Panavision
Hemdale/Sagittarius (John Daly, Derek Gibson)

A rich collector hires a mountaineer to rob the almost inaccessible nest of a rare bald eagle, guarded by a militant conservationist.
Ecological propaganda given the sugar coating of a sentimental love story with a little action thrown in.
w Paul Wheeler d Philippe Mora ph Geoffrey Stephenson m Maurice Gibb pd William Barclay ed Christopher Lebenzon ☆ Rutger Hauer, Powers Boothe, Kathleen Turner, Brion James, Donald Pleasence

'It's Time To Prey.'

Breeders

GB 1997 98m colour
Peakviewing/Apix/IoMFC (Elizabeth Matthews)

In Boston, a falling meteor brings with it an alien monster and a woman clad in tight black rubber.
Terrible low-grade movie, with dire script, cardboard characters and wooden acting; the monster is as unconvinving as the American setting, and the ludicrous narrative is the true horror.
wd Paul Matthews ph Peter Thornton m Ben Heneghan, Ian Lawson pd Edward Thomas ed Peter H. Matthews
☆ Todd Jensen (Ashley), Samantha Janus (Louise), Kadamba Simmons (Space Girl), Nigel Harrison (Horace), Oliver Tobias (Moore), Clifton Lloyd-Bryan (Alien), Melanie Walters (Roper), Myra (Katy Lawrence)

Breezy

US 1973 107m Technicolor
Universal/Malpaso (Robert Daley)

A divorced 50-year-old real estate agent is rejuvenated by an affair with a young girl hippy.
An abrasive veneer covers the most stereotyped of January/May love stories. Technically an attractive piece of work.
w Jo Heims d Clint Eastwood ph Frank Stanley m Michel Legrand
☆ William Holden, Kay Lenz, Roger C. Carmel, Marj Dusay, Joan Hotchkis

Brenda Starr

US 1992 87m CFI
New World/AM/PM (Myron A. Hyman)

An artist drawing a comic-strip becomes trapped within it, as reporter Brenda Starr goes to South America to find a mad scientist who has invented a cheap fuel that threatens the security of the world
Brightly coloured atttempt at cartoon-like action, let down by its limp script and limper performance from Shields.
w Noreen Stone, James David Buchanan, Jenny Wolkind comic strip Dale Messick d Robert Ellis Miller ph Freddie Francis m Johnny Mandel pd John J. Lloyd ed Mark Melnick cos Bob Mackie, Peggy Farrell
☆ Brooke Shields (Brenda Starr), Timothy Dalton (Basil St John), Tony Peck (Mike Randall), Diana Scarwid (Libby 'Lips' Lipscomb), Jeffrey Tambor (Vladimir), June Gable (Luba), Tom Aldredge (Fake Captain Borg), Matthew Cowles (Real Captain Borg), Nestor Serrano (José), Kathleen Wilhoite (Hank O'Hare), John Short (Pesky Miller), Charles Durning (Francis J. Livright), Eddie Albert (Police Chief Maloney), Henry Gibson (Professor von Kreutzer)
† The film was made in 1986.

Brewster McCloud

US 1970 105m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM/Adler-Phillips/Lion's Gate (Lou Adler)

A man hides out under the roof of the Houston Astrodrome, prepares to learn to fly with man-made wings, and refuses all offers of help; when he launches himself, he falls to his death.
Anarchic, allegorical fantasy, a delight no doubt for connoisseurs of way-out humour. Everyone else, forget it.
w Doran William Cannon d Robert Altman ph Lamar Boren, Jordan Cronenweth m Gene Page ☆ Bud Cort, Sally Kellerman, Michael Murphy, William Windom, Shelley Duvall, René Auberjonois, Stacy Keach, John Schuck, Margaret Hamilton
'Amorphous and rather silly ... the idea seems to be left over from a Victorian fable, but the style is like a Road Runner cartoon.' – New Yorker, 1974

Brewster's Millions ★

GB 1935 84m bw
British and Dominion (Herbert Wilcox)

If he can spend a million pounds within two months, a playboy will inherit many millions more.
Artless but lively version of a famous comedy which provided a good role for its star.
w Arthur Wimperis, Paul Gangelin, Douglas Furber, Clifford Grey, Donovan Pedelty, Wolfgang Wilhelm play George Barr McCutcheon, Winchell Smith novel George Barr McCutcheon
d Thornton Freeland ph Henry Harris, Barney McGill m Ray Noble ad L. P. Williams ed Merrill White ☆ Jack Buchanan, Lili Damita, Nancy O'Neil, Amy Veness, Sydney Fairbrother, Fred Emney, Sebastian Shaw
'As near 100% film entertainment as can be expected.' – Variety
† There had been silent versions in 1916 (with Edward Abeles) and 1921 (with Roscoe Arbuckle).

Brewster's Millions ★

US 1945 79m bw
Edward Small

A G.I. is given a month to spend a million dollars in order to inherit millions more.
Competent American remake of a familiar story.
w Sig Herzig, Charles Rogers d Allan Dwan ph Charles Lawton Jnr m Hugo Friedhofer
☆ Dennis O'Keefe, Eddie 'Rochester' Anderson, Helen Walker, Gail Patrick, Mischa Auer, June Havoc, Joe Sawyer, Nana Bryant, John Litel, Thurston Hall, Byron Foulger † Remade as Three on a Spree (GB 1961).
♫ Lou Forbes (music scoring)

Brewster's Millions

US 1985 97m Technicolor
Universal (Lawrence Gordon, Joel Silver)

A baseball player learns that in order to inherit 30 million dollars he must spend one million a day for 30 days.
Frantically noisy remake of an old chestnut.
w Herschel Weingrod, Timothy Harris d Walter Hill ph Ric Waite m Ry Cooder pd John Vallone ed Freeman Davis, Michael Ripps
☆ Richard Pryor, John Candy, Lonette McKee, Stephen Collins, Jerry Orbach, Pat Hingle, Tovah Feldshuh

The Bribe ★

US 1949 98m bw
MGM (Pandro S. Berman)

A US agent tracks down a group of criminals in Central America.
Steamy melodrama with pretensions but only moderate entertainment value despite high gloss. The rogues' gallery, however, is impressive.
w Marguerite Roberts d Robert Z. Leonard ph Joseph Ruttenberg m Miklos Rozsa
☆ Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner, Charles Laughton, Vincent Price, John Hodiak

Brick ★★ ⑦

US 2005 117m colour
Optimum/Bergman/Lustig

A high school student investigates the murder of his former girlfriend.
Enjoyable recreation of the world of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler in a high school setting, where everyone speaks in Thirties slang and acts like Humphrey Bogart.
wd Rian Johnson ph Steve Yedlin m Nathan Johnson pd Jodie Tillen
☆ Joseph Gordon-Levitt (Brendan Frye), Nora Zehetner (Laura), Lukas Haas (The Pin), Noah Fleiss (Tugger), Matt O'Leary (The Brain), Noah Segan (Dode)
'Classy, winning piece of neo-noir, this is one movie you'd be mad to miss.' – David Edwards, Daily Mirror
'So seamy, sordid, lurid and shocking! And dull, despite a noirish gloss of wide-angle cinematography and a jaundiced, smoggy color scheme.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

The Bridal Path ★

GB 1959 95m Technicolor
Vale/British Lion (Sidney Gilliat, Frank Launder)

A stalwart Hebridean islander journeys to the mainland in search of a wife.
Mild, episodic, very pleasant open-air comedy set amid splendid locations.
w Frank Launder, Geoffrey Willans novel Nigel Tranter d Frank Launder ph Arthur Ibbetson m Cedric Thorpe Davie md Muir Mathieson ad Wilfred Shingleton ed Geoffrey Foot ☆ Bill Travers, Fiona Clyne, George Cole, Duncan Macrae, Gordon Jackson, Dilys Laye, Bernadette O'Farrell, Alex MacKenzie, Eddie Byrne, Patricia Bredin, Terry Scott, Gordon Jackson, Roddy McMillan

'A woman born of electricity ... a man driven by passion!'

The Bride

US 1985 118m Rank Colour
Columbia/Victor Drai

Frankenstein creates a bride for his monster, but she falls for him instead, and the monster goes off with a garrulous dwarf.

Insane romantic-feminist remake of The Bride of Frankenstein (qv), extremely dull and aimless after an arresting start.
w Lloyd Fonvielle d Franc Roddam ph Stephen H. Burum m Maurice Jarre pd Michael Seymour ed Michael Ellis
☆ Sting, Jennifer Beals, Clancy Brown, David Rappaport, Geraldine Page, Anthony Higgins, Quentin Crisp
'A misbegotten exercise.' – Sight and Sound

'Bollywood meets Hollywood... And it's a perfect match.'

Bride and Prejudice ★

GB 2004 110m colour 'Scope
Pathé/UKFC/Kintop/Bend It (Deepak Nayar, Gurinder Chadha)

In Amritsar, a social-climbing Indian woman seeks husbands for her four marriageable daughters.
After an hour, Gurinder Chadha's stuffing of Jane Austen into the straitjacket of a conventional Bollywood movie has delighted us long enough; there is too little wit and too much song and dance, though it has its moments.
w Paul Mayeda Berges, Gurinder Chadha inspired by Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen d Gurinder Chadha ph Santosh Sivan m Craig Pruess m/ly Anu Malik; Zoya Akhtar, Farhan Akhtar, Chaman Lal Chaman, Paul Mayeda Berges, Dev Kholi pd Nick Ellis ed Justin Krish ☆ Aishwarya Rai (Lalita Bakshi), Martin Henderson (Will Darcy), Anupam Kher (Mr Bakshi), Nadira Babbar (Mrs Bakshi), Naveen Andrews (Raj), Namrata Shirodkar (Jaya Bakshi), Daniel Gillies (Johnny Wickham)
'Ultimately trite and banal rather than poised, and this comes from its chosen form. Are we watching a parody of a Bollywood musical, or a pastiche?' – Philip French, Observer

The Bride Came C.O.D. ★

US 1941 92m bw
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)

A charter pilot agrees to kidnap a temperamental heiress, but is stuck with her when they crashland in the desert.
Feeble comedy with a script totally unworthy of its stars. The mass of talent does however provide a smile or two towards the end.
w Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein d William Keighley ph Ernest Haller m Max Steiner
☆ Bette Davis, James Cagney, Harry Davenport, Stuart Erwin, Eugene Pallette, Jack Carson, George Tobias, William Frawley, Edward Brophy, Chick Chandler
'Neither the funniest comedy ever made, nor the shortest distance between two points, but for the most part a serviceable romp.' – Theodore Strauss
'Both of them mug good-naturedly, and it's pleasantly fast.' – New Yorker, 1977

The Bride Goes Wild

US 1948 98m bw
MGM (William H. Wright)

As his lady illustrator finds out, a writer of children's books is not quite the sober uncle she expected, especially when he has to pretend to adopt an unruly orphan.
Scatty comedy with farcical interludes, quite pleasantly played but lacking style.
w Albert Beich d Norman Taurog ph Ray June m Rudolf Kopp
☆ June Allyson, Van Johnson, Jackie 'Butch' Jenkins, Hume Cronyn, Richard Derr

The Bride Is Much Too Beautiful (dubbed)

France 1956 90m bw
Leo Lax/Production Générale/Pathé-Cinéma (Fred Surin)

original title: La Mariée Est Trop Belle
A village girl becomes a top magazine model and falls for her editor.
Routine film, made just before Bardot's stardom, which even she admitted to finding silly.
w Philippe Agostini, Juliette Saint-Giniez novel Odette Joyeux d Pierre Gaspard-Huit ph Louis Page m Norbert Glanzberg pd Pierre Duquesne, Marc Frederix, Jean d'Eaubonne ed Louisette Hautcoeur
☆ Louis Jourdan, Brigitte Bardot, Micheline Presle, Marcel Amont, Marcelle Arnold, Roger Dumas, Jean-François Calvé

'The Honeymoon's Gonna Be A Killer.'

Bride of Chucky ★

US 1998 89m DeLuxe
Universal (David Kirschner, David Gilroy)

The girlfriend of a dead serial killer resurrects his spirit in the body of a doll; she then becomes a living doll herself.
Horror movie done with some panache, and a nod or two in the direction of The Bride of Frankenstein.
w Don Mancini d Ronny Yu ph Peter Pau m Graeme Revell pd Alicia Keywan ed David Wu, Randolph K. Bricker sp puppet fx: Kevin Yagher
☆ Jennifer Tilly (Tiffany), Katherine Heigl (Jade), Nick Stabile (Jesse), John Ritter (Chief Warren Kincaid), Alexis Arquette (Howard Fitzwater), Gordon Michael Woolvett (David), Lawrence Dane (Det Preston), Michael Johnson (Officer Norton), James Gallanders (Russ), Janet Kidder (Diane), Kathy Najimy (Motel maid), Brad Dourif (voice of Chucky)
'Emerges with recharged batteries and a mordantly funny edge that's attuned to the dawning millennium. A relatively straightforward genre piece, it has flair and a dash of wit.' – Leonard Klady, Variety † The film was a sequel to the Child's Play series (qv).

'The monster demands a mate!'

The Bride of Frankenstein ★★★★

US 1935 90m bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

Baron Frankenstein is blackmailed by Dr Praetorious into reviving his monster and building a mate for it.
Frankenstein was startlingly good in a primitive way; this sequel is the screen's sophisticated masterpiece of black comedy, with all the talents working deftly to one end. Every scene has its own delights, and they are woven together into a superb if wilful cinematic narrative which, of its gentle mocking kind, has never been surpassed.
w John L. Balderston, William Hurlbut d James Whale ph John Mescall m Franz Waxman ad Charles D. Hall ed Ted Kent
☆ Boris Karloff (The Monster), Colin Clive (Henry Frankenstein), Ernest Thesiger (Dr Septimus Praetorius), Valerie Hobson (Elizabeth Frankenstein), E. E. Clive (Burgomaster), Dwight Frye, O. P. Heggie (Hermit), Una O'Connor (Minnie), Elsa Lanchester (Mary Shelley and the monster's mate), Gavin Gordon (Byron), Douglas Walton
FRANKENSTEIN: 'I've been cursed for delving into the mysteries of life!'
'It is perhaps because Whale was by now master of the horror film that this production is the best of them all.' – John Baxter, 1968
'An extraordinary film, with sharp humour, macabre extravagance, and a narrative that proceeds at a fast, efficient pace.' – Gavin Lambert, 1948
'A great deal of art has gone into it, but it is the kind of art that gives the healthy feeling of men with their sleeves rolled up and working, worrying only about how to put the thing over in the best manner of the medium – no time for nonsense and attitudes and long hair.' – Otis Ferguson
† The regular release version runs 75m, having dropped part of the Mary Shelley prologue and a sequence in which the monster becomes unsympathetic by murdering the burgomaster
†† The title was originally to have been The Return of Frankenstein.
††† The Region 1 DVD is available as part of a five-disc set Frankenstein: The Legacy Collection that includes commentrary on the film by historian Scott MacQueen and a documentary on its making..
The Region 2 DVD is available as a two-disc set with Frankenstein.; it also includes the documentary and commentary by MacQueen.
sound recording (Gilbert Kurland)

Bride of the Gorilla

US 1951 65m bw
Jack Broder Productions

The manager of a rubber plantation is poisoned by a native woman and turns into a gorilla.
Incredibly inane two-bit shocker, a strong contender for any list of the worst films of all time.
wd Curt Siodmak
☆ Barbara Payton, Lon Chaney Jnr, Raymond Burr, Tom Conway, Paul Cavanagh

'The screen's master of the weird ... In his newest and most daring shocker!'

Bride of the Monster

US 1953 69m bw
Rolling M (Edward D. Wood)

Dr Vornoff has an atomic machine which will convert people into beings of superhuman strength; it is turned on himself, but a giant octopus, also with superoctopus strength, gets him.
A perfectly terrible movie, on a par with this director's other works.
w Edward D. Wood Jnr, Alex Gordon d Edward D. Wood Jnr
☆ Bela Lugosi, Tor Johnson, Tony McCoy, Loretta King, Harvey Dunne

Bride of the Re-Animator: see Re-Animator 2

Bride of Vengeance ★

US 1948 91m bw
Paramount (Richard Maibaum)

The story of the Borgias (whitewashing Lucretia) and the Duke of Ferrara.
Superb looking but appallingly acted and rather stodgily directed piece of historical melodrama. Totally studio-bound, but one of these days it could find a sympathetic audience.
w Cyril Hume, Michael Hogan d Mitchell Leisen ph Daniel L. Fapp m Hugo Friedhofer ad Hans Dreier, Roland Anderson, Albert Nozaki
☆ Paulette Goddard, John Lund, Macdonald Carey, Albert Dekker, Raymond Burr
'A dud ... it just couldn't be that bad by accident.' – Los Angeles Times

The Bride Walks Out

US 1936 81m bw
RKO (Edward Small)

A successful mannequin tries to manage on her engineer husband's lowly salary.
Thin, pleasant marital comedy with no surprises.
w P. J. Wolfson, Philip G. Epstein d Leigh Jason ph J. Roy Hunt m Roy Webb
☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Gene Raymond, Robert Young, Ned Sparks, Helen Broderick, Willie Best, Robert Warwick, Billy Gilbert, Hattie McDaniel, Irving Bacon

The Bride Wasn't Willing: see Frontier Gal

The Bride with White Hair

Hong Kong 1993 90m colour
Madarin (Michael Wong, Ronny Yu)

original title: Bai Fa Mo Nu Zhuan
A master swordsman falls in love with a beautiful woman from an enemy cult.
Moodily shot in tones of blue, a lushly kitsch melodrama of swooning romance and mystical kung-fu; it's a film in which the hero's backlit long hair is forever blowing in the wind, whatever the weather.
w Kei To Lam, David Wu, Ronny Yu d Ronny Yu ph Peter Pau ad Eddie Ma ed David Wu ☆ Brigitte Lin, Leslie Cheung, Francis Ng, Elaine Lui, Kit Ying Lam

The Bride With White Hair II

Hong Kong 1993 80m colour
Mandarin (Ronny Yu, Raymond Wong)

original title: Bai Fa Mo Nu Zhuan II
GB title: White-Haired Swordsmen II
A mad woman, leader of a cult of female killers, destroys opposing warriors while her husband waits to cure her condition.
More overwrought kung fu fantasy, consisting of swirling battles in which the doom-laden bride decimates the opposition by stabbing and strangling them with her long white hair.
wd David Wu, Ronny Yu ph Chan Gong Hung m Richard Yuen ad Lui Bill ed David Wu ☆ Brigitte Lin, Leslie Cheung, Christy Chung, Joey Meng, Sunny Chan

The Bride Wore Black ★

France/Italy 1968 107m Eastmancolor
UA/Films du Carrosse/Artistes Associés/Dino de Laurentiis (Marcel Bébert)

original title: La Mariée Était en Noir
A melancholy lady traces and kills the five men responsible for her fiancé's death.
Uncertain and not very entertaining attempt to turn a Hitchcock situation into a character study.
w François Truffaut, Jean-Louis Richard novel William Irish d François Truffaut ph Raoul Coutard m Bernard Herrmann ad Pierre Guffroy ed Claudine Bouché
☆ Jeanne Moreau, Jean-Claude Brialy, Michel Bouquet, Charles Denner, Claude Rich, Michel Lonsdale
'Truffaut has called the film a love story; others have taken it as a tribute to his master, a Hitchcockian thriller. In fact it is neither; it is a piece of junk.' – John Simon

The Bride Wore Boots

US 1946 86m bw
Paramount (Seton I. Miller)

A woman who loves horses is married to a man who does not.

Flimsy, silly, but mainly quite tolerable light comedy sustained by its stars.

w Dwight Mitchell Wiley d Irving Pichel ph Stuart Thompson m Frederick Hollander

☆ Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Cummings, Diana Lynn, Patric Knowles, Peggy Wood, Robert Benchley, Willie Best, Natalie Wood

The Bride Wore Red ★

US 1937 103m bw
MGM (Joseph L. Mankiewicz)

A whimsical count arranges for a chorus girl to spend two weeks at an aristocratic Tyrol resort, where she is pursued by two rich men.

Cinderella retold in fancy dress; a typically unreal but quite entertaining star confection of its day.

w Tess Slesinger, Bradbury Foote play The Girl from Trieste by Ferenc Molnar d Dorothy Arzner ph George Folsey m Franz Waxman

☆ Joan Crawford, Robert Young, Franchot Tone, Billie Burke, Reginald Owen, George Zucco, Lynne Carver, Mary Philips, Paul Porcasi

'Marquee values will have to bolster this one.' – Variety

'In the privacy of a girls' school he sought his prey – turning innocent beauty into a thing of unspeakable horror!'

The Brides of Dracula ★★

GB 1960 85m Technicolor
U-I/Hammer/Hotspur (Anthony Hinds)

Baron Meinster, a disciple of Dracula, is locked up by his mother; but a servant lets him out and he goes on the rampage in a girls' school.

The best of the Hammer Draculas, with plenty of inventive action, some classy acting and a good sense of place and period.

w Jimmy Sangster, Peter Bryan, Edward Percy d Terence Fisher ph Jack Asher m Malcolm Williamson ed James Needs, Alfred Cox

☆ David Peel (Meinster), Peter Cushing, Freda Jackson, Martita Hunt, Yvonne Monlaur, Andrée Melly, Mona Washbourne, Henry Oscar, Miles Malleson

The Brides of Fu Manchu ★

GB 1966 94m Eastmancolor
Anglo Amalgamated

The yellow peril kidnaps twelve young women in order to blackmail their influential boyfriends.

Very adequate sequel to The Face of Fu Manchu (qv for details of series), after which Fu Manchu went rapidly downhill.

w Peter Welbeck (Harry Alan Towers) d Don Sharp

☆ Christopher Lee, Douglas Wilmer, Howard Marion Crawford, Marie Versini, Tsai Chin, Rupert Davies

The Bridge ★

West Germany 1959 106m bw
Fono/Jochen Severin (Hermann Schwerin)

In 1945, only a handful of 16-year-old schoolboys is left to defend the bridge of a small German town.

Painful but memorable war vignette, almost an updating of All Quiet on the Western Front.

w Michael Mansfield, Karl-Wilhelm Vivier novel Manfred Gregor d Bernhard Wicki ph Gerd von Bonen m Hans-Martin Majewski

☆ Vokler Bohnet, Fritz Wepper, Michael Hinz, Frank Glaubrecht, Karl Michael Balzer, Gunther Hoffman

Ꙁ foreign film

The Bridge

GB 1991 99m Fujicolour
Moonlight/British Screen/Film Four (Lyn Goleby)

A young artist and a bored wife, who is on holiday with her young daughters, fall in love.

Genteel period drama, lacking in any dramatic impetus.

w Adrian Hodges d Sydney MacCartney ph David Tattersall m Richard G. Mitchell pd Terry Pritchard ed Michael Ellis

☆ Saskia Reeves, David O'Hara, Joss Ackland, Anthony Higgins, Rosemary Harris, Geraldine James

'Beautiful but inert ... firmly belongs to the Laura Ashley school of genteel British cinema.' – Variety

'Frozen with timidity. This British costume drama sits on the screen like little Miss Muffet, spinning the trite tale of a summer's dalliance.' – Geoff Brown, The Times

The Bridge ★ (7)

UK/US 2006 94m
ICA Films/Easy There Tiger (Eric Steel)

Experts and relatives of the deceased contemplate why so many choose to end their lives on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Admirably restrained documentary on the world's most popular suicide destination, albeit with footage of actual death leaps that some will find exploitative and unethical.

magazine article Jumpers by Tad Friend

d Eric Steel ph Peter Baldwin, Peter McCandless m Alex Heffes ed Sabine Krayenbuhl

☆ Kevin Hines, Patrick Hines, Rachel Marker, Tara Harrell, Carolyn Presley, Rich Waters

'It may be the first poetic snuff film.' – Owen Gleiberman, Entertainment Weekly

The Bridge at Remagen ★

US 1968 116m DeLuxe Panavision
UA/Wolper (David L. Wolper)

February 1945: Germans and Americans fight over a Rhine bridge.

Disenchanted, violent war film in which incessant bang-bang, adroitly staged, is all that matters.

w Richard Yates, William Roberts d John Guillermin ph Stanley Cortez m Elmer Bernstein

☆ George Segal, Robert Vaughn, Ben Gazzara, Bradford Dillman, E. G. Marshall, Peter Van Eyck

'Viable viewing if explosions and clichés are your shtick and exciting if you're not sure who won that war.' – Judith Crist

The Bridge of San Luis Rey ★

US 1944 85m bw
UA/Benedict Bogeaus

Five people die when a Peruvian rope bridge collapses; the film investigates why they were each on the bridge at the time.

An intriguing novel is turned into tedious film drama, with actors, director, scenarist and production designer all making heavy weather.

w Howard Estabrook novel Thornton Wilder d Rowland V. Lee ph John Boyle m Dimitri Tiomkin

☆ Lynn Bari, Francis Lederer, Nazimova, Louis Calhern, Akim Tamiroff, Blanche Yurka, Donald Woods

'As a remake for present-day audiences, up to their ears in war news, this picture will be a welcome divertissement.' – Variety

† A silent version, with a few minutes of hasty talk, was made in 1929 by Charles Brabin for MGM, from a script by Alice Duer Miller, Ruth Cummings and Marian Ainslee. The cast included Lili Damita, Ernest Torrence, Don Alvarado, Raquel Torres, and Henry B. Walthall.

Ꙁ Dimitri Tiomkin

'It spans a whole new world of entertainment!'

The Bridge on the River Kwai ★★★★

GB 1957 161m Technicolor
Cinemascope
Columbia/Sam Spiegel

British POWs in Burma are employed by the Japs to build a bridge; meanwhile British agents seek to destroy it.

Ironic adventure epic with many fine moments but too many centres of interest and an unforgivably confusing climax. It is distinguished by Guinness's portrait of the English CO who is heroic in his initial stand against the Japs but finally cannot bear to see his bridge blown up: and the physical detail of the production is beyond criticism.

w Carl Foreman, Michael Wilson novel Pierre Boulle d David Lean ph Jack Hildyard m Malcolm Arnold ed Peter Taylor

☆ Alec Guinness (Colonel Nicholson), William Holden (Shears), Jack Hawkins (Major Warden), Sessue Hayakawa (Colonel Saito), James Donald (Major Clipton), Geoffrey Horne (Lieut. Joyce), Andre Morell (Col. Green), Percy Herbert (Grogan)

'It may rank as the most rousing adventure film inspired by the last World War.' – Alton Cook, New York World Telegram

'Brilliant is the word, and no other, to describe the quality of skills that have gone into the making of this picture.' – Bosley Crowther, New York Times

† Cary Grant was originally sought for the William Holden role

†† Michael Wilson should also have been credited for the script, but he was blacklisted at the time.

††† A Region 1 and 2 limited edition two-disc set includes a documentary on the making of the film, and an appreciation and discussion by filmmaker John Milius.

♟ picture; adaptation (now credited to Carl Foreman, Michael Wilson and Pierre Boulle); David Lean; Jack Hildyard; Malcolm Arnold; Alec Guinness; editing

Ꙁ Sessue Hayakawa

♈ film; British film; Alec Guinness; Pierre Boulle

'Discover a place that will never leave you, and a friendship that will change you forever.'
'The beloved novel comes to life.'

Bridge to Terabithia ★ (8)

US 2007 95m
Icon/Walden Media/Walt Disney Pictures/ Hal Lieberman Company/Lauren Levine Productions (Lauren Levine, Hal Lieberman, David Paterson)

Two children invent a fantasy realm in the woods, only for tragedy to intervene.

Charming adaptation of a well-regarded children's novel, albeit one that over-literalises elements that had been left to the reader's imagination.

w David Paterson, Jeff Stockwell novel Katherine Paterson d Gabor Csupo ph Michael Chapman m Aaron Zigman pd Rob Gillies ad Jennifer Ward ed John Gilbert sp Matt Aitken

☆ Josh Hutcherson (Jesse Aarons), AnnaSophia Robb (Leslie Burke), Zooey Deschanel (Ms Edmonds), Robert Patrick (Jack Aarons), Bailee Madison (May Belle Aarons), Kate Butler (Nancy Aarons)

LESLIE: 'Just close your eyes and keep your mind wide open.'

'A thoughtful and extremely affecting story of a transformative friendship between two unusually gifted children.' – Jeannette Catsoulis, New York Times

Bridge to the Sun ★

France/US 1961 112m bw
MGM/Cité Films (Jacques Bar)

Just before Pearl Harbor, an American girl marries a Japanese diplomat and goes to live in Tokyo.

Romantic drama which oddly sides with the Japanese and shows America in a poor light. Interesting if not very compelling, with some unfamiliar views of Japan.

w Charles Kaufman autobiography Gwendolen Terasaki d Etienne Périer ph Marcel Weiss, Seiichi Kizuka, Bill Kelly m Georges Auric

☆ Carroll Baker, James Shigeta, James Yagi, Tetsuro Tamba

'In yet another burst of national flagellation, Hollywood turns on itself and unthinking Americans for being so beastly about the wartime Japanese.' – MFB

A Bridge Too Far ★★

US/GB 1977 175m Technicolor
Panavision
UA/Joseph E. Levine (John Palmer)

The story of the Allied defeat at Arnhem in 1944.

Like all large-scale military films, this one fails to make its tactics clear, and its sober intent conflicts with its roster of guest stars. For all that, there are impressive moments of acting and production.

w William Goldman book Cornelius Ryan d Richard Attenborough (and Sidney Hayers) ph Geoffrey Unsworth, Harry Waxman, Robin Browne m John Addison pd Terence Marsh

☆ Dirk Bogarde, James Caan, Michael Caine, Sean Connery, Edward Fox, Elliott Gould, Gene Hackman, Anthony Hopkins, Hardy Kruger, Laurence Olivier, Ryan O'Neal, Robert Redford, Maximilian Schell, Liv Ullmann, Arthur Hill and also Wolfgang Preiss

'A film too long.' – Anon

'So wearily, expensively predictable that by the end the viewer will in all likelihood be too enervated to notice Attenborough's prosaic moral epilogue.' – John Pym, MFB

† See also Men of Arnhem.

♈ Geoffrey Unsworth; Edward Fox; John Addison

The Bridges at Toko-Ri ★

US 1954 104m Technicolor
Paramount/Perlberg-Seaton

The comradeship and death of two jet pilots during the Korean War.

Ambitiously staged action thriller with points to make about war, death and politics: a well-worn American formula pitched very hard.
w Valentine Davies novel James A. Michener d Mark Robson ph Loyal Griggs m Lyn Murray ed Alma Macrorie ☆ William Holden, Mickey Rooney, Grace Kelly, Fredric March, Robert Strauss, Charles McGraw, Earl Holliman, Willis Bouchey
'A taut, thrilling, top flight documentary drama of men, war, ships and planes.' – Cue
editing

The Bridges of Madison County ★★

US 1995 135m Technicolor
Warner/Amblin/Malpaso (Clint Eastwood, Kathleen Kennedy)

An Italian-born farmer's wife in Iowa has a passionate four-day affair with a photographer.
Eastwood's restraint, both as actor and director, adds a little rigour to a swooningly sentimental best-seller, and Meryl Streep surprisingly finds some truth in her character; but for all their efforts, it is a thin thing.
w Richard LaGravenese d Clint Eastwood ph Jack N. Green m Lennie Niehaus pd Jeannine Oppewall ed Joel Cox
☆ Clint Eastwood, Meryl Streep, Annie Corley, Victor Slezak, Jim Haynie
'A handsomely crafted, beautifully acted adult love story.' – Variety
'Dull, dull, dull.' – Pauline Kael
† The film took more than $172m at the box-office worldwide.
Meryl Streep

'Same Bridget. Brand new diary.'

Bridget Jones: The Edge of Reason ★

GB/US 2004 104m Technicolor
Universal/StudioCanal/Miramax/Working Title/Little Bird (Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner, Jonathan Cavendish)

The course of true love between a TV presenter and a lawyer does not run smooth until just before the credits.
The mixture is much as before in this sequel, but unfortunately, it does not benefit from repetition; it's bright and cheerful, though.
w Andrew Davies, Helen Fielding, Richard Curtis, Adam Brooks novel Helen Fielding d Beeban Kidron ph Adrian Biddle m Harry Gregson-Williams, Stephen Barton md Nick Angel pd Gemma Jackson ed Greg Hayden ☆ Renee Zellweger (Bridget Jones), Hugh Grant (Daniel Cleaver), Colin Firth (Mark Darcy), Jim Broadbent (Dad), Gemma Jones (Mum), Jacinda Barrett (Rebecca), James Callis (Tom), Shirley Henderson (Jude)
'A triumph of performance, production, and adaptation over the empty-calorie dither of its source material.' – Lisa Schwarzbaum, Entertainment Weekly
'As saggy and well-worn as Bridget's big knickers.' – Caroline Westbrook, Empire

'For anyone who's ever been set up, stood up or felt up.'

Bridget Jones's Diary ★★

US 2001 92m Technicolor
Universal/StudioCanal/MiramaxWorking Title (Tim Bevan, Eric Fellner, Jonathan Cavendish)

An over-anxious, overweight single woman in her 30s looks for love in the wrong places.
Enjoyable romantic comedy, based on a best-selling column and book, though some clumsy directorial flourishes hamper the fun.
w Helen Fielding, Andrew Davies, Richard Curtis novel Helen Fielding d Sharon Maguire ph Stuart Dryburgh m Patrick Doyle pd Gemma Jackson ed Martin Walsh cos Rachael Fleming ☆ Renée Zellweger (Bridget Jones), Colin Firth (Mark Darcy), Hugh Grant (Daniel Cleaver), Gemma Jones (Bridget's Mum), Jim Broadbent (Bridget's Dad), Embeth Davidtz (Natasha), Shirley Henderson (Jude), Sally Phillips (Shazza), James Callis (Tom)
'Despite being edited down to a bare-bones 90-odd minutes, forcing the elimination of key characters and scenes and the underdevelopment of others, pic manages to feel, paradoxically, as dramatically flabby as the 10 pounds Bridget cannot seem to shed.' – Lael Loewenstein, Variety
'Not big, clever or remotely grown-up - but it is tremendous fun.' – Nina Caplan, London Evening Standard
Renée Zellweger

Brief Encounter ★★★★

GB 1945 86m bw
Eagle-Lion/Cineguild (Anthony Havelock-Allan, Ronald Neame)

A suburban housewife on her weekly shopping visits develops a love affair with a local doctor; but he gets a job abroad and they agree not to see each other again.
An outstanding example of good middle-class cinema turned by sheer professional craft into a masterpiece; even those bored by the theme must be riveted by the treatment, especially the use of a dismal railway station and its trains.
w Noël Coward, David Lean, Ronald Neame, Anthony Havelock-Allan play Still Life by Noël Coward d David Lean ph Robert Krasker m Rachmaninov md Muir Mathieson ad L. P. Williams ed Jack Harris
☆ Celia Johnson (Laura Jesson), Trevor Howard (Alec Harvey), Stanley Holloway (Albert Godby), Joyce Carey (Myrtle Bagot), Cyril Raymond (Fred Jesson)
'Both a pleasure to watch as a well-controlled piece of work, and deeply touching.' – James Agee
'Polished as is this film, its strength does not lie in movie technique, of which there is plenty, so much as in the tight realism of its detail.' – Richard Winnington
'A celebrated, craftsmanlike tearjerker, and incredibly neat. There's not a breath of air in it.' – Pauline Kael, 70s
† A TV film version was made in 1975 by ITC, starring Richard Burton and Sophia Loren and directed by Alan Bridges. It was an unqualified disaster.
†† A Region 1 DVD release includes commentary by historian Bruce Eder.
Anthony Havelock-Allan, Ronald Neame, David Lean (script); David Lean (director); Celia Johnson

A Brief History of Time ★★

GB/US 1992 84m Technicolor
(David Hickman)

A documentary on the theories of Stephen Hawking concerning the origins and likely fate of the universe.
A more accessible but less complex approach to Hawking's views than his bestselling, if seldom finished, book. It includes interviews with Hawking himself.
wd Errol Morris book Stephen Hawking ph John Bailey m Philip Glass pd Ted Bafaloukos ed Brad Fuller

Brigadoon ★

US 1954 108m Anscocolor Cinemascope
MGM (Arthur Freed)

Two Americans in Scotland find a ghost village which awakens only once every hundred years.
Likeable but disappointing adaptation of a Lost Horizon*ish Broadway musical, marred by artificial sets and jaded direction.*
w Alan Jay Lerner play Alan Jay Lerner d Vincente Minnelli ph Joseph Ruttenberg m/ly Frederick Loewe, Alan Jay Lerner md Johnny Green ad Cedric Gibbons, Preston Ames
☆ Gene Kelly, Cyd Charisse, Van Johnson, Jimmy Thompson, Elaine Stewart, Barry Jones, Eddie Quillan
'The whimsical dream world it creates holds no compelling attractions.' – Penelope Houston † Cyd Charisse's singing was dubbed by Carole Richards.
art direction

The Brigand ★

US 1952 93m Technicolor
Columbia

A Moroccan adventurer looks like the king and is reprieved from execution if he will impersonate the latter and root out his enemies.
Cheeky revamp of The Prisoner of Zenda (qv), quite acceptably done.
w Jesse Lasky Jnr d Phil Karlson ph W. Howard Greene m Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco
☆ Anthony Dexter, Jody Lawrance, Gale Robbins, Anthony Quinn, Carl Benton Reid, Ron Randell

Brigham Young ★

US 1940 112m bw
TCF (Kenneth MacGowan)

The story of the Mormon trek to Utah.
Ambitious but rather dull interpretation of history, seen as a Western with romantic fictional trimmings.
w Lamar Trotti story Louis Bromfield d Henry Hathaway ph Arthur Miller m Alfred Newman
☆ Dean Jagger, Tyrone Power, Linda Darnell, Brian Donlevy, Jane Darwell, John Carradine, Mary Astor, Vincent Price, Moroni Olsen
'A big picture in every respect.' – Variety
'One of the year's outstanding films.' – Newsweek
† The production had a 133-day schedule, and cost 2,700,000 dollars.

Bright Eyes ★

US 1934 84m bw
Fox (Sol M. Wurtzell)

An orphan finds herself torn between foster-parents.
The first of Shirley Temple's genuine star vehicles has a liveliness and cheerfulness hard to find today. As a production, however, it is decidedly economical.
w William Conselman d David Butler ph Arthur Miller m Samuel Kaylin ☆ Shirley Temple, James Dunn, Lois Wilson, Jane Withers, Judith Allen
'It seems a cinch to please generally, the family and sentimental strata particularly.' – Variety

Bright Leaf

US 1950 110m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

A 19th-century tobacco farmer builds a cigarette empire.
Quite agreeable but disjointed fictional biopic, more about love than tobacco.
w Ranald MacDougall novel Robert Wilder d Michael Curtiz ph Karl Freund m Victor Young ☆ Gary Cooper, Lauren Bacall, Patricia Neal, Jack Carson, Donald Crisp, Gladys George, Elizabeth Patterson, Jeff Corey, Taylor Holmes

Bright Lights ★

US 1935 86m bw
Warner
GB title: Funny Face

A vaudevillian lets success go to his head.
The plot served for a score or more of thirties musicals, but this had Busby Berkeley routines and an unusual star role for Joe E. Brown.
w Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby d Busby Berkeley
☆ Joe E. Brown, Ann Dvorak, Patricia Ellis, William Gargan
'Practically an 86-minute monologue, with the star doing everything but taking tickets.' – Variety
† The same title covered a 1925 MGM silent with Charles Ray as a country boy in love with a Broadway star, also a 1930 Warner film with Frank Fay.

Bright Lights, Big City

US 1988 107m colour
UIP/United Artists (Mark Rosenberg, Sydney Pollack)

A cocaine-snorting magazine researcher goes to pieces in New York.
Some good performances compensate for the unsympathetic central character of a lightweight drama.
w Jay McInerney novel Jay McInerney d James Bridges ph Gordon Willis m Donald Fagen pd Santo Loquasto ed John Bloom
☆ Michael J. Fox, Kiefer Sutherland, Phoebe Cates, Frances Sternhagen, Dianne Wiest, Swoosie Kurtz, John Houseman, Jason Robards, Tracy Pollan
'The banality comes down on you like drizzle.' – Pauline Kael, New Yorker

Bright Road ★

US 1953 69m bw
MGM (Sol Baer Fielding)

In an all-black school, a problem child finds himself when he helps to rid the school of a swarm of bees.
Slight but attractive second feature, unostentatiously set in a black community.
w Emmet Lavery d Gerald Mayer ph Alfred Gilks m David Rose ☆ Dorothy Dandridge, Harry Belafonte, Robert Horton, Philip Hepburn, Barbara Ann Sanders

Bright Victory ★

US 1951 97m bw
Universal (Robert Buckner)
GB title: Lights Out

A blinded soldier adjusts to civilian life.
Well-meaning if rather slow and sticky, this drama is more sentimental than realistic but has good performances.
w Robert Buckner novel Baynard Kendrick d Mark Robson ph William Daniels m Frank Skinner ☆ Arthur Kennedy, Peggy Dow, Julie Adams, James Edwards, Will Geer, Minor Watson, Jim Backus
Arthur Kennedy

'Sex... Scandal... Celebrity... Some Things Never Change.'

Bright Young Things ★

GB 2003 106m Technicolor Panavision
Icon/Film Consortium/UKFC/Visionview/Revolution Films/Doubting Hall (Gina Carter, Miranda Davis)

In England during the mid 1930s, a young writer experiencing problems with money and love observes the hectic social life of the upper class young.

Gaudy, shallow comedy that never catches the tone of the original and is too concerned with suggesting its relevance to our current celebrity-obsessed culture.

wd Stephen Fry novel Vile Bodies by Evelyn Waugh ph Henry Braham m Anne Dudley pd Michael Howells ed Alex Mackie

☆ Emily Mortimer (Nina Blount), Stephen Campbell Moore (Adam Fenwick-Symes), James McAvoy (Simon Balcairn), Michael Sheen (Miles), David Tennant (Ginger Littlejohn), Fenella Woolgar (Agatha Runcible), Dan Aykroyd (Lord Monomark), Jim Broadbent (The Drunk Major), Simon Callow (King of Anatolia), Jim Carter (Chief Customs Officer), Stockard Channing (Mrs Melrose Ape), Richard E. Grant (Fr Rothschild), Julia McKenzie (Lottie Crump), Peter O'Toole (Colonel Blount)

'Oh, what a ghastly bore.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times

† The DVD includes commentary by Stephen Fry.

A Brighter Summer Day ★★★

Taiwan 1991 237m colour
ICA/Yang and His Gang (Yu Welyan) original title: Guling Jie Shaonian Sha Ren Shijan

In the early 1960s, a 14-year-old boy falls in love with the girlfriend of a young gang leader.

A long but engrossing film, set against troubled times and the fear of Communist China, which provides a detailed examination of the society of the time.

w Edward Yang, Yan Hongya, Yang Shunqing, Lai Mingtang d Edward Yang ph Zhang Hulgong, Li Longyu pd Yu Welyan, Edward Yang ed Chen Bowen

☆ Lisa Yang (Ming), Zhang Zhen, Zhang Guozhu (Father), Elaine Jin (Mother), Wang Juan (Older Sister), Zhang Han (Older Brother)

'One of the major feats of non-American cinema of its time ... Gathers an extraordinary momentum, showing that you really can delineate the lives of ordinary people in an extraordinary way without either flashiness or pretension.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

† The film also exists in a version that is 50m shorter. The longer version is the director's preferred cut.

Brightness: see Yeelen

Brighton Beach Memoirs ★

US 1986 108m colour
Universal/Rastar (David Chasman)

In 1937 Brooklyn, a lower-middle-class Jewish family has assorted crises.

Standard picturization of a Neil Simon play, somewhat flattened out in the process but with funny moments.

w Neil Simon play Neil Simon d Gene Saks ph John Bailey m Michael Small

☆ Blythe Danner, Bob Dishy, Brian Drillinger, Stacey Glick, Judith Ivey, Lisa Waltz

'Simon instinctively makes things easy and palatable, and there's a penalty: it's the retrograde, pepless snooziness of the picture. You come out feeling half dead.' – New Yorker

Brighton Rock ★★★★

GB 1947 92m bw
Associated British/Charter Films (Roy Boulting)

US title: Young Scarface

The teenage leader of a racetrack gang uses a waitress as alibi to cover a murder, and marries her. He later decides to be rid of her, but fate takes a hand in his murder plot.

A properly 'seedy' version of Graham Greene's 'entertainment', very flashily done for the most part but with a trick ending which allows the heroine to keep her illusions.

w Graham Greene, Terence Rattigan novel Graham Greene d John Boulting ph Harry Waxman m Hans May ad John Howell ed Peter Scott

☆ Richard Attenborough (Pinkie Brown), Hermione Baddeley (Ida Arnold), Harcourt Williams (Prewitt), William Hartnell (Dallow), Alan Wheatley (Fred Hale), Carol Marsh (Rose Brown), Nigel Stock (Cubitt)

'The film is slower, much less compelling, and, if you get me, less cinematic than the book, as a child's guide to which I hereby offer it.' – Richard Winnington

'It proceeds with the efficiency, the precision and the anxiety to please of a circular saw.' – Dilys Powell

'False, cheap, nasty sensationalism... in my view, no woman will want to see it. No parents will want their children to see it.' – Reg Whitley, Daily Mirror

The Brighton Strangler

US 1945 67m bw
RKO (Herman Schlom)

An actor takes over in real life the part he is playing – of a murderer.

This hoary plot had seen better days even in 1945, and was not helped by an establishing shot which put Parliament on the wrong side of the Thames.

w Arnold Phillips, Max Nosseck d Max Nosseck ph J. Roy Hunt m Leigh Harline

☆ John Loder, June Duprez, Miles Mander

Brimstone

US 1949 90m Trucolor
Republic

A US Marshal tracks down Public Outlaw Number One.

High-spirited Western co-feature.

w Thames Williamson d Joseph Kane

☆ Rod Cameron, Walter Brennan, Adrian Booth, Forrest Tucker, Jack Holt, Jim Davis, James Brown, Guinn Williams

Brimstone and Treacle ★

GB 1982 87m Technicolor
Namara/Alan E. Salke/Herbert Solow

A strange young man has a sinister effect on the family of a middle-aged writer of doggerel, whose crippled daughter he finally rapes.

Similar in mood to Pennies from Heaven (qv), this is basically a television play very typical of its author. (Some years ago it was taped and then banned by the BBC.) In substance no more than a reversal of The Passing of the Third Floor Back (qv), its points of interest are mainly technical.

w Dennis Potter play Dennis Potter d Richard Loncraine ph Peter Hannan m Sting pd Milly Burns

☆ Sting, Denholm Elliott, Joan Plowright, Suzanna Hamilton, Benjamin Whitrow, Dudley Sutton

'Battle Terror And Comedy Of Savage Nature... And Every Inch Taken In The Wild Malayan Jungle With Natural Sound.'

Bring 'Em Back Alive

US 1932 65m bw
RKO/Van Beuren

A documentary showing how an animal hunter scoured Malayan jungles for specimens to stock the world's zoos.

Very dated now, but quite an attraction in its day. The title was used again in 1982 for a TV series in which Bruce Boxleitner played Buck; the emphasis now, however, was on serial-like intrigue.

d Clyde Elliott

☆ Frank Buck

'Will get money but needs alert exploitation.' – Variety

'May the best moves win.'

Bring It On

US 2000 98m colour
Universal/Beacon (Marc Abraham, Thomas A. Bliss, John Ketcham)

A new girl who joins a prize-winning squad of cheerleaders helps them to recover their self-respect in time for the national championships.

Pleasant teen comedy that fortunately doesn't take its subject-matter too seriously.

w Jessica Bendinger d Peyton Reed ph Shawn Maurer m Christophe Beck pd Sharon Lomofsky ed Larry Bock cos Mary Jane Fort ch Anne Fletcher

☆ Kirsten Dunst (Torrance Shipman), Eliza Dushku (Missy Pantone), Jesse Bradford (Cliff Pantone), Gabrielle Union (Isis), Clare Kramer (Courtney), Nicole Bilderback (Whitney), Tsianina Joelson (Darcy), Rini Bell (Kasey), Ian Roberts (Sparky Polastri), Richard Hillman (Aaron), Lindsay Sloane (Big Red), Cody McMains (Justin Shipman)

'As pure a bubble gum movie as can be imagined in this cynical age.' – Robert Koehler, Variety

'It's got guts!'

Bring Me the Head of Alfredo Garcia

US 1974 112m DeLuxe
UA/Optimus/Churubusco (Martin Baum)

A wealthy Mexican offers a million dollars for the head of a man who seduced his daughter, and claimants find that grave robbing is involved.

Gruesome, sickly action melodrama with revolting detail; the nadir of a director obsessed by violence.

w Gordon Dawson, Sam Peckinpah d Sam Peckinpah ph Alex Phillips Jnr m Jerry Fielding

☆ Warren Oates, Gig Young, Isela Vega, Robert Webber, Helmut Dantine, Emilio Fernandez, Kris Kristofferson

'Few movies are as tedious. Bring me the head of the studio that released this one.' – Gene Shalit

'The only kind of analysis it really invites is psychoanalysis.' – Wall Street Journal

'Peckinpah clearly doesn't lack talent – what he lacks is brains.' – John Simon

Bring Me the Head of Mavis Davis

GB 1997 99m Technicolor
Feature/Goldcrest/BBC/Mission (Stephen Colegrave, Joanne Reay)

A record producer hires a hitman when he suddenly realizes that his star singer would be worth more to him dead than alive.

Some slick performances fail to save this would-be black comedy from being unpleasant and unamusing.

w Craig Strachan idea Joanne Reay d John Henderson ph Clive Tickner m Christopher Tyng pd Michael Carlin ed Paul Endacott

☆ Rik Mayall, Jane Horrocks, Danny Aiello, Ronald Pickup, Philip Martin-Brown, Jaclyn Mendoza, Ross Boatman, Paul Shearer

'A TV-style effort decapitated by a lame script and often clumsy direction.' – Derek Elley, Variety

'Everything he needed to know about life, she learned in prison.'

Bringing Down the House

US 2003 105m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Hyde Park (David Hoberman, Ashok Amritraj)

A white lawyer becomes unexpectedly involved with a black working-class woman and convicted bank robber.

Cosy, manipulative domestic comedy that wastes the more acerbic qualities of its two stars.

w Jason Filardi d Adam Shankman ph Julio Macat m Lalo Schifrin pd Linda DeScenna ed Jerry Greenberg

☆ Steve Martin (Peter Sanderson), Queen Latifah (Charlene Morton), Eugene Levy (Howie Rottman), Joan Plowright (Mrs Arness), Jean Smart (Kate), Missi Pyle (Ashley), Kimberly J. Brown (Sarah Sanderson)

'The contrived script and bland direction prevent the film from ever developing a comic life of its own,' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Bringing Out the Dead ★★★

US 1999 120m DeLuxe Panavision
Buena Vista/Paramount/Touchstone (Scott Rudin, Barbara De Fina)

In New York City, an overworked ambulance driver careers towards a breakdown over the unremitting horrors of his night shift.

Scorsese revisits familiar territory for him and his audience: hellish streets inhabited by low-life predators and victims; but his perspective has shifted from his customary petty gangsters and psychopaths to the good guys, however unbalanced they may seem. Despair is here tempered with humanity.

w Paul Schrader novel Joe Connelly d Martin Scorsese ph Robert Richardson m Elmer Bernstein pd Dante Ferretti ad Robert Guerra ed Thelma Schoonmaker sp Industrial Light & Magic

☆ Nicolas Cage (Frank Pierce), Patricia Arquette (Mary Burke), John Goodman (Larry), Ving Rhames (Marcus), Tom Sizemore (Tom Wolls), Marc Anthony (Noel), Mary Beth Hurt (Nurse Constance), Cliff Curtis (Cy Coates), Nestor Serrano (Dr Hazmat), Aida Turturro (Nurse Crupp)

'An intense, volatile movie full of sorrow and wild, mordant humor.' – Janet Maslin, New York Times

'This is a work of bad imitation from an immature talent who thinks he's Martin Scorsese.' – Cosmo Landesman, Sunday Times

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Bringing Up Baby ★★★★

US 1938 102m bw
RKO (Howard Hawks)

A zany girl causes a zoology professor to lose a dinosaur bone and a pet leopard in the same evening.
Outstanding screwball comedy which barely pauses for romance and ends up with the whole splendid cast in jail.
w Dudley Nichols, Hagar Wilde d Howard Hawks ph Russell Metty m Roy Webb ad Perry Ferguson, Van Nest Polglase ed George Hively
☆ Katharine Hepburn (Susan Vance), Cary Grant (David Huxley), May Robson (Aunt Elizabeth), Charles Ruggles (Maj. Horace Applegate), Walter Catlett (Constable Slocum), Fritz Feld (Dr. Fritz Lehman), Jonathan Hale, Barry Fitzgerald (Mr. Gogarty)
'Harum-scarum farce comedy ... definite box-office.' – Variety
'I am happy to report that it is funny from the word go, that it has no other meaning to recommend it ... and that I wouldn't swap it for practically any three things of the current season.' – Otis Ferguson
'It may be the American movies' closest equivalent to Restoration comedy.' – Pauline Kael
'Crazy comedies continue to become crazier, and there will soon be few actors and actresses left who have no straw in their hair.' – Basil Wright
† The dog George was played by Asta from The Thin Man movies.

Bringing Up Father

US 1928 70m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

Mild domestic comedy about a henpecked husband, from the famous comic strip.
It marked the successful comeback of Marie Dressler (as the maid).
w Frances Marion d Jack Conway
☆ J. Farrell MacDonald, Marie Dressler, Polly Moran, Gertrude Olmsted, Grant Withers
† Two or three second features about Jiggs and Maggie, featuring Renie Riano and Joe Yule, appeared in the late forties.

Brink of Hell: see Toward the Unknown

Brink of Life: see So Close to Life

The Brinks Job

US 1978 103m Technicolor
Universal/Dino de Laurentiis (Ralph Serpe)

In 1944, amateur criminals bring off a raid on the vaults of a Boston security company.
Farcical variation of a much-told true tale. Despite much mugging by the stars and a frantic narrative style, it does not come off.
w Walon Green book Big Stick-Up at Brinks by Noel Behn d William Friedkin ph Norman Leigh m Richard Rodney Bennett pd Dean Tavoularis
☆ Peter Falk, Warren Oates, Peter Boyle, Allen Goorwitz, Gena Rowlands, Paul Sorvino, Sheldon Leonard

Britannia Hospital

GB 1982 116m colour
EMI/Film and General/NFFC (Davina Belling, Clive Parsons)

Problems besetting a British hospital celebrating its 500th anniversary include strikes, demonstrators, and a mad doctor who transplants heads.
Looking as crummy as a Carry On at the end of its tether, this intended lampoon of the state of the nation never warms up and can only fire off stale jokes in all directions while repelling the eye with its Frankenstein scenes.
w David Sherwin d Lindsay Anderson ph Mike Fash m Alan Price pd Norris Spencer ☆ Malcolm McDowell, Leonard Rossiter, Graham Crowden, Fulton Mackay, Vivian Pickles, Joan Plowright, Peter Jeffrey, Robin Askwith, Dandy Nichols, Valentine Dyall, Roland Culver, Alan Bates, Arthur Lowe, Marsha Hunt
'It has all the intensity, along with the flailing incoherence, of a soapbox jeremiah.' – Richard Combs, MFB
'Having once created a general shambles, the film is at a loss to clean it up.' – Margaret Hinxman, Daily Mail
'Inexplicably muddled and inconclusive.' – Guardian
'It mentholates the tubes and oxygenates the brain.' – Sunday Telegraph

Britannia Mews

GB 1948 91m bw
TCF (William Perlberg)
US title: The Forbidden Street

In Victorian times, the widow of a puppetmaster eventually marries his lookalike who rebuilds their puppet theatre.
Curious and uncertain comedy drama set among yesterday's high society, with poorly played leads but an interesting supporting cast and technical assurance.
w Ring Lardner Jnr novel Margery Sharp d Jean Negulesco ph Georges Périnal m Malcolm Arnold ad Andrei Andreiev ☆ Dana Andrews, Maureen O'Hara, Sybil Thorndike, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Fay Compton, A. E. Matthews

British Agent ★

US 1934 75m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

In 1910 Russia, a Britisher falls in love with a lady spy.
Sluggish and dated romantic melodrama, notable only for Howard's performance and some directional felicities.
w Laird Doyle novel H. Bruce Lockhart d Michael Curtiz ph Ernest Haller ad Anton Grot
☆ Leslie Howard, Kay Francis, William Gargan, Irving Pichel, Philip Reed, Walter Byron, J. Carrol Naish, Halliwell Hobbes
'One of those rare cases of a film both artistically and cinematically good entertainment ... an exciting story well told, excellent acting, draw names and production value.' – Variety

British Intelligence

US 1940 63m bw
Warner (Bryan Foy)

GB title: Enemy Agent

During World War I a German lady spy becomes a guest in the house of a British war official, the butler of which is the leader of a German spy ring.
Second feature remake of Three Faces East (qv); still quite an entertaining melodrama.
w Lee Katz play Anthony Paul Kelly d Terry Morse ph Sid Hickox m Heinz Roemheld ☆ Boris Karloff, Margaret Lindsay, Maris Wrixon, Bruce Lester, Leonard Mudie, Holmes Herbert

Broadcast News ★

US 1987 31m DeLuxe
UKFD/Fox/Gracie Films (James L. Brooks)

An ambitious TV news reader with personality but little talent gets to the top.
Mildly satirical look at the world of television journalism that slips into romantic comedy.
wd James L. Brooks ph Michael Ballhaus m Bill Conti pd Charles Rosen ed Richard Marks
☆ William Hurt, Albert Brooks, Holly Hunter, Robert Prosky, Lois Chiles, Joan Cusack, Jack Nicholson (uncredited cameo)
Ⓐ best picture; William Hurt; Holly Hunter; Albert Brooks; best original screenplay; best cinematography; best film editing

Broadminded ★

US 1931 65m bw
First National

A bashful swain leaves town after a misunderstanding and becomes involved in an intercontinental chase.
Modest star farce with some hilarious moments.
w Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby d Mervyn Le Roy ☆ Joe E. Brown, Ona Munson, William Collier Jnr, Marjorie White, Holmes Herbert, Bela Lugosi
'Best he has ever done ... any audience will enjoy it.' – Variety

Broadway

US 1942 90m bw
Universal (Bruce Manning)

George Raft recalls his days as a hoofer in a New York speakeasy, and in particular a murder involving gangsters and chorus girls.
Minor crime melodrama which after interminable scene-setting paints an effective picture of the twenties but has too slack a grip on narrative.
w Felix Jackson, John Bright play Philip Dunning, George Abbott d William A. Seiter ph George Barnes md Charles Previn ed Ted J. Kent ☆ George Raft, Pat O'Brien, S. Z. Sakall, Janet Blair, Broderick Crawford, Marjorie Rambeau

Broadway Bill ★★

US 1934 104m bw
Columbia (Frank Capra)

GB title: Strictly Confidential

A cheerful horse trainer finds he has a winner.
Easygoing romantic comedy with the energetic Capra style in fairly full bloom.
w Robert Riskin story Mark Hellinger d Frank Capra ph Joseph Walker ☆ Warner Baxter, Myrna Loy, Walter Connolly, Helen Vinson, Douglass Dumbrille, Raymond Walburn, Lynne Overman, Clarence Muse, Margaret Hamilton, Paul Harvey, Claude Gillingwater, Charles Lane, Ward Bond
'The effect of capable direction is discernible in every foot.' – Variety
'It will be a long day before we see so little made into so much: it is gay and charming and will make you happy, and I am sorry to say I do not know recommendations much higher.' – Otis Ferguson † Remade as Riding High (qv).

Broadway Bound ★

US 1991 94m colour
Blue Dolphin/ABC Productions (Terry Nelson)

In the 40s, two brothers struggle to become writers and move away from home, where their father and mother quarrel and their grandfather grumbles.
An autobiographical slice of life, delivered with a gently effective humour.
w Neil Simon play Neil Simon d Paul Bogart ph Isidore Mankofsky m David Shire pd Ben Edwards ed Andy Zall ☆ Anne Bancroft, Hume Cronyn, Corey Parker, Jonathan Silverman, Jerry Orbach, Michele Lee 'Certain to delight those with a taste for the theatrical.' – Empire

Broadway Danny Rose ★

US 1984 84m DeLuxe
Orion (Robert Greenhut)

An artists' agent and former comic falls foul of the Mafia while promoting a client.
Generally appealing comedy-melodrama with rather less self-examination than has latterly been typical of its star.
wd Woody Allen ph Gordon Willis md Dick Hyman pd Mel Bourne ed Susan E. Morse ☆ Woody Allen, Mia Farrow, Nick Apollo Forte, Craig Vandenburgh, Herb Reynolds Ⓐ direction, original screenplay
Ⓑ original screenplay

Broadway Hostess

US 1935 69m bw
Warner

A small-town girl becomes a night-club singer.
Modest musical which failed to create a new star.
w George Bricker d Frank McDonald ch Bobby Connolly ☆ Wini Shaw, Genevieve Tobin, Lyle Talbot, Allen Jenkins, Phil Regan, Marie Wilson, Spring Byington 'Adequate for family audience consumption.' – Variety
Ⓐ Bobby Connolly

Broadway Limited ★

US 1941 75m bw
Hal Roach

GB title: The Baby Vanishes

On an express train, a Hollywood publicity stunt backfires.
Wild farce which is not very funny as a whole but has entertaining comic performances.
w Rian James d Gordon Douglas ph Henry Sharp m Charles Previn
☆ Victor McLaglen, Patsy Kelly, Leonid Kinskey, Marjorie Woodworth, Dennis O'Keefe, ZaSu Pitts, George E. Stone

'The pulsating drama of Broadway's bared heart speaks and sings with a voice to stir your soul!'
'The new wonder of the screen!'

The Broadway Melody ★

US 1929 110m bw (Technicolor scenes)
MGM (Lawrence Weingarten)

Chorus girls try to make it big on Broadway.
The screen's very first musical, exceedingly primitive by the standards of even a year later, but rather endearing and with a splendid score.
w James Gleason, Norman Houston, Edmund Goulding d Harry Beaumont ph John Arnold m/ly Nacio Herb Brown, Arthur Freed ad Cedric Gibbons
☆ Charles King, Anita Page, Bessie Love, Jed Prouty, Kenneth Thomson, Mary Doran, Eddie Kane
'A basic story with some sense to it, action, excellent direction, laughs, a tear, a couple of great performances and plenty of sex.' – Variety
† The plot resurfaced in Two Girls On Broadway (qv), made by MGM in 1940.

best picture
Harry Beaumont, Bessie Love

'You have waited seven years for this!'

Broadway Melody of 1936 ★★

US 1935 103m bw
MGM (John W. Considine Jnr)

A Broadway producer is at loggerheads with a columnist.
Fairly lively musical with lavish numbers.
w Jack McGowan, Sid Silvers, Harry Conn story Moss Hart d Roy del Ruth ph Charles Rosher m/ly Nacio Herb Brown, Arthur Freed md Alfred Newman ch Dave Gould ed Blanche Sewell
☆ Jack Benny, Robert Taylor, Una Merkel, Eleanor Powell, June Knight, Vilma and Buddy Ebsen, Nick Long Jnr
'Smash musical with strong dancing and comedy framework.' – Variety
♫ 'You Are My Lucky Star'; 'I've Gotta Feelin' You're Foolin"; 'Broadway Rhythm'; 'On a Sunday Afternoon'; 'Sing Before Breakfast'; 'All I Do Is Dream Of You' Dave Gould
best picture; Moss Hart

'So Big It Tops Them All. So New It's A Year Ahead!'

Broadway Melody of 1938 ★

US 1937 110m bw
MGM (Jack Cummings)

Backstage problems threaten the opening of a musical show.
Lavish but fairly forgettable musical with top talent.
w Jack McGowan, Sid Silvers d Roy del Ruth ph William Daniels m/ly Nacio Herb Brown, Arthur Freed md George Stoll ed Blanche Sewell
☆ Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Sophie Tucker, Judy Garland, Robert Taylor, Buddy Ebsen, Sid Silvers, Billy Gilbert, Raymond Walburn
'Explosion in the cash drawers ... will do smash business everywhere.' – Variety
♫ 'Some of These Days'; 'Your Broadway and My Broadway'; 'Yours and Mine'; 'I'm Feelin' Like a Million'; 'Dear Mr Gable'

Broadway Melody of 1940 ★

US 1939 102m bw
MGM (Jack Cummings)

A dance team gets to the top.
Splendidly produced but thinly plotted extravaganza with good numbers.
w Leon Gordon, George Oppenheimer story Jack McGowan, Dore Schary d Norman Taurog ph Oliver T. Marsh, Joseph Ruttenberg m/ly Cole Porter md Alfred Newman ad Cedric Gibbons ed Blanche Sewell
☆ Fred Astaire, Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Douglas Macphail, Florence Rice, Frank Morgan, Ian Hunter
♫ 'I Concentrate on You'; 'Begin the Beguine'; 'Between You and Me' Broadway Rhythm ★

US 1943 113m Technicolor
MGM (Jack Cummings)

A Broadway producer looks in the wrong places for talent for his new show.
Originally intended as Broadway Melody of 1944, this putting-on-a-show extravaganza had only the numbers to commend it.
w Dorothy Kingsley, Harry Clork operetta Very Warm for May by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein d Roy del Ruth ph Leonard Smith m/ly various md John Green
☆ George Murphy, Ginny Simms, Charles Winninger, Gloria de Haven, Lena Horne, Nancy Walker, Hazel Scott, Eddie Anderson, Ben Blue, Tommy Dorsey and his Orchestra
'It contains perhaps three minutes of good acrobatic dancing and lasts nearly two hours.' – James Agee

Broadway Serenade

US 1939 114m bw
MGM (Robert Z. Leonard)

GB title: Serenade
Career problems split the marriage of a songwriter and his singing wife.
Lavish but rather dull romantic drama with music.
w Charles Lederer, Lew Lipton, John T. Foote, Hans Kraly d Robert Z. Leonard ph Oliver T. Marsh md Herbert Stothart
☆ Jeanette Macdonald, Lew Ayres, Frank Morgan, Ian Hunter, Rita Johnson, Virginia Grey, William Gargan, Katherine Alexander
'With all its lavishness, it impresses as only mild box office material.' – Variety
♫ 'No Time to Argue'; 'Time Changes Everything but Love'; 'For Every Lonely Heart'; 'Broadway Serenade'; 'High Flyin"; 'One Look at You'

Broadway Singer: see Torch Singer

Broadway thru a Keyhole ★

US 1933 90m bw
UA/Twentieth Century (William Goetz, Raymond Griffith)

A tough New York gangster falls for a singer in his night-club.
Reputed acid observation of the New York scene distinguishes this low-budget gangster drama.
w Gene Towne, Graham Baker story Walter Winchell d Lowell Sherman ph Barney McGill m/ly Mack Gordon, Harry Revel ☆ Constance Cummings, Russ Columbo, Paul Kelly, Blossom Seeley, Gregory Ratoff, Texas Guinan, Hobart Cavanaugh, C. Henry Gordon
'Not a big picture, but good entertainment.' – Variety
† The film was based on Ruby Keeler's relationships with gangster Johnny Costello and Al Jolson.

Broadway to Hollywood

US 1933 90m bw
MGM
GB title: Ring Up the Curtain
A vaudeville family makes it in movies.
Cliché-strewn rags-to-riches saga with songs; good moments.
wd Willard Mack
☆ Frank Morgan, Alice Brady, Jackie Cooper, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Nelson Eddy, May Robson, Una Merkel, Mickey Rooney
'A saga of the theatre that will please.' – Variety
† Some material was salvaged from an abandoned MGM musical of 1929, The March of Time.

Brodeuses: see A Common Thread

'Love Is A Force Of Nature.'

Brokeback Mountain ★★★

US/Canada 2005 134m DeLuxe
Entertainment/Focus/River Road (Diana Ossana, James Schamus)

In the early 1960s, two young, hungry cowboys, who work as sheep herders, begin a passionate affair that lasts through their marriages and lives.
Moving, well-acted, tragic tale of repression and denial, played out against the freedom of the great outdoors and the couple's separate and cramped urban existence.
w Larry McMurtry, Diana Ossana short story Annie Proulx d Ang Lee ph Rodrigo Prieto m Gustavo Santaolalla pd Judy Becker ed Geraldine Peroni, Dylan Tichenor
☆ Heath Ledger (Ennis Del Mar), Jake Gyllenhaal (Jack Twist), Linda Cardellini (Cassie), Anna Faris (Lashawn Malone), Anne Hathaway (Lureen Newsome), Michelle Williams (Alma), Randy Quaid (Joe Aguirre), Graham Beckel (L.B. Newsome)
'Luminous, startling and sorrowful portrait of a love that truly can't be spoken of by its nearly wordless participants.' – Rick Moody
'A tragedy about the specifically gay phenomenon of the "closet" – about the disastrous emotional and moral consequences of erotic self-repression.' – Daniel Mendelsohn, New York Review of Books
'The most impressive and bleak portrait of postwar rural life in the American West I've ever seen.' – James Christopher, Times
Ang Lee; Larry McMurtry, Diana Ossana; Gustavo Santaolalla picture; Heath Ledger; Jake Gyllenhaal; Michelle Williams; Rodrigo Prieto picture; Ang Lee; Larry McMurtry, Diana Ossana; Jake Gyllenhaal

'For just a little while, it was all so perfect.'
'How far would you go to protect a friend?'

Brokedown Palace ★

US 1999 100m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Fox 2000 (Adam Fields)

Two teenage girls are jailed in Thailand after being tricked into carrying heroin through customs.
Mundane drama with nothing to lift it out of the ordinary.
w David Arata, Adam Fields d Jonathan Kaplan ph Newton Thomas Sigel m David Newman pd James Newport ed Curtiss Clayton ☆ Claire Danes (Alice Marano), Kate Beckinsale (Darlene Davis), Bill Pullman (Hank Greene), Jacqueline Kim (Yon Greene), Lou Diamond Phillips (Roy Knox), Daniel Lapaine (Nick Parks), Tom Amandes (Doug Davis), Aimee Graham (Beth Ann Gardener), John Doe (Bill Marano), Kay Tong Lim (Chief Detective Jagkrit)
'Utterly indistinguishable from the heap of Third World prison movies involving gullible Westerners.' – James Christoper, Times

Broken Arrow ★

US 1950 92m Technicolor
TCF (Julian Blaustein)

A US army scout brings about peace between white man and Apache.
Solemn Western which at the time was acclaimed for giving the Indian's point of view (something which had scarcely happened since silent days). As entertainment it was not exciting, but it set Jeff Chandler off on a career playing Cochise with variations, and a TV series of the same name surfaced in 1956.
w Albert Maltz novel Blood Brother by Elliott Arnold d Delmer Daves ph Ernest Palmer m Hugo Friedhofer md Alfred Newman
☆ James Stewart, Jeff Chandler, Debra Paget, Basil Ruysdael, Will Geer, Arthur Hunnicutt, Jay Silverheels
'It has probably done more to soften racial hostilities than most movies designed to instruct, indict and inspire.' – Pauline Kael
† Screenwriter Albert Maltz did not receive a credit when the film was released because he was blacklisted. Instead, the script was credited to Michael Blankfort.
Michael Blankfort; Ernest Palmer; Jeff Chandler

'Prepare To Go Ballistic!'

Broken Arrow

US 1996 86m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/WCG (Mark Gordon, Bill Badalato, Terence Chang)

A pilot chases a rival who has stolen a Stealth bomber containing live nuclear bombs.
An object lesson in how to make violence aesthetically interesting, but it is a pity the director cannot do the same with the plot or the characters; the narrative is implausible and the people little more than automatons equipped with a couple of vaguely human characteristics.
w Graham Yost d John Woo ph Peter Levy m Hans Zimmer pd Holger Gross ed John Wright, Steve Mirkovich, Joe Hutshing
☆ John Travolta, Christian Slater, Samantha Mathis, Delroy Lindo, Bob Gunton, Frank Whaley, Howie Long, Vondie Curtis-Hall, Jack Thompson
'Highly proficient and almost totally empty.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian
'For explosion nerds only.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times

Broken Blossoms ★★

US 1919 105m (16 fps) bw silent
UA/D. W. Griffith

In slummy Limehouse, a young Chinaman loves the daughter of a brute, who kills her; the Chinaman then kills him and commits suicide.
Victorian-style melodrama presented by Griffith with all the stops out; sometimes striking, but very dated even on its first appearance.
wd D. W. Griffith story Limehouse Nights (The Chink and the Child) by Thomas Burke ph G. W. Bitzer, Hendrik Sartov, Karl Brown
☆ Lillian Gish, Donald Crisp, Richard Barthelmess
'This is a Limehouse which neither Mr Burke nor anybody else who knows his East End of London will be able to recognize ... but Broken Blossoms is a genuine attempt to bring real tragedy onto the screen as opposed to machine-made drama, and for that Mr Griffith deserves the thanks of all who are convinced of the potentialities of the film.' – The Times
'I know of no other picture in which so much screen beauty is obtained ... attributable to the Whistlerian fogs and shadows, with that dock in Limehouse recurring like some pedal point.' – James Agate, 1928
† The film was made for $88,000, but Adolph Zukor regarded it as uncommercial and sold it to United Artists for $250,000. It went on to make a profit of $700,000. Leslie Henson appeared in a parody, Broken Bottles, in 1920.

Broken Blossoms ★

GB 1936 84m bw
Twickenham (Julius Hagen)

A Chinese man becomes involved in a tragic love affair.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

A remake originally intended to be directed by Griffith; quite stylish, and in some ways more interesting than its predecessor.
w Emlyn Williams d John Brahm ph Curt Courant ☆ Dolly Haas, Arthur Margetson, Emlyn Williams, Donald Calthrop, Ernest Sefton, Kathleen Harrison, Basil Radford
'There isn't much reason for this one.' – Variety

'The language of love, honour and betrayal.'

Broken English ★★ ④

New Zealand 1996 92m colour
First Independent/Communicado/Village Roadshow (Robin Scholes)

In New Zealand, a young Croatian woman, eager to escape her domineering father, falls in love with the Maori chef at the Chinese restaurant where she works.
Tough, compelling account of immigrant life, and of love, of fears of the future on the part of those locked in their past, of culture clashes and misunderstandings.
w Gregor Nicholas, Johanna Pigott, Jim Salter d Gregor Nicholas ph John Toon m Murray Grindlay, Murray McNabb pd Michael Kane ed David Coulson
☆ Rade Serbedzija, Aleksandra Vujcic, Julian Arahanga, Marton Csokas, Madeline McNamara, Zhoa Jing, Yang Li, Temuera Morrison
'Well-intentioned but overly harrowing viewing which will leave its audience craving a shot of escapism.' – Rob Driscoll, Empire

'Sometimes life brings some strange surprises.'

Broken Flowers ★★ ⑦

US 2005 107m DeLuxe
Focus/Five Roses (Jon Kilik, Stacey Smith)

Told he has a son, a middle-aged man visits his former girlfriends to find out more.
Deadpan comedy of middle-aged ennui and a longing for connection.
wd Jim Jarmusch idea Bill Raden, Sara Driver ph Frederick Elmes m Mulatu Astatke pd Mark Friedberg ed Jay Rabinowitz
☆ Bill Murray (Don Johnston), Jeffrey Wright (Winston), Sharon Stone (Laura), Frances Conroy (Dora), Jessica Lange (Carmen), Tilda Swinton (Penny), Julie Delpy (Sherry), Mark Webber (The Kid)
'Like a perfect, short-lived love affair, its pleasure is accompanied by a palpable sting of sorrow. It leaves you wanting more, which I mean entirely as a compliment.' – A.O. Scott, New York Times

'The shortest distance between friends isn't always a straight line.'

The Broken Hearts Club: A Romantic Comedy

US 2000 95m colour 'Scope
Columbia TriStar/Banner (Mickey Liddell, Joseph Middleton)

In West Hollywood, a group of gay men gather to play softball, gossip and look for love.
Slick, feel-good comedy of startling superficiality.
wd Greg Berlanti ph Thomas Bango pd Charlie Daboub ed Todd Busch
☆ Timothy Olyphant (Dennis), Andrew Keegan (Kevin), John Mahoney (Jack), Dean Cain (Cole), Matt McGrath (Howie), Zach Braff (Benji), Ben Weber (Patrick), Billy Porter (Taylor)
'At its best, it is funny and feelgood; at its mildest, a PR primer for newly "out" men.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

The Broken Horseshoe

GB 1953 79m bw
Butchers/Nettlefold (Ernest G. Roy)

A doctor becomes implicated in the murder of a patient when he falls for a mysterious woman.
A thriller with an over-reliance on plot to maintain an audience's interest, which it soon dissipates with its implausibility.
w A. R. Rawlinson TV serial Francis Durbridge d Martyn C. Webster ph Gerald Gibbs m Wilfred Burns ad Bernard Robinson ed Joseph Sterling
☆ Robert Beatty, Elizabeth Sellars, Peter Coke, Hugh Kelly, Vida Hope, Janet Butler, Ferdy Mayne, George Benson, Roger Delgado

Broken Journey

GB 1948 89m bw
Gainsborough (Sydney Box)

A plane crashes in the Alps, and the survivors take different attitudes to their situation.
Unpersuasive and stagey melodrama which wastes some good talent.
w Robert Westerby d Ken Annakin ph Jack Cox m John Greenwood
☆ Phyllis Calvert, James Donald, Margot Grahame, Francis L. Sullivan, Raymond Huntley, Derek Bond, Guy Rolfe, David Tomlinson

Broken Lance ★

US 1954 96m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Sol C. Siegel)

An autocratic cattle baron causes dissension among his sons.
Western remake of House of Strangers (qv), quite well done.
w Richard Murphy story Philip Yordan d Edward Dmytryk ph Joe MacDonald m Leigh Harline
☆ Spencer Tracy, Richard Widmark, Robert Wagner, Jean Peters, Katy Jurado, Earl Holliman, Hugh O'Brian, Eduard Franz, E. G. Marshall
♟ Philip Yordan
♙ Katy Jurado

'A vacation to die for.'

Broken Lizard's Club Dread

US 2004 103m DeLuxe
TCF/Fox Searchlight/Cataland (Richard Perello)

A serial killer spoils the fun on a Caribbean resort run by a burnt out rock star.
From the comedy troupe that created the lamentable Super Troopers (qv) comes an even worse mess of feeble jokes and broad acting.
w Broken Lizard d Jay Chandrasekhar ph Lawrence Sher m Nathan Barr pd Benjamin Conable ed Ryan Folsey
☆ Bill Paxton (Coconut Pete), Jay Chandrasekhar (Putman Livingston), Kevin Heffernan (Lars), Steve Lemme (Juan Castillo), Paul Soter (Dave), Erik Stolhanske (Sam), Brittany Daniel (Jenny), Hank (MC Gainey)
'Stunningly unfunny farce that makes the worst of a stale concept.' – Joe Leydon, Variety
'Surely there is a law against allowing people to make movies in which a rastafarian with a posh English accent is considered to be the height of hilarity?' – Mark Kermode, Observer

Broken Lullaby ★

US 1931 77m bw Paramount
GB and original title: The Man I Killed

A young Frenchman goes to Germany to seek out the family of the man he killed in the war, and is accepted by them as a friend.
This most untypical Lubitsch film now seems very dated but was deeply felt at the time and has plenty of cinematic grip.
w Ernest Vajda, Samson Raphaelson play L'Homme que J'ai Tué by Maurice Rostand d Ernst Lubitsch ph Victor Milner m W. Franke Harling ad Hans Dreier
☆ Lionel Barrymore, Phillips Holmes, Nancy Carroll, Tom Douglas, ZaSu Pitts, Lucien Littlefield, Louise Carter, Emma Dunn
'Well made, but heavy themes and actionless ... hardly attuned to film patronage as a whole.' – Variety
'The best talking picture that has yet been seen and heard.' – Robert E. Sherwood
'I cannot remember a film so beautifully made, so completely fine in its execution.' – John Grierson
'Lubitsch can't entirely escape his own talent, and the film is beautifully crafted, but he mistook drab, sentimental hokum for ironic, poetic tragedy.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

Broken Mirrors

Holland 1984 116m Eastmancolor
Sigma (Matthijs van Heijningen)

Brothel girls consider the worthlessness of their lives.
Would-be symbolic melodrama with feminist overtones. Hard to take from beginning to end.
wd Marleen Gorris ph Frans Bromet m Lodewijk de Boer ☆ Lineke Rijxman, Henriette Tol, Edda Barends, Coby Stunnenberg

Broken Noses ★

US 1987 77m bw/colour
Mainline/Kira Films (Emie Amemiya)

Documentary of a young boxer training younger boys.
Ambivalent account of a violent sport, chicly photographed.
d Bruce Weber ph Julio Macat md Cherry Vanilla ed Phyllis Famiglietti, Howie Weisbrot ☆ Andy Minsker, The Mount Scott Boxing Club
'This is not so much a sporting profile as a poetic essay on American masculinity using boxing as a metaphor for the transformations involved in acquiring male identity.' – MFB

Broken Vessels ★★

US 1998 92m DeLuxe
Feature/Unapix/Zeitgeist (Roxana Zal, Scott Ziehl)

In Los Angeles, a newcomer to an ambulance service lives on the edge, under the influence of the veteran paramedic with whom he is teamed.
An engaging, low-budget, drug-fuelled movie with a dark sense of humour, a tragic projectory and a disregard for propriety.
w David Baer, John McMahon, Scott Ziehl d Scott Ziehl ph Antonio Calvache m Bill Laswell, Martin Blasick, Brent David Fraser pd Rodrigo Castillo ed David Moritz, Chris Figler
☆ Todd Field (Jimmy Warzniak), Jason London (Tom Meyer), Roxana Zal (Elizabeth Capalino), Susan Traylor (Susy), James Hong (Mr Chen), Patrick Cranshaw (Gramps), Brent David Fraser (Jed), Stephanie Feury (Jill), David Nelson (Rick), William Smith (Bo), David Baer (Bob)
'Is powered by a contagious headlong energy and is often outrageously funny.' – Philip Kemp, Sight and Sound

Broken Wings ★

Israel 2003 83m colour
Norma/Israeli Film Fund (Assaf Amir)

original title: K'Nafayim Shvurot

A mother and her four children experience problems following the sudden death of her husband.
Claustrophobic domestic drama of rebellious children and long-suffering mother, in which love finally triumphs.
wd Nir Bergman ph Valentin Belonogov m Avi Belleli pd Ido Dolev ed Einat Glaser-Zarhin
☆ Orli Zilberschatz-Banai (Dafna Ulman), Maya Maron (Maya Ulman), Nitai Gvirtz (Yair Ulman), Vladimir Friedman (Dr Valentin Goldman), Dana Ivgy (Iris), Danny 'Mook' Niv (Yoram)
'A strongly emotional experience despite its tendency toward cryptic dramatics.' – David Stratton, Variety

Bronco Billy ★★

US 1980 116m DeLuxe Panavision
Warner/Second Street (Neal Dobrofsky, Dennis Hackin)

A New Jersey shoe salesman takes over a rundown wild west show.
Enjoyable, sentimental, satirical comedy which unaccountably let down its star's box-office record.
w Dennis Hackin d Clint Eastwood ph David Worth md Snuff Garrett, Steve Dorff ad Eugene Lourie
☆ Clint Eastwood, Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, Scatman Crothers, Bill McKinney, Sam Bottoms
'Eastwood seems to have most enjoyed toying with some distinctly old-fashioned materials: a runaway heiress, a murder plot that isn't, some consequent punning on points of identity, and the most mischievously brittle set of greedy Eastern sophisticates since Frank Capra.' – Richard Combs, MFB

Bronenosets Potemkin: see The Battleship Potemkin

'One Man Lives In The Neighborhood. Another Man Owns It.'

A Bronx Tale ★

US 1993 121m Technicolor
Rank/Price/Tribeca (Jane Rosenthal, Jon Kilik, Robert De Niro)

In the 1960s, in the Italian neighbourhood of the Bronx, a boy grows up, torn between affection for his father, a bus driver, and admiration for the local gang boss, and caught in the growing struggle for control between blacks and whites.
An enjoyable stroll through familiar territory, which at least shows the ordinary life of the time, even if it, too, is seduced by the glamour of the gangsters.
w Chazz Palminteri play Chazz Palminteri d Robert De Niro ph Reynaldo Villalobos m Butch Barbella pd Wynn Thomas ed David Ray, R. Q. Lovett
☆ Robert De Niro, Chazz Palminteri, Lillo Brancato, Francis Capra, Taral Hicks, Katherine Narducci, Clem Caserta, Joe Pesci, Alfred Sauchelli Jnr
'A wonderfully vivid snapshot of a colorful place and time, as well as a very satisfactory directorial debut.' – Variety

'The Ultimate Experience Of Inner Terror.'

The Brood

Canada 1979 91m colour
Mutual/Elgin (Claude Heroux)

The rage of a mentally disturbed woman produces homicidal 'babies'.
Idiotic and repellent shocker.
wd David Cronenberg ph Mark Irwin m Howard Shore ad Carol Spier ed Allan Collins ☆ Oliver Reed, Samantha Eggar, Art Hindle, Cindy Hinds

'In Cronenberg's hands, horror is no longer a disreputable bastard genre but a new avenue of expression, glistening with possibility ... Horror is his native language. He dreams in it.' – Stephen Schiff

'Family First. Friends Second. The Mob Above All.'

A Brooklyn State of Mind

Canada 1997 87m colour
Norstar/Storm (Peter R. Simpson)

A gangster discovers the truth about the killing of his father 20 years earlier, and decides to avenge his death.
Mundane gangster drama, containing nothing that has not been better done before.
w Frank Rainone, Frederick Stroppel d Frank Rainone ph Ken Kelsch m Paul J. Zaza pd William Barclay ed Nick Rotundo ☆ Danny Aiello, Vincent Spano, Maria Grazia Cucinotta, Abe Vigoda, Tony Danza, Morgana King

'Dramatically functional but has little to add to the well-trodden genre.' – Variety

Brother: see Brat

Brother ★

Japan/GB/US/France 2000 112m colour
Film Four/Recorded Picture/Office Kitano/BAC (Jeremy Thomas, Masayuki Mori)

A Japanese yakuza avoids a gang-war in Tokyo by going to Los Angeles to reorganise his half-brother's unsuccessful attempt at drug dealing.
Kitano's familiar tough-guy persona gains from being in an unfamiliar American setting, but his difficulties with the English language lead to a narrative clumsiness that the violent action cannot disguiise.
wd Takeshi Kitano ph Katsumi Yanagijima m Joe Hisaishi pd Norihiro Isoda ed Takeshi Kitano cos Yohji Yamamoto ☆ Beat Takeshi (Yamamoto), Claude Maki (Ken), Omar Epps (Shirase), Ren Ohsugi (Harada), Susumu Terajima (Kato), Ryo Ishibashi (Ishibashi), James Shigeta (Susimoto), Tetsuya Watari (Jinseikai Boss)

'His style of close-to-the-vest brutality travels extremely well.' – Elvis Mitchell, New York Times

'This poorly constructed gangster thriller shows the director not entirely at home in a new environment.' – David Rooney, Variety

Brother 2: see Brat 2

'Welcome to a world where animals rule and the only human around... isn't human anymore.'

Brother Bear ★ (3)

US 2003 85m Technicolor
'scope
Buena Vista/Walt Disney (Chuck Williams)

The adventures of a young bear hunter, who is himself turned into a bear.
Lacklustre animated movie that may amuse the very young but otherwise recycles overworked notions; it suggests that Disney is a studio that has lost its nerve.
w Tab Murphy, Lorne Cameron, David Hoselton, Steve Bencich, Ron J. Friedman d Aaron Blaise, Robert Walker m Mark Mancina, Phil Collins m/ly Phil Collins ad Robh Ruppel ed Tim Mertens
☆ voices of: Joaquin Phoenix (Kenai), Jeremy Suarez (Koda), Jason Raize (Denahi), Rick Moranis (Rutt), Dave Thomas (Tuke), D.B. Sweeney (Sitka), Joan Copeland (Tanana), Michael Clarke Duncan (Tug)

'The film's characters and narrative simply fail to engage strong interest, and tale is probably too resolutely serious to enchant small fry in the way the better Disney titles always have.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Ⱥ animated feature

Brother Can You Spare a Dime?

GB 1975 109m bw
VPS/Goodtimes

A 'documentary' picture of America in the thirties, attempted by an apparently random collage of newsreel and feature film extracts, sometimes difficult to tell one from the other.
Sometimes entertaining but mainly unpardonable.
wd Philippe Mora

The Brother from Another Planet

US 1984 108m Movielab
A-Train Films

An alien lands in Harlem and is protected by locals from the horrors he finds there.
Moderately amusing combination of science fiction, farce and satire, which outstays its welcome by at least half an hour.
wd John Sayles
☆ Joe Morton, Tom Wright, Caroline Aaron, Randy Sue Carter

Brother John ★

US 1970 94m Eastmancolor
Columbia/E and R (Joel Glickman)

A mysterious black man comes to town for a family funeral and is suspected by the townsfolk of various sinister motives, but when they imprison him he is freed by a sympathizer.
The humans are all mean-minded, the saintly visitor is either Christ or an emissary from another planet. Either way, we have been here before, but although this little fantasy has nothing clear to say it is quite enjoyable on the surface.
w Ernest Kinoy d James Goldstone ph Gerald Perry Finnerman m Quincy Jones
☆ Sidney Poitier, Bradford Dillman, Will Geer, Beverly Todd, Ramon Bieri, Warren J. Kemmerling, Paul Winfield, Lincoln Kilpatrick

'It starts out as an engaging mystery with sociological overtones but ends up as a muddle-headed doomsday parable.' – Judith Crist, 1977

Brother Orchid ★

US 1940 91m bw
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)

A gangster, 'taken for a ride' by his former friends, escapes and becomes a monk.
Rather uneasy blend of comedy, drama and religion, with some good scenes.
w Earl Baldwin story Richard Connell d Lloyd Bacon ph Tony Gaudio m Heinz Roemheld
☆ Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart, Donald Crisp, Ann Sothern, Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, Cecil Kellaway

Brother Rat ★

US 1938 89m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)

Fun and games with the cadets at a military academy.
Brisk but dated farce from a highly successful Broadway original; remade as About Face (qv).
w Richard Macaulay, Jerry Wald play Fred Finklehoffe, John Monks Jnr d William Keighley ph Ernest Haller
☆ Wayne Morris, Eddie Albert, Ronald Reagan, Priscilla Lane, Jane Bryan, Jane Wyman, Johnnie Davis, Henry O'Neill

'Exhibs who dig into exploitation fields will hit paydirt.' – Variety

Brother Rat and a Baby

US 1939 87m bw
Warner (Robert Lord)
GB title: Baby Be Good

Scatty follow-up to Brother Rat, with the cadets graduating.
w Jerry Wald, Richard Macaulay d Ray Enright ph Charles Rosher m Heinz Roemheld ☆ Wayne Morris, Eddie Albert, Ronald Reagan, Priscilla Lane, Jane Wyman, Jane Bryan, Arthur Treacher, Moroni Olsen

Brother Sun, Sister Moon

GB/Italy 1972 122m Technicolor
Panavision
Paramount/Vic Films/Euro International (Luciano Perugia)

The life of Francis of Assisi.
Good-looking but relentlessly boring view of a medieval saint as a kind of early flower person.
w Suso Cecchi d'Amico, Kenneth Ross, Lina Wertmuller, Franco Zeffirelli d Franco Zeffirelli ph Ennio Guarnieri m Donovan, Riz Ortolani pd Lorenzo Mongiardino ed Reginald Hills, John Ruston ☆ Graham Faulkner (Francesco), Judi Bowker (Clare), Alec Guinness (Pope Innocent III), Leigh Lawson (Bernardo), Kenneth Cranham (Paolo), Lee Montague (Father), Valentina Cortese (Mother), Michael Feast (Silvestro), Nicholas Willatt (Giocondo), John Sharp (Bishop)

'If I were Pope, I would burn it.' – Stanley Kauffmann

The Brotherhood ★

US 1968 96m Technicolor
Paramount/Brotherhood Company (Kirk Douglas)

A Mafia executive welcomes his younger brother into the syndicate, but is finally executed by him.
Dour melodrama with tragic pretensions: well made but rather tedious and violent.
w Lewis John Carlino d Martin Ritt ph Boris Kaufman m Lalo Schifrin ☆ Kirk Douglas, Alex Cord, Luther Adler, Irene Papas, Susan Strasberg, Murray Hamilton, Eduardo Ciannelli

The Brotherhood of Satan ★

US 1970 93m Techniscope
Columbia/LQJAF/Four Star Excelsior (L. Q. Jones, Alvy Moore)

A village is isolated by an outbreak of diabolism.
Fresh and intriguing minor horror film with imaginative touches.
w William Welch d Bernard McEveety ph John Arthur Morril m Jaime Mendoza-Nava
☆ Strother Martin, L. Q. Jones, Charles Bateman, Ahna Capri, Charles Robinson, Alvy Moore, Geri Reischl

Brotherhood of the Wolf: see Le Pacte des Loups

Brotherly Love: see Country Dance

The Brothers ★★

GB 1947 98m bw
Triton (Sydney Box)

An orphan girl comes to a Skye fishing family at the turn of the century, and causes superstition, sexual jealousy and tragedy.
Wildly melodramatic but good-looking open-air melodrama, a surprising and striking British film of its time. Macrae gives a splendidly malevolent performance.
w Muriel and Sydney Box novel L. A. G. Strong d David Macdonald ph Stephen Dade m Cedric Thorpe Davie ad George Provis ed Vladimir Sagovsky
☆ Patricia Roc (Mary), Maxwell Reed (Fergus Macrae), Duncan Macrae (John Macrae), Will Fyffe (Aeneas Macrae), Andrew Crawford (Willie McFarish), Finlay Currie (Hector Macrae), John Laurie (Dugald), James Woodburn (Priest), Megs Jenkins (Angusina), Morland Graham (Angus McFarish)

'Heavy breathing, heavier dialect, and any number of quaint folk customs ... the island and its actual inhabitants are all right; the rest is Mary Webb with hair on her chest.' – James Agee

Brothers

GB 1999 98m colour
Paradise/Brothers (Martin Dunkerton, Joanna Garvin)

Seven young English men pursue women and pleasure during a week's holiday on a Greek island.
Episodic tale of lager loutish behaviour that is no more attractive on the screen than it is in reality.
w Martin Dunkerton, Nick Valentine d Martin Dunkerton ph Richard Terry m Julian Stewart Lindsey pd Conrad Butlin ed John Grover ☆ Justin Brett (Matt), Daren Jacobs (Chris), Daniel Fredenburgh (Julian), Rebecca Cardinale (Anna), Nick Valentine (Alec), Fin Wild (Victor), Leigh Tapper (Joseph), Stephen Maggio (Ben), Crystal Shepherd Cross (Juliette)

'Badly misconceived fiasco.' – Empire

† The credits list 62 associate producers.

The Brothers

US 2001 101m DeLuxe
Columbia TriStar/Screen Gems (Darin Scott, Paddy Cullen)

The romantic adventures of four male friends in search of the right woman.
Glossy romantic drama with too much talk and too little characterisation.
wd Gary Hardwick ph Alexander Gruszynski pd Amy Ancona ed Earl Watson
☆ Morris Chestnut (Jackson Smith), D. L. Hughley (Derrick West), Bill Bellamy (Brian Palmer), Shemar Moore (Terry White), Gabrielle Union (Denise Johnson), Tatyana Ali (Cherie Smith), Jenifer Lewis (Louise Smith), Tamala Jones (Sheila West)

'Nothing special, but it's amiable enough.' – Alan Jones, Film Review

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Brothers ★★ (7)

Denmark/GB/Sweden/Norway 2004 117m colour
Soda/Zentropa/Two Brothers/Sigma/Memfis/Fjellape (Sisse Graum Jorgensen, Peter Aalbaek Jensen)

original title: Brødre

The lives of two brothers change for better and worse when the elder, an army officer, goes to serve in Afghanistan, leaving his wife and children in the care of the younger.

Intense and powerful drama, juxtaposing the traumas of a difficult war with the comforts of Western domestic life and showing how the home, too, can become a battlefield.

w Anders Thomas Jensen d Susanne Bier ph Morten Soborg m Johan Soderqvist ad Viggo Bentzon ed Pernille Bech Christensen

☆ Connie Nielsen (Sarah), Ulrich Thomsen (Michael), Nikolaj Lie Kaas (Jannik), Bent Mejding, Solbjorg Hojfeldt

'A drama of uncommon moral complexity, unexpected humor, convincing transformations (for good and bad) and, best of all, vibrant, unpredictable energy. In a movie landscape littered with dead souls, here's a live one.' – Joe Morgenstern, Wall Street Journal

The Brothers Grimm

2005 118m
MGM/Dimension (Charles Roven, Daniel Bobker)

In 19th-century Germany, two confidence tricksters who scare the locals with fantastic tales are called upon to investigate the mystery of disappearing children.

A flat, anachronistic fantasy that never gets to grips with its material.

w Ehren Kruger d Terry Gilliam ph Newton Thomas Sigel m Dario Marianelli pd Guy Hendrix Dyas ed Leslie Walker

☆ Matt Damon (Wilhelm Grimm), Heath Ledger (Jacob Grimm), Peter Stormare (Cavaldi), Lena Headey (Angelika), Jonathan Pryce (Delatombe), Monica Bellucci (Mirror Queen)

'Deeply lost in the woods.' – Variety

Brothers in Arms (dubbed)

France 1989 125m Eastmancolor
Alexandre/SGGC/FR3 (Alexandre Arcady)

In Paris, a Jewish cop and an Algerian-born undercover agent form an uneasy partnership to combat Islamic fundamentalists who are planning a terrorist campaign using drugs and violence.

Tough and topical, though otherwise unremarkable, thriller.

w Daniel Saint-Hamont, Alexandre Arcady, Pierre Aknine d Alexandre Arcady ph Robert Alazraki m Jean-Jacques Goldman, Roland Romanelli pd Gerard Daoudal, Tony Egry ed Joële Van Effenterre, Anne-Marie Leduc

☆ Richard Berry, Patrick Bruel, Bruno Cremer, Claude Brasseur, Marthe Villalonga, Saïd Amadis, Corinne Dacla, Amidou

Brothers in Law ★

GB 1957 97m bw
British Lion/The Boultings (John Boulting)

A young barrister has comic misdemeanours in and out of court.

The lighter side of the law, from a bestseller by a judge; mechanically amusing and not in the same street as its predecessor Private's Progress (qv), though it seemed hilarious at the time.

w Roy Boulting, Frank Harvey, Jeffrey Dell novel Henry Cecil d Roy Boulting ph Max Greene m Benjamin Frankel

☆ Ian Carmichael, Terry-Thomas, Richard Attenborough, Miles Malleson, Eric Barker, Irene Handl, John Le Mesurier, Olive Sloane, Kynaston Reeves

FOREWORD: IF ALL THE CHARACTERS IN THIS FILM WERE NOT FICTITIOUS – IT WOULD BE ALARMING!

clerk: 'You start with a blue robing bag, sir. Then if you do good work for counsel, he'll give you a red one. If at the end of seven years you haven't been given a red bag – use a suitcase.'

Eric Barker (newcomer)

'A story of survival and belonging.'

Brothers in Trouble ★

GB 1996 103m colour
BFI/BBC/Renegade/Kinowelt/Mikado (Robert Buckler)

In the 60s, a Pakistani arrives in Britain as an illegal immigrant and eventually prospers, despite the fear in which he at first lives with other immigrants.

Revealing look at English life from an unusual viewpoint.

w Robert Buckler novel Return Journey by Abdullah Hussein d Udayan Prasad ph Alan Almond m Stephen Warbeck pd Chris Townsend ed Barrie Vince

☆ Om Puri, Pavan Malhotra, Angeline Ball, Ahsen Bhatti, Bhasker, Pravesh Kumar, Badi Uzzaman

'A touching, optimistic fable about friendship and survival.' – Empire

The Brothers Karamazov ★

US 1958 146m Metrocolor
MGM/Avon (Pandro S. Berman)

In 19th-century Russia, the father of three sons is murdered and the wrong brother is found guilty.

Decent but decidedly unenthralling Hollywood compression of a classic, faithful to the letter but not the spirit of the book, and with few memorable moments or performances.

w Richard Brooks novel Fyodor Dostoyevsky d Richard Brooks ph John Alton m Bronislau Kaper ad William A. Horning, Paul Groesse

☆ Yul Brynner, Maria Schell, Richard Basehart, Claire Bloom, Lee J. Cobb, Albert Salmi, William Shatner, Judith Evelyn

'A picture full of ferocity and passion, with streaks of genius in the lighting, mounting and music.' – News of the World

† In 1968 came Ivan Pyryev's massive 220m Russian version, little seen in the west.

Lee J. Cobb

'Jack is Trying to Save His Marriage. Patrick is in a Hopeless Relationship. But Their Biggest Problem is Barry's Brotherly Advice.'
'Sometimes the Best Friends Are the Ones You've Known Your Whole Life.'

The Brothers McMullen ★★

US 1995 118m DuArt
TCF/Marlboro Road Gang/Videography/Good Machine (Edward Burns, Dick Fisher)

Three Irish-American brothers are having trouble with their relationships.

A character-driven, low-budget film that is observant in its examination of the dynamics of interaction between the brothers and the women in their lives; for most of the time, it steers clear of mawkishness.

wd Edward Burns ph Dick Fisher m Seamus Egan ed Dick Fisher

☆ Jack Mulcahy, Mike McGlone, Edward Burns, Connie Britton, Maxine Bahns, Elizabeth P. McKay, Shari Albert, Jennifer Jostyn

'Straightforward and disarming in its utter disregard for trendiness and current fashion.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

'For some people...rock 'n' roll was always a freak show.'

Brothers of the Head (7)

UK 2006 92m Colour/bw
Tartan/Film Four/EM Media/Potboiler (Simon Channing-Williams, Gail Egan)

Teenage conjoined twins are cynically exploited to become punk-rock stars, flaunting their deformity as leaders of a group called Bang Bang.

One fictional documentary inside another in this odd offering from the directors of Lost in La Mancha (qv). It tries, perhaps too hard, to link the music business with freakish circus sideshows, and to make broad, sweeping statements about the nature of exploitation.

w Tony Grisoni novel Brian Aldiss d Keith Fulton, Louis Pepe ph Anthony Dod Mantle m Clive Langer pd Jon Henson ed Nicolas Gaster

☆ Harry Treadaway (Tom Howe), Luke Treadaway (Barry Howe), Bryan Dick (Paul Day), Sean Harris (Nick Sidney)

'This is a fake documentary that barely lets on it's fiction.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

'An intriguing oddity of a film.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

† The Treadaway twins, Luke and Harry, sang and played Bang Bang's songs in this film.

The Brothers Rico

US 1957 91m bw
Columbia/William Goetz (Lewis J. Rachmil)

An accountant fails to retrieve his brothers from a life of crime.

Moderate gangster fare with good credentials but more talk than action.

w Lewis Meltzer, Ben Perry novel Georges Simenon d Phil Karlson ph Burnett Guffey m George Duning

☆ Richard Conte, James Darren, Dianne Foster, Kathryn Grant, Larry Gates, Lamont Johnson, Harry Bellaver

The Brown Bunny

US 2003 93m colour
Gray Daisy (Vincent Gallo)

As motorcycle racer drives from New Hampshire to California, he is haunted by memories of the end of his relationship with a girl he knew from childhood.

Watch Vincent ride a motorcyle. See Vincent drive a van, urinate, shower and have sex. See Vincent in close-up, looking gloomy. Unless you're Vincent, though, there is no compelling reason to watch him.

wd Vincent Gallo ph Vincent Gallo pd Vincent Gallo ed Vincent Gallo

☆ Vincent Gallo (Bud Clay), Chloe Sevigny (Daisy), Cheryl Tiegs (Lilly), Elizabeth Blake (Rose), Anna Vareschi (Violet), Mary Morasky (Mrs Lemon)

'I don't know that I've ever encountered a filmmaker who wants to be loved so badly on his own wheedling, whiny, abrasive, motherless, misogynistic, and – last but not least – non-narrative terms.' – David Edelstein, Slate

'It is not the worst movie ever made, as some critics claim, but it does a passing imitation.' – Jami Bernard, New York Daily News

† The movie was first shown at the Cannes Film Festival in a version that ran for 119m.

Brown of Harvard

US 1926 70m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM

Two college students, one academic and one sporty, love the same girl.

Best-known version of a 1909 play first filmed in 1917: archetypal campus drama.

w Donald Ogden Stewart, A. P. Younger play Rida Johnson Young d Jack Conway

☆ William Haines, Jack Pickford, Mary Brian

Brown on Resolution ★

GB 1935 80m bw
Gaumont (Michael Balcon)

Later retitled: Forever England
US title: Born for Glory

In the 1914 war in the Mediterranean, a seaman holds a German warship at bay with a rifle.

Uneasy amalgam of adventure heroics and character study, interesting for its effort.

w Michael Hogan, Gerard Fairlie, J. O. C. Orton novel C. S. Forester d Walter Forde ph Bernard Knowles

☆ John Mills, Betty Balfour, Barry Mackay, Jimmy Hanley, Howard Marion Crawford, H. G. Stoker

'A milestone in British pictures ... an attractive and interesting feature anywhere.' – Variety

The Browning Version ★

GB 1951 90m bw
GFD/Javelin (Teddy Baird)

Retiring through ill health, a classics master finds that he is hated by his unfaithful wife, his headmaster and his pupils. An unexpected act of kindness gives him courage to face the future.

A rather thin extension of a one-act play, capped by a thank-you speech which is wildly out of character. Dialogue and settings are smooth, but the actors are not really happy with their roles.

w Terence Rattigan play Terence Rattigan d Anthony Asquith ph Desmond Dickinson ad Carmen Dillon ed John D. Guthridge

☆ Michael Redgrave, Jean Kent, Nigel Patrick, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Bill Travers, Ronald Howard

'If the sustained anguish of the role does not allow Redgrave a great deal of room to move around in, it does give him a chance to show what he can do in tight quarters, and that, it turns out, is considerable.' – Pauline Kael, 70s

The Browning Version ★

GB 1994 97m colour Panavision
UPI/Percy Main (Ridley Scott, Mimi Polk)

As he retires, a repressed and disliked schoolteacher, treated badly by his headmaster and adulterous wife, comes to terms with himself.

A remake of no particular distinction or point, cut adrift from its original period setting and losing in credibility because of it.

w Ronald Harwood play Terence Rattigan d Mike Figgis ph Jean-François Robin m Mark Isham pd John Beard ed Hervé Schneid

☆ Albert Finney, Greta Scacchi, Matthew Modine, Julian Sands, Michael Gambon,

Ben Silverstone, James Sturgess, Joe Beattie, Mark Bolton, Heathcote Williams

'Strong and affecting – perhaps because neither the director nor the star has worked with this sort of material before.' – Terrence Rafferty, New Yorker

'One can't help returning to the question of why the film was made if neither director, scriptwriter nor star had anything new to add to the innumerable Browning Versions that have gone before it.' – Geoffrey McNab, Sight and Sound

'The play is done all the time but who under the age of 30 knows it? Doing it in period would have no bearing on younger audiences and I wanted to attract them.' – Mike Figgis

Brown's Requiem ★

US 1998 104m DeLuxe
J&T/Savvy Lad (Tim Youd, David Scott Rubin)

In Los Angeles, an alcoholic ex-cop turned private eye runs into trouble when he is hired to investigate a young girl's relationship with an elderly, wealthy crook.

A thriller stuck in a sub-Chandler mode, with a world-weary hero in a situation he doesn't comprehend; the clichés are neatly shuffled, but overfamiliarity leads to ennui before the end.

wd Jason Freeland novel James Ellroy ph Seo Mutarevic m Cynthia Millar pd Marc Rizzo ed Toby Yates

☆ Michael Rooker (Fritz Brown), Tobin Bell (Stan the Man), Selma Blair (Jane Baker), Jack Conley (Richard Ralston), Kevin Corrigan (Walter), Brad Dourif (Wilson Edwards), Harold Gould (Solly K), Brion James (Haywood Cathcart), Barry Newman (Jack Skolnick), Valerie Perrine (Marguerita Hansen), William Sasso

'One Man Against A Cruel System.'

Brubaker ★

US 1980 130m DeLuxe
TCF (Ron Silverman)

A new governor fails to make much headway with his reform plan at Wakefield Prison Farm.

Fairly brutal but unsurprising prison drama which takes itself somewhat too seriously.

w W. D. Richter d Stuart Rosenberg ph Bruno Nuytten m Lalo Schifrin

☆ Robert Redford, Yaphet Kotto, Jane Alexander, Murray Hamilton, David Keith, Morgan Freeman

'It's hard to imagine a broad audience wanting to share the two hours of agony.' – Variety

screenplay

'He's got the power.'

Bruce Almighty ④

US 2003 101m DeLuxe
Universal/Spyglass/Shady Acres/Pit Bull (Tom Shadyac, Jim Carrey, James D. Brubaker, Michael Bostick, Steve Koren, Mark O'Keefe)

God hands over His powers to a TV reporter.

Trivial, mawkish comedy about a man who, given omnipotence, uses it to make his girlfriend's breasts bigger and to toilet train his dog.

w Steve Koren, Mark O'Keefe, Steve Oedekerk d Tom Shadyac ph Dean Semler m John Debney pd Linda Descenna ed Scott Hill

☆ Jim Carrey (Bruce Nolan), Morgan Freeman (God), Jennifer Aniston (Grace Connelly), Philip Baker Hall (Jack Keller), Catherine Bell (Susan Ortega), Lisa Ann Walter (Debbie)

'Something between an indiscretion and an atrocity, in the key of that most human yet loathsome of self-indulgences, vanity.' – Stephen Hunter, Washington Post

† It cost around $80m and took $242.7m at the US box-office.

†† It was voted the favourite comedy film in the US People's Choice Awards for 2003.

Bruce Lee: The Man, the Myth

Hong Kong 1976 90m colour
MIA (Pal Ming)

aka: Bruce Lee: True Story

A fiercely competitive martial arts exponent becomes a star of action films and discovers that he cannot escape fighting in real life.

Biopic of the celebrated martial arts actor that prefers fiction to fact.

wd Ng See Yuen ph Chang Chee m Chow Fu Liang pd Kwok Chi Yen ed Sung Ming martial arts director Liang Siao Sung

☆ Bruce Li aka Ho Chung Tao (Bruce Lee), Unicorn Chan, Sham Chien Po, Chun Yen, Chi Liang Tsao

† See also Dragon: The Bruce Lee Story.

The Brute ★

Mexico 1952 83m bw
International Cinematografica

original title: El Bruto

Victimized slum tenants call for help to a slow-witted giant, who kills the landlord and falls in love with his daughter.

Eccentric melodrama which doesn't quite seem to make its point.

wd Luis Buñuel ph Augustin Jiminez m Raul Lavista

☆ Pedro Armendariz, Katy Jurado, Rosita Arenas, Andres Soler

Brute Force ★★

US 1947 96m bw
U-I (Mark Hellinger)

Six violent convicts revolt against a sadistic warden and try to escape.

Vivid and rather repellent prison melodrama leading up to an explosive climax; its savagery seemed at the time to break fresh ground.

w Richard Brooks d Jules Dassin ph William Daniels m Miklos Rozsa

☆ Burt Lancaster, Charles Bickford, Hume Cronyn, Ella Raines, Yvonne de Carlo

'Towering new terror! No woman safe from his crushing arms...'

The Brute Man

US 1946 60m bw
Universal

A disfigured paranoic is helped by a blind pianist and kills again to help her.

Schlock horror programmer.

w George Bricker, M. Coates Webster d Jean Yarbrough

☆ Rondo Hatton, Tom Neal, Jane Adams

† Universal were so ashamed of it that they farmed it out to PRC

El Bruto: see The Brute

'They were enemies in war and rivals in love.'

The Brylcreem Boys

GB 1996 105m Rank Colour
Rough Magic (Alan Latham, Bernie Stampfer, Terence Ryan, Paul Madigan)

During the Second World War, English and German prisoners of war share the same camp in Ireland.

Apparently based on a real-life situation, this stumbles from romantic comedy to drama with no sense of direction or style.

w Terence Ryan, Jamie Brown, Susan Morrall d Terence Ryan ph Gerry Lively m Richard Hartley pd Steve Hardie ed Emma E. Hickox

☆ Bill Campbell, William McNamara, Angus MacFadyen, Gabriel Byrne, Jean Butler, John Gordon Sinclair, Oliver Tobias

'A toe-curlingly terrible film.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

'It gets on the list of the 10 worst films about the war.' – Philip French, Observer

'The King of Rock vs The King of the Dead.'

Bubba Ho-tep ★

US 2002 92m FotoKem
Anchor Bay/Silver Sphere (Don Coscarelli, Jason R. Savage)

In a convalescent home, Elvis Presley and a black man who believes he is President Kennedy battle against soul-sucking Egyptian mummy.

Amiable spoof, with Campbell giving a persuasive performance as an elderly, embittered Presley, a creation more interesting than the drearily antique horror hokum that follows..

wd Don Coscarelli story Joe R. Lansdale ph Adam Janeiro m Brian Tyler pd Daniel Vecchione ed Donald Milne, Scott J. Gill

☆ Bruce Campbell (Elvis), Ossie Davis (Jack), Ella Joyce (The Nurse), Heidi Marnhout (Callie), Bob Ivy (Bubba-Ho-tep)

'A one-of- a-kind horror movie: hilarious, a little scary and strangely poignant. Campbell's cranky, valiant, sad-sack King is a soulfully funny creation.' – David Ansen, Newsweek

'A Spaced Odyssey'

The Bubble ★

US 1966 112m Eastmancolor Spacevision (aka Stereovision 3D)
Arch Oboler

aka: Fantastic Invasion of Planet Earth

Three people find themselves trapped in a small town that is surrounded by an invisible bubble of energy.

Originally made in 3D, the film was a good advertisement for that process but not, with its indifferent acting and talky, slow-moving narrative, for any other reason.

wd Midwestern Magic-Vuers (Arch Oboler) ph Charles F. Wheeler m Paul Sawtell, Bert Shefter ad Marvin Chomsky ed Igo Kanter

☆ Michael Cole, Deborah Walley, Johnny Desmond, Virginia Gregg, Chester Jones

† The film was cut to 94m and re-released in 1972 as Fantastic Invasion of Planet Earth, though no invasion occurs during the film. It has been released on video in its 3D version.

Bubble ★★ ⑤

US 2005 73m colour
Section Eight/Magnolia/2929/HDNet (Gregory Jacobs)

In a small-town doll-making factory, a tentative friendship develops between three workers: a middle-aged woman, a shy young man and a new temporary hand, a young, single mother.

Low-key account, using non-professional actors, of a murder among disconnected people in which everything important remains unspoken; it exerts an odd fascination, akin to eavesdropping.

w Coleman Hough d Steven Soderbergh ph Peter Andrews m Robert Pollard ed Mary Ann Bernard

☆ Debbie Doebereiner (Martha), Dustin Ashley (Kyle), Misty Wilkins (Rose), K. Smith (Jake)

'Flat and uninteresting with the characters mouthing words that don't even add up to conversation.' – Ray Bennett, Hollywood Reporter

'A fascinating exercise that seems calculated to repel most audiences, which probably suits Mr. Soderbergh just fine.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times

'A masterpiece.' – Roger Ebert

† Peter Andrews is a pseudonym for Steven Soderbergh.

†† The film was released simultaneously on cable TV, in cinemas and on DVD, a move that upset the major distributors, who boycotted the movie.

The Buccaneer ★

US 1938 125m bw
Paramount (Cecil B. de Mille)

During the 1812 war, pirate Jean Lafitte helps general Andrew Jackson to repel the British.

Sprightly adventure romance with generally good production and acting.

w Jeanie Macpherson, Edwin Justus Mayer, Harold Lamb, C. Gardner Sullivan d Cecil B. de Mille ph Victor Milner m Georges Antheil md Boris Morros

☆ Fredric March, Franciska Gaal, Akim Tamiroff, Margot Grahame, Walter Brennan, Ian Keith, Spring Byington, Douglass Dumbrille, Robert Barrat, Hugh Sothern, Beulah Bondi, Anthony Quinn, Montagu Love

'A cinch for big box-office returns around the world.' – Variety

'From de Mille's skilled craftsmanship have come other pictures quite as ambitious, none more adroitly fabricated, skilfully adjusted to the norm of appeal to the world audience that such imposing and costly productions must command.' – Terry Ramsaye

Victor Milner

The Buccaneer

US 1958 121m Technicolor Vistavision
Paramount/Cecil B. de Mille (Henry Wilcoxon)

As the British fleet sails for New Orleans, defended by General Andrew Jackson and a handful of troops, pirate Jean Lafitte has to decide which side to support.

Slow, slack and stolid remake of the 1938 film, with practically no excitement or interest and very obvious studio sets.

w Jesse L. Lasky Jnr, Bernice Mosk, from the earlier screenplay d Anthony Quinn ph Loyal Griggs m Elmer Bernstein

☆ Yul Brynner, Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer, Inger Stevens, Henry Hull, Charlton Heston, E. G. Marshall, Douglass Dumbrille, Lorne Greene, Ted de Corsia, Robert F. Simon

Buchanan Rides Alone

US 1958 78m colour
Columbia (Harry Joe Brown)

A wandering Texan helps a young Mexican accused of murder.

Very moderate star Western.

w Charles Lang novel The Name is Buchanan by Jonas Ward d Budd Boetticher ph Lucien Ballard

☆ Randolph Scott, Craig Stevens, Barry Kelley, Peter Whitney

Die Büchse der Pandora: see Pandora's Box

Buck and the Preacher

US 1971 103m colour
Columbia/E & R/Belafonte (Joel Glickman)

Nightriders chasing escaped slaves are outwitted by a wagon train guide and a con man.
Lively, easygoing Western with a largely black cast, and a message of militancy sugar-coated by Hollywood hokum.
w Ernest Kinoy d Sidney Poitier ph Alex Phillips m Benny Carter pd Sydney Z. Litwack ed Pembroke J. Herring
☆ Sidney Poitier (Buck), Harry Belafonte (Preacher), Ruby Dee (Ruth), Cameron Mitchell (Deshay), Denny Miller (Floyd), Nita Talbot (Madame Esther), John Kelly (Sheriff)
'Quite an agreeable entertainment.' – MFB

Buck Benny Rides Again ★

US 1940 82m bw
Paramount (Mark Sandrich)

A radio comedian goes west but finds he's no cowboy.
Moderate filming of episodes and characters from the star's weekly radio show.
w William Morrow, Edmund Beloin d Mark Sandrich
☆ Jack Benny, Ellen Drew, Eddie Anderson, Andy Devine, Phil Harris, Dennis Day 'Swell mass entertainment.' – Variety

Buck Privates ★

US 1941 84m bw
Universal (Alex Gottlieb)

GB title: Rookies
Two incompetents accidentally enlist in the army.
Abbott and Costello's first starring vehicle is a tired bundle of army jokes and old routines separated by plot and romance, but it sent the comedians right to the top, where they stayed for ten years.
w Arthur T. Horman d Arthur Lubin ph Milton Krasner md Charles Previn
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Lee Bowman, Alan Curtis, Jane Frazee, The Andrews Sisters, Nat Pendleton, Samuel S. Hinds, Shemp Howard
♗ Charles Previn; song 'The Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy of Company B' (m Hugh Prince, ly Don Raye)

Buck Privates Come Home

US 1946 77m bw
U-I (Robert Arthur)

GB title: Rookies Come Home
Incompetent war veterans are demobilized and find civilian life tough.
Thin star comedy with a good final chase.
w John Grant, Frederic I. Rinaldo, Robert Lees d Charles T. Barton ph Charles Van Enger
☆ Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Beverly Simmons, Tom Brown, Nat Pendleton

Buck Rogers ★

US 1939 bw serial: 12 eps
Universal

After crashing in the Arctic and being preserved by gas for five hundred years, Buck discovers that the world has been conquered by gangsters led by Killer Kane.
Acceptable science fiction hokum with moments of ingenuity.
w Norman S. Hall, Ray Trampe d Ford Beebe, Saul Goodkind ph Jerome Ash md Charles Previn ad Ralph DeLacy ed Joseph Gluck, Louis Sackin, Alvin Todd
☆ Buster Crabbe (Buck Rogers), Constance Moore (Wilma Deering), Jackie Moran (George .Buddy' Wade), Jack Mulhall (Capt Rankin), Anthony Warde (Killer Kane), Philson Arne (Prince Tallen)
† An edited version of the serial was released in 1953, running for 69m, under the title Planet Outlaws, when it seemed even more old-fashioned. It has been released on video in the US and DVD in the US and UK.

Buck Rogers in the 25th Century

US 1979 89m colour
Universal (Richard Coffey)

Launched 500 years into the future, an astronaut helps save civilization.
Dull and bland version of comic strip heroics, originally made for television, which lacks even the low-budget charm of the 30s serial.
w Glen A. Larson, Leslie Stevens d Daniel Haller ph Frank Beascoechea m Stu Phillips ad Paul Peters ed John J. Dumas
☆ Gil Gerard, Pamela Hensley, Erin Gray, Henry Silva, Tim O'Connor, Joseph Wiseman, Duke Butler, Felix Silla, Mel Blanc (voice)

'You'll be sick – from laughing!'

A Bucket of Blood

US 1959 65m bw
Alta Vista (Roger Corman)

A waiter becomes a renowned sculptor when he hits on the idea of moulding clay round corpses.
Heavy-handed spoof with a few choice if bloody moments.
w Charles B. Griffith d Roger Corman ph Jack Marquette m Fred Katz ad Daniel Haller ed Anthony Carras ☆ Dick Miller, Barboura Morris, Antony Carbone, Ed Nelson

Buckskin

US 1968 97m Pathécolor
Paramount/A. C. Lyles

In the frontier town of Gloryhole a gambler is routed by the new marshal.
Routine old-fashioned Western with this producer's predictable gallery of weatherbeaten familiar faces.
w Michael Fisher d Michael Moore ph W. Wallace Kelley m Jimmie Haskell
☆ Barry Sullivan, Joan Caulfield, Lon Chaney Jnr, John Russell, Richard Arlen, Barbara Hale, Bill Williams, Barton MacLane

Budbringeren: see Junk Mail

Buddies

Australia 1983 95m colour Panavision
J. D. Productions/John Dingwall

Two sapphire miners outwit an attempt by an unscrupulous rival to grab their claim.
Comic celebration of what an Australian premier once described as 'mateship'.
w John Dingwall d Arch Nicholson ph David Eggby m Chris Neal pd Philip Warner ad Ron Highfield ed Martyn Down
☆ Colin Friels, Harold Hopkins, Kris McQuade, Norman Kaye, Dennis Miller, Bruce Spence

'Welcome to a family that will make yours seem tame.'

Buddy ②

US 1997 84m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia/Jim Henson/American Zoetrope (Steve Nicolaides, Fred Fuchs)

In the 20s, a wealthy Brooklyn woman saves a baby gorilla and raises him as a member of her animal-filled household.
One of those movies where you cannot quite imagine why it was ever made, though it has a slight, cutesy animal appeal.
wd Caroline Thompson book Animals are My Hobby by Gertrude Davies Linz ph Steve Mason m Elmer Bernstein
pd David Nichols, Daniel Lomino
ed Jonathan Shaw sp Jim Henson's Creature Shop
☆ René Russo, Robbie Coltrane, Alan Cumming, Irma P. Hall, Peter Elliott, Paul Reubens
'I watched this movie with steadily mounting incredulity. I was trying to find the category for it, and there isn't one ... It could be a study in undiagnosed mental illness, if it weren't shot on perky 1930s sets, scored with upbeat music and played by the actors like a Thin Man movie with Nick and Nora on Prozac.' – Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times

Buddy Buddy

US 1981 96m Metrocolor Panavision
MGM (Jay Weston)

A hit man on a job is hampered by a woebegone fellow intent on committing suicide.
Painful remake of the French L'Emmerdeur (A Pain in the A ...) (qv). Lugubriously funny at times, but generally much less attractive than the original.
w Billy Wilder, I. A. L. Diamond play Francis Veber d Billy Wilder ph Harry Stradling Jnr m Lalo Schifrin
pd Daniel A. Lomino
☆ Walter Matthau, Jack Lemmon, Paula Prentiss, Klaus Kinski, Dana Elcar
'The saddest episode in Wilder's career.' – Richard Combs, MFB

'Music Never Felt This Good.'

The Buddy Holly Story

US 1978 113m colour
Columbia/Innovisions/ECA (Fred Bauer)

The life of a fifties rock-and-roller who died young in an accident.
Solidly carpentered showbiz biopic for the youth market.
w Robert Gittler d Steve Rash ph Stevan Larner md Joe Renzetti
☆ Gary Busey, Don Stroud, Charles Martin Smith, William Jordan, Maria Richwine
'A B movie leavened by grade-A talent.' – Les Keyser, Hollywood in the Seventies
♟ Joe Renzetti
♗ Gary Busey

Buddy's Song

GB 1990 106m Eastmancolor
Castle Premier/Buddy/Bill Curbishley, Roy Baird, Roger Daltrey

A rock 'n' roll father becomes manager of his son's more modern band, with mixed results.
Dreary attempt at a generation gap musical, unlikely to appeal to any age-group.
w Nigel Hinton novel Nigel Hinton
d Claude Whatham ph John Hooper
m Roger Daltrey pd Grant Hicks ed John Grover ☆ Roger Daltrey, Chesney Hawkes, Sharon Duce, Michael Elphick, Douglas Hodge, Paul McKenzie
'Breezy, anodyne fare better suited to the tube.' – Variety

'In Havana, music isn't a pastime... it's a way of life.'

Buena Vista Social Club ★★★

Germany 1998 105m colour
Film Four/Road Movies/Kintop/Arte/ICAIC (Ulrich Felsberg, Deepak Nayar)

A documentary on a forgotten generation of now elderly Cuban musicians, brought back into the limelight by guitarist Ry Cooder for a best-selling record album.
Charming account of some exceptional musicians experiencing a late flowering; their enjoyment of life and the style of music they developed is evident, with the energetic, 90-year-old Compay Segundo slyly stealing the show with his reminiscences and vocals.
d Wim Wenders ph Joerg Widmer, Robby Mueller, Lisa Renzler ed Brian Johnson
☆ Ry Cooder, Compay Segundo, Ruben Gonzalez, Ibrahim Ferrer, Eliades Ochoa, Omara Portuondo, Manuel 'Guajiro' Mirabal, Orlando 'Cachaito' Lopez, Barbarito Torres, Manuel 'Puntillita' Licea, Raul Planes, Felix Valoy, Maceo Rodriguez, Richard Eques, Joaquim Cooder
'A film of ineffable sweetness and glorious music, which puts the shallow, affectless popular culture of our prosperous west to shame.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian
♗ documentary

Buffalo '66 ★

US 1998 112m colour
Lions Gate/Cinepix/Muse (Chris Hanley)

In order to impress his parents, who believe him to have been on government work, a newly released convict kidnaps a dancer and persuades her to pretend to be his wife.
An oddity: this has the look and style of a gritty low-life drama about one of life's unloveliest losers, but the content is closer to absurdist drama with its close-up study of a comically dysfunctional family.
w Vincent Gallo, Alison Bagnall d Vincent Gallo ph Lance Acord m Vincent Gallo pd Gideon Ponte ed Curtiss Clayton ☆ Vincent Gallo, Christina Ricci, Anjelica Huston, Ben Gazzara, Kevin Corrigan, Mickey Rourke, Rosanna Arquette, Jan-Michael Vincent
'A small but almost perfectly formed film.' – Guardian
'A sustained and dolorous hymn to male self-pity.' – Sunday Times

Buffalo Bill ★

US 1944 89m Technicolor
TCF (Harry Sherman)

A moderately fictitious account of the life of William Cody, from buffalo hunter to wild west showman.
Easygoing entertainment which turns from Western excitements to domestic drama. Generally watchable.
w Aeneas Mackenzie, Clements Ripley, Cecile Kramer d William Wellman
ph Leon Shamroy m David Buttolph
☆ Joel McCrea, Maureen O'Hara, Linda Darnell, Thomas Mitchell, Edgar Buchanan, Anthony Quinn, Moroni Olsen

Buffalo Bill and the Indians, or Sitting Bull's History Lesson

US 1976 118m colour Panavision
EMI/Dino de Laurentiis (Robert Altman)

During winter camp for his wild west show, Buffalo Bill Cody and his friends discuss life and his own myth.
Anti-action, alienation-effect talk piece which has some points of interest for sophisticates but is likely to set Western addicts asking for their money back.

w Alan Rudolph, Robert Altman play Indians by Arthur Kopit d Robert Altman ph Paul Lohmann m Richard Baskin
☆ Paul Newman, Burt Lancaster, Joel Grey, Kevin McCarthy, Geraldine Chaplin, Harvey Keitel, John Considine, Denver Pyle
'The western is an enormously resilient form, but never has that resilience been tested quite so much as in this movie ... it isn't really a movie, it's a happening.' – Arthur Knight
'Whereas Kopit's play offered a hallucinatory mosaic, Altman's script has the one-dimensional clarity of a cartoon.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News
'That American history is the creation of flamboyant lies and showmanship strikes us at first as an amusing trifle and then quickly becomes an epigram shaggy-dogging its way across two hours of eccentric Altmanship.' – Will Aitken, Take One

Buffalo Boy ★★

France/Belgium/Vietnam 2004 103m colour
Novak/3B/Hang Phim Giai Phong/Green Snaper/Thoke + Moebius (Olivier Dubois, Vincent Canart, Jean Brehart, Muriel Merlin, Rachid Bouchareb, Le Duc Tien)
original title: Mua Len Trau
In the French colony of Vietnam during the rainy season, a 15-year-old boy takes the family's buffaloes on a journey to find grass for them to eat.
Beautifully shot, engaging account of adventures and reflection in a watery landscape.
wd Minh Nguyen-Vo short stories Scent of the Ca Mau Forest by Son Nam ph Yves Cape m Ton That Tiet ad Nsut Pham Hong Phong ed Rudi Maerten
☆ Le The Lu (Kim), Nguyen Thi Kieu Trinh (Ban), Nguyen Huu Thanh (Dihn), Kra Zan Sram (Det), Vo Hoang Nhan (Lap), Truong Van Be (Haitich)
'Filled with wonder, but it is a world also filled with real desire, real death, not abstractions.' – Manohla Dargis, New York Times

'Steal all that you can steal. A story so outrageous you couldn't make it up.'

Buffalo Soldiers ⑤

GB/Germany 2001 94m Technicolor Panavision
Pathé/FilmFour/Good Machine/Odeon/Grosvenor Park/Gorilla/Strange Fiction (Rainer, Grupe, Ariane Moody)
In Germany in the late 80s, a US soldier deals on the black market in stolen goods ranging from heroin to weapons.
Cynical satire, though it's rarely funny or apposite, that leaves a nasty taste.
w Gregor Jordan, Eric Alex Weiss, Nora MacCoby novel Robert O'Connor d Gregor Jordan ph Oliver Stapleton m David Holmes pd Steve Jones-Evans ed Lee Smith
☆ Joaquin Phoenix (Ray Elwood), Ed Harris (Col Wallace Berman), Scott Glenn (Sgt Robert Lee), Anna Paquin (Robyn Lee), Gabriel Mann (Knoll), Leon Robinson (Stoney), Dean Stockwell (Gen Lancaster), Elizabeth McGovern (Mrs Berman)
'Sloppy when it should be incisive, indulgent when it should be astringent, and ultimately unsure of what it is mocking and in what spirit.' – A.O. Scott, New York Times

Buffet Froid ★★

France 1979 93m Eastmancolor
Sara Films/Antenna 2 (Alain Sarde)
US title: Cold Cuts
A police inspector joins up with two new acquaintances: they discover that they all like killing people.
Satirical black comedy which goes on a little too long for its own good; invention gives way to glumness.
wd Bertrand Blier ph Jean Penzer m classical extracts
☆ Gérard Depardieu, Bernard Blier, Jean Carmet, Geneviève Page

'Sometimes it takes more than just good looks to kill.'

Buffy the Vampire Slayer

US 1992 94m DeLuxe
TCF/Sandollar/Kuzui (Kaz Kazui, Howard Rosenman)
A Californian bimbo learns that her destiny is to be a killer of vampires.
Curiously ineffectual teen comedy.
w Joss Whedon d Fran Rubel Kuzui ph James Hayman m Carter Burwell pd Lawrence Miller ed Camilla Toniolo, Jill Savitt, Richard Candib
☆ Kristy Swanson, Donald Sutherland, Paul Reubens, Rutger Hauer, Luke Perry, Michele Abrams, Hilary Swank, Paris Vaughan, David Arquette, Natasha Gregson Wagner
'A bloodless comic resurrection of the undead that goes serious just when it should get wild and woolly.' – Variety
'To enjoy this moronic rubbish, you need to put your IQ into total unconsciousness.' – Alexander Walker, Evening Standard
† The film was the basis of a successful TV series in 1997, created by Joss Whedon and starring Sarah Michelle Gellar.

The Bug

US 1975 101m Movielab
Paramount/William Castle
Large rocklike insects appear after an earthquake and set fire to themselves and their victims.
Absurd, overlong and rather nasty horror film with no visible redeeming features.
w William Castle, Thomas Page novel The Hephaestus Plague by Thomas Page d Jeannot Szwarc ph Michel Hugo, Ken Middleham m Charles Fox
☆ Bradford Dillman, Joanna Miles, Richard Gilliland, Jamie Smith Jackson, Alan Fudge, Patty McCormack
'The finer scientific points are to say the least elusive.' – David Robinson

The Bugle Sounds

US 1941 101m bw
MGM (J. Walter Ruben)
An old cavalry sergeant, discharged for insubordination, rounds up fifth columnists and is reinstated.
Ho-hum star vehicle on familiar lines but at undue length.
w Cyril Hume d S. Sylvan Simon ph Clyde de Vinna m Lennie Hayton ☆ Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main, Lewis Stone, George Bancroft, William Lundigan, Henry O'Neill, Donna Reed, Chill Wills, Roman Bohnen, Jerome Cowan, Tom Dugan, Guinn Williams, Jonathan Hale

Bugles in the Afternoon

US 1952 85m Technicolor
Warner/Cagney Productions (William Cagney)
In the US army at the time of Custer's last stand, a young officer is victimized by a jealous rival.
Modest, adequate Western with nice scenery but no surprises.
w Geoffrey Homes, Harry Brown novel Ernest Haycox d Roy Rowland ph Wilfrid Cline m Dimitri Tiomkin ☆ Ray Milland, Hugh Marlowe, Helena Carter, Forrest Tucker, Barton MacLane, George Reeves, James Millican, Gertrude Michael

A Bug's Life ★★ ⑦

US 1998 96m Technicolor Cinemascope
Buena Vista/Walt Disney/Pixar (Darla K. Anderson, Kevin Reher)
A worker ant enlists the help of some circus bugs in defeating a threatening gang of grasshoppers.
Enjoyable computer-animated feature, though pleasure in its technical qualities – the play of light and shade – outweighs its narrative virtues and its lack of outstanding characterization.
w Andrew Stanton, Donald McEnery, Bob Shaw, John Lasseter, Joe Ranft d John Lasseter ph Sharon Calahan m Randy Newman pd William Cone ed Lee Unkrich
☆ Featuring the voices of: Dave Foley, Kevin Spacey, Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Hayden Panettiere, Phyllis Diller, Richard Kind, David Hyde Pierce, Joe Ranft, Denis Leary, Jonathan Harris, Madeline Kahn, Bonnie Hunt, Michael McShane, John Ratzenberger, Roddy McDowall
'Makes jaunty, imaginative use of both extraordinary technology and bold storytelling possibilities within the insect world.' – Janet Maslin, New York Times
'A pale imitation of Disney's best.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian † Antz (qv) is another computer-animated film on a similar theme.
Randy Newman

Bugsy ★★

US 1991 135m Technicolor
Columbia TriStar/Mulholland/Baltimore (Mark Johnson, Barry Levinson, Warren Beatty)
A starstruck gangster goes to Las Vegas and transforms the place into a gambler's paradise.
Romanticized account of the life and violent death of Bugsy Siegel, done with charm and style.
w James Toback d Barry Levinson ph Allen Daviau m Ennio Morricone pd Dennis Gassner ed Stu Linder
☆ Warren Beatty, Annette Bening, Harvey Keitel, Ben Kingsley, Elliott Gould, Joe Mantegna, Bebe Neuwirth, Wendy Phillips, Richard Sarafian, Bill Graham
'Elegantly made, wickedly perverse and very smart.' – Richard Schickel, Time
'An absorbing narrative flow and a parade of colourful underworld characters vie for screen time with an unsatisfactory central romance.' – Variety
Dennis Gassner; costume (Albert Wolsky) film; Barry Levinson; Warren Beatty; Harvey Keitel; Ben Kingsley; James Toback; Allen Daviau; Ennio Morricone

Bugsy Malone ★★

GB 1976 93m Eastmancolor
Rank/Bugsy Malone Productions (David Puttnam, Allan Marshall)
New York 1929: gangster Fat Sam fights it out with Dandy Dan, and the best man wins the girl.
Extremely curious musical gangster spoof with all the parts played by children and the guns shooting ice cream. Very professionally done, but one wonders to whom it is supposed to appeal.
wd Alan Parker ph Michael Seresin, Peter Biziou pd Geoffrey Kirkland m/songs Paul Williams
☆ Scott Baio, Jodie Foster, Florrie Dugger, John Cassisi
'If for nothing else, you would have to admire it for the sheer doggedness of its eccentricity.' – David Robinson, The Times
'All the pizazz in the world couldn't lift it above the level of empty camp.' – Frank Rich, New York Post
'I only wish the British could make adult movies as intelligent as this one.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News
'In an uncanny way the movie works as a gangster movie and we remember that the old Bogart and Cagney classics had a childlike innocence too. The world was simpler then. Now it's so complicated maybe only a kid can understand the Bogart role.' – Roger Ebert
Paul Williams
Alan Parker (script); Geoffrey Kirkland; Jodie Foster

Build My Gallows High: see Out of the Past

Bull Durham ★

US 1988 108m colour
Rank/Orion/Mount Company (Thom Mount, Mark Burg)
An English teacher prevaricates between choosing a rookie or an experienced baseball player as her latest lover.
Odd-ball movie, more in love with the game than its characters.
wd Ron Shelton ph Bobby Byrne m Michael Convertino pd Armin Ganz ad David Lubin ed Robert Leighton, Adam Weiss
☆ Kevin Costner, Susan Sarandon, Tim Robbins, Trey Wilson, Robert Wuhl, William O'Leary, David Neidorf, Danny Gans best original screenplay

The Bulldog Breed

GB 1960 97m bw
Rank (Hugh Stewart)
A grocer joins the navy.
Elementary raw recruit comedy with many familiar ruses.
w Jack Davies, Henry Blyth, Norman Wisdom d Robert Asher ☆ Norman Wisdom, Edward Chapman, Ian Hunter, David Lodge, Robert Urquhart, Eddie Byrne, Peter Jones
'A farce which ought never to have put to sea.' – MFB

Bulldog Drummond ★

US 1929 90m bw
Samuel Goldwyn
After advertising for adventure, ex-war hero Drummond is approached by an American girl whose uncle is being held prisoner in a fake nursing home by villainous Carl Petersen.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

This is the closest the screen ever came to the original Drummond character, debonair yet taking personal and unnecessary vengeance on the chief villain. A fairly primitive talkie with little movement, yet consistently interesting.
w Sidney Howard play Sapper by H. C. McNeile d F. Richard Jones ph George Barnes, Gregg Toland ad William Cameron Menzies
☆ Ronald Colman, Joan Bennett, Claud Allister (Algy), Lilyan Tashman, Montagu Love, Lawrence Grant ♗ Ronald Colman; William Cameron Menzies

Bulldog Drummond at Bay
GB 1937 78m bw
BIP/ABPC (Walter Mycroft)

Foreign spies use a peace club as a front, but are routed by Drummond the adventurer.
A very poor entry in this occasional series: production, directing and acting are as bad as the dialogue.
w Patrick Kirwan, James Parrish novel Sapper by H. C. McNeile d Norman Lee ph Walter Harvey ad John Mead ed J. Corbett
☆ John Lodge, Dorothy Mackaill, Victor Jory, Claud Allister, Richard Bird Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back ★

US 1934 83m bw
UA/Twentieth Century (Darryl F. Zanuck)

Drummond gets married, but delays his honeymoon to investigate a mysterious London house with a disappearing body.
Slow-starting, then intriguing light mystery which becomes repetitive and silly. Performances and production enjoyable.
The full complement of Drummond films is as follows:
1922 Bulldog Drummond (GB, silent with Carlyle Blackwell)
1925 The Third Round (GB, silent with Jack Buchanan)
1929 Bulldog Drummond (US, see above)
1930 Temple Tower (US, lost Fox film with Kenneth MacKenna)
1934 The Return of Bulldog Drummond (GB, perhaps the most Fascist of the series, with Ralph Richardson)
1934 Bulldog Jack (GB, amiable spoof with Jack Hulbert and Richardson as the Moriarty-like villain; finale in an Underground tunnel)
1934 Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back (US, see above)
1936 Bulldog Drummond at Bay (GB, see above)
1937 Bulldog Drummond Escapes (US, start of minor series with Ray Milland, later replaced by John Howard, and Guy Standing as Colonel Neilson)
1937 Bulldog Drummond Comes Back (US, John Howard takes over from Milland, John Barrymore from Standing)
1938 Bulldog Drummond's Revenge (US, Howard and Barrymore)
1938 Bulldog Drummond's Peril (US, ditto)
1938 Bulldog Drummond in Africa (US, Howard and H. B. Warner)
1938 Arrest Bulldog Drummond (US, ditto)
1939 Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police (US, ditto)
1939 Bulldog Drummond's Bride (US, ditto)
1939 Bulldog Sees It Through (GB, imitation with Jack Buchanan)
1947 Bulldog Drummond at Bay (US, second feature with Ron Randell)
1947 Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back (US, see above)
1948 The Challenge (US, with Tom Conway)
1948 Thirteen Lead Soldiers (US, ditto)
1951 Calling Bulldog Drummond (GB, with Walter Pidgeon)
1967 Deadlier than the Male (GB, Richard Johnson as a Bond-like Drummond) 1970 Some Girls Do (GB, Johnson again in a feeble sequel)
w Nunnally Johnson d Roy del Ruth ph Peverell Marley m Alfred Newman ☆ Ronald Colman, Loretta Young, C. Aubrey Smith, Charles Butterworth (Algy), Warner Oland, Mischa Auer, Una Merkel
'Zippy, snappy comedy melodrama with a swashbuckling flavour. Packed with what it takes.' – Variety

Bulldog Jack ★
GB 1934 72m bw
Gaumont (Michael Balcon)

US title: Alias Bulldog Drummond
A playboy poses as Bulldog Drummond when the real man is injured, and manages to foil the thieves and save the girl.
After a slowish start, this comedy thriller works up into a fine frenzy with exciting scenes on the London Underground and in the British Museum.
w Gerard Fairlie, J. O. C. Orton, Sidney Gilliat, Jack Hulbert novel Sapper d Walter Forde ph Mutz Greenbaum (Max Greene) md Louis Levy ad Alfred Junge ed Otto Ludwig
☆ Jack Hulbert, Ralph Richardson, Claude Hulbert, Fay Wray, Athole Fleming, Paul Graetz
'There is ... a mad train ride towards the terminus and destruction, as good as anything in screen melodrama.' – Peter John Dyer, 1965
'A sense of showmanship that is rewarded in a full quota of thrills and laughs.' – Kine Weekly

'You only get one shot at revenge.'

Bullet
US 1995 90m CFI color
Village Roadshow-Clipsal/Red Ruby (John Flock)

A self-destructive drug addict gets out of prison and returns to his old thieving and violent ways in Brooklyn.
Brutal and uninteresing drama of street life, with a subtext of bad feeling between Jews and blacks; the movie provides Rourke with an opportunity to punch people and walls and wear several silly hats.
w Bruce Rubenstein, Sir Eddie Cook d Julien Temple ph Crescenzo G. P. Notarile pd Christopher Nowak ed Niven Howie ☆ Mickey Rourke, Tupac Shakur, Ted Levine, Adrien Brody, John Enos III, Suzanne Shepherd, Jerry Grayson
'The sundry ultra-violent confrontations play like an action-movie parody.' – Sight and Sound

'You only get one shot at life.'

Bullet Boy ★
GB 2004 89m colour
Verve/BBC/UKFC/Portman/Shine (Ruth Caleb, Marc Boothe)

Released from juvenile detention, a black youth in East London again becomes involved in crime at the instigation of his best friend.
Effective documentary-style drama on the difficulties facing black youths in London, exacerbated by a macho culture that regards the slightest insult as requiring massive retribution.
w Saul Dibb, Catherine R Johnson d Saul Dibb ph Marcel Zyskind m Neil Davidge, Robert Del Naja pd Melanie Allen ed Masahiro Hirakubo, John Mister
☆ Ashley Waters (Ricky), Luke Fraser (Curtis), Claire Perkins (Beverly), Leon Black (Wisdom)
'Gripping parable about street life that ought to touch everyone who sees it.' – James Christopher, Times

Bullet for a Badman
US 1964 80m Technicolor
Universal-International

An ex-Texas Ranger escapes from prison to prove his innocence of murder.
Lively Western programmer.
w Mary and Willard Willingham d R. G. Springsteen ☆ Audie Murphy, Darren McGavin, Ruta Lee, Skip Homeier, George Tobias

A Bullet for Joey
US 1955 85m bw
UA/Sam Bischoff, David Diamond

A Canadian policeman prevents the murder of an atomic scientist.
Listless low-budgeter with familiar stars below par.
w Geoffrey Homes, A. I. Bezzerides d Lewis Allen ph Harry Neumann m Harry Sukman
☆ Edward G. Robinson, George Raft, Audrey Totter, George Dolenz, Peter Hanson, Peter Van Eyck

A Bullet for the General (dubbed) ★
Italy 1966 126m colour Scope
MCM (Bianco Manini)

original title: El Chucho, Quién Sabe?
An American mercenary joins a gang of bandits in order to assassinate a Mexican revolutionary leader.
Slow-paced, interesting spaghetti Western concerned with matters of life and death and the making of moral choices.
w Salvatore Laurani, Franco Solinas d Damiano Damiani ph Tony Secchi m Luis Bacalov md Ennio Morricone ad Sergio Canevari ed Renato Cinquini
☆ Gian-Maria Volontè, Klaus Kinski, Martine Beswick, Lou Castel, Jaime Fernandez
† The film exists in several versions, ranging in length from 77 to 135 minutes, with the shorter concentrating on its moments of violence.

Bullet in the Head
Hong Kong 1990 100m colour
Milestone/John Woo

Three young tough Chinese gangsters continue their criminal activities in Saigon during the Vietnamese war.
Blood-soaked adventure with an individual, frenetic style.
w John Woo, Patrick Leung, Janet Chun d John Woo ph Ardy Lam, Wilson Chan, Somchai Kittikun, Wong Wing-Hang m James Wong, Romeo Diaz ad James Leung ed John Woo
☆ Tony Leung, Jacky Cheung, Waise Lee, Simon Yam, Yolinda Yan
'Graphically violent, vile and thoroughly disturbing depiction of war.' – Variety

Bullet to Beijing
GB/Canada/Russia 1995 122m colour
Quebec 3099-3081/Lenfilm/Harry Palmer (Alexander Goloutva, John Dunning, André Link)

Retired on a reduced pension, a British secret agent is hired by a mysterious Russian to recover a deadly biological weapon that has gone missing.
Caine returns to the role of Harry Palmer, the unconventional agent he first played in the 60s, but the reunion is not a happy one; the problem is the dull script that defeats everyone.
w Peter Welbeck (Harry Alan Towers) novel Len Deighton d George Mihalka ph Peter Benison, Terence Cole m Rick Wakeman pd Yuri Pashigorie ed François Gill
☆ Michael Caine, Jason Connery, Mia Sara, Michael Gambon, Michael Sarrazin, Lev Prygunov, Anatoly Davidov, Sue Lloyd, Burt Kwouk, Patrick Allen

Bulletproof
US 1987 94m colour
Virgin/Bulletproof Productions (Paul Hertzberg, N. C. Lundell)

A Los Angeles cop undertakes a dangerous mission against terrorists in Mexico.
Absurd action picture.
w T. L. Lankford, Steve Carver d Steve Carver ph Francis Grumman m Tom Chase, Steve Rucker pd Adrian H. Gorton ed Jeff Freeman
☆ Gary Busey, Darlanne Fluegel, Henry Silva, Thalmus Rasulala, L. Q. Jones, Rene Enriquez, Mills Watson, James Andronica

'Their friendship could survive anything...except each other!'

Bulletproof
US 1996 85m DeLuxe Super 35
Universal (Robert Simonds)

A car thief discovers that his partner is actually an undercover cop.
Frenetic action movie that tries no new variations on the plot of an ill-assorted, bickering couple trying to straighten out a confused situation with as much shooting and noise as possible.
w Joe Gayton, Lewis Colick d Ernest Dickerson ph Steven Bernstein m Elmer Bernstein ad Perry Andelin Blake, William F. Matthews ed George Folsey Jnr ☆ Damon Wayans, Adam Sandler, James Caan, Jeep Swenson, James Farentino, Kristen Wilson, Bill Nunn
'Industrial-strength action comedy.' – Time

'Murder was his game, until she changed the rules.'

Bulletproof Heart
US 1994 98m colour
First Independent/Keystone/Worldvision (Robert Vince, William Vince)

GB title: Killer
A burned-out hitman is hired to kill a woman who wants to die, but also wants to talk about it, after first seducing him.
A killer who needs a psychiatrist meets a woman whose shrink has a drinking problem. The result is a great deal of psycho-babble in a thriller with pretensions above its genre; the action is divided into chapters, for no perceptible reason.
w Gordon Melbourne story Mark Malone d Mark Malone ph Tobias Schliessler m Graeme Coleman pd Lynne Stopkewich ed Robin Russell
☆ Anthony LaPaglia, Mimi Rogers, Matt Craven, Peter Boyle, Monika Schnarre, Joseph Maher
'What the film lacks is suspense and a pinch of human credibility. It would have made a good short, though.' – Film Review

'A power beyond measure requires a protector without equal.'

Bulletproof Monk

US 2003 103m DeLuxe Clairmont widescreen
Pathé/MGM/Lion Rock/Flypaper Press (Charles Roven, Douglas Segal, Terrence Chang, John Woo)

A Tibetan monk passes on a sacred scroll that can provide ultimate power to an American youth.
Silly adolescent fantasy, tawdry rubbish with a couple of good fight sequences.
w Ethan Reiff, Cyrus Voris comic book Brett Lewis, R. A. Jones d Paul Hunter ph Stefan Czapsky m Eric Serra pd Deborah Evans ed Robert K. Lambert sp Boy Wonder Visual Effects fight choreography Wong Wai Leung ☆ Chow Yun-Fat (Monk With No Name), Seann William Scott (Kar), Jaime King (Jade/Bad Girl), Karel Roden (Struker), Victoria Smurfit (Nina), Marcus Jean Pirae (Mr Funktastic), Mako (Mr Kojima), Roger Yuan (Master Monk)
'Garbage.' – San Francisco Examiner
'An overcooked and odoriferous turkey.' – Peter Howell, Toronto Star

Bullets for O'Hara

US 1941 50m bw
Warner

A gangster's wife helps an FBI man to trap her husband.
Fast-moving filler with action scenes lifted from its original, Public Enemy's Wife (qv).
w Raymond L. Schrock d William K. Howard ☆ Roger Pryor, Anthony Quinn, Joan Perry, Maris Wrixon, Dick Purcell

'Every real citizen should see it!'

Bullets or Ballots ★

US 1936 81m bw
Warner (Lou Edelman)

A city cop goes undercover to break the mob.
Vivid routine gangster thriller, not quite of the top flight, but nearly.
w Seton I. Miller d William Keighley ph Hal Mohr m Heinz Roemheld
☆ Edward G. Robinson, Joan Blondell, Humphrey Bogart, Barton MacLane, Frank McHugh, Dick Purcell, George E. Stone
'A good gangster film of the second class ... all the old chivalrous situations of Chums and the Boy's Own Paper are agreeably translated into sub-machine gun terms.' – Graham Greene

Bullets over Broadway ★★

US 1994 99m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Magnolia/Sweetland (Robert Greenhut)

In 1920s New York, a writer agrees to hire an untalented actress so that her lover, a gangster, will back his new play; but her bodyguard has other ideas when he realizes she is ruining the production.
Witty and entertaining backstage comedy on the theme of artistic integrity, performed and directed in a sprightly manner.
w Woody Allen, Douglas McGrath d Woody Allen ph Carlo Di Palma pd Santo Loquasto ed Susan E. Morse
☆ John Cusack, Jack Warden, Chazz Palminteri, Joe Viterelli, Jennifer Tilly, Rob Reiner, Mary-Louise Parker, Dianne Wiest, Harvey Fierstein, Jim Broadbent, Tracey Ullman
'Allen bathes his fable in a seductive, rosy light, grants everyone in the wonderful ensemble cast a comic high point, and gives us a film that combines impeccable craftsmanship and a basic exuberance that's been missing from his work for years.' – Richard Schickel, Time
'What's fatally missing from the movie is any love for the way of life being mocked. There's too much contempt – contempt joined strangely with self-exculpation.' – New York
Dianne Wiest
Woody Allen (as director); Woody Allen, Douglas McGrath (screenplay); Chazz Palminteri; Jennifer Tilly; art direction; costume design

The Bullfighter and the Lady

US 1951 87m bw
Republic/John Wayne (Budd Boetticher)

A young American in Mexico is fascinated by bullfighting but during training accidentally causes the death of a great matador.
Predictable, rather boring plot given routine treatment: for aficionados only.
w James Edward Grant d Budd Boetticher ph Jack Draper m Victor Young ☆ Robert Stack, Gilbert Roland, Joy Page, Katy Jurado, Virginia Grey, John Hubbard original story (Budd Boetticher, Ray Nazarro)

The Bullfighters ★

US 1945 60m bw
TCF (William Girard)

Two detectives in Mexico find that one of them resembles a famous matador.
Laurel and Hardy's last American feature is poor enough as a whole, but at least has a few sequences in their earlier style.
w Scott Darling d Malcolm St Clair ph Norbert Brodine m David Buttolph ad Lyle Wheeler, Chester Gore ed Stanley Rabjohn
☆ Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Richard Lane, Margo Woode, Carol Andrews Bullitt ★★★

US 1968 113m Technicolor
Warner/Solar (Philip D'Antoni)

A San Francisco police detective conceals the death of an underground witness in his charge, and goes after the killers himself.
Cop thriller with undoubted charisma, distinguished by a splendid car chase which takes one's mind off the familiar plot. The film has a remarkable sense of place, of everyday life going on around the propulsive action.
w Harry Kleiner, Alan R. Trustman novel Mute Witness by Robert L. Pike d Peter Yates ph William A. Fraker m Lalo Schifrin ad Albert Brenner ed Frank P. Keller
☆ Steve McQueen (Bullitt), Jacqueline Bisset (Cathy), Robert Vaughn (Chalmers), Don Gordon (Delgetti), Robert Duvall (Weissberg), Simon Oakland (Capt. Bennett)
'It has energy, drive, impact, and above all, style.' – Hollis Alpert
Frank P. Keller

Bullseye!

US 1990 92m colour
Castle Premier/21st Century (Michael Winner)

Two con-men impersonate crooked nuclear scientists.
Tedious comedy with few laughs.
w Leslie Bricusse, Laurence Marks, Maurice Gran story Leslie Bricusse, Michael Winner, Nick Mead d Michael Winner ph Alan Jones pd John Blezard ad Alan Cassie ed Arnold Crust
☆ Michael Caine, Roger Moore, Sally Kirkland, Deborah Barrymore, Lee Patterson, Mark Burns, Derren Nesbitt
'Wallowing in its excremental humour, Bullseye! is content to reinforce the crudest of racial and sexual stereotypes.' – MFB

Bullshot

GB 1983 88m Technicolor
HandMade (Ian La Frenais)

In the twenties, Bullshot Crummond is pitted against his arch enemy Count Otto von Bruno.
Very flat-footed spoof which belies the talents involved.
w Ron House, Diz White, Alan Shearman d Dick Clement ph Alex Thomson m John Du Prez pd Norman Garwood
☆ Alan Shearman, Diz White, Ron House, Frances Tomelty, Michael Aldridge, Ron Pember, Mel Smith, Billy Connolly, Geoffrey Bayldon, Bryan Pringle
'Unrelievedly ghastly ... even canned laughter would be hard pressed to raise a titter.' – Gilbert Adair, MFB
'Behind every mannered line you can hear technicians laughing the fun to death on the studio floor.' – Sunday Times

'It's 4 a.m... do you know where your kids are?'

Bully ★

US 2001 112m colour
Film4/Studio Canal/Lions Gate/Muse/Blacklist/Gravity (Chris Hanley, Don Murphy, Fernando Sulichin)

In Florida, teenage friends and lovers decide to kill the most unpleasant and aggressive member of their group.
Based on a true story, this unlovely but memorable movie offers little in the way of explanation and nothing in condemnation; it is content to observe, and even admire.
w Zachary Long, Roger Pullis d Larry Clark ph Steve Gainer m Dillinger & Young Gotti et al pd Linda Burton ed Andrew Hafitz ☆ Brad Renfro (Marty Puccio), Rachel Miner (Lisa Connelly), Nick Stahl (Bobby Kent), Bijou Phillips (Ali Willis), Michael Pitt (Donny Semenec), Kelli Garner (Heather Swaller), Daniel Franzese (Derek Dzvirko), Leo Fitzpatrick (Hitman)
'Likely to elicit just a passing belch from more discerning/jaded viewers... By turns turgid, embarrassing and plain off-putting.' – Dennis Harvey, Variety
'A magnificent, coldly brilliant movie conveyed to us in an amoral neon glare, in which the director's only compelling value judgment is a swooning reverie at the beauty of his teen stars.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Bulworth ★

US 1998 107m Technicolor
TCF (Warren Beatty, Pieter Jan Brugge)

Having arranged his assassination in order to provide wealth for his family, a Democratic senator decides to tell the unvarnished truth during his election campaign.
A satire on the corporate control of political parties that, however accurate, lacks bite; Beatty's embrace of urban black culture, as his senator breaks into rap, seems self-indulgent rather than revolutionary.
w Warren Beatty, Jeremy Pikser d Warren Beatty ph Vittorio Storaro m Ennio Morricone pd Dean Tavoularis ed Robert C. Jones, Billy Weber
☆ Warren Beatty, Halle Berry, Don Cheadle, Oliver Platt, Paul Sorvino, Jack Warden, Isaiah Washington, Joshua Malina, Christine Baranski, Richard Sarafian, Amiri Baraka, Sean Astin, Laurie Metcalf, Wendell Pierce
'One of the best films to emerge from a Hollywood studio in the 90s.' – Richard Kelly, Sight and Sound
Warren Beatty, Jeremy Pikser (script)

Bun Ngo Tsong Tinngai: see Wild Search

Bundesrepublic Deutschland Trilogy: see The Marriage of Eva Braun; Lola; Veronika Voss

Bundle of Joy

US 1956 98m Technicolor RKOscope
RKO/Edmund Grainger

A shopgirl finds an abandoned baby and everyone thinks it is hers.
Tame musical remake of Bachelor Mother (qv); some laughs, but poor numbers.
w Norman Krasna, Arthur Sheekman, Robert Carson d Norman Taurog ph William Snyder m Josef Myrow
☆ Debbie Reynolds, Eddie Fisher, Adolphe Menjou, Melville Cooper, Tommy Noonan, Nita Talbot, Una Merkel, Robert H. Harris
'As bad as I was, the picture was worse.' – Eddie Fisher

Bundy: see Ted Bundy

The Bunker

GB 2000 91m DeLuxe
Salvation/Millennium (Daniel Figuero)

AIn 1944, a German platoon, taking cover from advancing Allied forces in a bunker, feel threatened by unseen adversaries.
Atmospheric horror that is let down by a dull script.
w Clive Dawson d Rob Green ph John Pardue m Russell Currie pd Richard Campling ed Richard Milward
☆ Jason Flemyng (Corporal Baumann), Charley Boorman (Private Franke), Jack Davenport (Lance Corporal Ebert), Andrew Lee Potts (Private Neumann), Christopher Fairbank (Sergeant Heydrich), John Carlisle (Private Mirus)
'Drab and unexciting, this combination war/horror film takes forever to kick-start and utterly fails to come up with any thrills likely to attract audiences.' – Davod Stratton, Variety

Bunny Lake Is Missing ★★

GB 1965 107m bw Panavision
Columbia/Wheel (Otto Preminger)

The 4-year-old illegitimate daughter of an American girl in London disappears, and no one can be found to admit that she ever existed.
A nightmarish gimmick story, with more gimmicks superimposed along the way to say nothing of a Psychoish ending; some of the decoration works and makes even the unconvincing story compelling, while the cast alone is worth the price of admission.
w John and Penelope Mortimer novel Evelyn Piper d Otto Preminger ph Denys Coop m Paul Glass pd Don Ashton titles Saul Bass
☆ Laurence Olivier, Carol Lynley, Keir Dullea, Noël Coward, Martita Hunt, Finlay Currie, Clive Revill, Anna Massey, Lucie Mannheim
'It has the enjoyable hallmarks of really high calibre professionalism.' – Penelope Houston

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Bunny O'Hare

US 1971 92m Movielab
AIP (Gerd Oswald, Norman T. Herman)
A middle-aged widow and an ex-con plumber become bank robbers, dressed as hippies and escaping on a motor cycle.
Unappealing, ill-thought-out comedy with pretensions to satire, an unhappy venture for both stars.
w Stanley Z. Cherry, Coslough Johnson d Gerd Oswald ph Loyal Griggs, John Stephens m Billy Strange ☆ Bette Davis, Ernest Borgnine, Jack Cassidy, Joan Delaney, Jay Robinson, John Astin

Buona Sera Mrs Campbell ★

US 1968 113m Technicolor
UA/Connaught (Melvin Frank)
Wartime USAF comrades reassemble twenty years later in an Italian village, and three find that they have been paying paternity money to the same local glamour girl.
Agreeably cast, pleasantly set and photographed, quite funny in parts, this comedy of middle age unfortunately outstays its welcome and lets its invention peter out.
w Melvin Frank, Denis Norden, Sheldon Keller d Melvin Frank ph Gabor Pogany m Riz Ortolani
☆ Gina Lollobrigida, Telly Savalas, Phil Silvers, Peter Lawford, Lee Grant, Marian Moses, Shelley Winters

Buongiorno, Notte: see Good Morning, Night

Il Buono, il Brutto, il Cattivo: see The Good, the Bad and the Ugly

The 'burbs ★★

US 1988 102m DeLuxe
UIP/Imagine (Michael Finnell, Larry Brezner)
Neighbours decide that there is something sinister about a new family on the block.
One-joke black comedy that has its moments.
w Dana Olsen d Joe Dante ph Robert Stevens m Jerry Goldsmith pd James Spencer ed Marshall Harvey
☆ Tom Hanks, Bruce Dern, Carrie Fisher, Rick Ducommun, Corey Feldman, Wendy Schaal, Henry Gibson, Brother Theodore, Courtney Gains, Gale Gordon
'For the most part, this is one of the most extraordinary major studio films of the late 80s.' – Kim Newman, MFB

Bureau of Missing Persons ★

US 1933 73m bw
Warner
Police chief helps a girl find her husband, who turns out to have been murdered.
Fast-moving potboiler typical of its studio.
w Robert Presnell story Missing Men by John H. Ayers, Carol Bird d Roy del Ruth ☆ Pat O'Brien, Bette Davis, Lewis Stone, Glenda Farrell, Allen Jenkins, Hugh Herbert 'Pretty fair entertainment. Nothing socko, but it will please.' – Variety

The Burglar ★

US 1957 80m bw
Columbia (Louis W. Kellerman)
A burglar is shadowed by a policeman who is also after the loot.
Slightly pretentious but watchable low-budgeter.
w David Goodis novel David Goodis ph Don Malkames m Sol Kaplan d/ed Paul Wendkos ☆ Dan Duryea, Jayne Mansfield, Martha Vickers, Peter Capell

Burglar

US 1987 102m Technicolor
Warner/Nelvana (Kevin McCormick, Michael Hirsch)
An ex-con turns tec to avoid arrest as a cat burglar.
Strained comedy which is too goofy to sustain its mystery elements.
w Joseph Loeb III, Matthew Weisman, Hugh Wilson books Lawrence Block d Hugh Wilson ph William A. Fraker m Sylvester Levay ☆ Whoopi Goldberg, Bob Goldthwait, G. W. Bailey, Lesley Ann Warren, James Handy, Anne de Salvo

The Burglar

Russia 1987 89m colour
First Film Group/Lenfilm original title: Vzlomshchik
A youth steals a synthesiser in order to prevent his elder brother, a rock musician, from committing the crime.
Teenage alienation among Soviet punk rockers.
w Valeri Priyomkhov d Valery Ogorodnikov ph Valery Mironov m Viktor Kisin ad Irakli Kvirikadze ☆ Oleg Elykomov, Konstantin Kirchev, Yuri Tsapnik, Svetlana Gaitan, Polina Petrenko, Mikhail Parfonov, Pyotr Semak, Oleg Garkusha, Valdimir Dyatlov

The Burglars

France/Italy 1971 120m Eastmancolor
Panavision
Columbia/Vides (Henri Verneuil)
original title: La Casse
A determined policeman chases three burglars and their girl accomplice.
Expensive, camped-up version of The Burglar, with plenty going on, most of it borrowed from other films.
w Vahe Katcha, Henri Verneuil novel The Burglar by David Goodis d Henri Verneuil ph Claude Renoir m Ennio Morricone
☆ Omar Sharif, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Dyan Cannon, Robert Hossein, Nicole Calfan, Renato Salvatori
'Electronic equipment, wild action, exotic locales and bland villainy.' – Tom Milne, MFB

Buried Alive

US 1991 91m colour
21st Century/Breton (Harry Alan Towers)
A psychiatrist, made mad by his father's experiments, turns a former asylum into a school for disturbed girls.
Dim and gory exploitation movie that borrows ideas from several of Poe's stories but has little notion of what to do with them.
w Jake Clesi, Stuart Lee story Edgar Allan Poe d Gérard Kikoine ph Gérard Loubeau m Frederic Targorn pd Leonardo Coen Calgi ed Gilbert Kikoine
☆ Robert Vaughn, Donald Pleasence, Karen Witter, John Carradine, Nia Long, Ginger Lynn Allen, Bill Butler
† It was John Carradine's last film.

Burke and Hare

GB 1971 91m DeLuxe
UA/Kenneth Shipman/Armitage (Guido Coen)
The story of anatomist Dr Knox and his body snatchers, retold with emphasis on the local brothel.
Depressing in its childish attempts to be gruesome and perverted.
w Ernie Bradford d Vernon Sewell ph Desmond Dickinson m Roger Webb ☆ Harry Andrews, Derren Nesbitt, Glynn Edwards, Yootha Joyce, Dee Sjendery, Alan Tucker

Burke and Wills ★

Australia 1985 140m Eastmancolor
Panavision
Hoyts Edgley (Graeme Clifford, John Sexton)
An account of the 1860 expedition across Australia.
Downbeat epic with interesting highlights; but the length is against it.
w Michael Thomas d Graeme Clifford ph Russell Boyd m Peter Sculthorpe pd Ross Major ☆ Jack Thompson, Nigel Havers, Greta Scacchi, Matthew Fargher
† A parody film, Wills and Burke, appeared simultaneously.

The Burmese Harp ★★★

Japan 1956 116m bw
Nikkatsu (Masayuki Takagi)
original title: Biruma no tategoto
A shell-shocked Japanese soldier stays in the Burmese jungle to bury the unknown dead.
Deeply impressive and horrifying war film with an epic, folk-tale quality, emphasized by superbly controlled direction.
w Natto Wada novel Michio Takeyama d Kon Ichikawa ph Minoru Yokoyama m Akira Ifukube ad Takashi Matsuyama ed Masanori Tsujii ☆ Shoji Yasui (Private Yasushiko Mizushima), Rentaro Mikuni (Captain Inouye), Tatsuya Mihashi (Commander), Tanie Kitabayashi (Old woman)
'Film has a good narrative style, but has over-simplified storytelling and intermittently taking action. It is too downbeat.' – Variety
best foreign film

Burn!: see Queimada!

Burn 'Em Up O'Connor

US 1938 70m bw
MGM
The life and loves of a speedway ace.
Modestly effective second from the time when the studios were trying to make a star of Dennis O'Keefe.
w Milton Merlin, Byron Morgan novel Salute to the Gods by Sir Malcolm Campbell d Edward Sedgwick ☆ Dennis O'Keefe, Harry Carey, Cecilia Parker, Nat Pendleton, Charley Grapewin
'Will fill better half of duals for good b.o.' – Variety

Burn, Witch, Burn: see Night of the Eagle

'Don't look he'll see you. Don't breathe he'll hear you. Don't move you're dead.'

The Burning

US 1981 91m colour
HandMade/Miramax (Harvey Weinstein)
An incinerated caretaker takes his revenge on teenagers at a summer camp.
Dire, totally predictable, uninventive low-budget horror.
w Peter Lawrence, Bob Weinstein story Harvey Weinstein, Tony Maylam, Brad Grey d Tony Maylam ph Harvey Harrison m Rick Wakeman ad Peter Politanoff ed Jack Sholder
☆ Brian Matthews, Leah Ayres, Brian Backer, Larry Joshua, Jason Alexander, Ned Eisenberg, Holly Hunter

Burning an Illusion

GB 1981 111m Eastmancolor
BFI (Vivien Pottersman)
A black secretary in London, reluctantly intrigued by the activities of her political boyfriend, becomes a political militant.
Most people would sigh at the thought of sitting through this decently made but rather earnest document which preaches only to the converted.
wd Menelik Shabazz ph Roy Cornwall songs various ☆ Cassie McFarlane, Victor Romero, Beverley Martin, Angela Wynter

The Burning Hills

US 1956 92m Warnercolor
Cinemascope
Warner (Richard Whorf)
A young rancher gets even with a cattle baron who had his brother killed.
Reasonable but unexciting star vehicle.
w Irving Wallace novel Louis L'Amour d Stuart Heisler ph Ted McCord m David Buttolph ed Clarence Kolster
☆ Natalie Wood, Tab Hunter, Skip Homeier, Eduard Franz, Earl Holliman

Burning Money: see Burnt Money

The Burning Question: see Reefer Madness

Burning Rubber

West Germany 1980 84m colour
Ocean Films/Safe Productions (Stefan Abendroth, Barrie Saint Clair)
A car mechanic becomes a drag-racer with the aid of a rich girlfriend.
An attempt to combine the appeals of pop music and motor-racing, to the detriment of both.
w Dale Cutts, Bill Flynn d Norman Cohen ph Keith Jones m Bay City Rollers ed Wayne Lines
☆ Olivia Pascal, Alan Longmuir, Sascha Hehn, Stuart 'Woody' Wood, Derek Longmuir, Duncan Faure

Burning Secret ★

GB/US 1988 105m colour
Vestron/NFH/CLG Films (Norma Heyman, Eberhard Junkersdoft, Carol Lynn Greene)
An asthmatic boy on the edge of adolescence interferes in a holiday romance between his mother and a stranger.
Constantly promising more than it delivers, though with some interesting stops on an unsatisfying journey.
wd Andrew Birkin story Brennendes Geheimnis by Stefan Zweig ph Ernest Day m Hans Zimmer pd Bernd Lepel ed Paul Green
☆ Faye Dunaway, David Eberts, Klaus Maria Brandauer, Ian Richardson
'Stately, elegant, and stiflingly old-fashioned, producing many exquisite coils of smoke but nothing resembling a real fire.' – Philip Strick, MFB

Burnt by the Sun ★★★

Russia/France 1994 134m colour
Studio Trite/Camera One (Nikita Mikhalkov, Michel Seydoux) original title: Utomlennye Solntsem
In rural Russia in the Stalinist mid-30s, an ageing military hero of the Revolution is betrayed by a former acquaintance, his wife's old boyfriend, who is a turncoat White Russian now working for the secret police.
Complex and tragic, at times almost Chekhovian, evocation of an ambiguous time, of unthinking brutality darkening a summer landscape.

w Nikita Mikhalkov, Rustam Ibragimbekov d Nikita Mikhalkov ph Vilen Kaliuta m Eduard Artemiev ad Aleksandr Samuelekin, Vladimir Aronin ed Enzo Meniconi, Joëlle Hache

☆ Nikita Mikhalkov (Serguei Petrovitch Kotov), Oleg Menchikov (Dimitri (Mitia)), Ingeborga Dapkunaité (Maroussia), Nadya Mikhalkov (Nadia), Viacheslav Tikhonov (Vsevolod Konstantinovich), Svetlana Kriuchkova (Mokhova), Vladimir Ilyin (Kirik)

'The acting is excellent and the direction sympathetic to it, so that the whole glimmers in the mind's eye in a totally different way to anything the American cinema seems capable of at the moment.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'Surely the most charming movie about the horrors of totalitarianism ever made.' – Tom Shone, Sunday Times

† The film shared the Grand Prix at the Cannes Film Festival in 1995. It is dedicated to 'everyone who was burnt by the sun of Revolution'.

best foreign film

Burnt Money ★

Argentina /Spain /France /Uruguay 2000 117m colour
Cuatro Cabezas/Tornasol/Mandarin/Taxi (Oscar Kramer)

original title: Plata Quemada
US title: Burning Money

Two gay Argentinian lovers and thieves take part in a $7m robbery that goes wrong and are forced to flee to Uruguay with their accomplices.

Overlong thriller that alternates between violent action and unconvincing romance. It is based on actual events that took place in 1965, though it rarely has any sense of actuality; it becomes hard to share the director's sentimental approach to two cold-blooded, drug-fuelled killers.

w Marcelo Pineyro, Marcelo Figueras novel Ricardo Piglia d Marcelo Pineyro ph Alfredo Mayo m Osvaldo Montes ed Juan Carlos Macias

☆ Eduardo Noriega (Angel), Leonardo Sbaraglia (El Nene), Pablo Echarri (El Cuervo), Leticia Bredice (Giselle), Ricardo Bartis (Fontana), Dolores Fonzi (Vivi), Carlos Roffe (Nando), Hector Alterio (Losardo)

'These characters exist without motive, but they pulse with a despairing, intensely erotic energy.' – A.O. Scott, New York Times

Burnt Offerings

US 1976 115m DeLuxe
UA/PEA-Dan Curtis (Robert Singer)

An evil house restores itself by feeding on its tenants.

An agreeably macabre idea for a five-page story is dragged out to interminable length, and seizes the attention only by a few shock moments. The title is mysteriously irrelevant.

w William F. Nolan, Dan Curtis novel Robert Marasco d Dan Curtis ph Jacques Marquette m Robert Colbert pd Eugene Lourie

☆ Oliver Reed, Karen Black, Bette Davis, Lee Montgomery, Burgess Meredith, Eileen Heckart, Dub Taylor

'Before the ludicrous dénouement, the movie merely piles on one special effect after another – none of them too special – and stalls for time.' – Janet Maslin, Newsweek

Bury Me Dead ★

US 1947 68m bw
Charles F. Reisner/Eagle Lion

A girl reappears on the day of her 'funeral', and determines to discover who is being buried in her name.

Complex mystery which might have been worthy of a Grade A production.

w Karen de Wolf, Dwight V. Babcock story Irene Winston d Bernard Vorhaus

☆ Cathy O'Donnell, June Lockhart, Hugh Beaumont, Mark Daniels, Greg McClure

Bus 174 ★★★

Brazil 2002 130m colour
Jose Padilha, Marcos Prado

Documentary about a youth who took a busload of passengers hostage in Rio de Janeiro in 2000.

Engrossing film that goes behind the five hour media event, broadcast live across Brazil, that the hijacking became, to discover more about the life of Sandro do Nascimento, a boy from the slums who lived on the streets.

wd Jose Padilha ph Cesar Moraes, Marcelo Guru m Joao Nabuco, Sasha Ambak ed Felipe Lacerda

'A remarkable and unsettling film.' – Wendy Ide, Times

Bus Riley's Back in Town ★

US 1965 93m Eastmancolor
U-I (Elliott Kastner)

An ex-sailor wants to settle back into small-town life but finds that his girlfriend has married.

Watchable, middling, routine small-town drama in the style of Picnic (qv).

w Walter Gage (William Inge) d Harvey Hart ph Russell Metty m Richard Markowitz

☆ Michael Parks, Ann-Margret, Jocelyn Brando, Janet Margolin, Kim Darby, Brad Dexter, Larry Storch, Crahan Denton, Mimsy Farmer, David Carradine

Bus Stop ★★

US 1956 96m Eastmancolor
Cinemascope
TCF (Buddy Adler)

TV title: The Wrong Kind of Girl

In a rodeo town, a simple-thinking cowboy meets a café singer and asks her to marry him.

Sex comedy-drama, a modest entertainment in familiar American vein, very well done but rather over-inflated by its star.

w George Axelrod play William Inge d Joshua Logan ph Milton Krasner m Alfred Newman, Cyril Mockridge

☆ Marilyn Monroe, Don Murray, Betty Field, Arthur O'Connell, Eileen Heckart, Robert Bray, Hope Lange, Hans Conried, Casey Adams

'The film demands of its principal performers a purely physical display of their bodies viewed as sexual machinery.' – David Robinson

Don Murray

Bush Christmas

GB 1947 77m bw
ABFD/Children's Entertainment Films (Ralph Smart)

Australian children on holiday help catch horse thieves.

Rather stolid family feature which got a reputation it hardly deserved.

wd Ralph Smart

☆ Chips Rafferty, John Fernside, Stan Tolshurst, Pat Penny, Thelma Grigg, John McCallum

The Bushido Blade

GB/US 1978 92m colour
Trident/Rankin-Bass (Arthur Rankin Jnr)

aka: The Bloody Bushido Blade

Yokohama 1854; a US-Japanese treaty is in jeopardy because the Shogun's gift of a ceremonial sword has been stolen.

Unappealing hybrid with much beheading and other random action, but little sense.

w William Overgard d Tom Kotani ph Shoji Uedo m Maury Laws

☆ Richard Boone, Frank Converse, Laura Gemser, Toshiro Mifune, Sonny Chiba, James Earl Jones, Mako

Bushwhacked

US 1995 90m DeLuxe
TCF (Charles B. Wessler, Paul Schiff)

Framed for murder, a dim-witted van driver heads for the mountains to prove his innocence and is forced to impersonate a Ranger Scout leader who is taking a troop on an overnight jaunt.

Crude, brash, loud would-be comedy, with a manic central performance; its intended audience of children is likely to find it as unamusing as any adults unfortunate enough to watch it.

w John Jordan, Danny Byers, Tommy Swerdlow, Michael Goldberg d Greg Beeman ph Theo Van de Sande m Bill Conti pd Mark W. Mansbridge, Sandy Veneziano ed Ross Albert

☆ Daniel Stern, Jon Polito, Brad Sullivan, Ann Dowd, Anthony Heald, Tom Wood, Blake Bashoff, Corey Carrier, Michael Galeota

A Business Affair

GB/France/Germany/Spain 1993 102m colour
Entertainment/Film and General/Osby/Connexion (Clive Parsons, Davina Belling, Xavier Larere)

An author with writer's block is annoyed by his wife's success as a novelist and her decision to leave him for his agent.

Slick, forgettable romantic nonsense, through which its talented cast dispiritedly flounders.

w William Stadiem, Lucy Flannery novel Tears before Bedtime, Weep No More by Barbara Skelton d Charlotte Brandstorm ph Willy Kurant m Didier Vasseur pd Sophie Becher ed Laurence Méry-Clark

☆ Christopher Walken, Jonathan Pryce, Carole Bouquet, Sheila Hancock, Anna Manahan, Tom Wilkinson

'A whimsical love-triangle saga with the production values of a mineral water commercial.' – Geoffrey Macnab, Sight and Sound

Business and Pleasure

US 1931 76m bw
Fox

A down-to-earth husband is tempted by a femme fatale.

Mild star comedy for his regular fans.

w Gene Towne, William Conselman novel The Plutocrat by Booth Tarkington d David Butler

☆ Will Rogers, Jetta Goudal, Joel McCrea, Dorothy Peterson, Jed Prouty

'West of Albany, perhaps, it will see some good business.' – Variety

Business As Usual

GB 1987 90m colour
Cannon (Sara Geater)

The manageress of a shop, sacked for objecting to her boss's sexual harassment of his staff, fights back.

Agit-prop drama with some forceful performances.

wd Lezli-An Barrett ph Ernie Vincze ad Hildegarde Betchler ed Henry Richardson

☆ Glenda Jackson, John Thaw, Cathy Tyson, Mark McGann, Buki Armstrong, Stephen McGann, Philip Foster, Natalie Duffy, James Hazeldine, Mel Martin

The Business of Strangers ★

US 2001 84m DuArt
Momentum/i5/Headquarters (Susan A. Stover, Robert H. Nathan)

In an airport hotel, a middle-aged career woman and her young assistant bond over the humiliation of a man who may be a rapist.

Icy drama of the soulessness of corporate life that becomes a less interesting revenge melodrama, but remains always watchable.

wd Patrick Stettner ph Teo Maniaci m Alexander Lasarenko pd Dina Goldman ed Keiko Deguchi

☆ Stockard Channing (Julie Styron), Julia Stiles (Paula Murphy), Frederick Weller (Nick Harris)

'Precisely the sort of muddled, PC, good-taste, almost-angry feminist issue movie that gives the mainstream a bad name.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Buster

GB 1988 102m colour
Vestron/The Movie Group (Norma Heyman)

True story of Great Train Robber, actually a small-time thief, on the run.

Uneasy combination of romantic comedy and chase thriller.

w Colin Schindler d David Green ph Tony Imi m Anne Dudley pd Simon Holland ed Lesley Walker

☆ Phil Collins, Julie Walters, Larry Lamb, Stephanie Lawrence, Martin Jarvis, Sheila Hancock, Anthony Quayle

best song 'Two Hearts' (m/ly Lamont Dozier, Phil Collins)

Buster and Billie

US 1973 99m CFI color
Black Creek Billie/Columbia

A sensitive high school senior elects to marry the school's derided 'easy lay', with tragic results.

Unattractive reminiscences of rural Georgia with a rather desperate appeal to oversexed teenagers.

w Ron Turbeville d Daniel Petrie ph Mario Tosi

☆ Jan-Michael Vincent, Pamela Sue Martin, Joan Goodfellow, Clifton James Buster Keaton: A Hard Act to Follow ★★★

GB 1987 156m colour/bw
Thames TV (Kevin Brownlow, David Gill)

A three-part investigation of the art and life of Keaton, including many clips from his films as well as interviews with him and those who worked with him.

An exemplary and fascinating documentary on one of the greatest of cinematic clowns.

w Kevin Brownlow, David Gill m Carl Davis

☆ Lindsay Anderson (narrator)

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

The Buster Keaton Story ★

US 1957 91m bw Vistavision
Paramount (Sidney Sheldon, Robert Smith)

A biopic of the great silent comedian, with the emphasis on his years of downfall through drink.

An interesting recreation of Hollywood in the twenties and thirties is the main asset of this otherwise dismal tribute to a man whose greatness the star is unable to suggest apart from a few acrobatic moments.

w Robert Smith, Sidney Sheldon d Sidney Sheldon ph Loyal Griggs m Victor Young

☆ Donald O'Connor, Rhonda Fleming, Ann Blyth, Peter Lorre, Larry Keating, Richard Anderson, Dave Willock

Bustin' Loose

US 1981 94m Technicolor
Universal/Richard Pryor (William Greaves)

A thief on parole learns to look after a school for maladjusted children en route to a mountain retreat.

A fairly nauseous compendium of pratfalls and sentiment, not too bad while it keeps on the move.

w Roger L. Simon d Oz Scott ph Dennis Dalzell m Mark Davis, Roberta Flack

☆ Richard Pryor, Cicely Tyson, Angel Ramirez, Jimmy Hughes

'The sort of forties-style warm experience I could well do without.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Busting

US 1973 92m DeLuxe
UA/Chartoff-Winkler (Henry Gellis)

Two Los Angeles vice squad officers fight corruption inside and outside the force.

Violent, exhausting, but totally routine police caper of the seventies.

wd Peter Hyams ph Earl Rath m Billy Goldenberg

☆ Elliott Gould, Robert Blake, Allen Garfield, Antonio Fargas

'The farcical version of Serpico.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

Busy Bodies ★★

US 1933 20m bw
MGM/Hal Roach

Stan and Ollie are involved in various disasters in a sawmill.

Though not among their most sympathetic comedies, this is a sustained and brilliantly contrived slapstick sequence.

w Anon (and Stan Laurel) d Lloyd French ph Art Lloyd ed Bert Jordan

☆ Laurel and Hardy, Tiny Sandford, Charlie Hall

The Busy Body

US 1966 102m Technicolor Techniscope
Paramount/William Castle

A gangster is buried in a suit with a million dollar lining which various people are out to get.

Unfunny black comedy; laboured handling makes it a joke in poor taste.

w Ben Starr novel Donald E. Westlake d William Castle ph Hal Stine m Vic Mizzy

☆ Robert Ryan, Sid Caesar, Arlene Golonka, Anne Baxter, Kay Medford, Charles McGraw

'A Comedy Of Sexual Disorientation.'

But I'm A Cheerleader

US 1999 81m colour
Fine Line/Ignite/Kushner-Locke/HKM (Andrea Sperling, Leanna Creel)

A cheerleader, who is suspected of lesbian tendencies by her uptight parents, is sent to a rehabilitation camp to change her sexual orientation.

Camp camp comedy likely to enjoy a cult following among gays, but too obvious to provide more than a few laughs.

w Brian Wayne Peterson d Jamie Babbit ph Jules LaBarthe m Pat Irwin pd Rachel Kamerman ed Cecily Rhett

☆ Natasha Lyonne (Megan), Clea DuVall (Graham), Cathy Moriarty (Mary Brown), Bud Cort (Peter), Mink Stole (Nancy), RuPaul Charles (Mike), Eddie Cibrian (Rock), Julie Delpy (Lipstick Lesbian)

'A shallow, only mildly entertaining satire.' – Variety

But Not for Me

US 1959 105m bw
Paramount (William Perlberg, George Seaton)

An ageing, washed-up Broadway producer is loved by his young drama student secretary.

Rather heavy-going remake of Accent on Youth (qv), efficiently performed but lacking the original gaiety.

w John Michael Hayes d Walter Lang ph Robert Burks m Leith Stevens

☆ Clark Gable, Carroll Baker, Lilli Palmer, Lee J. Cobb, Barry Coe, Thomas Gomez

But the Flesh Is Weak

US 1932 82m bw
MGM

A widower and his son both decide to marry wealthy widows.

Amusing high society comedy from Ivor Novello's The Truth Game.

w Ivor Novello d Jack Conway

☆ Robert Montgomery, C. Aubrey Smith, Heather Thatcher, Edward Everett Horton, Nils Asther

Butch and Sundance: The Early Days ★

US 1979 112m DeLuxe
TCF (Gabriel Katzka, Stephen Bach)

Early episodes in the careers of the famous outlaws, culminating in a train robbery.

'Prequel' to a more celebrated but not a fresher or more lyrical Western.

w Allan Burns d Richard Lester ph Laszlo Kovacs m Patrick Williams pd Brian Eatwell

☆ Tom Berenger, William Katt, Jeff Corey, John Schuck, Michael C. Gwynne, Brian Dennehy, Peter Weller

'Not that it matters, but most of it is true!'

Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid ★★★★

US 1969 110m DeLuxe Panavision
TCF/Campanile (John Foreman)

A hundred years ago, two Western train robbers keep one step ahead of the law until finally tracked down to Bolivia.

Humorous, cheerful, poetic, cinematic account of two semi-legendary outlaws, winningly acted and directed. One of the decade's great commercial successes, not least because of the song 'Raindrops Keep Fallin' on My Head'.

w William Goldman d George Roy Hill ph Conrad Hall m Burt Bacharach ad Jack Martin Smith, Philip Jefferies ed John C. Howard

☆ Paul Newman (Butch Cassidy), Robert Redford (The Sundance Kid), Katharine Ross (Etta Place), Strother Martin (Paercy Garris), Henry Jones (Bike Salesman), Jeff Corey (Sheriff Bledsoe), Cloris Leachman (Agnes), Ted Cassidy (Harvey Logan), Kenneth Mars (Marshal)

'A mere exercise in smart-alecky device-mongering, chock-full of out of place and out of period one-upmanship, a battle of wits at a freshman smoker.' – John Simon

'The film does wonderful things with mood and atmosphere. The touches are fleeting, but they are there.' – Hollis Alpert, Saturday Review

† Region 1 and 2 DV D releases include commentary by director George Roy Hill, Hal David, Robert Crawford and cinematographer Conrad Hall.

William Goldman; Conrad Hall; Burt Bacharach; song 'Raindrops Keep Fallin' on My Head' (m Burt Bacharach, ly Hal David)

best picture; George Roy Hill; sound (William Edmondson, David Dockendorf)

best picture; George Roy Hill; Conrad Hall; Burt Bacharach; William Goldman; Robert Redford; Katharine Ross; sound track

The Butcher: see Le Boucher

Butcher Boy ★★★

Ireland/US 1997 110m Technicolor
Warner/Geffen (Redmond Morris, Stephen Woolley)

In the early 60s, an Irish boy with an alcoholic father and suicidal mother grows up to be a murderer.

Sustained by a superb performance in the title role, this is a bleak, dark drama of alienation and despair, shot through with a gallows humour.

w Neil Jordan, Patrick McCabe novel Patrick McCabe d Neil Jordan ph Adrian Biddle m Elliot Goldenthal pd Anthony Pratt ad Anna Rackard ed Tony Lawson

☆ Stephen Rea (Benny Brady, "Da"), Fiona Shaw (Mrs. Nugent), Eamonn Owens (Francie Brady), Alan Boyle (Joe Purcell), Brendan Gleeson (Father Bubbles), Milo O'Shea (Father Sullivan), Ian Hart (Uncle Alo), Sinead O'Connor (Our Lady/Colleen), Patrick McCabe (Jimmy-the-Skite)

'A heart-wrenching black comedy.' – Paddy Barrett, Screen International

'Grips like The 400 Blows crossed with A Clockwork Orange.' – Alexander Walker

'It's not about meat, it's about magic.'

The Butcher's Wife

US 1991 105m Technicolor
Blue Dolphin/Paramount (Wallis Nicita, Lauren Lloyd)

A clairvoyant marries a butcher and tells customers of her premonitions concerning them.

Whimsical romantic comedy that sank without a trace.

w Ezra Litwak, Marjorie Schwartz d Terry Hughes ph Frank Tidy m Michael Gore pd Charles Rosen ed Donn Cambern

☆ Demi Moore, Jeff Daniels, George Dzundza, Mary Steenburgen, Frances McDormand, Margaret Colin, Max Perlich, Miriam Margolyes

'The jokes and folksy apopthegms are the sort that fill out the pages of Reader's Digest, the over-acting is the kind of thing good performers resort to in long-running Broadway plays.' – Philip French, Observer

The Butler's Dilemma

GB 1943 83m bw
British National/Shaftesbury (Elizabeth Hiscott)

A jewel thief has to pose as his fiancée's butler.

Predictable comedy of pretence and mistaken identity; a tolerable co-feature of its day.

w Michael Barringer d Leslie Hiscott ph James Wilson m John Blore

☆ Richard Hearne, Francis L. Sullivan, Judy Kelly, Hermione Gingold, Henry Kendall, Wally Patch

Butley ★

US/GB 1973 130m Eastmancolor
American Express/Ely Landau/Cinevision

Personal problems assail an English lecturer at a university college.

Adequate but not outstanding transcription (for the American Film Theater) of a successful and percipient play.

w Simon Gray play Simon Gray d Harold Pinter ph Gerry Fisher m none ad Carmen Dillon

☆ Alan Bates, Jessica Tandy, Richard O'Callaghan, Susan Engel, Michael Byrne

The Butter and Egg Man

This pleasant George S. Kaufman comedy about a cowboy in New York was filmed as a silent in 1928, with Jack Mulhall; in 1932 as The Tenderfoot (qv) with Joe E. Brown; in 1937 as Dance Charlie Dance with Stuart Erwin; and in 1940 as An Angel from Texas (qv) with Eddie Albert.

The Buttercup Chain ★

GB 1970 95m Technicolor Panavision
Columbia (Leslie Gilliat, John Whitney, Philip Waddilove)

A hothouse sex quartet changes partners with bewildering rapidity against a background of European splendour.

Chi-chi romance with a fashionably disillusioned and tragic ending. As watchable as the best TV commercials, but totally empty.

w Peter Draper novel Janice Elliott d Robert Ellis Miller ph Douglas Slocombe m Richard Rodney Bennett

☆ Hywel Bennett, Leigh Taylor-Young, Jane Asher, Sven-Bertil Taube, Clive Revill, Roy Dotrice

'British bathos about the unhappy overprivileged.' – Variety

'The most desirable woman in town, and the easiest to find!'

Butterfield Eight

US 1960 108m Metrocolor Cinemascope
MGM/Afton/Linebrook (Pandro S. Berman)

A society call girl has a complex love life.

This coy sex drama seemed mildly daring in 1960, but has since been well outclassed in that field and certainly has nothing else going for it except good production values.

w Charles Schnee, John Michael Hayes novel John O'Hara d Daniel Mann ph Joseph Ruttenberg, Charles Harten m Bronislau Kaper

☆ Elizabeth Taylor, Laurence Harvey, Eddie Fisher, Dina Merrill, Mildred Dunnock, Betty Field, Jeffrey Lynn, Kay Medford, Susan Oliver

'The mixture resolutely refuses to come to the boil.' – John Gillett

Elizabeth Taylor

Joseph Ruttenberg, Charles Harten

Butterflies Are Free

US 1972 109m Eastmancolor
Columbia/M. J. Frankovich

An aspiring actress falls for a blind neighbour but is handicapped by his possessive mother.

Three-character comedy-drama from a slight, sentimental but successful Broadway play.

w Leonard Gershe play Leonard Gershe d Milton Katselas ph Charles B. Lang m Bob Alcivar

☆ Goldie Hawn, Edward Albert, Eileen Heckart

Eileen Heckart

Charles B. Lang

Butterfly

US 1981 108m Metrocolor
Par Par (Matt Cimber)

A 17-year-old sexpot reappears in her father's life, commits incest with him, and sets in train a grotesque series of plot developments.

Risible concatenation of murders, repentances, illegitimate sex and various kinds of lust, all revolving round butterfly marks and set in 1937 backwoods Arizona.

Tobacco Road it ain't, though.

w John Goff, Matt Cimber novel The Butterfly by James M. Cain d Matt Cimber ph Eddy Van Der Enden m Ennio Morricone

☆ Stacy Keach, Pia Zadora, Orson Welles, Lois Nettleton, Edward Albert, Stuart Whitman, Ed MacMahon, June Lockhart, James Franciscus

The Butterfly Effect

Spain/France/GB 1995 109m colour
Blue Dolphin/Fernando Colomo/Mainstream/Portman/Oceandeep (Beatriz de la Gindara)

The tangled love life of a student and his family in London brings down the Spanish government.

Chaos theory, in which minor happenings can have major effects, is meant to underpin this camp comedy; those who watch it may be put off international co-productions for life.

w Joaquin Oristrell, Fernando Colomo d Fernando Colomo ph Jean-François Robin m Ketama ad John Roberts ed Miguel Angel Santamaria

☆ Maria Barranco, Coque Malla, Rosa Maria Sarda, James Fleet, Peter Sullivan, Cécile Pallas, John Faal

'A delightful comedy of manners. Its cross-cultural observations on Spanish and British cultural mores are perceptively written.' – José Arroyo, Sight and Sound

'This one's entire cast should be garrotted. You thought there couldn't be a worse director in Spain than the punk cartoonist Almodovar. Wrong: his name is Fernando Colomo.' – Alexander Walker, London Evening Standard

'Change one thing, change everything.'

The Butterfly Effect

US 2004 113m DeLuxe
Benderspink/FilmEngine/Katalyst (Chris Bender, A.J. Dix, Anthony Rhulen, JC Spink)

A student who had a disturbed and abusive childhood creates alternative futures for himself by changing the past.

Structured a little like one of those Russian dolls, with smaller dolls nested in one another, this needlessly complex thriller reveals a succession of its protagonist's differing memories until finally revealing that it is empty inside.

wd Eric Bress, J. Mackye Gruber ph Matthew F. Leonetti m Michael Suby pd Douglas Higgins ed Peter Amundson

☆ Ashton Kutcher (Evan Treborn), Amy Smart (Kayleigh), Eric Stoltz (Mr Miller), William Lee Scott (Tommy), Elden Henson (Lenny), Ethan Suplee (Thumper), Melora Walters (Andrea)

'Grows more ridiculous by the quarter-hour and is poised for a theatrical life span scarcely longer than that of its eponymous insect.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Butterfly Kiss ★

GB 1995 88m colour/bw
Electric/Dan/British Screen (Julie Baines)

An assistant at a motorway services shop takes in a suicidal young wanderer and the couple begin a lesbian affair; they travel the roads together, killing those they meet.

A grim and downbeat tale of obsessive love and despair, displaying an undeniable, though depressing, talent.

w Frank Cottrell Boyce d Michael Winterbottom ph Seamus McGarvey m John Harle ad Rupert Miles ed Trevor Waite

☆ Amanda Plummer, Saskia Reeves, Kathy Jamieson, Des McAleer, Freda Dowie, Lisa Jane Riley, Ricky Tomlinson

'The film's quiet sense of style, its sensibly short length, expert editing and sure touch ... proclaim an exceptional new director for the cinema.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'Resembles nothing so much as a trawl through dirt-cheap, one dimensional thrilleramics. A film unlikely to do much for either the serial killer genre or motorway services tourist trade.' – Clark Collis, Empire

Butterfly Legend

US 1999 80m Technicolor
3 Sirens/Gun For Hire (Ronnie Shapiro)

video title: The Stranger

After the death of her young daughter, the wife of a wealthy businessman is haunted by dreams of a childhood trauma, and of making love to a stranger.

Interminably boring, would-be sophisticated psychological drama, which tries to impress with glossy setting and windy platitudes.

w Elliot Geisinger, Bruce David Klein d Bruce David Klein ph Wolfgang Held m Evan Lurie pd Roshelle Berliner ed Merril Stern

☆ William Atherton (Arthur), Roxana Zal (Juliet), Robert Cuccioli (Man), Allison Mackie (Kate), Thom Christopher (Steve), Jenifer Krater (Bridgette), Philippe Mao (Anton)

The Butterfly Murders ★★★

Hong Kong 1979 colour 'Scope
Ng See Yuen (Ng See Kin)

A wandering scholar, at a time of warring factions, solves the mystery of an aristocratic family apparently plagued by killer butterflies.

A visually splendid martial arts fantasy with elaborately choreographed fight sequences, done with immense melodramatic style.

w Lam Fan d Tsui Hark ph Fun Chin Yu ed Zhixiong Huang, David Wu

☆ Lau Siu Ming (Fang Hongye), Wong Shee Tong (Tian Feng (as Shutang Huang)), Michelle (Green Shadow), Chan Chi Chi (Lady Shen), Cheong Kwok Chu, Kuo Hung, Wong Cheong, Kiu Fung

Butterfly's Tongue ★★

Spain 1998 96m colour Panavision
Metrodome/Sogetel/Grupo Voz/Canal+/TVG/TVE

original title: La Lengua de las Mariposas

In 1936, a small boy in Catalonia observes the everday life around him, and the growing hostility between Republicans and Nationalists that signaled the beginning of the Spanish Civil War.

An elegiac drama, full of charm and humanity, with its nostalgia of a child's eye view of events undercut by an awareness of the betrayals to come.

w Rafael Azcona, José Luis Cuerda, Manuel Rivas d José Luis Cuerda ph Javier G. Salmones m Alejandro Amenábar ad Josep Rosell ed Ignacio Cayetano Rodriguez, Nacho Ruiz Capillas cos Sonia Grande

☆ Fernando Fernan Gomez (Don Gregorio), Manuel Lozano (Moncho), Uxía Blanco (Rosa), Gonzalo Uriarte (Ramon), Alexis de los Santos (Andres), Jesus Castejon (Don Avelino), Guillermo Toledo (O'lis), Elena Fernandez (Carmina), Tamar Novas (Roque), Tatan (Roque Padre), Roberto Vidal (Boal)

'A modest and unassuming picture that offers all the pleasures of the period genre.' – Paul Julian Smith, Sight and Sound

Buy & Cell

US 1989 95m colour
Empire/Altar (Frank Yablans)

Framed for embezzlement, a stockbroker runs a successful investment company from inside prison.

Dire comedy on the theme that greed makes brothers of us all; every scene goes on too long and unsubtle performances are encouraged.

w Ken Krauss, Merrin Holt story Leonard Montana, Louis Peraino d Robert Boris ph Daniele Nannuzzi m Mark Shreeve pd Giovanni Natalucci ed Bert Glatstein

☆ Robert Carradine, Michael Winslow, Ben Vereen, Malcolm McDowell, Randall 'Tex' Cobb, Imogene Coca, Fred Travalena, Roddy Piper, Lise Cutter, Tony Plana, Michael Goodwin

Buy Me That Town ★

US 1941 70m bw
Paramount (Sol C. Siegel)

Gangsters take over a small town and pull the community out of bankruptcy.

Unusual comedy-drama, quite well done for a second feature.

w Gordon Kahn d Eugene Forde ph Theodor Sparkuhl

☆ Lloyd Nolan, Albert Dekker, Constance Moore, Sheldon Leonard, Vera Vague, Edward Brophy, Horace MacMahon, Warren Hymer

Bwana Devil

US 1952 79m Anscocolor 3D (UA)

At the turn of the century, two man-eating lions threaten an African railroad.

Inept actioner notable only as the first film in 3-D ('Natural Vision'), advertised with the famous slogan 'A lion in your lap'.

wd Arch Oboler ph Joseph Biroc m Gordon Jenkins

☆ Robert Stack, Barbara Britton, Nigel Bruce, Ramsay Hill

By Candlelight ★

US 1933 70m bw
Universal (Carl Laemmle Jnr)

On a transcontinental train a woman meets a butler and takes him for a prince; he does not disillusion her.

Moderately pleasing romantic comedy of the old school.

w Hans Kraly, F. Hugh Herbert, Karen de Wolf, Ruth Cummings play Siegfried Geyer d James Whale

☆ Elissa Landi, Paul Lukas, Nils Asther

'A nice little class picture that should make money all round.' – Variety

'A dazzling display of romantic confidence trickery which takes on Lubitsch in his own territory.' – Tom Milne, 1978

By Hook or by Crook: see I Dood It

By Love Possessed ★

US 1961 116m DeLuxe Panavision
UA/Mirisch/Seven Arts (Walter Mirisch)

A Massachusetts lawyer reflects on the outlandish sexual mores of himself, his family and friends.

Peyton Place moved up in the social scale; a reasonably absorbing melodrama but hardly memorable.

w John Dennis novel James Gould Cozzens d John Sturges ph Russell Metty m Elmer Bernstein

☆ Lana Turner, Efrem Zimbalist Jnr, Jason Robards Jnr, Barbara Bel Geddes, George Hamilton, Susan Kohner, Thomas Mitchell, Yvonne Craig, Everett Sloane

'A talky succession of soap opera situations.' – Robert Windeler

'The most warm-hearted musical under the sun!'

By the Light of the Silvery Moon ★

US 1953 101m Technicolor
Warner (William Jacobs)

In a small American town in 1918, the Winfield family has several problems arising from the return of daughter Marjorie's soldier boyfriend.

A sequel to On Moonlight Bay (qv), presenting further situations from the Penrod stories retailored for Doris Day. Inoffensive, well-made, old-fashioned entertainment with nostalgic songs and an archetypal family.

w Robert O'Brien, Irving Elinson stories Booth Tarkington d David Butler ph Wilfrid M. Cline m Max Steiner md Ray Heindorf ch Donald Saddler ad John Beckman ed Irene Morra

☆ Doris Day (Marjorie), Gordon MacRae (William Sherman), Leon Ames (George Winfield), Rosemary de Camp (Mrs Winfield), Mary Wickes (Stella), Billy Gray (Wesley), Russell Arms (Chester Finley), Maria Palmer (Miss LaRue), Howard Wendell (John Harris), Walter Flannery (Pee Wee)

By Your Leave

US 1934 81m bw
RKO

A restless husband tries to be a Don Juan.

Very mild domestic comedy.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

w Allan Scott play Gladys Hurlbut, Emma B. C. Wells d Lloyd Corrigan ☆ Frank Morgan, Genevieve Tobin, Neil Hamilton, Marian Nixon, Glenn Anders, Gene Lockhart, Margaret Hamilton, Betty Grable, Charles Ray

'Once the customers are in they'll get some laughs, but they're not going to be easy to entice.' – Variety

Bye Bye Birdie

US 1963 112m Eastmancolor Panavision
Columbia/Fred Kohlmar/George Sidney

Havoc suffuses the last TV show of a pop star before he goes into the army.
Noisy, frenetic musical, hard to follow and even harder to like, with all the satire of the stage original subtracted. For young audiences who enjoy incoherence.
w Irving Brecher musical Michael Stewart d George Sidney ph Joseph Biroc m/ly Charles Strouse, Lee Adams md Johnny Green ☆ Janet Leigh, Dick Van Dyke, Maureen Stapleton, Ann-Margret, Bobby Rydell, Jesse Pearson, Ed Sullivan, Paul Lynde, Robert Paige
♪ Johnny Green

Bye Bye Blues

Canada 1989 117m colour
Artificial Eye/True Blue Films/Allarcom/Telefilm Canada/CFCN TV/CITV (Anne Wheeler, Arvi Liimatainen, Jerry Krepakevich)

A mother with two young children awaits the return of her soldier husband.
Uninteresting throwback to women's movies of the 1940s.
wd Anne Wheeler ph Vic Sarin m George Blondheim pd John Blackie ad Scott Dobbie, Jayoo Patwarchan, Chinu Patwarchan ed Christopher Tate
☆ Michael Ontkean, Rebecca Jenkins, Luke Reilly, Stuart Margolin, Wayne Robson, Robyn Stevan

'A film which, without exactly bowling one over, will probably remain in the memory longer than most.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

Bye Bye Braverman ★

US 1968 92m Technicolor
Warner/Sidney Lumet

New Yorkers get drunk and disillusioned on their way home from the funeral of a friend.
Witty, downbeat Jewish comedy which does not quite come off and would in any case be caviare to the general.
w Herbert Sargent novel To an Early Grave by Wallace Markfield d Sidney Lumet ph Boris Kaufman m Peter Matz
☆ George Segal, Jack Warden, Joseph Wiseman, Sorrell Booke, Jessica Walter, Phyllis Newman, Zohra Lampert, Alan King, Godfrey Cambridge

'You don't have to be Jewish to love it, but it helps a lot to be a New Yorker.' – Robert Hatch, The Nation

Bye Bye Love

US 1995 106m DeLuxe
TCF/UBU (Gary David Goldberg, Brad Hall, Sam Weisman)

Three divorced fathers spend the weekend with their kids in various ways.
Bland and innocuous comedy in favour of family values and McDonald's hamburgers, though not necessarily in that order.
w Gary David Goldberg, Brad Hall d Sam Weisman ph Kenneth Zunder m J. A. C. Redford pd Linda DeScenna ed Roger Bondelli
☆ Matthew Modine, Randy Quaid, Paul Reiser, Janeane Garofalo, Rob Reiner, Amy Brenneman, Eliza Dushku, Ed Flanders, Maria Pitillo, Lindsay Crouse

'Funny and poignant, with the good-natured effort and its affable cast elevating a sometimes schematic story.' – Leonard Klady, Variety

Bye Bye Monkey

Italy/France 1977 114m Eastmancolor
18 Dicembre/Prospectacle/Action Film (Giorgio Nocella, Maurice Bernart)

original title: Ciao Maschio
A Frenchman, dividing his time between a wax museum and a theatre group run by women, finds a chimpanzee and adopts it as his son.
Desultory drama of misfits drifting through New York that is never sharp or observant enough to be either amusing or interesting; and the deaths at the end do not make it tragic.
w Marco Ferreri, Gérard Brach, Rafael Azcona d Marco Ferreri ph Luciano Tovoli m Philippe Sarde ad Dante Ferretti ed Ruggero Mastroianni ☆ Gérard Depardieu, James Coco, Marcello Mastroianni, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Gail Lawrence, Stefania Casini, Francesca de Sapio, Mimsy Farmer

'A rap-to-riches comedy.'

CB4

US 1993 88m DeLuxe
Universal (Nelson George)

Clean-living middle-class youths form a gangsta rap group called Cell Block 4 and pretend to be tough.

Brief appearances from Ice T, Ice Cube, Flavour Flav and others add a little authenticity to a slight but amusing satire at the expense of the macho posturing of rappers. It will be most enjoyed by those attuned to the phenomenon of hip hop.

w Chris Rock, Nelson George, Robert LoCash d Tamra Davis ph Karl Walter Lindenlaub m John Barnes pd Nelson Coates ed Earl Watson

☆ Chris Rock, Allen Payne, Deezer D, Phil Hartman, Arthur Evans, Theresa Randle, Willard E. Pugh, Richard Gant, Charlie Murphy, Chris Elliott

'Lively is the word for its better parts. Terminally disorganised would be the best one for the rest.' – Derek Malcolm, Guardian

'The satire is feeble, the pastiche documentary botched. Stereotypes are peeled away to reveal stereotypes beneath.' – Philip French, Observer

C.C. and Company

US 1971 84m colour
Allan Carr-Roger Smith/Avco Embassy

Adventures of a motorcycle gang.

Bottom of the barrel programme-filler.

w Roger Smith d Seymour Robbie

☆ Joe Namath, Ann-Margret, William Smith, Jennifer Billingsley, Don Chastain

C.H.O.M.P.S.: see Chomps

C.R.A.Z.Y. ★ (8)

Canada 2005 125m
Soda/Cirrus Communications/Crazy Films (Pierre Even)

Teenage boy in 1970s Montreal suburb gradually realises he is gay and finally comes out.

Odd, sometimes engaging but overlong story about Zac, the youngest of four brothers who constantly locks horns with his boorish brothers and his homophobic father. But his decision to declare his homosexuality takes an eternity, and the subject is discreetly tiptoed around. Even the period detail (David Bowie Aladdin Sane*-style face-paint) cannot compensate for the story's padding.*

w Jean-Marc Vallee, Francois Boulay d Jean-Marc Vallee ph Pierre Mignot pd Patrice Bricault-Vermette ed Paul Jutras

☆ Marc-Andre Grondin (Zac), Michel Cote (Gervais, Zac's father), Danielle Proulx (Laurianne, Zac's mother)

'Male affection is kept off-screen.' – Ryan Gilbey, Sight & Sound

'What if the South had won the War?'

C.S.A. The Confederate States of America ★ (8)

US 2004 89m
Tartan Films/Hodcarrier Films (Rick Cowan)

What would have happened had the Confederacy won the American Civil War instead of the Union.

Ingenious mock-documentary that ultimately proves more entertaining than persuasive.

wd Kevin Willmott ph Matt Jacobson m Erich L Timkar ed Sean Blake, David Gramly

☆ Rupert Pate (Sherman Hoyle), Evamarii Johnson (Patricia Johnson), Don Carlton (Colonel Bloodhound), Larry Peterson (John Ambrose Fauntroy V), Greg Kirsch (Confederate Family Dad), Renee Patrick (Confederate Family Mom)

'More intriguing on paper than when it actually unspools onscreen.' – Todd McCarthy, Variety

Ca Commence Aujourd'hui: see It All Starts Today

Ça Peut Pas être L'Hiver, On N'a Même Pas Eu Été: see It Can't Be Winter, We Haven't Had Summer Yet

'A divinely decadent experience!'

Cabaret ★★★★

US 1972 123m Technicolor
ABC Pictures/Allied Artists (Cy Feuer)

In the early thirties, Berlin is a hot-bed of vice and anti-Semitism. In the Kit Kat Klub, singer Sally Bowles shares her English lover with a homosexual German baron, and her Jewish friend Natasha has troubles of her own.

This version of Isherwood's Berlin stories regrettably follows the plot line of the play I Am a Camera rather than the Broadway musical on which it is allegedly based, and it lacks the incisive remarks of the MC, but the very smart direction creates a near-masterpiece of its own, and most of the songs are intact.

w Jay Presson Allen novel Goodbye to Berlin by Christopher Isherwood d Bob Fosse ph Geoffrey Unsworth m/ly John Kander, Fred Ebb md Ralph Burns ch Bob Fosse pd Rolf Zehetbauer ad Rolf Zehetbauer, Jurgen Kiebach ed David Bretherton

☆ Liza Minnelli (Sally Bowles), Joel Grey (Master of Ceremonies), Michael York (Brian Roberts), Helmut Griem (Maximilian von Heune), Fritz Wepper (Fritz Wendel), Marisa Berenson (Natalia Landauer), Elisabeth Neumann-Viertel

'A stylish, sophisticated entertainment for grown-up people.' – John Russell Taylor

'Film journals will feast for years on shots from this picture; as it rolled along, I saw page after illustrated page from a not-too-distant book called The Cinema of Bob Fosse.' – Stanley Kauffmann

Bob Fosse (as director); Geoffrey Unsworth; Ralph Burns; Liza Minnelli; Joel Grey picture; Jay Presson Allen film; Rolf Zehetbauer; Geoffrey Unsworth; Bob Fosse; Liza Minnelli; Joel Grey

Cabaret Balkan ★★★

France/Greece/Macedonia/Turkey /Yugoslavia
1998 102m colour
Macht/Ticket/Vans/Stefi/Mine/Gradski/Canal+ (Antoine De Clermont-Tonnerre, Goran Paskaljevic)

original title: Bure Baruta

The lives of many people intersect during one night in Belgrade, with tragic and comic results.

An entertaining, powerful, blackly ironic account of the life of ordinary people in a city of casual violence and desperation.

w Dejan Dukovski, Goran Paskaljevic, Filip David, Zoran Andric play Bure Baruta by Dejan Dukovski d Goran Paskaljevic ph Milan Spasic m Zoran Simjanovic ad Milenko Jeremic ed Petar Putnikovic cos Zora Mojsilovic-Popovic

☆ Aleksandar Bercek (Dimitri), Vojislav Brajovic (Topi), Bogdan Diklic (Jovan), Nebojsa Glogovac (Taxi Driver), Mirjana Jokovic (Ana), Mirjana Karanovic (Natalia), Miki Manojlovic (Michael), Toni Mihajlovski (George), Nebojsa Milovanovic (Bosnian Serb Son), Dragan Nikolic, Lazar Ristovski (Boxer), Nikola Ristanovski, Ana Sofrenovic, Sergej Trifunovic (Young Man)

'Presents a devastating vision of a war-torn country in which the basic laws of civilized behavior have eroded in a climate of all-consuming suspicion, hatred and vengeance.' – Stephen Holden, New York Times

Cabeza de Vaca ★

Mexico/Spain 1990 111m Eastmancolor
Iguana Productions (Rafael Cruz, Jorge Sánchez, Julio Solórzano Foppa, Bertha Navarro)

In the 1520s, the leader of a group of Spanish conquistadores, shipwrecked off the coast of Florida, survives ambush, torture and privation by learning to live with the natives.

An ambitious, overlong, often mystic and sometimes violent epic, taken from a contemporary account, which is on the side of the native Americans.

w Guillermo Sheridan, Nicolás Echevarria book Naufragios by Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca d Nicolás Echevarria ph Guillermo Navarro m Mario Lavista ad José Luis Aguilar Gil ed Rafael Castanedo

☆ Juan Diego, Daniel Gimenez Cacho, Roberto Sosa, Carlos Castañón, Gerardo Villarreal, Roberto Cobo, José Flores

'It's a demanding pic for audiences, but they will be well rewarded with a film that's exotic, mysterious, bizarre (shades of Alexandro Jodorowsky) and dramatic.' – Variety

'He's setting sail on the high seas. Without a rudder, a compass or a clue!'

Cabin Boy

US 1994 80m Foto-Kem
Hollywood (Tim Burton, Denise di Novi)

A rich and snobbish youth boards the wrong boat and finds himself in rough and fantastic company.

Coarse and unattractive comedy that veers into a spoof of Sinbad's adventures with some ill-chosen fantasy.

wd Adam Resnick ph Steve Yaconelli m Steve Bartek pd Steven Legler ed Jon Poll

☆ Chris Elliott, Richard Brinkley, James Gammon, Brian Doyle-Murray, Brion James, Russ Tamblyn, Ricki Lake

'Obnoxious, snide and pointless, this ill-fated spoof carries the bonus of being as crude and gamy as the hold of an old fishing barge.' – Brian Lowry, Variety

† Made in 1992.

'Terror... In the flesh.'

Cabin Fever (5)

US 2002 94m DeLuxe Panavision
Redbus/Black Sky/Deer Path/Down Home/Tonic (Lauren Moews, Eli Roth, Sam Froelich, Evan Astrowsky)

In a remote cabin, five college friends are infected by a flesh-eating virus.

Low budget horror, reminiscent of many similar movies of the 80s, that maintains the tension amid its gross moments of rotting bodies.

w Eli Roth, Randy Pearlstein d Eli Roth ph Scott Kevan m Nathan Marr, Angelo Badalamenti pd Franco-Giacomo Carbone ed George Folsey Jnr, Ryan Folsey

☆ Jordan Ladd (Karen), James DeBello (Bert), Rider Strong (Paul), Joey Kern (Jeff), Cerina Vincent (Marcy), Arie Verveen (The Hermit), Giuseppe Andrews (Deputy Winston), Eli Roth (Justin)

'A blast of good gory fun that just won't quit.' – Peter Travers, Rolling Stone

The Cabin in the Cotton ★

US 1932 79m bw
Warner (Hal B. Wallis)

A sharecropper is almost ruined by a Southern belle.

Dated melodrama with interesting style and performances.

w Paul Green novel Harry Harrison Kroll d Michael Curtiz ph Barney McGill

☆ Richard Barthelmess, Dorothy Jordan, Bette Davis, David Landau, Tully Marshall, Henry B. Walthall, Hardie Albright

'Not well done ... less than a moderate grosser all round.' – Variety

† The film in which Bette Davis drawled: 'Ah'd love to kiss yuh, but Ah just washed mah hair.'

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

'Broadway's big, fun-jammed music show is on the screen at last – crowded with stars and songs and spectacle in the famed MGM manner!'

Cabin in the Sky ★★

US 1943 99m bw
MGM (Arthur Freed)

An idle, gambling husband is reformed by a dream of his own death, with God and Satan battling for his soul.
Consistently interesting, often lively, but generally rather stilted all-black musical which must have seemed a whole lot fresher on the stage. Still, a good try.
w Joseph Schrank musical play Lynn Root d Vincente Minnelli ph Sidney Wagner m/ly Harold Arlen, E. Y. Harburg, Vernon Duke, John Latouche, Ted Fetter md George Stoll ad Cedric Gibbons, Leonid Vasian
☆ Eddie 'Rochester' Anderson (Little Joe), Ethel Waters (Petunia Jackson), Lena Horne (Georgia Brown), Louis Armstrong (Trumpeter), Rex Ingram (Lucius, Lucifer Jnr), Kenneth Spencer (Rev Green, the General), John W. Sublett ('Bubbles') (Domino), Ford L. Washington ('Buck'), Mantan Moreland (First Idea Man), Willie Best (Second Idea Man)
'Whatever its box office fate, a worthwhile picture for Metro to have made, if only as a step toward Hollywood recognition of the place of the colored man in American life.' – Variety ♫ 'Li'l Black Sheep'; 'Ain't It De Truth'; 'Life's Full Of Consequence'; 'Honey in the Honeycomb'; 'Taking a Chance on Love'; 'Going Up'; 'I Got A Song'; 'Shine'
♗ song 'Happiness Is Just a Thing Called Joe' (m Harold Arlen, ly E. Y. Harburg)

'No one permitted out or in during the last thirteen nerve-shattering minutes!'

The Cabinet of Caligari

US 1962 105m bw Cinemascope
TCF/Lippert (Roger Kay)

A young woman whose car breaks down near a country house is held prisoner by the sinister Caligari. Eventually it transpires that the mystery is all in her imagination: he is a psychiatrist and she an old lady whose sexual fantasies he has been curing.
Interminably talkative and frequently (unintentionally) funny trick film with the odd moment of effective suspense. The original ending, which cast some doubt on who was mad and who sane, is no longer available. The actors do not entirely escape absurdity.
w Robert Bloch d Roger Kay ph John Russell m Gerald Fried ☆ Glynis Johns, Dan O'Herlihy, Constance Ford, Dick Davalos, Lawrence Dobkin
'It is impossible to be grateful for the film on any of its levels.' – MFB
'The most complete essay in the décor of delirium.' – New Yorker, 1979
† The fact that the story is told through the eyes of a mad person is the only link with the 1919 classic.

'See the sleepwalker, floating down the street, ripped from some nightmare! A street of misshapen houses with brooding windows, streaked by dagger strokes of light and darkened by blots of shadow! You will immediately feel the terror in the movements of that floating grotesque!'

The Cabinet of Dr Caligari ★★★

Germany 1919 90m approx (16 fps) bw silent
Decla-Bioscop (Erich Pommer)

A fairground showman uses a somnambulist for purposes of murder and is finally revealed to be the director of a lunatic asylum; but the whole story is only the dream of a madman.
Faded now, but a film of immense influence on the dramatic art of cinema, with its odd angles, stylized sets and hypnotic acting, not to mention the sting in the tail of its story (added by the producer).
w Carl Mayer, Hans Janowitz d Robert Wiene ph Willy Hameister ad Hermann Warm, Walter Röhrig, Walter Reiman
☆ Werner Krauss, Conrad Veidt, Lil Dagover, Friedrich Feher, Hans von Twardowski
'The first hundred shocks are the hardest.' – New York Evening Post, 1924
† The film cost $18,000 to make.
†† The Region 2 DVD release includes a commentary by film scholar Mike Budd and an excerpt from Genuine: A Tale of a Vampire (1920).

Cabiria ★★★★

Italy/France 1957 110m bw
Dino de Laurentiis/Les Films Marceau original title: Le Notti di Cabiria

aka: Nights of Cabiria

A Roman prostitute has dreams of romance and respectability.
Fellini's bitter Cinderella story gave Giulietta Masina one of her greatest roles. He was influenced by Chaplin's City Lights in making the film, and Masina's performance reflects aspects of Chaplin's little tramp, even in her dancing.
w Federico Fellini, Ennio Flaiano, Tullio Pinelli d Federico Fellini ph Aldo Tonti m Nino Rota ad Piero Gherardi ed Leo Catozzo ☆ Giulietta Masina (Cabiria), François Périer (Oscar D'Onofrio), Amedeo Nazzari (Alberto Lazzari), Franca Marzi (Wanda), Dorian Gray (Jessy)
'Any nobility in the original conception slowly suffocates in an atmosphere of subjective indulgence bordering dangerously on self-pity.' – Peter John Dyer
'Stylistically the whole film with its dejected setting and its riotously fluent movement is brilliant. And the acting is superb.' – Dilys Powell
♟ best foreign film

'Are You Ready To Get Wired?'

The Cable Guy

US 1996 96m Technicolor Super 35
Columbia (Andrew Licht, Jeffrey A. Mueller, Judd Apatow)

A yuppie businessman is at first befriended and then terrorized by a cable TV installation man.
Carrey's frenetic mugging here sits oddly with the naturalistic style of the rest of the cast; some satire at the expense of a television-fixated generation is no doubt intended, but is too heavy-handed to be effective.
w Lou Holtz Jnr d Ben Stiller ph Robert Brinkman m John Ottman pd Sharon Seymour ed Steven Weisberg
☆ Jim Carrey, Matthew Broderick, Leslie Mann, George Segal, Diane Baker, Jack Black, Ben Stiller, Janeane Garofalo, Eric Roberts (himself), Charles Napier
'This fuzzy-focus outing is hopelessly disconnected and ultimately unsatisfying.' – Variety † Carrey was paid $20m for his role, which had originally been intended for Chris Farley. The movie took around $60m at the US box-office and another $42m worldwide.

'An Epic Adventure That Explodes At The Edge Of The World'

Caboblanco

US 1981 87m colour Panavision
Avco/Martin V. Smith

A café proprietor in the Caribbean dodges various groups of criminals.
Witless spoof of Casablanca which seems to have been cobbled together from a half-finished negative.
w Mort Fine, Milton Gelman d J. Lee Thompson ph Alex Phillips Jnr m Jerry Goldsmith
☆ Charles Bronson, Jason Robards Jnr, Dominique Sanda, Fernando Rey, Simon MacCorkindale, Camilla Sparv, Denny Miller, Gilbert Roland

Cactus ★

Australia 1986 96m colour
Dofine/Film Victoria/AFC (Jane Ballantyne, Paul Cox)

A Frenchwoman, whose eyesight begins to deteriorate after a car crash, falls in love with a blind man.
Austere and sensitive drama about a woman finding herself, but too underplayed to be entirely effective.
w Paul Cox, Bob Ellis, Norman Kaye, Morris Lurie d Paul Cox ph Yuri Sokol pd Asher Bilu ed Tim Lewis ☆ Isabelle Huppert, Robert Menzies, Norman Kaye, Monica Maughan, Banduk Marika, Sheila Florance

Cactus Flower ★

US 1969 103m Technicolor
Columbia/M. J. Frankovich

To deceive his mistress, a dentist employs his starchy secretary to pose as his wife, and falls for her when she loosens up.
Amusing sophisticated comedy, generally well handled.
w I. A. L. Diamond play Abe Burrows, French original by Pierre Barillet, Jean Pierre Gredy d Gene Saks ph Charles E. Lang m Quincy Jones pd Robert Clatworthy
☆ Ingrid Bergman, Walter Matthau, Goldie Hawn, Jack Weston, Rick Lenz, Vito Scotti, Irene Hervey
♟ Goldie Hawn

Cactus in the Snow: see You Can't Have Everything

Cactus Jack: see The Villain

Cadaveri Eccellenti: see Illustrious Corpses

Caddie ★

Australia 1976 106m Eastmancolor
Roadshow/Anthony Buckley

A deceived wife takes off with her two children and becomes a barmaid.
Desultory account of aimless low life to which Caddie brings a spark of sunshine. Watchable but forgettable.
w Joan Long, from the autobiography by 'Caddie' d Donald Crombie ph Peter James m Peter Flynn
☆ Helen Morse, Takis Emmanuel, Kirrily Nolan, Jacki Weaver, Jack Thompson

The Caddy

US 1953 95m bw
Paramount (Paul Jones)

A music hall comedy act recall how they got together.
Less a feature than a series of short sketches, this ragbag has its choice moments, but they are few.
w Edmund Hartmann, Danny Arnold d Norman Taurog ph Daniel L. Fapp m Joseph L. Lilley
☆ Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Donna Reed, Barbara Bates, Joseph Calleia, Fred Clark, Clinton Sundberg, Marshall Thompson ♗ song 'That's Amore' (m Harry Warren, ly Jack Brooks)

'The Snobs Against The Slobs!'

Caddyshack

US 1980 98m Technicolor
Warner/Orion (Douglas Kenney)

Misadventures at a golf club.
A relentlessly crude and lumbering series of farcical incidents which mainly fail to raise laughs.
w Brian Doyle-Murray, Harold Ramis, Douglas Kenney d Harold Ramis ph Stevan Larner m Johnny Mandel pd Stan Jolley ed William Carruth ☆ Chevy Chase, Rodney Dangerfield, Ted Knight, Michael O'Keefe
'There are jests about vomiting and nose-picking, while the most elaborate gag sequence involves a chocolate bar falling into a swimming pool and being mistaken for a turd ... a sustained exercise in tiresomeness.' – Tim Pulleine, MFB

'The shack is back!'

Caddyshack II

US 1988 99m colour
Warner (Neil Canton, Jon Peters, Peter Guber)

A self-made millionaire is persuaded by his upwardly mobile daughter to apply for membership of an exclusive golf club.
Dim sequel that reprises the central situation of the original without even managing its crude humour; this one is just crude.
w Harold Ramis, Peter Torokvei d Allan Arkush ph Harry Stradling Jnr m Ira Newborn pd Bill Matthews ed Bernard Gribble
☆ Jackie Mason, Robert Stack, Dina Merrill, Dyan Cannon, Jonathan Silverman, Randy Quaid, Chevy Chase, Dan Aykroyd

'If You Can't trust A Car Salesman–Who Can You Trust?'

Cadillac Man

US 1990 97m colour
Rank/Orion (Charles Roven, Roger Donaldson)

A car salesman is held hostage by a jealous husband.
Frenetic farce that is rarely funny.
w Ken Friedman d Roger Donaldson ph David Gribble m J. Peter Robinson pd Gene Rudolf ed Richard Francis-Bruce ☆ Robin Williams, Tim Robbins, Pamela Reed, Fran Drescher, Zack Norman, Annabella Sciorra, Lori Petty, Paul Guilfoyle, Bill Nelson, Eddie Jones
'A rarity among recent films – a comedy that is in touch with a recognizable reality.' – Richard Schickel, Time

'Days of magnificent adventure ... nights of maddest revelry ... a temptation in Technicolor!'

Caesar and Cleopatra ★★

GB 1945 135m Technicolor
Rank/Gabriel Pascal

An elaborate screen treatment of Bernard Shaw's comedy about Caesar's years in Alexandria.

Britain's most expensive film is an absurd extravaganza for which the producer actually took sand to Egypt to get the right colour. It has compensations however in the sets, the colour, the performances and the witty lines, though all its virtues are theatrical rather than cinematic and the play is certainly not a major work.
w Bernard Shaw d Gabriel Pascal ph F. A. Young, Robert Krasker, Jack Hildyard, Jack Cardiff m Georges Auric decor/costumes Oliver Messel sets John Bryan
☆ Claude Rains, Vivien Leigh, Cecil Parker, Stewart Granger, Flora Robson, Francis L. Sullivan, Raymond Lovell, Anthony Harvey, Anthony Eustrel, Basil Sydney, Ernest Thesiger, Stanley Holloway, Leo Genn, Jean Simmons, Esmé Percy and also Michael Rennie
'It cost over a million and a quarter pounds, took two and a half years to make, and well and truly bored one spectator for two and a quarter hours.' – Richard Winnington
'It is so wonderful as to make my other films look naive.' – Bernard Shaw
'When Rains played a small part he sometimes gave the impression that he was carrying the movie, but here his impish grin and his equanimity aren't enough.' – Pauline Kael, 70s
Ⱥ John Bryan

Café Lumière ★★

Japan/Taiwan 2004 102m colour
ICA/Shochiku/Asahi/Shimbun/Sumimoto, Eisei Gekijo. IMAGICA (Hideshi Miyajima, Liao Ching-sung, Ichiro Yamamoto, Fumiko Osaka) original title: Kohi Jikou
Researching the life of a composer, a pregnant, unmarried writer finds it difficult to locate in modern day Tokyo the places he frequented.
A low key drama of urban alienation that is an accomplished variation on Yashujiro Ozu's great Tokyo Story (qv).
w Hou Hsiao-Hsien, Chu T'ien-Wen d Hou Hsiao-Hsien ph Lee Ping-Bing m Jiang Wen-Ye pd Tashiharu Aida ed Liao Ching-Sung ☆ Yo Hitoto (Yoko), Tadanobu Asano (Hajime), Masato Hagiwara (Seiji), Kimiko Yo (Yoko No Kieba), Nenji Kobayashi (Yoko No Otosan)
'A fascinating curiosity, a chance to witness one major filmmaker paying tribute to another in the form of a rigorously minor film.' – A. O. Scott, New York Times
'Torpid and very uninteresting work.' – Peter Bradshw, Guardian

Café Metropole

US 1937 83m bw
TCF (Nunnally Johnson)
An heiress in Paris romances a Russian nobleman who is actually a penniless American.
Lighter-than-air romance which passed the time at the time.
w Jacques Duval d Edward H. Griffith ph Lucien Andriot md Louis Silvers ☆ Loretta Young, Adolphe Menjou, Tyrone Power, Charles Winninger, Gregory Ratoff, Christian Rub, Helen Westley
'It's smart, sophisticated (not too much so), has the proper romantic ingredients, and will pull 'em in almost anywhere.' – Variety
'Here is a very amusing script, admirable acting ... all thrown away by inferior direction. The camera is planked down four-square before the characters like a plain, honest, inexpressibly dull guest at a light and loony party.' – Graham Greene

Café of Seven Sinners: see Seven Sinners

La Cage aux Folles ★

France/Italy 1978 91m Eastmancolor
UA/PAA/Da Ma (Marcello Danon)
aka: Birds of a Feather
A homosexual night-club owner is persuaded by his straight son to behave properly in front of his girlfriend's parents, but chaos comes on the night of the party.
Internationally popular near-the-knuckle farce with excellent moments and some longueurs.
w Francis Veber, Edouard Molinaro, Marcello Danon, Jean Poiret play Jean Poiret d Edouard Molinaro ph Armando Nannuzzi m Ennio Morricone
☆ Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Serrault, Michel Galabru, Claire Maurier, Remi Laurent
Ⱥ Edouard Molinaro (as director); script

La Cage aux Folles II

France/Italy 1980 99m Technicolor
UA/PAA/Da Ma (Marcello Danon)
An ageing homosexual tells his partner he is too old to be an effective female impersonator. Trying to prove the opposite, the partner becomes involved in a spy search for hidden microfilm.
Rather dimwitted sequel to a comedy which though deliberately 'naughty' showed some restraint; here, all is noise and excess.
w Jean Poiret, Francis Veber, Marcello Danon d Edouard Molinaro ph Armando Nannuzzi m Ennio Morricone
☆ Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Serrault, Marcel Bozzuffi, Paola Borboni
'The juxtaposition of campy histrionics with the dreariest kind of espionage comedy offers quickly diminishing returns.' – Gilbert Adair, MFB

La Cage aux Folles III

France/Italy 1985 87m Eastmancolor
Da Ma/Columbia (Marcello Danon)
In order to inherit a fortune, Albin must marry and produce an heir.
Yawnworthy attempt to milk more gags out of a formula which exhausted itself with number one.
w Philippe Nicaud, Christine Carere, Marcello Danon, Jacques Audiard, Michel Audiard, Georges Lautner, Gerald Lamballe d Georges Lautner ph Luciano Tavoli m Ennio Morricone pd Mario Garbuglia ed Michelle David, Elisabeth Guido, Lidia Pascolini ☆ Ugo Tognazzi, Michel Serrault, Michel Galabru, Antonella Interlenghi
'Lots of cooks but not much broth.' – Variety

Cage of Doom: see Terror from the Year 5000

Cage of Gold ★

GB 1950 83m bw
Ealing (Michael Relph)
A girl's philandering ex-husband comes back into her life and is murdered.
Mild mystery melodrama in which the puzzle comes too late.
w Jack Whittingham d Basil Dearden ph Douglas Slocombe m Georges Auric
☆ Jean Simmons, David Farrar, James Donald, Madeleine Lebeau, Maria Mauban, Herbert Lom, Bernard Lee, Gladys Henson, Harcourt Williams, Grégoire Aslan

'Will she come out woman or wildcat?'

Caged ★

US 1949 96m bw
Warner (Jerry Wald)
After being involved in a robbery a 19-year-old girl is sent to prison, and finds the staff more terrifying than the inmates.
Slick, superficial, hysterically harrowing women-in-prison melodrama; predictably overblown but also effective and powerful.
w Virginia Kellogg, Bernard Schoenfeld d John Cromwell ph Carl Guthrie m Max Steiner
☆ Eleanor Parker, Agnes Moorehead, Ellen Corby, Hope Emerson, Betty Garde, Jan Sterling, Lee Patrick, Olive Deering, Jane Darwell, Gertrude Michael, Joan Miller
† Remade in 1962 as House of Women, directed by Walter Doniger, with Shirley Knight.
Ⱥ Virginia Kellogg, Bernard Schoenfeld; Eleanor Parker; Hope Emerson

'White Hot Desires Melting Cold Prison Steel!'

Caged Heat ★

US 1974 83m DeLuxe
Target/Artists Entertainment Complex/Renegade Women (Samuel Gelfman)
A new convict is horrified by the way a crippled governess runs a women's prison.
Quirky, individual, anti-authoritarian take on the standard ingredients of an exploitation picture set among female prisoners.
wd Jonathan Demme ph Tak Fujimoto m John Cale ad Eric Thierman ed Johanna Demetrakis, Carolyn Hicks
☆ Juanita Brown, Roberta Collina, Erica Gavin, Ella Reid, Lynda Gold, Warren Miller, Barbara Steele, Toby Carr
'A distinctly exceptional exploitation movie.' – Tony Rayns, MFB
† The British release was cut to 79m.

Caged Virgins: see Requiem for a Vampire

'Break the law and he's the last man you'll want to see. And the last man you ever will!'

Cahill, US Marshal

US 1973 103m Technicolor Panavision
Warner/Batjac (Michael A. Wayne)
A stalwart Western marshal finds that his own young sons are involved in a robbery he is investigating.
Satisfactory but sentimental John Wayne vehicle with the star too often yielding place to the rather boring young folk.
w Harry Julian Fink, Rita M. Fink d Andrew V. McLaglen ph Joseph Biroc m Elmer Bernstein
☆ John Wayne, George Kennedy, Gary Grimes, Neville Brand, Clay O'Brien, Marie Windsor, Royal Dano, Denver Pyle, Jackie Coogan

La Caida: see The Fall

The Caiman ⑤

Italy/France 2006 113m
Optimum/Sacher/BAC/Stephan/France 3 Cinema (Angelo Barbagallo, Nanni Moretti)
Italian theatrical title: Il Caimano
French theatrical title: Le Caiman
A washed-up Italian B-movie director agrees to make a film that fearlessly attacks politician and media tycoon Silvio Berlusconi, without first reading the script.
The film fancies itself as savage political satire, yet writer-director Moretti backs meekly into his subject; the film does not even mention Berlusconi by name for its first 35 minutes. Though it steers clear of issues that make Berlusconi a figure of fun (the bandanas, the hair implants, the boorishness) it's a muted, half-hearted condemnation. It doesn't help that the politician's career was on the wane before this timid film was released.
w Nanni Moretti, Francesco Piccolo, Federica Pontremoli d Nanni Moretti ph Arnaldo Catinari m Franco Piersanti ad Giancarlo Basili ed Esmerelda Calabria ☆ Silvio Orlando (Bruno Bonomo), Margherita Buy (Paola), Jasmine Trinca (Teresa), Elio De Capitani (The Caiman), Nanni Moretti (Himself)
'It's surprising, considering the film's positioning as a political instrument, how little The Caiman actually deals directly with Berlusconi and how little effort Moretti makes in constructing a case against him.' – Dave Calhoun, Time Out

'It's unlike any musical you've ever seen before – Timed to the Tantalizing Tempo of Today!'

Cain and Mabel ★

US 1936 90m bw
Warner (Sam Bischoff)
Tribulations of a prizefighter in love with a showgirl.
Generously produced but weakly written comedy drama with rather unexpected musical numbers; not a successful whole, but interesting.
w Laird Doyle, H. C. Witwer d Lloyd Bacon ph George Barnes m/ly Harry Warren, Al Dubin ch Bobby Connolly
☆ Clark Gable, Marion Davies, Allen Jenkins, Roscoe Karns, Walter Catlett, Hobart Cavanaugh, Pert Kelton, Ruth Donnelly, E. E. Clive
Ⱥ Bobby Connolly

'As big as the ocean!'

The Caine Mutiny ★★

US 1954 125m Technicolor
Columbia/Stanley Kramer
Jealousies and frustrations among the officers of a peacetime destroyer come to a head when the neurotic captain panics during a typhoon and is relieved of his post. At the resulting trial the officers learn about themselves.
Decent if lamely paced version of a bestseller which also made a successful play; the film skates too lightly over the characterizations and even skimps the courtroom scene, but there are effective scenes and performances.
w Stanley Roberts novel Herman Wouk d Edward Dmytryk ph Franz Planer m Max Steiner ed William A. Lyon, Henry Batista
☆ Humphrey Bogart (Captain Queeg), José Ferrer (Lt Barney Greenwald), Van Johnson (Lt Steve Maryk), Fred MacMurray (Lt Tom Keefer), Robert Francis (Ensign Willie Keith), May Wynn (May), Tom Tully (Captain DeVriess), E. G. Marshall (Lt Cdr Challee), Lee Marvin (Meatball), Claude Akins (Horrible)
QUEEG: 'There are four ways of doing things on board my ship. The right way, the wrong way, the navy way, and my way. If they do things my way, we'll get along.'
QUEEG: 'Ah, but the strawberries! That's where I had them. They laughed and made jokes, but I proved beyond the shadow of a doubt, and with geometric logic, that a duplicate key to the wardroom icebox did exist. And I'd have produced that key if they hadn't pulled the Caine out of action. I know now they were out to protect some fellow officer.'
KEEFER: 'There is no escape from the Caine, save death. We're all doing penance, sentenced to an outcast ship, manned by outcasts, and named after the greatest outcast of them all.'

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

best picture; Stanley Roberts; Max Steiner; Humphrey Bogart; Tom Tully; editing

Cairo ★
US 1942 100m bw
MGM (Joseph L. Mankiewicz)
An American war reporter in Egypt meets a screen star and thinks she is a spy.
Mildly pleasing light comedy-drama with self-spoofing elements.
w John McClain d W. S. Van Dyke II ph Ray June md Herbert Stothart ☆ Jeanette MacDonald, Robert Young, Ethel Waters, Reginald Owen, Lionel Atwill, Mona Barrie, Eduardo Ciannelli, Dennis Hoey, Dooley Wilson
'Confusing if not amusing.' – Variety

Cairo
GB 1963 91m bw
MGM (Ronald Kinnoch)
Crooks plan to steal Tutankhamun's jewels from the Cairo Museum.
Spiritless remake of The Asphalt Jungle (qv).
w Joanne Court (Joan Scott) d Wolf Rilla ph Desmond Dickinson m Kenneth V. Jones
☆ George Sanders, Richard Johnson, Faten Hamama, John Meillon, Eric Pohlmann, Walter Rilla
† Joan Scott wrote the script under a pseudonym because she was blacklisted at the time.

Cairo Station
Egypt 1958 95m bw Gabriel Talhami
original title: Bab El Hadid
A crippled newspaper seller goes mad through thwarted love.
Popular melodrama, acted with verve.
d Youssef Chahine ph Alvise m Fouad El Zahiry ad Gabriel Karraze ed Kamal Abul Ela ☆ Farid Chawki, Hind Rostom, Youssef Chahine, Safia Sarwat, Assaad Kellam, Sherine

Cal ★
GB 1984 102m colour
Warner/Goldcrest/Enigma (Stuart Craig, David Puttnam)
A young Catholic in Ulster falls for the widow of the policeman in whose murder he has been an accomplice.
More clichés about the troubles: the film belies its publicity as 'a love story which happens to take place in Northern Ireland'. But it has style.
w Bernard MacLaverty novel Bernard MacLaverty d Pat O'Connor ph Jerzy Zielinski m Mark Knopfler pd Stuart Craig
☆ Helen Mirren, John Lynch, Donal McCann, John Kavanagh, Ray McAnally Calabuch ★

Spain/Italy 1956 93m bw
Aguila/Constellaxione (José Luis Jerez)
An atomic scientist settles delightedly in a peaceful Spanish village, but sacrifices his own privacy when he invents a sky rocket.
Semi-satirical Ealing-type comedy which starts engagingly but runs out of steam.
w Leonardo Martin, Ennio Flaiano, Florentino Soria, Luis Berlanga d Luis Berlanga ph Francisco Sempere m Francesco Lavagnino
☆ Edmund Gwenn, Valentina Cortese, Franco Fabrizi

Calamity Jane ★★
US 1953 101m Technicolor
Warner (William Jacobs)
Calamity helps a saloon owner friend find a star attraction, and wins the heart of Wild Bill Hickok.
Agreeable, cleaned-up, studio-set Western musical patterned after Annie Get Your Gun, but a much friendlier film, helped by an excellent score.
w James O'Hanlon d David Butler ph Wilfrid Cline m/ly Sammy Fain, Paul Francis Webster md Ray Heindorf ch Jack Donohue ☆ Doris Day, Howard Keel, Allyn McLerie, Phil Carey, Dick Wesson, Paul Harvey song 'Secret Love'
Ray Heindorf

Calamity Jane and Sam Bass
US 1949 85m Technicolor
Universal-International
Sam Bass murders the man who poisoned his horse, becomes an outlaw, and tangles with Jane Carraway.
Routine Western programmer from this stable.
w Maurice Geraghty, Melvin Levy d George Sherman ☆ Yvonne de Carlo, Howard Duff, Dorothy Hart, Willard Parker, Houseley Stevenson, Ann Doran, Norman Lloyd

'He doesn't just beat his opponents... He creams them.'

The Calcium Kid
GB 2003 88m colour
Universal/StudioCanal/Working Title/WT2 (Natascha Wharton)
A London milkman and part-time boxer is a last-minute choice to fight for the world middleweight title.
Dim-witted documentary-style comedy that lacks a killer punch.
w Raymond Friel, Derek Boyle, Alex de Rakoff d Alex de Rakoff ph David M. Dunlap m Boilerhouse Boys pd Joel Collins ed Maguerite Arnold, Jon Harris
☆ Orlando Bloom (Jimmy Connelly), Omid Djalili (Herbie Bush), Michael Lerner (Artie Cohen), Michael Pena (Jose Mendez), Tamer Hassan (Pete Wright), Rafe Spall (Stan Parlour)
'Irksome, irritating and unoriginal.' – Empire

Calcutta
US 1946 83m bw
Paramount (Seton I. Miller)
Two flyers seek the murderer of their friend in the hotels and bazaars of Calcutta.
Studio-bound action potboiler, simple-minded but quite good fun.
w Seton I. Miller d John Farrow ph John F. Seitz m Victor Young ☆ Alan Ladd, Gail Russell, William Bendix, June Duprez, Lowell Gilmore

Calendar
Canada/Germany 1993 75m colour
ZDF/Ego Film Arts
A Canadian photographer of Armenian descent recalls how his wife left him for his guide while they were on assignment to photograph Armenian churches for a calendar.
A meditation on what it means to be Armenian and on photography and its limitations. It is so personal to its maker as to be somewhat impenetrable to anyone else; at the least, it requires tolerance from the viewer.
wd Atom Egoyan ph Norayr Kasper m Duduk ed Atom Egoyan
☆ Arsinée Khanjian, Ashot Adamian, Atom Egoyan
'The photographer has been freed from his assimilation assignment, but at what cost? Given the self-referential and revisionist subtext of the film, this open-ended question evokes a sense of genuine anticipatory excitement for Egoyan's next venture.' – Farrah Anwar, Sight and Sound

Calendar Girl
US 1993 90m colour
Columbia/Parkway (Debbie Robins, Gary Marsh)
Three 60s students go to Los Angeles in the hope of meeting Marilyn Monroe.
Uninteresting drama of teenage wish-fufilment that may please fans of its star but few others.
w Paul W. Shapiro d John Whitesell ph Tom Priestley m Hans Zimmer pd Bill Groom ed Wendy Greene Bricmont
☆ Jason Priestley, Gabriel Olds, Jerry O'Connell, Joe Pantoliano, Steve Railsback, Kurt Fuller, Stephen Tobolowsky, Chubby Checker
'A dull, sanctimonious morality tale about the meaning of friendship and manhood.' – Variety

'They dropped everything for a good cause.'

Calendar Girls ★ (6)
GB/US 2003 108m Technicolor Panavision
Buena Vista/Touchstone/Harbour (Nick Barton, Suzanne Mackie)
In Yorkshire, members of the Women's Institute cause a nation-wide sensation when they decide to appear naked in their annual calendar to raise money for charity.
Enjoyable, cosy British comedy, based on true life, that runs out of ideas before the end.
w Juliette Towhidi, Tim Firth d Nigel Cole ph Ashley Rowe m Patrick Doyle pd Martin Childs ed Michael Parker
☆ Helen Mirren (Chris Harper), Julie Walters (Annie Clark), John Alderton (John Clark), Linda Bassett (Cora), Annette Crosbie (Jessie), Philip Glenister (Lawrence), Ciaran Hinds (Rod), Celia Imrie (Celia), Geraldine James (Marie), Penelope Wilton (Ruth)
'Remains a genial lesson in how to both honor and subvert womanly expectations.' – Jessica Winter, Village Voice

'No town would have her! No man could tame her!'

California
US 1946 97m Technicolor
Paramount (Seton I. Miller)
An army deserter joins the 1848 California gold rush.
Standard glamorized star Western; not bad if you accept the conventions.
w Frank Butler, Theodore Strauss d John Farrow ph Ray Rennahan m Victor Young ☆ Ray Milland, Barbara Stanwyck, Barry Fitzgerald, Albert Dekker, George Coulouris, Anthony Quinn
'It quickly loses its stirrups and ends up caught by the chaps in a bed of cactus.' – Newsweek

The California Dolls: see All the Marbles

California Holiday: see Spinout

California Man: see Encino Man

California Split ★
US 1974 109m Metrocolor Panavision
Columbia/Persky-Bright/Reno (Robert Altman, Joseph Walsh)
Two cheerful gamblers get drunk, laid, cheated and happy.
Sporadically entertaining character comedy sunk in a sea of chatter.
w Joseph Walsh d Robert Altman ph Paul Lohmann m Phyllis Shotwell ☆ Elliott Gould, George Segal, Gwen Welles, Ann Prentiss, Joseph Walsh
'The film seems to be being improvised ... we catch at events and personalities by the ends of threads.' – New Yorker
† An end title reads: FOR BARBARA, 1933–1973. This was Barbara Ruick, who played the barmaid and died on location.

California Straight Ahead ★
US 1937 57m bw
Universal (Trem Carr)
A nationwide race is held between a special train and a convoy of high-powered trucks.
Unusual and quite lively second feature shot on location.
w Scott Darling story Herman Boxer d Arthur Lubin ph Harry Neumann m Charles Previn ☆ John Wayne, Louise Latimer, Robert McWade, Tully Marshall
'Everything happens as the audience expects and wishes, so in its field it will do okay.' – Variety

'The best two-hour vacation in town!'

California Suite ★
US 1978 103m colour
Columbia//Ray Stark
Misadventures of four groups of guests at the Beverly Hills Hotel.
Two hits, two misses; closer intercutting might have helped. No doubt that Maggie Smith and Michael Caine come off best, with bitcheries about the Academy Awards.
w Neil Simon play Neil Simon d Herbert Ross ph David M. Walsh m Claude Bolling pd Albert Brenner
☆ Michael Caine, Maggie Smith, Walter Matthau, Elaine May, Alan Alda, Jane Fonda, Richard Pryor, Bill Cosby
'By turns silly and thoughtful, tedious and charming, broad and delicate.' – Frank Rich
Maggie Smith
Neil Simon; art direction

'What would you have done if you had been given absolute power of life and death over everyone else in the whole wide world?'

Caligula
Italy/US 1979 150m Eastmancolor
GTO/Felix/Penthouse Films (Bob Guccione, Franco Rossellini)
The violent life and times of a decadent Roman emperor.
What would have been a dull and worthless pseudo-epic has been perked up by violence and hardcore sex. The result is a vile curiosity of interest chiefly to sado-masochists.
w Bob Guccione screenplay Gore Vidal d Tinto Brass, Giancarlo Lui, Bob Guccione ph Danilo Donati m Paul Clemente ed Nino Bragli
☆ Malcolm McDowell, John Gielgud, Peter O'Toole, Helen Mirren, Teresa Ann Savoy, John Steiner
'An anthology of sexual aberrations in which incest is the only face-saving relationship ... far more Gore than Vidal.' – Variety

'It just keeps rolling along at inordinate length, suggesting de Mille grinding slowly to a frequent stoppage for a display of bums, breasts and pubic hair.' – Time Out

Call a Messenger

US 1939 65m bw
Universal

Working as telegraph messengers, the Little Tough Guys prevent a hold-up.

Second-feature offshoot of the Dead End Kids, some of whom had now departed to become the East Side Kids (who later blossomed forth as the Bowery Boys).

w Arthur T. Horman d Arthur Lubin
☆ Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Billy Benedict, David Gorcey, Robert Armstrong, Mary Carlisle, Anne Nagel, Victor Jory, El Brendel, Larry 'Buster' Crabbe

'A rowdy, gripping production patterned as heavy bolstering in dual set-ups.' – Variety

Call Harry Crown: see 99 and 44/100 Per Cent Dead

Call Her Savage

US 1932 88m bw
Paramount (Sam E. Rork)

Trials and tribulations of a half-breed Indian girl who marries a cad and later takes to the streets.

Rough and ready melodrama for female audiences; the penultimate appearance of a star who did not take to talkies.

w Edwin Burke novel Tiffany Thayer d John Francis Dillon ph Lee Garmes ☆ Clara Bow, Gilbert Roland, Monroe Owsley, Thelma Todd, Estelle Taylor

'The return of Clara Bow in a madcap role makes a natural ... the result is bound to be money.' – Variety

Call Him Mr Shatter: see Shatter

Call Him Savage

France/Italy 1975 103m colour
Lira/Produzioni Artistiche Internazionali (Raymond Danon)
aka: Lovers Like Us

A French parfumier, trying to escape from his business, meets a woman on the run from her Venezuelan fiancé.

Dim attempt at a romantic comedy.

w Jean-Paul Rappeneau, Elizabeth Rappeneau, Jean-Loup Dabadie d Jean-Paul Rappeneau ph Pierre Lhomme m Michel Legrand ed Marie-Joseph Yoyotte
☆ Yves Montand, Catherine Deneuve, Tony Roberts, Luigi Vannucchi, Dana Wynter

Call It a Day ★

US 1937 89m bw
Warner (Henry Blanke)

An upper-class British family has problems during a single day.

Surprising, and not very effective, Hollywood treatment of a very British comedy.

w Casey Robinson play Dodie Smith d Archie Mayo ph Ernest Haller ☆ Olivia de Havilland, Ian Hunter, Anita Louise, Alice Brady, Roland Young, Frieda Inescort, Bonita Granville, Peggy Wood, Walter Woolf King, Una O'Connor, Beryl Mercer

'A fine cast rowing a very thin boat ... charm, many a giggle but nary a sock laugh.' – Variety

Call It Murder: see Midnight

Call Me Bwana ★

GB 1962 93m Eastmancolor
Rank/Eon (Harry Saltzman, Albert R. Broccoli)

A fake African explorer is sent to the jungle to recover a space capsule.

Moderate star farce with occasional bright moments.

w Nate Monaster, Johanna Harwood d Gordon Douglas ph Ted Moore m Monty Norman ☆ Bob Hope, Anita Ekberg, Edie Adams, Lionel Jeffries, Percy Herbert, Paul Carpenter, Orlando Martins

Call Me Genius: see The Rebel

Call Me Madam ★★★

US 1953 114m Technicolor
TCF (Sol C. Siegel)

A Washington hostess is appointed Ambassador to Lichtenberg and marries the foreign minister.

Studio-bound but thoroughly lively transcription of Irving Berlin's last big success, with most of the performers at their peak and some topical gags which may now be mystifying.

w Arthur Sheekman play Howard Lindsay, Russel Crouse d Walter Lang ph Leon Shamroy m/ly Irving Berlin md Alfred Newman ch Robert Alton ad John De Cuir, Lyle Wheeler ed Robert Simpson
☆ Ethel Merman (Mrs. Sally Adams), Donald O'Connor (Kenneth), George Sanders (Cosmo Constantine), Vera-Ellen (Princess Maria), Billy de Wolfe (Pemberton Maxwell), Helmut Dantine (Prince Hugo), Walter Slezak (Tantinnin), Steve Geray (Sebastian), Ludwig Stossel (Grand Duke)

'Good-tempered, warm, generous and about as quiet as a massed brass band festival.' – Dilys Powell

† Vera-Ellen's singing was dubbed by Carole Richards
♫ 'The Hostess with the Mostes'; 'Can You Use Any Money Today?'; 'Marrying for Love'; 'It's a Lovely Day Today'; 'That International Rag'; 'The Ocarina'; 'What Chance Have I with Love?'; 'The Best Thing for You'; 'Something to Dance About'; 'You're Just in Love'.
Alfred Newman

Call Me Mister

US 1951 95m Technicolor
TCF (Fred Kohlmar)

A husband-and-wife dance team entertain the troops in Japan and after the war.

Passable musical of a very predictable kind.

w Albert E. Lewin, Burt Styler book Arnold Auerbach, Arnold B. Horwitt d Lloyd Bacon ph Arthur E. Arling m Harold Rome m/ly various ch Busby Berkeley ☆ Betty Grable, Dan Dailey, Danny Thomas, Dale Robertson, Richard Boone

Call Northside 777 ★★

US 1948 111m bw
TCF (Otto Lang)

A Chicago reporter helps a washerwoman prove her son not guilty of murdering a policeman.

Overlong semi-documentary crime thriller based on a real case. Acting and detail excellent, but the sharp edge of Boomerang is missing.

w Jerome Cady, Jay Dratler d Henry Hathaway ph Joe MacDonald m Alfred Newman
☆ James Stewart, Lee J. Cobb, Helen Walker, Kasia Orzazewski, Betty Garde, Richard Conte

'A most satisfying thriller, generously streaked with class.' – Daily Mail
'Absorbing, exciting, realistic.' – Star

Call of the Wild ★

US 1935 81m bw
Twentieth Century (Darryl F. Zanuck)

A young widow falls in love with a wild Yukon prospector.

Inaccurate but pleasing adaptation of an adventure novel with dog interest.

w Gene Fowler, Leonard Praskins novel Jack London d William Wellman ph Charles Rosher m Alfred Newman
☆ Clark Gable, Loretta Young, Jack Oakie, Reginald Owen, Frank Conroy

'The lion-hearted dog emerges as a stooge for a rather conventional pair of human lovebirds ... looks like box office.' – Variety

Call of the Wild

GB/W. Germany/Spain/Italy/France 1972 105m Eastmancolor
Massfilms/CCC/Izaro/Oceania/UPF (Harry Alan Towers)

During the Klondike gold rush, a stolen dog becomes a miner's best friend before joining the wolf-pack.

Closer to the book than the previous version, but curiously scrappy and unsatisfactory.

w Harry Alan Towers, Wyn Wells, Peter Yeldham d Ken Annakin ph John Cabrera, Dudley Lovell m Carlo Rustichelli
☆ Charlton Heston, Michèle Mercier, Raimund Harmstorf, George Eastman

Call the Cops!: see Find the Lady

Callan ★

GB 1974 106m Eastmancolor
EMI/Magnum (Derek Horne)

aka: The Neutralizer

A former secret agent is seconded to a government section devoted to the elimination of undesirables.

Expanded rewrite of the first episode of a long-running TV series, quite fresh and vivid in the circumstances, especially as it comes at the tail end of ten years of similar bouts of blood and thunder.

w James Mitchell novel A Magnum for Schneider by James Mitchell d Don Sharp ph Ernest Steward m Wilfred Josephs
☆ Edward Woodward, Eric Porter, Carl Mohner, Catherine Schell, Peter Egan, Russell Hunter, Kenneth Griffith

Callas Forever ★ (4)

Italy/GB/France/Romania/Spain 2002 108m colour
Medusa/Cattleya/Film & General/Galfin/Mediapro/Alquimia (Riccardo Tozzi, Giovanella Zannoni)

In her last year, opera diva Maria Callas makes a film of Bizet's Carmen.

Instead of making a movie about Callas's often dramatic career, Zeffirelli here prefers to invent a story that is much less interesting; only Fanny Ardant's performance gives it some life.

w Martin Sherman, Franco Zeffirelli d Franco Zeffirelli ph Ennio Guarnieri m Alessio Vlad pd Bruno Cesari ed Sean Barton
☆ Fanny Ardant (Maria Callas), Jeremy Irons (Larry Kelly), Joan Plowright (Sarah Keller), Jay Rodan (Michael), Gabriel Garko (Marco)

'Half a pound of Roquefort left overnight in a glove compartment could not be cheesier. It's a camp extravaganza of such exquisite awfulness, such unembarrassable silliness, that you watch it hypnotised.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Callaway Went Thataway ★

US 1951 81m bw
MGM (Melvin Frank, Norman Panama)
GB title: The Star Said No

The old movies of a Hollywood cowboy become popular on TV, but the star has become a hopeless drunk and an actor is hired to pose as him for public appearances.

Reasonably engaging comedy using charm rather than acid.

wd Melvin Frank, Norman Panama ph Ray June m Marlin Skiles ☆ Dorothy McGuire, Fred MacMurray, Howard Keel, Jesse White, Natalie Schafer

Calle Mayor ★

Spain/France 1956 95m bw
Play Art Iberia/Cesareo Gonzales
aka: Grande Rue

In a small Spanish town, a young stud pretends for a bet to be in love with a plain spinster.

Interesting but rather unattractive and certainly unconvincing little comedy-drama, rather too obviously styled for its American star after her success in Marty.

wd Juan Antonio Bardem ph Michel Kelber m Joseph Kosma
☆ Betsy Blair, Yves Massard, René Blancard, Lila Kedrova

Calling Bulldog Drummond

GB 1951 80m bw
MGM (Hayes Goetz)

Drummond goes undercover to catch a gang of thieves.

Minor-league quota quickie addition to the exploits of a long-running character (see Bulldog Drummond*).*

w Howard Emmett Rogers, Gerard Fairlie, Arthur Wimperis d Victor Saville ph F. A. Young m Rudolph Kopp
☆ Walter Pidgeon, Margaret Leighton, Robert Beatty, David Tomlinson, Peggy Evans, Charles Victor, Bernard Lee, James Hayter

'Terror strikes as a madman rules!'

Calling Doctor Death

US 1943 63m bw
Universal

A doctor's wife is murdered; her lover is arrested; but did the doctor himself do it?

Probably not, as the tendency of the tinpot Inner Sanctum series, of which this was the first, was to make its star look anguished for six reels and then show him to be as innocent as the film was (mercifully) short.

w Edward Dein d Reginald Le Borg
☆ Lon Chaney, Patricia Morison, Fay Helm, David Bruce, Ramsay Ames, J. Carrol Naish

Calling Dr Gillespie ★

US 1942 84m bw
MGM

A deranged ex-patient breaks into Blair Hospital for the purpose of killing Dr Gillespie.

The point at which cranky old wheelchair-bound Dr Gillespie took over the Kildare series, its star (Lew Ayres) having effectually abdicated from acting by declaring himself a conscientious objector. Production values up to par.

w Kubec Glasmon, Willis Goldbeck, Harry Ruskin d Harold S. Bucquet
☆ Lionel Barrymore, Philip Dorn, Phil Brown, Donna Reed, Nat Pendleton, Mary Nash, Alma Kruger, Walter Kingsford
† See Dr Kildare for titles in series.

Digital Video Disc Region 2 · Digital Video Disc Region 1 · Soundtrack released on compact disc · ☆ Cast in approximate order of importance · † Points of interest · ♫ Notable songs · Academy Award · Academy Award nomination · BAFTA

Calling Dr Kildare ★

US 1939 86m bw
MGM

Kildare becomes innocently involved in murder and needs Dr Gillespie's help.
The second in the Kildare series had the confidence that comes of box-office approval.
w Harry Ruskin, Willis Goldbeck d Harold S. Bucquet
☆ Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore, Lana Turner, Nat Pendleton, Samuel S. Hinds, Laraine Day, Alma Kruger

Calling Philo Vance

US 1939 62m bw
Warner

A manufacturer is murdered and foreign agents are discovered among his servants.
Essentially a remake of The Kennel Murder Case; inferior as a whole, but with an excellent new Vance.
w Tom Reed d William Clemens
☆ James Stephenson, Margot Stevenson, Henry O'Neill, Ed Brophy, Ralph Forbes, Martin Kosleck

Calm Yourself

US 1935 70m bw
MGM

An advertising man helps solve a kidnapping.
Spoofy comedy-drama which simply doesn't work.
w Edward Hope, Arthur Kober d George B. Seitz
☆ Robert Young, Madge Evans, Betty Furness, Nat Pendleton, Hardie Albright, Ralph Morgan

'Strictly for the not too particular nabe clientele.' – Variety

Caluga o Menta

Chile 1991 90m colour
Arca/TVE/Filmocentro (Patricia Navarrete)
aka: Candy or Mint

In Santiago, a gang of disaffected youngsters turn to crime and drug-running to relieve the everyday monotony of their lives.
A downbeat study of no-hopers, filmed with a partly non-professional cast, which is mainly of sociological interest.
w Gonzalo Justiniano, Gustavo Frias, Jose Andres Peña d Gonzalo Justiniano ph Gaston Roca m Jaime de Aguirre ed Claudio Martinez ☆ Mauricio Vega, Patricia Rivadeneira, Aldo Parodi, Myriam Palacios

'Some people would kill for company.'

Calvaire ★★

France/Belgium/Luxembourg 2004 92m colour
Tartan/The Film/La Parti Prod/Tarantula/StudioCanal (Michael Gentile, Vincent Tavier, Eddy Geradon-Luyckx)

US title: The Ordeal

When his car breaks down in a remote village, an unsuccessful, itinerant singer finds himself at the mercy of a disturbed innkeeper and his friends.
Stylish, blackly humorous exercise in horror, with an unsettling creepiness about it.
w Fabrice du Welz, Romain Protat d Fabrice du Welz ph Benoit Debie m Vincent Cahay pd Emmanuel De Meulemeester ed Sabine Hubeaux
☆ Laurent Lucas (Marc Stevens), Jackie Berroyer (Paul Bartel), Philippe Nahon (Robert Orton), Jean-Luc Couchard (Boris), Brigitte Lahaie (Mme Vicky)

'One's final response is not shock and fear, but revulsion and depression at the nihilism of it all.' – Peter Whittle, Sunday Times

'Gripping, utterly involving, horribly funny movie.' – Peter Bradshaw, Guardian

Camelot ★★

US 1967 181m Technicolor
Panavision 70
Warner (Jack L. Warner)

King Arthur marries Guinevere, loses her to Lancelot, and is forced into war.
A film version of a long-running Broadway show with many excellent moments. Unfortunately the director cannot make up his mind whether to go for style or realism, and has chosen actors who cannot sing. The result is cluttered and overlong, with no real sense of period or sustained imagination, but the photography and the music linger in the mind.
w Alan Jay Lerner novel The Once And Future King by T. H. White d Joshua Logan ph Richard H. Kline m/ly Frederick Loewe, Alan Jay Lerner md Ken Darby, Alfred Newman ad Edward Carrere pd/costumes John Truscott
☆ Richard Harris, Vanessa Redgrave, David Hemmings, Lionel Jeffries, Laurence Naismith, Franco Nero

'One wonders whether the fashion for musicals in which only the chorus can actually sing may be reaching its final stage.' – MFB
'Three hours of unrelieved glossiness, meticulous inanity, desperate and charmless striving for charm.' – John Simon
'The sets and costumes and people seem to be sitting there on the screen, waiting for the unifying magic that never happens.' – New Yorker, 1977

† Franco Nero's singing was dubbed by Gene Merlina
♫ 'The Merry Month of May'; 'Camelot'; 'If Ever I Would Leave You'; 'Take Me to the Fair'; 'C'est Moi' art direction; costumes; music direction cinematography

The Camels are Coming

GB 1934 80m bw
Gainsborough (Michael Balcon)

An officer in the camel corps catches Egyptian drug smugglers.
Light, bouncy star vehicle.
w Jack Hulbert, Guy Bolton, W. P. Lipscomb d Tim Whelan ph Glen MacWilliams, Bernard Knowles m Ray Noble, Max Kester, Noel Gay md Louis Levy ad Oscar Werndorff ed Frederick Y. Smith ☆ Jack Hulbert, Anna Lee, Hartley Power, Harold Huth, Allan Jeayes Camera Buff ★

Poland 1979 112m colour
Cinegate/Zespoly Filmowe/Film Polski

original title: Amator

A factory worker finds himself in conflict with his bosses when he becomes obsessed with making films at work.
Lively political allegory.
wd Krzysztof Kieslowski ph Jacek Petrycki m Krzysztof Knittel ad Rafal Waltenberger ed Halina Nawrocka ☆ Jerzy Stuhr, Malgorzata Zabkowska, Ewa Pokas, Stefan Czyzewski, Jerzy Nowak, Tadeusz Bradecki, Krzysztof Zanussi

The Cameraman ★★★

US 1928 78m approx (24 fps) bw silent
MGM (Lawrence Weingarten)

In order to woo a film star, a street photographer becomes a newsreel cameraman.
Highly regarded chapter of farcical errors, among the star's top features.
w Clyde Bruckman, Lex Lipton, Richard Schayer d Edward Sedgwick ph Elgin Lessley, Reggie Manning ad Fred Gabourie ed Hugh Wynn
☆ Buster Keaton (Buster), Marceline Day (Sally), Harry Gribbon (Cop), Harold Goodwin (Stagg)

† The film was remade in 1948 for Red Skelton as Watch the Birdie, with Keaton supervising the gags but sadly getting no credit.

The Cameraman's Revenge ★★

Russia 1912 11m bw/tinted
Ladislaw Starewicz

Two beetles, a brother and a sister, try to conceal their marriages from one another so that they may inherit the family fortune of a pot of beer.
An early and still impressive example of stop-motion animation.
wd Ladislaw Starewicz m Roger White

† The film has been released on video with the feature-length The Tale of the Fox (qv) and four other shorts under the title Ladislaw Starewicz: Selected Films.

'A new place to look for terror.'
'Don't ever open the door.'

Cameron's Closet

US 1987 87m colour
Medusa/Smart Egg (Luigi Cingolani)

Subjected by his father to experiments in psychokinesis, a boy summons up a demon.
Ineffectual horror, with a boring monster.
w Gary Brandner novel Gary Brandner d Armand Mastroianni ph Russell Carpenter m Harry Manfredini pd Michael Bingham ed Frank de Palma ☆ Cotter Smith, Mel Harris, Scott Curtis, Chuck McCann, Leigh McCloskey, Kim Lankford

'The contents of this particular closet are decidedly shop-worn and second-hand.' – MFB

Camila ★★

Argentina/Spain 1984 97m colour
GEA Cinematografica/Impala (Lila Stanic)

In Argentina in the 1840s the strong-willed daughter of an upper-class family scandalizes Church and government by eloping with a priest.
A powerful drama that manages to say much about present-day repression despite its period setting.
w Maria Luisa Bemberg, Beda Docampo Feijoo, Juan Bautista Stagnaro d Maria Luisa Bemberg ph Fernando Arribas m Luis Maria Serra ad Miguel Rodriguez ed Luis Cesar D'Angiolillo
☆ Susu Pecoraro, Imanol Arias, Hector Alterio, Carlos Muñoz, Hector Pelligrini, Juan Levrado, Cecilio Madanes, Mona Maris, Elena Tasisto

Camilla

GB/Canada 1994 95m Colour
Entertainment/Shaftesbury/Skreba (Christina Jennings, Simon Relph)

An unhappily married woman, a frustrated musician, abandons her husband and goes on the road with an elderly former concert violinist, anxious to get away from her son.
Jessica Tandy, in her last role, provides the watchable moments in an otherwise undernourished and meandering movie that covers a lot of ground without getting anywhere very interesting.
w Paul Quarrington story Ali Jennings d Deepa Mehta ph Guy Dufeau m Daniel Lanois pd Sandra Kybartas ed Barry Farrell
☆ Jessica Tandy, Bridget Fonda, Elias Koteas, Maury Chaykin, Hume Cronyn, Graham Greene

'Endless drollery and treacle, with amiable eccentrics lurking at every pit-stop.' – Jonathan Romney, Guardian

'You who are so young – where can you have learned all you know about women like me?'
'Their lips meet for the first time ... a superb thrill seared in your memory forever!'

Camille ★★

US 1937 108m bw
MGM (Irving Thalberg, Bernard Hyman)

A dying courtesan falls for an innocent young man who loves her, and dies in his arms.
This old warhorse is an unsuitable vehicle for Garbo but magically she carries it off, and the production is elegant and pleasing.
w Frances Marion, James Hilton, Zoe Akins novel Alexandre Dumas d George Cukor ph William Daniels m Herbert Stothart
☆ Greta Garbo, Robert Taylor, Lionel Barrymore, Henry Daniell, Elizabeth Allan, Lenore Ulric, Laura Hope Crews, Rex O'Malley, Jessie Ralph, E. E. Clive

'Pretty close to the top mark in showmanship, direction, photography and box office names.' – Variety
'The slow, solemn production is luxuriant in its vulgarity: it achieves that glamor which MGM traditionally mistook for style.' – Pauline Kael, 1968
'The surprise is to find a story that should by rights be old hat coming to such insistent life on the screen.' – Otis Ferguson
'It steadily builds up an impression of being a spectacle of manners and fashions, a socially true background for its characters to move against.' – National Board of Review
'This is not death as mortals know it. This is but the conclusion of a romantic ritual.' – Bosley Crowther

† A 1927 silent version starred Norma Talmadge with Gilbert Roland.
Greta Garbo

Camille Claudel ★★

France 1988 174m colour Panavision
Cannon/Films Christian Fechner/Lilith Films/Gaumont/A2 TV France/Films A2/DD Productions (Bernard Artigues)

A talented sculptress becomes Rodin's pupil and mistress with tragic results.
Overlong, and lacking a visual flair to match its subject, but nevertheless engrossing for the most part.
w Bruno Nuytten, Marilyn Goldin book Reine-Marie Paris d Bruno Nuytten ph Pierre Lhomme m Gabriel Yared ad Bernard Vezat ed Joëlle Hache, Jeanne Kef ☆ Isabelle Adjani, Gérard Depardieu, Laurent Grevill, Alain Cuny, Philippe Clevenot, Katrine Boorman, Danielle Lebrun, Maxime Leroux

'As a cultural coffee-table artefact, it has everything.' – Tom Milne, MFB
Isabelle Adjani; best foreign film

El Camino del Sur: see Journey to the South

Il Cammino della Speranza ★

Italy 1950 105m bw
Lux (Luigi Rovere)
aka: The Road to Hope

Unemployed Sicilian miners travel to France in search of work.

Episodic location melodrama with a social conscience, a kind of Italian Grapes of Wrath. Very watchable, but not moving.

w Federico Fellini, Tullio Pinelli d Pietro Germi ph Leonido Barboni m Carlo Rustichelli

☆ Raf Vallone, Elena Varzi, Saro Urzi, Franco Navarra

Camorra: the Naples Connection

Italy 1985 106m colour
Cannon/Italian International (Menahem Golan, Yoram Globus)
original title: Un complicato intrigo di donne, vicoli e delitto

Mothers take revenge on the drug dealers who have killed their children.

Highly charged, full of sound and fury and signifying very little.

w Lina Wertmüller, Elvio Porta d Lina Wertmüller ph Giuseppe Lanci m Tony Esposito ad Enrico Job ed Luigi Zita

☆ Angela Molina, Francisco Rabal, Harvey Keitel, Daniel Ezralow

'A Comedy About Drama.'

Camp

US 2003 114m DuArt
Momentum/IFC/JerseyKillerLaughlin Park (Katie Roumel, Christine Vachon, Pamela Koffler, Danny DeVito, Michael Shamberg, Stacey Sher, Jonathan Weisgal)

Teenagers at a theatrical summer camp help a heavy drinking songwriter recover his gift.

Fame revisted, only with less talent on display.

wd Todd Graff ph Kip Bogdahn m Stephen Trask ch Michele Lynch, Jerry Mitchell pd Dina Goldman ed Myron Kerstein

☆ Daniel Letterle (Vlad), Joanna Chilcoat (Ellen), Robin De Jesus (Michael), Tiffany Taylor (Jenna), Sasha Allen (Dee), Alana Allen (Jill), Anna Kendrick (Fritzi), Don Dixon (Bert)

'Every bit as grisly as it sounds. Rarely have so many eminently slappable characters shared the same screen.' – Marl Kermode, Observer

'A comedy, and for all its clichés and clumsiness, close to a great one.' – Ty Burr, Boston Globe

Camp de Thiaroye ★★

Senegal/Algeria/Tunisia 1988 152m colour
Metro/SNPC/ENAPROC/SATPEC (Mamadou Mbengue)

African soldiers, returning home after fighting in the Second World War, are massacred in a dispute over pay.

Powerful indictment of colonialism.

wd Ousmane Sembène, Thierno Faty Sow ph Ismail Lakhdar Hamina m Ismaila Lo ad El hadj Abdoulaye Diouf ed Kahena Attia-Riveill

☆ Ibrahima Sane, Sigiri Bakara, Hamed Camara, Ismaila Cissé, Ababacar Sy Cissé

Camp Nowhere

US 1994 96m Technicolor
Buena Vista/Hollywood (Michael Peyser)

A group of disaffected kids decide to create their own summer camp to escape from their parents' expectations.

Moderate comedy that pretends to be rebellious before settling for an affirmation of family values.

w Andrew Kurtzman, Eliot Wald d Jonathan Prince ph Sandi Sissel m David Lawrence pd Rusty Smith ed Jon Poll, David Street

☆ Christopher Lloyd, Wendy Makkena, M. Emmet Walsh, Jonathan Jackson, Andrew Keegan, Melody Kay, Ray Baker, Kate Mulgrew, Burgess Meredith

'Interesting premise needed more than the so-so treatment delivered here.' – Variety

The Camp on Blood Island

GB 1958 81m bw MegaScope
Columbia/Hammer (Anthony Hinds)

The sadistic commandant of a Japanese POW camp swears to kill all the inmates. Japan surrenders, and a great effort is made to prevent the news from reaching him.

Dubious melodrama parading sadism and brutality as entertainment.

w Jon Manchip White, Val Guest d Val Guest ph Jack Asher m Gerard Schurmann ad John Stoll ed James Needs, Bill Lenny

☆ André Morell, Carl Mohner, Edward Underdown, Michael Goodliffe, Ronald Radd, Walter Fitzgerald, Phil Brown, Barbara Shelley, Michael Gwynn, Richard Wordsworth, Marne Maitland, Mary Merrall

'Tune In. Turn On. Drop Dead.'

Camp Utopia

US 2005 82m colour
BigWood/Texas Trouble (Patricia Anne Isgate, Duane Whitaker)

Five teenagers visit the site of a hippie commune that was the scene of a mass murder thirty years earlier.

Mercifully short low-budget teen slasher movie that does not deviate from the clichés of the genre, though there is more disposable dialogue than usual.

w Robert Madero, Skippy McGriff d Robert Madero ph Danny Copper m Matt Davis, David Nielsen ad Sylvana Zungla ed Johnathan Ammon

☆ Jessica Jordan (Gretchen), Collin Stark (Lance), Alexandra Westmore (Dee Dee), James E. Foley (Vesper), Sarah Megan White (Brittany), Adam Minarovich (Ranger Rogers), Stephen Pearcy (Timothy Bach)

Campbell's Kingdom ★

GB 1957 102m Eastmancolor
Rank (Betty E. Box)

A young man who thinks he is dying arrives in the Canadian Rockies to take over his father's oil valley, but a scheming contractor opposes him.

Competent and entertaining romantic thick ear.

w Robin Estridge novel Hammond Innes d Ralph Thomas ph Ernest Steward m Clifton Parker

☆ Dirk Bogarde, Michael Craig, Stanley Baker, Barbara Murray, Athene Seyler, Mary Merrall, James Robertson Justice

'Yet another large budget British film doggedly maintaining a B-picture standard' – John Osborne, London Evening Standard

Campfire Tales

US 1996 83m Foto-Kem/bw
Vault/Kunert/Manes (Eric Manes, Lori Miller, Larry Weinberg)

After crashing their car on a remote road at night, four teenagers shelter in a ruined church and tell each other horror stories.

A compendium of three stories, each favouring a slow build-up to moments of shock and content, for the most part to retread over-familiar ways.

w Martin Kunert, Eric Manes, Matt Cooper d David Semel, Martin Kunert, Matt Cooper ph John Peters m Andrew Rose pd Shay Austin ed Luis Colina, Steve Nevius, Richard H. Fields

☆ Jay R. Ferguson, Christine Taylor, Christopher Kennedy Masterson, Kim Murphy, Ron Livingston, Jennifer MacDonald, Hawthorne James, Alex McKenna, Devon Odessa, Jonathan Fuller

'A superior horror compendium.' – Sight and Sound

Can Can

US 1960 131m DeLuxe Todd-AO
TCF/Suffolk-Cummings (Jack Cummings)

A Parisian night-club dancer in the 90s is sued for performing the Can Can.

Flat film of a dull musical, with just a few plums in the pudding.

w Dorothy Kingsley, Charles Lederer play Abe Burrows d Walter Lang ph William Daniels m/ly Cole Porter md Nelson Riddle ch Hermes Pan

☆ Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Maurice Chevalier, Louis Jourdan, Juliet Prowse, Marcel Dalio, Leon Belasco

Nelson Riddle

Can Hieronymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humppe and Find True Happiness?

GB 1969 117m Technicolor
Universal/Taralex (Anthony Newley)

A performer on a beach assembles a huge pile of personal bric-à-brac and reminisces about his life in the style of a variety show.

Obscure and pointless personal fantasy, financed at great expense by a major film company as a rather seedy monument to Anthony Newley's totally uninteresting sex life, and to the talent which he obviously thinks he possesses. The few mildly amusing moments are not provided by him.

w Herman Raucher, Anthony Newley d Anthony Newley ph Otto Heller m Anthony Newley

☆ Anthony Newley, Joan Collins, George Jessel, Milton Berle, Bruce Forsyth, Stubby Kaye, Patricia Hayes, Victor Spinetti

'If I'd been Anthony Newley I would have opened it in Siberia during Christmas week and called it a day.' – Rex Reed

'The kindest thing for all concerned would be that every available copy should be quietly and decently buried.' – Michael Billington, Illustrated London News

Can She Bake a Cherry Pie?

US 1983 90m DuArt
Jagfilm/International Rainbow

An abandoned wife has an experimental affair with a hypochondriac divorcé.

What the writer-director calls 'a bitter-sweet comedy about loneliness and love' has more to say to him than to an audience; but there are wryly amusing moments.

wd Henry Jaglom ph Robert Fiore

☆ Karen Black, Michael Emil, Michael Margotta, Frances Fisher

Can This Be Dixie?

US 1936 68m bw
TCF (Sol M. Wurtzel)

In the old South, a medicine showman and his daughter help a bankrupt Kentucky colonel.

Agreeable supporting material, with elements of satire, spoof and musical comedy.

w Lamar Trotti d George Marshall

☆ Jane Withers, Slim Summerville, Claude Gillingwater, Helen Wood, Thomas Beck, Sara Haden, Donald Cook, Hattie McDaniel

'Plenty of ingredients were thrown into the soup ... it will hold its own in the duals.' – Variety

Can You Keep It Up For A Week?

GB 1974 94m Technicolor
Pyramid (Elton Hawke)

A woman tells her accident-prone lover that she will marry him only if he can hold down a job for seven days.

Little more than a succession of archly delivered double entendres, it enjoyed a surprising success at the time of its original release, though now it is merely indicative of the banality of the British film industry of the period.

w Robin Gough d Jim Atkinson ph Ricky Briggs m Dave Quincy md Harry South ad Jacquemine Charrott-Lodwige ed David Docker

☆ Jeremy Bulloch, Neil Hallett, Sue Longhurst, Jill Damas, Richard O'Sullivan, Jenny Cox, Joy Harrington, Valerie Leon

'Dreary sexual encounters, rudimentary direction and 94 minutes of witless Old English puns.' – David McGillivray, MFB

† The producer's name was a pseudonym for Hazel Adair, best known as co-creator of the TV soap opera Crossroads, and TV wrestling commentator Kent Walton.

Canadian Bacon

US 1995 90m DeLuxe/bw
Polygram/Propaganda/Maverick (Michael Moore, David Brown, Ron Rotholz, Steve Golin)

The American President, needing to boost his popularity by belligerence, decides that Canada is a threat to the free world.

A one-joke movie that will mean little outside North America, and not a great deal more inside it.

wd Michael Moore ph Haskell Wexler m Elmer Bernstein, Peter Bernstein pd Carol Spier ed Wendy Stanzler, Michael Berenbaum

☆ Alan Alda, John Candy, Rhea Perlman, Kevin Pollak, Rip Torn, Bill Nunn, Kevin J. O'Connor, G. D. Spradlin, Carlton Watson, James Belushi, Dan Aykroyd

'An amusing outing for a sophisticate crowd. More hip and flip than broadly humorous, pic is too much of an in-joke to translate to the mainstream.' – Variety

'The blazing saga of untamed men and a savage wilderness!'

Canadian Pacific

US 1949 95m Cinecolor
TCF (Nat Holt)

A surveyor discovers the vital pass through the Rockies, and chooses between a lady doctor and a wilful half-breed.

Fairly unhistorical Western; watchable, though.

w Jack de Witt, Kenneth Gamet d Edwin L. Marin

☆ Randolph Scott, Jane Wyatt, Nancy Olson, J. Carrol Naish, Victor Jory, Robert Barrat

The Canadians

GB/Canada 1961 85m DeLuxe Cinemascope
TCF (Herman E. Webber)

After Custer's defeat at Little Big Horn, 6,000 Sioux flee north and are victimized by villainous Canadians; but the Mounties come to the rescue.

Dreary, stumbling semi-Western which set back Canadian production by a year or two. The blame seems to be equally shared by all concerned.

wd Burt Kennedy ph Arthur Ibbetson m none
☆ Robert Ryan, John Dehner, Torin Thatcher, Burt Metcalfe, Teresa Stratas, Michael Pate, John Sutton

Cancel My Reservation
US 1972 99m Technicolor
Naho Enterprises

A TV talk show host retreats to his ranch and finds himself mixed up with murder.
Bob Hope's last film, though it reverted to farce and his bumbling coward persona, proved a sorry affair with egg on the face of everybody concerned.
w Arthur Marx, Robert Fisher novel The Broken Gun by Louis L'Amour d Paul Bogart
☆ Bob Hope, Eva Marie Saint, Ralph Bellamy, Forrest Tucker, Anne Archer, Keenan Wynn, Doodles Weaver

The Candidate ★★★
US 1972 110m Technicolor
Warner/Redford-Ritchie (Walter Coblenz)

A young Californian lawyer is persuaded to run for senator; in succeeding, he alienates his wife and obscures his real opinions.
Put together in a slightly scrappy but finally persuasive style, this joins a select band of rousing, doubting American political films.
w Jeremy Larner d Michael Ritchie
ph Victor J. Kemper m John Rubinstein
ed Robert Estrin, Richard A. Harris
☆ Robert Redford (Bill McKay), Peter Boyle (Luck), Don Porter (Sen. Crocker Jarmon), Allen Garfield (Howard Klein), Karen Carlson (Nancy McKay), Quinn Redeker (Rich Jenkin), Morgan Upton (Henderson), Melvyn Douglas (John J. McKay)
'Decent entertainment ... it is never boring, but it is never enlarging, informationally or emotionally or thematically.' – Stanley Kauffmann
Jeremy Larner

Candles at Nine
GB 1944 86m bw
British National

A young heiress in her benefactor's old mansion is menaced by his housekeeper.
Elementary Cat and the Canary reprise; cast understandably uneasy.
w John Harlow, Basil Mason novel Anthony Gilbert d John Harlow
☆ Jessie Matthews, John Stuart, Beatrix Lehmann, Winifred Shotter, Reginald Purdell

Candleshoe
GB 1977 101m Technicolor
Walt Disney Productions (Hugh Attwooll)

An attempt to pass off a fake heiress to an English stately home is prevented by the resourceful butler.
Slackly handled comedy adventure full of easy targets and predictable incidents.
w David Swift, Rosemary Anne Sisson novel Christmas at Candleshoe by Michael Innes d Norman Tokar ph Paul Beeson
m Ron Goodwin
☆ David Niven, Helen Hayes, Jodie Foster, Leo McKern, Veronica Quilligan, Ian Sharrock, Vivian Pickles
'It might have been conceived by a computer called upon to produce the definitive pastiche of a Disney film of the 1970s.' – Financial Times

Candy
US/France/Italy 1968 124m Technicolor
Selmur/Dear/Corona (Robert Haggiag)

An innocent girl defends herself from a fate worse than death in a variety of international situations.
